KANSAS STATE NEWS

A FEW days ago a dastardly murder was committed at Gopher Station, in St. John County, by two tramps, Thomas Wooten and James McCallum, who entered the house of James Pittman and killed him without provocation of any sort, and then robbed the premises. The Governor offered a reward of $500 for the capture of the murderers. A dispatch has been received stating that Thomas Wooten has been captured near Lakin, Kan., and his companion, James McCallum, killed by Deputy Sheriff John H. Carter, while endeavoring to effect his ar-

THE people of Topeka are contemplating erecting a hospital. It is intended to erect a building which will cost $20,000 to $25,000. Bishop Vail not only gives the land, but guarantees to furnish $10,000 toward the erection of the building. It is expected, or at least hoped, that the railroad company will furnish a certain number of beds for the use of their crippled employees. Then the city, or the inhabitants are asked to raise from five to ten thousand dollars. A DISPATCH from Atchison, April 11th, says: A gentleman, whose name is not given, was stopped by three masked and desperate foot-pads in Winthrop, Mo., last night, and robbed of his gold watch, $40 in United States notes and checks payable to bearer amounting to $250. He is a prominent grain merchant of Clyde, Kans., and was returning home after a visit in Council Bluffs. Nothing has been seen of the men since, and no clew to their identity is obtainable. A DISPATCH from Atchison, April 11th, says: The signers of the construction gang, Hewe's floating gang, Judgeson's section gang, in all about 120 men, in the employ of the Burlington and Missouri, at Atchison, struck for $1.50 per day yesterday. They were discharged. A part of the number went to work again at $1.25, after talking the matter over together, with several new men. They were either driven by the strikers or induced to quit. The strikers state that $1.25 a day is the lowest wages paid in the West. Since the same company is advertising for men in the West at $1.50 and $1.75, they thought they ought to be paid the first-named price here. The men are determined they will not work for $1.25, and will permit no new men to do so. The strikers are orderly, and as yet have made no violent demonstration. CAPTAIN IRA HARRIS, General Manager of the Kansas Rolling Mill Company, has been confined to his home at Rosedale from the effects of a runaway pair of horses. As he was returning home recently some portion of the harness gave way, and when the horses got beyond his control Captain Harris jumped, and besides receiving a badly sprained ankle, was considerably cut and bruised. The horses continued their wild career until they broke loose from the shattered wagon, when they calmly turned around and walked toward the spot where their driver had performed his graceful evolution in mid air.

of the Missouri Pacific freight office at Wyandotte as messenger, has been detected in a series of clever forgeries, amounting to nearly $300. A SPECIAL form Leavenworth says: The case of Payne vs. Pope for $25,000 damages for false arrest and imprisonment is set for trial in this Judicial District Court May 2. The case will probably come up on demurrer. R. H. Ruggles, of Emporia, will appear for the plaintiff, and J. R. Hallowell, United States District Attorney, for the de-fendant. If the case is decided for the plaintiff it is probable that numerous other suits of the same nature will be brought by parties arrested for settling in Oklahoma.

Louis Best, for several years past a resident of Wichita, extensively engaged in buying corn of farmers, has absconded, largely in debt to several residents of that county. It ntly Best left there and reported that he was going to Kansas City to arrange matters of business and procure funds for corn that he had sold. It is currently reported on the streets that Best left not intending to return, and this fact is corroborated by the further fact that his family and effects are also gone. Several farmers of that county are losers in sums ranging from $100 to $1,200.

An ineffectual attempt was made re ently to burglarize the Farmers' and Mechanics Bank of Wichita. An entrance was effected by breaking a panel in the rear door of the bank, after which the burglars broke the knob off from the safe door, but could not get the safe open, and only succeeded in getting $61 in currency, not in the safe. No clew has been obtained to the perpetrators.

THE committee of creditors bave reported on the Valley bank, of Larned, which failed recently, as follows: Assets, bills receivable, $10,519; overdrafts, $11,437; cash, $1,722. The committee found notes on members of the Mastin bank to the amount of $3,452. It is estimated that there are about $35,000 liabilities.

AUDITOR BONEBRAKE drew a warrant on the State Treasurer for $1,366.02 in favor of Davidson & Son, for material and labor performed on marble work on the west wing of the State House.

MARSHAL COCRAN, of Topeka, received a telegram recently from J. W. Verner, the Sheriff at Eureka, to arrest a man by the name of Stoneking, should he make his appearance there. About 1 o'clock Stoneking drove into town with three teams of mules, wagons and implements for grading railroad tracks. He camped in the city park, and was arrested within an hour and lodged in iail.

THE Governor has appointed Hon. Geo. R. Peck, Solicitor of the Atchison, Topeka Santa Fe Railroad, of Topeka, and Hon. S. S. Benedict, State Senator from Wilson County, of Fredonia, as regents of the Kansas State University. Both appointments are a second compliment and will be very favorably received by the friends of education all over the State. Oswego has voted down the proposition to issue $10,000 of new bonds to build a school bouse.

Bourbons vs. Independents.

It is an ingenious misrepresentation sought to be conveyed of Southern politics by using the word "Independ-ent" as an antithesis to "Bourbon"—a misrepresentation that was long ago observed and pointed out in Georgia but that has escaped notice in other States. The Republicans have again fooled themselves and committed a second error as fatal as the first in their attempt to strengthen their party in the South. "Bourbon," if it means anything, means an old man with obsolete ideas. General Toombs, perhaps, is a "Bourbon" and the mountaineers of Tennessee who still vote for Andrew Jackson are "Bour-bons." The few Confederate colonels that first went to Washington just after the war with war claims must have been "Bourbons." Men of this kind who "learn nothing and forget nothing" naturally enough have not been successful in politics, and they have now become the "Independents." The idea that the Southern "Independents" are young men, and that the old gentlemen who have outlived their ideas are the leaders of the Southern Democratic party, is the mistake that the Administration is making. During the last State campaign in Georgia the "Inde-pendents" were the obsolete men. In irginia the Democrats that were deluded by Mahone were obsolete menmen who do not at all understand the present problems of the State. The udicrous blunders of legislation, the frequent misrulings and the utter ignorance of the simplest parliamentary rules, that have made the Readjuster Legislature of Virginia the laughing-stock of the press, indicate the presence and pre-ponderance of "Bourbons." In North In North Carolina also aspirants for "Independent" honors are "Bourbons." With the exception of Mr. Speer, of Georgia, nearly every "Independent" leader in the South is an old man or a man no onger young who clings to old ideas. Almost every one, too, is a political malcontent and their followers are not Evidences of the independence and energy of the Democrats, on the other hand, are not lacking. Georgia's pros-perity and the satisfactory and perma-nent solution of all the difficulties, political, educational and social, that arise in other States from so large a population of negroes, are evidences that the Democrats are not the "Bourbons." The men who are building railroads and cotton mills in Georgia are Democrats. In South Carolina the rebuilding of cities and the construction of railroads is the work of Democrats and shows prog-ress. On the other hand, in Tennessee, since Governor Hawkins, a Republican, was elected, and the unhappy financial complications arose, less is heard of Tennessee's prosperity than was heard under the preceding Democratic Administrations. And in Tennessee there were Democrats independent enough to ROBERT E. FINNEY, a lad in the employ vote for a Republican rather than for repudiation; but these Democrats are not the "Independents" that are now courted by the Republicans. The men already spoken of as probable can-didates for the next Democratic nomination for Governor in North Carolina, Mr. Thomas M. Holt and Mr. A. B. Andrews, have probably done more within the last ten years to develop the agricultural, the manufacturing and the railroad interests in the State than any other two men. They are independent and energetic, but not "Independents." In Mississippi the Democratic press is independent enough to chastise the recent Democratic Legislature for not making more liberal appropriations for the common schools. In Georgia even the negroes are laughing at the obsolete ideas and methods of the "Independents." A religious newspaper, published at Augusta and edited by a colored man, in its last issue re spectfully declined Dr. Felton's "Indepromises made to his race. Everywhere the "Bourbons" and the "Independents" are the same.

The fatal mistake, or perhaps the fatal necessity, of the Republicans, there-fore, is in allying themselves with these persons with the hope of gaining a respectable following in the South--a mistake of the same kind as the mistake made with the carpet-baggers and outcasts. In Virginia with repudiators, in Tennessee with the debt-payers, in Georgia with the dissatisfied, in Texas with the Greenbackers (if they are not "Bourbons," who are?) - such alliances nowhere gain the support of young men, of energetic men or of the strength and hope of the South. And already the de-liberately laid plan of strengthening the Republican party by giving Federal of-ces to "Independents" has had ludi-crous results. Not even Mr. Mahone's letter of grand platitudes to a Boston committee nor Mr. Riddleberger's festive nonsense in the North American Review affords more amusement than the sight of troublesome old "Bourbous" becoming "Independents." The truth is, the Republicans are succeeding in doing precisely what they do not wish to do. The hindrance of Southern Democratic politics for a long time has been the presence of obsolete men whose peculiar position, but not whose ideas, commanded a certain respect. have been conciliated too often by gifts of good places. These men are the "Bourbons," and it is a relief to the Democracy for them now to become "In-dependents." Thus the "disintegration" of the Democratic party means a purification, for which thanks are due to the Republican master of the "Independents." The secret has become so well known and the result is so ludicrous that the movement is no longer ominous but laughable. - N. Y. World.

Without a Policy.

Whether or not the men who make up the majority in the House of Represent atives are asking themselves what they were elected for, they may be sure that their constituents are taking the matter under - consideration. Heretofore the party to which they belong has had definite aims and objects. Its policies may have been detrimental to the public interests, but they existed, met with party approval, and were carried out. Now, for almost the first time in its history, this powerful organization finds itself all at sea. During the six years it was out of power in the House the air was full of promises of what "we will do" when "we get possession again," and now, though they control every department of the Government, they have no active policy to recommend or even outline. In the fourth month of a Congressional session they have only proceeded far enough to say that they are opposed to a reduction of taxation.

What they favor the Lord only knows. They accuse the Democratic party of lacking harmony and of failing to agree upon any of the leading questions of the day. There is some truth in this, but it is not the business of the minority party to suggest or press legislation, so that Democratic differences are not practical questions just now. But Republicans are conducting the administration of public affairs, and their harmony, or want of it, is a matter of interest. They are not only at loggerheads upon every subject with which they are called upon to deal, but are actually afraid of proposing any leg-islation for fear their differences of opinion will result in open dissension. The most important of all questions now before the country, that of a general revis-ion of the tariff, they shun as if it were a case of small-pox, and hope to relegate it to a lot of outside Commissioners who may be relied upon to keep the child quiet for this Congress at least.

Their Ways and Means Committee was in favor of a reduction of internal revenue taxation, but the party, fearing that a discussion of the bill proposed would lead to argument of a general character, shut out the whole proposition by declaring that it would not agree to any reduction of taxation at all, though our revenue the ensuing year is likely to exceed our legitimate expenditures by at least one hundred and fifty millions of dollars. The do-nothing policy is often a wise one, but it is not the kind asked for this year. Republicans are to be congratulated upon one thing, however. They decline to press the amendments to the House rules at present. This is creditable. No rules are necessary to "facilitate business," when there is no business to be "facilitated."—Washington Post.

A Water-Haul.

The old saw that "consistency is a jewel," is regarded as a fool's motto by our Republican opponents. They are giving us proof of this every day. It is useless to base any calculations as to what that party will do upon what it has done. Of course it is safe to assume that it will juggle with the truth and thrust its sinuous arm into the richest layers of the treasure that reposes in the public crib, whenever it gets an opportunity. That is a part of its religion as much as it was a part of the old crow's creed to steal the farmer's corn. But on all questions which rise to the dignity of public policy, it trims itssails overtake the plunder that is nearest. We have seen it make all sorts of unholy alliances at the same time that it declaimed against the purposes of its allies. Republican orators would scatter with a lavish tongue glittering generalities about maintaining the public credit, and then help their party to stand sponsor for the most shameless gang of repudiators that now infests State in the Union. They preach against the theory, but stand at the backs of those who enforce it, inverting the creed of those Prohibitionists who were "in favor of the law but agin its enforcement." But the party has now indulged even in a less consistent performance than its recent successful effort to establish the principle of repudiation in Virginia, though not one that is so francht with evil to the country as its affiliation with Mahone and his corascals. It has taken "Morey" to its bosom. The Democrats long ago came to the conclusion that "there warn't no sich a person," and aside from his adopted parent, Josh Hart, no member of that particular Morey family has yet faced the public. But Josh Hart, whose gore less than a year and a half ago these Republicans were so yearning for, that they forced him even to tears with the persecutions heaped upon him, is now a member of the Republican Central Committee in New York, one of the newest and, of course, most bonored of the recruits to that organization. As a matter of form, and complete his preparation for the distinction conferred upon him, Josh Hart has been trying to find a scape-goat upon whom he might saddle the opus of s Morey letter, but thus far with indifferent success. He was responsible for its publication, and he defended it as long as there was a ragged edge to hang upon, and the Republicans are willing to postpone his promised vindication of himself or take him on trust, for he is such an acquisition that they need him now. When Dittenhoefer came to the Morey crowd armed with promises of "consideration" was it the eginning of a bargain that has since been consummated? It looks that way, and as we can afford to be courteous, even to our opponents, we congratulate them upon the success of their angling.

FROM "THE TIMES."

Editors of the Times:-- Seeing an article in your paper, last week, from Arnold Parker, I was im pressed with the earnestness with which he appeals to you to continue to enlighten the world in regard to the means by which he was so miraculously cared of rheumaarticle to which he alludes, by Dr. Bates, impressed me so tavorably with the real merits of this remedy that I tried it also for several blem the most perfect cure for spavins and other blemishes, as it completely removes the enlargement in every instance by continuing its use for several days after the lameness had subsided. The perfect success I have always had with Kendall'. Spavin Cure led me to use it on my own person, and for all the family, with the very best results as a family liniment. While several of the cures made with it have been almost miraculous, none have been more satisfactory than several cures which I made with it on footrot and also sore trats as well awarts on tests of cows. I consider it a sure cure for sore teats or foot rot in either cows orsheep. With the satisfaction this remedy has al ways given in every instance, l can not refrain asking, with my friend Parker, that you continue to make known to the world this, the grandest discovery of the nine teenth century. Yours, truly,

JAMES A. CAMPBELL. Herkermer, N. Y, Sept. 10, 1881 The above letter, with one put lished last week, encourages us in our efforts to make our paper or of the most valuable journals in th country and to all our patrons, and we now ask others of our reader who have been alike benefited by the letter published one year ago. by Dr. Bates, that they send us for publication, statements which ther may wish to make for the benefit of others .- Editor of Times.

PRESENTIMENTS.

An Investigation of the Causes of Those Dark Forebodings which Make Powerful Men Weak.

Golden Rule. Much apprehension has been occasioned throughout America from the announcement made by Professor Proctor that the return in nineteen years of the great comet of last summer will cause the destruction of the earth. But while people are becoming so strangely exercised over this announcement, an event of far more serious importance, which is taking place to-day, seems to be almost wholly overooked. The nature of this most vital subject can be best explained by relating the following experiences:
Bishop E. O. Haven, known to the entire experiences:

Bishop E. O. Haven, known to the entire land, was unaccountably awakened one night out of a sound sleep, and lay awake until morning. His mind seemed unusually active, and he not only reviewed his past life, which had been an eventful one, but laid extensive plans for the future. He did not feel especially ill, but could not account for the unusual activity of his brain, nor for the restlessness which seemed to possess him. In the morning le had but little appetite, but was apparently well in other respects. In a few days, however, he tegan to feel restless and morbid, although he tried earnestly to overcome the feeling which had taken possession of h m. But try as he would the shadow of some evil seemed to follow him, and he was conscious of a gradual sinking an I wasting away of all his physical faculties. He had been an earnest and diligent worker, and in his zeal frequently over-t-xed his strength, and being absorbed in his duties failed to observe the common symptoms with which he was afflicted, thus permitting the work of destruction to go on unheeded. But the end finally came in a most percemptory manner. Shortly before his death he wrote a letter—the last one he ever indited—in which he speaks as follows: "A belief that death is near affects different minds differently, but probably all who are in a fair condition of physical and mental strength instructively shrink from it with an indefinable dread and horror. A dying man is no more able of himself to foresee his own destiny or the destriny of those he leaves than he was before he began to die." began to die."

The recent sad and sudden death of Hon. Clarkson N. Potter is one of the most serious warnings ever given in the long list of innumerable cases of fatal neglect. It is not sufficient to say that many other brilliant men, including Everett, Sumner, Chase, Wood, Wilson and Carpenter, were swept away by the same fatal trouble. The question is, were these men sufficiently careful of their health, and could they have been saved! The Albany Argus, in speaking of Mr. Potter's sudden illness and death, says:

"One of the physicians who attended Mr. Potter here was interviewed last even ng. He stated that Mr. Potter's inability to converse had for some time served to baffle the physicians in their efforts to determine the root of his illness. It seems, however, that Mr. Potter, some two years ago, suffered a slight attack of k daey disease. Unwise dependence upon a robust constitution and naturally perfect health, and neglect of proper clothing daubtless agand the search of a disease. The recent sad and sudden death of Hon.

ence upon a robust constitution and naturally perfect health, and neglect of proper clothing, doubtless sowed the seeds of a disease that needed but some such personal neglect as that of Tuesday morning to develop. From the symptoms at first shown, it was thought that his only trouble was nervous prostration; but his long continuance in a semi-unconscious state led to the belief that his illness was seated in a chargic difficulty more myster.

scious state led to the belief that his filness was seated in a chronic difficulty more mysterious and dangerous."

Up to the latter part of last year Mr. Edward F. Rook, a member of the New York stock exchange, was doing business in Wall street, New York. He had everything to encourage him, and make life happy, but was the victim of unaccountable uneasiness. His experience as described by one who knew, was as follows: "At unexpected times, and on occasions when he had the greatest reason to feel byoots he was irritable and haunted with strange feelings of discontent, but it required agreet effort to dead on January 30, 1881, two of the crew, named Bernard Kelly and do of January 30, 1881, two of the crew, named Bernard Kelly and soon at the crew in this former morbid mood. This feeling continued for a number of months, when he became conscious of an added sense of lassitude. He was tired even when resting, and although experiencing no acute pain, had dull, aching sensations in his limbs and various parts of his dody. Shortly atterward his head began to ache most frequently and his stomach failed to digest properly. Being told that he was suffering from malaria he consulted an emitted to grow worse instead of better. He then consulted to grow worse instead of better. He then consulted to grow worse to the centrary he continued for a number of months, when he became conscious of an added sense of lassitude. He was tired even when resting, and although experiencing no acute pain, had dull, aching sensations in his limbs and various parts of his became the pain, had dull, aching sensations in his limbs and various parts of his standard parts of his decidence of the properion of th kidneys were slightly effected, and gave him medicine to restore them. But he grew worse instead of better. He then consulted other eminent doctors of another school and was informed that he had a brain difficulty somewhat in the nature of a tumor, but in spite of all efforts to the contrary he continued to grow worse. At this time his condition was terrible. What were at first simple symptoms had developed to terrible troubles.

ued to grow worse. At this time his condition was terrible. What were at first simple symptoms had developed to terrible troubles. He was flushed and feverish, constantly uneasy, and yet always weary. He had an intense appetite one day and very little the aext. His pulse was irregular, his breathing labored, and every moment of existence was a burden. These disastrous symptoms continued, his face and body became discolored, his heart was irregular in its action, and his breath came in short, conviliance gasps. He grew constantly worse, notwithstanding the atmost precautions of his friends and finally died in the greatest agony. After his death an examination as to its actual cause was made, when his brain was found to be in a perfect condition, and the reason of his decease was of an entirely different nature."

The experiences which have been cited above all had a common cause and were each the result of one disease. That disease, which so deceitfully, yet surely removed the people above mentioned was Bright's disease of the kidneys. In the case of Mr. Rook the examination after death, while showing the brain to be in perfect condition, revealed the terrible fact that he was the victim of a slight kidney to the brain with the history of the world are fast learning that more than one-half the deaths which occur are cause thy this monstrous securge. It is one of the most deceifful ma addee sever known to the human race. It manifests itself by symptoms so slight and common, as to seem unworthy of attention; and yet these very insignificant symptoms are the first stages of the world. Thousands of people have died from troubles that are called heart disease, apoplexy, pourmonia, brain fever, and similar diseases, when it was, in fact, Bright's disease of the kidneys. The ravages of this disease of t that are called heart disease, apoplexy, pneumonia, brain fever, and similar diseases, when it was, in lact, Bright's disease of the kidneys. The ravages of this disease have been greatly increased from the fact that until recent years no way was known to prevent its beginning nor check its increase when it had become once fixed upon the system. Within the past two years, however, we have learned of more than four hundred pronounced cases of Bright's disease, many of them much worse than those above described, and most of whom had been given up by prominent physicians, who have been completely cured. The means used to accomplish this end has been Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure, manufactured in Rochester, N. Y., a remedy that has won its way into the confidence of the public solely upon the remarkable merits it possesses. As a result, it is more widely used and thoroughly praised than any medicine which has everbeen before the American public. Indeed there is not a drug store in the entire land where it cannot be found.

Although Bright's disease is so common in this it is still process.

ly praised than any medicine which has ever been before the American public. Indeed there is not a drug store in the entire land where it cannot be found.

Although Bright's disease is so common in clitics, it is still more prevalent in the country. When eminent physicians in the largest cities are not able to recognize Bright's disease, it is only natural that in the country, where there are few physicians of any kind, and those few so unacquainted with the disease as to call it by some other name, it ctites, it is still more prevalent in the country. When eminent physicians in the largest cities are not able to recognize Bright's disease, it is only natural that in the country, where there are few physicians of any kind, and those few so unacquainted with the disease as to call it by some other name, it should rage terribly and yet unknown to the ones who are suffering with it. Thousands of people can look back and recall the death of irlends from what was supposed to be some common complaint, when it was really Bright's disease, AND NO ONE KNEW IT. The terrible pleuro-pneumonia, which has been so dreaded, it is usually theresuld of uremic of kidney poison. Lung fever can be traced to a similar source. Most cases of paralysis arise from the same difficulty, as well as innumerable fevers, lung, throat, head and bowel troubles. A vast number of ladics have suffered and ded from complaints common to their sex called, perhaps, general debility, when, could the real cause have been known, it would have been found to be Bright's disease, masquerading under another name. In marked contrast to the sad cases which have been above described are the experiences of many prominent people who were as low as any of the persons mentioned, but who were remarkably restored to former health and vigor by this same remedy. Among this number are the following prominent names: Col. John C. Whitner, Atlanta, Ga.; B. F. Larrabee, Boston, Mass.; Gen. C. A. Heckman, Phillipsburg, N. J.; Rev. D. D. Buck, D. D., Geneva, N. Y.; Dr. F. A. McManus, Baltimore, Md.; Edwin Fay, Davenport, Iowa; Rev. A. C. Kendrick, Ll. D., Rochester, N. Y.; J. S. Matthews, Portland, Mich.; C. W. Eastwood, New York; Dr. A. A. Sixteen Months on a Desert Island. Papers brought by the Cape mail steamer Balmoral Castle state that on February 20th the American corvette. Marion, Commander Terry, arrived at Cape Town from Heard's Island, bringing the survivors of the crew of the Ameaican bark Trinity, thirty-three in number, who were wrecked at . Heard's Island in October, 1880. The Trinity, Captain John L. Williams, sailed from New London, Conn., on June 1, 1880, bound on a whaling and sealing voyage in the Southern Ocean, and arrived at Heard's Island October 2,1880. The bark anchored off the island, which is uninhabited, and is situated in latitude 53 degrees south, longitude 73 degrees east. Until October 17 all went well, but on that day, during a heavy gale, the bark dragged into four fathoms of water. The anchors had to be slipped and the vessel was beached in order to save the lives of the crew. At the time the weather was intensly cold, and while the crew were being landed seven of them had their limbs badly frostbitten. With this exception the landing was effected without accident. The same night the Trinity sloated off and was blown to sea, since which time no trace of her has been found. From October 17, 1880, the ship-wrecked crew numbering thirty-five originally, remained on the island until they were rescued. Fortunately, in landing, the crew managed to save some three months' supply of provisions from the wreck. This supple mented by sea elephant, penguin flesh, and penguin eggs, with some sea cabbage, formed the diet of the crew. On landing the captain and crew found some small wooden buts, which had been placed there by various whalers

The Philadelphia Times says that the American kiss is to be the subject of a book to be published soon. The subject is a very expansive and voluminous one. It will take at least a hundred chapters to give an unabridged definition of the American kiss. It will require no less than twenty pages to portray the different variations of "The long, long kiss, the kiss of love;" and there is the good-night kiss at the gate, that will pretty well crowd the balance of the first volume. Then there is the frigid, snappy kiss of the mother-inlaw, that goes off with a pop like a champagne cork; the juley, flabby kiss of the baby, that has no pop to it at all, and the inspiri oleomargarine kiss of woman kissing woman. O, it will be a deisy of a book; and how comforting to a young man, who has a fever-blister on his lip and can't go to see his girl, that volume will be, as he peruses it in the long winter evenings. THE Philadelphia Times says that the Amer

Fruits and Vegetables.

Among scientific men who have made longevity astudy, it is almost unanimously agreed that a fruit and vegetable diet is conductive to long life and perfect health. And it is among the vegetable kingdom that we find our principal means of restoring health to the invalid, and strength to the weak. In olden times, when centenarians were common, and men of sixty years of age were considered youthful, herb doctors were the only physicians. Dr. Guysott's Yellow Dock and Sarsaparilla, with the exception of one ingredient, and that is iron, is strictly a vegetable compound, and is not injurious to the most delicate invalid. Its effect on the general system is most wonderful. It gives real strength to every part of the body, and its soothing effect in quieting the brain and nervous system is most remarkthe body, and its soothing effect in quieting the brain and nervous system is most remarkable. Its principal ingredients are Yellow Dock, Sarsaparilia, Juniper, Iron, Buchu, Celery and Calisaya bark. Where the disease is of an exhaustive nature, it quickly checks all decay. In cases of dyspepsia it does not act as a severe cathartic, but gives real strength to the digestive organs, and thus permanently cures this distressful disease.

Mr. Samuel Dedron, of Loveland, Ohio, writes: "I think I have cause to be glad. I don't know what a back-ache or sour stomach now is."

A REMARKABLE BOOK PARLOR ORGAN INSTRUCTION BOOK

For Learning both Secular and Sacred Music on the Reed or Parlor Organ.

By A. N. JOHNSON.

The great West is full of reed organs, but few know how to play them. Why?

"You see, "said the teachers, "when a farmer buys a reed organ, as they all do, he naturally wishes his little daught ror so a to learn to play such music as we kee; jigs, march s, dances, popular song, school and sunday school songs, gospel songs and hymn tuners, and he thinks all this can be done in six mombs. We have many such schoolars, and no book that fits the case."

At the special request of many such teachers this Book was prepared, and proves to be just the thing. The author has a magical talent for mixing hard things easy, and any child can understand his explanations. A practical teacher recently invited him to hear the lessons of a number of pupils, taught from this Book. They were excellent lessons. "I doubt not produce such results by any other book." said the teacher. Price 16.50, for which copes will be mailed, post-free, to any address by return mail. Buter send as bill and 50 ets.
