THINGS IN GENERAL.

Press reports announcing that the Smithsonian Institution will undertake an investigation of the sun indicate that the scientists have put one over the politicians. The sun is a public service concern—furnishing us with light and heat—and it cannot vote, so there is no reason why the politicians should not have investigated and regulated it long ago. The service is, as a rule, unsatisfactory to the public and more complaints have been registered against it than any "Big Business" in existence. The uncertainty of the service has greatly incomed the public and cost the producer millions of dollars. It has for ages wrung the sweat from the brow of toiling millions and by inadequate service has caused widows and orphans to shiver with cold. By all means let us regulate the sun.

Press reports announcing that 750 thoroughbred bulls have been shipped from Texas to Brazil serves to remind us that this native of our plains has lifted himself from an undesirable longhorn to the mastery of the world's market. He has studied diligently the charts of civilization and has more completely than any other animal and in his strides for progress has outdistanced many members of the human race. The Texas bull now follows the flag as instinctively as his uncivilized ancestors charged a red rag and he is the leader in packing house society wherever he goes.

The Farmers Union movement, to submit to the legislature an amendment to the constitution of Texas for a graduated land tax, upon holdings above 100 acres, is generally commended, with the proviso, that great care should be taken that legitimate speculation by wholesale land dealers, speculators, and investors shall not in any way be interfered with by such an amendment. By legitimate speculation is meant those who turn over their investment money frequently, who secure investors and settlers, and who perhaps do some improvement work to partially prepare the property for occupation, in order to secure a largely advanced price. Such men are real land merchants valuable in the settlement of our state, and should be protected.

The department of agriculture is trying to get southern farmers to raise more long staple cotton, and the mills of New England are willing to pay a premium for this variety, but cannot secure anything like enough to supply their needs. Two bales of one and one-half inch long staple cotton were sold last week at Durant, Okla., at 20 cents per pound. If mills want long staple cotton and will pay a premium for it, Texas can and will supply the country's needs for such a staple, and also desired staples in wool and mohair, but it is hoped that in a few years all our raw products may also be manufactured in Texas, so that finished goods instead of raw products may be furnished.

As the larger part of rain in Texas comes in fall, winter and early spring, and as at these times prices for products are generally highest, Texas farmers should insure themselves through crops that will come forward when there is sufficient moisture to make a crop without risk. Another strong point for crops other than in summer is that Texas wants insured crops—crop-making without the chances of mid-summer and killing drouths.—Commercial Secretaries.

The Santa Fe railroad company has about completed arrangements for the erection of a half million dollar depot and office building in Galveston.

Hail and wind destroyed a great amount of cotton in the Richland Springs country, according to a report to the daily papers. It is estimated that 500 bales of cotton were lost in the fields.

GOOD COTTON PICKING.

W. F. Swindle and W. S. Lee, of the Washboard community, were in to see the Eagle one day this week and told us of some remarkable cotton picking records in their community. Mr. Lee's three little children are champions for their ages, as far as we know. His little daughter, Annie May, aged 6, picked 120 pounds in one day, his daughter, Jessie, aged 8 years, picked 203, and his son, R. F., aged 10 years, picked 230. These children all walked a mile and a half to the field each day. Mr. Lee and his children had gathered 11 bales up to Tuesday of this week, which proves that he is some cotton picker himself.

Austin Boler, of the same community, picked 621 pounds one-day last week.

Mills county takes the lead in everything, and we are away above the average in the cotton picking record.

Several saloon men of San Antonio have forfeited their licenses by violating the state liquor law.

Citizens of Washington county, Okla., have petitioned the governor of that state to send the militia there to run down the bootleggers and whiskey peddlers who infest the district.

It is an assured fact that conditions in Mexico can not be allowed to remain as they are for any great length of time. If no citizens of the United States were molested or their interests jeopardized this government would not of necessity take cognizance of the disturbance among the greasers, but the uncivilized soldiers of both sides of the conflict rob and kill our people as well as the citizens of other governments. The protest by this government is always met with a prompt promise of restitution and retribution, but the Mexican government is powerless to control the situation and intervention is expected at any time.

Luther Rudd has been at Hamilton this week buying mules.

J. L. Moss was a visitor from Belton the first of the week.

Walter Ford made a visit to Richland Springs the first of the week.

M. H. Reed was among the visitors from Hanna Valley one day this week.

Francis Leineweber, one of the leading citizens of Mullin, was a business visitor to this city Tuesday.

Miss Jewel Yarborough left for Burnet county Monday to visit her home folk until time for her school in Runnels county to begin.

Mrs. Simmie T. Harris and children left Sunday morning for their new home in Temple. The good wishes of many friends go with them.

R. Schuster returned Monday night from a visit to his ranch in Concho county. He reports a good rain there Sunday and the cattle in good condition.

Goldthwaite is fast becoming notorious as a mule market. The dealers here sold three car loads to a Fort Worth buyer last Saturday and they still have mules for sale.

Judge E. B. Anderson and family spent the first of the week in Galveston, where he attended the state meeting of abstractors and looked after other business matters.

On last Thursday evening a 7 o'clock dinner party was given at the queen hotel, complimenting Messrs. Blaine Sammons and George Vierling. The occasion was for a farewell to these young men, who left Friday to make their home near Junction. . . . The plastering and wiring of the new Abney & Vincent building is progressing at a lively rate, and the carpenters are setting the window frames. With the placing of the windows and the hanging of the modern drop awning the new quarters will take rank as the neatest, most modern and most attractive in the city.—Brady Standard.

WIND AND HAIL STORM.

A disastrous wind, hail and rain storm visited the north and northeast part of McCulloch county last Thursday, practically wiping out all cotton remaining in the fields, besides doing great damage to property.

The storm covered a strip of country from Coleman in Coleman county to Richland Springs in San Saba county, Santa Anna, Winchell, Milburn and Mercury being in its path. At Coleman the damage was estimated at $10,000 in the city alone. Awnings and smoke stacks were blown down, buildings were partially unroofed, plate glass windows were broken and a number of buildings blown off their blocks and wrecked. Cotton fields in the path of the storm were entirely destroyed, the cotton being knocked out and washed away.

At Santa Anna nearly every house in town had window lights broken out by the hail, and several buildings were peppered full of holes. The estimated loss of cotton in the Santa Anna territory is 600 bales. The rain following the storm filled the tanks and gave a good season for winter grain.

At Winchell the greatest amount of damage seems to have been done in McCulloch county. The Methodist church was completely demolished and the Baptist church was moved off its foundation and split in two. The Cravens Mercantile Co. suffered the loss of their plate glass window front and their stock of goods was damaged by rain. Hundreds of bales of cotton were beaten into the ground and washed away.

At Milburn the Methodist church was damaged, as well as a number of other buildings. Telephone and telegraph wires were blown down, and much cotton destroyed.

At Mercury the warehouse was demolished and more or less damage done to the gin, while numerous houses and out-buildings were blown off their foundations or damaged.—Brady Standard.

PROSPERITY EVIDENT.

Truly, the people of Mills county have a right to rejoice because of their continued prosperity. While the people of many sections, and even some of our neighbors and friends have suffered from heat and tempest and have had their crops harvested and are now harvesting, the people of Mills county have enough and to spare. To be sure, our crops are not to the limit of the splendid farms of this territory and in some sections of the county scarcely more than half of a full crop will be gathered, but when we remember that a full crop is more than the force at hand could gather and garner, we are convinced more fully of the great prosperity of our people.

The corn crop was not full, but the oats yielded above an average crop, which evened up for the corn shortage. The cotton is turning out fairly good and the good price for the cotton and the seed makes a satisfactory return for the labor expended in its production.

Our cattle are in good condition and will winter well, while in some sections of the west cattle are already being fed in the pastures and the drought is unbroken.

When we look around us and see the comfortable condition of the people and read of the large bank balances belonging to the Mills county people we are made to realize that it is indeed a truth and a fact that Mills county is located on the best part of the earth.

R. M. THOMPSON, Editor

The session of Texas advertising men held in San Antonio decided to raise $60,000 for advertising the resources of Texas in every state in the union.

While funeral arrangements were being made at Enterprise, Miss. for a man who was supposed to have died of typhoid fever the corpse sat up in bed. It is now believed he will recover.

The track layers on the Orient extension from San Angelo to Fort Stockton are now within a few miles of the latter place and San Angelo business men are preparing for a trade excursion over the new road.

Robbers secured $800 in a store in Marlin Saturday night while the house was full of people and but few knew that the robbery was being committed. The cashier had the money piled upon his desk and the robber grabbed it and made a getaway.

A mob gathered at the jail at Washington, Ark., and demanded that a negro prisoner might be taken out and lynched. The sheriff disarmed those who displayed weapons scattered the mob and kept the prisoner in the jail.

It is expected that President Taft will issue an order soon placing all fourth class postmasters under civil service rules and removing such appointments from politics and placing them on the basis of competency alone. The president is said to favor civil service rules for all branches of the postal service, but congress would have to change some of the laws before this plan could be adopted, but he now has authority to make the change with fourth class offices.

A committee from the Confederate camp of Aulin called on the superintendent of public instruction this week and asked to be allowed to inspect all histories offered for adoption by the state board, the purpose being to eliminate those which give unfair accounts of the civil war and the cause leading to it. The committee does not propose to name the histories to be selected, but simply to prevent the adoption of those giving misleading accounts of the war between the states.

A package containing $55,000 in paper money was extracted from an express shipment from a bank in Pensacola, Fla., to some point in Alabama and there was considerable excitement among the officers and bankers, but the package was returned in its original wrappings and was found at the rear door of the bank Monday morning. A mysterious person placed the package Saturday afternoon that the package was at the rear door, but so little credit was given the statement that an examination was not made until Monday, when the janitor opened the rear door and found the money.

The parcels post, which becomes effective Jan. 1, 1913, may play an important part in reducing the cost of living. A recent press report from Washington says that live chickens eggs and other fragile objects, as well as general farm and garden products will be admitted to the parcels post along with other merchandise when it is instituted the first of January. It says the schedules are to be so arranged that city dwellers may get fresh eggs and butter, chickens and other produce direct from the farmer by mail. Not only will the government carry these things but an indemnity will be provided for their loss or damage in transit. If this report proves true and the regulations now being prepared for the parcels post permit farm and garden products to be sent by mail it will be possible for enterprising farmers to go into the mail order business and supply town customers with fresh vegetables, fruit and eggs without the intervention of the much abused middleman.—Exchange.

The nerve racking fire alarm of the Comanche fire department supplemented by a large number of gun shots, early Monday morning awakened the people of this city to the fact that another serious blaze was raging in the heart of the business district. The blaze was caused from an explosion, presumably originating from the exuding of gas in the department of the Scotch Woolen Tailors. Mr. J. E. Deely, proprietor of the Scotch Woolen Tailor establishment, was seriously burned and bruised, having been blown about thirty feet from the entrance of the building.—Chief.

BROWNWOOD

Rev. and Mrs. J. T. Hamilton of Mercury visited in Brownwood Monday and were guests of Mr. G. W. Bourland.

City officials who have visited the city reservoir since the discovery of what was at first called a dry weather spring are of the opinion that the water coming from the mountain side a considerable distance from the city reservoir is nothing more or less than a leak from the reservoir.

Cross held an inquest of town, at 5 o'clock this morning, over the body and rendered a verdict to the effect that the deceased died from natural causes.—Bulletin.

DOUBLY PROVEN

The Eagle Readers Can No Longer Doubt the Evidence.

This grateful citizen testified long ago.

Told of quick relief—of undoubted benefit.

The facts are now confirmed.

Such testimony is complete—the evidence conclusive.
It forms convincing proof of merit.
Mrs. A. W. Glover, 905 Rogan St., Brownwood, Texas, says: "For nearly thirteen years off and on I have been bothered with kidney trouble. My back would ache as though it would break and I was rarely free from a splitting headache. The kidney secretions annoyed me greatly. I tried many remedies but never got anything that would help me like Doan's Kidney Pills. This preparation has done me a world of good." (Statement given May 30, 1908.)

A LATER ENDORSEMENT.
When Mrs. Glover was interviewed on October 25, 1911, she said: "Nothing could change the high opinion I have always had of Doan's Kidney Pills. You may continue to publish my former statement."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

MANY DRIVEN FROM HOME.

Every year, in many parts of the country, thousands are driven from their homes by coughs and lung diseases. Friends and business are left behind for other climates, but this is costly and not always sure. A better way—the way of multitudes—is to use Dr. King's New Discovery and cure yourself at home. Stay right there, with your friends, and take this safe medicine. Throat and lung troubles find quick relief and health returns. Its help in coughs, colds, grippe, croup, whooping cough, and sore lungs make it a positive blessing. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by R. E. Clements.

How To Treat Your Watch

Watch is one of the most wonderful pieces of machinery ever constructed and is called upon to perform some wonderful duties. Yet, as a rule, it receives less care and attention than any piece of machinery made. A watch will keep the best time if wound at the same time each day. Be sure to wind it full up. Don't be careless with your watch. If possible, you should wear a chain on it to prevent dropping it. If it stops or goes wrong, don't fill it full of machine oil; that only makes matters worse. Don't open your watch and expose the movement to the dust. Don't pry into it and bother any of the parts. Take it to a reliable and competent jeweler and have it corrected as it ought to be, and you will find you will get good satisfaction and a pleasure from its use.

BONDS AUTHORIZED.

A Light Vote—Citizens Prefer Bonds To Warrants.

The election held last Saturday to determine whether the court house should be built with money received from the sale of 40 year bonds, or by the issuance of county warrants, resulted in a large majority favorable to the bonds.

There was a very light vote polled—less than half of the citizens casting their ballots on the subject of the issuance of the bonds.

The proposition was to issue bonds to the amount of $55,000, if that amount should be found necessary, together with the $20,000 insurance money, to build a court house suited to the present and future needs of the county. The exact amount of the cost can not be known, of course, until the court adopts the plans for the new building and contracts for its erection, but those who are informed on the subject believe that something near $75,000 will be necessary to secure the building.

Following is the vote by boxes, which shows that the people of nearly every community were in favor of the bond system of raising the money necessary for the building.

There was some ill feeling engendered over the proposition and some of the writers went out of their way to wound the feelings of those opposed to their views, but it is hoped this will all be forgotten now and everybody will join in an effort for the upbuilding of Mills county.

MRS. JANES DEAD

The remains of Mrs. Jarrett A. Janes were brought here Thursday from Mineral Wells, where she died Sunday morning, and after funeral services at the Methodist church they were conveyed to the Odd Fellows cemetery and laid to rest beside the grave of her husband, who was buried there in February, 1888. The funeral services were most impressive and the banks of flowers attested the esteem in which the aged lady and her family were held by the people here and elsewhere.

Mrs. Martha Evelyn Janes was born in Alabama, May 28, 1831. She lived in Illinois a part of her childhood and moved with her parents from that state to Arkansas. At the age of 22 she was married to Jarrett A. Janes in Arkadelphia, Arkansas. In 1873 the family moved to Lampasas county and later to Goldthwaite, where they were among the first settlers. After the death of her husband Mrs. Janes moved with her sons to the Panhandle country, where they have since made their home.

Mr. and Mrs. John Janes and Mr. Jarrett Janes accompanied the remains of their mother to this place and were met at the depot by a large number of sympathizing friends and escorted to the church and from there to the cemetery, where the last sad service was held.

The Janes family stands high in the estimation of the people here and the sympathy of all who know them goes out to them in this sad bereavement.

Mrs. J. M. Sims went to San Angelo Thursday in response to a message announcing the serious illness of her sister. When she reached that city she found her sister much improved.

The Eagle does not publish communications of any character without knowing the name of the writer. This week we received a well written obituary of the late Mr. Z. S. Lee, but the writer forgot to divulge his or her identity and the communication went to the waste basket. When you see a communication in the Eagle you can depend that the publisher knows who did the writing.

MISS VERA BUTTS DEAD.

The death of Miss Vera Butts at Mullin last Sunday cast a shadow of sadness over that community and caused grief to all who knew the young lady. She had only been sick a few days with tonsillitis and complications and her death was a great shock to her friends and relatives.

She was about 15 years of age and was a young lady of talent and possessed a lovable disposition and no death has occurred in this county that has caused more universal sorrow.

The Eagle joins the other friends of her father and little brothers and other relatives in extending to them sincere sympathy.

DAMAGE BY HAIL.

One of the most disastrous hail storms in the history of this country visited us Thursday and Friday of last week. A great deal of the unpicked cotton was knocked out and destroyed. It is estimated that from one-third to one-half of the cotton in the Richland Springs trade territory was destroyed. The hail seems to have been hardest in the Algeria and east Bethel communities and on some farms almost totally destroyed the cotton crop. The hail was accompanied by heavy rain and severe wind and the cotton that was knocked out by the hail and wind was washed off by the rain. Every one in the Richland Springs trade territory was damaged to some extent, but conditions do not seem to be as bad as was first reported.—Richland Springs Eye Witness.

The implicit confidence that many people have in Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is founded on their experience in the use of that remedy and their knowledge of the many remarkable cures of colic, cholera diarrhoea and dysentery that it has effected. For sale by R. E. Clements.

At the Recall Restaurant you can get the best canned goods, sauces, fancy cookies in packages, crackers, biscuits, fig newtons, pies, and in fact everything nice.

An article that has real merit should in time become popular. That such is the case with Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has been attested by dealers. Here is one of them. H. W. Hendrickson, Ohio Falls, Ind., writes, "Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the best for coughs, colds and croup, and is my best seller." For sale by R. E. Clements.

THE MEN WHO SUCCEED

as heads of large enterprises are men of great energy. Success, today, demands health. To all is to fail. It's utter folly for a man to endure a weak, run-down, half alive condition when Electric Bitters will put him right on his feet in short order. "Four bottles did me more real good than any other medicine I ever took," writes Chas. B. Allen, Sylvania, Ga., "After years of suffering with rheumatism, liver trouble, stomach disorders and deranged kidneys, I am again, thanks to Electric Bitters, sound and well." Try them. Only 50c at R. E. Clements.

NOTICE OF COLLECTIONS.

I have placed all accounts due me in the hands of Mr. P. D. Yarborough and I request all persons indebted to me to call on him and make settlement at once. Those who fail to respond to this notice need not be surprised when Mr. Yarborough calls on them, for he is after a settlement right away.

J. M. ALLEN.

Down on the corner some sore-headed men stand as the hours gallop by, kicking and carping and roaring again everything under the sky. While they are showing that life is a fake, proving that everything's wrong, Pete the potter has no roar to make—Peter keeps plugging along. Many are idle, the baker, the clerk, laborers too, by the score; bitter their cry that they cannot get work—nothing but grief is in store! Peter is laboring year after year, humming a satisfied song; everything's gay on this old planet here! Peter keeps plugging along. Peter has paid for the cottage he owns. Peter is clear out of debt; down in the bank he has 200 bones—why should he worry or fret? Heedless of soreheads who stand on the street making more noise than a gong. Peter keeps hustling on rubber-tired feet,—Peter keeps plugging along. Peter wont look for congressional aid and platforms don't bother his soul. Working away in the sun and the shade, he is acquiring a roll. Saving a wad for the season of stress, while he is rugged and strong. Peter has Sense with a capital S—Peter is plugging along.—Walt Mason.

A petition is being more or less secretly circulated in Mexico requesting former president Diaz to return to that country and again take the reins of government. He has signified a willingness to return, it is said, if the people want him, and test is now being made to ascertain the wishes of his former subjects. The Diaz way of controlling the country may be a little drastic, but it appears to be the only successful way in that country.

The Royal Tick commission from the Australian government examined the packing plants in Ft. Worth and conducted a most searching inquiry into the methods employed by these modern plants in preparing meats for the market. Australia has about 42,000,000 head of sheep and about 5,000,000 head of cattle and the government is interested in building up its live stock industry. The commissioners left this week to visit the Swenson ranches at Spur, Texas.
