DISTRICT CONVENTION.

The representative convention for the 94th district was held in this city last Saturday. Chairman Jno. W. Roberts called the meeting to order and R. M. Thompson was elected secretary.

Jas. Raul presented a proxy from Chairman J. H. Edson of Hamilton county giving him authority to cast the votes of that county in the convention.

The returns from the primary election showed Rev. A. R. Watson to have received 69 votes in Hamilton county and 74 votes in Mills county, while D. W. McKee received 223 votes in Hamilton county and 258 votes in Mills county. Rev. Watson having received the majority of all votes cast was declared the Democratic nominee for representative in the legislature for the 94th district.

Jno. W. Roberts was re-elected chairman for the district for the next two years and the convention adjourned.

THOUGHTLESS ACTS.

Some people have been guilty of depredation and thoughtless conduct in Mr. J. F. Bull's pasture at Bull's springs, and it is a matter of public concern that such acts cease. The springs and the beautiful park, as well as the location make Bull's Springs an ideal and desirable place for picnics and outings and it would be a matter of much disappointment and inconvenience for Mr. Bull to close his premises against the public but when his property is damaged and acts of depredation are committed nothing else can be expected. It is public that these acts have been committed and we all hope that those who have been guilty in the past will hereafter commit acts that may force the owner of the property to deprive the public of its use.

W. S. Miller of Big Valley boarded the train here Wednesday to go to Fisher county for a visit to relatives.

The mothers of men of genius have been frequently somewhat remarkable women, more remarkable than the fathers. Caesar's mother was "a strict and stately lady of the old school, unaffected by the cosmopolitan laxity of her day." Consequently though the Caesars were wealthy, their household was "simple and severe." Its greatest son "was always passionately devoted to his mother, who shared his house up to the time of her death," when he was 46 years old. "Her influence upon him was doubtless great and beneficial." Cromwell's mother was "strong, homely, and keen" of face; "with firm mouth and penetrating eyes, a womanly goodness and peacefulness of expression." Cromwell "thought more of her than any other woman, more than of his wife." Napoleon attributed "his elevation to his mother's training, laying down the maxim that the future good or bad conduct of a child depends entirely on the mother." Mozart, Goethe, Scott, Leibnitz, Augustine, Gregory, and Francis d'Assisi, all these had mothers of some note and fathers of less—Augustine's father was an "unprincipled scamp." Martin Luther took after his mother, who, although she had a singular reputation for mildness, whipped him till the blood came for stealing a nut.—Exchange.

The experiment conducted by the commercial club for clearing the land of the mesquite by the use of dynamite has proved a success. The average cost of clearing land by Mexican labor is $12 per acre, but the dynamite process reduces the cost to $8 per acre. As there are several million acres of land, the saving will approximate several million dollars to the Kingsville country.—Cotton and Cotton Oil News.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Randolph left Monday night for St. Louis, to buy fall and winter goods for Randolph & Allen at Mullin. They expect to be gone about two weeks.

WHY GO TO COLLEGE?

According to an estimate of a recent publication of the University of Montana, only one man in every 750 in the United States has gone to college. Yet this small number has furnished 17 of the 26 presidents, 19 of the 27 vice-presidents, 17 of the 34 persons in the Hall of Fame.

Certain men have become great without education. Many people have by patient perseverance educated themselves without going to college. But for most men it is not wise to neglect what the world has approved. To be satisfied with a high school course is to stop one's development at the point where its progress would be greatest; it is to accept a heavy handicap when one is brought into contact with men of college training. All college men do not succeed. There are other elements in success besides training. None the less is training vital, and the chances of success are tremendously increased for the man who has it. "The apparent delaying of a life work by years at college," says Dean Briggs, "is like the stopping of a stream by a dam to give it accumulated power."

If your son or daughter is ambitious to go to college, send to John A. Lomax, University Station, Austin, for a free book containing pictures of the buildings and grounds of our big State University.

Robert Clark and family have moved from Sonora, Sutton county, to Rowlett, Dallas county. They spent several days in this county visiting Mr. Wrinkle's family and other relatives and Mr. Clark called to have the Eagle sent to him in their new home.

J. C. Witty and his mother, Mrs. W. W. Witty of Star, returned the first of the week from a visit to relatives at Cleburne.

Mrs. M. L. Brown and children returned Monday evening from a visit to relatives at Coleman.

HOLDING COTTON.

Editor Eagle:

Will you allow me a little space in your paper?

First, as to the move on foot regarding the "Southern States Cotton Corporation", I have studied this very closely and should the ones at the head of this move secure money enough to take 3 to 4 million bales of cotton off the market, it certainly would prove beneficial to the cotton growers, and to all who handle cotton in the cotton growing states. No doubt the move was a sincere one, propagated by people who are friends to cotton, but what will or would be the outcome remains to be guessed at. At first I had some faith in it and have not lost all, but am growing weaker. Should cotton remain at or around 11 cents the collateral would not be enormous. Should it advance it would be easy, should it decline the amount would be so heavy I fear it would be a failure. It requires lots of money to handle cotton; and this money comes thru banks and corporations who require security, and can demand their money when due, and neither Mr. Walley nor Mr. Yearly is going to lose any money on this move just to make money for us. Such a thing may be handled another year, but the move was started too late for this season—or it seems that way to me. I have listed 50 bales and when it gets in operation I would be glad to list more, for it is certainly to my interest to see cotton bring all it will, but I want to say in this connection that I never had such a time getting groceries to accommodate the people as I have this year, and when I say accommodate my trade, I mean it in every sense of the word. I did it more to accommodate my customers than for the profit it is to bring me, and I notice some I have accommodated carrying their cotton over to the warehouse to await the results of the above mentioned cotton move. I speak all this in kindness and in self defense, but my debts commence coming due now. You think, "well a few days will not hurt Street," but you do not know. I consider your accounts due me just as fast as you gather the cotton and when you fail to pay me you hurt me; for I have promised this money and must pay my bills. Now you who have done this are my best friends and do not intend to hurt me, but you ARE hurting me just the same, and in my judgment are hurting yourself. You are putting cotton in around 11 cents and should you fail to get your advance on the cotton and cotton decline you are losing for your self and hurting the man who has helped you make this crop. You will have plenty of cotton to hold when this move proves a success, so my advice is, sell as long as the cotton will bring around what the company claims to advance, pay your debts—help the man who helps you—and lets hand together and lay aside the strife that seems to exist between merchants and farmers. No business man should hold envy or strife against the man he depends on for his profits. No farmer should hold envy or strife against the ones who help him farm. There should be a feeling between the two that would tend to bind rather than divide. There are a few men who seem to encourage such strife. When you hear them talking just brand them as meddlers and mischief makers and pay no attention to them. We will always have a few such people, in spite of our best efforts to thwart them.

Please take this in the spirit it was intended.

Yours for success,

J. C. STREET.

DON'T MAKE A MISTAKE

WE all make mistakes occasionally, but the man who goes on making the same mistake is not a very wise man.

One of the easiest mistakes in the world to make is when you don't buy Lumber to make the proper repairs about your place. We can point you to people who have already lost enough to pay for a good barn this year by not going ahead and making the needed repairs about the place or by backing out from doing what they ought to in the way of improvements.

Make up your mind what you have to have and come to us. We will make an estimate as to cost and furnish the proper materials. No matter how small the bill, we will appreciate it just the same. Respectfully...

MORE COURT HOUSE MATTERS.

Editor Eagle:

Judge S. H. Allen, in his article upon the bond issue, says that "In every important matter coming before the people there is difference of opinion," and that on "every debatable question honest men may differ." That is a true saying, and one very applicable in this case.

Now, it may, and no doubt does, seem presumptuous in a common one-horse farmer like myself to criticize Judge Allen's article in the Eagle in regard to bonds for building the court house, but it seems to me like some of Judge Allen's statements are not altogether fair in regard to those who oppose a $55,000.00 bond issue. In the first place, he assumes that 50 or 100 people at most are the people, and thoroughly represent the tax payers of Mills county. This proposition I deny, for if Judge Allen, or the commissioners court, or anybody else had wished to get the sentiments of the tax payers on this proposition they could have just as easily called a mass meeting at every voting box in the county and thereby have given the farmers, who were very busy with their crops, an opportunity to express their sentiments in regard to the matter. Again Judge Allen says that "a man whose sole thought and aim is to array country folk against the people living in town is either very short sighted or is actuated by bad motives. He is a friend of nobody and is a malefactor in the country where lives." That is pretty strong indictment isn't it. Does Judge Allen mean that because the town people want a $75,000 court house and a majority of the country people want a $60,000 court house, that he is a friend of nobody, and a malefactor in the country in which he lives? If that constitutes a first class malefactor, if he will come out to Caradan I will cheerfully point out over 100 brazen faced malefactors, who will publicly state that they believe that to be the case. However, they don't condemn the town people for being in favor of $75,000 or even $100,000 bonds, if they want them that is their exclusive right to determine the amount of bonds they wish issued, but we tax payers out here at Caradan, Texas, do believe that $60,000 will build a court house amply sufficient for all the needs of Mills county, both now and in the future, and if you ask why we think so our answer is, "because something like 20 years ago the people had erected a court house that cost them $27,000 and up to the time it was unfortunately burned it answered every purpose of the citizens of Mills county for court purposes.

Judge Allen says the people have spoken twice and the people have a right to be heard. Now right here is where I humbly beg leave to differ with Mr. Allen. The people have not spoken. Only a small, a very small, per cent of the people have spoken. But the people will speak, and the people will be heard. The people believe that they not only have a right to vote on a bond issue but that they have a right also to determine the amount of the bonds to be issued. Now, the people out here at Caradan don't want a $75,000.00 court house built for $60,000.00. Neither do they want a $60,000.00 court house built for $75,000.00. Therefore, they can't tell the commissioners court how that can be done, but they can tell them just how to build a $60,000.00 court house for $60,000.00. Just employ an architect, make a contract with someone to build it, and see that they live strictly up to the contract with no useless expense of time, labor or material. And there you have it all in a nut shell. Now if anybody in their investigation of the matter in hand has found any reason why this can't be done we would be glad to hear from them, and perhaps we might change our minds in regard to the bond issue.

Now Mr. Allen says the court has been traveling over the state inspecting court houses, both new and old, and some in course of erection. Well, that is all right, I suppose, and the proper thing to do under the circumstances, but it seems to me that if our commissioners court had made a detailed statement of all the information gained, all the facts learned, and given a description and cost of all the buildings inspected, it might have cleared the atmosphere a little and the people would have had more light on the subject. If our commissioners court has some particular building in mind, which they believe would be suitable to the needs of Mills county, why not someone give us a faint idea of what kind of structure it will be.

Now in conclusion I want to say a word to my brother farmers. If you conscientiously believe that $75,000.00 is more than we ought to pay for a court house, vote against the $55,000.00 bond issue. They may ridicule you and call you a moss back, but tell them we foot the bill. They may say that you haven't any patriotism and don't care to build up your home town. Just tell those who say so that you foot the bill. If they don't believe it just tell them to look at the tax roll of Mills county and they will see who foots the bills. Tell them when you are able to have steam heat and bath rooms and electric lights in your own homes you are willing to vote them in the public buildings of Mills county. You know in the presidential election of 1844 the battle cry of the Democrats was 54-40 or fight. Let us cut off 54 and make it 40 or fight.

NUGGETS FROM FARM AND RANCH.

The land should be prepared for winter rye, oats and wheat as early as possible. Grains need a good seed-bed and the best way to provide it is to prepare the land early.

Every farmer should get enough hogs to produce his own meat. Those who have plenty of hams, bacon and lard to supply their tables need not worry over the high cost of living. They will have high living at low cost.

Farmers in the future will not be so anxious to manage large farms, but will be more concerned in securing large yields per acre. Science is teaching what can be accomplished by the intelligent use of manure and fertilizers so that the yield of our farms may be increased.

Poultry raising is especially adapted to girls as a way of making cash for spending money. A flock of standard bred fowls, when properly cared for, will produce enough to buy the clothing of the girls. Many girls have nice bank accounts from the proceeds of fowls.

The rural high school law that was recently passed by the Texas legislature is accomplishing much for rural education in this state. The high schools that have been established under this act are teaching agriculture and home economics and boys and girls in reach of these schools have an opportunity to learn the practical things that qualify them for life.

A report from Bay City says that a farmer in that county has experimented with Egyptian cotton this year and it has proven quite successful. He has fifteen acres of the cotton, which will yield a bale to the acre, and the price is about double the ordinary cotton, as the staple is much longer.

The Diaz plan of dealing with revolutionists and all those who oppose the government is said to have been adopted by the administration in Mexico. Advices from Torreón and other points say that a merciless mode of extermination of rebels has been adopted. One writer says the telegraph poles are decorated with dead revolutionists who have been killed by the soldiers of the government.

A most deplorable tragedy was enacted in the Confederate home at Austin last Saturday. M. B. Tyler, an inmate of the home, shot and killed James L. Welch. The man who did the shooting was from San Jacinto county, while the man who was killed was said to have gone to the home from Ridge, Mills county. The men had been on bad terms for some time and the shooting took place when they met in the laundry at the home. Tyler was sent to the insane asylum some years ago, but was returned to the home in 1907.

We hope several of our readers will try the experiment this fall of putting up milo maize or sorghum wet, as has been referred to in these columns. The method is to cut the forage as damp as possible and, if the weather is dry, to pour a few buckets of water on each layer as the stack is being built. Those who have tried it say the forage will heat and steam but that in a few weeks it will cure into one of the most palatable cow feeds known. Of course the silo is much better, but those who cannot afford the silo might try the wet stacking method with profit. —Texas Farm Co-Operator.

TO THE VOTERS OF MILLS COUNTY.

At all times in the past, when questions involving public enterprise and public necessity have arisen, I have remained in the background, feeling that there were others more competent to deal with such matters than myself and in view of their superior judgment, I have merely voted my sentiments when the time came, and let others voice the public battle. We are now, however, confronted with a situation that calls for, not only the best talent we have, but the patriotism, pride and ambition of those who are looking ahead for our county's future needs, after our exit will have been made.

Twenty-three years ago, when our county was in its infancy, we erected a court house, at a cost of $28,000. We did the best we could and acted well and wisely. We carried good insurance, all of which has been collected. Since then we have almost unconsciously grown in wealth and population, until I am afraid, we do not fully realize and appreciate our financial and populative status, nor do I believe the masses of the people fully realize the danger and risk to our county's records in delaying the building of the court house. Our records are our own and our children's greatest earthly inheritance, so let us come together like men, like citizens and friends and build a court house that will suffice for the future as well as the present.

I will admit we have had three hard years, but the tide will turn and when it does turn and our dear old county re-robes herself with good crops and plenty, we will then grow some more and continue to grow. The undeveloped lands will be sought after by the settlers and we will surely have a great influx of immigration.

We are not building a court house alone for the present, but for years and years to come. Let's build a house that is roomy, plenty of office room, plenty of vault room, so as the records accumulate we will have ample room for them, and as the years come and go we will by force of necessity, need more men to handle the county's affairs and of course will have to have plenty of office room.

Then let us make it fire-proof, as this will cut out insurance, and when asleep, dreaming the dreams of the just, no fiend can creep in and destroy our valuables.

The question of cost may also be considered. Nobody wants to be extravagant. No one can profit above another. The thing that is best for you is best for me in this regard.

The court and the judge, the very men you have elected to look after your general needs, have looked at other Counties' court houses. They have been sincere and honest. They tell us that approximately a seventy-five thousand dollar building is the best they can do and get us what we need. They have compared our needs to that of other counties who have recently erected court houses. This is the only way we can solve the problem, by observation and what experience we may have had.

The County Judge has, to my knowledge, called two mass meetings of the representative citizens of the county and when called on for an expression on the subject, they voted almost unanimously for a $75,000 building.

Then why have a wrangle and a pull engendering strife and causing delay and if the bond is defeated, a waste of money, for we must have a court house, there is no question about this.

So let us come together like men do when they want to accomplish something and build wisely and judiciously, and when the storms and fires come and discrepancy and age have overshadowed us, we can look back over our work and rejoice and bless the day of our being.

E. O. PRIDDY.

A citizen of the County since its organization.

COURT HOUSE.

To all the qualified voters of Mills county—Greeting.

Let each of us spend a few hours of careful study about the plan and construction of our new court house and see if we can't come to a better understanding in reference to what it will cost. I have but one object in view in writing this article, and that is, that it may cause many voters to study about it in a more judicious manner than we have up to this time. I have formed my conclusion from observation and experience. I have paid tax to help build two court houses in Bell county and I believe I have a pretty good idea of the cost after hearing the dimensions and the kind of material to be used in the construction, and I here say if the people of Mills county build a court house that will answer all purposes for a court house for 60 years to come and make it anything like fire-proof you cannot use but very little ornamental work and when your house is complete the cost will be about $75,000. I have heard several persons make this remark: "I don't want to make a debt for my children to pay." This is the most "inconsistent objection I have heard. I am proud that I have descendants who will engage in the noble work of helping to erect the public buildings in the counties yet to be organized. Why not the rising generation help defray the expense, as they will soon be the custodians of the same; for in 40 years after your court house is completed take a plot of 5 miles square, Goldthwaite in the center, there won't be 20 per cent of the people living that were 21 years old when the house was completed. I believe it would be a judicious plan, if it can be done in the proper manner, to issue the $55,000 bonds and one-half that amount can be floated at 4 1/2 or 5 per cent, let fall due 40 years hence, that our descendants take some part in the noble work their ancestors commenced many years ago. I believe it is every man's duty as a citizen to take some humble part in all laudable public enterprises. Don't stand alone until the other fellow has killed the bear and then come with shouts, and claim the victory.

Well, here is my religion: I am in favor of a liberal education, while I never got a dollar of public money in trying to educate my five children, as all old settlers know that it took all the money, which was about 12 1/2 cents on the $100, to pay for the indigent children. Well, with this I paid from $5 to $50 on four school houses, four Baptist churches, three Christian churches, two Cumberland Presbyterian and two Methodist churches and I paid my tax every year as long as I was able to work and make any thing to pay on. Dear friends, I am firmly of the opinion that a man who lives alone for self when weighed in the balance will be found wanting. B. P. LEE. Goldthwaite, Texas.

IN BEHALF OF A GOOD COURT HOUSE.

I have lived in Mills county every since it has been a county and in the same community long before Mills county was ever thought of. By rigid economy and industry I have become owner of 2000 acres of land. I have seen this county emerge from darkness and gloom to light and understanding. I, today in my declining years feel proud of our county and especially our own community and in the matter of building a court house, I feel that the best economy we can use in the matter would be to build a fire-proof building, large enough for future needs, so that in after years it will not be necessary to tear down and re-build, and if it requires $75,000 to get this kind of court house then count me in. I have confidence in the County Judge and commissioners court, believing they have the county's best interest at heart, and will not oppose their efforts in trying to do the best they can for the county's welfare.

Respectfully,

T. N. BERRY.

Payne, Texas.

The state department of education announces that there will be an examination for state permanent, state permanent primary, first grade, second grade and county second grade teachers' certificates at each county seat in the state on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Sept. 5, 6 and 7. Said examination to be held by the county board of examiners under the direction of the county superintendent of public instruction.

Governor Colquitt has announced a complete inspection of the penitentiary system and has directed a letter to Ben F. Looney, democratic nominee for attorney general, and Will H. Mayes, democratic nominee for lieutenant governor, asking them to join him in the inspection. The governor is anxious that these men learn the conditions at the penitentiary that they may co-operate with him in asking the legislature for certain revisions of the law governing the institution and its operations.

Whether the American Mormons who fled from Mexico during the acute stages of the rebellion shall be permitted to bear arms upon their return to their homes in Mexico is a question raised by Gen. Steever in one of his reports to the war department, whose officials are inclined to believe that this is a question which should be settled by the Mexican government, and that the American border patrol should allow the returning refugees to take up arms with them for their own protection, if they have no purpose to violate the neutrality laws by taking part in the rebellion on the other side.

There is considerable misunderstanding regarding the new law governing the handling of mail on Sunday. The postmaster general says there need be no serious apprehension as to the effects of the new law. He says that holders of lock boxes at first and second class post-offices will have access to them as usual, although no mail deliveries will be made on the street or at postoffice windows. Mail for hotel guests and newspapers will be delivered through their lock boxes by a simple arrangement of having more mail sorted on the railway mail cars before it reaches its destination. Such mail will be distributed immediately upon its arrival at the office of destination.

One of the most important lessons to be learned by every man who would get on in his calling is the art of economizing his time. A celebrated Italian was wont to call his time his estate, and it is true of this as of other estates of which the young come into possession, that it is rarely prized till it is nearly squandered; and then, when life is fast waning, they begin to think of spending the hours wisely and even of husbanding the moments. Unfortunately, habits of indolence, listlessness and procrastination, once firmly fixed, can not be suddenly thrown off, and the man who has wasted the precious hours of life's seed-time finds that he cannot reap a harvest in life's autumn. It is a truism that can not be too often repeated, that lost wealth may be replaced by industry, lost knowledge by study, lost health by temperance or medicine, but lost time is gone forever.—Selected.

COURT HOUSE BONDS.

The Eagle gives considerable space this week to communications concerning the bond election to be held Sept. 21. This is a matter that should be considered by every tax payer in the county and the Eagle sincerely hopes that the bonds will be authorized by the voters, for the court house must be built and the bond method is by far the best for all concerned. To undertake to build by the warrant system would be very unsatisfactory, for the contractors would undoubtedly make allowance for the time the warrants would have to be held or the discount they would be forced to make in order to get the money on the warrants and the price of building the house would be governed accordingly. Therefore, we could not expect to get anything like the value in the building for the warrants that we could get for the money.

The difference between those who advocate the proposed issue and those who favor a smaller issue is not great and the court will not likely use the full $75,000 issue when the contract is submitted to the bidders, and this will still further reduce the amount between the two factions. The Eagle has confidence in the integrity of our court and believes that the members of that body will not indulge in extravagance, but will build a house suited to the needs of the county with as little outlay as possible.

It is not likely that any citizen is anxious to pay more tax than necessary and, therefore, none will advocate the expenditure of more money than is absolutely necessary, but it is not good business judgment to build a house that will only fill the needs of the county for a few years, when with the expenditure of a small amount more a house can be built that will fill the needs for all time to come.

TAXABLE VALUES.

Tax Assessor A. E. Evans, assisted by Mr. W. W. Tippen, has the 1912 tax rolls practically completed and will have them ready for delivery to the court and the comptroller in the next few days. There is a decrease of $172,996 in the valuations as compared with last year. This was caused by the dry weather and the short crops of the past few years. There are exactly the same number of poll tax assessments this year as last and a comparison of the figures show other interesting facts. Following is a comparative statement:

THIS YEAR.		LAST YEAR.
493,006 acres of land	$3,725,195	$3,610,035
7,740 horses	362,600	380,690

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Morgan and their son, Grover, passed through Monday en route for their home in Eastland county, after a trip through the country as far as Austin. They formerly lived near Williams Ranch and are kindly remembered by many of the older settlers here. They moved from here to Eastland about eighteen years ago and this was their first return visit. They like Eastland county and brought the Eagle a sample of the apples grown in their orchard. Mr. Morgan ordered the Eagle sent to his address again, as he says he has never thoroughly gotten used to doing without it, for it tells him each week of many of his friends of long ago.

CLOCK RECEIVED.

The night watchman's clock has been received and the station has been established in various parts of the business portion of town. The clock is smaller than the average alarm clock and is carried in a case with a shoulder strap. Keys are at the six stations and each key registers its station number and the minute and hour that the registration was made. One key is at the jail, one on Sam Sullivan's store door at the rear, one at the light plant, one at Bodkin, Hurdle & Co.'s back door, one on Weems & Burk's rear door and one at Harris & McCullough's lumber yard. A heavy fine attaches to any person who tampers with the keys at these stations. The clock cost $37.55.

THINGS IN GENERAL.

According to their sworn statements, candidates for public offices have spent enough money in the recent campaign to burn up a wet mule and the time wasted in making footprints in the political sands could have built a macadam highway from the Red River to the Gulf. Many of the defeated candidates who are too proud to weep and too polite to swear have concluded that the grapes are sour and are smiling on their successful opponents who for the next two years will have to work hard and be paid harder. Some of the candidates tried to frighten away the political collectors by putting on robes of poverty, but like the shipwrecked woman who put on black stockings to frighten away the sharks, they were crunched in the jaws of destruction. The high cost of politics is keeping pace with the high cost of living and very few items can be charged to the tariff.

A news item reporting that sixty-two people ate their fill from one watermelon in Texas reads like a story in Arabian Nights and reminds us that we are in a land of giant production. The yield in fruits and vegetables is so bountiful that Dame Nature seems to have acted as a godmother to agriculture and the fields are so beautiful and the products so perfect, that they look like they had been tended by fairies. In Texas, nature is so obedient, so generous and so resourceful that man appears to have magic power over her and a visit to our fields and gardens is like taking a stroll through dreamland.

A late foreign cable states that England is rushing orders for a fleet of large steamships for the Panama canal trade. England is not the only locality that is getting busy in water commerce, for a review of river, harbor, and canal improvements in Texas shows that it, too, is forging ahead in coastwise and internal as well as foreign commerce. The next move that should be made is to secure for Texas ports some steamers and sea going ships, the construction of boats not only for its own increasing commerce, but to build for other states and countries as well. The south needs more shipbuilding. Why should not Texas take the lead in the matter?

Based on a scholastic population of 1,019,000, the State Board of Education has made the annual scholastic apportionment, the amount apportioned being $6.85 per capita. This is the largest apportionment ever made for any one year in the history of the state of Texas, and is 5c higher than that of last year, which was $6.80. Due to this large apportionment it is figured out by the board that practically all of the common or country schools should be able to run for the entire nine months of the scholastic year 1912-13. The appropriation, which comes out of the available school funds of the state, becomes available on Sept. 1, 1912.

Given, to all irrigable sections of Texas in dry districts, irrigation, and to all non-irrigable sections result-producing methods in dry farming and the result would be a state or stretch of country unsurpassed anywhere for agriculture. As both of these are entirely feasible and possible, why not have them?—Commercial Secretaries.

SKELETONS UNEARTHED.

Evidences of a wholesale burying was discovered this week when the Texas Light & Power company began to excavate for the purpose of putting in two large oil tanks. When digging had progressed to a depth of about five feet human bones were discovered and before the force had finished taking out the bones nine complete skeletons had been found. The bones were removed to a large oak tree on the slough bank and will be buried when it is certain that all have been removed. The finding of the human bones has caused quite a lot of speculation among the people who have visited the place and had a look at the bones. Some have figured out how early settlers in a fight with Indians killed a number of them and dumped their bodies into a ravine or hole and covered them up with dirt. Whether Indians or not the position of the bones would indicate that the people were dumped into a hole without coffin or preparation for burial. There is no evidence of a box of any kind, and it was seldom that even frontiersmen buried their dead without some pretense of a coffin.—Brownwood Bulletin.

Many others have been permanently cured—why not you? For sale by R. E. Clements.

WHY IT SUCCEEDS

Because It's For One Thing Only, And Goldthwaite People Appreciate This.

Nothing can be good for everything.

Doing one thing well brings success.

Doan's Kidney Pills are for one thing only.

For weak or disordered kidneys. Here is reliable evidence of their worth.

Mrs. T. F. DuBose, Coleman, Texas says: "For years my back bothered me and I had other difficulties which proved that my kidneys were out of order and required attention. I read an account of Doan's Kidney Pills being good for kidney trouble and at once procured a box and commenced their use. After taking half the contents, I noticed that my condition was improving. The kidney secretions became normal and my health improved. Other members of the family have been cured by the same remedy. We can highly recommend it to anyone suffering from kidney trouble."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

ARE EVER AT WAR.

There are two things everlastingly at war, joy and piles. But Bucklen's Arnica salve will banish piles. It soon subdues the itching, irritation, inflammation of swelling. It gives comfort, invites joy. Greatest healer of burns, boils, ulcers, cuts, bruises, eczema, scalds, pimples, skin eruptions. Only 25c at R. E. Clements.

Already the public has heard a good deal about the Treasury department experiments in washing bills, so that they look as crisp and new as if just issued. Secretary MacVeagh has decided on another innovation, which when carried out will reduce the size of all bills, both greenbacks and National bank notes, by one-third. The change has been proposed on the alleged ground of convenience and in order to afford additional security against counterfeiting. It is proposed to make the dimensions 6 by 2 1/2 inches. The paper money now in circulation measures 7.28 by 3.04. A further innovation is the making uniform of the designs of all paper money, the United States notes and certificates and National bank notes, for each denomination. The banks are generally opposed to the changes here suggested.—American Banker.

United States Consul Robert Frazer, Jr., of Valencia, Spain, has written to the state department to the effect that in the province of Valencia families subsist on the produce of four-tenths of an acre of land and that as many as 160 families live on 100 acres. The cultivation is by hand, little machinery being used, and the land is officially valued at $656 an acre. Rainfall being insufficient, irrigation is necessary, but the production is enormous, amounting to more than 1,000,000 metric tons of oranges, olives, grapes and other crops.—Farm Implement News.

The death of C. C. Wilson in the federal prison at Atlanta, Ga., this week was the result of heart disease. Wilson was a former Texan and was a native of Corsicana. He was the head of the DeForest wireless telegraph system in this state and later promoted a "wireless" company whose operations caused him to be convicted of using the mails wrongfully.

The revelations in New York police department are causing investigations in other cities. Detectives are at work in New Orleans and a grand jury has been summoned to take testimony.
