COMMERCIAL CLUB

The club met in regular session Monday night in the Masonic building. There was no business transacted outside of arrangements for the fair and union and receiving reports from the committees.

These meetings are important to the business community and the county in general and the business men especially should take interest and attend the weekly sessions.

VOICE VOTERS

To the Votes of The Twenty-Sixth Senatorial District:

On account of my financial condition and the vast area of the district I have been unable to make a close campaign; however I have announced my platform in all the papers of the district, but so far my opponents have not stated their positions on the leading questions that are likely to come before the next legislature, and for fear that some have not seen my platform, I will state some of my leading issues again, to-wit:

- 1—Scholastic age raised to 21 years;
- 2—Cotton Ware Houses for the Farmer;
- 3—Four year term for State and County Officers;
- 4—The election of U. S. Senators by direct vote;
- 5—The Daylight Saloon Bill and Other Restrictions.

I am opposed to the mandatory provisions of the new High School Law; The Mobile Bill which seeks to raise the rates of the Fraternal Insurance Societies.—Woodmen of the World Mackabees, etc. In casting my vote for the U. S. Senator, I will follow the instructions of my district. I am Yours truly,
S. C. FINDLEY.

Mrs. J. H. Potter returned Saturday morning from a visit to relatives in Brownwood. Mrs. R. G. Childre and little son came home with her for a visit.

Wealth belongs to the man who enjoys it; he who merely keeps it or hoards it, just for the love of the money, does not get any good out of it. Money that is not in circulation is of no benefit to anyone and that is why money should be deposited in banks so that it can be lent to those who need it and be put into the channels of trade. Lots of people accumulate money just for the love of knowing that they have it; they love to listen to the clink of their gold and silver and feel the peculiar silkiness of paper bills. But the man who invests his money in something that will help other people, something that will give needy and deserving ones a chance to make a living, is the one who understands what money is really made for. Some men want money just because it brings with it power. Some people desire money that they may gratify their own desires, and have the things that they long for, while still others gather together all the cash that they can, just to feel that they have it in their possession, and to know that they are rich, and therefore sought by certain people. But he who makes money a servant, using it for the general good of mankind, unselfishly affording pleasure, comforts and an opportunity to labor for those who need his help, is he who gets out of money its only true value, and that which produces real happiness.—Waco News.

The revolutionary business is slated to 'pick up' in Venezuela within the next few days, for ex-President Castro is now in the Canary Islands and has announced the intention of returning to his native country to 'start something.' If the Venezuela president or anybody else thinks that Castro is not a man of great ability they may as well amend their idea now, and he is likely to make history in his part of the world in the very near future.

A SPIDER WEB PARTY.

After the sun had crossed the horizon and sank in the west last Friday evening a large crowd of young folks assembled at the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. Phil Morris to enjoy a 'Spider Web' party.

We were met at the door by masters M. C. and J. T. Morris and ushered into the parlor, where all enjoyed an interesting game and conversations. Time sped quickly and pleasantly away till the height of our enjoyment in the game all were silenced by the pleasant command of Mr. Morris, saying: 'Boys, get your partners to help unwind the web, if you want some cream.' Obeying immediately, many went under the bright torch lights in the yard where they found the web formed by many long strings between some trees. This caused much excitement and surely entertaining, as all were striving to wind their string through first. After much time of tediously unwinding the web the boys came to the end of the strings and found the name of the girl they were to eat with. During this time a large table was spread under the lights, where we gathered around and were served with delicious ice cream.

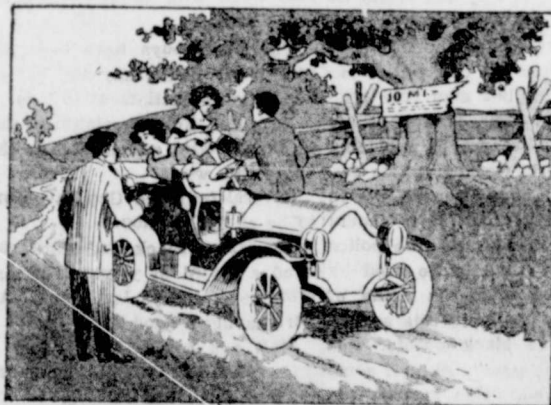

When supper was over we again gathered in the parlor for games where much interest was shown. Soon to our surprise the table was set and the pleasant call from Mrs. Morris to come and eat of the nice water melon found on each plate.

The guests were from Goldthwaite, Caradan, Live Oak, Center City, Long Cove and Pleasant Grove with Misses Ila and Dera Wells of McGirk and many of the young folks of South Bennett.

At a very late hour we bid each other good-bye and thanking Mr. and Mrs. Morris for one of the best entertainments we've had, hoping the time would be soon when we all could meet again at their home.

TONIGHT BAND TONIGHT CONCERT

At Clements' Drug Store

Investigation into the killing of a gambler in front of one of the big hotels in New York a few days ago has connected the police force with the crime to an extent that indicates the necessity for some members of the force being indicted for the crime.

Up to the last minute some of the candidates for state and district offices supplied the county papers with a large amount of literature which they said might be used for 'fillers' and most of the editors used such articles for fillers for their waste baskets rather than the columns of their papers. In times gone by, never to return, the country press was worked overtime by the politicians, but 'things' have changed and now the newspaper business is on the same basis with a store, a bank or a railroad.

Galveston, Texas, is testing a new weapon for its police force which may prove of great importance in the saving of human life as well as a great aid in making police work effective. It is a gas gun instead of bullets of steel it will shoot bullets of gas. According to the statement of the inventor, this gun will not cause loss of life. It must be fired at close range and aimed high so the gas bullets may explode and render the victim unconscious, by suffocation. He is put under the influence of an anesthetic, so to speak, and while he is unconscious the police may search and secure him. After the influence of the gas wears off the victim is as good as ever, but may find himself in custody. The statement is made that this weapon is replacing the deadly gun in German police service. There are many possibilities in a weapon of that sort, if it should get out of the hands of the police authorities and come to be used by criminals. No mention is made of the racket accompanying this sort of 'shooting.' Since black powder is used, it is to be presumed that some noise is involved. This makes the weapon less available to criminals. Otherwise it would seem to be a very handy thing with which to give a victim a knockout, get his valuables or commit other crime, and then disappear.—St. Paul Dispatch.

MRS. HAMILTON DEAD.

Mrs. Fayette Hamilton died at her home near Star Monday morning at 1 o'clock, after four months suffering with meningitis. She contracted the disease just four months to a day previous to her death and almost all of the intervening time she had been unconscious and helpless.

This is a peculiarly sad case, in that a little girl about one year old is the only surviving member of a family that was happy and prosperous a few months ago. Mr. Hamilton died last fall and in the spring a little girl died with meningitis, now the mother has been taken and the baby girl is alone as far as her immediate family is concerned. Loving kindred will care for her however, and she will never realize her great loss.

Mrs. Hamilton's remains were laid to rest in the Hurst ranch cemetery Monday afternoon and the sad service was attended by many of her friends and the friends of her family.

A Novel Exhibit.

One of the most novel and attractive exhibits on the fair grounds was the South Bend watch frozen in ice and kept perfect time. This exhibit was arranged by Mr. L. E. Miller, the jeweler, to demonstrate the excellency of the watches he sells and it attracted as much attention as any exhibit on the grounds. The watch was frozen in a large block of ice for two days and still kept such accurate time that many regulated their watches by it. This exhibit made a fine showing for the South Bend watch and also proved the enterprise and originality of our popular jeweler.

The watch was given away absolutely free, each caller being allowed to register and receive a ticket. Mr. H. G. Forehand, of Big Valley was the fortunate recipient of the time-piece.

Fair and Reunion

Great Crowds Here Each Day.

LIST OF PREMIUMS AND A SPLENDID DISPLAY

A Fine Program for Each Day—A Number of Good Speeches and Big Barbecue.

Beyond question the greatest event in the history of Goldthwaite was the Mills County Fair and Confederate Reunion held here Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of this week.

This was the first entertainment of the kind under the management of the Goldthwaite Commercial club and we all feel that the organization, its officers and committees have "made good" and we have great hopes now of making this fair one of the best county fairs in the state, and there is no reason why the hope should not be realized. The displays here this week prove that we have the stock and the farm products to make a mighty fine showing for this splendid county. It is a fact that many people actually and honestly believe that this one of the poorest counties in the state, when in fact it is one of the best and most productive. Displays of this kind prove this assertion and make a better reputation for the county than columns of advertising unsupported by the showing. The effort this year has given the business community and the farmers courage and the fair next year will make this one small by comparison.

There was plenty of entertainments for the people outside the displays and the merry-go-round, doll racks, etc., on the "midway" furnished amusement for old and young alike. The program was well arranged and the events were so timed as to avoid conflicts and keep "something doing" from the time the Commander of Jeff Davis camp called the organization to order in its 1912 session on Tuesday morning until the shades of evening warned the people that Thursday night was fast approaching. There were discussions on political and general topics, special topics, special programs and speeches on politics and other subjects and the interest was held throughout the three days and nights.

The first day was Confederate day and the old veterans and their friends began to arrive early and there was an unusually large attendance for the first day.

The second day was devoted to speech making and various kinds of entertainments and amusement for the day and at night a program arranged under the direction of Mrs. John Scott and Misses Mayme Sherman, Olga Hart and Lizzie Stephens was most delightful to the large audience.

Thursday was the main day, in that it was the day set for the barbecue and political speaking. The program was opened with a speech by Mr. John J. Cox in the interest of Governor Colquitt and he was followed by Mr. F. M. Newman of Brady in the interest of Judge Ramsey. Mr. Cox's time for rejoinder filled out the morning hours and at its close dinner was announced.

The committee had provided tons of barbecue, ten beefs having been barbecued, 1000 loaves of bread, plenty of coffee and pickles and prepared a table in a shady grove at the south side of the grounds. The vast assembly gathered around the table and on every side could be heard commendations of the excellent provision for the dinner and the nice manner in which the meat was cooked. After all had eaten to their entire satisfaction there was a vast amount of provisions left, which was indeed pleasing to the committee, for they would have much preferred to have too much than not enough.

After dinner the auditorium was again filled with people to hear the candidates speak and afterwards the Sacred Harp singing entertained the vast audience till a late hour, when the congregation commenced to disperse, all pronouncing the first Fair and Reunion held under the auspices of the Commercial club the best entertainment of the kind in the history of the county.

A Financial Success

The financial part of the three days entertainment was a success, as well as the other features. The rights sold brought more than $300, although the exact amount is not known yet as some settlements are to be made, but already the committee has received $323 and it is sure that the total will reach something like $350. It is safe to depend that those who made the donations for the entertainment will be reimbursed to some extent and perhaps a considerable amount.

Base Ball

The base ball games were quite interesting and attracted large crowds. Each morning the "kid" nines played and in the afternoon the regulars. Bulls Springs and the Goldthwaite teams played three games, the first two being won by the visitors and the last one was a victory for the home team. There was a considerable interest in the games and the players did some fine work.

CAMP OFFICERS.

Jeff Davis camp of Confederate Veterans held a business meeting at the tabernacle on the reunion grounds Tuesday and elected officers as follows:

G. H. Denison, commander; J. W. Allen, first lieutenant; M. V. Nowell, second lieutenant; L. G. Blackburn, adjutant; Dr. J. D. Calaway secretary and treasurer; Rev. D. I. Haralson, chaplain.

LETTER FROM GEN. MARTIN.

Mercury, Texas, July 22.
To Jeff Davis Camp U. C. V.

My dear comrades: In the providence of God I wanted to be with you in this reunion that begins tomorrow, for I believed "was the last one I should ever attend; but He has ordered it other-wise. About ten days ago I got a fall which has so seriously crippled me as to confine me to my house ever since. But I must bow in submission to His will, and as I cannot be with you in person I shall be with you in spirit. Oh, how I love that old camp—all its members—those that are here now, and those that have gone. They are all as dear to me as my own life's blood. I hope you will all be happy in this (perhaps) the last meeting to some of you for soon 'taps' will be sounded and we will all be gathered at the Great Camp Ground above to answer the 'Last Roll. And now may mercy, peace and happiness abide with you to the end, is the prayer of your comrade.

W. L. MARTIN.

Your First Commander.

Dock Smith Hurt.

Last Sunday morning G. M. Smith, better known as "Doc," was badly injured at Mullin by being struck by the locomotive of the east bound passenger train. He was standing beside the track talking with the engineer of a freight train and, stepping backward, stepped immediately in front of the oncoming passenger train, which he had not heard approaching on account of the noise made by the freight engine. He was knocked from the track, one of his arms was broken and he was otherwise injured. He was carried to the hospital at Temple on Sunday night's train and for several days it was thought his injuries would prove fatal. His wife returned home from Temple Thursday night and reported him much improved and it is now believed he will soon be able to come home.

Judge Hanford, the first federal judge appointed in the state of Washington after statehood had been secured 23 years ago, this week resigned and thereby ended impeachment proceedings against him on charges of misconduct.

The prospects for the success of the national Democratic ticket in the November election are pleasing and encouraging to the party leaders throughout the country. All factions are united on Wilson and Marshall and there is every reason to hope for a great victory.

A retired sailor in Baltimore started a report Saturday that he had met and conversed with Capt. Smith, commander of the ill-fated Titanic. It has been believed all the while and is still believed that the commander of the Titanic lost his life when the vessel went down and the story of the sailor was not believed by many.

A large number of counties in Texas followed the advice of the state chairman and assistant attorney general and left off the primary ballots the names of the presidential electors. The fact that a great many committees placed the names on the ballots saves the state to the national Democracy, for the electors will be nominated by the voters in the counties where their names appear and will, therefore, be entitled to have their names on the general election tickets in November.

Today closes one of the most strenuous political campaigns that Texas has seen. Candidates for many state and district offices have made a close canvass and a great deal of vituperation and abuse of opposing candidates has characterized the campaigns of many of these candidates. If we were to believe half of the charges against many of these men we would be convinced that all of the bad people in Texas were running for office. It is to be hoped that Texas will never see another campaign on so low a level as this one has been.

The attorney general's office is kept pretty busy ruling on the different points of the Terrell election law. One county wanted to leave the names of county candidates off the ballots for the July primary and hold the election for state and district candidates only. The attorney general advised that the county and precinct candidates must be placed on the ballots. In some cases it was desired to place a different test from the one required by law, but the attorney general stated that executive committees could make additional tests, if they so desired, but the additional tests could not be placed on the official ballots.

The business interests of Texas are entitled to better protection from the man who cashes worthless checks. This is a practice which has become quite common. So much so in fact that almost every merchant in the state who handles any volume of business, has in his safe one or more checks which he cannot cash because they were drawn on a defunct bank account. There is a law against swindling. The average legislator will cite this fact. He will say that this law protects the business interests from this class of swindler. This is not correct. The present law surrounds the conviction of the promoter of these check schemes with so many technicalities that a conviction is a rarity. The man who cashes the check must ask previous to so doing 'have you money in the bank to meet this check?' If the man with the check says he has, and it is afterwards proved that he hasn't, then he is liable under the present law. If this precaution is not taken it cannot be proven that the check was tendered with original intent to defraud.—Southwestern Independent.

She realized that the lye was dangerous and hurriedly brushed it away and made an application of cream, but immediate relief did not come and she telephoned for a specialist, who hurried to her and has done all that skill can do to relieve her. Sensational events are coming into disfavor among denominational leaders recently have protested against the language and method of pulpit mountebanks whohortations to a better life and distinguished by a and independent expressions, an encouraging sign, a times that the churches are beginning to express their disapproval of the slam bang, rump-the-back method of soul g. It is a grave question whether the cause of religion has been more harmed than helped by sensational pulpiterers rely for their "conversion upon the creation of an unwholy excitement and the way upon the overwrought nerves of their hearers by throes of eternal damnation. To a thoughtful the protechnics this class of evangelist is "gusting" and when the spillover excitement is over and calmness succeeds hysteria, it is doubtful if the "converts" do, in a majority of cases, feel they have been tricked by a clever actor. There is no charm in this sort of religion; there is no appeal to the better element of human nature in a vulgar glow of billings-gate from the lips of a man who professes to be serving Him whose language was ever gentle and pure. The world will be just as well off and men's souls in no greater danger, when the force of healthy public sentiment has driven from the pulpit and platform every loud-mouthed val-garian, hypocrite and peanut politician.—Exchange.

Indigestion

causes heartburn, sour stomach, nervousness, nausea, impure blood, and more trouble than many different kinds of diseases. The food you eat ferments in your stomach, and the poisons it forms are absorbed into your whole system, causing many distressing symptoms. At the first sign of indigestion, try the old, reliable, vegetable liver powder, to quickly cleanse your system from these undesirable poisons.

Theford's Black-Draught

Mrs. Riley Larimore, of Goodwater, Mo., says: "I suffered for years from dyspepsia and heartburn. I took doses of Theford's Black-Draught, in small doses, and cured my heartburn in a few days, and now I can eat without distress." Try it.

THE SENATORIAL SITUATION.

Brown county has for the past fourteen years furnished the State Senator from this, the 26th district, including Erath, Comanche, Brown, Coleman, Runnels, Concho, McCulloch, San Saba, Mills and Llano counties, and has now several candidates for other state and district offices. Prior to these fourteen years Comanche county had furnished the senator ever since the district was created, and now has two candidates for congress, one already a congressman.

At the present time both Comanche and Brown have candidates asking for the nomination for State Senator again.

Erath has never furnished a senator since this district was created, and is now asking for this honorable and important office for one of her citizens, the Hon. C. G. Foust of Dublin, whom her people are endorsing as worthy and capable.

We do not believe the voters of this district, not even of Brown and Comanche, would willingly monopolize political honors for one county, nor permit it to be done; but would accord and concede to the citizens of other localities the privilege of participating in the affairs of state, and would admit the propriety of rotation in office, which is recognized as sound public policy. It is particularly sound and applicable here in view of the fact that our senatorial districts are large and would require a long time for the varied interests and localities to be properly represented.

Mr. Foust is in the prime of vigorous manhood, a man of affairs, gifted, fearless, and ruggedly honest. He is highly educated, an able debater, and a broad gaged business man of experience. His type is needed in active constructive legislation.

We believe, therefore, that we are asking for only a fair and reasonable division of public honors for our county in soliciting the votes of every county in the district for our fellow citizen, Mr. C. G. Foust in the Democratic primaries.

What Makes A Woman?

One hundred and twenty pounds, more or less, of bone and muscle don't make a woman. It's a good foundation. Put into it health and strength and she may rule a kingdom. But that's just what Electric Bitters give her. Thousands bless them for overcoming faintness and dizzy spells and for dispelling weakness, nervousness, backache and tired, listless, worn out feeling. Electric Bitters have done me a world of good," writes Eliza Pool, Depew, Okla. "and I thank you with all my heart for making such a good medicine." Only 50c. Guaranteed by R. E. Clements.

Self-Help in the University of Texas

For a number of years about two out of every five students of the University of Texas have been wholly or partially self-supporting. During the current session, out of 2006 students 875 belonged to the self-supporting class. Some of these students have earned all of the money they are expending on an education; others are contributing to their support while at the same time carrying forward their studies.

To show what has been done and therefore what can be done by students toward working their way through the University, a bulletin has been issued containing the experiences of twenty-five students who have successfully faced the problems of self-support in the University. A copy of this bulletin, No. 196, will be sent on request by John A. Lomax, secretary of the University. To assist students in securing work an employment bureau is maintained by both the Young Men's and the Young Women's Christian Associations. The determined student may be certain that at the University of Texas he will find both encouragement and assistance in his effort to secure an education.

I request all persons who have Deeds and other instruments of writing affecting the title of their land remaining in this office, to call at their earliest convenience and get same, as they are very unsafe in our present condition, and should they with the records be destroyed, it would perhaps cost you a great deal to replace them, and very likely you would never be able to perfect your title without a suit in the District Court, which is very expensive. As ever yours to serve, R. J. ATKINSON, County Clerk.

Rain Makers Quit.

The Hatfield Brothers will come in from Carlebad and it is likely that they will meet with the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce and will ask the board to release them from their contract.

The lack of a sufficient supply of water with which to work is assigned by the rain makers as the reason for their failure to produce rain here. After a trial and an investigation of the conditions here, the Hatfields are convinced that there is not a body of water of sufficient size to make their experiments do the work. Herefore they have succeeded, but they have always had an abundance of water to work with and never did they realize, until they came to Concho land, how very important the water was for their success.—San Angelo Standard.

OFFICIAL BALLOT.

List of Candidates and the Offices
To Which they Aspire.

Following is a copy of the official ballot that will be delivered to the voters by the election officers today.
The list does not include district, county and precinct candidates, for these offices, but the names of the candidates for offices 'higher up' are given that voters may have the opportunity to select their candidates before going into the election booths and then they need take but little time in making out their tickets.

BROKE HIS ARM.

Lee Yarborough had the misfortune to get his right arm broken just above the wrist yesterday morning.
He had been at work on J. N.
Weatherby's automobile and attempted to 'crank' the machine to see if it would run when his hand slipped off or he was 'kicked' on the arm by the handle and his arm broken. The injury is severe and painful, but there will not likely be permanent results from it.

STORK VS IMMIGRATION AGENTS

These Powerful Factors in Empire Building Active in Texas.

The greatest achievement in human life is to raise a child. We have in Texas approximately one million children under seven years of age and one million of scholastic age.

The stork is a popular bird among Texans. We have the largest families of any State in the Union, and there is a child born every four minutes in Texas. There are 122,000 births and 43,734 deaths per annum.

The stork is a splendid bird, but too slow for development work. It would take it two generations to double our population. It must be aid, however, to the credit of our Legislatures, that so far they have never attempted to regulate or restrain the flight of the stork.

Our immigration agents travel more rapidly than the stork. There are 69,000 people moving to Texas annually who remain here permanently, and these people bring with them $123,000,000.

The immigration agent, as a developer, has many advantages over the stork. The natural born citizen brings no property into the State; in fact, we have just seen that 30 per cent of our native citizens leave the State and take property away with them. It is 12 or 15 years before a child becomes a revenue producer, and during this time he is an expense; but when the immigration agent moves people into the State, they bring property with them and they immediately become revenue producers. We must look to the immigration agent to rapidly increase our population and wealth.

The immigration agent selects the very best citizens on the globe—men who have the business ability to see our remarkable opportunities for development and the courage to take advantage of them, while the stork works indiscriminately; and when we look over the State and see 15 of our native citizens leaving the State each day, taking property away with them, as well as failing to take advantage of our magnificent opportunities, one is inclined to exclaim "what a foolish bird."

MEETING AT BULLS SPRINGS

Rev. D. I. Haralson is arranging for a union meeting to begin at the arbor at Bull's springs in the next few days. He expects to have the assistance of Rev. J. C. Newman and Rev. F. M. Jackson and perhaps others in the meeting and people of the town and country will be wanted there and will have a hearty welcome to assist in the meeting. A more definite announcement of this meeting will probably be made within the next few days.

The many friends of Capt. Ed Garlick will regret to learn that he is not improving any in health, although he has tried every remedy known to alleviate his sufferings. He is considered to be in a dangerous condition, with little hopes for his health being permanently restored.—Temple Mirror.

The department of agriculture preliminary estimate of the acreage planted to cotton in the United States this year has been made public and shows the area planted to be 24,977,000 acres compared with 25,681,000 acres indicated by the Bureau of Statistics' revised estimate of last year's planted acreage.

OUR MOST COSTLY FOLLY

Running to the Courts With Every Dispute Is Marked American Characteristic.

If one were asked to name the costliest folly known in this country he would not be far from the mark if he should say it was the American craze for litigation. In some communities, especially the small ones in rural districts, a man's importance seems to be measured by the number of law suits he has on hand, and he who has none is often regarded as a person of slight consequence.

But the habit of going to law is not confined to small neighborhoods nor to persons of trifling affairs, as a single instance will show. There is now in process of settlement in a neighboring state the estate of a man which at the time of his death was valued at $1,000,000. Rival claimants to the property engaged in litigation which has extended over a period of several years, and now, as the end approaches, it is said the estate has dwindled to about $23,000.

Manifestly, the parties to this litigation have made a heavy investment in experience, but unhappily for them it is not what financiers call a "liquid asset."—The Docket.

ARE "OLD MAID" FACTORIES

Dr. Sprague Denounces What He Calls Greatest Evil of Higher Education.

Denouncing colleges as "old maid factories," and blaming women for being so fond of society and automobiles that they cannot find time to raise families, Dr. Robert J. Sprague of Amherst Agricultural college has found what he considers one of the greatest evils of higher education.

"The business life wears off that restraint between the sexes that causes interest," said Dr. Sprague. "Women become so accustomed to the constant and daily society of men, and vice versa, that marriage isn't thought of."

"The woman finds she is making money and has a nice, comfortable home. Why should she marry?"

"The professional woman has money of her own—she need not get it from a husband. Is it a wonder that she dreads to exchange for dependency, for a husband with an income perhaps smaller than her own, for the monotony of a home, and for the cares of babies?"—Boston Dispatch to New York Herald.

ONLY ONE ENGLISH POPE.

Many Englishmen have risen to the dignity of cardinal, but only one—Adrian IV.—has ever ascended the papal throne. Adrian—whose real name was Nicholas Breakpear—was born at Abbots Langley, near St. Albans, about the year 1100. His father was a poor man who entered a monastery and left his son to fend for himself. This the lad did by crossing to France and traveling about, supporting himself by begging until he entered the monastery of St. Rufus, near Valence. From a very menial position he presently rose to be abbot of the foundation. In 1146 he was created cardinal and on the death of Anastasius IV. in 1154 succeeded him as pope. The one interesting event of his rule as touching England was the famous "grant" of Ireland to Henry II.

DEFENDANT WAS PROVOKED.

The Judge—You admit that you struck the man?

The Culpit—Yes, your honor. But he gave me ample provocation.

The Judge—What was it?

The Culpit—Why, I had just met the man—never saw him before in my life, and we hadn't been talking more than a minute or two when he addressed me as professor.

The Judge—Discharged.
