Blake Hudson is at home from the University at Waxahachie to spend the holidays with relatives.

W. W. Jones of Center City was looking after business matters in the metropolis one day this week.

Mr. and Mrs. McCaughan left for their home at Roscoe the first of the week, after a visit to their daughter, Mrs. L. W. Leverett, and family.

McConnell Bros. of Taylor purchased the outfit of the Tubbs Bros. garage here this week and shipped it to Taylor, where they have a garage.

The commissioners court met Saturday and authorized the county clerk to draw a warrant for $835 in favor of Dr. J. H. Logan, to pay the judgment held by him against the county.

The Eagle hopes that its correspondents will form a firm resolution to begin the new year that they will write as often as possible and never allow more than two weeks to pass without a letter from their community to the paper.

J. M. Bolter of Indian Gap boarded the train here Monday morning to go to Winters to look after his property interests. He expected to go from there to New Mexico for the benefit of his health and to look at the country.

Pastor J. C. Newman reports a good day at Goldthwaite, Sunday. The carpenters had just completed the new balconies on the south and north sides of the auditorium and with the balcony already on the east side there is now much more room in the auditorium. The balconies will be divided into sections by movable curtains for the benefit of Sunday school classes. From the reports we get it seems that there is a splendid spirit of harmony in the church and the outlook is very hopeful. The Sunday school has a splendid set of officers and teachers.—Central Messenger.

From the data assembled by the census bureau, it appears that in the enumeration, on the basis of language of the 32,243,382 persons of foreign white stock in the United States there are 10,037,429 whose mother tongue is English, 8,817,271 Germans, 2,151,422 Italians, while the French-speaking "linguistic family" numbers 1,357,169; and stands seventh in the list, surpassed in point of numbers by the Polish, Yiddish and Hebrew, and Swedish elements in our population. The total white population of the United States in 1910 was 81,731,957, and the native stock accounts for 60.5 per cent of this total. With so diversified a remainder, it is not surprising that a wide variety of thinking and feeling on social and political issues is discoverable. Yet in any great national crisis we stand ready to act as one people, an indivisible political entity. Some of our noblest patriots are citizens by adoption, who stand firm in their allegiance to the same traditions of civil and religious liberty that brought our forefathers here and inspired their first plantation.—Philadelphia Ledger

Most Texans as a rule live too fast. We want an automobile when we are only able to own a horse and buggy; we want a fine suit of clothes when we can only afford a Palm Beach suit. When our boys are 15 to 17 years old they must have tailored clothes; they turn up their noses at a "hand-me-down" suit, and the girls are not satisfied with a hat that costs less than $10. We are living too far beyond our means, and are likely to run up against something that will hurt. So many boys who ought to be behind the plow are leaving home to try the "business world." They don't stop to think that the man who succeeds in business must know his work better than the other fellow, and stay with it, if he gets a job worth while. Learn something and learn it well, keep out of debt, live a clean life, and you will be a success wherever you go.—Troy Enterprise.

PLAINVIEW

Editor Eagle:

I am sure some will be surprised to see a letter from Plainview, but Plainview is all right.

Our school is progressing nicely with Miss Mary Sullivan, teacher, and about thirty pupils enrolled.

The Stew party at Mr. Joe Casbeer was largely attended Friday night and enjoyed by all.

Some attended an entertainment at Mr. Eugene Johnson Saturday night and report a good time.

Mrs. C. H. Arnold and children left Tuesday for Coleman to spend the holidays with relatives.

T. B. Graves and family have moved from Center City to his farm in North Brown community.

T. H. House has moved from the Butler place, south of this city, to Mrs. Graves' farm in the Center City community.

Jesse Forester, son of Rev. J. G. Forester, is at home from the Coronal Institute at San Marcos, to spend the holidays.

F. H. Lindsey and family have returned to this city from Las Cruces, N. M. and will again make their home here. Their friends are glad to welcome them back.

Now that the Christmas festivities are about over, we should again turn our attention to business affairs. Don't forget to pay your poll tax—you may need the receipt.

Mrs. J. W. Johnson and children arrived from Brownwood Tuesday morning to spend Christmas with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Taylor, and other relatives.

Capt. M. J. Strickland is here from Gatesville to spend the holidays with his son, C. E. Strickland, and family and his daughter, Mrs. J. W. Roberts, and family. He is enjoying good health and looks younger than when he lived here a good many years ago.

W. H. Wood, of Hanna Valley was here last Saturday to get some fruit trees he had ordered. He reported that he still had about ten bales of cotton ungathered in the field and the bad weather doing serious damage to it. Mr. Wood is a strong believer in diversified farming and does not depend upon cotton or any other one crop.

A deal was consummated this week whereby D. H. Trent & Son traded Rev. J. D. Scott a farm in Jones Valley, known as the Reed place, for his two buildings in this city, the one occupied by Grover Dalton and the one adjoining, recently vacated by Allen & Baker. Rev. Scott then traded the farm to Mrs. Mary E. Knight of San Antonio for some property in that city.

FIRES IN COMANCHE

Tuesday night the home of Charley Harvey, on Main street, south of the oil mill, caught fire about 11 o'clock and burned to the ground. The origin of the fire is unknown, but it caught from the kitchen flue. Everything in the house was completely destroyed. The family had to borrow clothes to wear until they could have time to buy some. The house and furniture was insured and the loss will not be very great.

Early Wednesday morning a fire broke out in Mrs. Carter's home and if it had not been for the prompt action of the fire department the house would have burned to the ground. This fire caught from a heater and when the fire boys arrived the ceiling to the room where the fire started was in flames. The damage was not considerable.—Comanche Chief.

I BUY HERE FROM MY FRIENDS.

Because my interests are here.

Because the community that is good enough for me to live in, is good enough for me to buy in.

Because I want to see the goods.

Because I want to get what I buy when I pay for it.

Because every dollar I spend at home stays at home and works for the welfare of this town.

Because the man I buy from stands back of the goods.

Because I sell what I produce at home.

Because the man I buy from helps support my school, my church, my lodge, my home.

Because when ill-luck, misfortune, or bereavement comes, the man I buy from is here with kindly greeting, his word of cheer, his pocket-book, if need be.—Exchange.

Will H. Trent left Wednesday morning for Beaumont to spend the holidays with relatives. Mrs. Trent was already there, having gone last week.

The terrible sloppy, disagreeable weather at Christmas eve and before prevented much enjoyment among the people. We all have cause to rejoice and are hopeful of better things in the future, but we can not prove our sincere happiness while wading the mud. The rain insures a big crop next year and we will add large financial resources to our other blessings in Mills county.

DEMAND FOR HORSES AND MULES

A special from Dallas under date of Dec. 18, gives the following information: Texas horse and mule dealers will probably fill a contract that calls for thirty thousand horses and twelve thousand mules to be used in the Eastern war. It was learned yesterday that one Dallas and three Ft. Worth firms are figuring on the order. If the contract is let it will mean the releasing of $3,600,000 in Texas before February 1st.

That the horses and mules will go to Germany is the belief of Dallas men who have been selling horses in Fort Worth for uses in the European war and the announcement that 15 thousand head of the stock will go direct to Genoa, Italy, at once, confirms this belief. Fort Worth dealers say Germany has had representatives on the market for several months watching the buying of horses and mules by the French and English armies.

The stock is to be used in cavalry and artillery. Horses and mules of all weights and sizes will be considered. The fifteen thousand horses for delivery at Genoa, Italy, are wanted first, with the remainder of the order to be furnished later. It is expected that the contract for this large number of horses and mules will be let at any time, and bidders are awaiting word anxiously.

The mules of the type desired, it is claimed, can not be bought in Texas, but Texas men are bidding on the order with the expectation of filling the order for mules from Louisiana and Alabama.

Mrs. J. R. Graves was very sick for several days, but has been much improved the past few days.

Misses Carrie Alvis and Ermine Bull came home from Brownwood Thursday to spend the holidays.

The continued wet weather has been detrimental in some respects and has been decidedly disagreeable but there is no denying the fact that there is a mighty good season in the ground now and the crops next year will pay for the hardships and inconveniences of the wet weather.

J. T. Sykes was here one day this week to order his paper changed to Grosvenor, about twenty miles from Brownwood and about the same distance from Coleman, where he will improve a new farm. He is a valuable citizen and the departure of himself and family is sincerely regretted by their friends, but we hope for the greatest prosperity to attend them in their new home.

Education, to accomplish the ends of good government, should be universally diffused. Open the doors of the schoolhouse to all the children in the land. Let no man have the excuse of poverty for not educating his own offspring. Place the means of education within his reach, and if they remain in ignorance, be it his own reproach. On the diffusion of education among the people rest the preservation and perpetuation of our free institutions.—Daniel Webster.

Education is the one subject for which no people ever yet paid too much. Indeed, the more they pay, the richer they become. Nothing is so costly as ignorance, and nothing so cheap as knowledge. Even under old civilizations the states and people who provided the greatest educational dissemination and advantages were always the most wealthy, the most powerful, the most feared and respected by others, and the most secure in every right of person and property among themselves. And this truth will be tenfold more manifest in the future than it has been in the past. The very right arm of all future national power will rest in the education of the people.—Benjamin Harvey Hill.

R. M. THOMPSON, Editor

It is astonishing how many business men can be talked into taking space in a chart, or fame or register, or some other thing that has no excuse for existence. It is people who have been thus duped who complain that advertising does not pay.—Mt. Calm Banner.

For a time it looked as though this government would become involved in the turmoil of Mexico, because of the shooting across the border by hostile factions. President Wilson and his advisors are "safe and sane" and will not allow this country to be involved in war without mighty good reason.

In an interview a few days ago W. P. Lane announced his candidacy for governor in 1916. He states he will not oppose Mr. Ferguson for a second term, but expects that gentleman to have strong opposition if the prohibition law is not allowed to be so amended as to meet the objections of the court of appeals in regard to intrastate shipments of liquor and the purchase of liquor through an agent.

The action of the court of appeals in the matter of the Texas liquor law commonly known as the Allison law, is much misunderstood and there is no doubt that many people will get into trouble through a misunderstanding of the court's ruling. No man has a right to boot-leg or solicit orders for liquor in prohibition territory and those who attempt to violate the law will surely come to grief.

No matter how one's sympathies may run in the European war, the terrible destruction in the warring countries must be regretted and all would be glad to see a cessation of hostilities. There is no doubt that millions of men have been killed during the progress of the war and it is doubtful if any of them knew what they were fighting about or why they should be at war with the other nations.

In Missouri, where they raise more mules and children than in any other place in the world, a certain resident died possessed of 17 mules and three sons. In his will he disposed of his mules as follows: One half to the eldest son, one third to the next, and one ninth to the youngest. The administrator who went to divide the property drove a span of mules out to the farm, but when he went to divide the seventeen into halves, thirds and ninths he found it was impossible with live mules. Mules not being very valuable he unhitched one of his own, putting it with the other seventeen, making eighteen, when he proceeded to divide as follows: One half, or nine, to the eldest, one third, or six, to the next, and one ninth, or two to the youngest. Adding up nine, six, two, he found that it made seventeen, so he hitched up his mule and went home rejoicing.—Ladies Home Journal.

The Honorable Mulberry Sellers once suggested the approach of an era when hogs would be as precious as jewels and would be worn, figuratively speaking, as watch charms and breast pins. That unusual condition was to be brought about by the unsatisfied demand for hogs and hog products and the consequent high prices that must inevitably prevail. Even before the outbreak of the European war there were not enough hogs in the South to supply the demands of the local abattoirs and packers, although prices were high, and the outlook is for increasing scarcity, owing to the demand from warring countries that are too busy fighting to give to hog raising all the attention that it should have. There ought to be more hogs raised in this country and less hog meat shipped into Texas, especially from the outside. That means also that there ought to be more hutching at home and more curing of hams and bacon for the home-producers.—San Antonio Express.

MULLIN

Mr. Editor and Readers of the Eagle: Some of the correspondants speak of giving the Old Bird a crumb. As the end of the year is drawing near why not unlock the store house of knowledge and give the Old Bird a whole cheese or something else to choke it or to say the least of it make it squirm to diagnose the case and get it in form that others may fully comprehend what it is when broken up in smaller crumbs? Please do not understand that the writer thinks he is capable of performing the task, but he is confident there are those who could if they would give us some thoughtful, readable matter that might help some one to solve some of life's problems as well as pave the way for larger fields of influence and usefulness. We fear the majority of us are too much inclined to shut ourselves up in our own little shells, thereby encouraging a degree of selfishness calculated to grow on us until we will almost lose sight of the fact that the real benefit and happiness that should come of a happy life are those we enjoy while trying to help others. The Book of Books says "Let your light so shine." We think the idea was or is to see that our lights not only shine but so shine that the brilliancy thereof might attract others to a shining life. This being the case, there is certainly no way to get around responsibility and if responsible, the question arises, to whom. Our answer is to Him who is clothed with authority to command us to let the light shine.

Now, Bro. Bob, don't you think with this kind of a speech from an old clod hopper, it should call forth a few of our educated educators? The old correspondents have certainly left the field, so as to admit of new ones.

The writer will introduce in a brief way a few thoughts on common sense well flavored with good old fashioned every day, every hour, under all circumstances, upright, downright, straightup, thinkable thought out, wide awake, easily used and not to be ashamed of, good old common horse sense. Then when we find we are in possession of and willing to let it have full sway, try every day to improve on the preceding day, for new fields will open, expansion called in play, when every fiber of our being will be on stilts to know just how and what to do.

As our aim in writing this is to attract if possible, the attention of young people who are not so "Sot" in their ways as not to be teachable, my first proposition is to look well to the foundation on which you are building your character. See that the very choicest material is procured and every piece fitted to its place where it will add the greatest strength to the structure that must stand the storms of time and the testings of the judgment. One of the most important planks to be put in this building is thoughtfulness. Be thoughtful; think well and be sure to hold this plank in its place for the success and happiness of your entire life will be the result of proper thinking.

Second, see that a good solid, well secured plank be laid alongside of thoughtfulness, which will name politeness and which you will find to be useful and profitable at every turn of life. How very impolite people are, when politeness properly cultivated and used would add so much to the brilliancy of the light we are commanded to let so shine. Thoughtfulness with politeness hooked on would never permit a young person to dash by an elderly person or ladies, without recognizing them by a tip of the hat, speech and, if acquainted, by calling their names. Young people never lose anything by noticing, especially the aged, who will appreciate it and better enable you to understand when they are gone and you an old man or woman tottering on the borders of the grave. Be thoughtful of and polite to old people.

The third is memory—How important to be able to remember the good things thrown our way and to cast away the evil ones. To remember at all times that we are the workmanship of Him who has said that in His likeness and image we were created; these thoughts well grounded in memory's soil will be of infinite value in time and eternity. We are told in the case of the rich man that memory clings to us even if

One more and we will ask some one else to take up the subject and finish the building. Fourth—Love that thinketh no evil, that can and does forgive, that helps to ask forgiveness when in the wrong. So many people are willing to have wrongs settled if they can just wedge in, in some way without facing the offended and confess. We fear some other motive than love prompts the act. It is however an act of bravery, to be commended, when a man or woman knows they have wronged a fellow being, to right that wrong by honest confession. Nothing short of this will ever satisfy God. Why should it satisfy man? Who next?

Both Governor Colquitt and Governor-elect Ferguson are said to be busy with messages for the coming session of the legislature, the one giving a resume of his administration of four years and the other making recommendations for legislation and outlining his policies.

The announcement that Harry Thaw had lost his appeal before the supreme court of the United States was received with genuine regret by everybody. While many are friendly to Thaw in his difficulties, there are none who would regret to have his case dismissed from the court docket and forgotten. Under the decision of the highest court in the land, Thaw must be delivered to New York authorities by the New Hampshire officers, who have had him in charge for a long time. New York charges him with conspiracy to escape from the state insane asylum, and the question that puzzles most people is how a man who is insane can be guilty of conspiracy and if he is not insane the state had no right to force him to remain in the asylum.

Four Kansas City land agents have been convicted on a charge of swindling and must serve terms. These energetic business sold a large portion of the Everglades of Florida. They represented the land as being level and very fertile. It is. But when the purchasers went to look at their farms they found that they could see the land only from boats. The land was four feet under the water. The purchasers complained and the sellers were arrested. On trial the promoters contended that the land was just as represented—level and fertile—that they hadn't represented it to be free from water. The court held that the men were guilty of swindling. After all, the strange feature is that people bought land they never saw, from men they didn't know.—Honey Grove Signal.

The latest fad in society is the tub cure. In this the patient arises just as the crisp air of the morning is mellowed by the first sunbeam. An ordinary washtub is then filled with hot water and soap suds, into which various articles of linen are thrown. After they are thoroughly saturated, the patient takes them up one at a time and rubs them briskly up and down on a washboard placed in the tub. This is kept up until the hands, arms and face are glowing pink. The patient then goes into the open air and hangs all the linen articles on a line stretched for that purpose. The one completing the task first announces the time to the others over the telephone and is entitled to a prize. It is exciting sport and also invigorating exercise.—The Argonaut.

When one thinks of the thousands of human beings who just a few days ago were living, laughing and loving just as you and I are permitted to do today, who are now lying dead upon the battlefield, or sleeping side by side in rude trenches clothed as they fell riddled with bullets of the enemy, one cannot help but feel what a glorious thing it is just to live, to wake up in the morning and look upon the beauties of nature, to see the green grass, to smell the perfume of the flowers, to watch the moon upon a cloudless night, to note the swiftly passing clouds, and to see the rain as it drops from the clouds and splashes in the streets. We do not appreciate life until the grim tragedy of death has been thrust upon us. We do not know the glories of peace until cruel war has laid his iron hand upon our hearts, and gripped us in his painful grasp. It's indeed sweet to love when one feels well, and with those who are near and dear to us, and there is peace over all our own fair land.—Cleburne Enterprise.

FRANK WHITEMAN MARRIED

A wedding last night that proved quite a surprise to the many friends of the young couple was that of Mr. F. D. Whiteman and Miss Amelia Crump, which took place at the residence of Judge G. B. Cross. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Crump, of 1012 Vine street, and for some time has been employed as an operator on the local board of the West Texas Telephone company, where she has made hosts of friends throughout the city by her courteous and effective response to all calls. The groom is a lineman in the employ of the same company, and it was about the telephone building that the romance culminating in the wedding last night had its origin. Mr. and Mrs. Whiteman will make their home at 406 Greenleaf street. The best wishes of hosts of friends are extended them today.—Brownwood Bulletin.

Frank was reared here and has a great many friends who extend good wishes to him and his bride.

PREMIUMS AWARDED

The premiums given by R. E. Clements' for tablet covers returned to his store bearing his card excited quite a spirited contest among the school children. The contest closed last Friday afternoon when Inez Weems was awarded first prize for the girls, which was a rain coat, and Mildred Street received second prize—a box of candy. Judson Strickland received the boys' prize—a rain coat. The contest was friendly and decidedly spirited throughout.

Notwithstanding the disagreeable weather the greater part of the past week, merchants report a very satisfactory holiday trade. The people appear to have sufficient money for their needs and are contented and hopeful.

Dr. A. D. Nelson is all bruised up and he explains that he was called to see a certain lady who said that she was suffering with a tired feeling and he asked to see her tongue. She hit him with a flat iron and said her tongue wasn't tired.—Richland Springs Eye Witness.

A. T. Sellers of Big Valley was in to see the Eagle one day this week. He is one of the prosperous farmers and stock raisers of the county who does not depend on cotton alone for an income. Mr. Sellers has lived in the same community for more than twenty years, and is one of the most prosperous and substantial men of the county.

The Eagle wants a correspondent in every community in the county where there is no one acting in that capacity. We want to increase our efforts the coming year to make a county paper second to none in the state and one that will be a satisfaction and a benefit to every reader and every citizen. A little co-operation on the part of the good people of each community will accomplish this end. A few moments of time once a week to write the community happenings would enable the paper to represent the entire county each week and it would be interesting to every man, woman and child in the county. Surely we can depend upon this assistance from each community in the county the coming year and if so, the Eagle will be universally recognized as the best county paper in Texas.

CITATION

THE STATE OF TEXAS

To the Sheriff or any Constable of Mills County—Greeting:

You are hereby commanded to summon the unknown heirs of Nancy Howard, by making publication of this Citation once in each week for eight successive weeks, previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your County, if there be a newspaper published therein, but if not, then in any newspaper published in the 27th Judicial District; but if there be no newspaper published in said Judicial District, then in a newspaper published in the nearest District to said 27th Judicial District, to appear at the next regular term of the District Court of Mills County, to be holden at the Court House thereof, in Goldthwaite, Texas, on the first Monday in May, A. D. 1915, the same being the third day of May, A. D. 1915, then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court on the 11th day of December, A. D. 1914, in a suit, numbered on the docket of said Court No. 1411, wherein R. J. Edmondson is the Plaintiff, and the unknown heirs of Nancy Howard are the defendants and the said petition alleging that Plaintiff, R. J. Edmondson, resides in Mills County, Texas, and that defendants, the unknown heirs of Nancy Howard, are each and all persons whose names and places of residence are unknown and for cause of action said petition alleges:

That Plaintiff is the owner in fee simple of the following described land lying and being situated in Mills County, Texas, being the Nancy Howard Survey No. 5, certificate No. 486, designated by abstract No. 329, containing 160 acres, a brief abstract of which is shown in Volume 9 at page No. 315 of the assessor's abstract books of and for Mills County, Texas, and said land is described by metes and bounds as follows, to-wit: Beginning at the North east corner of the Willaba Boatright Survey;

Thence West 950 varas to a stone mound;

Thence South 950 varas to a stone mound in Willaba Boatright's North line;

Thence East 950 varas to the place of beginning.

Plaintiff alleges that for more than ten years next preceding the filing of this suit he has been the owner and rightful possessor of said entire tract of land; that during said entire time, claiming to have a good and perfect right and title thereto, he has had and held and at all times claimed peaceable and adverse possession to said entire survey of land, and still has and holds such peaceable and adverse possession of said survey of land, and for more than ten years next preceding the filing of this suit has had peaceable and adverse possession by an actual enclosure of said entire survey of land, using, occupying and enjoying same for the period of more than ten years and still has and holds said land under said enclosure, and still is claiming and does claim title and right of possession in and to said land and has so held and claimed during said entire time.

Wherefore plaintiff prays that defendants be cited to answer herein and show, if any, their interest or interests in the subject matter of this suit; that plaintiff have judgment for title and possession of said land; that defendants be divested of all title in or to said land; and that such title be fully vested in plaintiff, and that all cloud be removed from plaintiff's title, thereto, and for general and special relief, in law and in equity.

And said petition is endorsed as follows, to-wit: "This suit is to try title as well as for trespass and damages."

Herein fail not, but have before said Court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and the seal of said Court, at office in Goldthwaite, this, the 18th day of December, A. D. 1914. C. D. LANE, Clerk District Court, Mills County. By J. B. Brinson, Deputy.

Foreign Countries Pay Tribute to Texas

From all over the world, from Europe, North Africa, Egypt, Asia Minor, Portuguese East Africa, German East Africa, Zanzibar, West Africa, South Africa, Arabia, India, China, Australia, New Zealand, South America, Central America, Canada and the West Indies, buyers of oil pay tribute to oil products manufactured in Texas by The Texas Company.

This foreign trade and the trade with other States in the Union keeps the three refineries, the pipe lines, the distributing stations; barrel, box and can factories, machine shops and other properties of The Texas Company going, and employs Texas labor, buys material and supplies from Texas factories and stores, and pays enormous Texas taxes.

By far the greater part of the trade of The Texas Company is in the foreign field and in the other States of the Union.

The larger part of the money secured from these sources is spent right in Texas. The amount of oil which Texas uses is only a very small part of the amount required each year to pay the thousands of workers employed in the refineries and factories of the Company. It would do little towards paying for the materials and supplies bought by The Texas Company in Texas.

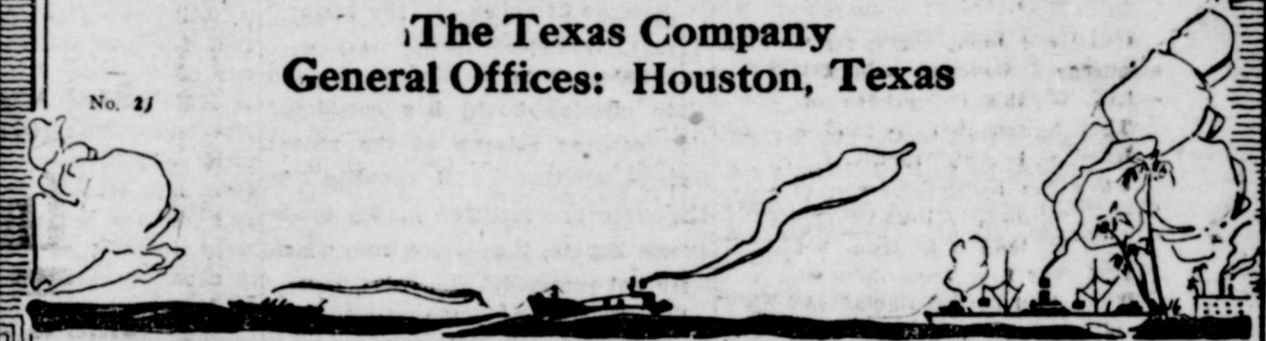

It is the money which comes steadily, in rapidly-increasing volume, from all over the world which maintains these enormous properties and pays the thousands of workers.

Quality of goods manufactured and added value in the service given have enabled The Texas Company to build up this world tribute to Texas oil products and manufactures.

This quality and this service are at your door, in your own town there is an agent of The Texas Company ready to serve you.

How we rush along through life, tramping under our feet and crushing with our automobiles the fragrant flowers, the perfume of which we might enjoy, were we to linger long enough to pluck them in passing. We hardly pause long enough to grasp our friends and loved ones by the hand, to know the beauty of their faces and the melody of their voices, before they are called into the great beyond, while sometimes we begrudge the time decency demands of us to take from our business to attend their funeral. I believe in strenuousness in business but the man who is a slave to business loses the dearest and sweetest things in life, human sympathy, and quiet contemplation and development of those graces that smooth the rough places of life, and make us feel that we have lessened the labors and the trials of others. There is lots of pleasure in comradeship, in the sweet communion of friends, down where the running waters flow, where quiet breezes blow, where fragrant flowers shed their rich perfumes as free as sunshine and starlight. Heaven is all around us, and its glories are hung above us, if we will just pause long enough from our greedy grind to look up where the sky is blue and where the stars forever twinkle.—Cleburne Enterprise.

A report says 350 negro cotton pickers left Ballinger last Saturday for Temple and other points in central Texas. These negroes were carried to the western counties early in the season to pick cotton and have completed the work of saving the cotton crop of that section.

NEW YEAR GREETINGS

We Are Now Facing A New Year And We Must Prepare To Meet It

In the way that is the most beneficial and profitable to us, no matter what line of business we may be in. If you are a farmer, you can make a big mistake to begin with by failing to use good business methods in buying your Farm Tools. Just because you like us personally is no reason why you should buy your tools from us, unless we will meet competition both in Price and Quality. And the same way around. If the other fellow cannot offer you Price and Quality equal to ours, you are not using good business methods to buy from him. Now, where does this bring us? It brings us to the fact that we should look around us and see what the other fellow has to offer before we lay out our capital in something that we are going to have to use all the year. In this connection we can assure you that it will pay you to

Call and Look at our Line of Goods and Get our Prices Before you Buy your Supplies for Another Year

We are watching the manufacturing centers and are keeping up at all times with the latest Labor Saving Devices in FARM IMPLEMENTS and are endeavoring to help our friends and customers by keeping only the BEST at all times. We want YOUR business and we will meet you more than half way on any proposition for our mutual benefit.

We heartily thank all our friends for the liberal patronage they have accorded us in the year just past and, if you have not been to see us in the past, we wish to add you to our list of new friends and customers. Call and see us and let's get better acquainted and be in line to help one another out by our mutual suggestions.

ELECTION RESULTS

Returns Compiled by the State Election Board

A report from Austin says the state election board has completed the canvass returns of the recent general election. All counties in the state are included in the totals except Zapata, the returns from which were not received.

The figures show the election of the complete State Democratic ticket and the defeat of all three constitutional amendments. The total vote cast was 213,500.

Edwards, for State Treasurer, again led the Democratic ticket, with 129,034 votes, 3,355 votes ahead of Terrell for Comptroller, who was second, with 176,679. Terrell received 19 more votes than Robison, for Land Commissioner, who is third. Looney for Attorney General, ran sixth, with 176,013. Davis, for Commissioner of Agriculture, received 168,311 votes. The smallest of any Democratic candidate, Jeff McLemore, received 910 more votes than his running mate, J. H. (Cyclops) Davis, for Congressman at Large.

Constitutional amendments received votes as follows:

Initiative and referendum: For 62,166, against 66,779.

Legislators salaries: For 37,274, against 89,307.

Seawalls: For 47,130, against 77,958.

The canvass of the returns for Governor and Lieutenant Governor will not be made until the Legislature meets.

News comes to us that a farmer living near Goree named Gamble has been swindled out of 31 bales of cotton by a cotton "shark" in Dallas. It appears that this crook's method of operation with this farmer was to buy his cotton at 8 1/2 cents per pound delivered in the warehouse at Goree. Mr. Gamble made a trip to Dallas and delivered the warehouse receipts for the cotton, getting in exchange a contract calling for payment for the cotton at 8 1/2 cents at the bank at Goree before the cotton was shipped. The crook after obtaining the warehouse receipts, immediately hid himself to a bank in Dallas and borrowed $30 a bale, putting up the warehouse receipts as collateral. It is said this man has swindled farmers all over North Texas by the scheme, which strikes us as being one of the smoothest we have ever heard of, and we are not surprised that Mr. Gamble was taken in; however, we sympathize with him.—Munday Times.

GIFTS WORTH WHILE

The holiday spirit should mean more to us this year than ever before. It marks the closing of a very prosperous year, a year of large crops, advanced citizenship and broader sympathy among men. The season finds us united for greater progress in farming, in professional life, and in business. We have at last recognized that we are farmers and that we must succeed or fail as the farmer succeeds or fails in his business.

Christmas giving means more to us than ever before. It means that we will give encouragement to those who are despondent; kindness to those who feel the smarting pain of rebuke; cheerfulness to those who can not see the brightness of the future; sympathy to those who are more unfortunate than we.

Let us carry the spirit of giving further than ever before. Let us give the farm all the work, the benefit of all the equipment, the supervision of all the intelligence that we can command. Let us give freely—not grudgingly—but intelligently, so that returns upon this investment will give us pleasure and satisfaction.

To the livestock, let us give shelter, suitable feed and the best of care. It may be that we have been expecting their gifts of profits without adequate attention to their needs for comfort.

A gift of home improvement may be the best investment that can be made during the holiday season. It may be that a little time and a small investment in paint, in material in trees, shrubs and flowers may prove us a "cheerful giver," one who has been faithful over a few things and one worthy to be made a ruler over greater things. Make those who share your comforts and courtesies happy.

Let our gifts consist of kind words, good wishes, cheerful thoughts and hopeful expectations. As the new era of better farming, better living and better citizenship is dawning let us be ready with the message of good cheer—Farm and Ranch.

BUSINESS CHANCE

I have purchased the Estep Restaurant and Confectionery and solicit the patronage of the public. I will endeavor to carry the best of everything in stock and will serve meals and lunches at all hours at reasonable prices. JIM HOPSON.

ENEMIES ARE OUR HELPERS

We do not know that Dr. Deems ever wrote anything better than this in the same space. If half he said be true, we should thank God that we have an enemy or enemies. Think of it—and if you have not an enemy, who speaks falsely of you, it is because you are unfaithful.

Always keep an enemy on hand—a brisk, hearty, active enemy.

1. The having one is proof that you are somebody. Wishy-washy, empty, worthless people never have enemies. Men who never move never run against anything; and when a man is thoroughly dead and utterly buried nothing ever runs against him. To be run against is proof of existence and position; to run against something is proof of action.

2. An enemy is, to say the least, not partial to you. He will not flatter you. It is very probable that he will slightly magnify your faults. The benefit of that is two-fold. It permits you to know that you have faults, and are, therefore, not a monster, and it makes them of such size as to be visible and manageable. Of course, if you have a fault you desire to know it; when you become aware that you have a fault, you desire to correct it. Your enemy does for you this valuable work, which your friend cannot perform.

3. In addition, your enemy keeps you wide awake. He does not let you sleep at your post. There are two that always keep watch, namely: the lover and the hater. Your lover watches that you may sleep. He keeps off noises, excludes light, adjusts surroundings, that nothing may disturb you. Your hater watches that you may not sleep. He stirs you up when you are napping. He keeps your faculties on the alert. Even when he does nothing, he will have you put in such a state of mind that you cannot tell what he will do next, and this mental qui vive must be worth something.—From an old Scrap Book.

SICK HEADACHE

Sick headache is nearly always caused by disorder of the stomach. Correct them and the periodic attacks of sick headache will disappear. Mr. John Bishop of Rossville, Ohio, writes: "About a year ago I was troubled with indigestion and had sick headache that lasted for two or three days at a time. I doctored and tried a number of remedies but nothing helped me until during one of those sick spells a friend advised me to take Chamberlain's Tablets. This medicine relieved me in a short time." Things You Ought To Know

Our Sanitary Method of Pressing Clothes has been highly recommended by Physicians and Boards of Health. We sterilize your apparel while pressing.

Our method of Pressing is positive assurance that your garment when pressed will present a perfect Merchant Tailor appearance. This result cannot be accomplished with the hand-iron way of pressing.

There is no better way to prolong the life of your clothes than to permit us to Clean, Press and Repair them. Our machine is so constructed that we can shape all kinds of garments far better than it can be done by any other pressing method.
