Police escorts met the caravan out of each town, and greetings were extended to the Colorado group at each stop by civic leaders and chamber of commerce officials. Midland turned out a large crowd to meet the caravan, as did other towns along the way. The concerts were picked up by radio in Big Spring and Pecos.

An invitation to attend the Colorado Frontier Roundup on September 8, 9, and 10 was extended by H. B. Spence, chamber of commerce manager, in each place where the caravan stopped.

As the caravan approached Pecos, its night stop, it was met at Bartstov by Ben Smith, manager of the Pecos chamber of commerce, and a group of Pecos civic leaders. While in Pecos the caravan went out to see the Red Bluff dam.

MACHINERY SET IN MOTION FOR HOPPER CONTROL IN COUNTY

NEWLY FORMED COMMITTEE ASKS AT LEAST ONE CAR OF POISON FOR USE ON MITCHELL FARMS

Machinery has been set in motion for Mitchell county to join in the current fight against a possible grasshopper invasion this summer, according to B. J. Baskin, county farm agent, who has been made county grasshopper control leader.

Members of the county commission's court and the county committee of the Mitchell County Agricultural Conservation Association have set up a grasshopper control committee composed of J. E. Skelton of Westbrook, J. S. Boyd of Hyman, and A. B. Erwin of Colorado.

The county committee has notified the state committee on grasshopper control that the county will meet all conditions set forth in order to receive free government poison. At least one car of poison has been requested for use in Mitchell county.

Each farmer is to furnish 50% of the bran necessary for poisoning on his farm. The government will furnish 50% of the bran and all the poison. Each farmer will be responsible for the distribution of the poison on his own land.

THOUSANDS ARE EXPECTED TO ATTEND OPENING OF ANOTHER AMATEUR HOUR SEASON AT RUDDICK PARK ON FRIDAY

Thousands of Mitchell countians are expected to turn out Friday night for the opening of the "amateur hour" season at Ruddick park amphitheater. A colorful, melody-filled program has been prepared for the occasion by Mrs. W. R. Martin.

As in past seasons, the programs this year will open with a half-hour concert by the Colorado band under direction of R. P. Rose. The concert will begin at 7:30, and last until 8 o'clock, when the amateur program will begin.

Originated in 1936 by J. H. Greene, then manager of the Colorado chamber of commerce and now manager at Big Spring, the amateur hour program has been held every Friday night during both summers since its beginning. It has drawn crowds estimated as high as 8,000.

The huge amphitheater became entirely inadequate for the crowds as last summer drew to a close. Seating capacity of the amphitheater was almost doubled recently through a city-sponsored WPA project providing for the southward extension of all terraces.

J. H. Greene had charge of the programs during the first season, and R. H. Barber was director last year after Greene went to Big Spring. H. B. Spence, new manager of the chamber of commerce, is to be in charge this summer.

Friday night's program, prepared under Mrs. Martin's direction, will open with a choral number, "In a Little Dutch Kindergarten," by the Dixie Debs, including Betty Hodge, Fannie Porter, Frances Cooper, Hazel Grubbs, and Catherine McKinney. Pantomime will be by Carolyn Raye Womack and Mary Ann Kelley, with a Dutch clog dance sequence by Reba Fae Jackson, Marlene Hammond, Betty Jean Womack, Neida Jo Yarborough, Loree Cranfill, and Joy Fern Strain.

Other numbers will be as follows: "An Old Straw Hat," song and

Weldon Skinner returned home last week after having received his long period of special efforts on the part of Mrs. Hubert Smith, U.D.C. president, and others. Awarding of the crosses was closed two years ago, it being thought at that time that one had been given to every Confederate veteran in the nation.

The fact that Mr. Pool was a Civil War veteran was not known to the Mitchell county U.D.C. chapter until less than a year ago. This was because he had never applied for his pension. "I didn't think it was right to take it until I actually needed it," Mr. Pool explained recently. Efforts to get a cross of honor for him were started by the U.D.C. some time ago. Mrs. Smith had to contact the national president before it could be secured.

She presented the cross to Mr. Pool at his home Tuesday, a few hours after he had suffered a heart attack that came near being fatal. Until he was stricken Mr. Pool had been making tentative plans to attend the Gettysburg reunion of Union and Confederate soldiers on the seventy-fifth anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg, July 1-3.

As the presentation of the cross was made Mrs. J. G. Merrill said a prayer. Mrs. Jeff Dobbs pinned the cross on Mr. Pool, and a basket of fruit and flowers was presented to him by Mrs. Jack Smith and Mrs. C. P. Gary.

Rainbow And Pot of Gold Theme Carried Out In Shower For Mrs. G. C. Harkins

Carrying out a rainbow and pot of gold theme, Hettie Adele Hutchinson, Hilma Joyce, and Sidney Thomas (in absentia) entertained with a reception shower for Mrs. G. C. Harkins, the former Marie Girvin, at the Hutchinson home Saturday night.

Spring flowers were used in reception rooms. Guests were received by Miss Hutchinson, the honoree, Mrs. Luke Girvin, Mrs. P. E. Harkins, Etta Fern Harkins, and Pauline Pritchett.

Miss Joyce presided over a bride's book covered with a rainbow design. Piano numbers were played by Hazel Grubbs while guests assembled.

Program for the evening included "Rosalie" given as a toe ballet by Billie Margaret Gregory; a vocal solo, "Sweetheart," from "Maytime," by Hazel Grubbs with Josephine Chesney accompanying; a toast to the bride by Memphis Porter, and a toast to the girls left behind by Miss Chesney.

The rooms were suddenly darkened, and in the darkness a lighted, cellophane rainbow appeared, its foot resting in a pot which was found to contain a card. The card was presented to the honoree by Miss Joyce with a fitting poem. The card directed Mrs. Harkins to "follow the light." The light, blue in color, turned from the rainbow in the living room to a larger rainbow in the dining room. One end of the rainbow rested on the lace-covered dining table, the other in a gift-filled pot on the floor.

After the gifts were opened, punch and cake in rainbow colors were served. Favors were formed of paper doilies cut in half with vari-colored ribbons running rainbow-fashion through the open-work edges. The ends of these rainbows were attached to gold-colored cups filled with nuts.

Included in the houseparty were Harriet Ann Pritchett, Beulah Frances Robinson, Josephine Chesney, Billie Margaret Gregory, Etta Fern Harkins, and Memphis Porter.

CLASSIFIED NIX WINS GOLF HONORS

OF THE DAY AT LUBBOCK

Honors of the day in golfing "for fun" during Wednesday preliminaries for the West Texas Golf association's tournament in Lubbock were accorded to E. C. Nix of Colorado by Amos Melton, Fort Worth Star-Telegram sports writer, in Thursday morning's issue.

Melton wrote of Nix: "Most of the honors in Wednesday's for-fun swinging went to E. C. Nix, the tall and quiet boy from Colorado. E. C. shot one round of 39-31-70 and including a nifty hole-in-one on the back nine. The ace came on No. 12, much to the disgust of Joe Dick Slaughter and R. M. Neill of Odessa who were playing 'cats'."

NEW HAT

By Ruth Ayers

Big John felt guilty all day, his new skullguard resting uneasily on his head. Oh, there was nothing wrong about the fit, but he shouldn't have bought it. That morning, at the company store, he had made up his mind suddenly. It had seemed the right thing to do, with the other miners hanging around to watch as he tried on the glossy helmet.

Jake, who worked in the same shaft as cage loader with him, had said, "Yeah, it's about time you got a new one."

And someone else, with the inevitable ribald touch, had added, "Oh, I dunno as he needs it. His skull's so thick, nothing could dent it anyway."

Big John had laughed with the rest but, with his cap lamp attached, its battery hooked in his belt, he had swaggered at the possession of the new skullguard. Besides, wasn't it true that one of the greatest dangers a miner risks is from fall of roof or coal?

His head and his feet must be armored. This cap, for instance, had been newly perfected to withstand a heavy impact from any object hurtling down from great height.

Mighty nice, thought Big John, but his pride in owning it wore thin when he thought of Stella. The guard became weighty, bearing down as if it had been thorn-lined instead of padded. Stella was his wife. She wasn't like the brides most young miners chose. A city girl, who had never seen a mining town until she had married him a year ago.

Brought up in Pittsburgh's North Side, her water-waved hair, red dress and husky voice had first made the day dazzling for John when he had bought a ticket in the Federal Street movie house where she presided in the box office.

She had been haughty and distant that first day when John had tried to smile at her. He didn't quite know how the other fellows managed these things. But returning repeatedly, the slow, shy dumbness which was his had finally fixed her attention. She had kidded him along until—well, Stella was now in House 82 on the hillside—a cage loader's wife.

Of course, you couldn't expect Stella to have the cottage furnished with a wicker set and straw matting on the floor. So there was a three-piece plush suite, a real carpet, radio, and lamps with frosted shades and rainbow fringes.

It was the same about clothes. Stella couldn't bear the sight of pink gingham and bungalow aprons, nor could she go bare-legged or in loped-heeled shoes like some of her neighbors. She wasn't exactly a gimme-girl, John reasoned. She'd just been used to more than the other miners' wives. Every cent that John spent on himself, he felt was cheating Stella of things which were hers by right. He didn't even feel resentful when she said, "I oughta have this," or "Gee, there's nothing here for a girl."

As the day passed, with its monotonous weaving of filled and empty cages on the hoist, John kept thinking, "My old guard woulda done a while longer. Specially when I knew Stella was counting on a new hat to wear on her next visit to her cousins in Pittsburgh."

Stella had been persistent about the hat, too. "People just don't wear straw at this time of year," she had explained. "And I'm not going to have any of my city friends reminding me, although some of them would like nothing better."

Now, ironically, he had the new hat and she didn't. Not that his headpiece had cost so much—but enough to cheat Stella of what she had set her heart on.

Glumly, as it drew close to quitting time, he gave the signals for the cages to be raised. Finally, in a huff, as one of the hoists moved up, Jake looked at him thoughtfully.

"You musta had razor soup in your lunch pail today," he said. "Seems like your throat is cut."

No, his throat wasn't cut—but it choked with the dread of going home.

BLACK SANDSTORM HITS HERE GENTLY; FARMERS DEPLORE HIGH WINDS

Although nature's most threatening gesture of the past week, Monday afternoon's black sandstorm, hit Colorado and Mitchell county with surprising gentleness, farmers over the county are deploring the drying and beating effects of the past week's continued high winds.

In sandier portions of the county the winds whip up miniature sandstorms which are destructive to young cotton and feed. Land in many sections is becoming very dry on the surface because of the winds.

Sunday's wind was one of the hottest ever experienced here in May, old-timers said.

As for Monday afternoon's black sandstorm, it drifted gently over the town without doing any appreciable damage except for depositing a fine silt over homes, furnishings, and lawns. The storm appeared without warning in the northeastern sky, and was one of the blackest ever seen here. It had given Lubbock five minutes of midnight blackness earlier in the afternoon.

WARNING GIVEN TO PREVENT SNAKEBITES
AUSTIN.—Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, urges everyone to be careful to prevent snake bites when in the country. In Texas the chief offender is the rattlesnake, and, contrary to common belief, it does not always rattle before it strikes.
About seventy-five per cent of all bites occur on the lower extremities and could be prevented, to a large extent, by wearing high top boots or leggings. About twenty per cent occur on the hands and arms. Care should be exercised in not putting the hands in invisible places when climbing rocks, and to look before picking up anything that may be obscured by vegetation, brush or rocks.

If one is bitten, prompt action is necessary and a physician should be obtained as soon as possible. No time should be lost in removing the poison by suction; this can be done by a suction cup. First, a tourniquet should be applied above the wound, so as to increase congestion and assist in washing out the poison. A cross cut incision with a sharp, clean knife or razor blade should be made over each fang mark, or preferably to connect the two fang punctures. These cuts should be at least a quarter of an inch deep and at least that long. Suction should be applied for at least a half hour. The tourniquet should be released every ten or fifteen minutes for a minute at a time.

If bitten by a snake, do not run or get overheated; do not take alcoholic stimulants; do not use potassium permanganate (which is now known to be of no value as an antidote) to cauterize the wound; and do not depend on home remedies.

WAR DEAD HONORED IN SERVICE HELD AT THE CEMETERY

MEMORIAL DAY ADDRESS IS MADE BY ARCHDEACON J. W. HEYES

The soldier dead who rest in the Colorado cemetery were remembered once more as Memorial day services were held at the flagpole in the cemetery Monday evening at 6:30.

The still silence which blanketed the cemetery after a thick dust cloud had drifted over Colorado added to the solemnity of the occasion. The service opened with a prayer by the Rev. T. A. Patterson of First Baptist church and a vocal trio, "Day is Dying in the West," by Betty Hodge, Frances Merle Cooper, and Lucille Goode.

In his address Archdeacon J. W. Heyes dwelt on the ideals of the south, urging his hearers to always think for themselves.

Flags had been previously placed on the graves of all war dead by Mrs. Merritt, Miss Mabel Smith, Craig Porter, and Harvey Cook. As Mrs. Merritt read the roll of war dead, flowers for each were placed in a giant wreath by Margaret Smoot, Betty Brown, Billy Ann Hill, Rosalie Franklin, and Kenneth Cawthron of Lubbock. Mrs. C. C. Thompson, Mrs. Logan Spalding, and Mrs. Tom Burrus held the flowers until they were placed.

Singing of taps by Jas. A. Ferguson closed the service.

NEW AUTO SUPPLY DEPARTMENT STORE OPENING SATURDAY, JUNE 4

H. M. Sanders who recently moved here from Tyler is holding the formal opening of the Colorado Auto Supply Saturday, June 4. We feel that Mr. Sanders is doing the city of Colorado a real favor in making every item necessary for the automobile in the way of Firestone auto supplies, tires and batteries available to the public at prices second to none and of the highest quality. Mr. Sanders has in stock 2,000 auto supply items that are selected, tested and chosen to improve the performance and looks of today's automobile. We invite you to go around and inspect the Colorado Auto Supply and get acquainted with Mr. Sanders. Come around opening day.

Colorado Auto Supply has complete truck tire service. In addition to carrying a complete stock of passenger tires in all price ranges, Mr. Sanders has a complete stock of truck tires here for the convenience of the truckers in this vicinity. He invites all truck operators to come around get acquainted with him and see the favorable prices and complete stock of Firestone tires and batteries available here. Mr. Sanders said night service does not make him mad.

SOMETHING NEW IN A BATTERY SEPARATOR. Mr. Sanders of the Colorado Auto Supply is offering the Firestone Patented All Rubber Separator in a large percentage of the Firestone batteries he has for sale in giving the motorist something exclusive and very desirable in a battery. Today's high speed and long drive makes the wear on a separator very pronounced, and a separator often fails long before the rest of the battery is hurt. The all rubber separator furnished in the Firestone battery is capable of wearing out two batteries.

FIRESTONE WINS AGAIN—SEE FREE SOUND PICTURE. For the nineteenth consecutive year Firestone tires were on the winning car at the Indianapolis 500 mile speedway race. Floyd Roberts, 38-year-old engineer of Van Nuys, Calif., streaked around the 2 1/2 mile Indianapolis speedway Monday at a record breaking speed of 117.2 miles per hour average for the 500 mile race. Mr. Sanders of the Colorado Auto Supply is especially proud to be able to give his customer a tire manufactured by a concern that makes the tires that are the "Choice of Champions." Mr. Sanders says that he is always glad to explain to anyone interested in the Firestone patented process of "gum-dipping" because this is the process that is responsible for Firestone holding more world records in tire performance than all other makes combined and "gum-dipping" does this by 28% reduction in friction over cords that are not "gum-dipped." Mr. Sanders has secured a picture to show Saturday night at his place of business of the Indianapolis Speedway race. The public is cordially invited to see this picture.

COLORADO AUTO SUPPLY IS DISTRIBUTOR OF FIRESTONE GROUND GRIP TRACTOR TIRES. The famous Firestone ground grip tractor tire that has outlast all other makes combined is an item that is definitely preferred by the farmers of West Texas.

Firestone ground grip tractor tires make possible a maximum reduction in expense in that it saves a minimum of better than two cents per mile in tractor fuel alone. In this area, this would approximate an annual saving of $60.00 per year. The ground grip tread design was so outstandingly effective in traction that the United States Bureau of Patents Office granted a patent on this tire. Mr. Sanders also wishes to announce that he has the new Firestone dual tractor tires for loose base sandy soils.

CARD OF THANKS. We wish to thank all of our friends in Westbrook and Mitchell county for the flowers and other expressions of sympathy extended to us in the recent loss of our wife and daughter, IRVINE HALE AND FAMILY.

ST. JOHN BEGINS 12TH YEAR AS GAME WARDEN

Because Mitchell county is included in his jurisdiction and because he is known to so many Mitchell countians, the following Abilene Reporter-News story on W. T. St. John, West Texas game and fish warden, should be of interest locally:

W. T. St. John of Abilene starts his twelfth year as a West Texas game and fish warden Wednesday. During his tenure, which began as an appointee of Will J. Tucker, St. John has traveled about 425,000 miles. That's something like 17 times around the world, and he's yet to receive even a minor hurt from an accident.

St. John is warden for district 9, covering Taylor, Jones, Fisher, Stone-wall, Kent, Scurry, Mitchell and Nolan counties. In the past eleven years, he has patrolled territory from Texline in the Panhandle to Kerrville on the south and the Big Bend country on the west.

"The fiscal year just closed has been a banner one for the sale of hunting licenses," said St. John. "I sold around 1,300 licenses myself; that's more than I sold any previous year since I've been an officer."

"Game conditions next fall should be the best since I've been covering this territory. Lots of bob white quails have been planted in this part of the country this year, grain crop should be good and the bird crop should be even better than that of 1933."

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dozier of Kermit were through here Wednesday enroute to their home after a vacation trip to Louisiana and East Texas points. Mrs. Dozier's parents of Big Spring accompanied them on the trip.

BETTE DAVIS' 'JEZEBEL' IS WICKED GAL

With Bette Davis as star, "Jezebel," pronounced by previewers to be the best picture of her highly successful career, will have its first local showing at the Palace Theatre Saturday evening, and Sunday and Monday.

This is a Warner Bros. drama with its action laid in New Orleans in the early 1850's just before the yellow fever scourge descended upon the picturesque city.

Miss Davis portrays a spoiled, utterly selfish young socialite who takes pleasure in scoffing at all the ancient traditions of her class and period. But she is regenerated in the end by sacrifices she makes to help her chief suitor, played by Henry Fonda.

A rival beau is played by George Brent. Other capable performers in the high class supporting cast include Margaret Lindsay, Fay Bainter, Donald Crisp, Richard Cromwell, Henry O'Neill, John Littel, Spring Byington, Janet Shaw and Margaret Early.

"Jezebel" was originally a successful stage play by Owen Davis, Sr. It was adapted for the screen by Abem Finkel and Clements Ripley and directed by William Wyler.

"THRILL OF A LIFETIME"
Palace—Thursday, June 2
Light musical variety, boasting no

outstandingly potent marquee names and far from overwhelming in production or entertainment values. Fanchon's feature offering, reminiscently patterned in the style of her tab stage shows, will find heavy going in important showings but qualifies as suitable top spot material in subsequent runs. The best contribution in the acting field comes from the reliable Yacht Club Boys, with specialties by Dorothy Lamour and Eleanore Whitney serving to bolster the weaker moments. Ben Blue does all that can be expected with a part beneath his talents. Story, what there is of it, concerns a hodge-podge of theatrical production and an idyllic summer camp where romance may be had Carte de Jour.

Direction by George Archainbaud.
Players are Yacht Club Boys, Judy Canova, Ben Blue, Eleanore Whitney, Betty Grable, Leif Erikson, Larry Crabbe.

"COCONUT GROVE"
Palace—Friday and Saturday
June 3 and 4

A well-knit comedy-romance with music that should gross nicely. The plot follows the hardships of Fred MacMurray and his band as they try to make a name for themselves. Starting out in Chicago, the troupe, aided by singer-teacher Harriet Hilliard, struggles its way west for a tryout at the Coconut Grove. The usual mixup occurs, with the wrong band hired for the spot. Matters are squared on opening night, with MacMurray, Hilliard and the rest walking away with honors. Little Billy Lee, likeable, down-to-earth youngster, handles his role well. The Yacht Club Boys, woven into the story throughout, give their best performance to date for Paramount. Catchy tunes help out. Directed by Al Santell.

Players are Fred MacMurray, Harriet Hilliard, the Yacht Club Boys, Ben Blue, Billy Lee, Rufe Davis, Eve Arden, Harry Owens.

"OF HUMAN HEARTS"
Palace—Tuesday and Wednesday
June 7 and 8

A superb and touchingly human document, this will win a warm place in the hearts of film patrons, who should reward it magnificently for its sterling, down-to-earth entertainment qualities. Although highlighted by pathos, the screenplay—an adaptation of Honore Wilson's "Benefits Forgot"—is so masterfully contrived that the feature never approaches the maudlin and a wholesome thread of comedy is insurance against making the general theme depressing. In production values and background, in direction and as regards cast, the picture is among the best of its kind ever made. Walter Huston is particularly fine as the frontier circuit-riding minister, while Beulah Bondi delivers her standardly fine-grained performance. A welcome addition to most "must see" lists. Clarence Brown directed.

Players are Walter Huston, James Stewart, Gene Reynolds, Beulah Bondi, Guy Kibbee, Charles Coburn, Clem Bevans.

"OUTSIDE OF PARADISE"
Ritz—Thursday, June 2

A mildly diverting musical whose appeal will be strongest in subsequent spots. Despite an aimless production there is much in the proceedings to concentrate on for good returns. Phil Regan and Penny Singleton are more than a charming pair and there are some lively tunes, notably "The Sienanigan," which should be a hit. Located in a castle in Ireland which Regan has inherited. He discovers that his share is only half and the other is held by Miss Singleton. She refuses to sell and Regan then opens a night club, featuring hamburgers. Romantic complications are a result of a benefactress, but Phil and Penny discover their love for each other in a slapstick finale. Regan's voice adds considerably to the picture and Miss Singleton plays the Irish colleen in sparkling manner. John Auer directed.

Players are Phil Regan, Penny Singleton, Bert Gordon, Leonid Kinsky, Ruth Coleman, Renie Riano.

"HEADIN' EAST"

Buck deserts the plains for the canyons of New York, where in typical two-fisted, he-man manner he bests the thugs and wins the gal. The supporting cast is unimpressively adequate, with Ruth Coleman in the femme lead registering the weakest performance and Shemp Howard, abetted by Elaine Arden, supplying acceptable comedy background. Ewing Scott's direction is of routine nature.

GAS COMPANY VICTOR IN BIGGEST RATE CASE; WINS NINE OTHERS

Lone Star Gas Company's victory in the famous rate case decided in its favor by the United States Supreme Court is the climax to a long series of court victories by the company, according to company officials. Since 1929, the company has won nine cases that have reached final decision.

In the present case, after six years of exhaustive investigation by the Texas Railroad Commission and the courts, the company has established the fact that the railroad commission's order reducing its rate from 40 cents per 1,000 cubic feet to 32 cents was unjust and confiscatory. The Supreme Court sustained the verdict of a jury in the district court at Austin which held that the rate ordered by the commission was unfair and has returned the case to the Court of Civil Appeals for judgment accordingly.

This case, started by the railroad commission in 1932, was the one in which the commission assailed the company's advertising, laying down a policy which virtually would have prevented the company from advertising had it been upheld. While the commission did not eliminate the company's advertising expense in this case, it inferred that most of its advertising was for political purposes and stated as a positive policy that only the local distributing companies should advertise and not the Lone Star Gas Company.

The Supreme Court, according to company attorneys, in effect held that since the jury as the trier of the facts found the commission's order confiscatory upon the conflicting facts, the Court of Civil Appeals could not overturn the jury's verdict on the ground that the company had failed to properly segregate its Texas and Oklahoma property. The High Court further held that the evidence was sufficient which the company introduced in support of its claim that the commission's rate was confiscatory.

The court held that the gas company had by appropriate evidence shown the commission's order to be confiscatory, that the jury had so found, that under the State practice the Court of Civil Appeals was not empowered to substitute its findings for the jury and trial judge upon conflicting evidence, and that therefore the case should be remanded to the Court of Civil Appeals for a judgment accordingly.

The other major cases won by the company since 1929 involved rates in Fort Worth, Roysce City, Wichita Falls and Oklahoma, and regulatory issues in Sherman, Wichita Falls and Fort Worth.

EIGHT MILLION SEEN IN TOURIST TRADE

Conoco Bureau Predicts Favorable Year
Up in Denver a motor travel bureau that checks up on its customers says that 366,000 of those customers will visit Texas during 1938 and will spend about $37,000,000 while here. This is the Conoco Travel Bureau, maintained by the Continental Oil Company and directed by Joe H. Thompson, who bases his predictions on last year's records and on the tourist trend in the early months of this year.

Says Thompson, "The figures on Texas support the belief that this state is becoming more popular. According to present indications the number of visiting cars and motorists in 1938 will compare favorably with any earlier year."

"We estimate that motor tourists routed by our bureau will spend about $9,000,000 in retail stores, $8,000,000 in restaurants and other eating places, $7,500,000 for gasoline, oil and other transportation costs and a similar amount for hotel accommodations and lodgings. About $3,000,000 will go for amusements and $2,000,000 for souvenirs and incidentals."

EDUCATION

Schools are closing and have closed and it is but fitting that we use this column for the exhibition of educational thoughts to the pupils and graduates.

The world is in great need of men and women properly educated. It always has been; it always will be.

The most stupendous, the most complex, the most intricate, the most difficult problems that have ever presented themselves to man for solution, now confront the world. Therefore their solution demands greater capacity on the part of men—more education, more wisdom, and more continuous practice of those faculties and virtues by which alone can humanity's difficulties be overcome.

It is recorded fact that those nations of the past which were intellectually and morally incapable of solving the epoch-making problems that confronted them—problems which meant crises in their history—have invariably gone down in defeat and disintegration, sometimes in humiliation.

When crises come it is to men of wisdom and prudence, intelligence and moral stamina that the people look for help. Qualification and capacity must of necessity increase one's responsibility to society. Knowledge and ability make the performance of duty imperative. It is through the exercise of these in the wisest way that creates what Sydney Smith characterized as "the magnificent spectacle of human happiness."

Thus it is that education multiplies the number of paths leading to the Highway of Opportunity whose terminus is the City of Success. It must be that with increased preparation come increased opportunities, and with these come less excuse for failure.

The realization of the importance of honor as well as of skill, of integrity as well as of intellectual attainment, of Truth as well as of Power, of moral and spiritual endowment as well as of physical and textual qualification on the part of the student, is an essential of such stressful importance that he can never reach his highest possible achievement without it. Without such realization he can never become fully aware of the meaningful significance of complete education, or be fully conscious of the practically illimitable accomplishment resident in spiritual and mental dynamics.

These meditations bring us at once to see that if there ever was a time when there was great need for men and women worth while, it is now.

As always under such conditions there never were more opportunities offering themselves to men and women of wisdom and capacity, power and ambition.

OPPORTUNITY

Much is said about Opportunity knocking at one's door. She knocks at it, but she doesn't kick it in and drag you out to make you recognize her.

One must be able to recognize her when she knocks and give her a cordial and hearty welcome. She is quite timid, so don't hurt her feelings. Too many rebuffs will cause her to discontinue her visits. If she goes away the first time before you open the door, be ready next time she comes and treat her better. And she will come again. Your job is to be able to recognize her when she does come, and take what she gives you.

Another important thing about Opportunity: She is a good judge of what you can do, and always offers you what she thinks you are capable of handling efficiently.

It is not necessary for you to be a genius. You may start out as a one-talent boy and become a five-talent man. Or you can begin as a five-talent man and degenerate into a one-talent fellow. It's up to you.

Put no reliance in Luck. Hard work and determination come nearer forming an unbeatable combination than do talismans and wishbones, rabbits' feet and horseshoes.

Strengthen your backbone. Annulades have to lie down and crawl and then never get very far.

Vertebrae stand up and travel. Don't be a worm! You have to furnish your own equipment. The firefly doesn't borrow his light. He makes it and uses it.

And if you are going to be an insect, either be a firefly and light the way for somebody; or, be a bee and make some honey. But don't be too ready to use your stung.

If you are a firefly carry your light high enough to show others the way—those groping in the dark. Lower it only when some one else wants a chance to light his lamp from yours. If you are a bee, don't be stingy; divide your honey with some one else. *

THE WORLD WAITS YOU

Your part in the world's affairs may be a modest part, but the world waits on you to do your part just the same. Every department of science, every branch of every profession and trade, is waiting for the coming of men with knowledge, with skill, determination and ambition. Every activity having for its object the promotion of human welfare, is awaiting the coming of men with qualification and energy; men with purpose and determination to aid in the greatest work that can engage the attention and capacity of all, whether genius or mediocre, the talented or the "average man," and surely you belong somewhere in the list.

Get ready—then get busy!

There are many devices that are awaiting the touch of your inventive genius to give them to humanity; devices for promoting health, making comfortable the aged, aiding science in its discoveries. There are improvements to be made in law and statesmanship, and in social problems to be solved. There are processes challenging your learning and patience, experiment and discovery. There are diseases that defy the genius of man. Get ready and go after their causes and destroy them.

You refuse to take a dare in a contest with your schoolmates and friends involving physical or mental strength and demonstration. Why allow the challenges of uninvited implements, the invisible disease germ, man's greatest foe, or the latent power of chemicals, or new combinations of forces, to go unanswered?

AMERICA'S GREATEST INSTITUTION

If one is asked what the greatest force for the promotion of human betterment in America is, he probably would be right if he replied, "The public free school." The fact that people look upon the public free school as of invaluable aid in the development of men and women into good citizens, is seen in the further fact that they are willing to pay the taxes necessary to its support. An impressive idea as to the benefit of the public free school to the Nation as a whole can be had by estimating its value to each individual boy or girl who attends it; then think of the millions who get about all the education they ever have while attending these schools.

MAKE YOURSELF FIT

When one makes an early choice of his life work with due consideration for his fitness for it, he makes it certain that he will not become what is one of the most unfortunate individuals one meets—

ROGERS RAMBLINGS

By Irene Howell

The reporter would like very much to put an article in the Rogers Ramblings called "My High Resolve" each week until the copies have been used up. They have meant so much to this writer that we would like to pass them on.

MY HIGH RESOLVE—COURAGE

I will be courageous. I am determined to grow. My Father wills it so and I arise to my own. My life shall be great. I resolve to climb the steps. Thorn pierced my feet, and rough the way yet upward through storm and tempest, if that must be. I struggle on. I shall reach the heights. God is for me and with me, therefore I know each day shall find me nearer my great goal. A great life, a beautiful life, a useful life, are mine. By divine right they are mine. I claim them—They are mine. O Father, lead me up the heights. I trust in thee.

As everyone knows around in this country a dust storm blew over Monday afternoon trying to scare the farmers out of the fields and blow things away. But aside that we have had lovely weather and everything is growing nicely and it won't be long till we will see cotton choppers in the fields fighting the weeds and grass.

Our Sunday school was fine last Sunday. The lesson was most interesting and helpful to those that came and studied it. Mr. Smallwood taught all the classes as one Sunday because of only one teacher being present. We feel sure each class enjoyed Mr. Smallwood as their teacher.

Golden Text—"She hath done what she could." Mark 14:8. Next Sunday's lesson will be "The Heart of Christian Service." So we are expecting a large crowd out next Sunday.

a square peg in a round hole. Such a one is a person not at all fitted by nature or study for the work which he is to follow as a means of livelihood. The life of such a one is a long-drawn-out tragedy.

The earlier one begins to prepare himself for his life work, the sooner and better he can qualify for all the emergencies he may meet in pursuing it. Many a fine mechanic has been ruined in the effort to make an attorney of one who has a mechanical bent. This applies as well to other trades and professions.

Unfitness presages failure in one's business, trade or profession, and failure means unhappiness.

Many proud parents have ruined the lives of sons and daughters by having them undertake trades or professions for which they were in no way fitted. Such a one is a pathetic spectacle. In addition to being a failure and realizing himself to be such, the constant conscious feeling of unfitness is of itself like a haunting, brooding specter of fear.

BAPTISTS VOTE NO

The Southern Baptist Convention at Richmond, Va., a few days ago, voted strongly against organic union of all denominations into one church. While such a union of believers is desirable it will never be consummated so long as human nature plays so large a part in all denominational organizations.

Much as they love and respect other Christians, Baptist love more the saving grace of baptism, the freedom of worship without the ministrations of a priesthood. Baptists may well be the most sizable group of Christians who will not march toward world church unity with the World Council of Churches. Recently in Richmond, Va., 5,000 messengers (delegates) to the Southern Baptist Convention representing 5,000,000 Baptists in 18 States, applauded two frank statements of the Baptist position on unity. A committee thumbed down "any federation, council or what not that would hinder us in the full and free preaching of the whole counsel of God." In the opening sermon, to which Baptists annually look forward as representing the very best tradition of Southern preaching, Dr. John Richard Sampey, retiring president, said: "An intelligent and convinced Baptist, with the New Testament in his hand, finds little to draw him toward a church which denies the competence of the individual soul to do business with God through Christ Jesus as the sole mediator. We cannot get the consent of our minds to surrender the freedom with which Jesus Christ has set us free, in order to unite with (Catholics) or even evangelical pedobaptists (those practicing infant baptism)."

WRITING UP THE SCHOOL PLAYS

Simple as it seems to the average person, there is nothing the average editor dreads attempting more than to write up a home talent play. If there are twelve in the cast, that means that there are twelve persons, each with the secret belief that he or she is potential moving picture fodder. So are all of the near kin of the east. If the editor says something nice about one member of the cast he has to say something equally as nice about all the other members of the cast, including the musical talent between the acts. The best method is to adhere to the advice of an old politician who told a young politician to "say nothing, but say it impressively!"

The only thing wrong is the word "secret." From our experience both before and behind the footlights, the actor makes no bones about how good he is. If his belief is secret, so is a police siren. That goes for amateurs as well as professional Thespians. The conviction is born in even the humblest of us followers of grease paint and spoken English.

This writer acquired his stage ability early in life, back there in the little red schoolhouse of a Friday afternoon when we were called on, without benefit of lights or scenery, to recreate the deathless scene of the boy who stood on the burning deck. The belief remained, even whence all but he had fled. Journalism at that time had not yet invaded the grammar school, but if there had been a Piney Bluff Bugle, truth and justice would have demanded a nice write-up. As it is, we just as soon record it now that we were ably east and more than adequate in the stellar role.

A customer in the Ford Motor shop said, "Say Ford do you keep joints to suit all purses?" "Sure," said Ford. "Well, what have you for an empty one?" "Cold shoulder," replied Morris.

Criticism we heard on the baccalaureate sermon. Dad criticized the sermon, Mother thought the organist made a lot of mistakes, Sister didn't like the choir's singing. But they all shut up when little Billy chirped in with the remark: "I think it was a darn good show for a nickel."

Charley Ferris said a woman recently acknowledged the payment of a life insurance policy in the manner: "On July 1st, my husband took out a policy with your company. In less than three weeks he was killed in an automobile wreck. I think insurance is a good investment."

Most automobile drivers seem to be rehearsing for an accident.

BAPTIST CHURCH

Wednesday night services 8 p.m.
Sunday school 9:45.
Preaching 11:00.
B. T. U. 7:30.
Preaching 8:30.

Our meeting closed Sunday night. There were five additions by letter, five by baptism, and four conversions that have not joined the church. The Worker's Conference of this association will meet with our church June 13th. We are praying that the revivals shall continue and the work here shall grow for the glory of God.

WESTBROOK M. E. CHURCH

We are still talking about the importance of going to church. We talked last week about the great cost to those who have made it possible for us to have the church. Now of course we only touched on the surface for there is no one that could give in detail the cost but we would like to say that the cost of our inheritance through great tribulations and disappointments to those who for our sakes and for the sake of the oncoming generations, the cost was great.

Then should we not be willing to carry the torch on and on as long as we are able to do so and then give it to someone else who will go forth to make others happy.

Now in last week's little message we spoke something about what the old pioneer, preacher meant to our homes. I am sure that I was speaking the thoughts of many of my readers for they went throughout all the land seeming never tiring or willing to give up it mattered not how hard the task. There have been hundreds of fathers, mothers, sons and daughters who have been saved by these visits. That home was never the same again, for in them family altars were set up around which the boys and girls were taught that that meant more to them than anything else. As they grew up and went out into the big world and its mad rush where much sin and temptation was on every hand, but because they had been taught about the wonderful things of God and because they knew that in the old home there was a mother and father who was remembering them at the throne of grace. Say mother are you praying for that boy or girl who has gone out away from the old home to mix and mingle with multiplied millions, many of whom never go to church and Sunday school. Are you praying for them and do they know that mother is praying for them and do you in your letters to them urge them to be men and women of God. Mother don't forget that you have the greatest influence over your children for good or bad than anyone else in all the world. Don't forget to teach them the way for if you fail no one else may take the time to do it. The best time for you to do that that God would have you do is while they are around your knee. Oh how easy to bend the little twig but how almost impossible it is to bend it after it grows to be a big tree. Then won't you take time off just to bring them around you each morning and teach them by reading the Bible to them and to pray for them, with them upon their little knees by you, with their little hands folded in prayer. Don't you see the beauty of it all. Then those children will call you blessed. I don't know just what it is, but it makes one feel like that you care, and will have more effect on the life of a child than any school teacher or Sunday school teacher that they will ever have. So mother don't leave it for someone else to do.

We have already raised too many criminals in this country. So if we want fewer kidnapers, bank robbers, murderers, gamblers, drunkards, liquor makers and drunkards, girls working behind the bar counters; I say if we want to had enough we can stop a great deal of this stuff by not raising them. Won't you begin now to help clean up things. Begin at home then if you will, keep the home fires burning. Go to church.

Your friend and brother,
R. B. WALDEN.

ELECTRIC FENCE IDEAL FOR PASTURE ROTATION

The Berry-Fee Lumber Co. has recently taken on the Prime Electric Fence. There has been such an urgent demand for this equipment in this county because of the progressive farmers, who appreciate the value of this type of fence, that Bob Fee took on this line and is now presenting the 1938 models.

The Prime Electric Fence, which is made in Milwaukee, is a well manufactured piece of merchandise that is suited for use on the farms of this county. These Controllers will operate from 6-volt batteries, as well as the 110-volt high line, and their cheap and economical operation is welcomed by our farmers. A 6-volt auto battery will last four to five months on one charging; while the 110-volt AC sets consume approximately 15c worth of electricity per month.

To bring out the tremendous possibilities of the Electric Fence for pasture rotation work, the University of Illinois recently carried on quite a convincing demonstration.

They had 61 head of the college's experimental beef cattle that were to be pastured on two 10-acre fields of oats on which there was a heavy grass feeding. With feed and forage at a premium, the Animal Husbandry Department knew that there would be a waste of forage by tramping down if the cattle were given free run in the field. A single strand Electric Fence was strung across the field and moved from time to time, which made it possible to handle the cattle so that they cleaned up the feed as they went along.

The cost of the fencing and the Electric Fence Controller was relatively small, and the fence was easily and quickly moved. The resulting saving in feed made the plan entirely satisfactory from a practical standpoint, it was reported.

The fence itself was nothing more than a strand of barb wire strung on two by two wooden stakes set every four rods. The wire was fastened to the stakes on the regular porcelain insulators, tied on with baling wire.

ENGINES WILL BE WORN LESS THIS SUMMER

But you want to know exactly why. You're leery of general statements that won't save you one piston ring or one quart of oil. So you want what the doctors call a specific. And that's what you get—a definite, substantial, physical protector that actually exists right in your engine as soon as you get it OIL-PLATED. Only patented Conoco Germ Processed oil from Your Mileage Merchant's station can give your engine OIL-PLATING. Other oils can't. No matter how much refining is claimed for them, they cannot surpass the correct refining of Conoco Germ Processed oil, but refining only takes things out. Going much farther, Germ Processing adds in the patented man-made substance that gives your engine OIL-PLATING. Only this addition by the Germ Process makes oil "join up" with the working parts, to keep them OIL-PLATED. All the while Germ Processed oil is used, OIL-PLATING is permanent. Like other plating, OIL-PLATING keeps wear from getting through. And like other plating, OIL-PLATING can't drain down at any time. Actually united to each surface, OIL-PLATING gives your engine lubrication that needn't wait for the oil pump. . . . Before other oils could even begin to circulate, OIL-PLATING is ready to lubricate! Thus you know why the much-advertised harm of "dry starting" doesn't mean a thing with your engine OIL-PLATED. And you wouldn't expect any good plating to go flying off at Summer speeds, or to frizzle away in the Summer heat. Then expect the heat indicator to stay on the safe side, while the gauge-stick keeps saying, "Still full of Conoco Germ Processed oil!" That's why it's smart and thrifty today to have Your Mileage Merchant OIL PLATE YOUR ENGINE Continental Oil Co.

ACROSS FROM REFINERY

Buford and its residents. Take, for instance, that school picnic the Buford folks had on Earl Hammond's farm last Friday. Besides the two barbecued beefs that Earl Hammond donated for the occasion, the "spread" included fried chicken, pies, cakes and all the other delicious and bountiful foods that used to be associated with that fine old custom of having "dinner on the ground."

Not content to stop with this, the Buford folks up and served ice cream—ice cream, mind you, for around 500 people. That should give you a real idea of the hardhood and generosity of these folks. Buford people "get along" in more ways than one. They get along in the world, and they get along with each other. Within the past few years they've built two new churches, and last year they built a fine new school, voting its bonds without one dissenting voice. Buford box suppers bring out the crowds—and, what's more important, the money.

When grief and tragedy come to a Buford home, Buford neighbors take care of that home as only those experienced in being real neighbors can do it. It has been said that old-time community consciousness is dying over the nation because radios and cars have put rural people in such close touch with nearby towns that community happenings and duties no longer interest them greatly. Well, we point with pride to Buford, a community which, because of its prosperity and the progressive-mindedness of its citizens, probably has more and better radios and cars than any other rural settlement in this area, and still retains a capitalized Community Consciousness. Of course, there is the isolation to be considered—it takes all of ten minutes for Buford to "come to town."

It's come the time of year when the whole day has a voice—crickets chorusing in the night, katydids singing in high trees in the cool of the evening, locusts doing their nasal swing-songs in the still heat of the noontime. This sounds, we know, like the beginning of a poetic outburst, but it's no such thing. What we're leading up to is this: We'd like for somebody to tell us the difference between crickets and locusts and katydids in a way that we can remember, because we've been taken up so many times on using the words as they are used in the beginning of this paragraph. We'd truly like to know what sings when and where—and, if possible, why.

Don't tell Walter Winchell, but he's getting so good on the radio that he even enthralled Colorado bullfrogs. He does, that is, if you are willing to accept this story originated by Dr. W. M. Cooper and passed on by John Baze. It seems that Dr. Cooper was listening to the Winchell broadcast in a screen-enclosed room in his back yard Sunday night when he saw a big bullfrog hop up to the screen on the outside. The frog placed his forefeet upon the screen—it's the story, so don't look at me like that) and sat there, unmoving, uncroaking, and unblinking, until the broadcast was finished, then hopped away.

June has come to mean something to Mitchell countians besides weddings and graduations. Guess what? The beginning of "amateur night" at Ruddick park in Colorado, of course. There'll be seats for all this summer, with terraces extended considerably to the south under a city WPA project recently completed.

Apologies to Jan Lee for writing her as "Joe Lee" in the seventh grade graduation story last week. Among the things I like to watch: The grace of Mrs. Chas. Moeser's hands when she directs the high school choral club. Overheard several times while the band youngsters were getting off on their Carlsbad Caverns trip Monday morning: "They don't know how much fun they're having, do they?"

They say the Colorado school band raked in the bouquets with its concerts on the way to Carlsbad Caverns Monday. Over in Big Spring, I'm told, the folks shouted their demands for an encore of "The Bugle Call Rag" as dished out by Colorado's up-an-coming musicians.

A somebody who claims to have guessed what young man this column meant when it predicted a soon-after-college-is-out wedding involving an out-of-town college girl tells us that the aforementioned young man gave the girl sterling silver for her graduation. There's method in that young man, we opine.

As this column was closed Wednesday noon, members of the Promising Oil company were in a political huddle, sans soapbox, in front of the Keybrook. And when the Promising Oil company goes into a huddle, it's safe to bet that interesting things will be forthcoming. My grapevine telegraph brings word that the plan afoot this time is to run one of the company's high officials for the legislature. What I can't wait to see is the platform—it will be "literature," you can lay to that.
