As previously announced, school opens Monday, September 10. At the time of going to press high school registration is in progress. Although no accurate count can be made on the registration yet, indications point to a slight increase in high school enrollment. All high school pupils are requested to observe the registration schedule as announced. It is sincerely hoped that all high school pupils will have enrolled by noon Saturday.

At a previous meeting of the school board an order was passed permitting five-year-old children to attend school on payment of tuition. Any parents who are interested in this should consult the superintendent for details.

A FINE RECORD

Jno. W. Roberts is completing the twenty-fourth year of his administration as Democratic county chairman and voluntarily retires at the close of the present campaign. He refused to submit his name as a candidate in the recent primary and even forbade it being placed on the ticket by his friends. Few men have served in that capacity as long and faithfully as has Mr. Roberts and his service to the party and the citizens interested in county politics will not be forgotten. His service was unselfish and unstinted. His successor, L. E. Booker, will have a mighty fine example to imitate or excel and all the voters are confident he will give his best ability in conducting the party business.

NAZARENE CHURCH

Dr. J. G. Morrison at the Church of the Nazarene Saturday morning, 10:30. Everybody welcome. Rev. Pierce, the district superintendent, and Dr. Nowlin, president of W. M. S. will also be present.

Methodist Notes

While these lines are being written the Texas Methodists are largely represented in the Centenary gathering in San Antonio. That they will have a great time goes without saying. Those who are not attending the meeting will do well to read the report given in the papers. One of the most interesting things at that meeting will be the getting together of the descendants of the early pioneers of Methodism. I met a man on our streets Monday, a descendant of one of the two Stevensons who were the very first to do missionary work in this state. This man, with other of his relatives, was on his way to the gathering.

It has been my wish to press home to the youths who may read these notes, and also to others, the great good that may come from attending Sunday school. A letter from a prominent business man in San Antonio, which came to me a few days ago so beautifully expresses what I have desired all along to say that by the permission of the Eagle I want to share it with the readers. The letter in part is as follows: "I am a Lutheran, but since childhood, I have had most intimate contact with Methodists. Born and reared in the Hill Country north of here, there was no Lutheran Sunday school, but as usual, there was a Methodist church and I attended that Sunday school for years. I still have a New Testament which I received for 'tickets' as we called them, namely Bible verses which we memorized and when I had attended one hundred times in succession, I received that New Testament. This was 46 years ago. The leaves are turning yellow. I would not part with it for anything." This letter from a busy business man, and the Godly suggestions which it contained, should be a forceful reminder of our obligation to the Sunday school and all the interests of the church.

Rev. W. S. Highsmith and wife, and Rev. Leon D. Brown and his wife, from Center City, and possibly others from our county are attending the meeting at San Antonio this week. We trust that they may bring back some of the inspiration which they receive.

We had good congregations at church Sunday and yet there is always room for more. Be on hand next Sunday, J. S. BOWLES

A MIRACULOUS ESCAPE

Last Thursday afternoon Mrs. J. M. Oglesby, accompanied by her three children and aged mother, narrowly escaped death in a car wreck. They were driving on the Mullin road about four miles from Goldthwaite near the home of her sister, Mrs. Ira Hutchings. Upon nearing a left hand turn, she asked the little girls to look behind for cars. Being assured there was no car she gave the signal for the turn. Immediately a Ford V8, driven by a young man connected with the collecting agency of the Ford company, speeded up at such a rapid rate it hit the spare tire on the Oglesby car, knocking it about forty feet forward and landed it directly on its top. The other car plunged into a sandy bank off the highway.

Mrs. Oglesby received a skin wound above the right eye and two slight cuts on the left wrist. None of the others were hurt, save minor bruises and soreness from the jolt.

The young man rendered all the aid he could in assisting the aged mother from the overturned car, steadying her until she regained her balance, to walk to the nearby Hutchings home.

It was speed on the part of the one and slowness of the other to make the turn which caused the accident.

P. T. A. MEETING

The Goldthwaite P. T. A. will meet Tuesday afternoon, Sept. 11, at 4 o'clock, in the grammar school auditorium. PRESIDENT

Tax Payments Have Increased

The tax collector's rolls show that the tax payments for last year are far ahead of the payments for the former year. This is accounted for by the fact of improved conditions and also because of many farm loans having been secured, wherein it is necessary to have the taxes paid. This increase is somewhat remarkable when it is considered that the law exempting homesteads up to $3000 value was in operation for 1933. Notwithstanding this exemption, the collections for last year for the state exceed those for the former year by $4,039.88.

The total figures are here given by courtesy of Jo H. Frizzell, deputy state and county tax collector.

State tax, 1932, .....	$25,844.08

A DELICATE OPERATION

The friends here of Mr. Leonard Doughty of San Antonio, who engaged in the practice of law here a good many years ago, are interested in the fact that he has gone to Johns Hopkins hospital at Baltimore, to have a very delicate operation performed on his eyes and we are all hoping for the best results. His eyesight has not been good for several years and it was decided to have an operation performed to clear his vision. He and Mrs. Doughty and their son, John Franklin, left by automobile this week for Baltimore. While he is in the hospital his wife will spend some time visiting her sister in New York and it is possible John will secure employment in that city. Mr. Doughty's oldest son, Leonard, who spent a part of his boyhood in Goldthwaite, is teacher of French in Annapolis military academy, which will enable him to be near his father during the time he is in preparation for the operation. While Mr. Doughty is in the hospital it would be quite a nice courtesy for his Goldthwaite friends to write to him. Letters addressed in care of Lieut. Commander Leonard Doughty, Jr., U. S. Naval Academy, Annapolis, Maryland, will reach him.

SERIOUS CAR ACCIDENT

Capt. L. B. Walters was knocked down and badly bruised by an automobile driven by Mrs. J. E. Evans last Saturday morning. The accident occurred on Fisher street, near Capt. Walters' place of business, and he was at once carried to his home and a physician summoned. His injuries are quite painful, but not considered serious, although he has been confined to his bed since they were inflicted.

The lady driver of the car is absolved from blame for the accident by those who witnessed it. She had just started the car and did not see Capt. Walters until after the car had struck him. She immediately stopped and rendered every assistance in her power.

ACCEPTS THE CALL

The friends of Rev. Franklin E. Swanner and the Baptist church, as well as the members of that denomination, are glad to know that Bro. Swanner has accepted a renewal of the call to the pastorate of the church, which position he has filled for more than a year. It has been rumored that he would accept a call elsewhere, but at a church conference Wednesday night he accepted the call to remain with the Goldthwaite church.

Drilling Resumed In Oil Well

After a shut-down from last Friday, because of some accident to the machinery, drilling in the Rock Springs oil well was resumed yesterday afternoon. The drill is down 1000 feet and it is expected to make progress of around 100 feet a day if every thing works right. The intention is to go as deep as 1700 feet, if oil is not struck before that depth is reached. There is a lot of interest in the test and those who are informed on the log of the well feel very hopeful of the result.

TEXAS CENTENNIAL

There is increasing interest in the Texas centennial, to be celebrated in 1936, and the present session of the legislature will undoubtedly vote substantial aid to the movement, under authority of the amendment voted last year. One writer on the subject, in giving reasons for the celebration, says in part:

"Texas is the largest state in the union, and the only state ever to be a nation. Her domain measures a quarter of a million square miles, and in that vast land nearly every part of the United States is represented. There are the plains for the western United States; the Rio Grande Valley for Florida and California; the Panhandle for the Central United States, and East Texas for the Southeastern United States.

Texas is known for her petroleum, lignite, sulphur, potash, and carbon black. Her helium gas keeps our dirigible and other large machines of the air aloft. Her cotton covers acres of ground more than any other state. Turkeys march to market in droves, pecan orchards line highways and cover large districts and yield a half-million dollar crop. Onions are planted by the billions, and wheat is sheared by the bushels.

The Rio Grande rolls merrily past Texas, dividing the two Americas.

Austin proudly proclaims America's most impressive capitol and state university. Texas also has the largest military encampment—Fort Sam Houston, the biggest cavalry post—Fort Bliss, and two large air schools, where men daily win their wings.—Brooks and Kelley Fields."

PLANNING RELIEF

Two new relief bond bills came out in the house Wednesday while the senate continued its investigation.

The bills were drafted by the sub-committee appointed by Speaker Coke Stevenson late Tuesday, when the house voted to end its investigation.

The first bill keeps the present setup; calls for issuance of the remaining $9,500,000; provides that the bonds shall be retired from money in the general revenue fund (the present law) and not from all funds not directed for specific purposes by the constitution, and says the interest rate shall not be more than 4½ per cent—thus making it discretionary with the bond commission if it saw fit to have a lower rate.

The other bill would issue the same amount of bonds, but provides for a new relief set-up—a commission of three, full-time men to receive $400 a month, one to be named by the attorney general, one by the treasurer and one by the comptroller.

A BIG HAUL

Three men robbed the Palmetto bank of Lake City, S.C., of approximately $100,000 Wednesday, after kidnaping the bank president and his wife from their home and tying their two children to their beds. The three robbers invaded the home about 8:15 a. m., 45 minutes before the opening hour of the bank, and held up the family.

Selling Cotton Certificates

Cotton is being brought in rapidly and while the certificates required under the Bankhead law have not yet been received those who desire to sell their cotton can get an interim certificate from the county agent that will serve their purpose.

The cotton certificates farmers receive above their own requirements can be sold at a price of 4 cents per pound for the allowable cotton, which will be quite an addition to the amount they receive for the cotton they grow and sell.

TRIPLE A ACTIVITIES

At a meeting of producers in the district court room Saturday, September 1, the listing of cattle for sale to the government and the designation of concentration points was placed in the hands of committees of three in each commissioners precinct as follows:

Precinct No. 1, W. E. Rahl, Elam Kelly, E. A. Obenhaus; No. 2, Joe Langford, Jim Soules, Roy Simpson; No. 3, A. D. Hamilton, E. T. Singleton, J. H. Priddy; No. 4, M. L. Jernigan, J. R. Wilmeth, J. Frank Davis.

Listing sheep and goats will be finished Saturday, Sept. 15. At this time no estimate of the number can be given. However, it is noticed that more producers desire to get out of goat business than sheep. When listing is completed we will wait for county quotas. Then it is likely that individual quotas will be worked out. Buying will start after the cattle selling is completed.

Producers are again advised that notices are promptly sent out as soon as checks come. We take time off to tell any one that checks are not here, but that is time lost. Please wait for notices. Exemption certificates are expected next week. Until they come producers may secure interim certificates if they desire to sell cotton. Ginning may be done and the bale left at the gin without a permit.

Blanks dealing with option cotton as cotton on which the government has advanced 10¢ a pound, have not been received.

The government has formed a pool to handle surplus cotton exemption certificates at 4 cents a pound. Details have not been worked out. W. P. WEAVER, County Agent

SHOOTING ACROSS STREETS

A number of boys in town are reported to be handling rifles rather carelessly and I deem it my duty to notify them and their parents that serious consequences may follow their acts. Not only does the law impose a fine of $100 for shooting across a street or other public passway, but their is danger of inflicting serious bodily injury upon innocent persons. Some of the ladies of the town have complained that shots fly promiscuously about their premises and they are afraid to go into their yards and gardens or to allow their children to do so. This condition must be remedied and we, as officers, would be derelict in our duty if we did not invoke the law to protect the citizens, who have a right to expect and demand protection.

Prohibiting Shooting Across Public Roads

H. B. No. 29, chapter 3 of the Penal Code of the State of Texas. Any person who shoots or discharges any gun, pistol or firearm in, on, along or across any public road in this state, shall be fined not more than $100.00. Acts of the 41st legislature at its second called session, 1929.

We are going to enforce this law on everybody alike.

A. T. PRIBBLE, County Attorney

REMIT PENALTY

Approval was given by the revenue and taxation committee of the house Wednesday to a bill to remit penalties and interest on taxes of all political subdivisions that were delinquent August 1, 1934. The bill was submitted by Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson.

Objection to certain provisions was raised by the League of Texas Municipalities. A league representative urged that cities be empowered to take advantage of the law if they deemed it advisable. As reported from committee the bill would apply to cities as well as all other political subdivisions. A higher interest rate on delinquencies also was suggested.

The bill would provide a penalty of 1 per cent if the delinquent taxes were paid before March 31, 1935, with a maximum of 6 per cent if paid before October 30, 1936.

POLITICAL DATES

The primary elections did not end all of the political party business. There are a number of actions and dates yet to be observed.

Sept. 10—State executive committee certifies results of second primary.

Sept. 11—State convention at Galveston.

Sept. 24—Final date for independent and non-partisan candidates to file for general election ballot.

Oct. 7—Secretary of State prepares official ballot.

Oct. 17—Absentee voting begins.

Nov. 3—Absentee voting in person ends.

Nov. 4—Absentee voting by mail ends.

Nov. 6—General election.

Nov. 21—State election board canvasses returns.

A RUSHING BUSINESS

Last Saturday was a very busy day with the merchants in Goldthwaite and several of the papers over the state have reported the same condition. This seems somewhat remarkable in the estimation of many people, but when the government's program of buying livestock, paying rent on land and otherwise assisting the people is considered and understood it is small wonder that the country as a whole is getting in good shape and there is a lot of surplus among the people. Not everybody has surplus money, neither are all in easy circumstances, but certain it is that conditions are much better than they would have been had not the federal government adopted its helpful policy.

COMMISSIONERS COURT

Commissioners court will convene in this city next Monday in regular monthly session. The court meets every month and while the meeting seldom requires more than one day, it enables the court to keep a strict checkup on all county business, which is decidedly satisfactory to all concerned.

It is likely several matters of interest will come before the court Monday.

Many Cattle Being Sold

According to the report of the county agent's office 2712 head of cattle have already been accepted and 1904 condemned.

Many of these cattle are in good flesh, but the shortage of pasture and water makes it advisable to sell them now, even though they must be replaced in the spring or when feed and pasture can be obtained. There is nothing to sustain them in the drought area and the policy of the government in buying them prevents a total loss to the growers, who have neither grass nor water for them.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Last Friday night Mr. and Mrs. Roy Simpson honored Misses Morine and Mordine Brown with a lovely birthday party in their home.

When the guests arrived a number of live games were played and then we were launched on the most interesting feature of the party, a trip around the world. The journey began at Goldthwaite, where our tickets were made out, and then we visited the leading cities of the world, such as Chicago, New York, London, Paris, Constantinople, Peking, Jerusalem and San Francisco. At each town we had to write something on our tickets in order to get past the customs officials. In London we had to draw the picture of a famous Englishman and I am sure that the English museum would pay a large sum of money for the pictures of Sir Walter Raleigh, Bill Shakespeare, and Queen Victoria, which were drawn. In Jerusalem we had to list names of Bible characters, in Paris we had to name comic characters, and in Constantinople we had to sit on a fruit jar and write our names on our tickets, which were on the floor.

Two very nice features of the trip were the snow cones, which were given to us when we crossed the Alps and the chocolate and cakes that were served in Peking, China. The most hazardous part of our journey was passing through a dark mountain tunnel, where we had to go single file. Mrs. Simpson offered a prize to anyone who went thru the tunnel without screaming, but she still has the prize.

Soon after we disembarked at San Francisco we were called to the dining room, where a beautiful white birthday cake, decorated with pink mint rosettes, adorned the table. After the twins had cut a generous piece, the cake was passed around the table, and each guest cut a piece for himself. Excitement ran high as the pieces were cut and the different favors brought to light. Each guest cut some kind of a favor, which revealed his future.

Everyone rejoiced with Jewell Simpson, when she cut love and wealth, sympathized with Ollie Mae Featherston, when she cut a wedding ring and poverty, and shed tears with G. W. Simpson and Izetta Featherston, when they cut tiny dolls, meaning large families.

Delicious punch was served with the birthday cake.

At a late hour the guests left, after wishing Morine and Mordine many more happy birthdays. Those who enjoyed this delightful party were Clifford Rose, Talmage Chapman, Charley Simpson and daughters, Jewell, Olivia and Alta, Mr. and Mrs. Obe Tumlison and children, Henry and Doward Leon Simpson, the Featherston girls and Glenn, Mr. and Mrs. Brown, and Morine and Mordine, and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Simpson and children.

There were a few who went to Sunday school Sunday morning. Sunday was a very blustery day, but it didn't keep some from going places and seeing things.

Some in this community were busy putting up their winter meat Sunday. Some were lucky in getting some of the Traylor calves, the government killed. E. D. Roberson, Fred McClary, James Nickols, Herbert and Horace Cooke, Marion Robertson and Beryl Turner had lots of fun hauling off the dead cows for J. M. Traylor.

Mount Olive, your letter gets better all the time. Keep them coming. You and a few more of us find lots of news. That is what Mr. Editor wants. Don't you guess the reason you haven't been seeing anything about the dances is because the weather has been too warm. I may be wrong, but I can't see any more harm in a dance than working on Sunday, the Lord's day, such as cooking half a day for company and canning beef. Some will say the ox was in the ditch. Well, we see some put the ox in the can, too.

I have known of people baling hay on Sunday and it all spoiled, so those who canned Sunday may lose their meat. Maybe the Lord will be good to them and not let it spoil.

Loy Long and family from town spent the day Sunday in the Ellis home.

Those who celebrated Fred McClary's birthday Thursday night in the Nickols home were Misses Click from San Saba, Ethel Tyson, Fleta Sheppard from town, J. C. Stark and wife, R. C. NEWS IN BRIEF

Former Gov. Jas. E. Ferguson announces that he will withdraw as Texas member of the Democratic National Committee if Vice President John N. Garner will accept the place, and Garner has indicated that he will do so.

After hanging from a twelfth story hotel window for at least two minutes a young Los Angeles mother was pulled back into the room and safety by hotel employees Sunday. A slipper, which fell from her foot, struck a taxi driver in the street below and he rushed into the hotel and gave the alarm.

A social security scheme providing, in effect, either a job or cash for every worker in the nation, is being developed by experts studying the problem for President Roosevelt. The new plan is expected to go far beyond the Wagner-Lewis unemployment insurance bill recommended to congress last year by the president and which called for a pay roll tax of $1,000,000,000 a year.

One of the mightiest of trees crashed to earth Saturday—a little tired around the roots, after 4000 years of living. 'Stable Tree,' one of the oldest living things in the world, and the pride of Mariposa grove of big trees in California, suddenly hurtled to the ground with a tremendous roar. 'Stable Tree' was so called because army cavalry used to house its horses in the enormous hollow at the base of the towering giant redwood. The magnificent redwood was 266 feet tall and its girth at the base was 92 feet. The diameter at the base was 29 feet and 5 inches.

Dictatorship is held by Upton Sinclair, Democratic candidate for governor of California, to be the alternative to a program making the jobless workman and penniless farmer economically independent. Under his plan, the state would rent idle factories, paying the owners' taxes and overhead, and put the unemployed to work. The workmen would own what they made. Needy farmers, meanwhile, would be given warrants for their produce and could exchange these certificates for taxes and the workmen's products. The factory hands would receive the farmers' crops.

Two living links with the almost century-old battle of San Jacinto, where Texas won her independence from Mexico, have been found. They are the widows of two men who fought in that famous battle. One is Mrs. Mary M. Price, 90, who lives in Rochester, N. Y. She is the widow of Hardy W. B. Price, a member of Benjamin F. Bryant's company of 1836. The other widow is Mrs. Mary Catherine Berry, who lives near Baird in West Texas. Her husband, Andrew Berry, died in 1899. Until the widows of these men were found, historians believed the nearest relatives to men who fought Santa Anna's army with Sam Houston near Houston were a few sons and daughters.

A report from Washington says that Mr. Average Citizen who doesn't want to repair his home, borrow on his prospective crops, or buy some feed and seed on federal credit, may think that his comparatively minor credit needs were forgotten by the new deal as it opened many new borrowing channels for the home owner, farmer and business man this past year. He was not forgotten, though, for tucked away among the many measures enacted into law during the final hectic days of last session is the act, long sponsored by Senator Morris Sheppard of Texas, authorizing creation of federal credit unions for the sole purpose of permitting the person of moderate income to secure small short term loans at low rates of interest.

With a view toward providing the animals with conditions approximating their native habitats, the Philadelphia Zoological Garden now is engaged in an extensive program of eliminating fences around animal runs. Soon all the animals in the zoo, including lions, tigers, leopards etc., will be roaming about in areas resembling their natural habitat, with no suggestion of an inclosure between them and the public. This will be accomplished

STYLES IN NEW YORK

Fabrics—rich and diversified—is the big news in fall fashions, when, in their smartest interpretations, stress a simplicity of line befitting this new and varied richness of materials. This applies to the new developments in woolsens, synthetics and silks, all of which are being featured now in New York shops in dozens of new versions.

Outstanding in the collections of back to school clothes, which now holds the spotlight of style interest in New York shops, are the interesting variations in two-piece frocks—particularly in novelty weaves of wool and synthetics, and in such new fall colors as Caballero rust, Manchu green, Malacca brown, and boat blue. Peplum and tunic stylings, front button closings, big pockets and colorful silk and rayon scarf ties are style details that distinguish many of the favored models.

"Lots and lots of buttons," say the style arbiters—with the result that buttons are stressed in practically every field of fashion for evening as well as daytime. Big buttons, little buttons and in-between—round, square, triangular and elongated—to say nothing of the many fanciful shapes—and all these carried out in colorful plastic composition, wood and metal, with sometimes combinations of two or more. Buttons have come to be such a style item that today they are classed almost as a feature of costume jewelry.

Spain with its romance and glamour has inspired not only some of the most effective laces for fall and winter, but costume jewelry in new colors and designs. Decidedly new and colorful are the Toledo bracelets that echo the Spanish theme. They are broad bands of plastic composition in various vivid colors, with gold and silver metal trims. Some are hand etched in delicate floral patterns. They are often worn in pairs.

There are new hair ornaments—Spanish in inspiration—particularly the little Spanish comb which accents some of the smartest coiffures—giving just the needed style coiffure touch to the new forward-tilting hats of the season. Many of the smartest college-girl collections feature these little Spanish combs for the daytime mode and the little "Cleopatras"—like wing clips—rhinestone studded for evening.

SMALL GRAIN PASTURES

The serious feed shortage, which is threatening Texas can be at least partially averted, according to crop specialists of the A. and M. college, if farmers will plant small grains, such as oats, wheat and barley for winter pasture as soon as good rains are received.

Farmers in the Panhandle and in North Central Texas, who regularly grow these crops for grain, have long recognized their value as winter pasture crops. Winter grain pastures may be grown in almost any region of the state where other crops are grown. They can be planted from September to December, whenever the soil is moist enough to germinate the seed. Because of the mild winters, growth continues almost without interruption. Some of the crop specialists at the college insist that every cotton field in the state should be planted to a winter cover crop to prevent soil erosion and to restore organic matter to the soil. Whether this practice, which is already common in southeastern states, will ever become general in Texas remains to be seen.

There is, however, no doubt that the planting of large acreages of winter pasture throughout the state will do more, this year, to overcome the present feed shortage than any other measure which might be taken.

Constipation Symptoms Soon Go Away After Use of Black-Draught

Mrs. S. G. Ramey, of Henryetta, Okla., writes that she has taken Theodor's Black-Draught about twenty-five years, when needed, and has "found it very good." "When I have a sour stomach and my mouth tastes bitter, and I feel bilious, sluggish and tired, I will very soon have a severe headache if I don't take something. I have learned to keep off these spells by taking Theodor's Black-Draught. Very soon I am feeling fine. I feel that Black-Draught can't be beaten as a family medicine." . . . New Fabrics Lend Modern Note

If you want to brighten up your home and make it distinctly modern looking, new fabrics and color will bring a quick conversion. The cozy breakfast nook shown here has furniture of white, an outstanding style trend, and fabrics new both in texture and design. The tablecloth, chair pads and drapes are all made of Fabrikoid, a lacquered fabric which can be kept clean by wiping off with a damp cloth. The design is known as the "Bubble," an effect given by clever use of white polka dots on a dark blue background. The glass curtains, white simple, are also a high style note—Cellophane laminated with scrim, quite the thing for a breakfast nook, an informal room, or summer use, especially if a crisp, cool effect is desired. The china, which is in keeping with general modern note, very simple in line and plain white in color, looks especially attractive against the dark cloth with its white dots. These lacquered tablecloths have a silky texture, which makes them entirely suitable for somewhat more formal services than breakfast, such as a simple luncheon or a buffet party.

NEWS FLASHES

A 25,000 word history of the motion picture industry was included in an amended petition that has been filed in a $4,950,000 federal damage suit against nineteen companies by a Shawnee independent theatre operator. He alleged the companies "conspired to monopolize the motion picture industry."

President Roosevelt has ordered that the nation's automobiles be manufactured at least until November 3, under the code he signed just a little more than a year ago. The president's action brought to an end speculation over the question of continuing one of the most important and controverted codes.

If sufficient rain falls in the next few weeks a farmer in southwest Texas will have roasting ears for Christmas. "Columbus took a chance to discover America," said the farmer, "and I'm taking a chance to raise a second 1934 corn crop." He replanted his corn crop 10 days ago and reports a fair stand.

A new industry has started in west Texas. Mexicans find picking mesquite beans profitable. Soon after a Sweetwater merchant posted an offer of 50 cents a hundred pounds for the beans he was doing a rushing business. Mexican boys and girls flocked to his place bring beans in all kinds of vehicles and containers.

The rural rehabilitation program of the federal emergency relief administration under which 80,000 destitute farm families are being helped to land ownership will be discussed at a regional conference at Houston today and tomorrow, Lawrence Westbrook, assistant FERA administrator in rural rehabilitation announces.

Reduction of the state poll tax to $1 was proposed in a bill offered in the house Friday. The existing state poll tax is $1.50, but most counties add 25 cents for county purposes. The bill would deny the counties the right to levy any poll tax. All receipts from the reduced tax would go to the school fund. Fifty cents of the tax now is paid to the general revenue.

A bill to extend for 10 years the time for payment of principal installments on state land has been introduced in the Texas house. The bill would apply to land sold prior to November 1, 1901. Interest payments would not be affected. The plan was approved by the land commissioner, attorney general and state board of education. No mineral rights are involved.

President Roosevelt and treasury heads have decided on the government's quarterly refinancing operation due September 15, and also canvassed the extent of participation by banks in the recovery effort with loans. The only word from the conference between the president, Secretary Morgenthau and financial experts was that announcement would be made Sept. 10 of the refinancing program and its extent.

The federal government has undertaken to break up what it calls a monopoly of music. In a complaint naming the country's leading publishers and composers of popular music, the government charged a violation of the Sherman anti-trust act and asked a permanent injunction prohibiting any agreements covering the public performance of music unless the field is "open to all owners of copy-protected musical compositions upon an identical and equal basis.

A new experiment in street paving—a 30-foot stretch of cast iron pavement on a campus avenue—will be undertaken by the University of Minnesota next month. Described by the superintendent of university mines experiment station, sponsor of the test, as virtually skid-proof, strong enough to outlast granite, brick or wood and so easy to lay unskilled workmen can do the job. The pavement is to be laid in an effort to open a new outlet for cast iron deposits in Northern Minnesota.

The Eagle can offer some low rates on daily papers for long or short time.

CENTER CITY

We are enjoying a cool north-er this Monday. It is fine after the heat of the past summer. Two light showers fell here last week. There was not enough moisture to do much good. We are still hoping for good rains.

The Methodist meeting, conducted by Rev. J. W. Griffin of Lytton Springs, and the pastor, Rev. Brown, closed Sunday night with thirteen conversions and the same number joined the church that day. Bro. Griffin brought a wonderful message with each sermon he preached and did much good in bringing Christian people of this community closer together in their worship. We trust the work will be continued and not die with the close of the series of meetings. There were about forty-five young people in their prayer meetings each evening. At the Saturday night service it was decided for this group to meet before church service next Sunday night. We are expecting another good sermon from the Baptist pastor, Bro. Sparkman, at that time. On account of the Methodist meeting last Sunday their services will be held next Saturday and Sunday.

Alvin Harper returned from the hospital in Hamilton, where he had his tonsils removed. Glad to report he is getting along very well.

Many visitors from other communities attended the meeting last week. We welcome you any time.

Miss Izetta Featherston left Friday for her home in the Live Oak community, after spending several days visiting Miss Nora Bland House and attending the meeting.

The J. M. Oglesby family extend sincere thanks to all those who sympathized and rejoiced with them over the accident, which occurred last Thursday evening, where in Mrs. Oglesby and her aged mother and three children narrowly escaped death. It was a miracle, indeed. Your kind words will ever be cherished and may you never meet a similar experience.

The ladies gave Bro. Griffin and Bro. Brown a liberal pouring of good things, canned for winter use, last Sunday evening. The congregation gave Bro. Griffin a love offering as a farewell Sunday night. A hat was placed in a chair by which he stood and as they marched by, donated their offering and told him good bye.

Mrs. Brown has been here visiting her son, Bro. Brown, and wife the past two weeks and attending the meeting.

Rev. Highsmith and family ate dinner with the people at the church Sunday. In the afternoon he preached of heaven, which was interesting to all. We were glad to have them as visitors several times during the meeting.

Mrs. Viola Chappell and three children left Saturday for Stephenville, where they will have the advantage of the schools there.

Ed B. Y. P. U. Opening music was provided by Misses Evelyn Robbins and Julia Dee Fallon. The program was just fine. Miss Doris Newman gave her part very nicely. Mr. Robbins was the leader. OLIVE OYL

MOUNT OLIVE

Well, here we are in September, the month in which we country hoosiers pick our cotton and the city people get the money. School days are not far distant now, and I suppose all will be glad to be back in school again.

Sunday was communion day with the Primitive Baptists.

The remains of Mrs. J. B. Huckabee were brought in for burial in Mount Olive cemetery Sunday evening. There was a great number of relatives and friends of the Huckabee family here for the last sad rites. She was the wife of J. B. Huckabee of Shive, Texas. The community offers sympathy to the sorrowing families.

Hearst Porter took a load of corn (ear corn) to Goldthwaite Friday to Louis Porter.

Several of the young folks went to a social at Indian Gap Saturday night. They said the music was fine, but I've said too much now.

This writer counted about eight Mount Olivians going into the picture show Saturday evening. Surely an optimistic sign.

Bas Hawthorne and family were in our midst Saturday. They came to visit relatives and to attend church Sunday.

This writer attended the singing convention at Priddy Sunday. There were good singers, good singing and a good dinner, with plenty of iced tea. Everyone enjoyed your hospitality, Priddy. We look forward to being entertained there again soon. Priddy will have a fine modern auditorium, when finished, in their new school building.

Jesse and George Roberts, and Ernest Benningfield and family were seen at the singing convention Sunday.

Miss Minnie Cody was observed with an extra bright smile Saturday. The reason for this was not hard to find, as it was noticed that her shiek, Tommy Clark Graves, had come in.

Also Jesse Roberts was seen with a nice looking girl from Goldthwaite Sunday at the convention at Priddy.

Miss Jessie Neal visited part of the past week with her sister Mrs. John Conner at Hamilton.

Mount Olive will probably have a week's meeting soon, conducted by Elder I. A. Dyches. If he finds time for it he hopes to have at least a short meeting. We hope you can come. The community will welcome you.

This writer has been told that he has been too hard on the girls in his reports. He has reported them as doing nothing all week, but getting ready for a week end social, preserving their school girl complexion, looking at catalogues, phone gossiping, etc. Although they are guilty of all this and more, I will now speak a word in their behalf. A woman or girl driver has always been regarded as a wild, dangerous driver. I have two proofs to submit that they are good drivers. First, Miss Minnie Cody has been driving her model A as fast it would run for over a year and she has not had a wreck yet. And second, when I was in the city I noticed a cop giving chase to a girl speeding up the boulevard. Forcing her to the curb, he said to her, "Miss, did you know you were making 60 miles an hour?" And clapping her hand with joy, she exclaimed, "Oh, gee, and just think, I only learned how to drive yesterday!"

Mr. and Mrs. S. O. Koen and A. B. Neal will attend the three days Primitive Baptist meeting at Gatesville this week end.

Mrs. Hamilton is visiting with Ira Kerby and wife this week.

Davis Huckabee and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Huckabee, all of Lubbock, are visiting friends and relatives this week. They came in to be at the funeral of Mrs. J. B. Huckabee.

The Hill boys sheared goats Tuesday for Melrose Hodges and Sam Koen.

Clarence Koen of Pampa came home Monday. We suppose his return is only temporary as he holds a good job at Pampa.

The younger set enjoyed a pleasant social in the Kiser home last Wednesday night.

It was estimated there were 1200 people, friends and relatives, at the funeral services of Mrs. J. B. Huckabee. It appeared to be the largest gathering of people seen here in some time.

I will have to correct an error made in the first of this letter. The Primitives did not hold communion services Sunday. This

New York's "Finest" Speeds Up Emergency Service

Now Ready To Render First Aid Anywhere in City in Three Minutes

NEW YORK CITY—Three minutes to the scene of a catastrophe, an injured citizen or a person who is in need of assistance . . . that is the commendable record now being made by the Emergency Service Division of the Police Department. It is a record which is equaled only by the speed of the swift little radio patrol cars. But it is a record that is more imposing than that of the police radio cars because the Emergency Squads ride to the scene in heavy trucks loaded down with tools of their craft enabling them to cope with every type of exigency. Whether it be a hydraulic jack to extricate a motorist from an overturned car, a first aid kit to patch up a youngster who fell off a truck while hitch hiking, gas bombs and gas masks to quell a riot, or accessories that might be needed in any one of a hundred different situations that may arise, the Emergency Squad truck has them all.

There are twenty Squad trucks on active duty and two in reserve. In order to respond promptly to a summons, the trucks are located at strategic points throuth the city—which explains their ability to get to the scene of action so quickly.

The equipment which they use is brought into action with equal speed. In rendering first aid, for example, one of the latest contributions to science—the speed bandage—is used. Every truck has a completely equipped first aid kit containing these speed bandages or "bandaids" devised by the Red Cross Products Division of Johnson and Johnson.

Band-aids are neat, complete dressings consisting of a strip of adhesive with a gauze pad in the center. Scientifically designed, and ready for instant use, the bandaid is a convenient and rapid method of bandaging small cuts and burns. There are many of these minor accidents in which the Emergency Squad renders first aid. When Junior cuts his head on the point of an iron railing, when little Sisnie gets her arm caught in a turnstile or locks herself in the bath room, it is invariably the Emergency Squad that is called in to cope with the situation. So skillful are members of this squad that in the 96 cases involving children last year, where first aid treatment was rendered by the Emergency Service Division, not one had further cause for treatment. Members of this squad are among the best schooled in the Police Department. They attend a School for Specialized Training where they are taught the correct use of first aid equipment. And every member of the Squad must pass an examination proving his ability to think clearly and act quickly in an emergency. No details, no matter how small, are overlooked when the Squad responds to an emergency. Even a camera is carried and a member of the Squad is detailed to take photographs of the accident in cases where the City itself is concerned, the photographs being filed for future evidence in case a suit is subsequently brought by the injured party. The rapidly moving Emergency Squad, as a result, not only protects its citizens, but the City itself.

Many Viewpoints

There are many views of the Roosevelt recovery program and most of us feel we could have done a better job of it, but unfortunately for the country, those who could have improved the plan were not called to the duty, therefore, we must work with the plan as outlined by the president and his advisers.

Blaming the Motorist

Traffic accidents throughout the country continue at a high rate and there seems to be little hope for any material decrease for a long time. All efforts to place the blame naturally center around the motorist, who undoubtedly is responsible for a lot of accidents.

Helping Farmers

If there is any one class or line of industry more important to the country than any other, certainly it is farming. The farmers have long been considered the mainstay of the world and it is true that very little could be accomplished without them.

Our National Wealth

Those who believe the near road to individual independence and prosperity is through the means of a redistribution of wealth, should delve deeper into the subject and understand just what the wealth really is and how it is created and managed.

Read Amendments

The proposed constitutional amendments to be voted on at the November election appeared in the August 31 issue of this paper for the last time and every voter should read each one of them carefully, in order that they may vote intelligently on the various propositions.

Health Hint

PELLAGRA

Six hundred and forty-five Texans died last year of pellagra, declared Dr. John W. Brown, state health officer. Pellagra is a disease that is caused by lack of proper foods. It comes on slowly and may not be recognized until the victim begins to have a sore mouth, stomach trouble and reddening and scaling of the skin.

The longer a person has pellagra the harder it is to cure, so one should be on the lookout for early symptoms such as nervousness, indigestion and burning of the feet and hands. The disease may become so severe as to affect the mind.

The prevention of pellagra depends upon eating the right kind of food at all times. To make sure that the diet is right, it should always include plenty of milk daily, some fresh meat, and as many fresh vegetables as possible.

KEEPING UP WITH TEXAS CONDITIONS IN TEXAS

The Santa Fe railroad bulletin says of conditions in Texas: The long drought in Texas showed signs of a permanent break-up the last week in August when rains came to eastern counties and various other parts of the state, particularly in the west, where the rain was from light showers to near-floods.

While the arrival of moisture was too late to help growing crops, it will revive pastures, give a start to emergency feed crops now being planted and put the ground in condition for planting winter grain. Condition of the cotton crop is far below normal, but rains soon probably will increase yields in the northern half of the state where plants still are green, but in the southern sections, due to rapid opening of the bolls as the result of hot, dry weather.

Late feed crops in the eastern third of the state and along the coast are progressing favorably, with a third of a crop in sight. Harvesting of rice is progressing rapidly and indications are that a normal production will result despite the fact that the acreage was reduced twenty per cent.

The condition of cattle is bad over the entire state. Ranges and pastures in eastern sections and along the coast have improved considerably, but in western areas early rainfall is needed to provide growth of grass for winter grazing. Thus far 700,000 head of drought stricken cattle have been slaughtered and canned in state relief canning plants.

DO YOU KNOW

Federal gasoline taxes during the past fiscal year totaled more than $200,000,000.

Keeping the Washington Monument lighted at night cost the government $1411 during the last fiscal year.

More than 1,000,000 adults attended school of some kind in the United States during the past school year.

Only 25 immigrants now arrive at Ellis Island daily, as compared with over 5000 daily 25 years ago.—Pathfinder.

MANUFACTURING PROGRAM

Washington—The federal emergency relief administration is preparing to build or lease manufacturing plants throughout the country for employment of hundreds of thousands, and probably millions, of persons now on direct relief rolls, and will produce bedding and clothing of all varieties, and foods that are canned or processed, for distribution to 16,000,000 persons now on relief.

In setting up and operating this vast network of manufacturing plants, which will place the American government in business deeper than any except the Soviet, the FERA will order that all working conditions conform to NRA, but will ignore such state laws as those governing Workmen's Compensation.

The manufacture of 2,000,000 mattresses and an equal number of comforters heads the list of operations to be launched immediately by FERA, working through the various state organizations, but the program calls for production of all kinds of clothing and shoes, for expansion of food canning and processing activities, and for engaging in practically every line of industry required to supply the necessities of life—food, clothes and shelter.

The official source said the mattress manufacturing phase of the program will give employment to 60,000 women now on direct relief, that it will reduce the cotton surplus by 250,000 bales, and provide approximately 2,000,000 mattresses for needy families. Manufacturing units will be set up in each state. Mattress factories will be leased in some instances. The official report said, "Workers in mattress workshops are paid the prevailing rate of wage for similar work in the locality where the shop is located, but in no instance can the wage be less than 30 cents an hour."

Goods manufactured under FERA will bear a stamp prohibiting resale. Persons employed in the government factories will be paid straight wages. Those receiving the manufactured goods will receive them free, but with approval of "case workers of the social service division of State Relief administrations."

It was disclosed to Industrial News Service that FERA expects to provide work for approximately 3,000,000 persons out of the 5,000,000 families on relief, and that it is hoped by these officials that at least half of these 3,000,000 government-paid workers will be engaged in the same kind of work to which they were accustomed before the depression. Asked the direct question of whether mattress workers would be shifted to dresses and other lines of clothing later, one high official of FERA said: "Certainly. There is no reason why they should not make dresses, and some already are making dresses. We expect to manufacture everything we can for distribution to families on relief."

The government's cattle buying and slaughtering program threw millions of hides on the market, wrecking the leather industry. An effort was made to have the RFC lend money to buy the surplus hides and hold them until prices improved, but this failed to clear legal hurdles, and it was decided to let the federal surplus relief administration buy the hides, which it is doing. FERA officials said these hides must be used, and that the government factory program includes plans for making shoes and other leather goods—all for those on relief.

Union labor organizers are eagerly awaiting the operation of the new government factories, and it is certain that an immediate effort will be made to unionize the workers. When asked what the labor policy of these factories will be, that is, whether trade unions will be allowed to organize the workers and collect union dues, FERA officials at first ignored the question, then dismissed it with the assertion that, "We expect to observe all NRA regulations."

The practical effect of the factory operating policy of FERA will be: Persons on relief rolls will be paid NRA wages for producing millions of dollars worth of manufactured goods. These same persons will receive the manufactured goods free.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

VIEWS OF THE NATION'S PRESS ON TOPICS OF INTEREST AND IMPORTANCE

HOME REPAIR LOANS

The federal housing administration, established as a result of the national housing act, was formed as an aid to property owners who for the past few years have been unable to give their property the necessary care. But in order to obtain such a loan it is not necessary that one's property be in dire need of attention. No strings are attached to a FHA loan and the borrower may use his as he sees fit—provided the money is expended for the improvement of buildings in his possession.

While this new building improvement movement is being supervised and made possible by the government the monies loaned out are not federal funds, but rather the property of the institutions from which the loans are secured. The federal housing administration merely oils up already existing machinery by guaranteeing payment of the loans in case of default by the borrowers.

Anybody owning real property is eligible for a loan whether the property be commercial, residential or agricultural—provided, of course, he meets the requirements. The owner or owners must earn five times the amount of payments for any given time and the property must be passed upon as being worthy of the repairs to be made. Personal integrity is also considered in granting a loan.—Pathfinder.

THE SAPLING ARMY GROWS

Dispatches from Washington indicate that the civilian conservation corps, recognized by Republicans and Democrats alike as one of the most successful strokes of the new deal, probably will be made permanent by the next congress. The popularity of this sapling army is indicated in mounting enrollments and also in the absence of criticism of its activities from those who have been attacking other administration measures.

The corps, made up mainly of jobless youths whose families are on relief rolls, combines a desirable form of unemployment relief with the undertaking of essential forestry and soil erosion work which otherwise might be neglected. Since most of the cash paid to the corps members is sent home to needy dependents, the organization constitutes a valuable relief agency. It is especially satisfactory from a social point of view, since the money paid out is compensation for work done instead of being a humiliating charity dole.

Moreover, the work being done by the corps is not mere weeding-cutting. It is adding to the future wealth of the nation. The work of tree planting, tree thinning, road building and fire protection in our national parks and national forests, together with soil erosion work, will add greatly to the heritage of the next generation. The corps will also be the logical organization to construct the gigantic tree belt which the next congress is expected to authorize.

The continuance of the civilian conservation corps beyond its experimental period will facilitate greatly the administration's program for reforestation and for converting submarginal farm lands to other uses.—Dallas News.

OIL ANNIVERSARY

Seventy-five years ago—August 23 was the exact date—one Colonel Drake drilled a well in northwestern Pennsylvania, and struck oil! It profited him nothing, but not so a young merchant of Cleveland, who perceived distinct possibilities in the proceedings. Even the tremendous fortune of John D. Rockefeller and his confederates extracted from petroleum by certain devious methods is dwarfed by the present magnitude of the boom days of Pithole, Titusville, Oil City and so on.

Statisticians can figure how much of the present day transportation is founded upon petroleum but a glimpse of the world's highways, its skyways as well as its ocean traffic is all that is necessary to confirm its importance on the present scheme of things.

Petroleum has also figured in much of recent history. German activities around oil deposits in Mesopotamia and Persia were a factor in the world war. Control of the world's oil "floated the allies to victory on a sea of oil," in the words of Lord Curzon. Oil bearing shale deposits in Manchuria are said to be responsible in part at least for Japanese invasion thereof.

West Texas, which has seen the boom days of Pennsylvania repeated at Ranger, Burkburnett, McCamey, Irann, Best, Wink, Odessa and other points, can join in spirit at least with the observance of this 75th anniversary of Colonel Drake's discovery well. Because West Texas has profited from oil, even if the colonel didn't.—San Angelo Standard-Times.

NO CHEAP INTEREST

Those who hoped that in making money available for home modernization, the government also would make interest rates so low that everyone eligible would want to negotiate a loan, are doomed to disappointment. Walter D. Cline of Wichita Falls, regional director of the national housing act, announced the other day that those who secure loans will pay approximately 9 per cent interest.

This is about the usual charge on mechanic's liens, and doesn't offer much advantage, except on terms and availability. Nevertheless these loans are helpful to those who have not yet been able to secure funds for home repairs or modernization through the usual channels, for under the national housing act, certain safeguards such as insurance are placed around the loans so that credit for home modernization is loosened.

Much of the publicity that has been put out about government aid to home owners has been misleading in that it left the impression that all one had to do was to ask for money under any pretext and get a loan. But in actual practice, this is far from the truth. Home owners must satisfy loan agencies that the repairs are needed, and that the money received goes for this purpose. There will be no promiscuous distribution of federal money, if Uncle Sam is aware of it.—Denton Record Chronicle.

IGNITRON TUBE

As perfected by Westinghouse engineers the new "ignitron" tube may well turn out to be one of the most useful as well as astonishing marvels of science.

By the light of the tube speeding objects are made to seem motionless. Bullet can be observed flying through space; an airplane propeller, moving at top speed, appears at rest, and type-written words can be read on the flashing blade of a swiftly revolving electric fan.

The utility of this optical invention, in both research and in industry, is almost beyond imagination. Undoubtedly, if the idea works out, human life may be made vastly safer than it now is.—San Antonio Light.

WAITING ON WORLD IMPROVEMENT

If anyone needed further evidence that no nation lives unto itself alone, that none can prosper except all have a measure of prosperity, that fact is now illustrated by Great Britain.

The canny British have been given credit for putting their home affairs on a firm footing. By taking their losses, by courageously reorganizing and re-equipping industries which had lagged behind their foreign competitors, by government encouragement of weak enterprises, by framing trade pacts with the dominions, by a common sense and united, if sometimes grouchy, attack on public problems, the country has effected a remarkable degree of stabilization.

Unfortunately, while things in Britain were getting better, things in Europe and many other parts of the world were getting worse, with the result that the British now find it not only impossible to increase their foreign trade, but are hard pressed to retain what they have. Thus far the domestic situation has shown no retrogression, but the British leaders are frank to admit the dangers that exist, and are in about as prayerful a mood for general world recovery as they previously were for British recovery.—Houston Chronicle.

WHY BOYS LEAVE HOME

Some of the rural schools will be opened early in order that they may be closed a few weeks later while the cotton is being picked. Doubtless this plan will not be very popular among the boys who attend the schools. A boy gets a lot of pleasure out of school closing down, but not in order that he may stay at home and help with the cotton picking. One of the most uninteresting jobs in the world for a boy is to be compelled to pick cotton. H.T. knows a little about it, because he had the pleasure of trying it out. That is another reason why he left Lampasas county and went out in the big world to make a name for himself. He has not succeeded in making much of a name, but he has avoided a lot of cotton picking and that is worth the effort.—Vernon Record.

SOCIAL CHANGES INEVITABLE

This winter predestines great social changes. They will be inevitable. Perhaps a fifth of the population will be on relief.

The "redistribution of wealth" has begun—in haphazard manner. New York City has imposed a 50-million annual tax on business within the city to bear part of the relief cost. Nearly 18 million dollars a month is required in New York City for relief. The sum will rise this winter.

The haphazard manner of raising funds work injustices. The very businesses that must provide work are taxed heavily. The persons who possess intangible wealth are barely touched.

Thus the most urgent matter before both national and state administrations is a far-reaching plan to put citizens on their feet once more.—Temple Telegram.

PAYING PUBLIC SERVANTS

Texas has far too many public servants. They are both underworked and underpaid. Especially does this condition apply to the two legislative bodies. Some states have gotten along very well with one "house" of lawmakers. Texas has two—the house of representatives and the senate. Members of a state law-making body should be paid enough to remove them from the employ of other interests while they are serving the state. In order to pay them more, the number should be cut down. This plan has worked in Nebraska and a number of other states, and will in Texas if given a trial.

Our governor never did get his just dues in the matter of salary. It costs too much to be elected to the office in comparison with the salary paid. If we may expect better men for the job, we must pay more. Better salaries generally attract better men. Only in a few instances do we have men or women willing to make a personal sacrifice in the interests of the people.—Donley County Leader.

A DEBT OF LOYALTY

No one can live in a community, enjoy its privileges and draw his substance therefrom without becoming lastingly indebted to the community, its people and institutions, and that obligation is a debt of loyalty the discharge of which is incumbent upon him as opportunity offers.—Oklahoma Publisher.
