COMMERCIAL CLUB.

An Important and Interesting Meeting—Committees Appointed.

The Goldthwaite Commercial club held a most interesting meeting Monday night in the Masonic building. The attendance was unusually large and the interest was greater than had been evidenced for a long time.

President L. E. Miller announced the following committees for the year, as follows:

Public roads and municipal affairs—J. H. Randolph, J. C. Street and H. G. Bodkin.

County fair—W. C. Dew, B. F. Geeslin and R. M. Thompson.

Advertising—H. G. Bodkin, A. E. Evans and J. B. Whitman.

Home industries—R. E. Clements, M. J. Thorpe and W. P. McCullough.

Entertainment—W. C. Dew, H. G. Bodkin and R. M. Thompson.

Membership—B. F. Geeslin, E. M. Boon and Edward Geeslin.

To outline plans for fair for 1913 and prepare premium list—J. H. Randolph, W. C. Dew, and R. M. Thompson.

To solicit co-operation of farmers in the fair and in the commercial club work—J. C. Street, B. F. Geeslin and H. G. Bodkin.

The president was requested to confer with the officers of the Self Culture club and invite the co-operation of that club in endeavoring to have the commissioners move the wind mill, tank and the unsightly board fence from the north side of the square. The Self Culture club was requested to send a delegation to the court to secure the order for the removal of these objects and for other civic improvements.

The road committee was instructed to communicate with the commissioners court in its session next week and request that a portion of the public road fund of the county be placed in a general fund for use wherever needed in the county and that a road supervisor be appointed by the court to have charge of the special road work. B. F. Geeslin and R. M. Thompson were appointed to appear before the court with the road committee to urge the necessity for this special road work.

E. M. Boon, M. J. Thorpe and T. F. Toland were appointed to confer with the city council relative to an ordinance requiring all business houses to be provided with one or more chemical fire extinguishers.

L. E. Miller was authorized to inspect the night watchman's clock each day and keep the records properly arranged.

John E. Caldwell, the county farm demonstrator, was present and added his name as a member of the club.

CITY COUNCIL

The city council met in regular monthly session Monday afternoon with all members present.

The marshal was authorized to purchase lime for use by the scavenger and was instructed to look carefully after the sanitary condition of the town.

Instructions were given to have the sidewalks and streets cleared at night of all displays by merchants as well as goods boxes, wood piles and other things that would obstruct the public passways.

Accounts were allowed for current expenses and other routine business was transacted.

SCRIP TO BE PAID.

I am informed that all "A Scrip" of November issue, together with interest, will be paid or redeemed upon maturity, February 15, and interest paid on all "B Scrip" of November issuance.

What was said could not be done has been and is being done. What part have you contributed and what part do you intend to play this year? If you want 15 cents for your crop this year get in line and help in this move. J. W. HILL.

FROM MRS. VAN GLAHN.

Los Angeles, Cal.

Editor Eagle:

This day gives to the New Year book twenty-seven pages in its first chapter.

An eventful period marks the opening of 1913. A great change has come over the face of nature since my last writing. The "Storm King" has laid in the dust flowers that greeted the rising sun on the first morn of January, and exhaled sweets to every sound. Even the dear calla-lilies, that had withstood the touch of Jack Frost in December and modestly peeped out their white-capped heads from beneath their beds of green, lay prostrate on the ground the morn of the 6th, cut down by the freezing breath of old "Boreas." I will not attempt to describe the terrible weather through which we have passed, but will quote a few lines from a writer to the Los Angeles Times, who has made his home in this state for forty winters, "No doubt," he says, "the superstitious will attribute the sad opening of the new year to the fact that it is the thirteenth of the century, but I would beg leave to point out to those that think Jack Frost chose the present occasion to visit us with such vigor, that the year just passed should appear more of hoo-doo numerically, than its successor for the reason that the digits of 1912 added make thirteen, and last year was an unusually prosperous one in all parts of the country. Doubtless the opening days of January will, when the year ends, appear in the ledger account of most of us in an unfavorable light. The writer has spent forty years in California and never has his domicile been visited with anything like the freeze of the 6th and 7th. of Jan. 1913. The mercury at my home one morning registered 28 and another 26. If California loses $10,000,000 in injury to the crops, they will forget it before the end of the year, and if a few tourists are frightened away temporarily, the majority of the sunbeam chasers will not forget the difference between Chicago and Los Angeles." Three weeks have passed since the freeze and a review has been made of the prospects, and the reports are that the damage to the crops, taking the whole of Southern California, is only about half what it seemed at first, the injury to the trees was confined almost entirely to nursery stock and young orchards. Nothing definite can be known until the trees bloom in April, but citrus fruit growers are confident as to the next crop.

I will leave fruits and flowers and turn to the human family, who have suffered in proportion. "An ill wind that blows nobody any good." The doctors have reaped a rich harvest. Sickness has prevailed, few have escaped bad colds, and many have and are still suffering from rheumatism, throat trouble and many other ills. I have been confined to the house for two weeks with rheumatism but it could be so much worse, for I am able to get around the house. Have not attended church since my last writing.

We are enjoying fine weather now and hope soon to see vegetation restored to its former glory, and the sick to health.

During my imprisonment to the house, I have been the recipient of letters from kind friends, and then the weekly visit of the dear old Eagle has brightened the days so much and I have been so thankful for them. G. V. M.

I. M. Lee, one of the prosperous young farmers of Center City community, was a pleasant caller at the Eagle office Tuesday and ordered the paper sent to his sister, Mrs. Annie Mitchell, at Cloud Chief, Okla. He is a son of our friend Mr. J. R. Lee of Center City and a brother of W. S. Lee of Indian Gap.

All sizes of coffins at our store and we treat you right on the price.—Bodkin, Hurdle & Co.

SOUND ARGUMENT.

It's coming to the rule that only one paper can exist in a town where a few years ago two or three were published. The business men and the public demand service and this can only be had by giving one paper full support.—Moody Courier.

No truer statement was ever made than that two or more papers in a one paper town do a great deal more harm for the community than they can hope to do good. Two or three little papers showing meagre patronage and constantly begging for assistance and appealing to the philanthropy and public spirit of the citizens to support them, reflect on the community. Business men cannot afford to patronize more than one paper in a small town and when more than one applies for the patronage the business men are burdened with useless expense.

Again, two or more papers in a town that is only able to give patronage that will justify the publication of one will always make divisions in the community and the business men and citizens generally can be divided more easily over this line than any other, therefore, they do not and can not work harmoniously in public affairs and a spirit of antagonism, rivalry and frequently hate, springs up. It is far better for the entire population that one paper be properly supported and the publisher be required to give full returns for the patronage he receives.

More than three-fourths of the states of the American Union have ratified the sixteenth amendment to the federal constitution levying a tax upon incomes and it is safe to predict that the extra session of congress will adopt the amendment and levy the tax. It is thought the minimum income on which the levy will be made will be $5,000.

Mrs. Walter Ford went to Antelope Gap yesterday for a visit to relatives. Miss Ora Ford, who is a student in Goldthwaite High school, accompanied her to visit home folk over Sunday.

A break in the hoisting engine at the court house works will probably delay the work for a few days.

The friends of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Vessel of the Washboard community deeply sympathize with them in the death of their 3½ year old son, which occurred at the family home last Saturday. The little form was interred in the Indian Gap cemetery Sunday afternoon and the sad service was attended by many of the sympathizing friends of the family.

A great many people in this section have lost faith in the ground hog and they will likely never have any more faith in him, for he failed to properly prepare them for the severe spell of weather which struck this place Thursday night, leaving the ground covered with sleet and ice. When he came out on last Sunday and failed to see his shadow he was supposed to perambulate over the country without returning to his hiding place and the buds and flowers were due to arrive at once—but, he fooled us all.

MULLIN OR MULLEN.

Editor Eagle:

It is not often that you find a word spelled two ways and mean the same thing. Mullin means a town up on the Santa Fe and Mullen means the same thing, and I suppose some people will say that both together mean a wide place in the road called a town and yet we are here, life size, on the map and doing something. Now, Mr. Editor, this is Smiling Billie talking; who is going right after you for making him say in last week's paper that Mullin was cleaning up more "rags" than one, when he said more "ways" than one. What do you suppose Billie's best girl will think of him saying "it (Mullin) is being cleaned up more 'rags' than one?" Please tell her I did not say it and get me out of this predicament. If Marshall did that, please turn him over to Darroch or Caldwell for a reprimand. If some young lady did it, please don't say anything about it. If thou art the one, I will excuse thee if thou wilt promise to do better next time.

I started out to tell you about Mullin and Mullen. You see the Santa Fe is a big thing and claims the right of way where ever it goes, and Uncle Sam is still bigger, and claims the right of way wherever he goes, and as Mullin and Mullen is a great place both Santa Fe and Uncle Sam wanted to claim it, therefore, the depot was placed to the left of the road going west and put up her sign on ends of depot, "Mullen," thus settling up its right of possession to that part lying to the left or south of the road. Uncle Sam established his right of possession by naming that north of the road "Mullin." We are looking forward to the time when a compromise will be effected and the Santa Fe build a nice new depot on the north side, when her inhabitants will be content with the name Mullin.

Now you see, Mr. Editor, the importance of correcting that sentence, "It is being cleaned up more 'rags' than one," for some one might think we are a very poor people and our rags are very much in the way and the cleaning up was chiefly rags. We can't afford to be misrepresented.

Dr. M. L. Brown was on our streets last Monday. If not wrongfully informed, was called in consultation with other doctors here in the case of Mrs. Mary Tyson, who is very ill. Deputy Sheriff Wm. Tippen was a guest at the Mullin hotel Sunday night, or at least he was seen there early Monday morning. We wondered why, but later in the day everything was made plain. You need not bother yourself writing any explanation, Will, for we found out why you were here. Isn't it strange that a fellow can't stay away from home one night without some one wondering why?

Mr. Martin, the foreman of the Goldthwaite section, has moved to Mullin, from which place he and his men will work east eight miles.

Miss Ollie Williams was at home Sunday and Monday on a visit. She is attending school at Brownwood, a student of Howard-Payne college.

Mrs. Johnson, one of the teachers in the Pompey Creek school, visited Miss Totzie Vann last Sunday.

Bro. Newman filled the pulpit in the First Baptist church here last Sunday morning and night. Both discourses were enjoyed by all who heard him. The inclement weather kept many from hearing him. We shall expect him again when we trust the weather will be more favorable.

Brother Edgar, the new Methodist pastor, is making a good impression on those who have made his acquaintance and heard him preach.

Uncle Sam Shelton will soon be 80 years old. He has recently embarked in the grocery business and is among the early risers, often heard crowing at his place of business before sunrise. His wife, who has passed three score years and 10, assists him and they are as jolly as those of younger years.

Mrs. Blue, formerly of Montgomery, Ala., but now of Waco, Texas, arrived at Mullin Wednesday morning to look after her ranch on the Bayou, which she says has been in her family over 70 years. Mrs. Blue is a widow and had never seen this property until Wednesday.

Uncle Henry Cobb is considerably crippled up with rheumatism, but keeps going. SMILING BILLIE.

The train was running about 40 miles an hour and it is claimed that several depressions in the roadbed caused the engine to rock and turn over.

President-elect Wilson declares that he has not yet offered a cabinet position to any one and has not decided upon the personnel of his cabinet. However, rumor has it that Albert Burleson, Col. Slayden or R. L. Henry will be tendered one of the positions. This may not be authentic, but the new president would make no mistake in selecting any of the three gentlemen named.

Congressman Garner of Texas has introduced a resolution in congress requesting Attorney General Wickersham's reason for holding up the indictments by the federal grand jury at Dallas against certain oil magnates charged with being in a trust. The information desired by Mr. Garner is also wanted by the country at large. Just why the attorney general should interest himself in protecting these men from prosecution is not easily understood.

According to a report recently issued by the federal department of commerce and labor, Dallas, Texas, ranks first of all other cities in the United States in the manufacture of saddlery and harness. Dallas leads the world in this industry. The next convention of the Southwestern Retail Saddlery and Harness makers will meet there February 11, 12 and 13, and delegates from all states in the Union are expected to attend.—Commercial Secretaries.

The Eagle has received a copy of the first issue of the Indian Gap Arrow, published by O. G. Campbell. It is well edited, nicely printed and has a liberal amount of advertising. Mr. Campbell lived here some years ago and is kindly remembered by many people who wish him much success with the new journalistic venture. Indian Gap is a good town and is surrounded by a fine farming country and the citizenship of the town and country is of a high order. The Eagle wishes unlimited prosperity for the new paper.

There was a strike among the students in A. & M. college last week and 465 of them signed a demand to the faculty to have 22 students who had been expelled, reinstated, announcing that they would not attend class meetings until their demands were met by the management. President Milner gave them ample time for reflection and then announced that those who refused to be governed by the rules of the school would be expelled. A number of the "strikers" accepted the dismissal, but others applied for re-instatement and were allowed to return to their studies. The trouble was the result of hazing and the management has the support of the state officials and all others who are opposed to hazing practice.

DRUGGIST GIVES MONEY BACK

Dodson's Liver Tone Gets a Four Square Guarantee from Clements' Drug Store.

When an article is sold by a druggist who is willing to give it his personal guarantee, it's a mighty strong proof of real merit.

That's exactly the case with Dodson's Liver Tone. It is a pleasant tasting vegetable remedy for a slow and sluggish liver. Since Dodson's Liver Tone came on the market the sale of calomel has gone way down. The reason is simply this: Dodson's Liver Tone is safe and harmless and guaranteed to be satisfactory—calomel is often uncertain, sometimes dangerous, and no druggist wants to guarantee that it won't knock you out of a day's work and maybe send you to bed.

Clements' drug store sells Dodson's Liver Tone and guarantees it. For you and your children, it's a good thing to keep a bottle always in the house.

Clements' Drug Store will give you your money back if you think Dodson's Liver Tone is not worth the price. "Keep your liver working and your liver will not keep you from working." is good advice to go by. (Advertisement)

The state department of agriculture publishes, from time to time, valuable reports upon topics of vital interest to the farmers of the state. All institutes will receive copies of all bulletins issued by the department free of cost and will be placed on the regular mailing list for future bulletins and reports.

OUR SCHOOLS.

Civilization in any country is measured by the character of its schools. The character of schools in any country is high and strong in proportion to a sense of parental obligation. Parental responsibility is a great and grave subject. A question we will never be done with while the stars shine. It seems a difficult thing for the average parents to have the best thoughts and pursue the best course in order to the greatest good of the children in the home. In this age when education is being toned up and much emphasized everywhere, all thinking parents see the necessity for educating the children. The question is not shall the attempt be made to educate, but the question is about the most available way to educate.

In every home where there is a child (it is not a home fully without one) the thought of schooling, educating and training should be made so strong until the child is lifted up above the pesky thought of society and excessive dress and even matrimony, until the proper time comes for marrying.

One thing would greatly help in this. That is a reform in reference to reading. A great deal of the present day literature is harmful. Good books are plentiful and periodicals of high grade can easily be had. I wonder if most parents understand how it is that the reading of cheap fiction and light visionary publications work into the young life to make it giddy and vain. It is to be deplored that most of our large papers give prominence to low, dirty deeds, follow up divorce cases, robbery, murder, and some things even worse with extreme zest and ignore good and helpful things. If a good noble deed is mentioned at all, it is put somewhere among the briefs as a matter of little significance.

The home in matters of morals and education means much. I have sometimes heard parents speak of "partiality" at school. "My child was imposed on and I stopped it from school," or "The child doesn't like to go to school and I think it no use to send if there is not a desire to go." All this is foolish. It almost makes one sick to hear such downright nonsense. The child is not capable of choosing a course for itself. For the same reason it should be kept from work. Suppose it doesn't take a liking; shall it be allowed to grow up in idleness?

One Mr. Williams, teacher in a large southern school has written a book which he names "Function of Teaching in Christianity" in which he puts parents in their proper place by saying that the home must always have first place in any adequate system of education. He furthermore states that modern psychologists declare that during the first few years of a child are gathered all the material of which the web of life is woven. He calls it the young period—the seed corn from which life's harvest is gathered. No doubt this is the true way to put it. One of John Quincy Adams' friends said to him, "I know what made the man you are I have just been reading your mother's published letters." "Yes," said the great man, "I owe whatever I am to my mother." While he was yet very young and at school his mother wrote him like this: "I had rather bury you now than have you grow up a profane and profligate boy."

Every great and good life, every noble life got its ideal and inspiration from some one else; from a parent or preacher or teacher or book. The parent has the first and best opportunity and with it an unmeasured amount of responsibility.

Just now I think of the good compulsory education would do. Let's not be afraid of it. It's coming and let us welcome it. Who would not be willing to spend a little more or do a little more if need be, in order to enlarge the lives of our sons and daughters? It means to our posterity a greater and happier civilization.

No nation now has a citizenship so progressive and well educated as Germany. We can not judge of that nation by the character of most of its immigrants. Germany enacted a law of compulsory education something like four hundred years ago. As I remember, it applied to children from six to twelve years old at that time.

Then there is complaint often made of money, money, money with which to train and equip our children. Doesn't take a great deal of money if you can get the ambition into the child. Only put the boy or girl in the right way then encourage and sympathize just in the right way. A box car turned loose on an incline soon gets enough momentum to knock everything out of the way. We have all seen individuals in every phase of life do the same thing.

This poor rocky part of the world is the best place I know of to enforce good character and put helpful powers into the youth. The parts of our country where there are large fertile lands, are more given to graft and ambitions for money getting. In such places human ambitions are so inflamed for temporal gain that people overlook the higher things of life. Look, if you please, at the talent and great characters in the past from among the mountains of east Tennessee and north Georgia and other like places.

The needed thing in many of our country places is the union of two or three schools, forming one good high school. Better prepare and send some miles to a really good school than to keep a weak short school near our door. Hills and mountains and scarcity of money are not barriers to the determined—are not immovable difficulties to right motive and proper resolution.

Hills and mountains are not to be scorned or evaded. So many wonderful achievements; so many famous characters are born down to us from mountain breezes of the past that they seem necessary for noble incentive.

COUNTY DEPOSITORY.

Sections 2440 to 2453, inclusive of the Revised Statutes of Texas of 1911, provide that at the February term of the Commissioners court next following each general election, proposals shall be received from any banking corporation, association, or individual banker in the county that may desire to be selected as county depository for the ensuing two years, and that notice that bids will be received, shall be published by and over the name of the county judge once each week for at least twenty days before the commencement of such term.

In compliance therewith all prospective bidders for this selection are hereby notified that all bids must be sealed and deposited with the county judge on or before the first day of said term of court, which this year is Feb. 10, and that all bids so received will be opened in public at 10 o'clock a. m. on Feb. 10.

For fuller information on this matter you are referred to the sections cited. Respectfully,

S. H. ALLEN,
County Judge, Mills County, Texas.

In Indianapolis they tell a story on a certain attorney to explain why he quit drinking so suddenly. He had patronized one saloon with great liberality for years. Lately the proprietor of the place bought a house and lot and he employed another lawyer to examine the abstract for him. The steady patron, when he heard it, went after the saloon keeper rough shod, demanding to know why business favors were not exchanged when there was opportunity. Why did the saloon keeper turn away from his own customer and give business to a man who never bought anything of him—nor of any other saloon keeper? The saloon keeper was amazed at the complaint; he thought the explanation ought to be plain enough: "When I've got business," he said, "I want it done by a sober lawyer." Suddenly the attorney, too, concluded it was all plain enough; his friends say he hasn't touched liquor since.—Exchange.

FREIGHT TRAIN WRECKED.

The Santa Fe has had two expensive and delaying wrecks near this place recently. The one near the Rocky siding, six miles south of the city, last week resulted in considerable loss of property and delay in traffic, but more damage was done by a wreck about two miles north of this city Tuesday afternoon. This wreck was caused, it is supposed, by the dropping of a brake beam or some other part of one of the freight cars. Seven cars went into the ditch and the track was torn up for a considerable distance. The wreck occurred in the middle of the afternoon and the road was not made passable until Wednesday afternoon, notwithstanding a large crew of men was put to work at once and worked all of Tuesday night endeavoring to open the road to traffic. Passengers and the mail were transferred around the wreck for the Tuesday night and Wednesday morning trains, but the Wednesday night trains were able to pass over the road. However, the derailed cars were not all picked up and moved away from the scene of the accident until Thursday.

Nobody was hurt, but it is reported that a tramp was in a car of railroad ties which was among those wrecked. He was thrown out upon the ground and hastily left for parts unknown.

NOTICE TO SUNDAY SCHOOL WORKERS.

The Texas Sunday School Association will send one of its members, Mr. W. N. Adams, to Goldthwaite Thursday, Feb. 13, to hold a series of meetings for our help in the work. The meetings will be in the Baptist church in Goldthwaite at 10 o'clock a. m. and at 2:30 and 7 o'clock p. m. We are anxious to have all people in Mills county who are interested in Sunday School work to meet with us on these occasions. Mr. Adams has been to Goldthwaite in this work twice before and rendered us much valuable assistance.

The great money king, J. Pierpont Morgan, once loaned a man a million dollars when he knew the man had nothing. In speaking of the incident he said that "character controls credit." He had confidence in the man. This is really a great tribute to character, and it may well arrest the attention of all thoughtful young men, especially, who are starting out in life and considering their business interests for the future. With many the thought is that if a man has money he can do anything or secure anything. Yet here was the typical money power venturing a million dollars on a man's personal character, when probably many owners of considerable wealth would have found it difficult to secure such a loan. And after all, do we not find it true in most of the relations of life, that character counts?—Central Messenger.

M. L. BROWN.

There is no fairer way to select postmasters than by popular vote. In communities predominated by negroes this policy would not be preferable, therefore it should not be enacted into a law, but simply adopted as a policy by those in authority in cases where the result is sure to be satisfactory to the white citizens of the community.

JACOB WOLTERS DEAD.

Mr. Jacob Wolters died at the home of his son, Will Wolters, in the Priddy community Tuesday morning about 5 o'clock, and his remains were interred in the Priddy cemetery Wednesday. Mr. Wolters was the oldest man in the county at the time of his death, being 98½ years of age. He was a Mexican war veteran and was granted a pension by the government on that account. He had been in fairly good health and his death came without warning.

A GOOD SCHOOL.
Goldthwaite Proud of Her Institution of Learning.
 If there is one thing more than another in Goldthwaite in which all of the citizens can join in supporting heartily it is the public school, which is one of the best in the country.
 The enrollment this year in all departments is 470 and if there was room for more pupils, more could be secured, especially for the upper grades or High School department.
 A visit to the school at any time will convince friends and patrons that the teachers and pupils are doing fine work and the public funds are being expended judiciously in the maintenance of the school. True, some of the rooms are so badly crowded that neither the teachers nor the pupils can do their best work, but all things considered they are making splendid progress and are entitled to praise and encouragement. It is no fault of the board or of the patrons that the school is overcrowded at this time, for the fact is, the enrollment has grown rapidly in the last few sessions and it was not realized that the crowded condition would exist until it was too late to remedy it for this session. The Eagle feels that all interested parties in the school work are entitled to unstinted praise for the splendid showing that has been made by this and previous sessions.
 The many benefits of a first class
 High School need not be stressed here, for the people all well understand it and are in hearty sympathy with this method of public education and are ever ready to give assistance and encouragement. The school is worth a great deal to the town in a business way as well as in every other way. We have many High School pupils here from other parts of the county and some from other counties and aside from the money they spend in town, they cause their relatives and friends to come here to trade, when the trade might go elsewhere were it not for the presence of the pupils in town.
 Parents, who have children here in school are not likely to go to some competing town to do their trading when they can come here and visit their children at the same time they buy supplies. More than this, a first class school, such as we have, is attractive to the better class of citizens and it is true that people will locate in the town or neighboring country in order to get the benefit of this school for their children.
 The Eagle suggests that more of the patrons and friends of the school visit that institution during the sessions and thereby secure a much better idea of the splendid work being done by both teachers and pupils.

CLUB ENTERTAINS.
 The ladies of the Self Culture club
 after deferring their holiday entertainment from time to time, finally decided upon Tuesday evening, Feb.
 4, 1913 as the date for the entertainment and Mrs. Chas. Burks kindly opened her home for the occasion.
 Only the husbands and escorts of the club ladies, with a few invited guests, were permitted to share in the pleasures of the evening.
 Promptly at eight o'clock the guests began to arrive, received by the hostess, assisted by Mesdames Randolph, Anderson and Street. There was no diversion, save the chatting of friend with friend till all had arrived. Tables were arranged for the progressive games which held all fascinated from the first hour to the last. The entertainment was in salmagundi style.
 This being somewhat out of the usual,
 was especially enjoyed. Ten progressive games were engaged in, some affording much amusement while others required considerable ingenuity. While the games were in progress, bon bon dishes of salted nuts were placed on each table. Top scores were held by Mrs. J. H. Randolph and Miss Zella Prater of the ladies. Miss Prater being the fortunate one in the cut for the prize, received a beautiful hand-painted plate.
 Mr. E. M. Boon received high score for the gentlemen and was presented with a silver match safe.
 A salad plate with its accompanying dainties made the refreshment service. The evening passed all too soon, and the guests expressed themselves as having spent a most pleasant evening as they left for their homes.
 The club will meet next Thursday with Mrs. Owen Yarborough, instead of Mrs. S. A. Lowrie as arranged in the year book.

 their friends with their marriage and it was several days before the news of the happy event reached all of their friends.
 The groom is one of Goldthwaite's most deserving young men. He has been in the employ of the Santa Fe

 a position in the depot at Coleman.

 Stephan and has a large circle of

A Watch That Won't Lie

Job's patience could never have stood the test of an erratic watch.

But the other sort of a watch—well, there needn't BE any other sort.

IN MEMORY OF THOS. J. TUBB.
 Brother Tubb was born May 15, 1847. He was a citizen of this country for many years, and his influence will surely be missed in this country as a citizen, and from all stand-points that a good man can fill. His ability coupled with his good disposition made him a friend indeed to those around him who stood in need of such a friend. He was a man, too, that thought there was a home for the good beyond death's dark ocean. His faith seemed unshaken in the promise of Him who said, "Be thou faithful until death and I will give thee a crown of life." A kind and tender hearted man was he. When he was at church, like a child he listened to the sayings of the Bible and his eyes would fill with tears as a token of secret interest in his throbbing heart for the glory of God and the good of men. Doubtless this man has quietly put his armor down in the full triumphs of a living faith, expecting some day a happy reunion in the home of the soul, where our weary souls can bask and bathe in the elysian fields of God's paradise.

Now, in conclusion, let me say to all the brothers and sisters of this noble man: Let's don't be weary in well doing. Have your gaze firmly fixed on the shining crown at the end of the race, prompted by love, guided by truth, this brings peace and satisfaction to the sons and daughters of Adam's race. Under conditions like these one can live happy, die quietly, rise triumphantly and sing our glad hosannas for evermore. May the Lord in pity watch over us all, is my prayer. J. S. HALL.

Pale Faces
 Pale-faced, weak, and shaky women—who suffer every day with womanly weakness—need the help of a gentle tonic, with a building action on the womanly system. If you are weak—you need Cardui, the woman's tonic, because Cardui will act directly on the cause of your trouble. Cardui has a record of more than 50 years of success. It must be good.

E 60 Take CARDUI
The Woman's Tonic

Mrs. Effie Graham, of Willard, Ky., says: "I was so weak I could hardly go. I suffered, nearly every month, for 3 years. When I began to take Cardui, my back hurt awfully. I only weighed 99 pounds. Not long after, I weighed 115. Now, I do all my work, and am in good health." Begin taking Cardui, today.

A PLEASANT AFTERNOON
 At the hospitable home of Mrs. Jo H. Frizzell on last Saturday afternoon, Mrs. E. B. Anderson entertained in a most enjoyable way her Sunday school class.
 The class assembled at 2:30. They found everything in readiness for a good time. All were made to feel at home. Nothing dragged. Vocal music, instrumental music, childish games, social chat, instructive conversation—all these filled our stay there, and made the time seem altogether too short. We left the place happier, loving the Frizzells better, appreciating our good teacher more, and loving each other as we had not done before.
 Give us more occasions like this, and we'll promise to be better Sunday school girls, and try to make our influence better in our community.

COLDS AFFECT THE KIDNEYS.

Many Goldthwaite People Have Found This To Be True.

Are you wretched in bad weather? Does every cold settle on your kidneys?

Does your back ache and become weak?

Are urinary passages irregular and distressing?

These symptoms are cause to suspect kidney weakness.

Weakened kidneys need quick help.

Doan's Kidney Pills are especially prepared for weakened kidneys.

Goldthwaite people recommend them.

Mrs. Robert Urbach, Goldthwaite, Texas, says: "The first symptom of kidney trouble in my case was pain in the small of the back, which gradually grew worse until I was hardly able to move. At night it changed to a dull ache and I could not sleep. If I caught cold, it settled on my kidneys and made my suffering worse. The kidney secretions were unnatural. When a friend told me about Doan's Kidney Pills, I got a supply at R. E. Clements' Drug Store and they gave me prompt relief. I am never without Doan's Kidney Pills in the house."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50c. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Mrs. Rosa Stockton writes from San Jose, Cal., that her mother, Mrs. A. P. Carson, has been quite sick. Her many friends in this county hope that she has been restored to health ever this time. Mrs. Stockton says: "Mother has been quite sick with la grippe and we feared pneumonia, but now she is improving slowly and we hope will soon be well again. She often speaks of the dear people at home and would enjoy a trip back there if her health would permit. Since father's death she makes her home among us children, and is always eager and anxious to see the Eagle."

Mrs. M. J. Fesler has returned to her home in South Bennett community after spending several weeks in the sanitarium at Temple, where she underwent an operation for gall stones.

Mrs. Nath Verser has returned to her home in Pleasant Grove community from a stay of several weeks in the sanitarium in Temple and she is much improved.

Frank Geeslin and wife left Tuesday night for Dallas, where he will look after business for the Geeslin Mercantile Co.

LEGISLATIVE NEWS.

A bill to give married women contractual rights over their property is receiving serious consideration of the legislature. The measure is put forward by the Federation of Women's clubs.

According to press reports some of the legislators are breaking laws as well as making them.

The suffragette has made her appearance at Austin. She is said to be a successful lobbyist and has no trouble in getting an audience with legislators.

The contending factions for control of the Alamo are placing their respective claims before the legislators. The daughters of our heroes may be as patriotic, but they are not quite as harmonious as their sainted sires.

The legislative hopper has had over 600 new bills put into it and the mill is beginning to grind. A batch of brand-new laws are due on the governor's desk this week.

Several of the convicted dynamiters have been released from the federal prison at Leavenworth, Kas., on bond to await the action of the supreme court. Frank M. Ryan, the president of the International union, who was convicted with the others for conspiracy, was released this week on a bond of $75,000.

The lobbyist is said to have "come back" and a bill is now before the legislature to completely abolish this occupation. There is no constitutional limit to membership of the third house and it never adjourns.

The legislature has shown a disposition to conduct investigations. After searching the department of state for suitable subjects, the house decided to investigate the conduct of its own members.

A resolution has been introduced in the house to adjourn sine die on March 14. The prospect of working for $2.00 per day doesn't appeal to the solons.

A movement for compulsory education is making headway in the house. A bill has been formally reported, requiring children between 8 and 14 to attend school 120 days each year.

Several resolutions have been introduced seeking to amend the constitution and an effort is being made to call a constitutional convention. There is nothing permanent in government except change.

A Workman's Compensation Act is before the legislature which provides compensation for injured employees through a system of mutual insurance. Farm laborers, domestic servants and railroad employees are exempt from the bill.—Commercial Secretaries.
