Featuring the Ranger American Legion Tickville band, one of the most widely-known amateur musical organizations in Texas, the Colorado chamber of commerce amateur hour program at Ruddick park Friday night is to be made up of numbers supplied by Ranger talent.

The band is being brought to Colorado by the Oran C. Hooker post of the American Legion at the suggestion of Harry Ratliff, Clarence Hornberger, and others who had heard the band. Dr. Harry A. Logsdon, who recently moved to Colorado from Ranger, was director of the band before he left Ranger.

In addition to the Tickville band, the program will include songs, dances, and comedy features by Ranger talent, according to information received by H. B. Spence, manager of the Colorado chamber of commerce.

The Tickville band, made up of Ranger business and professional men belonging to the Carl Barnes American Legion post, has played at conventions all over Texas since it was organized in 1931. It has played numerous programs over W.B.A.P., Fort Worth, and other major radio stations.

One of the most lifeless and inactive terms of district court held in Colorado in several years wanted to an early close Monday morning when Judge A. S. Mauzey of Sweetwater, having been presented little to do during the preceding three weeks of the term, could find nothing at all to do during the fourth week which the term was supposed to have run.

The grand jury was in session only a few hours on the opening day of the court and returned six indictments, all on minor charges. All defendants pleaded guilty and received sentences. No major civil suits were settled. A few divorces were granted.

OPENING SERVICE IN BAPTIST REVIVAL TO BE FRIDAY EVENING

FORT WORTH MAN WILL LEAD SINGING; MEETING WILL LAST TEN DAYS, CLOSING ON JULY 3

Opening service in the revival meeting at First Baptist church will be held Friday evening at 8:15.

The Rev. T. A. Patterson, church pastor, is to do the preaching while W. L. Faircloth of Seminary Hill, Fort Worth, will be in charge of music and singing.

The meeting is scheduled to last ten days, closing with the Sunday night service on July 3. Morning services will be held each week day at 10 o'clock, evening services at 8:15. Leaders of the church are trying to have an attendance of at least 500 at Sunday school Sunday as a part of the revival.

In commenting on the revival the Rev. Mr. Patterson said, "We are glad to have Bill Faircloth work with us. He is still a young man, but he has had a great deal of experience in this type of work, and we feel that his services will be of great value. It is our purpose to have either a Bible revival or none at all. We would not claim for ourselves that we can save the lost or lift the city to higher planes of Christian living, but we are firmly convinced that God can. Therefore we are looking to the leadership of the Holy Spirit. We extend to all a cordial invitation to come and join us in the soul-winning enterprise."

Mahon is now rounding out his second term in congress, and he is unopposed for reelection to a third term. He was the first representative elected by the district when it was formed in 1934.

DONATIONS FOR CLYDE STILL BEING RECEIVED

As long as the need is there, donations for Clyde's storm losers will continue to be taken at The Record office, so if you failed to get in on the sum that was sent to Clyde Saturday afternoon, your offering will still be taken and appreciated.

W. L. Faircloth of Fort Worth, who will lead the singing for the revival which opens at First Baptist church Friday evening.

REVUE TO SELECT 'MISS COLORADO' IS PLANNED HERE

BEAUTY TO BE CHOSEN AT RUDDICK PARK FRIDAY NIGHT, JULY 1

A bathing revue to determine who shall represent Colorado at the "Goddess of West Texas" beauty revue in Sweetwater on July 15 and at the Big Spring water carnival on July 3 will be held in connection with the amateur hour program at Ruddick park amphitheater on Friday night, July 1.

Plans for the revue were announced this week by H. B. Spence, manager of the chamber of commerce. Each merchant is expected to sponsor a young lady in the revue, he says.

A platform is to be built around the fish pond in front of the stage at the park, Spence states, and colored lights will play on the contestants as they appear. The winning girl will have her expenses paid to the carnival in Big Spring and Sweetwater, and will have a chance at winning the title, "Goddess of West Texas," at Sweetwater. The girl chosen for this title will be given a six-day trip to Galveston with all expenses paid.

Jake Merritt chairman of the sports and greens committee, will furnish any other desired information.

TWINS BORN AT FARM OF J. H. JACKSON ARE ONE PAIR IN 10,000

Twins born at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Jackson near Westbrook this week are one pair in 10,000—and that is not the boastful statement of any proud parent either.

The twins are mules and they are living, which facts make them so unusual. Figures show that out of 10,000 twins born to mares, only one pair will normally survive.

Mr. and Mrs. Jackson have named their twins Jack and Jill, and they report the twins and their mother, "Old Bess," doing well, thank you. This is the second time twins have been born to a mare on the Jackson farm, black horse colts having been born to one of their mares three years ago. Both these were dead when found, however.

The twins were born Monday. As for their chances of continuing to thrive, the Jacksons say, "If long ears and long legs will help, we think they'll make it."

WAR ON HOPPERS LAUNCHED IN THIS COUNTY THURSDAY

DISTRIBUTION OF 160,000 POUNDS OF POISON MASH BEGUN FROM SEED HOUSE OF FARMERS NO. 3

The war on grasshoppers was opened into Mitchell county Thursday morning as mixing and distribution of 160,000 pounds of poison mash was begun from the seed house of Farmers Gin No. 3 in Colorado.

J. V. Glover of Colorado has been made plant superintendent, according to J. E. Skelton, chairman of the county committee on grasshopper control.

Skelton stated that the plant was opened so that all farmers will be required to pay 25 cents in advance for each 100 pounds of the poison mixture. The government furnishes the poison and 50% of the bran. The farmer is required to furnish 50% of the bran or a substitute. The 25-cent charge per 100 pounds is to cover mixing and sacking. No materials will be allowed to leave the mixing plant until mixed and sacked, ready for use.

Farmers will be required to accept all responsibility for any injury, illness or deaths among livestock, poultry, or human beings that might result from use of the poison, Skelton says. Each farmer must sign two receipts before taking the poison mixture from the plant, and he must agree to broadcast the poison, not put it in piles or rows.

Ten pounds of poison will be required for each acre of land, Skelton explains. He says that to get effective control, the hoppers must be poisoned before they reach maturity and begin to migrate from pastures firing under summer heat into fields of green crops. Where hoppers are still on pasture land only, the effective way of poisoning will be to broadcast the poison on a strip 50 yards wide around the inner edge of the pasture. Poison should also be placed on all affected areas in field crops.

Each farmer should bring two extra sacks for each 100 pounds of poison, as the mash weighs nearly three times its original size when damp and mixed.

ABSENTEE VOTING WILL BEGIN ON JULY 3RD, JAS. HERRINGTON SAYS

Absentee voting will begin July 3, according to James Herrington, county clerk, who has submitted the following rules for such voting:

"Any voter who will be absent from his county on July 23rd may vote an absentee ballot by making a written application to the county clerk of his county who will furnish a ballot to applicant. (These will vote in clerk's office)."

"Those absent from their county may make application to the county clerk for an absentee ballot who will mail applicant the necessary papers. The applicant must then take the ballot before anyone who has power to take oaths and vote the ticket so certifying his action. The papers are then returned to the clerk who will take care of such ballot until at such time as it may be turned over to the election judge of the precinct in which ballot is to be cast."

"All applicants must furnish a poll tax receipt to the county clerk or make an affidavit of having the proper eligibility to vote. This authority is attached to ballot and will be returned to county clerk after proper disposition of ballot has been made."

"Absentee voting begins July 3rd and will close midnight, July 19th, 1938. All ballots must be in the office before midnight, July 19th, in order to be counted."

"Those unable to vote from illness or other physical disability may do so by making proper application to the county clerk who will furnish the necessary material for such voting."

BLOWOUT SAFETY OF GOODYEAR TIRES TO BE DEMONSTRATED

VIVID PROOF WILL BE OFFERED AT RUDDICK PARK FRIDAY AT 1:15 P. M.

A vivid demonstration of the safety of Goodyear Lifeguard tires is to be given at Ruddick park Friday afternoon at 1:15 o'clock, according to Thomas Brothers, who have the local agency for Goodyear tires.

In this demonstration a car traveling 70 miles per hour will be driven across a board containing long spikes. The Goodyear Lifeguard tire on the car will blow out, but air will be held in a special inner tire until the car can be brought to a stop, thus preventing the car from being thrown out of control by the blowout.

This proof of the safety of Goodyear Lifeguard tires has been given wide publicity in national magazines and newspapers. The public is urged to attend the demonstration.

On each end of the table stood two pink tapers in silver holders. The tapers were tied with pink, orchid, and silver ribbons, the ends of which extended down to the table and were tied with bows to the lace cloth. A candelabrum of cut glass and brass stood on the sideboard.

First official forecast of the approaching wedding of Elizabeth Watson of Colorado to Barney Alsbrook of Midland, formerly of Abilene, was a shower given by Mesdames Jack Richardson, Jim Hale, and O. W. Cline at the Richardson home Tuesday evening.

A profusion of cut flowers decorated the home. Mrs. O. C. Cox met guests at the door and presented them to a receiving line composed of Mrs. Richardson, Mrs. J. W. Watson, the honoree, Mrs. Harold Watson, Mrs. Hale, and Mrs. Cline.

About 35 guests registered in the bride's book which was presided over by Etta Fern Harkins. Punch was served from a crystal bowl on a lace-covered table by Virginia Reese. Cookies were passed by Emma Lena Filley.

The program for the evening included a piano number by Norma Jane Richardson and two vocal solos. "The Sweetest Story Ever Told" and "Nothin' Cept Love," by Gladys

Miller with Mrs. J. W. Watson accompanying.

Miss Watson is to be married on the evening of June 30 in a ceremony at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Watson. The ceremony will be said at 8 o'clock by Woodie Holden, minister of the Church of Christ. The bride-elect was a graduate of Abilene Christian college in 1937, and she taught this past year in the high school at Bradshaw. Her father is a member of the A.C.C. board.

The ceremony is to be said at the home of the bride's parents Sunday morning at 8 o'clock with Woodie Holden, minister of the Church of Christ, officiating. There will be no attendants, and the young couple will leave immediately after the ceremony for a wedding trip to El Paso and other points before going to their home in Tahoka.

For the announcement breakfast Mrs. Harkins arranged a table centered with yellow zinnias in a crystal bowl. Places were marked with bridal place cards and tiny bride's books bearing the announcement.

Places were marked for Annetta Lacey, Eloise Cooper, Virginia Reese, June Cox, Gladine Powell, Jennie Fae O'Neal, Mrs. Skeet Harkins, Evelyn O'Neal, and Miss Harkins.

If it helps you says so. I am just anxious to know. So don't fail me as it takes quite a bit of my time, but will keep on if you say so, as I don't love to write just to be writing.

WESTBROOK M. E. CHURCH

I would like to give you some of the reasons why no more of our people go to church than do—for they are age-old reasons and excuses.

The first of course would be that of indifference towards the church. Never giving much thought to the church. Do not stop to think of it's worth to them and their families, and to the upholding of values on property, the value to their children, to their homes. They never stop to think that a country without churches would mean complete defeat from every standpoint, for back of our freedom and democracy is the church.

Then there are those who say that they will go to church when and after they have their land paid out, never taking into consideration the fact that they within themselves can do nothing. For back of everything we find the hand of God. Who gives the sunshine and rain which makes it possible for us to live or to do? And the church is of God the source of all things. Try if you can to create even the smallest seed or to give life to anything. We find that we are powerless. But yet we say when we have done this or that we will serve the Lord, or when we have given our children their education then we will go to church. Or when we get a new car or new clothes or if we can find a church where there is no hypocrite, not thinking that they are age-old critics. They have been here since the church was organized and will be as long as time lasts. You never hear anybody say anything about it but had you stopped to think that in the realm in which you live there are hypocrites, and you live with and do business with them and never say anything about it. For if you cheat that fellow who has confidence in you, then you are one of them. Or if you deceive another in any way you have on for a cloak the skin of a wolf. Now wouldn't you rather live here for a while with a few hypocrites and then be separated from them than to have to spend eternity with Hell full of them?

No, the biggest reason that more folks do not go to church is for the simple reason they just do not want to go. For we so just where we want to go. Now be honest don't you think so? Now you listen to me while you are staying away from church you are keeping someone else away. That boy or girl, the most precious thing

BLACK-FACE NUMBER SPONSORED BY BUSINESS WOMEN WINS FIRST PLACE AT AMATEUR HOUR; WEDDING SECOND

In all the world will say well Dad don't go to church what's the use of my going? Or it may be that you have a habit of going over to see one of your neighbors on Sunday morning about 10 o'clock just in time to knock him out of going. Or maybe you want to walk over your crop, over which you have been the week before many times. You know just any excuse to keep you from going to church. Or your wife and children from going. Or maybe you went to town and stayed all day Saturday, then on Sunday morning you took a notion all of a sudden about Sunday school time that you had to go see about the cattle and you do go to the back side of the pasture to find one with a cut and to keep the worms out you have to spend some time with it not thinking about what may happen to you and your soul for Jesus said that there was a place that people who would not worship Him would go and the worm would not die and the fire could not be quenched.

Now of course if you are not guilty this is not for you. So come on now and be good sports. Be what you ought to be. Go be with the best folks in all the community for you will find them at church somewhere. May God bless you and yours.

Your friend and brother and one who wants to help you. So come all.
R. B. WALDEN.

As guests arrived they were greeted on the spacious porch by Doris Montgomery and Billie True Templeton, who took the gift packages. Registrations were in a bride's book presided over by Mona Morrow. flowers were arranged throughout the house. Red and pink roses in a deep, long blue pottery bowl featured the mantle decorations.

Reading a poem which touched on the beauty work which has been done by the bride in past years, Evelyn O'Neal introduced the gifts, which were revealed when the dining room doors were opened. In the center of the lace-covered dining table stood a large doll dressed as a bride, with white satin dress and flowing tulle veil. From the chandelier above her lengths of tulle in rainbow colors extended to the four corners of the table, and were tied there with large bows. Packages wrapped in various colored cellophane had been placed around the bride. Other packages were on card tables. All were opened as the closing feature of the evening.

STOCKMEN WARNED TO PREPARE FOR SCREW-WORMS

COLLEGE STATION. — "Prepare for the screwworm in great numbers," R. R. Reppert, entomologist of the Extension Service of Texas A. & M. College, has warned Texas ranchmen.

The Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine of the U. S. Department of Agriculture has forecast a severe infestation, probably worse than that of 1935, in many parts of the Southwest, especially Texas and Arizona.

The screwworm fly has started earlier than ever before. The infestation in extreme Southwest Texas had been held down by dry weather during the first part of the season, but the weather in other parts of the state has favored the rapid development of the insect.

The best way to protect livestock from screwworms, Reppert points out, is to examine animals frequently so that wounds may be treated before they are seriously infested. Many ranchmen report that they have found it advisable to hold wounded or infested animals in small hospital traps, located on a high, here in America. No new fields to conquer? Let the youth of the South face this challenge with determination and give his energy for its solution.

The most noticeable demand today is that of the economic world. The sharp contest between supply and demand is ever before us. The Federal government as well as the state divisions is working for a solution of this pressing problem. Even recently we have learned of the establishment of a research laboratory here in Texas to discover new needs for cotton. Commercial chemistry is one of the new frontiers which calls to those who wish to pioneer. We cannot, as a former speaker has already told you, take up new lands, but we can pioneer in this field of intellectual research. If a member of this class or of any high school class leaving its educational home tonight can discover a new use for cotton, creating new demands and opening up new markets, he will be our economic savior. Even now Mussolini and Neville Chamberlain have made a treaty whereby waters from the sudan will raise prized Egyptian cotton, cotton so excellent that it has a market even open part of the range where flies are less abundant.

Reppert endorses the Bureau's recommendation for killing the maggots. The procedure is to treat the infested wound with 90 per cent commercial benzol. Reinfestation is prevented by lightly covering the area around the wound with dehydrated pine-tar oil of 1.065, specific gravity.

The advantage of benzol over most patented medicines lies in its low cost and in the fact that it does not cause shock to animal tissue. It does not deteriorate with age but is highly inflammable and will evaporate readily. It is this last property which makes it valuable in screwworm control, for the maggots are killed not by the liquid but by the fumes.

Reppert also emphasized that the common pine-tar oil will often burn the animal while the dehydrated form will not.

should be false to our teaching. We assume our obligations with confidence, for we are Americans nurtured in the ideals of democracy and of Christianity."

SHORT COURSE PLANNED FOR 4-H BOYS AND GIRLS

COLLEGE STATION.—About 2,500 boys and girls from Texas Farms and ranches will have the undivided attention of Texas A. & M. College July 6 to 9, when the junior section of the annual farmers' short course will be held at College Station. This is the first time that adult and junior short-course visitors have met on different dates, according to Roy W. Snyder, short-course general chairman.

This arrangement was made because the yearly attendance at the short course has taken place at the same time when summer sessions of the college also have been growing. Each year it has been harder to make room for both groups, and this year it was impossible.

The general assembly each morning, also the night programs, will consist of joint meetings of the boys and girls, with music in charge of the famous Rotary International song leader, Walter H. Jenkins of Houston. Speakers and picture shows will feature these meetings. A tea honoring the Gold Star boys and girls will be given one afternoon.

Programs for the boys have been arranged on the subjects of livestock, field crops, entomology, horticulture, plant propagation, cotton classing and meat. For the girls, the program will center around home-making subjects, wild-flower legends; and "The 4-H Club Girl's Dollar and Sense." One series of talks by the girls will be presented under the title: "How I Got on Friendly Terms With the Things Around Me." "What 4-H Experience Means to a College Girl" is the subject of a talk by Ruth Foose, former Hunt County 4-H club girl, winner of the Texas Home Demonstration Association college scholarship. "A 4-H Club Girl is a Home-maker" will be discussed by Mrs. Paul Stauffer, former Wheeler County 4-H club girl.

Washington trip winners will tell about the club camp.

For more than 10 years, Rutland, one of England's smallest counties, has had no civil cases or prisoners for trial in her assizes.

Of The Beholder

By Jerome Barry

"I suppose you're going to the art exhibition with Howard," the police commissioner said to his wife as he rose from the breakfast table.

"You should come, too, darling," she remarked, with cool unconcern. She knew he wouldn't. He was proud of seeing no beauty in dabs of paint on canvas. Silly work for men.

"Sorry, Can't," he replied.

It nettled him a little to know that she looked upon his attitude with an amused superiority. She and Howard would exclaim to one another about chiaroscuro and atmospheric perspective and values and gouache. All affectation, this concern with prettiness; all rather flabby and feminine.

He drove downtown behind the chauffeur the city furnished him:

and in the thick of traffic, he leaned a little forward to watch the working of his new system of light control. The left-turners had been the whole problem at corners like this; he had been sure the new timing of the lights, together with a modification of the stagger plan, would iron out the tangle.

The red bloomed; cars deployed in one direction. The green died; the alignment shifted like a well-oiled valve. A sudden wave of warmth danced along the commissioner's solar plexus. All these cars, all these people afoot, were part of the pattern he had made for a more perfect mechanism. He saw it function with a smooth precision, and for a moment he felt an actual love for it.

"It works, by George!" the commissioner whispered. "Works like a charm. That was pretty. Yes, sir, that was pretty!"

A girl in the crowd, intent upon a movie magazine, stepped into the path of the commissioner's car. A little, ascetic-looking man snatched her back to safety. She jerked her arm away indignantly, dodged between two bumpers to the opposite walk, and opened her magazine again.

These infernal morning crowds! Rubbing elbows in the subway! Breathing fumes in the street. Hurrying to hours of straight-backed fingerwork at a jittering typewriter. Nothing to look forward to but a few hours of evening release in the cool darkness of the talkies.

She stared at the page of photographs. Irma Szadvary, the newly discovered screen beauty from Hungary, gazed wistfully, moodily, sullenly, from square frame and round smiles being out of fashion, the solemnity of Irma's stony features was as unrelieved as that of the startling bathroom in which she stood in negligee. It was all marble and paranoiac tiling, great fluted pillars and tremendous shallow steps. Distance and space. Extravagant, shamelessly wanton space. Not a stuffy little box where washing only left one feeling still choked and dirty.

"Oh, lovely!" the girl thought. "Lovely, lovely, lovely!"

The little, ascetic-looking man swore thoughtfully under his breath. "Rep for morons!" he said to himself.

"Some more of John's traffic rules," she thought. "And I have to stand rubbing elbows with this creature!"

self. "They dope themselves with Hollywood glamour to keep from using their brains. By night they listen to it and look at it. By day they're besotted enough to want to read about it—even if it kills them! Heaven help—them."

REDUCED INTEREST ON LOANS OF FEDERAL LAND BANK EXTENDED 2 YEARS

HOUSTON. — Reduced interest rates on Federal land bank and Commissioner loans have been extended by Federal legislation for a period of two years, according to word received recently from the Federal Land Bank by Chas. C. Thompson, secretary-treasurer of the Colorado National Farm Loan association.

On Federal land bank loans through national farm loan associations the temporarily reduced rate of 3½ per cent per annum will be continued for all interest installments payable to July 1, 1940.

The temporarily reduced rate of 4 per cent on Land Bank Commissioner loans is also continued until July 1, 1940.

"The temporary interest reduction does not change the contract interest rate, that is, the rate written in the mortgage at the time a loan was made," Thompson said. "At present the contract rates on new land bank loans are 4 per cent for loans through unimpaired associations. The contract rate on all Commissioner loans made through the land bank is 5 per cent. Under the law, as now amended, both land bank and Commissioner borrowers will resume interest payments at their respective contract rates on July 1, 1940.

"Farmers who now obtain new loans through an association at the 4 per cent contract rate," he continued, "will get the benefit of the 3½ per cent rate for all interest installments payable prior to July 1, 1940, and after that will not have to pay more than the 4 per cent contract rate for the balance of the term of the loan, which may be for as long as 20 to 30-odd years."

The Colorado National Farm Loan association has 515 land borrowers aggregating $1,424,630.00 and 286 Land Bank Commissioner borrowers aggregating $452,350.00.

Based on average 1937 Price of $1.00 per Bushel

THIS is a lot of wheat—nearly half of the entire 1935 crop harvested in the 58 Texas counties in which Lone Star Gas System operates. To move these 2,086,257 bushels to the tax collector's office to pay the 34 different kinds of city, county, district, state and federal taxes would require 1,780 freight cars forming a train 13.8 miles long! So you see taxes are a very great factor in our operating expenses. Last year they amounted to 23.3% of operating and maintenance costs!

Taxes charged against this system have been increased 42% during the last four years and our rates are not up proportionately. This has created difficult conditions for us in maintaining our record of dependability when less and less of your gas dollar has been left to pay for the essentials of service.

In spite of greatly increased taxes and regulatory expenses Lone Star Gas Service still remains the cheapest item on your household budget. One cent's worth of gas still operates a gas refrigerator from 8 to 10 hours or cooks a good dinner for three people.

EIGHT OF COUNTY'S SEVENTEEN RURAL SCHOOLS MET ALL REQUIREMENTS FOR STANDARDIZATION, COLES IS INFORMED

Eight of Mitchell county's seventeen rural schools met all requirements for standardization during the 1937-38 term, according to information received by Roy Davis Coles, county superintendent, from the state department of education.

Two additional schools would probably have met the requirements, it has been explained, if their terms had not been cut short.

Schools on the standardized list are Horn's Chapel, Bauman, Seven Wells, Carr, Spade, Fairview, Conaway and Buford. The two failing because of short terms were Dorn and Lone Star. The former had 7 1/2 months of school and the latter 7 months and 3 weeks.

The fact that the county had nine standardized schools last year as compared with eight this year is due to Payne's school having been transferred to Seven Wells.

This record for standardization is better than that for any surrounding county, a check-up has revealed. Requirements for standardization are very rigid, and check-ups were made at each school twice during the year, once in the fall and once in the spring. The schools were scored by Superintendent Coles and Miss Madge Stanford, deputy state superintendent.

To be standardized a school must make at least 800 points out of a possible 1,000. Supt. Coles explains, the points stressed being as follows:

Grounds and buildings, scored at 265 possible points, must be well located, have ample playground, exclusive property, general repair, with paint inside and out conforming to state color charts, good foundation, no leaks, good locks, and floors, cloak rooms well lighted and equipped with clothing hooks for each child, a screened shelf for lunches, extra storage, text book and supply rooms, a work and fuel room, an auditorium for community meetings, lighting system, insurance, walks to well, to road, and to toilet; water supply, including a sanitary drinking fountain and hand washer, adequate and sanitary toilets.

Equipment, scored at 330 points, including proper seating, blackboards, maps and globes, including a map of Texas and a Texas history chart, musical instrument, such as a phonograph and records for teaching purposes, improved heating system, flag pole and flag in usable condition, window shades on all windows except the north side, primary charts and a library, with approved encyclopaedia, $25 in books for each class room, or active membership in the Nolan county school library.

Teacher qualification and curriculum, 245 points; training of a teacher, two years in college, or a permanent certificate. (Beginning next term a teacher will be required to have three years college work or a permanent certificate, if the teacher has not taught in the school prior to this time.) The teacher must then have six semester hours of college work every two years; professional spirit, such as a membership in the Texas State Teachers' association or other activities, management, register and records neatly kept, supervision of lunch and recreation, care of premises, light equipment, physical examinations by health authorities, a parent-teacher unit, length of term at least 160 teaching days, teacher salary not less than rural aid schedule, tenure where they remain the second year, trustees must hold meetings, keep records and attend county trustee meets, special art, physical education or other subjects.

Each school was tested on its year's work through final examination questions sent out by the State Department of education. These tests may be given by the county superintendent, but in Mitchell county they were given by exchanging teachers among the schools. Each child was tested on all subjects taught. The state median was taken as the passing basis.

FRIDAY'S EARLY RAIN WELCOMED IN COUNTY

Rain falling from a cloud which was borne swiftly out of the west was welcomed early last Friday in most portions of the county. It came in the nick of time to permit replanting of cotton and feed in several sections where high winds had ruined young crops.

The fall largely missed the western portion of the county, but this was balanced by the fact that most of that section received moisture Wednesday night. A half-inch was reported by T. C. Hart, Ernest Smith, and other Conaway farmers. Nearly an inch fell on most of the Rendrebek ranch, according to Otto Jones, manager.

North and northeast of Colorado the rain was harder. W. A. Dullin got about two inches, he said, and he reported a strip of hail in the Longfellow section. Claude Cosper and Sam Carey at Buford were quoted as having received an inch. China Grove residents reported between 3 and 4 inches of unneeded rain. J. H. Carlock, southeast of town, also reported about three inches.

Rain falling from a cloud which was borne swiftly out of the west was welcomed early last Friday in most portions of the county. It came in the nick of time to permit replanting of cotton and feed in several sections where high winds had ruined young crops.

The fall largely missed the western portion of the county, but this was balanced by the fact that most of that section received moisture Wednesday night. A half-inch was reported by T. C. Hart, Ernest Smith, and other Conaway farmers. Nearly an inch fell on most of the Rendrebek ranch, according to Otto Jones, manager.

FREE GLASS JARS
I see in The West Texas Baptist where Hendrick Memorial Hospital proposes to furnish cans to anybody who will can any kind of food and donate it to the hospital. JUNETEENTH CELEBRATED HERE IN BIG WAY AS 550 NEGROES EAT BARBECUE

The biggest "Juneteenth" which Mitchell county negroes have had in many years was the barbecue held at Ruddick park Monday with Goldy Rutherford, well-known Colorado negro, in charge. Goldy said Tuesday that he fed around 550 negroes and 150 white people.

Nine goats, three sheep, and two yearling calves were barbecued under the experienced direction of Eli Brown. Among those donating the animals were Otto Jones, Price Maddox, Jack Wright, Colorado Fireboys, Tody Landers, Bert Wulffen, and others. The barbecue was financed by donations from white citizens.

"We sure are thankful for all the help we got from our white friends," Goldy Rutherford said Tuesday. "We thank Mr. Sadler and Colorado for letting us use the park, and we tried to leave it so's we can get it another year."

CHEVROLET TRUCK
PILES UP RECORDS

INDIANAPOLIS.—Still piling up records for economy and endurance, despite the fact that it has been driven more than 40,000 miles since Jan. 11, Chevrolet's Long Distance Dependability truck swung east and south this week, continuing a jaunt which has already exceeded, by 10,000 miles, the longest previous AAA-sponsored truck run.

The truck, which is making the run under direction of Harry Hartz, well-known former race driver, passed the 40,000-mile mark near St. Louis early in May. Since then, records kept by Stanley Reed, official AAA observer, have been checked by the Contest Board at Washington and certified for release. They show several facts of interest to truck owners, both of individual units and of fleets.

The truck's average speed has been 32.43 miles per hour, substantially higher than the average truck is called upon to deliver in normal commercial use. Despite a payload consisting of 4,500 pounds of steel, which brought the gross weight to 9,260 pounds including driver and observer, the unit has averaged 15.32 miles per gallon of gasoline, and 1,330 miles per quart of oil consumed. Only two quarts of oil have been added between regular changes, the report shows.

Adhering to the schedule of maintenance operations recommended to the company's truck customers, the crew has had the oil changed at regular intervals, and the chassis has been greased, the front wheel bearings repacked and the oil bath cleaner oil and transmission and differential lubricant changed, at a total cost of $39.93. Total cost of gasoline, oil used, and lubrication, has been $565.87. Repairs, replacements and adjustments, aside from a tire change at 32,936.8 miles, costing $150, have totaled $24.66.

The total cost per mile is shown by the AAA as $.01895, and the total cost per ton mile as $.00409.

The unit is now scheduled to traverse parts of the South not yet touched, moving north up the Atlantic Coast to Portland, Me. and thence west.

PICKED UP ALONG THE NEWS PATH

In order to show Agnes Williams and Varnell Templeton, who became Mr. and Mrs. Varnell Templeton Sunday morning, what a wedding can really be like, Mr. and Mrs. Benton Templeton and Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Payne took them to a swanky negro wedding down on the C. C. Thompson ranch Saturday night, so I hear.

The dusky bride wore a blue taffeta evening dress with a white wedding veil, white gloves, and blue and white shoes.

'Twas an exciting day in Monahans last week when the Ward county records were moved from Barstow to Monahans in a surprise move continuing the long fight between the two towns for the county seatship, according to first-hand information from J. V. (Duck) Glover, who happened to be in Monahans that day. Glover says that now he knows how suspicious characters feel, because he, like every other stranger in Monahans that day, was regarded with open suspicion by Monahans citizens until he explained to them, group by group, that he was from Colorado, not Barstow. A former Coloradoan, Pete McCurry, bought the first marriage license issued from the new county headquarters in Monahans. His marriage doesn't happen until July, however.

A girl whom Billy Rose described as a "peaches and cream blonde" when selecting his beauties for last year's Casa Manana in Fort Worth is visiting in Colorado. She is Mary Jane Clark of Hico, niece of Mrs. B. W. Stewart, in whose home she is a guest. I saw her the other morning, and the little showman's description fits, I'd say. Mary Jane was "Miss Hico" in the Fort Worth contests. She is to be here for some time, we understand.

Neck-deep in "best man" business was Benton Templeton last week. On Thursday morning he served his brother, Milton Templeton of Hamlin, in that capacity as the latter married Margaret Rowe in Hamlin. He repeated the performance for another brother, Varnell Templeton, when he married Agnes Williams here in the Benton Templeton home Sunday morning.

Hear tell that Betty Jo Pritchett, daughter of Bufa Pritchett and the late Ernest Pritchett, finished the seventh grade at Rice this year as an honor student and the youngest in her class. Betty Jo was born in Colorado and lived here until her mother moved away following Mr. Pritchett's death several years ago. The youngster averaged making a grade of 92 each year during her seven years of primary and grammar study.

BLACK-DRAUGHT A GOOD LAXATIVE

In fact, Colorado seems to have more pretty lawns right now than it has had at this time in several years, this being due to both weather and work. And, speaking of weather, if you didn't quite get your day's work done Tuesday, then you might as well give up, for the year will bring no longer day than Tuesday was.

You'll hear the familiar voice of Jimmie Greene, now manager of the Big Spring chamber of commerce and formerly manager of the Colorado chamber, if you tune in WBAP, Fort Worth, from 9:30 to 9:45 Saturday night. A program advertising the Big Spring rodeo is to be broadcast at that time from the Fort Worth station.

That was Mrs. Bill Coffey pounding the ivories in realistic "darky" fashion for the black-face number which the Business & Professional women sponsored at the amateur hour program Friday night—it was the prize-winning number, you remember. Versatile woman, this Mrs. Coffey. I've heard her alone in her home trilling an operatic aria to her own piano accompaniment one minute, then singing the torchiest of torch songs or the bluest of blues songs the next, and after that perhaps the sweetest of old or current song favorites. Whatever she does, whether it be reading, writing poetry or fiction, teaching kindergarten, keeping house, singing, having fun with her children, she does heart and soul. And when one has the talents she has to throw into a heart-and-soul job, the results are usually successful.

A bad case of sunburn which Charles Moeser received while boating and swimming at Lake Sweetwater kept him home from his work at the bank nearly all last week and seriously threatened to ruin his and Mrs. Moeser's vacation plans. They managed to get off early Saturday, however, headed for Kansas City and Chicago. But Charles had to wear shorts and go swathed in sheets to guard his burns against infection. It was predicted that he would be able to wear conventional clothing in time to drive their new Oldsmobile home from Lansing, Michigan.

Discovered: That Eddie Pylant has one of the best reading voices in Colorado. His was the "voice" behind the traffic safety skit presented by the junior chamber of commerce at the amateur hour Friday night, and there were many who more than half believed that the reading was transcribed because it was so nearly professional in every respect—the pitch just right, words enunciated with crystal clearness, and the timing perfect. Incidentally, Pylant not only did a good job of reading the little message, but he also authored it. And I suppose that such discoveries as this have a lot to do with the phenomenal and somewhat puzzling success of our amateur hour—we learn that our neighbors can skillfully do so many things we never knew they could do at all.

HERE AND THEREABOUTS:

Jackie Mayes, little son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Mayes, went for an airplane ride in Sweetwater the other day. Seems like R. P. Rose's school band fairly outdid itself in playing "pretty pieces" and playing them well Friday night. And if I go on building columns around amateur hour discoveries and happenings, this will become practically an amateur column. Well, that will be o.k.—it's been rather amateurish all along, just in case you hadn't noticed. The next few weeks will bring the marriage of a Colorado-reared girl to a Midland man—but probably you've already heard. P. S. (added later) Pshaw! Everybody'll know now—they had a shower for the girl Tuesday night, letting my cat right out of the bag.

Something's coming up at the Ruddick park amateur hour on Friday evening, July 8, that ought to be good. It will be a skit with characters played by some of Colorado's and Mitchell county's most prominent citizens, most of them folks who don't ordinarily take part in public performances. One interesting thing about the skit will be the fact that it has a basis in real life. It will be called "That Old Gang of Mine"—and that's as far as I can go right now.

When Jake Merritt heard about twin mules being born on a Westbrook farm this week he said, after a moment's deep thought: "Do you suppose that could be an omen for the Democratic party?" After all, as Jake pointed out, there haven't been any twin elephants hereabouts.

CONCLAVE IS HELD FOR CHEVROLET PARTS MEN

Chevrolet's Parts and Accessories Merchandising Department, headed by M. D. Douglas, was host this week to the National Dealer Parts and Accessories Merchandising Committee, which held an all-day session Wednesday. Nine dealers, one representing the dealer organization in each of the company's nine regions, made up the committee. H. L. Bell, of the Queen City Chevrolet Co., Cincinnati, was elected chairman at the opening session.

The group which met this week is one of those established by W. E. Holler, Chevrolet general sales manager, in connection with his Quality Dealer program, inaugurated two years ago. Two similar nine-man groups, one focusing its attention on new car sales operations, and the other considering used car matters, met here the latter part of May.

In addition to holding business meetings, the committee were guests at a luncheon in the Recess Club and a banquet in the Hotel Statler, affording the Central Office staff an opportunity to meet them informally and discuss current business problems.

CAST OF 5,000

FILM MASTERPIECE PRESENTS NORWEGIAN DISCOVERY, SIGRID GURIE

The screen, which lately has focused a majority of its bigger productions on biographical subjects, has seen many remarkable portraits of characters taken from the past. Few of these historic personalities, however, enjoyed a life more significant and romantic than the Marco Polo so few people seem to know, whom Samuel Goldwyn has chosen as the hero of "The Adventures of Marco Polo," his rollicking adventurous romance which brings Gary Cooper to the Ritz theater Saturday midnight preview, Sunday and Monday, June 25, 26 and 27.

"LIFE OF THE PARTY"
Ritz—Thursday, June 23

Audiences can be depended upon to accept this bonanza of buffoonery with enthusiastic applause. It is tuneful, gay, and well supplied with top comedy names. Joe Penner, Parkyakarkus, Victor Moore, Helen Broderick and Billy Gilbert bring every possible chuckle out of a laugh-laden script, while Gene Raymond and Harriet Hilliard and a sextet of songs are all a credit to the film. Story has Raymond, heir to a fortune he cannot have if he marries before he is 30, falling in love with Miss Hilliard, who in order to prevent a parental-arranged marriage to Joe Penner, tells the press she is married to Raymond. This brings Raymond's mother on the scene, who admits that he is really over 30. William A. Selter directed.

"COLLEGE SWING"
Ritz—Friday and Saturday
June 24 and 25

Because of its unoriginal story and generally stereotyped motivation and background this collegiate musical will be depended mostly on the draw of its cast for its patronage. It has several bright minutes contributed by outstanding comedy bits by Gracie Allen and Martha Raye, the effect of which is minimized through the interpolation of too many unentertain-

"WISE GIRL"
Ritz—Tuesday and Wednesday
June 28 and 29

With that able farceur, Miriam Hopkins, carrying most of the acting burden, Producer Edward Kaufman's contribution to the season's laugh cycle is packed with enough nonsensical situations and bright lines to keep the cash customers in a high humor. It is smoothly directed and neatly constructed, having among its outstanding assets a variety of riotous situations that keep the thin story moving at a rapid pace. Ray Milland is an apt foil for the blonde comedienne, displaying a genuine ability for the farcical. Story concerns the efforts of Miss Hopkins, daughter of a millionaire, to obtain the custody of two small children, daughters of her dead sister. The kids are under the guardianship of Milland, a penniless artist living in Greenwich Village. Leigh Jason directed.

"TRUE CONFSSION"
Gem—Thursday, June 23
A meaty comedy idea, decked out with crisp dialogue, with able direction by Wesley Ruggles and a madcap clowning cast led by Carole Lombard, this rates near the top on any "must see" list and should win Paramount the gratitude of exhibitors everywhere. The hilarity ranges from the sophisticated to the belly-laugh variety, adding new laurels to the Lombard fame as she, an incurable sensational liar, talks herself from one enveloping situation into another—climaxed when she is brought to trial for murder, her most serious hoax. Even her husband, Fred MacMurray, believes her guilty and, as a lawyer, rises to fame by winning her acquittal. The fast pace is aided immeasurably by John Barrymore as a potty and impetuous criminologist, in a show-stealing characterization.

"HEART OF ARIZONA"
Gem—Friday and Saturday
June 24 and 25

Well upholding the Hopalong Cassidy tradition is this latest in the series. It boasts all the action, excitement and comedy which exhibitors and patrons alike have come to expect from these pictures and will repay this expectancy with solid support at the boxoffice. Bill Boyd, George Hayes and Russell Hayden, as the trio of "cowpokes" whose adventures are related in this adaptation of Clarence E. Mulford's much read novel, score well, each with his particular brand of he-man virtue. The introduction of several new faces in the cast, notably Billy King and Natalie Moorehead, has added much to the picture. Story again brings romance close, but never into, the life of Hopalong. This time he helps Bell Starr rid her ranch of rustlers. Les Selander directed.

THEIR NAMES IN THE PAPERS

Being a Collection of Items From Other Papers About Present and Former Mitchell Countians.

Fred Jones, until recently engaged in buying cattle and handling commission business at Midland, has accepted a job as foreman of a new ranch in Kent county bought by Jack Frost, Dallas oil man and owner of the famous White Hat ranch of registered herefords.

Jones said the new place, comprising twelve sections, has been stocked with 250 head of good quality grade Hereford cows. It is located seven miles of Jayton.—Midland Reporter-Telegram.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Fahrenkamp and son, left Saturday morning for Alpine, where they will spend the week-end with Mrs. Fahrenkamp's sister, Miss Grace Mann.—Big Spring Daily Herald.

Miss Mickey Sporer, who received her B. A. degree from the University last week, came home for a short visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sporer, before returning to Austin to enter school at the University at the opening of the summer session there this week. Miss Sporer will work towards her master's degree in dietetics this summer. She formerly attended John Tarleton College, from which she was graduated three years ago.—Stephenville Empire-Tribune.

If J. H. Greene, chamber of commerce manager, was over-estimating things Monday, he had good cause—he and Mrs. Greene had become grandparents. A daughter, Jo Anne, was born Saturday night to their son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. William Greene of Colorado.—Big Spring Daily Herald.

ROGERS RAMBLINGS

My high resolve—the heroic. I resolve to rise to greatness by rugged climbs up the steps of perfect obedience. I will perform every known duty no matter what the cost of pain or anguish. The great are rugged and strong. I resolve to be like them. I am thy hero. I welcome whatever of struggle or test may build my life into the rugged and heroic. I shall feel honored to travel in the company of the great. All great traveled the way of the cross. Rugged greatness is mine. I am resolved. Lead thou me on.

O Father, thy guidance, thy love, thy power are all so great I falter not. In thee I shall be brave and strong. I shall not fail. I scale the heights of greatness in thy name.

All hindrances are tests. They try the reality of our resolutions and the genuineness of our purposes. A black sky on a Sunday morning tests the strength of a Christian. Those who are physically or morally weak stay at home. God is every day testing us and in every way. He Himself to test us. But we do not know ourselves perfectly well, and the tests which come with hindrances bring us revelations of ourselves.

Mrs. Floyd Richie, Mrs. Hugh Callan and Mrs. John McGuire were the hostesses to a shower given in honor of Mrs. Raymond Carpenter, the former Miss Bonnie Goswick of Coahoma, in the home of Mrs. Floyd Richie last Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Miss Velma Howell and Miss Laverne Carpenter sang, "The One Rose." Mrs. Floyd Richie gave a reading as did Miss Ellen Everetts. The bride was then led into the hall and received many beautiful and useful gifts. After the gifts were passed around and admired by the guests cookies and ice tea were served as refreshments.

Church services were well attended Sunday afternoon. We had with us Brother T. A. Patterson of Colorado who preached for us at 3 o'clock; also Brother Holden of Colorado preached at 4 o'clock. Both services were enjoyed by all.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim McMeeken and little daughter spent Saturday night and Sunday in the home of Mrs. McMeeken's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Carpenter.

Miss Velma Howell was the supper guest of Misses Hazel and Irene Barber Sunday night.

KNOWLEDGE, IGNORANCE, FEAR

Sun, stand thou still upon Gibeon; and thou moon in the valley of Ajalon. . . . And the sun stood still, and the moon stayed, until the people had avenged themselves upon their enemies.—Joshua x, 12-13.

It may not be too much to say that every normal person who loves the study of astronomy enough to devote a reasonable amount of time to it finds his mental attitude toward the creation elevated. This is not because he fixes his eyes upon things above him, but because the study itself is mentally and spiritually uplifting. In studying the celestial bodies which challenge his admiration, and thought he naturally devotes more or less meditation to their Creator. Possibly Tennyson had a similar thought in mind when he wrote:

Yet I doubt not through the ages one increasing purpose runs,
And the thoughts of men are widened with the process of the suns.

He who is sufficiently interested in the infinite panorama forming the concave exhibition of beauty and glory unfolded to his vision finds himself involuntarily contemplating the many ways in which it is infinite. He finds it infinite in vastness, in beauty, in system and order. He finds it governed by infinite laws conceived by Infinite Mind and continued in infinite wisdom. He realizes that these myriads of stars and planets, comets and satellites, universes and systems of universes, nebulae and constellations, were swung into space and kept there by a Power and Wisdom he does not understand, but which he knows must exist.

Then he thinks of the inspiring thoughts voiced by the Shepherd Boy who afterward became King of Israel and the greatest poet of all time. Surely, he thinks, this great King and poet must have received conceptions of the Creator and His indescribable works while he watched his flocks on the hillsides and in the valleys which he helped to make famous. He speaks of Him who made the stars as one "who stretches out the heavens like a curtain . . . who maketh the clouds His chariot: who walketh upon the wings of the wind."

ABOUT ECLIPSES

It may be said to be axiomatic that one's superstition is proportionate to his ignorance. Knowledge is destructive of fear which creates superstition.

The ancient barbarians accounted for eclipses by imagining that the sun was being devoured by a titanic monster. They so accounted for this majestic phenomenon because of fear, and they had the fear because they were superstitious, and they were superstitious because they lacked knowledge as to the movements of the celestial bodies.

The human sacrifices they offered in order to appease the monster's wrath and satisfy his cruel impulses were made because they attributed to him like attributes as they themselves possessed to a greater or less degree. There are those today who credit God with propensities similar to their own. Thus they have Him to look like themselves and be moved by the things that move them.

During the total eclipse of the sun in the past chickens went to roost and cows came from the pasture to be milked. Of course, in the line of totality of eclipses chickens and cows still are doing this. They do it for the same reason that people did as they did two or three thousand years ago—they know no better. But now people of enlightened nations do know better. Man grows in intelligence. Birds and beasts do not, but man does not always have the courage to divest himself of his fear and follow the urge that his reason gives him.

"The heavens declare the glory of God, and the firmament showeth his handiwork."

LUFKIN NEWSPRINT MILL

Establishment of the $7,500,000 Southland Paper Mills at Lufkin will mark one of the biggest accomplishments of the Southern Newspaper Publisher's Association. The necessary capital has been subscribed, and construction on the initial unit is expected to begin in July. Publishers already have contracted for about 800,000 tons of newsprint which the mill is expected to produce.

Research by Dr. Charles H. Herty and his associates has shown that a high grade of newsprint can be made from pine, cottonwood and other trees that are abundant over many sections of the South. On a basis of recurring crops, this supply is practically inexhaustible. The fact that Southern pines grow faster than those of the North and can be cut much younger for paper manufacture gives this section a strong advantage.

With other sorts of paper already being produced in the South on a considerable scale, opening of the newsprint mill at Lufkin likely will result in establishment of other newsprint plants in the Southern pine country. The high price that now must be paid for newsprint from Canada increases the opportunity for profit from paper-making in the South.

Southeast Texas, parts of which have been none too prosperous since the decline of the lumber industry, should gain a substantial increase in income from the orderly exploitation of forest resources in the manufacture of paper and other products. The Lufkin mill may prove only the beginning of a Texas industry that will increase rapidly in the next decade.

BALL GAMES

We now have base ball, soft ball, basket ball, volley ball, bull pen, old cat and some others. When this writer was a kid many years ago we had a game called town ball. Also a game called Old Cat, in which a very live rubber ball was used. The batter used a wide, thick paddle and if he struck the pitched ball a hard thwack it went such a distance the runner could make at least two bases before the fielder recovered it. The basemen or fielders had to hit the runner with the ball. That outed him. If he was thrown at and missed he kept going until thrown at and hit. The scores used to run up to forty or fifty to the side. It was very interesting, but is said to have been unscientific. Science came in when the fun went out. Two first-division baseball teams now play a game so mechanical that the excitement has almost died out. Most of the wonder stuff is performed by the pitcher. He is about all there is to the game. If he is extra good he wins against the opposing pitcher who is only tolerably good. The umpire is more important than any player except the pitcher. In the game of Old Cat there was no umpire. In case of vitriolic dispute the disputants fought it out fist and skull. There were ball games in those days.

ABOUT GIANTS

Last Sunday in the Sunday school the teacher asked the class, "Who killed Goliath?" and one of the smaller pupils answered, "David did it with his little slingshot."
This column adds there was another giant in those days, a fearsome heathen with twenty-four fingers and toes, who was slain by Jonathan, it appears. There was more than one giant. If anyone doubts David's reputation as a giant killer let him ponder the fact that David got his political start by putting an end to Goliath. He got to be king that way. David was a country boy but he knew his way around.

In our time, our Davids get to be elected to office by virtue of their prowess in slaying trusts, monopolies, Tories, Wall street and economic royalists. They spear them in the umbilical region and leave them writhing on the ground, while the common people hurrah, shake hands and go home to dinner. Our times are very like the ancient times. Not much difference. We admire our heroes for what they do or promise to do, although what they do sometimes seems to cost us our jobs or increase our taxes. Even so, we have to have heroes who like little David, are friends of the people and who rise to eminence not for any wish to be eminent but only to be of public service.

MEMORIES

Many memories for us older people. These memories date from the days of the Texas Longhorn, when a man traveled leisurely across country in a wagon, taking with him his livestock, his family and all earthly possessions; when there were few people along the way, no roads and fewer fences. Memories that come on to this modern streamlined age when a man travels in a hurry and carries little with him, when roads are plentiful, with a filling station or a hitch hiker on every corner, and the Longhorns are no more.

WORDS

So few people understand the nation's finances. The gold standard, inflation, etc. At Washington they say the dollar is worth only 59¢. Every dollar we get passes for 100 cents. Ask the politician for an explanation and he will endeavor to gain for himself the reputation of being deep. We sometimes forget the old saying, "Many a stream gets its reputation for being deep when it is only muddy."

But the discerning politician knows that vast numbers of people, always a majority, will believe anything so long as it is sufficiently incredible. Therefore he issues political programs and social manifestos, which set for the philosophically complete and transcendently irrelevant solutions of our social ills, sows in their sound and miraculous in their illogicality.

If these observations seem cynical or hypercritical, study the platforms and pronouncements of the candidates for governor, for example, in the light of these observations.

Do you get what I mean?

JEFFERSON DAVIS' BIRTHDAY

June 3rd was Jefferson Davis' birthday and the banks all closed in his honor. This writer had a birthday not long since and not a single bank closed.

Jefferson Davis visited Dallas April 19, 1875. His appearance drew one of the largest crowds in the city's history. Pointing to Old Glory, displayed prominently at the Fair Grounds where he spoke, he said:

"God grant that it may never wave again over a battlefield of divided Americans."

Born in 1808, Jefferson Davis was the tenth child of Samuel Davis, a Kentucky farmer of modest means who commanded a motley troop of horsemen in the Revolutionary War.

He served a term in Congress, was twice in the Senate and served as Secretary of War. He also fought in the Mexican War, campaigning in Texas.

He resigned from the War Department to join the Confederacy. He was again elected to the Senate from Mississippi following the war, but declined the post since he would have been compelled to ask pardon for his service to the South, a thing he could never do.

TIMES HAVE CHANGED

Almost ever since the beginning of time men have been predicting that the world was going to the damnation bow wows. Six thousand years ago Homer and a lot of those old guys said they did not know where the rising generation was going. We have all heard this said.

It is natural for people to be that way. They are like a balky horse, just don't want to go. Hoover, Landon and Knox told us if Roosevelt was elected it would be the end of time. Now a lot of the college professors said if Roosevelt's Supreme Court proposal went through it would mean dictatorship. These same professors used to say that no automobile ever could be invented and no airplane would ever fly.

These fellows don't realize this is a new day, and another thing they don't realize is that the rising generation instead of going to the bad are thinking for themselves and can't be scared. A lot of us fellows that are a little old are thinking with the rising generation. We are not so easily scared by college professors, lawyers and preachers. We know that a lawyer bases his knowledge on precedent. If you ask him a question he gets down an old book that has an odor of the dead past.

Doctors do not give the same kind of medicine they did fifty years ago; farmers do not use the same tools; we do not ride in wagons any more; the women do not wear bustles; it is a new day. Then, why be governed by old things. We do not need but one man in the Supreme Court. He can hire a secretary to go back and hunt up the old rubbish, if we were so unfortunate as to get a man who decides by precedent and not by common sense and reason. We only have one President and he is a good one and all we need is one Supreme Court Judge, the others are all excess baggage. And the money they are paid could be well used for something else.

As it is now just one man is dictator of these United States and he is the fifth man on the Supreme Court. They are paid $20,000 a year to decide something and things that a good practical farmer and businessman could decide in twenty minutes. Also they do not contribute anything to the Government they claim to love so well, for by their own decision they do not pay an income tax. They say it is a sacrilege to criticize those old fellows. No man is apt to be criticized much unless he merits it. There is always fire where so much smoke it. If a man does not want to be an antique he must be up and doing, catch on to the car of progress. Cheer up, boys, if the new plan goes through the sun will continue to rise in the east and the moon set in the west, and fried chicken will taste just as good as it ever did. If you tear your shirt you will have to buy a new one. That is all.

LOWER RATES ON FIRE INSURANCE ANNOUNCED

A general revision downward in fire insurance rates for Texas, including Colorado, has been ordered by the state insurance commission, of which Marvin Hall is chairman, affecting most classes 10 to 15 per cent on policies written or renewed after June 15, 1938.

This is a reduction based on experience, or good fire loss record over a period of years, and is separate and distinct from the 20 per cent reduction achieved by the good record in 1937 achieved by Colorado.

This is not retroactive according to state law, insurance men explain. Policies in effect before June 15 will not be affected, nor would policies in effect be altered should it be necessary to increase the rate at a subsequent date. This system even itself over a period of years.

Some classes, it is explained, were not lowered, and some were lowered more than others. Policy holders need not call their agents regarding change, since it does not affect those written or renewed prior to June 15, and it will be fully explained when renewal time arrives.
