about her visit.

"Sure, I go in there once in a while when I'm in the city," Mr. Stanley told his wife that evening. "It's not for the food. It's for the coffee. That coffee is worth the price of a meal there by itself. You know, dear, I simply must have good coffee once in a while and ... well, I didn't like to hurt your feelings by mentioning it."

"That coffee, madam," the waiter told Mrs. Stanley the next time she accompanied her husband, "is White Swan Coffee.

This hotel has used it for years."

WITHOUT BETS From all accounts, the opening cards of the Texas Jockey Club's ten-day program have been run off at Arlington without any appearance either of open betting or of drinking in the magnificent setting W. T. Waggoner has arranged for the revival of racing in North Texas.

It goes without saying that bets are made. Sub rosa wagers will be laid at the track itself-no amount of steward vigilance can prevent that. Wires will flash returns to poolrooms and books over the country. No thoroughbred will race to the tape for these few days at Arlington without carrying on his back the hopes of interested money placers. But there is no competition between man and man or beast and beast of which that is not true. It is no indication that W. T. Waggoner has broken faith with the State of Texas in his declaration that he would restore horse racing without the bookmaker.

Few men are able to spend three million dollars on a hobby. Even fewer of those able will do it. But with a splendid gesture a man who has loved horses all his life has created a thoroughbred farm glorified in the press of the finest horseflesh in America toward the finish line of its racetrack.

He may not be able to keep it free of the books. But W. T. Waggoner has given a convincing demonstration that Arlington Downs has not been created by, for, or of the bookmaker. —Dallas News.

THE new Chevrolet was designed and built to bring the advantages of sixcylinder performance within the reach of all those who can afford any automobile. For that reason it has met with sensational success-more than a million two hundred and fifty thousand on the roadin less than nine monthsl

We cordially invite you to come in and see this remarkable car. Its smart Fisher bodies are styled in the latest mode—with tasteful mouldings, concave front pillars and oblong windows. Its great sixcylinder valve-in-head engine is smooth, powerful and unusually swift in acceleration. It is designed throughout for greater safety and dependability. And its low first cost, combined with its outstanding economy of operation, makes it truly "Everybody's Six."
