GROUP CONVENTION DELEGATES TO COME

District Court Fall Term Opens Sept. 22

Three Weeks Jurors Summoned

District court will convene in regular September term on the 22nd day of next month and jurors have been summoned for three weeks, which is unusual and shows that Judge Brewster expects to dispose of all the cases possible at this term. The special term the early part of this month handled a number of cases that would have required the time of the September term and helped to clear the docket. Only a few cases of special importance are on the docket, but there are a number of unimportant cases to be tried.

FORMER CITIZEN HERE

Bailey Daugherty, who was employed in the Eagle office thirty years ago, was a visitor to the city from Big Spring Wednesday. He was en route to San Saba and stopped here for a view of the old scenes. His friends were grieved to know that Mrs. Daugherty, nee Emma Cole, died last Christmas day and that her sister, Mrs. W. N. Bowden, had been dead three years or longer. The family was well known here in the early days of the town and it was indeed a pleasure for the old timers to meet with Mr. Daugherty.

SECOND PRIMARY BRINGS HEAVY VOTING

Democratic Primary Held Saturday

One of the hardest fought political battles ever waged in Texas came to a close last Saturday when Ross Sterling, present chairman of the Texas Highway Commission and a millionaire business man of Houston, was nominated for governor by a majority approximating 100,000 votes over Jim Ferguson and his wife. Other candidates were in the run-off, but the great interest centered around the governor's nomination, not because of the interest in the candidates personally, but because of the principles involved.

Senator Witt of Waco was nominated for lieutenant governor over Sterling Strong of Dallas. James V. Allred of Wichita Falls was nominated for attorney general over Robert Bobbitt of Laredo, who was recently appointed to the office by Governor Moody.

Charley Lockhart of Austin, formerly of Snyder, was an easy winner over John E. Davis of Mesquite, Dallas county, for state treasurer. Pat Neff, ex-governor and present chairman of the railroad commission, was given an overwhelming majority over Gregory Hatcher, present state treasurer, for the position he now holds on the commission.

J. E. McDonald was nominated for commissioner of Agriculture over A. H. King of Throckmorton. Only one county office was involved in the second primary, that of tax assessor, and in that W. L. Burks was given a majority over J. M. Hays.

Other State Nominees

In the first primary other state officers were nominated, viz: Morris Shepherd, United States senator. George H. Shepperd, comptroller. S. M. N. Marrs, superintendent of public instruction. J. H. Walker, land commissioner. C. M. Cureton, chief justice supreme court. O. S. Latimer, judge court criminal appeals.

TERRACING CAMPAIGN IN PROGRESS

County Agent W. P. Weaver reports that he is assisting more farmers in terracing than ever before at this time of year. Since his last report to this paper, he has located lines for C. A. Simpson, Tom House, W. W. Taylor, Louis Covington, E. Godwin and A. A. Moore. A number of groups are laying off their own lines. The county agent inspected lines for Hobart Priddy and Mr. Limmer last week. All farmers know the need for terracing, sloping lands and it is up to them to do the job. The county agent is ready to assist.

MEETING IN PROGRESS

The meeting being conducted by Elder E. S. Fitzgerald at the Christian church draws good crowds at every service. Mr. Fitzgerald is popular with the members of the congregation and many others in this city, all of whom regret to know that he purposes to remove to another work after the close of this meeting.

FAMILY REUNION

J. D. Priddy and wife and Miss Lula Davis returned Monday morning from attending the reunion of the Davis family at Eanes Park, Comanche. They report a very pleasant occasion with a larger attendance than usual. The rain Sunday night was the cause of camp being broken earlier than was expected. The members of the immediate family present were: Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Tate, Comanche; E. W. Tate and family, Comanche; Clyde Tate and family, Haskell; P. L. Ferguson and wife, Dallas; A. C. We were entertained Tuesday night by the Mullin orchestra. We certainly appreciated this delightful treat and extend to them and to the Mullin visitors a cordial invitation to come again. Brother Mitchell is doing his best for co-operation and progress in our church work and we trust every Christian worker will do his best to help in this line, that we might have a revival in our community. #### LEAGUE PARTY

All the young folks of the Senior and Hi-League are invited and a wonderful time will be assured you. We expect a large crowd of the young folks, so don't disappoint us. Be there at eight o'clock. REPORTER.

BAPTIST CHURCH

The pastor preaches Sunday morning on the subject, "The Preacher; His Problem and Mission." Much discussion is going on today as to what the preacher should be and do. This discussion is being carried on by both the preachers and the laity, not specifying any one preacher or any one denomination, just a general discussion, and so the pastor feels at liberty to take a hand and give his views as to the preacher, his problem and his mission. Rev. W. T. Sparkman will preach at the evening hour.

Our young people have been extended an invitation to meet with the Methodist young people Saturday evening at the "Wesley" park owned and operated by the "Wesley Sunday School class." To have an hour or more of recreation. A good time is in store for all the young people. The invitation was extended by Mrs. S. P. Sullivan, teacher of the class, to this writer in behalf of the young folk and he urges that all attend. Also an invitation is extended to our young people to worship at the Methodist church Sunday morning at the 11 o'clock hour. The pastor will be more than glad for his young people to attend the 11 o'clock service at the Methodist church, and extends our appreciation for their courtesies.

One day last week, Mrs. Holland Frizzell invited this writer and his wife to an outing at the club lake. On arriving at the appointed hour, which was about 6 o'clock in the afternoon, we found several others had already assembled, and by the time the hour for supper had arrived more than 60 had come together for what you would call a fellowship meeting, looking forward to a good supper. And believe me, we had the supper as well as the good fellowship. Get together meetings of this kind are always worth more than they cost. So let's have another. Too many folk, too many good things for us to say any more. Only that we counted a joy to be present.

Last Sunday was not a bad day for Baptists, 239 in Sunday school, splendid congregation at the preaching service. What more could we ask? Well here it is. Be back Sunday morning and Sunday night. Just keep coming. The pastor likes the way that our singers have been doing of late, coming into choir. That is right. Come on, whether you sing much or little; also we like the way the congregation is helping out in our music. Listen folk! If you will stay in there only when you are providentially hindered, you will see the best crowds at our services that you have seen since this preacher has been here, you will hear the best singing and experience the best fellowship. Remember that no one person is responsible for the success or failure of our church. Every member is responsible. People don't go to church just to hear and see the preacher and nothing else. People want to take part in the services. They want to hear good singing. They want to experience good fellowship and want to hear a brief sermon. I hereby promise to give the "sermonette." Will you promise to see that the other is carried out. Alright, we will start next Sunday working to that end. G. C. IVINS, Pastor.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Guynes of Rock Springs were appreciated visitors at the Eagle office one day this week.

Rev. and Mrs. W. R. Witherspoon of Weatherford, parents of Mrs. J. T. Helm, are expected here Saturday for a visit of a few days with Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Helm.

Rev. T. M. Mitchell of Mullin, was in the city yesterday for a short time. He is conducting a revival at Center City and extends a cordial invitation to everybody to attend.

County Clerk Porter has issued marriage license since last report to Griff McConal and Miss Pattie Cockrell of Big Valley. A. A. Downey and Miss Marjorie O'Dell of Ratler.

Quite a lot of cotton has already been brought to this market, but the crop will be distressingly short unless rain comes soon and in abundance and frost comes later than usual.

A deed was filed in the county clerk's office yesterday conveying the farm on the Colorado river, known as the Goenhour place, to the Great Southern Life Insurance company from the Southern Union Life Insurance Co. The farm is under the management of Landy Ellis.

Lambert, pastor of the church, speaks a large congregation for him. Rev. Witherspoon has been in the ministry many years and has filled some of the best pulpits.

THE GOLDTHWAITE EAGLE

The West Texas Utilities, serving more than 100 towns in west Texas with light and power, has announced a substantial reduction in rates for electricity.

The little town of Manor, twelve miles from Austin, suffered a $100,000 fire loss Saturday afternoon. The origin of the fire was in the upper story of a mercantile establishment and is a mystery.

A school teacher was arrested at Pampa charged with counterfeiting 25 cent pieces. After his arrest his parents filed an application to have him adjudged insane and the records show he was paroled to his parents some time ago, after having been adjudged insane.

A resident of Wichita Falls revealed the fullest extent of gall, when he called at the police station to demand the return of a large jar confiscated by the officers as containing choco. He said the jar belonged to his wife and she needed it to "blue" her washing.

An effort is to be made by some of the residents of Goose Creek, Harris county, to change the name to Southport. The present name was alright when the territory was an oil field, but is not satisfactory now that the town has grown into considerable proportions and has other interests besides oil.

The bridge being erected by the Santa Fe railroad over the Canadian River north of Amarillo will be one of the largest structures of its kind in Texas. It will be 1,735 feet in length and will be 104 feet above high water. Twelve caissons will be sunk to a depth of ninety feet below the stream bed for the erection of piers. The river bed is quicksand to an unknown depth.

The Interstate Commerce Commission Saturday authorized the Burlington Railroad System to construct through the Fort Worth and Denver City Railroad, a subsidiary corporation, 110 miles of new railroad in Texas from Childress via Wellington to Pampa at a cost of $4,000,000. The commission attached one condition under which a part of the new construction must be undertaken jointly, by the competing railroads entering the territory.

A college without a college sheer, where a lecture hall might be mistaken for a well appointed office, has been created to guide young heiresses in the care of the fortunes they may some day inherit. It is a novel institution, this school founded by Mrs. Roger W. Babson, wife of the noted statistician and financial prognosticator, as an educational experiment calculated to crowd into a single year an extensive course in business management. In warm weather the school, known as Webber college, holds classes in Boston. In the winter, faculty and students migrate to Babson Park, Fla.

According to recent statistics, in one hour the railroads earn $716,840 from transportation service, and spend $514,386 for operating expenses and give $45,288 in taxes to state, national and local governments. In an hour, 6,026 cars are loaded with revenue freight and 88,932 passengers board trains. Between 1920 and 1929 the average daily mileage of each freight car increased 29 per cent; the length of the average freight train and the load carried increased 32 per cent and 14 per cent, respectively; average freight train speed increased 28 per cent. Car shortages have been practically eliminated.

That on said last mentioned date, the defendants wrongfully entered upon said lands and premises and ejected the plaintiff therefrom, and ever since said date have withheld from plaintiff the possession thereof to plaintiff's damage in the sum of ten thousand dollars.

That on the 1st day of May, A. D. 1930, the plaintiff had, and now has, title to the above described tracts and parcels of land, not only by a regular and consecutive chain of deeds and transfers from the sovereignty of the soil to himself, but also by virtue of the statutes of limitation of three, five, ten and twenty-five years; that plaintiff then had, and now has, and asserts and claims title to said tracts and parcels of land by virtue of the statute of limitation of three years in this: That he and those whose estate he has had and held under title and color of title from and under the State of Texas, actual peaceable, continuous, exclusive and adverse possession of said land above described for a period of more than three years before the commencement of this suit.

That plaintiff then had, and now has and asserts title to said tracts and parcels of land by virtue of the statute of limitation of five years in this: That he and those whose estate he has claiming the same under a deed duly registered, have had actual peaceable, continuous, exclusive, and adverse possession of the tracts and parcels of land, using and enjoying the same, and paying all taxes due thereon, for a period of more than five years next before the commencement of this suit.

That plaintiff then had, and now has, and asserts and claims title to said tracts and parcels of land by virtue of the statute of limitation of ten years in this: That he and those whose estate he has, claiming to have good and perfect right and title to said tracts and parcels of land, have had and held actual, peaceable, continuous, exclusive and adverse possession of said land above described, cultivating, and using and enjoying the same, and having the same enclosed under substantial fence, for a period of more than ten years next before the commencement of this suit.

That plaintiff then had, and now has, and asserts and claims title to said tracts and parcels of land by virtue of the statute of limitation of twenty-five years in this: That he and those whose estate he has, under claim of right and title to said land in good faith under deeds duly recorded in Mills County, Texas, purporting to convey the same, have had and held actual, peaceable, continuous, exclusive, and adverse possession of said land above described, using, cultivating and enjoying the same and having the same under substantial fence, for a period of more than twenty-five years next before the commencement of this suit.

Plaintiff further alleges that the nature of the defendants' claims to said tracts and parcels of land is to the plaintiff unknown, but that defendants

NINETEENTH AMENDMENT

Emily Newell Blair is inclined to believe that the Nineteenth Amendment has failed to attain the results expected of it. She campaigned for it as earnestly as anybody in the country, even in the years when there was some unpleasantness in being nailed as a suffragette. She says, "I am afraid the suffragists have made the same mistake as the temperance group. Both of them thought that with their victory they had only to defend their position; and so, just as the Women's Christian Temperance Union stopped its educational work for temperance and devoted itself to claiming the Eighteenth Amendment worked, so the suffragists stopped their educational work of convincing people that women had a right to equality and devoted themselves to other interests."

Mrs. Blair, that is to say, still believes that the Nineteenth Amendment is a step toward enabling women to gain equal rights. It doesn't dawn on her that most women do not want equal rights and prefer superior privileges. Manifestly all women don't have superior privileges, but the women whom other admire and wish to pattern after usually do have these privileges, so that the effect on ideals of the individual woman remains.

Again, equal rights are one thing and equal abilities are another. One has to do with being on the same plane and the other to identicalness of aptitudes and forces. Women are not only content to be different from men, but they insist on it. That is neither unnatural nor wrong. But the Nineteenth Amendment has relatively little to do with it, and probably never will have much to do with it.—Dallas News.

DON'T PLAY TO THE GALLERY

When people praise you there is need to use your brains.

Many persons have been ruined by commendation.

Friends are often responsible for failure on the part of those who at one time had good prospects.

If a compliment does not make you desirous of still greater accomplishment it is a detriment to you. Putting this logic into use, it is easy for you to be convinced as to whether you are destined to advance or stand still, which means going backward.

Any worthy accomplishment should make it easier for you to do something still better.

In gaining what you have procured you have taken the foundation steps to greater success.

The training and control necessary to that success should help you to other steps forward if you do not decide to ride with the favorable tide of one worthy fulfillment.

Through co-ordination of brains and body plus talent you may have attained an applauded success.

Don't permit the applause of friends to make you unstable in ambition and effort.—Houston Chronicle.

are asserting some kind of title to interest in or claims against said land, the exact character and extent of which plaintiff is unable to state; that defendants have no title, no valid interest in and no claims against said land, or any part thereof, and have no right to possession thereof, but are naked trespassers.

Plaintiff prays for the title to and possession of said tracts and parcels of land, and for writ of possession of the same, that all clouds cast upon his title to said lands by reason of defendants' claims thereto be removed, and that he be established, confirmed and quitted in his claim to the same, and for general relief.

Herein fail not, and have you before said Court, on the said first day of the next term thereof, this writ with your endorsement thereon, showing how you have executed same.

Given under my hand and seal of said court, at office in Goldthwaite, Texas, this 13th day of August, A. D. 1930.

Middle Life Suffering

"THREE years ago, I was in bad health," says Mrs. J. B. Bean, of Kirbyville, Texas. "I was going through a critical time, and I suffered a lot. My back hurt almost all the time, and my legs and ankles ached. My head hurt me until sometimes I would be almost past going. As I had used Cardui before, and knew how much I had improved after taking it, I got a bottle and started taking it. I continued to use it for several months. After a while I regained my health, and I feel that I could never have gotten through that awful time without Cardui."

This impact with the other car drew Mr. Donnell's attention and he immediately investigated who was driving his car and ordered the stranger to get out of it. He was arrested by City Marshal W. A. Craft and was lodged in the county jail.—Leader.

GRADE CROSSING ELIMINATION

The futility of attempting to reduce grade crossing accidents by eliminating the crossings is disclosed in a recent statement by Harold G. Hoffman, State Commissioner of Motor Vehicles of New Jersey.

According to Mr. Hoffman, we have spent $180,000,000 in the last three years in eliminating crossings. Despite this, the number of crossings is steadily increasing because of the construction of new highways.

Adequate warning devices, erected either by the railroads or the states, should be at each crossing. Beyond this it is up to the motorist. He knows trains will not stop for him and that he must stop for trains. He must take every precaution, even, as the Supreme Court stated in an important decision to the point of getting out of his car to determine whether or not a train is coming, if necessary.

During the last four years accidents at grade crossings have averaged 5,783 a year, of which 1,272 were caused, not by trains striking automobiles, but by automobiles striking trains. It is not uncommon for serious accidents to occur at the best protected crossings. In an overwhelming majority of cases, the accidents result from negligence on the part of motorists.

It is worthy of note, in this connection, that since the war the railroads have made remarkable safety records in every phase of operation—with the single exception of grade crossing accidents, which are beyond their control. If warning signs or signals on the railroad right-of-way do not afford adequate protection, state highway commissions can erect supplementary devices. The rest is up to drivers.

One of the most unbelievable items yet printed came from Abilene this week, when it was stated that a couple of travelers stopping at a filling station in that city discovered their 2-year-old baby was missing. They did not say how he happened to fall out of the car.

MR. COBB'S LETTER

In the midst of life, we are in death. "Death rides on every passing breeze and lurks in every flower." It seems that in our family, the salty waves of a Texas bay and the fresh waters of an Oklahoma lake, each claim a relative and two immediate families are today in mourning, one for a son and brother, the other for a mother, a wife, sister, teacher and aunt. After telling you of the death of the boy, who drowned here we are in receipt of telegrams and letters telling of the drowning in a lake near Cashion, Okla., of Mrs. Allie Cobb White, who was teaching school in Cashion and she, her husband and 14 year old daughter took her pupils out to a lake not far away to spend the day picnicking, swimming and to have a real good time. Mr. White had walked around to the other side of the lake, leaving his wife and her pupils in the lake, where she was teaching them to swim. She stepped off into water over her head, from which she failed to extricate herself and drowned. By the time the children broke the news to Mr. White and he arrived on the scene, she had gone down the third time. He tried to locate the body and failed and by the time help came, the body found, she had been dead too long for human aid with the pulmotor to bring her back to life. Thus our family connection and the home loved ones in so short a time are weeping over the loss of two loved ones by drowning. Mrs. White was the second daughter of my brother, G. A. Cobb, who died in Oklahoma some six or more years ago.

As some of our kinfolds live in Mills and Brown counties, I am taking this method of imposing on you to help me get the news to them, as they all read the Eagle. Thanking you in advance, I will not burden you with any longer letter at this time.

Respectfully,
H. C. COBB.

UNDER the non-skid tread of these famous Firestone Tires is a double breaker of two plyes of cord fabric anchored in cushion rubber. This special construction absorbs road shocks—protects against punctures and blowouts—provides the foundation for the thick, tough tread with deeper grooves—giving longer non-skid wear.

OTHER makes of tires have only a single breaker of old-fashioned square woven fabric which Firestone discarded when they developed the balloon tire. Some makes do not have any breaker at all. The Firestone Tire is set apart as an "All Cord Tire".

CITATION BY PUBLICATION

THE STATE OF TEXAS To the Sheriff or any Constable of Mills County, Greeting:

You are hereby commanded to summon Ralph McKee by making publication of this Citation once in each week for four successive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your county, to appear at the next regular term of the District Court of Mills county, to be holden at the Court House thereof, in Goldthwaite, Texas, on the 4th Monday in September, A. D. 1930, the same being the 22nd day of September, A. D. 1930, then and there to answer a petition filed in said court on the 14th day of August, A. D. 1930, in a suit numbered on the docket of said court No. 2317, wherein Maggie McKee is plaintiff, and Ralph McKee is defendant, and said petition alleging:

Plaintiff and defendant are husband and wife, were married August 14, 1927, resided together until May 25, 1929, when defendant left and his whereabouts are unknown. Plaintiff was true to defendant, would have kept his home in a prudent and economical manner, had he given her opportunity, but regardless of his martial obligations, defendant began and kept up a course of unkind, thoughtless, heartless and cruel treatment, which finally rendered their living together as husband and wife insupportable. Defendant violated the law and was constantly fleeing from and evading the officers. When reproached by plaintiff, he swore and cursed and used to and about her the most vile and opprobrious epithets, and became violently angry. He left her for great lengths of time and associated in unlawful manner with other women, and finally left her without money in Dallas, Texas. Plaintiff says she is of a nervous disposition, and the constant struggle to keep track of her husband and keep him out of jail, have made her a nervous wreck and permanently injured her health. Such action of defendant, plaintiff alleges, constitutes such cruel and inhuman treatment, as renders their further living together as husband and wife insupportable. Plaintiff says they have one son, James Ralph McKee, two years old. That defendant is not a proper person to have his care and custody, but that plaintiff is the proper person to have the care and custody of said son. She therefore prays that she be awarded the care and custody of said child.

Plaintiff alleges she is a bona fide inhabitant of Texas, and has resided in Mills county for six months preceding the filing of this suit.

Wherefore, plaintiff prays that Citation be issued, that she be granted a divorce, and the care and custody of James Ralph McKee, and for such other and further relief as she may be entitled to, including all costs and reasonable attorney's fees.

Herein fail not, but have before said Court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and the Seal of said Court, at office in Goldthwaite, Texas, this the 19th day of August, A. D. 1930.

JOHN S. CHESSER, Clerk Dist. Court, Mills Co.

CAVE EXPLORERS SEEKING GOLD FIND FEVER

Desire for hidden treasure—$85,000 in gold purported to have been left by Santa Anna in a small cave in Mills county—started the whole story. An "adventurous exploration" of a small cave on Falls creek between Burnet and Llano by a group of four Austin boys—C. J. Looke, Bird Kohn, Ned Litten and Hubert Ravey—provided the second chapter.

The next installment was furnished—but wait—maybe that's getting ahead of the story. Let's begin again at the beginning.

Along last spring a family of five persons at Goldthwaite set out with a map for a small cave in search of the above mentioned buried treasure, which was supposed to be located in the cave. In fact the "location" of the "treasure" was shown on the map.

The five persons entered the cave, explored it, started looking for the Mexican gold. Soon they were all forced to leave for the open air and better light that they might ascertain the nature of the bites that had been bothering each of them after a short while in the cave. Each found himself covered with ticks—not the ordinary cattle tick, but a new variety.

A few days afterward all were in bed with high fever, accompanied by aching bones, sweating, chills, nausea. The illness lasted a few days, then all the victims felt better again. After about a week, however, the sickness returned. Then it developed itself into a relapsing affair, with a few days illness in bed, followed by a similar period of wellness.

The state health department was called and members of its staff went to Goldthwaite to investigate the matter. Some of the ticks were sent to Washington, together with a report of the illness, which is regarded in fact, according to Dr. Ben Primer of the state department, that it had never been reported in Texas.

The ticks were dubbed "Onithodoros Turicata"—a rare species supposed to be native to Africa, and quite different from the common cattle tick which goes by the technical term of Onithodoros Mondata.

These Mills County searchers didn't find gold, but they did get well finally.

Now for the second chapter. Several weeks ago, Ned Litten invited the three Austin boys, C. J. Looke, Bird Kohn and Hubert Ravey, to go with him on an exploration trip to a small cave on property belonging to his family and located some 80 miles northwest of Austin.

About five days after the group of young explorers returned here, three of them in bed—with fever running around 104 degrees, also accompanied by sweating, nausea, vomiting, chills and aching bones. Young Litten was the only member of the party not stricken.

Dr. G. M. Graham, Austin pathologist, was called into consultation by doctors attending the three Austin boys.

Accompanied by Ned Litten, Dr. Graham also visited the cave to get specimens of the pestiferous ticks. He got them—also the same affliction.

Meanwhile, however, he experimented. He inoculated three rabbits with blood of the ticks. Within one day two of the rabbits died, within a week the third succumbed.

The rabbits' blood was tested. Blood of the three boys was tested. All samples showed the same thing—a peculiar organism.

After Dr. Graham was stricken, tests of his blood were also taken and disclosed the same organism. Luckily the "whirligig" in the blood is the same as that evident in blood of persons afflicted with another malady. And therein lies the cure. The same remedy may be used for both diseases.

Last week, after being in bed for five days and losing 11 pounds, Dr. Graham was able to continue with his experiments. He, however, checked the ailment early. The three boys had several relapses before the proper remedy was found. Now all are doing well and are on the road to recovery, none the worse, except for the loss of several pounds of weight and a lot of good vacation days.

The state department of health has written the U. S. surgeon general a report of the cases. Possibly the government will send members of its medical staff to Central Texas for an investigation. Dr. Primer indicated, and the state department will likely send out a warning to residents of the state to keep out of small caves.

"The ticks are not found, however, in the large sight-seer caverns of the state," Dr. Primer said. "Only in the small caves in which goats and other small animals are wont to wander."

For it is supposed, but not yet proved, that the ticks are left in the caves by these small animals.—Austin American Statesman.

THE next time you drive into a CONOCO station the man at the pump will ask you a question. "Ethyl?", will be his query.

And in justice to yourself and the car you drive urge you to answer, "Yes!"

For Ethyl, added to CONOCO, the gasoline you are proud of, is like seasoning added to food. As seasoning brings out taste and deliciousness, so Ethyl brings out the qualities which have made CONOCO Gasoline famous.

Ethyl stops the knock that makes the foot from the accelerator when you would rather "down" harder. Ethyl stops the knock that forces to shift gears on hills. Ethyl stops the knock that embarrasses you when you let in the clutch in a hurry.

So when the CONOCO salesman asks, "Ethyl?" Say, "Yes!" . . . and you'll say it again.
