FROM WASHINGTON.

THE Tariff Commission as completed is composed of the following gentlemen: John L. Hayes, Massachusetts, Chairman; Henry W. Oliver, Pennsylvania; Austin M. Garland, Illinois; Jacob Ambler, Ohio; Robert P. Porter, District of Columbia; John W. Underwood, Georgia; Duncan F. Kenner, Louisiana; Alexander R. Boteler, West

Virginia; William H. McMahon, New York. JUSTICE BRADLEY, of the United States Supreme Court, on the 19th denied the petition for a writ of habeas corpus in the Guiteau case, thereby, it was believed, removing the last legal prop that Guiteau's counsel had to lean upon. The House, on the 21st, took up in committee of the whole the bill to reduce internal revenue taxation, and Mr. Kelly, of and never was seen again alive. His body Pennsylvania, explained the provisions of the bill. The bill in question proposed to the temple. make a reduction in the revenue of less than $17,000,000, to take effect immediately, and less than $6,000,000 to take effect the 1st of at hard labor in the Chester (Ill.) Peniten-May, 1883. Last year the Government had tiary. a surplus of $1,005,000. It had then collected $360,000,000 from all sources. This year it would collect over $400,000,000, and expenditures have been greatly reduced.

UNDER the bill authorizing the Secretary of the Treasury to report to Congress the claims of States and Territories for expenditures made in repelling invasion and suppressing Indian hostilities, Texas will claim about $1,500,000, Kansas about $240,000, $40,000, Colorado about $70,000, and Oregon about $50,000. In the House, on the 22d, Mr. Morrison of Illinois made a speech of some length in opposition to Kelley's bill reducing the internal revenue tax. He said the proposed bill reduced those taxes which were the least burden some while it retained those most burdensome. The Government had no surplus of $135,000,000. That was to say, if it were intended to pay the public debt when payable in the next ten years, the expenses of the Government would not average less than $150,000,000 per annum. The abolition of internal revenue meant an indefinite continuation of the public debt, and he was not in favor of it. Taxation was a privation, and he was for collecting the tax from articles that could be best spared, and a man could spare his tobacco and his spirits better than he could his sugar and his necessaries. Mr. Morrison's speech was considered of especial importance as outlining the probable course of the Democrats in opposition to the bill.

THE Senate on the 22d passed the Bank Charter bill, also the bill granting the Mississippi, Albuquerque & Inter-Ocean Railway right of way through the Indian Territory.

TRE EAST.

THE venerable David Thomas, founder of the iron industries of Pennsylvania, has just died at the age of eighty-eight.

A TERRIBLY destructive storm passed over the Eastern oil regions on the 19th. At Olean, N. Y., lightning fired two iron tanks of oil, one containing 35,000 and the other 30,000 barrels of oil. These tanks, although a mile apart, were surrounded on all sides by a city of these iron receptacles, and all were in immediate danger. In Bradford field about fifteen derricks and 3,000 barrels of crude oil went up in smoke. In Alleghany field eleven kegs and about 4,000 barrels went up as a sacrifice to the lightning. It is estimated that the storm has relieved the oil country of at least 75,000 barrels of cheap oil.

A SERIOUS casualty occurred recently at Boston Highlands, Mass., caused by the ourning of Remick's cotton waste mill. The building contained much cotton waste, which, being thoroughly soaked by water from the engines, became so heavy as to burst the walls, which fell. Nineteen firemen were buried beneath the falling debris, nine or ten being seriously injured.

W. H. GILDER, correspondent of the New York Herald, with the Rogers, reports from Lena Delta, under date of April 12, that the dead bodies of Lieut. De Long and ten of his crew were found on the 23d of March, near the wreck of the scow. The list includes Ambler, Collins, Kneek, Dressler, Gortz, Lee, Ivatsen, Boyd, Alexia and Ah Sam All bore traces of intense suffering and hardships. They were buried by Gilder's party, and a monument erected with the timbers of the wrecked vessel-

THE House of Representatives on the 24th adopted a concurrent resolution, reported by the Ways and Means Committee, for the final adjournment of Congress on July 10. THE Attorney-General, to whom all ap.

peals and petitions presented to the President bearing on the Guiteau case had been referred, on the 24th submitted an elaborate report to the Cabinet, reviewing all the points presented in favor of a respite, and recommended it be not granted, on the ground of the sanity of the prisoner, which had been fully established at the trial. The report was generally discussed and unani-mously approved by the Cabinet, all mem-bers of which were present. Guiteau was at once informed of the unfavorable decision by the Rev. Dr. Hicks, his spiritual adviser, and he is reported to have said in reply-" Go and see Arthur and shake your fist in his face. I tell you, Brother Hicks, I am God's man, and God takes care of his own."

A SEVERE torna lo swept through Northwestern Iowa, extending into Dakota, on the night of the 23d. The principal damage is reported at Hoopersville, fifty miles northeast of Sioux City, where a school-house and some twenty-five smaller buildings were destroyed. The course of the tornado appeared to be from west to east, and it swept a path about five miles wide for fif-teen miles. Eighteen freight cars of the Chicago, St. Paul & Minneapolis Railroad were turned upside down, most of them being torn from their trucks. The depot and adjoining warehouse were lifted from their foundations, and carried from ten to fifteen feet and badly wrecked. At Emmetsburg, the county seat of Palo Alto County, a number of houses were blown lown, and first reports were to the effect that there had been great loss of life, which fortunately proved to be untrue.

ADDITIONAL particulars of damage by the recent tornado continue to arrive. Atchison papers give the following: A family of three, traveling down the river, is reported drowned by the boat capsizing. A building belonging to G. R. Russell, of Laneaster, was blown down, and many orchards were destroyed. Near Pardee buildings were unroofed, trees uprooted and fields of grain laid low. At Good Intent the damage to stock was great, as barns and haystands went down like chaff, Mrs. I. N. Bridgeman mourning the loss of a fine barn. At Nestorville the chimney of a steam mill and two stables are down, thirteen houses are off their foundations and in most instances complete wrecks. Four houses in the country are blown down. From Gaylord report states that the hail was larger than hen's eggs and broke all the windows on the west side of houses; at the depot sashes were riddled and almost the entire roundhouse wrecked. Other damages to smaller houses are reported. At Meriden the water came down in torrents, destroying what the wind had left. About thirty buildings. embracing barns, sheds, cribs, lumber yards, stores and warerooms were either fully or partially wrecked, lumber broken into kindling and thrown all over town. Glass was found in all directions. The damage there must be upward of $10,000. William Livsey had fifty-five hogs killed by bail. The Floral Hall at the Fair Ground was demolished and the amphitheatre blown from its foundation. A case against a sitting Democratic member of Congress from the South which will fully justify his ejectment from his seat by the Republican majority in the present House of Representatives is very simple. The necessary conditions are that there shall have been some one in the district not a Democrat -not a regular Democrat at all events -voted for; that in estimating the strength of parties there is a possible majority against the Democracy; or that there are a majority of negroes in the district, and, finally, that the person voted for in opposition to the Democrat shall come up to Washington and ask to be seated. The case is substantially settled when these conditions are found. Every fact will be determined in favor of the contestant. > This is a grave aspect of our current history. Once let it be settled that what was intended to be and must be— I in its own party, elements of disaffection and in the midst of so much passion are among the most vital and difficult which can ever be presented for determination under our Constitution. The unseating of Members of the House of Representatives at any time is an exercise of power which that body should approach in a judicial spirit and with all the solemnity that becomes the ju-dicial office. The cases just passed on were of a peculiarly pregnant character. They invoved the control of the house. They were pivotal. Yet we witness the majority rushing on over all obstacles, establishing new precedents, not heed-ing, but refusing to even record the prosts of those whom they were overriding. Apart from the immediate consequences, which may be estimated according to the views of those affected, the example is one of broadest evil and situation one of great gravity. When such powers were used just subsequent to the war the fact was attributed to the unsettled state of the country, and the passions and exigencies of an era bordering on revolution. Events then did not constitute precedents. The condition of the States is now supposed to be normal. There is nothing to justify doubtful action. These considerations lend a peculiarly sinister coloring to the late proceedings of the House of Representatives—St. Louis Republican.

Feeble Glimpses of a Great Truth.

The New York Globe, organ of the colored folks, has some feeble glimpses of a great truth in the following:

of a great truth in the following:

"Pennsylvania's colored population of 85,35 is as completely ignored by the politicians as if it did not contain 30,000 colored voters, while the colored population of New York, numbering above 65,000 souls, with a voting force of 25,000, enters no more into the calculation of politicians here than if it was a disfranchised element. Massachusetts is the only one of these States, as far as we know, where a colored man has been honored with a seat in the Legislature. We live a state of masterly inactivity, and are as happy and unconcerned as though we were a simple lota. Here and there some restless soul wrings from the avaricious grasp of a ward politican a five-dollar bill for political services of a highly questionable nature; but on the whole the tide of favor flows over us us water slides off a duck's back."

A Providential Instrument, Perhaps.

"We declare our purpose to take up the work which fell when Garfield fell" says the fourth resolution of the platform adopted by the Independents of Pennsylvania the other day. "The work which fell" on the 2d day of July, 1881, was the mere beginning of a large contract, but we will give the Garfield Administration credit for having begun

it energetically. There was the taint of a previous unsavory Administration of which the Government had to be disinfected; there were hateful and obnoxious things lapping over, as it were, from three consecutive Administrations, that it was important to get rid of. It was not, in fact, until the inauguration of General Garfield that the work of reconstruction in a broad, National sense and in a plain, commonsense way, was really entered upon. But this was not all.

The newly elected Adminstration had, if our institutions are not to tumble to and antagonism to confront, which if it pieces—the popular branch of Congress were not possible to reconcile, it was at is a mere self-perpetuating body, and least necessary to crush, and it was one of the longest steps towards despot- right in the midst of this crushing proism or something else will have been cess, after it was found that all attempts taken. The very things which have at reconciliation were nothing more than been done in the past fortnight at overtures of surrender, that President Washington with so much arrogance Garfield fell by the shot of a Stalwartcrazed assassin and the end of his Administration, and all that it proposed to do or to undo, was draped in cypress and monographed in blood.

Great as the contract then was which came to this violent forfeiture, it has since become far greater and more formidable, as the Independents will find in their bold and aggressive ambition to renew and complete it. "We declare our purpose," they say, "to take up the work which fell when Garfield fell;" where but they should bear in mind that an Administration with which they have few sympathies in common-an Administration which embodies in its most intense and tenacious form the very reverse of their own ideas, has since been firmly seated in power. It is not only firmly seated, out it has succeeded in far more than nullifying or neutralizing what was done, or what the friends of Mr. Garfield claim to have been done in the interest of a better public service between the 4th of March and the 2d of July a year ago. It has even gone fur-ther, and to some extent at least has reinaugurated the methods and policies of a political regime, which, had it not been for the interposing fraud of 1876, the country would long since have outlived and forgotten.

The Independents, however, seem to be fully aware of the difficulties and responsibilities which crowd upon their new movement. They call for an abolition of the "spoils system" by a reformation of existing evils-for the recognition of the public service as a high and honorable trust instead of its prostitution to partisan uses-for the free and conscientious exercise of private judgment in political affairs, instead of the insolence, the proscription and the tyranny of "bossism" and "machine It is but too true that the rule of the "boss" and the "machine" a year's start of them, but their determination is none the less pronounced nor their courage in any wise abashed. •

It may be that they are the instruments of Providence in the salvation of the country and its restoration to that wholesome, honest, Democratic rule, which, hovering so near and yet so far, seems to require some phenomenally revolutionary force to effectuate its eventual triumph.

CHASE COUNTY OF TO-DAY.

NUMBER SIX.

STATE ROAD CROSSING OF THE COTTON WOOD, CHASE Co., KANSAS, June 3, 1882. To the Editor of the Courant:

Here I am again in this beautiful valley of the Cottonwood, this morning, and everything looks prosperous, in the line of creps. while on the north and south of the valley lay the great cattle ranges.

No doubt, Mr. Editor, you have heard men who were new settlers say that there was not enough tilable land in Chase county, and that hill farmers and garden-patch ownlaw county? if not, I will give you fellow, you are in town now; don't a few notes; they are different in you know it?" everything they do, from such

The new, stone school house is a grand looking building. It is two stories high, and all of dressed stone, and will compare well with any of the school-houses in the terious and dark menaces in regard Eastern States; but how well do I remember when the old, stone school-house was built. It opened up with a grand ball. How proud ter besmearing us with slime, it everybody was when it was build; says: "The cost of the abstract [of but a person passing it now, will say to himself: "There is no use for you now; nevertheless, you per-

Joe Ball and his tather built it in 1860, and, at one but as W. A. Morgan himself ad- time, it was used as a school-house, mits-notwitnstanding the fact that and, at another time, as a courthouse. There was fun here one time during a term of court; old Mr. Watson, of Emporia, was the Judg of this District then; it was the last day of court, a great many the certificate, if he will get the years ago, in the old log structure, County Clerk to certify that he has that the Judge said: "Mr. Sheriff, examined the bills presented to the adjourn this court sine die." The then Acting Sheriff, Col. W. S. Morgan during the latter part of Smith, sprang to his feet, with the air of a military officer, and, with a commanding voice, shouted: "Hear ye! hear ye! this honorable outfit is now shet!" Then there was confusion in the court room for a short time. Felix Hunt, a lawyer from Emporia, was hit upon the head with the "Statutes," while "Spaldevote his time to building up the ding's Treaties" flew across the room, in open shape, striking the wall and talling to the floor. The Judge rose to his feet, very reverently, and, shaking his finger very slowly, said to the Sheriff: "Wil liam, let not that occur in this court room again;" and the court adjourned. Like Tam O'Shanter, I take a peep into the ancient build ing, but I do not see faries; all I see is a quiet family living in it,

As I pass down the street, I look over to the left and I notice one or two mere of the old log buildings. Tom Lawless, of Diamond creek was the first person who carried the mail to this town. He says the first time he carried it he rode up to one of these buildings. There were four or five men standing in it was too hilly and rough, and the front of where John Loy lived, and herd-law papers would call us flint- he enquired of them if they could direct him on the right road to Coters and tillers of a small amount of tonwood Falls. COURT-HOUSE.

I hear a great many say it is the finest court-house in the State; and, of course, we in Chase feel proud ing the first room I notice on the right is the County Treasurer's office, and that enterprising man, J. S. Shipman, is the Treasurer. Mr. Shipman is one of our kind, benevolent men. He says that when times are a little tight he tolls heavier in the mill; but he does not mean that he would rather give one a bushel of wheat than to cheat a person of it. He is a good officer.

The next office is that of the County Attorney, T. H. Grisham. Whenever I see him I can not but think of the January night in 1879, when Jim Wilson, a pedestrian, was doing some tall walking in Music Hall, and at the close of his walk all those who imagined themselves pedestrians had the privilege of the track, and the one who came out ahead was to receive a silver medal. Four or five of us took the track. I suppose, Mr. Editor, you knew the German barber, George Hofer, who was here then; he was one of the walkists. The hall was full and so were some of the walkists. After getting everything in good shape the band struck up some patriotic air, and we all lit out. There were not many laps HATSAND CAPS made when the audience became ery excited; some were shouting: 'Foul!' while others were shouting: "Go ahead; run!" but all went well until the barber ran against the stove and fell prostrate to the floor. Parties standing close by went to his assistance, and carried him off the track; and, oh, heavens, what a face he made! He looked as if he had been run over by an iron-tooth harrow. As for myself, I felt the effects of that night for a month after. Mr. Grisham came out victorious; but I do not know whether he got the silver medal or

CITY AND COUNTY NEWS.

A Card from Mr. Henry Judd. STRONG CITY, June 21, 1882. To the Editor of the Courant:

The truth has been so much warped and twisted, and so many point-blank falsehoods have been told about me and my affairs, by a couple of young fellows calling themselves gentlemen that in justice to my friends and myself, I ask you to publish the following statement of facts in the case:

Now for their statement, No. 1, in regard to Lillie: I took her to the Falls, and placed her in the charge of a lady whom I know to be in every way qualified to give her the care and training, which only a lady could give her, and also because I had previously made up my mind to do so upon the advice of friends, and then notified the Probate Judge of her whereabouts and my desire to resign as her guardian, and not on account of the scurrilous attacks made upon me, nor to evade an examination into the circumstances. which examination was made by the proper authority at my request, and at woich examination Lillie told the exact truth, and fully vindicated me and gave the LIE direct to their statement No. 1.

Now for No. 2 in regard to Archie: First, the reason I did not leave the family. two little ones to take care of themselves and hunt him up, was because I was not his guardian, and also because I did not feel inclined, since only a few days before he ran away, I had offered him eighty acres of land, a good team and the necessary tools to work with, if he would stay with me until of age, which offer he accepted, and boasted of it to several persons, but seems to have changed his mind and became a rover.

Secondly, because his leaving home was nothing new, as he had done so five times before, and each time I had settled the bill demanded by the parties who brought him back. He would leave as soon as warm weather came the spring, yet was perfectly willing to be cared for and kept warm in the

And, lastly, because he was perfectly able to take of himself, and was mentally much better qualified to do so than either of the gentlemen who claim to feel such an interest in his welfare, for in a school examination he would knock the spots off from either of them, and the fact that Archie has been seen by several prsons since he left home who can testify that he was sound in wind and limb, gives the LIE direct to their statement No. 2.

And now, Mr. Editor, for No. 3, the meanest and blackest lie of all. In regard to the lady, whose memory they have insulted and whose name they profaned by speaking it with their ly-ing tongues, had she been here to refute their slanderous lies, they would have slunk off, like a pair of whipped curs, glad to escape the looks of scorn and contempt which she, as a lady, would have considered them worthy of.

As for myself, I will only say, the ONE thing they could do me was to villify me, and such as THEY may ALL my villifiers be. More if needed. Yours, HENRY JU HENRY JUDD.

HOW IT WAS.

COTTONWOOD FALLS, KANSAS, June 26th, 1882. To the Editor of the Courant:

DEAR SIR, Having been accused as a member of the committee to visit the people of Strong City for the purpose of effecting a union of of those people' in our report, I have only to say, we did nothing of the kind; we gave the actions as they occurred, in full, a thing which their reporter failed, most signally. to do. The report sent to the people through the Independent con- try will please to call early. sists simply of this:

Mr. Timmons arose and said they would like to have an equal representation in all the committees-or, in other words, that they would like to have our committees duplicated with Cottonwood Falls men. "It was moved that we have a union Fourth of July Celebration;" which was amended so as to read: "That we have a union celebration, and that the grounds which have been selected be the place where the celebration shall be held." Carried.

The Cotton wood Falls delegates arose and said, in substance, they hall. "This and nothing more." The facts are that Mr. Timmona told those gathered that we wanted to unite with them on the Fourth, and would like to have an equal number of men from our town placed upon each committee, and, for fear some one of the committees would tive man from the country on each committee, and, further, if they would do this, our people would have nothing to do at night and let anybody go out of my store unite with them in their fire-works empty handed. J. W. FERRY. and in dedicating their new Hall.

Then it was moved, not to have a union celebration, but a union county celebration, and amended as stated by the Independent, and carried. One of the gentlemen who has accused the committee of misrepresenting, said, on that night: point some fine-haired gentleman from the country on each committee, and have him decide the celebration should be held at the Fair Grounds." Thus, not only refusing to unite in a county pienic, but saying, in substance, there was no man in the country they could trust to give an impartial verdict: and as the committee wanted to have a celebration in which the country people could feel an interest with them, they recommended a county pienic. I have written this that the committees of the two towns may stand in their proper ight before the county.

Respectfully, A MEMBER OF COTTONWOOD FALLS COMMITTEE.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE.

The most successful remedy ever discovered, as it is certain in its effects and does not blister. READ PROOF BELOW.

Opeonts, New York Jan. 6 Early last summer Messrs. & Co., of Enosburg Falls, Vt half column advertisement for one the ones who never enquire around and find out where they can buy from the firm a quantity of books, entitled Or Kendall's Treatise on the Horse and his Diseases, which we are giving to ad-vance paying subscribers to the Press, as a premium.

About the time the advetisement first appeared in this paper Mr. P. G. Schermerhorn, who resides near coder's, had a spayined horse; he read the advertisement and concluded to test the efficacy of the remedy, a though his friends saughed at his credulity; he bought a bottle of Kendall's Spayin Cure and commanced using it on the horse in accordance with the directions, and he a premium in accordance with the directions, and he informed us this week that it effected such a complete cure that an expect horseman who examined the horse recently, could find no trace of the spayin or the place where it had been located Mr Schermerhorn has since secured a copy of Kendall's Freatise on the Horse and his Diseases, freatise on the Horse and his biseases, which he prizes very highly and would be loth to part with at any price, provided he could not obtain another copy. So much for advertising reliable articles.

DR B J KENDALE & CO., Gents:—I think it my outy to render you my thanks for benefits and profits which I have derived from your invaluable and far famed $1 ay-in cure. My cousin and I had a valuable stallion, worth $4,000, which had a very bad spavin and was pronounced by four emi-rent veterinary surgeons, beyond any cure, and that the horse was done forever. As a last resort I advised my cousin to try a bot-tle of Kendall's Spavin Cure. It had the magical effect; the third bottle cured it, and dressed by 'Squire Kelley and oththe horse is as well as ever. West Enosburg, Vt, Feb 15th, 1881. -Dr B J Kendall & Co, Gents; --Several months ago I injured my knee joint which caused an enlargement to grow the size of a large walnut and caused me very severe pain all the time for four or five weeks, when I began to use Kendall's Spavin core with the most satisfactory results. It has entirely removed the enlargement and stopped the lameness and pain. I have long known it to be excellent for horses, but now I know it to be the best indiment for human flesh that I am acquainted with.

Kendall's Spavin Cure Is sure in its effects, field in its action as it does not blister, yet it is penetrating and powerful to reach every deep seated pain or remove any bony growth or other enlargements, such as spavins, splints, curbs, calous, sprains, swelling and any lameness and enlargements of the joints or limbs, or for rheumatism in man and for any purpose for which a limiment is used for man or beast. The proprietor of this celebrated medicine justly claims for it a superiority over all remedies ever offered to the public for the SAFE, CERTAIN, SPEEDY and PERMANENT cure of Ague and Fever, or Chills and Fever, whether of short or long standing. The above is a good likeness of Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., who shove all other human beings may be truthfully called the "Dear Friend of Woman," as some of her correspondents love to call her. Sho is zealously devoted to her work, which is the outcome of a life-study, and is obliged to keep six lady assistants, to help her answerthe large correspondence which daily pours in upon her, each bearing its special burden of suffering, or joy at release from it. Her Vegetable Compound is a medicine for good and not evil purposes. I have personally investigated it and am satisfied of the truth of this.

On account of its proven merits, it is recommended and prescribed by the best physicians in the country. One says: "It works like a charm and saves much pain. It will cure entirely the worst form of falling of the uterus, Leucorrhoea, irregular and painful Menstruation, all Ovarian Troubles, Inflammation and Ulceration, Floodings, all Displacements and the consequent spinal weakness, and is especially adapted to the Change of Life."

It permeates every portion of the system, and gives new life and vigor. It removes faintness, flatulency, destroys all craving for stimulants, and relieves weakness of the stomach. It cures Bloating, Headaches, Nervous Prostration, General Debility, Sleeplessness, Depression and Indigestion. That feeling of bearing down, causing pain, weight and backache, is always permanently cured by its use. It will at all times, and under all circumstances, act in harmony with the law that governs the female system.

It costs only $1. per bottle or six for $5., and is sold by iruggists. Any advice required as to spe the names of many who have been restored to perfect health by the use of the Vegetable Compound, can be obtained by addressing Mrs. P., with stamp for reply, at her home in Lynn, Mass.

For Kidney Complaint of either sex this compound is insurpassed as abundant testimonials show. Pinkham's Liver Pills," says one writer, "are the best in the world for the cure of Constipation, Biliousness and Torpidity of the liver.
