THE FARMER'S SHORT COURSE.

The Eleventh Annual Farmers' Short Course will be held at College Station, August 2 to 7, inclusive.

The college will be in better condition than ever before to take care of visitors during the coming short course. Most of the dormitories have been placed in a thorough state of repair, from $2,000 to $11,000 having been expended on each building. Every dormitory on the campus has been screened and it is safe to predict that visitors will be more comfortable this summer than ever before. As usual a large number of prominent speakers will appear on the sectional programs.

The boys' work will be divided into two general subjects. Each forenoon will be devoted to farm machinery, gas engines, farm mechanics and tractors. The afternoons will be devoted to stock judging. There is nothing that interests boys more than these subjects, and they are very important. Plenty of time will be given the boys for recreation, such as games and swimming.

The subsistence expense while there will be $2.00 a day, which will include meals and lodging. The boys will be organized and stay in the same dormitory. W. P. WEAVER, County Agent.

HIGH SCHOOLS RUN 9 MONTHS.

Austin, Texas, July 17.—First and second-class high schools in Texas must maintain nine months' free term or lose classification and affiliation with institutions of higher education is a recommendation made by the State Committee on Classification and Affiliation which was in session in Austin today. The committee also decided that a city system of high schools will be affiliated hereafter as a system and not as individual schools.

The committee approved the Amarillo twelve-month school plan as an experiment of two years, this plan contemplating that there shall be three four-month terms and that each student shall attend school for eight months, and shall be privileged to choose the term that he shall take as a vacation. It was advised by the committee that certain readjustments be made in history courses in the high schools in order to provide better training in citizenship.

MILLS COUNTY BOYS BUY FOUR BIG-BONE POLAND CHINA GILTS

Four of the progressive farmer boys of this county, accompanied by County Farm Demonstrator W. P. Weaver, went to San Saba this week and bought four registered big-bone Poland China gilts from W. E. Barrow. These pigs, which are three and one-half months old, weigh between 90 and 100 pounds each, and are of the very best stock.

What Mills county needs is more good stock. The stock raising industry in this county is a leading one, but the grade of stock raised, taken as a whole, is pretty poor. It is just as cheap to raise good stuff as scrubby and the remuneration is very much greater.

These boys, Joe Anderson of Caradan and A. C. Fields, Otho Clary and Jim Soules of Star, are to be praised for their farsightedness and get-up in this instance.

EVERYBODY IS FIGURING ON HAVING A GRAND TIME AT THE REUNION NEXT WEEK

Reports from the different committees arranging the program for Mills county's big annual reunion which occurs here next Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, show that everything is progressing nicely and everything will be in readiness for the three days of amusement and vacation.

Some very good speakers will entertain the people at the tabernacle on the reunion grounds almost all the time. Various amusements, shows, merry-go-round, cold drinks, horse races, farm product exhibits and a multitude of other amusing features will assure the visitors to this fair amusement for every minute of the time.

This is Mills county's great get-together chance and it is predicted that most everybody in the county will be there a part of the time at least.

POISONING THE BOLL WEEVIL IN TEXAS.

(By J. B. Hopkins, Chief Assistant Entomologist, Department of Agriculture, Austin.)

So many inquiries as to means of combatting the bollweevil are coming to this office that it was thought advisable to issue this paper to meet the necessity. In the brief space I shall outline as fully as possible the salient points in what is the only efficient and practicable method known to this department. This method, known as the Coad method, originated in the Federal laboratory at Tallulah, La. It consists in applying calcium arsenate as a dust spray. The three essential points in the process are as follows:

(1) Machinery.—The poison, to be effective, must be applied with a machine that has fan power enough to absolutely separate the material into its finest dust particles, so that it forms a dust cloud fine enough to remain suspended in the air for some time. This requires a fan that runs about 3000 revolutions per minute. Machinery of this kind is hard to obtain this year, because the method is new, hence the market is furnishing some inferior machines that are sure to lead to disappointment. When you buy, be sure to demand fanpower. It is worse than useless to try to apply the poison by any of the old methods.

(2) It Must Be Applied at Night.—If you recall driving along a country road at night, you will remember that as you went into a valley you came in contact with "layers" of air of different temperature. In other words, when the night air has time to come to rest and the influence of the sun's rays are absent, the air is standing in layers of different densities. If a cloud of the poison is formed in the lower layer among the plants, it will stand there for some time without rising and floating away. This gives ample time for the film of hygroscopic water that is on every leaf, twig or stem to become saturated with the poison. Also the dew which is heavier at night aids in the work. Now the boll weevil drinks dew, and at the same time drinks poison.

(3) The Poison.—In order to get the best results the poison must come up to the standard set by the federal laboratory. I suggest that when you have bought calcium arsenate in any quantity you submit a sample to the laboratory at Tallulah, La., for analysis. This work is done free of charge. The analysis on the package label should guarantee: not less than 40 per cent arsenic oxide, not more than 75 per cent water soluble arsenic, its density not more than 100 nor less than 80 cu. in. to the pound. With poison of this analysis it will not require more than 5 to 7 pounds per acre-application, meaning not more than 20 to 25 pounds for the season. This amount will vary with the perfection of the machine used and the care of operation. Two or three pounds to the acre is better if applied right than more if not.

The ideal conditions for poisoning cotton will produce a cloud of dust so complete that when you get to the end of the rows and look back it will still be standing in the row, and the tops of the tallest stalks will be sticking out of it very much as if submerged in water.

In order to be able to keep up with the boll weevil damage in your field, you should make the count as follows:

Count 200 squares at each end of the field and 200 in the center, choosing places that represent average conditions. Snip off all punctured squares and count them. Divide the number punctured by the total 600 and you will have the "percentage of infestation." You can make a cotton crop if the infestation stays below 20 per cent; if it is above, you are in danger.

Apply poison every four or five nights until the infestation falls below 20 per cent, then quit until it gets above 20 per cent. Usually two or three applications will reduce it below 20 per

BETTER THAN THE AVERAGE.

Most people have a very vague idea as to who the average farmer is. The facts are that it is doubtful whether there is such a man as the average farmer. All of them are above the average in intelligence, in citizenship and in honest industry. They are not average men, but extraordinary men, and are doing extraordinary things to get the nation back to peace and prosperity.

Unfortunately, most people who are seeking to analyze the average farmer are interested in how he will vote. Farmers have no definite way of voting. They vote according to their conviction and trust men and parties according to the way they understand the character of the men and the sincerity of the parties. They are now thinking of how they have been treated by the political parties and the politicians in general. They may have decided that if there is anything progressive undertaken for the nation's greatest business, farming, and for their own welfare these days of strikes and profiteering that they will have to undertake it themselves.—Farm and Ranch.

Suffering Intense Pain.

"A few years ago when visiting relatives in Michigan something I had eaten brought on an attack of cholera morbus," writes Mrs. Celesta McVicker Maeon, Mo. I only took two or three doses but they did the work. Sold by L. E. Miller & Son. (Adv)

THE CITY GARAGE

THE BAPTIST ENCAMPMENT.

Goldthwaite, Tex., July 21, 1920.
Dear Friends in Goldthwaite and Mills County:

I have just returned from the Baptist encampment at Lampasas and I must tell you that it has been one of the greatest pleasures and blessings I have had for a long time to have had this opportunity of attending it.

Now the fact is if I had known what great things they have there, what a great educational and spiritual uplift one gets and what a pleasant summer outing it is, I should have been making opportunities to attend all these years. To think it is only forty miles from us and this is the first time I have ever enjoyed the blessings this great encampment affords, notwithstanding this is the sixteenth annual session.

There are other Baptists in Goldthwaite and surrounding country who were there for their first time and many more who have never been there at all, while there were people in attendance from all over Texas for three hundred miles around and even from Oklahoma.

Surely it is time we were waking up to the opportunities around us and learning to enjoy the blessings God is giving us year after year in many of the best things of life. But seeing us believing, and if you will go next year you'll surely want to go back again.

When I saw the encampment grounds with the natural carpet of green and the great beautiful trees extending their sheltering branches of soft green shade overhead, the light of the sun making his way through them to give life and vigor, and the lovely bathing pool where one can swim and play in the water to his heart's content, I wondered if anywhere in nature God had provided a more beautiful place. This is all delightful and many come here merely to enjoy the outing even when there is no encampment going on.

But the encampment program. I must tell you only a little about that, for to tell you everything would fill a book, nor could I find language to express myself.

From 8:30 to 10:45 each morning were classes for S. S. teachers, pastors and Junior and Senior B. Y. P. U. workers taught by the best talent of our state and other states. In these one could get a vision of the great good that could be done by training and organization.

After classes from 10:45 to 12:30 were two great addresses each morning by such men as Dr. Wallace Bassett, Dr. J. B. Tidwell, Dr. Neill and Dr. Geo. W. Leavell. At 7:30 each evening was a Vesper service called in old fashioned language a grove meeting, where we would sit on the grass under the great trees and hear the voice of God as brought in the eloquent messages of Dr. Chas. Maddrey of Austin. The evening sermon was delivered each evening by Dr. Henry Alfred Porter of Atlanta, Ga., one of the strongest and most eloquent men of the Baptist denomination in the South.

Of the women speakers, I enjoyed most the messages brought by a young French woman and a Mexican girl. Each of these were recently rescued from a religion in which the worship of images and saints is most prominent. They were each from families who had been wealthy in their own countries, but had lost their wealth. The young French woman had found the way of life and the true God in Dr. Truett's first church of Dallas. She at once entered the Baptist training school in Fort Worth, where she is now preparing to go as a missionary to Russia. The story of her life is most thrilling. She has traveled over all the countries of Europe, crossed the Atlantic twenty-nine times and has also traveled much in America while enjoying all the pleasures and luxuries that wealth could afford. It would thrill your heart to hear her tell how infinitely happier she is now trying to live the simple Christian life while she tells others the story of Jesus and the plan of salvation.

The little Mexican girl with her family fled from Mexico during the war and came here in poverty. She too was found by students of the Training School, through whose influences she is now in Baylor College. Her face is radiant with the joy of heaven as she tells in her simple broken way how happy she is now that she has found the true God and how very glad she is that she is going to have the opportunity to go back to Mexico to tell the story of Jesus to her own people.

Among the men speakers Dr. Geo. W. Leavell, medical missionary from China, touched my heart most. He told many thrilling stories out of his actual experience in that heathen country of how those poor benighted people would come to his hospital suffering from all manner of diseases and how when their bodies were healed they would teach them about Jesus and the true religion which they would nearly always accept. He said that they considered their work only half done if they were healed in body and yet did not accept our Lord and Savior as theirs. I wish that every Christian in our country might have been there and felt the thrill in their hearts as we did when this great useful man showed the needs of the field. Surely it would make us all give more of our means and some of us, even ourselves, as many of the young people at these meetings pledged themselves to do.

Tuesday of this week was stunt day, when representatives of churches, colleges and societies performed their feet on the situation, has infection in tuberculosis. It has been established that infection in this disease takes place easily and most frequently in childhood. Tuberculosis disease often results from such infection in the form of lumpy necks, scrofulous condition, hip and joint disease, on through a long list of conditions including pulmonary or lung tuberculosis, the list, however, not often appearing in childhood. In the majority of children, very fortunately, the infection remains dormant, or if there is disease it remains so slight as not to attract attention. In such cases the germ of tuberculosis lies buried in the tissues, encapsulated, to use the medical term with its days of mischief ahead.

In adult life tuberculosis more often manifests itself in the pulmonary type rather than as surgical tuberculosis (glandular, joint, bone, et cetera), and occurs most frequently in that period of life when there is most stress and storm—the age period from sixteen to thirty, infection having taken place in childhood.

STEVE THE TAILOR

POISONING THE BOLL WEEVIL IN TEXAS.

(By J. B. Hopkins, Chief Assistant Entomologist, Department of Agriculture, Austin.)
 So many inquiries as to means of combatting the bollweevil are coming to this office that it was thought advisable to issue this paper to meet the necessity. In the brief space I shall outline as fully as possible the salient points in what is the only efficient and practicable method known to this department. This method, known as the Coad method, originated in the Federal laboratory at Tallulah, La. It consists in applying calcium arsenate as a dust spray. The three essential points in the process are as follows:
 (1) Machinery.—The poison, to be effective, must be applied with a machine that has fan power enough to absolutely separate the material into its finest dust particles, so that it forms a dust cloud fine enough to remain suspended in the air for some time. This requires a fan that runs about 3000 revolutions per minute. Machinery of this kind is hard to obtain this year, because the method is new, hence the market is furnishing some inferior machines that are sure to lead to disappointment. When you buy, be sure to demand fanpower. It is worse than useless to try to apply the poison by any of the old methods.
 (2) It Must Be Applied at Night.—If you recall driving along a country road at night, you will remember that as you went into a valley you came in contact with "layers" of air of different temperature. In other words, when the night air has time to come to rest and the influence of the sun's rays are absent, the air is standing in layers of different densities. If a cloud of the poison is formed in the lower layer among the plants, it will stand there for some time without rising and floating away. This gives ample time for the film of hygroscopic water that is on every leaf, twig or stem to become saturated with the poison. Also the dew which is heavier at night aids in the work. Now the boll weevil drinks dew, and at the same time drinks poison.
 (3) The Poison.—In order to get the best results the poison must come up to the standard set by the federal laboratory. I suggest that when you have bought calcium arsenate in any quantity you submit a sample to the laboratory at Tallulah, La., for analysis. This work is done free of charge. The analysis on the package label should guarantee: not less than 40 per cent arsenic oxide, not more than 75 per cent water soluble arsenic, its density not more than 100 nor less than 80 cu. in. to the pound. With poison of this analysis it will not require more than 5 to 7 pounds per acre-application, meaning not more than 20 to 28 pounds for the season. This amount will vary with the perfection of the machine used and the care of operation. Two or three pounds to the acre is better if applied right than more if not.
 The ideal conditions for poisoning cotton will produce a cloud of dust so complete that when you get to the end of the rows and look back it will still be standing in the row, and the tops of the tallest stalks will be sticking out of it very much as if submerged in water.
 In order to be able to keep up with the boll weevil damage in your field, you should make the count as follows:
 Count 200 squares at each end of the field and 200 in the center, choosing places that represent average conditions. Snip off all punctured squares and count them. Divide the number punctured by the total 600 and you will have the "percentage of infestation." You can make a cotton crop if the infestation stays below 20 per cent; if it is above, you are in danger.
 Apply poison every four or five nights until the infestation falls below 20 per cent, then quit until it gets above 20 per cent. Usually two or three applications will reduce it below 20 per

BETTER THAN THE AVERAGE.

Most people have a very vague idea as to who the average farmer is. The facts are that it is doubtful whether there is such a man as the average farmer. All of them are above the average in intelligence, in citizenship and in honest industry. They are not average men, but extraordinary men, and are doing extraordinary things to get the nation back to peace and prosperity.
 Unfortunately, most people who are seeking to analyze the average farmer are interested in how he will vote. Farmers have no definite way of voting. They vote according to their conviction and trust men and parties according to the way they understand the character of the men and the sincerity of the parties. They are now thinking of how they have been treated by the political parties and the politicians in general. They may have decided that if there is anything progressive undertaken for the nation's greatest business, farming, and for their own welfare these days of strikes and profiteering that they will have to undertake it themselves.—Farm and Ranch.

THE CITY GARAGE

THE BAPTIST ENCAMPMENT.

Goldthwaite, Tex., July 21, 1920.
Dear Friends in Goldthwaite and Mills County:

I have just returned from the Baptist encampment at Lampasas and I must tell you that it has been one of the greatest pleasures and blessings I have had for a long time to have had this opportunity of attending it.

Now the fact is if I had known what great things they have there, what a great educational and spiritual uplift one gets and what a pleasant summer outing it is, I should have been making opportunities to attend all these years. To think it is only forty miles from us and this is the first time I have ever enjoyed the blessings this great encampment affords, notwithstanding this is the sixteenth annual session.

There are other Baptists in Goldthwaite and surrounding country who were there for their first time and many more who have never been there at all, while there were people in attendance from all over Texas for three hundred miles around and even from Oklahoma.

Surely it is time we were waking up to the opportunities around us and learning to enjoy the blessings God is giving us year after year in many of the best things of life. But seeing us believing, and if you will go next year you'll surely want to go back again.

When I saw the encampment grounds with the natural carpet of green and the great beautiful trees extending their sheltering branches of soft green shade overhead, the light of the sun making his way through them to give life and vigor, and the lovely bathing pool where one can swim and play in the water to his heart's content, I wondered if anywhere in nature God had provided a more beautiful place. This is all delightful and many come here merely to enjoy the outing even when there is no encampment going on.

But the encampment program. I must tell you only a little about that, for to tell you everything would fill a book, nor could I find language to express myself.

From 8:30 to 10:45 each morning were classes for S. S. teachers, pastors and Junior and Senior B. Y. P. U. workers taught by the best talent of our state and other states. In these one could get a vision of the great good that could be done by training and organization.

After classes from 10:45 to 12:30 were two great addresses each morning by such men as Dr. Wallace Bassett, Dr. J. B. Tidwell, Dr. Neill and Dr. Geo. W. Leavell. At 7:30 each evening was a Vesper service called in old fashioned language a grove meeting, where we would sit on the grass under the great trees and hear the voice of God as brought in the eloquent messages of Dr. Chas. Maddrey of Austin. The evening sermon was delivered each evening by Dr. Henry Alfred Porter of Atlanta, Ga., one of the strongest and most eloquent men of the Baptist denomination in the South.

Of the women speakers, I enjoyed most the messages brought by a young French woman and a Mexican girl. Each of these were recently rescued from a religion in which the worship of images and saints is most prominent. They were each from families who had been wealthy in their own countries, but had lost their wealth. The young French woman had found the way of life and the true God in Dr. Truett's first church of Dallas. She at once entered the Baptist training school in Fort Worth, where she is now preparing to go as a missionary to Russia. The story of her life is most thrilling. She has traveled over all the countries of Europe, crossed the Atlantic twenty-nine times and has also traveled much in America while enjoying all the pleasures and luxuries that wealth could afford. It would thrill your heart to hear her tell how infinitely happier she is now trying to live the simple Christian life while she tells others the story of Jesus and the plan of salvation.

The little Mexican girl with her family fled from Mexico during the war and came here in poverty. She too was found by students of the Training School, through whose influences she is now in Baylor College. Her face is radiant with the joy of heaven as she tells in her simple broken way how happy she is now that she has found the true God and how very glad she is that she is going to have the opportunity to go back to Mexico to tell the story of Jesus to her own people.

Among the men speakers Dr. Geo. W. Leavell, medical missionary from China, touched my heart most. He told many thrilling stories out of his actual experience in that heathen country of how those poor benighted people would come to his hospital suffering from all manner of diseases and how when their bodies were healed they would teach them about Jesus and the true religion which they would nearly always accept. He said that they considered their work only half done if they were healed in body and yet did not accept our Lord and Savior as theirs. I wish that every Christian in our country might have been there and felt the thrill in their hearts as we did when this great useful man showed the needs of the field. Surely it would make us all give more of our means and some of us, even ourselves, as many of the young people at these meetings pledged themselves to do.

Tuesday of this week was stunt day, when representatives of churches, colleges and societies performed their Dodge car under all kinds of conditions, the government adopted it and used over 14,000 of them in the World War.

Did you ever wonder why the following things are facts about the Dodge:

1. Why it not only sells readily at the present price, but brings a bonus in most parts of the country?
2. Why more Dodges are used for tool wagons in Eastland and Stephens counties in the rough oil field roads than any other car?
3. Why so many are used for commercial purposes all over the country?
4. Why they have such a good second hand value?

They do not create a demand by glaring advertisements in magazines and daily papers. It is the low upkeep and long lives of the product that is bringing in two orders for every one of the 600 cars they are making a day.

If you are interested in a car, I will be glad to show you the new Dodge with many new features that make it more durable than ever. The new long springs and deep leather upholstery make riding a pleasure on the roughest roads.

If you are going to place an order for a Dodge, please do not wait until you are ready for your car, for with the orders I have now it would take from thirty to sixty days to get you a Dodge.

MARRIED AT STAR WEDNESDAY NIGHT.

Wednesday night at the church at Star, in the presence of a very large audience of friends and well-wishers, Bascom Goode and Miss Frances Mildred Brooking were united in the holy bonds of matrimony, Rev. R. W. Bynum performing the ceremony.

Amid the most beautiful floral decorations, the bride, who wore a dress of white crepe de chine and accessories to harmonize, and the groom advanced to the altar, led by the floral girls. The beautiful and impressive ring ceremony was used. Immediately following the ceremony a number of their friends gathered with them at the home of Mrs. Goode's mother for a few hours' entertainment.

The bride is the eldest daughter of Dr. J. E. Brooking of Goldthwaite and his wife, Dr. Mary Brooking of Star. She is a young lady of many beautiful traits of character and a charming manner. She is surrounded by many admiring friends in her home community. Just before her marriage she was postmistress at Star.

Mr. Goode is a son of Mrs. Dora Goode, formerly of Star and Goldthwaite. He is known and liked by almost everybody in the county. Several years ago he was connected with the Eagle in the mechanical department for quite a while. Mr. Goode, at the beginning of the war, joined the navy, in which he soon became Chief Yeoman. At the end of the war he was transferred to the Canal Zone, at which place he received his furlough. Since then he has been promoted and transferred to the photographic department of the naval aviation service. Mr. Goode has made good in the navy and likes it fine.

The happy couple left Friday night for Washington, D. C., via Siloam Springs, Ark., where they will visit the groom's mother. At Washington they will spend several months. Then it is probable that they will go either to San Francisco or San Diego.

The Eagle joins the host of friends of this model young couple in extending to them congratulations and best wishes for their success and happiness in life.

Mr. and Mrs. John B. Morgan and Miss Johnnie Shults of Ranger have been in the city visiting their sister, Mrs. G. N. Atkinson, and family.

YOU ARE HEREBY COMMANDED, That by publication of this Writ for twenty days in a newspaper printed in the County of Mills, you give due notice to all persons interested in the Account for Final Settlement of said Estate, to appear and contest the same if they see proper to do so, on or before the September Term, 1920, of said County Court, commencing and to be holden at the Court House of said county, in the city of Goldthwaite, on the First Monday in September, A. REPUBLICAN PRIMARY.

To the Republican Voters of Mills County:

Notice is hereby given that we will have a precinct primary in each precinct in the county for the purpose of electing delegates to County Convention and also elect county chairman and precinct chairmen for the next two years.

The precinct convention is to be held on Saturday, July 24, 1920, and we urge all who have the interest of the Republican party to remain out of the Democratic primary and be ready to assist in selecting a good, clean Republican governor for Texas. All voters interested in a change in the national and state administrations are urged to assist in these conventions.

The county convention will be held on Saturday, July 31, 1920, at the courthouse, Goldthwaite, Texas, at 3 o'clock p. m. It is hardly necessary to request Republicans to attend the Republican primaries as well as the county convention, but many go into the Democratic primary and then make great talk of never going into another one. Better make the change now and you will soon see a change in our state politics. Don't tie your hands and then have to vote for the man the "political click" selects, but have a voice in this selection.

Given this the 14th day of July, 1920. R. F. McDERMOTT, Republican County Chairman, Mills Co.

FROM STAMFORD.

Stamford, Texas, July 15, 1920. Dear Old Eagle:

After some time, I write you a few lines to let your many readers know that I am still floating down the stream of time, right side up with care, and I expect to float down your way about the 28th of this month to shake the hands of some of the old-timers down that way, as it has been some time since I shook their old grizzled paws. Well, as to news I haven't much to write. Crops are fairly good, wheat and oats are light and the acreage small. The web worms and grasshoppers are bothering the cotton some; feed stuffs needing rain. Politics is red hot and boiling over. The candidates are sure hustling for votes, and I don't believe half of them will be elected. I wish I could vote for all of them, they all seem to be so friendly and kind. Well, it will not be long until it will all be over, only the shouting. I wish every year was election year; it makes the people so kind and sociable. Well, Mr. Editor, I sometimes think if we can elect Cox for president and Joe Bailey for governor, Ed Blanton for congress, I would not mind living a hundred years longer.

Hoping to see you soon, I am as ever, G. W. BARR. Stamford, Texas.

THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS.

Editor of the Eagle:

Mr. A. J. Harrison had two articles about the League of Nations and a third about the "Political Situation." In his first article he says: "I am opposed to the league with or without the Republican reservations." In this first article he expresses great admiration for Washington's farewell admonition to avoid foreign entangling alliances. In his last article he says that "Section 10 of the Versailles covenant binds us to guarantee the territorial integrity of King George V. against all external aggression. Under this guarantee, to illustrate, Canada could gain her independence only by whipping the mother country lone-handed," etc.

It seems that he objects to the league of entangling alliances and also objects to the league on account of its preventing us from entering an entangling alliance with Canada or Ireland. Now Bro. A. J. is a conscientious objector. He objects to anything Democratic. He can never forgive Woodrow Wilson for making the world safe for democracy. He says some very ugly things about the democratic "saint."

Our children's histories say George Washington was "first in war, first in peace and first in the hearts of his countrymen." Many of our pure-minded children never learn enough of history to know that Washington had enemies besides the Mifflin-Conway cabal, enemies who published and circulated in the leading magazines or time, something like this: "You (Washington), treacherous in all private friendship, a hypocrite in public affairs. The world is puzzled to know whether to call you an apostate or an imposter and whether you have abandoned good morals or never had any." This great and good man could not escape calumny.

Where Washington had a thousand friends Woodrow Wilson has ten thousand.

When ex-President Taft spoke at Brownwood in favor of the League of Nations, he said: "When the Monroe Doctrine was first put forth there was a mighty howl against it. It was claimed it would cause war. But there never has been a drop of blood shed about the Monroe Doctrine. It worked the other way. The League of Nations is the Monroe Doctrine on a larger scale."

I understand that since the Republicans have nominated a man who voted against the league, Taft says if the Republicans win the league will win anyhow. With perhaps a majority of Republicans in favor of it and all the Democratic party standing forth boldly for it, the League of Nations is a sure thing. I regret that we have delayed ratification so long. Our delay just proves the weakness of democratic government—the masses, the dear people—are indecisive and slow.

Bro. A. J. is not satisfied with the Volstead Act and the Eighteenth Amendment, but while he has the fee down he wants to scalp him and mutilate his carcass. Bro. A. J. objects to Cox because he is a Lutheran or "near Catholic." We all might have been paying tithes to the church of Rome today had it not been for such men as Martin Luther. Some say Cox's son-in-law is Catholic—perhaps he didn't choose this son-in-law.

The Ferguson American platform says: "We are opposed to the League of Nations until the people understand it better, etc. If the league is for the oppressed and weak against the strong, why don't they declare for free Ireland?" It is strange to me that men who oppose war would undertake the dismemberment of the British Empire.

That Article 10 of the Versailles covenant is made to keep war dogs like Napoleon from placing one brother on one throne and another brother on another throne. Victor Hugo said: "The day will come when cannon and cannon balls will be exhibited in museums and men will wonder why such things ever were. The day will come when ballots will take the place of bullets. The day will come when the United States of America and the United States of Europe will be united."

The way things are going now it seems that to the republics of France and Switzerland may eventually be added Russia and Germany.

Some day, some time, some how, England may become a republic. Perhaps a king may do as the last pagan emperor of Rome—abdicate.

Old Diocletian laid aside the imperial purple and took up the hoe. But there is no man like him in the Christian era. The French revolution example has taught us all not to be too enthusiastic for liberty, fraternity and equality.

The French general assembly or congress at one time published: "France is now free and France will assist any other nation struggling for independence." Just think of glorious liberty and the reign of terror. Republican marriage, republican baptism and Republican Battenus, the holy guillotine—300 babies drowned in the River Loire in one night; 40 executions per day for months; France becomes an absolute monarchy; Napoleon divorces Josephine and marries the Austrian woman so he will be connected with the royalty of Europe! France said kings made war, down with kings. The kaiser made war, down with the kaiser; but he is down.

Darius kept a slave whose sole duty was to daily stir up the purposes of the king by saying: Master, remember the Athenians!

Hannibal when 12 years old was led to the altar and swore eternal hatred to Rome.

Cato the elder never made a speech without in the beginning or conclusion of it came over these words: "Fellow citizens, methinks Carthage must be destroyed." The campaigns of Alexander and Julius Caesar have no better qualification than those of Attila (scourge of God) and Genghis Khan and I should add here Kaiser Bill, another Hun!

The other day the American Federation of Labor began to chew the rag. Gompers said, boys we all-ways said we were opposed to war. If we were sincere we favor the league. That settled it. They voted for it.

Do you favor the settling of disputes by the judgment of courts or by the rattle of rifles and the boom of the heavens? Do you favor peace and disarmament or do you favor the mobilization, march and progress of armies?

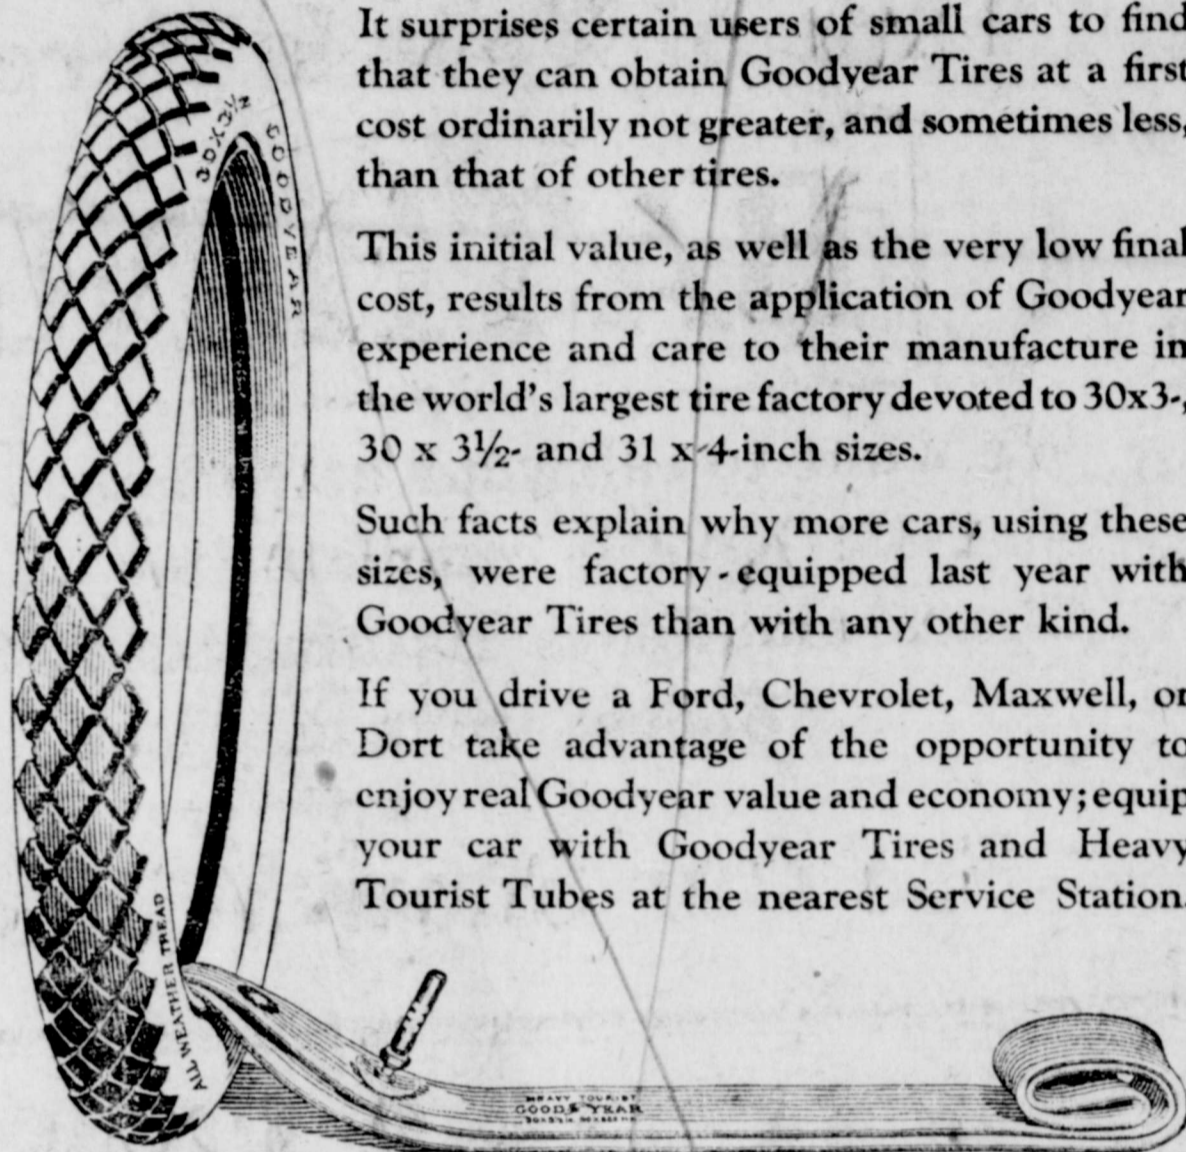

Will you stick to the League of Nations or will you stick to your party, God or no God? W. H. WOOD.

AIRPLANES IN BROWNWOOD GIVE THE PEOPLE JOY RIDES

Three big airplanes are here for the rodeo and stockmen's convention, their purpose being to do a number of exhibition stunts for the entertainment of the crowds as well as to carry passengers on aerial joy rides. Two of the planes are owned by the Williams Aero Company of San Angelo and the other is owned by C. E. Carter of Stephenville. The pilots of the three planes are Fred J. Williams and A. R. Thompson of San Angelo, C. E. Carter and Steve Bask of Stephenville.

All of the pilots who are here with the planes are former army flyers who are now finding commercial aviation not only attractive as a profession but satisfactory from a purely commercial viewpoint. The planes will use the landing field in the southern part of the city, making flights daily through the remainder of the week.—Brownwood Bulletin.

Ride on Goodyear Tires in That Sturdy Small Car of Yours

It surprises certain users of small cars to find that they can obtain Goodyear Tires at a first cost ordinarily not greater, and sometimes less, than that of other tires.

This initial value, as well as the very low final cost, results from the application of Goodyear experience and care to their manufacture in the world's largest tire factory devoted to 30x3-, 30 x 3 1/2- and 31 x 4-inch sizes.

Such facts explain why more cars, using these sizes, were factory-equipped last year with Goodyear Tires than with any other kind.

If you drive a Ford, Chevrolet, Maxwell, or Dort take advantage of the opportunity to enjoy real Goodyear value and economy; equip your car with Goodyear Tires and Heavy Tourist Tubes at the nearest Service Station.

30 x 3 1/2 Goodyear Double-Cure Fabric, All-Weather Tread . . . $23.50
30 x 3 1/2 Goodyear Single-Cure Fabric, Anti-Skid Tread . . . $21.50

Goodyear Heavy Tourist Tubes cost no more than the price you are asked to pay for tubes of less merit—why risk costly casings when such sure protection is available? 30 x 3 1/2 size in waterproof bag----- $4.50

HAD TO MUFFLE THE TELEPHONE

Mrs. Swanson's Nerves Were Upset From Years of Trouble—Gains 20 Pounds.

"For the benefit of thousands who are suffering from stomach trouble and a run down condition, I want to tell of the wonderful results I have gotten from Tanlac," said Mrs. Lena Swanson, of 1720 North Madison St., Peoria, Ill.

"It was eight years ago that my stomach got out of order and my health began to fail," she continued. "Finally I got to feeling so bad that I lost interest in everything and got no pleasure out of life. My food acted like poison to my system and I would bloat up with gas and suffered agonies. My heart would flutter until I was almost faint and at times I would get so dizzy the house seemed to be whirling round. I had to almost stop eating and became so weak it was all I could do to get about the house. My nerves were so shattered every time the ringing of the telephone upset me and I had to muffle it. I slept very little and seldom woke up in the morning without a dull, nagging headache.

"My brother had gotten such fine results from taking Tanlac that he talked me into trying it and I improved remarkably with the very first bottle.—got so I could eat and sleep better. Now after taking five bottles my friends tell me I am the picture of health. I can eat anything, even boiled meats, cabbage and pickles without a bit of trouble with my stomach. My nerves are calm and I sleep like a child every night. I have gained twenty pounds in weight and I never grow tired of praising Tanlac."

Tanlac is sold in Goldthwaite by all dealers.

Dear Mr. Price: This is to give you official notice that the supervisors who examined the material submitted by the Goldthwaite High School have approved the following unit of affiliation:

Biology, one unit.

I wish to compliment you and your faculty upon the general excellence of the work which was approved, and sincerely hope that this success will be an inspiration to still further efforts next year.

Yours very truly,

S. M. N. MARRS,
Chief Supervisor of Public High Schools

Elsewhere will be found a letter from the Department of Education which will be self explanatory and I am sure will be of interest to the patrons of the Goldthwaite School.

This brings officially to a close my work in the school of 1919-20, but it does not bring to a close, nor ever will, my deep interest in the welfare and education of the boys and girls of Mills county. As I have frequently said, and here again repeat, that I have never worked among a better people nor had a finer student body than I have had here at Goldthwaite, and while I may retire for a time at least from the profession of teaching, yet I will always be found ready and willing to contribute everything in my power for the upbuilding and the on-going of the educational interests of our country.

50,000 JEWS TO SETTLE AT ONCE IN HOLY LAND, DECIDED UPON

The Chief Justice of the United States Supreme Court, Louis Brandeis, was made chairman of the Zionist meeting held in London July 5, which, it is believed, will harmonize the different groups of the movement. In this meeting six points were decided upon:

At least 50,000 Jews are to be settled at once in the Holy Land.

Acres for their requirements must be purchased in healthful climates and in fertile places.

The Zionist party must co-operate with the Arabs and give no cause for friction.

Large sums of money must be raised among the Jews first, to defray the expenses incident to the settlement of the land.

The Zionists must seek authority from the present powers in Palestine to raise and maintain at least one regiment for defense.

A re-organization of the Zionist movement to meet the pressing needs of the hour—in putting its words into actions.

TENANTS TO OWN HOMES.

Tenant farmers have never had as good opportunities to buy and pay for homes as they have today. It is true that farm products are not bringing what they should bring when we consider what laborers are receiving and what the consumers are paying. But it is a fact that the country is on a cash basis and that farmers who produce the things that people must have, are selling them at better prices than ever before, and that marketing conditions are not as bad as they have been in the past.

Many land owners are tired of hiring hands and paying unreasonable prices with little hope of getting enough returns to compensate them for their labor and investments. There are many farmers who would be glad to sell a portion of their farms to industrious tenants, and give them ample time and a good opportunity to pay. There is an abundance of land in the Southwest that can be bought on reasonable terms and which industrious tenants may now have under present conditions.

Home-owning is the hope of the nation. Those who own their homes and improve them have a great opportunity to serve society and may enjoy life on the farm to a much fuller degree than if they must rent and submit to poor buildings and undesirable surroundings.—Farm and Ranch.

"I suffered for years with stomach trouble and tried everything I heard of but the only relief I got was temporary until last spring I saw Chamberlain's Tablets advertised and I procured a bottle of them from our druggist. I got immediate relief from that dreadful heaviness and pain in the stomach after eating. Since taking two bottles I can eat anything I want without distress" writes Mrs. Linda Harrod, Ft. COAST TO COAST CONVOY DUE IN FORT WORTH ON AUGUST 3

Southern and Southwestern States will have their opportunity to shrink or bow, as the case may be, when the report on road conditions is turned in by the 1920 transcontinental convoy of the Motor Transport Corps. Last year the truck train traveled from Washington to San Francisco by way of Chicago and the Northwest, over the Lincoln Highway.

This year's tour, which started from Washington June 14, is over the Bankhead National Highway traversing such states as the Virginias, Carolinas, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, Arkansas, Texas, Arizona, and California, terminating in Los Angeles on or about Sept. 17. The convoy is now well under way and roads thus far have been fairly good, but the long, hard grind is proving to be a severe test for the motor equipment, nevertheless.

Much of the monotony of the long journey overland is being relieved by cordial public receptions in the cities and towns along the route. Dodge Brothers dealers especially have been active in this respect, taking the initiative in enthusiastic demonstrations of welcome, in which women of the towns play their part by providing refreshments for the travelers. In several instances large fleets of Dodge Brothers cars have gone far out beyond the limits of their cities to meet the train and escort it triumphantly to the scene of elaborately arranged festivities.

The particular interest shown in the event by Dodge Brothers motor car owners is explained by their pride over the car's remarkable war record, coupled with the fact that several Dodge Brothers cars were again chosen as official units of the train. Last year a fleet of these cars piloted the trucks across the country with a record of unflinching performance and low upkeep cost that was fully up to the military standard that more than 14,000 of the same cars had established for themselves in the army. It is significant that Dodge Brothers Motor car was chosen by the government as the official army car of its class and was also included in the second transcontinental convoy as the only light car officially participating. This selection includes both the passenger car for officers, and the business car, for officers' luggage.

Ellis Boyd of the Cooke-Boyd Motor Company, local Dodge Brothers dealers, say the convoy is due in Fort Worth about Aug. 3.—Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

Quite a few tarpon have been caught. Saw one this morning that some parties had just captured; it looked to be 4 1/2 or 5 feet long. I think I can safely report my condition physically very much improved. Success and good wishes for all.
