LYLOYD PROVES THAT ALL COMEDIES CAN BE GOOD!

There was a time when motion picture producers, trying to explain away a poor picture, fell back on the canard "that you can't make them all good."

Motion pictures, of course, are not a standard product. They cannot be moulded or cut out on a pattern like a suit of clothes. It's true that you cannot make them all meet certain specifications, but Harold Lloyd has been disproving the fallacy that "you can't make them all good" for more than eight years.

Approximately eight years ago Lloyd took his first reel flyer into the realm of multiple reel comedies, following his adaptation of the horned rimmed spectacles. He began with "Bumping into Broadway," a two reeler. Since then, in the parlance of the industry, he hasn't made a flop. He's coming back again with another high flying comedy, "The Kid Brother," which will inaugurate its stand at the Dixie Theatre April 6, 7, 8. All advance reports are highly encouraging for another great Lloyd entertainment.

Consistency has been a keynote element in Lloyd's climb to the top. He doesn't know what it means to quit working on a picture until he is absolutely assured that it meets with his best standard.

That's the reason he holds four and five previews on every one of his productions, just as he did on Paramount's current release, "The Kid Brother," before he gives the word to ship it from the studio.

W. A. Richards was a San Saba visitor Thursday afternoon.

FARM FACTS AND FANCIES

Cut Worm Control

At this time there is 100 percent infection of cut worms in the fields and garden. If not controlled much damage to young plants will result. Cut worms can be controlled by the application of poison mash.

The poison mash is made after the following formula:
Paris Green or White Arsenic 1lb.
Coarse Wheat bran ..... 29lbs.
Lemons finely ground in a meat chopper (and juice included) .....

..... 6 fruit
Cane or sorghum molasses .....

..... 2 quarts
Water sufficient to make a moist mash that will not be sloppy.

The poison and bran are mixed together thoroughly while dry. The liquid materials including about two gallons of water, are thoroughly mixed and then added to the bran mixture and the whole mixed by hand so that every particle of bran is moist.

Additions of water are made until a mash is obtained as wet as possible and still so that it rapidly falls apart when being distributed.

Cut worms remain hidden during the day and feed at night. They are best attracted to poison mash when it is moist, consequently applications should be made in the late afternoon. For the protection of cotton and field crops drilled in rows, it should be distributed in a thin line along the row, the cotton planter often being utilized for this purpose.

A thin line mash can be used for garden crops in rows. If the garden or field crops are planted in hills, it will often be best to distribute the poison mash at the base of the plants about one fourth teaspoonful to each hill.

Dumbell Hamilton, who is now connected with one of the Brownwood banks, visited in Goldthwaite Sunday.

Miss Velma Cockrum of Brownwood spent the week-end here visiting home folks.

list this week. We hope she will soon be well again.

Well as it is time to fly up to roost we will also take our flight.

CLUB ORGANIZED

Nine girls of the Hustlers Sunday School Class met last Saturday afternoon at four o'clock for the purpose of organizing Hustler's "Be Square Club." The plans, by-laws, and constitution of which were worked out by Miss Glenn Merchant, one of the teachers in the Standard Training School, which was recently held at the Methodist Church.

The following officers were elected:
President—Minnie Oltrogge.

Vive president—Lorene Huffman.

Treasurer—Mary Leigh Lane.
Reporter—Jesse Mae Huffman.

We plan a lot of work, and jolly good times, and we hope to be able to live up to our motto of being "Dependable."

The charter members of the club are: Lorene Huffman, Minnie Oltrogge, Kathryn Sullivan, Rena Featherston, Mary Leigh Lane, Lavera Oltrogge, Ella Holland, Maudie Belle Kirby and Jesse Mae Huffman.

—REPORTER.

Rev. Joe H. Frizzelle went to Brownwood the first of the week for an operation. He is reported doing nicely.

Dow Hudson spent last week-end in Lampasas visiting with his wife and baby.

THE TRAINING SCHOOL

The Training School which began at the Methodist Church Sunday afternoon, March 20, and closed the following Friday night was a great success. There was a total enrollment of 54. Forty-nine of that number were awarded Certificates at the end of the school. 27 of these were from our local church, making a total of 36 credits made by the church since Annual Conference. In addition to the regular class sessions which were from 7:30 to 9:30 each night, one of the visiting preachers delivered an inspirational address each morning at 10:30. On Friday afternoon a large crowd gathered at the church and enjoyed a musical program and social hour. At the close of the last session Friday night, Rev. M. H. Keen, pastor at Lampasas, presented the following appreciation in behalf of the visitors:

"Whereas the Methodists of Goldthwaite, led by the untiring efforts of their pastor, Rev. E. P. Neal, entertained in a most excellent way, the Methodist Standard Training School.

Whereas the faculty rendered most valuable and efficient service.

Therefore be it resolved that we, as a student body, express our genuine and sincere appreciation by a rising vote."

The same was done and with vigorous applause.

Snowmobile Defies Weather

Faced with the necessity of making long trips through a territory frequently covered with snow drifts 20 feet deep and where temperatures often hover around 38 degrees below zero, Charles Surrall, of the firm of M. Surrall, Chevrolet dealers at Newberry, Michigan, has constructed a novel Chevrolet "snowmobile", utilizing a Chevrolet motor and chassis.

The front end of the queer looking vehicle, which attracts unusual attention wherever it appears in the snow-covered peninsula, is fitted at the front end with wooden skis, attached to the regular Chevrolet axle and steering knuckles. The car is easily handled despite the heavy snow drifts and the average depth of 30 inches of snow encountered in his daily travels, Mr. Surrall says. The rear end of the car is fitted with two Chevrolet wheels, set tandem style, over which an endless tractor belt equipped with flanges operates.

So powerful is the special equipment when powered with the standard Chevrolet motor that

Mr. Surrall has often been called upon to tow heavy cars out of snow drifts where they have become hopelessly stalled. The extensive alterations required to transform the Chevrolet into a snowmobile were made in the service station of M. Surrall and Son. The Chevrolet motor had already put in four years active service on a Chevrolet touring car before it was utilized for special winter service, Mr. Surrall says.

MILLS COUNTY PUSH

I do not often discuss financial conditions as there are others who can do it more intelligently and because there are other matters more important. Yet everyone, and especially the good Lord, knows that we shall need something to eat and wear while we live here and that there is every reason why we should manage to pay our debts. I have not lived all my time in Texas, nor has all my time in Texas been in Mills County. However, one of the best counties I know for respectful, decent, and enjoyable life, is in Mills County.

I am allowed to say a first word about my people. Socially, we have only one class of people and that is fine because it is best. No upper class, no lower class and middle class of folks. It was intended from the beginning and for our happiness that society should be brotherly and fraternal ties and should assist human progress. Any individual in the world in extreme need or in trouble has the right to appeal to any or all whom he may meet. The appeal may be ignored, but that does not alter the right on one hand, nor the obligation on the other.

With all that has been said of late about slumps in markets, decline in business, and hard times, I don't know a county in which one can get along better than in Mills County, provided he shapes his industrial program to the qualities of this county. Rather than plain old contention, let me give an example that illustrates my notion of adaptation. I know a man, who for a poor man, invested largely in other parts of Texas and failed. He was disappointed in market sales and his energy and hired help, and borrowed money and all lost. He came to Mills County and purchased a small farm, much of it on credit, and later purchased wire fencing on credit. So he had debts here and debts where he came from. He never talked sour nor bemoaned the government. He kept heart and hope and went to church and Sunday School. He was the only farm hand on the place, but he plowed early and plowed deep. He utilized the brush and acorns and weeds on his pasture with hogs, sheep, and goats. During the last ten or twelve years he has added much more to his lands, has more livestock than he began with, has paid thousands of dollars on his old debts left behind, and has kept good credit and a good name in Mills County. I know him well and happen to know something of his business—and he is none of my kindfols. I have not made out his case of prosperity as large as it really is.

From observation I state two things—The man referred to drew his plans or program to fit the natural qualities of this section, and second, he was determined, through the years, to treat fellow-man, creditors far and near, with honesty and integrity.

If anyone doesn't know that the of reciprocity, or what you might call the law of setitition, the sooner he learns that there is such a law the better for him, to say nothing about those with whom he deals.

Shunning a creditor or ignoring an obligation is too little for a man and too weak for prosperity. —SAM SAY.

OBITUARY

David Lee Goodwin, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Goodwin, was born in Comanche County, Texas, December 4, 1885. Grew to manhood in Mills County, in which county he married before moving to Childress Texas, February 22, 1927.

Many of us in Trigger Mountain community where he grew up went to school, professed Christ, joined the church, and married, remember Dave with the kindest feelings. With reports of his sufferings came reports also of Christian patience and unshaken faith. It is significant beyond words that his last battle in the world was a triumphant victory, so much that he declared assurance of a home in the "Land of Never Setting Sun." Certainly that is a comfort to his old neighbors and certainly a solace to every aching heart left behind. Such is the religion of Jesus Christ in its working. May our merciful Father give comfort and support to stricken loved ones.

BACCALAUREATE SERMON TO BE PREACHED AT THE METHODIST TABERNACLE

It has been the custom of each senior class of the Goldthwaite High School to have its baccalaureate sermon at the Baptist tabernacle one year and at the Methodist tabernacle the next year. But due to the fact that Sunday school classrooms have been built on the platform of the Baptist tabernacle, the senior class of '27 will hear the baccalaureate sermon at the Methodist tabernacle. Brother Dance will deliver the address.

SPELLING

The elimination contest for the senior spellers was held last week. The winners: Girls—Eloise Kyle, first place; Rachel Johnson, second place. Boys—Bill Yarborough, first place; Jesse Roberts, second place.

Ruby Lee Dickerson went to Brownwood Sunday afternoon. Jack Locklear and Eugene Dickerson went to San Saba Sunday afternoon.

Elizabeth Nickols spent Friday with Mr. and Mrs. Duke Clements and Friday night and Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. Earl Clements, enjoying a birthday dinner with them.

Pearl Armstrong has started to school at Coriza Springs, Texas. The freshman class regrets to lose one of its members.

GLEE CLUB ENTERTAINS

The Glee Club, at the invitation of Mr. Newton, entertained the G. H. S. students Monday morning with several vocal selections. They were:

"Rain", "Massa's in de Cold, Cold Ground", "Dixie Land", and "Onward Christian Soldiers". Mrs. Edward Geeslin, who directed this program, has won the hearts of the members of the high school by her amusing negro jokes. Here is one she gave Monday:

A negro cook asked her mistress for the afternoon off. Her mistress told her she was welcome to it, but asked, "Where are you going?"

Cook—"Does 'yo' member about two weeks ago when I got de afternoon off and went to one of my friend's funeral?"
 Mistress—"Yes."
 Cook—"Well, I's goin' to marry de corpse's husband."

PERSONAL MENTION

Frances Page and Mina Steen went to Brownwood Friday.

Bill Page spent the week end in Austin, where he witnessed the Texas Annual Relay Meet.

Joe Beck and Oliver Carothers spent the week end in Waco.

Frances Page spent Sunday in San Saba.

Evelyn Nelson visited the Big Valley school Friday.

Adiel Wilson went to Mullin Friday night.

Misses Whatley, Immon, and Linkenhoger spent the week end at Miss Whatley's home in Cameron.

Eris Ritchie was in Brownwood Sunday afternoon.

Jesse Roberts attended a singing in Center City Sunday.

MR. WEAVER MAKES INTERESTING TALK

Wednesday morning, the chapel program was unusually good. Miss Whatley deserves praise for making it possible.

The first number on the program was a solo, "Indian Love Song", sung by Miss Frizzelle. The second she gave was "Souvenir."

Mr. W. P. Weaver gave a talk in his interesting, humorous way. It went something like this: "Although Mr. Newton will disagree with me, there are some things much deeper than the school. One of them is this—the financial business that underlies it. Texas is big, and you are proud of that fact; but go to California, as I did last summer, and those people will tell you something of which you will not be proud. As soon as they discover that you are from Texas, they will make it a point to tell you that California's school system ranks first and Texas' ranks thirty ninth. They say that the two reasons why California is so prosperous are that 'First, our people are better financially than those of any other state in the union, and second, our climate (you know they are always bragging about their climate) is so perfect that the children can go to school every day of the year without getting caught in blizzards'."

About in February, your fathers begin to june around trying to get money to pay the taxes. Part of their money goes to the school.

It takes money to run a school. Each of you is a farmer's son, or a filling station man's son etc. When cotton is ten cents a pound, a farmer will have to produce nearly 400 pounds of lint per acre in order to pay his expenses in making the crop. At 20 cents a pound he will have to make 200 pounds to the acrer.

You need a lot of things in this school that you are not going to get unless this country prospers more, and it won't prosper until the farmers get more than fifteen cents per pound for their cotton. Business will be very uncertain in the towns, and farmers will be dissatisfied on the farms. Boys are not interested in farm work. They want to get a job in the filling station and wear one of these little mechanic's caps. And when turkey picking time comes, they rush from school and pick to beat the band, all the while wondering how many they will have to pick before they will have enough money to buy two tickets to the picture show.

One day a preacher passed by a little boy that was working in the field. The preacher asked: "How much do you get for that work, son?"

The boy replied: "Nothing if I do, and hell if I don't."

Just as long as a boy gets nothing if he does, and hell if he doesn't, he will get work in the filling stations.

The point I want to make is this—the school system is growing faster and faster and making more progress than the country in general. We've got to help agriculture, if we make it any better.

A young lady left the country school to get educated in town. Her name was Jesse. About the third letter she wrote home, she signed her name Jesseka. Her little brother answered her letter thus:

"Dear Jesseka: Papeka and Mameka have gone to visit Aunt Sareka. Uncle Joe-seka bought him a new careka. I don't know whether it was a Fordeka or a Buiecka. The old cow has a new cafeka. I wanted to name it Frankeka, but had to name it Jimmekeka.

Yours truly,
 TOMMEKA.
 Jesse had been educated into Jesseka at school.

A man asked a boy what he studied at school. The boy said he studied 'goesinto.' When asked to explain himself, he said:

'You know two goesinto four, and three goesinto six.'

The talk was thoroughly enjoyed by all, and the seniors are looking forward to the time when he pays them his annual visit.

O'leta Daniel spent the week-end in Brownwood.

AN ABLE APPETITE

Physicians will testify to the fact that thousands of their patients, by indulging an insatiable appetite, have eaten themselves into an untimely grave. Perhaps it was this thought that concerned the old colored woman in this story.

This colored mammy viewed with misgivings the great amount of sugar cane being eaten by her six year old grandson. Eventually she warned the boy:

"Chile ain't I done tol' yo' time an again dat youse eatin' too much cane! Dont you know chile, dat cane killed Abel!"

Miss Oma Ervin spent last week end in Coleman.

Several of this community have been hauling wood this week. We wonder if they are expecting another blizzard.

Mrs. Roy Berry and children visited in the home of Will Moreland, Wednesday afternoon.

Miss John Geddes visited our school Monday afternoon.

Miss Vivian Kuykendall spent Sunday and Sunday night with Miss Linnie Covington.

Miss Norah Horton is on the sick list, but is better at this writing.

Miss Ella and Gracie Kelley spent Wednesday in the home of L. O. Kelley and family.

Bill Horton and Vivian Kuykendall spent Friday night with Vivian Seabourn of Kelley community.

Miss Odessa Brister spent Sunday with Miss John Geddes.

Mr. and Mrs. Dutch McKenzie of Goldthwaite spent Sunday in the home of Will Moreland.

Misses Willie Seabourn and Goldie Penn visited Norah Horton Wednesday afternoon.

Norvaleen Berry spent Wednesday night with Pauline Berry.

Bertha Berry has been on the sick list, but is able to be back in school again.

Miss Vera Horton is visiting her brother, Clayton Horton, of Goldthwaite, this week.

Sam Miller and wife visited in the home of Tom Miller Tuesday.

Station F.O.R.D. will now sign off.—HENRY AND LIZZIE.

BIG VALLEY

The farmers of The Valley are up with their farming and they need a good rain to settle the clods and dust.

The freeze bit the corn that was up, but it is coming out. The fruit was not killed, might have from one fourth to one half crop if we don't have another freeze.

Our oat crop is needing rain.

A. J. Harrison and Daddy Parks were on the river fishing Saturday, also Mr. and Mrs. Welly Saylor were angling some Saturday eve.

Mrs. J. C. Moreland has returned from Temple and is convalescing nicely.

Bob Robertson is just up from a case of the flu.

Mrs. T. P. Reed has returned from Breckenridge where she has been visiting relatives.

Herndon Nelson returned to Georgetown last week.

Jim Fallon and family visited in the home of Claude Fallon Sunday.

The try-out meet at the school house Saturday night was a real success. Our declaimers for this year will be: senior boy, Ellis Smith; junior boy, Rex Bohanon; senior girls, Ethel Bohanon and Helen Thompson. From Farmer's point of view, there were others that were close seconds. All did fine.

Miss Norma Lee Robertson returned to Baylor Belton Wednesday where she is attending school. We are proud of our young men and women who are in college for they are all making good.

Mr. and Mrs. Scott Thompson went to Goldthwaite Sunday after

What the World Is Doing

(As Seen by Popular Mechanics Magazine)

"Two-in-One" Electric Engine Has Gear Shift

By simply shifting the gears, the "L-5," a powerful electric locomotive now in use on the Pennsylvania railroad, can be adapted for hauling an express or passenger train at a speed of 46 miles an hour, or, thrown into "low," where it develops a engine weighs 408,000 pounds and can be operated with direct or alternating current. It was assembled in a month's time, said to be a record for the Altoona shops of the railroad, and was exhibited in Philadelphia as the latest development in electric tracting tractive effort of 100,000 pounds, and will haul a heavy freight train at a mile-an-hour clip. This "two-in-one" engine; those commonly used being geared for only one type of service, either freight or passenger.

Testing Battery Polarity

A simple method of determining the polarity of a battery or cell, and at the same time roughly measuring its strength, is as follows: Dissolve 1 part of potassium iodide in 25 parts of water; place the solution in a shallow dish, soak several pieces of white blotting paper in it, then remove them and allow to dry. To use, moisten a piece of the prepared paper and touch it with wires leading from both poles of the battery, keeping them about 1/2 in. apart. A dark-brown spot will immediately be produced where the wire from the positive pole touches the blotter. A dead cell or battery will produce no spot. A little experience in judging the rapidity with which the spot is formed, and the shade of the color produced, will soon enable one to tell the condition of the battery fairly accurately, whether it is nearly dead, half charged, or fully charged. This method is applicable to both storage batteries and dry cells, although the wires must be further apart in the case of storage batteries.

Cleaning Crystals with Alcohol

The sensitiveness of a crystal determines to a great extent the receiving range of a set. Some crystals are much better than others in this respect, but even good ones are soon spoiled by improper care. Air causes the surface of the crystal to oxidize gradually, which of course decreases its efficiency. Dust particles in the air also lodge on the surface and adhere to it. The most trouble is, however, caused by handling the crystal, as the oil on the hands and fingers, which is imperceptible to the naked eye, insulates the surface of the crystal, and for this reason crystals should never be touched. An excellent method of cleaning crystals, which will in many cases restore the original sensitiveness, is to give them a bath in alcohol, using an old toothbrush to scrub them.

Salt Is Tougher than Steel

Strands of wire made from ordinary rock salt by a Russian chemist are reported to be tougher than those of steel. The inventor expects the process to aid in hardening and strengthening common metals, and believes that the treatment, if applied to other minerals may result in materials that would permit moving machinery to travel at much greater speeds. The scientist is said to put raw rock salt under high heat pressures, thus changing its form and increasing its flexibility and strength.

Towing Small Boats

When the stream is flowing so fast or the wind blowing so hard that it is difficult to make headway by rowing, the simple stunt shown in the drawing offers an easy way of towing the boat along the bank or shore. Tie the boat line to both bow and stern, as shown. By paying out on the bow part of the line and holding in the stern line, the boat can be kept nearly parallel with the bank, while if only a bow line is used the current or wind will cause the bow to dig into the bank, making towing difficult. If a narrow creek is encountered, its mouth can be crossed in the boat as follows: Let out the bow and haul in the stern; this will cause the boat to lie close against the mouth. Fasten the towline to an ear pushed slantingly (toward the water) into the bank. After walking across the creek in the boat, the ear is pulled out, which can readily be done on account of the slant at which it is placed.

LAKES OF THE WORLD

By Mozelle Weston, Science I.
(The Tattler)

There are several of the world's largest lakes located in the United States. The Great Lakes form part of the boundary between Canada and the United States, Lake Superior being the largest of the five. It lies between Ontario and Michigan on the west. Its length is about 412 miles and its largest width is 167 miles, the area 31,200 square miles. Its depth is about 1,008 feet in the deepest place.

Lake Hudson is second of the Great Lakes. Lake Michigan is third, then comes Lake Erie and Lake Ontario.

The Great Lakes are of vast importance to the United States and Canada in many different ways. All the lakes have important fisheries, especially of lake trout

MISS BETTY COMPTON of New York has been selected in a national competition to portray the spirit of the Golden Rule in connection with the forthcoming observance of International Golden Rule Sunday for the Near East Relief.

Vickrey Appeals for Million To Aid Armenian Quake Victims

C. V. VICKREY

MORE than a million dollars will be required to meet the needs of earthquake victims in Armenia, according to Charles V. Vickrey, general secretary of the Near East Relief. In a nation wide appeal for the observance of International Golden Rule Sunday.

This sum will be required to provide adequate medical attention, food, clothing and supplies to the thousands of families made homeless by the earthquake and to care for the nine thousand orphan wards of the relief organization in the Caucasus until June, according to the appeal.

Hundreds of villages have been laid waste and many of the huge orphanages caring for the children have been razed. Others are unsafe for use until repairs can be made. Meanwhile children and American relief workers are living in tents in a region in which blizzards and heavy snowstorms are frequent at this time of the year.

Reports from the various villages in the earthquake zone indicate that the inhabitants have been forced to construct rude dugouts under ground to protect themselves from the wild, winter weather. With shocks that have continued intermittently for two weeks there has been considerable loss of life in these fragile dwellings.

and salmon. They are exported in great quantities, both fresh and canned. The southern part of the lakes are the most productive agricultural land of the world. They are also of importance in that they carry grain, lumber and other products from one country to another.

Lakes have a great influence upon the temperature of the climate around them. For several miles around them in every direction it is very warm. The climate is never very cold in winter or very hot in summer. The lakes are frozen over very little in winter and when they freeze it is just at the shallow shores. There are many good harbors on each of these lakes for ships to stop and load or unload their products.

There are many other lakes of the United States that have far less importance than the Great Lakes.

The lakes of Europe are very large and important, the largest being Ladoga. It is situated in north-west Russia, forty miles east of Petrograd. It is 7,00 square miles in area, and about one fourth as large as Lake Superior. Lake Ladoga has an abundance of fish which are exported to all parts of the country.

The Lake of Lucerne in western Switzerland, is very famous for its beauty. It is roughly in the shape of a cross with irregular winding arms between steep, rough, rocky cliffs which in some places have pushed so far out into the water that they have made of Lucerne five divisions. Each of these are shut off from the others as far as the view is concerned and each has its own kind of beauty. These two large lakes of Europe are of importance to the country because the furnish fish food for the people and some of them depend wholly upon the fish for their food. The lakes

MRS. ROWNTREE APPOINTED CHAIRMAN OF "BETTER HOMES" COMMITTEE

Mrs. Roy Rowntree has been appointed by Secretary Hoover to serve as chairman of a committee to conduct a Better Homes Campaign in Goldthwaite, Texas.

Mr. Hoover is president of Better Homes in America, an organization which each year sponsors a nation-wide educational campaign for Better Homes. The campaign is sponsored locally by such organizations as Chambers of Commerce, Parent-Teachers Associations, Women's Clubs, Boy and Girl Scouts, and others having interest in housing and home life. A committee of volunteer citizens is formed by the chairman appointed by National Headquarters, and the program is planned with advice and assistance from that source. The program consists of education through lectures, debates, discussions and demonstrations, and has its culmination in Better Homes Week, which in 1927 will be April 24 to May 1. During that week hundred of small homes will be shown throughout the United States which have been planned for convenience and comfort, and built and furnished to meet the needs and incomes of families of modest means. Old houses will be reconditioned, and inconvenient ones re modeled to show how, at slight expense, such houses can be made into attractive, comfortable homes.

Better Homes in America has no commercial connections, being supported through public and private gifts. Headquarters activities are in charge of Dr. James Ford, of the faculty of Harvard University, as Executive Director.

The purposes of Better Homes in America are:

1. To make accessible to all citizens knowledge of high standards in house building, home furnishing, and home life.
2. To encourage the building of sound, beautiful, single-family houses, and to encourage reconditioning and remodeling of old houses.
3. Although peculiar circumstances in certain places, and conditions of certain families make it necessary that there shall be apartments and tenements, it is strongly felt that the happiest and most wholesome home life is possible only in a detached single family house. Such a house then should be the American ideal, and should be made accessible to all American families.
4. To encourage thrift for home ownership, and to spread knowledge of methods of financing the purchase or building of a home.
5. To encourage general study of the housing problem and of problems of family life, and to help each community benefit from its study.
6. To encourage the furnishing of homes economically and in good taste.
7. To supply knowledge of the means of eliminating drudgery and waste of effort in housekeeping, and to spread information about public agencies, which will assist housekeepers in their problems.
8. To encourage the establishment of courses of instruction in home economics in the public schools, and particularly the construction of school practice houses and home economics cottages where girls in our public schools and colleges may by actual practice, learn the best methods of conducting household operations and of home-making.
9. To promote the improvement of house lots, yards and neighborhoods, and to encourage the making of home gardens and home playgrounds.
10. To extend knowledge of the ways of making home life happier, through the development of home music, home play, home arts and crafts, and home library.
11. To encourage special study and discussion of the problem of character building in the home.

WHY KINDERGARTENS?

National Kindergarten Association

Children ought to have a taste of kindergarten before entering the regular classrooms. If they can have a year's progressive work under good kindergarten teachers they will have an educational start that will lend strength and inspiration and fine quality to the work they do in school for the next eight years.

Little children need to have their senses rained a bit. Need to have them sharpened and directed so that they become conscious of the fact that they have eyes with which to see and ears with which to hear. You know you can show a little one a bright paper pin wheel and he will smile and clutch at it and perhaps use it for a moment or two. That is all. If you dig into his mind on a private tour of investigation, don't let him catch you at it, you will find that he never saw it, never sensed it. He will not know what color it was, usually; he rarely knows that it had five points or four or that it was made so it had cheeks or pockets to catch the air. He had senses but he did not know how to direct them.

In the kindergarten he will learn to use those senses and to gather experiences through them. He will learn that if he wants to know something or wishes to do something, these, eyes, ears and hands and nose and skin and speech and motion will get him what he wants. He becomes conscious of his powers and learns to use them to his advantage.

No, he will not learn that in the grades just as well. Neither will he learn them from his mother at home. In the first place his mother had not the time to give him nor has she the training to know how to give it to him. She needs to be free of him for three or four hours a day and needs the stimulus of a new environment. Home and the things that are there and the people that are there are going to take on a new meaning because the little one has had his senses sharpened and his experiences enriched. You see, the more he knows, the more he can learn.

The association of other children is necessary to the child's natural growth. It brings to him what we call a social conscience. In plain English it teaches him to live with other people, to allow them to have their opinions and their privileges and to fit his own to them occasionally. It teaches him to watch his neighbor and to follow him in what is good and to help him drop anything that is not good. Children learn more from each other than they do from us. If you want to teach a child something rather difficult let an older child, not too much older, teach him. He will make a far better job at it than you will.

The 5-year-old child is at the stage where rhythm makes a strong appeal to him. The music of the kindergarten songs and marches relaxes the tension on the child's body and mind. Send

Run-Down gave out easily
 "MY health wasn't any account at all," says Mrs. H. L. Cayton, of Washington, N. C. "I would start to do my housework and I would give out before I had done anything at all. I did not have any strength, and if I did the least thing it seemed to tax me so I could not finish. I was run-down sure enough."
 "Several of my friends had taken Cardui and they said to me, 'Why don't you try it?' I knew I needed something to build up my general health and to increase my strength."
 "Finally one day when I was recovering from a spell of sickness, I decided to try Cardui. I got a bottle and began to take it. I could notice that I was improving as my appetite got better and I did not give out nearly so quick. I took several bottles and I felt lots better."
 "Two years ago I decided to take it again. It built me up and made me feel like a different person. It is the grandest medicine for women that I know anything about."

NASH
 Leads the World in Motor Car Value
How many main bearings in your motor car? Nash recommends 7
 Because for the finest and smoothest performance results, you need 7, rather than 3 or 4.
 Obviously, 3 or 4 supports for a crankshaft cannot give it the rigidity and smoothness of 7. That is why Nash—with customary engineering progressiveness—has developed the 7-bearing motor for all Nash models.
 The 7 bearings of Nash achieve power-smoothness and quietness, and achieve it, moreover, with no sacrifice of acceleration. In fact, the proper support of the crankshaft decidedly improves the energy and aggressiveness of the car.
 Here is another fact to remember about the 7 bearings of Nash: They have more bearing surface, by actual measurement, than any 6-cylinder engine of similar size and price, no matter how many bearings it has. (Actually 20 square inches more than leading cars with fewer bearings.)
 When you buy your 1927 motor car be sure to ask: "How many main bearings?" And for better results choose the car that has 7. Nash offers you this performance-advantage in every single model, whether you pay $2090 for it or only $865.

ANOTHER PUSH

A reference in a former article will bear a word of explanation. I do not wish to be accused of forming a parable unless I should do so. It is all right to make parables in place and to teach any truth when understood as parables. The matter referred to is the eminent gentleman who learned on his voyage back to England to "think of other ships" besides his own. His lesson was a very wide application. It was the honorable F. W. Borcham, who has of late written a number of splendid books. I do not hesitate to commend his books to any lover of high toned morals, vivid, historic, illustrations and beautiful flow of language. Probably I would prefer his "Golden Milestone" or his "Luggage of Life" to any other of his productions.

I am minded to say that we people do not read enough of the things good and elevating. I think the first cause of neglect is the fact that the world is in a terrible rush and we hurry constantly for fear the world might get away from us. Better let some of the things get away from us, we would be better off. It will pay any of us to take the time to read things which strengthen character and create lofty ideals. One of the greatest Southern men I have ever known, one who has left on the sands of time his many evidences as an educational leader and statesman, in discussing literature, once said: "We grow to be very much alike the things we prefer to read about." We all understand that he put it that way because it is a truth.

Then again the great dailies are knocking at each of our doors and claiming a bit of our time each day and we want the news, especially the front page. And what is the front page when we get it? It is usually a flare of crime and shame from the rising of the sun to the going down of the moon.

Many of the editors of our daily papers are those whom you would call brilliant men, but they would prefer other order in make-up if the public would be pleased. Some of our largest dailies have been appealed to with reference to first page news by strong and respectful petition, but these editors know a thing or two. They know that the majority like thrills, and really want a bombshell burst within the human mind. Really I take more pleasure in reading the common weekly papers (Brother Editor you can take this as a compliment if you wish) because they are cleaner and more free of crime and "cuss" words and cussed things. It is better for me to read about schools and churches and neighbors chickens and boll weevils. I could, of course, when my wife gets breakfast ready take the nice brown biscuit and warm coffee and fried eggs and go down to the barn and get into the stable with the horse and eat my breakfast there among the flies and filth and unsanitary fumes. It's nobody's business. It's my vic-tuals, my barn and my horse. Alas, too many of us take intellectual nourishment among faltering, falling and decaying conditions of the refuse of earth. —SAM SAY.

Mr. and Mrs. Neal Chesser and Mrs. H. S. Casey and children of Brownwood visited Mr. and Mrs. Jno. S. Chesser and family of Goldthwaite.

S. J. Casey and family were guests of Miss Lizzie Vann of Goldthwaite. A birthday dinner in honor of Master Jack Casey was served.

January, 1925 — There was introduced a new Chevrolet which scored a tremendous success. Among its many new features were: a new and rugged rear axle, an improved unit power plant, a new single-plate disc-clutch, a much stronger frame, semi-elliptic chrome vanadium steel springs, cow and dash-lamps, and new Fisher bodies finished in Duco... and the price of the $735 Coach was...

August, 1925 — Chevrolet announced a new measure of value based on many new quality features—such as motor-driven Klaxon horn, improved sheet metal construction in the bodies, corrugated steering wheel with walnut finish, new headlamp rim construction and a more convenient gear-shift lever. Yet, despite all the additions... the Coach was reduced to $695.

January, 1926 — Another spectacular increase in Chevrolet value—a model offering many mechanical improvements, such as a smoother, quieter motor with three-point suspension, a silent V-belt generator drive, new oil pump, more efficient cooling, an air cleaner, larger brakes, etc. Notwithstanding these improvements... the Coach was reduced to $645.

The Most Beautiful Coach In Chevrolet History!
Climaxing all of Chevrolet's previous value triumphs, the Chevrolet Coach of today is acclaimed as the outstanding closed car value of all time. Beautiful new Fisher bodies—paneled and beaded, rakishly low and finished in new colors of genuine Duco... full-crown, one-piece fenders... bullet-type headlamps... AC oil filter and AC air cleaner... finer performance, greater riding comfort and remarkable steering ease! A car so marvelously beautiful that you must see it to appreciate it—Yet the price has been reduced to $595
