ITEMS CULLED FROM THE LEADING LOCAL PAPERS.

BROWNWOOD.
The Bulletin learns that a movement is on foot looking to the organization of a company with a capital stock of $50,000 for the purpose of conducting a wholesale and retail hardware business in Brownwood.

That cupid's fires do not grow cold with age was forcibly demonstrated here Thursday afternoon, when Wm. Lindley, age 75, and Mrs. E. C. Benson, only a few years his junior, were married.

President Chandler states that the contract has been let for improvements on the girls' dormitory at Daniel Baker college. Five rooms will be added, and the present building so remodeled that double the number can be accommodated than is possible at present.

A movement is on foot to hold a big three days' picnic, reunion and barbecue at some convenient place in Brown county on August 10, 11 and 12, the old settlers and U. C. W's. to use the first two days for their reunion and program and the Farmers Union to have a barbecue and speaking.

A painful accident befell Trammel Cason, the 11-year-old son of G. W. Cason, who lives at Jones Chapel, on Tuesday afternoon. The boy with two or three companions, was playing in his father's wagon when by some misstep or other he stepped and fell to the ground, sustaining a fracture of the collar bone.—Bulletin.

COMANCHE.
Miss Eunice Weisel has been appointed first assistant in the school at Menardville.

P. M. Tribble and Miss Ollie Parker were married at the home of the bride, near May Wednesday.

Dave Dingus and T. H. Jackson having sold their interest in the Martin Co. will open up in business for themselves.

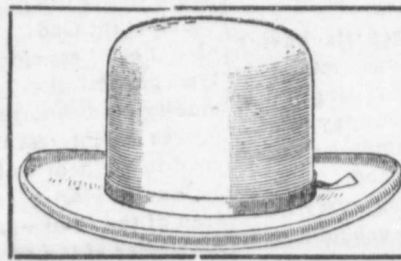

A. P. Rhoda and Mrs. J. Norvell were married at Fort Worth, July 8. Mrs. Rhoda is a sister of Mrs. Eugene Greer of this place.

J. P. Butler, who sometime ago was convicted of robbing J. R.

Secret Is Discovered

In The Line of Dry Goods we Have Discovered the Secret of Buying.

We handle only the very best goods and offer you qualities that have in them an excellence that makes them popular at reduced prices. Our position as the largest Dry Goods house in Goldthwaite permits us the privilege of giving you the highest quality possible at the least cost to you.

You need not be a hero to win. Just use good judgment—buy with your eyes open and your ears shut. Judge by what you feel and see and measure and compare. Not by what you hear and are promised.

Our goods are sold on a basis of their own merit. Examine for your self.

If we are getting none of your business we want some. If some, we want more. If all, we are not saying a word.

We appreciate the large patronage given us by the people who attended the reunion. We hope that the Old Soldiers and their friends who met with them had a good time.

B. A. HARRIS
Goldthwaite, Texas.

Johnson a year or so ago, has been pardoned by Governor Lanham and released from jail.

There is a movement on foot to build a large tabernacle somewhere near the square; estimated to cost something like $1,000 for both lot and building.

P. M. Tribble has sold his furniture stock to the Neely-Harris-

Cunningham Co. and will go to Winchell, where he will engage in business.—Chief.

HAMILTON.
County court has been in session this week, but little business of importance has been transacted.

Eld. Baxter Golightly, pastor of the Central Christian church, has bought the Pylant residence on College hill.

The meeting at the Baptist church continues with unabated interest, under the direction of Rev. Wm. Gaddy.

Last Saturday morning about 8:30 o'clock Mr. Stelling Gooch, who has been doing a drug and grocery business at Ohio, took a dose of papine and some morphine that ended his life about 6:30 that afternoon. He was about 40 years of age and leaves a brother, Raymond Gooch, a sister here, Mrs. Sam Carter, and one in Sanders county, where his aged father also resides. He has lived in this county many years.—Herald.

LAMPASAS.
Paul Earnest and Miss Inez Henderson were married Wednesday night at Hancock park. Rev. C. V. Carroll of Brownwood is among the campers at the encampment, and he reports that others from that section will be here during this week.

G. I. Goodwin and wife of Brownwood are here drinking sulphur water, camping and enjoying the services of the encampment.

Mrs. J. A. Biggs, wife of Rev. J. A. Biggs, of Stamford and Mrs. J. N. Dean, are here and are stopping at the Rugeley house. They are here for their health.

J. H. Price is opening up his new lumber yard by the H. & T. C. tracks in the southern part of the city. He is having some large sheds built for the protection of his lumber. This makes four lumber companies for Lampasas.

Rev. J. B. Reese of Antelope Gap is here attending the encampment and enjoying the sulphur water. He has given up the work of missionary for the Mills county Baptist association and would make a good pastor for some local church in this section. He is a good preacher and a man of excellent character.—Leader.

SAN SABA.
Elder Thomason will begin a protracted meeting at the Christian church August 1.

Rev. A. L. Seabrough gave a reception Thursday evening from 6 to 10, to the members and friends of the Methodist church. Our neighbor, the Star, has changed hands. Mr. Cowan and W. T. Moore made a trade by the terms of which Mr. Moore became the owner of the Star and Mr. Cowan the owner of Mr. Moore's nice little irrigated farm two miles down the river.

Prof. W. F. Elliott's little twenty-one month's old boy fell from a window in the second story of the residence Monday afternoon and was severely shocked, although he was hardly bruised or scratched. The little fellow's body fortunately fell on soft ground.—News.

"After a newspaper man has yelled himself hoarse in an effort to persuade people to patronize home merchants and accidentally stumbles on to the fact that many of the fellows he is endeavoring to protect are sending away their job printing, it rather shakes his faith in mankind and makes reciprocity look like a lead time with a hole in it."—Ex.

PLEASANT GROVE.

Editor Eagle:
Threshing is the order of the day. Wheat a light yield, oats tolerably good.

Corn and cotton prospects are fine.

We were sorry to learn that Mr. Baker had been quite sick, but are glad to hear that he is able to be up.

Miss Mae Hurdle is off for a visit to friends in Temple, Cameron and Rosebud.

R. L. Bates from Crews, Runnels county, has been visiting friends and relatives in Pleasant Grove and Payne communities for the past two weeks.

The Misses Buttrill from Lometa and Miss Blanche Buttrill from Bastrop and Miss Georgia Talbert from Goldthwaite are guests of Miss Carrie Hurdle.

Alvin Horn of Lometa, a prominent young business man of that town, visited his friend, F. N. Irwin, last Sunday.

Arthur Eakin from Zephyr is visiting friends in this community this week.

Mattie Palmer from near Goldthwaite is spending the present week with her aunt, Mrs. Laura Irwin.

Aunt Jane Carson spent last week with her niece, Mrs. Mary Hill, near Goldthwaite.

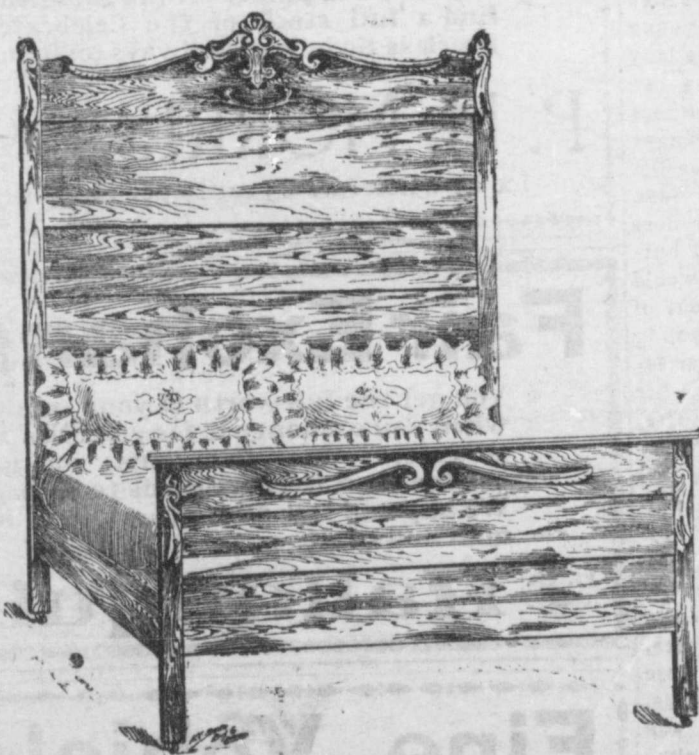

Messrs. Irwin & Edgin are busily engaged baling winter forage and are well pleased with their machine.

We regret to hear that Mrs. Tom Duncan is still suffering very much. Hope to hear of an improvement in her condition soon.

We hope the Eagle force is standing this hot weather and not fainting. COPPERFIELD.

A Russian was arrested in Pueblo, Colorado, the first of the

his wife at Belmont, Mass. He admits his guilt, but claims it justification of the act that he married the woman believing her $250, and that she claimed to be only 25 years old when in fact she was over 40. He says the deception practiced upon him was the cause of constant quarreling, which finally led to the killing.

The greatest problems of American agriculture are not the narrower technical ones, but the relations of the industry to economic and social life.

Agriculture has not yet been able to call to its aid in any marked degree those forces and tendencies which have cumulated and been of such economic value in the general business world, in the great productive and distributive aggregations.

The complete solution of the economic ills of American agriculture may not be in co-operation, and yet in both the productive and distributive phases this is perhaps the most apparent remedy. Co-operation in distribution has made a beginning, but co-operation in production is still almost unknown.—Scientific

MULLIN.

Editor Eagle:

Truly the wheels of time keep up a ceaseless revolution; days glide into weeks, weeks into months and months into years, each rotation bringing changes, to the prosperity of some and to the adversity of others. These thoughts were suggested to my mind as I commenced my weekly communication to the Eagle, and realized how quickly the weeks roll by, bringing us, at each rotation, nearer the shores of a vast eternity when a day, a week, yes a year will be but a dew drop upon the bosom of that mighty ocean.

The meeting at the Baptist church is still going on and Rev.
Bentley is proving himself a power under the guidance of an Omnipotent God. The influence of these services are felt throughout the entire community, and the large attendance proves the interest that is awakened in the hearts of the people.

General Martin, a loyal veteran of the Civil war and a faithful soldier of the cross of Christ, spent several days with Rev.
Bentley, aiding in the work.

Rev. L. J. Vann returned Tuesday from Hamilton county where he has been conducting a protracted meeting. He presided in the meeting here for a few days and will begin a protracted meeting at Blanket Saturday.

D. Kemp has moved his family to Mullin and occupies the residence of John Hancock who, with his family, has moved to Brownwood.

Mrs. H. F. Butts and children spent part of last week with Connor Duran, who is still quite ill, but his condition is much better.

A San Angelo man came to Mullin last week for change and rest. Frank Tillman got the change and the hotel's rest.

Mrs. John Stearns and children have returned from a visit to relatives at Colorado City.

H. Potter of Zephyr was among the visitors to Mullin last week and bought a bill of groceries while here.

Mrs. Carleton has been on the sick list for several days.
Charlie Little has gone on a trip out west.

Wm. Abner and son, Pugh, are also out viewing the western country.

J. Keating of Zephyr has had a serious relapse from his recent illness from which he was convalescent and thought to be recovering his health and strength.

T. S. Sharp of San Angelo and Miss Maude White drove to Goldthwaite Saturday afternoon, called to see Miss Allie Humphries and the trio supped at the Roch hotel where, in keeping with the enviable reputation of the house, they fared sumptuously.

Mrs. B. P. Kettle and Miss Jessie Little visited Goldthwaite Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Vaughn are the happy parents of a new daughter.

N. J. Tyson attended the Primitive Baptist association in Coleman county last week, and on Monday of this week made a business trip to Brownwood.

A. S. Burgher, business manager of the Mullin Enterprise, has returned from a visit to his mother at Bastrop.

After an extended visit to Kansas and Oklahoma Miss Sam
Hutcheon is again at home.

Mrs. Z. D. Kemp and Etta V.
White spent Tuesday with Mrs.
Thomas Kemp at her country home near Blanket Springs.

Mrs. Bentley and little son joined her husband, Rev. Bentley, Monday night and will remain during the meeting.

The merchants are having a great deal to say about the patronage that goes abroad, chiefly to the mail order houses. There is a little different song being sung by the papers. They have found that the complaint does not come from the home manufacturer or home manufacturer who hustles for his trade by advertising, but from the man who relies on the fact that he is a home man to get business. It has been found that the home man who bids for trade half as earnestly as the foreign man has no cause for complaint that the other fellow takes it away from him. The people in this progressive age are trading with the firms that seek their trade most earnestly, and the firms that sit idly by expecting business to come anyway, are certainly doomed to disappointment.—Brownwood

RESOLUTIONS.

Adopted by local optionists
July 13, 1905.

Resolved first, that we, citizens of Mills county in common with all law-abiding people of the country, desire to see the righteous laws of our country enforced and to this end we pledge as much of our time and means as is necessary to accomplish the desired end. That the executive committee be authorized and requested to collect sufficient funds for all demands and to employ thoroughly competent counsel to take the lead of affairs in case of necessary litigation.

Resolved second, That it is not our purpose or desire to do any man or legitimate business any wrong; or stoop to do any unlawful or unmanly thing, for the sake of carrying out our purpose.

Resolved thirdly: That whatever we do shall be done openly and above board; that we deprecate, disavow and denounce everything in the way of anonymous letters and such like dark dealing.

C. L. OWEN,
R. E. GRANT,
J. T. FARRIS.

It looked strange, Sunday night, when a young man in the range of Idler's perspective came walking out of a young lady's home with the young lady at his side and together the two meandered off to church, without the usual arm in arm arrangement. Idler knows about as little about modern society fads and fancies as Mrs. Rorer does about a good old beans and buttermilk dinner, else he would have known that it is now out of style and improper for a young lady to take the arm of her escort or for him to grasp her arm with his own. In the cities, which lead in fashions while the country towns follow afar off, Idler was informed that the new style is followed altogether. This change is a good one yet is a bit surprising, for the tendency of everything, the society of young gentlemen and ladies for years, has been to throw them as close together physically as possible.
Now if the fashion goddess will drive a wedge between the waltz-ers, knock out both ends of these hug me-tight buggies, and make plain the too close familiarity of both these institutions, there is a faint ray of hope for the generations to come.—Idler in Comanche Chief.

The skull and horns of a Rocky mountain sheep were found some time ago by an Indian man, firmly imbedded twenty feet from the ground, in the trunk of a large tree. The section containing the curiosity has been taken to the Lewis and Clark Exposition, where it is attracting much attention. It is presumed that when the tree was a sapling the sheep got entangled in its branches and died. As the sapling grew into a tree the head was lifted up and its skull and horns became imbedded in the trunk.

PLEASANT GROVE.

Editor Eagle:
After some absence I return with a few lines.

Weather has cleared and the farmers are very busy.

The thresher is making better speed now and will soon have finished our community.

Some of our boys started to Long Cove to see the up-to-date steam thresher work, but got to the south edge of the mountain in time to see it steaming away.

A. F. Baker has been sick, but is up again. He and Jack Hall aim to take a trip to Hamilton county this week.

We hear that the Spurlock ranch at the Blue Hole has been rented to some Germans.

Miss May Hurdle is visiting in Milam county.

We learn that the Pleasant Grove school has not been taken and that the trustees would be glad to have some applications. It is a good school in a good community and ought to attract good teachers.

Mrs. J. O. Nibbet intends to leave this week for a visit to relatives in Parker county.

As I have not been around much to get news to write I will close.

W. A. BAYLEY.

Mc JIRK.

Editor Eagle:

We have just closed a gracious meeting at this place, in which Brother L. J. Vann of Mullin aided me. God so wonderfully blessed us in every service. His presence was felt, and with a soft but sweet voice He spoke peace to seven pleading hearts.

There were six additions to the church, five by experience and baptism. O, how our poor hearts were lifted God-ward with praise, as we beheld His spirit working with the hearts of our friends and loved ones. And as we were permitted to listen at the solemn but true words so earnestly spoken by Brother Vann we felt drawn closer together in the great work our Lord and Savior left for us to do. May God ever bless him as he pleads with a dying world.

Saturday afternoon at 3:30 the church was called in conference and unanimously called Brother Vann as pastor for the coming year. May God ever bless this noble little band, who affirm that by the help of God they are going to have a hand in the great work of saving the world for Christ.

Comforting Words.

MANY A GOLDTHWAITE HOUSEHOLD WILL FIND THEM SO.

To have the pains and aches of a bad back removed; to be entirely free from annoying, dangerous urinary disorders is enough to make any kidney sufferer grateful. To tell how this great change can be brought about will prove comforting words to hundreds of Goldthwaite readers.

Mrs. J. A. M. Johnson, living seven and a half miles north of Goldthwaite, Texas, says: "I think a great deal of Doan's Kidney Pills. For several years I was troubled from pains in my back and other kidney and bladder troubles. The secretions were too frequent and there were constant pains and tenderness across the small of my back, extending up to my neck. Until I used Doan's Kidney Pills, which I procured at R. E. Clements' drug store, I found nothing to help me. Since using that remedy all my kidney trouble disappeared, and I feel much improved in every way. I think Doan's Kidney Pills the best remedy for kidney ailments, and recommend them with pleasure to all requiring a remedy of this kind."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

CHOLERA INFANTUM.

CHILD NOT EXPECTED TO LIVE FROM ONE HOUR TO ANOTHER, BUT CURED BY CHAMBERLAIN'S COLIC, CHOLERA AND DIARRHOEA REMEDY.

Ruth, the little daughter of E. N. Dewey of Agnewville, Va., was seriously ill of cholera infantum last summer. "We gave her up and did not expect her to live from one hour to another," he says. "I happened to think of Chamberlain's colic, cholera and diarrhea remedy and got a bottle of it from the store. In five hours I saw a change for the better. We kept on giving it and before she had taken the half of one small bottle she was well." This remedy is for sale by All Drug-gists.

These are a vain people, the men walk with a peculiar pride and curl their mustache up like the villain in a play, while the women dress quite elaborately for the street, paint their faces in a most artistic way, and powder until they look like they had been hit in the face with a flour sack.

The Mexican senorita has no liberty, she never goes out with a gentleman without a chaperon, and rarely then unless she is engaged to him. If a Mexican man sees a young woman that he admires, he follows her home, keeping some distance behind; she goes to her room, which has all openings sealed with iron bars, very much like our jails. The young suitor stays outside and looks longingly in, while the girl stands at the bars and looks longingly out until a seasonable time for the "bear" to go home. This is repeated each evening until the pair think they have seen enough of each other to be joined "for better or for worse."

The final settlement is made with her parents. This method of courtship is called "playing bear."

The Mexican man takes his bride home and puts her in her new prison—the four walls of another house. The senorita has almost as little freedom as the senorita. This imprisonment is made still more loathsome by the fact that the Mexican woman, if ever pretty, soon loses her beauty when she has the cares of a family and her "lord" is free to lavish his smiles on a prettier girl.

Mexican men are much given to flattery, especially for American ladies. Not long since a party of Americans visited a national institution. They were escorted to the carriage by a Mexican general who said, "Do lean the top back so that our people may see the beautiful American ladies." Not one of the party could lay claim to one vestige of beauty.

Polliteness is a race characteristic. If you should step on a Mexican's corn, he would assure you that it was perfectly all right, the delight of his life, and truly, that the sole purpose of corns was to be stepped on. We Americans could get many object lessons in politeness from these people.

Not long ago I visited the military museum. A Mexican general was escorting me there and showing me everything with due explanation, when one of the party, knowing my zeal for the historic, called my attention to the United States and Texas flags. I exclaimed that I wanted to see them. The general said with much timidity, "I did not mean to call your attention to those. I would not wound nor would I boast." Since then I've been very careful not to mention Gen. Scott nor San Jacinto, lest I should wound or appear to boast. As a matter of fact, when you've had one view of the

MEXICO CITY.

Editor Eagle:

A tourist in Mexico City finds much to interest him, and may continue to do so for months, if he have a weakness for delving into history or a desire to tread the grounds made sacred by persons illustrious in their time.

The first impression is of the vast army of beggars that throng the streets, asking in Spanish for "one cent for Jesus' sake." At first you are touched by such evident distress and you give them, probably, twenty-five cents. They continue to come, you reduce your charity offering to ten cents, by and by it falls to two and often one cent, soon you can pass them by without opening your purse; for you realize that you must neglect the poor or leave town on an early train.

Mexico City is an aristocratic place to live, if aristocracy be reckoned by dollars and cents.

The extremes of civilization are always in evidence on the streets, the very rich and the very poor. The former live in luxury, dress lavishly, and spend their winters in Paris, while the latter are almost nude and seem to be always hungry. This extreme is so unlike our United States that a Mexican having visited New York said, "You can't tell the rich from the poor, they all dress alike."

The silk hat seems to be a mark of respectability here. All of the "dressed up" men wear them, and you often see a rather shabbily dressed Mexican wearing a silk hat and posing on the street as though he had done something to distinguish him from his fellows.

These are a vain people, the men walk with a peculiar pride and curl their mustache up like the villain in a play, while the women dress quite elaborately for the street, paint their faces in a most artistic way, and powder until they look like they had been hit in the face with a flour sack.

grand (?) array of Mexican soldiery, you'll not wonder that Scott won such an overwhelming victory nor that Houston's brave men ran them like rabbits from the battle field of San Jacinto.

Not only could we get object lessons from the Mexicans in politeness but in civic improvements as well. Almost every home or hotel here is built with an open court or patio, where flowers and plants are grown in profusion. Their plan of placing frequent piazzas in all their towns is worthy of American adoption. This furnishes a resting and a trying place for the people who have not attractive homes, and keeps them from lower places, no doubt. These piazzas are beautifully carpeted with grass, well set with trees, and frequent flower plots. They are perfectly kept and properly furnished with comfortable seats. An excellent band dispenses sweet music in these piazzas two evenings in the week. (Miss) MYRA PRATER.

FARMERS' PROGRESS.

Editor Eagle:

Only those who have been here continuously 25 or 30 years can realize the remarkable change that has taken place for the better, especially with the farming class of people.

I have written before about farmers going to meeting in ox wagons and on foot. Is that the case at present? Not much. Even farm wagons at a gathering now is very much in the minority. Fine buggies and hacks and surries being used now by at least two-thirds of the farmers and their families. Most of this great progress was and is being brought about by educational organizations, first started by the Grange, then followed by the more powerful Farmers' Alliance and now comes our young friend the Farmers' Union, which will, no doubt, have more weight and do more good than the others. Then, there is the Farmers' Institute which, by the way, we failed to "keep up" in Mills county, that has out no small figure. If the same rate of progress is kept up the next 30 years as the last 30 there will be as few buggies and hacks seen at gatherings as there is now wagons. The big majority will be in automobiles or something similar to an auto, and if the towns keep pace with the country there will be an electric railway from and to all towns of any importance.

But it was farmers' educational organizations I intended to speak about. Some who do not understand them oppose such organizations, but their opposition is only because of their misunderstanding them, for just as certain as the farming class is prosperous just that certain all other classes will prosper. I hope the Union will continue to grow and at the same time keep on good terms with all of the business people, especially our home merchants. If so you will be surprised at the progress in the next few years. OLD FETTLER.

Derangements of the teeth of the horse very frequently lead to grave difficulties, both local and constitutional. The teeth often become decayed, holes form in them and toothache is a common occurrence. There is no such thing as blind teeth, as is often termed, it is either a rotten or a long tooth. Ninety per cent of the horses that are fed condition powders to recuperate their health, need nothing but their teeth repaired.
