Spring Colors Used By Three Hostesses In Honoring Former Martha Jane Majors

Delicate colors of springtime were featured by Mrs. H. B. Broadus, Mrs. C. L. Root, and Mrs. P. K. Mackey when they arranged a reception shower at the Mackey home last Thursday evening to honor Mrs. Ned Nickson of Roswell, N. M., who was Martha Jane Majors of Colorado before her marriage in Midland on March 6.

Bowls of sweet peas, ranunculi, and roses were placed on the mantle, piano, and tables in the living room, where guests were greeted by Mrs. Broadus and introduced to a receiving line composed of the following: Mrs. Mackey, Mrs. Root, Mrs. Sam Majors (mother of the honoree), Mrs. Nickson, Frances Majors, Mabel Majors, Mrs. Ed Majors, and Mrs. Oscar Majors.

Mrs. Nickson wore a strapless evening gown of black chiffon velvet, made with a bouffant skirt and trimmed with fluted ruffles of pale pink georgette. Her corsage was of spring flowers in pastel shades with pink sweetheart roses predominating.

Registrations were in charge of Mrs. Jack Cox. Guests were served as they arrived, the plate consisting of pink and green open sandwiches, spiced tea, and pink and green mints. The dining table was covered with lace over yellow and centered with a mass of vari-colored spring flowers, including sweet peas, snapdragons, jonquils, roses, acacia, and ranunculi arranged with lace fern on a circular reflector. From the reflector radiated strands of narrow, pastel-colored satin ribbons which were caught to the table covering near the edge with tiny bows. On the buffet was a bridal arrangement with a tiny bride and groom standing beneath a white, rose-twined trellis flanked by matching white holders in which were pink candles tied with pink ribbon and rosebuds.

Members of the houseparty in addition to Mrs. Cox were Mrs. Marvin Majors, Mrs. Ed Jones, Sr., Mrs. R. P. Price, Mrs. Johnny Prude, Willie Grace Doss, Doris Flo Doss, Beulah Frances Robinson, Harriet Ann Fritchett, Jean Morrison, Fae Porter, Mrs. Eddie Pyland, June Cox, Mrs. Brady Warren, and Mrs. Jimmy Cook.

Mrs. Farris Lipps was at the piano during the evening. She also accompanied Mrs. N. H. White who sang two numbers. The first song was "Honeymoon Hotel," and as it ended Verna Campbell entered wearing a white satin bellboy suit and began paging Mrs. Nickson, the hotel idea being carried out because Mr. Nickson is associated with a hotel business. After a presentation speech, the honoree was shown to the dining room and there her "luggage" was opened to reveal the gifts. Other gifts were carried in by the houseparty.

Mr. and Mrs. Nickson left Colorado Friday morning for Roswell, where they will make their home.

Travel Theme Employed For Banquet Marking Self Culture Club Birthday

A travel theme in keeping with their travelogue study course of the year was carried out by members of the Self Culture club of Colorado when they celebrated the club's 13th birthday with a banquet at the Colorado hotel Thursday evening.

Modes of travel from the oxcart to streamlined trains, trailer houses, and aeroplanes were portrayed in toys arranged down the centers of the tables, which were arranged in the shape of an "H". Each place was marked with a miniature traveling bag. A green grass map of the United States centered with a bowl of pansies was on the main table, and this was flanked on each side by three green and gold candles in graduated Jerging. Calendars and desksets were used in vases on the other tables.

Dinner partners were determined by allowing the women to draw the names of state capitols while the men drew the nicknames for the various states, then matching the names of states and capitols.

Mrs. Dell Barber was toastmaster. Pledge to the flag was repeated and J. V. Glover gave the invocation. Mrs. J. T. Howell was introduced as president, and she in turn introduced her officers: Vice-presidents, Mrs. W. D. McClure and Mrs. H. V. Pond; secretaries, Mrs. C. B. Shell and Mrs. J. V. Glover; treasurer, Mrs. John Brown; parliamentarian, Mrs. Barber; federation counselor, Mrs. L. B. Elliott; rural cooperation chairman, Mrs. C. P. Gary.

One-minute talks were made by several who were called on to discuss topics found on the bottom of their travel bag place cards. Songs of the various states were sung with Mrs. James Herrington at the piano and Mrs. Jeff Jones leading.

After the banquet the party went to the new home of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Howell and were entertained in the basement game room with diversions planned by Mrs. Barber, Mrs. Jack Sanders, and Mrs. Lee Phenix.

HURLEY'S COTTON SEED HAS BEEN IN BREEDING PROCESS SINCE 1912

COOPER.—Hurley's special cotton seed, designed to produce a high yield and long uniform staple, has been in the process of careful breeding since 1912.

That was the year that H. C. Hurley began his work in cotton seed breeding on Mrs. J. A. Watson's farm five miles north of Cooper near Enloe.

In his study of the breeding of cotton, he made his first selections in the beginning of cotton breeding in the Amy and Enloe community, just north of Cooper, Delta county. He selected seeds from the Rowden strain of cotton at Wills Point, Texas. In 1913 and 1914 compared selections and used comparison with other good varieties of cotton, and found the Rowden strain best in many respects, for high yields, big boll and very strong fibers and easy to pick.

In 1915 a hailstorm destroyed crops and work had to be started again. He had a few seed carried over and planted them in a three-acre block which was isolated from other cotton. From this three-acre block, 25 individual selections were taken, and from these selections some very desirable plants were found, which produced high yields, earlier cotton, big boll, strong, hard uniform fibers and desirable lengths. He made fair progress and in 1919 planted selections in bottom lands on farm. Due to lack of help in gathering, he saved only a few bales. Floods again destroyed the best of the cotton. However, Hurley's Special brought the highest price paid for good middling 1-16: 60 cents per pound, while lower and better grades brought .44, .48 and 52 cents per pound.

In 1920, "we all know what the depression did for us," Hurley stated, and sacrifices were made in adjustments of farming and financial affairs. In 1923, Hurley moved from Mrs. Watson's farm and secured a larger farm one mile west of Amy, four and one-half miles northwest from Cooper. During the period of 1920-1924, Hurley began getting some favorable results in the cotton breeding work. In 1923 the legislature, Pat M. Neff, governor, created a Plant Board of Breeder Examiners. In 1924 Hurley went before the board and took the examination, made satisfactory grade and placed his work under observation for inspection for registration and certification.

In the summer of 1925 Hurley took a special course in genetics given by Drs. E. P. Humbert and Stroman, professors of A. and M. college at College Station and received the very best cooperation in every respect with the State Seed Plant Board and inspectors of Austin from 1926 to 1931.

His son, Dahl Hurley, who now has 15 years cotton seed breeding experience, finished high school in Cooper and attended East Texas State Teachers college, Commerce, and A. and M. college, and during this period of time, Dahl worked and cooperated in the breeding work and they arranged with D. T. Chancellor, ginner in Cooper, in the year 1927 for exclusive ginning. They completed (in part) their warehouse and laboratory equipment necessary in the breeding work in accordance with the State Seed and Plant board requirements.

In the year 1933, Hurley and son began to make progress also in the sales and distribution of Hurley's Special seed. With all the new and different problems and changes in their farm operations from 1934 to 1938, even though they had a drastic reduction, they produced high yields. With the good cooperation in every respect with each and every one in the cotton industry, they made progress. With the continued cooperation they will be in a position to make further progress in the breeding work.

In the year 1926, they produced an average of one-half bale per acre under average conditions and in the year 1931 they produced from a bale to one and one-fourth bales per acre. Floods and late planting brought about a most disastrous year in 1935 when only one-third bale per acre was produced. The remaining time yields have been extra good.

Delta county has profited from the work of Hurley and his son, because it has led a district of 13 counties in line yield per acre since 1925. The county has also become one of the largest commercial cotton seed markets in the state.

23 LOCAL BAPTISTS TO WORKERS MEETING AT BUFORD TUESDAY

Twenty-three members of First Baptist church went to Buford Tuesday for the monthly workers' conference of the Mitchell-Scurry Baptist association.

Plans were made at the afternoon WMU session for women of the association to meet at First Baptist church in Colorado on March 30 for a quarterly meeting. Each woman is to bring a covered dish. Ira was chosen as the next meeting place.

ATTEND HORSE SHOW

R. H. Cantrell, Frank Kelley, P. K. Mackey, and Mr. and Mrs. Dick Binsley attended the Fort Worth Fat Stock and Horse show during the week-end and early part of the week.

Hurley and son are breeders of this particular variety of cotton seed that is fast becoming popular among cotton farmers in foreign countries as well as this section of the United States.

Hurley's Special cotton seed is used throughout East Texas, especially in the communities entered in the one-variety contest. The Rugby community in Red River county and the Enloe community in Delta county won first and third places, respectively, this past season by using Hurley's seed.

The seed, which has been in the process of breeding since 1912 is bred to give high yield and uniform staple length.

FOR BETTER COTTON—PLANT Hurley's Special State Registered

We Can Regain Our Export Trade. Higher Yields, Strong, Uniform Staple, Hard Fibre. Preparation in the Ginning. Better Grades

We have a new development. Very desirable for Mitchell county soils, and for extremely late planting. Earlier, big-boll, higher percentage of five locks, storm resisting, staple length 15-16 to 31-32 to 1 inch under favorable conditions. Lint per cent 36 to 40.

We extend to each and every farmer, business interest and cotton trade an invitation to visit with us at any time when in Delta county.

We are grateful for the splendid cooperation extended us in our breeding work, and sales distributions of Hurley's Special Rowden Strain of Cotton, in Mitchell county and adjoining counties in Texas and adjoining states.

We are asking your continued cooperation. We assure you we will put forth every effort to develop a better product.

FORMER FOOTBALL STAR AT TULANE BECOMES RETIRED JUDGE IN 'MYSTERY AT MIDNIGHT'

From football captain at Tulane university to retired judge goes Norman B. Hall, Jr., a comparative newcomer to Colorado, as he joins the cast of the Zetaganthian play "Mystery at Midnight," at the Colorado High school auditorium tonight (Thursday) and Friday night. As the retired judge in the play he not only is bereft of his life savings but is practically murdered as well.

Hall, who is employed near Colorado by the Magnolia Petroleum company, is well-known to people of both Colorado and Sweetwater. He is the son of N. B. Hall, Sr., chief of Sweetwater police.

In 1933 he was captain of the Sweetwater football squad which won state-wide recognition. He played guard on the team which produced slinger Sammy Baugh, world-famous professional now playing with the Washington Redskins.

Hall entered Tulane university at New Orleans, La., in 1934, and played on the Tulane football squad during his entire college career. He was elected captain during his senior year.

One of the outstanding games in which he played was for the Tulane-Colgate game played on the Polo grounds at New York City before a crowd of 60,000. When Hall finished school he received several bids to play professional football. He was a member of the All-Star squad which played the Chicago Bears professional club in New Orleans a short time ago.

As Hall dons a retired judge's dignity in "Mystery at Midnight," football will be forgotten for a time, for in the play he becomes entangled in a mesh of problems far more serious than could be solved by a punt or a forward pass on the football field.

Writing Home From Austin

By R. Temple Dickson

The house of representatives this week killed a bill, 84 to 53, which would have set up a civil service system requiring state workers be employed on a merit basis.

Rep. Leighton Cornett of Clarksville, author of the bill, declared that present jobs are given by "political pull" only, and that each election finds a 75 per cent turn over in employes, necessitating costly training for new men.

Speakers against the bill said it would allow negroes and Mexicans to hold state jobs, a condition which they did not wish to see.

MATADOR YOUTH LEADING IN 'NOCONA PONY EXPRESS'

Shannon Davidson, 22-year-old Matador cowboy who was riding bareback and in second place when the Nocona-Star Francisco Pony Express riders came through Colorado on Saturday, March 4, held a 75-mile lead in the race at last reports. He was due to have completed one of the hardest parts of the journey, the trek across the Arizona desert, and be across the California line by noon Thursday.

When the riders came through Colorado, T. J. Sikes of Duval, Oklahoma, was in the lead, but Davidson was even then dogging his heels. Sikes had to drop out at Deming, N. M.

Davidson is said to have predicted that he will reach San Francisco by Tuesday. Winner in the race will get $750.

The senate has finally confirmed a West Texas man for an appointive office. Former senator Walter Woodward of Coleman, appointed by Governor W. Lee O'Daniel as chairman of the board of insurance commissioners, was immediately confirmed by the senate.

Two previous West Texas appointments by the governor—Truett Smith of Tahoka as insurance commissioner and J. C. Hunter of Abilene as highway commissioner—had met senate hostility. Smith was refused and Hunter withdrew.

Springtime reminds us of baseball, and that calls attention to the fact that the house has two ex-professional baseballers—Abe Mays of Atlanta and Kal Segrist of Dallas.

Abe says he was a lot younger that time, when, pitching for the San Antonio club, Segrist got a home run off him.

It seems like a legislator who votes on a question always steps on somebody's toes. One can't vote to please everybody. For example, two special interests lobbyists were checking over a list of committee members recently.

"Here's John Jones. How does he stand?" one of them asked.

"Why that communistic, anarchistic double-crosser, he's against us," the other answered.

"Well, here's Bill Smith. How does he stand?"

"Oh, Bill's a reasonable, fair-minded man. He's for us."

Writing Home From Austin

By R. Temple Dickson

The house of representatives this week killed a bill, 84 to 53, which would have set up a civil service system requiring state workers be employed on a merit basis.

Rep. Leighton Cornett of Clarksville, author of the bill, declared that present jobs are given by "political pull" only, and that each election finds a 75 per cent turn over in employes, necessitating costly training for new men.

Speakers against the bill said it would allow negroes and Mexicans to hold state jobs, a condition which they did not wish to see.

HORSE AND MULE SHOW SUCCESS

The horse and mule show that was held in Loraine Saturday was a big success. It was estimated that the largest crowd was here that we have had in a long time.

There were 31 head of horses in the show and only two mules. The mules were brought in by B. J. Phillips and were extra good ones.

The prize of $2.50 for the best horse weighing more than 1100 lbs. went to Homer Wilson, who had two fine horses in the show. The $2.50 prize for the horse weighing less than 1100 lbs. went to Oran Lucas, who had a fine span of young fine greys.

We are planning several more of these shows and invite all who have livestock to be sure and enter them in these shows.

CITIZENSHIP CLUB OF THIRD GRADE MEETS

Our Citizenship club met Friday, March 10, and the following program was given. May Dean Wilcox, chairman of the Good Manners committee gave the program.

First some good talks and poems were given by different members of the committee, bringing out politeness and good manners.

Then as they had been studying Holland and letter writing in English, the following program was also given: Songs about Holland, led by Tommie Jean Riden, "Hans Is a Dutch Boy," and "The Dutch Windmills." Different ways of addressing envelopes, letter writing in Holland, parts of a letter, kinds of letters, poem, "The Winds Of Holland," punctuation of letters, and the manners and customs of a Holland family were the parts rendered.

After the program was rendered we voted on the three who had been the best citizens for the week. The three who received greatest number of votes were Jeanine Day, Tommie Jean Riden and Delpha Crownover.

Then our president asked for new business, and someone suggested that it was time for the election of new officers so she called for nominations for a president. Following were the new officers elected: President, Louise Graham; vice-president, Marie Preston; secretary, Katie Lou McAnally.

The following new committees were selected to serve for one month: Tommie Jean Riden, chairman of Safety First committee; Jackie Walker, of Thrift committee; Raymond Hackfeld, chairman Character Study committee; Larue May, chairman of Good Manners committee. Each child in the room was selected to help on one of these committees. We adjourned to meet Friday, March 17, when the Safety First committee will have charge.

We enjoy our Citizenship club and each one of us tries to be the best citizen during the week. Those who have been the best citizens up until this week were Soledad Masqueda, Marie Preston, Louise Graham, Doris Peterson, Nellie Taylor, Lawanda Bollinger, and May Dean Wilcox. We enjoy being voted the best citizen, not only to receive the stick of candy, but because good citizenship means kindness, politeness, cleanliness, being careful, and application toward work.

The three who won in the third grade room for story telling were: Lawanda Bollinger, Louise Graham, and May Dean Wilcox. There were three selected from the second grade also and the winner will be selected from this group.

We have a new pupil. His name is Arturo Sanchez. We are glad to have him. He came to us from St. Anns school.

Reporter, Jeanine Day.

POND & MERRITT TO FEATURE NEW METHOD OF CLEANING CLOTHES

A new process of clothes cleaning, that renders clothes mothproof while they are being cleaned, has recently been instituted by Pond & Merritt. This method, known as the Monite Mothproof Cleaning Process, is absolutely harmless, odorless, and non-poisonous.

An executive of Pond & Merritt explained that the process involves the use of a special chemical solution in the regular cleaning fluid, and that fabrics so treated are made moth-resistant in every fibre. It was pointed out that any other method of mothproofing is less efficient; since creases, seams, and hems might be overlooked or be actually inaccessible.

Pond & Merritt is Colorado's exclusive licensee for the Monite Process, that privilege having been extended them by the Monite Company of St. Louis, Mo.

Garments treated by the Monite Process are insured against moth damage for a period of six months, while rugs are insured for a period of one year. The insurance offered by Pond & Merritt is carried by one of the country's larger insurance companies.

Mr. Merritt said of the process: "We are offering this new innovation in clothes care for the protection of our customers. It is an added service we feel every garment should have. And while it is worth untold money to the people of Colorado we are offering it without one cent's additional cost over our regular cleaning prices."

To be without an instant supply of hot water is like

Keeping House Without Tools

The modern household, operating as it must on a time schedule, is subject to delay and extra work where there is no automatic system of hot water. Waiting for water to heat causes children to be late to school... Daddy late to work... and extra work and worry for mother. If your home has outgrown its present hot water service or if it is outmoded and crippled with old age there's no better time than now to modernize. Automatic Hot Water is more than a convenience. It is one of modern housekeeping's important tools in speeding work along, making it easier.

SPECIAL REDUCED MONTHLY TERMS

A generous trade-in allowance and the reduced monthly terms now in effect make an automatic gas water heater about the easiest home convenience to own. With one of these modern water heaters the family is assured of hot water the moment it is needed be it for a quick morning shave or a big spring cleaning job.

SCHOOL NEWS

Out of school visitors at the primary room Pioneer picnic last Wednesday were Mr. and Mrs. Audrey Rees, Shirley Anne and Louis, Mrs. R. M. Jones, Mrs. Tom Jackson, Mrs. Charlie Parrish and children, Mr. L. H. Murphy, Mrs. M. J. Hanson and small daughter, Mrs. W. M. Turner, Myrtle Turner, Mrs. Homer Gregory, and Mrs. Alvin Byrd and Sonny. As one of the third graders, Studie Paige, missed the picnic, her classmates wrote her the following letters about it:

Dear Studie,

Our room and Mr. Halbert's room and some of our room mothers went on a pioneer picnic. The day before that we went and got the wood ready. We cooked down in a creek about a half mile behind the school house. We walked both times. Billie was carrying a six gallon can of water and fell down and spilled half of it. Your friend, James Murphy.

Dear Studie,

We had a picture show at the schoolhouse Wednesday. Lloyd and I turned the moving pictures and Doris read about them. We played the rhythm band and the choral club sang a song. Then we had some important people out of history here. Some people told about old days. We hope you hurry up and get well. Your friend, Billie Jackson.

Tuesday a bus came from Westbrook to take us all over there for a dental inspection. Those making the dental honor roll were Juanita Byrd, Freda Grace York, Viola Turner, Harold Morrow, Neida Jo York, Charlie Parrish, Bobbie Jean Davenport, Lloyd Claxton, Jimmie Kate Rees, and Julia Espinosa. Visits to dentists Saturday added Tommie and Billie Jackson to the honor roll.

STOP Coughing and Stop It NOW

Enjoy A Good Night's Rest

BUCKLEY'S MIXTURE certainly makes short work of relieving those stubborn old hang-on coughs and colds that other cough remedies fail to budge, according to Mr. H. A. Allen.

Mr. Allen says: "For years I suffered every winter with a terrible cough. I had many sleepless nights and coughed until tears ran, and my stomach ached. I started again with the same old cough this year—but after a few doses of BUCKLEY'S MIXTURE my cough was gone."

You can't go wrong on BUCKLEY'S—by far the largest-selling cough medicine in all old Canada. One or two doses and stubborn tough hang-on coughs are often on their way. And it's only a few cents at drugstores everywhere. Money back if not delighted.

PETE AINSWORTH ON BOARD OF NEW WEST TEXAS RODEO GROUP

Listed among 21 representatives of West Texas rodeo groups attending an organization meeting in San Angelo Sunday was Pete Ainsworth of the Randerbrook ranch south of Colorado. Ainsworth is rodeo arena director for the Colorado City Frontier Round-up.

Those meeting in San Angelo perfected the Southwest Rodeo association to promote the welfare of rodeos in the southwestern part of the United States and to sponsor a cowboy protective association. Ainsworth was elected one of the board members. M. T. Ramsey of Abilene was named president and M. A. Wilson of Big Lake was chosen secretary-treasurer. Ollie Cox, who has furnished animals for several rodeos here, is a board member.

Rules and regulations are to be approved and amended at the association's next regular meeting on Sunday, April 9, at the Colorado hotel in Colorado.

It's got to be good to be advertised.

1/2 MILLION IN TEXAS

Through this telephone, and half a million others like it in Texas homes and offices, Texans talk about oil and cotton and livestock... about who will make a fourth at bridge, and what the doctor said to Henry.

To clear the way for these calls, 8,700 telephone people work along the lines, or in the 314 offices that are the crossroads of the company's 2 1/2 million mile network of telephone wires in Texas.

More than 10 million dollars in wages, nearly 5 million dollars in federal, state, and local taxes, help make up the total of over 24 1/2 million dollars this company spent last year to operate its Texas telephone system.

These figures are big because the telephone company has a big job to do in Texas: The job of giving fast, dependable telephone service at low cost to the user.

"STAND UP AND FIGHT" DEPICTS RIVALRY BETWEEN RAILROAD AND STAGECOACH LINES

WALLACE BEERY, ROBERT TAYLOR STAR IN OUTDOOR DRAMA OF 1850'S

A new co-starring team of Wallace Beery, veteran of twenty-six years of film service and Robert Taylor, top male name among the younger group, makes its first appearance in "Stand Up and Fight," outdoor action drama describing the bitter rivalry between the railroad and stagecoach lines of the 1850's.

The picture will be shown Saturday midnight, Sunday and Monday, March 18, 19, and 20 at the Palace theater.

Making the team a triumvirate, Florence Rice, of virtue of outstanding work in "Fast Company" and "Sweethearts," wins her most important assignment to date as Taylor's leading lady.

Miss Rice is seen as the owner of a stagecoach line of which Beery is manager and for which Taylor, a bankrupt young Maryland aristocrat, is forced to go to work.

Based on Forbes Parkhill's novel, "Stand Up and Fight" stresses rapid-fire action throughout, with two barren fights between Taylor and Beery, a saloon brawl, jail dynamiting, gunfight, covered wagon wreck, and a race between a train and stagecoach providing plot complications. A distinguished featured cast includes Helen Broderick as Aunt Amanda, Miss Rice's chaperon; Charles Bickford and Barton MacLane as suspected slave-runners; Charley Grapewin as Beery's aide;

John Qualen as Davey, freight wagon driver and bosom friend of Taylor; Robert Gleckler as the Sheriff; Clinton Rosemond as Enoch, fugitive slave and Taylor's former butler. W. S. Van Dyke II, most recently responsible for "Marie Antoinette" and the Jeanette MacDonald-Nelson Eddy musical, "Sweethearts," directed "Stand Up and Fight," with Mervyn LeRoy producing.

PICKED UP ALONG THE NEWS PATH

With a two-fold purpose in mind, we went to Abilene Friday night to hear Mrs. Roosevelt lecture. In the first place, we wanted to be able to say we had heard her. Having admitted this rather unworthy motive, we will now get down to our real reason for going. It wasn't to hear about "A Day at the White House," because we've read about days at the White House. It wasn't to see if she is as unattractive as her photographs sometimes make her appear, because we had read the newspapers and we knew that she isn't. Neither did we go to check up on her graciousness and poise, because we knew beforehand that she had plenty of both. We went to see HOW she does it, if you get what we mean. Most of the evening we held our mind off of what she was saying and concentrated on watching. We came to this conclusion: She violates many of the rules for poise and pleasing personality, yet she does it so pleasingly and with such poise that one has to admire her, completely. Although much more attractive than she appears in pictures, she is still not a handsome woman. Her voice is often far from pleasing, yet because she speaks clearly, choosing her words unhesitatingly, one forgets all about the old rule that a pleasing voice is absolutely essential to a pleasing personality.

The charm books say that one must laugh quietly and musically, if one must laugh. Mrs. Roosevelt's laughter is not musical and it is not quiet—indeed, it sometimes comes over the loud speaker in a high-up-and-going-down manner that reminds one not a little of a siren's wail—yet Mrs. Roosevelt's laughter is definitely an asset. It's sincere, wholehearted, natural, and never nervous. The books have it that a poised person will never make adjustments in apparel or pat her hair lightly in public eye, yet Mrs. Roosevelt smoothed her hair several times, re-fastened her white corsage repeatedly, and frequently touched the clips which marked the corners of the square neck of her deep red gown. We venture that not a dozen people who were really listening to her noticed that she did these things, because she did them unobtrusively, smoothly, unhesitatingly. Her smile is, strictly speaking, a complete grin. She is bound to know that her mouth is too large, her teeth too prominent for attractiveness. She is bound to know that smiling so often and so completely shows wrinkles around her eyes and creases in her cheeks. A woman more self-conscious, less poised would try to hold that smile in, hoping that by so doing she could lessen the wideness of her mouth, hide her teeth a

HAL ROACH'S GAY COMEDY, "TOPPER TAKES A TRIP" HAS GALAXY OF STARS IN CAST

Hal Roach's hilarious screen comedy, "Topper Takes A Trip," sequel to "Topper," one of last year's biggest laugh hits, shows at the Palace theater Friday and Saturday, March 17 and 18, with Constance Bennett of the latter production again cast in a light comedy role which permits her to go through a series of "dematerializations."

The supporting cast, reading like a bluebook of Hollywood celebrities, includes Roland Young, Billie Burke, Alan Mowbray, Alexander D'Arcy, Verree Teasdale, Franklin Pangborn and Paul Hurst.

The new film, based on a screenplay by Eddie Moran and Jack Jenve, was directed by Norman Z. McLeod, who also staged "Topper" and other notable film productions.

The story of "Topper Takes A Trip" concerns the mad, merry antics of Constance Bennett, as Marion Kerby, and Roland Young, as Cosmo Topper, on the sunny sands of the French Riviera, whither Miss Bennett has gone to "do a good deed" and where, instead, she almost upsets the Toppers' lives. The production is a United Artists release.

J. EDGAR HOOVER RAPS WILY WOMEN GANGSTERS

J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the Federal Bureau of Investigation (more generally known as the "G-Men"), brings his sledgehammer down on the women in American crime in "Persons in Hiding," which local moviegoers will see for the first time Sunday and Monday, March 19 and 20, when Paramount brings it to the screen of the Ritz theater. The picture is based on an actual case related in Hoover's book.

Romance isn't all that the women in question bring to organized crime, Hoover believes. Peculiarly gifted and as ruthless as the worst killers, they often supply the brains and inspiration, while their men do the heavy work. In the startling career of "Dorothy Bronson," the main feminine character in the picture, Hoover illustrates his point.

Patricia Morrison, Paramount's lovely recruit from the New York stage, plays "Dorothy Bronson," a normal young girl until the day she meets a desperate killer who promises her all the luxuries and excitement of life if she will marry him. She does, throwing over her job, hard-working boy friend and middle-class security to go with him. The crime career of Miss Morrison and her husband, played by J. Carroll Nash, includes what Hoover believes to be the most exciting pages from the story of recent lawlessness. The picture takes the pair through a cross-country pursuit by relentless G-Men, a $200,000 kidnapping of an elderly millionaire, an amazing partnership with another fugitive couple and a nerve-racking hideaway with Miss Morrison's mountaineer parents. In the typically-Hoover climax, the girl has the tragic choice of selling out her killer-husband or seeing her innocent family take the rap.

One of the many surprises in store for moviegoers is the role of Lynne Overman, last seen as the comic relief in "Spawn of the North" and "Men With Wings," who now plays a serious character.

Raising sheep is proving so diverting and so time-demanding that the Roy Warrens have rigged themselves up a "batching" place out on the Wulfin ranch lands which Warren leased some time ago, even before he went out of office as county tax assessor-collector. They are keeping their home here in town, of course, but there'll be many a day, we venture, when you won't find them thereabouts. Little Joyce Ann, the Warrens' little daughter, was downtown with her dad the other morning, all dressed up in coveralls and ready, she admitted, for a little sheepherding job with her dad. She is, in case you didn't know, a very lovely child with light brown eyes, an alert and friendly expression, and a rather precious smile.

While on a visit in Austin during the latter part of February, Mrs. Dell Barber went with Mrs. Benton Templeton, former Coloradan now living in Austin, to call at the governor's mansion during one of Mrs. W. Lee O'Daniel's Wednesday afternoon open houses which you hear about via the radio and read some about in the newspapers. She says that Mrs. O'Daniel is much lovelier than her pictures show, and her pictures are far from being unlovely. She also says that Molly O'Daniel, who was pouring tea that afternoon, is even prettier than her really pretty pictures. Mrs. O'Daniel, in addition to being lovely to look at, is most gracious and charming and very intelligent along with it, Mrs. Barber says. Mrs. Templeton, who is an accomplished musician, played the pipe organ which adds its melody to the Sunday-morning music accompanying Governor O'Daniel's weekly broadcasts. Birth of a son to Dr. and Mrs. Sam C. Arnett of Lubbock last week assures the numerous members of the Arnett family that the good old name will be carried on at least another generation. The late Mr. and Mrs. D. N. Arnett, pioneer Coloradans, had four sons, and Sam C. Arnett, Sr., who is now a Lubbock banker, was the only one to have a son. Now this son has a son, Robert Cullen Arnett by name, and the fourth generation of Arnetts is begun—counting only from the first West Texas family of Arnetts, of course.

HEAVIEST TAXES

And it came to pass in those days that there went out a decree from Caesar Augustus that all the world should be taxed.—Luke ii, 1.

We hear often the expression, "As certain as death and taxes." The truth of the utterance would be unchallengeable if it read, "As certain as sin and death," for death simply is the final tax on sin. Every one could with propriety wear about a placard bearing the rather unique if somewhat ghastly legend, "To be sold for taxes."

From a longer of shorter time each of us pays a lower tax rate, but it increases with the passage of the years until finally the day comes when one no longer is able to pay, and he then is "sold for taxes!" Death is both the tax and the tax collector.

"Sin entered into the world, and death by sin." Even taxes on property may be sidestepped, at least in a measure, by the wily tax-dodger but the SIN tax he shall not be able to escape. Even the act of refusing to pay a just and legitimate tax is itself a sin, and while the dodger may elude the collector of the money tax, he shall not be able to escape the collector of the SIN tax—Death!

GOVERNMENT AND TAXATION

Even a poor government is better than none. And it takes money to run a government, just as it does any other kind of business.

Government is business, and a most important business. It is the biggest business in the world, because it is the business of the whole people.

It may be because government is intangible—can not be handled, nor looked at, nor wrapped up and put into a safety deposit box, that some are disposed to complain about taxes.

The truth of the matter is very likely that, taking everything into consideration, the returns from the money paid as taxes are greater than those of any other form of investment.

Protection for the citizen, his family and his property, are most essential to his peace and happiness. Without government there can be no such protection, and without taxes there can be no government.

POWER AND TAXATION

Time was when men were taxed by others because some possessed physical powers greater than did their victims, or because they had attained power and authority as King or other high officer, or because they had the advantage in the possession of greater wealth and oppressed their brothers by the power such wealth could exert. That also is yet being done, not only in politics but in business and society.

Economic conditions make this possible, and in all too many instances it is yet taken advantage of by those whose cupidity impels them to so use their wealth for imposing upon their fellows.

Herein again is made manifest the great truth spoken by Him who "spoke as never man spake" when He uttered that short but all-inclusive sentence, "As ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them." This is as great an economic truth as it is a spiritual one.

Those who care for nothing but themselves, do not care for much. The rightness, the justness, the necessity, for taxation was recognized by One who had not where to lay His head. When He and His Apostles were come to Capernaum, they that received tribute money came to Peter and said, "Doth not your master pay tribute? He saith, Yes." When Peter had told the Master, he was commanded to go to the sea and "cast an hook, and take up the fish that first cometh up; and when thou has opened his mouth, thou shalt find a piece of money: take that, and give unto them for thee and me."

THERE IS A WAY OUT

When we repeat the words representing the tax on sin, suffering, sickness, slavery, shame, even the word sin itself, the initial letter of each word causes in its pronunciation that hissing sound like that said to emanate from a serpent. And it does in this case—the serpent of sin.

Still there is a way out—a way that costs the SIN-taxpayer nothing.

He has a Friend who has consummated his redemption. He has only to accept the infinite service performed by that Friend, acknowledge his obligation to Him, and try to prove worthy of Him.

The price this Friend has paid—the tax, the costs, the penalties, the fees, all—for time and eternity.

The redemption certificate has been written out and awaits only the signature of the redeemed one to have it recorded in the archives above, where it shall never fade nor become dim.

It is written in the blood of that Friend in the great Book of Life. "Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends!"

SALES TAX IS COMING

If I was at Austin would say my opinion is that the Governor's proposed transaction tax is entirely out of order. Nor is it necessary to saddle the tax on any one thing such as income or on natural resources such as gas, oil and sulphur. That would not be best for the state as a whole.

If I was at Austin would say in my opinion, a small increase in the tax on sulphur, oil and gas would be all right, but the very best idea of all is to inaugurate a moderate sales tax, say of 2 per cent, and apply that to all commodity sales. As pointed out by others, a sales tax of this kind would make people generally tax conscious and a retail sales tax of this amount would not be harmful to any group of consumers. I would also not object to a 1c increase in the present cigarette and gasoline taxes.

If I was at Austin would say poll taxes should not be abolished, but should be reduced from $1.75 to $1. State ad valorem taxes should not be abolished altogether, since so much Texas land is owned by noncitizens who would then not be contributing to our government. I am 79 years old, have lived in Texas for nearly fifty years and am now retired. I live in my home that still has a mortgage on it, but I have a moderate income and am not a candidate for a pension of any amount or kind.

If I were at Austin would say a sales tax seems the best way but it seems we can't agree as to how to raise the money to pay the old-age pension. I think the best way to do the job is to enact a law providing a reasonable tax on retail sales. Let us do something at once and get the job done, and not let the old folks suffer any longer. I think we should all be willing to help carry the load, as it is more democratic. If others are willing to help pay me a pension I should be willing to help pay others a pension, though I am not eligible for a pension. If the job can be done in any better way I would gladly favor it, though I doubt if such is the case. I don't think anything should be taxed but once, and if a transaction tax means to tax everything every time it changes hands, from its production to its consumption, I am against it, but I can see no reason why a modified transaction tax, exempting small purchases, would not work out all right.

This is certainly in the interest of the poor as well as of the rich. I believe the matter could in this way be disposed of by the Legislature in thirty days. I don't see how anyone could object to giving it a trial anyhow. A settlement of the matter, even if not settled in the very best way, would do more to bring about a more prosperous condition than anything else. It would enable the merchant to sell more goods and give more employment to the people, and we would be more happy and contented. A constitutional amendment means more delay, and that is what we should avoid. At least let us enact the sales tax, and in the meantime amend the law or Constitution if necessary. Nearly all laws have to be amended sooner or later. No piece of machinery is ever perfect when it is first made, but has to be constantly improved.

ALWAYS COMPLAINING

This columnist is verging on toward the 80 mark and we are sick most of the time and it gives us great pleasure to tell our friends of our aches and pains. The doctor says I have

"NEURESTHENA"

I love to talk to all I see.
About the aches and pains in me.
If someone asks, "How're today?"
I grab their coat lapel and say:
"Somehow I'm not so well today;
I cannot eat, I cannot sleep,
And feel that I just have to weep.
There's misery in each joint and bone."
And then I give a screech and groan
There's no disease that they can name
That hasn't sometime racked my frame.
It's every day the same refrain,
I always sing of every pain.
There's nothing that I'd rather tell
Than that I am not feeling well.
In fact, I'd rather enjoy poor health
Than to own this whole earth's wealth.
But now it is discovered that I have

"INSOMNIA"

Did I ever tell you about my insomnia? Maybe I have, but that doesn't make a bit of difference, I am going to tell you again anyway, so hold your hats, here I go:

Night after night for days upon end I couldn't sleep, I'd lie awake for hours. Finally I went to my doctor and spent several happy hours telling him all of my symptoms, not sparing the least detail. He advised me to go to the country immediately, or anywhere else, for a rest, (and from the gleam in his eye I was not certain as to whose rest he was referring.)

I decided to go out to the Jim Bodine dairy farm for the rest. The story of my insomnia and it's cure, like the Chicago fire, starts with a cow. Who ever heard of starting a fire with a cow? The last remark is silly, irrelevant and beside the point and I know that you are simply affire yourself for me to go on with my story (yes, ten thousand miles on with my story.)

Jim Bodine had an old cow that was so old, drowsy and absent-minded that instead of coming home at night upon her own initiative, she would have to be gone after and driven home from the pasture. Now here is the whole story in a nutshell: Every night that I was there I went to sleep immediately after I had drunk a glass of warm MILK of AMNESIA.

COLORADO

Grace Dossey

Hail Colorado! With the highway as main street.
Hail Colorado! Where old friends and kinsmen meet.
Even though it's a small village
With some buildings old, some new,
With its old-fashioned contents
That makes it home for me and you,
Hail Colorado! Though I'm leaving you awhile
You may know I'm thinking of you
With a great big thoughtful smile.
I am going to a city where there's more than one main street.

Yet I'll think of Colorado with its sand, its snow and sleet.
Don't forget me Colorado.
Be prepared to welcome home
Just a worn and weary traveler
Who is returning from the Foam
From the large Atlantic Ocean
That is several miles from here
For I'll return to Colorado,
To the vilhage small but dear.

SOME BIBLE FACTS

We have been criticised by some of our reader friends for writing so much about the Bible. Well the Bible is the most important book ever published and is read less by most people, so we give here a few facts that you did not know:

The Bible is composed of 66 books containing 1,189 chapters, 41,173 verses, 774,746 words and 3,566,480 letters. The shortest verse is John 11:35 and contains only the two words, "Jesus wept." The longest verse is Esther 8:9.

The word "Lord" occurs 1,833 times; "Jehovah" 5,845 times; the word "girl" only twice; "everlasting fire" is found twice; while the words "everlasting punishment," "eternity" and "reverend" occur only once each.

Several verses are duplicated, thus four verses of the 107th Psalm are identical, and the 36th chapter of Isaiah and the 19th chapter of II Kings are exactly alike.

No original manuscript of any portion of the Bible is in existence. The oldest manuscript known, a fragment of the 11th chapter of the Psalms, thought to have been written in the third century, is preserved in the British Museum. The Bible as we know it has come down to us through many translations, the first complete English translation having been made by John Wycliffe, who died in 1384, and his fellow workers, Nicholas and Purvey.

William Tyndale was the first to print the Bible in English, beginning in 1525. He printed all of the New Testament and a small portion of the Old, but his translation came under displeasure of the ecclesiastical authorities. After 15 months imprisonment he was tried and burned at the stake for heresy on October 6, 1536.

EDITORIAL—JUST TEMPER

There has been given to man a something if properly used will build him; if not used properly, it will consume him. That thing is temper.

From under control it consumes everything as a prairie fire. The owner is looked upon about as one with a vicious dog. No one will be about him. He is generally feared—who knows who his next victim will be.

Another thing about the condition after the owner has allowed his temper to run riot, he is so weak he can hardly do anything—he is really consumed.

No one likes a tempest. Sunshine is admired by everyone. How do you rate?

WHO'S WHO

Mrs. Dearen, the popular assistant librarian of C.H.S., came to West Texas from Houston county. She moved to Loraine at the age of five and entered school there. In her Senior year in high school Mrs. Dearen's father died and after graduation she began working. She moved to Colorado in 1925. Before Dr. Root's death, Mrs. Dearen for four years was a nurse at the Root hospital. Nursing is what she loves to do most in the business world. In 1938 she became assistant librarian at C.H.S. and is well liked by all the students.

Mrs. Dearen's real interests in life are her home and her son, Toby. She is also interested in church work. She likes picnics, hikes, and likes to watch all sports. She likes to read, sew, and cook. Blue or green is her favorite color.

Mrs. Dearen is small, has brown hair, and sparkling blue eyes. She is friendly, happy, and has an exhilarating carefree air about her.

Ray Busbee Ray doesn't have much to say. But if you scratch under the surface you discover the most astounding facts. Ray wears a size ten and a half shoe, smokes a corn-cob pipe, sleeps with his hat on, makes mud pies with his feet, and pays his poll-tax. P. S. These facts (?) were not obtained from reliable sources.

Ray is a showman. No, dearie, not a producer—a bill poster. Well, after all that is important, too. Just think, if the show wasn't advertised, then nobody would go to see it and then the producer would go bankrupt. So Ray has the producer in the palm of his hand... or has he?

And he's a privileged character. He gets to skip the first period. You didn't know that? Yes, we have to get up before daybreak and he snoozes peacefully away. I tell you, there just ain't no justice.

COUNTY MEET

Mitchell County Interscholastic League meet will be held on Friday of next week, March 24. The literary events will be during the day and track and field events will be at night. Classes will not meet Friday, but everyone will be busy with other things. Colorado High school will be represented in practically all events.

C. H. S. BAND BOXING SHOW

Two full nights of the best fights ever held in Colorado will take place in the High school auditorium Tuesday and Wednesday, March 21-22. Fights will be in all weight divisions with 12 or more fights each night.

Before going into the ring each boy will be carefully examined by a doctor. Boys will be matched according to weight and the referee will stop the fight at the first bad sign of either boy. All fights will be scheduled for three two-minute rounds.

The ten best fighters of the two nights picked by judges will receive awards.

These two nights of boxing are for the benefit of the band to buy new uniforms. There will be three golden glove fighters pitching leather, Dale Simpson, a lightweight whose gloves are loaded with dynamite; Hardison Almond, a hard-hitting featherweight; and Jimmy Harrison, a district golden glove finalist who packs a wallop in his right like has never been seen before in our fair city. It will take a lot more than just nerve to crawl in the ring with any of these boys.

Truett Fulcher, heavyweight Golden Glove champion of Texas; T. A. A. P. champion and Diamond Belt champion who will referee these fights has agreed to fight if anyone can be obtained. We have received no promise yet but we have a good heavy who has agreed to think it over and should this fight be staged no one should miss it. Also Roy Miller, another local heavyweight will fight if an opponent can be found.

Tickets will be on sale at the high school and reservations may be made by calling the high school. The admission will be 55c and 40c. Ringside seats will not be available until Monday. All proceeds taken in will go to buy new uniforms for the Colorado High school band.

Boys who have already been matched are:

Mason Shelton 109 vs. Leroy Witten 104. (Both are left handed, fast, and had plenty of ring experience. This will be plenty good.)

Johnny Latham 85 meets J. C. Davis 92. (These big boys will show plenty of dynamite.)

Dale Simpson 136 vs. J. T. Williamson 137. (Dale is a Golden Glover and J. T. has had lots of experience. This should be good.)

Robert Lacey fights James Nunn 167. (Evenly matched, fast, plenty of action.)

Dick Jones 156 meets Clifton Caffey 153. (Well built, and two of Jack Christian's best linemen.)

Hardison Almond 136 vs. Hugh McReynolds 140. (Hardison is a Golden Glover and Hugh has had glove experience. Built alike and should give a good show.)

Joe Robertson 156 tangles with Curtis Wood 160. (Joe has had plenty of glove work and is a sweet little fighter. Wood is all-district football center and is plenty rough.)

Charles Watson 135 vs. Duff Chesney 140. (Charles and Duff both box quite a bit. This should be good.)

Don Henderson 132 vs. W. B. Crockett 136. (This seems to be a grudge fight. Don't miss it.)

Glenn Churchill 160 vs. Jack Smith 155. (Jack is rough and Glenn is an equal. It promises to be a thriller.)

Horace Woods 147 vs. Earl Neal

143. (Horace is a good fighter but Westbrook's pride and joy promises to be in their fighting for his home town. He won't let you down, folks, so come see a real match.)

Boys who have entered but not matched are:

- Malcolm (Wild Horse) Mays, 136. Charles Botvidson, 136. Lewis Latham, 110. Tommy Rathiff, 105. Raymond Meyers, 115. A. G. Furlow, 125. Nat Mann, 134. Jimmy Barnes, 134. Burl Ballard, 153. Earnest Burdine, 175. Bill Miller, 160. Jimmy Harrison, 118. Toby Dearen, 125. Also three well known local colored boys: Chat Biggers, 136. Robert Bracey, 145. Luke Haines, 150.

CAMPUS CAMERA

Fat stock show visitors unanimously enjoyed the exhibition. "It was worth every hour of sleep we lost."

Any student whom you see mumbering, and preciously clasping a small book all the time is a member of one of the one-act plays. Interscholastic League day is stealthily creeping upon us. From the little black box: The paper shortage might be relieved in large measure by a law requiring that all shoes be made of leather. Our Aggie Sweetheart was picnicking at Seven Wells astlay eekway. The Price on Earl Neal's market is progressing streamlinely. Puddy Whipkey and T. Chadwick are a coup of participants of the raging bicycling fad. Motto of some Seniors: If at first you don't succeed, quit school. The urge to go fishin', swimmin', or whattheyou on school days ain't what it's cracked up to be.

At least that is the lament of CHS studees who have tried it. Your campus cuties wonder why Jean Morrison plows around that Romeo-wherefore-art-thou look. Our pome of the week glides along with the spring training: He made a run around the end. Was tackled from the rear. The right guard sat upon his neck. The fullback on his ear. The center sat upon his back. Two ends upon his chest. The quarter and the halfback then Sat down on him to rest. The left guard sat upon his head. Two tacklers on his face. The coroner was then called in To sit upon his case.

LOST HUMANITY An old man stands—Numb Frozen by a winter wind. He once listened to the factory hum. Now he stands forsaken in the slums. A bit of lost humanity— One of many bums. —Sam Majors.

END OF DAY The day is ending. As the sun is setting in the West; The night is descending. The birds are at rest. —Opal Smith.

I'M CONTENT Today I listened to a bird Singing in a tree, And wondered to myself What life like that would be. I passed a brook Bubbling on its way, And stopped and listened to its song, And thought a life like that—but nay!

So life goes on, With the bird in the tree, And the bubbling brook to the sea, But I'm content just being me! —Sara Guitler.

SUNSET The clouds so slowly drift along Against the sky so blue. To take their places in the west As the sun throws out its golden hue.

From yonder peak I viewed the scene And thought it most complete But who can judge of nature's scenes With whom none can compete.

And as I watch the sun sink low I think of this gone day And ask myself what good I've done And what I've thrown away. —Sarah Ann Pond.

TEACHERS TO CONVENTION IN LUBBOCK

Many of the teachers of the Colorado school system were in Lubbock last Friday, March 10, attending the West Texas State Teachers Convention. For this reason, a holiday was given the students—who, as you may imagine, received it joyfully.

The meeting began with a general session in the Senior High school auditorium at 9 o'clock. Registration and music by the Slaton High school band composed the first hour. The rest of the morning was spent in addresses by Dr. J. G. Umstatt, University of Texas, Judge J. D. Hamlin from Farwell, Texas, and Dean J. M. Gordon of the Texas Technological college. The meeting then adjourned for luncheon and met again in general session at 2 o'clock. Music was furnished by the Plainview High school band and addresses were made by Dr. Cora B. Martin of the University of Texas and Carl J. Rutland of the Texas Safety association. At 2:30, the teachers met for sectional meetings. Each attended the one in which he was most interested. At this time, Miss Barrett was on the program in the Library section and Mr. Glover and Mr. Foster were members of the House of Delegates. At 7:30, the third general session was held. The outstanding address at this hour was made by George W. Fraiser, President of the Colorado State College of Education in Greeley, Colorado. His subject was "Personality."

Most of the teachers returned to their homes after this session, reporting an educational and interesting convention. As for the students—your guess is as good as mine as to the number of ways in which they spent the day!

We decided to buy a page in the high school annual with the pictures of our leading officers.

The following were elected to go as delegates to the district meeting at Midland: Mmes. Van Boston, John Costin, Geo. Dawson, C. E. Butler, Ira Lauderdale, Coleman, Jeff Jones. Every member is urged to attend this meeting. We are buying books for the high school music class. They are to be selected by Mr. Hood. A nursery has been established in our home economics. Our ladies are urged to bring their babies and small children. They will be cared for by our home economics girls. Those who have not paid their dues please do so this week. WESTBROOK SCHOOL NEWS

JUNIOR NEWS

The Junior play went over with a big success. We cleared about $32.00. Seniors you need not worry about not getting a good banquet because we have quite a bit of money. (We think.)

Some of the Juniors went on a picnic Saturday evening. They all had a nice time even if they did get a little sand mixed up with their eats. Jackie Hamilton is absent from school because of injuries in a car accident. The Junior class as a whole is very sorry all this happened and wish him a rapid recovery. We hope he will be back to school soon.

The Juniors are getting their extra page fixed up to go in the annual. We only have one day to do it in but the old saying is "Better late than never."

SOPHOMORE NEWS

The Sophs are waiting patiently for their annuals. We hope to get them soon so hurry Seniors don't forget, we are expecting something grand.

The Soph English classes have been having some wonderful debates. Don't you think so, Mr. Hood? One debate that was interesting was given by a boy and girl selected from the two English classes. They were Juanita Cline and Rufus Jackson vs. Melba Ruth Adams and Calvin Boston.

The question was resolved: Should there be a summer school for pupils to make up failing grades and to make advanced courses. The negative side won.

Another debate that was very good was Bobbie Lynn Dockery and Frank Oglesby vs. Elzan Castleman and Walter Turner. Their subject was Resolved: Should war be declared by popular vote. The negative side also won in this debate. We want to thank the Seniors for the very good judging.

The V. A. boys were very disappointed. Because of the fact they didn't get to go to the Fat Stock show. Especially Barney!

The first period class of Home Ec. sponsored a party for pre-school children Friday morning. The girls had made clothes for the children and they seemed very glad and pleased. They were well entertained (we hope).

SENIOR NEWS

The annual is just about ready to be sent to the company to reprint the pictures, and we certainly do appreciate the work of Bonnie and Ramelle who have been the ones who have fixed the pictures. The rest of the staff have helped a little but this job was given to Bonnie. We have fixed the dedication, class history, etc.

Mr. Hood has the idea that the Seniors are to start on their play promptly. We are going to make this the best play that our class has ever given. We know you have seen some of our plays of the past, but we think that our ability to act has bettered a little. We put on "In the Light of the Moon" and "The Last of The Ruthvans" the last two years. We are thinking of producing another mystery play this year. Here's hoping that all of your prefer mystery plays as we are surely going to need all the money that we make off the play for our Senior trip. We are hoping to make at least $30.00 off our annual, on the ads, so all business firms try to buy an ad in our annual. We think that your products will be well advertised.

V. A. NEWS

The V. A. boys did not get to go to the Ft. Worth Fat Stock show Friday because Mr. Cox was sick. But he is o.k. now.

I am sure Nita Bess Daniels (our sweetheart) was disappointed because she was going, but she will get a sweater anyway.

Mack what is this we hear about you trying to get a driver's license. Is it true that he has been driving on the highway with a certain girl with him.

Jack has nearly ruined his car. Saturday he tried to knock down a telephone post.

Mr. Cox has really been hard with us because we can't work our object books. He says we have been keeping late hours. What about it Jack?
