Mangham, Jr., was passing along beside the south wall of the old building on the southwest corner of the square, the building J. W. Maulsby and Levi Russell were tearing down, the remaining shell of walls and roof crashed down upon his little body, killing him instantly. The workmen had gone to dinner and the little boy was carrying a paper bag of tomatoes home from his father's store. A ladder which was propped against the wall fell across the body and a part of the roof and other timbers fell upon it.—New.

THE DRY GOODS MAN.

SARATOGA, CAL.

Editor Eagle:

We are still in the beautiful Santa Clara valley and are enjoying good health and having a good time and plenty of fruit.

People are packing and drying apricots. Peaches will be next and then prunes. There will be work at the fruit business until Christmas.

I have visited Santa Clara city, a beautiful little town near the bay; also Los Gatos, a railroad station and a nice little town in the foot hills.

All over the country land is worth from $2.00 and $500 per acre, according to improvements and location.

An electric car line is soon to be built from San Jose to Saratoga, also to Los Gatos and Congress Springs.

The water here is soft and very good.

There is very little irrigation in this part of the country, but gardens are irrigated.

Vegetables are fine and cheap. Mrs. Carson bought six pounds of onions for 5 cents, a head of cabbage that weighed 12 pounds for 5 cents and six large heads of lettuce for 5 cents. Other vegetables can be bought at the same rate. Groceries and dry goods are about the same prices here as in Texas.

Laborers get from $1 to $2 per day.

I find some good people in California and some sorry ones. I find more church members and less Holy Ghost religion here than in any country I have ever been, judging by their daily walk and conversation.

I don't know of any sickness in this country and have only heard of two cases since I have been here. Our health is improving.

This climate is so pleasant we would be glad to locate here if we were able. Don't know that we can.

Our best wishes to our friends, God bless our enemies if we have any and success to the Eagle.

A. P. CARSON.

BAPTIST ASSOCIATION.

The time for the meeting of the Mills county Baptist association is very near at hand. The Cold Springs church, with which it will meet, is expecting a great gathering of the Baptist hosts. A full representation of churches is earnestly desired. Come along, brethren, a warm welcome will be extended by the church and community. We are not strong in number, but hearty in hospitality. Come expecting a great meeting and do what you can to make it such. Let me urge the churches to send up a liberal contribution for missions, especially your contribution for associational missions. The contract with our missionary expires with the meeting of the association and all arrears should be paid up. Let us all pray God that peace may prevail in our ranks and that a forward movement may be made all along the line. Yours for the masters' cause.

W. L. MARTIN, Moderator.

PICKENS SPRINGS.

Editor Eagle:
Corn has made a fine crop. People have got their cotton about cleared out and it looks fine.

GENERAL NEWS.

The Kirby Lumber company of Houston has donated all of the lumber to be used in the Texas building at the St. Louis exposition.

Mrs. Emma L. Wooten, widow of the late J. R. Wooten, has by the commissioners court received the appointment of county clerk of Chambers county to fill out the unexpired term of her husband, and Judge Hightower has been requested to appoint her district clerk for the same term.

The French liner La Bretagne, which carried 550 bales of cotton from New York on her last trip to Havre, has brought it back. The shippers found that the price had jumped so high on this side, while the cotton was in the ocean, that they could make more money re-imporing to New York than by selling in France.

General Frederick D. Grant, commanding the department of Texas, has received advice from Washington to the effect that one squadron of the Fifth cavalry had been ordered to Texas for station duty in addition to other troops. Where the squadron will be stationed is not known at present. Authority has also been received for the construction of a $20,000 hospital at Fort Bliss.

A citizen of the Indian Territory has arrived in Austin with a boll weevil remedy. He has a fumigator which not only kills weevils but all other insects. He says that his remedy is a sure killer and will not cost 20 cents an acre to use it. Hundreds of letters are being received concerning a boll weevil remedy and when the committee meets it will have its hands full to decide who get the $50,000 reward offered by the state.

Mrs. Dora Richardson Clay Brook, formerly child wife of General Cassius M. Clay, has gone to Valley View to consult her brothers relative to getting possession of the property left her by General Grant in his will. His children had General Clay adjudged insane just prior to his death and the management of his property turned over to a trust company in Richmond, Ky. Lawyers have informed Mrs. Brook that it is almost certain the children will contest the will.

The Louisiana board of pardons has commuted the death sentence of A. E. Batson, who was convicted of the murder of the Earl family at Lake Charles, to life imprisonment in the penitentiary. The commutation of sentence was made by Lieutenant Governor Estepinal and Attorney General Guion, comprising a majority of the board. Judge Miller, the trial judge, who was the third member of the board, opposed commutation of sentence and held that Batson should hang. The action of the board was a surprise.

At Whitesboro, in Grayson county, a paper was found this week which purports to be resolutions by the negroes of that town to avenge the death of Abe Wilder, a negro who was burned near that place two years ago, by poisoning the wells of quite a number of the citizens of Whitesboro, the city marshal, the mayor and several prominent citizens. Also to commit outrages upon women and children of that place and to put the bodies of any who might be murdered in an old well of the town. Considerable excitement prevails on account of finding the paper, and a diligent investigation is being made.

A serious wreck occurred on the Santa Fe fourteen miles south of Ardmore, I. T., when the north-bound local freight crashed into a pile driver which was working there. The flagman who had been sent down the track half an hour previous went to sleep and failed to flag the local and as there was a sharp curve at this point the engineer of the local train did not see the pile driver until he was within a few car lengths and too late to stop his train. The engine, train and several cars were derailed. It is the mission of the local jumpy considerably by the happenings of the county. Those who will send us a letter or a card will send us a great deal of pleasure.

THE NEGRO IN THE NORTH

Some of our southern friends take a quick, and it must be confessed, legitimate advantage of the recent outbreaks against negroes in Illinois and other northern states to warn their neighbors against following a bad northern example. The Montgomery Advertiser solemnly urges upon readers the lesson that "lynching of negroes in Illinois and other northern states is no justification of like acts here home." It notes that imitations of the lynchings are not the sincerest flattery, but that "we should restrain our desire please so far as to refrain from negro lynching just because brethren up north indulge in pastime." The sarcasm is undeserved and the serious reflection that, while the loves the negro—at a distance, the south, notwithstanding political differences, has a contract with the north for Hamilton county commenced work by putting negro laborers to making the railroads for the piers. Last day night the negroes of home arriving here at 6 o'clock Wednesday morning they had been visited by a number of men and told to hike, and hiked. Mr. McBeth called Sheriff Kinsey and wanted to know if he could get protection and proceed with the Sheriff Kinsey told him he and Mc returned with him the next day.—Gatesville Forum.

The negro is the real clear of selfishness, and one to save Texas."

A GOOD MEETING.

Rev. G. W. Gertman, assisted by Mr. L. O. Hicks, conducted a nice days meeting at North Brown school house, closing last Sunday night. This was one of the most pleasant as well as helpful meetings ever held in that community. The ministers are thankful to the people for the hospitable treatment received, and speak in praise of the entire community because of the good behavior and attention at the meetings. Fifteen or twenty converts and a great revival of church workers was the result of the meeting.

During the services the ministers found a letter lying upon the pulpit and it was so well written they decided to have it published in the Eagle.

THE LETTER.

July 22, 1903. At home in the presence of God, where no eye can see, no ear can hear. Alone with God and His holy spirit hovering over us to lead and guide our thoughts. To us, the ministering servants, whom God hath put into their hearts to come to this forsaken place and preach the unsearchable riches of His divine spirit. In penning these few lines I feel prompted by the Holy Spirit, for another spirit save the spirit of Almighty God would prompt us to do things of this kind. Oh God, we do praise and magnify thy holy name for this one blessing alone. Our poor hearts have been made to rejoice and we have been made to weep as never before. We have seen thy power demonstrated here. Thou hast aroused this people here and stirred them up to a sense of their duty and we pray God that the good work that is now going on may continue, and the meeting come to a close may there not be one left in this community to advocate the cause of sin, vice and folly. We take the responsibility upon ourselves to thank the two brothers whom God hath sent to help us out of this great trouble we had gotten into. Praise God we believe they have been the means in the hands of God in leading many to Christ. They have labored so faithfully, so earnestly in all their work. Day after day, night after night, hour after hour, yes, moment after moment for nearly one week and still they press on and on, not only around the congregational altar, but bless God, they have gone out into our homes, yes, on the highways amongst all classes, and begged and pleaded with all to come and accept Christ as their Savior and bless God they have come and are still coming, may the good work go on. Oh God! Thou and thou alone knowest the condition that we, the people of North Brown had gotten into.

One week ago today a few of us met at this place to build an arbor to make more effort to see if God would save our community, some laughed, some ridiculed, some said we couldn't hold a meeting here at this place; said we would never be repaid for our trouble but we went on. The preachers came according to appointment. Yes, and they come with their hearts filled with love and the spirit of God. They opened fire upon the enemy—the devil—and bless God, the first shot surely took effect. The enemy gave back, we as true soldiers of the cross were ordered by our leaders to press onward, and the fire has been kept up on all sides. And I bless God, that I can say today that the enemy is still retreating and we claim the victory. So glory be to God and him alone. Paid for our labor! Yes, doubly paid in this work. More especially will we be paid in the world to come. And now in conclusion let us thank our servants of God. We are so poor to recompense you for your true and untiring labor, but let us assure you, live long or die soon, we shall ever feel grateful to you and always in our prayers we shall ask God to bestow upon you his richest blessing in this life and in the life to come. God will reward; He and He alone is able. Now God knows our heart. He knows the motive we have in penning these few lines. My heart is so heavily burdened today—feels as if it would surely burst; to speak a word I feel like I would choke to death. My troubles I carry to God. I now realize the fact that our man can do nothing for me. And now while this feeble hand is penning these lines I know and realize the fact in a few more short days it will be lying cold and lifeless in the silent grave. The heart that now throbs within this breast of mine will be mouldering in the clay. But glory be to God, I will then be free from all this trouble, no more sickness, no more sorrow, no more tears, yes, no more death. I am poor now but when I think of that mansion above that the brother speaks of will be mine, poor now but then we will be rich.

Now in conclusion will say as one of old did say, thy servant, Job, as I often read the book of Job for comfort: "Yes, though He slay me, yet will I trust Him."

Written by one who feels deeply interested in the salvation of immortal souls. Praise God for his wonderful works among the children of men. Amen.

DEATH AT SAN ANGELO.

The death angel knocked at the home of Mrs. J. H. Ringer, who resides with Will Dawson, north of the railroad, on Tuesday of last week and was 'ted the spirit of her daughter, Miss Birdie, to "that undescribed country from whose bourne no traveler returns."

Deceased was a noble young lady, just 19 years of age, and had many friends and admirers whose hearts were weighted with sorrow in the loss of so dear a friend. It was indeed a sad visitation to the family, that but a few weeks ago had laid to rest the aged father. She goes to join "papa" in a brighter world and to vie with angels in chanting the anthems of praise to Him, who in her life was the loftiest inspiration to a pure Christian life.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. E. T. Shore, pastor of the Christian church, and the remains were interred in the Fairmount cemetery Wednesday morning at ten o'clock. Deceased was a sister of Mesdames Tol Cawley, W. A. Harper, Lum Hudson and Knox Barfield, and Messrs. Will and Jake Ringer, to whom, as well as to other sorrowing relatives and friends. The Press tenders its sincerest condolence.—Press.

DEATH AT COY.

Mr. W. J. Mason's little nine-year-old daughter Inez died at the family home at Coy Monday, after suffering for about a week with a throat affection which was diphtheria or very much like that disease. The little body was placed in the tomb in Rook Springs burying ground Tuesday morning. Mr. Mason had been in the west for several days and at San Angelo he received the message conveying to him the information that his little girl was sick. He came home on the first train, reaching here Sunday night and only arrived a few hours before the little one died. The Eagle extends sincere sympathy to the grieving parents and other relatives.

Jones of Hanna Valley and has many friends in this county who wish her and her husband a happy life. The groom is a stranger to the people here, but we all extend congratulations and good wishes.

SUNDAY BAPTIZING.

Last Sunday afternoon Rev. C. L. Owen baptized four converts in the river at Warren crossing. A large congregation was present from Goldthwaite and a few people from the neighborhood of the river were there, but many more, doubtless, would have been there had not the lowering clouds given warning of a coming rain. Before the baptizing was over rain commenced to fall and in a few moments after the minister had dismissed the congregation the rain was coming down almost like a cloudburst. Those who had the protection of curtains and storm robes were enabled to keep rather dry, but those whose vehicles had no top to give protection were thoroughly wet before they reached home.

He told them he had a medicine in the form of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy that he thought would help him out and accordingly several doses of it were administered with the result that he was able to be around next day. The incident speaks quite highly of Mr. Gifford's medicines - Elkader, Iowa, Argus. This remedy never fails. Keep it in your home, it may save life. For sale by all dealers.
