LOOK AT YOURSELF—OTHER PEOPLE DO

What kind of housekeepers are you? Do you have to be told to pick up paper on or under your desk? Do you have to be told to mark or cut on your desk? Do you have to be told not to put your feet in the chairs so that they will not be scarred? Do you have to be told to clean the mud off your shoes before you come into the building? Do you have to be told to keep off the gym floor with your street shoes on?

If your answer to these questions is yes, you need to take a good look at yourself. Is that the kind of housekeeper you are? Is that the kind of citizen you are going to be? This is the place where you are going to have to live—some of you for several years yet. What kind of a house do you like to live in, to work in? If you go into a room that is littered with paper, the chairs disorderly arranged, the floor spotted with ink, a room that just looks messy in general, you cannot do your best work. It is much easier to work in a clean well-kept room. You need to take more civic responsibility in keeping the building clean and keeping it as new as possible. Your fame in Stratford High will not be enhanced any by carving your name on some desk or wall. If you want to do something for succeeding classes to remember you by, do something that will improve our building.

We have one of the best buildings to be found anywhere, but we cannot long keep this distinction if it is not properly cared for. Let's be civic minded and influence others to do so too.

R. O. H.

Just because there hasn't been an R. O. H. report in the Duster for almost a month is no sign the R. O. H. doesn't exist any more—because it does! And how! We had our monthly meeting last Wednesday the fifth, at the school building and had several important things to talk about—for instance, Sadie Hawkin's week—mummy! It is to be the last week in November, so come on, all you nifty gals. That's the time to get your bashful man!

The R. O. H. girls sent representatives to Amarillo Saturday; but their meeting had been postponed until the next Saturday.

May I urge all girls, women, or anybody of the "weaker sex" to observe Sadie Hawkin's Week and make it fun?

SPORTS

Basketball season is now starting, and there are a number of students coming out for practice. The girls have the gym one week from 3:15 until 4:15, while the boys begin at 4:15 and practice until the coach thinks they have enough; then the following week the order is reversed.

The first game for the basketball boys and girls is on December 2 at Texline. Since practice is just starting, we do not know who will make the teams. Texline has been playing since the opening of school and should have a fairly good team by December 2. Everyone thinks we will have a good team this year. With the district tournament coming to Stratford, we really have something to work for.

BAND REPORT

More good times! Well, some think it's fun to break down and get home at 3:00 a.m., but personally, I get rather sleepy. Anyway our bus is fixed now (we hope) and runs like a new one.

If you wish to know what this is all about, just read. The band went to Canyon Saturday and marched and played at the football game between the Canyon Buffaloes and St. Mary's College of San Antonio. Of course, we weren't the only band there; there were about nineteen others. We started home after the game and got about fifteen miles this side of Amarillo when the bus stopped; And I mean stopped! The bus was taken back to Amarillo for repairs, and the Dumas bus came to our rescue. The band members were taken home like a "whiz", arriving home at 3:00 a.m. The bus was driven home Sunday afternoon by Mr. Beene.

All in all, everyone had a good time, even though it was a little cool.

THIS UN THAT

(By Ernestine Thompson)
 Battle of the sexes:
 Date etiquette! Boy, when this question is raised, the feathers start flying! So here goes!
 First: When a guy asks a gal for a date, he should always let her know where he is taking her when he asks. He should never say, "How about a date?" or "What are you doing tonight?", but "Would you like to go to the show?"

 Second: A boy should always come in when he arrives and not honk his horn or yell or something. This makes mom and pop furious and there'll probably be no more dates with their little daughter for that boy.

Third: A boy should try to be a gentleman whether he is one or not. For instance, opening car doors for a girl is not only appreciated but expected! But most girls had rather he would hurry around the car instead of taking his own sweet time.

Fourth: If a boy really cares anything for himself he won't drink on a date, but he especially should refrain from this because of his date.

Fifth: When a girl asks to be taken home—TAKE HER HOME! Most girls stay out as late as their parents will allow, so be a sport and don't argue the question.

The other side of the question.

(By Pat Peterson)
 First: All this nonsense and etiquette on the boy's part is a bit old-fashioned.

Second: A boy should be courteous, all right, but taking the girl home at nine or nine-thirty is a lot of bunk.

Third: Opening the door for a girl on my car is impossible on the outside because it hasn't any handle on the girl's side.

Fourth: What if the parents do rave? They will get used to the girl coming home late.

Fifth: There ought to be more courteous girls because boys are humans just like the girls.

Always remember, a boy doesn't ask a girl for a date unless he wants to go with her; therefore the girl has every right to turn him down without a reason if she doesn't want to go!

TEN INCH TROUBLES

Here we are stitched back in the groove again after a hilarious week end.

What's happened to Edward and Mary Grace? Don't take him too seriously, Vendell. Remember there are some senior girls, too.

We surely are catching up on the Brannan twins. Edgar and Lena were properly chaperoned Sunday afternoon, however.

Senior play practices haven't aroused any courtships yet, but just wait. We're working.

From what we can hear, the band members had some thrilling experiences Saturday night. Did the bus break down? I could tell a lot of things that might be censored by those who wouldn't want the friend they left at home to know just what a good time they did have. By the way, just what did happen to that bus?

Selma spent the week end in Dalhart and was escorted home by three carloads of the Dalhart "moderns." Why can't we get in on some of this?

Ernestine, Lubbock is a big town, but, of course Dortch will be an excellent chaperone.

Bobby and Marcella were escorted from the middle of the Amarillo highway to Stratford by a part of Dalhart's younger generation. Lucky stiffs! They don't know what it is to be gassed.

You'll have to visit the Bonar Pharmacy and buy a soda from the new "shiek"—glamour boy Hudson.

Stanley, you and Bill Allen must grow up. You'll just have to get used to the tricks of these modern "co-eds" who wear lipstick.

SENIOR REPORT

For the first time since school started the seniors got a holiday. Last Thursday the seniors had their pictures made, so they didn't have to have any classes Thursday morning. Could we help it if it took all morning?

From the way it looks now we will never have any more holidays. The senior play really has us tied down. We are planning to present our play on November 16. The title is "Brothers of Belinda." It is going to be really good, so be sure to come to see it.

JUNIOR REPORT

The juniors have been fairly dormant all week, and there are almost no activities to report on.

The junior band members who

ADVERTISEMENT OF LIMITED PARTNERSHIP

We, the subscribers, have this day entered into a limited partnership agreeably to the provisions of Chapter 1, Title 105, Revised Statutes of Texas (1925), as amended, relating to limited partnerships, and do hereby certify that the name of the firm under which said partnership is to be conducted is TEXHOMA FLYING SERVICE, Ltd.; that the general nature of the business intended to be transacted is maintaining and operating an airport, operating a flying school, buying and selling aeroplanes and aircraft and parts therefor, repairing aircraft and motors therefor, and selling gasoline, oil, grease and accessories for aircraft; and same will be transacted at Texhoma in Sherman County, Texas; that the name of the general partner of said firm is J. Frank Shaw, and the name of the special partner is Carl Craig, both of whom reside in Sherman County, Texas, and the postoffice address of each being Texhoma, Oklahoma; that the capital contributed by said Carl Craig, special partner, aggregates Sixty-five Hundred Fifteen and 50/100 Dollars ($6,515.50) in cash and property as set forth in the Certificate of Limited Partnership filed in the office of the County Clerk of Sherman County, Texas, to which reference is made; that the period at which said partnership is to commence is the 27th day of October, A. D., 1941, and it will terminate on the 27th day of October, A. D., 1944.

went to Canyon did have a little excitement. The bus developed motor trouble and they were stalled there for half the night. The Dumas bus was sent for and the band arrived in Stratford around three o'clock.

The game at Canyon was very good and many bands were gathered there to help celebrate their Homecoming. The queen who was crowned was a campus beauty.

Couples seen on the bus were Peggy Morse and Bob Brown, Samman Lou Lasley and Ira Lee Brannan, Zola Faye and Willie Dee, Lovita Cowdrey and Billy Claude Arnold.

One of our juniors went to Amarillo with the R. O. H. girls to a meeting only to find it was postponed, so this concludes the week end activities of the juniors.

Everybody seems to be hibernating right now—the only sounds heard are yawns and snores. Well, I'll see you next week if I'm not still asleep.

SOPHOMORE REPORT

The sophomores haven't been lately. We are planning a party doing anything except studying now, but no one knows just what kind it will be. Somebody mentioned a hay ride, but a wagon is entirely too slow for us.

Some of our classmates are going around with their eyes half closed with sleep. We don't know whether it was the band trip or something else.

GRADE SCHOOL JOYS

James Bradley, Bobby Dortch, and Betty Jean Blevins were among those in the seventh grade who made the trip to Canyon with the band.

Albert Koontz has gone to Kansas to live. Louise Carter and Dolores Pleyer were shopping in Dalhart Saturday.

Beverly Smith visited relatives in Plains, Kansas, Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Williams, sixth grade teacher has been sick for the last week, and has had to go home to recuperate. We hope she will not have to be away for more than a week.

Charlotte is back after a week's absence because of illness. Mervin has also recovered enough to return to school.

Billy, Kenneth, and Lena Faye went to Canyon with the band.

The fifth graders have been studying their lessons very hard, especially arithmetic.

Mrs. Williams visited them Friday afternoon. Angie Taylor broke her wrist Saturday while trying to climb a step ladder.

Ida Bachman was ill Friday. Loretta Houser was absent part of the week. Florence Alexander went to Dalhart Friday, and Dolores Smith went to Plains, Kansas Saturday.

Bobbie Dick Farris, a pupil of the fourth grade, is ill.

Marlene Brown has been absent. Alice Weatherly and Mary Lou Griffith went to Dalhart Saturday. Jackie Davis spent the week end in the country.

The fourth grade had a Halloween party week before last. Mrs. Reed and Mrs. DuVall, their room mothers, gave it and served treats.

Mary Ellen White, a former Stratford girl, is again attending school in Stratford.

Roberta Jean Bird, of the third grade, went to Amarillo Saturday.

Gene Ross went to Amarillo. Dean O'quin went to Texhoma Sunday.

Darlene Palmer has a new baby brother. Gene Marshall went to Pampa over the week end.

Retah Evelyn Cameron caused a great deal of excitement in the second grade room Monday morning when she brought to school a fresh coconut given to her by Mr. and Mrs. Harmon Lowe.

Bill Riffe spent the week end in Texhoma visiting his grandparents.

Almeta Jo Wall visited in Goodwell and Skellytown Saturday and Sunday.

Bobby Lovelace listened too hard and had the earache so bad that he missed two days of school.

The first graders are still doing well. They want to thank Mrs. Price, their room mother, for the Halloween party she gave them. The party had had to be postponed because Mrs. Price was ill the week before. It was a swell party, just the same.

Texans Reject Some Forms Of Free Speech

Only 38 percent of the people of Texas would support all forms of free speech, it was announced recently by the Belden poll. This fact was established when the survey was taken in which citizens of the state were asked if they would be willing to allow Senator Burton K. Wheeler or Charles A. Lindberg to use municipal parks and auditoriums for speaking. Wheeler and Lindberg are leading isolationists.

Deer Hunting Season Opens Sunday

Deer hunting season opens in Texas Sunday with the exception of several counties which have no open season. West of the Pecos river the season is from November 16 to 30. In other locations the season will extend until December 31.

...and do be careful!

"Five mornings a week, nine months a year, we mothers of Texas get our children ready for school. In our home and a million other Texas homes, that's one of the first and most important duties of a mother's day. Sometimes Dad finds out what a job it is when he has to do it by himself."

All of us want our children to have the best education possible. Most of us look to the public schools for this.

Fortunately, Texas has the best public schools in the South. Helping to build and operate them is the Texas petroleum industry which pays 24 million dollars a year in taxes for school purposes.

These petroleum taxes pay an average of one-fourth the cost of educating our children. Altogether, they meet the entire expense of schooling nearly 400,000 Texas boys and girls.

In addition, oil has contributed substantially to the 70 million dollar permanent school fund. Oil is also responsible for much of the 30 million dollar permanent university fund, which has made possible the expansion of the University of Texas and A. & M. College.

Furthermore, taxes on petroleum products add another 11½ million dollars a year for the schools of our State.

Our children get a better education today because of the Texas petroleum industry.

Official Pictures of Torpedoed U. S. S. Kearny

Official pictures released by the navy department show the damage done to the U. S. S. Kearny when she was torpedoed by a submarine off Iceland. At left, crew members look at twisted wreckage below decks after the torpedoed destroyer steamed into port. Right: the Kearny, tied to sister ship, is shown limping into unnamed port. Arrow points to the hole made by the torpedo.

A Lesson or Two in Preparedness

Marines of the royal Netherlands navy, still loyal to their exiled queen, are pictured above crossing a river, fully dressed, during maneuvers at Sourabaja, Netherlands East Indies. Japan is their nearest Axis enemy. Inset: A "casualty" is floated across a river on a makeshift raft during demonstration staged by Britain's royal army medical corps. Buoyancy is given by empty oil cans.

They Watched the Tanks Go By

Standing at attention while the national anthem is being played at the Schenectady, N. Y., plant of the American Locomotive company during a defense day inspection of the plant. M-3 medium tank is shown at left. Another tank, on flat car in background, is about to be sent on its way to army proving grounds.

Turkey Dinner in the Offing

Turkey, with all the trimmings, will grace the festive board at army camps throughout the country on Thanksgiving day. These soldiers of Camp Lee, Va., could not resist their battle training as they creep up on the all-unsuspecting turkeys at the Wippenock farm, South-land, Va.

... Not to Market

Not to market, but to San Francisco's grand national livestock exposition, is the destination of these two little pigs, chosen as her entrants by Miss Milo Kimmeler. The exposition will present a livestock, horse and radio show of national character, November 15-22.

After Record Leap

Arthur Starnes is greeted by his wife and son, Robert, on right, after plunging six miles in record "free fall" chute leap. He parachuted less than 1,500 feet in the six-mile drop.

THE deficiency in the average health of this country's citizenry doesn't apply to one William Malcolm Dickey of the New York Yankees and Little Rock, Ark.

It was only a few weeks ago that Bill Dickey set a new all-time record by catching more than 100 ball games for 13 consecutive seasons. This landed Arkansas Bill in front of Gabby Hartnett and Ray Schalk, two other hardy and enduring people, who worked with big mitt and protector.

There is a reason for Dickey's hardihood. Bill could hardly wait until the season was over to start on a fishing trip in and around Florida. His next plan of winter action consists of an almost continual quail hunt from opening day, December 1, to closing day in February. And this means every day.

Quail hunting with Bill Dickey doesn't come under the range of light exercise. Having been with Bill on several expeditions we can give you the order of the day—

1. Arise at 3:45 a. m., dress and handle your eggs, bacon and coffee.
2. Drive from 100 to 120 miles well off the beaten Arkansas track.
3. Be all set to start hunting at sunrise.
4. After the dogs from 7 a. m. until a gray, winter dusk falls on the Arkansas plains and you can't see the trees.

Bill Dickey is 6 feet 3, of which 73 per cent is leg length. His pace setter is a younger brother, Skeeter, who is 6 feet 4 with even longer legs. After a few days' hunting with the Dickey brothers you are either in amazing physical condition or ready to be measured for a winding sheet.

This explains why Bill Dickey is still a great catcher after 17 seasons and why he still will be a great catcher in 1942. He doesn't have to get back in condition, as so many do, because he is never out of condition.

Looking Back

This seems to be the right moment to exonerate a bunch of Stanford stars and clear up part of an old mystery. A short while after the Stanford-Alabama Rose Bowl game in 1935, when Dixie Howell had completed numerous passes to Don Hutson, including two for touchdowns, I was talking to Keith Topping, one of Stanford's ends.

"I still can't understand what happened," Topping said—and this was several years ago. "We knew the pass was coming from Howell to Hutson. As the ball was thrown Monk Moscrip and myself, Bones Hamilton and maybe Bobby Grayson would be covering him. At least, we thought we had him covered. Two or three of us would be only a foot or so away. One of us would go for the ball and try to intercept it or knock it down. The others would watch Hutson. But suddenly Hutson would have the ball and be off and gone before we could even touch him. He was like a disappearing ghost. His hands worked like lightning and his feet worked even faster. That's something I could never understand—and probably never will."

Topping and his Stanford mates can cheer up now. The same wail has been coming up from the pro National league clubs for years. None of them has found a way yet to handle Hutson—to keep him from making the catch and getting away.

In the first place, Hutson has run the hundred in 9.8. He was a good high jumper. He has a great pair of hands. But beyond even that he has the knack of faking and fooling his opponents with a brand of body feinting and other forms of skulduggery that no defenders can quite match.

An Oversight

In discussing great second basemen a few days ago the names of Lajoie, Collins, Frisch and Hornsby were set up in front.

"What about Charlie Gehringer?" comes a squawk from Tigertown. This Tiger veteran certainly belongs in the head list of any second-base nominations.

The entry from Fowlerville, Mich., can look back on a brilliant big league record of 18 years. Time, the surest of all tacklers, has finally caught up with him but his record remains, both as a fine hitter and a star fielder.

Kelly's Hard Job

The main deficiency in our lack of national condition is largely a matter of eyes, teeth, ears, stomach and legs. Outside of these few details we are a hardy race.

No wonder Jack Kelly, the former champion oarsman, now heading a national conditioning board, almost shudders at the magnitude of his job. Getting millions of people, especially younger and middle-aged people, to tackle problems of diet and exercise, is a tough job.

Washington, D. C. NAZI SABOTAGE

The man to watch in Europe today—next to Hitler—is a suave and charming diplomat in Turkey named Franz von Papen. It is always a significant omen when Hitler sends Von Papen to a country. It means he has dire and potent intentions regarding that area.

It was Von Papen who went to Austria as ambassador to soften it in preparation for the Nazi occupation. It was Von Papen who 26 years ago tried to do the same thing here. And now, with weather getting cold in Russia and Hitler running lower and lower on oil, a Nazi squeeze on Turkey becomes almost inevitable. To prepare for it, Ambassador Von Papen has been working overtime in Turkey.

Almost forgotten is Von Papen's attempt to soften and sabotage the United States during the last war. But his operations here indicate the lengths to which he may go in Turkey to bring that country into the Axis.

In 1915, Von Papen was German military attache in Washington when Count Johann von Bernstorff returned from England with a satchel containing $150,000,000 in German treasury notes.

Von Papen, then in Mexico City, hurried north, and immediately began organizing a network of spies.

Invasion Via Canada.

After selecting his agents carefully, Von Papen laid the following plans:

No. 1. To invade Canada through British Columbia with the aid of German warships in the Pacific and German reservists in the United States. This plan was vetoed by Von Bernstorff.

No. 2. To blow up the Welland canal. This scheme likewise was abandoned, because the canal was too well guarded.

No. 3. To blow up Canadian railroads in an effort to prevent transportation of Japanese troops through Canada. (The Japanese were fighting with the Allies.)

No. 4. To blow up the International bridge at Vanceboro, Maine. This was accomplished through an agent named Werner Horn.

Von Papen was so industrious and unscrupulous that he over-reached himself, and Wilson demanded his recall. But when he reached home, both he and Bernstorff were awarded decorations, and both promoted.

Subsequently, Von Papen became chancellor of Germany and he took part in the conspiracies which brought Hitler into power.

RUSSIAN REQUEST—A DRIBLET

Averell Harriman's confidential report on Russian requests for aid was vastly different from British requests after Dunkirk. In comparison with the British, the Russian orders seemed a mere driblet. After the Lowlands debacle, the British had to start from scratch, having lost practically all their armored equipment and most of their field artillery. The Russians have lost tremendous quantities of material, but judging from their relatively modest requests, they still must have a lot left.

One of the chief things they asked for was 75 and 105 mm. guns, which, luckily we can supply. Production figures are a military secret, but these cannon are now rolling off assembly lines in quantity. The Russians also asked for machine guns, which we can furnish also in large numbers, since machine gun production is at a high level.

One of the biggest, and pleasantest surprises to Harriman was that the Russians do not need machine tools, at least for the present. This took a big load off his mind, as both the U. S. and Britain have few tools to spare right now.

Note: U. S. military experts consider lack of co-ordination between the three Russian armies to be one of the principal reasons for the break through in the center against Moscow. Although there has been a shift of Russian generals, doubt still exists about the co-ordination of the three armies under a central command.

INFLATION CURE

Here is the inside lowdown on Price Administrator Leon Henderson's own private preventive against inflation.

He disclosed it to a group of Charlestown, W. Va., business men during a speech on the dangers of runaway prices. One of the audience asked Henderson how a business man could best protect himself against inflation.

"Work like hell," was the prompt reply, "and go to church regularly."

MERRY-GO-ROUND

Introduced to a British production expert who had just completed a survey of U. S. defense plants, OPM boss William Knudsen took him off his feet by inquiring "What impressed you least?"

A sports commentator, sponsored by a shaving cream, called the duke of Windsor in Baltimore, inviting him to appear as guest star on the radio program, the money to be paid to British charity. The duke declined—even before he was told the offer was only $100.

Pull the Trigger on Lazy Bowels, with Ease for Stomach, too

When constipation brings on acid indigestion, stomach upset, bloating, dizzy spells, gas, coated tongue, sour taste and bad breath, your stomach is probably "crying the blues" because your bowels don't move. It calls for Laxative-Senna to pull the trigger on those lazy bowels, combined with Syrup Pepsin for perfect ease to your stomach in taking. For years, many Doctors have given pepsin preparations in their prescriptions to make medicine more agreeable to a touchy stomach. So be sure your laxative contains Syrup Pepsin. Insist on Dr. Caldwell's Laxative-Senna combined with Syrup Pepsin. See how wonderfully the Laxative-Senna wakes up lazy nerves and muscles in your intestines to bring welcome relief from constipation. And the good old Syrup Pepsin makes this laxative so comfortable and easy on your stomach. Even finicky children love the taste of this pleasant family laxative. Buy Dr. Caldwell's Laxative-Senna at your druggist today. Try one laxative combined with Syrup Pepsin for ease to your stomach, too.

cautioned by Dewey Reed, manager of the Amarillo office of the Social Security Board, to exercise more care in guarding against the loss of their account number cards and showing their cards to every employer for whom they work.
"We find," Reed stated, "that a substantial number of workers, through carelessness or lack of foresight, are causing themselves or their survivors a great deal of unnecessary worry and trouble in establishing their rights to benefits under the old-age and survivors insurance provisions of the Social Security Act. This is brought about in many instances by the worker himself when he loses his card or for any reason does not have his card available when he goes on a new job. Every worker subject to the provisions of the act is required to have a social security account number, and every employer covered by the act is required to report all employees, their account numbers, and total earnings on the employers quarterly tax returns. Failure on the part of either to comply with the requirements only serves to confuse the workers' old-age and survivors insurance account, resulting, in some cases, in a reduction of benefits payable since the amount of benefits is based on the workers' total earnings. Negligence on the part of either may even result in the loss of all benefits."
"Mothers and wives can be most helpful in guarding against loss of social security cards and in checking with working members of their families to make certain that they have presented their cards to every employer. Account number cards should be placed with other valuable papers and should be readily available when needed. Workers should not carry them around in their pocket books unless they are seeking employment," Reed said.

Women do many farm chores, and with boys being called to the colors likely they'll do more in the future. Those with such active jobs will do well to investigate some new work clothes designed by the Bureau of Home Economics, advises Mrs. Dora R. Barnes, clothing specialist for the Texas Extension Service. At the left is a one-piece cotton coverette made for chores such as milking, gardening and tending the chickens. For heavier farm work is the field suit worn by the girl on the right. It has slidefasteners which close the legs at the ankle and half sleeves that snap on and off.

THE P. T. A. AT WORK

Physical handicaps include so many different defects that it is impossible to more than touch on the problems they present. Early discovery and treatment is the first important thing to keep in mind. The partially deaf child who goes unnoticed until the third and fourth grades wastes much time, does poor school work, and develops feelings of suspicion and inferiority. The Summer Round-Up offers fine opportunities for testing the hearing of children before school entrance.

The parents of the handicapped children must avoid showing pity or extreme sympathy and avoid spoiling their children or letting them become sorry for themselves. Many handicapped children can develop special skills that will enable them to take their place in the world. If spoiled, pampered, or pitied, a second handicap of emotional immaturity, which will increase the child's future difficulties is added.

It is important that a handicap be viewed frankly rather than as something of which to be ashamed. The handicapped child should be included in as many of the usual family activities as possible.

1942 Payment
Rates Announced

Rates of payments to Texas farmers under the 1942 AAA program are directed at greater conservation on individual farms, according to Fred Rennels, assistant administrative officer of the AAA in Texas.

Other provisions will assist farmers in attaining record production of commodities needed in the Food-For-Freedom campaign he said.

Payment rates, based on normal yield of allotted acreages, include cotton at 1.25 cents per pound; wheat, 10.5 cents per bushel; rice, $4.98 per barrel; and peanuts, 7.25 cents per 100 pounds. The rate on commercial potatoes, included in the program for the first time this year, is 2 cents per bushel.

In explaining the program further, Rennels said that farmers may earn two types of payments, one in connection with special allotments and the other for carrying out soil-building practices. Special allotment crops in Texas are wheat, cotton, rice, potatoes and peanuts.

Payments for complying with acreage allotments will be made in proportion to the degree with which erosion-resisting, or soil-conserving acreage requirements are met.

Soil-building allowances established at 70 cents per acre on cropland in excess of special allotments may be earned by carrying out approved practices, the AAA official explained.

As in previous years, payments under the program depend upon the $500,000,000 annual appropriation authorized in the AAA Act of 1938, Rennels said. Rates are subject to 10 percent upward or downward depending upon the degree with which farmers comply with the program.

Instead of total soil-depleting allotments as established under past programs, next year's program provides a specified percentage of cropland be devoted to erosion-resisting or soil-conserving crops or land uses. This provision of the program is a forward step in continued soil improvement Rennels pointed out.

Predicts U. S.
Foremost Military
Power In 1942

This country is just beginning to encounter some of the biggest and most difficult problems that a military economy makes unavoidable. The arms program is getting into stride. Our aircraft production of tanks, machine guns, army trucks and other vital necessities, is increasing fast. The two-ocean navy will be completed far ahead of the original schedule. In the next two years, unless something unexpected occurs to change the picture, we should become the foremost military power on earth. This doesn't mean that we are doing our theoretical utmost. We aren't. Labor troubles continue to mount and undermine production.

a sub-contracting system, so that small and middle-sized concerns may obtain a fair share of the orders. So far, however, little progress has been made. The bulk of small businesses haven't the equipment or the personnel which are needed. When you want a tremendous job done, you naturally turn to the great mass-production industries which are geared to make the largest possible quantities of goods in the shortest possible period of time. The dollar-a-year men in the defense bureaus are taken from big industries. And so small business finds it more and more difficult to obtain the supplies it must have.

If this trend continues, it is apparent that a revolutionary change will take place in the American economy. Whether that change will be for the better or worse is a matter of argument. In the meantime, it is an ironical fact that hundreds of thousands of men are being thrown out of jobs during a time when there is a shortage of suitable labor—and thousands of businesses are in danger of being shut down.

DAVIS MOTOR CO. Stratford, Texas

ATTACK ON AMERICA BY GENERAL HAGED WHITE

THE STORY SO FAR: Intelligence officer Benning's warning that 200,000 foreign troops were poised in Mexico for an attack on the United States caused grave concern in army headquarters...

CHAPTER VIII—Continued As Boll's eye went back into the air, his mind was lifted suddenly but of the depths of black despair by a joyous miracle of development...

Boll's hand flashed out his field-glasses. He glued them to the skies. From under the wings of those incoming squadrons flashed the glorious legend "U. S. Army."

American planes plummeted down. Van Hasek's horns now were droning about in a Lufbery circle awaiting the developments of attack.

Planes were being laid for a call for 500,000 volunteers. That would have to wait action by Congress, but Congress could be depended upon now to go the limit.

As for modern equipment, that would have to wait. There would be no such thing as buying it in France and England, even in Canada, as at the time of the World War.

A noon sun was burning the baked hills and swales when Boll's survivors rolled in on a Second Division outpost south of Kirk.

The outpost commander came hurrying up. "Sorry to report in with my command shot to pieces like this, Colonel," Boll reported in grim dejection.

"Eleventh's men are being evacuated to San Antonio, Captain," the outpost commander advised. "Colonel Denn was killed, total casualties over three hundred men."

In Washington, Captain Benning spent a sleepless nightmare of a night on the assignment from Flagwill of observing panic-stricken streets.

Daybreak and exhaustion restored some degree of reason. People moved about now as if stunned, but from time to time looking fearfully into the skies or straining at every word of radio loudspeakers...

Traffic jams finally had been reduced, steady streams of cabs and cars were pouring out of the city on all roads. Thousands flocked about the railway station clamoring for standing space on any train that led away from Washington.

Texas invaded. Extras massed black headlines over meager dispatches from San Antonio. Van Hasek was moving north in three columns. American infantry and cavalry were fighting him at the Rio Grande.

Another extra dashed out. Washington safe! Benning read eagerly. It had been as Flagwill guessed. The night raiders had planted a refueling field. Back of the Tennessee River, southwest from Nashville.

"But anyhow, come what may with the future," Flagwill went on with a sardonic grin, "the Chief has just made one ten-strike of a decision. We're to make our first real military stand down around Fort Worth, which is about as far as Van Hasek would dare go in any event."

That subdued hum of relentless activity filled the Munitions Building. Faces were lined and gray from strain and fatigue, but eyes burned from smudged sockets with stern resolution.

The night's panic had swept the whole country. In the midwest there had been incredulity at first. The whole thing seemed too inconceivable. Invasions, bomber raids, were an intangible atrocity occurring to distant peoples and recorded in dispatches.

INSTALLMENT NINE The air; Washington was bombed and the President killed. General Brill, commander of the army in Texas, reported to General Hague at Washington that he was opposed by greatly superior forces.

ties belonged to the black pages of Shanghai, Canton, and Madrid. Already the hue and cry was rising west of the Alleghenies sharp on the heels of the last hysterical waves of fear.

The first reports of mobilization of Army and National Guard were pouring in. Mobilization was less than one fourth complete. The Regular Army was ready to entrain for concentration points from its far-flung network of small garrisons.

Plans were being laid for a call for 500,000 volunteers. That would have to wait action by Congress, but Congress could be depended upon now to go the limit.

As for modern equipment, that would have to wait. There would be no such thing as buying it in France and England, even in Canada, as at the time of the World War.

General Mole sat in the hot shelter of his command post which had been dug by engineers into the reverse slope of a squat ridge. He puffed glumly at the stub of a cigar.

Planes soared overhead, American combat planes covering his position against air attack. From time to time an observation plane dashed low with a dropped message reporting progress of the Van Hasek approach.

Mole's plan of battle was shaped; his formal orders had been distributed. Since morning the men had been digging in.

His senior aide-de-camp came up to him and saluted. "Sir, the officers are assembled," the captain advised.

"I've been reading the reports and recommendations of the staff sections, sir," Benning answered. "Mobilization seems to be moving right along and the panic is cooling off, even in Washington."

"Mobilizing is one thing, fighting another," Flagwill snapped out. "By tonight, when the Second gets cracked at San Antonio, the whole country will be howling for action."

"I wanted a few words with you before we go into action, gentlemen," he began in a calm voice. "The decision to fight here was made for us by General Hague. Therefore, it becomes our decision. Let me frankly say that the Army is on the spot, that the people wouldn't understand the simple wisdom of our falling back without a fight."

"All right, we'll go through! We'll hold! We'll give the country a new tradition to remember! We'll fight Van Hasek with one regiment to four or five! If we're attacked this afternoon we'll fight until night. We'll hold through tomorrow. Then I'll make my further decision. When the time comes I'll give the order for withdrawal which must be by night."

"Gentlemen, a final word! We'll show the country what our mettle is. We'll show the enemy what they can expect to meet once our armies are mobilized and organized and trained. Remember this, if we lost every last man in the Second Division, our losses would still be only a fraction of what the good old Second took in France, even if nobody remembers that fact but the Second's survivors!"

His voice rose to a furious intensity and his clenched hand rose above his head.

"A new Alamo to remember, gentlemen! That's what we'll give the country—a new Alamo to remember! Put that thought into the teeth of your men. That's all!"

Infantry into position for battle. Boll's motor column bravely withstood a terrible strafing from enemy aircraft, but he ordered the men to abandon their trucks when he observed twenty more planes approaching.

confirms what we'd guessed long ago. They also suggest that the enemy espionage has its headquarters in New York, disguised as some large corporation, no details available.

Benning started. Into his mind flashed Captain Fincke's cryptic statements at the Shoreham. Promptly he decided against reporting this conversation for the time being.

"All right, Benning," Flagwill said, his eyes snapping. "I assume you made no mistake in not arresting them last night. But now you forget everything else and get out after them! Use your own judgment about when you make arrests, but see to it they don't get away from you."

There is moreover a severer type of purging to which the husbandman subjects the vine that it may bear more richly, and that is pruning (v. 2). It may not be pleasant, my brother, but it is profitable, and remember whose loving and sure hand it is that wields the pruning knife (v. 1).

Some branches must be cut away altogether (v. 1) and burned (v. 6). They lack the evidence of life—fruitbearing—and must be destroyed.

Obedience (vv. 9, 10). The hall-mark of character in a child is obedience. That is also true in God's household. There is no use in talking sweetly and piously about abiding in God's love unless we obey His commandments.

Purity of Life (v. 3). "Now ye are clean"—how refreshing our Lord's words sound to us as we live in a wicked and filthy world.

Prevailing Prayer (v. 7). At first one wonders why our Lord put in that word about prayer, but it is evident that one of the fruits of union and fellowship with Christ must be intelligent prayer according to God's will, in the power of the Spirit, and certain of an answer.

Fruitbearing (vv. 2, 4, 5, 8). The fruit a Christian bears is the fruit of Christ who is the Vine, but as the branch he does have the joy of bearing "fruit" (v. 2), "more fruit" (v. 2), and "much fruit" (vv. 5, 8).

Abiding in Love (v. 10). We have been talking about abiding all through our lesson and it may seem strange to list it as one of the results of union with Christ, yet it belongs here. Our Lord said (v. 10) that the cleansed and obedient disciple should abide in His love, even as He obeys the Father and abides in His love.

What a picture that is. Christ, the One who knew no stain of sin (II Cor. 5:21), always perfectly obedient to the Father (Heb. 10:7), who knows complete and perfect fellowship with the Father, reaches out His loving arms and draws the believer into the circle of that blessed union and love.

Only Thee! No one can ever become quite solitary, quite poor, quite miserable, who can truly say "Lord, if only I have Thee." That is just the time when God makes his consolation most gratifying and abundant, when we through distress of body and soul have turned from all temporal things to Him, and have learned that royal, overshadowing "only thee."

UNION WITH CHRIST LESSON TEXT—John 15:1-10. GOLDEN TEXT—Abide in me, and I in you.—John 15:4.

There is a sense in which union with Christ is entirely unconditional, one is either united with Him by faith or he is not. However, there are conditions for the fulfillment of all that such union carries with it. It is in that sense we use the word.

Some branches must be cut away altogether (v. 1) and burned (v. 6). They lack the evidence of life—fruitbearing—and must be destroyed.

Obedience (vv. 9, 10). The hall-mark of character in a child is obedience. That is also true in God's household. There is no use in talking sweetly and piously about abiding in God's love unless we obey His commandments.

Purity of Life (v. 3). "Now ye are clean"—how refreshing our Lord's words sound to us as we live in a wicked and filthy world.

Prevailing Prayer (v. 7). At first one wonders why our Lord put in that word about prayer, but it is evident that one of the fruits of union and fellowship with Christ must be intelligent prayer according to God's will, in the power of the Spirit, and certain of an answer.

Fruitbearing (vv. 2, 4, 5, 8). The fruit a Christian bears is the fruit of Christ who is the Vine, but as the branch he does have the joy of bearing "fruit" (v. 2), "more fruit" (v. 2), and "much fruit" (vv. 5, 8).

Abiding in Love (v. 10). We have been talking about abiding all through our lesson and it may seem strange to list it as one of the results of union with Christ, yet it belongs here.

What a picture that is. Christ, the One who knew no stain of sin (II Cor. 5:21), always perfectly obedient to the Father (Heb. 10:7), who knows complete and perfect fellowship with the Father, reaches out His loving arms and draws the believer into the circle of that blessed union and love.

Only Thee! No one can ever become quite solitary, quite poor, quite miserable, who can truly say "Lord, if only I have Thee." That is just the time when God makes his consolation most gratifying and abundant, when we through distress of body and soul have turned from all temporal things to Him, and have learned that royal, overshadowing "only thee."

SEES 'PLANNED ECONOMY' AS FORM OF FASCISM WASHINGTON is figuring on the war in Europe continuing at least into, and possibly all through 1943, and that we will be a part of it.

The opinion in Washington is that all small manufacturing concerns that cannot be adapted to war production will have to close and get out of business. It will mean the closing of thousands of small factories, a large proportion of them located in small towns.

That, briefly, is the program at Washington for the future. To me it is not a bright or promising future, either during the war or after it is over.

INFLATION WOULD MEAN EQUALIZATION OF POVERTY WE ARE TOLD in Washington that America is to spend 50 billions a year on preparations for war and aid to the democracies.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Army, Navy and Commercial Airlines Suffer in Series of Plane Crashes; 'Reuben James' Sinking, F.D.R. Speech Draw Formal Statement From Hitler

(EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.) (Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Troops who took over the Bendix, N. J., plant of Air Associates, at the command of President Roosevelt are shown camping in a field near the plant. The order for the plant's occupation came in the interests of "national defense" according to official sources as Air Associates holds millions of dollars' worth of defense contracts for various kinds of aviation equipment. Production had been held up because of difficulty between the company and union leaders, but work got under way soon after the troops moved in.

FIRST LOSS:

Sinking of 'James'

First American naval loss of the war was the Reuben James, 1,000-ton destroyer, 20 years old, sent to the bottom of the Atlantic with an undetermined loss of life somewhere west of Iceland.

Details were shrouded with greatest secrecy by the navy, who finally disclosed that 44 men, apparently all enlisted men, were saved. Whether more would later be rescued was problematical.

She carried about 120 officers and men. Whether she had previously encountered and battled successfully with submarines was a matter of conjecture.

One news service had obtained a purported letter from one of the sailors on the Reuben James which stated that the vessel had sunk two submarines, "maybe more."

The writer was Leonidas C. Dickerson, a seaman, who wrote to his aunt in Danville, Va.

"We've been at sea for 42 consecutive days, and I've lost lots of sleep. I'll be glad when we're through with this job and I can get some sleep again."

The letter, written several weeks before the sinking, said: "We have gotten two subs, maybe more. I have lots to tell you when I see you."

Another letter told of a submarine attack on the James. It had been written by Harold James Orange to his mother, Mrs. Marie Orange, in Chicago. He said:

"I was up on the crow's nest on watch when we were nearing Iceland and I saw a torpedo. It was coming right for us. I gave the alarm and we started zig-zagging. It missed us, sped right by. I saw not one, but several submarines."

REACTION:

In Many Quarters

Following the sinking of the Reuben James the reactions followed swiftly, drawing certain powerful figures closer to the President's foreign policy, and bringing from Hitler's headquarters no other statement than that "people foolish enough to walk down a railroad track may expect to be run over."

Berlin issued a lengthy formal statement from Hitler, most of which was devoted to answering the President's Navy day address.

He reiterated his statements that the South American map and the document purporting to reveal a Nazi plan to do away with all religion as "nonsensical" and "crude forgeries." He categorically denied that the Reich government had created either of these items.

The wording of the declarations from the German leader was scanned carefully by foreign correspondents, who saw in it the typical Nazi line of argument that their vessels had been attacked; that Germany was being attacked by the United States, that the U. S. was stamping itself as the aggressor.

These words were believed significant in that it was the usual German terminology preceding an open break between the Reich and another nation. It was pointed out that treaties between Germany and her Axis partners called for help in case any member of the three is attacked.

'Declaration'?

Hitler, it was believed by the correspondents, was simply laying the usual groundwork for a definite hostile declaration against this country and its policies.

He said: "Herr Roosevelt has been placed before the tribunal for world judgment of his acts."

The declaration attacked the truth of Roosevelt's statements that the Greer and the Kearny had been attacked by the Germans, and stamped both vessels as the attackers.

PLANES:

Keep Crashing

Started off by the crashing of five army pursuit planes, this disaster seemed the signal for a series of tragic losses, which had reached a new record for American aviation.

A Northwest Airlines plane dropped to earth in a fog, killing 14 persons and hurling the pilot clear. Within 24 hours a 21-passenger American Airlines plane, carrying 20 persons, plummeted to earth in a rainstorm near St. Thomas, Can., and burst into flames. All lost their lives.

Less than 48 hours later an army bomber, with five air corps men aboard, fell out of misty clouds into a cornfield near Findlay, Ohio, and burst into flames.

The five men were instantly killed. Then it was the navy's turn to announce a disaster. This was the crash of a huge bomber at sea with the loss of 12 lives. The plane was "operating in the Atlantic ocean area."

At nearly the same time a 22-year-old American of German extraction was arrested at the Glenn L. Martin plant in Baltimore, and confessed to be a saboteur of planes, having cut electrical wires in such a way that contacts would be broken at some later date.

His deeds had affected more than a hundred planes, though most, if not all of them, had been discovered. So cleverly did he hide his work that suspicion had been thrown on hundreds of other employees. It took the FBI agents from July until late October to catch him.

REDS:

'Reservoirs'

Although the defense lines around Moscow had been bending now and then, the break had not come, and enormous reserves from "manpower reservoirs" in Siberia and other parts of the vast country were reported as having been hurried into the fray.

The United States heard that the first American planes had gone into battle, and had bombed Berlin, a fact which Berlin promptly denied.

It was an unquestioned fact that the Reds had, however, some of the newest and largest American bombing planes, easily capable of flights over Berlin and back.

The Nazis had broken through into the Crimea, however, and the fall of the whole peninsula, thus opening one narrow and difficult road to the Caucasus, was believed certain.

NEUTRALITY:

Battle

With even its opponents admitting that victory was sure, and anti-administration editorial writers regarding it editorially as a fait accompli, there still was bitter fighting over the measure on the floor of the senate.

A notable acquisition of support, however, came when Senator Bridges of New Hampshire, long a foe of the administration's policy, switched over and spoke in behalf of the bill which would remove from the Neutrality act those measures which would prevent arming of merchant vessels, and would open all ports to the American flag ships.

Another indication of support was the agreement in the senate to push forward action on the bill. This had followed the sinking of the Reuben James.

Senator Ball of Minnesota, a Republican, held that freedom of the seas was necessary for the preservation of our liberties; while Senator Clark of Missouri was attacking the President, and daring him to ask for a formal declaration of war.

Clark said the measure was "intended to be and can only be an authorization for a state of war."

Entirely New Principles Employed in Coal Heater

Will Heat All Day and All Night in Coldest Weather Without Refueling.

MANY improvements in furnaces, both oil and coal burning types, have been reported in late years, but little change, until recently, has been noted in the coal heating stove, which still is depended upon in millions of homes for warmth and comfort. A late development in this field has brought out an improved coal burning heater. It employs a radically new design in firebox and heating flues, advanced ideas in combustion engineering and other improvements that result in greater heating efficiency, fuel economy, and much less operating attention.

A desirable feature of this coal heater is that it may be loaded with 100 pounds of coal at one time. The coal, stored in the magazine, gradually feeds semi-automatically of its own weight to the bottom firebed, the heat making coke of the upper coal layers, when bituminous coal is used. The gases formed in this coking process escape through newly designed flues in the firebox and are consumed by the flames which travel up outside the fuel chamber. Even the gases released on top of the fuel bed burn as the flames pass over the top. The coal, or coke into which it is transformed, slowly works to the bottom firebed where it is consumed, leaving a fine ash and no clinkers.

Because of its large fuel capacity and the advanced construction principles employed, it will heat all day and all night in coldest weather without refueling. In mild weather this heater will hold fire for several days. All with very little attention. Users generally need to start a fire but once a season.

Regulation of heat is governed by a simple adjustment of drafts. Because it holds fire so well and so long, the home where it is used is warm every morning. Because of this feature the stove has been named Warm Morning.

Along with the standard models which hold 100 pounds of coal, there is a larger heater with nearly 200 lb. coal capacity made especially for heating schools, churches, lodge halls and warehouses.—Adv.

Chiefly in Peace!

All real and wholesome enjoyments possible to man have been just as possible to him since first he was made of the earth, as they are now; and they are possible to him chiefly in peace.

To watch the corn grow and the blossoms set; to draw hard breath over ploughshare or spade; to read, to hope, to pray—these are the things that make men happy; they have always had the power of doing these, they never will have power to do more. When McKinley Turned And 'Brought Up' Mother

A short while after her son had assumed the presidency, Mrs. McKinley was interviewed.

"What would you consider most important in raising a child to be President?" asked one reporter.

"That's a difficult question," replied Mrs. McKinley. "There are so many things to teach boys. They should be taught to be honest, reliable, fair." Then she added: "But I didn't really bring my boy up to be President. I brought him up to be a good man. That's all any mother can do. First thing I knew my son turned around and began bringing me up to be the mother of a President!"

Ocean Their Mail Box

Because St. Kilda, an island off Scotland, was inaccessible most of the year, its citizens, before their evacuation about a decade ago, used to "post" their letters in sheepskin bags and toss them into the ocean. Some were picked up by ships, others were carried by a current 500 miles across the North sea to the coast of Norway, where they were found and their contents mailed.

Dr. F. B. Williamson, a resident of Columbia, Missouri, and a Sherman County land owner since the early days, still insists the Panhandle is a dry country. He supports his comment with a clipping from his home town paper, giving their moisture for the year at 49.09 inches. Sherman County's official rainfall for the year is 30.37 inches.

Many leading statesmen predict the entry of the United States into armed conflict with in a few weeks. Three weeks ago Dr. J. W. Norvell predicted this nation would be forced into the military conflict on the side of the Allies before April in World War 2.

Lee Grimes says the work of the Red Cross in World War I was one of great benefit to the boys in service. He believes the organization played a major role in influencing the boys to write home.

Pierce O'Quinn believes that maize producing 40 bushels to the acre will give producers approximately the same amount of profit as the average wheat crop.

Ralph Harding and Arthur Ross disagree on the type of switches which should be used in bringing up children. Ross says he knows from boyhood experience that hickory and willow were the best while Harding maintains he still remembers the sting of dog-wood.

W. T. Martin, a veteran of Panhandle storms for many years, advises youth to work hard and make every dime they can, but believes the "big money days" are over and thinks it wise to play it safe in making investments.

Last week a well known Stratford lady commented on R. B. Puckett's sign writing by telling him he reminded her of a kid scratching on a tablet.

J. W. Elliot, a pioneer who came up in the hard school of the old days and whom everyone knows went even stay in bed when he's ill, advises youth that "hard work and study" is the proper way to obtain success but that you'll live longer if you enjoy proper rest and a little pleasure as you go along.

Leslie Keenan says that with 7 to 10 days of continued sunshine the fields will be the driest they have been this year.

H. B. Naugle says its getting dry enough at 10 A. M. that he can start drilling wheat.

Harmon Lowe says it isn't only in Arkansas that grown people go bare-footed. He really saw them doing that very thing in Alabama and in the mountains of Georgia. The hillside Georgia farms range from 3 to 20 acres, and he states that the people there have little more than what the average family here spends foolishly to use for the purchase of necessities. The family food supply is raised at home.
