CROP PESTS EXPECTED

Warnings have been sent out to the effect that a heavy infestation of boll weevil, cotton flea, grasshoppers and army worm may be expected each in its own season. Further it is stated that supplies of poisoning for combating these pests are lower than ever before and farmers who expect to make a fight to save crops in case these insects appear should see to it that materials for poisoning are available at the proper time.

It is said that the 1926 fall season was ideal for the propagation of all these insect pests and that the winter having been mild it is expected that heavy infestations will follow. At any rate let the farmers prepare for the worst and hope for the best.

MILLS COUNTY FARM BUREAU, By R. F. McDermott, Sec.-Treas.

COMMUNITY ORGANIZATION

The County Agent has made a strong effort to put over a program of community organization with the result that eight communities have organized by electing officers and naming committees on the principal activities bearing on community progress.

"In each case," says County Agent Weaver, "the teachers have played an important role in promoting these clubs. Without the assistance and good will of the teacher it is difficult to get the people together for a community interest. The place of the teacher in rural affairs is of more importance than they themselves realize. Wherever the teacher has been indifferent it has required greater efforts to form a community club."

"This being the case, trustees who believe that the school should be the center of community progress should investigate the attitude of prospective teachers as to their viewpoint toward progress in the community and the contact of the school with other community interests. The time has come when nothing should be allowed to block the forward movement of rural progress. The school that does not find its place in the affairs of the community is a failure regardless of pleasing personalities of teachers or pennants won in athletics."

The community clubs with their officers are:

Lake Merritt: T. B. Graves, Pres., Mrs. W. L. Stuck, Sec.

A PLEA FOR BETTER QUALIFIED DIRECTORS IN INTERSCHOLASTIC LEAGUE EVENTS

It is the opinion of the writer that too little attention is given to the interpretation of the rules ordained by the governing body of Interscholastic League events. And for this cause gross injustice may be and often is done a contestant.

In the district meet at Brownwood, Texas, April 15, 16 and 17, a case came under the writer's observation where a contestant, the senior representative from Goldthwaite, Texas, representing Mills County, in first place, was unjustly disqualified to enter, either from ignorance or otherwise, and was thereby greatly humiliated, becoming thoroughly disgusted at the proceedings of the committee in preventing her entrance in senior declamation.

The Director asked the house if anyone had any objections to her speaking in the contest. To this query no reply was made. It was repeated, yet no response. He then called a committee of representative teachers etc. from the various counties in District Three and proceeded to read what was purported to be the rules governing the case, which rule was arbitrarily applied to the contestant under trial.

At first the various teachers did not appear to favor disqualifying the contestant, but by reading rules and wrongly applying them, the Director finally brought the teachers to his point of view and the contestant as illegally disqualified to enter and was asked to withdraw from the contest before the gaze of the entire assembly. This greatly mortified her and thoroughly disgusted her with such contests.

The writer was a witness of the proceedings and protested that the rules did not apply in her case as she was a high school student under separate department from the grammar school in a separate building.

If the committee of teachers had been familiar with the rules in the case under consideration, the result no doubt would have been different. Under Article 8 of rules for Interscholastic Events we read: "School principals and superintendents are charged with the responsibility of seeing that the rules are strictly observed by their pupils."

We are appending the rules governing declamation for the purpose of proving our point. Note four year rule. The four year rule allows a student four years participation while a student in high school grades. If a student is disqualified in the eighth grade on account of age, how is he to have four years of track events? Age limit. Article 7, section 7. "The age limits as prescribed in this article and elsewhere in this constitution shall be determined by the age of the pupil on the first day of the preceding September." From this statement the student was disqualified without reading the provisions in Article 7, section 1 as follows: "Who may enter the different contests—The junior division is open only to boys and girls under 14 and over 10 years of age the first day of September preceding. Furthermore the junior division in declamation is not open to any pupils who have been regularly promoted to the ninth grade, nor to any pupils in a high school or junior high school where there are one or more complete ward schools under separate principal and under a separate building from the high school. Pupils under 14 years of age, who are ineligible under this rule for the junior division in declamation MAY ENTER THE SENIOR DIVISION." The contestant was ineligible under this rule to enter the junior division and this was pointed out to the committee by the writer. However, she was eligible under this very provision to enter the senior contest to which her teachers consigned her in the county, placing her where she belonged.

In support of our contention in this case that the ruling was wrong, our County Director General for Mills County called up Ray Bediehek, Chief of Interscholastic League Bureau, Division of Extension, and he said that "Maadia Wilson is eligible to enter the senior contests in declamation at Brownwood." The Director General of Mills County remarked: "She was not permitted to take part in the declamation contest because of an arbitrary ruling made by the director of declamation. It does not seem that the time has come when superficiality and sham should be supplanted by candor and deliberation in important places such as the director of declamations for a large district like this. (Signed) D. A. Newton, County Director, Interscholastic League Meet."

The foregoing letter was written together with the above remarks for the purpose of preventing at any time in the future "a sacrifice of a girl or boy upon the altar of ignorance." Let our directors know the rules especially under their respective divisions.

DAVIS SHUFFIELD

On April 9th. the spirit of little Davis Shuffield returned to the God who gave it.

Davis was 5 years, four months and twenty days of age. He leaves a father and mother, and two sisters to mourn his loss.

He was laid to rest in the Williams Ranch Cemetery under a beautiful mound of flowers.

Weep not, dear ones, for our loss is heaven's gain, and in heaven there will be no sorrow, God shall wipe all tears away. We must not grieve as those who have no hope. Little Davis is at rest. His little life was pure and not stained with the sins of this earth. It is hard to give our loved ones up, but much suffering oft He deemeth best to draw us closer to his breast. We cannot have little Davis back, but we can live so that some sweet day we can meet him, and then we can see and understand that God knew best.—ONE WHO LOVED HIM.

ENGLISH NOTES

The English Literature Class has just recently finished studying the "Roger de Coverley Paper," written by Addison and Steele. The pupils were asked to write a twentieth century "Spectator." Several of the themes were good and this one was chosen as the best:

The Evils Resulting from Lack of Co-operation Between Teachers and Students

During the many years of my experience, I have observed that there cannot be a greater judgment befall a school than such a dreadful spirit of division as rends its way into two distinct classes, and makes the people involved greater strangers than if they were actually two different factions. The influence of such a division between teachers and pupils is very fatal to these people's morals as well as their understandings. This lack of co-operation fills a school with hatred, and destroys all seeds of good nature and happiness.

If the pupil fails to respect his teacher to the highest degree; or fail to form his ideas parallel with hers, inco-operation and inefficiency will surely be the result. Knowledge and learning, on the part of the pupils, suffer from the effects of this strange prejudice, which at present, prevails amongst the masters and their pupils in some schools.

At the beginning of the term, if the teachers fail to demand respect, obedience, and honesty from all her pupils, pupils of the highest intelligence will be seduced into shameful errors and prejudices against their superiors, and thereby made bad children.

It is nature for some children to not love their homes, unless they are taught to; to hate their school unless they are taught the highest principles that underlie school life; to despise work, unless they are shown to the fullest extent that "he who works shall not eat"; and to have no love for their country, unless the spirit of patriotism has been drilled into them, day after day. The work of a teacher is principally the modelling of a child's life. His training at school will determine whether or not he will become famous, or wealthy, or poor and right-minded.

On the other hand, it will determine whether he will become a beggar with low principles, a disgrace to humanity.

Co-operation must exist between the faculty and the students in order that more efficient work will be carried on, and in order that the schools of America will turn out better citizens.

For my part, I heartily wish that carefully selected teachers will do their best to obtain and keep the love and respect of their pupils in every school, and that the pupils will "stand by their teachers through thick and thin," and thus eliminate this prejudice resulting from the lack of co-operation in the schools of America.

EAGLES EVEN SERIES WITH SAN SABA

The Goldthwaite Eagles invaded the San Saba lair and beat them in a seven inning session to even the series.

Earn went the entire route on the mound for the Eagles, holding the opposition helpless with the exception of the fifth frame. Until then he had allowed only three scattered hits which amounted to only one run. However Earn lost his rabbit's foot in the fifth and San Saba found it. They ran in five scores before the Eagles were able to stop the rally. After that one bad inning Earn steadied himself and pitched shutout ball the rest of the game, no one being able to get a hit off his delivery during the remainder of the game.

While Earn was holding the opposition in check, the Eagle's heavy artillery was keeping up a continuous bombardment of hits, Cave leading them with two doubles and a like number of singles, which drove in three runs. The Eagles had made a total of eight runs during the game.

In the seventh San Saba threatened. The second man up doubled through the pitcher. Linkenhogger struck the next man out, and the next man grounded out to second for the final out of the game.

JUNIOR-SENIOR RECEPTION

Last Friday night, April 22, the juniors of the Goldthwaite High School entertained the seniors by giving them a reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Littlepage. The guests all arrived by 8:30. Contests and games were started. The first contest was a "Guess What I Am" contest. Small papers rolled up and tied with a green ribbon having the appearance of a diploma, were given each person. This contest created much excitement. Then there was held a radio contest which was also interesting. After this, ten tables were set up and thirteen games of bunco were played. The score cards had painted on them a girl's bust. She wore a senior cap and gown was suggestive of commencement. At the end of the games it was found that Bill Page and Euna V. Brim scored high.

After this came another contest called "Concealed Countries." It was then about eleven o'clock so refreshments were passed. The refreshment course consisted of dainty sandwiches, cakes, and a glass of frosted tea. After this was enjoyed, it was time to go home. The guests said goodbye, expressing their thanks to Mrs. Littlepage and the whole junior class for their good time.

K. T. O. PICNIC

When supper was finished the guests all went to the creek where they were obliged to

BRO. NEAL TELLS STUDENTS HOW TO TAKE VACATION

Bro. Neal entertained G. H. S. Monday morning with a talk on "Taking A Vacation." He tells us that there is a right and a wrong way to take a vacation. Some people think that in order to take a vacation they must get in their automobiles and go somewhere in particular—just leave home. Those people get tired and the greatest pleasure they get out of the trip is the thought of returning home. Of course, there are some exceptions; all those who take vacations are not of this type.

A good way for a person of this kind to take a vacation is to sit in a big arm chair in different places—imagine he is in a Ford car. The road is muddy and full of chug holes, and the going is hard. If his imagination is vivid, he will be more than glad that he is at home. Or if he contemplated a vacation on the train let him load a suitcase full of rocks and carry it around the house several times, all the time imagining he is walking from the train to a hotel. He will find that he is very fatigued.

If we are going to take a trip during our vacation, let us be observers. Make our vacations really amount to something. There are various ways by which we can spend our time properly during a vacation. Keep our eyes open, keep in the school of experience; and when vacation time is over, we find that we are better boys and girls.

Mesdames, Roberts, Robertson and Forehand and Mary Douglas and Otto Roberts went to Mount Olive Saturday night to the play.

Sunday Elizabeth Nickols, Joe Beek and Joe Davis dined with Miss O'Leta Daniel, in the afternoon they went to Big Valley to see Miss O'Leta Traylor.

Mr. Malone of Houston has been in Goldthwaite visiting Dr. Campbell and Mr. Gregory, our old men. He was in our community while here.

There was a forty-two party at Woodie Traylor's Friday night.

We worked the cemetery last Saturday—all brought dinner. In the afternoon the children hunted eggs.

Brother J. R. Davis of Coleman was in our midst last week. He responded to our invitation and preached Tuesday night to a small crowd. He told some of us that he didn't feel like preaching and to just call it off. We were very disappointed as he used to be our pastor.

R. C. Webb and wife Webb went to Lometa again last week.

Mrs. Marvin Spinks visited in Lometa last week.

Sam Self and wife went visiting Sunday afternoon but found most everybody gone. They finally found the J. T. Robertson family at home.

Don't worry about our oil well as Dr. Campbell tests its temperature two or three times a day and also the first thing after supper.

Our teacher is kept very busy teaching school, running after turkeys and looking after the oil well. We have only three more weeks of school unless we decide to have summer school.

Jno. W. Roberts has been working with his bees lately.

Easter Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Albert Douney entertained a crowd of relatives at their home in Big Valley. Those present at the entertainment were Noell Littlepage and family of Dublin, Misses Pauline Dalton and Robert Elizabeth Littlepage of Goldthwaite, Joe Roberts and family of Bull's Creek and Mrs. Eula Nickols and boys.

We had a very wonderful dinner, more than we could eat, so we had to leave some. We had fried chicken, ham, new potatoes, cabbage, "Mr. Farmer's good lettuce", and lettuce salad, radishes, macaroni and tomatoes, and we had to leave the best until the last, which was an awful good cake.

Everything was well prepared and the day was enjoyed by all. Soon in the afternoon Mr. Littlepage left to visit Robert Littlepage and family in Goldthwaite.

We always look forward to an all-day visit with Mr. and Mrs. Douney.

A few played "42" Tuesday night in the R. C. Webb home—all enjoyed the evening.

Everything is growing and looking fine, and the racket at the oil well sounds good.—BUSY BEE.

NASH

Leads the World in Motor Car Value

You can see why
 Nash has extra power

The extra power that makes Nash a more capable car to drive, particularly on the hills or in dense traffic, is directly due to extra-efficient design.

The Nash Straight Line Drive, for instance, diagrammed above.

Nash power flows directly from the engine to the rear axle in a straight line. There are no angles along the route to waste energy, as there would be if the motor were mounted parallel to the frame, as the ordinary motor is.

The Straight Line Drive accounts in part for Nash aggressiveness—for the powerful pick-up at low speeds (where you need it most). You will always notice it is the Nash that gets away soonest when the traffic starts.

The Straight Line Drive also avoids wear on the universal joints, and thereby prevents noise and looseness.

Of course, it takes a little longer and costs more to build Nash this better way——But any Nash owner will tell you it makes a lot of difference in the results he gets.

Drive a Nash, before you decide which car to buy!

'Where There Are Two Wills There Is Snappy Correspondence; Rogers Gives to Ministers' Pension Fund

Will H. Hays

Will Rogers

WILL ROGERS can't help "kidding," even when he is parting with money. A personal letter from the famous humorist to Will H. Hays, sending a check for $100 to aid the $15,000,000 ministerial pension fund being raised by the Presbyterian Church, U. S. A., reveals that nobody's dignity awes the mayor of Beverly Hills, Calif. Andrew W. Mellon, treasurer of the fund, Herbert Hoover and Mr. Hays, who is chairman of the laymen's committee raising the money, all come in for friendly digs.

This is the letter that Will wrote Will, pecking it out on a portable typewriter:

"Dear Will Hays: 'Say I got your letter about raising 15 Millions for the Presbyterians. My Lord, since you went into the Movies you got the Churches talking in Millions—15 Millions—say, all the Presbyterians I ever knew couldn't even SAY 15 MILLIONS. Who's going to count it if you do get it? You will have to get an Episcopal to explain to you how much it is.

'I see by your advance publicity that 'Andy' Mellon is mixed up with you. That guy is mixed up in every business in the world. Now he is in the Church business, treasurer as usual! I will help you on one condition; that is, if you Presbyterians get your 15 Millions you will help us Methodists get $483.27. That's this year's quota and we feel we shot a little high on it. Do you know of any rich man we could advertise as our Treasurer? Is Hoover working at any religion? If neither one of us get what we are after it looks like we will have to go to saving souls instead of money, and that's a mighty old-fashioned thing to have to go back to. Enclosed find check for $100 to compensate you for your ambition. You notice the check is made out to 'Andy'.

"I don't want you to think I didn't trust you. I do. In fact I trust you just as much as I do him. Please don't allow Mellon to apply this on National Debt. I would just as soon it would reach the Foreign Missions as that.

"You may raise this, Will; anything is possible.

"An Amateur Highbinder.
 "Yours,
 "WILL."

HINTS ON BEAUTIFYING YOUR OWN HOME
 BY KATHERINE WILSON LEE

idea and put color into your white bath-room, it's easy to paint a stool rose, or yellow, or blue, to match the figured design in your cotton window curtains.

By this time you will have found what fun it is to work with Duco, and you'll be getting more ambitious. I can imagine you buying a set of unfinished breakfast room furniture, table and chairs, and consulting color charts for shades to match your walls and general color scheme. Old blue and yellow... green and black... delft blue and rose... orange and gray—there are endless fascinating combinations of colors. And when you paint yourself, you will know it's different.

Now you look around and see an ugly old oak dresser. Remove the mirror, brackets and all, and paint the chest of drawers one of the soft pastel Duco shades—possibly French Gray or Nile Green. Then hang an oval shaped mirror from a harmonizing silk cord above the newly finished chest, and you'll be completely surprised at the remarkable improvement. If you have an old chipped iron bed, which doesn't match anything, paint it to match the new dressing table... and also a chair or two. Soon a lot of almost impossible-looking old furniture can be used again, and your bedroom will be just as charming as though you had purchased a matched suite costing many times the actual cost of the refinishing.

Perhaps the walls in some room are bothering you? Have you ever heard of the Tiffany finish—the mottled two-tone effect so popular now? It is easy to obtain this finish with Duco. Select a dark shade of Duco and apply one coat all over the walls. After allowing this to dry for half an hour or longer, apply a second coat of Duco of a lighter, contrasting shade over the first coat, working in squares of not more than eighteen inches. Take a dry sponge and go over the second coat of Duco (each square as it is applied) before it dries. The sponge absorbs some of the Duco, allowing the first coat to show through. You will find this treatment makes a very artistic background for any room.

Isn't your imagination beginning to work overtime already, discovering new ways in which you can use Duco to beautify your home? Remember it's not necessary to serve your friends their attractive rooms. It's just a matter of serving yourself.

resourceful and talented as thousands of other women who have had amazing success with a brush and a can of Duco.

Start on a few simple things. For instance, try painting the baby's old crib or high chair with a pastel shade of Duco. How about Powder Blue? Duco smooths itself out so easily that it takes no experience at all to do satisfactory work, and this finish dries so quickly that you do not have to hang a lot of "wet paint" signs around your home. In fact, in the case of the baby's crib, if you paint it in the morning, it will be ready for use again in the evening.

Then why not get one of those odd wood baskets or a hanging book shelf, and paint it a bright Mandarin Red or Jade Green to add a little arresting note of color to an otherwise one-toned room? Or if you want to follow the very latest

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Hight C. Moore

PETER'S DENIAL AND REPENTANCE

Mark 14:53,54,66-71; Luke 22:61,62.

SUNDAY, MAY 1, 1927.

GOLDEN TEXT—Let him that thinketh he standeth, take heed lest he fall. I Corinthians 10: 12.

Lesson and Lesson Survey
 Review the story of Peter from midnight to about three o'clock in the morning of crucifixion day. We hear him boasting that he would never stumble on account of his Master though others should fail and fall, and that he would die before he would deny his Lord. We see him arming himself with a sword in order to be ready, as he thought, for an emergency. But he was a sound sleeper in Gethsemane while Jesus prayed in agony. Yet he was a furious fighter when Judas appeared with an armed guard to arrest Jesus, for he attempted to behead the high priest's servant. And he was a far-away follower as Jesus was taken back to the city for trial. The arraignment before Annas was preceded by Peter's first denial and followed by the second and third denials within an hour or so before cock crowing. But the look of the Lord brought him to his senses and sent penitential tears gushing down his cheeks.

Lesson Text and Outline

I. THE FAR-OFF FOLLOWER (Mark 14).

53 And they led Jesus away to the high priest; and there came together with him all the chief priests and elders and the scribes. 54 And Peter had followed him far off, even within into the court of the high priest; and he was sitting with the officers, and warming himself in the light of the fire.

II. THE FIRST DENIAL (Mark 14).

55 And as Peter was beneath in the court, there cometh one of the maids of the high priest; 67 and Peter warming himself, she saith unto him, and saith, Thou also wast with the Nazarene, even Jesus. 68 But he denied, saying, I neither know, nor understand what thou sayest; and he went out on the porch; and the cock crew.

III. THE SECOND DENIAL (Mark 14).

69 And the maid saw him, and began again to say to them that stood by, This is one of them. 70 But he again denied it.

IV. THE THIRD DENIAL (Mark 14).

And after a little while again they that stood by said to Peter, Of a truth thou art one of them; for thou art a Galilaean. 71 But he began to curse, and to swear, I know not this man of whom ye speak.

V. THE BITTER TEARS. (Luke 22).

61 And the Lord turned, and looked upon Peter. And he remembered the word of the Lord, how he had said unto him, Before the cock crow this day thou shalt deny me thrice. 62 And he went out and wept bitterly.

Notes Analytical and Expository

1. THE CAUTIOUS DEVOTION of Peter was shown after the arrest of Jesus. Dazed by the events that took place in Gethsemane, Peter nevertheless followed his fettered Master back to Jerusalem. However he "followed afar off," that is, at a safe distance, cautiously and wonderingly. Yet he followed to the palace of the high priest and even went within its very courts. So here was something very noble and loyal in Peter, notwithstanding the ill-timed sword-stroke in the garden and the ignoble denials now soon to follow.

2. THE CARELESS DENIAL was made about the time Peter entered the court of the high priest. The portress asked him if he was one of Jesus' disciples. The question was unexpected and caught Peter unawares. To shield and save himself, he simply declared that he did not know Jesus. Then to forestall further embarrassment, he joined the miscellaneous crowd warming by the fire.

3. THE COMPROMISING DENIAL was made while Peter was standing by the fire. The door maid was still suspicious that Peter was one of Christ's disciples, and said so to another maid and to at least to one of the men who then spoke to Peter about it. He felt that he had gone too far not to go farther. So, with an oath, he again denied that he even knew Jesus.

4. THE CONFIRMED DENIAL was made apparently after Peter had stepped out on the palace porch. It was about an hour after he had entered the hall and he probably had joined in conversation to ally suspicion. But some of the bystanders, including a kinsman of Malchus whom Peter had wounded in Gethsemane, kept eyeing Peter. Finally one said that his speech betrayed him; and another claimed to have seen him in Gethsemane. Fearing detection, Peter, with bitter, blustering oaths, again denied knowing Jesus. To what depths and in so short a time had the presumptuous Apostle fallen!

5. THE CONVICTED DISCIPLINE heard at that moment the cock crow as Jesus had predicted. As those shrill notes rang out on the chilly night air, they fell upon the ears of Peter and went like darts into his very soul. At the same moment "the Lord looked on Peter," and that wordless look winged its way into the marrow of his being. Forth into the night he went and bitter were the tears that flowed fast and hot down his face. Deeply had he sinned, but as deep was his penitence.

The Lesson of the Lesson

(1). Be Loyal Under Fire.—It was an hour of darkness, physical and spiritual. Jesus was fettered and in the hand of his foes. His followers had scattered. Everybody seemed against him. The Jews had determined upon his death. The traitor Apostle had betrayed him. The Roman governor was soon to send him to Golgotha. If ever he needed a friend, it was then. How ignominiously Peter failed him!

(2) Be Loyal in Following.—Peter followed Jesus. But he did it too cautiously and at too great a distance. Still, he meant to be loyal to his Master. We ought to profit by his experience.

(3) Be Loyal in Position.—On the road, Peter followed afar off; at Sanhedran Hall he stood at the door without. John was a better example for that night than Peter.

(4) Be Loyal in Profession.—The first denial was hardly more than a shake of the head and a mumbled undertone. But it was a denial. An honest confession of Christ right then might have accomplished much.

(5) Be Loyal in Association.—Peter seems not to have joined John after entering and certainly he did not stand close to Jesus. He drifted into the group about the fire. Therein he blundered.

(6) Be Loyal in Testimony.—What a chance Peter had to testify! It was dangerous no doubt, but glorious. How Peter to his dying day must have regretted his defection!

(7) Be Loyal in Temptation.—To resist Satan is to honor Christ. It was the hour of Peter's sifting. His faith did not fail, but his flesh did.

(8) Be Loyal in Danger.—Contrast Peter's presumption in the upper room with his denial in the court room. Will our profession of love and loyalty to Christ stand the test of danger?

(9) Be Loyal in Remembrance.—When the Lord turned and looked upon Peter, the swearing Apostle collapsed instantly and utterly. That look of injured love penetrated the marrow. Then he remembered the warning word of Jesus. He knew that Jesus knew—and cared!

(10) Be Loyal in Penitence.—In those bitter, burning, blessed tears, Peter found his soul. He had strayed and sinned, but in his heart of hearts he loved, trusted and served the Lord.
