SOCIAL SECURITY ANNIVERSARY OBSERVED IN TALK BY W. O. KING OF SAN ANGELO ON PROGRAM AT LIONS' CLUB LUNCHEON

In observance of National Social Security week marking the third anniversary of social security legislation in the United States, the program of the Lions club luncheon Friday featured a talk by W. O. King, member of the social security board at San Angelo. Guests at the club were Craig Porter, the Rev. J. O'Rillon, and Mr. King, in addition to the following from Big Spring: J. H. Greene, Jack Jackson, and Joe Pond. Craig Porter made a report on the Boy Scout encampment at Barksdale. Mr. King labeled his talk "an accounting of three years of social security activity." "As good businessmen," he told his listeners, "you make a check-up on your business at regular intervals. . . . When you have the necessary information at hand, you decide adjustments . . . in your methods of operation for the next period. . . . I am here today to give you such a report on a government activity in which you have a vital interest. . . . With August 14 marking the third anniversary of the social security act, this is a good time to survey the significance of the program. . . . After a survey of national figures in social security and unemployment administration, Mr. King turned to the "Texas picture," saying: "For commercial and industrial workers in this state more than 1,620,000 accounts have been established under the old-age insurance system. By June 30 of this year, $151,485.54 had been paid in single cash amounts to workers in this State who reached 65 since 1936, or to the families or near relatives of workers who died before reaching that age. . . . It is estimated that 690,000 workers are covered by the unemployment insurance law of this state. During the first 6 months of this year, $3,775,598 was paid in benefits to unemployed workers in the State. . . . It is estimated that under the public assistance plans of this state, aid is being extended to 111,300 needy aged individuals. No funds have been granted to the needy blind or to dependent children. During July, Federal, State, and local expenditures for assistance payments to the needy aged totaled approximately $19,096,500. . . . Turning to the humanitarian side of social security, Mr. King pointed out, "Millions of American men and women are protected by the thrift plan of old-age insurance against a destitute old age. Millions of workers are protected by unemployment insurance against the complete loss of income if they lose their jobs. Thousands of needy old people, needy blind persons, and dependent children are protected under the public assistance program. . . . "Then there is the social security which derives to business, and, in turn, to the local community, the national community, and the American people as a whole. . . . These programs influence purchasing power, labor turn-over, and employe morale." After going into fuller detail on how the programs influence these three—purchasing power, labor turn-over, and employe morale—Mr. King continued: "These social security programs I have been talking about weren't just born and didn't just operate by themselves. Somebody is responsible for what has happened. And that somebody is you, and me, and everybody else in this country. Businessmen took important parts in the studies upon which the provisions of the Social Security Act were based. Through cooperation, businessmen have aided in the successful administration of the act during the past 3 years. Administrative improvements already have been made in both the old-age and unemployment insurance systems, although the old-age insurance plan has been in operation only since January 1, 1937. . . . A new form, known as SS-1a, has been devised for the use of employers in making tax returns and wage reports under the old-age insurance system. It is beneficial to both employers and the Federal government. It combines three forms—SS-1, SS-2, and SS-2a—used for 1937. In place of 14 reports filed by employers for 1937 on the old form, only 4 reports a year on the new form are now required of employers. . . . "On this, the eve of the fourth year of operation of the Social Security Act, government and business are working hand in hand to bring about improvements in the law and its administration. Several projects are under way now in which government and business are cooperating to make improvements in social security programs. In both endeavors, there is employe representation. . . . Named on the club's program committee for September were Dr. Harry Logsdon, Jack Sanders, and G. A. Horton.

SAFETY QUESTIONS PUT TO THE PUBLIC

- AUSTIN.—State police traffic experts have devised a questionnaire from which drivers may determine their individual qualifications for operating vehicles in a fair manner. Ten questions relating to basic causes for most accidents on streets and highways were listed by traffic research officers so that drivers may correct their errors. Each question counts 10 points if answered in the affirmative, with 10 points discount for negative answers. If your grade is between 90 and 100 you may consider yourself an excellent driver. A grade between 80-90 classes you as a "fairly good" driver, but if your grade is below 80 you are a menace to traffic safety and should correct your faults, state police warned. The questions are: 1. Do you use proper arm signals when turning or stopping? 2. Do you always drive within legal speed limits? 3. Do you always refrain from passing other vehicles on hills or curves? 4. Do you bring your vehicle to a complete halt at traffic STOP signals? 5. Do you observe right-of-way rules at intersections? 6. Do you always park your vehicle so that it does not obstruct traffic? 7. Do you dim your lights at night for coming vehicles? 8. Do you always drive on the right side, not too near the center stripe? 9. Do you regularly inspect lights and other mechanical parts of your vehicle? 10. Do you drive in the same manner under supervision of a traffic officer as you do when he is out of your view?

VARIOUS IMPROVEMENTS MADE IN THE COLORADO HOTEL DURING SUMMER

Various improvements which have been in progress since early summer have made the Colorado hotel one of the most modern and attractive hostels in West Texas, according to many who have had opportunities to observe hotels all over this section.

All halls in the building have been re-papered, re-painted, and re-carpeted. New carpet has been laid in most of the rooms. Rooms have been re-papered and re-painted, and in many of them beds have been equipped with new airfloat mattresses of the latest scientific design.

Re-upholstering of chairs in the bedrooms and living rooms of the hotel has been no small item in recent improvements. Venetian blinds were installed some time ago in the lobby, coffee shop, and other first-floor rooms in the building. New drapes have been ordered for use with these blinds and will be hung in the autumn.

The banquet room was re-done several months ago in shades of rose, and was further improved by the use of venetian blinds and unusual lighting effects. Portions of the hotel were re-roofed in the early summer, and work is now in progress on other sections of the roof.

Edward F. Brown of Harper has been elected as head of the Loraine vocational agriculture department.

Spence, manager of the chamber of commerce, that the management of Casa Manana found it necessary to postpone Colorado Night, which was to have been Monday, because the entire house had been reserved for a party that night. Selection of another date was offered Colorado, but no selection has been made, due to the fact that all chamber of commerce officials are busy with Frontier Round-up plans.

SITE FOR VETERANS' HOSPITAL SELECTED BUT NOT DIVULGED

Site for the $1,435,000 veterans' hospital in West Texas was selected at a Monday morning meeting of the federal board of hospitalization in Washington and the selection has been submitted to President Roosevelt for final approval, according to information given Congressman George Mahon in a Monday noon telephone conversation with Col. Geo. Ijams, assistant administrator for the veterans' administration.

Col. Ijams declined to divulge the site chosen by the board, however, until the choice is given presidential approval. A Washington news dispatch dated Tuesday listed Colorado as one of the towns being considered for the hospital, but it is understood here that this is erroneous, since only towns with a population of at least 10,000 were eligible for investigation by the veterans' administration engineer.

Locations inspected by engineers as possible sites for the hospital were at or near Houston, San Angelo, Abilene, Lubbock, Amarillo, Fort Worth, Dallas, Sweetwater, and Big Spring.

NOTICE OF FILING OF APPLICATION FOR AUTHORITY TO MAKE OIL AND GAS LEASE

NO. 985 IN THE MATTER OF THE GUARDIANSHIP OF MARTHA A. CRAWFORD, A NON COMPOS MENTIS. IN THE PROBATE COURT OF MITCHELL COUNTY, TEXAS. I, L. L. Blomgren, Guardian of the State of Martha A. Crawford, a non compos mentis, hereby give notice that I have heretofore filed in the County Court of Mitchell County, Texas, my application for authority to make an oil and gas lease covering certain lands belonging to the said Martha A. Crawford, situated in Foard County, Texas, and described as follows:

"The South four hundred (400) acres of the North 464.1 acres of the East 769.5 acres of the John M. Seaton 1476 acre Survey. Certificate No. 29/187, and patented to the heirs of John M. Seaton on July 3, 1888, by Patent No. 579, Vol. 24, said 464.1 acres of land having been conveyed to Martha A. Crawford by T. N. Bell, Trustee, by deed dated January 5, 1932, which deed is of record in Vol. 67, Page 364, of the Deed Records of Foard County, Texas.

A hearing on said application will be had at the office of the County Judge of Mitchell County, Texas, at nine o'clock A.M. on the 29th day of August, 1936.

WITNESS MY HAND, this 9th day of August, A.D. 1936.

L. L. BLOMGREN, Guardian of the Estate of Martha A. Crawford, a Non Compos Mentis. 1c

born to Mr. and Mrs. Payne here. Mr. Payne was a civic and church leader during his years in Colorado. For years he played the organ at the Methodist church. He has always been loyal to Colorado, keeping up with the town happenings in detail and always returning for homecomings and other celebrations.

Some 25 years ago the Paynes moved from Colorado to San Angelo, and from there they went to Slaton in 1917.

The Lubbock Avalanche-Journal story follows, in part:

Allen J. Payne continued methodically about the business of winding up his long tenure as secretary and manager of Slaton Chamber of Commerce and Board of City Development from which his resignation is to become effective Sept. 1. He then will move to Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

Writing those two resignations was not much of a job. It was the writing of a couple of dozen others that gave him a touch of writer's cramp. Payne has been secretary or treasurer or both of so many organizations here he has to sit and think sometimes in order to remember just how many and who they are. "Well, let's see. I can recall them all," said Payne when asked how many organizations he belonged to. He started off. After listing a group, and stopping, he was asked "aren't you secretary-treasurer or manager or something, of the Panhandle-Plains Poultry show?" "Yes, I forgot that—by the way, I have a 100 percent attendance record of Rotary and I am a charter member since the organization in February, 1925. I was named secretary in 1926 and the next year they added the job of treasurer."

Served Once As Mayor He served once as mayor of Slaton. That was in 1921. He was for a year president of the chamber of commerce and also of the Retail Merchants association and also a member of the board of school trustees.

The Paynes came to Slaton in 1917 and he was engaged in the mercantile business until the latter part of 1930 when he disposed of his business. In December that year he was named secretary of the chamber of commerce and board of city development, to succeed L. A. Wilson, who resigned to accept a place at Vernon.

During his years at Slaton Payne has been an official of the First Methodist church. He has for years been a trustee and is now secretary of the board of trustees, church treasurer and perhaps has one or two other church jobs.

Editor Of Bulletin Besides his Rotary post, Payne is editor of the Rotary Bulletin and chairman of the club's publicity committee.

Some of his other jobs, all without salary, include: secretary and treasurer and manager of the Slaton Community Poultry association, secretary of the Slaton Softball team, chairman of the Slaton Red Cross Roll Call committee, secretary and treasurer of the Slaton Athletic council, secretary of the board of city development civic league, secretary of the Slaton farmers community organization, secretary-treasurer of the Slaton United Charities, secretary of the Slaton Salvation Army council, secretary-treasurer of the band board of control, secretary of the Slaton Grange, secretary-treasurer of Slaton Softball league.

In addition Payne has been correspondent of three newspapers, and the writer of a weekly column in The Slatonian, published here.

WORK ON 1938 MARKETING QUOTAS FOR MITCHELL COUNTY FARMERS IS STARTED AS COMPLIANCE FOR YEAR ESTABLISHED

By John Mogford, AAA Assistant in County Agent's Office

With the 1938 compliance complete and over 1,000 subsidy applications typed and sent to the state office, the county agent's office has now started to work on the 1938 marketing quota for cotton.

Farm acreage allotment and farm marketing quotas will be published as soon as they are established. The farm marketing quota for any farm in 1938, shall be that number of pounds of lint equal to the sum of the following:

1. The amount of normal production on his allotted acres or the actual production on those acres which ever is the greater.

2. The amount of cotton that the producer might have on hand from a previous crop.

As soon as practicable, each farmer that has planted within his allotted acres of cotton will be issued a white marketing card (Form Cotton 211) the producers receiving these white cards may market without penalty all cotton produced on such farm in 1938 and the amount of cotton from any previous crop which they have on hand. Such marketing card shall show: (1) the name and address of the operator, (2) the state and county trade number and the farm serial number, (3) the card will be signed by the chairman of the county committee or one of its members, (4) the countersignature of the operator or other producer to whom the card is issued or his duly authorized agent. No producer will be issued a white card unless all the land he is working, or has an interest in as landlord or operator in 1938, has planted within his allotted cotton acres for every farm.

The second type of card issued is a red marketing card. This card is issued to those producers which have not planted within their allotted acres of cotton. The red card is (Form Cotton 212) which entitles the producer to market without penalty the amount of cotton entered on such card which will be the allotted acres times his normal yield, or his actual yield on his allotted acres whichever is the greater and a two cent pound tax for every pound over that figure will be deducted at the time of sale and five cents per pound will be deducted from his 1938 Soil Conservation check, which means that a producer who has planted in excess of his cotton acreage allotment will lose seven cents per pound on those acres and pounds before he ever moves that cotton out of the field.

Lost, destroyed or stolen cards should be reported to the County Agent's office immediately, and upon very close investigation by the county committee they shall cancel this marketing card and cause to be issued in the place thereof another.

Forms that produce less than 1,000 pounds of lint cotton shall be permitted to market all said cotton tax free.

All penalties shall be paid to the treasurer of the Agriculture Association and in turn submitted to the U. S. Treasury.

Each ginner shall record on Form Cotton 216 in respect to all cotton of the 1938 crop ginned by him: (1) the date of ginning, (2) the name of the operator of the farm on which the cotton was produced, (3) the name of the producer of the cotton, (4) the gin bale number or mark, (5) the county in which the farm is that produced the cotton, (6) the gross weight, (7) the serial number of the farm on which the cotton was produced.

The original of the ginner record shall be made for each period beginning with the first day of the month and ending on the fifteenth day of such month and for each period beginning with the sixteenth day of each month and ending on the last day of each month during which any cotton from the 1938 crop is ginned by the ginner. The records shall be submitted to the treasurer of the County Committee for the county in which the gin is located not later than five days next succeeding the last day of the period covered by the report. A copy of such record shall be retained by the ginner.

Each buyer shall keep records and make reports with respect to each transaction in which he purchases cotton during the marketing year, or prior to the beginning of the marketing year if the cotton was produced in the calendar year 1938.

All in all it looks like the marketing of cotton in 1938 will be very easy if a producer has a white card. If he has a red card then it looks like a different story.

GOOD WINTER GRAZING IN PROSPECT IN STATE

AUSTIN.—Texas range feeds made good growth the last weeks of July and promise good winter grazing, the Austin bureau of the department of agriculture reported.

The bureau said that, with the exception of South Texas and a small area in the northwest, ranges were well above the average condition August 1.

"Surplus feed crops are being produced over much of the state," the report said, "and the feed situation outlook is bright. The condition of all ranges at 86 per cent of normal, compared with 85 per cent a month ago, 76 per cent a year ago and 78 per cent for a 10-year average August 1 condition."

The bureau reported cattle in excellent condition over most of the state, those in poor flesh being limited to areas in South Texas where drouthy conditions obtained.

"COWBOY FROM BROOKLYN" SETS NEW HIGH FOR LAUGHS

Check your dignity at the door when you go in to see "Cowboy from Brooklyn" showing at the Palace Saturday midnight prelude, Sunday and Monday, Aug. 20, 21 and 22. Comedies don't come any funnier than this musical saga of a cowboy who never rides the range because he's scared to death of horses.

It becomes necessary, however for O'Brien to prove that his singer is a real cowboy, and he arranges to have the timid hero demonstrate his cowboy talents at a rodeo in Madison Square Garden.

The great promise as a comedian shown by Powell in his first motion picture role some years ago—"Blessed Event"—is amply realized in his merciless caricature of the timid cowboy crooner. Pat O'Brien, of course, is veritable perfection in a fast-talking role, and Priscilla Lane is both charming and amusing.

The production was directed by Lloyd Bacon, and it confirms a judgment which has long been accepted in Hollywood—that he is one of the very best comedy directors in the business.

The screen play, adapted by Earl Baldwin from the stage play, "Hardy Stranger," by Robert S. Loane and Louis Pelletier, Jr., gets off to a flying start when Pat O'Brien, as a vacationing Broadway theatrical producer, mistakenly assumes that Dick Powell, who is being paid to entertain the guests at a Wyoming dude ranch with his singing, is an authentic cowboy.

"FOUR MEN AND A PRAYER"

Palace—Tuesday and Wednesday August 23 and 24

Mounted with impressive production values, the film version of David Garth's book emerges as an enthralling mystery melodrama, transcending in every department the usual picture of such category. The feature should have widespread and general audience appeal and build to profitable grosses in all showings.

"DANGER PATROL"

Ritz—Thursday, August 18

Here is another example of a small budget picture, which through sheer force of its dramatic power, the sincerity of its actors and the quality-laden production elements of which it is constructed, is surprisingly fine entertainment. Kept to a high pitch, the film holds audience attention all the way and the word-of-mouth advertising it undoubtedly will get can be depended upon to build boxoffice takes.

average story and leaves nothing to be desired in casting. Charles Starrett takes his boys through the usual chases but makes it all seem that there is serious and important business at hand. The scripters have seen to this with a solidly built plot, providing for a full complement of thrills and making room for some pleasant musical interludes. Iris Meredith, as reason for romance, makes her role wholly believable. Starrett's boss, who supposedly lost his wife and daughter in a holdup 15 years before, is robbed of a large sum of cattle money. Starrett and the boys step in and reveal the gang "brains" as the one who "adopted" the boss' daughter. Sam Nelson directed.

Players are Charles Starrett, Iris Meredith, Bob Nolan, Robert Warwick, Dick Curtis.

"YOU CAN'T HAVE EVERYTHING"

Ritz—Tuesday and Wednesday August 23 and 24

Here's a fast stepping, mirthful entertainment melange, geared for big applause and bigger profits. Not a trick is missed in including everything that could possibly make the picture tuneful, gay and effervescent, with a story that is better than the usual musical comedy plot. Alice Faye, Don Ameche, the Ritz Bros. and Tony Martin all score in the leads, with Charles Winninger, Louise Hovick and Louis Prima coming in for laughs in supporting roles. Miss Faye, a would-be playwright lands in New York broke. Ameche, an established writer, buys her flopper, falls for her and offers her the lead in his big show. Heart entanglements force her to run out on him, but he brings her back by producing her play. Directed by Norman Taurog.

AUTOMOBILE, ONCE LUXURY, NOW NECESSITY

The automobile now is both a luxury and a necessity. Once it was altogether a luxury. This is true of many other inventions.

The almost limitless adaptability of the automobile and its motor to the innumerable tasks which demand power for their accomplishment...

In emergencies the automobile is conceded in a class by itself. It will continue to be so, and as it is improved in power and flexibility...

RAPIDLY DEVELOPED

It is doubtful if any other invention has been developed and improved with the rapidity of the automobile.

The socializing influence of the automobile is inestimable. It has made it possible for friends and relatives to visit one another with much greater frequency than was possible before its coming.

ACCIDENTS

Taking a patient to a physician, for example, or the physician to the patient, is no longer a matter of hours, but of minutes.

IT INCREASES HAPPINESS

It has been made possible by the automobile for more families to take vacations than any other factor of modern times.

Tens of thousands of little children are in this way enabled to see their venerable progenitors who, because of the great distances and the cost of transportation, could never have done so...

These things should be taken into consideration when criticizing certain persons or families for indulging the expense of a car. There also is an economic phase to this matter.

MAN WANTS TO 'GO PLACES'

Man has always wanted to 'go places.' Not only so, but he wanted to ride when he did go.

This soon developed him into a confirmed 'hitch-hiker.' This might be the reason his thumb is larger than his other manual digits.

Man being a natural experimenter and adventurer, also selfish and more or less lazy, he has not hesitated to impose his avoirdupois upon anything that could carry him, animal, man or vehicle, if it could take him where he wanted to go.

CRUDE TRANSPORTATION

Probably before the early man began his hitch-hiking stunts the frog had been taking an occasional excursion on the back of an alligator.

It is likely that man, then, as now, rode his brother man during the early periods of his existence, except that now he rides him financially and socially, whereas then it was a physical matter altogether.

AUTOMOBILE AND GOOD ROADS

It is probable that if the horses, mules and oxen that furnished the power for the pulling of vehicles, hauling freight and passengers from one place to another in the old days could have voiced their reflections on road improvement after the automobile came, they would have said something like this:

'Man is a peculiar animal. He has brains and claims to have a heart, but he doesn't manifest the mercy, kindness and consideration of which he boasts, in this matter of good roads.'

The convenience, comfort and pleasure supplied by the automobile while 'going places,' have resulted in an awakening to the need of good roads and their vast benefit in manifold ways.

In these modern days it is possible to judge a country's civilization largely by the kind of roads it has and the number of its automobiles. The automobile is here to stay, facilitating business and commerce, promoting quick and comfortable transportation...

TAX RATE RESET AT 49 CENTS

Members of the automatic tax board recently refused pleas of State education leaders for an increase in the State ad valorem tax rate as it ordered a continuance for another year of the present rate of 49 cents per $100 evaluation.

It was the contention of a majority of the three member board that under present constitutional provisions the levy for school purposes could not be increased beyond its present 7 cents.

KIND WORDS

Greet your neighbor and friends with kind words. It costs you nothing and is sometimes worth a lot to them.

There are many people in Mitchell county that no person has ever manifested by kind word an any spiritual concern for. Often they have yearned for such concern, but their friends have been more concerned about the weather, politics, business, the price of wool and a thousand other things. Yet these are not the primary needs of people. The natural results are that they turn away to the desert of evil and when the brief day of life is done they perish.

Smile, be a good listener, speak to everyone; it costs nothing, be sympathetic, but never substitute pity for sympathy. Praise and compliment folks for their accomplishments, everybody likes it and it certainly harms no one.

The thing for everybody to do is to praise everybody else. But some perverse people won't play that way. They go around knocking right and left, leaving wounded hearts and stricken spirits in their wake.

'In the World War, Woodrow Wilson called the United States to prayer for peace. What happened? Our boys went over the top right now, and had the old Kaiser crying for peace. Prayer will always win. So let us always pray and quit talking about our neighbors.'

ABSENT MINDED

One of our young men who is engaged to be married had occasion to introduce his sweetheart to a friend but he couldn't think of her name.

W. R. Charters came down town and thought he had left his watch at home, and then took it out to see if he had time to go back and get it.

Harry Ratliff had on his office door a card saying 'Out, will be back soon,' and on his return sat down on the stairstep to wait for himself.

During the last rain Charley Farris was seen to go out holding his handkerchief over his head and wiping his face with his umbrella.

Mrs. W. W. Porter is away on a visit and W. W. Porter got down town one morning before sunrise and thought it was dinner time and ordered soup for his breakfast.

John Colson, who lives up on the Buford road, started to town and boarded a school bus. When the bus stopped at the schoolhouse he went in and called the teacher by his secretary's name.

Tom Russell went fishing not long since. He carried with him a cheese sandwich and a can of worms. In the middle of the afternoon he baited his hook with the sandwich and ate the worms.

GREATEST EARTHLY ASSET

Health is the greatest earthly asset an individual can possess. A million dollar pocket book in the hands of a person would be given to get rid of a health consuming cancer. Like the King of old, when hotly pursued by a merciless enemy with deadly weapon, cried: 'My Kingdom for a horse.'

Can we stand the progressive increase in taxation? In 1915 the tax collected to run the state government amounted to $14,954,917. In 1937, the tax collected to pay the expenses of the state government amounted to $154,129,031.

An old man who lives in Seaford, Delaware, whose mother and wife have trimmed his hair for 85 years, got what he called his first 'store haircut' a few days ago.

The first thing that God did for Adam and Eve after they had eaten the forbidden fruit, was to improve on their fig leaf clothing, by making them coats of skin that could not be seen through.

SEEING COLORADO'S LAST BUFFALO IN EARLY 80'S AMONG MEMORIES RECALLED BY JUDGE HARRY GRAVES ON VISIT HERE

The bellowing of Mitchell county's last buffalo as he pawed the sand which filled Colorado streets fifty-odd years ago was among the childhood memories recalled by Judge Harry N. Graves of Williamson county, judge of the Court of Criminal Appeals, when he visited in Colorado last Thursday.

As a son of the late Dr. Harry N. Graves of Georgetown, Judge Graves lived in Colorado in 1883 and 1884, when the railroad-born cattle-town was only two or three years old.

'Yes, I heard that last buffalo bellow his way off the ranges of Texas and into the story books,' Judge Graves said. The animal had been captured by a large group of cowboys out on the open ranges several miles from Colorado, as well as Judge Graves could recall.

Buffaloes had been so scarce here for several years that the sight of one was a novelty, so a large crowd gathered downtown to see this last lone animal stomp at the lazars which held him prisoner.

Serving a territory that extended 100 miles in any direction from Colorado, Judge Graves' father maintained an office in the old Braun & Schroeder drug store, which was located north of Colorado's famous old 'opera house' and the equally famous Randerbrook hotel, which stood on East Second street, facing north.

From his father's office, little Harry Graves once saw one of the county's wealthiest sheepmen stand in front of the old opera house and throw $20 gold pieces into the deep mud puddles which...

While in Colorado, Judge Graves tried to determine exactly where it was that his family lived in Colorado. He was only about seven at the time. He does remember, however, that his parents lived for awhile in a house just east of the Methodist church, of which he remembers a bolt of lightning struck the steeple when the church was very new.

It is recalled by Mrs. C. H. Earnest and possibly other old-timers, that the Graves family lived part of the time in what was known as the Galbraith place on Hickory street. This house, still possessing the three front doors and three front windows which characterized all the Newton houses, stands now just south of the new Gracey implement store.

The Graves family included three children, Harry, Jr., Ella Graves, and Fannie Graves. Ella Graves is now Mrs. J. N. Bigbee, dean of North High school in Dallas. Miss Fannie Graves is dean of Adamson High school in Dallas.

They moved from Colorado to Georgetown in 1884. Mrs. Graves died four years later. Dr. Graves died in 1921. Harry N. Graves, Jr., worked his way through Southwestern university at Georgetown, serving as a printer's devil. Admitted to the bar at 19, he practiced for a time at Sherman, then was elected city attorney at Georgetown. He was county attorney of Williamson county for six years.

Elected to the legislature in 1929, he served until appointed as judge of the court of criminal appeals last November. During his last two years in the legislature he was chairman of the appropriations committee.

Judge Graves' visit in Colorado last week was his second since boyhood. He came here in 1927 in connection with Dan Moody's campaign for governor. On his visit Thursday he was accompanied by his nephew, North Bigbee, formerly on the staff of the Dallas News and also a former journalism instructor at S. M. U.

JAN GARBER TALENT AS A VIOLINIST GROWS

That Jan Garber has lost none of the finesse which earned for him the role of featured violinist with the Philadelphia Symphony Orchestra while still in his teens, is demonstrated each evening when the celebrated maestro appears as the headline feature of the second edition of the Casa Manana Varieties of 1933.

Listeners to Garber's handling of the violin can readily understand whence the derivation of the term 'singing violinist' as his skillful fingers literally make the instrument sing or weep at their behest. The band leader, however, is not without his more humorous moments as he puts away the violin and captures the praise of his watchers with his comedy antics while leading his band in the tuneful arrangements that make his music distinctive.

For it was Garber who first earned fame in the entertainment field as the 'Originator of Holcum' by his strange and ludicrous operas which made him an instantaneous success. Sharing the headline honors with the 'Idol of the Airlines' as Garber is known to countless millions from coast to coast is the radio vocalist, Morton Downey. Never has a singer taken hold of Casa Manana audiences during its three years of existence as this person has. For it is a dull evening if he is not recalled and forced to do encore after encore to please the crowds which have been attending the far famed Port Worth show thus far.

MITCHELL SCHOOLS TO BE ALLOWED 30 NYA SCHOOL JOBS

ADVISORY COMMITTEE TO DIRECT PLACEMENT OF POSITIONS

A quota of 30 National Youth Administration school aid jobs has been allocated for Mitchell county under the 1938-39 School Aid Program to provide part-time employment for young people in elementary and high schools who cannot otherwise continue in school. J. C. Kellam, state youth director, has announced in a dispatch from Austin.

R. D. Coles, County Superintendent, has been notified of the number of jobs allotted. He has been requested to organize an advisory committee of local school officials to recommend an equitable distribution of jobs within the county on a basis of youth need and availability of school facilities. Mr. Kellam said that as soon as this is done, the NYA state office will be in position to approve schools for participation.

School officials requiring information concerning the 1938-39 school aid quotas should communicate with their county superintendent. They should furnish him with data which will assist the county committee in recommending the distribution of jobs, Mr. Kellam said.

As for the last three years, boys and girls in secondary schools between the ages of 16 and 24 will be enabled to earn a wage not exceeding $6 a month. They will be selected for employment by their own school officials, who will plan and supervise their work assignments. Students seeking part-time NYA school aid jobs should apply to the superintendent or principal of the school they plan to attend, since the officials of schools approved by the NYA for participation in the program select the students for the jobs, Mr. Kellam said.

WHY is it you so often find the sturdiest, healthiest youngsters and grownups have been "brought up" on Quaker Oats? Because oatmeal is the richest of all whole grain foods in strength-giving proteins. Proteins, you know, are the vital food elements best for building muscle, firm flesh, and lasting strength. It's richer than other thrifty cereals too in phosphorus for teeth and bones, in iron, and in important Vitamin B, the nerve-digestive-appetite vitamin which children and everybody need supplied to them every day! So serve delicious Quaker Oats often to help fill out your growing boy or girl with the sturdy "tough" kind of muscular flesh and improve your own general well-being. Quaker Oats saves money, too... often cuts breakfast costs to half of more expensive foods... and you can have it ready in only 2 1/2 minutes! Get a package of Quaker Oats at your grocer's today!

PICKED UP ALONG THE NEWS PATH

Under a blazing August sun, drama fraught with tragedy was being enacted in cotton fields of Mitchell county Sunday, and continues even now. Many a farmer who wouldn't think of using the Sabbath for field work under ordinary conditions was in his cotton field Sunday, running the poison spray which seems to be the one hope of the county's cotton crop. It was plainly a case of the "ox in the ditch," for leaf worms know no Sunday, and in one day's time they can get a start that human means can hardly check. Driving past cotton fields, one could see in their normal dark greenness patch after patch of lighter green caused by the afternoon sun slanting through webbed skeleton leaves where worms were doing their worst. One could smell the sickening sweet odor that the worms create. But the whirl of the poisoning machines went on patiently, constantly, valiantly. There's something about the courage of farmers that leaves a catch in the throat of those who realize the work, the fears, the hopes and disappointments which go into every bale of Mitchell county cotton, every stalk of Mitchell county feed.

Life with a Spanish-speaking family is what Patsy Doss, June graduate from A. & I. at Kingsville, is seeking right now. Doss has a chance to go to work in South America if he can learn enough about the Spanish language during the next six months. He hopes to find a home where he can be thoroughly "exposed" to the language in Laredo or some other town where Spanish is not only plentiful but almost predominating.

Only those who still thrill to the whoopee and bang-bang of Saturday's wild west shows can appreciate the pride with which Harold Berman is displaying the "sure nuff" autographs of Hopalong Cassidy and other cowboy heroes. Harold obtained the autographs from stars on location while he was visiting in El Paso recently.

A "tramp printer" who worked on the Philadelphia Ledger 50 years ago was in The Record office Monday morning, recalling the time when he drifted into The Record shop for a few days work some 14 or 15 years ago, then drifted out again in the way of tramp printers. And he was also "touching" the boys for the donation that tramp printers always seem to be sure of getting from printers who are more fortunately situated by virtue of having done more printing and less tramping.

Most any time now the society page of The Record will be giving you the low-down on the marriage plans of one of Colorado's more attractive youngsters who has found romance in one of the country's most important cities.

Did you notice the picture of Mary Bill (it used to be Mary Belle) Crothwaite, snapped in a smart "Hi Gang" pose, on the front page of the back-to-college section of the Abilene Reporter-News on Sunday? Mary Bill, who used to call Colorado home and who now is Abilene's, is a student in ACC.

Long-cherished in the memories of the J. Ralph Lee children, Iva Helen and Rodney, will be the last gift which their Aunt Irma Lee of Fort Worth gave them before her sudden and tragic death Monday. Only two weeks before her death Miss Lee and the children had returned from a train trip to Durango, Colorado. The trip, one of the highlights of the children's lives, was a gift from her to them. The children had lacked grandfathers all their lives, and Miss Lee called herself their "grandpa." Apparently she lived up to and passed all that a grandfather should be.

That self-possessed young son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Martin of Loraine almost stole the show during the Loraine Night program at Ruddy park Friday night. His name is Billie Martin, and he's 4 1/2 years old. He was the drummer, you remember, and he drummed with all the poise of a veteran, not even getting flustered when he drummed so hard that one of the sticks flew out of his hand and had to be retrieved.

Lay Powell opines that he'd like to have a picture of H. B. Spence in that cowboy get-up he was sporting Monday. Imbued with a little premature Frontier Round-up spirit, Spence and "Mac" McClain were out in ten-gallon hats, clumping boots, and striped shirts. Spence even had jingling spurs. All they lacked was a draw, a six-gun, and a "hoss."

"What is a bull hitch?" On a recent out-of-city trip Joe Smoot, Earl Bibby, Tommy Dawes, and Louis Elliott discovered the answer to the above question. If your curiosity gets the better of you, ask them for further information.

Revival of Mahjong as a favorite indoor sport seems to be in the offing. Groups have been getting onto the game again in informal gatherings at the home of Farris Lipps, Rod Merritt, and others, we hear. Mrs. Francis Jacobs of Brownsville, she who used to be Frances Dulaney, is said to be an expert, and she has been doing some coaching for her friends. There are only a few of the games in town, it seems, one belonging to Dr. and Mrs. B. F. Dulaney, another to Mrs. Harry A. Logsdon. The game is apparently much the same as it was in the rabid Mahjong days of some 10 years ago.

Looking to the Colorado-Monahans grid game which will open the season for the Colorado Wolves at Monahans Sept. 9, this squire on the Wolves appeared in Johnny Smith's column, "Out of the Sports Fog," in the Monahans News last week. Jack Christian, Colorado coach, in conference with Greer at the Lubbock school last week, said his walloping Wolves would crank up training about August 22. The man with the church monicker outlined his material. Conservatively of course. He just has his backfield returning, intact, and three lettermen in the line, along with a flock of squadmen. Gloomy Gus Chesney, who has a brother who helps compose the Colorado backfield, dropped in on this department early in the week and confirmed Christian's statements. Chesney is a Colorado capitalist and said that numerous Wolf backers would trek out for the contest the night of Sept. 9.

COMMITTEE NOMINEE

W. T. Brooks, county chairman of the Mitchell county agricultural committee, was one of the county chairmen who approved Harry Winston of Snyder as representative of district 6 on the state agricultural conservation committee at a recent meeting in Big Spring.

Winston and two other candidates representing various sections of the district will be considered for the committee post. Counties included in this section of the district are Mitchell, Dawson, Nolan, Glasscock, Sterling, Martin, Scurry and Howard.

ROGERS RAMBLINGS

By Irene Howell
Whatever things are true, honest, just, pure, lovely, of good report—if there be any virtue and any praise think on these things.

My high resolve—Fault finding versus consideration. I refuse the cheapening, mildewing, spoiling power of fault-finding.

I refuse to dwell upon the faults of others. I refuse to think of them, much less to speak of them. I will constantly say when tempted to look at or speak of human faults, frailties, or weakness: "What would my life be like should I have been born as they, envired as they, abused as they have been."

I will seek a picture. As by a flash of a divinely illuminated imagination I will think of what all such would be should they all be what the Father planned them to be. It shall be my high resolve never to criticize. If I must speak of faults it shall be only after much prayer and with the motive of seeking to find a way for them out into larger things.

"He knoweth our frame. He remembereth that we are dust." We should do so as well.

Sunday school each Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock. We would be pleased very much to see each and everyone out for Sunday school every Sunday.

Here's good news for all the singers far and near. The quarterly singing convention will meet here at Rogers the first Sunday in September, which will be the 4th of September. Everybody is invited to come and bring a well-filled basket.

The farmers are all busy around in this section poisoning cotton worms. The crops are all looking good at this time of year. Harvesting time is drawing near now for the farmers and it looks like we will reap a bountiful harvest if nothing happens.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Bird visited friends and relatives of Westbrook Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Lightfoot had as their guests Sunday Mrs. Lightfoot's sister and family of Roscoe, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Jones and son, G. C. Also Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Graham of Roscoe.

The Juniors enjoyed a picnic and a swimming on the creek in the pasture of Hugh Callan Sunday afternoon.

FLOOD DONATIONS HERE
JUST FEW DOLLARS OFF
OF COUNTY'S $75 QUOTA

More than $70 had been donated by Mitchell countyans this week to the Red Cross for flood rehabilitation in Brady, San Saba, and other stricken towns. Dell Barber, county Red Cross chairman, and Gus Chesney, county treasurer, reported $71.25 Tuesday morning. The quota set for the county was $75.

In securing the donations Chesney and Barber were assisted by Mrs. Bonnie Burt of the Mitchell county welfare office. Barber said Tuesday that he wishes to express his appreciation of the cooperation received from Mitchell countyans in raising this money.
