TIME IS THINNING RANKS OF OLDTIMERS WHO WILL GATHER HERE FOR HOMECOMING EVENTS OF COLORADO FRONTIER ROUND-UP

Time is doing the inevitable to the ranks of Mitchell county's "real oldtimers," and it is doubtful if the home-coming events of the Colorado Frontier Round-up on Sept. 8, 9, and 10 will reveal many more than a score who can recall, first-hand and from an adult viewpoint, Colorado as it was prior to 1885.

There is, of course, what might be called a "second generation" of oldtimers—people who were children of the real oldtimers, old enough to remember many things about pre-1885 Colorado from a child's standpoint. Included in this group are such people as Mrs. J. G. Merritt and scores of others.

Of all the oldtimers in the county the oldest, in point of years spent in the county, is a negro, "30 John" Wallace of near Lorraine. He is also the county's leading negro citizen, owning extensive farm and ranch lands. The new negro school in Colorado bears his name, for he donated the land on which it stands. One of his daughters, Hettie Wallace, has taught in the school for years. Driving cattle herds for the late Clay Mann, he came to this territory in 1879, before their was a Mitchell county or a Colorado. He and his wife recently celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary.

Spikes which held the first shining rails of the Texas & Pacific railroad as it pioneered through Colorado late in March, 1881, were driven down the day after Mrs. W. J. Miller, 93, arrived in Colorado as a girl. Mrs. Miller hasn't lived in Colorado continuously since that time, her part-time home being in El Paso, but she is here now visiting her daughter, Mrs. Y. D. McMurry, and she plans to be here until after the Round-up. Mrs. Miller likes to recall the way Colorado looked as a "city of tents" at night time in those earliest days, with lamplight glowing red through the tents. Her brother helped build the railroad through Colorado.

A true oldtimer is John L. Doss, who came to Colorado in May, 1882, and entered the drug business which he still maintains today. Prior to coming to Colorado he saw some of the real "Old West" as a member of buffalo hunting expeditions out of old Fort Griffin. Missing from the Round-up this year will be his brother, W. L. Doss, Sr., who was his business partner for years. The latter died last October.

Col. and Mrs. C. M. Adams also rate as true oldtimers. Like John Doss, Col. Adams also came here in 1882. He was born in Alabama while his mother was a refugee from Georgia because of Sherman's march to the sea. For years he conducted a dry goods business in Colorado, retiring in 1929. Mrs. Adams, the former Fannie Rix, came to Colorado with her family early in 1883. She and Mr. Adams were married in April, 1887, and they hold the distinction of having been married in Mitchell county earlier than any other couple now living in the county. Mrs. Adams is the only surviving charter member of All Saints' Episcopal church.

The name of Judge A. J. Coe has been linked with Colorado since almost its very beginning. Coming here with his family from Weatherford in June, 1881, Judge Coe built one of the first residences in Colorado and also constructed most of the early business buildings which still stand today. He has, in his lifetime, served Mitchell county as judge and Colorado as mayor.

Beauty which has lasted through 83 summers of living belongs to Mrs. P. C. Coleman of Colorado. As Lucy Ham of Tyler, belle of Texas society in the early eighties, she came to Colorado to visit a relative in 1884, being shocked beyond words by the brawling, sprawling, saloon-infested town that Colorado was at that time. But she found romance here in the person of Dr. P. C. Coleman, who had been here since 1882, and they were married in Tyler on April 21, 1885. Colorado has always been the Coleman home, and Dr. Coleman, who died in October, 1932, was known as the "grand old man of West Texas."

Braving the traditional hatred of a cattle country for sheepraisers in the early days, Harry Landers, Sr., and his brother, Byron Landers, who died last year, came to Mitchell county in 1883, and the former is one of the county's outstanding pioneer figures today. His ranch is located today, as it was in the beginning, on the banks of South Champion creek in southeastern Mitchell county.

Mrs. W. F. Robinson, who has lived in Colorado since 1884, believed for years that Colorado was destined to become the metropolis of West Texas. These beliefs died hard, and today she regrets deeply the chances that she believes the town missed for achieving the greatness she desired for it. She came to Colorado in a covered wagon from Hayes county with her family, the J. R. Harrisons. Her husband died in 1913.

A scrapbook of early Colorado happenings was kept by Mrs. R. B. Terrell while she was still Mary Mullins, daughter of a pioneer Colorado family. Mr. Terrell, who came to Colorado in 1883, died in December, 1936, and since that time Mrs. Terrell has spent much of her time away from Colorado. In her famous scrapbook, which is fast assuming real historical value, are programs of long-ago dances at the St. James hotel, social center for a cattle country that extended for hundreds of miles around Colorado in the early eighties. She also has old programs of balls held at the palatial Webb home in East Colorado. Mrs. Terrell often recalls how frightened she was of yelling, hard-riding cowboys when she first came to Colorado.

Of all the oldtimers in Colorado, there is no one with a more dependable memory than Mrs. C. H. Earnest, wife of the late Judge C. H. Earnest. Her ability to remember names, dates, and circumstances has been termed remarkable time and again. She has a box filled with mementoes, clippings, and programs of early-day events in Colorado. Her marriage to Judge Earnest in 1885 was the first wedding ever to take place in All Saints' Episcopal church. A resident of Mitchell county since 1883, Mrs. Q. D. Hall also has a remarkable memory. She and Mr. Hall, who died recently, spent their honeymoon in 1878 driving a herd of cattle from Jack county to range near Double Mountain on the Double Mountain fork of the Brazos in what later became Crosby county. The Halls moved to Colorado in 1883 and helped the late M. T. Hall, father of Q. D. Hall, operate the town's first hotel, then known as the Pacific house and still operated as the Alamo hotel. They ranched for a time after leaving the hotel.

Although she and her late husband came to Mitchell county in 1885, Mrs. J. D. Wulfjen, 83-year-old Coloradoan belongs on the list of "real oldtimers." Sam Wulfjen, one of her sons, is a director of the Frontier Round-up association.

A number of men and women who came to Colorado or Mitchell county in the mid-eighties or thereabouts are also considered to be "real oldtimers." Among these are Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Crowder, who came here in July, 1885; Mrs. N. J. Phenix, who came here with her late husband, Dr. N. J. Phenix, in 1886; Mr. and Mrs. N. T. Womack, who settled in the Guthbert section in 1891; the John Scowens who lived in Lorraine for some time before their marriage 50 years ago; Mrs. C. P. Conaway, who came to Mitchell county in 1890 and who has possessed the Lazy K ranch interests since her husband's death in 1926; Green DeLaney, J. G. Merritt, Dr. and Mrs. T. J. Ratliff, and scores of others.

NEW USE OF GAS IS CREDITED TO CONOCO

The remarkable achievement of the Continental Oil Company in developing new engineering methods which promise to effect vast savings of oil and gas in the country's oil fields is the subject of an article in the Reader's Digest for September.

Using the Continental Oil Company's new Tepepete field in the State of Louisiana as an outstanding example of the new procedure, the writer describes how natural gas, at one time regarded as a nuisance by oil men, and later treated as a by-product of oil recovery, is now harnessed by Continental Oil Company engineers to maintain pressure in the oil sands and force the crude oil to the surface. Oil recovery by the new method, according to the writer, is almost twice as efficient as heretofore.

In conjunction with this development, the article tells that Continental engineers have developed a process for capturing and conserving the volatile elements or "light ends" in the crude, the combined process constituting a "development in engineering, which can save untold quantities in oil and gas." Continental's president, Dan Moran, is credited with being the chief factor in bringing about this advance in petroleum conservation.

HERE'S ONE FOR THE BOOK . . . YOUR OWN COOK BOOK

How to Add Flavor and Food Value to Meat Dishes

Here's a new Scotch kitchen trick every homemaker will welcome. It's a way to make meat go farther. . . make it taste better . . . and add extra food value. All at the same time.

So get out your scissors because there's a recipe coming that you'll want to save. It's for Quaker Meat Patties, a main course dish that will make the whole family sit up and all appetites take notice.

But first let us tell you that oatmeal is just about the finest meat "extender" there is. When you remember the butcher bills and how little oatmeal costs, you'll be delighted to know about this new use for such a delicious and healthful food. Oatmeal supplies proteins for firm flesh and those valuable body-building minerals, phosphorus and iron. And even more important—it also is nature's richest economical source of Thiamin (Vitamin B) which everybody needs continuously for best health. Quaker meat patties are an excellent way to supply the family with today's Thiamin. And here's the recipe:

- QUAKER'S MEAT PATTIES
(Serves 6)
6 slices bacon
1/4 lb. beef (ground)
1/4 lb. pork (ground)
1 egg (beaten)

- 1 tablespoon onion (chopped)
1 cup tomatoes (canned or fresh)
1/4 cup milk
1/2 cup Quaker or Mother's Oats (Quick or Regular)
3/4 teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper
Line 6 muffin tins with strips of bacon. Combine remaining ingredients and mix well. Put into the muffin tins. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) for approximately 1 hour.

Advertising the Frontier Round-up in towns to the north and east of Colorado, the second goodwill Round-up motorcade took place Tuesday.

Stops were made in Dunn, Snyder, Roby, Rotan, Hamlin, Stamford, Anson, Abilene, Merkel, Trent, Sweetwater, Roscoe, and Lorraine.

Speakers were H. B. Spence, "Pop" Snyder, Bob May, and others. Music was furnished by Porter Richardson and his Round-up Drugstore Cowboys.

A number of cars and colorfully arrayed "cowboys" and "cowgirls" made the trip.

ATTITUDE OF COTTON GROWERS IS RAPPED

The disinterested attitude of cotton growers toward a world market for their product was sharply rapped by Dr. A. B. Cox, director of the bureau of marketing at the University of Texas, in a statement issued last week.

"Texas and the United States are facing the most serious cotton crisis since the civil war," he said.

Dr. Cox spent several days in Abilene visiting his brother, President James F. Cox of Abilene Christian college. An honorary L. L. D. degree was conferred upon him at the ACC graduation ceremonies.

"Cotton used to produce 80 per cent of the cash income to farmers in Texas," he said, "now it produces only about one-third of the cash income."

"In 1915 Texas was producing 50 per cent of the world's cotton supply. Today we have lost markets for more than three million bales of cotton."

He pointed out that the government has aided in this loss.

"Since the inauguration of the crop control program, farmers have plowed up 26 million bales of cotton. At the same time the other world markets have increased their production by 27 million bales."

"World consumption of cotton is up but Texas and the United States have lost their foreign markets. And when we talk of lost markets, we might as well say Texas has lost the markets because Texas is the heaviest producer."

Two types of cotton are taking the place of Texas cotton, Dr. Cox said. One is synthetic cotton and the other is Egyptian cotton.

"They can produce synthetic cotton cloth out of many different materials—tree roots, cotton stalks, buttermilk and any thing with cellulose in it. And not only can synthetic cotton cloth be made but other materials also. The same products that make synthetic cotton cloth will make rayon, wool and linen—all synthetic but serviceable and cheap.

"And Texans are not doing a thing about the situation. To use an old phrase, they are standing back and saying 'Let George do it.'"

"So far no remedy is known for the tumbling markets. If we knew of such we would be using it. But there are those things we can do."

"First, we must improve our cotton fibers. Second, we must put manufacturing plants of our own in the state, and third, the import tariff rates must be lowered.

"And now is the time to act. Relations between the farmers and industry are more out of balance than they ever were. We must act at once."—Abilene Reporter-News.

AAA PAYMENT WILL BE WELCOMED BY FARMERS

Nothing could be more welcome to hard-pressed Texas cotton farmers than the neat sum of roundly $100,000,000 which the Federal Government through AAA will distribute during the balance of this season and early next spring. Recent price drop of cotton to 8c a pound again has disturbed agricultural circles and is beginning to make itself felt in rural business areas where cotton is now being harvested. Last season cotton at this time brought above 10c a pound.

Payments now being completed in Texas amount to $35,000,000 for farmer compliance with the agricultural conservation program in 1937. Of this total $4,500,000 is being paid to ranchmen for carrying out a range conservation program, such as contouring grassland, diverting floodwater and ridding pastures of weeds as well as distributing improved seed.

$30,000,000 This Fall
Early this fall Texas farmers will receive their cotton price adjustment payments in the sum of $30,000,000, based upon 1937 production of cotton and under the Agricultural Adjustment Act paid to farmers "not knowingly" exceeding the 1938 cotton allotment. This sum will be paid after the 1938 crop acreage has been measured and accepted as accurate by the Government.

The 1938 agricultural conservation program, which also includes payments to ranchmen, and 24c a pound adjustment payment on normal yield of allotted acres of cotton, payments on rice acreage allotments, payments of $1 an acre average according as to counties and individual farms, and lastly wheat allotment payments, will distribute $35,000,000 to Texas farmers, some which necessarily will not be paid until next spring. It is needless to say that these figures were prepared by E. N. Holmgren, Texas officers in charge of the AAA program with headquarters at the Texas A. & M. College.—Dallas Semi-Weekly Farm News.

WARNING GIVEN ON SLEEP POTIONS

AUSTIN.—Thirty-five years ago a German scientist produced a derivative of barbituric acid possessing hypnotic qualities. For years it was considered as non-habit forming and harmless, and the type of drug was sold freely over the counter without a doctor's prescription. But more recently the medical profession has realized that barbiturates such as allonal, amytol, luminal, vironal, neonal et cetera are far from harmless and definitely habit forming when used indiscriminately," warns Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

"It is true that these slumber-producing drugs play an important part in certain insomnia conditions, as well as in the promotion of sleep when pain makes it impossible to obtain it otherwise. However, it is one thing to have this type of drug prescribed by a physician and administered under his supervision and quite another to employ it regularly without professional sanction.

"It cannot be too strongly stated that the prolonged use of these sleep-inducers can produce serious reactions including skin affections, impairment of speech and gait, paralysis of the eye muscles, and in extreme cases have been known to cause death. Plainly, any drug that contains such possibilities should not be self-administered by the general public.

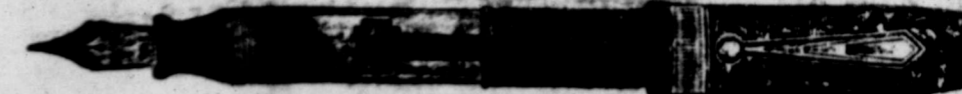

"Moreover, it should be understood that insomnia is a symptom of an underlying condition which may be due to any of a variety of psychological or mental causes. The absurdity of habitual self-administration of any hypnotic to remove insomnia becomes apparent.

"Consequently, if the temptation arises to use a sleep-producing drug on the say-so of a friend, it should be avoided. And if already relying on sleep-producing medication, the brakes should be applied at once with the assistance of your family physician," Dr. Cox further advised.

"To quote a recent author on this subject: 'The only safe rule regarding sleeping pills or potions is to realize that if anything of that kind is needed, one definitely needs a physician's advice first.'"

JIM WHITE CONDUCTS TESTS AT SAN ANGELO

Jim White, member of the committee on work of the Grand Lodge of Texas, conducted tests held in San Angelo Monday preceding the annual gathering of West Texas Masons at the Masonic Temple in San Angelo.

Sam B. Cantey of Fort Worth, grand junior warden and editor of the Texas Grand Lodge magazine, was the principal speaker on the evening program.

tural and oil industries and retail and wholesale trade.

"Conditions in the agricultural and livestock industries of this district continued generally favorable during the last month, and one the basis of the Aug. 1 estimate of the department of agriculture production of principle crops other than cotton will be larger than a year ago," the bank said.

Construction Climbs

"The value of construction contracts awarded turned sharply during July after having decreased considerably in the preceding three months. Petroleum production, which had increased sharply in the forepart of July due to the Saturday shutdown, rose moderately from the middle of July to the middle of August.

"Department stores sales declined less than seasonally in July and increased in the first half of August. On the basis of sales in the first half of August, there were indications of further improvement."

The review said that customary seasonal demand for commercial industrial and agricultural loans accounted for further increase of $1,492,000 in total advances of weekly reporting member banks.

"Since July, 1937, time deposits have shown a gradual uptrend, and on Aug. 10, this year they were at the highest level in several years," the report continued.

"Prospective production of agricultural products continues very promising. The condition of livestock ranges was improved by heavy general rains which fell in July. "A further contra-seasonal increase was reflected in domestic consumption of cotton, although mill sales of gotton goods apparently declined and were lower than production. Prices of cotton goods have been fairly well sustained.

PROMISING OIL COMPANY GETS GOVERNOR ALLRED'S SIGNATURE ON LEASE WHICH INVOLVES BRINGING PIKE'S PEAK HERE

If the signature of the governor of Texas has the "power to move mountains," then Pike's Peak may soon be moved from the state of Colorado to the city of Colorado, Texas.

Such a move is included in the terms of a lease which Governor Allred signed with the Promising Oil company of Colorado, Texas, in Austin on Tuesday morning. The lease was presented in person by Harry Ratliff, Colorado attorney who is chief counsel for the Promising Oil company.

The Promising Oil company, which describes itself as "an organization of 35 prominent business men, cattle-men, and oil men . . . with no assets, debts, or backsets . . . dealing entirely in futures," has been angling for the lease ever since the governor won Pike's Peak in a bet with Gov. Ammons of Colorado state when Rice downed the Colorado Aggie; in the Cotton Bowl game at Dallas last New Year's day. The stake put by the Texas governor was the Big Bend National park. Shortly after the peak was won for Texas by the governor's astuteness, the Promising Oil company began negotiations to get it located in Colorado. As an inducement, the company "promised" to drill a well at least 50,000 feet deep on the peak, and also "promised" to pay a five-eighths overriding royalty interest which it has suggested that the state government apply to the Old Age Pension Fund, thus "alleviating the state's major financial headache."

But the well is to be drilled only "if, as, and when the peak is moved to Texas." It is to be spudded in, according to Rance Doekrey, Harry Ratliff, and other Promising Oil officials, as soon as the peak is delivered. Location for the well has already been made—Bob Scott took a picture of the location on a recent visit to the peak.

Until delivery of the peak can be completed the Promising Oil company is "promising" to pay $1 per year delay rental.

FORT WORTH COLUMN CONTAINS NOTES ON MITCHELL COUNTIANS

Following his visit to Colorado last week, Frank Reeves, Sr. of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram staff, included the following notes on Mitchell countians in his column, "Chuck Wagon Gossip."

"Otto Jones, manager of the Spade Ranch near Colorado, says cattle are in excellent condition for this season of the year. He started his wagon this year on March 24, the earliest he ever started it. He had to quit branding earlier than usual due to worms. He will have about 3,000 steer calves this year. The Spade Ranch does not sell its calves but keeps them until they are two-year-olds. The ranch, which is an Ellwood property, has about 1,400 coming two-year-old steers near Lubbock, and they have done well, Jones says. They will be sold for Fall shipment. A number of the Spade Ranch cattle have been sold in recent years to buyers in Kansas.

"Loy Powell, veteran ranchman in the Colorado area, says range conditions in that section are better than an average. He has the largest ranch in Mitchell county. When he came to that section 42 years ago there was only one house from the city limits of Colorado to Sterling City. He shipped the first carload of cotton seed into Mitchell county. He brought the seed in to feed his cattle. That was before the time of cottonseed cake and meal.

"There has been an epidemic of gay colored shirts worn by men at the different towns backing rodeos this year, but shirts at Midland and Colorado are the gayest of the gay. The Midland rodeo will be held Sept. 3, 4 and 5. They have among the best grounds and equipment in the State and the backers spare no time, money or effort to make it an outstanding affair. The Colorado Frontier Round-up is scheduled for Sept. 8, 9 and 10. It will be held with new equipment."

IN LONGFELLOW HOME William Griffith of Phillips is spending his vacation here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Griffith of Longfellow.

SPONSORS $6,000 NATIONAL CONTEST

H. I. Berman, proprietor of Ben Franklin store, has just announced a prize contest which is causing considerable excitement among school children and their parents.

"This is a nation-wide contest," said Mr. Berman. "The prizes are offered by the national distributor of 'Onward' school supplies. As a retailer of the 'Onward' school supplies, I am entitled to participate in the contest and announce the prizes to school children in our community.

"The prizes are to be awarded to school children under 18 years of age, who submit the most original nickname for the 'Onward' twins, whose pictures are illustrated on the official entry cards. These cards will be given away free.

"The first prize will be a Chrysler Imperial Eight, 4-door sedan, delivered complete, prepaid, ready to drive. Of course, a child may be too young to drive a car and Mother and Dad won't object to this. But the child who wins first prize will also receive one each of the other prizes.

"The next 25 prizes will be 25 bicycles," said Mr. Berman.

"The next 25 prizes will be 25 6-tube table model radios.

"The next 25 winners will receive 25 candid cameras.

"Then there will be 1,000 prizes of flashlights, and 10,000 prizes of beautiful automatic pencils.

"Even though school children in hundreds of towns like ours throughout the United States will go after these prizes," said Mr. Berman, "I hope that out of all the smart children in our community there will be at least one or two who win one of the 11,081 prizes."

CLYDE MCCREARY OF IATAN WILL HEAD SANCO SCHOOL

Clyde McCreary, principal of the Iatan school in Western Mitchell county for the past two years, is to be superintendent of the Sanco three-year high school in Coke county this year.

DOUBLE HEART RANCH OFFERS HOLIDAY FUN

SWEETWATER.—So you want to have some fun this week-end?

Well, the Double Heart Ranch, 10 miles south of here, is the place for it. Everything from near-all-night dances to the most unusual rodeo in Texas is on schedule and that's not forgetting picnics and the big parade.

Beginning Saturday morning and ending with the alarm clock Tuesday morning, the Labor Day week-end is packed with festivities. So this should be the "end of the trail" for amusement seekers.

The Joy Boys, radio station KRBC musical entertainers, will play for an open-air dance at the ranch Saturday night and gain Monday night. A relief fiddle band will come in for those preferring the old square club. The main program of the encampment began at 9 o'clock Thursday morning with Mrs. J. C. Franklin, president of the county home demonstration council in charge. Talks by Colorado club women were featured. Mrs. A. L. Whipkey described "Early Days in Home Demonstration Work in This County," and Mrs. H. B. Broadbush told of her work with the extension department of the Texas Federation of Women's clubs.

Mrs. J. A. Ferguson told of ex-dance, the polka and many other revived popular steps.

Beginning shortly after noon Saturday will be the eighth annual Double Heart rodeo, the only show of its kind in Texas. There will be bronc and steer riding for all comers, calf roping and wild cow milking for amateur ropers—contestants who actually do work on the range—bronc riding by cowgirls, wild mare races, matched horse races, cutting horse contests and any number of specialty acts, including stunts by Charley Shultz, formerly with Miller Brothers' 101 ranch rodeo.

The rodeo events—feature attractions—will be held Sunday afternoon and Monday afternoon too.

Adding to the entertainment card will be a carnival with thrilling rides and airplane stunts. It's a thrill a minute this week-end at the colorful Double Heart Ranch Round-up.

Miss Ada Burkes of Belton and Mrs. J. M. Smith of Killeen were here from Thursday until Tuesday while Miss Burkes attended to business matters in connection with her two Mitchell county farms. They were guests while here of their sister, Mrs. Wes Joyce.

TRUETT BARBER VICTORIOUS IN ATTORNEY RACE

YOUNG COLORADO ATTORNEY NOSES OUT INCUMBENT IN SATURDAY BALLOTING
Covering every county in the district but the home county of his opponent, Truett Barber, young Colorado attorney, was elected district attorney of the 32nd judicial district in Saturday's balloting.

Barber's lead in every county but Nolan was decisive. His opponent, George Outlaw, present district attorney, carried Nolan with 2,792 votes to Barber's 1,299. Outlaw lives in Sweetwater, county seat of Nolan county.

In Mitchell county Barber claimed 1,892 of the 2,544 votes cast in the county, while Outlaw received 616. Barber also swept the field in the most hotly contested area, Scurry county. His vote there was 1,423 as compared with 641 for his opponent.

Returns from Borden county were still incomplete here Wednesday, but at latest reports, with not more than 30 votes still uncounted, Barber had a substantial lead.

THE AVERAGE MOVIE-GOER SPEAKS HIS MIND...

IT'S HARD for a fellow like me who thinks apple pie is one of nature's greatest gifts to man to believe that there are folks who honestly don't like it at all.

On the other hand, I can't abide liver and bacon — though I know it's highly regarded by many.

We all have our likes and our dislikes. We're all different — thanks be! A dull world it would be if we weren't.

That's why I say that the most remarkable thing about motion pictures is that they hit such a high average of pleasure-giving.

Take any individual picture and you'll find that most people who see it will get a lot of enjoyment out of it.

Not all, naturally. For example, I think a certain star is tops — while, to hear the way my next-door neighbor goes on about her, you'd think she wasn't good enough to be an "extra".

Or my wife sees a picture during the afternoon and raves about it at dinner. Maybe son and I take it in that evening — and come home feeling that Mother is losing her judgment. And there you are. It's the apple pie situation all over again.

But, taking them all together, I figure that the "movies" give more pleasure to more people at a lot less cost than most anything the mind of man was ever responsible for — and have done the human race more downright good than all the medicines concocted since creation.

And I'll say this: The times when I've been disappointed in a picture have been a lot fewer than the other times when I've gone to see one I wasn't especially excited about in advance and been mighty glad I did.

Sure, I criticize the pictures. I pay my money and that's my right. As a matter of fact, I kind of figure that it's the criticism of average folks like me that's largely responsible for the pictures getting better and better all the time.

Through the years the motion picture has given its public countless hours of entertainment, countless hours of escape from harsh reality. It has taken millions away from trouble and sorrow, lightening their burdens and brightening their lives... making the world a better, happier place to live in.

It has grown — from "cowboys and Indians" to dramatizations of the works of the world's greatest authors... from temperamental flickers to technical perfection... from infancy to an intelligent maturity.

To provide the finest array of productions ever released the Motion Picture Industry has mobilized all its skill, all its imagination, all its resources to provide the greatest array of productions ever released.

Great stories splendidly produced... love-filled-romance, stirring drama, gay adventure, hilarious comedy, tuneful musicals — star-studded casts filled with your favorites and new faces, new talents, for which the world has been searched. One after another these great pictures are coming to your favorite theatre.

Entertainment, relaxation, freedom from care are yours in overflowing measure, brought to you by the supreme efforts of the Motion Picture Industry to make this fall season one you will never forget.

GAY, SURPRISEFUL SHIRLEY TEMPLE IS SURROUNDED BY A STELLAR CAST IN NEW HIT, "LITTLE MISS BROADWAY"

SIX NEW SONGS STUD SCORE OF NUMBER ONE STAR'S LATEST SHOW

"Little Miss Broadway," Shirley Temple's latest starring picture has been completed and is scheduled for its showing Saturday pre-noon, Sept. 3, also Sunday and Monday, Sept. 4 and 5 at the Palace theatre.

Already, those who have seen the production say that it demonstrates beyond a doubt why this young lady is America's Number One star.

It is an acknowledged fact that to millions throughout the world, each new Shirley Temple picture is an event of major magnitude. Most recently India capitulated to the charm of this young thespian when an age-old rule against feminine entertainers dropped its barriers—and La Temple is now the box office champion of the world.

Better Than Ever

Of "Little Miss Broadway," the previewers say that Shirley dances and sings with greater ease and talent than she has in any previous film, and her rare dramatic ability continues to amaze her audiences.

Part of the secret of her phenomenal success is credited to the fact that Darryl F. Zanuck, production chief at 20th Century-Fox, consistently has commandeered every facility within his control to assure the best in story, production material and cast. And "Little Miss Broadway" has been reported as a double order of everything.

The original screen play was prepared by Harry Tugend and Jack Yellen.

Grand Trouper Group

The cast which supports Shirley is headed by George Murphy, Hollywood's ace acting-hooper; Jimmy Durante, a droll comic who needs no introduction; Phyllis Brooks, the rapidly rising young blonde beauty who appeared with Shirley in "Rebecca," and Edna Mae Oliver, who is known to myriads of fans as the austere old maid.

The cast also includes two dozen big names, notable among them George Barbier, Edward Ellis, Jane Darwell, Donald Meek, Patricia Wilder and Claude Gillingwater, Sr.

Sparkling Tunes

Six sparkling tunes by Walter Bullock and Harold Spina—ranging from ballads to sizzling swing lend themselves to Shirley's singing as well as the intricate steps which she and Murphy execute together.

Production has called for ultra-modern sets as well as dowdy theatrical hotel-room scenes.

And as evidence of an assured Temple success the direction of the young star has been in the hands of Irving Cummings who makes "Little Miss Broadway" his third directional venture with Shirley.

"LORD JEFF"

Palace—Friday and Saturday September 2 and 3

Here is a smash hit from any standpoint and one which should stand out from the pack in its publication.

lie reception and revenue record. While the cast is predominantly juvenile, the story entirely free from romance, there is a bumper crop of solid entertainment values for adults as well as children.

Freddie Bartholomew, definitely adolescent in this one, registers a striking performance in a part more suited to his age than his previous film chore, while Mickey Rooney delivers his usual standardly fine acting job. A new moppet, however, by name Terry Kilburn, will attract the lion's share of attention in a sympathetic part which augurs well for his film future. The picture is ably produced and brilliantly directed by Sam Wood.

Players are Freddie Bartholomew, Mickey Rooney, Charles Coburn, Herbert Mundin, Terry Kilburn, Gale Sondergaard.

"STOLEN HEAVEN"

Palace—Tuesday and Wednesday September 6 and 7

Here is a fantastic concoction of crooks, classics and inconsistencies, which completely stymies the best efforts of a competent cast and manages, through an unacceptably story, to submerge its moments of suspense and comedy so as to render them ineffectual. The picture may have appeal to music lovers because of its classical interludes. Olympe Bradna makes her star debut and shows promise despite the handicap of an unfortunate vehicle. Gene Raymond and Lewis Stone look best in the supporting cast. Story deals with a gang of international jewel thieves who, fleeing the authorities, are marooned in a forest where they take refuge in the home of a retired concert pianist. The end finds the musician making a comeback. Andrew L. Stone directed.

Players are Gene Raymond, Olympe Bradna, Glenda Farrell, Lewis Stone, Porter Hall, Douglas Dumbrille, Joseph Sawyer.

"BAR 20 JUSTICE"

Ritz—Friday and Saturday September 2 and 3

Hopalong Cassidy goes mining in this one and uncovers pay dirt which assays high in the entertainment and action ingredients which have won for Harry Sherman's series a high place among the more popular outdoor dramas. Incidentally, this is Number 18 of the "Hoppy" films, the last in the 1937-38 batch, and from every viewpoint it compares favorably with the better of its 17 predecessors.

William Boyd, George Hayes and Russell Hayden, as the three inseparables of the saddle and six-gun, deliver their standardly acceptable performance. A mine is being mysteriously looted and a series of accidents, smacking suspiciously of murder, terrorizes its workers. Hoppy and his pals solve the mystery and save the property for its owner, the picture's only woman. Directed by Lesley Selander.

Players are William Boyd, George Hayes, Russell Hayden, Paul Sutton, Gwen Gaze, Joseph DeStefano, William Duncan.

Next Sunday, Sept. 4, will be a great day for Rogers as the quarterly singing convention will be held here on that date. Everybody is welcome to come and help us make that day a great day for all.

Mr. and Mrs. James Barber and little daughter Joyce of Brownfield are visiting Mr. Barber's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Claud Barber this week.

Mr. and Mrs. McMilkin honored their little twin grandsons, J. H. and R. H. Fisher on their sixth birthday last Saturday night with a birthday party. Six of their little friends were present and a good time was had by all.

Those that were the dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Claud Barber Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Callen and son Leon, Mr. and Mrs. James Barber and little daughter Joyce; also Irene and Willie Ruth Howell, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Green and little son were guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ocie Green Sunday.
