UNION AND LIBERTY.

Flag of the heroes who left us their glory,
Borne through their battle-fields
thunder and flame,
Blazoned in song and illuminated in story,
Wave o'er us all who inherit their fame!

Up with our banner bright,
Sprinkled with starry light,
Spread its fair emblems from mountain to shore,
While through the sounding sky
Loud rings the Nation's cry,
Union and Liberty! One evermore!

Light of our firmament, guide of our nation,
Pride of her children, and honored afar,
Let the wide beams of thy full constellation
Scatter each cloud that would darken a star!

Empire unscathed what foe shall assail thee,
Bearing the standard of Liberty's van;
Think not the God of thy fathers shall fall thee,
Striving with men for the birthright of man!

Yet if, by madness and teaching blighted,
Down the dark hour when the sword thus meted draw,
Then with the arms of thy millions armed,
Smite the bold traitor to Freedom and Law!

Lord of the Universe! shield us and guide us,
Trusting in these affairs through shadow and sun!
Thou hast united us, who shall divide us?
Keep us, O keep us Many in One!

Up with our banner bright,
Sprinkled with starry light,
Spread its fair emblems from mountain to shore,
While through the sounding sky
Loud rings the Nation's cry,
Union and Liberty! One evermore!

Today is the Glorious Fourth,
but there will be no kind of celebration in Goldwaite.

Fire in a coal mine near Hanna, Wyoming, Tuesday caused the death of more than a hundred miners. The fire was caused by an explosion of gas in the mine.

The directors of the Masonic widows' and orphans' home have accepted plans for the Masonic temple at Waco. The estimated cost of which is $140,000. Bids will be opened at Waco July 31.

Dr. Allen J. Smith, dean of the faculty of the Texas medical university at Galveston, has accepted the chair of pathology in the university of Pennsylvania and will go to Philadelphia some time during the summer to be ready to assume his duties September 1.

The war office in London has received a dispatch from Colonel Niehof, one of the British officers serving with the Abyssinians in Somaliland, who says the Abyssinians on May 12, after a series of forced marches struck the Mad Mullah's forces near Jerid, surprising them at dawn and killing 16,000 spearmen and capturing almost all their supplies and 11,000 camels.

GOOD IDEAS.

Modesty is all right, but timidity occupies a real seat. The goddess of luck has a tender spot in her heart for the hustler.

Failure is more often due to lack of industry than to lack of opportunity.

Remember that failure is generally due, not to acts performed, but to things left undone. Merchants don't make every newspaper rich who use their columns. But no merchant gets rich nowadays, who doesn't advertise in newspapers.

The door of success never stands open, and no invitations are extended. Those who enter must have the cheek to demand admission and the energy to enforce the demand.

Don't quibble. Decide promptly after weighing the evidence, then say yes or no and stick to it. An occasional wrong decision persevered in, is better than vacillation. Never retract a decision until you are thoroughly convinced that you are in the wrong. Then do it promptly and frankly.—Ad-Writer.

There are more crop failures caused by the farmer himself than by droughts, floods and untimely frosts combined. Who has not observed that in the most unfavorable seasons some farmers always make better crops than any of their neighbors?

This is because they do better farming. There can be no other rational explanation of the fact. They have learned that when the soil is deeply plowed early in the season, and the crop planted elsewhere than on elevated ridges, and shallow and frequent cultivation resorted to and cultivated long after the usual laying by time, the crops will stand much more drouth than where the land is merely scratched on the surface, and cultivated with turning plows and half shovels until all the loose soil is piled around the plants. The weather is, however, a convenient scapegoat to put the blame on for the result of our own ignorance and inefficiency.—Farm and Ranch.

Hon. R. M. Love, state comptroller, was named in his office in the capitol building in Austin Tuesday morning. The murderer, a man known as G. W. Hill, killed himself after he had shot Mr. Love twice and failed in an attempt to make his escape. He was a fellow of no consequence, but held a clerkship in the comptroller's office during the terms of Messrs. Swain, McCall and Finley. He was not given a position in Mr. Love's office and it is supposed this prompted him to commit the murder. He, no doubt, expected to escape after his bloody work and had prepared a letter which he delivered to Mr. Love, the language of which would indicate that he was insane and, therefore, could be used in his defense.

The true life is that which is lived for others. Tilling and mulling for self dries up the juices of the soul, until, like a sun-baked desert, it yields no fruit. Miser and misery have the same root. No man can be really happy who is self-centered. This is because men are men, and not mere animals.—Examiner.

Dr. Gordon was shot and killed on his way to church in Gordonville, Grayson county, last Sunday morning. Execution of the peace officers were admitted to the scene.

JOHN MCGREGOR HURT.

The friends of John McGregor were distressed Monday when the news came that he had been hurt in a railroad accident. The following from a Cleburne paper gives a full account of the wreck:

"One of the worst freight wrecks in the history of the road occurred last Saturday afternoon at Hale, some miles this side of Dallas, in which engineer John McGregor of this city was most painfully bruised and escaped with his life by a mere miracle, as it seemed.

The train was a double header and was coming this way, when at the sharp curve at Hale the tender of the head engine, the whole second engine and a dozen cars left the rails and piled up several stories high, tearing up the ties and rails for a hundred yards and doing damage to the extent of several thousand dollars.

On the front engine were Engineer A. E. Sheeler and Fireman Alma C. Long, while the second locomotive was manned by Engineer Jno. K. McGregor and Fireman W. M. Carleton. The wreck was caused by what is known as a "hot track." The warm rays of the sun expand the rails until when on a sharp curve the pressure makes a kind of kink in the rails which is very dangerous. The train was going past the Hale engine an hour when the accident occurred. Mr. Sheeler saw the "sun kink" at the curve, but was too close to do anything. His engine, however, passed it but the tender jumped. Engineer McGregor saw the tender in front of him go off and says the air was filled with dust, dirt, gravel and flying debris, but he could not act further than to brace himself and attempt to shut off his throttle when the crash came and he knew no more. Every wheel of Mr. McGregor's engine left the track and the jar was such that he was thrown violently to the ground directly between the rails. Mr. McGregor struck on his head, shoulder and hip and was knocked insensible. He was afterwards brought to his home in this city and attended by physicians and is now thought not in any danger, but his recovery from death was little short of miraculous. Coming behind him the heavy freight cars piled on each other, but it happened but one of the rails turned up and being driven through a box car of flour partially turned the telescoping cars to one side and kept them from falling on the prostrate man.

Fireman Carleton was thrown against the side of the engine and probably bruised but is able to be about while Messrs. Sheeler and Long in the front engine were not hurt beyond a general shaking up. None of the train cars were hurt. The curve at Hale is the most abrupt one on the road (the "corner") and an engine lurches fearfully at the turn, even at a slow speed, and normal track. It is said the company will now straighten the track at that point. This is the third wreck at Hale in the last few years and on a former occasion brakeman Arthur Deen was killed there, being thrown from the top of a car in "turning the corner."

BETHEL.

Editor Eagle: We have had lots of rain and plenty of grass and weeds and not much rest only when it is too wet to work.

Mr. Nichols and J. A. Doggett bought a new binder and the grain is very near all cut.

Mr. Karns has come to out yet. No, Karns I expect you had better save; them oats to feed those fellows' horses.

Will Leveret has a new boy at his house.

Mrs. Gray has returned from San Saba county where she went to visit friends and relatives, and reports a very destructive hail in a portion of that country.

W. E. Gray went to town Saturday and found that it rained over that way sometimes.

Several of the Cryer folks were over last Saturday night week to our settlement and we had a nice time.

Our protracted meeting was to begin the first Sunday in July, but I fear we won't be ready for it.

Some of our Bethel folks went to the Ranch to attend the singing, and they say Bethel has the promise of the next singing, which will be the second Saturday and Sunday in August. We expect to have a nice time. Tell the old Bachelor to what up his old snags and come over, for I expect that grass will be scorchier tough by that time.

We were sorry to hear of Ed Miller getting hurt, which occurred last week in Limestone county. I guess he was badly hurt from all reports. He was running his horse and it fell with him.

FAME EGY.

PAYNE.

Editor Eagle: As it is raining and too wet to work out of doors I will try to write a few lines to the Big Bird.

Two thrashers have been thrashing in our community, but are making slow progress on account of the grain being wet and tough.

Some wheat has made eighteen bushels per acre, while some was so badly beaten by early hail that it did not make but very little.

Oats are not as good as was expected on account of rust. The wind, rain and hail last week riddled some corn and cotton patches while others were not damaged.

Willis Ford, Andrew Johnson and Clyde Faulkner returned from California last Sunday night. Of course we were all glad to welcome them back in our midst and will be glad to have them remain with us.

Brother Baker preached an interesting sermon to an attentive congregation Sunday at 11 o'clock. He also preached at night with much interest. We understand that Rev. Hicks will preach at Payne next Sunday.

Oh, Yes! Hans Cook has bought a brand new buggy. CHESTER STEEL.

The court of civil appeals for the Third supreme judicial district has appointed the following board of legal examiners for this district: Judge H. H. Rice, Marine; Judge C. H. Jenkins, Brownwood; Judge W. G. Barber, San Marcos. This is in accordance with the new law regulating the granting of a license to practice law.

All I have heard speak of their corn say it is fine. Some have roasting ears. The grain crop is pretty good. Oats averaged 50 bushels per acre, and wheat 18 and 20.

The protracted meeting will soon begin. The Six Chicks and the Bayou Duck had better stir around as chickens are scarce this year.

They have the foundation laid for the new gin. It will be ready for work this fall.

The fourth of July will not be celebrated in this neighborhood, but a lot many of the Winters people are going to Ballinger to celebrate it. The services of L. D. Ashley and four of his men have been engaged to carry the Winters band.

We were glad to see Sweet Williams letter in print, and would be glad to hear from Tulsa once more. PRARIE FLOWER.

DAYLIGHT TRAINS.

The railroad company has at last decided to run a daylight train between Brownwood and Temple, thereby running two trains in each direction every day. The exact time of the arrival of these trains at the depot has not yet been made public, but the Eagle can give approximately the correct time. One train leaves Temple at 3 o'clock in the morning, reaching Goldthwaite about 7:30 and arriving in San Angelo at 12:30. Returning it leaves San Angelo at 3 o'clock and arrives at Temple about 1 o'clock in the morning. The other train leaves Temple at 8:30 in the afternoon, reaches this station at 8 o'clock and proceeds to Brownwood, where it stops for the night. Returning it will leave Brownwood at 7 o'clock in the morning, reaching this station about 8:30 o'clock, arriving at Temple at 12:30 in the afternoon. This service will begin tomorrow morning and the trains going through to San Angelo will carry Pullman sleepers. All trains will carry mail, which proves that the Santa Fe people have left nothing undone to give the people along this route the very best and most desirable service.

MARRIAGE IN BALLINGER.

Miss John Ervoh Barton and Dr. W. R. Snead of Evergreen, Ala., were married at the residence of the bride's parents in Ballinger last Saturday afternoon and came through Goldthwaite on the 9 o'clock train en route to the City of Mexico, where they will reside. Dr. Snead is a dentist, and while little is known of him here we are all confident he is a fine man also. Miss Ervoh would not have accepted him as a life partner. The bride is the eldest daughter of Dr. A. W. Barton and grew to womanhood here, where the family resided until a few months ago. Everybody in this town and vicinity likes and admires her. A large number of her friends were in waiting at the depot when the young couple arrived here and all joined in congratulating the fortunate groom and wishing them both the greatest happiness through life.

MARRIAGE AT CLEBURNE.

A Cleburne paper gives the following account of the marriage of Miss Ivy McGregor, an attractive young lady who grew to womanhood here, to Mr. Lee Springer, a cousin of Rev. Springer, who lived here a few months since:

Married, yesterday afternoon at 4:30, at the residence of Rev. L. L. Lusk, that gentleman officiating, Miss Ivy McGregor to Mr. Lee C. Springer. Both these young people are well known in Cleburne and both very popular. The bride is the pretty young sister of Mr. J. K. McGregor and the wedding was to have been at his residence, but the disastrous wreck in which he was hurt upset all plans and the young couple with a few friends paid a visit to their preacher and there pledged themselves for life. Mr. Springer was formerly a fine welder in the Santa Fe shops here, but is now living in Amarilla and is employed as a blacksmith in the Pecco Valley shops there. To that place the newly married pair went last night, a large number of friends following them to the train and bidding them farewell with many fond wishes for the future.

The church agreed to hold her regular annual protracted meeting beginning on Friday night before the third Sunday in July. Brother D. I. Haralson will assist our pastor in the meeting. We also expect Brother Priddy to help. Everybody invited to come. Brethren let's come with prayerful hearts to God, that many precious souls may be born again. MEMBER.

A few weeks ago the Eagle called the attention of the officers to a rowdy gang that met the trains and insulted passengers, besides using obscene and profane language about the depot.
