Boy! Are we good on learning the Future Farmer Creed. We learned it every bit in one week and that's going some. But Mr. Cox doesn't think so. Why you know he even had us get rid of our brand new candy that we had just put in our mouths. A whole pennies worth.

Beware Love Bugs, Mack is still after you!

SENIOR PLAY TO BE GIVEN

The Senior class will present "The Mill of the Gods" in the high school gymnasium Friday night, April 21.

The admission is 10c and 25c. The cast of character is as follows: Phillip Jefferson Winton Lee Coleman Mrs. Jefferson Geraldine Elkenberg Patty Jefferson Iris Costin Goida Kane Bonnie Mundell Selma (negro) Marjorie Hardcastle Kenneth Ramsey A. D. Singleton Lawrence Stanton

Boyd Rae Anderson Weldon Strange The setting is in a typical modern southern home in the first and third acts and a tenement flat in the second act. The situations are of interest throughout the entire play and the conditions are evidence of fate's unavoidable hand. "The Mill of the Gods grinds exceeding slow."

SENIOR NEWS

We have been working on the annual extra hard lately because we have to get them finished by Friday as we are hoping to get the pictures back by then. We will probably have them for you in another week.

We received the invitation for the commencement yesterday, so everyone had better watch out for the "invites."

If anyone wants to see a real monkey just look up Weldon Strange, as he had his hair cut for our play. He is an escaped convict (with short hair). We can't practice at night now for laughing at him. Mr. Hood got aggravated at us last night for laughing and almost ran off and left us up here by ourselves. "Wouldn't we have gotten some good practice though?" I'll say.

We went to Colorado last week to have our pictures made for the hall, and oh boy were they the "stuff."

Ask Oleta Dockrey what her's looked like!

Miss McKenney is making us some very attractive posters for the play, so everyone look about you and try to see a few of them.

Oh yes, and I just must not forget about the wonderful banquet the Juniors gave us, even though a good looking couple of the teachers got angry at us for chunking them with mints. What did you call us Mr. Crouch? "Freshmen," why I guess you should know how they act, as you are their sponsor. Yes sir, he told us we acted like Freshmen. Wasn't that a compliment to his class? If I were them next year I'll be hanged if I would get him for my sponsor. He is entirely too interested. (In a certain brunet lady teacher up here at school, could it be Miss Anna Speights? Think nothing of it Mr. Crouch, it's all in fun (we hope).)

JUNIOR NEWS

The Junior and Senior banquet went over with a success. Everyone seemed to have enjoyed it very much. We carried out in Dutch plan. There were two Dutch windmills on the table and tulips, ivy and other decorations on the table made it very pretty. The favors were little Dutch boys and girls. We had tulips for the place cards and menu. Rev. Huffman of the Baptist church was the main speaker for the evening. Van Boston, Junior class president, was toastmaster. Toasts were given by Geraldine Elkenberg, June Shelton, Mary Julia Bullock, Mr. Hood, Mr. Lauderdale, and Mr. Boston. Sara and Winnie Jo Bolin sang "Tulip Time" and "The Moon Got in My Eyes." Several of the Juniors and two of the Seniors sang, "When You Wore a Tulip" and "A Little Dutch Mill." Winton Lee Coleman and Weldon Strange had charge of the class will and gifts.

The Juniors received all kinds of presents from a small car to a bar of soap. The waitresses were Sophomore girls dressed like Dutch girls. The Junior class wish to thank their sponsor, Miss Speights, and everyone else who helped us with our banquet.

Some of the Junior boys and girls are playing volleyball this week in our high school tournament. We can surely win if we just try hard enough and if we don't win we will be good losers.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

The Westbrook Girl Scouts were entertained Thursday, April 13, by the Carr Girl Scouts. Thirteen of the girls were present from Westbrook. The following are those thirteen: Doris Lovelace, Geneva Lowery, Theresa Lowery, Juanita Cline, Lucille Cline, Maxine Ellis, Maranell Terry, Irene Alvis, Ruth Coleman, Mary Catherine O'Conner, Miss Speights and Miss Mohon.

We met at 4 o'clock at Westbrook and went to Carr and had a hike and picnic supper with the Carr Scouts and their leaders, Mrs. Hilbert and Mrs. Kay Morris. There were approximately 16 Carr Scouts present. We had three visitors, Mrs. Lee Coleman, Mrs. Byrd, and Mrs. Daniel. After supper we sang songs with Mrs. Hilbert accompanying us on the guitar. We certainly had a nice time and hope we can show the Carr Scouts an equally nice time. Doris Lovelace Maranell Terry.

MITCHELL COUNTY IN AREA HIGH IN DEBT ADJUSTMENT

DALLAS.—Gulon Gregg, state farm debt adjustment supervisor, revealed recently that 263 Texas families who have been farming under excessive debt were served during March by county debt adjustment committees sponsored by the Farm Security Administration. These committees, composed of local men, worked out agreements between farmers and their creditors for extensions of time and debt reductions which brought the farmers' obligations within their ability to pay. "The creditors realize," Mr. Gregg said, "that by granting these concessions they will come out ahead in the long run. When the adjustments have been made, the families can then be rehabilitated. The FSA will guide them and finance them in the purchase of additional livestock and equipment so that they can eventually pay their debts." A 16-county area in West Texas, including Mitchell county, led the dozen FSA administrative districts in the state in number of families whose debts were adjusted. Robert Fisher, Eastland, is FSA district supervisor.

RULES FOR RODEO WELFARE MAPPED AT MEETING HERE

RODEO MEN OF SOUTHWEST DRAFT PLANS DESIGNED TO PROTECT SHOWS AND PERFORMERS

Rules and regulations designed to promote the welfare of rodeos and rodeo performers throughout the Southwest were adopted when 31 men representing some 26 rodeo associations met here Sunday afternoon to perfect organization of the Southwest Rodeo association which was launched at a meeting in San Angelo on March 13.

The meeting opened with a luncheon at the Colorado hotel. Dell Barber, Colorado City attorney, was toastmaster. H. B. Spence, manager of the Colorado City chamber of commerce, welcomed the visitors. Dr. M. T. Ramsey of Abilene, president of the association, was introduced and outlined the general purposes of the association. W. G. Swenson, president of the Texas Cowboy re-union at Stamford, was unanimously elected vice-president. M. A. Wilson of Big Lake is secretary-treasurer.

Purposes of the organization were praised in a talk by John B. Davis, general manager of the Southwest Exposition and Fat Stock show at Fort Worth. Swenson and others also spoke. Adoption of a report by the rules and regulations committee, which included Swenson, P. D. Alley of Pecos, Ollie Cox of Sweetwater, and Pete Ainsworth of Colorado, was the meeting's highlight. O. C. Wright of Junction, fifth member of the committee, was unable to be present.

Rules aim to protect contestants in rodeos of member organizations from "any pressure or influence brought to bear by any outside organization." Each rodeo association is to make its own rules, establish its own prizes, and select its own judges, but these are required to be published at least 15 days prior to the opening of the show. Any individual attempting to "disturb or disrupt" rules of any member rodeo are to be barred from participation in any other member rodeo. Member rodeos failing to comply with the adopted rules are to be ousted and fined $100.

Registered for the meeting were Ollie B. Cox, Sweetwater; M. A. Wilson, Big Lake; M. T. Ramsey, Abilene; John Haley, Jr., Kermit; R. M. Swenson, Stamford; W. G. Swenson, Stamford; John B. Davis, Fort Worth; P. D. Alley, Pecos; C. R. Hines, Pecos; Dewey Richburg, Pecos; John Tomlinson, Hobbs; N. M. Mack Sanders, Kermit; C. D. Davis, Kermit; Raymond R. Smith, Kermit; Jack G. Favor, Abilene; Jack Shaw, Hobbs; N. M. Johnnie Downs, Abilene; Ramon Berryhill, Snyder; Carl Kemp, San Angelo; J. L. Adams, Snyder; Buck Jackson, Pecos; N. E. Springer, Aspermont; Roy E. Warren, Colorado City; Oscar Peacock, Aspermont; George A. Sloan, Spur; Albert Power, Spur; Charlie Powell, Spur; Waymon Smith, Aspermont; Gaston Brock, Colorado City; Ben Smith, Pecos; Jess Slaughter, Big Spring; Pete Ainsworth, C. E. Hammond, O. P. Jones, P. K. Mackey, H. B. Spence, and Dell Barber, all of Colorado City.

Next meeting of the association will be in Pecos on May 13, beginning with a barbecue at 5:30 p.m. All persons connected with rodeo promotion in the Southwest are eligible to attend.

PHIL SMITH, ONE-TIME COLORADOAN, SUCCUMBS

Word has reached here of the death of Phil Smith, 57, a former Coloradoan, in Los Angeles, California, on Easter Sunday afternoon. Smith dropped dead on a golf course at Los Angeles.

A son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Will Smith, Phil Smith lived here for a number of years in his youth, and at one time owned a saddle shop. He was in the army during the World War, and after the Armistice served in the Army of Occupation. After returning to the states he went to California to live. Smith never married, and his nearest survivor is a sister, Mrs. R. H. Pringle of Fort Worth. He was a nephew of Mrs. H. C. Beal of Fort Worth, formerly of Colorado, and a cousin of Mrs. John Arnett and Ralph Beal of Colorado. Burial was in a national cemetery in California.

NOTE TO THE CHILDREN ON PARENTS' HEALTH

A Breakfast-time Story for the Grown-ups in Your Family

In return for all the bed-time stories father and mother have told you we present a breakfast-time story you can tell father and mother.

Once upon a time about fifty years ago a scientist discovered that without a certain marvelous substance found in only certain foods, good health, even life, was impossible. So for years and years scientists worked in great laboratories to learn more about it. And slowly, but surely, they did learn until today its chemical secrets have finally been revealed.

This marvelous substance is named "Thiamin" and is sometimes known as Vitamin B1. Now father and mother must have Thiamin just as you must have it for best health. In fact, everybody must have Thiamin to nourish the millions of nerves in the body. Thiamin also sharpens the appetite and promotes better digestion. Since the body cannot store up Thiamin, new supplies are continually needed. So father and mother and you should eat foods that contain Thiamin every day.

It is true that Thiamin is found in many different kinds of things to eat, but nature's richest economical source is oatmeal.

So you can tell father and mother that just as you should drink your milk and eat your spinach, they, as well as you, should eat Quaker Oats for breakfast. Because they are larger than you, they really need more Thiamin. So they should eat more Quaker Oats to get more Thiamin.

ED BELL SUCCUMBS UNEXPECTEDLY AT WESTBROOK HOME

A brief illness proved unexpectedly fatal Tuesday morning to E. V. Bell, 64, pioneer resident of Westbrook. Death occurred at his home in Westbrook.

Bell had been in Colorado City on Wednesday afternoon to get medical aid for a deep chest cold. He was ill during the night, but his condition was not alarming. He called for a drink of water about 7:30 Thursday morning and had died when the water was brought to him.

Funeral services are to be held at the Westbrook Methodist church Friday afternoon at 5 o'clock with Rev. R. B. Walden, pastor, and Rev. D. A. Ross of Coahoma officiating.

A resident of Westbrook for more than 35 years, Bell was well-known in both Westbrook and Colorado. His wife, who was a Hooks before her marriage, and two daughters survive. They are Mrs. W. M. Byrd of Rails and Mrs. A. P. Jones of Westbrook. There is one granddaughter, Margery Marie Jones. Surviving brothers include Claude Bell of Westbrook, Alvin Bell of Abilene, and Foy Bell of Stanton. Kiker & Son have charge of funeral arrangements.

HYMAN GET-TOGETHER FRIDAY NIGHT ONE OF MOST ENTHUSIASTIC IN C OF C SERIES

One of the most enthusiastic of the community dinners sponsored so far in Mitchell county by the Colorado City chamber of commerce was held Friday night at Hyman with more than 100 Colorado and Hyman men in attendance.

Roy Davis Coles, Mitchell county superintendent of schools and former principal of the Hyman school, was toastmaster. He named Otto Jones and Jim Boyd as tail twisters for Hyman, Clarence Hornberger and Truett Barber as tail twisters from Colorado City.

Mrs. Harry Hyman, for whom the Hyman community is named, welcomed the Colorado City delegation. She said that it was the first time in the 29 years of Hyman's existence that Colorado City had paid an official visit to the little town. Mrs. Hyman said the invocation.

A bounteous dinner prepared by women of the Hyman Home Demonstration club was served buffet style. Mrs. Frank Andrews is president of the club, and Mrs. Carl Lowry was chairman of arrangements. All the club women were introduced.

Entertainment was furnished by Dr. Harry A. Logsdon and his Colorado City Cowhand band. Questions on Hyman, Colorado City, and Mitchell county were asked and answered informally. Hyman residents listed for attendance were: Frank Clines, Charlie Harlow, Walter Jackson, Martin Jackson, Odie Jackson, Sammie Jackson, Volie Johnson, Treman Johnson, Noel Johnson, Frank Andrews, Edgar Andrews, Ivan Lane, Willie Smith, Birdie Crouch, Glen Crouch, S. ESSAY BY NELL RUTH PICKENS IS THIRD PLACE WINNER IN WARD SCHOOL CONTESTS

Nell Ruth Pickens, seventh grade student in Colorado Junior High school, won third place in ward school essay writing at the district interscholastic league meet in Sweetwater on Friday and Saturday.

The essay written by Nell Ruth, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pete Pickens, follows:

MY EXPERIENCE LEARNING TO DRIVE A CAR

A slight breeze stirred the sultry summer air where I lay on the cool grass. It was very welcome, spring days are often hot. Like most every one else I had the annual spell of spring fever. I could not concentrate on the book I held so I tossed it aside. Having nothing else to do I dozed off. I had only been asleep a minute when a loud honk brought me to my feet. There was the "gang" shouting at me.

"Come on. We are going riding." I started to the car when I remembered my spring fever.

"I can't," I cried. "I've got spring fever."

Then as I expected they would, they piled out of the car, and pulled me toward it. As I really wanted to go I put forth the effort to get in. After several remarks about the serious malady of spring fever we were off. On our way out of town we met

Sue. Sue had a car so some of us got in with her. Then someone had the happy idea of making our destination a picnic. Every one agreed. We got our things to eat and were on our way.

The broad highway looked like a ribbon. We were the only ones out on this hot day. That gave me an idea. But I kept it a secret. After eating our lunch we stretched out on the grass. After just laying a while I remembered my idea. Jumping up on a rock I announced my intention of learning to drive. Sue cried:

"In whose car?"

"Can't I, Sue?" I begged.

"After much pleading Sue agreed. We walked toward her car got in and off we started. I stepped on the gas. The car was off like a dart. Trees and poles looked like toothpicks. The landscape was a blur as we sped along. So intent was I on keeping the car on the road, I could not hear Sue's frantic instructions on how to stop. Suddenly on the horizon I saw a black dot that steadily grew larger. Another car. It was close now. I veered over to one side. The wrong one. I turned over to the other side and missed the car about an inch. I did not have enough sense to take my foot off the gas. Then I saw the policeman. But I still couldn't stop. Sue had the good sense to kick my foot off the gas and the car was stopped. The policeman roared, "Who do you think you are? If that car had wings I'd say you were a pilot." For thirty whole minutes I was lectured. The fine I had to pay was plenty big.

For months I have been going without my allowance to pay it. I am never going to try to learn to drive again.

POND & MERRITT DRY CLEANING

BECAUSE YOUR PATRONAGE IS APPRECIATED WE THINK YOU'D LIKE TO KNOW WHY LAUNDRY WASHED CLOTHES ARE CLEANER THAN "HOME WASHED" CLOTHES

It is far more costly and VERY IMPRACTICAL for a home washer to wash clothes as thoroughly as they are washed in a laundry. Here is a comparison of average home washing and average laundry washing methods.

HOME WASHING METHOD WITH HARD CITY WATER
Two Suds Washings of 15 minutes each
Three Rinsings of 4 minutes each.

Most housewives would consider this a pretty thorough job... and just about as much work as is possible if the person doing the washing expects to finish the same day she started.

LAUNDRY METHOD USING SOFT WATER
Five Suds Washing of 10 minutes each.
Seven Separate Rinsings of more than 3 minutes each

Here is the laundry method... using nearly three times as many water changes (clean water each time) and more than twice as much water for each pound of clothes. Remember too, that all washing and rinse waters are "soft" and all work done under temperature control, while it is impossible to retain an even heat of waters used in a home washer.

IT PAYS IN MANY WAYS TO SEND YOUR WASHING TO THE LAUNDRY!

FUNERAL HELD FOR MRS. S. A. COX, AGED COLORADO RESIDENT

Funeral for Mrs. S. A. Cox, 81, resident of Mitchell county nearly 25 years, were held from Pylant chapel in Colorado City at 10:30 Tuesday morning. The body was then taken overland for burial in the San Angelo cemetery beside her husband, James Polk Cox, a Confederate veteran who died in 1916.

Mrs. Cox died in a Colorado hospital at 4:30 Monday morning after an illness of several months. She broke her arm in November, 1938, and had never recovered.

Born in Bell county on June 27, 1857, Mrs. Cox was married on Feb. 10, 1876. She moved to Colorado in 1915 and had since made her home with a daughter, Miss Linnie Cox. She had belonged to the Presbyterian church since girlhood.

Seven children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Cox. Five survive. They are Mrs. Lola Loving and Linnie Cox of Colorado City; O. K. Cox of Shallowater, Texas; Mrs. T. H. Christian of Tucuman, N. M.; Ashley Cox of Ralls. Two sons, Silas Alonzo Cox and William Malchi Cox, have died. There are 19 grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren. All the children were at her bedside for a week before her death.

The funeral service at Pylant chapel was in charge of Rev. T. A. Patterson of First Baptist church assisted by Woodie Holden, minister of the Church of Christ. Graveside services were held at San Angelo. Pylant Funeral service had charge of arrangements.

TALK ON ELECTRICITY GIVEN BY TES MANAGER FOR LOCAL LIONS CLUB

"What is Behind the Switch" was the subject of a talk given at the Lions club luncheon Friday by Aubrey S. Legg of Sweetwater, district manager of the Texas Electric Service company.

Legg explained the meaning of "kilowatt hour" and other terms used in the electrical business. He gave a demonstration with lights and generator.

Luncheon guests in addition to Legg were Mayor J. A. Sadler, James Walker of Floydada, and Dr. Harrison Black, the new Episcopal rector.

Bob Battle was introduced by H. B. Spence as a new member. Bruce Hart, tax assessor-collector, was elected to membership.

RANCHERS URGED TO ATTEND MEETING ON SATURDAY AFTERNOON

All Mitchell county ranchmen are urged to attend a range meeting which will be held in the Mitchell county courtroom at 2:30 p.m., Saturday afternoon, April 22nd. The 1939 Range Program will be discussed in detail at this meeting.

The program for this year, with the exception of a few changes, is very similar to that for 1938. However, these changes are important ones, and every rancher in the county should be present to hear them explained as well as to sign a range work sheet if he intends to comply with this year's program, according to J. Wiley Holmes, county AAA administrator.

NEARLY 175 AT FFA BANQUET ON THURSDAY NIGHT

OPERATION AND AIMS OF FFA SET FORTH FOR PARENTS, TRUSTEES AND FRIENDS

Nearly 175 persons who assembled in the Colorado hotel Thursday night for the annual parent-son banquet of the Colorado High school Future Farmer chapter heard John E. Watson, superintendent of Colorado schools, describe the creeds and practices of Future Farmers as "things to live by and make a living with."

Watson declared that, with all due respect to other subjects, the vocational agriculture department has "more to show" for its work. He praised not only the practical work which Future Farmer boys do but also the training they get in appearing before the public and in associating with one another.

"You may never attain some of the ideals expressed in your FFA creeds," he told the boys, "but working for these ideals will in itself make you better men."

Watson shared speaker honors with Harry Ratliff, city attorney, who talked on "Youth Movement and Opportunity." Ratliff emphasized the need of straight thinking in solving the problems confronting the men of tomorrow. He assured the boys that there are opportunities for success in Colorado City and Mitchell county, pointing out the successful careers which have been followed by many boys who once lived on Mitchell county farms.

Ross Glover, president of the FFA chapter, presided. G. D. Foster, high school principal, gave the invocation. The chapter was opened by the officers: Glover, president; Jack Long, vice-president; J. F. McCabe, secretary; Lee Brown, reporter; J. N. Ellis, treasurer; F. C. Shillingsburg, advisor. Roll was called by McCabe, each boy answering by naming his parents or guests.

Lee Roy Thompson welcomed visitors. Charles Stevens outlined FFA membership. The FFA creed was given by Donald Burrus, Charles Vardy, Raymond Jones, Billy Erwin, and Irvin Terry, Jr.

Activity report of Truett Hamrick showed that this year the boys and their instructor have run terrace lines on 1,000 acres of land, culled 6,000 hens, made 200 feet of sub-irrigation tile, sent a group of 30 to the Fort Worth Fat Stock show, won first place in district chapter conducting contests. The chapter had 27 calves, 11 barrows, and 8 lambs in the Mitchell County Fat Stock show in February.

FFA degree requirements were given as follows: Green Hand, Jay Hooks; Future Farmer, Hubert Hall; State Farmer, James Nunn; American Farmer, Clay Smith.

The chapter's project report was given by J. F. McCabe, who showed that during the past year the boys fed 50 calves at a $1,000 profit in addition to 72 barrows, 31 brood sows, 4 brood mares, 150 hens, and 65 broilers. They cultivated 298 acres of grain sorghums and 239 acres of cotton. Total profit for the year was approximately $2,292.

Clarence Walker named J. W. Hamilton, Jay Hooks, Waddell Strain, J. F. McCabe, and Clay Smith as State Farmer prospects in the chapter. M. A. Webb described the FFA emblem.

Among visitors introduced were members of the faculty: Joe Mills, J. M. Doss, R. J. Wallace, W. W. Whipkey, and J. W. Randle, members of the school board; Joe C. Williams, county agent; Doris Flo Doss, FFA sweetheart; Mrs. Doss; Mayor J. A. Sadler; Dr. J. D. Williams; P. K. Mackey and J. P. Hestand, breeders; J. W. Young, vocational agriculture teacher from Roscoe and his wife.

DENTISTS RETURN FROM STATE DENTAL MEETING

Dr. R. D. Bridgford and Dr. W. B. May returned last Thursday from Fort Worth, where they had spent the early part of the week attending the annual convention of the Texas State Dental society. Mrs. Bridgford accompanied Dr. Bridgford.

Each of the Colorado dentists took two of the four post-graduate courses offered during the convention, learning of the latest proven developments in dentistry.

WOMEN IN THE STUDY CLUBS

Hesperian

Report which the Hesperian club will submit at the annual sixth district convention of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs in San Angelo next week was read by Mrs. Nat Thomas, official club delegate and incoming president, when the club met Friday with Mrs. S. H. Millwee.

Three members of the taxpayers committee promoting the paving bond issue urged the women to go to the polls Saturday and vote on the issue. These three were H. B. Spence, J. W. Randle, and Joe Earnest.

Mrs. Cliff M. Epps was elected a new member. A note of appreciation to Dr. Wm. S. Rhode for his recent talk on the club's health program was approved.

Mrs. Randle led the program, which featured a review of Katherine Anthony's "Louise May Alcott" by Mrs. Thomas. Hostess this week will be Mrs. Ed Majors.

Self Culture

Studying the state of Washington, the Self Culture club met Friday afternoon with Mrs. W. L. Hester at the Hutchins home in Loraine.

Mrs. Jeff A. Jones led the lesson, on which topics were handled as follows: "Rainier National Park," Mrs. Lee Phenix; "Greatest Engineering Wonder," Mrs. John Brown; "Visit San Juan Islands," Mrs. John T. Howell; "Olympic Outing," Mrs. Henry Pond.

The club voted $1 donations to each of the following funds: Perry-Cunningham scholarship, Texas Crippled Children, Big Bend park, cancer research, and music loan fund.

An ice course was served after the program. Mrs. H. M. Sanders is hostess this week.

1921 Study

Program topics based on Louise Armstrong's "We Too Are the People" were heard when the 1921 Study club met Friday with Mrs. H. B. Broadus. Leader was Mrs. J. T. Pritchett.

Those having parts on the program were as follows: "Political Situation," Mrs. P. K. Mackey; "Moral Aspect," Mrs. W. G. Hooks; "Economic Conditions," Mrs. U. G. Hardison; "Social Life," Mrs. J. M. Doss.

Plans were made to attend the district meeting in San Angelo next week. The club will meet Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock with Mrs. Chas. C. Thompson.

Shakespeare

Presented as a guest on the program, Mrs. Wylie Kinard reviewed John Steinbeck's "Of Mice and Men" for the Shakespeare club when it met with Mrs. Frank Lupton Friday.

Mrs. Harry A. Logsdon was leader. Guests in addition to Mrs. Kinard were Mrs. Freddie Vandeventer and Mrs. Clyde Young.

Plans were made for the luncheon which will close the club year. The luncheon will be held at the home of Mrs. Lois Prude Bennett, but the date is yet to be set.

Mrs. Young assisted Mrs. Lupton in serving refreshments. Mrs. W. R. Motley is to be hostess this Friday.

Standard

Mrs. P. C. Coleman reviewed Lloyd C. Douglas' "Disputed Passage" for the Standard club when it met with Mrs. C. M. Adams on Friday.

A report was submitted by the year book committee.

Mrs. J. E. Pond of Odessa, an honorary member of the club, was present. Refreshments were served to 10 members.

Mrs. R. D. Buchanan is to be hostess this week at the Adams home.

Zelagathian

A review of Sigrid Undset's "The Faithful Wife" was given by Mrs. Johnnie Prude when the Zelagathians met Friday with Mrs. Eddie Pyland. A new member, Mrs. R. D. Favor, was present. Plans were made to send several members to the district federation meeting in San Angelo.

ROGERS RAMBLINGS

TO THE MERCHANTS OF COLORADO: We wish to thank each merchant of Colorado for the interest they have shown in regard to our school. May they always prosper as the years roll away.

TO OUR COMMUNITY: We feel safe when we say that we have the most splendid group of people that is to be found to work with. We thank each of you for the small and large things that have been accomplished through your help and cooperation.

TO THE STUDENTS OF OUR SCHOOL: We think that we have about the best, if not the best, group of pupils enrolled in any school anywhere. We, as teachers, have enjoyed working with them in the schoolroom this year, and out of the schoolroom their attitudes have been the best. We've all had our "ups and downs" but we have always come out on the "top" together.

Saturday, April 15, the seventh grade English class was entertained with a picnic sponsored by their English teacher, Mrs. Byrd. About 10 o'clock the group left for a hike and a picnic on the Colorado river. After lunch we started the afternoon off just right by fixing a nice flat. Then as our boys were to play a

SCHOOL NEWS

"Always make the most of yourself for that is all there is of you."

As our school year has come to a close we wish to take this opportunity to thank each and everyone for the splendid cooperation we have received during this school year. We feel that you have made our school the success that it's been and with the patrons for next year that we have had for this year we feel that we shall have another year of successful activities.

Do not forget that Friday night, April 21, we shall present our program for your entertainment and we do want to see each of your present. We promise an evening of good amusement, so come and see just what we have for you.

Our pupils of the seventh grade have prepared parts for the program in our little school for the last time as this will be their last year with us. Now we wish to give them a gentle reminder to go with them the remainder of their school terms no matter where they might happen to attend school next year, and forever.

We hope that the school year for everyone has been as pleasant as it has been for us.

Don't forget our program for Friday night! We are to have a special speaker here whom each of you will enjoy. Come and enjoy for the last time this year, a good school program!

NANCY PRICE'S ESSAY ON 'IDLING' WINS FIRST PLACE AT DISTRICT LEAGUE MEET

An essay on "Idling" by Nancy Price won first place for Colorado high school in Class A of senior ready writing at the district inter-scholastic league meet in Sweetwater last Friday and Saturday.

Nancy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Price, is a junior in Colorado High school. Her prize-winning essay follows:

There I sat upon the witness's chair. Was I guilty? Was I not? Such a question was to be decided promptly, and I felt my heart sink as the dignified judge began his reign in solemn splendor. A silence fell over the court room when I began my plea for mercy. It was not just a plea for myself—no, an appeal for countless millions who were in the same state as I. The people were trying me to ascertain whether or not my record as an "idler" was justifiable. To make my meaning clearer, I must say that there is another word for idling, which I believe is more commonly used: most persons think of it as loafing. But, does such action—or lack of action—pay? This question would be decided at once. Graphically I related my story:

"When I was small—that is almost ancient history now, it seems—I was taught many things which were supposed to influence my later life. Among them were the following proverbs, or maxims: 'Never put off until tomorrow what you can do today.' 'All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy.' I took them to heart, and during my school life, I was exceedingly industrious. I am glad of that; I have no regrets that I made the Honor Roll every month. But now my attitude, with my age, has changed.

"Do not think that I have become absolutely prejudiced to work. I have not. I believe in work, and in the combination of capital and the consolidation of labor." But, I have taken up the fine art of loafing as my one avocation. Perchance it may not be one of the fine arts, yet it has its good points.

"An avocation or hobby is supposed to be an occupation to diversify one from his regular labors. Some choose stamp collecting; others pick autograph hunting. But, show me a cheaper hobby than loafing. It may be done anywhere—in the street corners, at home, in the subway—and it may occur at any convenient time—winter, summer, night, or morning. As a source for imaginative and original ideas, loafing has illimitable prospects. No particular posture must be taken to engage in this constantly growing occupation. It has been known to bring out the nonchalant qualities in people who, previously, had voices that cracked as thin ice and whose eyes burned as blue gas jets. And, idling is not a menace to humanity, if it is conducted on the right scale. Too much of anything is harmful. To me, its possibilities are as varied as the colors in a Scotch plaid."

At the conclusion of this dramatic exhortation, I breathlessly awaited the decision of the jury.

As I yet wonder about the outcome, make your own verdict. Sometimes, does not idling pay?

'Wife, Husband And Friend,' Gay Romance Stars Loretta Young

LAUGH-FILLED NEW FILM IS COMEDY OF DELIGHTFUL FOURSOME

Slambang comedy and rollicking romance will be the order of the day when 20th Century-Fox's "Wife, Husband and Friend," which co-stars Loretta Young and Warner Baxter, comes rolling into the Palace theatre on Friday and Saturday, April 21 and 22.

Reported to be a delicious romance filled with unrestrained gaiety and sparkling wit, the new film finds the lovely Loretta Young teamed with Warner Baxter for the second time by Darryl F. Zanuck, production chief of 20th Century-Fox. They last appeared together in "Wife, Doctor and Nurse," one of last season's outstanding comedy hits. It was in response to thousands of letters received by the studio that Mr. Zanuck decided that only an encore would satisfy the fans. The story of "Wife, Husband and Friend" concerns itself with the hilarious misunderstandings which result when a lovely wife, who has loads of money, a beautiful home and a grand husband, decides that she wants one thing more. A career as a singer.

The film is based on a novel by James M. Cain, famous novelist who wrote such best-sellers as "The Postman Always Rings Twice" and "Serenade." Since "Wife, Husband and Friend" is gay comedy set against a modern background of alluring music, Darryl Zanuck looked about for the director who, by his own experience and proven talent, would be best suited to handle the megaphone. He found him in Gregory Ratoff, famous Russian character actor and comedian, turned director.

Immediately Ratoff received his assignment he set about seeing that the stars got the right atmosphere for the picture by escorting them both to a number of concerts in Los Angeles.

As music is one of Ratoff's ruling passions, he paid careful attention to it in the picture. He secured Vladimir Bakalainikoff to play the role of conductor of the opera orchestra. Bakalainikoff was one of the biggest musical figures in Czarist Russia, having once been conductor of the Imperial Opera. Another acquisition for an opera scene, which turns out with hilarious and unexpected results was Ludovico Tomarchio who, in his 27 years on the opera stage, sang with such stars as Caruso, Tito Ruffo, Bonelli, Marinelli, Lucrezia Bori and others.

The supporting cast of "Wife, Husband and Friend" features Binnie Barnes, Cesar Romero, George Barbier, J. Edward Bromberg, Eugene Pallette and Helen Westley. Nunnally Johnson, associate producer, wrote the screen play. The music was written by Samuel Pokrass and the lyrics by Walter Bullock and Armando Hauser.

Dr. Kellems' ship, Pandora, will have sailed in the Pacific, Arctic and Atlantic oceans before it drops anchor here next fall.

'Three Smart Girls Grow-Up'; Winniger Superb In Durbin Film

What is said to be the most pleasing picture in which Deanna Durbin has ever appeared, Universal's "Three Smart Girls Grow Up," comes to the Palace theatre Saturday midnight, Sunday and Monday, April 22, 23 and 24.

Deanna became a full fledged star with her first picture, "Three Smart Girls." It was followed by "100 Men and a Girl," "Mad About Music" and "That Certain Age." Each picture was hailed by critics as a better one than its predecessor. Now critics and preview audiences are claiming that "Three Smart Girls Grow Up" is the best of the five.

Directed by Henry Koster, who directed "Three Smart Girls" and "100 Men and a Girl," the current offering is a happy reminder of "Three Smart Girls." It presents approximately the same cast—Deanna, Charles Winniger, Nella Walker, Charles Macklin, and Ernest Cossart, with the addition of Helen Parrish, Bob Cummings and William Lundigan.

It will present Deanna as a slightly older youngster who tries to straighten out the tangled love affairs of her two sisters, with amusing and amazing results. With this plot it is much more of a comedy than any of the 16-year-old singing star's previous offerings.

In the picture Deanna sings four songs, "Invitation to the Dance," by Weber, with a special vocal arrangement by Charles Henderson; "The Last Rose of Summer," from Florenz's opera, "Martha"; "La Capinera" (The Wren), by Sir Julius Benedict; and "Because," by Edward Tschemacher and Guy D'Hardelet. Deanna will be seen as the daughter of a multi-millionaire, and for the first time wears an extensive wardrobe.

The story is an original by Bruce Manning and Felix Jackson.

Frame gardens which fulfill long-felt need in county growing in popularity

Frame gardens are becoming popular in Mitchell county, according to Vara Crippen, county home demonstration agent.

Miss Crippen points out that such gardens meet a long-felt need in West Texas, where gardens of the past have been planted only during "garden season" and then only in the hope that sandstorms, hail, or freezing weather would hold off until they could mature.

"With the frame garden one can have fresh vegetables during the entire year with very little risk of loss," Miss Crippen says.

For quick-growing vegetables such as carrots, spinach, tendergreens, radishes, parsley, Swiss chard, rape, beets, and lettuce Miss Crippen recommends a frame garden about five feet wide and as long as is needed for the family needs. The ground is spaded up about a foot deep and mixed liberally with well-rotted fertilizer. The frame is made of 1-by-12 inch boards, nailed together at the corners to enclose the space which has been spaded up.

A cover is made of a cheap grade muslin, thin enough to admit the rays of the sun. The cover is left on all the time to protect the vegetables from such hazards as hail, extreme cold, sandstorms, extreme heat, and other conditions which cause garden failure.

Such a garden may be planted five times during the year, usually the first time in February, then in April, June, September, and October. This makes heavy production on a small plot. Sub-irrigation, using tin cans, and old pieces of pipe, or cement tile, is advantageous.

Mrs. Volley Johnson of Hyman has a garden 5x30 feet in which she has planted Swiss chard, Chinese cabbage, rape, spinach, tendergreens, turnip greens, mustard, beets, tomatoes, egg plant, bell peppers, carrots, and onions. She has had greens all winter.

Other Hyman women having such gardens are Mrs. Frank Andrews, Mrs. Carl Lowry, Mrs. Ivan Lane, Mrs. Frank Stewart, Mrs. Crawford, Mrs. Otto Schuster, and Mrs. Edgar Andrews. Mrs. Lowry has had lettuce and tendergreens all winter from her 5x14 foot garden.

Elsewhere in the county there are frame gardens as follows: In the Westbrook section, Mrs. Sam Bullock, Mrs. D. J. Barber, Mrs. Witt Hines, Mrs. F. L. Ekenberg, and Mrs. Jake Rees; in the Fairview community, Mrs. Will Berry, Mrs. H. A. Pond, and Mrs. J. B. Emfinger; in the McKenzie community, Mrs. Ed Snowden, Mrs. Ruth Stubblefield, Mrs. Odom, and Hugh Padgett.

TWO COLORADO GOLFERS IN SWEETWATER TOURNEY LOSE TO THE CHAMPION

It took the champion to defeat two of the four Colorado golfers who qualified for the Lake Sweetwater invitational tournament last week-end.

E. C. Nix, whose low qualifying score of 75 didn't count for the medalist trophy because he had to qualify before Thursday, went to the second round of the championship flight, defeating J. T. Hammett of San Antonio, defending champion, one up in the first round. W. Wendland of San Antonio, who became champion, defeated Nix 7-6 in the second round of the championship flight.

James Pritchett, also playing in the championship flight with a qualifying score of 78, lost to Wendland in the first round.

Lee Dorn went to the third round of the first flight, defeating O'Neal Rocky of Muleshoe 5-4 in the first round and Henry Rogers, Sr., of Sweetwater 1 up in the second round. He lost to Harris Toler in the third round. Percy Bond, also in the first flight, lost his first round match 4-3.

Among Coloradans attending the final matches Sunday were J. A. Pickens, Sefton Pickens, R. H. Barber, Billy Barber, Mr. and Mrs. Q. D. Shepperd, and others.

DR. MAY GETS RED CROSS INFORMATION

Dr. W. B. May, Mitchell county chairman of the American Red Cross, has received the following announcement from national headquarters:

"From Constitution Hall, on Monday, April 24, 9:30 to 10 a.m., CST, both the National Broadcasting company Blue and the Mutual Broadcasting company networks will broadcast Chairman Norman H. Davis' opening address before approximately 3,000 delegates attending the 18th annual convention of the American Red Cross in Washington, D. C.

"Secretary of State Cordell Hull's talk at the convention dinner at the Mayflower Hotel on Tuesday, April 25, will be carried from coast to coast by the Mutual Broadcasting System and to Europe and South America by short wave. Hull, whose subject as yet has not been announced, will speak from 8:30 to 9 p.m., CST."

EARTH 'INVADES' PLANETS

NEW YORK.—Time and space will appear to have been annihilated at the New York World's Fair 1939. The planets Venus, Saturn and Mars will seem to move within a man's reach and the Sun will pass into a spectacular eclipse. In the Theatre of Time and Space, visitors will travel in a "rocket-ship" at the speed of 480,000,000,000,000,000 miles per hour.

AID FOR FAIR VISITORS

NEW YORK.—More than 100 nurses will assist a corps of physicians at ten first-aid stations on the grounds of the New York World's Fair 1939. Despite accident prevention measures, Fair officials estimate that 40,000 of the 60,000,000 visitors will receive some degree of medical service.

LIFE IN "DEMOCRACY"

NEW YORK.—In "Democracy," the ideal city of the future, contained within the Perisphere of the New York World's Fair 1939, no one will "live in town." The model was planned on a scale to contain a working population of 250,000. Residents are housed in a rim of garden apartments, suburban developments and nearby towns.

"Every Winter had Terrible Colds"
Nurse's Grateful Letter
"I want to thank you for the wonderful cough and cold medicine, BUCKLEY'S MIXTURE. I bought the first bottle last winter, for the old gentleman whom I am taking care of, for he had had terrible colds every winter. The first dose helped, and after the third dose cold was gone. It does such quick work." Mrs. C. Davis.
Don't take chances, for even the most stubborn, racking cough swiftly yields to the powerful influence of BUCKLEY'S MIXTURE (triple acting), the largest selling medicine for coughs, colds and bronchitis in all of old Canada. Get a small bottle at any drugist anywhere. Safe and satisfaction guaranteed always.

PICKED UP ALONG THE NEWS PATH

Credit for originating the suggestion that Colorado's name might profitably be changed back to Colorado City seems to belong to Joe H. Smoot of the City National bank. . . . We didn't know this until Frank Reeves, Sr., of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram got to ferreting around in town Monday and brought the fact to light. . . . We were duly ashamed that an out-of-towner had to tell us. . . . Mr. Reeves' ability to bring out such overlooked facts helps to account for his being where he is on the newspaper ladder. . . . While in town Monday he worked up some data and snapped some pictures to be used in a feature story on the town's recent name change. . . . Incidentally, he expressed himself as favoring the change, saying that it will give our town a certain distinctiveness and will highlight the rich historical background which is one of our main assets.

Fame may come to a certain little tale which Ford Merritt is credited with having originated several years ago—and we hope that Ford's feelings won't be hurt over our saying "originated." . . . The tale is being used by A. E. McClain, R & R manager, when he defends the honor of West Texas in a liars' contest being held Thursday afternoon in connection with the R & R convention in Dallas. . . . Ford used to tell the story when he worked in the drug store with "Mid" Doss. . . . He had a rusted dog chain and worn collar laying about to bait folks into asking the why and wherefore, and then he'd tell his story with all the dry, soft-spoken seriousness for which he is more or less famous. . . . "You remember that bird-dog Mid lost several years ago?" Ford would say, and that was a laugh in itself, because those who know Mid Doss also know that he long ago lost count of his missing bird dogs. . . . "Well," Ford would continue, "this collar and chain belonged to that dog, and—" Then came the tale about how the dog was so crazy about quail-hunting that one day when Doss and others had been hunting near the Chester Jones ranch at Vincent the dog tore his chain loose from the car and ran away to continue his hunting, chain, collar and all. . . . He never could be found. . . . Years passed. . . . One day a group of hunters walking over the back side of the Jones ranch came upon a dog's skeleton. . . . Around the bones of the neck were the collar and the chain later identified by Doss as having been worn by his missing bird dog. . . . The dog bones lay in a perfect point—nose out, tail straight behind, front foot lifted. . . . And a few feet in front of the dog's nose bones lay the bones of a covey of quail. . . . Dog and birds had starved to death on the point. . . .

State-wide publicity recently given the 79th birthday of "Uncle Fred" Whippkey, The Record's founder, senior publisher, and columnist, brought him some interesting letters. . . . One was from Dr. J. D. Sanderfer, president of Hardin-Simmons university at Abilene, who said, among other things: "I, too, have had a birthday. . . . Yours seem to grow further apart and mine grow closer together. If this is true, and it continues long enough, I will catch up with you and we will ride the rest of the way together. . . . Come down and give our journalism classes the benefit of your wide and interesting experiences. You are really a great man and do not know it. . . . Tom L. McCullough, president of

The Praetorians in Dallas, wrote, "I am glad to know that you are still carrying on in your beloved profession. . . . I am glad to learn of you and would be interested to know more about the family." . . . The McCulloughs and Whippkeys were friends back in Waco about the turn of the century. . . .

At least one Colorado City voter went to the polls "in state" to vote on the paving bond issue Saturday. . . . That one was J. Ralph Lee, who used a Kiker & Son ambulance to get from the hospital to the city hall before the polls closed. . . . Lee, as you know, is convalescing from major surgery. . . . A city ordinance prevented the ballot from being carried to Lee at the hospital, but those in charge of the election did offer to bring a ballot out to the ambulance. . . . "No, sir," stated Mr. Lee, "if they can't bring it to the hospital they can't bring it out here, I'm going in." So in he went—which is what he wanted to do all the time, you bet. . . . It was suggested to the stretcher carriers that they might inquire half way from the ambulance to the city hall door as to which way Mr. Lee was going to vote, and if they didn't like his answer they could just drop him right there. . . .

Speaking of J. Ralph Lee, his teasing and joking proclivities have had full play since he began convalescing. . . . When he's up and about they have to be squelched at times in favor of business, but not so now. . . . He's gotten so bad that folks are recalling the time when someone asked Rodney Lee, then a little shaver, where his father was. . . . Rodney replied, "He's around at the postoffice, teasing."

We toss an orchid (play-like) to the N. H. Whites, Jake Richardson, and others for the way they're getting out "The Challenge," weekly voice of the Col-Tex Warehouse. . . . You'll note that we used the plural in referring to the Whites, and that's just as it should be. . . . White does a swell job of writing and editing, but the energetic, enthusiastic getting-about of his diminutive wife is an asset not to be overlooked. . . . She's what would be known as a "leg man" on a large daily—you know, the fellow who does the running. . . . Each issue of The Challenge includes, among other things, two thumbnail personality sketches, one on a prominent Colorado City resident, the other on a Col-Tex dealer somewhere in the county. . . . These are really good, bringing to light interesting things about the lives of people who haven't heretofore been "written up" very much. . . . We read these each week with a mingling of admiration, chagrin, and relief. . . . The admiration is for worthy news writing, well done. . . . The chagrin is for the way we've been overlooking story material right under our eyes all these years. . . . The relief is for the fact that the N. H. Whites and their co-workers are putting out a news sheet as a side line, not as a business. . . . They're far too good to be comfortable competition!

The remark that Colorado City "must have something" in the English departments of its school system was made in Abilene last Saturday by one of West Texas' leading educators after Colorado High school had just won first place in the district ready writing contest for the second consecutive year. . . . Catherine Sigel won first in both district and regional last year, it will be recalled, and then placed among the high three in the state. . . . This year Nancy Price took first place for Colorado High school in the district. . . .

Smatterings: Among the things I'd like to have—a back yard with poplar trees in it, like the E. R. Bibbys have. . . . The young Brady Warrens have raised themselves about 600 chickens. . . . And 600 chickens take some raising, if you did but know it! . . . Summer time will be camp time for Joan Mills, daughter of the Joe B. Mills, and Phyllis Berman, daughter of the Max Bermans. . . . Both girls are going to Camp Waldemar, long-established camp for girls. . . . Ira G. Yates, the oil millionaire who died in Austin last week, was the grandfather of the wife of Martin Hines, former Coloradoan. . . . Jane Gracey, who is to be a Coloradoan after June 15, is one of the popularity and beauty queens at Hardin-Simmons university. . . . Elizabeth Hutchinson, whose engagement to Bob King was announced Tuesday, is the third girl for whom this column recently predicted April matrimony. . . .

Discovered: Sure way to non-plus a persistent salesman—hide his wares. . . . This procedure was tried out, all unintentionally but very effectively, at Root hospital the other day when the porter innocently carried away and stored some sample mops he found in the hallway. . . .

The 82nd birthday of Mrs. R. E. Grantland, former Coloradoan and mother of H. E. Grantland, was passed April 12. . . . On the occasion she was written up by Maud Green in the Nolan County News, and the story also appeared in the Abilene

How the plus of OIL-PLATING brings you more than an oil-change

You know right off that the fresh oil needed in your crankcase today, isn't to lubricate the crankcase. Either your oil is in the bearings and up to the cylinder head every turn of your engine, or your lubrication isn't 100%.

Now what's the chance for any of the general run of oils to stay up while you've parked the car, for instance? Just about as much chance as there is for a geyser to stay up all by itself! Then every time you start, don't pistons get up to the top before oil gets up from the crankcase? You kill that risk by changing now to OIL-PLATING.

The "magnetic action" of Conoco Germ Processed oil—patented—makes OIL-PLATING stay on inner engine surfaces throughout all your stops, starts and runs this Summer. Your Germ Processed oil keeps a steady hold on the "Full" mark, too, as you'll see—by changing today to Your Mileage Merchant: Continental Oil Company

Reporter-News, pictures of Mrs. Grantland accompanying both stories. . . . We hope to have room to re-copy the story some time soon. . . .

Women's hats in the current mode have been nearly as good material for jokesters this year as mothers-in-law used to be before they were glorified at Amarillo. . . . Evidently Colorado's Lions don't intend to lose a chance to have their share of fun out of the aforementioned hats, because it has been made a rule that each Lion is to come to the ladies' night entertainment Friday evening wearing "some variety of ladies' headgear." . . . The women are to wear men's hats. . . . We would still say, however, that the men have the advantage by a wide margin—unless, of course, some of them really feel too keenly about these new feminine hat styles. . . .

Some more smatterings: While at the ginners' meeting in Dallas last week, Mrs. Urda Wulfjen of Colorado City was the winner of a pressure cooker. . . . Can anybody think of an original wisecrack about how the Wulfjens will maybe have a square meal now? . . . To show just how far the news has spread that this is now Colorado City, Dr. H. E. Black, the new Episcopal rector, this week received a letter from his wife in Ocala, Florida, bearing Colorado City as an address. . . . In the letter Mrs. Black said she had seen a notice of the change in a Florida paper. . . . Jane Meskimen, whose home address is now Lubbock, and Doris O'Brien, who now hails from Stamford, appeared with the Hardin-Simmons Cowgirl band here Tuesday. . . . Both were formerly of Colorado. . . . Nina Laura Smith, student at TSCW in Denton, was in Dallas for a performance of the opera Tannhauser. . . . Friends of Royall Smith, Jr., have received word that he has just been in Greece on his Mediterranean cruise via tramp steamer. . . . Among Coloradoans who are talking trips to the New York World's Fair are rumored to be Katie Buchanan, the Jim Watsons, and others. . . .

TO THE PRESIDENT OF THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE AND ALL ITS MEMBERS:

To the Chamber of Commerce, its president, and its members, and friends, who came to visit us last Friday evening, the men and women of Hyman, who assisted in entertaining this august body, wish to take this means of expressing to them, our great appreciation of the honor they paid us by coming the 30 miles out here to get better acquainted with us. . . . It was a red letter day to us of Hyman, one of the most outstanding times we have ever had, when so many of the leading men of Colorado came here to know us better, to give us pleasure and entertainment, and it will be one long to be remembered and talked about by us Hymanites. Perhaps it will be included in our Hyman lore, and told to our grandchildren. Who can say?

We want to specially mention the enjoyment we all had in the Band, and its music and its songs. The games and questionnaire put to both Hymanites and the Colorado intelligentsia was full of pep and interest and it left us still wondering which took first honor in answering. . . . We welcomed back our friend and principal, Mr. Roy Davis Coles, who acted as toastmaster, who has a host of warm friends where he lived with his family for some year. Perhaps it was the inspiration he got out here which boosted him into the County Superintendent's office, as that office succeeded his stay with us. We of Hyman want to believe it.

To Mr. Spence and all the fine members of his organization we extend our warmest congratulations and extend to them all our deepest appreciation for coming out here, meeting us socially, knowing us better, giving us this pleasure, and so honoring us. We hope you all enjoyed it half as much as we did, that you learned to know better the splendid men and women we have in this community, that you all enjoyed the feast we set before you, and did not go home hungry, but had plenty to eat and enjoyed it, and we insist, if you really did have the good time many said they did, that you will not wait another seventeen years before you pay us another visit.

A HYMANITE WHO ENJOYED THE EVENING.

WOOLEN RICHES AT FAIR

NEW YORK.—Wood from Australia's 110,000,000 sheep will lend color to the Dominion's section at the New York World's Fair 1939. Delicate fabrics will be displayed while action exhibits will reveal how the crude product is prepared for consumption in world markets.

W.O.W. PLEASE READ

After serving as clerk for over 20 years before going to the hospital in August 1929, and as financial secretary with the same duties since December 1933, I turned over the office to R. H. (Dick) DeLaney on April 18th. You should see him at Rockwell Bros. Lumber Yard and pay your assessment for April before midnight, April 30th. I appreciate your cooperation all these years and trust you will be as loyal to Sov. DeLaney as you have been to me. I wish I had words to express my appreciation to the Colorado Record for the publicity they have given gratis all these years. They will never know what it has meant to Woodcraft, Chas. N. DeLaney is working as local deputy and you are urged to assist him all you can. Next regular meeting Tuesday 8 p.m., May 2nd. COME. ERNEST KEATHLEY.
