ANNUAL MEETING OF STOCK-HOLDERS OF HUNTING AND FISH CLUB HELD WEDNESDAY

Wednesday afternoon at 2:30, in the district court room at the court house was held the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Mills County Hunting and Fishing Club.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Dr. J. M. Campbell, and all business concerning the treasurer's report and the directors' report was transacted.

Dr. Campbell reported that the club's contract with the Santa Fe railway company permitting them all hunting and fishing rights together with the bathing privileges and use of sufficient land for buildings had been approved, and that the club could now go ahead with any building they desired.

E. J. Weatherby reported that the club had built a bath house, ten boats, and made other improvements on the club's premises.

The election of officers resulted in the re-election of the old board by acclamation. The board consists of Dr. J. M. Campbell, president; T. F. Toland, vice president; W. L. Jones, secretary; O. H. Yarbrough, treasurer; I. O. Harvey, W. H. Linkenhogor and E. J. Weatherby; and J. C. Darroch, attorney.

The board of directors have decided to stop issuing one-time bathing permits, but only season permits.

A call meeting was ordered for July 24, at 8:30 p. m. for the purpose of seeing whether a majority of the stockholders desire to raise the capital stock and allow entrance of new members. It is contemplated to issue 75 new shares of stock at $100 per share. This would enable the club to make extensive improvements.

WESLEY WORKERS HAVE OUTING AT LAKE MERRITT ON MONDAY

The Wesley Workers of the Methodist Sunday school and a few friends enjoyed a picnic at Lake Merritt last Monday evening.

Thirty-five young people gathered at the church at 6:30, and went to the lake in cars. Quite a number enjoyed a swim, after which supper was served. After supper a freezer of cream was opened and ice cream cones were served.

After merry conversation they left for town, all hoping that Mrs. Kees would chaperone the class again soon.

Star, Texas, July 12, 1920. Editor Eagle:

I want to make announcement of the Christadelphian fraternal gathering of Texas at Goldthwaite, to begin on the night of the 12th of August, at the old soldiers' camp grounds, which have been secured.

I want to invite all who want to hear one of our ablest men, Bro. A. H. Zilmer of Waterloo, Iowa, on the Gospel plan of salvation and the signs of the times. You will miss something if you do not come and hear the good things to come on this earth.

I also want to send my best regards to the editor on the great improvement in the general news, which I think equal to the big papers.

SALVATION ARMY ADVISORY BOARD FOR MILLS COUNTY

Actuated by a sincere desire to utilize the services of the Salvation Army whenever possible and to further the Army's work in Mills county, a strong advisory board which will direct the administration of the Salvation Army's sixteen major activities as far as they are applicable to the needs of this county, was formed at a meeting held Tuesday night.

Thirteen Mills county business and professional men of Mills county comprise the board and they will be in direct touch at all times with the headquarters of the Salvation Army in the Southwestern chief division at Dallas, so that any cases which may come to light and are within the scope of the Army's activities can be disposed of speedily and efficiently. The board will be of valuable assistance to the Salvation Army and will be the connecting link between the trained workers of the Salvation Army and those persons who are in need of counsel and assistance.

Mills county's advisory board will at once make a study of the county with particular reference to poverty, pauperism, dependent cases, unemployment, juvenile delinquents and the contributory causes, missing persons, illegitimacy and, in fact all of the conditions for which the Salvation Army has a proved constructive remedy. The Salvation Army will render such assistance in these cases as comes within its power.

This is part of the great extension work of the Salvation Army as laid down in its 1920 Home Service Program and men composing the Mills county advisory board who will assist in this work are: W. E. Miller, chairman; Dr. S. A. Lowrie, vice chairman; C. T. Wilson, secretary and treasurer; County Judge R. B. Weaver, Mayor W. L. Jones, County Agent W. P. Weaver, Dr. Em. Wilson, R. E. Clements, Dr. W. H. Jones of Mullin, T. E. Hamilton of Star, William Biddle of Center City, Robert Robertson of Big Valley, and Tom Priddy of Priddy.

By the establishment of an advisory board in this county, the Salvation Army places at the disposal of every community, through the medium of this body of substantial citizens every facility for social relief made possible through its sixteen major activities.

The advisory board will decide what are the county's needs in the matter of such relief; and the Salvation Army, with its forty years of specialized training in administering to unfortunate humanity, will apply the remedy or prescribe the preventative. In other words, the Salvation Army will render aid where it is asked, but will be advised and guided by the citizens of the county as to the existence and extent of the need.

First among the functions of the advisory board will be to make a study of social conditions under prescribed heads, and render a confidential report to state headquarters. This report will then be analyzed by experts of the Salvation Army, who will recommend steps to be taken or send trained personnel to deal with the situation, if it seems to warrant.

MILLS COUNTY PECAN GROWERS MET AT COURT HOUSE SATURDAY; TALK OVER SITUATION

Last Saturday a number of the pecan growers of Mills county met in the office of the county farm demonstrator, W. P. Weaver, for the purpose of deciding whether to organize a pecan growers' association locally and join the state association.

Mr. Dunn of Brownwood, field manager of the state association, was present at the meeting and gave the men some very interesting information on the raising and marketing of pecans and explained the purposes of the state pecan growers' association. Among other things Mr. Dunn said that at present there are very few real pecans in Texas and that this industry, which should be the largest in Texas, was being sadly neglected. He stated that there are over one hundred million pecan trees in Texas, which, if correctly budded and cared for, would pay the national debt in five years.

Mr. Dunn urged the pecan growers of this section to be very careful when thinning a crop not to knock the buds off the trees. These buds make the next year's crop of pecans.

Further Mr. Dunn stated that the marketing facilities of the pecan growers are in such a state that the northern buyers buy them from 10 to 15 cents per pound and sell them for from $1 to $1.50, thereby realizing several hundred per cent on their farsightedness at the growers' expense.

The purposes of the state association, as explained by Mr. Dunn, are to teach the growers the best method of caring for their trees, teach them to do their own budding, thereby raising the standard of the nut grown, and supply them with adequate marketing facilities to handle the crop in the most remunerative method for the grower.

Several counties in West Texas have organized these associations and it is up to Mills county to fall in line or fall behind the line. Pecan growing is a very big thing in our county—bigger than most people think—and could be made a great deal bigger.

It was decided at this meeting to have a call meeting during the reunion, if possible at the Old Confederate Veterans tabernacle, for the purpose of organizing. Most every person at the meeting Saturday was in favor of taking such steps, but it was put off until the reunion that more of the growers might be present.

There will be some of the big pecan raisers of Texas present to address all interested in this matter.

THE BOLL WEEVIL BUG-A-BOO.

Going down the street the other day we met a number of prominent farmers from different sections of the county and asked them about the cotton situation in Mills county. We were lucky enough to happen to get a pretty good representative of the different sections and the different temperments of the county. We received answers to our questions something like this: "I haven't a square of cotton in my field and the boll weevils are setting four on every stalk—waiting."

"They are getting it all—the county is ruined."

But I met a pure-D, dyed-in-the-wool optimist and Democrat who answered my question:

"There are no boll weevils in my section and cotton is fine, plenty of rain—'n everything."

The fact is that the boll weevil is hurting only a few isolated sections, in some places doing considerable damage, but limiting the quantity of the crop at the most. Mills county will raise bumper cotton crop this year, and price of cotton will be good.

SPANN DID NOT SAY HE WOULD NOT RUN.

District Judge Says He Knew Long Before Blair Approached Him on the Subject That Latter Was Going to Make the Race—Details of the Whole Controversy Are Reviewed.

To the People of the Twenty-seventh Judicial District:

There is a part of Judge Blair's recent statement published in all the newspapers of this district to which my friends think I should reply. In his statement he said, "I want to state in the beginning that Judge Spann would probably not had me for an opponent had he told me when I showed him the courtesy of going to him before I announced, that he was going to seek reelection, but as informed me that he was not going to run and upon that information I entered the race thinking that I would have a clear field."

While Judge Blair does not so state, nor do the facts justify the conclusion, yet there seems to be the impression in the minds of some that there was an agreement existing between Judge Blair and myself to the effect that I would not run for reelection, that he should have a clear field, and that my entering the race was a breach of faith on my part towards him. The facts simply stated are these: I had stated to a number of people that it was not my intention to seek reelection. I had felt signally honored by having been elevated to the bench and having the opportunity to serve as district judge, and I was willing to retire at the close of my first term, and should have done so had there not been a very general and earnest demand for my candidacy.

Last January Judge Blair came into my office and announced to me that it was his intention to formally announce as a candidate for district judge and he thought he would tell me so that I might announce at the same time if I desired, which statement on his part was not a surprise to me, because I had known for two years that he was an avowed candidate, soliciting the support of many people over this county. I replied that it was not, then, my intention to make the race; that, of course, conditions might arise under which I would make the race and in that conversation I reserved unto myself the right to run if in my opinion conditions justified my making the race.

Judge Blair did not come to me with the proposition that if I was going to make the race he would not. While I do not believe that he or I have any right to barter away the people's rights to select their own district judge, still, if under such conditions I had told him I would not run, I would have felt honor bound and would not, under any conditions, have made the race.

There is nothing in the relationship existing between Judge Blair and myself, in the conversation that he mentions or otherwise, that would justify the inference that I, in any manner, misled Judge Blair, or that I was in any wise the cause of his entering the race. The fact of the matter is that Judge Blair has been, as above stated, an avowed candidate for the office of district judge for more than two years, that nothing that I said, or did, caused him to enter the race, and that nothing that I could have said, or any action on my part, could have kept him out of the race.

The remainder of Judge Blair's statement, which relates to his opposition to the placing of my name upon the ticket, need not be noticed, since that issue has been decided and the Bell county executive committee has reconvened and placed my name upon the ticket, other than to say that if down deep in his heart he had no objection to my name being placed upon the ticket then there surely could have been no reason for his brother-in-law, P. H. Dougherty, appearing before the Mills county committee at Goldthwaite in opposition to the placing of my name upon the ticket in that county. However, I am sure that Judge Blair, or his supporters, were in no wise moved by ulterior motives and I have not said, nor will I say, that he, or they, used any improper means in opposition to the placing of my name on the ticket in the various counties. All that I have said, and now repeat, is that they refused to take a broad view of the subject and let the people decide instead of the committee who should be the district judge. I didn't question their motives, but I did question their judgment. However the controversy is ended and need not again be referred to.

Now, lest we drift away from the real issue in the district judge's race, it may not be amiss at this time to discard all collateral issues and relate the main issue, which is this: The Twenty-Seventh judicial district is entitled to the very best district judge obtainable; if Judge Blair will make a better district judge than I have made, then clearly as a matter of public interest and good judgment on the part of every voter he should be elected; if, on the other hand, judging from my record as district judge during the past four years, and his record as county judge during the same period, you have any doubt as to his ability to make a better district judge than I have made, then you ought to reelect me. The welfare of the court and the public interest is of far greater moment and of more pressing importance than the personal ambition of Judge Blair or myself. All other issues and all other considerations, personal or otherwise, should be cast aside and the voters should vote to secure for their district the best judge possible—that is the real issue in this campaign. Respectfully submitted,

F. M. SPANN.

CEDAR KNOB MEETING.

Sunday, July 11, was a big day at Cedar Knob school house. It was the last day of a meeting held by Bro. R. W. Bynum. Bro. D. I. Haralson preached in the morning, a big dinner was spread on the ground at noon, and the afternoon services were devoted to the interests of the Sunday school. A number of visitors from Goldthwaite were present, and several of them spoke on Sunday school work. Bro. Haralson also delivered a sermon in the afternoon.

A notable attendant on this meeting was Bro. S. M. Carrothers, who was there almost every night. He and Bro. Haralson were the only two Old Confederate soldiers present. It is unusual at a country church, in this day, to find two such old soldiers pulling together. In so many places they have already gone on to their reward. The people of this community expressed themselves as appreciating very much the assistance and comradeship of these two white-haired gentlemen.

Cedar Knob has a Sunday school of 56 members, which meets regularly every Sunday afternoon. The people of that community realize the importance of early training for their children, thus preventing many sad mistakes of life later on.

After the services, some good singing was had, and this visitor enjoyed himself immensely. He recommends a Sunday afternoon visit to Cedar Knob as one of the most profitable and interesting things to be done on that day.

MISS MARY BLEDSOE WRITES
EAGLE APPRECIATED LETTER
Editor Goldthwaite Eagle:

One of your San Antonio subscribers gave me a copy of the Fourth of July edition of your paper, and I wish to congratulate you on the civic pride and progressiveness that it indicates. Being interested in the field of country journalism to which your paper does credit, I am yielding to this impulse to tell you that I am glad to see a progressive, forward-looking paper built up in Mills county.

With heartfelt wishes for the continued success of the Eagle and for the prosperity of Mills county, I am,

Cordially yours,

MARY BLEDSOE.

San Antonio, Texas, July 7, 1920.

Miss Bledsoe, having taken a course in the University of Texas School of Journalism on "News Gathering and Reporting," and graduating in June of this year with a Bachelor of Arts degree, is now a reporter for the San Antonio Express, one of the largest Texas dailies. Her many friends in this county wish her success in her work.

THE GUBERNATORIAL CONTEST.

The Houston Chronicle of Monday July 12, prints the following article in its editorial column:

In the contest for the democratic nomination for governor of Texas, The Chronicle has heretofore urged that the voters concentrate upon either Thomson or Neff.

With two such strong candidates, each splendid gubernatorial material, it is difficult for The Chronicle to advocate one as against the other, but in order to prevent a second primary a definite choice should be made. Looney, who has a record that commends him to many voters and who has served the people well and faithfully, does not seem to have the strong following of either Neff or Thomson, and Bailey is an impossibility.

But without definite concentration Bailey must get together sufficient strength among the disgruntled and anti-Wilson democrats to force a second primary. For that reason, and believing Thomson has the strongest following, The Chronicle urges all good Democrats to get behind the El Paso man.

He has proven himself an able legislator, he has been right in all the big issues confronting the state and nation. His platform is sound.

Thomson defeated Bailey in Bailey's home county. He challenged Bailey to trust his fortunes in the May convention, and Bailey refused.

Delegates to the San Francisco convention named Thomson their choice for governor in the following ratio: Thomson 84; Neff 31; Looney 23; Bailey 4.

Delegates to the Rotary Club convention gave the following vote: Thomson 48; Neff 30; Bailey 19; Looney 4.

Other straw votes taken in different parts of the state show that Thomson is the first choice, with Neff a strong second.

Together they will overwhelmingly defeat Bailey, but unless the voters now decide upon one of them, the Bailey vote may necessitate a second primary.

That would result in the final and complete elimination of Bailey, but why wait?

Do it now. Pick Thomson as the winner and make his vote so large that the first contest will decide the question.

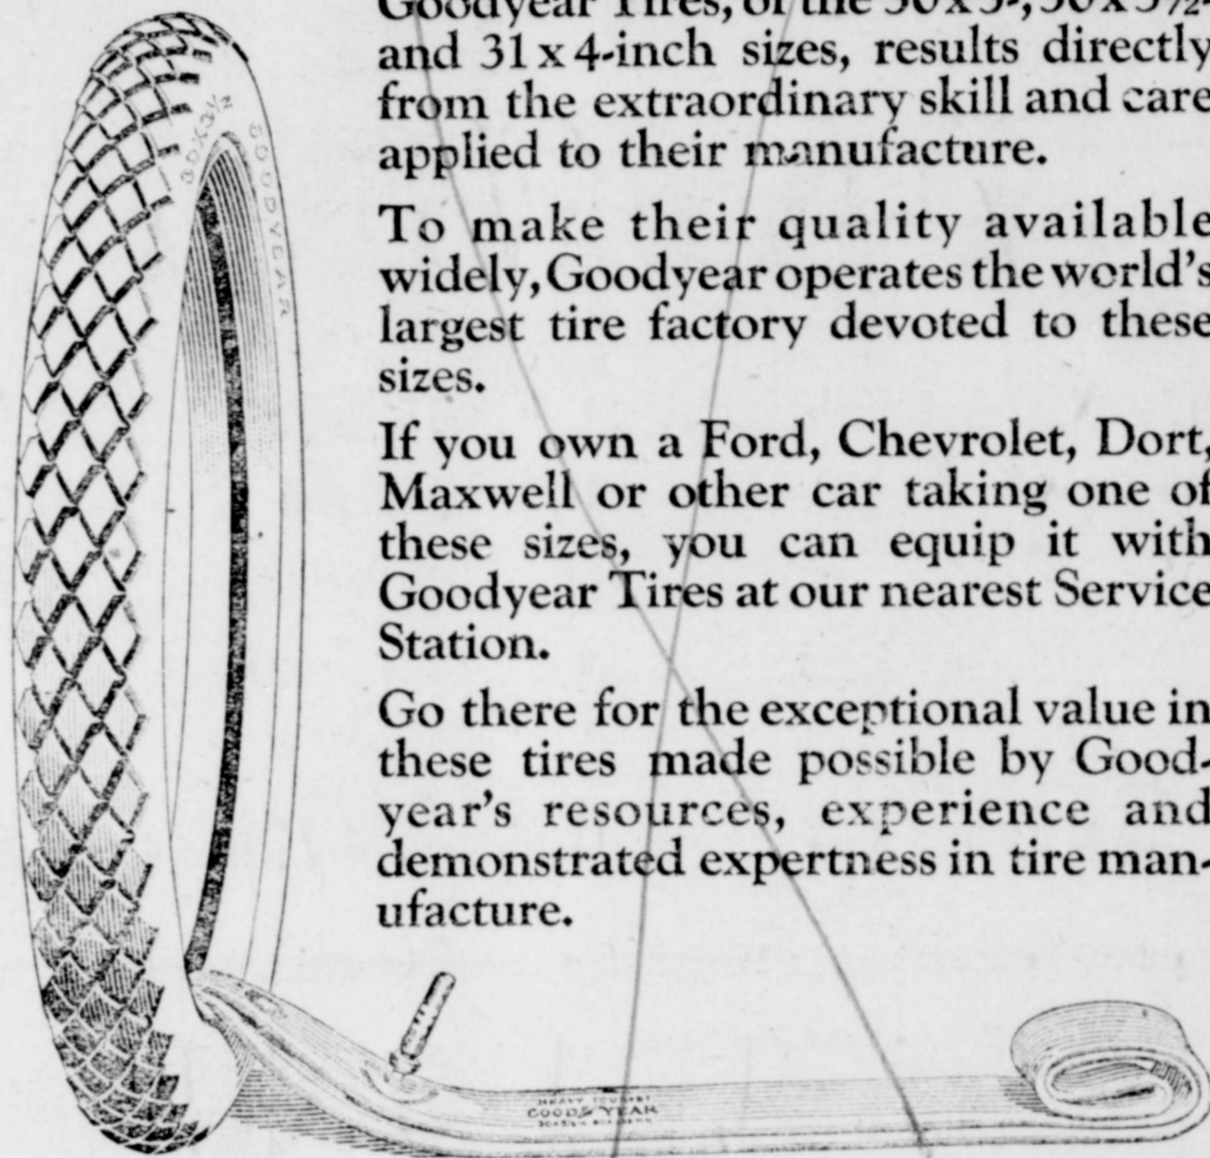

Get rid of the Bailey influence on July 24.

A SELF-DENIAL SOCIAL.

To be given at the Presbyterian manse, Monday, July 19, from 4 to 8 in the afternoon.

In the 25th chapter of Matthew's Gospel we read these words—"Lord, when saw we thee a hungered and fed thee? or thirsty, and gave thee drink? When saw we thee a stranger, and took thee in? or naked, and clothed thee? Or saw thee sick, or in prison, and came unto thee? The King shall answer and say, Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto me."

The glory of the church is expressed in the life of her people. If you want to see the glory of the church of the present day, go to the places of greatest need and see what she is doing there. Go to the places of sickness and suffering and sorrow, for it is in the valley of human need that we can best express our love for Christ.

The Presbyterian Orphanage at Albany, Texas, in tabulating their needs said this—"We need things to eat. Potatoes; we have not had a mess of potatoes in three months, for we can not pay the price." Therefore, the ladies of the Presbyterian church conceived the idea of having a self-denial social and asking everybody who will to come and bring one or more potatoes for these dear orphan children.

God has promised a reward to those who give a cup of cold water. He appreciates a gift according to the motive which actuates the giver. The humblest effort in the cause of Christ cannot be lost, and there is nothing that so precious, so beautiful, so significant our nation has an association as the love which can deny self, in order to serve others. Arrangements are being made to show you a good time also. Every body come and bring your potatoes.

REPUBLICAN PRIMARY.
 Notice is hereby given that we will hold a precinct primary in each precinct in the county for the purpose of electing delegates to County Conventions and also elect county chairman and precinct chairmen for the next two years.
 The precinct convention is to be held on Saturday, July 24, 1920, and we urge all voters who have the interest of the Republican party to remain out of the Democratic primary and be ready to assist in electing a good, clean Republican Governor for Texas. All voters interested in a change in the national and state administrations are urged to assist in these conventions.
 The county convention will be held on Saturday, July 31, 1920, at the court house, Goldthwaite, Texas, at 3 o'clock p. m. It is highly necessary to request all Republicans to attend the Republican county convention as well as the county convention, but many go into the Democratic primary and then make great talk of going into another one. Better change now and you will soon change in our state politics. Don't let your hands and then have to vote the man the "political click" selected, but have a voice in this selection.
 Held this the 14th day of July, 1920.
 R. F. McDERMOTT,
 Republican County Chairman, Mills Co.

NEFF ENDORSED BY McLENNAN COUNTY DEMOCRATS
 Waco, Texas, May 5.—At the meeting of the McLennan County Democratic Convention which convened in Waco on May 4th for the purpose of selecting delegates to the State Convention in Dallas, the following resolution was unanimously adopted:
 Be it resolved by the McLennan County Democratic Convention that we heartily endorse the candidacy for Governor of our fellow-citizen, the Hon. Pat M. Neff.
 We do this because we know he is equipped by education, practical experience, and the highest type of personal character.
 We do this because of his manifest courage and straightforward conduct of every trust committed to him, whether as office holder or private practitioner of law.
 We do this because of our faith in him as the exponent of progressive democracy and his one hundred per cent Americanism shown in his conduct among us.
 We do this because we want our fellow Texans to know that in his election we will have a governor who will class along with the immortal best who ever occupied that position in Texas.
 We do this because we know he has temperamental poise, judicial character, sound judgment, reverent and respectful disposition, keen sense of honor and justice in dealing with others, and withal because he is an upstanding nobleman among his fellowmen.
 We endorse him without hesitation, commend him to our fellow Texas Democrats without mental reservation and pledge ourselves to do every honorable thing we can to the end that he may be elected.

POLITICAL CONDITION.

Editor Eagle:
 I must take one more drive at the peculiar political condition before I take my vacation.

We will take a peep at the issues and the men. We Baptists down here in the South who have always opposed rum and Catholics are in a predicament. I say we Baptists because I am a Baptist —and have a right to lament our predicament. We have fought rum until we fought it clear out of the state and nation and the Catholics have been exposed by an alleged ex-priest who was invited to our church for that purpose.
 Yes, we have made war on these two evils from a Christian standpoint as part of our religion. We are all Democrats, you know, and our political issues won't allow our religion to stay put on a presidential year. Mr. Harding, the Republican nominee, claims all the glory of the Volstead act which the Republican congress passed over the veto of our Democratic president. This is a good measure, and we worked for it in substance for many years and got it of course, but had to take it from the Republicans and we did not want it that way. Now our political bosses have gone and nominated a man and a man Catholic or a Lutheran. You know the Lutheran is a nephew to the Catholic religiously, as it was the first Protestant silver to split off from the Roman Catholic church and prohibitionists in the Lutheran church are about as plentiful as saints in hades. Now, you see, we must about face and fight our selves back across all these years of virtuous toil until we stand by a we-randidate and a man Catholic. Don't mention near-beer. This wet candidate and man Catholic combined is worse than anything called near-beer.

And to think Warren G. Harding is a Baptist and a prohibitionist and claims for his party the glory of passing the Volstead act over the veto of our president. Yes, Mr. Editor, Warren G.
 Harding and his party have done all we wanted, and have done it well. Yes, he is the embodiment of all prohibition virtue and righteousness and bears our name for he is a Baptist. But you know, Mr. Editor, that we Southern Baptists are more obedient to our Democratic political bosses than the Catholic is to his priest. In that respect, at least, we are more obedient than the Catholic.
 Yes, Mr. Editor, if the political father tells us to stand for the man who has stood against everything we want in preference to the man who stands for everything we want, of course we have no preference in the matter. To assert our political liberty and stand for the man who stood for what we have contended for and accomplished it would not be democratic after all, Mr. Editor.
 It is not the contents of the bottle but the label that guides us to the high goal of democracy we must reach in this day and year of our Lord. I often wish it was as easy for us to bow to the wishes of our Lords as it is for us to bow to the wishes of our political bosses.

Warren G. Harding worked for the same things in this line that Morris Sheppard worked for. He worked for the same principles we have worked for for years; viz.: prohibition that would prohibit for our nation. He has the substance of all we desire, but Jimmie Cox, who has been consistently working against all of these things has our party label on his back and it's not the substance our political fathers tell us to follow but the label, so we must hot foot it after the label and prevent, if possible, the success of all we cherish simply because we are slaves to party rather than free to support the man who stands for the principles that have always been near and dear to us.

Again, Mr. Editor, democracy has always been a synonym of liberty, but our Jimmie stands on a platform whose paramount issue is a proposition to mortgage the lives and substance of the unborn generations of America to European kings and potentates, to shut the door of hope of liberty forever against the colonial territories of Great Britain and other nations however much they may be oppressed by the mother country. Yes we are ordered to put on the handcuffs of George the Fifth with the pledge that we shall never remove them except to fight for the said King George if any other nation outside of his own kingdom should attempt to wrest territory from his kingly hand however much he may oppress his subjects in said territory.

This is the substantial working of the Judgments Section 10 of the Versailles covenant, which binds us to guarantee the territorial integrity of King George against all external aggression. This is what I mean when I tell you that Cox and his platform proposes to mortgage the lives and substance of the unborn American generations to defend the territorial integrity of the possessions of King George the Fifth.

Under this guarantee, to illustrate,
 Canada could gain her independence only by whipping the mother country one-handed. If an outside nation stepped in to help Canada gain her independence like France helped us, that, under the meaning of section 10, would be outside aggression and as we have guaranteed her possessions against outside aggression, we would be bound to take up arms against this outside aggressor and help the king whip his subjects back into bondage—a queer kind of demeracy that mortgages the lives of our sons and our substance to kings; but that is what they have labeled democracy and of course we must swallow it without asking questions. The Democrats have agreed to accept reservations to clarify our duties to our associate nations in the league. The above will serve to clarify section 10 to them, which our patron Democratic saint, Woodrow Wilson, calls "the heart of the league." We must not break the heart of the world, so quash our patron saint; but, Mr. Editor, I am longing, longing, longing for some Democrat who will have some consideration for the heart of America. It should not be broken. It almost breaks my own heart to see the democratic party proposing to mortgage the lives of unborn Americans to preserve the territorial integrity of the king's possessions.
 This, if consummated, will cut deep into the freedom of Americans. But it is pointed out as our duty to forego our rights to complete independence that we may enter into the holy enterprise of guaranteeing the territory of kings against outside aggression.

Mr. Harding says America can do her duty to all nations without sacrificing any of her independence. So we all believe, but Mr. Harding only has the substance of what we clamor for and Mr. Cox we know has not got the substance but only the label, so we must support the hallowed name of democracy tho' the substance be a complete stranger to the name. Yes, we are hoodwinked and handicapped by the label but we can see nothing else until the election is over.
