Cotton Checks Now Ready

County Agent W. P. Weaver has received another consignment of checks for those who sowed up cotton. There are 141 in this lot, together with 36 for those who owe seed loans to the government. This makes a total of $14,268 for the entire amount and leaves 53 of the plow-up checks yet to come. The checks are being distributed by Mr. Weaver as fast as their owners call for them.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY

The Woman's Auxiliary met for the study of the World Outlook lesson in the home of Mrs. Lee Berry on Monday afternoon. The subject of the study for the afternoon was "Christian Education in Japan." Mrs. Wallace Stroud had charge of the program and gave an interesting talk on the need of help to carry on the educational work there and how eager the people were for it.

Mrs. Tom Collier read a splendid scripture lesson from second Phillipians. Mrs. Ford led in prayer and Mrs. Hammond read a leaflet, telling of the Lambuth kindergarten.

After the program, a short business session was held and then Mrs. Berry served a delicious salad course and a social hour gave a very pleasant ending to the meeting in this hospitable home.

QUILTING PARTY

Quilting! Quilting! It seems as though every one wants to quilt, but who would not want to quilt. When Mrs. W. B. Wilcox invited her many friends to her beautiful home last Thursday to an all-day quilting, saying she would have a big turkey dinner, with everything that goes to make that kind of a dinner complete. Then each guest bringing something good to eat, made a dinner "fit for a king."

When we were invited into her lovely dining room at noon, we were served with turkey, dressing, salad, fried chicken, sausage, ham, greens, peaches, cakes, pies and iced tea and coffee.

Every one leaving at a very late hour, hoping that Mrs. Wilcox would entertain again, if for no other reason than to have the dinner over again.

The guests were as follows: Mrs. Ethridge, Bell, Chaney, Brooks, Anderson, Black, Forehand, Stewart, Roberts, G. Wilcox, Weathers, Ashton, Harris, Lindsey, B. H. Lindsey, Crawford, Miss Anderson and Miss Flowers Lindsey.

Methodist Notes

Fine audiences were at the Methodist church at both the morning and evening hours. The attendance at Sunday school was better than usual. I told you last week that we should have a better attendance at these services. I am glad you are helping the church to realize its full possibilities. Don't fail to come next Sunday. This will probably be Bro. Hammond's last Sunday. Let us have a full house at both the morning and evening hours.

Our church was called to weep with those of her membership who stood by the tomb of loved ones the past week. Two of our most faithful members were called from the walks of earth. Mrs. Schweining had passed the four score and ten mark, while Mrs. James Rahl fell little below three quarters of a century. These were pioneers among our citizenship and the world is infinitely poorer when they, and such as they, pass from among us. Such as these have through their diligence, sturdiness of character and example, laid the foundation for the civilization that the younger generation now enjoy. No monument could be reared that would in any sense rightly show their worth to this age and all the ages that are to follow. Let us keep their memories as a sacred heritage.

In saying this, let us not fail to remember, however, that the youths of our land are of far more value than many appear to think. That they have shortcomings and innumerable faults, is to be acknowledged. For one, however, I simply refuse to think of our youths, as some would appear to think, as altogether bad. If we listen to some of our pessimists we would conclude that the rising generation was a group of morons. My own memory is rather good, in fact entirely too good for some purposes. I can not fail to remember that when a youth it was a common remark that the youths were a very hopeless lot. Well, we of that day had our shortcomings and tried climbing "fool's hill" for a season, but all of us did not become highway robbers and some of us, after all, escaped the penitentiaries. So, possibly after all, the generation now growing up will turn out about as well as we have done.

We are having some mighty good concrete examples to enforce the thought upon both young and old that these smart fellows who have made themselves believe that they can get by with a life of crime, do not succeed. I have no doubt that Kelley, Bates, Bailey and others thought that others who had played with crime were fools, but that they were smart enough to succeed. Well, they know now that they, too, were about as big fools as are all other crooks. The lesson we all should learn from these, and the thousands of examples before us, is that it pays in the long run, also in the short run, to shun the evil paths. It may seem attractive to play with fire, but the bitter lesson may soon be learned that it is dangerous. Yes, it may be true, that there are those in the churches and Sunday schools, who are not all that they might be in piety, but it is also true that the greater majority of those who give the world trouble, who fill our jails and penitentiaries, have never been distinguished for front seats in Sunday school and church. Sam Jones, the great evangelist was asked once if he had ever heard Ingersoll on the "Mistakes of Moses." Mr. Jones answered: "No, I would not give a penny to hear Ingersoll on the mistakes of Moses, but I would give a thousand dollars to hear Moses on the mistakes of Ingersoll." So it is. The mistakes of those who attend church and Sunday school may be mountain high in the estimation of the morally hypocritical, but possibly the inconsistencies are just as high among the critics.

The church and Sunday school route. Possibly you may be able to be of material advantage to those whom you see fit to criticize. J. S. BOWLES.

Goldthwaite School Making Progress

Beginning with this issue it is the plan and intention of your local school authorities to give you each week and report of the happenings in connection with school. We recognize the school as a public enterprise—in other words recognize that it is your school. That being the case we feel that you are entitled to know something of the happenings and the progress of it.

Your local editor agrees with us that you should know something of the work of your schools also he is anxious to supply you with reading matter in which you are interested. Thus he has kindly consented to allow your schools a corner each week, that they may give you an account of their stewardship.

Reporters have been selected from the various classes and organizations. They will report the doings that they will interest you from their respective groups. All of these reports will be assembled in this column. We hope you like it. Yours truly,

A. H. SMITH, Superintendent

To All Parents of Children In Grades One to Seven:

On Monday of this week report cards were issued to all children in the above mentioned grades.

If your child did not bring a report card home, please investigate and see why they did not.

If the card reached you, we hope you examined it carefully and discussed with your child the grades he or she made.

If the grades were good, give the child the deserved commendation and encouragement. If they were not good, reason with the child and find out what the trouble is. If your reasoning with the child is not satisfactory, confer with the teacher. A little cooperation may go a long way toward improving the grades next month.

Please consider the report card as a personal letter—not just something for you to sign.

It is the teachers way of advising you of the progress of your child. If it were possible for each teacher to maintain a close personal contact with each of you report cards would not be necessary. This you know is not possible.

Each month, immediately following the issuing of report cards, an honor roll will appear.

To get on the honor roll means that a child did not make less than B in any subject. Also it implies that a child is doing better than average work. We hope the honor roll may be a goal for each to strive toward.

The honor roll for this month is as follows:

First grade: Lloyd Hiller, Azo Fields, Chaney Purney, Macalee Long, Patricia Stevens, Dewayne Head, Jim Kirby, Lonar Keesee, Tom Womack, Allan Horton, Lloyd Sebolt, Oma Dempsey, Eloy Braswell, Ouida Gray, Jack Oatis, Billie Long.

Second grade: Archie D. Kauhs, Hassell Kauhs, Alvin Kirby, Helen Bohannon, Jane Evans, Mary Epperson, Velma Fox, Mary Lou Harris, Mary Ellen Hashaw, Adele Holland, Mary Ann Keesee, Dorothelene Laird, Bobbie Jo Long, Georgia Porter, Neva Mae Pearce, Dorothy Nell Rudd, Lorene Smith, Jimmie Caraway, Bobbie Obenhaus, Lewis Townsend and Hudson.

Third grade: Billie Ray Armstrong, George Blackburn, Walter Bryant, H. M. Featherstone,

Walter Johnson, Mack Long, Lyman Saylor, Cleo Woodward,

Bobbie Fairman, Adelia Ruth Gray, Maxine Hashaw, Robbie Moreland, Nelma Rhea Perry, Mary Ann Rowntree, Louise Skipper, Gwendolyn Westerman, Katherine Wright, Dortha Marie Wolf, Bonnie Fern Doggett, Madeline Porter, Lucile Sheppard, Raymond Sebolt, Billy Jo Sparkman, Pat Bohannon, Sam Smith, Dorothy Mae Weeks.

Fourth grade: Nellie Barry, Doris Johnson, Imareah Henry, Wanda Faulkner, Doris Rhea Shaw, Lollie Obenhaus.

Fifth grade: Wanda Bledsoe, Katherine Hodges, Sarah Ligon.

HEALTH NURSE COMING

The Mills County Health Committee has secured the services of Miss Celia Moore of the State Department of Health from Austin, who will speak in the district court room Saturday morning, October 21, at 10:30.

All teachers and presidents of Parent-Teachers associations in the county are cordially invited to attend.

Miss Moore will be in the county for three or four weeks some time before Christmas. The purpose of this meeting is to plan and schedule the clinics and health projects in the county. Any one desiring Miss Moore's services, which will be absolutely free, be sure to attend this meeting.

The health committee will serve a courtesy lunch to the visiting teachers.

Alliene Mahon, Mary Louise McGirk, Ruth Rowntree, Norma C. Tyson, Glen Collier, Harriet Allen.

Sixth grade: Dorothy Eunice Morris, Louise Jernigan, Willie Grace Blackburn, Roselyn Berry, Pat Obenhaus, Thelma Henry, Joyce Mae Weaver, Laura Helen Saylor.

Seventh grade: Snow Johnson, Oleta Henry, Catherine Fairman, Boyd Hunt.

In addition to the honor roll the following students made straight A cards:

Second grade: Alvin Kirby, Helen Bohannon, Mary Epperson, Velma Fox, Mary Lou Harris, Mary Ann Keesee, Dorothy Nell Rudd, Bobbie Obenhaus.

Sixth grade: Thelma Henry.

To those who are on the honor roll this month, we hope they may be again next month. To those who are not there this month, we hope they will be next month.

Please consider the report card as a personal letter—not just something for you to sign.

It is the teachers way of advising you of the progress of your child. If it were possible for each teacher to maintain a close personal contact with each of you report cards would not be necessary. This you know is not possible.

High School Students

The Parent-Teacher Association is as essential to the student body as a mother is to her children. The Goldthwaite high school students wish to express their loyalty to that organization. As student body they feel the need of a "big mother" to whom they may go for advice and assistance in their various projects. They feel, however, a lack of knowledge of the meaning, work and value of such an association, for the student body has not come in contact with the P.T.A. as a whole for several years. This year, however, the student body expects to become better acquainted with that organization.

HALLOWEEN CARNIVAL

The Parent-Teachers association is planning a school carnival for Saturday afternoon of next week—October 28—in the court house.

There will be a big Hallowe'en parade at 3:30 o'clock ending at the court house, where there will be booths of various kinds, including drinks and lunches. The "Believe it or not" booth will be one of the best attractions. Those who did not see this booth at the Century of Progress exposition should see it at the court house and they will realize what they missed by not going to Chicago.

One of the most interesting features of the carnival will be the election of a Queen. Everybody will want to vote in this contest, so it is important to be there on time.

The special vaudeville act, put on especially for the entertainment of those attending the carnival will be fine.

Mothers are urged to bring their babies to the Baby Show.

Don't bother about getting home for supper—eat with the ladies at the carnival.

Be ready to join in the parade at 3:30 and don't be late.

A REMEDY NECESSARY

There is evidently something bad wrong with our taxing system, when there is a delinquency of more than a million dollars in taxes in this state. This condition is manifestly unfair to those who pay their taxes, for they must pay enough to meet the expenses of the government, when if all paid the rate could be greatly reduced. Taxation has been burdensome for a long time in this state and the principal reason is that the large delinquent list is steadily growing, while the expense of the government has also grown considerably. It is neither just or reasonable to say this delinquency is due to the depression, for figures and facts prove that the delinquent list is made up of a very small per cent of the property owners, hence it is, in the main, the larger assessments that are not paid. Neither is the delinquency entirely due to the dereliction of the officers charged with the collection of taxes, for they can not over-ride the provision of the tax laws to collect. The main trouble is with the politicians who make the laws and are apparently constantly endeavoring to make it easier to avoid the payment of taxes. However, the evasion is made far more frequently by the big tax payer and even by some corporations than by the poorer people, most of whom pay, even though they have to sacrifice to do it. Few people want or expect favoritism, but everybody wants justice and certainly it is far more just to require all to pay than it is to allow some to escape taxation by making the collection laws lax.

BUY NOW AND PAY

There is no objection to the "buy now" campaign—in fact it is a good thing and it is in reality a patriotic duty for all people to help bring business conditions back to normal by purchasing the goods they need and can afford to buy. A great revival in business has been experienced by this campaign and there is an improvement in the unemployment situation as well, but another campaign of equal importance is that of "Pay Now." There has been no such campaign inaugurated and no high-sounding manifestation made on this score, no doubt due to the belief in the minds of those fostering the various campaigns that business men, whether engaged in private enterprises or in corporations, have ample funds and only have to draw a check if their money drawer runs empty. The fact in the case is, a campaign of collection of accounts would accomplish more good to the general public than a buy now campaign. Employment is held down, purchases from factories and foundries, as well as raw materials, are at a much lower level than they would be if all business concerns could collect all that is due them. Many people can not pay now, to be sure, but there are also many who could pay if they only had the vision of helping the whole public as well as their creditors by meeting their obligations, even at a temporary sacrifice to themselves.

BUSINESS IMPROVING

The improvement in business conditions was to have been expected at this season of the year and it has not been disappointing, to any considerable extent. The general condition has been improved by the money put in circulation by the cotton plow-up plan and by the marketing of the cotton crop. The government plan to advance 10 cents a pound as a loan on cotton has also strengthened the market and helped the price considerably, while the exact extent to which the price has been raised by this guarantee can not be safely estimated. The fact that a large amount of money was paid out through the RFC operations also helped a great deal, as it enabled many people to provide necessities without going in debt for them, while the merchants are not carrying such a heavy load as they would have been called upon to carry, had not the government provided the plan for putting money in circulation during the early part of the year. Not much highway money has reached this country so far, but there will be a considerable amount paid out in this country for highway work as soon as the several road improvement projects are put in operation. The outlook along all lines is now much brighter than could have been anticipated a year ago and most people feel that the depression is over and there are better times ahead.

IT MAY MEAN WAR

While few of the statesmen of this and other countries are so pessimistic as to predict war, on account of Germany's withdrawal from the League of Nations at the Geneva conference, all are agreed that a very serious situation has been created and that a show of force may be necessary, to prove that the treaty of Versailles was not a "mere scrap of paper." If the Nazi government does not intend to jeopardize the world peace and is not attempting to prepare to require "a place in the sun," some degree of allowance can be made by those who hold to the doctrine that preparedness is a prevention of war and there is some force to the argument, but the fact that the treaty was signed in good faith by the leading nations of the world makes its observance important as well as binding. To allow the Hitler administration to set at naught this agreement and subject the civilized world to another world war is unthinkable. If all agree to annul the treaty and every nation prepare for war, then Germany or any other nation would be free to act, but surely the world powers will not agree to allow Germany or any other country to again plunge the world into war, without an effort to prevent it.

POLITICAL BUNK

During recent years there has been a lot of propaganda promulgated by politicians, especially those of the higher offices, proposing to do a lot of things for some of the people. Most of this propaganda is aimed at the farmer, but the effort, doubtless, does more to repel than attract the people of that profession or occupation. Every well balanced man or woman knows full well that there is no disinterested effort in behalf of the farmer, the wage earner, the merchant or the banker. When the propaganda is sent out they know it is a vote-catching plan and that there is to be no strenuous effort to do some special thing for any special class. They have learned to characterize all such propositions as political bunk.

MAKING THE CUSTOMER BUY

There is a lot of talk about reducing hours for employees and raising their pay by raising the prices of products, but no method has yet been devised whereby the customer can be made to buy at the increased price. It is all very well to say "raise your prices" to meet the new demand, but in the last analysis there must be customers to buy and when the price appears to the buyer to be exorbitant trading slows up and it really seems there is no remedy for this condition. The New York Journal of Commerce, in discussing this matter, says very rightly: "Industry has been freely saddled with new costs, in fact, without any effective machinery being set up in many cases to assure that these costs can be covered and a moderate profit earned besides through raising prices and maintaining sales volume."

Health Hint

SCARLET FEVER

The state department of health has just issued a warning in regard to scarlet fever, as the number of cases usually increases during the fall months. It says: "Last year over 2600 cases were reported in Texas. The majority of deaths occur from October through February.

Scarlet fever is a very contagious disease. Grown people may catch scarlet fever, but children under 15 years are most likely to have it, if exposed. It is especially dangerous for children under 5 years, and for babies. Do not let your children take any chances with scarlet fever. Call the doctor as soon as the symptoms appear.

If your child is going to have scarlet fever, the first signs you may notice are that he seems tired, restless and out of sorts. Usually, there is a sore throat, chill, vomiting or convulsion. The child has fever. His skin is dry and hot. His tongue is furred, and, under this white covering, it is red and swollen. In ordinary cases, these early signs are followed in a day or two by a rash. Little flat red points, close together, appear first on the neck and chest. Soon the rash is over most of the body and brilliant in color.

The doctor is required by law to report the case to the local health officer. Do your part by following carefully the quarantine instructions, which the health officer will give you. Children who have had scarlet fever, or who have been exposed, must not return to school until permission is given by the health officer and physician. A severe or fatal case of scarlet fever may develop from contact with someone who has only a light attack.

ADVANCE IN CIVILIZATION

Some say that our education system has outgrown us. Rather our civilization has developed so rapidly that education has not kept pace with the changing conditions of living. Simply to know how to read, write, and count will not prevent an individual from doing wrong. There must be developed in him also a sturdy morality. We need more of helping each child to understand in his own mind—not because someone tells him—the effects of dishonesty, and the need for laws penalizing bribery, forgery, and so on. There was a time when people lived with even less training than the three R's. With a people so little educated today, however, our complex civilization could not long survive.

KEEPING UP WITH TEXAS

Through the generosity of Mrs. Lutcher Stark of Orange, the University of Texas recently has received a first edition of the authorized translation of the Bible, familiarly known as the King James translation, printed in 1611.

Texas smokers are buying them "ready made" nowadays. During September, sale of cigarette tax stamps totalled $348,000, the largest month's sale since the stamp tax went into effect. That means approximately 11,500,000 packs were sold during the month.

The Texas cotton crop is showing the best condition on record for this season of the year, according to the crop reporting service of the department of agriculture at Austin. Condition on October 1 was 70 per cent of normal, the highest figure on record. There has been a great improvement in the crop since last report.

A knife blade was found in the chest bones.

The Texas legislature which adjourned Saturday, passed a bill making kidnapping punishable by death. The bill was sponsored by Senator Woodruff of Decatur, who acted as one of the attorneys for the Shannon family during the trial in Oklahoma City recently when Harvey Bailey, the Shannons and others were found guilty of kidnapping Charles F. Urschel, oilman. Woodruff said his experience during the trial convinced him that some gangsters thought no more of kidnapping and holding for ransom than he would do going to the coast for a vacation.

Electrocuted kidnappers are all right. They get no sympathy now, it is clear. But the whole thing is to catch them, to convict them, and to do what is to be done to them without delay. Why can't our Texas lawyers and lawmakers see that?—Dallas Journal.

PASSING OF MRS. M. J. WITTY

Mrs. Mary Jane Witty, one of our old time settlers and well known and beloved by the entire community passed from this life at 5 a.m., October 10, 1933.

Mrs. Witty was born in Georgia November 15, 1853. She moved to this country when in her teens. She was married to W. W. Witty, who preceded her in death four years ago.

Mrs. Witty is survived by eleven children, forty grandchildren, and twenty-three great grandchildren, all of whom were present at the funeral services when she was laid to rest in Hurst Ranch cemetery on October 11, 1933. Rev. L. D. Brown officiated in ceremonies.

Mrs. Witty's many friends extend their heartfelt sympathies to the bereaved, yet are rejoiced that they still have with them her fine sons and daughters and their families. — A FRIEND

EDITORIAL COMMENT

VIEWS OF THE NATION'S PRESS ON TOPICS OF INTEREST AND IMPORTANCE

MORE OVERSTATEMENT

Will Durant once won a vast publicity by asserting that men pass their zenith at 35 and ought to be retired after that age. Now comes another intellectual of the Durant type, Mr. Walter Pitkin, with a book entitled "Life Begins at 40." We are assured that it is having a phenomenal sale.

John Erskine, of similar if not greater fame than these gentlemen, has an article in a recent issue of Liberty asserting that colleges proceed on the theory that students can not read, and on the further theory that everything taught in the lower schools must be taught over again in college — referring to the lecture method of instruction and the advanced studies in courses started in the grade and high schools. I. A. R. Wylie comes along with the doctrine that our virtues have caused our ills, and that we must throw most of them overboard.

It is to be wondered how long the public will have a taste for such obvious distortions of the truth, such extreme overstatement, such floating of intellectual accuracy.

The method is one of shocking the reader. Apparently the theory is to make the most violent statement possible which can yet be claimed for it a shred of truth. A review of the leading magazines and popular books of the day will evidence the widespread devotion to this idea.

Fortunately, however, there is some evidence that the craze is on the wane; which gives hope that soon we will demand that men who seek respect for their mentality shall address themselves to a subject in reasonable terms, with a regard for careful statements, careful definitions and careful judgments.

There will be less sensationalism, less thrill for the reader, less pandering to his egotism, but more likelihood of better thinking and wiser judgments on the part of the people. — Houston Chronicle.

THE THING IS TO CONVICT

The legislature thinks it will help to stop kidnapping if we make it a capital offense. It will help a little, perhaps. But not much. Murder is a capital offense in Texas—and one of our main indoor and outdoor diversions. You don't stop crime by passing a law. You stop it by enforcing it.

A kidnaper in the penitentiary for life—for as long as he lives, with no time off for anything, and no pardon, parole or commutation—never kidnaps any more. A kidnaper with enough to hire a good Texas criminal lawyer in an ordinary Texas criminal court is half acquitted before the trial begins.

The legislature can be persuaded to make more severe almost any criminal statute. But it can not be tolled, teased or forced in to bringing the procedure and judicial powers of Texas in criminal trials to a state of modern efficiency. It is not hate, but promptness; it is not severity but sureness; it is not vengeance, but unswerving justice that we want. Swift, sure, substantial dealing out to criminals of what is coming to them will clean up Texas. The federal courts shows us how it is done—and our legislature does something else.

Electrocuted kidnappers are all right. They get no sympathy now, it is clear. But the whole thing is to catch them, to convict them, and to do what is to be done to them without delay. Why can't our Texas lawyers and lawmakers see that?—Dallas Journal.

BUSINESS IN GOVERNMENT

If political management shall finally supersede private management, will all of us who want political appointments have to buy them? Will we have to contribute to somebody's treasury and subscribe to somebody's propaganda organ, hoping to get our money back from the taxpayers? Any management is slow and inefficient when the managers have to spend part of their time covering up their tracks and another part at hiding the shells after they have sucked the eggs. Many of us have demanded more business in government. Perhaps we were not sufficiently specific. We should

LOANS TO CLOSED BANKS

The plan to lend $1,000,000,000 of RFC funds to closed banks to pay off depositors is, of course, just one more move on the part of the national administration in its persistent effort to expand credit and effect free circulation of money. There is now a total of about four billion dollars in closed banks of the country.

Not more than 50 per cent of deposits will be loaned in any instance, it is stated, but it is apparent that unless the present allocation of $1,000,000,000 is supplemented, the average loan will be not more than 25 per cent.

This would seem to be a very conservative margin. The argument that these loans will have the beneficial effect of placing money in the hands of depositors, while relieving banks of the necessity of sacrifice of assets incident to hasty liquidation, looks good in theory. It undoubtedly will be good in fact if extended in consonance with good banking practice, in response to actual local needs and without the assistance of local political pressure.

Conservative bankers will undoubtedly find objection to the plan on the theory that paying off the depositors will lessen community interest in the welfare of the individual bank and be detrimental to liquidation in the long run. Then, of course, there is always the possibility of leaning too heavily on the naive assumption that bank deposits are something tangible locked in the vault, instead of mere book figures, which represent funds that are actually already in circulation in the community. But this new plan to expand credit and quicken circulation has been launched as an emergency measure; the thing to do is to get behind it to the end that it may be consummated quickly and in accordance with sound business method.—Dallas News.

THE PLANET THAWS

That Professor Datsky should find evidence of a rise in temperature during the last half century in Northern Siberia will not astonish geologists. The story told by rocks, the ten thousand lakes and rivers of Northern America and Europe, the gorge of Niagara, the clay banks that were once river beds, is plain to him who has the skill to read it. We are living in the melting period of an ice age which began about 55,000 years ago—one of several ice ages which can be traced back a million years.

To convince ourselves that, despite the perspiration of summer and the waving palms of Florida, we are still in the grip of cold, we have but to cast an eye over the thawing earth. Five million square miles of ice in the Antarctic, a million elsewhere—the total is still but half what it was when glacial sheets last swept down into the United States and buried Northern Europe. If the immense deposit that still remains were to melt in a few decades, a civilization would be destroyed. For the oceans would rise nearly 200 feet and inundate the capitals of the world.

R.A.—We Do Our Best.

CENTER CITY

Sunday was church day and Bro. Brown delivered his farewell sermon until after conference. We are well pleased with Bro. Brown and are hoping he will be sent back to us. An effort is being made to have him here in our midst to live and revive church interest here.

Aubra Hudson, Hollis Blackwell, Misses Hartal and Naomi Langford and Misses Lois and Clara Blackwell spent last week end in Dallas, attending the fair.

Prof. and Mrs. Huggins of Zephyr have moved here and we extend to them a hearty welcome. Their leadership is needed and will be appreciated.

Parents and teachers met Friday afternoon and enjoyed a program by Prof. Richardson's orchestra and pupils, in Miss Keesee's room. After the program officers were elected for P. T. A. work this winter. Mrs. Hollis Hendry was elected president to take the place of Mrs. Oglesby, who had held that position the past two years. Mrs. Ercher McCasland was elected vice president and Mrs. J. C. Blackwell as treasurer and Mrs. Brock McCasland, secretary. With these good leaders and the co-operation of all, we hope to have the best P. T. A. we have yet had. A program is being prepared for the next meeting in November.

Grandmother Nichols is entertaining her new grandson in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Venable. The young man is quite a favorite with his two sisters also.

Mrs. Hubert Geeslin and little daughter, Ada Margaret, visited her mother, Mrs. Venable, Tuesday.

Last Friday, the thirteenth, was the lucky day for Misses Florene Simpson of South Bennett and Glenda Oglesby and Brockle D. McCasland of this place. They were entertained with a birthday party Saturday afternoon at the Simpson home. A number of children were present and all had a feast of ice cream and cake.

Walter Simpson and family of South Bennett spent Sunday in the Oglesby home. We sincerely sympathize with these good people in their great sorrow. We are hoping the body found is not that of Leslie and he will be reported safe. However, all fear he met a sad fate. Our heartfelt sympathy is extended to every member of these families.

William Biddle and his mother visited Mrs. Emma Casbeer Monday.

3. Six demerits are equivalent to a dismissal from the club.

4. Attitude, good behavior, cooperation and attention to leaders are essential to a good member.

5. Songs should be memorized promptly. That is, in a reasonable length of time, after copies of words have been passed.

6. Criticism of any sort should be accepted without hard feelings and profited by.

7. Interesting socials should be planned often enough to stimulate interest in work.

8. Promptness at programs should be observed, and punished with a demerit if not.

9. Direct attention to the leader should be given at programs.

Everyone in the club made a promise that she would abide by these rules and if everyone does we shall have the best club we have ever had.

The first public appearance of the club was made Friday night, October 6, when the girls sang at the P. T. A. program at the junior high school auditorium. The number rendered was an old favorite, "Roses of Picardy." We hope that our first appearance made at least a pleasant impression. We hope that our improvement will be noticeable, as the year advances. Your compliments and criticisms will be highly appreciated.

Singing In Chapel

On the second Tuesday of each month the high school pupils collect in the study hall for a "sing-song." This week Mrs. Bowles conducted the program.

Three songs, "Old Black Joe," "Massa" In the Cold, Cold Ground" and "Old Folks at Home," were sung. There are quite a few improvements that can be made on our singing, we must admit, for we are not able to start at the same time nor end at the same time. However, we enjoy these singing programs and hope to improve our singing abilities during the year.

Mr. Smith gave us a short talk on improving the aesthetic side of life. We hope to use our chapel programs for this purpose.

Goldswaite HighJoins Red Cross

The Goldswaiter representatives of the National Red Cross Association asked that every member be of the high school become a member of this worthy movement. The students have willingly complied with their request and are all anxious to lend a hand toward the accomplishment of its purposes. We sincerely hope that our emblem, the Eagle, may be of great assistance to the emblem of the Red Cross.

Pep Squad

The Goldswaiter high school Pep Squad is now fully organized and doing good work. We have arranged our regular practices for Tuesday and Thursday afternoons. Everyone is interested and trying to do his part.

We have had two games so far this season. The game with Lometa came out 6-0 in favor of Goldswaiter. The game with Comanche came out 20-6 in favor of Comanche, much to our regret. However, neither game was a conference game.

We have had only one entertainment this year. After the game with Lometa, we gave a picnic at the Wesley Workers park. Lometa boys and girls stayed at Goldswaiter for the picnic and everyone thoroughly enjoyed it.

The Goldswaiter Pep Squad made a formation at each game. At the game with Lometa, we marched double file to the south goal post. We marched through this to the center of the field and made a double L. We then made a G. double file and sang "We Will Boost for Goldswaiter High." We marched off the field and went through the north goal post back to our places and gave fifteen rabs for Lometa.

At the game with Comanche we marched through the south goal post, double file, to the center of the field, where we made a double square C. We then got single file and made a square G. We sprinkled flour on the ground and made a G. We then marched single file through the north goal post back to our places, and gave fifteen rabs for Comanche.

The Pep Squad is at work on

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Randolph returned the first of the week from a visit to relatives in Austin.

Mrs. M. Y. Stokes, Jr., will arrive from San Antonio today to prepare her report of ginning statistics. Mr. Stokes and the boys will come tomorrow and accompany her back to San Antonio Sunday.

The West Texas annual conference of the Methodist church will convene in San Antonio next week and the Methodist pastors in Mills county will attend and receive their appointments for another year's work. Several laymen of the county are also expected to attend the conference.

Songs should be memorized promptly. That is, in a reasonable length of time, after copies of words have been passed.

Criticism of any sort should be accepted without hard feelings and profited by.

Goldswaite vs. Brady

During the past week the Eagles have worked hard and have a good fast moving team to show for their efforts. The Eagles did not have an out of town team to play last week, but matched a game with the town boys.

The town boys came out with a defeat of 7-0. This was not a big score, but the boys got a good work out and the town team seemed to enjoy being in football suit once more.

The Eagles will go to Brady Saturday to play their first conference game. The boys would like to have you go along and root for them, if you can possibly go. It will be a good game and will be worth your trip.

You have probably heard about our defeat at the hands of the Comanche Indians last Friday week. Don't blame your team, just look what they had to play against. They worked hard, but were swamped by the Comanche passing attack. If you want to see them win Saturday go to Brady, and let them know you are interested in your team.

Spanish Club Organized

Tuesday, October 17, the second year Spanish class organized the first Spanish club in high school with our teacher, Miss Euna Brim, as sponsor. We intend to create an interest in Spanish by our worthwhile programs and entertainments. The programs will consist of programs on travels through Mexico and Spain, Spanish customs, pictures, artists, writers, books and songs. The following officers were elected: President, Virginia Bowman; vice president, Louise Evans; secretary and treasurer, Beryl Fulton; reporter, Ralph Swindle.

The president appointed committees to select a name, motto and colors, also a social committee. They will report at the next meeting, which will be October 25.

We hope to establish such an interesting club that the students of Spanish will be eager to carry it on each year.

FARMERMOUNT OLIVE

News may be scarce this week, but the farmers are so busy with their drilling, haybaling and potatoes there is hardly any news.

Our school is getting along fine and splendid. The Mount Olive news reporter last year surrendered his job to the students of Mount Olive school, so that each and every student would have an opportunity to demonstrate his ability as a reporter. So I do not want anyone to be surprised when he or she finds some shocking news in the Mount Olive write-up. By conversing with the different teachers, I find that each one will have important news for the county as a whole. The chances for basketball and the different Interscholastic League events. Well, I won't tell you. From now on it will be the teachers' jobs.

There will be singing at the Mount Olive school house next Sunday, beginning promptly at 2 p.m.

Several people attended singing at Caradan Sunday.

J. W. Aldridge and family of Seagraves are visiting home folk this week. Mr. Aldridge's school turned out for the plains cotton picking.

Vernon Griffin and wife spent the week end in Dallas.

Now, I sure do not want anybody to cry over my resignation as reporter, but take it in a good spirit. I realize that it will be hard to get a better one than me, but you can never tell about young folks. I'm betting that there will be oodles of them that will make me look terrible, and if there are not, I am going to be disappointed. So I most heartily surrender my job to the students, so they will make the best of things. I don't know what their plans are as yet and the name that they will give their paper, but so far we have led with the best school section and we may do so again. ABE

BIG VALLEY

In the hurly burly of the days some time I step aside to tell you that Sunday was preaching day as usual. Big Valley church attendants heard some good sermons. Officers and teachers held their conference Sunday before the evening service.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Greeley have moved to the valley and are living in the Hartman house.

Miss Gladys Knowles has gone to Temple for an extended visit with her sister.

Mrs. I. M. Weaver made a trip to town Monday.

Hoyt and Vance Cockrell and Woodrow Long were Big Valley citizens who helped swell the gate receipts at the Dallas fair Sunday.

Bedford Renfro preached in Lower Valley last Saturday night and Sunday.

Mrs. Wm. Dennard was able to be out at church Sunday.

Mrs. Cockrell has been on the sick list the past two weeks.

The Weaver boys have finished picking their cotton on the Denhard place.

Wm. Dennard ran out of gas Saturday night on the way home from church. Arnold Sloan and Dewey Bohannon came to his rescue.

Mrs. Amos Herrington visited Mrs. J. S. Kuykendall Sunday afternoon.

Elton Horton and family of Caradan spent Saturday and Sunday with their mother, Mrs. J. M. Stacy.

Walter Simpson and family spent Sunday in the Mohler Oglesby home at Center City.

Mrs. Anna Jones and children and Miss Homan visited in the Webb Hill home at Star Thursday night. Lena Belle Hill returned home with them for a week end visit with relatives in this community.

Rev. Cochran and Mr. and Mrs. Cunningham of Brownwood, Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Casbeer and children and Gordon Jones dined with Mr. and Mrs. Moore Sunday night.

Misses Minnie and Ruby D. Kuykendall and Ruth Griffin visited Mrs. Doc Laughlin and family Friday night.

Webb Hill and family of Star dined with Willis Hill and family Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Morris and Dorothy Eunice ate Sunday dinner with B. R. Casbeer and family. D. O. Simpson and family also called in the Casbeer home that afternoon.

SOUTH BENNETT

There was a good crowd at Sunday school and church Sunday, also a large crowd at singing Sunday afternoon. Rev. Cochran preached Sunday morning and Sunday night and I believe we all enjoyed the services very much.

Mr. and Mrs. Dixie Webb and children dined with her mother, Sunday.

Saturday afternoon Florine Simpson celebrated her birthday by giving a little party. She invited several little friends to be with her and I know they enjoyed it very much.

B. R. Casbeer spent one night last week with M. L. Casbeer and family.

If you people want to hear some good music just come over some night when our "string band" is serenading like they did Friday night. Band consists of Mr. and Mrs. Moore, Houston Kuykendall, Aaron Stacy and Joe Adams. Clyde Featherston and wife and Miss Homan accompanied them Friday night and they played at all the houses on the road around here, which was certainly enjoyed. Most of the places served cake to the serenaders and one place gave them pecans. So I guess they were well paid for their music.

A great shock and sorrow to our community was the death of Mrs. Jim Elder on the fifth of October. Her death was unexpected to both friends and relatives. She had lived in our midst since before her marriage and we all had learned to love her. We ask that God's blessings may be upon the bereaved in their sorrow.

Mrs. Bina Oquin, Evelyn Covington and Mr. English of Fort Worth spent the week end visiting relatives in this community. They all returned to Fort Worth Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Walter Simpson visited Mrs. J. M. Stacy Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Willie Smith visited Mrs. B. R. Casbeer one afternoon last week.

Ray Davis visited in the Willis Hill home a few minutes Saturday morning.

Mrs. M. L. Casbeer and children visited with Mrs. Clyde Featherston one day last week.

Mrs. J. M. Stacy was sick last week. She took a good dose of alum, so she would get well.

Travis Griffin nad Willis Hill started working on the highway the first of the week.

Will Horton spent Wednesday night with M. L. Casbeer.

Ben Casbeer and Elam Horton spent the week end with relatives. Ben returned to Anson Sunday night and Elam went to Caradan to make his home with his uncle, Vestus Horton.

Travis Griffin nad Willis Hill started working on the highway the first of the week.

Will Horton spent Wednesday night with M. L. Casbeer.

Ben Casbeer and Elam Horton spent the week end with relatives. Ben returned to Anson Sunday night and Elam went to Caradan to make his home with his uncle, Vestus Horton.

ROSE BUD

CARD OF THANKS

We are indeed grateful to our friends for their kindness to our dear wife and mother during her illness and their thoughtfulness and sympathy for us after her passing away. Everything possible was done for her and every kindness that could be desired was shown us. Beautiful flowers were also provided for the home and the funeral, all of which were sincerely appreciated.

THE GOLDFTHWAITE EAGLE

R. V. Littlepage and family visited relatives at Dublin last Sunday.

J. J. Witty of Star transacted business in this city the early part of the week.

G. F. Fox of the Rye Valley section looked after business in the city last Saturday.

Rev. J. D. Long of Center Point was a pleasant caller at the Eagle office Tuesday.

Most farmers report having completed picking their cotton. A few yet have some to pick.

J. E. Perkins of Star was a business visitor to the city Saturday and called at the Eagle office.

Miss Sybil Guthrie, one of the efficient Mullin teachers, was an appreciated caller at the Eagle office Monday.

Mrs. W. M. Hodges and other members of her family were visitors to the city from the Monday section Saturday.

Judge J. C. Darroch and wife came over from Brownwood Saturday and remained with relatives until Monday afternoon.

Look over the list of subscription offers in this issue and may be there will be some combination that just suits you. If so, we will appreciate your order.

There were eighteen at Sunday school Sunday morning. The B. Y. P. U. program was fine Sunday night.

Saturday night Bro. Swanner from town preached a very interesting sermon. Those who accompanied him and his wife out were Mrs. Sallie Rudd and Mrs. Frank Bowman and children.

Sunday night Bro. Tolliver preached a good sermon.

We won't have our Saturday morning church, but Bro. Tolliver will preach Saturday night and the pastor will be here Sunday.

School opened here Monday with fourteen present. Mrs. Lilian Miller is the teacher. This is her third term.

Monday night the president and the social committee of the B. Y. P. U. entertained in honor of Rudolph Cooke and Daley Sullivan, who left Wednesday to join the C. C. C. camp at Lampasas. I guess everybody had a good time, as it was a laugh from start to finish. We wish for these two boys a good time on this trip. We also hope they can stay well and are real good boys and can do the work that is required of them. They hope they can go to California or Florida.

Those who visited in W. A. Daniel's home Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Will Dennard and grand daughters, Jacqueline, Reta, and Kathryn Dennard from Big Valley, Abigail Stark and wife and son and Mrs. Whitt from Rabbit Ridge, Mrs. Gus Roush from town and Mmes. J. M. Traylor, J. R. Davis and J. T. Robertson.

Mrs. Ottis Allen and son and Miss Eva Cook from town called in the Nickols home late Saturday afternoon.

NEWS FLASHES

In a burst of indignation, 36 professors of the University of Mexico revenged themselves on class-skipping students Wednesday by resigning in a body.

The treasury Wednesday issued a call for $1,875,000,000 of the fourth Liberty loan bond issue. The issue totals more than $6,000,000. At the same time a new issue of 12 year bonds was announced.

The reconstruction corporation has allocated $250,000,000 to the commodity credit corporation to be used for loans on cotton placed in warehouses by farmers. The money is to be used to discount notes taken by banks which advance money to farmers on their cotton when it is warehoused.

Exemption from NRA codes and the president's re-employment agreement for employers of ten or less persons in small towns will be provided in the near future, it is learned on good authority. Action probably will be taken in the form of an executive order by President Roosevelt. This will affect several million workers. As now prepared by officials, the ruling means that small employers in towns of less than 2500 or possibly 5000 persons, will not be called upon to live up to the codes now drawn or the NRA agreements they signed to get the blue eagle.

The principal argument advanced for the proposal is that small employers are being seriously handicapped financially by the code program and are unable to make appreciable additions to their payrolls.

Purchase of $15,000,000 worth of butter and beef for relief purposes was announced from Washington at the offices of the federal relief administrator, acting in co-operation with Secretary Wallace. The purchase and distribution are to be managed by federal surplus relief corporation. The plan is to remove from the market surpluses of butter and to buy enough beef cattle to take care of relief needs and at the same time help cattle producers. Not less than 2,000,000 pounds of butter per week or 9,000,000 pounds per month are to be purchased. The treasury department, it was announced, has approved an allocation to the farm administration of $10,000,000 for the purchase of butter. Additional funds will be supplied from federal emergency relief funds, and thru processing taxes.

Two Lovely Lamps in A New Fabric

HERE are two lovely lamps in vase or milk glass. The shade is made from a new woven fabric, and balls are of white cotton making a design suitable for a modern or Colonial room.

The other lamp is in brown and is also used for draperies, wall coverings, furniture, upholstery, table covers and decorations.

At the left is shown a lamp with a maize colored shade, its long oval base re-created out of an old Bristol

Color Important In New Classic Modern Interior Mode

In the new classic modern mode, which best describes the furniture and house furnishings on display in the most comprehensive exhibition of house interiors now shown in New York, colors in new and interesting combinations play a significant part. Ivory, mother of pearl, soft shades of greys, blue chartreuse green and beige, combined with deeper tans, rich browns and hennas, are carried out in carpets, wall coverings, drapes and upholstery. Done in a manner which emphasizes our modern simplicity of line and, at the same time, retains the more gracious lines of the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries, the result is pleasing and practical. An interesting group in this exhibition features a semi-circular dining room table which can be placed against the wall or even against a window. Occasional chairs in this group are covered with a chartreuse rayon fabric.

In this classic modern interpretation which characterizes still another New York exhibition of furniture and house furnishings, neutral greys, coppers, rust, ivory and cool shades of blues are featured in drapes, upholstery and wall coverings. A charming bedroom is done in rusty and copper colored tones. There is also a liveable sun porch with lacquered furniture and practical pillows in lacquered fabrics—these in white, henna and brown shades.

Raincoats Show English Influence in Fabric and Styling

The English influence, which marks the smartest of casual clothes in the mode, is seen in the more distinctive raincoats of the season. A raincoat is no longer just a raincoat. As seen this fall in smart tweed waterproofed materials with swagger, youthful lines, it is a country day-coat for rain or shine. There are new models in corduroy, crepe de chine and rayon fabrics—also waterproofed—carried out in neat belted styles with high buttoned side closings.

Decidedly practical and favored by school girls are the new models in pig grain finish fabrics, some of which have a soft fleece finish on the back, which makes for warmth. Big Patch pockets and composition buttons further characterize most of these models.

Costume Jewelry — A Dramatic Touch In the Mode

Catching the mood of today's mode, which emphasizes direct simple line and sumptuous effects, costume jewelry takes on a new fashion significance. Some of the smartest new pieces now shown in New York shops are of American design—these including the massive yet very lightweight Romanesque jewelry in combinations of metal and plastic composition, often displayed in sets of bracelet with matching clip and bar pin for the scarf or collar.

The new Indian dancing jewelry—a clever and amusing interpretation of an East Indian motif featuring little silver metal

DEPOSITS LIQUIDATION

The new deposit liquidation board, organized to speed distribution of depositors' funds tied up in closed banks, announced after its initial meeting this week that it hopes to advance $1,000,000,000, to depositors during the next few months. Jesse H. Jones, chairman of the RFC revealed that the board will perform identical functions with the new deposit insurance corporation established by congress to begin functioning early next year.

DIZZINESS relieved by Black-Draught

"I decided to take Thedford's Black-Draught, as I had been having bilious spells," writes Mr. Charles E. Stevens, of Columbus, Ind. "When I get bilious, I feel sleepy and tired and do not feel like doing my work. It is hard to tell how I feel, but I do not feel good. I get awfully dizzy. I know then that I had better take something. After I found how good Black-Draught is, that is what I have used. I guess it ride me of the bile, for I feel better—don't feel like I am dropping off to sleep every time I sit down. That to me, is a very bad feeling."

Now you can get Black-Draught in the form of a SYRUP, for Coughs.

A state law requires all butchers to file with the county clerk a description of the animals killed, and failure to do so is punishable by heavy fine.

In addition, a peddler of beef not raised by himself, must pay an occupation tax.

All shops in the city are carefully inspected by the State Health department and kept in a sanitary condition. Naturally the state department does not and can not oversee local peddlers, hence it is necessary that the City Ordinance be enforced to insure sanitary merchandise.

If you buy meat from a peddler ask him if he has complied with the City Ordinance providing for the sale of healthy meat.

NOTICE TO MEAT PEDDLERS

All peddlers of meat in the City of Goldthwaite are required to comply with city ordinance regulating such occupations. Their attention is respectfully called thereto.

AN OLD CITIZEN DEAD

Mrs. N. E. Adair, aged 78 years, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. H. Nelson, in Big Valley Wednesday morning at three o'clock, after a long illness, and her remains were laid to rest in the Lower Big Valley cemetery Wednesday afternoon at four o'clock, a large company of the friends of the deceased lady and her family attending the sad service and offering sympathy to the bereaved.

Mrs. Adair made her home in Big Valley a long time, but of late years has lived with her son at Garland, Dallas county. She only recently came back to Mills county to spend her last days, realizing that the end was near. She is survived by two sons, Harman and Clyde Adair of Dallas county and two daughters, Mrs. L. C. Clary of Weinert and Mrs. W. H. Nelson of Big Valley. She is also survived by a number of grandchildren and other relatives and a host of friends in Mills county and elsewhere, all of whom sympathize with the bereaved family.
