TRAVELING SALESMAN KILLED BY TRAIN AT MULLIN CREEK

Late Tuesday afternoon the west-bound passenger train struck an automobile at the Mullin creek crossing, driven by D. J. Johnson, a traveling salesman for an automobile supply house in Dallas, and destroyed the car, seriously injuring the driver. Mr. Johnson was rushed to the sanitarium at Brownwood, but died before the train reached Zephyr.

D. J. Johnson was alone in the car. The accident occurred at the grade crossing at Mullin creek and was witnessed by several persons. The body was shipped to relatives in Dallas Wednesday night.

EAGLE IS PRESENTED WITH THE BEST WATERMELON SEEN HERE

Ed Tullis, one of the progressive farmers of Mills county who lives a few miles north of this city on the Mullin road, brought in a load of watermelons Friday morning from his farm which were among the finest seen in this city this season. The melons created much interest wherever seen and to prove that Mills county farms, when operated by the right men, can raise as fine products as any farms in the world.

The melons were perfect in shape and large in size. Mr. Tullis drove by the Eagle office and presented the force with one of the finest of the lot.

FORMER CITIZEN DIES.

Word has been received in this city of the death at San Angelo last Friday evening of W. A. Harper, who settled in this county in 1872 and lived in the county and this city until ten or twelve years ago, when he moved to San Angelo. Mr. Harper leaves a wife and three boys. He was known and well liked by all the old settlers in Mills county, who will regret to learn of his death.

17th District.)

DEMOCRATIC PRIMARY SATURDAY DREW THE CUSTOMARY CROWD

Last Saturday, election day, was one of the biggest days of the year, especially for the candidates and the cold drink parlors. Early in the morning the people began coming into town and by late afternoon the streets were packed with cars and the sidewalks with people.

Excitement ran high when the first counts of the results of the voting began coming in. Both drug stores here had bulletin boards and marked up the counts as soon as a report could be had from the different boxes.

The running in every instance was very close and the results could not be ascertained until about one o'clock Sunday morning. The results of the election will be found elsewhere in this paper.

The official account of the election will be made by Jno. W. Roberts, chairman of the Democratic executive committee of Mills county, and his precinct chairman this afternoon, but it is almost impossible for the count to result in a change of results.

LEAVE MONDAY TO ATTEND FARMERS SHORT COURSE

County Farm Demonstration Agent W. P. Weaver, accompanied by several of the progressive farmers of the county, will leave Monday morning for College Station to attend the farmers short course given by the Texas Agricultural and Mechanical College.

L. D. ASHLEY DEAD.

L. D. Ashley died at his home in this city Wednesday morning, July 28, 1920, at eight o'clock, following an illness extending over a period of five months caused by cancer of the bladder. He was 56 years old on January 25, 1920.

Funeral services were held Thursday at 2 p. m. at the Baptist church in Indian Gap. Interment was in the Indian Gap cemetery immediately following.

Joe Ashley of Wingate and Mrs. E. E. Swindle of Priddy, a son and daughter of L. D. Ashley, were present at the funeral.

L. D. Ashley and family moved to Indian Gap in 1891, where they lived for ten years, moving from there to Runnels county. Four years ago they moved back to Indian Gap and lived until a few months ago, when they moved to this city.

TREATMENT OF WATERMELONS FOR STEM END ROT

(M. E. Hays, Horticulturist, Extension Service, A. and M. College of Texas.)

The stem end rot is one of the most serious troubles that the shipper has to contend with. This disease can be prevented by stem end treatment, this, according to the work of the United States Department of Agriculture. The importance of this disease should be of special interest to the growers, growers associations and shippers.

Bluestone (Copper Sulphate) 4 ounces; rye flour 4 1/2 ounces; distilled water, 3 pints; Pistachio green coloring, one-half fluid ounce; powdered alum, 3 ounces. This amount of material will make about one quart of paste, sufficient amount to treat one carload of watermelons.

Directions for preparing the paste: Use copper or enamel vessels. (1) Dissolve 4 ounces bluestone in 2 pints boiling water. (2) Dissolve 3 ounces powdered alum in 1 pint water and then add 4 1/2 ounces rye flour and mix to form a smooth paste. (3) when the bluestone is thoroughly dissolved, pour the solution in the paste, stirring the mixture thoroughly. Bring this mixture to a boiling point and cook for is made in large quantities it may be about five minutes. (When the paste is made in small quantities it may be cooked in a small quantity of water). After the paste is allowed to cool it may then be strained through cheese cloth, after which the coloring matter should be added. (4) The paste should be stored in air tight containers. Glass jars or tin cans lined with paraffin may be used for this purpose. Uncoated metal containers must not be used.

This is applied to the fresh cut stem by means of a brush. One boy can easily treat melons for two or three loaders.

FED. RESERVE BOARD AGREES TO FINANCE WOOL GROWERS

(By W. T. McGee, Sheep Specialist, Extension Service A. and M. College.)

Representatives of the national Wool Growers Association and Fleece State Associations recently held a conference with the Federal Reserve Board for the purpose of working out plans whereby the wool growers could be financed until the wool market opened up. This conference resulted in the formulation of a simple plan which it is hoped will restore confidence in the wool industry; and make it possible for the wool growers to hold their wool until they are offered a fair price for it. It was clearly shown that no disposition to maintain artificial prices existed, the object being to finance the clip until something like normal conditions in the wool market can be restored.

The committee pointed out that since the raw wools in the hands of the dealers and mills was not larger at this time than during former years, the supply of yarn goods, wool goods and suits in the hands of wholesale and retail trade is not exceptionally heavy. There should be no slump in prices. There is not much doubt but that there will be a general reduction of prices all along the line and naturally the wool growers will be expected to bear their part. This situation is not alarming provided the producers exhibit an optimistic view and do not flood the market as soon as buyers commence bidding.

The following plan was worked out by the representatives at Washington and suggested as a means to assist in the financing of this year's clip.

"A wool grower may ship his wool to one of the usual points of distribution, obtaining from the railroad a bill of lading for the shipment; the grower may then draw a draft against his bank for such an amount as may be agreed upon by the grower and the bank, secured by the bill of lading. The Federal Reserve Act authorized any member bank to accept a draft secured in this manner at the time of acceptance, provided that the draft matures in not more than six months from the time of acceptance. After acceptance such a draft bearing the endorsement of a member bank is eligible for rediscount or purchase by a Federal Reserve Bank, provided that it has a maturity of not more than three months from the rediscount or purchase.

It was suggested that the Federal Reserve Board communicate with the Federal Reserve Banks, pointing out that the shipments of wool to points of distribution may properly be financed by acceptance in the above manner.

The rate of interest and amount advanced will be agreed upon by grower and banker. A number of banks had already advanced as much as 30 cents before the above plan was worked out.

The wool growers who expect to take advantage of the above plan will probably find it advantageous to place their wool in county pools or with some reliable firm that makes a business of handling consignments. There are twenty-one county organizations in Texas that now have wool pooled. It will be necessary to write these associations to find out their terms of handling the wool before it has been shipped. The secretaries of the associations should consult their local bankers in regard to financing the members.

The county associations of this State have agreed to store wool until the market assumes a more normal status. The future of the organizations depends upon whether the members hold together or sell independently.

RELATING TO TAXATION BY SCHOOL DISTRICTS.

Senate Joint Resolution No. 17.

Proposing an amendment to Section 3 of Article VII of the Constitution of the State of Texas by exempting independent and common school districts from the limitation of a total tax of one dollar on the one hundred dollars valuation for any one year, and making an appropriation therefor.

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas:

SECTION 1. That Section 3 of Article VII of the Constitution be so amended as hereafter to read as follows: (Creating a new Section 3.)

Section 3. One-fourth of the revenue derived from the State occupation taxes and a poll tax of one ($1.00) dollar on every inhabitant of this state, between the ages of twenty-one and sixty years, shall be set apart annually for the benefit of the public free schools; and in addition thereto, there shall be levied and collected an annual ad valorem state tax of such an amount not to exceed thirty-five cents on the one hundred ($100.00) dollars valuation, as which the available school fund arising from all other sources, will be sufficient to maintain and support the public schools of this state for a period of not less than six months in each year, and it shall be the duty of the State Board of Education to set aside a sufficient amount out of the said tax to provide free text books for the use of children attending the public free schools of this State; provided, however, that should the limit of taxation herein imposed be insufficient the deficit may be met by appropriation from the general funds of the State and the legislature may also provide for the formation of school districts by general or special law without the local notice required in other cases of special legislation; and all such school districts, whether created by general or special law may enforce parts of two or more counties. And the legislature shall be authorized to pass laws for the assessment and collection of taxes in all said districts and for the management and control of the public school or schools of such districts, whether such districts are composed of territory wholly within a county or in parts of two or more counties. And the legislature may authorize an additional ad valorem tax to be levied and collected within all school districts heretofore formed or hereafter formed, for the further maintenance of public free schools, and the erection and equipment of school buildings therein; provided, that a majority of the qualified property tax-paying voters of the district voting at an election to be held for that purpose, shall vote such tax not to exceed in any one year one dollar on the one hundred dollars valuation of the property subject to taxation in such district, but the limitation upon the amount of school district tax herein authorized shall not apply to incorporated cities or towns constituting separate and independent school districts, nor to independent or common school districts created by general or special law.

SEC. 2. The foregoing constitutional amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of the State at an election to be held throughout the state on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1920, at which election all voters favoring said proposed amendment shall write or have printed on their ballots the words, "For the amendment to Section 3 of Article VII of the Constitution of the State of Texas, providing that the limitation upon the amount of school district tax of one dollar on the one hundred dollars valuation shall not apply to independent or common school districts created by general or special law," and all those opposed to said amendment shall write or have printed on their ballots "Against the amendment to Section 3 of Article VII of the Constitution of the State of Texas, providing that the limitation upon the amount of school district tax of one dollar on the one hundred dollar valuation shall not apply to independent or common school districts created by general or special law."

SEC. 3. The Governor of the State is hereby directed to issue the necessary proclamation for said election and to have same published as required by the Constitution and existing laws of the State.

SEC. 4. That the sum of Five Thousand ($5,000.00) Dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby appropriated out of any funds in the Treasury of the State of Texas not otherwise appropriated, to pay the expenses of such publication and election.

SALVATION ARMY SERVES EVERY COMMUNITY IN UNITED STATES

"Service of the Salvation Army for every community in the United States" sums up the Salvation Army's Home Service program that is now being carried into effect throughout the whole of this country and particularly in the Southwestern division, comprising Texas, Louisiana and Oklahoma, by the establishment in every county of Salvation Army Advisory Boards.

Leading citizens of every county, realizing the great service that the Salvation Army can render, their community, have accepted the call and are actively engaged in furthering the work of the Salvation Army.

In Texas already fifty-four boards have been organized and are actively at work. Louisiana has nine boards in action, and Oklahoma has twenty-five. Within a few weeks practically every county in the Southwest will have a representation of the Salvation Army in their county seat. The best evidence that the boards are of real service to the community in which they are established, is that through the members, the whole of the Salvation Army's sixteen major activities are placed at the disposal of the residents of that community, in so far as they are applicable.

The county advisory boards that are now functioning in Texas together with their presidents are:

Austin county, Dr. J. A. Neely; Bastrop county, W. E. Maynard; Brazos county, J. T. Maloney; Brown county, I. J. Rice; Bosque county, C. J. Lewis; Cherokee county, A. M. McBride; Clay county, Jos. S. Diekey; Comal county, Rev. F. W. Radzaky; Comanche county, Ed M. Thompson; Cook county, W. D. Carroll; Coryell county, Leake Ayers; Denton county, Ed L. Section 60. Compensation of Public Officials:—All State, district, county and precinct officers within this State, shall receive as compensation for their services a salary, the amount of which, the terms and methods of payment and the fund out of which such payments shall be made, shall be ascertained, declared and fixed by the Legislature from time to time; provided that the Legislature may make such exceptions as it may deem advisable.

THE CITY GARAGE

DODGE BROTHERS MOTOR CAR

Dodge Brothers have been making cars for five years and have built and delivered over 300,000 cars. They now have a production around 600 cars a day, with their factory covering 90 acres floor space; but with this large production they never have been able to supply the demand since they announced they were going to build a car. The fact that Dodge Brothers had built the vital parts for over 500,000 cars before they made a car of their own, was given credit for the overflow of orders just from the announcement they were going to make a car.

Dodge Brothers cars led the government motor transport in Mexico, also in France, and now are leading them on an inspection tour from coast to coast.

After a complete test of every part of a

Dodge car under all kinds of conditions, the government adopted it and used over 14,000 of them in the World War.

Did you ever wonder why the following things are facts about the Dodge:

1. Why it not only sells readily at the present price, but brings a bonus in most parts of the country?
2. Why more Dodges are used for tool wagons in Eastland and Stephens counties in the rough oil field roads than any other car?
3. Why so many are used for commercial purposes all over the country?
4. Why they have such a good second hand value?

They do not create a demand by glaring advertisements in magazines and daily papers. It is the low upkeep and long lives of the product that is bringing in two orders for every one of the 600 cars they are making a day.

If you are interested in a car, I will be glad to show you the new Dodge with many new features that make it more durable than ever. The new long springs and deep leather upholstery make riding a pleasure on the roughest roads.

If you are going to place an order for a Dodge, please do not wait until you are ready for your car, for with the orders I have now it would take from thirty to sixty days to get you a Dodge.

SEE THE NEW DODGE AND GET LITERATURE ON IT WHEN YOU COME TO THE REUNION.

GOVERNOR COX NOT A "NEAR CATHOLIC" OR LUTHERAN

Mr. Editor:

We notice Mr. A. J. Harrison has contributed several articles on the League of Nations, and in the issue of the 17th he has brought in the religious question. It is this last question that we will answer briefly.

In the first place, your correspondent does not even know the religious affiliation of Governor Cox, the Democratic nominee. He is not a Lutheran or "near Catholic," as he states, but a member of the United Brethren Church, as the following clipping taken from the Fort Worth Record of July 23 shows: "In religion, Cox is a member of the United Brethren church, which is a cross between the Methodist church and Baptist. The United Brethren hold practically the same tenets as the Methodist church, but they practice immersion after the fashion of the Baptist."—William H. Crawford in the New York Times.

But even if he were a Lutheran, he would still not be any nearer to the Catholic church than many of the latter-day churches which have sprung up in the past few years.

The insinuation that a Catholic is not fit to hold office in the United States we will pass over as unworthy of the consideration of intelligent people, but respectfully ask your correspondent to read the Constitution, especially Section Six, Article Three, which reads as follows: "The Senators and Representatives before mentioned, and the members of the several state legislatures, and all executive and judicial officers, both of the United States and of the several states, shall be bound by oath or affirmation to support this Constitution; BUT NO RELIGIOUS TEST SHALL EVER BE REQUIRED AS A QUALIFICATION TO ANY OFFICE OR PUBLIC TRUST UNDER THE UNITED STATES."

In the last issue of the Baptist Standard, there is an editorial on the question of politics and religion, in which the editor states that the Baptists are not supporting any candidate because of his religious affiliation; also in the Fort Worth Record of July 22 there is a statement from the secretary of the Baptist General Convention, Mr. F. R. Groner, along the same lines. Hence Mr. Harrison's attempt to bring up the religion of the Democratic nominee for president is not according to the teachings of the Baptist church, if we may consider the parties quoted above as authority.

We notice that the invocation at the notification of Senator Harding will be given by Rev. T. H. McAfee, pastor of the Trinity Baptist church of Marion, Ohio, and the benediction by Rev. Joseph M. Denning, pastor of St. Mary's Catholic church, Marion, Ohio. We are pleased to know that the Baptists and Catholics assimilate so congenially in the native state of Mr. Harding.

As Catholics, we vote for a man because we believe him to be qualified to fill the high office of president without any thought of his religious affiliation, thereby fulfilling our obligation as American citizens and upholding the Constitution of the United States.

R. F. McDERMOTT.

A BIT OF ADVICE

First—Don't Delay. Second—Don't Experiment.

If you suffer from backache; headache or dizzy spells; if you rest poorly and are languid in the morning; if the kidney secretions are irregular and unnatural in appearance, do not delay. In such cases the kidneys often need help.

Doan's Kidney Pills are especially prepared for kidney trouble. They are recommended by thousands. Can Goldthwaite residents desire more convincing proof of their effectiveness than the statement of a Goldthwaite citizen who has used them and willingly testifies to their worth?

A. B. Lane, proprietor of grain store, Goldthwaite, says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills off and on for a good many years and have always derived benefit from their use. I bend over a whole lot and it kind of weakens my back a great deal and I am nervous. The action of my kidneys is sometimes too free. I take Doan's Kidney Pills, which I get at Clements' Drug Store, when I feel this way and always get good relief."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Lane had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.—Adv.

Capt. S. M. Carothers was a pleasant caller at the Eagle office the first of the week. The captain was in fine spirits and looking well, just before the Confederate reunion. He is now stopping with his baby boy, O. A. Carothers, who lives near town. Mr. Carothers was captain of Company B, 42nd Tennessee, Quarles Brigade, Walthall Division, Army of Tennessee, Confederate States America. He was wounded 7 times during the war, one wound proving fatal. He was a prisoner of the Union army for seven months in Mexico. The Captain shows no effect from the wounds.

HOW MUCH IS "ENOUGH SLEEP" AND HOW CAN WE GET IT?

(By Edwin F. Bowers, M. D., New York City.)

Most of us think of the up-and-doing chap as an aggressive, fighting-jawed individual who arises early enough every morning to wake the robins up for breakfast. Always we think of a hero as a lithe young fellow who gets along on a minimum amount of sleep.

All our asinine old proverbs pin figurative ribbons of honor upon the poor dolt who "short changes" himself on sleep to win the fatuous approbation of whomever happens to find out how saving he is with this commodity.

We have heard about Napoleon, Frederick the Great, Frederick Schiller, Charles XII, the Duke of Wellington and John Wesley so often that we have come to believe that the greater and the more intelligent a man is the less sleep he requires.

We have accepted the toothless, doddering old precept:

"Nature requires five,
Custom takes seven,
Laziness takes nine,
And wickedness eleven,"

as gospel truth.

We figured that Virgil and Horace, Franklin and Priestley, Buffon and Parkhurst, and scores of other notables in the world of art, literature and science did their best work on a very moderate amount of sleep. Therefore, why should any one need more?

We know that Sir Thomas Moore got up at four every morning and was so delighted with the results of his practice that in his famous book, "Utopia," he represented all the poor inhabitants of that benighted land as getting up and attending lectures before sunrise. Think of it!

And haven't we had Mr. Edison and his "four hours' sleep out of twenty-four" flaunted in our faces for the past thirty years?

Edison keeps a couch in his workroom and sleeps when he is sleepy—from which I strongly suspect that if all the little dozings and catnaps were added together, it would be found that Mr. Edison takes considerably more than four hours out of each twenty-four for sleeping purposes.

Dr. Richard C. Cabot, chief of the medical staff, Massachusetts General Hospital, Boston, says:

"To get the sleep one needs (which means all that one can possibly soak into one's system within 24 hours) often takes courage—the courage to refuse invitations, to invite ridicule, to seem old and 'Puritanic.'"

"I believe that more minor illnesses are due to lack of sleep than to any other recognizable factor. A person catches cold, gets lumbago, is constipated or headache ridden because his vitality is below par, his physical expenditure beyond his physical income. He is chronically edging toward a breakdown."

There is one thing, however, in connection with the subject of sleep to which we physicians are giving more attention lately than ever before. This has to do with the thing that makes sound sleep possible—a comfortable, noiseless bed that invites complete relaxation and repose—and always by preference a bed that one doesn't have to share with another sleeper.

No physician would permit a patient, even though suffering from some minor illness, to be disturbed by the restless tossing and turning, hopping in and out of bed of a bed partner.

And the time is rapidly approaching when every family, whose financial circumstances permit it, will provide a separate bed for every individual in the family—from baby to grandmother. Then everybody will get more sleep and a better quality of sleep than human beings ever got before in the history of the race.

For the physiological fact about sleep is that we need all we can get, and should take all we can use.

We need have no fear of getting too much, for when we have enough we will wake up, and we'll stay awake.

I am speaking now of healthy individuals, in hygienic surroundings. Those who are poisoned by bad air, alcohol, tobacco, the wrong kind of food or too much of the right kind of food, or by any other of the things that increase the muddiness of this "muddy vesture of decay" will need more sleep than they get. And, even then, they won't have enough.

For it isn't sleep that they need, but a change of habit.

So the answer to the question "How much sleep should I take?" is "all we can get." Let's follow our instinct. When the oxygen balance in the tissues is restored, when the fatigue poisons

Armistice.—

It is reported in apparently credible quarters in Vienna that the first stipulation the Bolsheviki will require of the Poles before entering into peace negotiations will be that the Poles disarm completely so that the negotiations may not be used to gain time or to await the arrival of French or European Crisis.—Participation by the United States in any conference of representatives of Russia and the allied government, looking to a restoration of peace between Poland and the Soviet government, is regarded in Washington as improbable.

Recognition.—A dispatch from London says there is a growing impression in diplomatic circles that direct dealing between the allies and the soviet government of Russia, implying virtual recognition of the Lenin-Trotsky regime, will come out of the Polish-Bolshevik armistice.

A. J. HARRISON WRITES OF TRIP.
Editor Eagle:

I will try now to give you a brief description of my trip and redeem my promise to you. It has been over a week since we started from Goldthwaite; it took us three and a half days to make the trip and since reaching here I have been too busy shaking hands with cousins to redeem my promise to write the Eagle.

Our first stop was Temple, where we ran out to the King's Daughters for a brief visit to Aunt Bettie and Uncle Henry Avery. Found Uncle Henry resting comfortably but very restless and anxious to return home. He appeared to be doing fairly well, yet was very feeble.

From Temple to Houston was another change. The corn crops all along these two legs of our trip would average as good as I ever saw and I believe I can say the same for the cotton crops.

From Houston to New Orleans was the next change in our trip. Much of this journey was made at night and nothing could be seen before daylight
the next morning.

When day dawned on us about the first thing I noticed when I peeped out of the window to my berth was the tall graceful pines of Louisiana marching by my window (apparently) as our train sped eastward. There was no great forest of them, but only clumps left in the cutover lands of the younger timber.
It looked to be fifty or sixty feet to the first limb on many of them, there being only a little bunch of limbs in the top that one could have carried under his arm.

From this we plunged into the Mississippi swamps where a great tangle of trees and underbrush of all varieties met our gaze. Occasionally a great old scrub cypress, apparently standing guard over the smaller timber, could be seen in the distance. In this swamp and about three or four miles from the main body of the Mississippi river we crossed our first delta of the Father of Waters.
This is a good sized river of itself and seems to have broken away from the main stream many miles above and had made an outlet of its own far below on the coast where the many mouths of the great river discharge the huge volume of water into the sea.

Much sugar cane was planted in this section, which extended from the beginning of the swamps to the main stream.
When we reached the main stream a huge ferry boat awaited us. There are some three or four tracks that come down the bank here and meet the boat which likewise has two or three tracks laid on it. Our train ran onto this boat, was cut in two, leaving about half of its length; the remaining half was pulled upon the bank, the switch changed and the other half was deposited alongside another track and we weighed anchor for the other side. As it takes some time to ferry over, we went down below on the ferry boat, where we were served with sandwiches and Louisiana coffee. Man! but it was stout coffee. It was almost as black as the negro that made it, and so strong that I could feel the effects of it for two whole days—and that's no joke.

We were towed off of the boat on the east bank of the river by a switch engine and found ourselves in the city of Baton Rouge, the capital of the state.
We could not see much of the city, as the railroad passed through the side of it. However, to the east of us we could see the state capitol towering above the lower buildings and on the south edge of the city we had pointed out to us one of the largest oil refineries in the world. This is the property of one John D. Rockefeller, of whom we have all heard so much. It covers four hundred and fifty acres of land and employs some two or three thousand men. A "tanker" (oil carrying steamer) was anchored at the bank receiving its cargo. Large ships come up the great river to this point and load
the products of this great refinery, which are transported to all parts of the world.

From this point we made for New Orleans, riding over a perfectly level country with great rice fields and sugar cane fields on either side of the road from Baton Rouge to New Orleans—I suppose one of the most fertile regions in the world. While passing over the great stretches of fertile lands from Goldthwaite to New Orleans, I could not help contemplating the wonderful provisions the Master has made for the unworthy and unappreciative human beings here below. In Texas, the life produced by the germ of the corn grain planted in the early spring was indus-triously drawing from the soil that substance that man must have to subsist on and storing it away on geometrically formed lines of a cob which it had previously prepared for its reception and the whole was covered by thick, closely-fitting shuck to protect it until maturity, while the life produced by the cotton seed was as industriously drawing from the same soil the material for his clothing, storing it in tiny threads wrapped in the four or five compartments of the bowl provided for its protection. And just a little further on the sugar cane was drawing from that same soil the sweetness we all so much require and for which we think we pay such a big price, while the humble rice was standing in its puddle of water fishing out the substance to make its delicious grain; and the acorn was drawing from the earth the fuel to warm man and cook his food. Yes, the acorn was gathering from the same soil the fuel to bake the biscuits gathered by the wheat grain. No one was there to see that they put in full time;

no was inspecting the starch of the rice grain or peeping into the cotton bowl to see if it was getting the fiber properly spun. No one was inspecting the body of the cane stalk to see if it contained the proper amount of saccharine substance, but every one was content that honest old nature was faithfully and honestly doing her duty through the medium of the seeds and plants that the Great Creator had provided for her use in drawing from the store-house of the earth those necessities that man must have or perish.

Then I thought of that passage of scripture: "Consider the lilies of the field, how they grow; they toil not, neither do they spin. Yet I say unto you that Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these." The lily draws its own substance from the earth, but God has provided plants to draw the substance from the earth that man must have or perish.

We spent seven hours in New Orleans and saw many things there worth while, which I will try to describe at some other time, as this is growing too long.

GREATEST REUNION IN HISTORY OF MILLS COUNTY CLOSED ON FRIDAY NIGHT

Last night at 12 o'clock three of the biggest days in the history of Mills county closed the thirty-third annual U. C. V. reunion. The farm and garden exhibits, the culinary and art departments, the programs and entertainments, the speakings and all other forms of amusement were conceded to be the best for many years, if not the best ever, while the crowds for the three days and nights were composed of everybody in Mills county and hundreds from other parts of the state and from other states. A great number of the former citizens of the county were here meeting their old friends, and with the war over, the county more prosperous than ever before and with the best outlook for bumper crops of all kinds, the people had nothing to worry about, and the occasion was immensely enjoyed by everybody.

The farm and garden exhibits at the reunion this year were conceded to be the best ever shown here, and were good enough to be shown in any exhibit anywhere in the Southwest. Exhibits of corn, grain sorghums, honey, watermelons and chickens deserve special mention for the large number of exhibits and their excellency.

The cotton stalk exhibits, which received the largest prize offered, were many, and these were a huge surprise even to the growers of cotton in the county, when the bolls on the stalks were counted. The farm exhibits as a whole prove that Mills county is facing the banner year of its history in the amount of products raised, and with good prices prevailing.

An exhibit deserving of special mention was one of canned fruits and vegetables brought in by Mrs. W. C. Spruel.

One of the finest exhibits on the ground was the art exhibit of the class of Mrs. Lewis Gartman, which called forth many expressions of commendation and appreciation from the hundreds of visitors to this department.

The winners and the prizes in the farm and garden exhibits follow:

The first day's entertainment, besides the speakers, consisted of a rodeo, which started at two o'clock. Much entertainment and amusement was afforded the spectators by the tournament, goat roping, slicker races, sack races, etc.

The winners in the rodeo and the prizes offered are as follows:

Second and third prizes, $7.50 and $5.00—split by W. O. and Walter Weatherby.

In the afternoon at 4:30 a ball game between Buffalo and Goldthwaite was witnessed by a large crowd of persons. The game was won by Buffalo by a score of 5 to 3.

Second Day—Thursday.

The second day, Thursday, was attended by a larger crowd than was present on Wednesday. An excellent speaking program had been arranged, which included Judge Mallory B. Blair, democratic nominee for district judge, and several local speakers. In the afternoon a ball game was played between Goldthwaite and Buffalo, Goldthwaite winning 7 to 3.

Thursday evening one of the most enjoyable events of the three days was the entertainment by local people, in charge of Misses Nora Hooks and Lucille Street. All numbers on the program deserve special mention, and were given close attention by all the people who could get into the large auditorium; and who could stand close enough to hear.

Third Day—Friday.

Friday was the big day—if any one day could be called bigger than another. At eleven o'clock Friday morning Judge Walter Woodward of Coleman delivered an address to a large audience in the interest of the candidacy of Hon. Pat. M. Neff of Waco for governor.

At 12:30 the big free barbecue was put on the long tables and the huge crowd lived up to all expectations. Four steers and a number of goats were barbecued for this occasion.

In the afternoon Judge Walter Morris of Fort Worth held the attention of the large number of visitors to the reunion with an address in the auditorium in the interest of the candidacy of former Senator Joseph Weldon Bailey for governor. Much interest is taken in the governor's race at this time and close attention was given all the speakers on the subject.

The third game between Goldthwaite and Buffalo base ball teams was played Friday afternoon.

The Modern Woodmen had charge of the program on the afternoon of the last day. The following is the program and prizes awarded:

- Best looking baby girl—$2.50 cash.
Best looking baby boy—$2.50 cash.
Young men's sack race—$2.50 cash.
Men's potato race—$2.50 cash.

Speaking by John E. Swanger of Dallas, state deputy of Modern Woodmen.

"Tug of war" between 12 San Saba Woodmen and 12 Goldthwaite Woodmen, winning camp to be awarded $5 cash prize.

The Eagle was unable to obtain the names of the winners Friday afternoon before going to press. A detailed list will appear next week.

An airplane did stunts over the city and reunion grounds Friday.

STATE FAIR TO HAVE BIG MEXICAN EXHIBIT

Neighboring Republic Already At Work on Plans For This Event

The State of Texas and the United States has received a distinct compliment through the fact that the new Mexican government has consented to send to the State Fair of Texas for the season of 1920 the Mexican

One of Mexico City's Famous Bands Will Accompany the Exhibit

National Exhibit, the great fair in itself that the neighboring republic to the south sends—and only on rare occasions—to visit foreign soil.

The Mexican exhibit will be one of the rarest and most entertaining features ever offered by the State Fair. It will include showings from every state in the Mexican union, portraying the industrial and agricultural production of Mexico, and the unbounded raw resources of that nation. This exhibit will occupy the entire outer space of the State Fair Coliseum building.

As a part of the guard of honor that will accompany the exhibit, Mexico will send one of her world-famous bands. There are three of these bands in Mexico City, all noted musical organizations.

Senor Luis Lupan, special representative of General Jacinto B. Trevino, secretary of the department of Industry and Commerce, visited Mr. Stratton and the State Fair recently, and spent two days in going over plans for the event. He returned to Mexico, and his visit and its results met with the entire approval of his superior, as General Trevino's department has already notified each Mexican state of plans made, and giving them their assignments.

End Your Gate Troubles with "Can't-Sags" Gates

Cost Less
Last Longer
Look Better

No more heavy, tumble-down, sagging wooden gates. No more bent and twisted gas-pipe gates. Put up "Can't-Sags"—made of an ideal combination of iron and steel bolted securely together—no screws or nails to pull out. When closed and latched, the "Can't Sag" gate is securely locked at both ends—stock can't break through to destroy growing crops.

Can't-Sag a Fraction of an Inch

In order to sag even a quarter of an inch, 45 bolts and 8 pieces of angle steel would have to bend. You know that is impossible. Yet, this ideal gate costs less than the old-fashioned kind. Thousands are in use on large and small farms everywhere. Drop in and see these gates when you are in town.
