"HOME TRAGEDIES"—SELECTED FROM NEAL'S SCRAPBOOK

A well meaning mother said to me the other day, "I don't know what to do with my boy; he won't mind a word I say." I said, "How old is he?" She said, "He is four, going on five." Then I said "If you can get along with him for three or four years longer, the state will take him off your hands, and the state can make him mind. The state has detention homes, reform schools and penitentiaries for that purpose, and the state can always 'make a boy mind.' A boy that is raised to disobey the authority of his mother will when he gets older disobey the authority of both God and state. That is why we have juvenile courts, reform schools and penitentiaries, and if a boy gets with the state where you say your four year old boy has gotten with you, the state will either shoot him down as a bandit or hang him." I heard a judge say the other day that 95 per cent of the tens of thousands now in the prisons of the country were boys that would not mind their parents at home.

I asked "Do you punish him for disobedience?" and she cried "Punish him! I don't believe in punishing children. Why it would nearly kill me to punish him or whip him; I just couldn't do it." "Well," I said, "there is your trouble; you are not willing to hurt yourself for the good of your boy. You allow your own feelings to control you and in doing so you are making a criminal of your boy, who will later break your heart. The best and only genuine love is the love that regards and is willing to suffer for the welfare of the one loved. The diamond, to be of value, must be cut, ground and polished. There are many diamonds in the rough in jail and penitentiary today, just because they were not polished in the home lapidary. Some disobedient boy's mother sits shamefaced with bowed head and breaking heart in our courts every week and hears the sentence, maybe of life imprisonment or death on the gallows, pronounced against her boy who would not mind what she said. The state can "make them mind" and if you don't make your boy mind, the state will.

After all, the fault is not originally with the boy who in the end will have to suffer; no, he was innocent and pure when like a pearl of great price he was dropped into the lap of life. Now at the age of four, says the mother, "He won't mind a thing I say."

There was a little boy in one of our middle states a few years ago just like this little four-year-old boy; he would not mind. So when he was a little older, 23, I think, his mother saw him ascend the scaffold and as the black cap was adjusted before springing the trap, she sobbing, broken-hearted, got as a last word from her boy an oath with the addition of words, "No use to sob now, old woman, you're to blame for this. If you'd raised me right when I was little—" but the trap was sprung and the little boy who wouldn't mind plunged to his reward, and the mother swooned into unconsciousness. It's mighty unfair to the boy or girl. It is true as Milton said, "The child shows the man as the morning shows the day."

Happy the mother, happy the father, who can look upon his family and say, "These are my glorious works."

Mr. and Mrs. Will Little and family of Hamilton visited the Little families here last Sunday. Misses Ruby White and Miss Carpenter, both of Temple, Texas, are visiting with Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Burks.

ASK CO-OPERATION IN AUTO HEADLIGHT LAW

The Secretary of Chamber of Commerce.

Dear Sir: Every summer a large number of Texas motorists spend their vacations in their cars, traveling over the State and frequently to other states, and they form a large portion of the heavy traffic so in evidence on our principal highways, especially at night.

We are writing to request you to call the attention of the local motorists to the necessity of having the headlamps and tail lights properly adjusted before starting on cross country trips.

A car should never be driven during the hours requiring artificial illumination with only one headlamp burning and the tail light out. These are most dangerous practices and a direct violation of the law.

There is a tendency on the part of some motorists to pay very little attention to the lighting equipment of their cars. Tail lights may have been burned out ever so long before they become aware of it, likewise, many drive with but one headlamp burning. This is not done with the knowledge of the driver, in most cases, but occurs through carelessness.

It is generally agreed that the headlight law is a good law and that it will accomplish much if the law is to accomplish the purpose for which it was established, there must be a co-operation on the part of all concerned. We are making this earnest appeal, therefore, to the good citizens of the State to cooperate with us to secure better observance of the law. We are asking this in the interest of the people and their safety.

Yours very truly,
Texas Highway Department
W. B. Schultz, Engineer.

"What the Texas Headlight Law Requires"

The Texas Automobile Headlight Law requires that motor vehicles traveling on the highway at night comply with the following:

1. Two headlamps must be burning.
2. The headlamps must be properly adjusted.
3. The tail light, either red or yellow, must be burning.

ROCK SPRINGS A LIVE CLUB

Rock Springs, though a small community, has one of the most interesting clubs in the county. The club holds two interesting meetings each month. Splendid programs are enjoyed at each of these meetings and sometime is devoted to the discussion of community interests. Plans for a fair are well under way and a fine community spirit prevails.

This is the only community in the county to buy a canner. The women meet twice a week at the home of one of the members and put in the day canning vegetables and fruits. They have a full supply of canned products which will do much to lower the cost of living. Their association together at these meetings will be worth while and the neighborly spirit out there is commendable.

The slower communities would do well to visit one of the Rock Springs Club meetings.

SAMUEL ANOINTS DAVID
1 Samuel 16: 1-3

GOLDEN TEXT—Let no man despise thy youth; but be thou assembles to them that believe in word, in manner of life, in love, in faith, in purity. 1 Timothy 4:12.

Lesson Setting and Survey

The wars of Saul involved campaigns against Moab, Ammon, Zobab, and Philista. The divine command to exterminate the criminal and idolatrous nation of Amalekites was obeyed by Saul only so far as it gratified his military ambition. On his return he offered to Samuel the flemsy excuse which only accentuated his disobedience. Thereupon the prophet announced the divine rejection of Saul from being king, himself executing the spared king of Amalek, and left Saul for the last time. However, Samuel was deeply grieved at Saul's failure and rejection. But God directed him to Bethlehem and anoint one of Jesse's sons to be Saul's successor. Would not the king regard this an act of high treason? The divine purpose was not to be thwarted by cautious prophet or murderous king. Samuel's visit was to be distinctly religious, not political. A sacrificial feast would justify the journey. Then he would be told what to do.

Lesson Text and Outline

1 Samuel 16:4-13

I. THE SACRIFICE AT BETHLEHEM

4 And Samuel did that which Jehovah spake, and came to Bethlehem. And the elders of the city came to meet him trembling, and said, Comest thou peaceably? 5 And he said, Peaceably; I am come to sacrifice unto Jehovah: sanctify yourselves, and come with me to the sacrifice. And he sanctified Jesse and his sons, and called them to the sacrifice.

II. THE SEARCH FOR A KING

6 And it came to pass, when they were come, that he looked at Eliab, and said, Surely Jehovah's anointed is before him. 7 But Jehovah said unto Samuel, Look not on his countenance, or on the height of his stature; because I have rejected him; for Jehovah seeth not as man seeth; for man looketh on the outward appearance, but Jehovah looketh on the heart. 8 Then Jesse called Abinadab, and made him pass before Samuel. And he said, Neither hath Jehovah chosen this. 9 Then Jesse made Shammah pass by. And he said, Neither hath Jehovah chosen this. 10 And Jesse made seven of his sons to pass before Samuel. And Samuel said unto Jesse, Jehovah hath not chosen these.

III. THE SELECTION OF DAVID

11 And Samuel said unto Jesse, Are here all thy children. And he said, There remaineth yet the youngest, and behold, he is keeping the sheep. And Samuel said unto Jesse, Send and fetch him; for we will not sit down until he come hither. 12 And he sent, and brought him in. Now he was ruddy and withal a beautiful countenance, and goodly to look upon. And Jehovah said, Arise, anoint him; for this is he. 13 Then Samuel took the horn of oil, and anointed him in the midst of his brethren; and the Spirit of Jehovah came mightily from that day forward. So Samuel rose up and went to Ramah.

Notes Analytical and Expository

1. SAMUEL, obedient to the will of God, went to Bethlehem. At his coming the elders of the town trembled, for their last glimpse of him was when he heaved Agag to pieces in Gilgal. But Samuel declared unto them that he had come on a mission of peace and bade them sanctify themselves and come to the sacrifice. As evidence of good faith and fulfillment of his mission, he ceremonially prepared Jesse and his sons for the proper observance of the sacrificial feast. No record of it is given, but no doubt Samuel duly offered the sacrifice with the town elders, Jesse and his sons being among the attendants.

2. JESSE entertained the prophet, presented his sons for inspection and benediction, and yearned to know and do the will of God. The scene here recorded most probably took place after the public sacrifice in the home of Jesse, who evidently was a well-to-do resident of Bethlehem. Without knowing the full significance of Samuel's visit, and perhaps craving upon his sons no more than the prophet's benediction, Jesse brought his sons before Samuel. The eldest bore the name of Eliab and was of commanding figure and impressive bearing. But the Lord, who looks on the heart and not, like man, on the outward appearance, revealed to the prophet his refusal of Eliab as a suitable successor to Saul. The same thing occurred when the second, Abinadab, and the third, Shammah, and four other sons of Jesse came before him. Manifestly Samuel was surprised when he failed to find the Lord's anointed among these seven sons of Jesse, who were surpassed by no other young men in the city or throughout the country. In perplexity he turned to Jesse with the inquiry, "Are here all thy children?"

3. DAVID now emerges for the first time. Several things are told us about him. (1) Note what Jesse said. To the prophet's inquiry the father responded that only the youngest was absent and that he at that moment was keeping the sheep. What a vivid sidelight upon the modest and industry of the lad, Samuel at once called him. (2) Note what Samuel saw. Fresh from the field came the young man. The prophet saw that he was a most attractive youth. Unlike most of his race, his hair was auburn and his eyes were blue. He was virile and magnetic. (3) Note what Jehovah said: "Arise, anoint him: for this is he!" (4) Note what Samuel did. In obedience to the divine command, he poured the anointing oil upon David in the presence of his family. (5) Note what the Spirit did. He came mightily upon David from that day forward. It was enough; the aged prophet, satisfied with his mission, returned to his home in Ramah.

The Lesson of the Lesson
Discover and Develop Future Leaders.

(1) A Good Community. "to Bethlehem." It must have been morally one of the best towns among the tribes. Out of it came David and Christ. It takes good neighborhoods to produce great men.

(2) A Good Government. "The elders of the city came to meet him trembling." They honored and feared the man of God. They were people of peace. They were concerned about the civic welfare. They were committed to the best interests of the community.

(3) A Good Church Life. "To sacrifice unto Jehovah." The Bethlehemites were God-fearing. Sacrifice was appropriate there. Samuel was a welcome visitor. Righteousness inspires the rising generation.

(4) A Good Family. "Jesse and his sons." Jesse was doubtless the father in town. He had the noble qualities of his paternal grandparents, Boaz and Ruth. His household was highly esteemed. David came of good ancestry.

(5) A Good Business. "He is keeping the sheep." Idleness is wrong and laziness is crime. Industry occupies and edifies. A worthy task is a blessing. There can be no real development and achievement without it.

(6) A Good Call. "Send and fetch him." David was at work where his father had placed him. But the prophet wanted him. Hence the call. And of course the answer was immediate.

(7) A Good Physique. "Goodly to look upon." Most of the world's work is done by the physically strong. Magnetic personality counts immensely. David attracted Samuel. His countenance showed his character.

(8) A Good Discovery. "This is he." From Eliab to David, the eight sons of Jesse must have been worthy of their father and the prophet's esteem. But the discovery was an epochal thing that day. To discover a man is the greatest discovery on earth.

(9) A Good Endowment. "The Spirit of Jehovah came mightily upon David." That was the main thing. Spirituality is the secret of success. Character counts for more than capacity. David became great because God was with him.

(10) A Good Prospect. "From that day forward." David's anointing was only the first step in a long journey. It was the fingerboard pointing to a great future. The forward look is essential to progress.

STAR LOAN ASSOCIATION SAVING FARMERS' MONEY

F. P. Bowman, Secretary-Treasurer of the Star National Farm Loan Association, was in the office this week talking about Federal Farm Loans. He tells us that the local association has loaned approximately $200,000 to 90 farmers and ranchmen in this territory. Illustrating the type of service that this association is rendering, he mentioned a loan made recently to a farmer in the Priddy community who had been paying 10 per cent interest on a $5000.00 loan, to a mortgage holder for profit only and not returning any of the earnings to its borrowers. His association is now saving him $250 per annum by charging him only 5 per cent interest. A loan in the national farm loan association does not require renewal. It is amortized over a long period of time so that it can be paid by crop returns. Total payments on loans made at this time are $30 each six months for each $1,000 borrowed. The borrower, however, has the right to pay it off at any semi-annual date after five years without bonus or expense charge. The association has $8000.00 capital stock owned by the borrowing members. All dividends paid on the stock go to the farmer-borrowers. This is the farmer's answer to those who said he would not successfully organize to obtain the benefit of cooperative credit. A loan may be made on a home-stead to the amount of 50 per cent of its value. One of the best efforts of Federal Loans in this country is the encouragement for adequate terracing. Terracing on land, like interest on money, builds up the farmer's capital, and makes a security that both the borrower and lender are proud to handle.

Too Much
"Acid?"

Excess Uric Acid Gives Rise to Many Unpleasant Troubles.

AUTHORITIES agree that an excess of uric acid is primarily due to faulty kidney action. Retention of this toxic material often makes its presence felt by sore, painful joints, a tired, languid feeling and, sometimes, toxic backache and headache. That the kidneys are not functioning right is often shown by scanty or burning passage of secretions. Thousands assist their kidneys at such times by the use of Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic. Doan's Pills are recommended by many local people. Ask your neighbor!

INDIGESTION

"I had suffered with indigestion for 6 years," says Mr. H. C. Dove, R. F. D. 4, Chester, S. C. "I had gotten to the place where I could hardly eat a thing—everything hurt me. I had smothering spells and fell off 20 pounds. I was in a bad fix. I read of Black-Draught and decided to try it. I do not believe that I would have been living today had it not been for Black-Draught. I had gotten to where I only ate milk and crackers, but after taking Black-Draught I began to eat and gradually got my appetite back. I gained in weight and felt better. I have not had a bad spell of indigestion in ten months."

Black-Draught is prepared in a powder from medicinal roots and herbs. In use over 85 years. Sold everywhere. 25 cents.
