NEW HONOR ROLL TO BE ADDED TO DUSTER

Beginning next week an honor roll made up of buyers of defense stamps and bonds will become a permanent feature of the "Duster." The first list will include all students and teachers now holding defense stamps or bonds. Each week new names will be added as additional stamps and bonds are purchased.

Not one of us would hesitate to express in no uncertain terms his loyalty to his country, his appreciation of our way of life; but let us remember that actions speak louder than words. Let us show that loyalty and appreciation by helping our country in her hour of need. Let us make it a matter of individual and civic pride that our school and our community shall stand among the first in support of our defense program.

What do you think of a Stamp-a-Week Club for students with rallies and programs and pep meetings? Adults might follow suit with a Bond-a-Month Club. If you are interested—and you certainly should be—talk it up. Be an American!!

SCHOOL SPIRIT

An Editorial

I was reading a college paper just a few minutes ago, and I happened to run across the following definition for school spirit: "School spirit is every student giving all eleven men have." In our case it is only six men, but what's the difference? We all seem to want our team to win, but six men of the football squad cannot do it by themselves.

We had a pep rally down town last Thursday night. There were only a handful of loyal students present. What's the matter? Are we just indolent and lazy or do we just think it isn't dignified to be down on Main Street yelling at the top of our voices? I don't know which it is. Maybe it's both.

What's the matter with you, John Highschool? And you, Mary Education? Aren't you interested in making your school just a little bit better than the others? But that's enough of criticism. Now, what are we going to do about it? Just this—at the next pep rally John and Mary and all their friends will be there. We'll say, "To heck with dignity!" and yell at the top of our voices. Then at the next game, we'll all be there with bells on to show our boys that we've quit giving just what they've got, and are also giving everything we've got for good old S. H. S.

CLASS B BASKETBALL TOURNAMENT AT STRATFORD THIS YEAR

High School basketball this year will be operated under an entirely different setup. For the first time, schools are set off into three classes—AA, A, and B. There will be championships in each of the three divisions clear on down to the state finals. Stratford will be playing in class B. Other teams in this district include Spearman, Shinnet, Gruver, Texline, Morse, Vega, Adrian, Plemons, and Hartley.

At a meeting of representatives of these schools Saturday at Dumas it was unanimously agreed to hold the district tournament at Stratford. This is to be held on February 13, 14. In order not to interfere with this, the Stratford Invitation Tournament, which is usually held the first week in February, will be held two weeks earlier than usual, January 23-24.

DO WE HAVE A BAND?

Now, nobody can say we aren't important in this little world. Eighteen of "some" of our most outstanding members went to Dumas Monday to the band clinic. Among these were Marvin Patterson, Dickie Buckles, Selma Mullins, William Allen, Peggy Morse, Stanley Ullom, Ira Lee Brannan, Ermalee Bonar, Mary Elizabeth Brown, Ernestine Thompson, Marcella Garrison, Willie Dee Brannan, Bob Brown, Neil Jackson, Billie Claude Arnold, James Bradley, Wade Turner, and Bobbie Wiginton. They all wore uniforms. I imagine they really made a showing.

The band is there in high spirits at every football game and rally. We urge every student of "good ole S. H. S." to yell for the "famous six," with the echoes of the band playing "Dear Old Stratford High School."

SPORTS

Because of rains we did not get to play Gruver last Friday night, so we will play them Saturday night, November 1, at 7:30, on the Stratford gridiron. We have not had much practice the past week, but we are hoping we get pretty weather until Saturday night. We believe we can beat Gruver, even if we have to eat "beans" at the half. We still have the same squad and first starting team, with two substitutes.

We shall play Booker here on November 6—a game that will be a knockout and possibly a dragout. We are practicing basketball when it is too muddy to get outside, with a little work on football between lines.

Well, here's wishing the Elks good luck for Saturday. We are looking for the real support of everyone, including the pep squad and band.

BATTLE OF THE SEXES

We will attempt to answer the column which appeared last week in which the girls stated their dislikes. The complaint was made about seeing boys' ankles. That's O. K., boys; we don't mind seeing their ankles; it's their knees we object to. And in regard to our wearing short trousers—that's not bad, boys; that's a lot better than the girls trying to wear their doll's dresses.

Ever hear that little rime?—
 "Little grains of powder
 Little drops of paint,
 Make an ugly woman
 Look like what she ain't."

Well, some girls really think they have us fooled when they put on a thick layer of rouge. (A thin coat would look a lot better and be much cheaper) And we wonder how some of these girls expect to have a boy friend when they smear oh, so much lipstick that the evidence could not possibly be destroyed. (Besides, even the new fruity flavors do not make us want to eat it.) And they use so much perfume—well, you know, baths are cheaper.

We don't mind hearing a good hearty laugh, but this giggling gets on our nerves.

Well, girls, if you can take this column as calmly as the boys took theirs, there will be no feelings hurt.

SENIOR REPORT

What happened to the senior report, and where are all of the seniors? Why, haven't you heard? He, they, everybody is head over heels at work on the SENIOR HALLOWEEN CARNIVAL scheduled for October 31, at 7:30 p.m. Witches, goblins, skeletons, all it takes to make a real honest-to-goodness carnival will be at the school building. You can't afford to miss it, for we'll all be there.

TEN INCH TROUBLES

The senior carnival has really been taking up everyone's time—bake sales, painting signs, and the like.

Everyone seems blank about the events which took place Saturday and Sunday. (Perhaps they have reasons.)

Peggy and Dickie, Zola Faye and Dee, Peggy Jean and Ira Lee, Lenoir and Elmer, and Oleta and Billy Claude were the high lights at the show Saturday night. (Believe me!)

What is this we hear about Dickie picking on Ernestine in the halls in the mornings?

The girls are all wondering why Arthur Lee is such a romantic guy, yet every time we girls speak, those ears start turning pink. (We wonder)

The old ex-senior affair with our charming senior girl is re-awakening. Watcha know?

Three never was a lucky number anyway with Bob, Dean, and ...
 What's the matter, Bob? Marriage is a deep subject, so I hear, but what about it, Jo Nell? All these Homemaking III girls must like paper dolls, or did they say it was an assignment? Maybe so, but it is fishy.

The Junior class received a letter from Donald Ritchie, and he is planning to return home the latter part of this month.

Who is the glamour boy of high school? Why, N. W. Hudson, of course! Shall we paste a sign on him, girls?

Well, we have received our report cards! Most of our reports were good; in fact some were excellent. Here's hoping we continue to do so well and become better yet. Department is also unusually good and detention has not yet loomed on the horizon, so keep up the good work, everybody.

The next time our boys go to an out-of-town game, they'd better take the pep squad along to cheer them up. It might mean a few points, Coach. (You know, "the feminine touch and all that") The pep squad, it is rumored, will soon be snappy in smart uniforms—a step which has long been in mind while eyeing other snappy pep squad. This is not entirely authentic, but everyone is very enthusiastic about it.

This is an S. O. S. for all members of the junior class to remember to vote for our queen, Zola Faye Hodges, the little blonde, and also to encourage others outside of our class to vote for her. Drop in your vote at the Bonar Pharmacy. We wish to thank all of the people who patronized our bake sale at Cowdrey's and also the members of our class who cooperated so well.

U. S. Destroyer Torpedoed on Patrol

View in Brooklyn navy yard when the U. S. destroyer, Kearny, was commissioned, under command of Lieut. Commander A. L. Danis. The destroyer was torpedoed while on patrol duty, about 350 miles southwest of Iceland. The ship continued on its course, under its own power, to an unnamed port, with 11 members of the crew missing and 10 injured, two of them seriously. The navy department stated that the attack on the Kearny was undoubtedly made by a German submarine. The Kearny was launched in March, 1940, at Kearny, N. J., and had a complement of 13 officers and 177 men.

At Neutrality Hearing

Ruins of London Town

This photograph, just released by the British censor, shows some of the devastated sections in the center of London after air raid clearance work. An entire block of demolished buildings has been completely removed, leaving nothing but vacant lots, as shown in the picture.

Nazi Spy Ship Prisoners Brought Ashore

With their duffle bags, 22 Norwegian Nazis and Gestapo agents are being taken to the immigration station in East Boston, Mass., aboard a coast guard patrol boat, after the German radio supply ship, Busko, was brought to Boston, following its seizure in Greenland waters. The Busko sought to establish a radio station in Greenland.

Loyal to School

Five hundred students of the Georgia university came to the capitol in Atlanta to protest to Governor Talmage because their school had been dropped from the Southern university conference. Governor Talmage was not in town at the time of the demonstration. Note students mounting bust of Talmage on capitol grounds.

Protests Seizure

U. S. seizure of 18 Douglas light bombers bound for Peru and possible use against Ecuador, was protested by Col. Armando Revoredo (above), air attaché of the Peruvian embassy in Washington, who termed the seizure an unfriendly act.

'Swap' That Failed

Wounded German prisoners are helped aboard British hospital ship at Newhaven, England. They were to have been taken to Dieppe, France, for exchange with British prisoners in Nazi hands, but it was called off.

Pretty Snappy, Eh?

Six new uniforms for women in civilian defense have been approved. Photo shows girl with office workers' uniform looking at insignia on nurse's aide uniform.

THIS matter of expecting even the stronger football teams to win all of their games or most of their games is a point all of joint—if a point can have a joint. Even the Yankees and Dodgers, good enough to carry off a pair of pennants, won only two-thirds of their starts, and football should be judged in much the same manner.

There are too many strong teams in the field today for old grads to keep expecting one victory after another. Many have now even reached the point of tossing out teams that happen to have lost a single game.

On this basis where would the Dodgers have been last spring when even the Giants beat them three straight to open the season? As Bob Zuppke once said, "Out in that Big Ten I can lose every game and still look good." And that might be true.

Accidents, tough breaks, injuries and other details can often make a difference of two or three touchdowns in a game. The psychological setup has wide ranges.

The main answer is that any team playing a first-class schedule can look back on a good season if it can win a majority of its starts. Last season, for example, Minnesota won every game—yet Minnesota had the closest possible calls against Michigan, Northwestern and Ohio State, with whom just a slender flop in luck the other way might have brought the gallant Gophers three setbacks.

That's the way football is. One or two breaks, especially in the passing game, can raise an abnormal amount of old-fashioned Cain. It has been that way every season, and this should be no exception.

The 'Next Year' Job

Messrs. MacPhail and Durocher of Brooklyn's Dodgers are not thinking at the moment of any revenge on the Yankees next fall. Their first move will be to stall off the Cardinal charge.

Sam Breadon and Branch Rickey both believe that said Cardinals will be much harder to hold in check next spring and summer with so many crack young pitchers on hand. Against this Wyatt, Davis and Fitzsimmons of the Dodgers have a combined total of 107 years—or 108 years by 1942.

"You might also add that we can't be expected to have another such run of terrible luck," Rickey said. "That will make a terrific difference."

The 1941 World series is now back with the dust-gathering archives, but they are still talking about Joe Gordon, the Oregon Flash.

Gordon did something more than bat .500 in the series and reach first 14 times in five games. He killed infield drives that would have whistled safely through Dodger defenses, and this makes a major difference to any pitcher.

The Yankees slipped at least four hits to the right of second that Gordon would have been waiting for—or at least would have handled without breaking his neck.

The Yankee star is remarkably quick starting in either direction, and he is even quicker with his hands. As a freshman at Oregon he was the most promising-looking young football player the West coast had seen in years, but abandoned the gridiron for a diamond career. Joe McCarthy wants none of his athletes playing football.

Gordon has less tension on big days than any other ball player in the game. There is no situation that can tighten him up. And the game can't show you a finer sportsman.

A Call for Help

"Now that the World series is over," writes a fan, "how about helping out a few of us duffers? Some time back you wrote something about 'live hands' in golf. How do you get live hands?"

Dead hands and dead wrists are usually the result of leg and body tension. This tension tightens up both hands and wrists, and leaves nothing left but a shoulder or a body lunge.

FARMER PRICE VICTORY
Louis J. Taber, National Grange president, and other farm leaders didn't come away empty-handed from their conference with the President on price control.

While he would not agree to their proposal that wages be included in the price control bill drafted by Price Administrator Leon Henderson, Roosevelt did make one important concession. He said he would have no objection to a "parity averages formula" being put in the bill to limit the dumping of government-owned wheat and cotton when the prices of these commodities threaten to soar out of bounds.

Under this formula, to insure farmers an average parity price for the full crop year, restrictions would be placed on the amount of wheat and cotton that could be sold. Also, the dumping could not begin until prices reach certain above-parity levels, to be worked out by Henderson and the department of agriculture.

Taber and his colleagues had to do some fast talking to sell the President on this plan. At first he seemed in no mood to accept any changes in the bill and told his callers that if they had come to debate the question of controlling farm prices they were wasting their time.

"We have simply got to head off inflationary trends," the President declared grimly, "or face the worst depression the country has ever known after this emergency is over."

The farm leaders finally won him over to their plan with the assurance that they would not oppose Henderson's system of selective price controls, providing the parity gains won at this session were not lost.

Taber pointed out that though the prices of wheat and cotton are now only slightly below parity, and livestock above it, farmers get only 43 per cent of the consumer's dollar spent for farm products, as against 60 per cent in 1917, when defense production was geared to the peak it has reached today.

NEW LABOR HEADACHE

Strikes are still a serious problem, but the big labor headache currently harrasing defense chiefs is the complex and mounting difficulty of employment dislocations.

Almost every day brings new reports of workers let out due to lack of materials, forced curtailment of production or other defense causes. Official estimates of such dismissals put the number at between one and two million.

And the end is not in sight. Some experts anticipate that in the auto industry alone 200,000 workers will lose their jobs.

Aware of the serious economic consequences of such dislocations, OPM heads are making strenuous efforts to overcome them. So far only partial answers have been found.

Originally, OPM tried to handle such dismissals by local absorption. This worked all right in towns with industries engaged in defense work. They could use the displaced hands and gladly took them on. But in communities where this condition did not exist, other solutions had to be found.

Various methods have been used. In some instances defense orders have been granted to reopen shut-down plants. In other cases, where conversion of a plant wasn't possible, an entire new defense plant has been erected in town. In still other instances, workers have been given "retraining" instruction and moved to places where labor was needed.

Defense chiefs count on Floyd Odum's reorganized subcontracting division to take up most of the slack on defense dislocations.

Odum originally estimated it would take two months to set up administrative machinery, but OPM chiefs are urging him to turn his attention to getting subcontractors now and rounding out his organization as he goes along.

MERRY-GO-ROUND

The American Association for Economic Freedom has reprinted an address made more than 10 years ago by Federal Judge Robert N. Wilkin of Cleveland on "A New Social Order" in which he advocated a union of the English-speaking countries to resist the totalitarian aggressors.

Heavyweight champ Joe Louis, soon to be drafted, is tackling what he describes as "the biggest fight of my career." He has sent a circular letter to every member of congress asking them for help to raise a fund for a movement to improve the economic condition of Negroes.

It isn't advertised, but the army now has a regular military air service across both the North and South Atlantic, operating on schedule, just as punctually as any commercial airway in the U.S.A.

God news for the troops eaten by chiggers in the Louisiana maneuvers: Denton Crowl of Toledo had just discovered a chemical which will make them as scarce as American heavy bombers.

Jesse Jones is angling to get John Hertz, original king of the Yellow Taxis in Chicago, appointed to the Maritime commission.

That Nagging Backache

May Warn of Disordered Kidney Action

Modern life with its hurry and worry; irregular habits, improper eating and drinking—its risk of exposure and infection—throws heavy strain on the work of the kidneys. They are apt to become over-taxed and fail to filter excess acid and other impurities from the life-giving blood.

You may suffer nagging backache, headache, dizziness, getting up nights, leg pains, swelling—feel constantly tired, nervous, all worn out. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination.

Try Doan's Pills. Doan's help the kidneys to pass off harmful excess body waste. They have had more than half a century of public approval. Are recommended by grateful users everywhere. Ask your neighbor!

ording to one of the latest surveys it will be another year before our military production rivals that of England. Inasmuch as we have three times the population of Britain, and have many times the resources of all kinds, it is apparent that we are still a long, long way from anything resembling an "all out" armament program.

In some quarters it is believed that our actual production may be greater than official announcements indicate—that, in other words, the extent of our arms output is being deliberately played down as a matter of policy. Whether this is true or not, however, a great many authorities are convinced that some radical changes must be effected before this nation's "arsenal of democracy" dream is even partially realized.

There are three definite factions involved in the defense program. Number one is the government. Here there has been an excessive overlapping of activity. There has been too much divided responsibility.

The second factor is industry. It has responded well to the demands of the emergency. But certain important segments, consciously or otherwise, seem to have been unwilling or unable to abandon the "business as usual" idea. This segment of industry, in the opinion of its critics, has been too cautious, too fearful of losing profits. That has delayed the harsh changeover from a peacetime to a wartime basis of operation.

The third factor is labor. Here, again, an important segment has put personal power and profit ahead of the needs of the nation. Strikes in defense industries have cost the country millions of man-days of work. They have prevented the manufacture of unknown quantities of planes, tanks and other weapons of war. In these days, a strike carried on by a few workers in a vital plant, can stop production in a hundred plants. A late example is the strike in a plant which produces transmissions for motor vehicles. That brought the production of trucks, tanks, jeep cars and other motorized equipment to a standstill. This particular strike was purely a jurisdictional disagreement between the A. F. of L. and the C. I. O.

It is reported that the President is considering a tremendous "victory drive" involving the spending of $50,000,000,000 a year. Some of the more level-headed friends of labor are telling it that continued strikes will result in disaster for the trade-union movement. There are rumors to the effect that production of heavy consumer goods, such as motor cars, may come to a virtual stop inside a few months. What will come of all this remains to be seen. In any case, it is plain that the tempo of America's war effort must be tremendously accelerated if we are to produce the goods which the beleaguered Allies abroad must have if Hitler is to be stopped.

Texas Drivers Continue Raising Death Toll

Nazi bombers are doing very little better than Texas automobile drivers. For every 100 Britons the Nazis killed in September, autoists killed 82 Texans.

On Oct. 14 the British air ministry announced 217 persons killed by bombs in the United Kingdom during September. Today State Police Director Homer Garrison announced 178 traffic deaths were counted in Texas during the same month.

Continuing a trend which recently caused Garrison to predict an all-time high for traffic fatalities in 1941, deaths for the first nine months of this year totaled 1,370, a 13 percent increase over the 1,213 persons killed in the same period last year.

Garrison found, on a basis of gasoline consumption, that the increase in travel has almost exactly paralleled the increase in fatalities. Privately owned vehicles have been driven approximately 13 per cent more this year, while no figures are available on the enormous increase in travel by Army and other government-owned vehicles.

Retailers Dislike Raising Prices

CORPUS CHRISTI, Oct. 29—In an address before the Texas Newspaper Publishers Association at their meeting here H. E. Dill, Secretary of the Council of Texas Retailers Association spoke on "The Retail Price Situation in Texas." The council represents 12 state wide trade associations of retailers which number about 30,000 Texas merchants in their memberships.

Mr. Dill stressed the fact that existing national and international conditions were the cause of current price increases for various commodities, ranging all the way from food to furniture, rather than the work of any individual or group of individuals.

"Your retail merchants cannot control wholesale prices or the new multiplicity of taxes which force them either to raise their charges or else go bankrupt and out of business," Mr. Dill said. "The retail merchants, from your big city department store to the small grocery stores at the crossroads, are in the unfortunate position of having to hand directly to the consumer the ultimate raise in commodity prices which has been passed on to them all the way down the line. Now just who is responsible for the increase in retail prices? Certainly every merchant, wholesale and retail, has not suddenly become dishonest and started to exhort an unfair profit from his customers by taking advantage of these unsettled times. Your merchants are just as you have always known them, anxious to please their patrons, and give them the best goods and the lowest prices possible, consistent upon their making a living and earning a modest return on their investment. The retail merchants dislike having to raise prices on any article, for higher prices mean a curtailment in the volume of business so necessary for any successful retail establishment.

Autumn Months Best For Improving Health

"The American way of life is full of superlatives; we have the tallest sky-scrapers, the fastest trains, the greatest number of automobiles. We spend more per capita on vacations than any other nation. However, due to high speed, we usually crowd our summer vacations with such a high speed program that we fail to secure sufficient real physical relaxation," states Dr. Geo. Cox, State Health Officer.

"For most persons the exactions of office, of factory or of home for a 50-week stretch reflect themselves in the need for improving one's physical tone. However, to expect the majority of vacationists to change their habits regarding the diversions of a summer sojourn perhaps would be asking too much. The point is if one has burned up additional energies and perhaps called on his physical reserves to weather through the 'good-time' vacation, an excellent opportunity now exists to make amends by taking advantage of the stimulating autumn weather.

In fact, the best season of the year to recoup vitality lost through the past year's work now is here. Its possibilities to build up general health and bodily resistance to winter's onslaught can not be over estimated.

"To recoup some of the vigor and abounding health which have been lost due to the strains and stresses of the past twelve months, the following program is suggested: 1. A brisk walk every day; city streets will do, if one is denied the open country; 2. seven to eight hours' sleep, depending upon one's personal requirements, in properly ventilated room each night; occasional breakovers will not be serious drawbacks, but the habit should be established and maintained; 3. A cut-down on stimulants, if at present any are being used excessively; 4. A reasonable intake of nourishing food; 5. Elimination of self-drugging of any type, relying solely upon the physician for medical treatment, if one considers it to be indicated; 6. Proper daily elimination; 7. An attempt to keep worry,

White Will Head Baptist Convention

Abilene is preparing for the largest state Baptist General Convention ever held in West Texas, November 11-14 according to Dr. W. R. White, president of Hardin-Simmons University and general chairman of the local committee arranging convention plans.

Preceding the convention proper, which opens Tuesday night, Nov. 11, will be the simultaneous meeting of the Woman's Missionary Union Convention, in the First Baptist Church, and the Brotherhood Convention in the Hardin-Simmons University auditorium. These conventions start Monday afternoon, Nov. 10 and close Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 14.

"Responsibility for working out the wisest possible distribution of housing space has been accepted by the various churches and civic organizations, heading up in the Convention Housing Committee," Dr. White said. Four thousand homes, in addition to hotel rooms, are being sought for the visitors. Committee members feel that this goal will be reached or exceeded.

November 3 Opens Defense Savings Stamp And Bond Week

November 3 to 11 has been proclaimed by Governor Coke Stevenson as Defense Savings Stamps and Bond week in all of the 13,791 schools and colleges in the state. As a great army they will move forward with one accord to revive the spirit of '76, the spirit that made America great.

"The President of the United States is dead."

THE STORY SO FAR: In an effort to substantiate rumors that 200,000 foreign troops were in Mexico preparatory for an attack upon the United States, Intelligence Officer Benning went to Mexico City. Here he joined the staff of the unsuspecting Van Hassek, leader of the

Hysteria was spreading. Thousands were fleeing the city in taxicabs and private cars. Cavalry was ordered into the city from Fort Myer to help police clear masses of people who flooded the parks despite frantic radio warnings that crowding up was dangerous.

Benning dismissed all thought of trying again tonight for the Van Hassek spies.

A finger of light leaped into the air across the Potomac. Benning went tense as he saw the restless movement into the skies of that ominous beam.

Another bolt of light shot up, the sky filled with those long pennants rising from the Sperry drums, driven upwards with the intensity of the thousand million candlepower. The bark of a cannon crept across the river. It told Benning that the lights had picked up an enemy craft within their six thousand yards' range of observation. Other cannon barked. The three-inch guns were driving at the skies.

Grimly he lifted his wrist close to his eyes and strained at the luminous dial of his wrist watch.

Thirty racking seconds ticked by. Benning braced himself, wet his lips, his hand was stricken by an ague. Through the crackle of artillery he caught the ominous roar of motors in the sky. At this instant bombs were plummeting downward, he reckoned, released three thousand yards or more to the southwest of Washington while the planes flashed toward the city.

A vivid yellowish sheet of light winked over the city, low against the earth. In the next instant came the clap of thunder as the mighty detonation smote the city. Benning felt the earth reel under his heels, his ears rang with the reverberation. Another crash, a third, fourth, fifth. The titanic wrath of the bombers smothered all sound of the anti-aircraft in a bedlam of volcanic fury that filled all existence. Two more crashes, separated by short intervals of time.

Silence came swiftly, a hush that yielded no sound for several seconds. Then, as his ears recovered, Benning caught the shrill roar of motors overhead, the sharp staccato of machine-gun fire. Near-by, the crews of the .50 caliber anti-aircraft machine guns were peppering away inanely. A few rounds of futile bursts and they ceased fire. Now came the sound of excited masses of people.

Benning headed into Fifteenth Street. People were running this way and that on the heels of hysterical, unbridled terror. Others were massed in stricken silence gaping into the skies. Taxicabs and automobiles sped crazily in all directions. Benning saw pedestrians bowled over by wheeled vehicles, left floundering on the pavement. Scattered policemen were trying to stem the tide of panic. Sirens screeched as ambulances and police cars raced into the targeted area.

It was a few minutes before midnight when Benning turned into Pennsylvania Avenue. There was no such thing as a taxicab in the present disorder. He walked rapidly on past the White House, intent on reaching Munitions by twelve. Bayoneted sentries paced placidly back and forth in front of the President's official mansion. The place loomed solemn and tomblike in the vague light of a quarter moon, the somber mass of its gray walls unbroken by a single lighted window.

But Benning, as he hurried on, knew that behind those screened windows grave conferences would carry through the night as the heads of government charted the desperate course of an unready nation plunged suddenly into war.

On reaching Colonel Flagwill's office, Benning found the G-2 chief engrossed in the verbal report of an air service staff colonel. As near as could be judged, the attack on Washington had been made by a single bomber squadron of seven planes. The bombers had been accompanied by a squadron of pursuit ships. The anti-aircraft reported no hits, and was setting up now to cover the city foreign forces, and gained the confidence of two other officers, Fincke and Bravot. Discovering that foreign troops were poised for an invasion of the U. S., Benning returned to Washington to report to Colonel Flagwill, acting chief of Military Intelligence. Flagwill stated as best it could against the return trip of the invaders.

"It'll not be very long now before they're back over the city for a second fling at us," the air officer predicted, speaking in a calm voice. "No report yet of damage to important buildings, but one bomb came pretty flush into a crowded street and we have a preliminary report of heavy casualties."

"No word of any other squadrons headed this way, Colonel?" Flagwill asked.

"None. We'd have picked them up if any more were coming tonight. But what puzzles us is how these bombers expect to get back into Mexico without refueling. Especially since the bombs dropped sounded like heavy ones, probably a thousand pounds or more."

"I'll want all details as rapidly as you get them," Flagwill instructed. "By the way, have our planes taken off for Texas yet?"

"Yes, sir. We've notified Operations. Our Third Wing will have one attack and two pursuit squadrons at San Antonio before daybreak, all ready for business. Other forces will report there as rapidly as possible."

The telephone buzzed, a summons for Flagwill to conference with the Chief of Staff. Flagwill gathered up his notes and turned to Benning.

"You'd better come along, Captain. There may be some questions on Mexico City for you to answer."

Briefly, as they marched down the long corridor to the staff chief's conference room, Benning sketched in his own observations of the bombing of Washington, emphasizing the panic in the streets, the chaos and disorder that followed.

The floor under them reeled with the impact of a sudden terrific explosion in the distance. Flagwill's expression did not change, there was no hesitation in his gait.

"Here the birds are back again," he muttered. He shook his head despairingly. "We've been pounding the public by radio all evening not to bunch up, but I'm afraid people will have to learn by costly experience. God, but I hope no persistent gas is dropped! I doubt if there are a dozen gas masks in all Washington."

Another savage detonation filled the night. As its vibrations waned, there came the uninterrupted click of typewriters and telegraph instruments as messages went hurtling across the country from the War Department mobilizing the country's armed forces.

General Hague's conference room was filling with generals and colonels, all self-possessed, but with the effects of fatigue and strain in their faces after long days without rest. They were promptly in the room where they stood until the four-starred head of the Army, now in uniform, came in. General Hague was grave and lined, but his shoulders were erect and his gray eyes burned with a level vitality.

"Gentlemen," he proceeded at once, "I've gone over the situation in detail with the President. First I'll give you a brief summary of available enemy information—"

"Three enemy columns are reliably reported at our Texas border and it is a reasonable assumption that they will bridgehead the Rio Grande tonight ready to attack at daybreak. Likely enough the main body will strike from Laredo with the objective of San Antonio. Two other columns are likely to strike from Brownsville and Eagle Pass."

"You are familiar with the bombing of San Antonio, Galveston, New Orleans, and Houston tonight. We hope to give those cities the protection of our air forces, beginning tomorrow, but we are at the mercy of night raiders for the time being. I needn't tell you that nothing can save San Antonio and the occupation of our great oil and sulphur belts. It looks pretty hopeless for our troops."

NEXT WEEK

Another Absorbing Installment

that forces were also reported massing in the Mediterranean and the Far East. That night Fort Houston, Texas, was heavily bombed. Reports that an enemy bombing squadron was approaching Washington threw the city into panic. Now continue with the story.

"The President has given us carte blanche. We are mobilizing our entire Regular Army and National Guard. This—"

An aide-de-camp, face bloodless and eyes starting from their sockets, burst into the room. General Hague glared sharply at the interruption, then stiffened as he caught the stark tragedy that was written in the officer's face.

"Please, sir, will the General take the telephone?" the aide stammered in a rasping whisper. "It's—important."

The Chief of Staff took the receiver of the portable telephone that was handed him by the aide.

"Yes, General Hague speaking," he said.

There followed a stifling silence. General Hague sat with the receiver glued to his ear. Into the leaden silence of the room came the faint metallic squeak of an excited voice. The assembled officers saw their chief stiffen as if an electric current had been driven through his body.

General Hague stared dazedly across the room for several moments. His hand that held the telephone instrument descended in a slow limp arc to the table. The aide took the telephone and removed it to an adjoining desk.

"Gentlemen," General Hague focused his eyes, looked about among them, waited for control of his voice, then spoke firmly, "Gentlemen, by the ill fortune of circumstance, the enemy targeted upon the White House with a heavy bomb. The President of the United States is dead."

From out in the night came the screeching of sirens. The shrill screeches rose above an indescribable rumble of sound, the frenzied cries, and excited shouts of a terrorized populace. The bombers had raced on back into the south. The fretful bark of the anti-aircraft guns was stilled.

"Gentlemen," General Hague's voice broke the stricken tension of the room, "we will proceed with our business." The head of the Army resumed his chair and fumbled with trembling fingers among his notes to pick up the shattered thread of his observations. The others sat down to a funereal stolidity.

"Getting back to the enemy intentions," General Hague resumed, his voice dry and hoarse, "we must now consider only his immediate objectives. We cannot now deny him possession of the world's largest oil fields lying in that region generally north of Beaumont. At the same time he gains the vast sulphur belt north and east of Galveston. We may reasonably expect, therefore, that Van Hassek will drive on to establish his army on some such east-and-west line as Fort Worth—Dallas—Shreveport."

"Yes, gentlemen, we'll take an awful beating in Texas for the time being. Lack of ammunition for all weapons will be a serious problem. Our lack of anti-aircraft guns will bring us horrible losses. The country will be in an uproar for days to come—until the people get educated to this terrible new reality of their existence."

"But all of this merely increases our own responsibilities. We must do the insuperable, we must achieve the impossible, we must face this crisis with patience and keep before us the protection of our country against later serious attack which I fear is inevitable. Gentlemen, let us remember this—"

General Hague rose to his feet and the muscles of his jaw hardened. He looked about among them again and his voice crackled as he concluded. "No matter what force may come against us, no matter what may be our initial reverses, our country has the basic character and the resources in manpower to make us invincible. In the bitter end of whatever storms may lie ahead, the forces, or coalition of forces, that dare attack the United States, will find the mighty vengeance of our massed valor. That's all for the present, gentlemen."

Beloved Singer Pleaded For Mercy, Not Justice

The beloved Madame Schumann-Heink was a woman of rare charm and geniality. She was the first to make fun of her own shortcomings, and was often heard to comment good-humoredly on her decidedly matronly figure.

On one occasion, a fashionable portrait painter asked her to sit for her portrait. The plump opera star hesitated for a long while before making her decision.

"Don't be afraid, Madame," said the artist teasingly. "I'll do you justice."

"Ah," replied the prima donna, "it isn't justice I ask at your hands; it is mercy!"

SOME REMINDERS OF OLD, WAR NO. 1 SPEECHES

DIGGING THROUGH some old rubbish a few days ago, I discovered a number of clippings from English papers, containing accounts of the visit of a party of American journalists, of which I was one. During the days spent in England that party of Americans listened to many speeches and, in view of intervening and present-day events, these clippings made interesting reading.

Arthur Balfour, in a speech made at a luncheon, forecast the difficult problems to be faced at the peace table and what would happen in the future should hatred have a place in peace negotiations. The kind of peace he warned against was made and his prophecy for the future has been realized in a second World war.

Lord Northcliffe, in a speech at a luncheon in the London Times building, forecast a League of Nations that, with America as a participant, would solve all future international problems. America did not join the League and the League did not prevent a second World war.

Admiral Sims, commanding the American navy in Europe, explained the work of the British navy. He said there were never more than 13 German subs at sea at any one time and that England had some 5,000 vessels of various classes searching for these subs and protecting merchant ships. Admiral Sims said it was the English navy that would make victory for the Allied cause possible by maintaining control of the seas. It was true at that time, and is true again now with just about the same conditions.

World War I, and the peace that grew out of it, did not prevent war but, rather, encouraged more wars, including the present conflict. What will follow the peace of this war only the future can tell. The sentiment now in the democracies is for generous terms, with Roosevelt-Churchill pronouncement as a basis, but the bombs are still falling. With victory, the hatreds of Europe may again, as in 1919, dominate the peace terms.

FARMERS DEFINITELY AFFECTED BY RAILROAD WAGES

THE FARMER is the one producer in America who does not, and cannot, determine the price at which his commodity will be sold. He sows in the spring, with a hope that Nature will enable him to produce a crop, and consumer demand will assure him a fair price. When, with the assistance of Nature, his acres have produced a crop, he must reap in the fall, regardless of what the price may be.

The price is made at Chicago, at Tidewater or at Liverpool, and the farmer pays the transportation. From the price paid is deducted the delivery costs.

The manufacturer can, and does, fix the price at which he will sell his product. If there is not a consumer demand at the price he names, he can lay off his help, close his factory and await better conditions. To the price the manufacturer names, the local merchant adds the cost of transportation of the product in fixing his price to the consumer. The farmer pays the freight on what he sells and also on what he buys.

The farmer has a definite financial interest in the proposed wage increase asked by the railroad employees of the nation. That increase represents more than the railroads are earning. They cannot absorb it and continue to operate. It means increased cost of transportation on what the farmer sells and on what he buys. He will get less for what his factory—his acres—produce, and pay more for the commodities of other factories—the things he and his family need and use, and the equipment needed to operate his farm. The increased freight both ways will amount to a considerable number of dollars a year for every one of the more than six million farms in America. Without that proposed increase, the average railroad employee is far better off financially than is the average farmer, who, collectively, will pay a considerable portion of the increase.

WHERE'S THE CEILING?

WHAT DOES a surplus of food and continuously increasing prices mean if not inflation? Where is the ceiling they talk about, and over what is it to be placed? The farmer cannot be the only one who is to be limited in the price he receives.

STATES PILE IT UP ALSO

FOR 1930 the per capita state tax collections averaged $14.52 and by 1940 had jumped to $23.02. With the exception of but a few states, the increase was reasonably even. In Missouri the jump, as reported by the Tax Foundation, was from $10.61 in 1930 to $31.92 in 1940, and in Alabama from $8.29 to $53.31. Aside from these states, the range of 1940 state tax collections was from $33.88 in Nevada down to $14.38 in South Carolina and $14.80 in Nebraska. Some increases are not Uncle Sam's.

SIN AND ITS CONSEQUENCES

LESSON TEXT—Galatians 6:7, 8; 1 John 1:8-16.
GOLDEN TEXT—If we confess our sins, he is faithful and just to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness.—1 John 1:9.

Sin is an appalling reality, hideous and horrible in itself, and bearing with it the gravest consequences both in this life and in the life to come. Man does not find it pleasant to face that fact, and so he makes light of sin and even may go so far as to deny its existence. Obviously such an expedient does nothing to solve the difficulty or to meet the gnawing distress of a heart facing and fearing the judgment of God.

Far better to meet the reality of it, admit its awfulness, and seek God's way of full deliverance. Sin, which came into the world when man listened to Satan and disobeyed God in the Garden of Eden, has gone on to mar and to mark all mankind. We note that

I. Sin Brings Corruption (Gal. 6:7, 8).

Seedtime is followed by harvest. This is the law of nature, the law of God. The farmer who sowed wheat in the spring looked for wheat when the harvest time came. The same principle holds in the spiritual realm. Just as the one who sows to the Spirit reaps eternal life, the one who sows to the flesh reaps corruption, and death.

A life of self-indulgence (which is sowing to the flesh) brings moral decay. The weakened will yields to desire, and it "bringeth forth sin; and sin, when it is finished, bringeth forth death" (James 1:14, 15). This death is spiritual, bringing separation from God, a loss of fellowship and communion with Him. Spiritual death as well as physical death came upon mankind through Adam's sin.

II. Sin Loves Darkness (1 John 1:5-7).

There is not a bit of darkness in God. He is light. When Jesus came into the world, He came as the Light of the World. But "men loved darkness rather than light, because their deeds were evil. For every one that doeth evil hateth the light, neither cometh to the light, lest his deeds should be reproved" (John 3:17-21).

The corollary of that truth is that a man who says he has fellowship with God, but continues to walk in darkness, brands himself a liar (v. 6). Compare Revelation 21:27-28 for what God thinks of liars.

The light still shines, and the one who is walking in darkness has only to step over into the light (v. 7) where he will find fellowship with all God's people and know the cleansing of the blood of the Son of God.

III. Sin Is an Undeniable Fact (1 John 1:8-10).

It seems impossible that a man who knows himself and knows the life he lives would ever deny sin, for it is one of the most evident of all facts. Yet men have denied it, or sought to explain it away, calling it error, or a "fall upward," or a step in man's development, or the evidence of man's self-consciousness and desire to learn.

There is no hope for a man as long as he assumes such an attitude, for he not only lies himself, but he makes God a liar. He denies the truth of God's Word about sin, makes meaningless or wicked God's dealings with sin, and reveals that God's Word is not in him. Those who make such statements declare that they do not belong to God and do not accept His Word. It is evident that they ought never to be permitted to teach such things in the church, or in the name of Christianity.

IV. Sin Calls for a Saviour (1 John 2:1-6).

Christ the propitiation, the mercy-seat covering for our sins, is the only Saviour. He paid the price, and made it possible for God to be just and at the same time a justifier of the ungodly. The sinner needs such a Saviour.

Sin in the life of the believer also calls for a Saviour, one who will cleanse us (1:9) and who will in His own blessed name plead our cause "if we sin." He is our Advocate (2:1) pleading His righteousness in our behalf when we do fall.

This does not mean that we may then become indifferent or careless about sin. If we say we know Him and do not keep His commandments, we lie about our professed relationship to Him. The mark of a true child is a spirit of obedience.

God's children prove their love to Him by keeping His commandments. Talking about our devotion to Him, giving our service for Him, or sacrificing for His cause mean nothing if we do not obey Him. We only pile evidence upon evidence of our untruthfulness by making claims and doing things which are negated by our disobedience.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Paste a layer of blotting paper on the bottom of rough vases. They will not then scratch your furniture.

Scouring powder will remove stains from old dishes, such as tea and coffee cups, and make them like new.

Allow curtains to dry thoroughly before starching. They will hold the starch and keep clean longer.

A few tablespoons of chopped sweet red and green peppers makes cole slaw and other salads attractive and adds much to their flavor.

Pull the Trigger on Lazy Bowels, with Ease for Stomach, too

When constipation brings on acid indigestion, stomach upset, bloating, dizzy spells, gas, coated tongue, sour taste and bad breath, your stomach is probably "crying the blues" because your bowels don't move. It calls for Laxative-Senna to pull the trigger on those lazy bowels, combined with Syrup Pepsin for perfect ease to your stomach in taking. For years, many Doctors have given pepsin preparations in their prescriptions to make medicine more agreeable to a touchy stomach. So be sure your laxative contains Syrup Pepsin. Insist on Dr. Caldwell's Laxative-Senna combined with Syrup Pepsin. See how wonderfully the Laxative-Senna wakes up lazy nerves and muscles in your intestines to bring welcome relief from constipation. And the good old Syrup Pepsin makes this laxative so comfortable and easy on your stomach. Even finicky children love the taste of this pleasant family laxative. Buy Dr. Caldwell's Laxative-Senna at your druggist today. Try one laxative combined with Syrup Pepsin for ease to your stomach, too.

Don't worry about what to send the man in Uncle Sam's services for Christmas. He's told the country himself in any number of surveys. Cigarettes and smoking tobacco top the list of what he wants first of all from the folks back home—and first of all is Camel Cigarettes. Actual sales records from service men's stores—in the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, and Coast Guard—show Camels the largest-selling brand, with Prince Albert Smoking Tobacco a stand-out favorite. Local dealers are featuring Camels in a handsomely wrapped carton and in a novel Christmas package of four "flat fifties"—either way you give 200 cigarettes. Prince Albert is featured in the pound tin and pound glass humidifier all Christmas gift wrapped.—Adv.

Bomb Scarred English Ask Aid From Stratford

Bomb scarred Stratford, England sent greetings to the residents of Stratford, Texas this week in a letter to the name-sake town addressed to Mayor Arthur Ross by D. W. Hall, Mayor of West Ham, a division of Stratford, England.

The letter reads:

To The Authorities and Inhabitants of Stratford, U. S. A.:

On behalf of the inhabitants of Stratford (West Ham) we gladly seize this opportunity afforded to us through Miss Holland of sending you warm greetings and good wishes.

The County Borough of West Ham (which includes the district of Stratford) has suffered severely from enemy air attacks and was one of the first towns to be battered and "blitzed." Our people are standing up exceedingly well to the fiendish blows of the enemy, their moral is wonderful and endurance splendid. With the valuable aid of our American friends they will continue in the fight till victory and a real and abiding peace is obtained.

D. W. HALL,
Mayor of West Ham

Charley Lockhart Resigns; Jesse James Named State Treasurer

Diminished Charley Lockhart, the 66-year old State Treasurer who is only 45 inches in height, resigned Saturday because of ill health. For several months Lockhart had been forced to conduct his duties from a wheel chair.

Only Turkeys Which Are "Ripe" Should Be Sold

COLLEGE STATION—The year's biggest demand for turkeys is in the offing. It is timely, therefore, for producers to go over all marketable birds carefully, much as livestockmen cut out their cattle, says George P. McCarthy, poultry husbandman of the A. and M. College Extension Service. Only those turkeys often referred to as "ripe" are in best condition to go to market.

Growers can determine whether birds have developed well in flesh by feeling the keel and along the shoulders and thighs. If they are well fleshed then examine further to see whether they have put on fat. This is best indicated by layers of fat found along the thin feather tract of the breast and on the thighs. Examination should continue to see whether they have developed pin feathers.

Pin feathers, McCarthy explains, cut a turkey in grade probably more than any other thing. If a turkey has not developed pin feathers to the point where they protrude through the skin and have taken on a fanlike shape, then it can easily be classified as green. Should a turkey of this kind be dressed out a heavy scattering of pin feathers would be found over the breast and on the thigh. The degree of pin feather development easily can be determined by folding back some of the feather tracts along the breast to see whether feathers have developed well in the area, then looking whether the pin feathers have protruded through the web part of the wing. If the thigh is rather smooth to the touch, then pin feathers have developed and taken on a fanlike shape and the turkey will dress out a good market bird, McCarthy says.

"I find that lots of our toms are marketed too early. If they had been kept off the market another three or four weeks they would have topped the market in quality. So, in selecting turkeys for marketing at Thanksgiving, be sure to look over the toms carefully and do not sell any which are not in top condition."

A new smooth awn barley named Teas and developed at the Denton station of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, is being made available to farmers this year. Its qualities include resistance to disease and superiority in yield in central Texas.

First aid has been prominent on programs for most 4-H Club girls' encampments this year.

Plan Home Landscaping

COLLEGE STATION—The present is a suitable time to make a landscape plan which may be carried out during this year's planting season. Sadie Hatfield, specialist in landscape gardening of the Texas Extension Service, says that it generally is considered better to transplant shrubs and trees after the first frost and until the next growing season begins. The planning and planting of the home landscape is an activity in which the whole family can participate and enjoy.

To develop a landscape plan successfully some knowledge is necessary for making it, and thought and attention to it are required. Miss Hatfield suggests a preliminary visit by the family to some well landscaped homes to observe and use some of the desirable features such as convenient arrangement of walks and drives, placing of shade trees to keep out the sun, screening of the work area from public view, and outdoor living rooms or play areas. It is a good idea, too, for the family to make a trip or two to a nursery and nearby woods to study shrubs and trees which might be used in the landscape.

Each family should know the names of at least five shade trees, five evergreen shrubs, five deciduous shrubs, and five fruit trees which they would like to use in their homestead beautification. More or fewer plants than these may be used, but it is desirable to at least know those mentioned. Miss Hatfield believes it will be helpful to read aloud and discuss in the family circle some bulletins on landscaping. These may be obtained from the offices of the county extension agents or writing to the Extension Service of A. and M. College.

$50.00 For The First To Call Panhandle A "Dust Bowl"

DALHART, Oct. 30.—If you know who used the term "Dust Bowl" in print, or used the term and was quoted in print prior to the afternoon of April 25, 1935 there's $50 spot cash waiting for you.

The Dalhart Texan two weeks ago offered $50 for information leading to the positive identification of the person who coined the term "dust bowl."

The Texan also offers to pay the colners round-trip fare to Dalhart, take him on a tour of the old dust bowl area where now records in crop, grass and fat cattle are being established, and then honor him with a banquet in Dalhart.

Newspapers of this five-state territory have joined in the search and have been checking their files. The first time that "dust bowl" appeared in print, so far as now known, was the afternoon of April 25, 1935, which means that the story for the Texas paper was written the afternoon or evening prior.

The Texan is going to hold this offer open two weeks or more, but after that deadline the best proof up to that time will be accepted and the tour and banquet planned.

Tuesday. She failed to stop for the door; consequently we have had to choose another queen, Vondell Guthrie, whose escort will be Ira Lee Brannan.

We're expecting to have five dollars to spend after winning first prize with our stunt at the carnival. Don't forget and disappoint us, judges!

FRESHMEN

Anything can happen! Two freshmen made the honor roll the first six weeks for the first time in history. (Sh! We didn't check very far back)

We had a candy sale Saturday, proceeds to help in crowning our queen, June McDaniel, Queen of the Hallowe'en Carnival. Can we do it? Of course, if you will help, and we know that you will.

GRADE SCHOOL JOTS

Seventh grade, it seems, is head over heels in work. They are raising revenue for their queen and several of the girls are in the coronation review. But, as "scapegraces" always do, they'll survive it!

Of the sixth grade, Kenneth Pemberton was in Amarillo Monday. Absentees are Laverne Smith, Destry Trainham, Robert Keenan, Wanda O'Quin, Sheila Duby to Lefors. Don Riffe went to Texhoma. The sixth grade is looking forward to a Hallowe'en party Thursday, to be given by the room mothers, Mrs. Riffe and Mrs. Duby. The students are making scrap books for their United States History and Geography.

In the fifth grade the ones on the Distinguished List are: Rosemary Keener, Dixie Lee, Laezy Delores Smith, and Jackie Williams. Those on the Honor Roll are Joe Pete Flores, Billy Weston, Florence Alexander, Irene Beall, Dorless Ann Parker, Ruby Dell Harding, Loretta Houser, Virginia Lee Mowrer, and Betty June Roper. Sonny McAdams rode by airplane to Palo Duro Canyon and back to Amarillo with a civil aeronautics inspector.

On the fourth grade Distinguished List are Marlene Brown and Garnett Eryan. On the Honor Roll are Marjorie Boney, Donna Jean Bryan, Patsy Coffman, Lloyd King, and Jack Reed. The fourth grade also has a new pupil, Richard Clinkingbeard, from Arkansas City, Kansas.

Third grade Distinguished List: Georgana Skillin, Alvin Engelbrecht, Mary Nan Davis, Patsy Chambers, and Mildred Bennett. Honor Roll: Gene Harrison, Bennie Earl DuVall, Mary Isabel Arnold, Roberta Bird, and Gene Marshall. Junior Jacobs and Gay Nelle Pleyer were absent because the bus did not run. The third grade gave a Hallowe'en play and two readings in assembly. Mrs. Skillin, Mrs. Marshall, and Mrs. Lee entertained the third grade with a party. The pupils wore masks and costumes and were served sandwiches, gingerbread boys, cookies, and grape juice.

On the second grade Distinguished List: Jimmy Arnold, Georgia Lowe, Tommy Wakefield, and Carroll Reed. On the Honor Roll: Dorothy Neil Harding, and Richard Williams. There were several absent last week because of the muddy roads. Donita Brinkley is moving to Guymon. The second graders will miss her, but they wish her good luck. Doris Ann and Dorothea Beall visited in Dalhart last week. Thomas Armstrong attended the picture show in Dalhart Sunday. Bill Riffe spent a very delightful weekend in Texhoma with his grandparents. Jimmy Arnold went to Dalhart several times last week to see his mother who is ill in the hospital there.

The first grade now has enrolled thirty-four pupils. Eva Garcia, who has been ill for three weeks is

Every Member of the Family Should Read
The Dallas Morning News
DAILY AND SUNDAY (365 Days a Year)

The latest news is not all! The Dallas News is full of special features that every member of the family will read and enjoy after he is through with the headlines and news items. Comic strips—"Facts and Features," a popular column for boys and girls—the helpful foods and fashion pages—complete agricultural, sport, and financial pages make The News the ideal family newspaper.

—And in THE BIG SUNDAY NEWS is even more
—"This Week" Colorgrature Magazine, a big comic section in full colors, also Dr. Gallup's weekly poll of public opinion.
