Mrs. Braswell went as far as Tahoka, to visit relatives for some time and Miss Emma Harrison accompanied them as far as Hamlin, where she spent several days and expected to return home at the week end with Rev. Braswell.

STREETS OILED

The residents and property owners on Fisher street and some of the cross streets subscribed the money to buy crude oil to sprinkle those streets and the city authorities co-operated by having the oil applied.

The business men on Fisher street and the square took up the good work and will have oil on those streets. This is certainly a good and progressive move and will be of great benefit in keeping down the dust and making travel about the street more pleasant, both for the travelers and the householders.

BAPTIST CHURCH

It has rained all around our little city, and might have rained here if a bunch of these Baptists had come on to Sunday school and church last Sunday. Just think, 166 in Sunday school! The Methodists came to our rescue for the preaching service, giving us a splendid congregation; as well as adding much to our service.

The pastor is going to procure a gross of "Tate-Lax" and have it on hand for our revival, which begins the 5th Sunday. In making this kind of arrangement there will be no question as to crowds, and that is what we want. It will assure us of a great meeting. Impossible to have a meeting that will help everybody unless everybody comes.

The night services during our revival will be held out in the open, between the parsonage and the church. We are doing this to make it convenient for every one. Listen: You won't have to "dress up" to come to this meeting. In fact, this meeting is not for the purpose of a dress parade, it is for the sole purpose of getting men to live better and to get men saved by the blood of Christ. So come in your shirt sleeves or in your over all. You are just as good that way as you would be if you had on a thousand dollar suit and a million dollar diamond.

The thing we need, and what we want is an old fashion God sent Holy Ghost revival. Let's begin praying, talking and working to that end. We are not looking forward to a big gathering. We are looking forward to a revival that will increase the spirituality of those who constitute the membership of the different churches. You people that live in the rural districts, we are counting on you, and if you do not attend we will be sorely disappointed.

Mr. Harry Palmer was present Sunday night with little "Harry Allen." He suggested a slogan for our meeting: "Mothers bring your babies." We will have arrangements made whereby that any mother may bring the little fellow and enjoy the services without interfering with the service whatsoever. Some one has suggested to this preacher to appoint Tom Toland and Haynes Harrison to look after the babies, after the crowd has gathered. That was a fine suggestion and they are hereby now appointed.

John Jackson is determined that his boy shall have the right kind of training. He and his wife attended the movie the other night, but left the boy on the outside in care of the man-hater's wife. That is good training, but won't help pay expenses.

Let everyone that has one of our song books either bring or send it to church next Sunday. We are going to need every one of them.

Don't forget that Miss Vann with her Sunbeam band will put on a program Sunday night. Miss Vann has done a notable work with these children and should make it possible to be at this service.

Suppose that everybody gets busy and let us have 250 in Sunday school Sunday morning and every one stay for the preaching service. G. C. IVINS, Pastor.

CHURCH OF CHRIST MEETING

The meeting being conducted by the home forces of the Church of Christ is progressing fine. The crowds are increasing at each service. The house was almost filled to capacity Wednesday night and the brethren decided we would use the tabernacle for the rest of the meeting. We are extending a warm invitation to all our friends to be with us in the remaining services of the meeting. We suggest that you park your cars and get out and come under the tabernacle and help us enjoy the meeting.

We desire to express our appreciation for the courtesies extended to us by our Baptist friends and neighbors, in that they dismissed their prayer meeting this week so as to attend our meeting. My brethren will do likewise when their meeting is in progress.

We will study the following subjects during the meeting: What must I do to be saved? The great salvation. What we teach and why we teach it? Conversion. The unpardonable sin. Putting God first. Can good people be saved out of the Church? Seeing things alike or what it is that divides the people.

Come, bring your friends, and you will be treated with courtesy and respect. E. S. FITZGERALD

A CENSUS REPORT

Few people in Mills county will believe the statement that there are 85 people in Mills county who really want to work and cannot find employment. This may be all right, but it just sounds strange and peculiar. Perhaps those who have desired to employ one or more persons for some form of manual labor at a fair price can now find some one to do the work. However, the Eagle doesn't guarantee that it can be done. At any rate, W. L. Turner, supervisor of the census for this district, has given out these figures. These persons, according to this report, can be found scattered over the county in this manner:

Precinct No. 1	42
(27 of these in Goldthwaite.)
Precinct No. 2	18
Precinct No. 3	22
(5 of these in Mullin.)
Precinct No. 4	1
Precinct No. 5	2

Graves and family, Mesdames Howard Sullivan, Sallie Rudd, D. H. Trent, D. H. Rudd, Willie Smith and Mrs. Todd; Misses Mary Ellen Trent, Constance Trent, Mary Margaret Bigham, Masters Herman Rudd and Junior Rudd and Billy and Robert Smith. A GUEST.

BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION

On Tuesday afternoon from 3:30 to 6 o'clock, Master Lawrence Morrison Stokes of Houston, who is here with his mother, Mrs. M. Y. Stokes, Jr., and his brother, Melmoth Young III, visiting in the home of his grand parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Thompson, celebrated his seventh birthday and invited a number of the boys and girls of his age, with whom he has an acquaintance, to enjoy the occasion with him. The time was spent in playing games, contesting for prizes, swinging and romping generally. Refreshments of ice cream cones and individual cakes were served to the guests by Mrs. Stokes, assisted by her mother and a number of other ladies, who had assembled to help in entertaining the little folk. All went merrily and when good-byes were said the little gentleman was assured by his guests that they had heartily enjoyed the occasion.

A BRADY DEAL

Jones Motor company, for the past four years Buick automobile dealer of this city, has been purchased by Walter Lee of Lometa, according to W. L. Jones. Rather, the deal was a trade, in which the Jones Motor company building and shop equipment was traded to Mr. Lee for a 3,000 acre ranch six miles north of Lometa. The ranch is well improved and is valued at $60,000. It was stated.

The new owner will take charge of the garage the latter part of August or the first of September, and until that time the Jones Motor company will curtail all operations and concentrate efforts in disposing of used cars. As Mr. Lee assumes control of the Buick house, both Mr. Jones and his son, John, who has been associated with him in the automobile business, will remove to their ranch. — Brady Standard.

BRIDGE NEEDS REPAIRS

Judge Patterson and members of the Commissioners court went to the Slack crossing Monday to inspect the bridge, which is in need of repairs and the work will be done as soon as the water recedes to a sufficient extent. One of the piers has been badly damaged by the masonry washing out for a considerable distance. The bridge is by no means unsafe for travel, but to allow it to remain in the present condition would cause much damage and it would eventually become unsafe.

BEAUTIFUL RURAL HOME

Rapid progress is being made on the suburban home of Mr. and Mrs. D. Albert Trent, on their ranch known as the Kirby place. The building is of brick and is modern in its appointments. It will be ready for occupancy by August 1. If there is no unforeseen delay.

REVIVAL MEETING

The annual revival meeting of Mulin Baptist church will begin Friday night before the 3rd Sunday in July. The pastor will do the preaching and Prof. John Sparks of Rhome, Texas, will conduct the song services. John is one of the most consecrated choir leaders that has ever been this Pastor's privilege to meet. We were very fortunate indeed in being able to secure the services of this Baptist singer.

We have been working and praying all this pastoral year that the Lord would meet with us in July and give us the leadership of His Holy Spirit. We are now in possession of evidence that He will be in the lead and that all the publicity this revival wants will be the publishing abroad that the name of Christ is exalted in the children of men. I am sure that all Bible readers will agree with me that all God's promises are conditional and that we cannot meet any condition and at the same time build around self.

First of all, self must be crucified to the love of praise before a revival will come into our hearts. Yet it is true to the shame of God's cause that many professed Christians would take out, and kick out of religious services were it not for hope of self praise and wide publicity. They want the reports of their services to appear on the front pages of both local and nation-wide newspapers. Why should we care as to whether we are given front or back pages of newspapers if in our hearts we can realize that we are trying to exalt and publish abroad the wonderful and miraculous workings of Christ in the salvation of a lost world? If we can, in the beginning of a revival meeting, get the consent of our minds to surrender and crucify all desires for self praise and give ourselves wholly to God's hands to be used for His glory, then a soul winning revival would be the inevitable result.

I have done all the preaching in all my church revivals for 30 years, except in three revivals and God be given all honor and praise that they were all successful. If I have any secret to give out for all these successes it is that God's spirit was given supremely in all of them. Likewise I say thankfully, and not boastfully, that the success of all my pastoral fields have been attributable to the fact that God's Holy Spirit has been given supremacy in all the work. A desire for the praise of men has always been a death blow to the revival spirit. Crucify self to the love of the praise of men and your battle will be fought. Political and religious jealousy has always been a clog in the wheels of Zion. Why should I be jealous if all other churches were to excel the one over which God has made me under shepherd, if in my heart I can feel that the Christ has been exalted in the salvation of the lost.

The supreme object of this announcement is to give wider publicity to a God honoring, and soul winning revival meeting and to give more people the benefit of my experience in dealing with God. To Him be given all honor and praise forever, Amen. Yours to help, J. W. STRIPLING, Pastor

I CANNOT PRAISE THIS KONJOLA TOO STRONGLY.

Says Wichita Lady Suffered For Twelve Years From Stomach Trouble

MRS. DELLA SETTLE

"I cannot praise this Konjola too strongly, because I tried many other medicines and treatments, but none gave the remarkable relief that Konjola did," said Mrs. Della Settle, 1719 Mildred avenue, Wichita. "I just had to force myself to eat, and nearly everything I ate made me sick. I had cramping pains in my stomach and bowels until I could hardly endure them, and I simply felt miserable all the time. Finally I decided to put Konjola to the test. That proved to be a wise decision. Right from the start I noticed improvement. I now have a much better appetite, and meals are a pleasure as food digests without pains or misery in my stomach. My bowels are functioning as they should, and it is certainly a relief to be rid of that tired, worn-out feeling. I gladly endorse this splendid medicine that restored my health."

Konjola has become the most talked of medicine in America because it makes good. And Konjola makes good in the most stubborn cases when given a fair trial and from six to eight bottles are used.

Jazz Recognized As Pure American Art

PHIL SPITALNY

Phil Spitalny, Famous Musician, Finds Our Music Indigenous

New York City.—Jazz is pure American and no other nation can play it.

This is the opinion of Phil Spitalny, one of the country's great orchestra leaders, who came here as a poor Russian emigrant.

"My training in Russia where I lived until I was fifteen," Spitalny explains, "was of course, all along classical lines. I came from six generations of musicians on both my father's and mother's side, and I was fairly fed up on the great masters."

"When I came to this country I was several years absorbing the spirit of the thing called jazz, before I could even attempt to play it. For fifteen years I was becoming American and unconsciously getting the American spirit musically and every other way."

ACCIDENTS DECREASE EXCEPT WITH AUTOMOBILES

Last year the accidental death toll reached a new high record of 97,000, as compared with 95,086 in 1929, according to the National Safety Council. This increase was due entirely to the automobile, which claimed 31,000 lives, 3,000 more than in 1928. All other causes of death show a gradual decline.

Accidents to school children are increasing far less rapidly than accidents to adults, thanks largely to the accident prevention work in schools which is encouraged by the National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters. Between 1922 and 1929 total fatalities of persons of all ages, increased almost 25 per cent, while in the same period accidental deaths of children under 15 gained less than one-tenth of one per cent.

The states with driver's license laws are making better records in relation to their own past experience, than the states where examinations are not required. Reports from two cities where fatalities decreased during the year are interesting. In Saint Louis the credit is largely given to effective school work, school patrols and strict enforcement of traffic laws by police; in San Francisco to scientific traffic studies, adequate enforcement, safety work in schools and a continuous campaign of education by the press, radio stations and service clubs.

The National Safety Council points out one encouraging factor in the analysis—eliminating the annual toll of deaths due to the automobile, the national death rate from all other accidents has declined 30 per cent since 1913.

Konjola is sold in Goldthwaite, Texas, at Hudson Bros. Drug store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

FOOD INDUSTRY

One-fourth of the food produced in the United States is used to feed the livestock. The trend in the food industry seems to be toward smaller producing units and more automation. The food industry is the largest, as well as one of the most important, in the country. It is estimated that the food industry produces about 22 billion dollars worth of food each year. The food industry is also one of the most important in the country, as it provides the basic necessities of life for the population. After the First Twenty-five Thousand Miles

THE VALUE of sound design, good materials and craftsmanship is especially apparent in the new Ford the first twenty-five thousand miles. Long, continuous service emphasizes its mechanical reliability and economy of operation and up-keep.

As you drive the Ford through many months and years will develop an increasing pride in its appearance and growing respect for the substantial worth that has been put into it. From every standpoint—in everything that goes into it, make a good automobile—you will know that you have made a far-seeing, satisfactory purchase.

Wherever you go, you hear enthusiastic praise of the Ford and this significant, oft-repeated phrase—"I'm glad I bought a Ford."

A FORD owner in New York tells of a 13,000-mile trip across the United States and back in sixty days and says "the car was extremely economical to operate, comfortable and speedy." A grateful father tells how the Triplex shatter-proof glass windshield saved his wife and children from serious injury.

To test tires, a large company drove a new Ford day and night, for an average of 500 miles every twenty-four hours. It was still giving satisfactory service after 105,000 miles.

A Ford car that had fallen into Fernan Lake was submerged for twelve days before being raised. After a new battery and carburetor bowl were installed, it was driven back to Spokane under its own power.

Many police departments have written of the special advantages of the Ford in crowded traffic because of its alert speed, acceleration, and ease of control. An increasing number of fleet owners are also purchasing the Ford because their cost figures have given conclusive proof of its economy of operation and up-keep.

In addition to important triumphs in Germany, France and Italy, the Ford won six out of seven leading places in a contest in Finland, first and second in the Razacla races in Argentina, first and second in the run from Copenhagen-to-Parkrun from Copenhagen-to-Parkrun, three gold medals in Denmark ranking in the durability test. The tortuous Amancaes road in Peru placed in the 1930 reliability test by the Royal Automobile Club.

This contest was an extremely severe test of endurance and construction because it was held in winter and covered 600 miles of running over snow-covered country and mountainous hills.

had stopped and, almost on the crossing, the driver looked up and saw the train. Frantically he applied the brakes—too frantically, it proved, for the engine of his machine went dead

and the car came to a standstill with its rear wheels on the tracks. Two young women in the car screamed and jumped to the road and ran. The driver and the other male occupant also leaped from the car, and attempted to push it. Then they left the car and ran a few seconds before the speeding train, its brakes grinding and whistle screaming, struck the abandoned machine and hurled it into the air and some distance along the road. The car came to rest on its side in the ditch and the engine of the train stopped a quarter mile down the track. It was all a moving picture stunt.

IS HUMAN LIFE LESS VALUABLE

Dallas county, Texas with the aid of the Federal Government is going to make an effort to exterminate the few wolves that have made their appearance in the cedar brakes in the rougher sections of the county. During the course of a year wolves do considerable damage to the poultry and livestock interests. However, their numbers are growing fewer as relentless war is made upon them.

Thus far this year we have read reports of three persons being bitten by rattlesnakes. Many more will probably suffer from attacks by poisonous snakes in the Southwest before the winter drives the reptiles into their dens. As many as 27

deaths have been credited with in a year in Texas to snake bites, and as many more have been saved only by prompt medical attention and the use of serum.

Bounties are paid for killing wolves and other predatory animals. Drives are made to exterminate them, but not very much effort is made to rid the states in the southwest of poi-

A THRILLING STUNT

Two automobiles approached a crossing of the Missouri-Kansas-Texas Railway east of Dallas Saturday afternoon and their drivers, looking right and left, observed a speeding passenger train bearing down on the intersection. The drivers stopped a safe distance from the crossing. A third automobile sped along the road, swung around the two machines that had stopped and, almost on the crossing, the driver looked up and saw the train. Frantically he applied the brakes—too frantically, it proved, for the engine of his machine went dead

and the car came to a standstill with its rear wheels on the

RIGHTS OF LANDLORDS

Under date of April twenty-second, last, the Attorney General rendered to the County Attorney of Llano county, an opinion construing Article 1317 Penal Code, 1925, as amended by Chapter 26, page 41, Second called session, Forty-first Legislature. The article referred to makes it a misdemeanor for a person to "enter upon the enclosed lands of another, without the consent of the owner, proprietor or agent in charge thereof, and therein hunt with firearms or thereon catch or take or attempt to catch or take any fish from any pond, lake, tank or stream, or in any manner depredate upon the same." The question asked was, whether a person violated the law referred to, so that he could be arrested and prosecuted thereunder by merely traveling across the premises of a private landowner in order to reach a public stream, where, under the law, the person so traveling might have a legal right to fish.

The opinion given was that where a person did nothing more than cross the premises of a private landowner to get to a public stream to fish, such person did not commit offense under article 1377 of the Penal Code as amended. The opinion given was thus limited strictly to a construction of Article 1377 in the light of the facts stated in a criminal case, and did not, in any wise, attempt to construe or pass upon the private property rights of landowners whose property is adjacent to public streams.

Private landowners have the same right to post and prohibit trespassing upon their property as they had before the recent Act of the Legislature above referred to. The public, of course, does not have the right to enter upon and cross the enclosed and posted premises of landowners in order to enjoy fishing rights.

While the public, generally, has the right to fish in the public waters of this state, where not prohibited by law, it must exercise this right in such a manner as not to encroach upon the property rights of private citizens. Property owners, of course, are under no duty or obligation to permit the

Back Quit Hurting

"I was in a weak condition from a serious sickness," writes Mrs. L. Leonard, of 571 Joseph St., New Orleans, La. "I was so weak, I wanted to sleep all the time. I did not have strength to do anything.

My back ached nearly all the time. I was just in misery.

"My mother told me I must arouse myself from the sleepiness, and take something to help get my strength back. She had taken Cardui and had been helped, so I decided to take Cardui, too. After my first bottle, I could see that it was helping me. I took four bottles at this time. My strength came back and I gained weight. Pretty soon, I was my old self again. My back quit hurting, and I haven't had any more trouble since I took Cardui."

New York City.—Jazz hasn't changed America much after all. At least, among all the hit tunes we hear so much about, the most popular song in America today is not a dance tune or a love ballad, or even a motion picture theme song. It's a sacred song, "Star of the East," written many years ago by Amanda Kennedy Moore in Boston.

So says Jesse Crawford, the world's most famous organist. He is pleased for he has always put great stress on the fact that good simple tunes would live and the ra da da, coy de boop noises of the day would pass on no matter how popular they were for the moment with the public.

"I remember playing 'Star of the East' when I was a child," recalls Mr. Crawford. "It was one of my earliest pieces, and its simplicity gave it a certain truthness and sincerity which endeared it to everybody.

"The song has a lovely sentimental history. It was written by Amanda Kennedy Moore when she was sixteen years old, and sold by her for a dollar and a half to a music publisher who made a great fortune out of it. Twenty-five years later, when it was necessary to renew copyrights, a new publisher bought it and has since been turning over a snug little fortune each year to Mrs. Moore. Mrs. Moore is now white haired, but she still keeps up her teaching and is very modest about her best seller.

"But it's not surprising that a hymn should be a song best seller. No book has ever equalled the bible as a seller, has it?"

65 Teams and Chorus of 200 Will Help Dedicate Home

Left, Mrs. Dora Alexander Talley, Omaha, Nebr., national secretary of the Woodmen Circle. Center, Mrs. Mary E. LaRocca, Omaha, national president. Right, Mrs. Etta Davidson, Houston, national director and state supervisor of Texas. "All roads will lead to Sherman" for the dedication of the society's new Home for Aged Members and Orphan Children, June 25, 26 and 27.

A chorus of 200 will sing at the sunrise ceremony to be held in Sherman at 6 a. m. Wednesday, June 25, when the American Legion of that city presents a flagpole and flag to the Woodmen Circle's recently-opened Home for Aged Members and Orphan Children.

The chorus will be gleaned from among the best singers among the several thousand people from all parts of the country coming to Sherman to take part in the Homecoming Dedication June 25, 26 and 27. Mrs. Margaret G. Meadows of Fort Worth, national chaplain, will be in charge of the sunrise service. Her son, Cecil Meadows, director of the Shrine band of Fort Worth, will direct the chorus.

At 9 a. m. on June 25 the corner stone laying will be held and at 10 o'clock in the morning the formal dedication will take place. It will be an impressive moment when Mrs. Mary E. LaRocca of Omaha, Nebr., national president, dedicates the first building of the Home to the protection of the weak.

Mrs. Dora Alexander Talley of Omaha, Nebr., but formerly of Garland, Tex., national secretary, will take an official part in the ceremonies together with all the national officers of the society. With the precision of a soldier and the grace of a dancer at least 65 drill teams, coming from Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Louisiana, Indiana, Idaho, Ohio, Alabama, New Mexico and Nebraska, will present a colorful team frolic

Thursday evening, June 26, in the stadium of the Red River Valley fair. Included among them will be a Mississippi team consisting entirely of children.

There'll be a "click click", many capes flying, and varied colored uniforms in smart array, for more than 1600 persons will take actual part in the team frolic. Mrs. Jeanie Willard of Denison, national drill instructor, will be in charge.

Six of the society's national officers are from Texas. They are Mrs. Henrietta A. Thomas, national junior past president, Fort Worth, Mrs. Maggie Hyde, national treasurer, Dallas, Mrs. Etta Davidson, national auditor and state supervisor, Houston, Mrs. Laura Krebs, member of the national legislative committee, Austin, and Mrs. Willard and Mrs. Meadows.

The Home will be open to visitors during the afternoon and a public reception will be held in the evening of June 25.

Sherman will give a barbecue for all who come on the first day of the celebration.

It is fitting that the Texas "Trail Blazer" who knocked at many doors more than a quarter of a century ago has contributed the stately doorway of the Home. She is Mrs. Henrietta A. Thomas, who before the turn of the century was pioneering in the work of the society in the Blue Bonnet state.

Texas field workers, numbering thirty-six, have won trips to the dedication in recognition of their field work records.

MRS. WOOD PASSED AWAY

Mrs. W. R. Wood of Ratler died at the sanitarium in Temple last Sunday afternoon at 3:45, after a long period of illness, which had its inception with heart trouble. The first attack of the trouble came on her a year or more ago, but her health was never regained and she went to Temple about a month ago for treatment and to have her daughter, who is a trained nurse, minister unto her. She was given every care and attention, but to no avail. Her remains arrived in Goldthwaite on Monday morning's train and were conveyed to the cemetery in her home community for burial.

Mrs. Wood leaves a husband and several children, besides a host of friends, to mourn her loss.

With a demonstration of strength, which exceeded the hopes of his most optimistic partisans, Dwight W. Morrow swept New Jersey in Tuesday's primary for the Republican nomination as United States Senator with a plurality of more than 267,000. Prohibition was the outstanding issue of the campaign. But Mr. Morrow swept through every one of the twenty-one counties of the state, wet and dry.

The House bill to liberalize disability allowances for World War veterans was taken up by the Senate Wednesday. The legislation carries many liberalizing provisions, including authorization for veterans to claim service origin for diseases developed before Jan. 1, 1930. An overwhelming majority seemed apparent for the bill. It has been estimated the measure will cost $74,000,000 annually.

THE GOLDTHWAITE EAGLE

Several people were drowned in swollen streams in West Texas last Saturday. One was drowned on the Sterling City road, near San Angelo, when his car was washed off a bridge.

Two controversial measures were given a place on the Senate calendar Saturday, but congressional leaders were still hopeful the impatient House would prod the Senate to an adjournment by the end of this week.

Two women were killed and five persons injured when a bolt of lightning struck the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Durham in Dawson county, six miles south of O'Donnell, during an electrical storm Saturday night.

Three men, who Friday night tried to rob the Fort Worth Packing Company, after overpowering, gagging and binding the night watchman of the plant, failed to get into the money compartment of the company safe, although they did knock the knob from the outer door of the strong box.

Ravages of pirates on coastal and transoceanic shipping plying along the Chinese coast resulted Sunday in announcement of the organization of a squadron of especially trained anti-pirate guards. The guards, numbering 200, organization of whom has just been completed, will assume their duties July 1.

An elderly woman walked in a Denison store recently, slipped a $20 dress "to be buried in," for which she gave a check and the next day brought the garment back saying she had found she already had one that would do. The clerk gave her $20, and then the check came back marked "no funds."

Announcement is made in Washington that James Cannon, a bishop of the Southern Methodist Church, announced that his attorney is scanning newspaper articles and editorials about him with a view to prosecuting the publishers of those he believes libelous. He said the lawyer already had decided one newspaper published libelous matter. He has been in the lime light for some time.

A tourist en route from Houston to Waco was held up and robbed Sunday about a hundred miles north of Houston. The plan of the robbers was the familiar system of waving to a motorist on the highway to stop. When he responded to the signal they took his money and his car and left him afoot. Yet, there are many tender-hearted travelers who persistently "pick up" the pedestrians along the way and take a chance.

Protest by employees of Austin postoffice against the reappointment of Postmaster Hunter, has been investigated by the committee from the senate, but the finding has not been made known. The complaint of the employees was that they were worked too hard in the service. If Mr. Hunter has been able to get an excess of service out of the office force under civil service rules, he must surely be a most remarkable man.

The Texas Press association, in session at Corpus Christi last Friday, went on record as opposed to the publication of all the great mass of "free advertising" sent out to the press by a multitude of interests. A committee was appointed to outline an appropriate stamp to be impressed on all such matter to be returned to the sender. The amount of this stuff received at the Eagle office would require an immense amount of postage for return, hence this editor just drops it in the waste basket and forgets it.

CASH AND CARRY

The Independent Grocers' Alliance urges its members to adopt the cash-and-carry system. It is regarded as the way to meet the competition of the chain store. Manifestly the big advantage the chain store has is in buying. But that is not the full story. It is buying for cash that enables the chain store to do so well.

The independent store can't discount all its bills and at the same time get paid by its customers once in a while. The cash and carry system is first of all a cash system. Because of that it has worked a reform in the budgetary practices of the average family. Or perhaps it would be better to say that it has profited by a reform in the system. Prohibition figures in that.

When we had the saloon, liquor got a big part of the pay envelope. A good many pert young citizens are too young to remember the cash and stagger plan that the barkeep used to offer his customers. But in those days there were few cash retail establishments—and the saloons handled a good part of the community's money.

The chain stores are not a magical affair. The bigger they get the more they require supervisors and auditors and all manner of experts at big salaries. These overhead expenses contract to some extent the advantages of mass buying. On a credit basis the independent was a poor chance in their field. But when he gets cash for all he sells, he is on surer footing.—Dallas News.

SAME IN GOLDTHWAITE

Up at Dalhart there has been so many advertising grafters hit town, and the local merchants have had so much grief with the fellows who come in and promote some cheap scheme which costs lots of money and brings nothing in return, that there has been a revolt. Last week they got together and pledged themselves not to patronize any sort of advertising directory, score card, time table, bus and train schedule, etc., without the okay of their special advertising committee. The boys at Dalhart have been driven to some means of self protection, like business men in other towns have had to do. Here in Clarendon we stick to that plan just after we have been stung a few times, then we get careless for a few months until some other slick comes along and hangs us up for a real cleaning. Then we howl and stand pat for awhile—until we go to sleep again. "Am't folks funny!"—Clarendon News.

INTERESTING CONFERENCE

Miss Mina Steen of the Texas Louisiana Power Co. has returned from Fort Worth, where she attended an intensive two day course in the use of electric appliances at the Texas Hotel, on Thursday and Friday of last week. This school is the first of its kind ever held by a utilities company for women employees only, and was attended by forty-eight students from properties of the company all over the state. It was organized to give the women a thorough knowledge of appliances and their uses, so that they can better assist the home makers of their communities to obtain the full benefit from the use of electricity in the home. The construction, operation and proper maintenance of the different appliances was brought out in demonstration conducted by factory representatives.

Power company officials explained rate structures, meter reading and the importance of proper customer contact. A feature of the course was the laboratory periods, during which the girls used the various appliances to make cakes and waffles, sweep floors, freeze ice cream, wash clothes and perform other household duties under the guidance of nationally known home economics experts. Thursday evening the young women were honored with a banquet at the Fort Worth University club.

"Things I Ate Hurt Me"

"I HAD a severe case of indigestion," says Mrs. Bell Buckheiser, 7 River St., Piedmont, S. C. "So many things that I ate hurt me. I almost quit eating. I would burn in my chest. I had severe headache, and such a tight, smothering feeling. I would be obliged to eat a little, then it would hurt me. A friend said to me: 'Why don't you take Black-Draught?'"

"I was just too weak then to do my work. I began taking small doses after meals, and in just a few weeks I could eat anything I wanted to, then take my small dose of Black-Draught and feel fine. I soon regained my health and strength." Costs only 1 cent a dose. THEBORD'S

PUSH FOR SUNDAY

I am raising a question. I'm raising a large question. Recently I heard a conversation between citizens who live out near the Lake. Feeling the need of best moral surroundings for their community and especially for their children, these citizens expressed strong wishes for a continued closed Sunday at the Lake. Of course, I entered into hearty sympathy and when I was informed that the directors had closed against Sunday activities I felt in me a large "Amen." I could understand that these parents were looking wistfully down the years when their children might become real worthy men and women of the first degree. To be one's best there must of necessity be a Sunday conscience.

Except one man, I do not know who the directors are. I do not know who the stock holders are. I do not know any body and probably don't know myself as I should. One thing we certainly do know: That using Sunday for business interests, reveling in ball games and such things as hunting and fishing is so much weakening the moral tone of the country and a threat to civilization.

I am not discussing people. I am discussing a fundamental doctrine. I am not disposed to be harsh. I would not in anywise interfere with just and adequate liberties of any human life. The Sunday question is not purely a religious one. It's a large moral question at the base of citizenship and civilization. What's the idea in desecrating Sunday? From whence comes such incentives. Some of us never heard a reasonable explanation. Should any or all of these views meet with approval, remember I am a brother. Just a little brother wishing for the best in every heart to be brought out to the surface, where it can be demonstrated. SAM SAY

REAL FARM RELIEF

The automobile has revolutionized city and industrial life. American agriculture cannot rise to the same plane of efficiency as American industry until it is able to utilize, to the fullest degree, modern tools and machinery, both in producing and distributing its products.

The economical use of automobiles and trucks is denied farmers while they are cut off from markets during many months of the year by impassable roads. Progressive rates are now improving farm roads with a waterproof surface of oil or asphalt at a moderate cost.

In the United States there are nearly 2,500,000 miles of unimproved dirt roads and almost 5,000,000 farmers to live on them. Farmers pay seven per cent of the highway tax. Yet less than three per cent of them are reached by year round roads, according to the American Farm Bureau Federation.

Agriculture is the most necessary of all industries. Poor roads that now make profitable farming impossible are a detriment to national progress. All-weather farm-to-market roads must be an outstanding part of all future road plans.

MOB LEADERS GO TO TRIAL

The trial of the fourteen citizens of Grayson county, charged with participating in a mob at Sherman on May 9, when the court house was burned and a negro roasted therein, is to begin in Dallas Monday. While the negro was undoubtedly guilty and deserved all he got, he was in the hands of the officers, had pleaded guilty in the court and the jury had been impeached to assess his punishment. It is safe to believe he would have been sent to the electric chair in short order, hence the work of the mob was without cause or benefit.

SHEPPARD OUR MAN

George H. Sheppard, Comptroller of Public Accounts, has his own ideas as to running that important branch of our state government. He believes in giving the public what they pay for, and not mixing too much politics with business. Mr. Sheppard in addressing the ex-service men in the department said, "I am for you and believe in you and will depend on you to put this Department over the top as to efficiency;" and the result is that every employee, appreciating his sincere intention and desire to give the public what they pay for, is giving him the best there is in them. Hence that is one of the busiest departments in the Capitol.

When Mr. Sheppard was appointed and his name was sent to the Senate, he was confirmed by that body unanimously, which is a very high compliment for the State man.

Judge M. B. Reid, formerly our District Attorney, in his capacity as Comptroller of Public Accounts in the July term county is well represented in the State Department by Mrs. Etta Reid, District Clerk, and her responsible positions are very enthusiastically praised and supported by the candidates.

Soft Music of Time Is Foreign Contribution

GUY LOMBARDO

Players From Other Lands Make Dreamy Strains Popular

New York City.—The foreign musical background of most American jazz orchestra leaders is responsible for a certain type of soft playing which has so impregnated American jazz as to become an integral characteristic of our modern music. This is the contention of Guy Lombardo, director of Lombardo's Royal Canadian Orchestra at the Hotel Roosevelt. "This soft playing, as foreign to the noise and clamor of America, is gradually changing the whole nature of jazz music," Lombardo declares. "Jazz, as America first gave birth to it, was a scuffling, toy banging infant," he says. "It has become a crooning dreamy eyed child under the interpretation and tutelage of foreign orchestra leaders. These orchestra leaders, either with native or inherited foreign backgrounds, can't help flavoring their jazz with the musical technique of their own country. They can't play any other way." Lombardo cites "My Victory," written by his brother Carmen, a modern waltz ballad highly spiced with foreign flavor, and its tremendous vogue and popularity, to attest to the value of this ingredient in our modern music. Guy's brothers, Carmen and Lebert, play in his famous orchestra. The three boys have played together since the days when they began to earn their way through grade school with their music.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Little Miss Gloria Dyas of Oklahoma City, Okla., celebrated her seventh birthday at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Bayley, Saturday, June 14th, from 3 to 5 p. m. After the arrival of the little guests, numerous games were played on the lawn until 4:30 p. m. The little honoree then brought her guest into the living room, and opened many gifts. They were then ushered into the darkened dining room, where the white birthday cake with its seven candles decorated the dining table. After the candles were blown out, a dainty refreshment plate consisting of punch, sandwiches and cake with morning glory flowers as favors, was served to the following guests: Harriett and Ellen Allen, Nina Sammy, Thekla, Ima Lee and Mary Henry, Helen Rudd, Glynn Collier, Milton Tate, Wilda and Wanda Bledsoe, Eugene Dyas, Edward Eugene Palmer, Ruth and Mary Ann Rowntree, Laura Helen and Sam Saylor, the little honoree, Gloria Dyas and Mrs. Joe Palmer. Mrs. W. A. Bayley was assisted in serving by Mrs. B. E. Dyas of Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, Mrs. Monte Kirkland and Mrs. Hardie Tobin of Rock Springs. A GUEST.

SOCIAL TRENDS

Ordinarily, with so much political activity to distract them, editors would not devote much either of time or space to consideration of purely social problems. Conditions are not ordinary within the social realm, however, and many editors frankly confess their alarm.

Divorce and juvenile delinquency paint a picture before which many Texas editors stand aghast.

Closely allied to the divorce evil is that of juvenile delinquency.

Very obviously these two problems—divorce and juvenile delinquency—are not going to solve themselves.

Texas may glory in her high standing among the states with reference to population and agricultural and industrial production; but to rank high in divorce and juvenile delinquency is a questionable distinction. It is a distinction which Texas does not desire.

The next governor, whoever he may be, immediately upon inauguration should appoint a commission to study these two social problems and determine upon corrective measures. That done, no time should be lost in presenting their recommendations to the electorate.

Nevada has become a third rate factor in divorce comparisons with Texas. Harris and Galveston counties alone sever more nuptial knots than does Reno, the one-time American divorce capital. Texas, fifth among the states in population holds an unchallenged first place in the divorce census.

In one Texas county there is recorded an instance where one girl, scarcely out of her "teens," has been thrice divorced and is now living with a fourth husband.

Court records in the same county reveal that another woman three times completed the cycle of marriage, divorce and remarriage; and each time to one and the same man!

Especially significant is the fact that divorcees tend to "run" in families. That divorce history which began when a mother divorced her husband is in point. In due course of time a married son divorced his wife, and two married daughters divorced their husbands.

States with divorce laws no less liberal than those of Texas rank far below this state in the ratio of divorcees to population. Obviously, then, the law cannot be charged with responsibility for the condition.

SOCIAL REFORM.

PAYING FOR CARELESSNESS

Fire is responsible for a direct money loss of about $500,000,000 a Year. We all pay for this whether we individually have a fire or not.

Heavy losses have an adverse effect on fire insurance rates. When destroyed property is not rebuilt the taxes such property would have paid must be borne by others. These facts enter into the operation of every business and are items of importance in determining the cost of living. They affect, in one way or another, the price of every purchase, whether it is a home or a loaf of bread.

When the operation of a major business is interrupted by fire, the result is striking. Men are thrown out of work and families deprived of their living. Purchases of all kinds are curtailed. Business goes elsewhere to the detriment of the entire community. Savings in banks are drawn upon and amusement places are not patronized. Fires have caused exodus from towns, leaving behind only poverty and ruin.

The effect of a great fire may be nation-wide. Following the San Francisco disaster fire insurance companies were called upon to immediately raise $220,000,000 to pay their losses. In order to do this stocks and bonds had to be transformed into cash. And this, it is said, was largely responsible for the panic of 1907.

There is but one solution to the fire problem—an active, informed safety consciousness on the part of individuals and businesses.

Small Orchestras Now Do Work of Larger Group

Ten Modern Players Can Get Volume of Sixty Old-Fashioned Ones

Scagirt, N. J.—Music, in the form of an orchestra, will soon be one thing that even the smallest hamlet is never without, says Tick Wardell, conductor of the orchestra which plays at Eiggate Inn here.

"Ten players today can get the volume of sixty players of other days," explains Mr. Wardell. "Somebody has recently computed that one baritone saxophone is equal in sonorosity to a section of nine or ten cellos; that one alto saxophone equals sixteen first violins or twelve seconds; that one tenor saxophone equals eight violas.

"That is why, with twenty-five men, including eight first violins and four saxophones, Paul Whiteman was able to get what Leopold Godowsky, famous pianist, called the volume of an eighty piece symphony orchestra.

"Jazz players have become so adept at handling their instruments that they almost make each one do the work of two. I have seen one man in the course of an evening play as many as twelve instruments, including three saxophones, three clarinets, the oboe, the octagon, the heckelphone, the xylophone and bagpipes."

"The possibilities of the wind and reed instruments have scarcely been scratched. In perhaps ten years, composers will begin to write for these instruments and the old-style theatre orchestra of the past will be replaced by a new combination of wind and reed. People will get over the idea, too, that they can learn to play the saxophone in a few months. It takes years of real study to get the full, mellow, beautiful tones out of such popular tunes as 'Sittin' Around' with a saxophone. Before very long, the saxophone is going to be regarded as a legitimate instrument."

MINIATURE GOLF

Miniature golf is better than overgrown golf. Minimum is usually better to be chosen than maximum. Regular bobbyjones golf has been fatal to many men. But did any one ever hear of a septuagenarian expiring on a miniature golf course, due to heart pressure after making a hole in six. In Dallas, the leading miniature golfing community, there are forty courses going under full steam, and ten more building. This shows that the economic depression some people insist on has left this town untouched. Depressed people could not keep fifty playgrounds going at 25 cents a play. But the best thing about miniature golf is that it is exercise and amusement unmixed with hard labor. There is no more grueling work than grown man's golf, especially for those who play a zigzag game. Grown-up golf can not be played in the shade, and any man who plays eighteen holes on a summer afternoon contributes more labor to his amusement than a cotton chopper contributes to his own profit, after having knocked the grass out of two acres of ground. The cotton chopper's work is a necessary exercise. It is wealth-making, country-serving, patriotic practice. Golf playing is a purely personal diversion, which may be summed up in two words: Lost motion. Miniature golf is outdoor billiards. It can not be said that billiard playing does much to promote the public weal, but it does give the player leg and arm exercise. Likewise, miniature golf gives outdoor breathing, group pastime and democratic social life to those who indulge in it. Besides, the miniature player doesn't have to carry a quiver of hardware and wooden mallets.—State Press in Dallas News.

T. J. SHIPP DEAD

Mr. Thos. J. Shipp died at his home in the Caradan community last Sunday afternoon at 2:20, after an illness extending over six or seven years. He was a native of Missouri and came to Texas at an early age, locating in Hamilton county, where he continued to reside until 1923, when he moved to this county. He was 59 years of age and leaves a wife and three daughters and two sons. His two oldest daughters are Mrs. Virgil Wright of Dallas and Mrs. Charley Anderson of Caradan. His two sons, both grown, live at home with their mother, as does the youngest daughter, who is ten years of age.

His remains were interred in the cemetery in his old home community of Live Oak, Hamilton county, Monday and the service was attended by many of his neighbors and friends in this county, as well as many from Hamilton county. He was a good citizen and an upright man who will be missed by all who were associated with him.

Modern Music Makes Us A Healthier

GUS ARNHEIM

Gus Arnheim Finds Effects of Dance Tunes Beneficial to Youth of Today

Los Angeles—is dancing and our modern music making a healthy nation of us? Gus Arnheim, famous orchestra director, thinks they are.

"With the growth of large cities, and the ex-hange on the part of millions of an urban for a rural life, dancing and golfing has completely taken the place of haying and hoeing," contends Arnheim.

That this is a change for the better Arnheim believes, is shown in the more cerebral muscular development of young men and women of today. To the past generation, exercise was work, today we make our pleasures, exercise. Modern household improvements have freed women from long hours of dreary work and given them the time and energy to find exhilarating exercise in dancing and outdoor sports.

"The physical benefits," declares the conductor. "Look at our generation of girls—just round shoulders, feet backs. Glance at the girls in evening dress on floor. Their backs are as muscularly fit as ours. This, I believe is due to the beautiful dancing to the jazz which develops the harmoniously.

"Then, too, most of us is joyous or humorous. Lyrics always capture I get requests every there's a Trick in Chick-Chick-Cluck, trot. The music is gay, and the lyrics humor. It brings out dancers and so far as has ever tired of it. sentimental songs are serious faced. Dancers really looked happy, sentimental. Modern put a new note in it. It has given us a joy health."
