RESOLUTIONS

Whereas, Reverend J. C. Newman has resigned the care of his church, thus terminating his pastorate of four years at this place, the church in conference, assembled has the following to say:

When Brother Newman came to our church four years ago, he found our church life and activity at low ebb. During his connection with us, there has been marked advance along all worthy lines of church work and development. We have found him to be not only a preacher of ability, but a most excellent pastor as well. As a citizen no man stands higher in his community than does he. He has decided convictions on all questions affecting the well-being of the church and country in general, and with this, the courage that makes his influence a factor to be reasoned with by the forces of the opposition. His counsel is sought by people working along worthy lines, irrespective of denominational or party affiliation. Public education and pure government have found him to be among their ablest and most loyal advocates. We believe that no other man enjoys a fuller confidence or higher appreciation of all the people knowing him than does Brother Newman. On his own motion, he tendered his resignation that he might be free to accept a pastorate that had been offered him at another place. The resignation was accepted by this church reluctantly and only after a most earnest appeal by him that it be accepted. We heartily commend him to the people to whom he goes as a man clean in his life, a conscientious Christian character, an able preacher, a friend of God and man, and an ever ready and willing helper of any in need. His inspiring and helpful influence will long be felt in this church and throughout a large territory for which he has done so much during the past four years.

That God's richest blessings may attend the life and labors of this good man and his family shall be the constant prayer of us who have been the direct recipients of his long and faithful service.

And be it resolved that a copy of this paper be furnished the Goldthwaite Eagle, the Central Messenger, the Baptist Standard, and a copy be sent to the church at Luling.

Unanimously adopted by the Goldthwaite Missionary Baptist Church in Conference at Goldthwaite, Texas, Wednesday evening, June 30th., 1915.

U. C. V. MEETING

Jeff Davis camp of Confederate Veterans met in regular session at the court house in Goldthwaite, Saturday, July 3, with Commander Allen present and presiding.

The minutes of last meeting were read and approved.

The camp was informed that several good speakers had been arranged for and had promised to be present at the reunion and that B. F. Geeslin had secured an airship for the three days, which will be here without fail and under his control. There will be no disappointment, as the parties are legally responsible and will come or pay for failure to fulfill their contract.

A motion to pay D. E. Hopkins' account was made and approved and a motion to replace glass in the door of the Justice of the Peace office was made and tabled.

It was decided that meals for Confederate veterans be prepared and served on the grounds during the reunion at 7 a. m., 12 noon and 6 o'clock p. m. It was also decided that the three days be designated as follows: July 21—Confederate Day; July 22—W. O. W. Day; July 23—Farmers Union Day. The camp will meet on the grounds at 10 o'clock a. m., on July 21 for roll call.

LIGON-SMITH

On Sunday afternoon, July 4, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Smith, occurred the marriage of Mr. Floyd F. Ligon to Miss Eva Smith, both of this city. It was a beautiful wedding, with only relatives and intimate friends present to witness the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. J. H. Frizzell. The home was beautifully decorated with Shasta daisies, and as the guests were received they were served with delicious punch by Miss Edna Lowrie. After the ceremony an ice course was served.

The bride is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Smith and is well known here. She is a beautiful, sweet Christian girl who has a host of friends by whom she is loved and admired. The groom is a brother of Mrs. W. L. Jones of this city and is one of Goldthwaite's most popular young men of a fine character and many sterling qualities and is a trusted employee of the firm of McKinley, Corrigan & Co.

Immediately after the marriage ceremony the happy pair left for a short wedding trip, to include a visit to Hamilton with the groom's sisters. The bride was attired in a smart blue silk suit with accessories in harmony.

The out-of-town guests present at the marriage were: Mr. and Mrs. C. D. McKinley and family, Mr. and Mrs. Arvil Blackshear, Mrs. J. C. Crews, and Mr. Ed Ligon, all of Hamilton; Mrs. Jerrell Bryson of Comanche; Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Mauldin and family of San Saba, and Miss Ruby Forehand of Big Valley.

The Eagle joins the many friends of this popular young couple in extending best wishes for their future welfare and hopes for them a long life of happiness and prosperity.

Mrs. S. O. Ken and baby returned the first of the week from Bartlett, Texas, where she has been for some time on a visit to relatives and friends.

Mrs. J. G. Forester and children left Monday night for Chico, Texas, on a visit to relatives and friends and will be gone about fourteen days. Rev. Forester says he doesn't mind "batching" as he is a pretty good housekeeper. We would like to know what his good lady has to say about that.

Russell Mullan made a prospecting trip to Temple Monday with a view to locating in that thriving city in the near future.

Sheriff J. H. Burnett returned the first of the week from Marietta, Okla., where he had been on official business. He said that Goldthwaite's new depot is almost a duplicate of the one at this place.

Mr. and Mrs. Swaim were here from Lometa the first of the week visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Little, and other relatives, Mr. Swaim returned to Lometa Monday, while Mrs. Swaim remained for a longer visit.

SAYLOR BROS.

ELBERT HUBBARD, THE LATE SAGE OF EAST AURORA

Victim of Lusitania Disaster, Tells in His Wonderful Way of "A Little Journey to the Greatest of Co-operative Institutions."

I know of no business organization that so completely mirrors the new time in which we live as the United Drug Company.

It has a chain of seven thousand agencies that circle the globe.

They are known as "Rexall Stores. Here is a business concern that is doing something besides doing business.

One general purpose animates and inspires all of these agencies. And that is the Desire to Serve.

Here business and beauty blend. Good will, industry and economy—and prosperity comes as a natural result.

The man who founded the concern is a young man yet—hasn't turned forty. But he has seen the evolution of a great ideal.

He has seen a beautiful dream take tangible form and become a commercial success beyond the dream of avarice.

It is very certain that Louis K. Liggett, when, in Nineteen Hundred Three, he called forty druggists together, and laid before them a definite plan of co-operation in business, had no idea of the extent to which this plan would expand.

"Get your principles right," said Napoleon, "and the rest is a matter of detail."

Louis K. Liggett got his principle right. A great wave of light was breaking over humanity. Liggett saw that light. We began to take on commonsense. The fears that had haunted us were found to be baseless. Life we discovered, is largely what we choose to make it.

We work from the complex to the simple and the obvious is the last thing we know. We have what we give; we keep that which we pass out. The treatment we give to others comes back to us again. Cast thy bread upon the waters and it shall return to you shortly—buttered.

These truths in modern times seem first to have uttered by Emerson, but they got into the air. Young Liggett, the traveling salesman, sensed them—breathed them in.

He was in touch with humanity. He knew the great throbbing heart of mankind.

The contrast of the old with what might be took hold of the heart of Liggett.

Shabby stores had discouraged the drug business and pushed it to a very low ebb.

The turn of the tide came when Louis K. Liggett, that traveling salesman from Detroit, had a big idea, one that was so big that he did not know how big it was, and he doesn't know yet.

Louis K. Liggett was no poet, no dreamer, no performer, no moralist. I am not sure that the subject of ethics came in at all.

He was simply a successful business man, and in order to be still more successful he incubated his ideas and so the forty druggists gathered together and Mr. Liggett explained the idea, and as he explained the subject grew plain to himself.

Liggett was luminous, possibly voluninous. His enthusiasm ran over and inundated everybody. He swept the forty druggists off their feet. He met the quibbles, questions and quirk with Liggett logic. He said on man in a town handling one line of goods and this a line that is not sold thru jobbers, can control the trade so as to make for himself a living and more.

Without this co-operation, Liggett saw only bankruptcy ahead of the retail trade.

The wholesale druggist was to him a superfluity, for if any druggist can get anything from a wholesaler, then any other druggist can do the same.

The result was that retailer was pitted against retailer and they fought it out like the Kilkenny cats, so that practically all that was left of the druggists was their tales of woe.

Young Liggett pictured what the business might be. His idea was to make a line of fifteen remedies for which he had the formulas.

Liggett pictured a store that would be attractive to all people where children could safely trade, and where women would like to come. He would have the man who ran a drug store be something beside a druggist—he must be a merchant. His stock must be so attractive that things would sell and sell fast. If the profits were close and the volume large—why the balance-sheet would show up all right.

This new kind of drug store must symbolize life, light, laughter, love.

It must stand for truth, for education and civilization, and for all that makes for brotherhood and human betterment.

The idea was interesting. Liggett's enthusiasm was contagious.

Thirty-three out of the forty agreed on the spot to put up four thousand dollars apiece.

And the plan was set in motion. Each drug store was to be known as a "Rexall," that is, the King of all Drug Stores.

It was to be a peculiar store. It was to tell the truth in its advertising. It was to be well-lighted, well-ventilated, and the idea of beauty, cleanliness, order, decency, was to be cultivated.

A Rexall Store was to be a store that rendered a service to the whole town.

The idea of being accommodating and courteous was never to be lost sight of.

This chain of stores would stand by one another. The United Drug Company would manufacture in large quantities certain things that were desirable, and would distribute these at a very slight advance over actual cost to the Rexall Stores.

And so the business began.

The business grew, and the men in charge of it grew with the business.

These forty men who put in four thousand dollars cash have received half-yearly dividends, without fail, on their investments. Not one has dropped out, and their trade has vastly increased. Several men started other stores.

One drug store in each town or vicinity was the rule.

Gradually, slowly, surely, new towns were allowed to come in, and always and forever on exactly the same basis. The man must be a stockholder—only thus could his hearty interest be secured.

The United Drug Company's stock is owned by the Rexall Stores.

The middleman gets no grab. Things move direct from manufacturer to dealer.

Every dealer is given courage, inspiration, animation, hope. Every Rexall Drug Store stands by all the rest.

The cost of selling from manufacturer to dealer has been reduced to a minimum. Where formerly twenty-five per cent or more commission was expended on traveling salesmen, advertising and jobbers, the article goes direct from the factory to the retailer at a cost of, say, three per cent for selling.

Every Rexall druggist is practically in partnership with all other Rexall druggists. They are brothers, all. What one knows is told to the rest. There are no secrets.

Annual conventions, state conventions, conventions of Rexall clerks, keep knowledge in motion.

Every Rexall druggist is going to school. Also, he is a teacher. An ideal is placed before him and he has to live up to it. The Whole Thing Mirrors Co-operation.

It symbolizes harmony instead of strife. It stands for human betterment, and is representative of the best thought of the time.

There is a degree of decency, order and good taste manifest in Rexall Stores that I have never seen in any other, or, in fact, in any other similar business institution.

They have kiboshed the cockroaches, the flies and the microbes, and lifted the whole drug trade from a cheap village atmosphere to a plane of art.

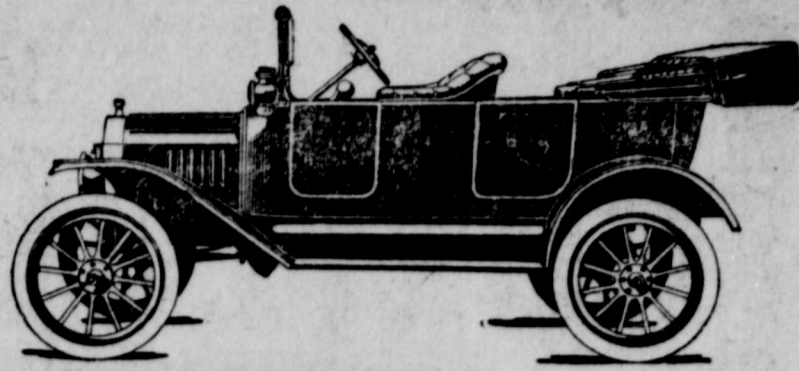

Such a degree of excellence and beauty and worth is only possible where a large number of people work together, and where a high standard is maintained. (adv)

PUBLIC PLAY GROUND

Editor Eagle:

The suggestion in your last issue that grounds for a park be secured is certainly not untimely, or at least not premature. In most towns such matters have had attention before they have attained the size and importance of Goldthwaite.

It seems to me it would be the duty or the privilege of the city authorities to take some steps in the direction of securing and dedicating a park site. The fact that some money would be required should not deter the city fathers from making some effort. Money has been spent for purposes of no greater importance. If land can not be purchased just at this time, it might be well to convert some of the unused street into play grounds with a view of getting adjoining land later. Enquiry might disclose the fact that desirable locations can be had for the asking.

The question is certainly worth investigating by those charged with the duty of looking after the public welfare. J. E. ROE.

J. T. Eaton of Mullin had business in the county seat one day this week.

Governor Ferguson has granted twenty-two Fourth of July pardons, all of them to white prisoners and short termers. Three women are included in the list.

The governor of New York has relieved former police lieutenant Becker until July 26 and stated that was the utmost he would do, which means that Becker will die unless the courts intervene.

Sixteen people, mostly children, at Stephenville, Texas are suffering from typhoid fever as a result of a picnic on the Bosque river last week. It is thought the fever was contracted from drinking water from a shallow well.

A bulletin recently issued by the federal census bureau shows 57,272 blind persons in the United States, or 62.3 for each 100,000 of the total population. Blindness is most prevalent in New Mexico and Nevada and the high ratios for these states are due to the fact that Indians, among whom trachoma is of frequent occurrence, constitute a relatively large element in their population.

"Pay cash" is a motto that every young man should consider when starting out in life. It is an admitted fact that a man who operates on a cash basis always has a little money and doesn't have to turn his pay check over to some one else—unless it is his wife—at the end of the week. And besides, it is so much easier to spend more when you are running accounts. A man doesn't realize how he is dashing headlong into the hole until he tries to crawl out.—Copperas Cove New Era.

Huerta's hand was called just as he was about to make the big coup. He was feeling wonderfully pleased with his big game, played, he thought successfully, and the cards up his sleeve were tickling his innards. But he has been "shown" that Uncle Sam never sleeps. Huerta, the assassin, is a wily and cruel old Mexican, but if he had wanted the eggs of revolution, laid by his crafty old brain, to hatch successfully he should have been wise enough to use some other incubator besides that of Uncle Sam.—Hamilton Record.

How the United States is feeding the world is shown in the official figures of the department of commerce, issued at Washington recently which disclose a comparative increase of $500,000,000 worth of food exports since the European war began. In the eleven months ending June 1, foodstuffs to the value of $724,000,000 went out to the world from this country, an increase of $443,000,000. This great export trade was the contributory factor to the record billion-dollar trade balance in favor of the United States.

Among the many strong reasons why the proposed amendment separating the A. & M. College from the University should be adopted, is one given by Hon. Chester H. Terrell, formerly speaker of the House of Representatives. It is as follows: "The present constitution provides that the permanent fund of the University of Texas can be invested only in bonds of the State of Texas and the United States. There are no State of Texas bonds for sale, and the bonds of the United States pay a very low rate of interest. The proposed amendment would allow the investment of the permanent fund in the bonds of the United States, the State of Texas, counties in this State or other securities which, in my judgment, means the securities of any district authorized by law to issue bonds and levy taxes to pay off such bonds. The fact that Texas bonds could not be secured, and that United States bonds paid so low a rate of interest, has caused the University to be held intact. Much of these lands, should this resolution be adopted, will be opened to homeseekers, who will be able to purchase it on long time and at a reasonable rate of interest." There are over 2,000,000 acres of these lands.

CONFEDERATE REUNION

Everything Being Gotten In Shape for July 21, 22 and 23.

Favorable progress is being made towards the completion of arrangements for the Confederate Reunion to be held on July 21-23 and the various committees in charge report that they will have everything in readiness by the opening day for the biggest and best reunion Goldthwaite and Mills county has ever witnessed.

The first day will be Confederate day and the program for that time has been arranged by a committee from the camp. Good speakers have been invited and have accepted and there will be music during the day and night. The W. O. W. have charge of the second day and that organization has prepared a splendid program for the entertainment of the people. The third day will be under the supervision of the Farmers Union and the general public will be as welcome on that day as on any other and all are invited to come and stay the entire three days. The camping ground is clean, nicely located, with plenty of shade and water and well prepared for the comfort of the great crowds who will be the guests of the old soldiers on July 21-23.

Among the many entertainments provided will be a "sure enough" airship and flights will be made on each of the three days of the reunion.

TRAVELING MAN'S EXPERIENCE

"In the summer of 1888 I had a very severe attack of cholera morbus. Two physicians worked over me from four a. m. to 6 p. m. without giving me any relief and then told me they did not expect me to live; that I had best telegraph for my family. Instead of doing so, I gave the hotel porter fifty cents and told him to buy me a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and take no substitute. I took a double dose according to the directions and went to sleep after the second dose. At five o'clock the next morning I was called by my order and took a train for my next stopping point, a well man but feeling rather shaky from the severity of the attack," writes H. W. his warehouse under the Texas bond

There has been some talk of reorganizing the Chamber of Commerce

been very little enthusiasm over it manifested. Comanche needs a cham-any business needs a manager.

PRIDDY

Editor Eagle:

As I have not seen anything from this part of the world in the Eagle for some time, I will send in a few of the latest happenings.

A hail storm visited this community last Sunday morning, doing considerable damage in places. The blacksmith shop and several small houses were moved. One small barn on Wm. Braker's place was completely torn up and scattered over the pasture.

Mr. C. H. Pfluger had the misfortune of getting his threshing destroyed by fire one day last week. Just how the fire got started is still a puzzle. Mr. Pfluger has a new thresher in operation again.

The small grain is excellent. Wheat threshed from 25 to 40 bushels per acre, oats from 40 to 75, corn is also fine.

Miss Gertrude Kauhs from Goldthwaite is out here attending German school.

Chas. Pfluger and family, Emil Meyer and family and Dr. Eargle were fishing at Chadwick Mill last week. They said they spent a very pleasant time and had all sorts of fish.

E. M. Meyer and daughter, little Miss Emma, and his sister, Mrs. Wm. Braker, and children left for Taylor and Austin Tuesday morning. They will attend the Fair part of the time during their visit at Taylor and from there, will go to Austin to visit Mr. Meyers uncle and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Julius Kauhs were the guests of Rev. Walthers and family one day this week.

C. H. Pfluger left for Eden Thursday morning to see about his thresher at that place.

There was a musical entertainment at Mr. J. M. Pfluger's Wednesday night.

Mr. Myra Price and daughter, Miss Angie, are contemplating a fishing trip. They expect to be gone a month or two.

Mrs. Albert Rieger and son, Bryan attended the entertainment at Mr. Pfluger's Wednesday night.

Whirl ring off. I think this is all that has happened. SALLIE.

Mrs. Jesse Cockrum and children visited her parents in Mullin the first of the week.

NOW HER FRIENDS HARDLY KNOW HER

But This Does Not Bother Mrs. Burton, Under the Circumstances.

Houston, Texas.—In an interesting letter from this city, Mrs. C. Burton writes as follows: "I think it is my duty to tell you what your medicine, Cardui, the woman's tonic, has done for me.

I was down sick with womanly trouble, and my mother advised several different treatments, but they didn't seem to do me any good. I lingered along for three or four months, and for three weeks, I was in bed, so sick I couldn't bear for any one to walk across the floor.

My husband advised me to try Cardui, he woman's tonic. I have taken two bottles of Cardui, am feeling fine, gained 15 pounds and do all of my housework. Friends hardly know me, I am so well."

If you suffer from any of the ailments so common to women, don't allow the trouble to become chronic. Begin taking Cardui to-day. It is purely vegetable, its ingredients acting in a gentle, natural way on the weakened womanly constitution. You run no risk in trying Cardui. It has been helping weak women back to health and strength for more than 30 years. It will help you. At all dealers.

"LIFE IN THE WEST"

National Editorial Association Touring California

We have visited a number of California towns since last I wrote and we are having a most delightful trip and some experiences that are interesting and instructive to us. We visited Long Beach, Pasadena, Redondo, Universal City and many other suburban towns out from Los Angeles. At Long Beach the "Press People" were met at the station by representatives of the Commercial Organizations and City Band and escorted to some of the most important points of interest, one place being the harbor where two submarine boats were being built. Then we were carried for an auto ride over the city. After an hour spent in this delightful way we were carried to a beautiful park where an elaborate and appetizing spread had been prepared for us by the Ladies' Clubs. On our return to the city we were entertained with the "Mission Play" at San Gabriel by the author of the play, John S. McGroarty. Those who have not seen this wonderful production can have no conception of its splendor. I hope to be able to give a more complete description of this play at a later date.

The crowning entertainment, when considered singly, was the rendition of "The Clansman" or "The Birth of a Nation," by Mr. Griffith who dramatized the work and had it transformed into a moving picture film at a cost of half a million dollars. It was the grandest production that could be imagined, showing to the world the South as it existed during the war and after the close of the bloody conflict, giving an idea of the terrible "Carpet bagger" times. This rendition is well worthy of a column's report and some day we may be able to give the Eagle readers a full detail of it.

Mrs. and Mrs. Will H. Trent arrived in Los Angeles Thursday night and spent a part of Friday with us in that city and then came to San Diego with us. It was indeed a pleasure to meet with them and have them with us for a while.

On Friday morning the business men of Los Angeles carried us for a fifty mile auto trip through the beautiful country of that section filled with orange, lemon and apricot orchards on each side of the splendid roads and lofty mountains in the distance. We reached Pasadena in time for a delightful luncheon by the Board of Trade at the Hotel Green.

We came to San Diego Friday afternoon and have been having the time of our lives. At every place we have visited it seems we find a greater welcome and an increased courtesies. They have the State Fair at this place and believe me it is "some fair." It is simply grand from every standpoint and its splendor and magnitude can only be appreciated by seeing it. The business Men's Club entertained us with a luncheon today at the Fair Grounds and the Fair management extended every possible courtesy in the way of admission tickets to the grounds and the "Isthmus" or Joy Way.

We leave here tomorrow for San Francisco, but will stop at San Jose and other points for a ride thru the orchards and groves, reaching the great exposition city Monday night and from there we will write again.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Fairman left us at Los Angeles and after spending a few days here proceeded to "Frisco" where we will meet them next week.

We met Judge E. B. Anderson and family here today. They are to leave for Los Angeles in a short time and will visit other points before returning home.

We certainly appreciate the many courtesies extended us here and believe these people are wonderful, people and their country is most delightful, but it does no violation to their hospitality to say that we like Mills county better and believe those here who know of our splendid country heartily agree with us.

DIARRHOEA QUICKLY CURED

"About two years ago I had a severe attack of diarrhoea which lasted for over a week," writes W. C. Jones, Buford, N. D. "I became so weak that I could not stand upright. A druggist recommended Chamberlain Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. The first dose relieved me and within two days I was as well as ever." Obtainable everywhere. (adv)

The timid old lady asked the baggage master if her parcel would reach "Frisco intact."

Said that official, "Let's see."

Thereupon, he threw it on the floor. Once, "That's for Chicago." Twice, "That's for Kansas City." Third, "That's for Denver." The fourth time, he dashed it on the floor with extra violence. The box broke. The contents were scattered about.

"You see, mum, it wouldn't reach."

Fortunately, you are not in that position. You do not have to RISK the trial of the various things you need in your home or business. You can pick out a well-known article, one that has been tried and tested for years under actual working conditions in other places. Among such articles the trade mark "Texaco" has secured for Texaco Products the recognition to which their careful preparation and their suitability for the purpose entitles them.

Whether you use steam, electricity, or gas; whether you operate a farm, cotton gin, laundry, ice plant—anything.

There is a Texaco Product for you—under the "Made-in-Texas" Red-Star-Green-T emblem. Order from our agent.

GOING-AWAY RECEPTION

The Ladies' Aid society entertained at the home of Mrs. L. O. Hicks Tuesday afternoon, Rev. and Mrs. J. C. Newman being the honor guests.

On entering the guests were served with punch and then asked to register their names and write a good wish for Bro. and Sister Newman in their new field of labor at Luling. An amusing contest was then entered into in which all were asked to tell "Who's Who" by looking at the baby and childhood pictures pinned upon the walls. Time had wrought great changes in the faces of nearly everybody as was attested by the many failures at guessing. The familiar game of lagomachy was played with great zeal the scores being kodaks pictures of Bro. and Sister Newman and baby, Inez.

Delicious ice cream and cake was then served, after which the Ladies' Aid presented a set of silver tea spoons and the beautiful little register book, handpainted in forget-me-nots, as parting gifts to Bro. and Sister Newman. The hours passed all too quickly and it was with reluctance that all bade good-bye to Bro. and Sister Newman, with a feeling that two of our best friends were going from us.

The many good wishes extended and the expressions of love and appreciation as many with tear-dimmed eyes bade them good-bye, showed the very high esteem in which this good pastor and his wife are held by their people. A MEMBER.

COUCH-NORTHCUTT

Mr. A. D. Couch and Miss Jessie Bell Northcutt were quietly married Sunday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents on the Pecan bayou, Rev. J. H. Frizzell officiating.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Northcutt, while the groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Couch of the Caradan community. Both have a host of friends in their respective communities who hold them in the highest esteem.

The Eagle extends the heartiest congratulations to these young people and wishes for them every happiness in their married life.

The Mustard Seed Is a Tiny Nut

The meat or kernel of this tiny nut is what has the real, rich mustard flavor—the shell is almost as flavorless as the hull of a walnut.

Then when the whole mustard seeds are ground up into mustard you get bulk to be sure, but the strength is weakened by a part of it being shell or the tasteless part of the seed. It is pure mustard, but it is not the best flavored mustard, nor the most economical to use.

White Swan Mustard is made by discarding the shells and grinding up into mustard only the kernels of the mustard seed—these little kernels look like rolled oats when ready for grinding. Mustard made so is all strength and flavor.

You can very readily satisfy yourself as to whether or not a mustard is ground from kernels only or from whole seed. The former, poured dry into a glass tube shows a powder of a solid, pure canary yellow. The other kind will look speckly—the mass is full of little dark particles; these are the shells, the almost tasteless part of the mustard seed.

The purchase of White Swan Mustard is an assurance not only of getting pure mustard, but of getting mustard ground from the shell-less kernels of imported mustard seed—full strength and fine flavor.

Your grocer sells White Swan Mustard—ask for it.

Goldthwaite's new depot has now been completed and the contractors have tendered the building to the company. Santa Fe officials were here this week examining the structure and it is probable it will be accepted by them. It will be some time, however, before the depot is opened for business. A great deal of filling in has yet to be done at the crossings, the material for which is being brought from the cut near Brownwood where two steam shovels are at work. Mr. A. M. Johnston, the builder, has gone to Coleman to superintend the construction of the depot at that place.

SMILING BILLIE

Time speeds swiftly by and the place that now knows us will have its hold upon another and we will be forgotten. But few men make their mark so as to be often thought of or written about after they have been laid beneath the sod. Time with its multiplicity, yea numberless opportunities, has always been ready and willing to put every intelligent being on the road to usefulness, success and happiness, but in their eagerness to do, or not do something else, the majority of us are comparatively failures. When God made man the plan and aim was far above what man has attained unto so much so that very early in man's history his conduct was so far from what God intended it should be, that it is said in Holy writ that "It repented God that he made man."

In all of our rapid strides toward civilization and uplift from ignorance, heathenism, superstition, etc., our daily papers are constant reminders of dastardly, useless crimes that would have made men and women blush who lived in the dark ages of the world. Men plot and put into execution dark and damnable deeds that cause the loss of life, property, character—theft, misleading the young of both sexes—and in a little while are fondled in the laps of those they have thus wronged without any signs of repentance and no apologies for their wrongs. I am going to take the ground that any man who has wronged his fellow man by slander, theft, abuse or in any way, can never get right with God until he reaches the point where he is willing to right his wrong by restitution, apologies and the asking of forgiveness from those wronged. Jesus said: "If ye forgive not men their trespasses, neither will God forgive you your trespasses." If you are guilty of theft you must confess and do your level best to restore the amount before God will forgive your sins and give you to understand you are his forgiven child.

I started out hardly knowing what I would write and where I would land my little craft, but just in the midst of my speech the Eagle came with Mother's Dishwasher's article in which she breaks the startling news that said article was her last, which so upset my thinking faculties that I turn away from man's awful anding on account of the ravages of sin and God's Eternal reckoning with aim, to meditate on the disappointments so often thrown across our path on account of the actions of others. Right here in the midst of these perilous times of war, bloodshed and other horrors, we come face to face with the fact that Dishwasher, without any explanation as to where's and wherefores, declares that the rest of us can root, hog or die—she "am done."

And there's Dupli-Kate after having volunteered her services to befriend the "Motherless boy" and help him to stem the storm that seemed to be gathering in all its fury from different sources, quietly retired from the circle of correspondents without any explanation whatever, leaving us to guess and wonder at her long silence and faithful (which proved to be faithless) promises that he had one friend among the fair damsels who truly sympathized with him as he was struggling against the hard things said about him by Kate, the Dishwasher and Joan of Arc. It is true that Dishwasher is excusable now, as since Billie's last article she wrote a very satisfactory explanation of all she had said, which places him in an attitude to forgive and shed a few briny tears over her departure from the ranks of the Eagle's correspondents, and as Dupli-Kate's actions have been such as to shake my confidence, I will conclude saying Miss Dishwasher may yet have a chance to take a trip in the airship with "Dear old".

LIVE OAK

Editor Eagle:

As we are now having some pleasant days I will attempt to write down a few of the latest happenings.

Health is better this week than when I last wrote.

Master Herbert Keith has been a little sick since we last wrote but is about well now.

Mr. O. H. Griffith is having a pretty serious time with his eyes. He is not able to work much on account of them.

Crops are doing fine now since the last rains. Corn and all early feed is about matured and is very good.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Simpson of Priddy spent Tuesday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Griffith. Singing at the home of Mr. E. A. Obenhaus Sunday night was enjoyed by all present.

Rev. R. W. Bynum stopped at Mr. Nat Keith's awhile on his way to Priddy.

Oh! my!! the women of our community are sure busy these days canning, preserving and pickling but best of all they have plenty of hog plums to make jelly and jam from, so I guess every one will have plenty to eat next winter.

Liberty Sunday school is still doing well. The superintendent has now offered a prize to the one who will repeat the most verses from the Bible when the roll is called for the next four Sundays. This serves to create a better interest on the part of the younger pupils.

Well, I guess I have written enough for now, so will step aside and let some one else have a say.

The old RAINBOW.

POMPEY CREEK

Editor Eagle:

Two moderate rains have fallen here recently.

Mr. J. S. Johnson's daughter of Missouri is visiting him.

Master Clayford Perkins was taken to the sanitarium at Brownwood one day last week, where he underwent an operation.

Mr. W. C. Johnson of Fisher, has had his brother of Brownwood as guest recently.

Services Sunday were well attended. There were three visiting ministers. Earl Keating and Mr. McDonald were ordained deacons.

Leslie Hayes and family were guests of A. N. Perkins Sunday.

Mrs. Elza Smith visited her parents near Democrat Sunday.

TEXAS OATS FOR EUROPE

A new market for Texas oats has been furnished this year on account of the war in Europe. According to Fort Worth railroad men daily car lot shipments of oats are being sent out of that city for Newport News, Va., to be put on board British and French vessels and taken to France for the purpose of feeding the thousands of horses which have been secured from Texas.

It is reported that oats are being received in Newport News from Texas at the rate of at least twenty-five carloads per day.

A MERCILESS JUDGE

One Who Shows No Favor.

A merciless judge is Father Time. Before him the weak and the wanting go to the wall. Only the truth can stand. For years the following statement from a Goldthwaite resident, has withstood this sternest of all tests.

J. C. Fulton, stone mason, Goldthwaite, says: "Three years ago I was taken down in bed with a severe pain in the small of my back. The kidney secretions were too frequent in passage, painful and unnatural. I decided to try Doan's Kidney Pills, as I had often heard that they were good for kidney trouble, so I got a box from Clements' Drug Store. I noticed improvement in my condition right away and after finishing two boxes, I was able to go back to work. I am never without Doan's Kidney Pills in the house." (Statement given October 24, 1911.)

On April 26, 1915, Mr. Fulton said "I still think well of Doan's Kidney Pills. I have had no need of a kidney medicine since using them."

Price 50c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Fulton had. Foster Milburn, Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y. (adv)

FORD THE WIZZARD

Henry Ford has announced that he has perfected a motor tractor that will give the high cost of living its hardest blow yet. He says that his new farm implement will reduce the tilling of the soil a third of the present cost and will keep young men on the farm who will produce a greater amount of food. The tractors will sell for $200 or less, and the inventor plans to build one million tractors and four million engines yearly. He expects to give employment to about twenty thousand trained workmen in this department alone when operations begin. A wonderful man is Henry Ford who, less than fourteen years ago, was looked upon as a harmless crank by his fellow townsmen.—Fort Worth Record.
