Trades Day For April

One week from next Monday will be trades day in Goldthwaite the date being April 16. It is expected that there will be considerable preparation for the event by the business section of the town, while many from other communities will be here with their trading stock and with property of various kinds to be sold or exchanged. A trades day event is profitable in many ways and helps to provide an opportunity for people to exchange property they do not need for what they do need. Already this trades day event is attracting attention from a distance as well as at home and the third Monday is a busy time in Goldthwaite.

BASEBALL

The initial game for Goldthwaite in the Hill Country League was won by Richland Springs Sunday, after a most hectic nine innings of play. Heavy hitting was featured by both teams. Goldthwaite, playing their first game of the season against a team which had already defeated Brady and San Saba in two practice games, gave an unusual display of superior baseball. For several innings the game apparently was in the bag for Goldthwaite and after that time the result was in doubt until the final toss out.

Fireworks began in the first inning, when McLean led off with a smashing line drive into center field for two bases. Heath, next up, drove a single past third. Hamilton was out, pitcher to first. Nettleship was safe on error. Littlepage and Blackwell singled in order, filling the bases. Wilcox then proceeded to do what Babe Ruth would have done in a like circumstance. Liking the first toss offered he drove the ball far into center field for a circuit clout, clearing the bases and ending the scoring for the first inning with a total of six runs, five hits and one error.

Richland went scoreless until the third inning, when a walk, an error and a single accounted for one run. By scoring one run in the fourth and seven runs in the fifth, Richland forged ahead by three runs, after exchanging the lead in the seventh.

With hits becoming quite frequent and runs scored accordingly, the two Hill Country representatives rocked along, with Richland leading in the first half of the ninth by a score of 14 to 15. A gallant rally by Goldthwaite in the ninth fell short and the first game of the Hill Country League was left with Richland Springs.

Much credit should be given our home boys for their showing in this their first game, and it is evident that Goldthwaite will finish the season near the top of the percentage column.

Bruce Hitt, playing his first game in a Goldthwaite uniform, pitched a very creditable game as well as driving out three hits in five appearances at the plate. Nettleship, another new recruit, and former Richland Springs star, also gave a creditable account of himself. Wilcox, with a home run and two singles, was the outstanding star of the day, both with the bat and in fielding.

The two teams meet again at Fair Park here Sunday, April 8. A moderate price will be charged for admission, which will go to help defray expenses of the team. Come out, boost your home team and you will be assured of seeing a ball game well worth your time and will help Goldthwaite finish the season on top of the percentage column. REPORTER

COMMISSIONERS COURT

Judge Patterson, who was confined to his home by sickness for several weeks, is now able to be up and in his office and it is expected he will be able to preside over the coming term of the commissioners court.

Methodist Notes

The Methodist folk had a fine day Sunday. At the morning hour we had Easter music and an Easter sermon. The service was greatly enjoyed by the large congregation present. The Sunday school was at its best. The offering for Kingdom extension was good.

The pageant, "Bearing the Cross," staged by the young people at the evening service Sunday was of the highest order. All have spoken of it as the best that we have ever had in the church. This is a very strong commendation, as we have often had fine services of this kind. The young people and those who trained them deserve great credit for their work of love in presenting it.

The revival services started Monday evening. Rev. John N. McKay, pastor at Kerrville, as formerly announced, is doing the preaching and the song service is led by Mr. Victor Harrison of Whiteright. Brother McKay is a good preacher. He is different from what we usually have in such meetings. His sermons are entirely free of all sensationalism. They are simple, helpful gospel sermons that appeal to the intelligence and heart of the hearer. He is well worth hearing and those who attend every service will be well repaid.

Mr. Harrison is a good song leader and his work among the young people is of the highest order.

Let the entire town give its earnest support to the meeting, and attend both morning and evening services. Send your children and the young people to the services held for them by Mr. Harrison. If you do this you will have nothing to regret. Remember that the devil and all his agencies are making a strong bid for our young people. Not only so, but he is succeeding in his scheme. As an example, look at the condition of our country, and the terrorism that is rapidly enthraling us in the meshes of banditry and all manner of crime. The church and that for which it stands is the one remedy to save us from anarchy. It is Christ and that for which He stands or else social chaos. Which shall it be?

The daily press carries the information that the wife of Rev. Edwin H. Hunter, a former presiding elder of this district, has passed on to her reward. This is in some sense, a personal bereavement to this writer. While I never knew her intimately, Bro. Hunter is an old friend. He was a member of a church of which I was pastor in Missouri, when he was but an eight year old boy. His many friends in this section of the state will join in sympathy and condolence to him and his son in this day of bereavement.

We were glad to note the presence of Bro. Vall Sherman, pastor of our church at San Saba, in the audience Tuesday night. Bro. Sherman will always have a welcome among us. He is one of our younger preachers who is succeeding in the pastorate. Bro. Brown and his wife of Center City circuit have been attending the services. We regret very much that they can not continue to attend. They are to go to Mason to teach in a training class under the church board of Christian education for a few days.

The Methodist folk are glad to have the aid of members of the choirs of the other churches in town to aid in the music at the meeting. When the singers of the town unite in the song service at any meeting it means singing up to the very best.

P. T. A. PROGRAM

Program for Tuesday, April 10. Devotional led by Mrs. Bowles. Piano solo—Aileen Martin. Reading—Mary Margaret Bigam. Transaction of business. All patrons are urged to be present. XX

School Election Held Saturday

The various school districts of the county will elect one or more members of their school boards Saturday and it is important that all who have interest in the schools go to the polls and vote. If there is a contest for the members of the board, it is important that the best men and women possible be selected—those who take an interest in the schools. If there is no contest then it is but right that the members to be elected or re-elected have the endorsement of the voters of the school district, for it encourages them in their efforts for the school.

Go to the polls and vote Saturday, if you have interest in the welfare of the school.

FARM SURVEY

The local relief office has just received instructions from Adam R. Johnson, director of the Texas relief commission to arrange for and conduct a voluntary survey in Mills county for the purpose of ascertaining the number of vacant farm dwellings in the county that might be leased from owners for occupancy by displaced farmers, or those who desire to farm who are now on the relief rolls, for 1934 and 1935. Sample survey blanks have been sent by the state relief office for use. It has been suggested to the local relief office that in planning the survey it would doubtless speed up matters greatly and add materially to the efficiency and accuracy of the quick canvass to invite those persons acquainted with the citizenship of the various communities of the county to meet in conference at the earliest date possible for the purpose of selecting three or more public spirited reliable citizens in each community who are well acquainted with the various farms and farmers in the community, and who will be willing to voluntarily assemble the data required. The state department requests that those who are asked to serve on this committee do so, as they will be rendering a service to their government in an emergency, and in connection with a matter that probably will bring additional employment and improvement to their community.

During the time that the local relief office is organizing for this survey and securing the proper forms, the local administrator, E. B. Gilliam, Jr., asks that all farmers and persons owning farms who would be interested in entering into an agreement with the government, whereby they would furnish a plot of land for the period of 1934-35, whereon is located a vacant house to call at the relief office and fill out a form giving the following particulars:

1. How many dwellings on farm?
2. How many rooms in vacant house?
3. Repairs needed to make vacant house livable.
4. Estimate of total cost of labor and material to repair house.
5. General condition of out-houses and fences.
6. Water supply.
7. Acres in cultivation.
8. Type of soil.
9. Availability of fire wood.
10. Provided the emergency relief administration will furnish the needed repairs to the house and outbuildings and premises, and construct a pit privy, check the list below that the landlord will furnish free for 1934-35: House rent; plot for garden; water; wood; barn; hen house; cow lot; pasture; few acres for feed; would landlord agree to do necessary plowing on tenant's subsistence plot to be repaid by labor of tenant? Would landlord agree to sign a lease provided occupant agreed to maintain buildings and premises in good repair?

Good Rains Fall

A very beneficial rain fell here Wednesday night and yesterday and it came just at the right time and in the right way. A total of approximately 3 inches fell during the time and falling slow most of it went into the ground, giving the maximum benefit. At the time the Eagle was put to press there was indication of more rain, which will be gladly received, while there has now been plenty for immediate needs and to put a season in the ground for plowing and cotton planting. Many farmers have corn up and growing, which will be greatly benefitted by this rain.

Reports of heavy rains in the west have been received and there was a report of a heavy downpour at San Saba and in that vicinity. Parties came in yesterday and reported having been unable to cross the San Saba river near the fair grounds and they came back here and went to Lometa, expecting to reach San Saba via Red Bluff bridge.

The Santa Fe lost some track west of Mullin by high water, but it was repaired during the night without serious interference with train schedules.

Rain was badly needed in some parts of the west where it fell Wednesday night. No reports have been received here from the plains country, where it has been very dry for several months and it is hoped this rain reached that section.

CARS REGISTERED

A very few car owners in Mills county waited for the extension of time to secure their highway license. Most of them paid before the expiration of the time limit and, hence did not require the time limit allowed by the last legislature. The extension allowed until midnight April 1 to pay.

For 1933 there were registered for the entire year, 1507 cars and 258 trucks in the county. However, up to the dead line for payment last year there had been 1106 cars and 128 trucks registered. Up to the dead line this year there had been 1237 cars and 150 trucks registered, which shows an increase for this year over last year in both cars and trucks.

DOING WELL

A highly appreciated letter from Mrs. John M. Scott of Buffalo brings the good news that she and Prof. Scott are doing nicely with their school work and she is now busily engaged in coaching a school play to be presented April 20. They have made some very helpful improvements on the school plant and grounds by aid of the CWA and are just completing a teacherage for the Scotts to occupy and Mrs. Scott is thrilled over that program. Mr. and Mrs. Scott, John Linn and Miss Norma Elizabeth will all be in the State University this summer. Mrs. Scott has been invited to become a member of the National Educational society with the notation that her distinguished service to the cause of education entitles her to the honor. Miss Norma Elizabeth is still in Baylor college, Belton, but has the offer of a position in a large school near Buffalo for next term.

The Mills county friends of the Scott family send greetings to them.

TREES AND SHRUBS

Gratifying indeed, has been the response of Goldthwaite citizens to the native tree, shrub and flower project of the Art and Civic club. The chairman of the civic committee, Mrs. Lewis Gartman, has received reports of 178 trees and shrubs and 35 flowers transplanted and one pound of bluebonnet seed sown. MEMBER

A CLOSE CALL

R. F. McDermott had a close call from being struck by lightning Wednesday night, during the thunder storm. He was seated near his radio in his suburban home, when lightning shocked him and knocked him prone on the floor, but injured him very slightly. His shoulder and back showed the result of the experience, as did the sole of one foot. It was more a shock than a stroke, but he does not care to renew the experience. He was able to be up Thursday morning and attending to his business as usual.

Baptist Reminder

We will observe the Lord's Supper Sunday morning, I shall endeavor at the 11 o'clock hour to discuss Baptist's interpretation of the New Testament teaching on this subject.

I am interested in every class in our Sunday school. I have a peculiar interest in the young men's class, since I am the teacher. Last Sunday morning I experienced one of the greatest thrills since I came to Goldthwaite, when we had 22 present. Come and join a class if you are not in a Sunday school. We guarantee satisfaction or refund your money.

We will have our B. T. S. as usual at 6:30 Sunday evening, and get out in ample time to attend the Methodist revival. You will profit by hearing these messages. The preacher preaches with conviction and says something. He not only preaches against sin, but against sins.

Refreshments will be served and a valuable attendance prize given away during the course of the program. The public is invited to attend.

Miss Williams is a graduate economist and has long been associated with the famous Kellogg according to Sammy Smith, local manager. She has appeared before large audiences in all parts of the country and is an authority on problems of etiquette and home management.

SELF CULTURE CLUB

Mrs. R. M. Thompson was hostess to the Self Culture Club last Thursday. Lovely snapdragons and ferns were used about the rooms. This being the last meeting for our president, Mrs. R. E. Clements, to preside, she was presented a lovely gift, by Mrs. J. H. Randolph, from the club.

Mrs. Clements, in her gracious way, accepted the gift and thanked the club for their cooperation during the past year and assured the incoming president, Mrs. R. M. Thompson, the same hearty co-operation as always exists in the Self Culture Club.

The club voted to have our annual entertainment sometime in April.

After the business meeting several guests arrived for an interesting program led by Mrs. A. H. Smith.

Mrs. W. E. Miller and Mrs. J. H. Saylor gave papers on Tennyson's early life, also his life in London.

Mrs. J. C. Evans, Mrs. Eli Fairman and Mrs. J. H. Randolph had papers on the Arthurian Legend.

After the completion of the program we were ushered into the dining room and from a beautifully laid table, we were served coffee, cake and Easter mints.

Mrs. Thompson was assisted in the serving by Mrs. Randolph, Mrs. Clements and Miss Lucille Conro. REPORTER

BROWNWOOD ELECTION

A good many Goldthwaite and Mills county people were interested in the municipal election in Brownwood Tuesday and reports say there was an unusual heavy vote polled. W. H. Thompson was elected mayor, which office carries with it that of city manager. Bert Hise was re-elected city marshal, a position he has held for several terms. He was sheriff of Brown county two terms and is pretty well known in this county, where he has a number of friends.

City Election

Quiet Affair

The voting in the city election Tuesday was much heavier than could have been expected, when it is realized there was but one ticket and everybody has full confidence in the ability and integrity of those officers who stood for re-election. There was a total of 130 votes cast and the officers elected were: H. G. Bodkin, mayor; S. P. Sullivan and S. P. Rahl, aldermen; F. P. Bowman, attorney, secretary, assessor and collector; Grover Dalton, treasurer.

NEW RELIEF SET-UP

Austin, Texas, March 31, 1934.

The complete termination of CWA activities on April 1, will place the burden of supplying relief to indigent families of Texas on the shoulders of the following programs to be conducted by the Texas relief commission: Work Division (work relief), Direct Relief, The Subsistence Homesteads and the Rural Rehabilitation Projects.

The successful carrying out of these programs in Mills county has entailed the creation and installation, by the auditing department of the Texas relief commission, of a materially changed accounting system. The new system, known as the Donnell installed system of relief accounting, was made under the supervision of George R. Donnell, auditor of the commission.

Of particular interest in the new set-up is the new "work relief" card which will enable the person to work division activities. Those unemployed, who are actually destitute and are physically able to work, after a thorough investigation has been made definitely establishing their relief needs, will be given the opportunity to work and earn up to their estimated relief needs requirements. This work card is so designed as to limit the payrolls to the actual relief requirements for each particular individual employed. Pay to persons not eligible for relief, or to relief clients in excess of the requirements of the individual family will not be approved in Austin. The new work card, though simple in form, will permit the definite placing of responsibility and indicate who is at fault, if a client is allowed to earn from relief funds more than his relief budget requirements.

Staff Auditor, Fred B. Triplett of the Texas relief commission has announced, after a conference with County Relief Administrator Ed Gilliam, Jr., of the Mills county relief board, that a thorough study had been made of Mills county relief problems and the new system installed. W. A. Bayley will take charge of the new set-up here effective April 1, as certifying officer, under E. B. Gilliam, Jr., administrator. The new relief set-up to be used in this county has the specific approval of Washington officials, and it is believed that Kansas and Oklahoma, who recently sent officials to Austin to confer with state relief officials and to study the Texas relief accounting set-up, may install this system in the relief work in their own respective states.

Chief Auditor Donnell emphasizes that this is a relief program, not a project program. Under the CWA, group employment was provided which approximated current business wages, whereas the present relief program can only supply relief to the destitute. When this building of roads, school house construction or other projects takes the place of the first objective, that of giving relief, the relief program has gone astray, and such expenditures constitute an erroneous expenditure of funds according to the terms of the relief acts under which relief funds are made available.

STYLES IN NEW YORK

Rayon Fabrics Important In Easter Showing

New rayon fabrics, including taffetas, failles, crepes, satins, tweedy-looking novelties and prints in floral, geometric, polka dot, script, checks, stripes and various other designs, are decidedly the fore in New York Easter displays. And these carried out in up to the minute stylings—jacket frocks, redingotes, and the various interpretations of the Japanese influence, including the straight-hanging tunic as stressed not only by Mainbocher and Molyneux, but by some of the outstanding American designers of smart dress. First in importance for Easter wear is the short jacket suit in soft woollens or heavy silk and rayon crepes and failles, in navy, black and brown vying in style interest with these materials in checks and tweedy effects. And for these chic suits with their straight slim lines there are blouses in silk and rayon crepes, satins, taffeta laces, nets and prints—all featured in vivid colors, as well as in white and new pastel shades. For the monotone suit, the print blouse with matching jacket lining is a style favorite, as is the taffeta blouse in checks or stripes, and these always with interesting neckline including ripply, high tie, scarf and other "movement" stylings. The soft woolen redingote over a rayon print frock is another Easter favorite, and very distinctive are those with upper part carried out in the new bolero effect. Tunic frocks stressed particularly for evening just now and noted in these various new spring fabrics are particularly favored in prints featuring Oriental design. They are often accented by a brilliant Oriental touch—such as red lacquered buttons or facing of kimono-like sleeves.

Ensembled Accessories for Easter Costume

The companionable influence is so strong in the mode this season it is safe to say that, in the line—hat, shoes, handbag, gloves, belt, scarf and perhaps costume jewelry—not only determines, but fairly suggests the costume. New York shops are showing these accessory ensembles often with suggested frocks or suits for their background. For the navy vogue of the moment, there are dozens of interesting accessory groupings carried out in red, including patent leather and lacquered fabrics. For the beige, sand and wheat frocks, there are rich brown accessories in these patent leather and lacquered fabrics—these groupings often including the patent leather shoe with matching lacquered hat trim.

British Trend In Dress

Despite all the talk about dressy clothes, it's the tailored suit that is favored by New York's smartly dressed women for the cocktail hour, and this in accord with British customs in dress. The tailored jacket suit of soft wool, silk and rayon, heavy failles and crepes in black, navy or brown, and worn with blouse of satin, crepe or taffeta in white, pastel or vivid shades, seems favored for these occasions. Another smart ensemble noted at smart cafes and restaurants at the evening hour, is the long coat over a dark crepe frock with lingerie touches. A prize winner at a recent New York fashion show was a full length coat of soft wide wale corduroy worn over a simple crepe frock. The coat was of soft grey-beige with the blown-forward silhouette. The frock was dark brown and matching dark brown accessories—hat, handbag and shoes. The dark brown accent was carried still further through large buttons and patent leather belt of the coat.

Bridal Headdress Marks

New York Hat Showing

Hats for brides, bridesmaids and wedding guests—not only for the wedding but for various social activities attendant upon weddings—were featured in the recent spring showing given by the Lieberts of LaMode Chez Tappe. Brims—wide and narrow with new dips and tilts—berets, tricorne and Dutch bonnets carried out in a variety of new fabrics, including shiny straws, taffeta, organza, pig grain, prints and an interesting new cord, were all featured. The bridal hat in Dutch bonnet styling and made of white mulline, with orange blossoms in tiny spray at forehead, and outlining the front of a waist-length veil, complemented effectively the long-trained gown of cream satin in which was further accented by a small muff of orange blossoms carried by the bride and substituting the proverbial bouquet. Color was introduced through costumes of the attendants—the gown of the maid of honor which was in ashes of roses, be-matched by a large hat of this color with green and rose flower back trim, the bridesmaid wearing a Watteau shepherdess hat of green organza and matching a gown of green chiffon. Hats of wedding guests and of the bride for travel, hotel and restaurant dining stressed dark colors—black and navy for many and these often accented by touches of white or color.

Easter Gloves—New Fabrics

Suede glace kid, doeskin and various silk and rayon fabrics including satin, faille, crepe, moire and prints, to say nothing of the summery linen and cotton fabrics—nets, organzas and the rest—are all noted in gloves this season. For sports and general wear, the handsewn doeskin slip-on is a style favorite with suede for late afternoon, while for tailored evening and restaurant dining there is the new Chanel ten button moire with suede palm, and for formal day time and evening, moire as well as the glace kid. For afternoon occasions, there are gloves with gauntlets in prints, white pique, silks and rayons and the various newer fabrics. These afternoon models often match the hat or scarf. Interesting stitching treatments are noted on many of the smartest gloves. There are also as kid and organdy. Some of the newer gauntlet stylings feature pipings and appliques in contrasting colors.

Easter Handbags in New Styles

Whether one chooses the large Vionnet bracelet bag, Patou's roll top bag, Schiaparelli's skirt bag, the new double strap swag-bag, the Viennese bag, the oblong portfolio, the Chanel two part frame or bags with streamline frame in the manner of De Ravenal, they are all to be found in New York shops in smart leathers, grains and fabrics and in the season's colors. Patent leather calf and lacquered fabrics are favored, as is also a new ribbon-grained leather which is featured in the Vionnet bracelet styling, also in the bar model of Patou, and in the Schiaparelli skirt bag—the latter resembling somewhat a skirt slightly wider at bottom than top and with three tiers—one above the other. Navy, red, black, brown and clay are important among colors—with white for later in the season.

Style Briefs

We now come to Westerns in fashions—stunning hats—a la desperado—boxy jackets with Indian belts—Indian inspiration in costume jewelry—these and other trends that will loom more on the fashion horizon when the summer trek starts to the dude ranch.

Gold color metal furniture is a smart new note for the summer home, brought out by a de luxe New York shop which is featuring for upholstery and curtains this spring striking new shades of old colors—clear yellow, dead red carnation, moonlight grey golden brown and old Chinese blue.

Accordion pleating, carried out in capes, collar, sleeves and some times skirts, is a high style point in the mode.

Some of the very smartest suits in New York shops have wide revers and frills. Very flattering is this type of suite in heavy crinkled crepe, with flat white crepe blouse featuring a double frill down the front.

Almost any frock looks crisp and dressy with the new Victorian frill collar and cuffs in mousseline de sole, taffeta, crepe organdy, nets and laces.

ROCK SPRINGS

Sunday was a fine Easter Sunday, and it was also April Fool day. There were some who played April fool with somebody. They went to Sunday school, so I guess they were April fooled.

There wasn't any B. Y. P. U. Sunday night. It looks like this place will soon be off the map along that line. Everybody get up next Sunday morning in the mood to go to Sunday school. Also B. Y. P. U. Sunday night.

Don't forget Center Point will have singing Sunday afternoon. They have their new song books. Go hear some new songs and good singing.

Rock Springs was well represented at the free show last Wednesday afternoon. Some liked it so well they went back that night.

Louie Ponder and James Nickols doctored sheep for R.C. Webb Friday.

Mrs. Eula Nickols called in the Lewis Hudson home in town last Tuesday.

The loss of goats wasn't so bad in this community last week end. Rudolph Cooke's fine horse died last week. They didn't know there was anything wrong with it until they found it dead.

Marion Robertson's car broke down as he was leaving the play at Big Valley Friday night, so Saturday he had a job fixing it. No one was hurt, but it ran into a deep ditch. Bernice T aylor got very excited when it happened.

Claud Holley and wife from Gonzales spent from Saturday night until Monday morning in the Nickols home. Sunday Mr. Holley had business in San Angelo, so Philip, James and Shirley Nickols and Homer Doggett went with him. They left at one and were back by eight. These Chevrolet cars can get over the road fast. They reported a good time.

John Roberts and wife attended church at the Baptist church in town Sunday night.

Ben Davis and family dined Sunday in Almos McGowan's home at Rabbit Ridge. They also visited with Mrs. Nolan West and children from Coleman.

OLD NINEVEH

Give history plenty of time, and it can create some shifts in its never-ending pageant that will leave you gasping.

It may take thousands of years, but in the end—from the standpoint of ironic contrast—the results are worth it.

There are, for instance, those Assyrian refugees who are about to start on a long migration from the land of their ancestors to a colony along the upper reaches of the Amazon, in Brazil.

These people, a mere handful, have been living in what is now the country of Iraq. They are among the most luckless and put-on of modern peoples. Last summer many of them were massacred by neighboring tribes and only action of the League of Nations saved them from complete ruin.

Now, under league auspices, a spot has been found for them in Brazil, and they are to be there en masse as soon as arrangements can be finished.

And all this surely is one of the strangest twists that the pageant of history ever has taken.

For these people are the surviving descendants of the Assyrians of the old—the Assyrians who made their name mighty in the east, who built great Nineveh, swept down like destroying angels of such folks as the Israelites, and stood for the power and glory of temporal greatness in all its splendor.

That was unimaginably long ago. The great city of Nineveh is a heap of sand and clay, now; the canals which with the Assyrians turned the bare plains of Asia Minor into garden spots dried up and disappeared centuries ago; the very name of what once was the most powerful nation in the world has become covered with dust, so that it sounds unreal and very far-off when we read about it in our Bible or our history books.

And here astoundingly, is a fragment of that far-away time surviving in the twentieth century—a pitiable, harassed fragment, saved from complete extinction only by the League of Nations, and exiled to a far-off

CULBERSON DEAL

Culberson Deal of San Angelo, who announced his candidacy for Congress from the new 21st district in the columns of this newspaper recently, has begun an active campaign in the district, having resigned his position as manager of the Board of City Development and the San Angelo Fat Stock Show April 1. In submitting his candidacy to the voters of this county, he says—

"I have been a resident of this district since I was seven years old. During all of this time, with the exception of the World War, when I volunteered for service, I have been in constant touch with the people, and the problems of this area. It has been my pleasure to help, in my humble way, in all movements for the betterment of all interests and all classes."

"When the depression came upon the country and the very backbone of our territory, ranching and stock-farming, was fighting for existence I helped lead the successful campaign for government financing institutions, such as the Regional Agricultural Credit Corporation, to be placed where they rightfully belong, in the very midst of those needing help."

"Firmly convinced that better bred livestock would pay dividends, I have always been an active supporter of any movement that would lend encouragement. Particularly have I been interested in the youth of the district, in helping to promote their projects in the selection and fitting of quality livestock."

"Likewise I have been acutely alert to the problems of the unemployed, striving at all times to assist in every possible way to their relief, taking part in the first movement to bring funds to my immediate vicinity, and always assisting in providing worth while work projects for their employment."

"Believing that transportation facilities play a vital part in the development of any country, I have worked diligently for good roads, for additional railroads, and with the coming of air travel, for landing fields and air lines."

"A firm believer in a 'government of the people, by the people and for the people,' I shall at all times, if elected, seek the council and advice of the citizens of this district without respect to class, and be ever alert to protect and work for their varied interests in matters concerning their welfare, and for the good of the district as a whole! With no other interests to take even a part of my time, I shall be representing the people twelve months in the year."

Mr. Deal was born in Angellina county, April 14, 1894, and moved with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. R. O. Deal, to this district in 1901. He received his high school education at Sherwood and then attended a business college at San Angelo. For several years he was engaged in the mercantile business there, leaving that three years ago to take over the management of the Board of City Development, which became, under his direction, section-wide in its activities. He has made several successful trips to Washington in behalf of landowners, wool and mohair growers and other ranchmen and farmers. The candidate is married and has two sons.

Deal left San Angelo the first of the week on a trip which will take him into every county in the district. He will continue an aggressive campaign throughout the summer.

Rockefeller Center Adds Unique Service For Tenants

By JOSEPH A. BOND

NEW YORK, N. Y.—The greatest building project of modern times has added a unique service for their tenants. It was announced at Rockefeller Center that the entire renting staff had been equipped with the Sight Meter. The use of this "light thermometer" not only for demonstrating the desirability of space at Rockefeller Center—comfort as light is concerned—also in offering the meter to tenants to help them plan their interior arrangements, is a new and worth while service. Seeing conditions in all sections of the enormous building project are as good as modern architecture and science can make them. The offices are so laid out that in the entire 70 stories of the main building, there is no space farther than twenty-seven and a half feet from a window. In stressing the importance of seeing comfortably under all conditions, the renting staff have irrefutable statistics to offer prospective tenants. A few may be listed and should prove interesting to any employer.

- 85% of what they know has come through seeing. 85% of what they are to learn will come through the use of their eyes.
  - Without good eyesight, an employee is a liability.
  - Without comfortable seeing conditions all your help has poor value.
  - An employee uses more energy in five hours in visual work than he does shoveling snow for an equal length of time.
- The renting staff at Rockefeller Center are the first to make use of the meter for office rentings and planning.

CONOCO INTRODUCES A Remarkable new MOTOR OIL

Its lower consumption and greater protection to motors proved by the most convincing test ever made!

THIS new oil has a tremendously increased "film strength"—and a penetrative oiliness to always protect your motor. The "Hidden Quart" never leaves a dry spot or a bearing without lubrication—it resists dilution—and eliminates much trouble caused by carbon and sludge.

The process which gives these exclusive new features is protected by recent U. S. patents. Conoco refines a high quality paraffin base oil and then adds the extra oiliness that is absolutely necessary to obtain the protection and low consumption every motorist should demand.

New and Improved Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil excels in the most convincing test ever made, under the supervision of the AAA Contest Board.

IN presenting New and Improved Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil you are furnished facts of performance. You will at once be convinced of the direct value of this new oil. A test so dramatic, so honest, that it will go down in history!

This test was held at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway. The Contest Board of the American Automobile Association supervised all details, thus assuring an unbiased opinion. Six new regular stock cars were delivered direct to them. They tested and measured each to obtain an equal condition in all.

Six brands of motor oil, of the same S. A. E. grade, were used. Five of them, all purchased by the AAA on the open market, were nationally known, widely recognized leaders. The other one was New and Improved Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil. All cars were then carefully broken in for 2500 miles. Five quarts, a new and complete fill, were put in each car and the crankcases sealed. Then the real battle for supremacy began. The cars were driven for as long as the motors continued to operate.

Here are the results: Oil No. 4 quit at 1713.2 miles; Oil No. 6 quit at 1764.4 miles; Oil No. 5 wrecked the motor at 1815.9; Oil No. 1 ceased its lubricative protection at 2266.8 miles; and Oil No. 3 at 3318.8 miles.

New and Improved Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil carried on to a total 4729 miles! Over three thousand miles farther than the first oil to go out, and over fourteen hundred miles farther than the final oil of the five!

It is the Germ Processing principle, only used by Conoco, that won the test. This "Hidden Quart" that lubricates all parts at all times—that stays up in your motor and never drains away. Drive into a Conoco Station or Dealer for a fill. You are getting the most in lubrication value that money can buy.

THE HIDDEN QUART
STAYS UP IN YOUR MOTOR AND NEVER DRAINS AWAY

Warning TO NEW CAR OWNERS . . .

Some car manufacturers are using new types of bearings which will stand greater pressures and temperatures, resulting from increased power and speed. New and Improved Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil has been exhaustively tested on these new bearings. The results show that it gives greater protection against damage than any straight mineral oil now on the market. Protect your new car by using the motor oil you can be sure of.

- The Representatives of the Contest Board of the AAA who supervised every detail of the test.
- Five quarts of each brand of oil were carefully put in the cars by AAA officials.
- The official sealing of crankcases after final fill of five quarts was put in.
- These were new motors before the test. They were wrecked to prove to you how to protect yours.

Grammar school News

Every one in our room worked real hard last Wednesday on the school grounds. We are real proud of our work and invite you to come to see us. You will be proud of it, too.

Baseball seems to be the swing around here now, or is it mumblepep?

Some are fixing a basketball ground for us. We did not get to play during the season, but we will make up for it now.

Friday finished our sixth month. Our grades were higher than they have been.

Billy Hightower turned in this report Monday morning:

Last night as I lay dreaming, Dreams as strange as could be I dreamed that on my card was an "A".

And, alas, 'twas only a "D".

High School News

Last Friday closed our sixth month of work. Most of the grades were fair, but a few were very unsatisfactory. You who made D's and below should be ashamed of yourselves. You are not doing yourself justice. So buckle down and raise those low grades next month.

Clean Up Day

Last Tuesday we had a clean up day. Early in the morning, people came with wagons, teams, rakes, graders, axes, grubbing hoes and other useful implements. The grounds were cleaned, raked and graded. A rock fence was erected on the north side of the campus in memory of the Mount Olive seniors.

The house was underpinned and the tennis court repaired.

Practice on Play

Practice has begun on a very interesting play, entitled, "Listen to Leon." We will tell you more about Leon later, but watch for the date!

Mildred: Elton, one time there was a man and a woman riding on a train and the man was smoking a strong pipe while the woman had a poodle dog in her lap. The woman didn't like the pipe, so she jerked it out of the man's mouth and threw it out the window. This made the man angry, so he picked the dog up and threw it out the window.

When they reached the station, they looked out the window, and saw the dog running behind the train and what do you think it had in its mouth?

Elton: The pipe, of course.

Mildred: No, it's tongue.

Easter Egg Hunt

Friday evening a large crowd gathered at the school house, forgot their dignity and hunted Easter eggs.

P. T. A. Program

A large crowd attended the P. T. A. program last Friday night. Mr. Smith and Jack Hightower tried (?) to tell us the meaning of Easter customs.

Billy Hightower, Myrl, Juanita, Lorene and Evelyn sang for us.

Miss Blackwell said one of her silly (?) readings—And Mr. Cooke, our president certainly got us told a few things.

Don't forget the date of our next P. T. A. meeting. Plans are being made for a womanless wedding. The old maids or—for Miss Blackwell's sake—we will say "girls" have done their best this winter, but that word "womanless" seems to discourage them again.

Ball Game

Sunday evening the men and boys of our community met at the school house and organized a baseball team. They had a good practice game and intend to play another team Sunday.

Miss Blackwell went home this week end, taking Myrl and Juanita with her. She visited in Richland Springs Sunday and reports a nice time. Ask Myrl and Juanita why they are so sleepy.

Goes to See Inspector

Mr. Cooke, Mr. Wilcox and family went to Brownwood Monday to see the inspector, as we were doubtful about receiving state aid, but he was pleased

LIVE OAK

We are sorry to report the death of our friend and neighbor, Mrs. Jennie Simpson, who bnee called to the bedside of his Brownwood for the past month. Her sister, Mrs. Ola James, and family from Houston attended the funeral held Monday afternoon, and returned home late Tuesday afternoon.

Miss Virginia Sampson and Dick Griffith will leave for Colorado with Mr. and Mrs. Ed Randles sometime next week. They expect to make their home there.

We are sure we will miss Virginia in our B. Y. P. U. because she has been a faithful worker in it ever since it was organized and has had charge of the Bible drills. Virginia, we wish you success and happiness in your new home.

Our B. Y. P. U. is progressing nicely. Mr. and Mrs. Welch opened their home to the young people Wednesday night. We thank them sincerely.

Mrs. Jack Allard from Columbus, Ohio, has been visiting in the C. G. Featherston home lately.

Miss Ruth and Ollie Mae Featherston visited their parents this week end.

Eugene Gray was a week end visitor in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Page.

Those who visited in the C. G. Featherston home Sunday were the following: Mr. and Mrs. Walter Simpson, Mrs. Anna Jones and daughter, Mary Martha, and Clyde Featherston of South Bennett; Eugene Gray, Elwayne Doggett, Deorval Doggett, Mrs. W. F. Kirby and boys and Mrs. Virginia McGirk of Goldthwaite; Mr. and Mrs. Will Hill and boys and Mr. and Mrs. Will Moreland of Pleasant Grove.

Mrs. Oscar Simpson visited Mrs. Featherston awhile Saturday morning.

over the improvements we have made, or Mr. Cooke and Mr. Wilcox could talk faster, for he promised us enough state aid to run an eight months school.

Hurray for our inspector!

Can You Imagine

Alvin Guess getting in a hurry? Miss Blackwell being still and quiet? Boozey Couch not warting some one? Roby Ballentine reducing? Mr. Cooke acting grown up? Annie Marie and Lewis not writing notes? Mr. Smith smiling?

Humor

"Who is the responsible person around this school?" asked a caller.

"I don't know who the responsible person is, sir," replied Miss Blackwell, "but I always get the blame."

Painting the Clouds With Sunshine

Most anyone that has a flat when it's raining. Starts to cussing and complaining, But I know a man that didn't do that; He rolled up his trousers and pulled off his hat. Then started to work changing the spare, Singing as if he didn't have a care, When everything was O. K. once again.

He says, "Oh, that's just fun — What do we care if we can't see the sun?"

Now, don't be wondering who that man was, I know you will for everyone does, Well, I'll tell you—Mr. Cooke is the man, And now just sing when you have a flat— If you can!

Primary Honor Roll

First grade: Billie Wilcox, Arvel Montgomery.

Second grade: Jack Hightower, Euna Vee Harris, Earlene McCarty, Alvis Weathers, Glendon Benningfield.

Third grade: Almeta Koen, Ruby Lee Guess, Deloyd Benningfield, Vergie Lee Koen.

Easter Egg Hunt

We had a nice Easter egg hunt Friday evening. Alvis Weathers won the prize.

Billie Wilcox is leading in the health project. Euna Vee Harris in second grade spelling and Ruby Lee Guess in the third.

Alvis Weathers and Ruby Lee Guess deserve credit for not missing a word in spelling or reading this month.

Jack and Glendon are sadder and wiser boys this week.

EBONY

DIZZINESS

relieved by Black-Draught

"I decided to take Theford's Black-Draught, as I had been having bilious spells," writes Mr. Charles E. Stevens, of Columbus, Ind. "When I get bilious, I feel sleepy and tired and do not feel like doing my work. It is hard to tell how I feel, but I do not feel good. I get awfully dizzy. I know then that I had better take something. After I found how good Black-Draught is, that is what I have used — I guess it rids me of the bile, for I feel better — don't feel like I am dropping off to sleep every time I sit down. That, to me, is a very bad feeling." Now you can get Black-Draught in the form of a SYRUP, for CHILDREN.

Advice To Sheep and Goat Raisers

If you want to make a Success out of the sheep and goat business you have got to be on the alert. If you are not prepared to take care of them through bad weather, you will soon be out of the business. 750,000 to 1,000,000 goats were lost in Texas in one night. WHY? Because they did not have the proper sheds. You can lose enough livestock in one night to pay for a dozen sheds.

Come in and let us assist you in a plan to take care of your livestock. We have plans furnished us by A. & M. College.

CARADAN

As we did not have any news from here last week we will try and let you hear from us this week. We have been having some bad weather, which caused a great loss of our goats, sheep and cattle, but here is hoping we have pretty weather for awhile.

We had a great Sunday school lesson for Sunday and Miss Kate Petsick was back with us to teach the lesson. We had a nice crowd at B. Y. P. U. Remember, that next Sunday is our church anniversary. It will be one year old. We are having all day services and dinner on the grounds. A program by our children and Bro. Jim Hays, our pastor, has two speakers for the day. So everyone is invited to come and be with us.

Chapel Program

Tuesday, April 3, the student body of Goldthwaite high school was entertained by Mr. Harrison, the evangelistic singer and leader of the young people's work at the Methodist revival. Mr. Harrison was introduced by Bro. Highsmith, pastor of the Methodist church, who first led us in prayer.

Mr. Harrison told the students that he would not lecture on "Opportunity," because when he was a boy in school every speaker that lectured took as his subject "Opportunity." Mr. Harrison did not lecture on "opportunity." He told jokes and sang two amusing numbers. However, in with the amusement, much good advice was given, and a lesson in originality, individuality and personality was taught.

It was a very good entertainment and was enjoyed by all of the students.

Freshman Party

Last Friday night, March 30, the freshman class was entertained with a kid party, given at the home of Miss Louise Gartman.

About eight o'clock the weets assembled. The little girls wore short dresses and their hair in long curls and bows and carried their dolls and playthings. The boys wore short pants and carried various toys suitable to little boys. The children were entertained with kid games until about nine-thirty. Cookies and ice cream were then served to them. After playing several games, each child gave a performance. Alice Doggett was awarded a little doll for being the cutest girl there, and Kenneth Shaw was given a little car for the cutest boy. About 11 o'clock the kids left, thanking Louise, Mrs. Gartman and Miss Gatlin for such a lovely evening.

Latin Contestants

Saturday, April 7, Forrest Hill, representing the first year Latin class; Sarah Fairman and Clara Bowman, second year Latin class, will go to Brownwood to compete in the Latin tournament. The students have been chosen from the two Latin classes as those best qualified to enter the contest and we are sure that they will come back victorious.

Entertainment

A most delightful Easter social was given Saturday, March 31, by Misses Eddie Lake Tate, Alleen Tate and Fay Canady, who are students of Howard Payne college in Brownwood.

The guests began to arrive at eight o'clock. They were given talley cards that were in tune with Easter occasion. Then the merry crowd played 42 and dominoes until almost ten o'clock.

After the games they were served an attractive plate consisting of iced tea, pear salad, sandwiches, potato chips, olives and mints.

They were entertained by the honored trio singing "Throw Another Log on the Fire" and two encores, while the refreshments were being served.

Those who enjoyed this delightful evening were Gerry Hester, Clark Huddlestone, Evelyn Gartman, Ted Kirby, Rusty Burnett, Bill Todd, Daffy Evans, Linton Pendergrass, Valerie Jones, Herman Richards, Gerie Johnson, Woody Saylor, Lizzie Fisher, J. N. Bayley, Ima Lois Bayley, Horace Gray, Donald Brim and Marvin Spence Rudd.

We were glad to have Miss Opal Collier spend the day with us last Tuesday.

The eighth graders are working on a play called "One Minute of Twelve," to be presented at the last of school.

Tiny Tot Tidings

We enjoyed our egg hunt last Friday. We followed a long trail and reading the notes which the Easter rabbit left for us to let us know that the fox was on his trail, so he must hunt a safe place to leave our eggs. After collecting the notes from hollow logs, bottles and trees, we eventually wound up at the old woodpile, where our eggs were waiting for us. Well, each took a sack of them and there was no more chattering for several minutes—can you guess why?

A PROPER RULING

Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau has issued an edict that American financiers must not participate in a loan to any country that has defaulted in its obligations to this country. This ruling is said to have the endorsement of President Roosevelt and undoubtedly is based on a proper principle. The case in point was the participation of New York bankers in a loan to France, which is being arranged by a Dutch syndicate. The matter was brought to an issue by a resolution introduced in congress by Senator Johnson of California carrying the provision and while it had not reached the stage of enactment when the ruling was made by Secretary Morgenthau, it was confidently believed both houses of congress would readily recognize the justness of such a measure. The ruling brings forcibly and bluntly before the defaulting nations of Europe the fact that the United States expects them to recognize a debt as a binding obligation and not a mere scrap of paper to be disregarded at their will and pleasure. America has been lenient and liberal with those nations who were accorded undeserved credit at the time of their extremity and several of them have made a sorry show of gratitude. This government has an unquestioned right to invoke and enforce such a rule, since the creditors would assuredly expect the government to enforce a demand for payment of these obligations. If the governmental support must be had or expected in making collections, certainly there should be some supervision of the making of the loan and some requirement as to its conditions. The contemptuous disregard of some of the war-time borrowers can not be so easily overlooked or forgotten and Mr. Morgenthau is fully justified in his position and ruling.

In the matter of extending loans to France, it is merely a matter of business judgment to refuse to allow it. The promise of the French government is below par in this country now and it would be a bad policy to allow transactions that might lead to trouble, at least for the financiers, at a later date.

CODES OPERATING

The newspaper and graphic arts (printing) codes are now in full force and all newspapers and commercial printers are operating under their requirements. The benefits or detriments of such a system need not enter into the discussion, as it is federal law and must be obeyed, so we will accept it as being to the best interest of all concerned. These codes prescribe the number of hours an employe or proprietor may actively engage in mechanical work each week and the schedule of pay for employes. They also prescribe a schedule of prices for printing and will doubtless result in benefits to the craft and the patrons alike. H. H. Jackson, owner of the Coleman Democrat-Voice, has been made administrator of the codes for the weekly papers and job printing plants in Texas in towns of less than 10,000 inhabitants. He has his office in Dallas and has committed to assist in the work. The national administrative body is located in Chicago. The expenses of the code administration will be paid by assessments on the newspapers and commercial printers under its jurisdiction. While at the outset the plan would appear to be burdensome, many who have made a close study of the plan and provisions see a great benefit to be derived by all concerned. This is possibly true and at any rate we will all hope for it to result that way.

The business has been under a blanket code since last July. But the permanent code just become effective and is mandatory in its requirements. A good many of the features are not yet understood by the average publisher, but this will all be gotten down to a thorough working basis in a short time. The conditions in a general way are not contrary to those in operation in this office and, hence, will not be hard to observe, which must be done strictly.

PROFITABLE LESSONS

The lessons learned or rather illustrated during Financial Independence Week, which was recently observed, should be of vast benefit if the public mind was properly attuned to the advice and directions. Many people do not realize the importance of economy and preparation for non-productive years until their time of life makes such realization of no effect or benefit. If the thoughts put forth by the talkers and writers on the subject—many of whom gained their knowledge from sad experience—could be impressed in the minds of the young and careless there would never come a time of need and dependence with them. The actual statistics showing the vast number of men and women who fall in their years of prosperity and productiveness to provide for a time when they can not produce for their subsistence, to say nothing of providing a surplus, should inspire in every able-bodied person a determination for economy and thrift in the years when they are capable of producing a sufficiency for their immediate needs and providing for that time that must come to all, when their ability will be limited and their powers will wane. Very few who are improvident in early life accumulate a competency in later years, hence the lesson of thrift and economy should have a deep and lasting meaning to men and women in the prime of life.

A FAIR IS HELPFUL

A good many county fairs have been abandoned in the last few years because they were not financially successful, but this condition is regrettable, for a county fair is of great benefit. Not only does it display the products of a county to the best advantage, but it creates a friendly rivalry between the producers that causes them to do their best in production. Too long the idea of securing a small premium was allowed to predominate. The award of a ribbon is just as good proof of excellency as a financial reward and it proves the producer to be far less selfish. Not that there is an objection to financial premiums, when such premiums are possible, but should not be the paramount object in producing and exhibiting. A fair not only incites an effort to produce the best of the kinds in crops and livestock known to be native to the area, but it causes a desire to enlarge the scope and bring in products that have not been previously demonstrated. There are many advantages and no disadvantages to a county fair.

The Mills County Fair Association owns a nice plant and has everything in order for a first class county fair. It would seem to be the act of wisdom to begin early to prepare for a county fair this summer or in early fall.

Health Hint

JAY-WALKING

Austin, Texas, April 5.—A herd of wild horses was responsible for approximately 1000 deaths in Texas last year, according to Dr. John W. Brown, state health officer. Under the hood of the automobile are from 40 to 100 horses. Whether these are tame or wild and dangerous to human life depends to a large extent upon the drivers. Pedestrians, also, must be "safety-minded," if the number of lives lost in fatal automobile accidents is reduced.

In cities, hundreds of thousands of people in the aggregate deliberately and habitually throw caution to the winds by jay walking, by crossing streets at all points but at intersections, by dodging around street cars and even by deliberately disregarding traffic signals. And highway walkers also are more likely to move with, rather than against traffic, which of course, results in greater risk, especially at night.

The automobile driver himself, intoxicated by the joy of effortlessly stepping up his machine to an excessive speed, and in hundreds of other ways violating the rules and the ethics of the road, makes of this magnificent invention the Frankenstein it has so sadly turned out to be.

It needs to be more emphasized upon the average brain than it is today, that all the healthful living in the world is of no avail when one either as a driver or as a pedestrian takes chances with the automobile and loses. Moreover, proper water and milk control, as well as the many other safeguards to health and life, mean absolutely nothing to a dead man killed by his or another's automobile.

KEEPING UP WITH TEXAS

CONDITIONS IN TEXAS

The Santa Fe railroad bulletin says of conditions in Texas: Unfavorable weather prevailed over practically the entire state during the first three weeks of March, and as a result, plantings were delayed, particularly in southern areas. Severely cold weather which caused temperature drops to below freezing as far south as the lower Rio Grande valley, did considerable damage to all growing crops. Cotton which had already sprouted in southern sections was a total loss and will require replanting.

The cold wave coming as it did will not materially delay crop production, and beneficial results in improving the physical soil condition will more than offset losses. Rain and snow accompanying the cold weather, and immediately following it, added greatly to assure a good season in the ground.

About forty per cent of the potatoes in the Eagle Lake-Wharton district were up and all were frozen back to the ground. However, no acreage loss is expected, although yields may be hampered.

The tomato industry suffered severely, particularly in South Texas, where losses range from 20 to 100 per cent of plantings. In East Texas practically all tomatoes were still in cold frames when the freeze came and so no losses were sustained. Indications are that this section will produce a record crop of tomatoes.

A record acreage of onions planted in North Texas has withstood the cold weather exceptionally well.

Wheat in Northwest Texas has been greatly benefited by rain and snow in the last week. Snow was the heaviest in years. Amarillo taking a record of 20 inches. With seasonal weather from now on a near normal crop should be produced, less government reduction.

On ranges in Western Texas, spring grass just coming up was injured severely by the cold. Previous drought conditions in West Texas had severely cut the production of wool and mohair. A 50 to 60 per cent normal kid crop and 35 to 50 per cent lamb crop is expected to result from drought conditions. Losses to livestock generally were small and cattle are in fair to good flesh.

WORK AND WORRY

We have it on eminent authority that one of the charges against the strenuous life of the twentieth century runs counter to the fact. It is not the strain and hurry of modern life that is causing the increase in mortality from heart disease. So far as heart disease is concerned, it does not appear that work and worry kill, or, at least, that they are deadlier now than in the past.

Dr. Robert L. Levy, associate professor of clinical medicine at Columbia University, has made public results of a recent study of the causes of death. This survey shows heart disease to be most prevalent among foremen and skilled workers in industry rather than among business executives. Speaking with particular reference to "coronary disease," or hardening of the arteries of the heart, Dr. Levy found that occupation plays a negligible part in the occurrence of this form of disease.

That disease of the heart is increasing was ascribed to the fact that science is conquering infectious diseases. If some causes of death are reduced in their extent, it follows that others will be more extensive. In other words, if man is saved from death from one cause, he will in time succumb to death from another. But if he dies of heart disease, it will not be because of hurry and worry peculiarly related to twentieth century life.

If the Columbia doctor's contention is regarded as proved, and another popular notion is exploded, it may be in order to ask whether it is true that life is more wearing upon humanity now than it was in the past. There were probably people sick with worry in 1834 and in 1734. Life was hard in other ways in the good old times. But in the midst of the work and worry of the present, it is easy to jump to the conclusion that there never was anything like them.—Boston Transcript.

AMERICAN SCHOOLS

American schools, says Professor Albert Einstein, have one great virtue—they preserve the initiative and independence of pupils far more successfully than do the schools of Europe.

"What one must demand from the school in the first place is something negative," says the great mathematician. "It should not suppress in the young a feeling of independence, a joy of living, personal initiative and the urge for knowledge. This most important demand the schools of the United States fills in most satisfactory manner, in contrast to the schools of the greater part of Europe."

Comparison of American schools with European schools is not ordinarily flattering and it is pleasing to observe comment by this eminent man.

With all their flaws, American schools have a tremendous lot of good points. — Temple News.

HARD QUESTIONS

The San Antonio Light gives a list of difficult questions with which some of the students in the San Antonio schools are struggling, as submitted in a contest for prizes offered. Here are some of them:

What Texas city was once the capital of Missouri? Who is the only Texan (not John Garner) who has ever acted officially as the president of the United States? What was the Republic of Fredonia? (A place described in early Texas history).

What single ranch in Texas is larger than the state of Delaware? What Texas city is nearer to the capitals of six other states than to the capital of Texas? Is El Paso nearer to the Gulf of Mexico or to the Pacific Ocean? The crown jewels of what nation are believed buried in Texas? In what Texas high school does the teacher sit in one county and the pupils in another? What building (in Austin) was the only official building ever erected on American soil by a foreign government?

$16,000 PROFIT MONTHLY

Army personnel in San Antonio and vicinity will profit approximately $16,000 monthly by the 5 per cent pay increase voted by congress, and this sum will be more than doubled in July, finance officers at Fort Sam Houston estimate.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

VIEW OF THE NATION'S PRESS ON TOPICS OF INTEREST AND IMPORTANCE

THE SCHOOL FOR FOOLS

Much to the discomfiture of the "back to the farm" enthusiasts who propose to solve urban unemployment problems by settling the surplus population "on the land," it develops that more people moved from the country into the cities during 1933 than moved from the cities to the country. There are still millions of unemployed in the cities, to be sure, but the improvement of the unemployment situation in the urban centers has been sufficient to check the tide which had been running in the other direction during the previous three years.

This does not surprise us. Indeed, it is precisely what we have expected would happen as soon as conditions began to improve, though it has started sooner than we believed possible. The gentlemen who are telling us with such cocksureness that industry can never employ again the number of persons that it employed in 1928 and 1929, and who complacently conclude that millions of such persons must return to farming, overlook the very stubborn fact that agriculture can not employ them, and that if they have to live on charity or the public bounty in any way, or by occasional employment, most of them would prefer to do this in the cities. Whether this is best for them or not is beside the point; the fact itself cannot be denied. Some gentlemen, especially those who want to create a "self-sufficient" America, may not like it, but it is nevertheless a fact that these people apparently would rather be mendicants than peasants.—Texas Weekly.

TWENTY-SEVEN TAX BILLS

There were introduced in the recent called session of the legislature that adjourned February 27, 1934, 27 tax bills, and 19 of them were new subjects of taxation.

This, it seems, is proof of the fact that the legislature has no defined system of taxation in mind, hence, it began and ended floundering in the mire of "don't know what to do."

Tax bills did not and should not have passed. The candidate for city councilman, commissioner court, legislature and governor, who evidences ability and courage to intelligently pull us through this dilemma safely and plant us on the bed rock of equal justice to all, and can maintain an economical and efficient government, richly deserves our active support, and we should devote a portion of our time in carrying his campaign to other voters.

The matter of minor differences and opinions on other questions should be laid aside for a supreme and united effort to save ourselves from bankruptcy, for no state can long endure where its supporting citizenship is penalized to the extent of one-third of the taxes they pay, while the delinquent is favored with practically no penalty. — Texas Tax Journal.

EXPOSITION RE-OPENING

A century of progress, Chicago, will re-open its gates to the world on June 1, 1934. It promises to be in every way a better and more spectacular show than its 1933 predecessors, which attracted almost 22,500,000 visitors.

Improvements resulting from the experience of a previous year's operation will make it a more effective and smoothly functioning spectacle. Novelties and innovations unthought of a year ago, will add freshness and new fascination to the exposition.

The physical plant for the 1933 show, including all its unique buildings on Chicago's lake front, stands unimpaired. Many new buildings and attractions will be added. There will be a new color scheme, and the electric display will be enlarged and improved.

Everybody at the fair last year will remember the Belgian Village. This year there will be a score of foreign villages. — The Earth.

ARMED CRIME

In his testimony before the senate judiciary committee, appointed to consider federal legislation to cope with crime, Attorney General Homer S. Cummings has effectively dramatized some phases of the problem of protecting the American people from the enemies within their gates.

He has said, for example, that "the armed forces of gangdom outnumber the 200,000 men in the army and navy." He estimates that the armament of crime, in revolvers, machine guns and sawed-off shotguns, exceeds the total side-arm equipment of the soldiers and sailors. It is easy to understand, therefore, why he advocates drastic regulation of the sale and purchase of certain firearms and the fingerprinting of all who own such weapons.

Proposals for crime-control legislation, particularly intended to cover the "twilight zone" between federal and local authority, would add to the cost of crime prevention. "We can afford," says Attorney General Cummings, "to place some burden upon law-abiding citizens in order to reach the criminal." He might have said with equal authority that we can not afford not to do so. Estimates of what organized crime costs this country are staggering. The plunder taken by racketeers, the ransoms paid to kidnapers and the damage done to life and property by the professional enemies of society are direct taxes on the citizen's pocketbook. An effective campaign against crime would be a real economy.

When it is fully realized that the nation supports a powerful army of internal enemies, armed to kill and impudently defiant of local police authorities, there will be widespread approval for the strengthening of federal power to pursue and punish the criminal. A federal police organization is out of keeping with the theory of state rights and local government. But the practiced and professional criminal pays no attention to such scruples, except that he takes advantage of the limitations of local police powers to commit his crimes and escape their consequences. — Philadelphia Public Ledger.

ONE OUT OF TWENTY

One person out of every twenty in the United States is now on a federal pay roll. There are six million federal tax eaters now. If we say there are 120,000,000 of us in all, that means 24,000,000 heads of families. Then it is really more serious than one in twenty.

Figuring in breadwinners of both sexes, the chances are that the ratio is about one in five. Four earners, that is to say, carry a tax-eater on their backs.

Besides all that, we have the states, the counties, the cities, the townships, the school districts, the irrigation districts and so on. It probably figures down to two earners with a tax-eater on their backs. That is why The Journal believes that the public should be continually warned not to get into the habit of considering current temporary measures as permanent. Sooner or later they must end—as they ought to end.—Dallas Journal.

A LOSING PLAN

The banker employs a man to take in and count the depositor's money, giving him a receipt for same. It employs another man to post the amount of the deposit and the amount of various checks drawn against it. It employs still another to collect on checks banked as deposits. It employs another to supervise the safe or vault in which the cash is deposited and, moreover, an auditor to examine the records and a repairer, if any. Also, it provides an employe to pay out money at the window to depositors who ask for cash. All these functions may be combined in one or two men in a small bank. In big banks, the number of employes runs into hundreds. The more depositors, the more employes. The presumption is

THE SENATE AND COTTON

The Bankhead bill, just passed by the senate and returned to the house for joint conference, must be viewed as the big stick of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration. It aims to force cotton grower compliance with the government's efforts to reduce acreage and to hold sales to a maximum of 10,000,000 bales. From behind the scenes comes news that county agents and local campaign leaders for weeks have been faced with failure of the program in many districts, due to non-conformist cotton farmers. Many of these are large landlords, about to plant thousands of acres which would not come under regulations of the cotton acreage reduction plan. These growers doubtless hope to make a large profit on their volume of cotton, if the federal government, despite their attitude of opposition, succeeds in forcing the price of lint higher.

There now appears to be no longer any doubt that southern cotton farmers are to have a drastic law to compel their compliance with the federal program. This program will not be to enforce acreage reduction but to control the selling of the product of their acres. It would be a wise and a brave man who would promise that such compulsory agricultural legislation will stop with cotton. What is to prevent similar legislation for wheat, corn, cattle, hogs, dairy products or any other farm commodity that appears to be in trouble from overproduction?

The amendments now attached to the latest form of the Bankhead bill embody provisions that limit its operation to the current crop year; that base allotment of permissible bale sales on a ten year base period, ending January 1, 1934; that impose a tax to be levied at the gin of 75 per cent of the market price instead of 50 per cent (at current values of $45 a bale); that impose a fine of $100 without imprisonment; that exempt growers who produce only six bales during the year; that empower the secretary of agriculture to enact penal statutes to further enforce the act. These will come before the joint conference committee for consideration.—Dallas News.

FAITH IN AMERICA

It is doubtful if any country on the face of the earth can equal Spartan courage displayed by the American people during the last three years of the depression. Teeming millions of Asia and India live in indescribable poverty and squalor, while their masters enjoy great wealth and splendor. But it is their life—they have never known anything else. In this country it is different. We are of a different race, a thinking acting people, accustomed to the comforts and many of the luxuries of life. The great depression deprived the majority of us of all the luxuries, and millions of even the bare necessities of a normal existence. It reduced men and women from comparative affluence to stark pauperism, scared the soul of American humanity as has never been done before. Yet in the face of this appalling blight our people have never lost hope. Their faith in America and American institutions has not wavered. Their trust in the ultimate economic recovery of the country was sublime, and that trust is bearing fruit today. It is courage equal to that of the Spartans of old and in no section of the country has that courage been more clearly demonstrated than in the small towns and countryside. Now the sun shines brighter and our smiles are becoming broader every day.—Toledo, Iowa, Chronicle.

That the bank makes a profit from the depositor's money. It does make a profit on some. On others it loses. In many cases, the bank's service to the depositor is much greater than the depositor's service to the bank. If a service is valuable, it ought to be paid for, or dispensed with. On deposits of less than $100, the bank's experience is that it loses.—State Press in Dallas News.

The chairman of the Texas World Fair commission said Saturday that plans were being made for a larger and more general Texas exhibit at the Chicago world fair this summer. Nearly three million dollars' worth of bonds went up in smoke in Austin Saturday. The bonds constituted the unsold portion of the original $5,500,000 issue of the state relief bonds taken off the market when the new bond law was enacted by the special session of the legislature. Officials in charge of the lithographed bits of paper, enjoined by law to destroy them, refused even to give away souvenirs.

Quite a sensation was sprung in Washington the other day by the charge of Dr. William A. Wirt, Gary educator, that the "brain trust" already has picked "Hitler" to rule the new America, and has provided a new angle of inquiry for the special house investigating committee. Dr. Wirt's complete statement on the alleged plans of the "brain trust" to create a new social order is contained in a pamphlet published by the committee for the nation.

Mohair production in Texas during 1933 declined from the previous year, according to a report by the federal department of agriculture's bureau of agricultural economics. The total number of goats clipped was 3,342,000 head, as compared with 3,421,000 head a year ago and 3,680,000 head in 1931. Total production for Texas was 13,000,000 pounds as contrasted with 14,000,000 pounds the previous year and 16,400,000 pounds in 1931. The amount per goat also fell off from 4.2 pounds per head in 1932, to 4.1 pounds per head in 1933.

C., it was stated. The service is also to be used by government bureaus that need help from other agencies. A clearing house of service contacts will be maintained, it is stated.

VARYING ABILITIES

Man was not created equal in intelligence, physical abilities, imagination.

Yet boys and girls are placed in schools where they are in a certain grade.

One's mental attainments are registered in honor rolls, yet those superior students must spend their year in the grade, along with those who barely pass.

Some of these days perhaps the system will be changed. There is a trend to cater to the student who can grasp things more quickly. Up at the University of Chicago the first student to graduate under the new plan received his diploma last week. He was allowed to go at his own pace, and he established a record by completing his undergraduate work in two and a half years.

The world rewards brilliant accomplishment. The educational system has rather gotten the cart behind the horse in restricting the mental giants there in to the limitations of the dwarfs. —San Angelo Standard.

Helped By Cardui

Here's the true story of how Cardui helped Mrs. H. E. Dunaway, of McComb, Miss., as written by herself:

"I was sick and rather discouraged. I was so weak and thin, I was not able to do my work as it should be done. This made me fret a good deal, and did not help my condition."

"I had pains across my back and lower part of my body. My nights were spent in rolling from one side of the bed to the other, hoping I would soon go to sleep. Then when morning would come, I would be just as tired as when I went to bed. A neighbor, seeing how badly I felt, told me to try Cardui. After I had taken one bottle, I was much better. I kept on taking Cardui, and I was stronger and slept much better at night."
