FUNERAL HELD FOR JOHN HENRY COOPER OF SPADE WEDNESDAY

Graveside rites were held in the Westbrook cemetery Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock for John Henry Cooper, 72, who died at the home of a nephew, Walter Wilson, near Spade on Tuesday at 1:15 p. m.

Mr. Cooper came to town Saturday and was walking back toward Spade that night when he was caught in the rain, he told relatives later.
While attempting to take refuge in an abandoned filling station on the southern outskirts of town, he tripped over a wire fence and was injured.

Afterward, he said, he went on down the road and spent the night in the Plainview church, catching a ride to Spade on Sunday. He did not become ill until Monday and was not considered seriously ill until shortly before his death.

Mr. Cooper had lived in this county about seven years. He was born in Tennessee. Listed among his survivors are two sisters, Mrs. Lily Wilson of Mineral Wells and Mrs. Annie Thaten of Port Arthur, and a brother, Clay Cooper of Oklahoma City.
Kiker and Son had charge of arrangements.

NO WHEAT EXPECTED TO BE SHIPPED HERE

For the first time in several years, no shipments of wheat out of Colorado City are expected this summer.
As the winter wheat harvest got underway in other sections, John A.
Thompson, who has heretofore been Colorado City's main wheat shipper, said, "I don't expect a car load of wheat to go out of Colorado City."

Under the government farm program Mitchell county has been allowed a very small wheat acreage.
Thompson pointed out and weather conditions have not been favorable to the little wheat which was planted with harvesting in mind.

"UNION PACIFIC" STARS STANWYCK, JOEL MCCREA

Barbara Stanwyck, in a role completely different from any she has previously attempted, and Joel McCrea, as a character strongly reminiscent of the one he portrayed last season in "Wells Fargo," are co-starring in the romantic leads of "Union Pacific." Cecil B. DeMille's grand scale interpretation of the building of America's first transcontinental railroad.

Although the popular Miss Stanwyck has played roles as varied as Middle Western farm-woman, New England factory wench and Park Avenue debutante, her Mollie Monahan in "Union Pacific," which Paramount will show Saturday midnight, Sunday and Monday, June 3, 4, and 5, at the Palace theatre, marks something totally new in the Stanwyck repertoire. She is daring, warm-hearted, fiery girl of the West, the daughter of the "U. P.'s" first engineers, the postmistress of "end of track" and little sister of the husky railroad-buffers. She is equally at home outwitting Western sharpers, comforting the homesick Irish laborers, battling Indians on the warpath or engaging in high-powered romance.

Mollie's romantic interest in "Union Pacific" is one Jeff Butler (played by the handsome McCrea), a brave and reckless trouble-shooter whom the Washington government has assigned to help keep order along the right-of-way. The two meet at "end of track," the gaudy, bawling settlement that moves ever westward with the railroad, and their romance moves as swiftly forward as the phenomenal railroad itself.

Although Indian attacks, corrupt officials and hostile nature can all be dealt with, Mollie and Jeff meet a real difficulty in Dick Allen (Robert Preston), a smooth young Western adventurer who has teamed up with a crowd of sharpers to sabotage the railroad. In love with Mollie, Dick has the double incentive of ruining Jeff's work and stealing his sweetheart at the same time.

When the irresponsible Dick goes so far as to help rob a pay train, upon which the "U. P." vitally depends, the good-hearted Mollie marries him to save him from the law. But before the railroad is finished Dick's own crimes remove him from the scene, leaving the track of romance clear for Jeff.

A dozen other popular Hollywood players will be seen in equally unusual roles in De Mille's production. Akim Tamiroff, the roistering Russian actor, is "Pista," a rowdy Mexican railroad cop who brings his own kind of law and order to the West at the point of a bullwhip. Lynne Overman holds up the comedy end of the picture as a hard-as-nails fur-trapper and pioneer. Brian Donley is the sharper who is hired by financiers to sabotage the project.

RAFT, ELLEN DREW CAST IN RACE FILM

The newest starring team to come out of Hollywood—George Raft and Ellen Drew—lead the cast of Paramount's thrilling romantic drama of the race track, "The Lady From Kentucky," which shows at the Palace Friday and Saturday, June 2 and 3.

The story immediately establishes George Raft for just what he is—a gentleman of old Kentucky who has inherited her father's racing stable. Rounding out the cast are Hugh Herbert, the droll comic, who finds plenty of opportunity to indulge in his unique variety of comedy, and Zasu Pitts, in one of the best roles of her career as a Southern belle.

Columbia Film, "Blind Alley", Reveals Why Killers Kill

Something entirely new in crime films, Columbia's "Blind Alley" comes Sunday and Monday, June 4 and 5 to the Ritz theatre, combining smashing action with a subtle mental conflict which has been hailed as unique in motion picture history. This drama of a ruthless gunman who becomes an unwitting "patient" of a skilled psychologist created Broadway history as a play; as a motion picture, retaining the full force of the stage hit, "Blind Alley" has already become one of the most widely discussed pictures of the year, as well as one of the most thrilling.

Brilliantly enacted by Chester Morris, Ralph Bellamy and Ann Dvorak, with a supporting cast which includes Rose Stradner, Joan Perry, Melville Cooper, John Eldridge and Marc Lawrence, "Blind Alley" is a tense startling study in modern psychiatry and in modern murder.

Bellamy and Morris are the protagonists of the film. Bellamy is seen as a young professor of psychology, entertaining several guests one evening at his secluded lakeside home. Morris appears as a notorious killer who has broken jail earlier the same evening.

Bellamy, his wife and his guests are peaceably working out personal destinies when suddenly the home is invaded by Morris, accompanied by three of his mob. The gunman takes over the house, to await a motorboat that is to ferry him to freedom. A skilled psychologist, Bellamy probes the killer's subconscious mind. Morris prompted by his vanity responds. Soon, as he stnds completely revealed to himself, Morris is a greatly changed figure, and the ensuing events and climax are truly startling. "Blind Alley" was directed by Charles Vidor.

Southern belle he has met—Zasu Pitts.

The picture reaches its logical climax in the thrilling racing scenes. Photographed on one of the best tracks in the country, they are said to surpass anything which has ever been seen on the screen for sheer action and drama. Sport lovers will find them authentic in every detail, and sports lovers and just plain moviegoers alike will find them as thrilling as any other scenes they have ever witnessed on the screen.

"The Lady From Kentucky" was directed by Alexander Hall from a screen-play by Malcolm Stuart Boylan, based upon an original by Rowland Brown.

FACTS FAVOR FORD

1 The 1939 Ford V-8 is a beautiful, modern motor car. Its 85-horsepower engine gives you economical, well-balanced performance over the entire speed range — and the 60-horsepower engine is even more economical.

2 The structural strength of the Ford car — frame, bracing, axles, body — makes not only for safety, but durability and long life.

3 Ford hydraulic brakes are exceptionally large and strong in proportion to car weight.

4 The Ford car is stabilized for comfortable riding. Its springbase, the distance between front and rear suspension, is 123 inches. Seats are toward the center, perfectly balanced. The car does not bob or dip and can have very little sway.

These four points — power, strength, safety, comfort — are by far the most important essentials in any motor car. They form the basic value of your investment.

With this solid foundation to build on, the Ford V-8 has been made beautiful, spacious, easy to drive. It is richly upholstered and has all the modern features which add to the luxury and pleasure of motoring.

You can see these things when you take a trial drive, but do not forget that the main value is in the things you do not readily see — quality of materials, precision of manufacture, fundamental engineering.

Summer 'n' Fishin' 'n' Stuff

Angleworms... twisted pin... piece of string... willow branch. It all spells summer, which makes its official bow to North America on June 22.

ANGLING LOOKS UP—The rains are a source of satisfaction to us anglers. We can more reasonably hope for some success in our efforts through the summer. If you care for fishing, if you have at all the spirit of the true angler, you cannot see full lakes and streams without distinct pleasure—or even a surge of joy. The sight of lakes pushing far up into coves and inlets, with stumps and trees standing well out in the water, never will fail to bring a host of stirring suggestions to the mind of an angler.

Full lakes and streams mean better fishing conditions, we have some reason to believe, and certainly we wish to believe. But we need not look for any marked and permanent improvement in fishing and hunting so long as the regulation of those matters rests in the hands of the state legislature.

Rejection of measures that are essential to any effective wildlife development and conservation cannot be justly and intelligently defended. It is a sorry state of affairs that we have—one in which power to determine much that has significant relationship to stagnation or progress, as the case may be, must be allowed to rest with those who are motivated and guided by stupid notions and prejudices rather than by judicial considerations.

It is too bad, my fellow sportsmen, that we must stand by and see the continuation of something indefensible, and obviously detrimental to the interests of all who seek pleasure and recreation by turning to some of Nature's resources. But the day is coming when those who attempt to block progress will be pushed firmly aside, and men of more understanding and more worthy purpose will help establish conditions that will provide opportunities for healthful and wholesome enjoyment such as thousands and tens of thousands want, and should have.

GOLDEN RULE LIVING WOULD SOLVE WORLD PROBLEMS

The whole world is in a turmoil and many wise men of the day are seeking, or pretending to seek, a way to better our conditions. The fact of the matter is, however, these great ones, intoxicated with their own sense of importance and desire for self-aggrandizement, are only helping to make bad matters worse. Hence, we have the new deal, crop control, fireside chats, committees of investigation, etc. Yet conditions do not make a noticeable improvement.

There is a good reason for this and the most lowly preacher in the land knows it. Two thousand years ago that meek and self-effacing Nazarene carpenter taught the only true way of life. He taught: "Seek ye first the kingdom of heaven and His righteousness, and all these things shall be added unto you." And, "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind, and with all thy strength." Also, "Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself."

Let the nation as a whole begin to really follow the instructions laid down by this great Teacher, and the depression would end with startling abruptness. Furthermore, we would be a shining example for the power-worshipping rulers across the waters to follow.

What a pity that the leaders of our country with their great following do not give their efforts to furthering the teachings of Jesus. What vast good they could do by thus striking the very foundation of evil and woe!

Governor O'Daniel in a recent radio broadcast timidly hinted at the right path. The unfortunate part of it was, he asked the people to go somewhere and join the church. As if there were nothing more to living a renewed life other than joining some church! Joining the church is to be commended if there has been a change of heart first. Otherwise, little has been accomplished. For that same self-effacing Carpenter also taught, "Except a man be born again, he cannot see the kingdom of God." There must be a complete change of heart!

In setting down the foregoing, it is not the desire nor the intention of the writer to lead anyone to believe him to be a paragon; he is just an ordinary man, possessing his share of human frailties, knowing, however, that what he has written is the truth.

Some say that the foregoing is an idealistic state that can never be. This may be true. Nevertheless, unless and until this state is reached by humanity the present conditions will remain as they are, with a great possibility of getting worse.

On the other hand, should the people of the nation as a whole each begin loving ones neighbor as one's self—"As ye would, therefore, that others should do to you, do ye even so unto them"—what a vast change we would undergo! Relief and unemployment would soon be things of the past; the jails could be made into apartment houses, and the penitentiaries could be turned into institutions of learning!

A POPULAR TOPIC—Of the topic which daily gives countless tongues, not brains, strenuous exercise, one of the most popular is the weather. If all the remarks and comments relative to weather which one may hear day in and day out were boiled down to essential substance, what do you think that would be? One sentence—and not a very complicated one—would state it.

A SERMON ON HOPE AND LIFE

HOPE—Our hope is not in education. Roman Catholics have a way of saying that ignorance is the mother of devotion. It has been well replied, however, that ignorance is not the mother of anything but other little ignorances. Certainly we are interested in education, and it will be a dark and gloomy day when we lose our passionate enthusiasm for intellectual and cultural pursuits. The great colleges and universities of our land owe their very origin to the beneficence of Christian men, and are largely supported with Christian money, although, sad to say, some have departed from the Christian faith. While the Holy Spirit may have an affinity for a trained mind, and God puts no premium on ignorance, yet our hope is not in education per se. Grecian scholars wrote documents 2,000 years ago that are classics today. The Roman Forum rocked to the applause of an eloquence never surpassed. But philosophers and educators have often sown the seeds of national corruption and decay, and frequently the most thoroughly educated have been the most thoroughly selfish and degraded. On the sophisticated altars of higher education, again and again has the truth of God been sacrificed to the pagan deities of lust, uncleanness and debauchery. Education can dispel the cloud of ignorance but it cannot dispel the thick cloud of sin—that sin which snares men and nations.

LIFE—According to the Bible, life is a race, and a pilgrimage, and a journey, and a battle. It is a shuttle in a loom, an arrow in its flight, and a tale that is told. It is a garden to cultivate, a vapor that soon vanishes. It is an ocean voyage. It is no new or strange figure to liken life unto the rolling sea with its grandeur, majesty any mystery. Sometimes calm and quiet, sometimes disturbed and anxious; sometimes peaceful and attractive, and sometimes tumultuous and foreboding, the sea is an appropriate symbol in which is reflected the various experiences and the corresponding emotions of human life. "They that go down to the sea in ships, that do business in great waters; these see the works of the Lord, and His wonders in the deep. For He commandeth, and raiseth the stormy wind, which lifteth up the waves thereof. They mount up to the heaven, they go down again to the depths; their soul is melted because of trouble. They reel and are for a stagger like a drunken man, and are at their wit's end. Then they cry unto the Lord in their trouble, and He bringeth them out of their distresses. He maketh the storm a calm, so that the waves thereof are still. Then are they glad because they be quiet; so He bringeth them unto their desired haven." Psalm 107:23-30.

It is not easy to face life. With its diseases and hatreds and wars and calamities, it is often like surly waves and contrary winds. But filled with forebodings and anxieties, stalwart Christian mariners look away unto Jesus and, bless God, we find in Him the Captain of our Salvation, an anchorage both sure and steadfast, fullness of joy, pleasures forevermore, and the perfection of earthly and heavenly felicity.

COOPERATION

I have been reminded lately of a story we used to read in the early classes in our schools in my home country.

One morning the Eyes of the body got tired of seeing, and refused to open. The Hands got the notion that they should not work all the time, and refused to wash the face or to stoke the stomach. The idea of a longer rest suited the Legs also. They could not understand why they alone should have to carry the Body around all the time. The Arms could not see why they should do all the hard work, and have none of the fun the Ears had, that could listen to the sweet singing of the birds and the happy voices of other boys and girls. The quarrel went on several rounds.

I do not remember the details, but I remember the idea back of the story, and that, after all, is the main thing with any story. Every limb of the body, every organ of it, evidently got the notion that it was "IT." The idea of all of them working together upon the orders of some of them was ridiculous.

I presume that my reader does not have to be told that the attitude that the different members of the body took that morning well nigh proved disastrous to the body. It got nowhere, it could not be washed, or clothed or fed, or do anything else, while that quarrel was going on. We say it is a fable, but we should admit that, as men and women grown, we should long ago learned the lesson of it. Have we done that?

We have a government of "blocks" it looks like. Every block wants to have its way independent of what happens to the other block. Look at the spectacle in Washington just now and for the last number of years. Merchants, Bankers, Farmers, Manufacturers, Brewers, Laborers, Veterans, Big-Navy men, small Army-men, Oil dickers, and what have you? Each one for himself, first, last and all the time, and the devil may take the hindmost, if he can put up with him in his abode.

The same thing in the different States. Representatives of Farmers writing in the newspapers belaboring the City-man, who seemingly gets up in meeting and has his say, and so it goes.

"I am right and you other fellows are wrong."
"I have the worst of this deal, and always have had, while all you others are favored."

"I always come out at the small end of the bargain."
"I am the fellow that needs protection, but I am against this horrible paternalism in Government," etc., and so forth, ad nauseum.

Every member of the body politic thinking himself "IT."
And what do you know? Even in moral issues, so called, this idea runs true to form. The noisiest bunch are it. The poor fellows who have not been able to "pickle" themselves in alcohol because of "pesky" laws put over by dry fools, think they are it today. They have been baying at the moon so long they think they have got the church-going crowd on the run, so it does not count any more. To the "wet" every "dry" is a narrow-minded fool, who does not count. And to the "dry" every "wet" is an old soak, and there you are.

At the bottom of this whole mess is the failure to understand that there are at least two sides to every question, one right, the other wrong. The solution of this problem is to get together and see the common interest that is depending upon the right solution to every issue. Nothing will every remain settled, between individuals or groups, until it is settled right. That's an old truism.

In the fable I tried to quote, the limbs soon saw their mistaken attitudes and got together to live happily in close cooperation and enjoyable fellowship, each one doing its duty to the best of its ability, for the good of them all.

Members of communities must learn that lesson. The blocks in the legislative assemblies of different nations must learn it. The different nations, in their attitudes to one another, cannot afford to forget it. It is not dependence of the weak upon the strong, it is not complete independence of one another, it is interdependence we must have between nations as well as between individuals.

THE ONE MINUTE SERMON

It is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle, than for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of God.

And they were astonished out of measure, saying among themselves, who then can be saved?

And Jesus looking upon them saith, with men it is impossible, but not with God: for with God all things are possible.—St. Mark 10: 25 through 27.

A rule forbidding marriage of U. S. air corps reserve officers has been delayed until next year, because some of the boys have already promised to wed. After all, as long as they won't give up their uniforms, it would be a shame to make them back out for the other guys.

CARR NEWS

CARR ORGANIZES A LITERARY SOCIETY

The people of the Carr community met last Thursday night, May 25, and organized a literary society. The purpose is for entertainment in the community.

The officers were elected as follows: president, Taft Morris; vice-president, Mrs. Lynn Halbert; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Bobbie Rees; critic, Homer Gregory, and reporter, Kenneth York.

Myrtle Turner, Mrs. Lynn Halbert and Mrs. Bobbie Rees were nominated to plan the entertainment for June 15.

The first entertainment is scheduled for Thursday night, June 1.

Nelda Joe York has been visiting relatives in Midland the past two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Barney Hightower and family of Midland visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Hightower and family over the week-end. Donald York returned home with them.

Mariam Gregory visited her parents Sunday.

Rev. Young of Big Spring preached at the Baptist church Sunday morning and night.

Ila Lee York visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Eikenburg a while Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Byrd and family, Myrtle Turner, and Merrell Adams went fishing down on the Concho river over the week-end. Sybil Joe Claxton visited Viola Turner Sunday.

Dewey Turner spent Saturday night and Sunday with Clarence Lightfoot of Rogers.

The Detroit river sometimes is called the "Dardanelles of the New World."

FARM RADIOS TUNE IN ON WALLACE'S SPEECH

Many farm radios of Mitchell county were tuned last Friday morning to stations carrying a talk made by Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace in Little Rock, Arkansas, at the AAA program.

Wallace asked for national support for the subsidy program, pledging the administration to reduce surpluses and increase farm incomes. He asserted that President Roosevelt's export subsidy proposal is the only solution to the situation.

In suggesting a possible solution for the cotton problem, Wallace urged:

- 1. Continuance of the cotton loan, a protection to growers.
2. Continuance of benefit payments for production adjustment and soil conservation.
3. Expansion, vigorously and thoughtfully, of the domestic consumption of cotton.
4. Regaining and holding our fair share of the world export of cotton.
5. Attainment of a more nearly fair and equitable division of the national income with farmers through a processing tax, or its equivalent, to serve as a continuing source of revenue.

SWEETWATER RADIO PERMIT APPROVED

From Nolan County News Congressman Clyde L. Garrett informed officials of the Sweetwater Radio, Inc., last week that their application for a permit to construct a radio station in Sweetwater had been approved by the federal communications commission.

The permit calls for a station operating on a wave length of 1210 kilocycles with 250 watt power to be operated in the day time only.

George Bennett, co-publisher of the Sweetwater Daily Reporter, is president of the local broadcasting company; Henry M. Rogers, vice-president; and Russell Bennett, co-publisher of the Sweetwater Reporter, secretary-treasurer. Other members of the board of directors are R. M. Simmons, J. H. Beall, Jr., and Henry Doscher.

The company was organized about a year ago. Other stockholders are C. R. Simmons, Harley Sadler, Dr. A. H. Fortner, and Joe Boothe. Officials reported Wednesday that they expected to have the station in operation by early next fall.

It is reported that Russell Bennett is to be active manager of the station.

THE COLORADO THAT USED TO BE 25 Years Ago 15 Years Ago

25 YEARS AGO From The Record for May 29, 1914. Returning prosperity for Colorado was predicted in a front page article quoting R. H. Looney, bank president; J. Max Thomas, bank cashier; P. A. Winn; J. L. Doss, City National bank president; F. M. Burns, merchant; R. O. Pearson, Burton-Lingo manager; Brooks Bell; Robt. Brennan; Y. D. McMurry, grocer; Judge A. J. Coe; E. L. Hutchinson; Henry Doss; A. J. Payne; A. J. Herrington; W. L. Doss, Sr.

Times were said to be the best in 20 years - and war was just over the horizon. Robert Mints of Cuthbert and Lonie Reed of near Westbrook had been married here. Mrs. Jake Maurer had served a vegetable dinner of English peas, snap beans, and new potatoes, all out of her own garden. San Diego was preparing for a great world's fair.

Loraine News: Roxie Coughran of Colorado had visited Annie White. Pina Copeland had had a Saturday night social. S. E. Brown had painted his automobile red. Ewell Gay and Frances Sanderson of Colorado had visited Vera Gary. Grace Baker had entertained with 42. Harvey Munns had left for school at Denton. A Farmers' Union gin had been organized by L. T. Britton, S. H. Hart, Gene Brown, T. J. and R. T. Coffee, M. Zellner, H. Ohlenbusch, S. M. Hallmark, Fritz Bauman, and others.

Attending the Episcopal convocation in Amarillo were Rev. and Mrs. H. G. Hennessy, Mrs. A. A. Bailey, Marguerite Looney, J. C. Prude, and Mrs. J. H. Houston.

Lela Whipkey's piano pupils, assisted by the choral club and Miss Moor, had presented a program at the opera house. Individual numbers were by Daisy Adams, Viola Powell, James Adams, Winnie Spalding, Carrie Mae Cooksey, Meiba Cooksey, Laura Altizer, Lois Whipkey, Julia Shepherd, Tye Williams, Omie Del Payne, Louise Moor, Elvora Dulancy, Sibbie McKenney, Sallie Altizer, Ella Mae Reese.

A birth notice read like this: "Born to Mr. and Mrs. Homer Nix out on the Loraine road a girl."

Bibel Kay was home from school in Denton. Judge Looney was going to a bankers' meeting in Dallas. Mrs. S. R. Hooten was here visiting her son, Zack Hooten. Ben Van Tuij had been to Ft. Worth. Leftwich Shepherd was home from his duties as school principal at Seymour. Francis Smith had become "an autoist."

Walter Dean and Brewer Palmer of Dunn were getting a patent on a "go devil" part. The Chas. Manns had been visiting the Bert Trammels in Sweetwater. Mrs. Bravis Coe and the babies were visiting Judge and Mrs. A. J. Coe. J. H. Collier had sold his home, "The Ledges," located across the river south of the depot, to Austin Foundtree. The Colliers were moving to East Texas.

Mrs. Clint Mann and the children had accompanied Minnie Lawless, Thelma Warren, Cleo Pritchett, and the Gardner boys on a fishing trip near the Phenix irrigation farm. English Ring Necked pheasant eggs had been set by Judge C. H. Earnest, Brooks Bell, and Ben Plaster, who hoped to build up hunting preserves.

15 YEARS AGO

From The Record for May 30, 1924. Forty-seven bills of indictment had been returned by the grand jury. Judge W. P. Leslie was presiding in court. R. F. Hargrove was grand jury foreman.

For the third time within six months Mitchell county had defeated bonds for road improvement. Pouring of concrete had been started on the foundation of A. J. Herrington's $40,000 building at Main and Elm streets. An old frame building which C. H. Lasky had owned at the corner of Oak and Third for some 35 years was being razed. It was the building in which Lasky got his start in business at Colorado City.

Sam Sloan's oil company and the California company had 18 wells completed and producing in the Mitchell county field. The A. C. Oist test north of town was ready to spud. Mrs. Joe Johnson of Valley View had won first place in a district Better Kitchen contest. The Jas. T. Johnsons and Pearl Shannon had left for a tour of California and other western states. Plans were being drawn for a modern brick building to replace those burned at the corner of Second and Elm streets. Loraine News: J. S. Muns had bought the F. Glass grocery. An oil derrick was going up on the W. C. Brown farm. W. H. Swafford had bought 160 acres north of Loraine from Mrs. J. C. Prude. L. J. Barrett, 37 had been buried at Champlion. The T. E. Bennetts, W. F. Altman, Mrs. C. M. Thompson and Mrs. L. J. Pierce had been fishing at Champlion. Alma Smith was going to teach at Brownlee. Eleanor Thomas, who had been crowned queen of West Texas at the WTCC convention in Brownwood, and members of her court had been entertained by Mrs. Sam Majors, who arranged a reception. The queen wore a gown of flesh georgette trimmed with rhinestones and a long train of blue velvet. She wore a glittering crown and carried a jeweled staff. Duchess Hazel of the House of Costin wore green duchess satin with sequin overdress. Elsie Lee Majors, maid to the queen, wore white georgette trimmed in crystal beads and rhinestones. Duchess Viola of the House of Brown at Loraine wore flesh and white georgette trimmed with silver and rhinestone.

Her maid was Fay Spikes. Lottie of the House of Pritchett, the Miss Colorado of 1923, wore all-white georgette with slippers and head dress of silver.

Mrs. Ledger Smith had entertained with a Mah Jong party honoring Mrs. Earl Cramer, who was going to live in New Mexico. Lottie Pritchett had left to visit Mrs. Joe Irwin at Denver, Colorado. Mary Terrell had left to attend summer normal in San Diego, Calif. Mrs. S. H. Millwee and son, George Tate, were summering in Pomona, Calif.

10 YEARS AGO

From The Record for May 31, 1929. J. W. Watson had been elected president of the school board succeeding E. H. Winn.

Two hundred men were employed on the addition of a power and cracking plant at the Col-Tex Refinery. Blasting for the construction of a dam to form a Boy Scout swimming pool at Seven Wells had been started. Forty-one seniors had been graduated from Colorado High school, honor students being John Shurtliff, Beola Kirby, and Lenora Cook. Erection of a band shell was being agitated. Doyle Williams of Granbury had been employed to head Colorado High school's new vocational agriculture department. Col-Tex had raised the price of Mitchell county crude to 90 cents. Velma Barrett had been employed to teach English in high school. A special attraction, "Shop Worn Angel," was coming to the Palace, which had been recently equipped for talking pictures. Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Lastinger of San Antonio were visiting the Bert Wulfjens, as were the George McDaniels. Lucille Ashford had undergone surgery for appendicitis. Mr. and Mrs. Lee Jones, Sr., had visited in Midland. The Bridgettes had met with Mrs. John Prude. Mrs. P. C. Coleman had given a party for her house guest, Mrs. J. L. Moody of Tyler. Mrs. C. P. Gary had entertained to honor Mr. Gary's daughter, Mrs. Lewis Adair of Dallas. Col. Chas. Lindberg and his bride were still successfully hidden. Mrs. Trixie Barton's father had died at Gilmer. Rev. and Mrs. W. C. Hinds had gone to Georgetown to bring their daughter, Mary Elma, home from Southwestern university. Mrs. J. W. Sheppard accompanied to visit her son, Q. D. in Austin. The insurance and real estate firm of W. W. Porter and Dick Billingsley was being dissolved. Judge C. H. Earnest, Louis Collier, and J. H. Greene had inspected the Snyder airport.

Joe Earnest was completing his work for a master's degree in Columbia university, N. Y., with honors. The California company offices were to be transferred to Midland on June 15. Wm. Simpson was in charge. Samuel Womack was receiving his A.B. degree at Texas Tech. Louis Landau had left for a tour of European countries. Weddings were in the spotlight at Loraine, where ceremonies had been said for Margaret Melissa Porter and Clifford Howard Keys, Bernice Newington and Harold Hallmark, Henri Gay Jones and Fred B. Ison, Willie Richburg and H. B. Barrier.

5 YEARS AGO

From The Record for May 25, 1934. Supporters of George Mahon for congress were to hold a county-wide rally here on Friday night. Funeral for Mrs. T. H. Barber had been held on Thursday morning. The Markets of China Grove were to build a gin at Valley View. A federal attorney was here to look into papers on the site for the new postoffice building. Bridge parties had been given by Mrs. Homer Winnett and Mrs. E. B. Willbanks. Lenora Cook had barely missed being a passenger on a bus which had crashed at an overpass near Cisco. Gladys Dorn was due home from San Benito, where she was teaching. Mrs. Bennett Scott of Root hospital had gone to Dallas for clinical examination. Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Moser had gone on a trip to Canada and other northern points. Thelma Gordon of Albany had visited Mrs. Hattie Hughes Smith. The John Deffebachs and R. J. Wallaces had spent Sunday on the Renderbrook. Dee Davidson, Mrs. A. L. McSpadden, and Mrs. Jim Cantrell had been in Big Spring on Saturday. C. A. Wilkins and Robert Coffman were leaving to fish near San Saba as soon as school closed.

DAREN'T START DRY

Even if this is the camel that holds all records for going without more drink, how long could he last if he had to start dry? Your car and your engine oil can't last either if you keep starting dry this Summer. But how can you help it?

You can't... not with any of these oils that are always in a rush to drain down to the crankcase completely.

You certainly can help it though, by getting your engine OIL-PLATED. NEVER all down in the crankcase, no matter how long or how often you park your car, OIL-PLATING is lastingly close-knit to every inner engine surface by the action of Conoco Germ Processed oil. Patented Germ Processing creates the strong "power of attraction" that fastens non-detachable OIL-PLATING throughout your engine. Does chrome-plating drain down at a standstill? Neither does OIL-PLATING. Therefore actually in advance of starting, OIL-PLATING is ready to slide every working part into easy motion, without rasping dryness. And since OIL-PLATING doesn't fly off or fry up it helps your engine to shatter the record for going without more oil. That's why you want to OIL-PLATE today with Germ Processed oil, at Your Mileage Merchant's Conoco station. Continental Oil Company

FIRST ANNIVERSARY OF LOCAL BUSINESS TO BE CELEBRATED

SANDERS WILL OBSERVE AUTO SUPPLY STORE'S BIRTHDAY SATURDAY

A year ago this Saturday a new family, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Sanders and son, Jack, and a new business, the Colorado Auto Supply store, dealing in Firestone products, were acquired by Colorado City.

Sanders and his business will observe their first anniversary Saturday by holding open house at the business location south of the postoffice building. All who call at the store and register will be in line to receive one of the two attendance prizes which will be drawn at 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Balloons will be favors for all the children.

Formal opening of the Colorado Auto Supply store was held on Saturday, June 4, 1938, introducing to Colorado City and its trade territory a complete line of Firestone tires and auto supplies.

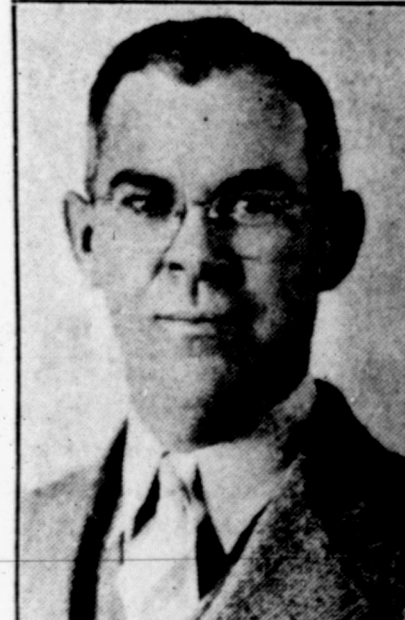

This first anniversary finds the store stock considerably expanded along the original lines, and at least one major department has been added during the year. This is the modern radio repair department in charge of N. T. Berry.

In the year that they have lived in Colorado City the Sanders, who came here from Tyler, have become prominently identified with the social, civic, and church life of the town. Sanders is an active member of the Lions club and chamber of commerce. Mrs. Sanders belongs to one of the town's major study clubs, the Self Culture. "We have been completely pleased with Colorado City since the beginning," Sanders said this week. "We like the town and the people in and around it, and of course we deeply appreciate the friendliness and the business which have come our way."

WEEK-END AT DAM

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Warner and daughter, Olive, spent the week-end at Buchanan dam, meeting some of Mrs. Warner's relatives there for a vacation visit. Warner plans to go back to the dam for a fishing trip some time soon and is enthusiastic about its advantages as a camping and fishing place.

HYMAN 4-H GIRLS STUDY CLOTHING

By Arlma Clair Averitt, Reporter
Studying clothing problems, the Hyman 4-H club girls met at the Hyman schoolhouse May 19.

During the business session Alma Clair Averitt was elected as a new reporter. Joy Noack was made recreation leader. Vera Crippen, county home demonstration agent, criticized hems in head scarfs and cup towels. She also discussed materials and designs for the play garments to be made next. Present were Joy Noack, Marcelene Boyd, Mary Ellen Andrews, Beatrice Fowler, Nadine Moseley, Edith Ray Johnson, and Alma Clair Averitt.

HOME FROM HOSPITAL

Mrs. Fred Moore of Midland, the former Grace Hunter of Colorado City, was through here Sunday with Mr. Moore enroute to her home in Midland after having been in an Oklahoma City hospital for six weeks. She visited her mother, Mrs. J. P. Hunter.

HOME FROM MIDLAND

Mrs. Arthur Niebuhr, who is high school librarian at Midland, came home last week for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Pearson, before entering summer school.

PICKED UP ALONG THE NEWS PATH

Although their fathers were both named W. B. Crockett and although the women themselves are neighbors and close friends of long standing, Mrs. J. L. Pidgeon and Mrs. Lucian Maddin have never been able to rake up and blood relationship. . . Mrs. Pidgeon's father was an Arlington man, while Mrs. Maddin's was a prominent Colorado City pioneer. . . Both men were named William.

We only learned this week that Dick Morrison, prominent Standard Oil company official who was burned to death on Catalina island recently, was the same Morrison who was land man with the California company's office here in the oil boom days of over 10 years ago. . . Morrison was transferred from here to California, then back to Dallas, and finally to the east coast, being promoted with each transfer. . . He was staying on Catalina island convalescing from a recent breakdown when he was fatally burned by the explosion of a heater he attempted to light after a swim. . . He has a wife and three children, according to friends here.

The cyclone which hit the Lay Powell farm—where the C. L. Boyds live a few miles southeast of town Saturday night is said to have followed, what little time it was on the earth, the exact path cut by the destructive and tragic cyclone of 1923. . . This coincidence caused Lay Powell to threaten taking out insurance on everything he owns in the path of that original storm. . . Saturday night's twister, which we would call a "baby" if we didn't know so well that it seemed like anything but a baby to those folks living in its path, wiped barns and henhouses clean off the Powell farm and moved one section of the house several feet. . . It also knocked in one of the house doors with a barn scantling. Luckily none was hurt, a few chickens being the only casualties. . .

Seeing is believing, and seeing was the only way we came to believe the tale that Dudley Snyder, Ford dealer, told us Saturday about a new Ford being in the lobby of the Colorado hotel. . . You'll have to figure out for yourself how "they" got it in there, because at last reports "they" were so busy trying to figure out how to get it out that "they" wouldn't have time to tell you if you asked, more than likely. . .

WEARY TRAVELERS

Most freakish damage wrought by high winds in Abilene late Saturday night and early Sunday, when Mitchell county was also watching storm clouds, was reported to have taken place at the home of a former Colorado City family, the W. W. Alexander. . . The wind lifted the roof from their garage and deposited it on top of their house. . .

SMATTERINGS

Little Peter Ellwood, son of the I. L. Ellwoods, delights to "play the organ" at the hotel cafe, and the other day he played "Star Dust" with the complimentary remark to his mother, "I knew I'd get your favorite after

THEIR NAMES IN THE PAPERS

Being a Collection of Items From Other Papers About Present and Former Mitchell Countians.

Jenks Powell and Curtis Erwin, of Colorado City, brought to the Erwin ranch south of Stanton, Sunday, a fine Hereford bull and took back with them to Colorado City, a saddle horse from the Son Powell ranch in Glasscock county. Mr. Erwin is in Colorado City during the convalescing of his wife, who recently underwent major surgery in a Colorado City hospital.—Stanton Reporter.

Mr. and Mrs. George Bolin and son, George Bolin, Jr., of Ennis, spent the week-end with their daughter, Mrs. Son Powell, on the "69" ranch in Glasscock county. This was the first time they had seen their baby grandson, Frank Bolin.—Stanton Reporter.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Goldman and daughter, Jimmie Lou, left Thursday for Sweetwater, where Mrs. Goldman and Jimmie Lou will visit with her parents over the week-end. Mr. Goldman went on to Genetria, Ill., where he will be for several weeks.—Big Spring Herald.

Mrs. J. A. Boykin, joined by her sisters, Mrs. D. M. Logan of Colorado City and Mrs. P. C. Ratliff of Midland, visited on another sister's ranch, Mrs. W. B. Humphrey, south of Marfa after a visit in Alpine with their mother, Mrs. J. R. Morlon. The group left Monday and returned to their homes Tuesday.—Big Spring Herald.

Twenty-three new aerodromes will be needed in Britain for the extension of the voluntary air reserve.
