Miss Bettie Lee Jackson of Austin spent Sunday with home folks and returned to the Capital City Monday.

Frank Taylor, who is with one of the hardware companies in Brownwood, spent Sunday here with home folks and friends.

Sam Frizzell of San Saba spent Sunday here visiting relatives and meeting his friends. His wife and children had been here several days visiting.

Miss Ora Gotcher, one of the popular and efficient operators in the Rural exchange, has returned from a visit to relatives in Collin county and in Louisiana.

On account of the wrecking of a freight train near Nolanville Sunday the west bound passenger train, due here at 7 o'clock Sunday evening, did not arrive until 4 o'clock the next morning.

Rev. J. T. Weems was here from Mullin Sunday. He endeavored to go to Center City and Star to preach, but found the road impassable and was forced to return to Goldthwaite, after getting pretty well bespattered with mud.

Rev. A. R. Watson preached at Big Valley in Mills county the second Sunday of this month. Rev. R. W. Bynum is again on the job as missionary of the Mills County Association. He is a good one and we rejoice in the work that he is doing. Rev. L. L. Hayes announces an all day singing at Trigger Mountain in Mills county, next Sunday. How I long to be there! But the roads are muddy. I am sure a great deal of joy and much good dinner will go to waste on account of my absence.—Central Messenger.

CITY COUNCIL

The city council held its regular monthly meeting Monday night.

A report of the committee authorized to ascertain the cost of building a cover for the water works boiler and other machinery was received with an estimate of $85 for the work, which was ordered built at once. The committee was also instructed to have the wooden ceiling taken out of the engine house, thereby reducing the insurance rate.

The contract with Harry Allen to serve as plumber for the water works system, under direction of the water works committee, was approved.

The city marshal was instructed to look carefully after the violation of the ordinance relative to the condition of pig pens.

Accounts for current expenses were audited and ordered paid.

SUPPLEMENTING THE ROLL

A citizen appeared in the city tax collector's office a few days since and stated he desired to supplement his tax rendition, as he had failed to render a note he held, which was in another town and he supposed it should have been rendered there, but finding that personal property should be rendered at the place of residence of the owner he wanted it entered here and had also requested the state and county collector to supplement the roll with the rendition. Mr. Conroy thinks perhaps there are others who have not entered their notes, because of forgetfulness or some misapprehension and he, therefore, suggests to all such that he has a large blank for supplementing the rolls and those who failed from any cause to make a full rendition can have an opportunity to remedy the oversight if they will call at his office in the basement of the court house.

There was a duel to the death at San Augustine last Saturday night between the sheriff of the county and a merchant he was attempting to arrest for drunkenness.

The coal miners union has declared a strike, which will of necessity cause an increased price for fuel in the larger cities and if it continues long it will cause much suffering for the lack of fuel. The government plans to aid in preventing interference with those who will continue to work or who will take the place of the strikers and this precaution will materially improve the situation.

The federal railroad administration is preparing to give way for the owners of the roads and already employes of the government railroad department have been notified to "keep an eye open" for another job. The administration has also released control of the freight shipments to the extent of allowing shippers to select their lines of transportation. It is claimed that all roads in the United States will be under private management by Jan. 1.

David Lawrence says that the principle of respect for laws and courts is the real issue involved in the great strike. Respect for the laws and the courts should prevail everywhere. Even the food monopolists and profiteers of America should be taught a wholesome respect for the laws and the courts. There should be one law for all—for the rich and the poor, for the capitalist and the toiler, for the employer and the employe. Government represents, or should represent, all classes and conditions of men who are its creators. All are interested in the institutions of government. Should the government fall anarchy would follow. Where anarchy prevails pandemonium reigns.—Fort Worth Record.

NO DEMOBILIZATION FOR AMERICAN RED CROSS

There is no demobilization in sight for the American Red Cross. Americans are fairly familiar in outline with its war record. Every American ought to be proud of it. Money alone, no matter in what prodigious quantity, could not have produced the war services of the Red Cross. Money alone was the smaller factor. A great quantity of individual human intelligence and enthusiasm was necessary. The armistice put no period to some of the work which the world had come to expect from this concern and for which it was the best available agency. It had the organization and experience to do many things that still needed doing and that nobody else could do so well.

Of course there will always be an American Red Cross. Its morale ought always to be a wartime morale. Whoever is looking for a morale equivalent for war—that is, for an opportunity for unselfish, whole-hearted devotion to a high cause—need not be discouraged because the slaughter is over with. He can enlist in the Red Cross' bloodless fight to alleviate human suffering. There may be a considerable number of demobilized and unsettled young men who are more or less definitely looking for an opportunity which the Red Cross can now offer them; for the organization's chief need just now is men.

As one of its national officers puts it: "The prime difficulty which we face is the one which the country and the world faces: It is to find men of the right experience and character to do the work."—Saturday Evening Post.

The gin and oil mill at Waxahachie burned Monday night entailing a loss of $50,000 above insurance. This was said to be the largest gin in the world.

A hearing of the charge against W. E. Pardue, public weigher at this place, that he was collecting excessive fees for weighing cotton, was held Monday and resulted in a judgment against him, removing him from the office. Thru his attorneys he gave notice of appeal to the district court. The commissioners, before whom the trial was held, appointed W. L. Burks to fill the office, but he has not yet entered upon the duties.

ELECTION RETURNS

Returns from Tuesday's election are not in from all of the boxes in the county, and consequently no full report can be given. From the ten boxes reporting it is evident that every proposition was defeated in this county and some of them by a heavy majority. As an example: Every box so far reported gave a big majority against the road bonds, while the proposition to allow a special tax for public buildings, etc., as well as the one providing for a constitutional convention received a majority on the negative side from every box. The Confederate pension was given a majority at Goldthwaite, while at Star and Rock Springs it was a "stand off." The amendment allowing Galveston to issue bonds for harbor improvements was given a majority at Goldthwaite and Rock Springs and a "stand off" at Star, the other boxes giving a majority against it. For a division of the University and A. & M. college affairs Rock Springs gave two majority, while the other reporting boxes went against it. The division of funds with convicts was defeated in all boxes reported except Rock Springs, where there was an equal number of votes.

If the boxes yet to come in maintain the record of those already reported, the county will be about in line with other counties in the state.

GRAHAM COMING

Oscar Graham, whose plays have been seen here for many years past, will present his latest offering, "The Sun Dodger." The title may not convey a great deal but titles don't as a rule. Two years ago, when he presented "My Country 'Tis of Thee," that title gave no hint of anything save our wonderful and beloved national anthem. The play was not written around the song, but as the play was a most inspiring and timely war-drama, which should have made any American a better American for having seen it, therefore, the first line of a wonderfully inspiring national poem made a very appropriate title for it. In "The Stumbling Block," one had no means of telling what the "block" was, or who or what was going to stumble over it, or whether there was to be in evidence a real block of something or other, or if it was merely a symbolism. One might have had a thousand guesses and not arrived at what the title was meant to convey. The play, however, revealed a splendidly constructed comedy-drama, with a special message in every way appropriate to that particular time. And so with "A Prince Of His Race," "The Higher Law," "The Prodigal Son," "The End of the Trail" and all the rest of Mr. Graham's plays, we find titles which convey a great deal more than appears on the surface.

Lots of action, a large amount of mystery, a few very dramatic moments, a plot and situations that are in every way plausible are some of the characteristics of "The Sun Dodger."

Being an Oscar Graham attraction the show is well staged and splendidly acted. It will be at the Crown next Thursday night.

On Friday night "The End of the Rainbow" will be presented. (Advertisement)

W. L. Stueck registered a kick this week because the Eagle stated he was from North Brown, when in fact Lake Merrett is the name of the place. That is a mighty good community and he is right about wanting it properly identified.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

One of the jolly occasions for the little folks was on Wednesday evening when little Jennie Adele Atkinson bade a number of her little friends to help celebrate her fifth birthday.

At four o'clock about thirty children had gathered and an hour of merry-making in the bright sunshine gave joy to the entire neighborhood.

A program of piano selections and humorous readings were followed by a feast of red cheeked apples and candy, after which the crowd was invited into the dining room which had been previously darkened and lighted only by five huge candles, representing the five bright years of her short life. The huge birthday cake was placed upon a plateau mirror in the center of the table and the children were asked to choose his or her piece of cake as they were cut, as there was a lucky dime in the cake, which would denote success to the finder. As the pieces were dealt little Jennie Adele was again crowned with success, as she found the dime.

Many beautiful gifts were brought to remind the little hostess of the happy occasion. Sunset called the wee tots home, each expressing themselves as enjoying a pleasant afternoon.

A GUEST.

MR. PEARCE DEAD

Mr. R. L. Pearce died at the home of Mr. W. T. Keese in this city Monday morning at 6:30 o'clock, after a long illness and his remains were laid to rest in the cemetery at this place Monday afternoon, a large number of sorrowing friends joining the bereaved relatives in the sad service.

Mr. Pearce made his home here with his daughter, Mrs. Keese, and family for several years and made friends of all with whom he came in contact. He was a Confederate veteran and a Christian gentleman whose memory will long be cherished by his acquaintances, friends and relatives.

He is survived by three daughters: Mrs. Mollie Cantrell of Alvarado, Mrs. Lou Boyd of Abbott and Mrs. W. T. Keese of this city, all of whom were at his bedside when the end came. He also has one son, whose home is in California and he could not be reached in time to come for the funeral. To all of the bereaved ones the Eagle extends sympathy.

For the actual money value the News reporter has had his attention called to the J. R. Polk persan tree reported in last issue of the News. J. L. Hendrick thrashed this tree and weighed up 850 pounds. He sold these pecans at 17 cents, thus bringing him $144.50 for the tree.

S. T. Taylor has about completed the tearing away of the old Doran barn on the north side of the square. He recently bought this property from W. F. Crawford of Estancia, New Mexico. A beautiful and substantial new building is to go up on this business front. A 50-foot front of brick by 100 feet back is to be the main front.

What apparently evidences the operation of a liquor distillery in this county was discovered one day last week by S. E. Roberson, who lives on the Cook farm nine miles above town on the south bank of the San Saba river. John H. Simmons left Friday for Camp Taylor, Kentucky, after having spent his furlough here, and at Austin with his parents. He has been in the regular army for several years, but has served his time out, and he hopes to receive his honorable discharge within the next few days.

The community was shocked Wednesday a few minutes after 12 o'clock on hearing of the death of Mrs. Elton Noble. Mrs. Noble's home was in San Saba, but she and her husband came here a few days ago, she to visit her sister, Mrs. Ben Peak, and Mr. Noble went on a business trip. Mrs. Noble had been suffering with asthma and called in the physician about 7 o'clock Wednesday morning, but as she was subject to asthma, no unusual uneasiness was felt, but she dropped dead a few minutes after twelve in the home of her sister, Mrs. Ben Peak. Mr. Noble was notified and arrived on the evening train of Wednesday. Her mother and relatives have been notified. The funeral services will be held Friday morning at 10 o'clock. Services will be held at the residence of Ben Peak and interment made at Oak Hill cemetery. Mrs. Noble lived here before her marriage and was well known as Miss Valie Applewhite. She leaves her husband and a son to mourn the loss of a wife and mother.—Leader.

CO-OPERATION OR CONFLICT?

The solution of our industrial problems lies in co-operation, or in conflict. Labor and capital have drifted too far apart, and the public interests are too inadequately safeguarded to leave any doubt of this. President Wilson merely left the darker side to the imagination when he declared that the time had come for the democratization of industry.

The conference recently assembled at Washington was born of a general realization that things could not go on much longer as they are without breeding serious trouble. It was encouraged by the thought that a basis of reconciliation could be found and the machinery for maintaining reconciliation could be created.

No one seems to have underestimated the gravity of the situation, but, as often happens, and as has happened numberless times in the past, there seems to be too prevalent an unwillingness to make the necessary concessions. A conference is obviously based on the idea of compromise, but human nature is such that compromise can not be obtained from one side only. It is, above all else, a give and take proposition.

The conference was divided into three groups, not only because three distinct parties were involved, but because it was believed that capital and labor could be materially assisted in getting together by the presence of public representatives. Capital and labor were recognized as the two parties most directly concerned, but the public, though indirectly concerned, was recognized as having most at stake, and consequently, as possessing the right to exercise a major influence.—Houston Chronicle.

BAPTIST WOMEN TO RAISE $15,000,000

FIFTH OF SUM SOUGHT IN FIVE-
YEAR PROGRAM WILL COME FROM THEM.

ARE DOING A LARGE WORK

Hospitals, Mountain Schools, Good
Will Centers and Church Building Funds Maintained by Them in Addition to regular Gifts.

Evidencing the larger sphere which women have come to occupy in church life, as well as other activities, when the Baptist 75 Million Campaign was decided upon at the meeting of the Southern Baptist Convention in Atlanta last May, the women, through their regular organization, the Woman's Missionary Union, at once agreed to be responsible for one-fifth of the sum sought, or $15,000,000. This means that the Baptist women of the South will raise for missions of all kinds, Christian education and benevolences, the sum of $3,000,000 a year for the next five years, in addition to their contributions to local enterprises and special work.

Through the channels of the Woman's Missionary Union, with headquarters at Baltimore, Md., the Baptist women of the South have since their organization contributed more than $5,000,000 in cash to various denominational purposes. With the addition of boxes of food and clothing sent to orphanages and other benevolent institutions, the total of their contributions through this channel has reached $5,719,132.71.

Miss Kathleen Mallory is the corresponding secretary of the Woman's Missionary Union, and in appreciation of the service she has rendered in that connection the Baptist women of Alabama have established the Kathleen Mallory Hospital for Women at Laihoh-Pu Shantung, China, Miss Mallory being a native of Alabama.

Women of many of the other states have also undertaken special enterprises of their own. Those of Georgia, for instance, established the Ayres Hospital for Women at Heanahet, China, a girls' school at Tamamoto, Japan, the Catherine Bryan Kindergarten School at Canton, China, and the Mary P. Willingham School for Girls at Blue Ridge, Ga., a school designed especially for the education of girls in the mountainous section of that state.

Many of the other state unions have special projects such as Good Will Centers in the tenement, factory and mining districts, where effort is made to bring more sunshine and enlightenment and love into the home and lives of needy families, especially those of foreign birth; church building funds, scholarships for young women who want to obtain training for special Christian service, and similar undertakings.

The general W. M. U., representing all the women of the Southern Baptist Convention, owns and operates the Women's Training School at Louisville, Ky., which has already sent out 60 trained women for special service in all parts of the world; and has established the Margaret Fund for the education in the Baptist schools of the South the sons and daughters of missionaries on the foreign fields, and the Fannie E. S. Heck Memorial, a church building fund established in honor of one of the greatest leaders Southern Baptist women have known.

But money for the support of these institutions as well as that for the payment of the women's pledge of $15,000,000 in the 75 Million Campaign, will be raised by the actual work of the women and through economy and sacrifice. Church fairs, bazaars, suppers, ice cream socials and the like, are frowned upon by the organized Baptist women of the South as unworthy means for raising funds for carrying forward the work of the kingdom of God and their contributions will not come from this source, it is announced.

THIS OAKLAND SENSIBLE SIX TOURING CAR IS POWERED WITH THE FAMOUS 44-H. P. OVERHEAD VALVE OAKLAND ENGINE

OAKLAND SENSIBLE SIX

THE steadily growing popularity of the Oakland Sensible Six among American farmers is due, primarily, to the capacity of this well made car for continuous and economical service. Even in those districts where roads are unimproved and garage facilities are few and far between, the Oakland keeps to its work day after day and month after month, quietly, competently, uninterrupted. It is a comfortable car, exceedingly roomy and easy-riding; and because of its high ratio of power to weight, its action is brisk and responsive. Only immense manufacturing resources and a production of unusual magnitude, make possible the very moderate price at which it is sold.

I will handle the Oakland Sensible Six with the Dodge Bros. cars and I will have some here next week for demonstrating purposes. Let me demonstrate this efficient Six to you. You will like it.

HIGH PRICES

The Eagle has been published for more than a quarter of a century and the paper upon which this issue is printed is the highest priced ever used for an issue. It cost one fourth of a cent more per pound than the highest price at which paper sold during the war. Yet, if advice received from jobbers and publishers' associations can be taken as anything like accurate we will be mighty glad to get paper at this price before this time next year. A meeting of the board of directors of the Newspaper Publishers association, held in New York this week, characterized the print paper situation as desperate and stated that the supply in sight and anticipated could not be expected to meet the demand. This committee called upon the International mills to pro rate paper to the consumers, thereby allowing all to have a limited amount. Some of the mills are already under contract for at least a part of their output, which makes the situation more serious.

Former secretary of the treasury and railroad administrator, Wm. G. He would not announce his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for the presidency, in an interview with a newspaper reporter, but what he did say left the impression that "Barkis is willin'" if the opportunity presents itself.

The ever popular Oscar Graham will be here two nights next week, supported by an excellent company. Full announcement appears in this issue. (adv)

The law allowing women to vote in primary elections in Texas, which was attacked in the district court at Waco and secured a favorable judgment, scored another point when the court of appeals this week refused an order requiring a statement to be filed with the appeal.

Strong cases of bubonic plague, two of which resulted in deaths, were reported last week in New Orleans, according to announcement by Dr. Oscar Dowling, president of the Louisiana board of health. Health officers of five southern states and of the cities of Memphis, Mobile, Shreveport and Baton Rouge were advised of the situation by Dr. Dowling.

R. M. THOMPSON - - Editor.

The steel company and owners of coal mines are serving eviction notices on strikers living in company houses. The union heads are very much incensed over the "outrage."

Nov. 11 has been proclaimed a holiday, as it is the first anniversary of the signing of the armistice in the world war. Surely it is a time worthy of commemoration and the date is well fixed in the minds of our people. It should be made a day of thanksgiving as well as joy.

The national congress is considering a bill to continue the federal control of the sugar supply during 1920. The world's sugar shortage is estimated at 2,000,000 tons over the pre-war demand, but it is believed the Cuban crop will materially reduce the shortage.

As fast as the court can submit the cases juries at Helena, Ark., are giving the death penalty to negroes implicated in the recent race riot in that section. The courts thought it mighty fine when they were assassinating white people and burning their property, but it is not so fine to them now.

It develops that American Consul Jenkins, who was kidnaped by Mexican bandits at Puebla, Mexico, and held for ransom was the victim of a well-known rancher and that his release was effected by his payment of his own funds and executing obligations for future payments to the bandit chief. The Mexican government made no attempt to secure his release and as far as anybody knows has made no effort or attempt to punish the outlaws, notwithstanding, the name of the chief of the bandits is known and the location of his ranch is within easy reach of Puebla. Surely, this high-handed outrage will be cause for severe measures to be taken with Mexico.

It is announced, as might have been expected and indeed was expected, that the railroad trainmen brotherhood will co-operate with the coal miners in their demand for a six hour day and a five day week with increase of 60 per cent in wages. These organizations have all been united under the Federation of Labor, headed by Gompers and stand committed to assist in whatever demand the affiliated unions make. They talk with great emphasis of the rights of labor, as if these unions represented all the labor of the country, when in fact only about 12 per cent of all labor is organized or represented by any kind or sort of an organization and it is to this 12 per cent, divided into various factions and unions, that the country is expected to submit for an ever increasing wage and an ever reducing period of labor. There must be a stopping place somewhere and whenever that point is reached there must be a contest between the 88 per cent of the population and the 12 per cent represented by the organizations demanding every sort of special privilege, special legislation and excessive wage. If the contests between these organizations were confined to the owners of the enterprises employing the organizations and the employees the balance of us would not be interested especially, but when the increase reaches to the common necessities and in fact lays an ever increasing burden upon the public for the advancement of the interest of the few there naturally comes a protest and the time is not far distant when the great public, that has long stood the oppressive demands of the organizations, will demand a hearing and curtailing of the powers allowed these organizers and unions.

MULLIN

A cold wave came down upon us last night and we are this morning reminded of the fact that another expense (fuel) is knocking at our doors. Fire sure feels good, as the heat penetrates our thin apparel and drives the cold from our bodies. Life is made up of many changes and scenes far beyond our comprehension, but we will not endeavor to explore such fields of thought this A. M.

The question then arises: What shall we write about? We don't know that it very much concerns any one whether we write at all, but being of a butt-in disposition and to pacify the editor and Marshall, we will write something anyway. If the sound of the axe and falling of the chips don't suit the public they have access to the columns of the Eagle to say so and thus pave the way for us to try to do better or hit harder next time.

If this isn't a long, crooked route to reach our subject, we are poor judges. I don't suppose any one has even stumbled upon the merest idea of what we are driving at. Neither have we. As the morning train for Goldthwaite is pulling in and all chance of mailing this has passed for the present we will quit short off and go to town to see what we can learn. You know town is a dandy good place to learn something.

We have been and returned and while gone we saw a poor tired and anxious looking mother whose patience and seeming cheerfulness almost over-came all signs of the care worn days of the past and we thought of the loveliness, beauty and tenderness of our own dear mother, who has been sleeping beneath the sod on the hill in the old church yard far away from where we write. So we selected "Mother" as our subject.

The summer is past and forever gone and many mothers who were entitled to a vacation failed to get it. And now comes the fall sewing, the winter garments to be chosen, perhaps made, the house cleaning with all its attendant horrors, the pickling of autumn dainties which will give zest to many a winter feast, and the general management of the whole domestic machinery, so that no little part will become clogged or its squeaking disturb the harmony of the home. Yet many think mother's task a light one and a vacation out of order. The summer has come and gone and brought mother no vacation, no change of scenes, but few words of love and cheer, with still a multitude of things really necessary to be looked after that no other member of the family has thought of as being important. Is it any wonder that her step is a little slower, her smile no less sweet, but less frequent than of old? Every one is of course sorry for mother's disappointments, but all take it as a matter of course, as she never complains. So the domestic mill goes grinding on until one day there is all confusion in the household; the machinery is all awry, for the hand that guided it has lost its cunning and dropped nerveless at her side. Mother has borne the burden too long. It becomes too heavy and she is crushed beneath it.

Isn't this a true picture we have sketched for you? Girls you know it is so, and, if you could but see all the little anxieties accompanied with sleepless nights as mother planned to make this edge and that cut to add to your appearance in society your heads would hang in shame, the blush rise to your cheeks as you would be forced to think of your own selfishness. And you boys, who have gone here and there followed by mother's prayers and deep concern, whose fingers have pushed the needle while you slept, making good your apparel that you too might make a gentlemanly appearance in society.

And you old dad,—the monarch of all you survey,—the lord of creation, the one bound to go, the "it" of all financial bearings in the home, the booster to whom wife and children must make their bow, the one to whom they must appeal for money and for consent to go, the one to snap and say sharp cutting things, you had better get your eyes open to the real drudgery, disappointments and actual sacrifices that good wife has made to make it possible for you to go and splurge while she stays at home, keeps up the gaps and who has been wondering for years when the rest of you will think her vacation has come. Now, Mr. Editor, don't you think this entitles the writer to recognition as a ladies' man out of the water and storm as well as in? H. C. COBB.

WHY take honest-to-John Tobacco that nature grew for us all—and then "spill the beans" by messing it up with lolly pops?

Velvet isn't fooled with that way.

Velvet has just naturally relied on Nature since it was knee-high to a grasshopper.

First off, it was bred in old Kentucky, wonderland of Tobacco.

Next come, it was cured in the open air, right out with the good ole sunshine. Yes sir.

THEN it was gentled along by its lonesome for two years, while it just kind of thought things over and decided to have no bad qualities.

After these two years in wooden hogsheads it was packed in the jolly red tin you see everywhere, if you're not color blind—and we hope you're not.

As Velvet Joe says:

"The way Nature does things is best for man and his tobacco. You can't fool Nature—an' she won't fool you."

FIFTEEN cents seems a pickayune price, doesn't it, after all that?

Can you think, right off, of anything more or better for a dime and a nickel? And for cigarette smokers—there are 45 mellow cigarettes in every Velvet tin.

Velvet sure will be right glad to meet you this very day.

When a Goldthwaite citizen comes to the front, telling his friends and neighbors of his experience, you can rely on his sincerity. The statements of people residing in far away places do not command your confidence. Home endorsement is the kind that backs Doan's Kidney Pills. Such testimony is convincing. Investigation proves it true. Below is a statement of a Goldthwaite resident. No stronger proof of merit can be had.

D. D. McBride, carpenter, Goldthwaite, says: "I used Doan's Kidney Pills about two years ago, for I was troubled with my bladder. I had to arise very often at night, as the kidney secretions were too free in passage. I heard of Doan's Kidney Pills and got some at Clements' Drug Store. I am glad to say Doan's relieved me considerably. Whenever I have a slight touch of the trouble now, a few doses of Doan's fix me up right."

As the morning train for Goldthwaite is pulling in and all chance of mailing this has passed for the present we will quit short off and go to town to see what we can learn. You know town is a dandy good place to learn something.

We have been and returned and while gone we saw a poor tired and anxious looking mother whose patience and seeming cheerfulness almost over-came all signs of the care worn days of the past and we thought of the loveliness, beauty and tenderness of our own dear mother, who has been sleeping beneath the sod on the hill in the old church yard far away from where we write. So we selected "Mother" as our subject.

The summer is past and forever gone and many mothers who were entitled to a vacation failed to get it. And now comes the fall sewing, the winter garments to be chosen, perhaps made, the house cleaning with all its attendant horrors, the pickling of autumn dainties which will give zest to many a winter feast, and the general management of the whole domestic machinery, so that no little part will become clogged or its squeaking disturb the harmony of the home. Yet many think mother's task a light one and a vacation out of order. The summer has come and gone and brought mother no vacation, no change of scenes, but few words of love and cheer, with still a multitude of things really necessary to be looked after that no other member of the family has thought of as being important. Is it any wonder that her step is a little slower, her smile no less sweet, but less frequent than of old? Every one is of course sorry for mother's disappointments, but all take it as a matter of course, as she never complains. So the domestic mill goes grinding on until one day there is all confusion in the household; the machinery is all awry, for the hand that guided it has lost its cunning and dropped nerveless at her side. Mother has borne the burden too long. It becomes too heavy and she is crushed beneath it.

Isn't this a true picture we have sketched for you? Girls you know it is so, and, if you could, but see all the little anxieties accompanied with sleepless nights as mother planned to make this edge and that cut to add to your appearance in society your heads would hang in shame, the blush rise to your cheeks as you would be forced to think of your own selfishness. And you boys, who have gone here and there followed by mother's prayers and deep concern, whose fingers have pushed the needle while you slept, making good your apparel that you too might make a gentlemanly appearance in society.

And you old dad,—the monarch of all you survey,—the lord of creation, the one bound to go, the "it" of all financial bearings in the home, the booster to whom wife and children must make their bow, the one to whom they must appeal for money and for consent to go, the one to snap and say sharp cutting things, you had better get your eyes open to the real drudgery, disappointments and actual sacrifices that good wife has made to make it possible for you to go and splurge while she stays at home, keeps up the gaps and who has been wondering for years when the rest of you will think her vacation has come. Now, Mr. Editor, don't you think this entitles the writer to recognition as a ladies' man out of the water and storm as well as in? H. C. COBB.

What's the use, Folks— What's the Use!

WHY take honest-to-John Tobacco that nature grew for us all—and then "spill the beans" by messing it up with lolly pops?

Velvet isn't fooled with that way.

Velvet has just naturally relied on Nature since it was knee-high to a grasshopper.

First off, it was bred in old Kentucky, wonderland of Tobacco.

Next come, it was cured in the open air, right out with the good ole sunshine. Yes sir.

THEN it was gentled along by its lonesome for two years, while it just kind of thought things over and decided to have no bad qualities.

After these two years in wooden hogsheads it was packed in the jolly red tin you see everywhere, if you're not color blind—and we hope you're not.

As Velvet Joe says:

"The way Nature does things is best for man and his tobacco. You can't fool Nature—an' she won't fool you."

FIFTEEN cents seems a pickayune price, doesn't it, after all that?

Can you think, right off, of anything more or better for a dime and a nickel? And for cigarette smokers—there are 45 mellow cigarettefuls in every Velvet tin.

Velvet sure will be right glad to meet you this very day.

WORDS FROM HOME

Statements That May Be Investigated--Testimony of Goldthwaite Citizens.

When a Goldthwaite citizen comes to the front, telling his friends and neighbors of his experience, you can rely on his sincerity. The statements of people residing in far away places do not command your confidence. Home endorsement is the kind that backs Doan's Kidney Pills. Such testimony is convincing. Investigation proves it true. Below is a statement of a Goldthwaite resident. No stronger proof of merit can be had.

D. D. McBride, carpenter, Goldthwaite, says: "I used Doan's Kidney Pills about two years ago, for I was troubled with my bladder. I had to arise very often at night, as the kidney secretions were too free in passage. I heard of Doan's Kidney Pills and got some at Clements' Drug Store. I am glad to say Doan's relieved me considerably. Whenever I have a slight touch of the trouble now, a few doses of Doan's fix me up right."

Price 60c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy--get Doan's Kidney Pills--the same that Mr. McBride had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgs., Buffalo, N. Y. (Advertisement)

ONLY A COLD

Are you ill? is often answered--"Oh! it's only a cold," as if a cold was a matter of little consequence, but people are beginning to learn that a common cold is a matter not to be trifled with, that some of the most serious diseases start with a cold. As soon as the first indication of a cold appears take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Remember that the sooner you get rid of your cold the less the danger, and this remedy will help you to throw it off. (Adv.)

TEMPLIN MEMORIAL

Rev. J. T. Weems, who is the leader in the movement to build a new Methodist church at Mullin, in which is to be a memorial window in honor of the lamented Rev. G. W. Templin, is meeting with marked success and encouragement. Not only are the home folks taking interest, but former citizens are offering substantial assistance.

The following letter from Mr. Chas. Trowbridge, formerly a citizen of Big Valley and now an officer of Floyd county, will show the spirit of the friends of Brother Templin all over the country:

Floydada, Texas, 10-29-19.

Rev. J. T. Weems, Mullin, Texas. Dear Jim:--I noticed in the Eagle you are planning for a new church at Mullin and for a memorial window for our beloved Brother Templin. Hope you will succeed in your plans. Put me down on your subscription list for five ($5) dollars for the window and when your plans are consummated notify me. As ever, CHAS. TROWBRIDGE.

A GOOD COUGH MEDICINE FOR CHILDREN

Mrs. J. W. Phillips, Redon, Ga., phoned to J. M. Floyd, the merchant there, for a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and said she had bought a bottle of it at his store recently and that it was doing her children so much good that she wanted to keep up the treatment. You will find nothing better for coughs and colds in children or for yourself. It keeps the cough loose, expectoration easy and soon frees the system from the cold. (adv.)

President Wilson continues to improve and it is believed he will be able to look after all of his official business in a short time.

Two robbers locked the cashier of the bank at Cushing, Okla., in the bank vault Thursday morning and escaped with $15,000 of the bank's funds.

In some parts of the country great preparations are being made for celebrating Armistice day next Tuesday. Especially are the larger cities preparing for great celebrations.

In white house circles in Washington it is predicted that the peace treaty and League of Nations agreement will be ratified by the senate in the next week. Indications now are that the ratification will be made without reservation.

The newly elected governor of New Jersey gives his anti-prohibition supporters comfort in the statement that he will use his utmost to prevent the enforcement of prohibition in that state. He says the present congress has decided that one-half of one per cent alcohol is sufficient to cause intoxication, but the next congress may raise the per cent to 10. Old John Barleycorn dies hard.

California has ratified the equal suffrage amendment. Maine has ratified the equal suffrage amendment. Number necessary to carry amendment thirty-six. Number that stand in favor nineteen. Number that stand against one. Number needed of those yet to vote, seventeen. Five empire states, or rather their legislatures have ratified the amendment. They are: Texas, New York, Pennsylvania and Illinois. Ohio has ratified. Massachusetts has ratified. Iowa has ratified. All the great agricultural and manufacturing states have ratified. One state has refused to ratify: Alabama.—Fort Worth Record.

For the benefit of the house-keeper, the Bureau of Standards, Department of Commerce, has published a card, to be hung in the kitchen, giving information useful in the household. This includes weights and measures equivalents, weights per bushel of the more common vegetables and fruits, weights per cup of household commodities, such as sugar, butter, lard, flour and rice. Much other useful information is condensed upon this card. Until the supply is exhausted, copies of this publication may be obtained by writing to the Bureau of Standards, Washington, D. PATIENCE APPRECIATED

On my own behalf and on behalf of the Rural Telephone Co. and its employes I desire to heartily thank the patrons of the system for their patience during the past few weeks, when help was hard to get and I, as manager, was new in the work. There have been many difficulties to overcome and the operators as well as myself have tried hard to give our patrons the best service possible under the circumstances. I am pleased to be able to announce that I have secured the service of a telephone man of long experience, who will have charge of the technical part of the work and much of the trouble we have experienced the past few weeks will be ended.

The Rural Exchange has in operation more telephones than ever before in its history and yet we have orders for twenty or more phones which will be installed as soon as we can get them from the factory. The installing of the extra phones and the other business of the Exchange has kept the entire force working hard, but we feel that our labors have been amply rewarded and with the additional assistance of the experienced man we hope to continue to improve the service.

Again I say we are all grateful to our patrons for their kindness and continued patronage.

JOHN W. ROBERTS,
Manager.

AMENDMENTS FAIL

According to press reports only two of the amendments voted on in Tuesday's election met with the favor of a majority of the voters. The two that apparently received a majority were to allow Galveston to issue bonds for harbor protection and the one increasing the tax for Confederate veterans' pensions from 5 cents to 7 cents on the $100 valuation.

Of the other amendments and the proposition to hold a constitutional convention the one authorizing the issuing of seventy-five million dollars in bonds for the use on the public roads was the heaviest loser, the majority against it being something like two to one, if the reports to the press are borne out by the final returns. The tax payers evidently do not approve of the present system of disbursing the road money and will not authorize the expending any more on the same plan.

The amendment allowing a separation of the University and Agricultural and Mechanical college was indeed meritorious and it is hard to understand just why the voters turned the proposition down, but they did turn it down hard.

A WORTHY CAUSE

It is estimated that about 4000 Texas soldier boys contracted or developed tuberculosis during the world war and the federal government is endeavoring to secure hospital accommodations and treatment for them as well as those of other states who have in like numbers contracted the dreadful disease. The hospital accommodations are limited in the region where treatment is most beneficial and a Benevolent War Risk society has been formed, composed of the governor, the state health officer and others, to secure funds with which to build a large hospital at Carlsbad. The federal government allows $3 per day for the care and treatment of the patients, and this fund will be available when the hospital accommodations are secured.

The county draft board has been called on to take the lead in raising this county's part of the necessary half million dollars to build the hospital. The board will hold a meeting Monday to organize for the campaign and urgently requests the hearty co-operation of all the people in the campaign.

One plan proposed by the state organization is to interest all the school children in the movement and secure a small contribution from each of them, which will amount to a great deal in the aggregate. The board, therefore, appeals to all school teachers in the county to take part in the work and assist in raising the county's quota, which is $400, and must be in hand by the end of the present month. Those teachers and others who will assist in raising the funds or will make contributions are requested to deposit the amounts in the Trent Bank, to be drawn by the board when the total is raised.

LIBERAL CONTRIBUTIONS

H. L. Kokernot of San Antonio, a cattleman who has large ranch interests in the San Angelo country, has pledged $50,000 to the Southern Baptist $75,000,000 campaign. The gift was announced at a meeting of cattlemen and others held at Marfa and followed an address given by M. H. Wolfe of Dallas, on the vital importance of raising $16,000,000 plus in Texas to help meet the five-year program formulated by the Southern Baptist General convention at Atlanta last May. Another large gift in the same territory is expected to be announced shortly. Voluntary pledges in large sums in the state now aggregate almost $500,000, and there has been hundreds and hundreds of smaller gifts. This is regarded as a most satisfactory showing in view of the fact that the campaign for cash and five-year pledges does not begin until Nov. 30.—Campaign Bulletin.

Editor Eagle:

When a little 2 by 4 writer gets a boost from a preacher and urged to keep on writing, it makes him feel like he may be doing some good. The preacher said, "We all enjoy what you write," and spoke specially of what we had said about the Sunday work and said "Keep giving it to them." Of course we thanked him and as we turned to go he asked if we had any cotton picking going on on Sunday. Said they were picking all around him on Sunday and concluded by again saying "Give it to them." As I walked away I overtook another preacher and I asked him if the other preacher used tobacco. He answered "Yes." I thought, How could I help thinking what them I should give it to. I was satisfied no Christian would pick cotton on Sunday and why should I lambast an old sinner for picking cotton on Sunday when the same Book containing the divine law that said this poor lost sinner must not pick cotton on Sunday, said that the preacher and all good people must cleanse themselves from all filthiness of the flesh. I know that 90 per cent of the people who use tobacco, whether saint or sinner, will admit that it is a filthy habit and are often embarrassed when using it. Now if the users admit it is filthy and the Bible says to quit these filthy habits, how much less harm are they guilty of than the man who picks cotton on Sunday and won't quit it when the same Bible tells him not to do it.

This is not gotten up in very good style, but it is plain practical horse sense and we challenge any preacher to give us "Thus saith the Lord" for a hanging on to anything that they themselves admit is filthy. We believe the great army of cigarette fiends of today are the fruits of the tobacco chewing, smoking and dipping habit of the years gone by. We also believe the great army of drunkards who grew to such numbers as to alarm the world were just the fruits of the moderate drinker of the years gone by.

As the devil puts it into the hearts and heads of wicked men to adulterate King Alcohol and make it kill men, women and children by the thousands, he also puts it into the heads and hearts of other wicked men to tamper with the tobacco and get it in such a form as to almost capture the boy as he leaves his mother's breast. For this reason we will take the ground that the use of tobacco in the form of the cigarette is becoming more alarming than the drink habit used to be, in that it has a chance at the boy so much earlier in life and fathers and mothers not fully awake to the fact that it is winding its destructive coils about the very vitals of their boys, dwarfing their intellects and undermining their health. The doctors say this is true and yet some of them continue the use of tobacco. Preachers who use tobacco know it is true, but they can't cry aloud and spare not, for they are also joined to their idols and know that consistency would blush should they cry out in defense of the boys when they themselves are indulging in the same sinful destructive habits.

As a rule preachers don't hesitate to cry out against the dance (and they should) but will some one please tell us how much worse off the girl is in the dance than the boy with his little smoke stack of a nose carrying away the smoke from a cigarette and with his brain and nerves giving away disqualifying him for positions of trust? Why not emphasize the boy's danger as well as the girl's?

We are not trying to discount the ministry nor do we believe it is going to take any more grace, grit and religion to carry a preacher through to the pearly gates than other men, but there is a sense of reverence, with an inclination to look up to the man who claims to be called of God to break the bread of life to the starving millions.

Please don't ask me who this preacher is, for I won't tell you, and please don't entertain a thought for one moment that I am sitting in judgment on his case or doubting for a moment that he is a good man. I am only thinking and others think with me.

I understand that the M. E. Church won't license a man to preach who uses tobacco. Let us think together, and if we think it wise to abstain from all appearance of evil let's consider the plug, the pipe and the snuff box the forerunners of the cigarette.

H. C. COBB.

THE BEST GROWS HERE

It is said that "an honest man is the noblest work of God" and it may be true, but at least it is a pleasure to have dealings with such people, notwithstanding they are more numerous than the pessimist would have us believe. The Eagle has had occasion to observe two such in the very recent past and was made to feel a gratitude for their acquaintance and association. While the amounts involved were not great, it is a fact that it is in the small things that men show their real character. One of these men came to pay his subscription, which he said was due, regardless of the fact that the label on his paper showed him to be paid in advance. A mistake had been made in this office. Again, a man came back to bring a dollar which he said had been retained by him thru mistake. These transactions proved the character of the men, for the mistakes would have never been discovered.

Verily, old Mills county grows the best of everything—even the most honest people in earth.

TRAINED NURSE GAINS 22 POUNDS

"Tanlac Is A Perfectly Wonderful Medicine," Says Mrs. Josephine Freeman

Mrs. Josephine Freeman, of 647 Towne ave., Los Angeles, Cal., a graduate nurse who has practiced her profession for seventeen years, recently made the statement that she has not only been relieved of a case of stomach trouble of ten years standing by the use of Tanlac, but she had also gained twenty-two pounds in weight.

"I feel that I would be doing anyone a good turn by getting them to take Tanlac," said Mrs. Freeman. "For ten years I had been having trouble with my stomach. I suffered intense pains after eating and would bloat up with gas so the pressure around my heart would make me almost faint. I was so nervous I could hardly sleep and became so weak and rundown that I could hardly keep up my work as a nurse. I tried all kinds of medicines but nothing would relieve me."

"Finally a friend of my husband's who had been relieved of the same trouble by taking Tanlac advised him to get me a bottle. Soon after starting on it my appetite returned and my nerves became quiet. Now I can eat anything I want and never have the least bit of trouble afterwards. I sleep like a child and feel rested and refreshed on getting up in the mornings. I have gained twenty-two pounds on four bottles of Tanlac and feel strong and well again."

Tanlac is sold at all leading drug stores. (Adv.)

A LOVED ONE GONE

To say a word in memory of our friend and loved one is not to me a duty only, but a pleasure which I now perform. Unable longer to speak for herself her friends at least can join and weave from memory's threads a chapel for her now.

Mrs. Lottie Stacy, nee Blackburn, was born May 29, 1887; married to Morgan Stacy April 23, 1917; died Oct. 18, 1919. She became a Christian in her teens and joined the Baptist church, remaining there until her death. Never was a more beautiful Christian life lived. She often spoke about death and said she was ready. She died praying and shouting and asking her family to sing the sweet songs. She was laid to rest in the Goldthwaite cemetery by the side of her mother and sisters who had gone on before, waiting for her coming. Funeral services were conducted by her friend and pastor, Bro. Haralson.

Lottie leaves a heart-broken husband and eighteen-months-old baby, besides a father, brothers and sisters to mourn her loss.

"A precious one from us is gone. A voice we loved is stilled. A place is vacant in the home That never can be filled.

Who can shun Death's sting severe?

It claims the young and old. It brings sadness—thru scalding tears

Its mortal agony cannot be told."

Written by one who loved her. MRS. HUGH MORELAND.

A committee charged with investigating the recent race riots in Chicago and finding a remedy to prevent a recurrence has reported favoring race segregation. That is a good plan, perhaps, but if the "white trash" who fraternize with the coons could be put out of harm's way the trouble of race conflicts would end.

HIGHER SALARIES

While the salaries paid the ministers of Baptist, as well as other churches in the South, have been far too small in the past to enable them to lay aside a competency for old age, a long step in remedying this situation is promised in the Baptist 75 Million Campaign, which proposes to raise $2,500,000 for the relief of aged ministers during the next five years, and then bring this sum up to $5,000,000 during the two years immediately following the campaign.

Looking to the adequate care of hundreds of aged Baptist ministers and ministers' widows in the ranks of the Southern Baptist Convention who are now in need of financial assistance, this body, at a recent session, authorized the creation of the Relief and Annuity Board at Dallas, Texas, with Dr. William Lunford as corresponding secretary.

Heretofore the average annual salary of Baptist ministers in the South has been less than $500, meaning that a large number of preachers receive considerably less than that sum, making it necessary that they engage in other occupations during the week in order to support themselves and their families, and rendering it practically impossible for them to lay aside any money as a support for their old age.

The establishment of the Relief and Annuity Board and the decision to raise $5,000,000 during the next seven years for the relief of the aged ministers already in need of assistance and the more adequate care of the minister who hereafter give their lives to the Christian ministry without an opportunity to save up a competency to tide them through sickness or care for them in their declining days, has met with a cordial reception at the hands of Southern Baptists, and it is believed the provision of better treatment for the ministers in their retirement will not only tend to cause young men to look with greater favor upon the ministry as a life work, but will bring the members of local congregations generally to see the need of paying pastors more adequate salaries before these pastors become old and helpless.

By the addition of an annuity feature it is possible for retired ministers to receive an annuity of $500 after they have reached the age of 68, and provided they have been in the ministry for thirty years. If they have served less than 30 years the annuity is reduced by a certain proportion. To participate in this annuity a minister must make monthly, quarterly or annual payments sufficient to bring in an income of $100 per year when invested on the principle of regular life insurance, while this is supplemented by $400 provided by the denomination. A minister's participation in the annuity fund is in addition to his claims upon the relief fund.

If the minister is disabled at any time after joining the annuity fund, he will receive a certain annuity throughout the period of disability. If he dies his widow will receive an annuity of 60 per cent of what would have gone to her husband as long as she lives, and should the widow die her annuity will be divided among minor children until they become self-supporting, marry or reach the age of 21.

The board has received an endowment of $100,000 from the Baptist Sunday School Board at Nashville not included in the 75 Million Campaign, and this sum will be divided equally between the relief and annuity departments. This enables the board to begin work immediately and assistance is already being given to 286 aged ministers and ministers' widows.

THE NORTHERN STATES HAVE ADOPTED THE 56" AUTO TRACK WAGON

Which Wagon?

The One that Fits the Road—or the One that Rides the Ridge

Recommended by the Government. The standardized wagon fits the prevailing track made by automobiles and is the wagon you will want to buy.

This Wagon is Out of Date. This 60" wide track wagon no longer fits the roads when they are muddy and soft.

WOULDN'T you rather buy the style of wagon recommended by your Government, especially when it is designed to pull easier, ride smoother, and last longer—the wagon that fits the roads and does not ride the ridge?

The Standardized Weber "Auto-track" Wagon saves wear on itself, other wagons, automobiles, and rubber tires. The Weber fifth wheel and swivel coupling wagon is either sold at a price much too low or most other wagons are sold at prices much too high, quality considered. Compare and draw your own conclusion. To date the leading wagon manufacturers of America have sold at the most conservative estimate 100,000 standardized auto-track wagons. From this introduction it is but a step to universal use of this type of wagon. Wouldn't you rather be identified with progress and recognized as an up-to-date farmer by doing your hauling with such a wagon than to be classed as an unprogressive "back number" by buying a 60-inch wide-track wagon, thereby helping some manufacturer and dealer to "unload" an obsolete type? Think it over—and then come and see us about a standardized auto-track Weber.

RED CROSS WEEK

This is "Red Cross Week." A time in which all who are interested in that great organization should renew their membership. The membership fee is the same as heretofore and the officers of the local organization will be glad to receive the funds and turn over the amounts collected to Mrs. W. P. McCullough of this city, who has been appointed county chairman for the drive.

The necessity for the Red Cross workers on the battlefield has passed, which causes us all to rejoice, but the great organization is engaged in work of mercy, charity and helpfulness all the time—year in and year out. It was not organized for the world war and did not cease to exist when the war ended, but will go on and on thru the ages to come, performing deeds of kindness and giving aid to those in need, whether in war or in civil life.

Those who have not yet renewed their membership can do so by sending the money direct to Mrs. McCullough or paying it to any of her helpers or any Red Cross organization officer.

T. B. Webb of Lometa visited his brother, F. D. Webb, and family in this city the early part of the week.

DISCARDED AS DANGEROUS

Calomel salivates! It's mercury. Calomel acts like dynamite on a sluggish liver. When calomel comes into contact with sour bile it crashes into it, causing cramping and nausea.

Take "Dodson's Liver Tone" Instead!

If you feel bilious, headachy, constipated and all knocked out, just go to your druggist and get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone for a few cents, which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful, and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your money. If you take calomel today you'll be sick and nauseated tomorrow; besides, it may salivate you, while if you take Dodson's Liver Tone you will wake up feeling great, full of ambition and ready for work or play. It is harmless, pleasant and safe to give to children; they like it.
