CITY T & P UNDERPASS FOR HIGHWAY 101 IS GRANTED IN AUSTIN

ROUTING OF STERLING CITY HIGHWAY SOUTH DIRECTLY FROM COLORADO APPROVED; ORIGINAL SURVEY OUT

Request of Colorado citizens that Highway 101, designated some time ago to connect Colorado and Sterling City, shall follow a route leading south directly out of Colorado rather than branching off of Highway One west of town was granted in a hearing before the State Highway commission in Austin Monday.

A. F. King, Mitchell county judge, and Mayor J. A. Sadler delivered the request before the commission. They were accompanied to Austin by Mayor Sadler's son, Junius.

Surveys of two possible routes for the highway had previously been made by the State Highway department, and both routes have been under consideration for some time. The original survey provided for Highway 101 to follow Highway One west from Colorado about 1 1/2 miles, then turn south across the T. & P. railroad by means of either an overpass or an underpass.

The secondary survey routes the highway out of Colorado southward at the junction of Chestnut and Second (main) streets, and provides for an underpass west of where the T. & P. railroad crosses Lone Wolf creek a few hundred yards south of Second street. This route was the one requested and granted at the hearing Monday.

This underpass will, when constructed, be one block east of the present crossing into south Colorado.

COTTON QUOTA CUTS COUNTY ACREAGE TO 60 PERCENT THIS YEAR

AAA ASSIGNS 76,715 ACRES TO MITCHELL; LOCAL AAA OFFICE REDOUBLES EFFORT TO GET WORK SHEETS

Land planted to cotton in Mitchell county this year will amount to only about 60% of last year's acreage as a result of the quota of 76,715 acres assigned to the county by the agricultural adjustment administration at Texas A. & M. Assignments followed the voting of quotas in the farmers' referendum two weeks ago.

The county had over 120,000 acres in cotton in 1937, according to B. J. Baskin, county agent. The harvest was 29,665 bales. Figuring an average base yield of 115 pounds per acre, the cotton crop for 1938 cannot be much over 17,455 bales under average conditions.

The new quota means that the county will have only 38 or 40% of its total cultivated acreage in cotton in 1938.

With the quota on hand, the office of the county agent has redoubled its efforts to check all records and determine whether or not every farm in the county is covered by a work sheet. There are already 1,310 work sheets on file, Baskin says, and he points out that once the office begins tabulation on the new program no more work sheets will be accepted. No allotment for cotton acreage in 1938 will be issued to any farm not covered by a work sheet, he says.

"I and the men who work with me are doing everything in our power to protect the interest of every 1938 cotton producer in Mitchell county," Baskin stated Tuesday. "However, the interest of the cotton farmers of the county as a whole must supersede that of the individual farmer, and we cannot delay our work indefinitely waiting for individual work sheets to come in."

LOCAL RADIO MAN GETS PUBLICITY ON UNUSUAL EQUIPMENT OF BICYCLE

Described as "a radio technician who puts everything except the kitchen range on his bicycle," J. F. Miller of Colorado received publicity as follows in the Abilene Reporter-News recently:

"J. F. Miller, Colorado radio technician, has equipped his bicycle with a radio and more than a dozen other accessories to keep himself entertained while pedaling through the countryside and also to make cycling a little more safe and comfortable.

"All of the accessories are electrically operated. A 13-plate battery, attached behind the seat, furnishes the electricity.

"In addition to the radio and telescope aerial, the bicycle is equipped with a spotlight, tail light, fender light and fender flares for protection in cycling after dark; a rear view mirror to watch traffic from behind; electric air horns to "shoo" pedestrians and cows off the road; a cigar lighter and cigarette match holder for convenience; an electric fan and a weather thermometer and several other gadgets."

SIX-CYLINDER CARS FOUND TO BE POPULAR

Six-cylinder motor cars were almost twice as popular with the driving public in 1937 as any other type, according to recent survey made by E. P. Feely, manager of the Chevrolet market analysis department.

Mr. Feely's survey revealed that 2,214,336 six-cylinder cars were sold during the year of 1937, or 63.6 per cent of the total of all cars sold. Automobiles of the eight-cylinder type were second in popularity and totaled 1,189,808 sales during the year, or 34.1 per cent of the total.

"The six-cylinder engine has shown substantial increase in popularity since 1934, when 59.5 per cent of the total cars sold were powered by that type of engine," said Mr. Feely. Eight-cylinder cars comprised 39.8 per cent of total sales in 1934, and 34.1 per cent last year.

"In the four-year period, Chevrolet has delivered more passenger cars than any other manufacturer, leading the entire industry in three out of the four years."

WILD LIFE DESTROYED BY FARM TENANT SYSTEM

DALLAS.—The future of wild life in the Southwest depends largely upon changing tenants to land owners, or at least upon giving tenants a longer and more secure tenure, it was stated by C. M. Evans, Texas-Oklahoma director of the Farm Security Administration, as "Wild Life Conservation Week" was being observed.

Evans said information from the Soil Conservation Service shows that conservation of the soil and wild life are found to the least degree upon land farmed by the transient tenant who has no written agreement with the landlord, and who has no interest in the land other than to get all he can from it in one cropping season.

The Soil Conservation report was based on observations made at eight projects in varying types of soil—rolling sandy land, black land, west cross timbers, and rolling plains. The number of farms surveyed, 1,345, were divided approximately half and half between tenants and owner-operators. Evans quoted P. H. Waller, State Coordinator of Soil Conservation, as saying that the survey showed "probabilities of maintenance of the conservation program are greatest when the land is being operated by the owner. Probabilities of maintenance are still good when the farm is operated by a tenant who expects to become a land owner, and who realizes that success in farming depends upon maintenance of the soil and its productivity. Probabilities are also good when the land is operated by a tenant who may not be ambitious to own land, yet expects to earn his livelihood by farming and realizes the necessity for conservation. This is especially true when the tenant enjoys the security brought about by a definite understanding with his landlord, and a rental agreement covering a period of years."

ELEVENTH DAIRY SHOW PLANNED AT PLAINVIEW

PLAINVIEW.—Offering the usual free gate, outstanding midway attractions, rodeo, horse show and prospects of appearance of some of the finest cattle in the Panhandle, the eleventh annual Panhandle Plains Dairy Show is rapidly being shaped for readiness on April 19 to 23rd inclusive.

Taking on the air of a spring festival the five-day exposition will be balanced by a varied entertainment program that will include a pageant on Tuesday night when the queen of the dairy show will be selected from young ladies representing Plains and West Texas towns, dances, the Silver State Shows on the midway and other attractions.

Pete Smith, show manager, has predicted this year will bring one of the outstanding expositions in the history of the association.

C. B. Martin, Hale county agent, general superintendent, said all department superintendents had accepted their posts and were working toward a record breaking exposition.

Miss Chloe Huffaker, Hale county home demonstration agent, and superintendent of the home products department, is making preparations for an educational program and exhibition of dairy foods manufacturing that will represent a wide Panhandle area.

GREASY HAT IS CLUE IN CAPTURE OF NEGRO CHARGED IN CAR THEFT

A greasy, brimless hat was the sole clue on which Colorado officers caught C. B. Lacey, 18-year-old negro who was convicted of car theft in district court here last week and given a five-year suspended sentence, it has been revealed.

The hat was found in the Chester Jones car when it was wrecked near Sweetwater last fall after being stolen from the Jones' home here. A highway patrolman brought the hat to Colorado and gave it to Dick Hickman, chief of police.

Hickman immediately recalled having seen Lacey, who had been working around here, wear the hat. The negro's name and description were broadcast to officers over the state, but it wasn't until early last week that he was apprehended down near the Texas-Louisiana line. When Chief Hickman went after him the negro confessed to theft of the Jones car.

DAN S. PARKS, ONE OF TOWN'S EARLY PIONEERS DEAD IN LOS ANGELES

Dan S. Parks, one of Colorado's earliest business men, died Monday in Los Angeles, Calif., according to word received in Colorado Thursday morning.

According to a message received by Col. and Mrs. C. M. Adams, Mr. Parks suffered a stroke while spending the winter with a son in Los Angeles. His home was in Cheyenne, Wyoming, where he moved from Denver, Colorado, several years ago.

Mr. Parks operated a jewelry store in Colorado from about 1882 until the late nineties, when he sold out to J. P. Majors, now of Sweetwater. He was the first employer of Col. Adams.

CHEVROLET USED CAR CONDITIONS ARE GOOD

DETROIT.—As a result of individual campaigns of their own during National Used Car Exchange Week, and of their special used car activities prior to that period, Chevrolet dealers are now in splendid used car condition, and in a position to accept new car business in volume. W. E. Holler, general sales manager, announced.

"Chevrolet dealers everywhere have geared into the National Used Car Exchange Week with individual campaigns to increase used car sales and reduce used car stocks," said Mr. Holler.

During the month of February, Mr. Holler said, Chevrolet used car stocks decreased 7,813 units from January, in a month when there were only 25 working days. This represents a stock reduction of 312 units per day.

"With used car stocks declining in February, and with used car sales showing a sharp upturn in March, Chevrolet dealers are in splendid used car stock condition with models that have been thoroughly reconditioned, bearing the OK Tag," he said.

"As a result of the February used car campaign, Chevrolet dealers are now in a position to accept new car business in volume. The National Used Car Exchange Week has stimulated consumer buying to the extent that Chevrolet dealers anticipate another substantial reduction in used car stocks during March.

"The progress of Chevrolet with its exclusive used car organization has really been phenomenal. February used car sales of 118,925 topped the used car sales of February last year, of 115,558, showing an increase of 1,367 units. In addition, Chevrolet has recorded 100,000 or more used car sales monthly over a period of 36 consecutive months. During those 36 months, Chevrolet dealers have delivered at retail the amazing total of 5,230,108 used cars."

TERRY TO COME HOME

J. M. Terry is expected home Saturday night from the Dallas hospital where he underwent major surgery last week. His daughter, Mrs. D. W. Rutherford, will accompany him.

ALL SAINTS' CORNERSTONE WAS LAID
53 YEARS AGO THIS MONTH; BUILDING
STANDS ALMOST SAME TODAY AS THEN

The cornerstone of Colorado's most picturesque church, All Saints' Episcopal mission, was laid 53 years ago this month—in March, 1885.

In addition to being one of the oldest churches in this section, All Saints' has the distinction of having stood practically unchanged through more than half a century of regular use, a distinction not shared by very many churches of West Texas.

The candelabra at the altar are still the same ones which burned for the first service. They were ancient even then, having been brought over from a church in Ireland years before. The same bell which rang for that first service still calls the faithful to assemble in this little gray church which has been so much a part of Colorado's history.

The exact date of that long-ago cornerstone laying is not known in Colorado, the early records of All Saints' having been lost nearly 30 years ago. Mrs. C. M. Adams, only charter member of the church still in active membership, is the only person now living in Colorado who was present at the ceremony.

She remembers that there was a raging sandstorm which tore at the robes of the officiating bishop, the Rt. Rev. Alexander C. Garrett of Dallas, whose missionary district included the whole western half of the state. All Saints' was known in the beginning as St. Michael's.

Because so many English people, nearly all Episcopalians, had come here with fortunes and near-fortunes to invest, the church flourished in its early days and was for a number of years a self-supporting parish rather than a mission, as it is today. A number of the early English members were here with the United Trading company. Others were ranch owners.

Among the early workers were Mr. and Mrs. A. McClain, Mr. and Mrs.

J. A. Rix (parents of Mrs. Adams), John and Alfred Harris, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel S. Parks, Mr. and Mrs. P. Maddin Mayers, B. Walter Jones, Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Collins, S. N. Sherwin, A. J. Robert, the W. W. Anderson family, Mrs. R. H. Looney, Mrs. A. A. Bailey, Mrs. W. V. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. V. W. Allen, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Prude, Mrs. Clara Boren, Judge and Mrs. C. H. Earnest, Mrs. Adams, Mrs. J. M. Shannon, and others.

The Shannons had come to West Texas to recoup a lost fortune. Mr. Shannon began his West Texas career as a sheep shearer for Mrs. Adams' father. He died a millionaire. Mrs. Shannon died in San Angelo a few years ago.

The first wedding in the church was that of Judge and Mrs. C. H. Earnest, the second that of Col. and Mrs. C. M. Adams. The first funeral was for Mrs. A. McClain, who had worked so hard for the building of the church. The only memorial window in the church today is dedicated to her, and it was to honor her memory that the name of the church was changed from St. Michael's to All Saints', which was the name of the church for which her father had been rector in England.

The first rector was the Rev. Geo. H. Higgins. After him came Father W. A. Tearne, the Rev. Mr. Lytton, the Rev. Mr. Stafford, the Rev. Mr. Stewart, the Rev. Edwin Wickens, the Rev. Mr. Brewster, the Rev. J. E. H. Galbraith, the Rev. Norman F. Marshall, the Rev. H. G. Hennessey, the Rev. Geo. B. Rafter, Dr. Williams, the Rev. F. B. Tteson, the Rev. Frank Steadman, and the Rev. Alex B. Hanson.

Archdeacon J. W. Hayes, formerly of Greensboro, South Carolina, is the present rector. From the rectory in Colorado he also serves churches at Sweetwater, Stamford, Coleman, and other places.

ONIONS IN FRAME GARDEN GROW WELL

"The onions which I planted in my frame garden are large enough to eat," said Mrs. Edgar Andrews of the Hyman Home Demonstration club recently to Miss Vara Crippen, county home demonstration agent, as she visited that community. "I planted some in my large garden at the same time, and they are still too small."

Vegetables will grow faster in the frame garden, because they are more carefully worked, watered more often and the canvas cover conserves the moisture. Also, they are usually placed in a protected place, and the cover also protects them from wind, sand, and cold.

Besides speedy growing, the frame gardens are also useful in growing vegetables in times which were formerly considered "out of season."

PICKED UP ALONG THE NEWS PATH

Crazy month, this March. . . . Can't seem to make up its mind whether to be a lion or a lamb. . . . Mornings have been dawning in spring-like loveliness, yet with that westerly breeze that used to always mean a rip-roaring good sandstorm by noon. . . . The sand does begin to roll faintly over the western horizon about mid-morning, but somehow it hasn't so far (this is being written Monday) gotten much beyond the faint stage. . . . That is, faint for West Texas. . . . Cheer up, tho—about the time this gets into print, and maybe before, these wild west winds will bring along a sandstorm what am a sandstorm. . . . Then everybody will be blaming me for talking out loud like this and breaking the spell.

A story elsewhere in The Record tells about the "by-line" story which Nina Laura Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. R. Smith of Colorado, had on the front page of the C.I.A. (Denton) student newspaper, "The Lass-O," recently. . . . Nina Laura's a freshman in C.I.A., you know. . . . I've been intending to write Nina Laura and pass on to her some of the complimentary things I've heard about her column, "Keeping Up with Mitchell County Girls in TSCW," which The Record carries every week or so. . . . And I intended to add to the things I've heard some posies of my very own. . . . But, being the harried, hurried, and procrastinating soul that I am, I just haven't done it. . . . So, in keeping with my belief that compliments should, when possible, be said where they can be heard (or read) by others, I hereby say to Nina Laura that I think she's a "born" newspaper woman, with all the nicer attributes that the phrase implies. . . .

Here - and - yonder - about - town: Nery remark by A. L. (Mac) McSpadden as this writer filled her own popcorn sack at a local store: "It's a dime if you tromp it down." . . . That worried-mother look on "Talkie" Bush's face is because both the Bush youngsters have whooping cough. . . . Said Talkie with her usual rapid-fire expressiveness: "Jane had a spasms—and I had a fit." . . . Hear tell that one of Colorado's more beautiful college girls is altar-bound with a fellow she's met at college this year.

Jack Mayes of the Colorado drug was making plans to go over with Mrs. Mayes. Bill Oswalt of the Oswalt pharmacy had made tentative plans for attending the convention, and said that S. A. Andrews, one of his employes, might accompany him. W. L. Doss, Jr., of the W. L. Doss pharmacy and J. M. Doss of the Alcoe drug said that if they attended the convention they would probably go on Thursday.

Shirley Temple Headlines Bill at Palace Theatre Sunday and Monday

SHIRLEY TURNS $2 WORDS INTO PRICELESS FUN

NO. 1 SCREEN STAR NOW AT LANGUAGE-MANGLING STAGE OF DEVELOPMENT

Eight-year old Shirley Temple is getting to an age at which all children mangle the King's English.

In rehearsing a song number for "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm," her newest 20th Century-Fox starring picture, Shirley was required to play several chords on a piano. So she vouchsafed the thought "what we need is an automatic piano."

Admiring the livestock furnished by the property department for the farmyard scene of the picture, Shirley sought to pick up a baby pig. The pig squealed vociferously. Startled, Shirley put down the animal, and turned to her mother with the comment, "This pig seems very touchative."

A rooster on the same set gave rise to another mispronunciation. It was a fine looking fellow, and Slim Summerville, veteran comic who plays with Shirley in the picture, commented on its splendid appearance.

"Yes," agreed Shirley, "it's a very fine roostercat, isn't it?"

All-time high for using the wrong word at the right time came when Shirley, acting as peacemaker, settled an incipient dispute between some children with whom she was playing in her back yard at home.

"Well," reported Shirley, "I've got them all antagonized now."

Randolph Scott heads the featured cast of "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm," which shows at the Palace Theatre Saturday Midnight, Sunday and Monday, which includes Jack Haley, Gloria Stuart, Phyllis Brooks, Helen Westley, Slim Summerville, Bill Robinson, The Raymond Scott Quintet, Alan Dinehart and J. Edward Bromberg.

Darryl F. Zanuck, 20th Century-Fox's hit-maker, selected Allan Dwan to direct, with Raymond Griffith associate producer.

Six sunny song hits were written by Gordon and Revel, Pollack and Mitchell, Pokrass and Yellen, and Raymond Scott.

"I MET MY LOVE AGAIN"

Palace—Thursday, March 24

Unencumbered by production afflictions, this turns out to be a simple and heart-warming story whose virtues should manifest themselves at the boxoffice. A good cast helps maintain the dramatic intensity by talkativeness of the script. Lovelier than ever, Joan Bennett is a romantic New England schoolgirl, who returns home ten years later to her lover, Henry Fonda, whom she jilted. Numerous obstacles present themselves, including the infatuation of one of Fonda's students, Louise Platt, before Bennett and Fonda can recapture the past. Fonda's portrayal is straightforward and likeable. Good bits are contributed by Miss Platt and Dame May Whitty. Arthur Ripley and Joshua Logan co-directed.

Players are Joan Bennett, Henry Fonda, Dame May Whitty, Alan Marshall, Louise Platt, Alan Baxter, Tim Holt.

"CONQUEST"

Palace—Tuesday and Wednesday, March 29 and 30

Overwhelmingly magnificent and impressive, here, by all odds, is one of the greatest motion pictures ever produced. The sheer weight and force of its artistry and magnitude would alone assure its financial success; but it has even more, for it wisely incorporates those elements of popular entertainment demanded in epic pictures by exacting modern audiences—spectacle, speed and, above all, sex. Decidedly Boyer's picture from start to finish, his characterization of Napoleon is a performance the superior of which has seldom been seen on stage or screen; while the rest of a large cast, including the co-starring contribution of Garbo, all approach perfection. Much of the praise for this triumph, which will live long in the memory of patrons, will go to Clarence Brown, whose direction is superb.

Players are Greta Garbo, Charles Boyer, Reginald Owen, Alan Marshall, Henry Stephenson, Lief Erikson, Dame May Whitty.

"NOTHING SACRED"

Palace—Friday and Saturday, March 25 and 26

Running the gamut of comedy, with the slap on the subtle, the satirical and the stapstick, David O. Selznick's entry in the seemingly endless cycle of madcap laugh-seekers will grab a winner's purse in audience acclaim and, more important, shekels. It ranks high among the current season's releases of this nature and improves on most of them, inasmuch as it is the first to be filmed in Technicolor. Every member of the cast scores solidly, and in proportion to the importance of his or her respective part. The screenplay by Ben Hecht, which subjects New York, and its tendency to go off the deep end in mass emotional hysteria, to a delightfully merciless ribbing, is priceless. William A. Wellman's direction blends these elements into a smooth whole with a master's touch.

Players are Carole Lombard, Fredric March, Charles Winninger, Walter Connolly, Sig Ruman, Maxie Rosenbloom, Olin Howland.

ROGERS RAMBLINGS

"Tomorrow is the day on which idle men work."

The seniors "look off" Sunday at 8 o'clock and we saw nothing of them again until just before singing time Sunday night. Of course they were having a picnic. Yes, at Sweetwater lake. After driving to Sweetwater lake park the boys and girls decided to do some looking around and to walk. Well we helped, looked, listened, and laughed while Frank christened our lucky boat. And how was it done Frank? Then who wanted to go boating. Could it have been Bonnie Halon? Bobby do you and Lucy know anything about the rules of Lake Sweetwater in regard to boating and fishing. No, of course not, but you can inform other people—the wrong way.

Wasn't it understood that Elbert was the monkey of the crowd? By the way lunch time came also. Laverne how does it feel to eat "abundantly"? Some said that you ate too much but really we don't think so because there was a cookie left. Wriggle could you tell us anything about falling out of swings and rolling like a square ball? Why was Lavern rooting the ground? Joe, could you tell us? We were worried about Myrie because after about thirty minutes of hearty eating his appetite failed him. We couldn't understand why. Who was it that polished the bed on Harien's truck? And why? Myrie could you and Wynne tell us anything about how a model "A" travels? Wouldn't Irene Howell like to keep "that bunch" in drinking water? Taking it all in all folks, we had a grand time. Everyone is ready to go on another trip just like it most any time. Well who wouldn't?

KLEVER KEYHOLE
Hello everyone. Another week is here again and it even brought "Lady Spring" with it. Have you seen all the new spring clothes for ladies? We hear a lot of criticism about women being so extravagant in dress, but honestly we don't see how they could do with much less.

ADVICE
To love is swell,
But it's too bad
To love the one
You thought you had.

Roses are red,
Violets are blue,
All the rest have 30
Except December and it has Christmas.

Mr. Sweatt: I expect you to listen to me. Don't you know its rude to sleep while I'm talking?
J. P.: But we must sleep sometime.
SORROW

Yes, my friends, this morning I awoke and looked upon the cold, still face of the one who had come through life with me. There by my side cold and dead, was the one I had counted on for time to come and time to go. But to my sorrow there, just gone from me without a word of warning and how did I know that this morning would bring forth this sorrow? Friends I was very sad for my Ingersoll had stopped.

WE WONDER WHY?
Irene: I think marriage is the thing for all men.
Wynne: I don't; I think some of them deserve worse.

Always for you,
The Tattler.

COLORADO CIA STUDENT HAS 'BY-LINE' STORY

The front page of a recent issue of "The Lass-O," student newspaper of TSCW (CIA) at Denton, carried a story by Nina Laura Smith, freshman student from Colorado in the college. The story had the sub-head, "By Nina Laura Smith." Nina Laura is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. R. Smith.

Also involved in the story is another person known to many Coloradans, Dr. C. D. Judd, superintendent of Colorado schools a number of years ago and head of the TSCW government department for the past several years.

The story follows:
"The piper of Hamelin had nothing that Artur Schnabel and Beethoven sonatas haven't got, for the great Schnabel unknowingly charmed a little mouse at his concert. The keen eye of Dr. C. D. Judd spied the humble little fellow as it crouched enchanted and awed at the edge of the stage where the piper played upon the heart strings of the grand piano."
"This relative of the rat family of Oswald of Austin would be a joy to Miss MacNeal, long suffering teacher of music appreciation. He was not content with a seat in the orchestra pit; he dared to move closer and closer, hop by hop, pausing to listen wistfully, until he could have squeaked with joy for being the only mouse every to appear on the concert stage with Artur Schnabel."

THREE STORAGE PLACES IN KITCHEN DISCUSSED

By Mrs. P. H. Pace, Reporter
Need of three storage places in the kitchen was pointed out by Miss Vara Crippen, county home demonstration agent, at the meeting of the Fairview Home Demonstration Club at the home of Mrs. J. C. Womack on March 11.

These three places, Miss Crippen said, are the refrigerator, the sink, and the stove.
Eight members answered roll call by telling of storage space needed in their kitchens. The next meeting is to be on March 25 with Mrs. C. C. Berry.

COLES AND LOONEY GROUP TO AUSTIN

Roy Davis Coles, county superintendent, accompanied a group of Looney people to Austin the early part of this week to confer with state department of education officials on business matters in connection with Looney school.
B. D. Smith, Jr., Looney principal, and two Looney trustees, Eston Hardin, Alfred Carey and Dexter Taylor, were the others in the group besides Coles.

MOVING TO GLOVER FARM
Dick Glover, who has been living at Odessa, is moving to the farm home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edd S. Glover, in northern Mitchell county. Mr. and Mrs. Glover and daughter, Lottie, are dead as the result of a car crash near Midland over two weeks ago, leaving Mr. Glover as the sole survivor of the family. The Glovers had been to Odessa to visit him and his wife and daughter, Betty Ruth, when the fatal crash occurred.

arrived near 8 o'clock and after several games were played and some contests taken part in, punch and cookies were served to about twenty guests. The plate favors were tiny Dutch girls and boys, on cards, carrying the March tulips.

TEXAS

Things You Did Not Know About Your Own State

Texas has more than 500 different kinds of soil and because of this, together with a variety of climate, practically every vegetable grown in the United States may be profitably produced in Texas. The survey continues:

"The producing season for vegetables in Texas is continuous from Jan. 1 to Dec. 1. Cotton is produced in more than 200 counties, and when the last bale is being ginned on the great high plains the farmers in the Lower Rio Grande valley are planting a new crop."

One county in Texas produces more spinach than is grown in any single state beyond the borders of Texas. Its onion crop is sufficient to feed most of the nation. It has the largest plant beds or gardens in all the world, shipping-out millions of plants such as tomatoes and sweet potatoes.

It produces more than 50 per cent of the nation's production of sorghum grains and this crop has been found to be as good as corn for the finishing of beef cattle.

It raises more turkeys than any other state. It produces more sudan grass seed than any other state. It produces more than 75 per cent of the nation's mohair and 18 per cent of the nation's wool.

It has a single county which has sheep and goat ranches that are larger than the state of Rhode Island, the county producing more than 4,000,000 pounds of wool and mohair in a single season.

It has cattle ranches larger than several ordinary counties combined.

Through Texas ports more agricultural commodities find their way to world markets than pass through any other American port of entry.

The Texas cotton crop supplies a large percentage of the cotton exported to foreign countries.

More than 5,000,000 head of livestock was shipped from Texas in 1937, including cattle, sheep, lambs and hogs. It is the greatest beef cattle producing state in the union.

Last year its agricultural crops aggregated in value $460,000,000. This included more than 72,000,000 bushels of corn, more than 41,000,000 bushels of wheat, 30,000,000 bushels of oats, 12,000,000 bushels of rice, 52,000,000 bushels of sorghum grains, nearly 2,000,000 tons of hay, more than 1,000,000 bushels of cow peas, nearly 7,000,000 bushels of sweet and white potatoes, 5,230,000 bales of cotton and 2,329,000 tons of cottonseed.

In addition to 2,484,000 gallons of syrup, the value of its truck crop, exclusive of potatoes, amounted to more than $15,000,000 and its fruit crop passed the $15,000,000 mark.

Texas farmers use very little fertilizer. Its soils, if properly fertilized could be made to produce far more abundantly than now.

The various agricultural crops, vegetable gardens and orchards of the state were carried on an aggregate of a little more than 30,000,000 acres.

The total value of all crops, livestock products, minerals and values added in processing the crops and minerals, are more than $1,500,000,000.

The citrus industry of Texas, although only a few years old in terms of commercial production, is expanding rapidly. Last season's crop will show more than 10,000,000 crates, possibly 11,000,000, of grapefruit and oranges.

It has more than 7,000,000 head of cattle, 1,444,000 head of milk cows and more than 1,500,000 head of hogs. On its farms and ranches and in feed pens Jan. 1, 1938, there were 9,100,000 sheep and lambs, and 3,050,000 Angora goats helped to swell the number of wool-producing animals.

The increase in the number of cattle of all kinds shipped out of the state for 1937 was 778,000 greater than in 1936.

The number of milk cows Jan. 1, 1938, was 42,000 greater than a year previous.

In addition to all these, Texas produced between 32,000,000 and 35,000,000 pounds of pecans. It has the largest pecan shelling plants in the world.

There were 7,000 more horses and horse colts in Texas last Jan. 1 than a year prior.

Frontage on the Gulf of Mexico is equal to about one-sixth of the total boundary of the state, and this gulf boundary is dotted with numerous ports of entry from which ships sail to all parts of the world.

There are numerous gateways across the Rio Grande into the Republic of Mexico and good highways make possible the exportation of large quantities of products to Mexico and Central America.

In the past decade land devoted to the production of vegetables to be used by canneries has increased more than 1,000 per cent.

The state has the largest and the largest number of commercial rose gardens, and millions upon millions of rose plants are shipped to other states and to foreign countries.

Shipping point inspection service for fruits and vegetables shipped for markets covers a variety of 43.

Texas has enough bluebonnets to deck the yards and gardens of the entire world.

It has enough mocking birds to sing lullaby to the earth's teeming millions.

Mitchell county and Colorado should be thankful. We have the best season, no sandstorms, no cyclones, no floods, no calamities, little crime, plenty of rain, no drunken drivers, our schools are rated A-1, 75 per cent of the population hold church membership, no depression and our people are happy and contented.

TO BE A COLUMNIST

We have a letter from a lady friend and close reader of the column. She aspires to become a columnist, and to have her writings syndicated. It is a dreary ambition.

This columnist strongly recommends against it. You should look forward to a career in one of the learned professions. In a learned profession the professional is daily titillated by his intellect's contact with the economic problem. This is why so many learned men become economists and economists. Writing a newspaper column requires no learning, although it does demand a certain quantum of economy, lest the liabilities become top-heavy against the asthmatic appearance of the assets. You have read and heard all your life that the meek shall inherit the earth. This eliminates all newspaper columnists, who are invariably unmeek, therefore face irreparable disinheritance. If you become a columnist, it will mean that you have dedicated your life to mental and monetary meagerness, and an unmeekness significant of no chance to inherit real estate.

My advice to the lady is don't do it. I give herewith brief experiences and thoughts on writing my column.

Usually my column consists of one idea fully developed over about 1,000 words. Sometimes it is a short story. Sometimes it is a book review. And sometimes it is a bombastic criticism of something that doesn't amount to anything anyway. Usually I write it by figuring out first how I want to end it and then writing toward that end. This leads to queer results, sometimes.

A couple of weeks ago I started to write one that I intended to be humorous, but somewhere in the first paragraph I got sidetracked, and when I had it finished, it sounded like a cross between a Success story by Arthur Brisbane and one of Everett Place's Star Dust columns. It wasn't at all humorous—unless you are the type who enjoys impaling an insect on a pin and watching it struggle.

If you are figuring on beginning a column don't do it unless you figure you can keep it up, week after week, month after month. If, some weeks, ideas don't flow readily and you have to pick the thing out a word at a time, do it just that way. It may sound terrible while you are writing it. It may sound forced. But if you later compare it with a column written while inspiration was prodding you like an aching tooth, you'll find that one compares very well with the other.

Usually I have an idea of some kind when I begin writing. But sometimes when I get around to the task, my mind is as blank as the paper in my typewriter. I have a regular routine I go through, trying to secure up an idea. After some practice it becomes easy, stretching a two-line poke into a column or condensing a review of Anthony Adverse into a paragraph. If inspiration fails entirely, don't worry. Just wait until about 20 minutes before the deadline, yell at the operator that it will be finished in just a minute, and you'll be surprised at what perspiration will do.

If you are thinking of writing a column don't make it too high-brow. Keep it down to earth and use ordinary words. Write about ordinary things. Write about yourself once in a while. If you feel you should strut your knowledge along high-brow lines, don't do it often. Two in a row is too many.

I have adopted a simple style, and sometimes under stress of writing I will get my grammar slightly tangled. If I can't improve it without sacrificing something in the way of style, and if the meaning is clear, then I let the grammar part go. I was brought up to believe that God Almighty had a hand in joining an infinitive together and that it was not within the province of mere human to split it. I am not so particular now. I was also taught I should never use a preposition to end a sentence with. That was probably the hardest writing rule I had to learn to break, but I finally got the job done. Now I carve out the column and let the prepositions fall where they may.

You don't need an extensive library to write a column. I do an immense amount of reading, which ranges from the so-called classics, many of which are poorly written, down to the ten-cent variety of detective fiction, much of which is well written. I have an excellent memory for anything I read. You will need an unabridged dictionary, and if you know how to use it, you can find almost anything in it you might want to know. Another handy book is a World Almanac. A table of statistics is fodder for a column any time. You can get a lot of fun out of a book on anatomy or a book on natural history. I thought I needed a lot of new words; so I bought a thesaurus. I soon found that the average writer knows about 10,000 more words than the average reader understands, so I threw it away.

If you are thinking of starting a column, don't get the idea you are writing imperishable literature. If civilization comes crashing down about our ears as is promised, you may be sure that if any specimens of today's literature survive for future ages, weekly or even daily newspaper columns will not be included among them. About all you'll ever get out of writing a column is a little transient glory; and that is usually of a purely local variety.

MEN LIKE HOGS

Webster's old blueback speller says, "The hog never looks up to him who threshes down the acorns." Some people differ from the hog in one respect. The hog has bristles on his back, he poses around in all sorts of filth, he is malodorous, he gobbles up everything in sight, he squeals to heaven every time he is denied his wants, he grunts incessantly and without cause, he grows fat, then curls his tail, lies down contentedly and watches his fellow hogs starve. Man cannot curl his tail.

It is a debatable question as to whether excessive wealth is a blessing or a curse to a family. Wealth encourages idleness and shady indulgences. These habits fostered, wreck characters, and wrecked characters destroy the happiness of households. To prove this it is only necessary to take a look at the skeletons in the closets of the very rich and officially prominent families in the United States.

If it were not for Bible prophecies and doctrines we could not have any encouraging visions of a life after physical death. Therefore it is important that we study the prophecies and doctrines of the Bible to give us a lively hope to meet our loved ones in a home beyond this life.

Tight insulation holds oven heat constant... helps the oven to heat faster... saves gas... and keeps the kitchen cooler. Simmer burners provide a highly flexible heat that can be controlled to the exact temperature required for any boiling or frying job.

Of course, there are many other features to make your kitchen work easier and add hours of new leisure every day. And the best way to know these features is to get a first-hand look at the new ranges. They are as beautiful as they are efficient and are sold on the easiest kind of terms.

SENIOR NEWS Here, my dear readers, comes more news of the Senior activities! The Seniors are still working on their annual, but they plan to have it finished this Friday in order that they can get it published and returned before school is out.

SENIOR NEWS (continued) These seniors are really "ginning" these days, what with the annual, the contest play, which is made up of a senior cast, and preparations for "Kid Day" which is to be given about the first of April.

SENIOR NEWS (continued) In reference to the contest play, I wish that everyone might come to see it. It is a delightful little comedy concerning adolescents.

C. Slagle. COLORADO CARRIES OFF COUNTY TENNIS HONORS In the interscholastic league tennis meet, held last Friday and Saturday, Colorado High school entries were outstanding, winning first places in all but two events. In senior boys singles, Ernest Smith blasted the Loraine entry off the court in straight sets: 6-1, 6-0. In his second match, Smith won over Westbrook. In senior boys doubles, Red Blasingame and Warren Anderson, slugging southpaws, won the county title.

In junior girls singles and doubles, Jeannette Simpson, singles entry, was defeated in her last match, Virginia Whipkey and Catherine Slagle, playing senior doubles, as well lost their last match. Simpson and the doubles team won second in county. The junior entries came out victorious in all events. Clayton Henderson carried off the boys singles' title, while Harry Etta Landers defeated Westbrook for the girls singles championship. E. J. Tilley and Louis Bodzin won boys' doubles with Ann Axtel and Bobbie Lou Cooper victorious in girls doubles.

The first place winners will probably play in the district meet to be held in Sweetwater very soon. C. Slagle. BASKETBALL LETTERMEN RECEIVE AWARDS Basketball lettermen of the past season Tuesday received their awards. Two basketeers, Dook Cox and Buck Williams, received watch chains with one "basketball" link. The other lettermen, Burl Ballard, Squirt Woods, and Tommy Chadwick received links to be placed on the watchchains which they received at end of football season. Ernest Smith, in addition to receiving a "basketball" link, received a link reading "captain."

FRESHMAN NEWS Freshman boys and girls have had "the top" fever lately. Quite a few are becoming experts. A group of riders Sunday afternoon were starting to "The Hill," but when they found the gas register stating "empty," they changed their minds about going. Betty Lou, we must compliment you on that spiffy hat, owned by a fifth grader that you sported Sunday. Mary Price. AS DAYS COME AND GO Freddie Watson has been wearing Virgil Easterwood's ring until lately. Could her little jaunt in a Terraplane last Wednesday have had anything to do with it? Races come, and races go but the most exciting race of the week is between Dick Jones and O. B. True-lock for the company of Beulah Robinson. While O. B. and Dick are so gallantly racing, Doug ups and grabs the upper hand and captures the fairy princess. Lila Louise Mannering has had some visiting cards printed which say: "Lila Louise Mannering—Professional Flirt." (Even she admits it.) Friday night the Juniors had a skating party. Ole Dick gave the floor good cleaning too. People seem to take showerbaths in the most outlandish places. A certain foursome (names omitted for obvious reasons if you knew the low-down) gave a picnic on the other side of Loraine and simply drenched each other. Ten more Mondays until school is out and pupils are already planning to go to summer school. What's the significance of Thomas Earl's new name, "Sentimental"? Mose, when was it that you rolled down the hill? We hear that Virginia Whipkey visits the Alceve more often since Boone began "hopping cars" than before. Your reporter would like to make a correction concerning Mary Alceve's need of diversion. From appearances of Sunday afternoon she merely needed variety and not diversion.

What was in the note Opal Botvidson was so anxious to give John Farquhar in Spanish class Monday? George, just because Glen has a monopoly on Betty's Sunday afternoons for the past two weeks doesn't mean it'll last forever—I don't think. TRACK ENTRIES IN LEAGUE MEET Colorado High school entries in FORWARD, MARCH! "Come on, straighten up those lines, hey back there" is a sentence used much Thursday morning while the band marched on the Cantrill field. The band had as their visitors Jack Armstrong and Mr. Thompson from Sweetwater to help them with their marching. Mr. Thompson led them through many drills. Mr. Armstrong told Mr. Rose and the band members that he would send Mr. Thompson over every day next week. He also stated that he and others were interested in the C.H.S. band and wanted to see it win during the contest.

The band members wish to send James Wulfin their "hurry and get well" greetings. Delaer and Marge Thompson were visitors during the band period Friday morning and at last they have decided Colorado really has a fine band. At first they didn't think so. The band likes to have visitors during rehearsals and everyone is invited to attend these rehearsals. Frances Watson.

CHORAL CLUB NEWS The choral club gave a program last Tuesday in assembly. The program began with the choral club singing, "Who Is Sylvia," "I Passed By Your Window," and "Marcheta." The high school sextet then sang three songs, "My Rosary," "Songs My Mother Taught Me" and "Little Orphan Annie." The choral club concluded with the songs, "Dark Eyes," "Drink To Me Only With Thine Eyes," "Country Gardens" and "Come To The Fair." The program was very entertaining. Mr. Foster stated that the choral club enjoyed this program as much as the audience enjoyed listening to it. Freddie Blackwell.

HOME MAKING NEWS Carrying out a new idea, the foods class has learned to pack school lunches. Last Tuesday in class period the pupils packed lunches and then after school had a picnic with them. Nice plan, they say! Members of the sewing classes have completed their dresses. A style parade was held this week in each class similar to those found at the State Rally. Each received class criticism. The home economics department is really quite "sporty" now. A new sewing machine helps the looks of things greatly—and believes most of the congestion of the "sewing machine rush." Eight machines are now in the department. New brass flower bowling have been added to the foods dining room. Nancy Price. F. F. A. NEWS The F. F. A. boys plan to have their next regular meeting Tuesday night at 7:30. They intend to have a local speaker and expect quite a large attendance. The banner that the club ordered some time ago has arrived. It is to be framed and put up in the front of the class room. The boys have organized a soft ball team and they intend to enter one of the leagues here and also the baseball contest at Junction where the summer encampment will be held this year. C. Rogers.

MONDAY'S ASSEMBLY Monday's assembly was of an unusual type. A debate was given between Colorado's boys' debating team consisting of Howard Lewis and J. T. Williamson against Colorado's girls' debating team consisting of Beulah Frances Robinson and Mattie Bell Harvey. The question was: Resolved: That the government should have unicameral system instead of bicameral system in its legislature. Howard Lewis and J. T. Williamson of the affirmative won by a majority. The program was quite interesting. Monday night the debating teams entered county contest. The girls debated against Roscoe and lost. Loraine girls debated against Roscoe and won. The boys' teams of Westbrook and Roscoe debated, the affirmative winning which was Roscoe. The Loraine boys won over Colorado's boys. The negative, Loraine boys, won over Westbrook's boys. The last debate was between Colorado and Roscoe, Roscoe being the winner. Chrystal Neff.

They have started their yard improvement work, having sodded the yard, planted six rose bushes, set out forty-six shrubs in the foundation planting, transplanted four trees and several vines.

In the frame garden, they have planted lettuce, tendergreens, radishes, beets, carrots, and tomato seed. Mrs. Lowry will later transplant the tomato plants outside in the large garden.

Mrs. Lowry is planning to do some interior improvement work later on in the year, finish her kitchen which she started last year and improve two bedrooms.

Ask Geneva Lowry or Mary McKenney for they were the lucky ones on these games. Vocational Ag.—John Hines.

VOCATIONAL AG. REPORT
The Westbrook Future Farmers chicken project is coming on nicely. Some of the larger chickens will be large enough to sell in a week or two.

Wednesday, March 16, the V. A. boys in the tenth and eleventh grades went to the Rogers dairy to judge some dairy cows.

Thursday morning, March 17, the V. A. boys in the 8th and 9th grades went to watch Mr. Williams, the veterinary, work on some horses and mules. They went to Mr. Wilson's, Mr. Charlie Moores, and then to Mr. Ted Jackson's farms. While at Mr. Jackson's the boys were told by Mr. Williams how to tell the age of a horse.

SENIOR NEWS

The seniors met for a class meeting one day last week. They decided what they would give to the school. Work on it will probably start soon. It is going to be a sidewalk from the front door of the gymnasium to the west sidewalk of the school.

The seniors plan to go to Carlsbad Caverns on their annual trip. They will go some time within the next month or six weeks.

It won't be long until the seniors will start work on the class play. They have decided to order a comedy, "Murdered Alive." Watch this column for further details and plan to attend.

Don't forget the Junior play Thursday night, "The Last of the Ruthvins." See something that will give you a thrill!

MUSICAL NEWS

This week we again had a very fine program given by members of the freshman music class. (This includes four seniors and one soph.)

The group which planned the program was composed of three freshmen: Frances Taylor, Bobbie Lynn Dockery, and Calvin Boston.

The program was as follows: A trio composed of Valerie Milliken and Frances Taylor singing and accompanied by Melba Ruth Leach. We had many more numbers and then the three senior girls sang "A Gold Mine in the Sky," and then as an encore "Ten Pretty Girls." The last number was a group of Spanish selections by Mr. Hood.

FISHES FUN

There were twenty-nine freshmen at Calvin's party. The room was decorated in green crepe paper. We played several games and prizes were given to the winners. Everyone had a very nice time.

"If there only wasn't anything like chicken pox," say Joyce Rees. She is absent with them now. That makes the third pupil in our class that has missed some school with chicken pox.

OUT OF THE NEWS BOX
Walter Turner, two of our freshmen, looked very sweetly at each other, all of which leads us to believe they have a "heavy" crush on each other.

To you note writers: It seems that Geneva Lowry and Mack Walker have been writing some notes to each other. And Mr. Lauderdale is getting sorry "het" up about it. Everybody had better keep his eyes open when passing notes.

SPORTS NEWS

The volley ball games come first. The senior girls volley ball team went to Highland last Tuesday to play games with the home team there. They played four games and broke even. We won two and Highland won two. Then Wednesday night, the team went to Pyron for a small tournament. They were matched against Roscoe, with Roscoe winning two and Westbrook one. Then they played Pyron and won the first two, ending the match as the best two out of three. Then they went to Roscoe Saturday morning to an all-day tournament. They were scheduled to play Pyron, and won the first two. Drawing a bye for the next round, they advanced to semi-finals against Highland. After three hard games, of which Westbrook won the first one, Highland managed to get two, thereby eliminating the Westbrook team. The volley ball team is to play in Colorado for county meet Thursday.

TRACK MEET AT COAHOMA

Mr. Cox and his track boys and the tennis players went to Coahoma to a track meet last Friday. They won quite a number of first, second and third places, and placed third in number of points for the teams there. The first place winners were J. K. Bolin, first in the mile and discus throwing and several second places also.

Elizabeth Young and Ruth Smith won first in senior girls tennis.

Alfred Taylor won first in javelin.

SENIOR GIRLS DOUBLES WIN FIRST IN COUNTY

Jane Shelton and Marjorie Hardcastle, the senior doubles representing Westbrook, won first in county senior tennis last Friday. They won from Loreine by close matches and in the finals from Colorado by 6-1, 6-0.

Several other tennis representatives showed up well, and went to finals, but failed to win.

INTERSCHOLASTIC LEAGUE TO MEET FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

Most of the county interscholastic league meet will be held Friday with the exception of tennis and playground ball, which has already been held. The representatives from Westbrook are all very promising and we expect to have several first places this year.

Thursday night the juniors present "The Last of the Ruthvins." Admission 15c and 25c. Be sure and come.

SEVENTH GRADE NEWS

The ward school soft ball teams of boys and girls lost their first games by 10 and 21 scores. We hope they do better next time.

We have two from the seventh grade on the sick list this week, Elizabeth Maine and Leon Moore, our reporter.

The magazine racks of the Vocational agriculture girls are near completion. We hope they are finished before school is out. The seventh grade agriculture class visited the chicken yard Monday. We went in Mr. Cox's pickup but the seats must have been hard because we found some standing up as we were coming back. Mr. Cox, please get cushions next time.

The interscholastic league meet is Friday. Most of the students in this room are entering choral singing. Joan Hines and Ruth Coleman in spelling, Bessie Taylor and Joan Hines in number sense, Dick Wynne in Junior grammar boys declamation, and Bessie Taylor in Junior grammar girls declamation. We would like to bring back some first places.

Ruth Berry sure is sad this week because her Choppy Rees has the chicken pox. We used to think Ruby and Dick liked each other but we found them pulling each other hair, or maybe they just like to comb each other hair.

WATSON WILL ATTEND CO-OP GIN GATHERING

J. W. Watson said Monday that he will go to Abilene next Tuesday, March 29, to attend a regional meeting of those interested in cooperative gins. Other Coloradans will probably be in attendance also. Homer D. Wade, Dallas, Texas, secretary of the Texas Cooperative Gin Association and executive secretary of the Texas Cooperative Council, is to be in charge of this and other cooperative gin meetings to be held from March 21 until April 1. He makes the following announcement concerning these meetings:

"These regional cooperative gin meetings are educational in character and will afford splendid opportunities for officers, directors, stockholders and friends of the cooperative gin movement to become better acquainted with the value of the farmer-owned and farmer-controlled gins, when properly set up and managed as well as to know of his neighbor gins and its experiences."

Horn's Chapel News

By Cleda Morris
An electric lighting system was installed in our school Monday. We are looking forward to our first visual education lesson one day this week.

reported that half the student body (that includes all sophs) have succumbed to "spring fever." Others are weakening, and the percentage will probably be much higher next week. Cheer up, classmates. We have only about two more months of this toll and torture; however, one does find that such a span of time is sickening to the thoughts. I found it quite a task to induce myself to write this report. (And it is late anyway.) I guess you understand how the "fever" affects me. May your endurance withhold, fellow students.

Progression on Algebra I notebooks is certainly slow. That is, mine is.

Quotations from the English II teacher haven't produced a marked effect. Maybe I'm dumb, but I just can't seem to understand what she is talking about. I have no assurance that the rest of the class does either. It seems that their response is nothing stupendous.

The woodwork class has turned out nearly 100% to speed up work on the gym. Due to "over work" in the basement, Mr. Fowler has given us a vacation by letting us store articles under the stage. Gee whizz!

Choppy Rees seems to have the chicken pox.

Jackie seems to be having hard luck with his girl friend, or maybe Gerald is having good luck.

We wonder why Gerald and C. E. Butler are so thick?

Jannie and Ruth have so many boy friends?

Yours truly wishes to express his sincerest appreciation for Earl Neal's cooperation in writing this week's news. Thank you, Earl.

"Roofy" and "Goofy" close now, until this time next week when we will again bring the sophs news of the week.

Van and Earl.
