ART AND CIVIC CLUB HORORS MRS. GEESLIN

Among the numerous good-bye social affairs arranged for Mrs. Edward Geeslin last week was an eleven o'clock breakfast, given by the Art and Civic Club on Tuesday morning in the Roy Rowntree home.

Mrs. Geeslin was a charter member of the Club and has been one of its most useful members. Her motto was "Self Improvement and Helping Others." And by living up to that motto she has been an inspiration to the other members. Her happy smile and tender words of encouragement will be missed more than words can express.

A tender bit of sentiment was expressed by the entertainment committee when they refused to share Mrs. Geeslin with anyone other than Club members on this occasion, making it an exclusive club affair.

The dining room was graced by gorgeous yellow chrysanthemums clustered in wedge-wood bowls and silver vases. The breakfast dainties were served cafeteria style from a lace laid table which held a silver bowl of the yellow blossoms guarded by whip tapers glowing in crystal candelabra and silver and crystal compotes heaped with tinted confections.

The charming living room with its beautiful lighting equipment was decidedly inviting in the wealth of red roses clustered in artistic profusion, creating a beautiful environment for the tables, overlaid with chambray and graced with bowls of exquisite roses, from which the dainty eats were partaken.

After lingering some time in conversation Mesdames Walter Fairman, Kelly Saylor, Carl Keese, L. R. Conro, F. P. Bowman, Bina Oquin, Harry Allen, F. E. Martin, Jacob Saylor, W. E. Miller, Claude Dickerson, Roy Rowntree and Miss Lucile Conro bade Mrs. Geeslin good-bye, each expressing the hope that she would soon decide that she could not live away from Goldthwaite and would come "back home."

CHADWICK WELL TO RESUME DRILLING AT ONCE

The Chadwick oil well, being drilled by California interests, will begin drilling again at once after several weeks delay on account of losing a slush bucket in the well. The machinery has been thoroughly overhauled and the bucket will be drilled out. The well is around 1150 feet now and the contract calls for 1500 should the Elginburger not be encountered beforehand. Prospects are pretty good that the pay sand will be struck in this well.

"FRONTIERSMAN" IS McCOYST BEST FILM

The most daring, dashing and romantic picture in the career of Tim McCoy, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer historical Western star, "The Frontiersman", will be seen at the Dixie Theatre on Thursday and Friday of next week and has been designated as "Armistice Day Special."

This production, based on a story of the times of Andrew Jackson and the Creek Indian war, has been elaborately filmed depicting upon the screen many of the stirring incidents in the life of "the fighting fighter" who ever became the President of the United States. McCoy plays the role of a young officer in the Tennessee militia and Russell Simpson, famous stage and screen character delineator, has the role of Jackson. The lovely Claire Windsor is seen featured in the feminine role.

SOME THINGS YOU SHOULD KNOW

President Coolidge rebuked Senator Fess of Ohio for saying that the President would be drafted by the Republican National Convention and would be re-elected. However, Senator Fess reiterated the belief that the President could not keep the Convention from selecting him, unless he issued a positive statement that he would not accept the nomination.

President Coolidge gave out a statement last week in which he said that the business situation throughout the country is apparently improving. There has been some decrease in passenger service on railroads due to the greater use of the automobile. There were fewer strikes last year in the industrial field.

The European Chemical Trust, including Great Britain, France, Germany and Belgium, will have a combined capitalization of more than $1,000,000,000. Germany has taken the chemical export lead from the United States. Last year Germany's chemical exports were $256,000,000, compared with America's $171,000,000.

On the Sunday following the fire which destroyed many business houses and some residences in Ocean City, New Jersey, that city offered up prayers of thanksgiving for the saving of most their property. Passing from the task of restoring order for four days, citizens observed the Sabbath in expressing their gratitude.

J. Alfred Spender, noted British journalist, has arrived in the United States, where he will remain, with Mrs. Spender, for three months. He has come Pennsylvania's flood damage has passed over the $1,000,000 mark, as new evils of suffering, disease and unemployment followed the state's worst flood of the fall Thursday. Swollen waters from the fall rains have made thousands homeless and left 10,000 without employment. Hundreds of highways in the flooded district were turned into raging canals, waters poured into cities and towns, flooding cellars and tying up traffic. Continuous rain fell for seventy-eight hours.

An electrical machine with a "mechanical mind" that solves problems too complex for the human brain has been perfected by Dr. Vannevar Bush, professor of electric power transmission, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and a staff of research workers. The "product integrator," as the machine has been called, is expected to take its place in the field of science and engineering, just as the adding machines and like devices have come to be important in the business world.

A conference of meteorologists and ocean fliers has been proposed by Dr. James H. Kimball of the Weather Bureau. The suggestion has been placed before the officials of the Guggenheim Fund for the Promotion of Aviation and will be brought to the attention of the Guggenheim Meteorological Committee. Dr. Kimball is convinced that a round-table discussion by the pilots, members of the Guggenheim committee and those scientifically interested would produce information of great value to future flights.

Southern Methodist Mustangs have been scheduled to meet the Army Eleven on the West Point field during the 1928 football season. Negotiations for this game were completed last week and the '26 champions of the Southwestern Conference are looking forward to one of the strongest teams in their history with which to compete with the Army grid team. The date for the game has been set for October 6, 1928.

Two Texans are included among the persons awarded fellowships by the John Simon Guggenheim Memorial Foundation, the board of trustees has announced. Dr. J. Fred Rippey, professor of History at Duke University, Durham, N. C., has been awarded a fellowship for researches in Europe on the subject of "Latin America in World Affairs." Dr. Rippey was a resident of Richardson and was granted his degree of Bachelor of Arts at Southwestern University. Harry Schultz Vandiver, associate professor of pure mathematics at the University of Texas, will confer with specialists in England, Switzerland and Germany in mathematical research work.

Dreaded Aches, PAINS Disappeared

"My health had been poor for ten years, before I took Cardui," says Mrs. Anna Cronin, of Rockport, Ind. "I was lifeless and 'no account'. I dragged around day after day, every move an effort, and never feeling the joy of being well.

"At times, I had a dreadful ache across my back, and my sides hurt me. I worried along, sometimes hardly able to leave my bed, but the demands of a growing family had to be attended to; so I would get up, do what was absolutely necessary, and then lie down again.

"One day, someone suggested Cardui to me. I took it for several months, and all the time I was growing stronger, and less nervous. My aches and pains finally disappeared.

"That was two years ago. My improvement has been permanent. The good health, which followed the taking of Cardui, is still with me, so I do not hesitate to recommend it to my friends."

Community Needs, like Poor Relations, are ever with us. Who is it that supports the Schools, the Churches, Special Civic Expense, Social, local entertainments--our Educational Life. Who is this person? Is it leading business men of nearby trading centers? Is it the big Mail Order Houses Executives and Shareholders? Is it the house-to-house peddlers who ring every door bell in town regularly and are gone forever? No, Mr. and Mrs. Reader, it is none of these as you well know. You know who it is. It is your own town's leading citizens--the people doing business here, assuming their share of community responsibilities--digging down into their pockets regularly for every worthy Civic enterprise.

In return they ask so little. They only ask that you be loyal to your home-town, first by making the effort to learn if the thing you wish to buy cannot be obtained through home markets. Nine times out of ten it can be. The quality will be just as good, the style just as new and the price just as low.

Support the men who are supporting your town. If you do not your Real Estate holdings will never increase in value and there will be fewer and fewer dollars and Goldthwaite will finally be a deserted village.

HIS FATHER'S WILL

A God-fearing old man was one day walking to church with a New Testament in his hand, when a friend who met him said: "Good-morning, Mr. Price!"

"Ah! Good-morning!" he replied. "I am reading my Father's will as I walk along."

"Well, what has he left you?" said his friend.

"Why, he has bequeathed me a hundred-fold more in this life, and in the world to come life everlasting."

THE SECRET OF BIBLE STUDY IN FIVE SENTENCES

1. Study it through. Never begin a day without mastering a Verse.
2. Pray it in. Never leave your Bible until the passage you have studied is a part of your very being.
3. Put it Down. The thought God gives you put in the margin of your Bible or notebook.
4. Work it Out. Live the truth you get through all the hours of the day.
5. Pass it On. Seek to tell somebody what you have learned.—J. William Chapman, in Western Recorder.

SOME THINGS FOR WHICH BAPTISTS STAND

1. The Bible as our only rule of faith and practice.
2. Individual responsibility to God.
3. Repentance and faith the only condition of salvation.
4. Salvation by grace.
5. Regeneration by the Holy Spirit.
6. Baptism of believers (those already saved) only.
7. Democracy and equality in the church.
8. The church responsible to Christ alone.
9. Living faith proved by real service.—Word and Way.

What is a Diuretic?

One Can't Feel Well When Kidneys Act Sluggishly.
THE part played by the kidneys and their importance to bodily health should be clearly understood. Sluggish kidneys do not thoroughly cleanse the blood of poisonous wastes. Such impurities are apt to make one dull, tired and achy with often a nagging backache, drowsy headaches and dizziness. A common warning of imperfect kidney action is scanty or burning excretions. Doan's Pills aid the kidneys in their eliminative work. 50,000 users have publicly recommended Doan's. Ask your neighbor!

A HALLOWE'EN PARTY

On Saturday night, October 29, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Roberts entertained a large number of young folks with a Halloween party at their home at Bull's Creek. The usual kind of games were played, and at a very late hour the guests, more than 90 in number, assured their host that they had a hilariously good time and departed.

BE THE BEST, WHATEVER YOU ARE

I Sam. 2:11. "And the child did minister unto the Lord before Eli the priest."

If you can't be the pine on the top of the hill,
Be a scrub in the valley—but be
The best little scrub by the side of the hill;
Be a bush if you can't be a tree.

If you can't be a bush, be a bit of the grass,
And some highway happier make.

If you can't be a "muskie," then just be a bass,
But the liveliest bass in the lake.

We can't all be captains, some have to be the crew,
There's something for all of us here;
There's work to be done, and we've all got to do
Our part in a way that's sincere.

If you can't be a highway, then just be a trail;
If you can't be the sun, be a star
It isn't by size that you win or you fail:
Be the best of whatever you are.—Marathon Safety Bulletin.

FOR JESUS' SAKE

Matt. 25:40. "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto me."

"Mother," said a little five-year-old boy, "I wish Jesus lived on earth now."

"Why, my darling?"
"Because I should like so much to do something for him."

"But what could such a little bit of a fellow as you do for the Saviour?"

The child hesitated a few moments, then looked up into his mother's face and said:
"Why, mother, I could run all His errands for Him."

"So you could, my child, and so you shall. Here is a glass of jelly and some oranges I was going to send to poor, old, sick Margaret by the ser-

EXAMPLE OF PRECEPT

I'd rather see a sermon than hear one any day
I'd rather one would walk with me than merely tell the way.

The eye's a better pupil and more willing than the ear.
Fine counsel is confusing, but example's always clear.

The best of all the preachers are the men who live their creeds,
For to see good put in action is what everybody needs.

I soon can learn to do it, if you'll let me see it done.
I can watch your hands in action, but your tongue too fast may run.

The lectures you deliver may be very wise and true,
But I'd rather get my lessons by observing what you do.

I may not understand the high advice you like to give,
But there's no misunderstanding how you act and how you live.

ROCK SPRINGS

In the last week's items from Rock Springs, the Eagle made a misprint. It read, "E. W. Me Nutt and wife and Jim Circle have been picking cotton" and it should have been "E. W. Me Nutt and wife and Jim Circle have been picking up pecans." We hope such an error will not occur again.

As Sunday was a rainy day, we did not have our regular Sunday School or B. Y. P. U. It surely seems funny not to go to our regular church services. Mrs. R. C. Webb spent Monday afternoon with Mrs. Eula Nickols.

Elbert Roper was looking after his farm last week. Will Friar's children started to school Monday morning. Mrs. J. C. Stark and Mrs. Eula Nickols and Elizabeth went to the Fifth Sunday meeting at Liberty Saturday.

Mrs. Jesse Lowe gave her husband a surprise birthday party last Friday night. It was certainly a surprise to Mr. Lowe. Everyone had a splendid time. Some played "42", and others just had a good talk with each other, and the fast and latest game snap was played by almost everyone. Mrs. Lowe treated the crowd with a cake and punch which was fine. We wish Mr. Lowe many more happy birthdays.

Bro. Dykes and family and Mrs. Walter Dearson visited in the J. T. Robertson home one day last week.

R. C. Webb and wife spent Sunday night in the Sam Self home.

Ben Forehand and family and Eula Nickols went to the Fifth Sunday meeting Sunday. They took dinner with Mrs. C. Warren and family.

Several from here went to the Joe Roberts home Saturday night to the Spook Party. There were big, little, old and young spooked up. Some were ghosts and others were witches.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Webb visited in the Woody Traylor home one day last week.

Jno. W. Roberts and Otto are going into the goat business.

Mrs. M. R. Circle's father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Shipman, are here on a visit.

Who have had several sick ones in the community lately. Mrs. Jno. Roberts, Mrs. Jno. Davee, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hale, Austin Whitt, and Will Stark. We hope they will all be well soon.

J. A. Stark spent Saturday night with the Nickols boys, and James went home with him Sunday.

Nolan West and wife of Coleman visited Almos McGowan and wife last week.

Glenn Nickols and Grady Tullos went squirrel hunting last Thursday. They had fine luck.

Elizabeth Nickols spent last Friday night with the Simms girls in the E. B. Anderson home.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Stark and J. T. and Mrs. Eula Nickols went to town last Friday afternoon. Mesdames Stark and Nickols called on the Burnett ladies the same afternoon.

Several farmers got wire in the last car load ordered by Jno W. Roberts.

Mrs. Joe Roberts and boys of Bulls Creek spent Tuesday in the Nickols home.

Mesdames Davis' spent the afternoon Tuesday with Mrs. W. A. Daniel.

Arlie Davis and wife returned home Sunday after a few days visit with relatives in Brown county.

Marion Robertson was sick Saturday and Sunday. He was able to go to town Tuesday.

The rain was fine. The farmers can now break land.

ART AND CIVIC CLUB

A delightful '42' party of Wednesday had as hostess Mrs. F. E. Martin, who entertained Mesdames C. A. Eacott, J. V. Cockrum, D. D. Tate, Floyd Jackson, Mark Leverett, and Miss Mildred Stephens and the members of the Art and Civic Club at the home of her mother, Mrs. C. L. Stephens.

The pretty home was decorated with pink roses, chrysanthemums, and other autumn flowers. The autumn theme thus featured was repeated in the score cards and other table accessories.

In the business meeting of the club preceding the games, the resignation of Mrs. Edward Geeslin was sorrowfully accepted, and Mrs. Haynes Harrison was unanimously elected to membership to fill the vacancy created by Mrs. Geeslin's resignation.

Following the ten merry games of '42', little Miss Ailene Martin and Mildred Stephens assisted Mrs. Martin in arranging table covers, passing napkins, and serving delicious refreshments consisting of nut and olive sandwiches, pear salad, coffee, and individual cakes.

It was indeed a pleasure to have Mrs. Henry Martin and Mrs. Stephens come in for refreshments and the jolly English contest.—REPORTER.

T IRED of planning meals, Mrs. Housewife? Tired of ordering from the menu card, Mr. Bachelor Man or Girl? Have you ever thought that it would be fun to plan your meals or order your dinner of foods beginning with a single letter, chosen at random or in turn from the alphabet? Sweet letters will offer more choice than others, and sometimes you may find it hard to get a balanced meal, but always it will offer the same type of amusement that a puzzle affords.

For example, let us try "P." Under it we find poultry, plaf, pork, pot roast, planked steak and pickled oysters, preserves and preserves, peas and potatoes and pumpkin, prunes, peaches, pears, plums, pineapple and pie. If tea or coffee do not begin with "P," postum and punch do, and will serve as beverages. For breadstuffs we might have to order pretzels. And don't forget "P"icalas.

Let us make some menus now from our tentative list and see how appetizing they sound.

Menu I

- Pea Soup
- Puffed Potatoes
- Pork Roast
- Pickled Peaches
- Pineapple and Prune Salad
- Pretzels
- Pumpkin Pie
- Postum

Menu II

- Pineapple, Peach and Pear Cocktail
- Planked Steak
- Potato Puffs
- Pumpkin Baked in the Shell
- Prune Pot

The pineapple and prune salad permits of many interpretations. Pitted prunes can be used to all the center of a slice of pineapple. Pine pulp can be mixed with sugar and used in the same way. Dried crushed Hawaiian pineapple blended with cream cheese makes delicious filling for pitted prunes, and a combination of preserved peaches and crushed pineapple is both unusual and good.

Pineapple, Peach and Pear Salad: Take equal quantities of the three fruits and let all chill together in the syrup drained from the pineapple. Either crushed pineapple or slices cut in small pieces can be used for this. Broken slices of Hawaiian pineapple are inexpensive and lend themselves particularly well to many such dishes.

Pineapple and Plum Soup: Use the syrup from one No. 2 can of sliced pineapple, together with one cup of plum pulp and juice, one-fourth cup of sugar and one teaspoon of cornstarch or arrowroot to thicken. A few grains of salt and a teaspoon of lemon juice help to blend the flavor. Cook one pint of plums in one cup of water until tender. Remove pits and strain through a sieve. Add to the pineapple syrup together with the sugar and water. Blend the cornstarch with a little cold water, add to the mixture and cook until clear and slightly thickened. Serve either hot or cold.

How to Play BRIDGE

Series 1927-28 by Wynne Ferguson

Author of "PRACTICAL AUCTION BRIDGE"

Copyright 1927, by Hoyle, Jr.

ARTICLE No. 1

It is really surprising what simple bridge can be played by players who think they play a pretty fair game. Here are several hands that the writer tried in a recent game:

Hearts—K, 6, 3
 Clubs—A, 7, 6, 3, 2
 Diamonds—J, 10, 8
 Spades—J, 10, 8

 A B :

 Diamonds—A, 8
 Spades—A, Q, 7, 6, 2

Z dealt, bid one spade. A and Y passed and B bid two hearts. Z bid two spades, all passed and A opened the ten of hearts. Z's proper play, of course, is the king of hearts in dummy. B must either win this trick with the ace or allow the king to hold. If he wins the trick, Z must win the next two heart tricks, for he holds the queen nine of hearts over Y's jack. If B should fail to play the ace, Z must win one more trick with the queen of hearts. In either event, therefore, by playing the king of hearts at trick one, Z is sure of two tricks, no matter how B plays. In the actual play, however, Z made a serious mistake. When the ten of hearts was led, he played the ten of hearts from Y's hand and B also played low. Z was thus forced to win the trick with the queen and B now held the ace jack of hearts over Y's king and was, therefore, assured of two tricks.

Z's mistakes in this hand, however, were not over. After winning the first trick with the queen, he led a low club and won the trick in Y's hand. King. He now had two possible

Y-Z can win all of the tricks. Suppose, however, that Z at trick one takes the spade finesse before the club finesse. It will win, of course, but how can he get Y's hand in again to make the club finesse? He would thus have to lose a club trick and win one less trick than if he had first taken the club finesse. There are numerous hands where this principle should be applied, so study them carefully and you will thoroughly understand them soon. You will find many a game and rather than to play it well, played in either of these ways.

plays. He could lead the jack of spades or the low club, with the purpose in view of finessing in either case. His proper lead was the jack of spades. If this finesse should lose, he would have a re-entry in Y's hand with the ten of spades. If B should cover with the king of spades, Z should play his ace and thus again have a re-entry with the ten of spades. If B held the king and failed to cover, Y's jack of spades would hold the trick and Z should then lead Y's low club and play the queen from his own hand. If this finesse loses, he will thus have a re-entry with the jack of clubs in Y's hand.

Z, however, thought of none of these facts. He proceeded to lead the jack of clubs from Y's hand and A won the trick with the king. He returned a low heart and B won two heart tricks with the ace jack. B then led a low club which Z was obliged to win with the queen of clubs in his own hand. He now had no way to get Y's hand in the lead except by trumping a club. He trumped with the eight of spades and B over-trumped with the nine. As B originally held the K, 9, 5 of spades, he also made the king of spades so that Y-Z scored only two odd.

On the other hand, if Z had played his finesses correctly he would have scored four odd and game, provided, of course, that he had played the king of hearts at trick one. It is mistakes such as Z made in this hand that lose so many games; and the sad part of it is that they are all so easy to avoid. Learn to think out your plays in advance and select the one that gives you the best chance for game.

Here is another hand that illustrates the value of planning your finesses so that you will get a double chance for game instead of a single one:

EAGLES VICTORIOUS OVER GATESVILLE TRAINING SCHOOL

The Goldthwaite Eagle rolled the Gatesville Training School football boys in the dust for a 15 to 6 defeat last Friday before a large turnout of local fans who had come out to see the Eagles in their first home game of the season. The victory over Gatesville gave Coach Stringer's men another game in their win column and kept them in the running for the championship of the district, having won four games and lost one.

The game opened with Gatesville receiving the ball. Evans having started it with a beautiful kick-off. Gatesville coach was held for downs. During the remainder of the quarter the ball oscillated between the two twenty-five yard lines with neither team being able to register a touchdown.

In the second period the local team opened one of the fiercest offensive games ever witnessed on the local gridiron. Johnson, Stephens, and Evans ripped off slashing drives off the tackles and plunges into the line behind a hard charging line and splendid interference. Evans occasionally swept around the wing positions for long gains. Stephens, at quarter, was playing the best game of his career and Johnson himself was giving the fans plenty of thrill with his mad plunges through the crumbling Gatesville line. As the quarter came to a close, Johnson started around left end after receiving a lateral pass from Evans. Gatesville's right end, who was playing a whole of a game, from the play behind the line of scrimmage, Stephens caught the Gatesville ball by surprise and sent the same play around right end. This time it worked. Evans received the pass from Johnson on his own 35 yard line and ran 65 yards for the first touchdown of the game. A trial for the extra point was perfect.

During the third quarter the Eagles continued their merciless attack through the Gatesville line. A few passes were incomplete. After a series of line plunges Johnson succeeded in crossing the goal for the second marker of the game.

The final period opened with a bang. 'Earn' sent the ball far into the enemy territory on the kick-off. A Gatesville player received the kick on his 15 yard line. He fumbled. The entire Goldthwaite team was pulled to the center of the field in an effort to make the tackle. The Gatesville quarter hesitated momentarily to look over the field, then raced 85 yards through the entire Goldthwaite team for a touchdown. The Eagles came back strong but was unable to score again. The game ended with both teams fighting desperately and with the Eagles in possession of the ball. Goldthwaite made a safety earlier in the game for their other two points.

MONDAY

(By Mr. Newton)
After the students had sung one stanza of "The Goldthwaite High School Song" and offered the Lord's Prayer. Mr. Newton read the 13th chapter of Matthew. He made brief comments on the last two illustrations of the chapter. He said that in school at the beginning of the year everyone's enthusiastic about his work. As long as his work is easy and all desires are fulfilled everyone continues to do his work and seems to enjoy it. After a while, when the work becomes difficult some of the students become discouraged and cease studying. Mr. Newton stated that if there is anything about which school children should know it is the American Spirit as represented by the American Eagle, which rises and continues to soar higher and higher until it reaches its goal. If all students would use this eagle as a model they would be sure to go exactly right.

Mr. Newton explained the second illustration by asking and discussing the following questions: "Are you square with your fellowman and with yourself? Do you respect your parents and teachers? Have you been just today, or have you said or looked an unkind thing? It is important that every individual appear friendly, happy and courteous toward everybody. The matter of saying things is also very important. If a person does a kindness for you, return it or show your appreciation by saying "thank you." Henry Ford has said that every man, woman and child in America should try to do some kindness for everybody every day that he lives. This is a motto which all people should follow."

Joy Doak and Zora Lee Moreland spent Friday night, in town with Mrs. Jim Barnett. Orville Hale went to the pecan orchard at Jones Valley Saturday.

JUNIOR HALLOWEEN PARTY

Frances Page entertained the Juniors and a few guests with a Halloween party Saturday, October 29, at 8-00 o'clock. Guests were met at the door by a robed ghost. The house was very beautifully decorated in Halloween colors. When the guests had all arrived we all started on a journey to the "horrors." First, we went into a dark room and on into a room to see and talk with a Dutch baby. Then, we climbed a dark stairway and went into a room where we had to jump off a high wall. We went back down stairs and were asked what kind of grades we liked to have on our cards A, B, or O. Our faces served as cards, so ammonia camphor, or ointment were applied respectively. Then each guest was requested to bow to the queen (Frances Geeslin) and when he did so a rug was pulled out from under him. At the next place of horror Miss Wright told a ghost story and meanwhile a voice was heard saying, "My body lies over the ocean" then a headless ghost came in and snatched a pumpkin head. Next, we were asked to listen to a coin talk. Then, an apple race was held, and a prize was awarded to Wm Glen Yarborough as the lucky winner. Sides were chosen and a black cat contest was held. Black paper cats cut into small pieces were hidden in the two rooms. One side hunted in one room while the other side hunted in the other. Prizes were awarded to Rachel Johnson and Lois Harris. Refreshments were served to the following: Estelle Simms, Bill Stephens, Dera Mae Simms, Eugene Dickerson, Ernest Linkenhoger, Eloise Kyle, Millard Evans, Garetta Little, Bernadine Rudd, Ruby Lee Dickerson, Myra Nell Johnson, Lois Harris, Herman Rudd, Paul Johnson, William Glenn Yarborough, Palmer Hill, Mabel Lee Blackburn, Frances Geeslin, Miss Wright, Miss Gatlin and Marvin Spence Rudd.

SENIOR HALLOWEEN PARTY

A senior party was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Newton Friday, October 28.

Decorations of orange and black paper, black cats, owls and witches were used. When the guests had all arrived a grand march was staged so that the judges could select the best costumes. Jesse Roberts was awarded the small Halloween hat for being the best dressed boy and Estelle Simms was awarded a Halloween toy for being the best dressed girl.

As this seemed to be a dreary lonesome night we decided we had better make our wills. After the wills were read the guests were invited to visit "Blue Beard's Den" out in the garage, and there we were told of the terrible fate of Blue Beard's wives. Next, we went to the fortune teller and had our palms read. A few games of "bunco" were played after which each guest was handed a piece of paper with the name of some song written on it. Everyone sang his song until he found some one else singing it. Any two persons singing the same song were partners for that dinner. We were served chili from a small pot over a fire on the lawn. As we passed by the pot Mrs. Newton gave each one a bowl of chili and some crackers and a pop corn ball. Those present were Miss Elkins, Miss Wright, Ruby Lee Dickerson, Granvil Barnett, Ethel Bohannon, Eris Ritchie, Essie Mae Brim, Gladys Casbeer, Pauline Dalton, Tom Clark Graves, Elizabeth Nickols, Eugene Dickerson, Joy Doak, Zora Lee Moreland, Gordon Miller, Mary Fallon, Blanche Fisher, Sam Rahl,

A HALLOWEEN PARTY

The Methodist Sunday School class entertained the members and guests with a Halloween party Friday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Berry.

The members were met at the gate by a spook who shook hands with each person in turn.

We were led into a room decorated with cats, witches, and other things which aided in creating the Halloween spirit.

After the guests had arrived we were conducted into the "Chamber of Horrors", meeting ghosts groaning and dancing around. We were asked to sit in the form of a semi-circle in the center of which was a cat covered with a large white sheet. After we were all seated a ghost instantly arose from the cat and told us a story of a man who was killed in that house that night. After finishing the story he passed among us the dead man's brains, hair, teeth, and eyes, and other parts that sent a thrill through each one of us. After spending a while in the "Chamber of Horrors", each one was ready to investigate other parts of the house. We were invited into a room decorated to harmonize with the rest of the house. Here we played different games; such as, ducking for apples and telling fortunes. Last of all we chose partners and a plate of pop corn balls, candy, chewing gum, and cakes were passed among us. Everybody had a wonderful time.

To Help Digest That Thanksgiving Dinner

As overstuffed furniture grows in popularity, overeating retires to the limbo of things that are not done. Discomfort, after dinner, somnolence and overweight are simply not to be tolerated. The problem to be solved just now is how to maintain Thanksgiving traditions and at the same time guard against the sins and dangers of eating too much.

More than any one food, Hawaiian pineapple is capable of leaving the solidity of a rich holiday meal as it can suitably appear in any course. It is a favorite flavor, it stimulates appetite, and aids in digestion. For illustrative purposes let us consider the usual Thanksgiving dinner menu.

- Fish or Fruit Cocktail
- Celery
- Apple Cider
- Mashed Potato
- Candied Sweet Potato
- Boiled Onions
- Roast Turkey
- Cranberry Sauce
- Salted Nuts
- Pumpkin Pie
- Cheese
- Fruits and Nuts
- Coffee
- Mints

This menu more or less represents the standard home Thanksgiving dinner. Recognizing that one family may omit the cocktail or the soup or both, that other vegetables may replace the old standbys, that a salad may not be served, the above menu is not an exaggeration of American gastronomy.

course and see where pineapple could be used either alone or in combination, and then you can choose the course or dish which most appeals to you.

A fish cocktail is preferable if the succeeding dinner is to be light in character, otherwise serve the fruit cocktail. For the particular meal under consideration a cocktail made up of equal parts crushed Hawaiian pineapple and canned grapefruit sections seems suitable. A No. 2 size can of each would serve from eight to twelve persons. Following this is a clear soup; bouillon, consommé, or tomato would be good. Succeeding a fish cocktail a hot fruit soup is tonic and delicious. Boil together for five minutes one-half can of pineapple, No. 2 size, and two cups of water. Strain and thicken with one-half tablespoon of arrowroot smoothed to a paste with one tablespoon of cold water. Boil until clear and dissolve in the mixture one-half glass (cup) of currant jelly.

Pineapple in the Main Course

A turkey stuffing of bread crumbs and drained diced pineapple or pineapple and celery gives a delicious flavor to the bird. Mix together three cups of stale bread crumbs, one-half cup of melted butter, one teaspoon of salt, one-fourth teaspoon of pepper, one cup of chopped celery and one cup of diced, sliced Hawaiian pineapple. Double the quantity for a large bird and garnish the platter with half rings of pineapple browned in the roasting pan.

Sweet potatoes combine well with pineapple, either crushed or in quarter circles. Line a buttered baking dish with a layer of sliced cooked sweet potatoes, cover with a layer of crushed pineapple, dot with butter and sprinkle with brown sugar. To four large sweet potatoes use a No. 2 size can of crushed Hawaiian pineapple, one-fourth cup of butter and one-fourth cup of brown sugar. Brown in a hot oven and serve.

Pineapple in Dinner Salads

The preferred salad is composed of equal quantities, one cup each, of diced pineapple, diced winter pea and chopped celery with one finely chopped pintato. Marinate in French dressing and serve of leaves of endive or chicory.

Another effective and delicious salad can be made of canned rose apples stuffed with a mixture of equal parts of drained crushed pineapple and chopped celery seasoned with mayonnaise.

Dessert Recipes

The housemother of a well known school used to have as a favorite saying "A word to the wise is sufficient." In this case the wisdom lies in the addition of a cap of crushed pineapple to your mince-meat whether it be home made or canned.

We cannot (with a good conscience) recommend a rich ice cream to follow this dinner but nothing could end it with quite the éclat and satisfaction of a pineapple sherbet.

Boil the contents of one No. 1 size can of crushed pineapple with one cup of sugar. Strain and cool. Add the juice and grated rind of one lemon and freeze for ten minutes. Add the whites of two eggs stiffly beaten and continue freezing until mixture is firm.

AMOS PLEADS FOR JUSTICE

GOLDEN TEXT—Let Justice roll down as waters, and righteousness as a mighty stream. Amos 5:24.

Lesson Setting and Survey

The book of Amos we have seen in main topics: (1) The Guilt of the Nations. The penalty of cumulative iniquities, as we saw in our last lesson, is pronounced upon Damascus on the north-east, Philistia on the north-west, Tyre on the north-east, Edom and Ammon and Moab on the east and south-east, and Judah on the south; then a storm which had cried and over neighboring nations settles upon Israel in all its fury. It is a grand and forceful climax which could carry every imagination before it. (2) The Denunciation of Israel. Now we hear the ceaseless rumbling of a storm as it crashes upon the cities and strongholds of the nation. The lightning flashes of wrath fall upon the wicked alike in places high and low. None is spared and no sunlight breaks through the lowering clouds. (3) The Visions of Amos. First, the army of devouring locusts then the fiery visitation of consuming drought; and finally the plumbline showing the structure of the nation to be awry. Here we have a historical interlude of the prophet's ministry at Bethel with its interruption by Amaziah the priest. Then follow two other visions of doom: the basket with the summer fruit, and the Lord standing with the command to smite. But the last dark cloud passes. The sun shines upon the wrecks of the storm but swiftly the darkness of national night comes on apace. In the epilogue alone do we really have the rays of hope and then only for an instant as a forecast of the Sun of Righteousness.

Notes Analytical and Expository

I. THE NATIONAL ASPECT OF JUSTICE

OF JUSTICE is presented in the lamentation over the fallen virgin of Israel. (1) Attention is called to the word. It is the word of God. It is the divine word through the prophet Amos. It embodied a message to the house of Israel, referring specifically to the ten Tribes of the northern kingdom. It was a lamentation, for the prophet raised his voice to pronounce a dirge over Israel. (2) Notice the content of the word. It concerned a grievous fall with its wreck and ruin. It was the fall of a virgin nation which had never been conquered and carried away into captivity. Specifically, it was the fall of the virgin of Israel which had resisted pagan invaders and oppressors, but soon must fall before the fierce Assyrian hosts. The sin of that disaster would be upon her own land. Its fat valleys should be laid waste. Its capital stronghold of Samaria should be overthrown. Its fertile and fruitful lands should be harried to bedrock. Nor was there any hope of restoration in sight. The Ten Tribes should become the "Lost Tribes." The nation in its earthly glory and power should rise no more. Without Jehovah to raise her up from her rebellion and ruin she could but remain helpless and hopeless in her woe.

II. THE SOCIAL ASPECT OF JUSTICE

OF JUSTICE is presented in the oppression which tramples upon the poor. (1) The judges who are faithful enough to reprove the law-breaker; and criminals must face a storm of calumny and hate. (2) The prophets who speak uprightly and frankly to their fellow-men must know that it is to be abhorred, sneered at, and vilified. (3) The poor, as ever, in such a land, are trampled upon by those who despise them and defraud them by excessive exaction in wheat by those who have business dealings with them. But the oppressors of the poor cannot get away with their wickedness. They may indeed build houses of hewn stone while the poor are huddled together in huts of sun-dried bricks, but they shall not live in the mansions they have made. They may plant pleasant vineyards but not a goblet of their wine shall they drink. There is a God of justice still seated in the heavens and regnant upon earth. (4) The just who are loyal to their religious convictions and their national ideals suffer afflictions at the hands of those in power. (5) The needy are not given their rights under the law because those in authority yield to bribery and fraud. (6) The prudent seeing the futility of remonstrance and, unwilling to cast pearls before the swine, can do nothing better than to keep silent in such an evil day.

III. THE MORAL ASPECT OF JUSTICE

OF JUSTICE is presented in the reformation which aspires to the higher goal of the good. Two imperatives lead up the stairway to divine promise. (1) Seek good. In the highest reach good includes God. And good must be sought, for it will not be forced upon any one. It must be sought with a whole heart and dominate in the whole life. It must be sought in spite of the seductions of the evil which crowd heavily upon us at every side and at all times. Not until we seek good can we live the life worth living. Then only can we realize with us the presence and power of the God of hosts. It is vain to think or boast that we are kept in the hollow of His hand unless we earnestly and ardently seek good. (2) Love the good. Our inner natures must cleave to the good and long after it with fore as ye trample upon the poor, and take exactions from him of wheat, ye have built houses of hewn stone, but ye shall not dwell in them; ye have planted pleasant vineyards, but ye shall not drink the wine thereof. 12 For I know how manifold are your transgressions, and how mighty are your sins—ye that afflict the just, that take a bribe, and turn aside the needy in the gate from their right. 13 Therefore he that is prudent shall keep silence in such a time; for it is an evil time. 14 Seek good, and not evil, that ye may live and so Jehovah, the God of hosts, will be with you, ye say. 15 Hate the evil, and love the good, and establish justice in the gate: it may be that Jehovah, the God of hosts, will be gracious unto the remnant of Joseph. 16 I hate, I despise your feasts, and I will take no delight in your solemn assemblies. 22 Yea, though ye offer me your burnt-offerings and meal-offerings, I will not accept them; neither will I regard the peace-offerings of your fat beasts. 23 Take thou away from me the noise of thy songs; for I will not hear the melody of thy viols. 24 But let justice roll down as waters, and righteousness as a mighty stream.

IV. REDEMPTION: THE HIGHER GOAL

OF JUSTICE is presented in the redemption which produces righteousness as a mighty stream. To be right with man we must be right with God. And that means it is more important to be right at heart than to be punctilious in religious observance. (1) Feasts and assemblies though divinely appointed and flaunting the religious banner may be utterly vain and hypocritical. If they are marked by externalism, they are not pleasing to God. In fact, he not only takes no delight in them, but despises and hates them. (2) Offerings and sacrifices however correct and generous may be quite unacceptable to God. The purpose of the burnt-offering in which the whole sacrifice was consumed to show entire surrender of the offerer to God. The meal offering which was the bloodless sacrifice involved the consecration of the produce of the land. The peace or thank offering was a feast of communion in which only a part of the sacrifice was consumed upon the altar, part of it shared with the officiating priests and the remainder eaten by the family of the offerer at a sacrificial meal. Take away from these offerings the spirit which should animate them and nothing is left. (3) Praise degenerates into hollow mockery. There are songs, which, despite their skill and harmony, God will not hear. There are instrumental renditions which he asks to be taken away from his house. In short, what God wants is justice and righteousness in the earth—justice in fair and square relationship with our fellowmen, and righteousness of heart and life before God and man.

constant and unwavering ardor. If we love the good, it follows that we must hate evil. There is such a thing as holy hatred. Jesus was righteously indignant. God has a holy hatred of sin. Not until we love the good will we establish justice in personal and public relations. Then also the God of hosts will be gracious to the righteous yearning upward.

OF JUSTICE is presented in the redemption which produces righteousness as a mighty stream. To be right with man we must be right with God. And that means it is more important to be right at heart than to be punctilious in religious observance. (1) Feasts and assemblies though divinely appointed and flaunting the religious banner may be utterly vain and hypocritical. If they are marked by externalism, they are not pleasing to God. In fact, he not only takes no delight in them, but despises and hates them. (2) Offerings and sacrifices however correct and generous may be quite unacceptable to God. The purpose of the burnt-offering in which the whole sacrifice was consumed to show entire surrender of the offerer to God. The meal offering which was the bloodless sacrifice involved the consecration of the produce of the land. The peace or thank offering was a feast of communion in which only a part of the sacrifice was consumed upon the altar, part of it shared with the officiating priests and the remainder eaten by the family of the offerer at a sacrificial meal. Take away from these offerings the spirit which should animate them and nothing is left. (3) Praise degenerates into hollow mockery. There are songs, which, despite their skill and harmony, God will not hear. There are instrumental renditions which he asks to be taken away from his house. In short, what God wants is justice and righteousness in the earth—justice in fair and square relationship with our fellowmen, and righteousness of heart and life before God and man.

THE MORAL ASPECT OF JUSTICE

OF JUSTICE is presented in the reformation which aspires to the higher goal of the good. Two imperatives lead up the stairway to divine promise. (1) Seek good. In the highest reach good includes God. And good must be sought, for it will not be forced upon any one. It must be sought with a whole heart and dominate in the whole life. It must be sought in spite of the seductions of the evil which crowd heavily upon us at every side and at all times. Not until we seek good can we live the life worth living. Then only can we realize with us the presence and power of the God of hosts. It is vain to think or boast that we are kept in the hollow of His hand unless we earnestly and ardently seek good. (2) Love the good. Our inner natures must cleave to the good and long after it with

THE LITTLE BLACK HEN
Said the little red rooster, "Gosh, all hemlock! Things are tough, Seems that worms are getting scarcer, and I cannot find enough, What's become of all the fat ones is a mystery to me;
There were thousands in that rainy spell, but now, where can they be?"
The old blackhen heard him, didn't grumble or complain,
She had gone through lots of dry spells, she had lived through floods of rain,
So she flew up on the grindstone and she gave her claws a whet,
And she said, "I've never seen the time when there weren't worms to get."
She picked a new and undug spot: the earth was hard and firm,
The little rooster jeered, "New ground, that's no place for worms."
The old black hen just spread her feet, she dug fast and free,
"I must go to the worms," she said, "The worms won't come to me."
The rooster vainly spent his day, thru habit, by the ways,
Where fat, roundworms had passed in squads back in the rainy days,
When nightfall found him supperless, he growled in accents rough,
"I'm hungry as a fowl can be, conditions sure are tough."
He turned then to the old black hen and said, "It's worse with you,
For you're not only hungry, but you must be tired, too;
I rested while I watched for worms, so I feel fairly pert;
"But how are you? Without worms, too and after all that work?"
The old black hen hopped to her perch and drooped her eyes to sleep,
And murmured in a drowsy tone, "Young man, hear this and weep,
"I'm full of worms and happy, for I've dined through all the day;
The worms are there as always—but I had to dig, I say!"
