Editor Eagle:

January is past and we can truly say that some of her days brought winter in the truest sense of the word, some days bore a strong representation to approaching spring, January, in a nutshell, lavished her cold bleak north winds with snow, sleet, thunder storms, some hail and bountiful rainfall.

Some of the grain crops through our vicinity were killed outright by the recent cold weather. They are being replanted.

There has been an unusual amount of sickness in our community, though no serious cases that we know of at present.

Mr. Mark Boler, our postmaster, accompanied his wife to Temple last Saturday, where she underwent an operation for appendicitis on Wednesday following. We are glad indeed to state that she is doing splendidly and her husband has returned home and resumed his work.

W. W. Martin, who has taught several years in our school at this place, resigned recently as teacher and accepted a position as R. F. D. carrier at Hico. This work draws a better salary, but we regret very much to lose this good family.

Our new garage and Odd Fellows hall is almost completed. Work has already begun in the garage.

The Literary Society met in the school auditorium last Friday night. Owing to the inclement weather, the attendance was not as large as usual.

Mr. Frank Howington, one of the most promising young men of Washboard community, has entered the Hills business college at Waco.

Mr. E. F. McCaleb and family, Mrs. Greer and Grandma McCaleb visited relatives at Hamilton last Sunday.

Mr. J. H. Christie has had his home remodeled and enlarged. His residence is now one of the very nicest to be found in the country.

Dr. Gooch's residence narrowly escaped being burned last Saturday, when a line of clothes stretched across the kitchen caught fire from the stove, setting fire to a small bed in the room. By prompt aid the fire was extinguished.

Bro. Bagley preaches at the Baptist church first and third Sundays of each month. Sabbath school every Sunday.

Come on all of ye scribes, I know the good editor appreciates every crumb that is dropped for the Old Bird and we all enjoy reading the local events from the different communities.

PLEXUS.

REST THE LAND

A change from cotton to food and feed crops should be made this year for the land's sake if not for the manager's present needs. Land cultivated in cotton for many years will need a change. Even when corn has followed cotton and cotton grown after corn, good farming will require a rotation in which one or more legumes have a place. The fertility of the soil may require legumes, and if very poor, perhaps manure or fertilizer to make a good yield this year.

The fertility of the soil will be the source of the farmer's capital. If the land is impoverished the manager will be forced to get capital elsewhere. If the fertility of the soil is increased there will be larger crops and more capital.

Cotton is very exacting upon soil fertility. While it does not take as much nitrogen, potassium, phosphate and lime from the soil, especially if the cotton seed meal is fed and the measure returned, as some other crops, the manner of cultivation causes an enormous loss of plant food. The crop must have clean culture, leaving the fields exposed to the burning rays of the sun and perhaps to the washing rains. Little can be done to increase the humus in the soil. It is not an easy matter to arrange a suitable rotation where cotton is to be grown two or three years in a four or five-year rotation. Yet it can be done.

Good farm practice will require that a large portion of the land be planted to other crops this year. There are many crops that can be selected to take the place of cotton. When provision is made for feed, food and fertility the rest of the farm may be planted in cotton for a money crop. But there are many difficulties to meet before the crop is converted into money.

The safest plan is to arrange the rotation with special reference to taking care of the land. It is to be your dependence not alone for this year but for as many years as you and your posterity live on the farm. A rotation that will begin to build up the soil and maintain you and your animals while this is being done will be advisable.—Farm and Ranch.

CLASS ORGANIZED

The Men's Bible class was organized in the Woodmen hall last Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. Despite the most disagreeable weather there was a good attendance and the first session was decidedly interesting. An enrollment very encouraging to the promoters of the organization was secured and indications are the membership will grow rapidly. The class meets each Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in the Woodmen hall and all men have a standing invitation to attend. There is no charge of any kind—it is all free.

CLUB MEETING

The M. W. Club met with Mrs. Clyde Hudson Tuesday afternoon and a very pleasant time was spent in a guessing contest and forty-two, after which delicious refreshments were served by the charming hostess. Everyone expressed themselves as spending a very pleasant afternoon.

Mrs. Dr. Huddleston was an invited guest.

The next meeting of the club will be held with Mrs. Carroll Lowrie the third Tuesday in February.

WARE IS CONVICTED

Senator R. P. Conner was here from Brownwood Monday, meeting his friends and looking after some business matters.

T. F. Toland was called to Temple Monday on account of the serious illness of his mother, whose death occurred Wednesday morning.

Messrs. Leineweber, Frailey and McCormick were among the prominent men of Mullin who looked after business in this city the first of the week.

Dr. M. L. Brown was here from Brownwood last Saturday, attending the meeting of the stockholders of the Brown Telegraph and Telephone company.

The best posted people are those who are constant readers of the Eagle. It is not reasonable to expect one to be posted on local events unless they read their county paper.

Presiding Elder Cowan was here from Lampasas last Sunday night and preached in the Methodist church. He is expected here this evening to hold the second quarterly conference for the church.

It was our privilege and pleasure this week to fraternize with Ben Geeslin three days. He is an influential citizen of Goldthwaite and a friend we have known for more than a decade. There is no better man than Ben Geeslin. We also remember his illustrious sire who has long since passed to his reward. There is no greater pleasure to us than to meet friends of other days.—Copperas Cove New Era

SMILING BILLIE

Editor Eagle:

Your light, not my light, is what should most concern you. Your way, not my way, should first command your best efforts and most serious thought. If you are teaching and the little salary at the end of the month or term is the largest thing in your eye, you had better quit teaching. If your ideas of life fail to reach out beyond your own little selfish self, you had better seek for another vision of life and unfurl your sails with the hope some breeze may start you on a useful voyage to a life of unselfish usefulness. If you can't laugh or at least hand out a smile occasionally, you had better get behind the door and tinkle yourself with a thorn bush. Of course, I mean this for men and boys, for women and girl gingers don't need thorn bushes to start them to chee-hee-hee-in. Now, I don't mean this for those correspondent girls, for I don't know them and the editor won't tell me who they are. They think they know who I am, if they do I will know before the year is gone. Since I come to think, I don't know so well about that, for January has gone and not a nibble. Wonder if any of the other boys got a bite. If something don't happen this year I am going to the trenches with Mutt and Jeff and declare war against—against leap year—

I mean against—against everybody—No, I don't mean that. I mean I will love the girls and old maids next year fit to kill and pay them back for not making use of leap year. I know a few who want to, but they don't know when, when and how to begin. Isn't that a pity? Shell down the corn ye backward ones, pitch a few grains over this way and try your luck. Of course I don't expect you to notice Smiling Billie specially, but these other boys out this way, who have so anticipat-ly waited four years for another leap year, need some encouragement. Now if you should start out and come this way you are perfectly welcome to stop and—and—and get a drink of water and I will sure tell where and who the other boys are. I always did like to help people out of trouble; (wish some one would think that way about me). It's up to you, I've spent the force of my argument until someone comes to argue with me. Now, Mr. Editor, if these solicitating, expectating, hum-flating, and most earnestating remarks don't bring results, I will do my level best to try to find out the whereabouts of Mother's Dish-washer. Respectfully,

SMILING BILLIE

POLL TAX PAYMENTS

The number of poll tax certificates issued by the tax collector up to the night of Jan. 31 was somewhat in excess of the number issued up to the same time last year, which is encouraging. A great many more, however, would have paid but for the disagreeable weather, which prevented them reaching the collector's office during the last days of January. Following is a list of poll tax and exemption certificates issued for the various voting boxes:

LAMPASAS

The land upon which the new Presbyterian church is to be constructed has been staked off, and dirt will probably be removed within a short time in making the excavation necessary for the foundation.

Work has already begun on the second story of the Townsen building, which will be extended upon the walls already in existence something like sixty feet in addition to the two-story part now in existence.

Miss Ola Ringer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Ringer, of the Nix settlement, was married in the waiting room of the H. & T. C. Thursday, January 20, to Clarence Henry, of McDade, Bastrop county, Judge John Nichols conducting the marriage ceremony.

There are three cases of smallpox on the Lampasas river, in the neighborhood involving the Mount Pleasant school, which has been suspended on account of the disease. Two children of Will Ellis are afflicted, and one case is in the family of L. F. French. The cases are all doing well, one of the Ellis children having about recovered and there are no serious symptoms in the other cases. A strict quarantine is being maintained, and there seems no danger of further spread of the disease.—Leader.

Phone me when you want gasoline or lubricating oil and I will be there with the goods promptly.—Fred Martin.

Prairie Queen Kitchen Cabinets are the latest word in that line. I have them in stock.—J. T. Weems.

A partial eclipse of the sun was visible here Thursday morning about 8 o'clock.

Floyd M. Spann, whose likeness adorns the head of this column, is to be the District Judge of the Twenty-seventh judicial district, composed of the counties of Bell, Mills and Lampasas. He succeeds Judge Jno. D. Robinson, whose resignation was recently filed in order that more time might be given to his candidacy for congress, from this district.

The appointment comes through Governor Ferguson, and in making his selection he proffered the place to a man whom he knows will reflect honor on the position. Moreover, in explanation of the selection, as logical, it is to be stated that Judge Spann besides being an ardent supporter of the Governor in his historical campaign, has for a number of years been the attorney for the bank of which Governor Ferguson was president, and that in the many business relationships requiring assistance of a competent lawyer, the Governor entrusted same to this young man whose qualifications he has such good reasons for understanding.

The appointee is not to be judged alone, in his abilities to "make good" as District Judge, by his relationships to Governor Ferguson. For ten years he has been practicing his profession in Temple, with success from the beginning, and with increasing clientele which covers the entire field of practice. Many business firms and concerns of magnitude entrust to him their legal affairs and his face is familiar in the court rooms of the courts of the municipality, the precinct and county, the district and the higher courts. A large and constantly increasing general practice attests not only his ability as a lawyer and advocate, but also his integrity as a man.

While on this subject it is but meek to state that Judge Spann is peculiarly fitted for judicial position. He is of that "temperament," and while a man of convictions which he does not attempt to conceal for party's sake—he possesses in remarkable degree the disposition to be fair, and to be open to reason. He most admirably is qualified to dispense justice in broad-minded consideration of the facts in the case, the law governing and the underlying plain purposes and intents of the statutes.

Free from all political entanglements and partisan bias, he will occupy the highest position in the district without having ever passed through a campaign of vote soliciting. He has never been a candidate for office, and such alignments he has made in friendships have been based on personal worth of those whom he has taken into his closer regard. As a citizen devoted to the higher and nobler aspirations of community life and as a man of personal cleanliness in habits and thought, the new judge stands without a superior. He is honored as a man by all who know him, and this high esteem extends to the Bell county bar, of which he is an honored member, and his elevation is received by his fellow-lawyers with warm approval.

Concerning the duties of the office which is for future revelation, it may yet be assured that the evil-doer will find scant comfort at Judge Spann's hands. He is a man who believes in enforcement of law, and who holds the judiciary as the chief protection of the people against the encroachments of anarchy on the one hand and the absorption of power by financial interests on the other. He is for the law, in interpretation which shall safeguard the body composite and the individual rights as well.

BIOGRAPHICAL.

Floyd M. Spann if of southern ancestry, born 25 years ago of parents who came from the rock-ribbed states of North Carolina and Alabama. Left fatherless at an early age he was apprenticed to a carpenter under whom he attained to full journeyman skill. Ambitious to study law, he afterwards taught school which gave him the opportunity to pursue his law studies. In 1905 he came to Temple and entered into the practice of his profession, a studious, painstaking and conscientious disciple of the noble calling. In his efforts and in the home, on the streets or in the court room, he is the affable, pleasant companion always, and nature, for he has never had occasion to and would not seek popularity beyond that which should come from right conduct.

Bell county presents to the sister counties of the district this red-blooded young judge, in fullest confidence that when the neighbors come to know him as he is known at home, there will be not only commendation of the Governor's choice but congratulation that the position so honorably and capably filled by a predecessor is to be continued a bulwark of safety of society—a tribunal from which shall come an added glory to the free institutions of America.—Temple Telegram.

The mantle of Judge John D. Robinson falls worthily in the above appointment, and we have no doubt will be quite satisfactory to the bars and litigants of the courts in the several counties composing the district.

For eleven years he has practiced in the courts of Bell county and has held a position among her most able and brilliant lawyers.

As a man, it is superfluous in Bell county to dwell on that point; F. M. Spann measures up to the full requirements of American manhood, has often been weighed in the balances and was never found wanting.

To play well the part that Judge Jno. D. Robinson has played (none better) in the courts of the district, will be no easy task but Judge Spann, able and efficient, will serve his district well, a credit, as he has always been, to himself and to Bell county.

The Evening News congratulates Judge Spann and the Twenty-seventh Judicial District.—Belton Evening News.

The news of Judge Spann's appointment was received with satisfaction by the bar and numerous friends.

Judge F. M. Spann is one of the best known citizens of Temple and he has friends all over the district, composed of the counties of Bell, Mills and Lampasas. He is 35 years of age and has been a citizen of Bell county for 11 years. In 1905 he was admitted to the bar and has enjoyed a good practice since that time.

Personally Judge Spann is a clean man, a progressive citizen and he is worthy of the confidence that has been bestowed upon him by the Governor. He is well qualified in every way to make the district a splendid judge. Self educated, having been left fatherless at the age of 12, he worked his way through school and on up until he has obtained distinction at the bar.

Judge Spann married in Bell county, he has taken an active part in all the progressive movements of the city and is well liked by the people.—Temple Mirror.

FIFTH SUNDAY MEETING

The Baptist fifth Sunday meeting was held with the Goldthwaite church beginning last Friday night and continuing thru Sunday. Notwithstanding the inclement weather, there was a large attendance, especially on Sunday and the meeting was both pleasant and profitable.

During the meeting collections were taken for the educational campaign and subscriptions aggregating $338 were secured for the fund.

Many of the discussions were beneficial, while the sermons were appreciated and heard by large congregations. The reports and discussions proved that the members of that great denomination were in earnest in their work and were making strong efforts for the temporal and spiritual good of the people.

AN APPRECIATED ORDER

One of the largest orders the Eagle has ever received for stationery came the first of the week from Mr. J. D. Faith, proprietor of the Oriental hotel of Temple. The order was filled promptly and we trust to the complete satisfaction of the gentleman who favored us with it. Mr. Faith formerly lived in Goldthwaite, where he is still very popular and held in high esteem and one of the reasons for his popularity is that he does not forget his friends. Mills county people who visit Temple should remember the Oriental hotel is the place conducted by Mr. Faith and they can be sure it is well conducted and its customers are well cared for at all times.

The cold wave was detrimental to small grain crops in almost every section.

Secretary of the Treasury, Wm. G. McAdoo, who is also a son-in-law of President Wilson, will visit Dallas and Fort Worth next week. Mrs. McAdoo, who is the president's youngest daughter, will accompany her husband on the trip.

Floods in the southern portion of California have done an immense amount of damage and many people have lost their lives in the overflows. The giving way of a dam of the San Diego water system sent a wall of water thirty feet high thru the Otey valley.

President Wilson is making a campaign explaining his plans for national preparedness and appears to be making converts to the doctrine. In fact, few people oppose the plan outlined by the president when they understand that it is proposed to prevent war rather than bring about war.

The state Democratic executive committee has announced that no presidential primary election will be held in Texas this year, unless the committee is forced by the action of some court to order such primary. If the election is held the expense will have to be paid by the counties in which they are held and this will be burdensome and altogether unnecessary.

The state agricultural department warns the farmers that the price of cotton will likely reach the lowest point ever known next fall, provided, of course, the increased acreage made likely by freezes and other causes really develops. However, the department thinks a fair price and perhaps a high price may be realized if the acreage is reduced below that of last year.

President Wilson surprised applicants for the position to be filled on the supreme court of the United States by appointing Louis D. Brandeis of Boston to the place. Brandeis had not been mentioned as one of the possibilities and few expected him to be named. He is above 60 years of age, is a Jew and a native of Kentucky, while he has made his home in Boston for a long time.

Governor Ferguson announced last Saturday the appointment of Judge Floyd M. Spann of Temple to be district judge in place of Judge John D. Robinson, resigned. Judge Spann has visited Mills county and is known to some of the people here, but his acquaintance in the county is not extensive. Judge Robinson will now devote all of his time to his congressional campaign. He is a candidate to succeed Congressman Henry and has several strong opponents.

A special from Lansford, Pa., says that the famous mine fire which has been raging now for more than sixty years and which started at Summit Hill, near the spot where Philip Ginter discovered anthracite coal in 1791, has burned through the immense concrete wall which the Lehigh Coal and Navigation Company sank in front of it several years ago at a cost of more than $1,000,000. It now is threatening the mammoth vein in the Panther Creek Valley, the largest and richest vein of anthracite in the world.

An estimate has been made by the Dallas News on the voting strength of the state, which shows to be approximately 650,000, which is a slight decrease from last year. The bad weather the last week of January is one of the causes for the decrease, many men having postponed the payment of their poll tax until the last days of the month and then were unable to get to the collector's office, owing to the cold and mud. The experience will likely be beneficial to them in the long run, for they will know better than to wait till the last moment to perform a duty that is of so much importance to them.

MOTHER'S DISH WASHER AROUSED

Editor Eagle: My! My! Is this all a dream or is it really true that Billie meant Dish Washer also when he said 'you girls.' Anyway, I went right to mother when I read Billie's letter and asked her what Billie meant by 'leap year.' Well, she was feeling a little worried at my slow motion of getting the breakfast dishes washed and told me she had no time for explaining such foolish questions, so I consulted a dictionary for its meaning. Turning the pages quite a number of times I decided Webster had failed to tell its meaning or else I had failed to find it and put the book aside. Picking up a paper with the hope of some information from its columns, I found a little verse that read like this: 'To the lonely heart broken maids who sit so lonely eyes dimmed with tears, cheer up and make use of the grand leap year.' Well, not much could I get from that, but still farther down the column the poem was completed thus: 'When in this year you maids are granted the pleasures to choose for yourself one of earth's valued treasures—a man,—well now I think I got the meaning of that, and as Billie says he is on the "leap" now, going around on foot instead of flying his airship. Well now what? Oh! well, I was just going to say as Billie is taking his pleasure trips on foot he is just more than "apt" to start for a nearer route on some of his journeys and right down through woods and over hills he is just "likely" to, yes just more than "apt" to walk right up to the back window of Dish Washer's home and of course she would be there, for her very slow motion is the cause for her still being in the kitchen washing dishes, that were used for serving the Xmas dinner.

Well, should she get a glimpse of Billie through the window, well then, what? Oh! well, I was just going to say then poor Dish Washer would be granted the long hoped and looked for opportunity to say:

'Take heed Dear Billie, turning no deaf ear to this poor blundering maids wishes, for she is so weary and tired of washing dishes.

In your writing you said: 'Ye correspondent girls listen to the still small voice that now is the time to make your choice,' and this is an attempt to relate to you I was once a correspondent too, and hope you will pay attention to me and not say I'm silly when my vote is cast toward "Smiling Billie," for as sure as leap year is here I shall vote that way despite what Dupli-Kate will say, for I am sure she's going to raise a howl and make every tantalizing remark she can when Billie says, 'I am Dish Washer's man.'

Best wishes to all, I am the same

IN MEMORY OF I. G. COLLIER

On Sunday evening, Jan. 16, 1916, at 6:45 o'clock the Death Angel spread its broad wings o'er our community and called from this world, Bro. I. G. Collier, a much loved and honored man by all who knew him.

Death called him across the rolling river into the Blessed Eternity, where he is now at rest and it is sweet to know that he is sleeping the peaceful slumber, which comes to all of God's children when He has called them to dwell with Him forever. It is sweet to know that he was prepared to meet God in peace and now rests in the everlasting arms of Jesus, where we shall all clasp his hand and shout praises unto God, who gives life eternal. When our work below is o're and we have crossed the deep valley and shadow of Death and passed into Eternity.

There is a face missing at our Sunday school and no one feels the loss any greater than I, but I find consolation in knowing that he is at rest. We all will miss his welcome smile and kind words, but we can praise God that he is where sorrow and pain are unknown.

So dear mother and children, weep not. Look to God for comfort, for your loved one is happy in a Saviour's love.

L. B. WALTERS,

IN MEMORY

Another life has gone out of this field of action, touched by the hands of God and borne to realms on high.

A life—pure and sweet budded, blossomed into beautiful youth and passed into eternity, is that of our dear friend and schoolmate, Miss Susie Harris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Harris of the Indian Gap country.

Susie was born Sept. 7, 1888, and on Friday afternoon January 14, 1916, her sweet spirit went back to the God who gave it. Her health had been failing for several months. After teaching one and a half months of her school in Hutchinson county, where she taught a very successful term last winter, she resigned as teacher and came home, where loving hands administered to her every need. She was treated in two different sanatoriums. Everything in human power was done to restore her health, but to no avail. A still small voice seemed to call her onward and upward. The sweet influence of her noble Christian life can never be forgotten. At the age of 18 she professed faith in Christ and was baptized and all who knew her can say that she was a true and devout Christian.

Susie was industrious, careful and possessed that lovely cheerful disposition that every one loves and admires. As a student she succeeded and graduated with credit from the Sam Houston normal at Huntsville, three years ago. In her desire for an education she was not satisfied to stop at the threshold. A higher education was the goal of her ambition, that when well equipped, it would mean the unfolding of a life of high purposes with ideal aims and worthy ambitions. She was very successful as a teacher. The boys and girls—the little minds she has trained—will feel her influence for years to come. The dark shadow cast over this home will long be as a storm cloud hanging heavily. The pain and anguish of her dear father and mother—the bitter heartaches of her brothers and sisters can not be fully realized except by those of us who have had to give up loved ones.

To the dear bereaved we would say, trust your sorrow to the Supreme Ruler of heaven and earth. He who comforteth all grief-stricken will also comfort you in your sad hours. He who saw fit to call your loved one to a brighter world than this will carry you through your sad affliction if you'll only look to him for comfort.

On Saturday afternoon, January 15, the casket of baby blue plush bearing the girlish form of our beloved friend was placed in the altar of the Baptist church at Indian Gap, while Bro Bagley spoke in solemn and pathetic words of her life suffering and death "Safe in the Arms of Jesus" "Rock of Ages" and other appropriate songs were sung as the last sad tribute, after which the great throng of sorrowing relatives and friends followed to the cemetery, where the remains were laid to rest, till the trump of God shall sound.

"But now, alas; the place seems changed; Thou art no longer here; Much of the sunlight of our home, With thee did disappear; May God's richest blessings be upon the family. A FRIEND.

MULLIN

Editor Eagle:
Mrs. Mary Brockenbrough, wife of Uncle Jack, died January 31st and was buried in Oak View cemetery at 1 p. m., Feb. 1st. Funeral services conducted by Bros. Locks and Temp. In. Uncle Jack and Aunt Mary were among the early settlers of this section, both of whom won the esteem and friendship of those among whom they lived. Only those who have traveled the same lonely road know how to sympathize with Uncle Jack. May God's richest blessings attend the bereaved husband and children and enable them to live so as to compose a united family beyond this vale of tears. The beautiful flowers placed on the grave and the pop plants in full bloom at the head of the grave this very wintry day impressed us with the thought that death's chilly hand might bring sorrow and loneliness to our homes, but its power is too limitless to keep God's saints from blooming into eternal life where sickness and death will never come.

Mrs. Henry Barker, now in her 74 year, slipped and fell on the icy floor of their gallery last Friday morning and broke the thigh bone close to the hip joint. At this writing she is doing remarkably well, considering her feeble condition and age. It seems this has been a hard winter on our old people, as many have been called to suffer by the hand of affliction and some have crossed the last river.

Notwithstanding the freezes and chilling winds of winter, which many feared had killed the oats and other small grain, the fields are greening up nicely and all fears for their present safety vanished.

Diversification in crops seems to be more firmly fixed in the minds of the farmers than ever before. We are sure that as this is put into execution we will be a more prosperous people. We sometimes think when the drouths are playing havoc with our crops and the hot winds playing their part in their destruction, that ours is a hard lot, but when we read and hear of the on rushing tides as they flow down the streams in other sections of the country destroying life and property we are content to live amid the hills at Mills and welcome the drouths, rather than overflows, washed lands destruction of property and death. We presume it is good policy to be content with our lot and make the very best of life. H. C. COBB

MRS. TOLAND DEAD

Mrs. S. A. Toland died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. D. K. Northington, in Temple Wednesday morning at 5 o'clock and her remains were brought here on the evening train and interred Thursday morning in the Odd Fellows cemetery, beside the grave of her husband, Mr. T. W. Toland, who died here about twelve years ago.

Mrs. Toland and family located in Goldthwaite in the early days of the town's history and Mr. Toland was one of the foremost business men of the town until the time of his death. A few years ago Mrs. Toland went to Temple to make her home with her daughters, while still maintaining her residence in this city. For several months her health had been poor and for the past few months her condition was known to be critical and the announcement of her death was not a surprise, but it caused since sorrow to all who knew the excellent lady.

Mrs. Toland was a devoted and consistent member of the Methodist church and her life was a blessing and an inspiration to all who were associated with her. She leaves one son and four daughters, besides a number of grand children and other relatives and to all of them the sympathy of the people goes out in their sad bereavement.

Funeral services were held at the home of her son, Mr. T. F. Toland, Thursday morning and were attended by a large number of the friends of the sorrowing family and the burial service was also largely attended, notwithstanding the very disagreeable weather.

MONUMENT SALE

A nice lot of Monuments and Markers at Close Prices. Can save you 15 to 25 per cent and give the very best material and the highest grade work. How? By eliminating the agent-commission-business, which means that amount saved for the buyer. Agents will tell you their firms can buy marble or granite cheaper than your home dealer and make you a better price, which is false and misleading, as we dealers pay exactly the same price for the same grade of stock. Figure with me before placing your contract, as I can save you money—and I guarantee my work. Will take Feed or Good Stock in trade.

HUSBAND RESCUED DESPAIRING WIFE

After Four Years of Discouraging Conditions, Mrs. Bullock Gave Up in Despair. Husband Came to Rescue.

Caron, Ky.—In an interesting letter from this place, Mrs. Bettie Bullock writes as follows: "I suffered for four years, with womanly troubles, and during this time, I could only sit up for a little while, and could not walk anywhere at all. At times, I would have severe pains in my left side.

The doctor was called in, and his treatment relieved me for a while, but I was soon confined to my bed again. After that, nothing seemed to do me any good, I had gotten so weak I could not stand, and I gave up in despair.

At last, my husband got me a bottle of Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I commenced taking it. From the very first dose, I could tell it was helping me. I can now walk two miles without my crutches, and am doing my work."

If you are all run down from womanly troubles, don't give up in despair. Try Cardui, the woman's tonic. It has helped more than a million women, in its 50 years of wonderful success, and should surely help you, too. Your druggist has sold Cardui for years. He knows what it will do. Ask him. He will recommend it. Begin taking Cardui today.

COMMERCIAL CLUB

The club met in regular session Tuesday night and many matters of interest to the town and county were discussed. The attendance was larger than usual and all those present appeared to be enthusiastic in the work.

Notice was given that an amendment to the by-laws would be offered at the next meeting, providing for a board of directors to be composed of seven persons, to whom all matters of interest are to be referred. The matter will come up at the meeting Tuesday night, Feb. 15, for final disposition.

A delegation was appointed composed of W. C. Dew, H. G. Bodkin, W. P. McCullough, L. R. Conroy and J. H. Randolph to attend the open meeting of the Farmers Union to be held at Liberty school house tonight. The purpose of this delegation is to lay certain matters before the members of the Union for their cooperation in fostering the interests of the county.

It was determined to bring before the next meeting of the commissioners court some suggestions for the improvement of the roads of the county and it is also likely the subject of everybody doing two days work on the road or paying $2 in cash for the purpose will be brought before the next meeting for final determination.

COMMENCEMENT PROGRAMS

Those interested in commencement programs and diplomas are invited to look over the Eagle's samples before placing their orders. No matter where they intend having the work done, they can see the proper styles and the proper prices, which will enable them to make their selections more satisfactorily, even though such selections are to be made elsewhere. The styles and designs for 1916 stationery of this character are the most elaborate and the most beautiful we have ever been able to display. We also take orders for engraved calling cards and other stationery engraving. Take a look at the samples in any event, for you will never see a prettier lot.

MUSICAL RECITAL

Mrs. Velma and Neita Cockrum gave a graduating recital in piano-forte in the opera house Tuesday evening, under direction of their teacher, Miss Nora Hooks, and assisted by a number of their friends with vocal and instrumental music. Miss Lucile Gresham graduated at the same time and diplomas were presented to the three young ladies by Prof. F. E. Norton. The audience was delighted with the entertainment and all were pleased with the excellent musical talent of the graduates and those assisting them.

MARRIED IN LAMPASAS

A wedding a little out of the ordinary occurred here Friday night, the contracting parties being J. W. Smith, Jr., of Goldthwaite, and Miss Eva Hines, of School creek, this county. Rev. J. G. Forester, of Goldthwaite, conducting the nuptials, the young people had planned to be married at the residence of Walter Walker, at which place the bride has made her home for several years, but the inclement weather caused a change of their plans and they met here by appointment, bridegroom bringing the minister with him. They left for Clifton, where Mr. Smith will have a jewelry store and the home will be there. Mr. Smith was said to be a gentleman of excellent character skilled in business and a splendid young man. His bride is a daughter of the late Dr. Hines, was reared and educated in this county and has many friends who will wish her success and happiness in her new relation and her new home surroundings.—Lampasas Leader.

The groom is a well known and popular young man who was reared in this city. He is a son of Mr. J. W. Smith and has a great many friends and well wishers here and elsewhere. He has formed a partnership recently with C. E. Anderson in the jewelry business at Clifton, where he and his bride will make their home. The bride is quite well known here, having spent the fall and winter in this city, where she has a number of relatives and many friends.

After the marriage the young couple left for Dallas for a short visit, after which they will return to Clifton.

D. A. HAMILTON

Albie Hamilton announces in this issue as a candidate for the nomination for Commissioner for precinct No. 3, known as the Mullin precinct, which includes the voting boxes of Mullin, Fisher and Priddy. Mr. Hamilton is one of the best known and most popular citizens of the Mullin country. He has lived there thirteen years and knows the conditions and needs of his precinct and the resources of the county as well. He is a careful business man and one that could be of benefit to the county as a member of the commissioners court. He has friends and supporters in all parts of his precinct and many well wishers on the outside.

PHONE OFFICE OFFICERS

The Brown Telegraph and Telephone company held its annual meeting in this city last Saturday and re-elected all officers and directors. The officers are: Dr. M. L. Brown, president; J. H. Wilson, vice-president; E. E. McGirk, secretary-treasurer. The gentlemen together with Dr. J. L. Herrington, J. T. Allen, Roy Simpson and C. B. Mohler constitute the board of directors.

A letter from Mrs. Rosa Stockton of San Jose, Cal., brings the pleasing information that her mother, Mrs. A. P. Carson, is now in good health. There has been a great deal of rain and cold in that part of California this winter, which detract from the delights of that climate. Mrs. Stockton and her family are well remembered by many friends here and in other parts of Mills county.

—If you are buying land require the seller to furnish you an abstract of his title, so you may know you are getting a good title. If you contemplate selling your land, have an abstract thereto prepared first, so you will know what kind of title you can make to it, as the purchaser is almost sure to want to know. I have the only complete set of abstracts of the land titles of Mills county and will make your abstracts for a reasonable charge and will help you cure your titles if defective.—E. B. Anderson.

IT'S SURPRISING

That So Many Goldthwaite People Fail To Recognize Kidney Weakness

Are you a bad back victim? Suffer twinges, headaches, dizzy spells?

Go to bed tired—get up tired? It's surprising how few suspect the kidneys.

It's surprising how few know what to do.

Kidney trouble needs kidney treatment.

Doan's Kidney Pills are for the kidneys only.

Have convinced Goldthwaite people of their merit.

Here's a Goldthwaite case: Goldthwaite testimony.

Kidney sufferers hereabouts should read it.

Mrs. Corlie Dickerson, Goldthwaite, says: "I have great confidence in Doan's Kidney Pills, as I have used them and they have benefited me very much. I have no objections to recommending Doan's Kidney Pills, as I believe they will give good results to anyone who needs a kidney medicine.

POMPEY CREEK

(Intended for last week)

Editor Eagle:

Almost everyone has recovered from the lagrippe and things are beginning to run smoothly again. Small grain is looking well, since the recent rains.

School is progressing nicely, but the enrollment is far too great for two teachers. We need a larger building, with not less than four good teachers.

Sunday school is flourishing, but the credit is all due our enterprising young people. Last Sunday's sickness prevented our faithful superintendent, Mr. John L. Gunter, from attending.

Not a married person was present, but our young people, nothing daunted, went ahead and conducted a successful Sunday school. Surely the parents of such young people as ours, should awake to their own responsibility and opportunity and try to help and encourage such wonderful ambition and talent.

Our young people have also organized a literary and debating society in connection with the school, which meets every Wednesday night. The subject for debate this week: "Resolved: that the U. S. should intervene in the Mexican war." Debaters: Misses Jessie Johnson and Esther Boulter and Messrs. Donald McDonald and Ernest Smith.

On the night of February 22 there is to be at the school house a box supper and play, "On the Streets." The proceeds are to be used in purchasing a new organ.

Mr. and Mrs. Jason Wilson of Muljin, were visitors in our community Sunday.

Mr. Tom Johnson, sr., of McGregor came in one day this week to visit relatives and look after property interests.

Dan Smith and family spent Sunday night at the home of his brother, Eliza Smith.

Miss McGregor late of Arizona, has returned to the home of J. S. Johnson after a visit to relatives elsewhere.

Mrs. Frank Hensley of Muljin, spent a week or two at the J. S. Johnson home, attending the sick. News is not scarce in our active community, but we fail to get it all.
