

THE GOLDTHWAITE EAGLE

VOLUME FORTY-ONE

GOLDTHWAITE, MILLS COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 14, 1934.

NUMBER THREE

Commissioners Monthly Session

Commissioners court was in regular monthly session Monday and while most of the business transacted was of a routine nature, it was all important.

Warrants were ordered to pay for some of the highway right of way heretofore purchased and these warrants are to bear 6 per cent interest.

The abandoned portion of highway 81 through the Oden and Chapman tracts was restored to the original owners.

Highway money was divided to the different precincts of the county from which it was collected. No. 1 received $210.04; No. 2, $119.32; No. 3, $119.28; No. 4, $80.79.

Official reports were examined and accounts due by the county were audited and ordered paid.

WILL RESIGN NEXT WEEK

Judge John L. Patterson has announced his resignation as county judge, effective Saturday of next week. He has served in the office since the death of his father, Judge L. E. Patterson, but was not a candidate for election to the office. He agreed to look after the business until time to resume his school work in Haskell county, which would extend past the time for making nominations for the office of county judge, in order that the court might have an opportunity to fill the office by appointment of the nominee. Judge Gerald has spent much of his time since the primary familiarizing himself with the work and will be prepared to take over the business and continue the duties without interruption. Mr. Patterson made a splendid record in the office and his work is appreciated by the people and has been very helpful to the county. He has proved himself to be a good business man and a careful executive, in whose hands the county's affairs were safe and well managed. He will open his school one week from next Monday. He has headed the same school seven terms and will begin his eighth term with this session.

BRIDE'S SHOWER

On Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, Mrs. Ross Wheeler, assisted by Mrs. Jim Weatheroy, gave a delightful shower for Mrs. Fields Hines. Mrs. Hines arrived at 3:30 and was pleasantly surprised to find a large number of friends awaiting her arrival. She was presented with a cedar chest filled with lovely and useful gifts. After exploring the contents of the chest, the guests were served with lemonade and angel food cake.

Those who attended the shower were: Mes. Tom Elliott, Winter Stevenson, Cora Ford, Weems Weathers, Roy Ledbetter, Frank Hines, Jeff Priddy, Mohler Simpson, August Kauhs, Clarence Cave, Tom Wrinkle, Ray Blackburn, Carl Kauhs, John Parker, Otto Simpson, Allen Ross, Leonard Archer, Bruce Burnett, Lindsey Ashley, Drew Wheeler, Ernest Obenhaus, Misses Greda and Freda Hines and Ruth Parker.

ONE PRESENT

BUDGET SUBMITTED

Judge John L. Patterson has received from the director of educational relief at Austin an acknowledgment of the questionnaires and budgets from the various school districts in the county regarding repairs and improvements of their school property. The budgets have been submitted to the federal department and at the proper time those who submitted their estimates will be notified to make application for the amounts needed. The matter will be handled through the office of the county judge and on-officio superintendent.

Methodist Notes

The Methodist church was well filled for the morning service Sunday. The service was preceded by a most splendid program, staged by the Sunday school. These programs are a splendid means for the self-expression of the children and are greatly enjoyed by them, as well as by those who are older.

With the return of so many from their vacations, together with the presence of those who have returned from college, there is a great opportunity for a new beginning in all church and Sunday school activity. We are hoping that this may be realized, and that the religious life of the entire town may take on renewed activity. To this end let all exert themselves.

Possibly no tragedy has ever happened to our community so universally appalling as that of last Sunday. Everybody is distressed because of the death of Mr. Brim and also at the wounds that came to others of the party. There is mourning in almost every home. These young people were connected either by blood or social relationship with our entire citizenry. It is not remarkable, therefore, that the entire town is in mourning. We join a host of friends in heartfelt sympathy.

At the morning service Sunday Bro. Highsmith brought to his audience some echoes from the centenary meeting held last week at San Antonio. His account was welcomed by the audience.

It is worthy to note that the San Antonio meeting inspired the Texas Methodists to hold another state wide meeting in 1936. This is certainly an excellent thing to do. Such meetings have within them wonderful possibilities as an inspirational force. It has been my personal opinion for many years that the Methodists should have these meetings. The Baptist denomination have, through their great state conventions, given us an example of what might be accomplished by such gatherings. We trust that the Methodists may hold these meetings yearly, or at least every two years. What a wonderful meeting they might have with the centennial year after next. J. S. BOWLES.

MUST SIGN CARDS

To All Teachers in Common School Districts: Registration cards, without which no teacher is allowed to draw his first month's pay, must be signed and sent to Austin soon. The following information is required on these cards:

1. Number of semester hours in college.
  2. Major studies in college.
  3. Minor studies in college.
  4. Names of colleges attended.
- Teachers are hereby requested to secure transcripts of college work and to have the information ready as soon as possible.

I would appreciate a transcript of the college work of each teacher for the files in the county superintendent's office.

JOHN L. PATTERSON,
Ex-officio Co. Supt. Mills Co.

BARN BURNED

Saturday, about noon Ray Berry's barn, located at his farm home about ten miles east of Goldthwaite, on the Moline road, was destroyed by fire believed to have been started by lightning, a thunder storm being in progress at that time.

The barn contained about 1000 bushels of oats in the bulk, also a considerable amount of corn and hay. Some harness was in the barn, but that was salvaged by the fire fighters.

It is estimated that 600 or 700 bushels of the oats were saved, as the top of the bin was sealed over, but the fire could not penetrate far into the bin. The corn was a total loss, as was the other feed. The barn was a large building and the loss on the building was heavy. There was no insurance.

School Opens Fall Term

The local public schools got off to a very good start Monday morning. The opening was characterized by little display and a full amount of regular work. Full class schedules have been maintained each day throughout the week.

The enrollment in the primary and grammar grades is just about the same as last year, while the high school enrollment shows a 15 per cent increase over last year. The increase is practically all accounted for by the number of high school pupils who are coming in from the adjoining communities.

Two new courses have been added to the high school curriculum—bookkeeping and home economics. Both are crowded to capacity. Many students seem anxious to avail themselves of work that will directly aid them in maintaining homes and earning a livelihood. The home economics is taught by Miss Lois Cox and the bookkeeping by W. W. Watson. Both have had special preparation for this work.

A cordial invitation is extended the public patrons as well as others, to visit the schools at any time. The American public school belongs to the people and those responsible for the management of your local schools believe the public should be interested to the point of giving some time in looking after their possessions.

A full and sympathetic co-operation on the part of everyone will aid greatly in giving to the boys and girls of Goldthwaite and surrounding territory the kind of school they justly deserve.

Miss Lois Cox of Cleburne was elected to fill the place made vacant by the resignation of Miss Burnett of Stephenville, as teacher of English and domestic science, and she is now on duty.

SYMPATHY EXPRESSED
The football boys of the Goldthwaite high school wish to express their sympathies to the Brim and Archer families.

Foster Brim was a man that was ever ready to co-operate with the football boys in any undertaking. He has always given the football boys the kind of support that it takes to win a game. Each year he has entertained the team with a banquet at his cafe.

The first game of the season, which is Friday week, will be dedicated in honor of Foster Brim.

FAMILY REUNION IN BROWNWOOD

Four sisters were reunited last week, after being separated from one sister for a period of 18 years. Mrs. W. J. Morris of Goldthwaite and Mrs. Lillian Jomar of Richland Springs met Mrs. Street Taylor of Casa Grande, Arizona, in the home of another sister, Mrs. J. F. Campbell, 1213 Austin Avenue, Brownwood.

Other members of the families arrived Sunday, making a total of 25.

Mr. and Mrs. Taylor and children were en route to Arkansas, where they expect to make their home, and continued their trip Monday morning.

Mmes. Morris and Jomar returned home, after having spent a very enjoyable week end. XX

A REASONABLE RULE

When the Eagle reporter falls to find out about a local event until after the paper is printed the item is lost. It is the same way with reports sent in after the paper has been issued. Some times friends send in reports of social or other events that would have been gladly accepted had they been sent in for the current issue of the paper, but such items several weeks old lose their news value and must be refused publication. Send in accounts of local events while they are news and the Eagle will appreciate them and gladly give publication.

A Fine Outlook

Business conditions are better now than they have been in several years and merchants report a very satisfactory trade. The past several Saturdays the business places in Goldthwaite have been so crowded that the sales forces could scarcely wait on the trade.

Much of the credit for this condition must be given the government plans for helping the people. The relief office has been the means of keeping many from being forced to go into debt for supplies, while the buying of cattle and the land rental policy have put a considerable amount in circulation and there is more to follow.

The cotton and other crops have helped some and taken all together conditions are very encouraging.

A FATAL ACCIDENT

Goldthwaite and Mills county have been engulfed in sorrow this week, because of a terrible accident that befell a number of young people Sunday night about 8:30 o'clock, when an automobile in which W. F. Brim, Wm. Glenn Yarborough, Chas. Frizzell, Hulon Fletcher, Misses Frances Page and Lucile Bledsoe were riding, was wrecked sixteen miles southeast of Waco, near Chilton, on the highway leading to Cameron.

The party left Goldthwaite Sunday afternoon for an automobile ride and decided to go to Waco. On leaving that city they took the wrong road, and the mistake caused them to be driving toward Cameron instead of toward Goldthwaite. At the point where the wreck occurred there is a creek spanned by a bridge, with a steep embankment on either side of the approach. The automobile missed the bridge and went over the embankment into the creek, fifteen feet below. All the occupants of the car were badly hurt and W. F. Brim died Tuesday as a result of his injuries. Chas. Frizzell, Hulon Fletcher and Miss Frances Page are still in the hospital in Waco, seriously hurt. Miss Lucile Bledsoe and William Yarborough were not seriously hurt, although their injuries are painful. They were able to be brought home Monday and are both confined to their beds, showing evidence of having been in the wreck.

The entire party was carried to the hospital in Waco as soon as ambulances could be gotten to them from the city. The car was literally torn to pieces and the salvage from it was very small.

Mmes. W. F. Brim and Chas. Frizzell were visiting in Dallas and they hurried to Waco when a message reached them telling of the wreck in which their husbands had been injured. Relatives, friends and physicians from this city have been with the injured in the hospital every since the first report of the wreck was received and reports from the hospital yesterday were encouraging, although the injured ones will not likely be able to leave the hospital for some time to come.

STATE CONVENTION

The state Democratic convention has been in session in Galveston this week and aside from declaring the nominees, in accordance with the returns from the primary election, a platform of principles has been adopted. Among these principles was a declaration against the law allowing betting on horse racing, which will "ring the bell" for that law and it is possible the subject will be submitted by the governor for consideration by the present called session of the legislature.

TRADE AT HOME

It is a mighty good rule to buy supplies from home dealers, where all things are equal. The home merchant pays taxes to support the schools, keep up the county government and the roads, contributes to the churches and to help those of the community who are in need. The home merchant makes it possible to have a home market for products and without the home merchants it would be impossible to have a town.

SINGING CONVENTION

Mills county singing convention will be held at Pumping Creek school house Saturday and Sunday. All singers and others interested are invited. There will be dinner on the grounds, a lot of good singing and a good time.

REMITTING PENALTIES

The Texas house voted Wednesday to limit the extension of time for payment of delinquent taxes to January 31, 1935. A bill to remit penalties and interest on delinquencies as submitted by the governor proposed to extend the time to October 30, 1935. Final action on the bill as amended, is expected in the next few days.

Cotton Being Moved Slowly

Possibly 1000 bales of cotton have been received here for the present season, although that amount has not yet been sold. Under the provisions of the Bankhead law a farmer can only market a certain allowance and must have a certificate to market any at all. An interim certificate can be secured at the county agent's office, but there are other restrictions in marketing which makes it a rather slow process, especially where the certificates have not been received.

The market price is fairly good, although not so good as was claimed when the Bankhead law was adopted. However, the Goldthwaite market was 13 1-4 cents yesterday, which is 10 cents per pound higher than it would have been had not a reduction in acreage been required and other restrictions enforced.

The yield per acre is not large, to be sure, yet considering the extreme drought during the growing season it is much better than could have been expected.

SHEEP, GOAT AND CATTLE MEETING

Sheep, goat and cattle producers will meet in the district court room Saturday, September-15, at 2 p.m. to provide for orderly selling of stock offered to the government.

All signers of sheep and goat applications are requested to call at the office and sign vouchers just received. No stock can be appraised until all these papers are signed.

Producers will name their own committees to make arrangements for delivery of stock.

W. P. WEAVER, Co. Agt.

FALL GARDENS IN ORDER

Sufficient rain has now fallen in many parts of Texas for fall gardens to be planted, says the extension horticulturist of A and M College, and now is the time to clean off the weeds and prepare the soil for fall gardens in other parts of the state. Seed should not be planted unless the soil is supplied with moisture to a depth of six or eight inches. Seed planted following a light rain will germinate, but if there is not enough moisture to sustain plant life the sprouting plants will die.

BANK MOVED

The Trent State bank has moved back into the corner building, which has been occupied as a banking house since its erection in the early days of Goldthwaite. The interior of the building has been redecorated and improved and new fixtures have been installed for the bank.

CHANGE IN SCHEDULE

It will be noted that there is a change in the Santa Fe train schedule effective Sunday. The trains in the morning going west are later while those coming from the west are a little earlier. It is well to keep posted on the schedule to avoid delay and disappointment. The schedule appears in this paper.

SCHOOLS STARTING

Several schools of the county have already opened and others will open in the next few weeks. The teachers and pupils are all no doubt looking forward to a pleasant and profitable school year.

DON'T GET MAD

If your paper stops after coming to you a long time without payment of subscription, just bring or send the subscription price and all will be lovely.

Baptist Reminder

Sunday school 10 a. m. Sunday morning.

Preaching 11 a. m. Sunday morning.

B. T. S. 7:00 p. m. Sunday evening.

Preaching 8:00 p. m. Sunday evening.

Sunday was a very favorable day in church attendance at all our services. There was quite an increase in both the Sunday school and B. T. S. attendance. We had good crowds at both the preaching hours.

I will preach Sunday morning on the two rocks that gave forth water in the wilderness as types of Christ. Sunday night my subject will be "If He Turn Not, He Will Whet His Sword."

Sunday morning our offering will go to our denominational mission program.

FRANKLIN E. SWANNER

ATHENS CLASS SOCIAL

The Athens class and volleyball boys held a joint social at the fair park last Monday evening. By 7 o'clock all had arrived and were soon participating in a supper, consisting of barbecue, bread, pickles, pie and coffee. There were about fifty to enjoy the affair. We wish to urge all of our members and to invite new members, to come to Sunday school. You have a hearty welcome. REPORTER

CENTENNIAL PLANS

Many counties and communities in Texas are making preparations for celebrating the Texas Centennial. The main celebration, which is to be held at Dallas, will have many side attractions and many communities will participate in making a proper showing for the state. In every county there are local committees who are being urged by the state committee to organize and help to make the centennial celebration in 1936 a great success and beneficial to every part of the state.

EXPECTING CERTIFICATES

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Weaver returned Wednesday from College Station, where he attended a meeting of those interested in providing for the sale of cotton, in conformity with the Bankhead law. The meeting was still in session, but Mr. Weaver is hopeful of receiving the exemption certificates in the near future.

BANK MOVED

The Trent State bank has moved back into the corner building, which has been occupied as a banking house since its erection in the early days of Goldthwaite. The interior of the building has been redecorated and improved and new fixtures have been installed for the bank.

CHANGE IN SCHEDULE

It will be noted that there is a change in the Santa Fe train schedule effective Sunday. The trains in the morning going west are later while those coming from the west are a little earlier. ## Cattle Buying Is Suspended

Cattle buying in the drought relief division has been temporarily suspended. While it is not definitely known when buying will be resumed, it is expected the suspension is for the purpose of allowing time to the packing houses to catch up with the work of butchering. It is also possible that the crowding of the stock pens is a cause for the temporary order.

Approximately 5000 cattle have been bought in this county and of that number approximately 2760 were shipped to the packing houses or to pasture and approximately 2240 slaughtered.

Sheep and Goats

It is not known when the sheep and goat buying will begin, but the order for buying is expected hourly.

About 16,000 sheep and 13,000 goats have been listed for sale to the government, divided to the various commissioners precincts in this way:

	Sheep	Goats
Precinct 1-4922		4534
Precinct 2-2551		3494
Precinct 3-6570		3621
Precinct 4-1835		1039

EAGLES BEGIN PRACTICE

The Goldthwaite Eagles have started training for their first game of the season, which will be September 21, with Lometa.

The team this year is pretty much of a dark horse. Most of the material is new, but they are looking good. Several lettermen have reported for practice, and the chances look good for a strong team this year.

The team appreciates the support given them by the town last year, and are asking you to support them again this year. The Eagles came out second in this end of the district last year and have hopes of winning the district this year.

Everyone is invited to come down to the field and watch the team work out.

The lettermen, who reported this year were Rudd, Todd, Yarborough, Huddleston, McDermott and Campbell.

The Eagles have a fast, powerful backfield this year. The backfield consists of Todd, Rudd, McDermott, Davis, Yarborough, Ford and V. Doggett.

The linemen are Huddleston, Jones, F. Soules, E. Soules, E. Doggett, Taylor, B. Johnson, W. Johnson, Kaufman, Carter, Cook, Lucas, Campbell, McKenzie, G. Johnson, Perry and Armstrong.

Don't forget, the first game will be with Lometa September 21.

This is your team, and you should back it. REPORTER

TEXAS WATER SHORTAGE

The Texas relief commission has taken steps to meet a water shortage situation, approaching the critical stage in many drought stricken counties of the state, by instructing county administrators to submit applications for work relief projects to supplement short supplies and to safeguard quality of supplies from questionable sources.

The chief engineer of the work division, said a hasty survey in 100 counties reveals more than 50,000 farm families having water for domestic purposes, as corporate municipalities importing water because of exhausted home supply and 30 others with less than a 30-day supply available. "We've been shipping water into Waco in tank cars for several weeks," he said. However, the report showed many places taking water from questionable sources.

Federal authorities have authorized by the amount of $100,000 for such and all equipment to be used in such projects, which will be shared with the state and returned to the federal government.

Mrs. Dan Covington visited Mrs. J. M. Stacy Thursday and helped can beef. Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Featherston and Henry Simpson went and helped Thursday afternoon.

Will Horton spent Sunday in the Huffman home. It seems this is getting to be a weekly visit.

Frank Benningfield and Aaron Stacy, Mrs. J. H. English and niece, Evelyn Covington, spent Willis Hill and family visited somewhere Sunday, but I didn't learn where it was. ROSEBUD

IT WOULD COST, BUT—

Adam R. Johnson, Texas Relief Director, urges, as a means of reducing the cost of administration of relief, that the counties of the state be required to put up $1 for every $2 the state and federal governments put up. Unquestionably, that would reduce the costs of administration all right, and probably the number on the relief rolls, too. Local officials would think a good while about adding a doubtful applicant to the rolls if their own county are required to pay a third of the cost. As it is, they pay nothing save their share of the tax required to retire the state bonds.

But it is doubtful if the plan would be feasible. A good many counties either could not or would not finance a share of the burden. That would throw them entirely off the rolls when they would be required to pay taxes to pay for the bond money being expended in other counties. — Greenville Herald.

Infection is often fatal. Prevent it with Lucky Tiger Antiseptic Ointment. At all Drug stores. Costs little.

Saturday night with M. L. Casbeer and family.

Deward Simpson spent Saturday night with J. M. Stacy.

Mrs. R. G. Blackburn visited Mrs. M. L. Casbeer a short while Wednesday afternoon.

Those visiting in the J. M. Stacy home Sunday and enjoying a good dinner were: Mr. and Mrs. J. H. English, M. L. Casbeer and family, Dee Horton, Aaron Stacy, Frank Benningfield and Joe Adams.

Dee and Will Horton helped eat ice cream in the Travis Griffin home Saturday night.

Mrs. R. G. Blackburn visited Mrs. Roberts one afternoon during last week.

Frank Benningfield, Aaron Stacy and Evelyn Covington spent Sunday afternoon with M. L. Casbeer and wife.

Claud Smith took off another bale of cotton Tuesday morning.

Mrs. J. M. Stacy and Evelyn accompanied Dee Horton to Caradan Monday for a visit in the Elton Horton home.

Bina Beth and Sybil Casbeer and George Wayne Featherston spent Friday with Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Casbeer.

Mr. Wayne Featherston is visiting his son, Clyde, and family. ROSEBUD

"Now I'm the Picture of Health," Says Lady After Taking CARDUI

Here is how Cardui helped an Alabama lady. . . . "I suffered from pains in my back and sides," writes Mrs. A. G. Gray, of Cusseta, Ala. "I was so thin and weak, I read of Cardui and decided to take it. I noticed at once it was helping me. I kept taking Cardui until I had finished five bottles. I gained. My health was much better. Now I am the picture of health. My color is good and my weight increased." . . . Thousands of women testify Cardui benefited them. If it does not benefit YOU, consult a physician.

Crusaders Speed "Excitatoria" To Millions of American Citizens

THOUSANDS of "excitatoria" are being dispatched throughout the United States today, from The Crusaders' national headquarters in the Pershing Square Building, New York, calling upon the people of the country to join in a new crusade for the protection of representative government.

Ancient Crusaders made effective use of messages of appeal which were known as "excitatoria" and were carried throughout medieval Europe by mounted couriers. The modern version of the "excitatoria" is being carried over the country by air-mail.

The Crusaders are men and women—Democrats, Republicans and Independents—who believe in sound government, and are militant for the rights and liberties guaranteed by the United States Constitution. Fred G. Clark, commander-in-chief of The Crusaders, states the purpose of the organization in the "excitatoria" as follows:

- "To preserve, protect and defend the Constitution of the United States and a truly representative form of Government."
- "To fight vigorously any attempts to have the majority of Americans ruled by organized minorities seeking special advantages."
- "To oppose any violation or distortion of the Constitution to achieve various objectives in our governmental, economic and social systems."
- "To resist any so-called 'planned economy' which involves complete control of industry by Government and regimentation of the American people.

"To stand firm against any drift or drive toward Fascism, Communism, or Socialism.

"To fight for sound national credit—sound money, in which the people have confidence—and a balanced budget.

"To insist that Government enterprise stimulate and not supplant private enterprise.

"To wake up America so that intelligent thought and action based on experience is exerted to shape the future of our country."

The Crusaders originally organized to fight for repeal, but in their new crusade they are enrolling members anew, membership carrying no financial obligation. Mr. Clark states that it is hoped that more than 1,500,000 members will be enrolled.

STYLES IN NEW YORK

Color Plays Important Role in Fall Fashions—

While black holds first place in the style picture, colors are tremendously important, particularly for that "first new fall frock." Decidedly important among new fall shades now featured in New York shops are the anthracite blues, grape blue and red wines. One notes these shades in new woolens, silks and synthetics, featured particularly in the collections of smart clothes for the college bound along with new shades in brown and green—always college girl favorites. There's a vivid new green shade known as peacock featured in one of New York's smartest shops stressed for both day and evening. This shop features evening gowns also in sapphire blue, chartreuse, pink and wine, all worn with feather capes—some matching and others contrasting the gown. Very effective is a sapphire gown in this collection worn with a red feather cape. Aubergine is a new eggplant shade noted in some of the new afternoon and evening dresses and in velvet wraps. Other green shades being featured for fall are the onyx green of Patou, the light and dark yellowish green of Chanel, the grayish green and leaf green sponsored by Molyneux, and the pine green of Augustabernard.

Tunic Stylings Important in Fall Mode—

Tunic stylings carried out in the rich new fall fabrics—silks, synthetics and woolens—are in the spotlight of fashion. One notes them stressed both for day time and evening. For daytime, they are featured often in a combination of contrasting fabrics, as, for example, a soft woolen tunic over a satin skirt. Decidedly smart are those with high necklines of Russian influence. Still other smart models feature draped necklines. These tunic stylings are featured for evening in the various new silk and synthetic velvets, crepes and satins. The Russian tunic-belted coat characterizes some of the newest fall suits. Tunic jackets and blouses buttoned down the front with large composition buttons are noted in the various collections of smart campus clothes.

Combs Accent Smart Fall Coiffures—

Combs promise to have a new style interest for the smart coiffure, according to New York's dictators of the coiffure mode. For one thing, the new hats with the forward tilt demand a coiffure—sleek, tailored and close to the head—an effect that is often enhanced by a carefully chosen, discreetly placed comb or other ornament. Little rhinestone studded wings worn toward the back and just above the ear are featured among the newer hair ornaments, as are also little Spanish combs in colors. The latter are particularly smart when selected to match other color accents of the ensemble.

Beret and Tricorne Favored Hat Styles—

The hat silhouette this season is particularly flattering—with the beret and tricorne the favored interpretations. As to berets, one notes them in draped, tailored, Chinese, pancake and Rembrandt versions, as well as in the smaller, close-to-the-head types. Tricornes are featured in large and small types, and there's a new plateau hat with a forward line and double brim of beret type that promises to be very much in demand. Black is the favored color. However, there are such new color combinations this season as turquoise and raspberry, aubergine and poison green, olive and brown, rust and light grey, amethyst and rust, purple and grey, magenta and royal and green and purple. Brooches and clips of composition trim some of the smartest hats of the season—particularly the velvet berets and tricornes. There are some feather trimmings and lacquered quills.

Style Flashes—

Pockets are decidedly important in the fall mode. Peplums and pockets feature some of the jaunty college girl frocks of rough rayon crepe noted in New York shops. They are seen in brown, green and tile.

There's no end of interesting ways of transforming a plain frock into a flattering costume this season through new composition buttons and bracelets, as well as through new cuffs, collars and scarfs.

Acetate fabrics are very important this fall among collections of school girls frocks—these including the new crepe back satins, faille back satins, rough satins, rough and mossy crepes, failles and novelty weaves in such colors as black, Malacca brown, wine red, and piper green. The favored shirtwaist dress is noted this fall in a new printed petal skin rayon crepe known as Amarelle—a fabric seen also in some of the newer blouses for daytime wear.

Belts contrasting the frock in color are new in the mode—and very effective, as, for example, a wine red belt noted on a sapphire blue crepe frock.

Bloused backs are featured in some of the smartest new frocks coats and blouses. A leading Fifth Avenue shop is displaying a white satin evening gown with a cape that forms a blouse in the back and ties around the waistline with long sash ends, suggesting the Egyptian influence.

Neckline interest is the predominant feature of dresses—while in coats the interest is focused on sleeves. Doman sleeves characterize many new models.

NEWS FLASHES

A woman in Utica, N. Y., aged 33, has 12 children and is believed to be the youngest woman on record to have that number of children.

The lighted airway from Galveston to Waco, via Houston, with 11 steel towers, will be completed by October 15, the contractor has given notice.

A 30-year-old negro ex-convict was given the death penalty Friday morning by a jury in Houston district court for the rape of a 27-year-old white woman on August 25. The jury retired at 10:45 a. m. and 45 minutes later returned with the verdict.

Conducted under the utmost secrecy, a test of the new mail rocket plane of Herr Gerhard Zucker, was made recently near London, and the five witnesses declare that it was a success. Zucker, 26-year-old German inventor, claims to be able to carry mail by a rocket at 21 miles a minute.

Wholesale commodity prices last week rose to their highest level this year and the highest point they have reached since January, 1931. Labor department figures showed that 77.5 cents would have been needed last week to buy the same amount of goods that $1 would have bought in 1926.

A hunter in the Neches river bottom near Kirbyville killed a rattlesnake measuring 61 inches in length, bearing 10 rattlers and a button, and weighing nearly 20 pounds. The snake was four inches in diameter. One native of the piney woods thought the reptile was around 30 years old, regardless of it having only 10 rattlers.

Tears of blood shed once a day by a 26-year-old woman, puzzled physicians at General hospital in Kansas City. Accompanied by severe head pains and tears of water, the flow of blood, about 10 cubic centimeters each time, generally occurs at night. Physicians who examined the patient, said the blood does not come from the tear ducts. Physicians' tests have proved no clues to the cause.

Wilbur Glenn Voliva led his faithful followers to Shiloh Temple in Zion City, Ill., Monday to await the second coming of Christ, but said that heavenly visitation probably would not occur for a year or two. "If He should come on September 10, I will be ready," the overseer of the religious colony declared. "I take the position that all signs point to 1935 or 1936 as the time of the world climax."

Like humans, no two mosquitoes sing exactly alike, says Dr. C. P. Coogler, malariologist of the United States public health service. "We have made tests on the insects and find some sing tenor, others soprano, some bass and so on," he stated. "Not only do the different species sing differently, but individual insects of the same species may have different songs."

A report from Burnet says that a store owner near that place doesn't have to worry about the gasoline price or tax. He gets his gasoline free from what used to be a water well at his store. The water first started testing 'gasey' about three months ago. At that time, there was heavy blasting being done at the site of the Hamilton dam project. Now the gasoline comes from some unknown sources into the well at the rate of 1 to 12 gallons every 24 hours.

The number of families on relief in July showed a marked drop in actual figures from the estimated total, Harry L. Hopkins, relief administrator, said in announcing that the government was speeding up its efforts to cut relief costs to a minimum this winter. Against an estimated 4,000,000 families on relief in July, he said, the actual number was found to be 3,830,000 families (including also approximately 500,000 individuals. From all sources, federal, state, county and other agencies, the total expenditure for relief in July was $132,000,000.

Charm in Modern Upholstery

THE above furniture grouping, designed by Gilbert Rohde, is equally pleasing and practical, with its modern lines and materials that offer comfort with durability. The small chair is made of polished chromium plated tubing which does not scratch or mar easily, and the large chair of a combination of tubing and flat polished chromium plated spring steel. The practical and high style features of these two pieces are further carried out in the upholstery of white Fabrikoid in leather finish, a lacquered fabric which is washable. The large table with metal frame has a lacquered wooden top; cork is used for the other. Note, too, the indirect lighting and the plaid design in the draperies, both of which are modern notes.

EBONY

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Cutberth and their two small sons of Houston are visiting at the home of Mrs. Cutberth's mother, Mrs. Lydia Tippen.

Clayton Egger has gone to Brownwood to attend Howard Payne college.

W. M. Clements was called to Longview Sunday morning as a witness in a court case.

We are happy to announce the marriage of Miss Verla Rae Reid and Charm Whittenburg, which took place Saturday. Verla Rae is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. R. Reid, and Charm is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Whittenburg. Both families are of pioneer stock and are prominent and highly esteemed in this community. The whole community joins in showering good wishes upon them.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Roberts and children of Elkins visited relatives here Sunday.

Miss Marie Wilmeth went to Coleman Thursday to visit her friend, Miss Letha Saunders. She returned to Brownwood Friday afternoon to be ready for school duties.

Miss Aline Lovelace went to Brownwood Sunday to attend school.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Philen have bought the Embrey place at Indian Creek and will move there soon. We are sorry to lose the Philens.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Wilmeth made a trip to Goldthwaite Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Egger visited Mr. and Mrs. Bob Egger Sunday.

Misses Vivian Day and Lucile Wilmeth went to Abilene Saturday, where they will attend Abilene Christian college.

M. L. Jernigan of Goldthwaite spent Saturday night in our community. He is looking after the hog-corn production program.

Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Mitchell and Miss Maud Mitchell, who have been visiting at the Briley home the past two weeks, left Monday for their homes at Bailey and Telephone.

Grace Briley went to Fort Worth Monday, where she will stay with her aunt, Mrs. J. F. Bateman, and attend school.

Mrs. Mae Malone and children, B. B., Jane and Beth, of Odessa have been visiting relatives and looking after business in this community the past few days.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Crowder and their three children, J. D., Kenneth and Curtis, are moving to Ridge. They already have most of their things moved and will go themselves as soon as they finish gathering their cotton. Mr. and Mrs. Crowder are peace-loving, church-going citizens and friends to the school. We regret to lose them, but we are glad they are going to their own home.

A man passed through Ebony Sunday from a nearby gas field, who said they were planning to run a gas pipe line through Ebony to Goldthwaite.

Mr. and Mrs. Mack Reynolds and little daughter, Miria Nell, visited at the Tippen home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Beeman visited Mrs. Beeman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Crowder, Sunday.

CARADAN

All of we farmers are very busy picking cotton. Most of us are going to make more than we can sell.

Bro. Malone closed his meeting at Caradan Sunday night. No conversions. However, a large attendance all week. We had services all day with dinner on the grounds. A large crowd and every one derived a lot of good out of the services.

Bro. Jim Hays and Mrs. Hays were with us Sunday. We also had visitors from Mount Olive, Pecan Wells and several other places in our county. We are always very happy to have visitors and they are always welcome in our community.

Quite a number of our ninth and tenth grade pupils are attending Goldthwaite school this year. We are wishing them a very happy and successful school year.

Miss Wanda Stewart visited Audra Reynolds Sunday evening.

Clyde Kerby was seen sitting by a very beautiful young lady Sunday evening. We do not know the rest.

Maxine Stewart, Estel Hill and Vera Shipp visited Annie Dee Reed Sunday evening.

John A. Reynolds of Slaton visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Reynolds Saturday night and returned to Slaton Sunday morning. He has just finished the golf tournament and is very happy to show another beautiful cup. This is the second year he has won the golf cup. He plays with the Santa Fe railroad golf club. He won all the prizes that were awarded in this year's tournament. He is expecting to play in Dallas next Sunday. Maybe he will be a another Bobby Jones, Jr. if he keeps on playing.

Miss Hazel Beard is trying to get all the cotton pickers, so that she won't have to pick any more cotton.

School is going to start soon. I suppose all the children will be happy.

Miss Doris Robbins visited in the Fred Davis home Friday.

Deward Fallon visited Joe and R. E. Shelton Sunday afternoon. School opened at Goldthwaite last Monday. There are several going from this community. The following ones are: Miss Doris Robbins, Clyde Taylor, Lyndon Davis, Gorman Perry. I feel very proud for these young folk and hope them much success.

Misses Evelyn and Doris Robbins spent the week end in San Saba. While there they went to a farewell party for the ones who were going off to school.

Mr. and Mrs. Cleburne Masters of Mullin and Miss Mary Fallon and John L. Brim visited in San Saba Sunday afternoon.

The 4-H club met last Friday night. We had several visitors present. The next time we meet we want Mr. Weaver to meet with us. We always like to have him give us advice. We will meet next September 21, on Friday night. Everyone come.

Sunday School Notes

Song No. 35.
Subject: Isaiah contrasts false and true worship.

Prayer—C. O. Stark.
Present, 30; verses, 22; visitors, 4; collection 83c; one daily bible reading. We are very glad of collections.

Bro. Hilman of San Saba preached for us Saturday night and Sunday and Sunday night. We all hope Bro. Hilman will be back soon. A large crowd attended church and B. Y. P. U. Sunday night. The ones on the program gave their parts very nice. The subject for next Sunday will be "Christ must reign in our church life."

Leader—Julia Dee Fallon.
Christ must reign as the head of the church—Merlene Stark.
Christ must reign in the purpose of the church—Anna Beth Davis.

Christ must reign in the plans of the church—Clyde Taylor.
Christ must reign in the leadership of our church—Edward Soules.

Christ must reign in our relationship with each other as church members—Mrs. Ray Davis.

Christ must reign in our church loyalty—Rosa Spinks.
The singing Sunday afternoon at the school house was fine. The following communities were represented: Goldthwaite, Rock Springs, Lake Merritt and Trigger Mountain.

The next singing we have we hope to see more singers. Everyone come next time. The date has not been named. OLIVE OYL

Picking cotton is the order of the day now. Will Fickel and family have been picking cotton for Will Priddy.

Ed Willis and son have been picking cotton for George Tienman.

Miss Kathrine Crook and brother, Aubrey, have been picking cotton for R. Buffe.

Mr. Buffe says his new boy weighs 12 pounds, but is not ready to pick cotton yet.

Will Fickel made a business trip to Mullin last Friday.

Liss Walker and family spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Paul Grelle and family.

Mrs. Jesse Walker of Fort Worth spent the week end with her two sons, who are staying with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Liss Walker.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Fickel, Miss Bernice, Cecil and Dorothy Nell visited Mr. and Mrs. Charley Karnes Sunday.

Charley Roland of Burleson county visited in the Fickel home Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Buffe had a great surprise Tuesday night when all of their children gathered for a big ice cream supper. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Buffe, Mr. and Mrs. Hans Roark, and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Buffe and family and Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Lippe and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Clark are the proud parents of a new arrival in their home.

Liss Walker has been working some on the new Priddy school building this week. It is being rushed to completion, so that school may start on time. That's Priddy's motto.

Will Fickel and family visited in the Walker home Sunday night.

Come on, all you correspondents, I like to read your letters, for that is the way we have of finding out what is going on, and be sure and give it straight—if it is a dance, just say it was a dance.

Well, it keeps showering. Maybe we'll get a good one soon.

SCIENCE WONDER STORIES

A Film That Sees Like An Eye

It has often been said that in scientific research one thing leads to another, by which it is meant that one improvement in a process or a material is often used as the basis for newer experiments. This was true in the old battle between the iron-clad warship and the steel projectile. When armor was made that kept out the projectile, newer projectiles were made that pierced the armor, and so on.

One of chemistry's newest contributions to photography came about the same way. Panchromatic film made possible the use of incandescent lighting in making motion pictures. Then that sort of light necessitated improvements in the film. And from that demand was born the superior panchromatic film which for the first time achieved a relative color sensitiveness having a response throughout the spectrum almost exactly like the human eye, recording the visual brightness of reds and greens most accurately in gray tones of silver.

Portrait artists, cinematographers, color photographers, and other technicians who demand the utmost in photographic quality now use this film.

TRIGGER MOUNTAIN

Sunday school and B. Y. P. U. were well attended Sunday. The crowds continue to grow and much interest is being shown. We recently elected new Sunday school officers and teachers and re-organized our B. Y. P. U., electing new officers. Visitors on Sunday night included Judge John Patterson, Miss Ruby Cave, Luther Hugh Soules, Mr. Calhoun, Mr. Williams, Robert Byrns and Mrs. Harry Oglesby. I'm sure everyone enjoyed the special song rendered by Mrs. James Hays and Mrs. Harry Oglesby, with Mrs. Ira Byler at the piano.

Mrs. Harry Oglesby of Big Valley was a week end guest of Mrs. James Hays.

Miss Ella Vaughn of Rotan is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Vaughan, and family.

Miss Ruth Vaughan has returned to Austin, where she has a position, after a pleasant visit in the home of her parents.

SCHOOL OPENING

School opens Monday, Sept. 17, and pupils and parents and teachers are all looking forward to a good school year. The board has a splendid faculty and all have degrees except two and they are both building for them.

It is interesting to stand on the sideline and watch the pupils each year. How much more some of the boys and girls get of worthwhile things out of the public school than other pupils in the same classes.

One group of pupils will be prompt, courteous and regular in attendance and another will be the reverse. The reasons of the latter group have been worn out years ago and are not reasons, merely excuses.

Results are, the ones who put something into the school get good results and the one who makes excuses and finds fault, reaps just as they planted, a disastrous weed crop.

Let us put our best into our school this year and reap a good harvest.

MRS. HOYT WILLIAMS IS HONORED WITH SHOWER

Honoring Mrs. Hoyt Williams, a recent bride, a lovely entertainment and shower, sponsored by the young people of the Methodist church, was given at the church Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Flower pots and ferns were placed at vantage points about the auditorium in the back of which Misses Tootsie Hancock and Teet Fletcher served punch and cookies to the guests as they arrived. Several interesting games and contests were enjoyed under the direction of Misses Kirkpatrick, Fletcher and Hancock.

Among the performances was a hilarious "string - consuming" contest entered into by Mrs. Jewel Ivy and Mrs. G. W. Chancellor, in which Mrs. Chancellor won. A comical debate between Mrs. W. S. Kemp and Mrs. Lawrence Smith, and a mock wedding performance with Mrs. Frank Shelton as the "lucky" bride, Mrs. Russell Cobb the groom and "little" Mrs. J. J. Canady the ring bearer.

The guests were then extended an invitation to go on a fishing trip in the sea of matrimony, located in the study. Everyone who wished, was allowed to fish, but none but the bride, Mrs. Williams, seemed to be so very lucky. Her "catch" revealed a lovely array of miscellaneous gifts presented by the guests.

Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Davis spent the week end with his daughter, Mrs. Miller, of Briggs.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Reed of Tampa are visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Reed.

S. J. Eaton and Postmaster Blevins of Zephyr have returned home from a trip to Houston and Beaumont.

Mrs. Jim Huffman and children visited Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Young Monday in the Duren community.

Mr. and Mrs. Witt Hodges have gone back to Lubbock to live, after being here a few summer months.

W. H. G. Chamber attended the Democratic convention from here and enjoyed a visit to the Island City—Galveston.

Mrs. Lou Scarborough of Abilene is here, a guest of her mother and brother, Rev. J. L. Jones, of Duren.

Textile Strike Disappointing

A few months ago it was thought by many that a strike of any magnitude would be impossible, for many years to come and some believed the president's recovery plan would become a permanent law of the land and the problems of employer and employee would be settled in this country for all time. The Eagle was not one holding to that belief, but in all sincerity believed that seed of discord was being sown, unwittingly no doubt, but sown just the same and the employee was surely imbibing the thought of his employer being his enemy and that the strong hand of the government was needed to protect the employee from his employer and force a fair share of profit from the industry in which capital was invested and labor employed. As a proof of the correctness of this idea the textile industry may justly be cited.

A little over a year ago, on July 17, the first code went into effect. This was the textile code, held to be a model of its kind. It outlawed child labor, cut working hours and raised wages and claimed to have improved working conditions. Spokesmen for both employer and employee said that the code marked a great step forward in social and economic evolution.

Today the textile mills are silent save for a few in the south and there are no hands to guide the looms. Almost 500,000 workers have left their jobs, and the greatest strike in American history has begun. Neither side shows signs of giving quarter, both are digging in for a long, unhappy battle. Last hope for early settlement collapsed when final desperate efforts of the government's labor board failed. The workers demand still shorter hours, without wage reduction, plus a closed shop and further complications lie in the threat of sympathetic strikes within other major industries—and that is the stuff of which a national general strike might be made. Heads of the textile union announce that financial contributions are flowing in from all branches of labor, that they will have a war chest adequate to pursue the strike to what they hope will be a successful outcome. However, the nation's purchasing power will be reduced by about $7,000,000 a week as long as the strike is in effect—and everyone will feel the ill effects.

The whole future of the NRA and, more important still, of employer-employee relations is in the balance. The gravity of the crisis can not be over-emphasized—it is literally packed with dynamite.

Undesirable Business

The Eagle, like many other reputable newspapers and possibly all of them, does not guarantee its advertisers to comply with every promise, yet advertisers not known or at least not believed to be reliable and responsible can not buy space in the Eagle's columns. Reasonable care is used in the publication of advertisements and the Eagle has never heard of a reader being defrauded by misplaced confidence in advertisements appearing in its columns. Some months ago an order for an advertisement was received at this office accompanied by a check for $68 to pay the bill. All of this looked pretty good and during the depression the country was then passing through such an order was indeed desirable, but not to the extent that the danger of the paper's readers being imposed upon could be overlooked. The report of a highly qualified and dependable commercial agency was requested and that report was not at all satisfactory to this office, hence the order was refused. The check is still on file in this office as a constant reminder that care must be used in an endeavor to protect the readers of the paper.

Again, a few weeks ago an order was received for an advertisement to run indefinitely, the bill to be rendered monthly, but like the former case cited, the advice of the commercial agency was sought and the showing was not satisfactory to the Eagle. Again the order was refused.

These cases are cited to show that the Eagle appreciates the patronage and confidence of the public and as proof that no advertisement is taken from strangers without at least an investigation. Many people may believe that "all is grist that comes to a newspaper mill," but an investigation will prove that the average publisher uses caution in placing proposals in his columns. Verily, "all that glitters is not gold" and no class or profession is more certain of that fact than the newspaper publishers.

Old Subject Ever New

The matter of safety for the highways and in industry is an old subject, but its importance is ever constant and its demands are renewed each day and hour. September is named as Safety Month in thirty-nine states and the District of Columbia. By executive proclamation, an effort will be made to arouse public interest in one of the most pressing problems of the day—conservation of human life.

Special emphasis is placed on motor driving and judging by statistics, there was never greater need for it. Unless there is a marked improvement in the highway accident record during the very worst months of the year—September, October and November—the number of automobile deaths and injuries for 1934 may break all records. According to late reports, the number of fatalities for June was 14 per cent greater than the same month in 1933, and the average increase for the first six months of the year is now about 20 per cent. If this trend continues, deaths for the year will number nearly 35,000, or more than for the worst year on record, 1931, which had 33,000.

The task facing us this year is much greater, and the duty of citizens, drivers and pedestrians more pressing than ever before. The state executives will call upon the authorities to do all in their power to check accidents, but these authorities need help and co-operation. It will, therefore, be the duty and obligation of individuals to exercise caution to make good the slogan of Safety First.

Centennial Site Selected.

The Texas Centennial commission, in session at Austin Sunday, selected Dallas as the main site for holding the Texas centennial celebration in 1936. Several other Texas cities made offers for the location, but Dallas offered $7,791,000 in values for the designation and this was an aggregate of more than a million dollars above the offer of Houston, the next highest bidder. This does not mean that all exhibits and celebrations will be at Dallas but that city will, of course, be the main point of interest in the celebration. The representatives of other cities making offers for the honor of being the centennial city were loyal and liberal-minded, when the selection was made, and pledged hearty support to Dallas and the enterprise, which is state wide in its scope and interest. It is estimated by the commission that $15,000,000 will be required in preparing and conducting the centennial celebration.

DENGUE FEVER

This is the season for dengue fever, according to Dr. John W. Brown, state health officer. Several cases of this disease have been reported to date, and no doubt will continue to increase until the first frost. In the past 50 years Texas has experienced three epidemics of Dengue Fever. The last occurred in 1922.

Dengue is characterized by sudden onset, headache, and pain in the back and limbs, especially the joints. The fever of short duration, but convalescent is slow. While causing great discomfort the disease is seldom fatal. However, the loss of time involved is a great economic loss. One attack is generally followed by immunity for a few years.

Dengue fever is caused by the bite of the same mosquito that transmits yellow fever. Those that have not studied mosquitoes are unable to distinguish the different species. Even though a mosquito is incapable of causing diseases such as dengue or malaria, they are very much of a nuisance.

To prevent dengue fever and other diseases transmitted by mosquitoes, the places where they propagate should be eliminated. All standing water should be drained or oiled, rainbarrels screened, old cans or anything that will hold water should be destroyed. Houses should be screened with sixteen mesh screen. Community wide mosquito campaigns will greatly aid in reducing this disease and add much to the comfort of the citizens.

KNOW ANY BIGGER

A fire broke out in the basement of a seven story building about four o'clock in the morning, but the night watchman, who was asleep on the top floor, did not awaken until the blaze had gained considerable headway. Panic-stricken and confused by the smoke which poured up from below he didn't think to use the fire escape, but rushed to the elevator and set the controls for full speed downward.

Between the second and third floors the elevator stopped, and before the watchman could locate the trouble he was overcome by the smoke.

In the meantime the passing driver of a milk wagon had seen the smoke and sent in a fire alarm. The fire engines sped to the scene and soon had the blaze under control. While cleaning up some of the debris the unconscious watchman was discovered and on being taken into the fresh air and given first aid, he recovered. His first question to the hose-wielders concerned the sudden stoppage of the elevator. By way of explanation they pointed to their comrades who were carrying large gray blocks of compressed smoke out of the building and stacking them near the alley. They added that the descent of the elevator at such high speed had prevented the smoke's escaping from the shaft quickly enough, so that it became compressed from the basement to the ceiling of the second floor and kept the elevator from moving farther.

An old farmer, driving down the alley saw the smoke pile, got out of his wagon and sniffed it very carefully. He then approached the owner of the hardware store which had burned and asked if he could buy the smoke blocks. The merchant, thinking he had a sucker, sold the pile for $1.50; the farmer loaded his purchase into his wagon and drove out of town with gray smoke trailing behind.

As it happened the fire had been confined to the basement of the store, just where a large store of ax, shovel and hammer handles were kept. It was the peculiar odor of the smoke which had come from the burnt hickory handles that the farmer detected.

Far from getting a bad bargain the farmer sold the blocks to his neighbors who were at that time in the midst of their spring butchering, and were only too glad to buy choice hickory smoke in solid form for their smokehouses and 'be spared the bother of keeping fires for two or three weeks.—Pathfinder.

COTTON COMPETITION

India, Egypt, Russia and China are America's chief cotton production competitors. Brazil is the chief country offering a possible serious threat in the near future. A study of facts about each of these countries will enable one to judge for himself whether the South is seriously threatened.

If India had more land or fewer people she might expand her cotton production. She has 319,000,000 people and less than one and one-half acres in cultivation per person. Famine is an ever-present threat to India. To produce enough food for her teeming millions is a problem. If more cotton is produced it means less food and feed. Even if high cotton prices encouraged larger cotton production, transportation systems in India are so poor that it is hard to move food into the farming country to feed the population. Indian farmers are forced to live at home. They cannot drive down to a feed store and buy imported food and feed.

India has been planting about 25 million acres per year in cotton. The largest acreage was in 1926, when nearly 28 1-2 million acres were planted. In 1933, the crop was only 23 1-2 million acres. Plantings up to August 1 of this year are the smallest of any year since 1924. The average yield of both feed and cotton in India is only about half of what similar crops yield in the United States. Cotton averages only 80 pounds per acre or about one-sixth of a bale.

There is nothing in the way of price at present to tempt India to produce more cotton. In terms of Indian money, cotton prices were the lowest in March 1933 of any time in the last ten years. Prices went down even after the American plow-up. During the picking season cotton prices in India were from 1 to 17 per cent below those of the previous year, and they are still down. This shows that high prices to the American farmer in American money do not always mean high prices to the foreign farmer in his money. It takes high prices to encourage production.

Food supply and difficulties in transportation limit cotton production in India. Her big population constantly presses against her limited land for food supply. She might increase 5 million acres or 800,000 bales on short notice if prices were favorable. They are not. Beyond such an increase India is not likely to expand much in the future.

The long-time plan of the agricultural adjustment administration for cotton does not propose to give American cotton markets away to India or any other foreign nation. It does propose to avoid the violent drops in price that have cursed the southern farmer and business man for 50 years. By adjusting supply of American cotton to effective demand a decent price to the southern farmer can be maintained without a loss of markets.

The next article in this series will describe the Egyptian situation.

A BAN ON RANSOMS

The attorney general of Ontario, Canada, announces that he will ask the legislature to enact laws giving the police authority to close bank accounts, seal the deposit vaults and generally take protective control of the affairs of all persons in a position to pay ransom to kidnapers, while a unified police force trails any persons kidnaped in the future.

That may seem a harsh measure, but its purpose is to apprise kidnapers in advance that no one will be allowed to pay them a ransom, even if he desires to do so, and that there will be no waiting by the police while negotiations are going on for the return of kidnaped persons. The purpose of the law is good, and it is reasonable to assume that it would prove effective in most cases at least. People kidnap rich persons, or members of wealthy families, in order to extort money from them. Let them once know that no person is permitted by law to pay ransom, and kidnaping would end. But as long as relatives or friends are ready to pay, and the police are held back until the ransom is paid and the persons released by the kidnapers, the work will be carried on by desperate men seeking sudden wealth. It will be interesting to watch the result if the law is enacted.—Bonham Favorite.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Views of the Nation's Press on Topics of Interest and Importance

OUR WHEAT DILEMMA

Unusual importance is attached to the AAA's policy regarding curtailment of wheat acreage in 1935, not only because of the drought, but because of the influence it may have soon upon the United States' future position in the world wheat market. For the present, drought and the AAA have virtually eliminated this country from the wheat export business. Other countries are crowding in to fill the demands that were once supplied by our agricultural belt. Continued restrictions on planting, therefore, can only lessen the possibility that American wheat will again flow abroad in large volume to compete with the crops of Argentina, Canada, Australia and Europe.

In view of the international competition, and the failure of the world wheat conference to agree upon quotas or further acreage reduction, the AAA is confronted by a serious problem. Shall it withdraw acreage reductions with the view of expanding exports in 1935? Or shall it continue to protect domestic prices by curtailing output? Authoritative reports indicate that the AAA has decided to compromise, permitting a 5 per cent increase in planting next year, but holding acreage about 10 per cent below the 1929-1932 average.

When the adjustment program was launched it was regarded as an expedient to relieve the farmer of a price-depressing surplus. With the aid of the drought, that objective has been more than attained. Officials estimate that the carry-over of wheat next year will not exceed 100,000,000 bushels. Still it appears that a measure of curtailment is favored by the AAA, through Chester C. Davis, AAA administrator, prefers to call this "co-operative productive effort."

Of course, the problem is extremely complicated. It was questionable even before the drought whether American farmers will ever again be able to compete on a large scale with other wheat producers. And the chances of raising world prices through international agreement are certainly not promising at present. Under the circumstances, continued restrictions may be the least objectionable horn of the dilemma, but such a program demands a clear understanding of its implications.—Washington Post.

THAT GOLD PROFIT

Wall Street has been wondering what Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau will do eventually with the $2,800,000,000 "profit" on gold revaluation. For the present, he announced he would keep it in the treasury for later use, in government debt reduction.

The financial editor of the New York Sun debates on the sum's inflationary potentialities in this manner:

"How much inflation will follow the use of the gold profit to retire government bonds depends largely on how, and especially when, the thing is done.

"If money is printed to exchange for publicly-held bonds at a time when currency already is expanding rapidly, the inflation doubtless would be considerable.

"Some expect that the fund will be used to bale the Federal Reserve banks out of their enormous government bond holdings in which case the inflation would be mild and perhaps largely potential.

"Meanwhile the public debt is rising as rapidly as the government can push out the money. Whether the country runs into currency inflation of the worst sort depends largely on whether the public debt reaches the taxation and loan breaking point.

"Even so, a tremendous expansion of credit might take place, given greater confidence among businessmen and speculators, but the danger of that does not seem to be immediate." —Star-Telegram.

VOTING AMENDMENTS

Far more necessary than the ritual of validating the Democratic nominees in the November general election is an intelligent vote on the proposed amendments to the State Constitution. It is a disappointing fact that the public often works itself into a frenzy over the selection of officials to serve simple two-year terms, and then ignores sweeping changes in the all-important fundamental authority of government. Although Texas is notorious for the small percentage of its citizenship to qualify for the electorate, it is even more disturbing to realize that of those who go to the polls only one of four normally votes on the Constitutional proposals.

This certainly cannot be described as a healthy condition. Moreover, it is not unjust to add that of this small number to vote one way or the other on the amendments only a small percentage of them vote intelligently. It often happens, for example, that a complete slate of amendments will be voted down because of a single objectionable amendment, which has received sufficient publicity from some organized group to acquaint the people with its provisions, and that the complete slate at other times will be approved because of a single popular amendment. Rarely is intelligent discrimination made. So true is this that public-spirited citizens interested in the passage of some worthwhile amendment will carefully avoid calling attention to some iniquitous proposal on the same slate—although its iniquities should be exposed for the public good—for fear of turning public opinion against the entire slate and thus jeopardizing chances of the particular amendment in which they are most interested.

Just what is the primary cause of these unhappy conditions is difficult to ascertain. One reason, of course, is that the amendments are drab and colorless in contrast with the abusive war over personalities which characterizes Texas primary campaigns and are thus likely to stimulate public interest. But another reason doubtless is that clear and concise explanations of the proposed amendments are rarely available to the people. Most newspapers are guilty in this respect, the majority of them being content to print the ponderous text of the amendments as prescribed by law and letting the matter go at that. But an investigation would reveal, I am sure, that few persons undertake even to read the heavily worded legal resolutions printed in small, unattractive type. If editorial campaigns comparable to those directed for or against candidates, were devoted to enlightening the people with simple explanations of the amendments—and surely the law itself is as important as those who administer it—then we might expect Texas to be more intelligently governed in the future.—Texas Weekly.

THE FIRE MICROBE

If fires were caused, as is disease, by a microbe, the entire resources of science would be given to finding a cure for them. The waste of life and materials resulting from fire would be regarded as intolerable, and the physician discovering the cure would go down in history with the great healers of all time.

As a matter of fact, fire is caused by a mental microbe—though it can't be imprisoned in a test tube. The microbe's name is Carelessness. It dwells in the human mind—and the fact that millions of people allow it free play, making no conscious attempt to control it, is reason for an utter, indefensible fire waste of 10,000 lives and $500,000,000 worth of property annually.

Fire can be prevented in a majority of cases. A little thought, a little knowledge—in other words, a little ordinary care—will do the job. Any fire marshal will be glad to tell you about the common fire hazards and how to eliminate them. The fire insurance industry publishes booklets and carries on an unremitting war against fire and, too, will give you the mental ammunition you need. Faulty furn-

MARRIAGE DICTATOR

Benito Mussolini, believer in big families and friend of the family man, has fired the mayors of four towns in Italy because they wouldn't get married.

Adolf Hitler, who always goes one better in matters of compulsion, has caused to be issued "Tend Commandments for the choice of a wife," which make it quite clear that the Nazi Caesar is going to make things mighty uncomfortable for all German bachelors.

We seriously question whether women—even those on the war-path for husbands—will approve the interference of statesmen and governments in the field of husband-catching.

We imagine that most women will think very little of a member of their sex who needs help from the other sex in getting a husband; that is, help from any man other than the one selected for the husband role.

Mussolini and Hitler act as though marriage depended exclusively on the men, as though the women involved had little to do with it.

Maybe that's so in Germany. It certainly isn't in Italy. On the day the Duce fired the four mayors an Italian girl, Rosina Consolazio, 19 years old, fought a duel with her fiancé, Montalberti Filcorate, 23 years old, over a broken engagement. She shot him in the head and nearly killed him, which is much more drastic and direct punishment than the government would have dared mete out.

In America the idea of government—masculine government—control of marriage is too silly for words.

We all know what happens to the policeman or any outside male who tries to interfere in a family quarrel on behalf of the lady. He finds the lady up in arms against him.

We predict that any "marriage dictator" over here will be out of luck.—San Antonio Light.

TAX REMISSION

It always is a debatable question whether the state should be more lenient in its tax collection, or adopt a hard-boiled attitude. Regardless of which course is followed, there are injustices and inequalities to those individuals who by careful management are able to pay their taxes and, therefore, keep up the pay of the legislature and all other state activities. Sometimes the impression is left that too much attention is paid to those who can't or won't pay taxes and too little consideration is given those who do pay more than their share in order to make up the losses through delinquencies. If it were not so comparatively easy to get additional money from those who are able to pay tax, legislators would think twice before cutting expenses to offset decreased revenue caused by delinquent taxpayers.—Paris News.

THINKING IS HARD WORK

Albert Edward Wiggam in his syndicated feature, "Let's Explore Your Mind," that appears regularly in numerous daily papers, in answer to the question, Do people like to think? said: "No. Man thinks only when he has to. He would far rather go fishing, or boating, or 'just set,' without thinking. The average person hardly thinks twice a day. He uses his habits and education instead.

And if it be a new thought—he will escape it if he can. As that wise English thinker, Walter Bagehot, said, 'The keenest pain known to human nature is the pain of a new idea.' I tried it once and I know. It nearly killed me."

We may not agree with Mr. Wiggam in his conclusions, but certain it is that people do more thinking as the result of necessity than for any other cause.—Texas Outlook.

The grand jury for the September term of court made its report Wednesday afternoon and was discharged for the term. They returned sixteen bills and fourteen of them were for felonies.

McMurry Riehey left Tuesday morning for his home in San Benito. After a short visit there he will go to Durham, N.C., where he will enter Duke University.

Miss Naomi Townsen underwent a minor operation Wednesday at a Temple hospital. Dr. and Mrs. J. G. Townsen and Mrs. Joe Cox were with her at the time, but Dr. Townsen has returned to Lampasas and reports that she is doing nicely.

The Lampasas chamber of commerce has been advised by the federal government that on account of a general misunderstanding by the people of Lampasas of a transient camp that they are not interested in locating a camp in Lampasas. All abandoned CCC barracks are still the property of the federal government and they have been turned over to the transient bureau to use them as they saw fit.

We understand a racket is being worked by strangers who come into business places and ask you to change a bill for them. They will ask you to give them change for a $5 bill and when they are gone you will discover that it was a $2 bill that was given you instead of a $5. Of course, if you detect it when the bill is offered, an apology is made for the mistake, and a five is then handed you.

In the presence of her father, J. R. Frank, and a few close friends, Mrs. Josephine Allen was united in marriage with W. B. Bevins, Tuesday evening at 8 p. m., Rev. Lawrence Williams performing the ceremony. The bride was attired in navy triple sheer crepe and wore brown accessories. Mr. Bevins was formerly with the CCC camp located here, but came to Lampasas from Fort Sam Houston, San Antonio, where he was mess sergeant. Mrs. Bevins is connected with the Cottage Bakery, and has many friends among the people here. They will make their home in Lampasas.—Leader.

Japan has definitely committed itself to a policy of being second to none in naval armament. The empire determined to renounce the present scheme of naval limitation and demand in naval matters a ranking in all respects equal to that of the United States and Great Britain. The formal policy has received the approval of the nation's highest authorities.

An estimated Texas cotton crop of 2,383,000 bales will be harvested from 10,390,000 acres, the lowest number of harvested acres since 1910, the United States department of agriculture reports. A condition of 44 per cent on September 1, indicated a per acre yield of 110 pounds, compared to 185 pounds last year and 139 pounds over a period of 10 years, it reported.

John B. Willis, Louisiana convict, was convicted of criminal assault on Mrs. Maxwell Herring, young bride and former University of Texas student, and assessed the death penalty by a jury that deliberated 45 minutes in Tyler Monday. Mrs. Herring testified and told step by step of the attack on her on the night of Aug. 25, after she and her husband had been kidnaped from a drink stand near Tyler, forced to drive to a lonely stretch of woods, stripped of their clothing and robbed. Willis was arrested at Palestine the morning after the alleged attack, in an automobile which Mr. and Mrs. Herring identified as one given them as a wedding present.

ODD ACCIDENTS

No one wears hatpins any more and maybe it was just an accident that a New York woman had a safety pin when attacked by an angry bull. But with this punitive weapon she vanquished the animal.

Elmer Bown's foot slipped from the clutch as he sat waiting for a Maryland street car to pass. His car shot forward in the path of the car and that was the end of Elmer. And five picnickers were killed at a Michigan grade crossing when their car, at a standstill, was bumped by another and pushed in front of an onrushing train.

This one sounds fishy so names will be omitted. But it seems a North Carolina farmer was using dynamite for blasting stumps and one of his pigs ate some of the dynamite and then nipped at the heels of a mule. Presto! No pig—no mule.

A blind man, made his way safely about Chicago streets for 20 years and died from a fractured skull received in a fall when his cane slipped at home.

During the heat wave the temperature rose to above 110 in Nebraska and set off a big supply of fireworks in the basement of a store. Destruction of the entire building resulted.

When George Sheeler cranked his car in a Connecticut city he forgot he had left it in reverse. It started, backing safely down the street for 300 feet and then plunged into the side of a house. It shoved a piano clear across the room and broke much furniture.

In trying to avoid running over a black cat on a Maryland highway, Robert Ogden crashed into a tree, smashed his car and was slashed with broken glass—but missed the cat.

Beware of false teeth, ladies and gentlemen! Reinhardt Polzin went swimming in a Wisconsin lake and swallowed his false molars. They stuck in his throat and strangled him.—Pathfinder.

Modernizing Your Living Room

THE definite trend in home decoration is toward modernism. To bring your home up to date, it is not necessary to discard your furniture for new types, for you can modernize successfully through proper choice of fabrics and details, with perhaps the addition of an occasional table or other small piece of new design.

Just such a setting is shown here, an armchair covered with a woven mixture of "Cellophane" silk cellulose fiber and rayon in silvery white. The straight chair seen at the left is upholstered in the same material in blue, slightly lighter and brighter than navy, which has a metallic glint not only lustrant in effect, but distinctly modern. The drapery of the same fabric and color as the straight chair, has bands of white taffeta.

Venetian shutters, a fur rug, and a lamp of copper tubular base with a white and gold starred shade of modern classic design, all carry out the desired note, as do the drum table and the animal ornament. An occasional table of distinctly modern design is particularly effective in transforming the spirit of a room. Ornaments of animals, birds, of crystal, alabaster, or composition material, are also of value in modernizing, as well as lamps with base of copper, chromium or lacquered wood, and shades of white parchment, covered with a glistening modern fabric.

963,000 Miles OF ROAD TESTS!

NEW and Improved Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil is the most thoroughly tested oil ever put on the market! And every test proved that it gives greater motor protection and lower oil consumption!

First, it was tested in more than a hundred cars, trucks and tractors for 963,000 miles of road tests.

Then it was tested against five other nationally known oils in the Destruction Test at Indianapolis Speedway. One fill of this new, patented oil carried a car 4,729 miles—outdistancing the best of the competing oils by 1,410.2 miles!

Drive into a Conoco Red Triangle Station today and fill with New and Improved Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil—the oil that every test has proved is a better oil!

Marlin Ross is at home from Austin this week.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Fox visited Joe Fox at Moline Sunday.

Mrs. C. F. Cornelius of Mul-Ra community was shopping in the city and visiting Tuesday.

Arliss Berry and family have returned to their home in Oklahoma, after a visit to relatives at Pleasant Grove and in this city.

S. O. Koen of Caradan doubtless has the record on a cow sold to the government this week. She was 21 years old and had a young calf. He sold her to the government and she was killed as being too old to ship or keep.

Lucky Tiger Antiseptic Ointment kills Athlete's Foot, Ring worm, Itch, etc. Contains new sensational ingredient. At all Drug Stores.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Robbins accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Ham Berry, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Nesbit and son, went to Taylor Sunday to be present at the Robbins' reunion and also celebrated a birthday at the same time, which was enjoyed by all. And the good eats were too numerous to mention.

Mr. and Mrs. Lon Willis, who have been in San Angelo for the past few months, have returned to Brownwood to make their home. * * * Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Hester of San Angelo were in Brownwood Sunday visiting their friends and relatives. They brought their daughter, Frances, here to enter Howard Payne college.—Brownwood Bulletin.

H. E. Moreland had business in Waco Tuesday.

Mrs. J. T. Ross and son visited Mrs. H. E. Moreland Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Weaver left Sunday for Waco, to be ready for the opening of school Monday.

Miss Gertrude Fry came in last week from Killeen to be ready for the opening of school at Center Point.

Blake Hudson went to Temple the first of the week for an examination and perhaps treatment. He had not returned home yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. I. M. Ward of Cleburne were called here the first of the week on the sad mission of attending the funeral of their grandson, Foster Brim.

J. B. Rudd and wife came over from Comanche Tuesday for a visit to relatives and to see their new niece, at the home of Prof. and Mrs. Clininger.

NOTICE TO FRIENDS

As my expenses have been quite heavy the last few months I would appreciate a special effort on your part to pay your account or a part of it.

You will find me at my home or if it is more convenient for you, just leave the money at Hudson Bros. Drug Store.

Respectfully,
J. E. BROOKING, M. D.

CARD OF THANKS

Mrs. W. F. Brim, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Brim and other members of the family want their friends to know that they all appreciated the kindness and sympathy extended to them at the time of their overshadowing bereavement. Friends in Goldthwaite and elsewhere have done everything possible to assist them and give consolation, all of which makes them feel grateful indeed. Everything was done for them that it was humanly possible to do and they appreciate it all to the fullest extent.

MOUNT OLIVE

Well, here we are again to give you the latest gossip and scandal from Mount Olive. It seems that a few here have learned who this writer is and they are careful to see that he learns nothing, for fear he will publish it. Correct you are. This writer publishes all he knows and some he doesn't know.

Melrose Hodges and family visited in the Cox home at Indian Gap Sunday.

Lonnie and Doris McCarty and George Poer were in Goldthwaite and Brownwood Friday.

Corn is about all gathered in and cotton picking is popular. I do not know how good cotton is but one picker reported picking hard all day and picked 31 lbs. of the fleecy staple. Not so good.

George Roberts was due to leave last Monday for Cisco. He plans to enter Randolph Junior college at that place. We are wishing him much success.

There was an entertainment given in the Otis Alldredge home Thursday night. It was well attended and enjoyed by all the younger set.

A new baby boy arrived in the Lonnie Montgomery home one day last week. Mrs. Montgomery was not doing so well for several days, but we trust she will get along nicely.

A dance was given in the Tom McArthur home Friday night. It was given for T. H., for he leaves this week for Bangs, where he will attend high school.

Several from here were at the meeting at Caradan Sunday. There was able preaching, good singing, and a fine dinner. The meeting closed Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Poer were in Hamilton Saturday evening.

Thanks, Rock Springs, for the nice compliment on the Mount Olive writings. I must be improving, all right, for I now have two who read my column. You and the Ridge reporter. Both have mentioned reading them. As long as I am doing so well I shall continue to put forth my best efforts and, possibly, I shall gain more readers in the near future. As far as I know the Rock Springs writer has a longer tenure of service than any other writer, which is a fine record. I personally, know the Rock Springs writer and always look for and enjoy her articles each week.

Jesse Roberts was seen out motoring with a new "Sheba" Sunday. It seems that Bro. Roberts has no trouble finding a queen. That is due to the fact that he is a fine young man and he could easily double for Clark Gable.

Misses Ruby and Vernal Barentine spent the day Sunday with Edith Cody. Vernal will leave Thursday for Austin to be in school at that place.

A wee young daughter arrived Monday night in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Harris.

The government rehabilitation agent, R. A. Munster, was in our community one day last week and Monday of this week.

Well, here I am out of news and nothing to unload. Usually when I run out of news, I unload some of my personal observations. I am much in the same predicament as the farmer in Arkansas, who started to town with a load of potatoes on his mule. Each time he came to a hill the mule would balk and the farmer would have to unload some of his potatoes to get the mule on. This same thing happened at each hill. Finally the man had unloaded all the potatoes and was riding along, when the mule balked on another hill, whereupon the farmer hopelessly exclaimed, "Balked again and nothing to unload."

Isaac Cody and daughter, Minnie, stayed all night in the Almer Neal home Sunday night.

Miss Minnie Cody's school at Newberg will start Monday.

A certain party criticized me for referring in last issue to the people of this community as Mount Olivians. He said they were Mount Oliviers. But that's not so hot either. One suggested calling them natives, but tribes of the uncivilized countries are called natives, so we can't approve of that. Therefore, we must avoid these terms by circumlocutionary (see dictionary) methods and use phrases instead.

The editor wants news, and as I don't know any, I had better sign off.

PASSING OF W. F. BRIM

Mr. W. F. Brim died in the hospital in Waco Tuesday, as a result of injuries suffered in an automobile wreck Sunday night near that city. His remains were brought to Goldthwaite Tuesday evening and funeral services were conducted in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Brim, Wednesday afternoon, followed by burial in the cemetery at this place with Masonic honors, that order conducting the services at the cemetery.

Mr. Brim was one of Goldthwaite's most enterprising and highly esteemed business men and the immense congregation that assembled at the home for the funeral and the large concourse that followed the bier to the Silent City testified to his high standing as a citizen and proved the sorrow of the people because of his going and the sympathy felt for his loved ones.

Foster Brim was reared in Goldthwaite and had been identified with the business interests of the town since his boyhood, with the exception of a few years spent elsewhere.

He was a courteous and affable gentleman, ever ready to help every movement and every person needing his help. All who knew him or were associated with him in any way feel they have lost a friend.

He was married a few years ago to Miss Jane Archer and she survives him, together with his parents, two sisters, two brothers and other relatives.

He was about 33 years of age and had been a member of the Church of Christ since he was 17 years old.

TEMPORARY CLOSE

The W. F. Brim grocery store and market will be closed temporarily, awaiting Mrs. Brim being able to look after the business. The store will probably be open for business Saturday.

Making of her nations' coins at cost is an old American custom.

Hiawatha was a real Indian; he had two wives, but neither of them was Minnehaha.

Retail sales in the United States dropped 48 per cent between 1928 and 1933, but there were almost as many small retailers in 1933 as in 1929.

Fifty homes for stranded miners at Arthurdale, subsistence homestead project near Reedsville, W. Va., cost the government nearly $1,000,000.

There are still 7,000,000 head of cattle in this country in excess of what are needed for meat and milk.

England has the highest per capita tax burden of all nations, with the United States second, France third and Germany fourth — $93, $64, $54 and $37 respectively.

A single pair of rats, if unchecked, would produce 15,000,000 offspring in six years.

In the human family only one in 87 confinements gave rise to twins; triplets can be expected about once in 7569 births and quadruplets once in 658,500 births.

Of the more than 3000 known varieties of fish in the United States only 160 varieties are edible.

The suicide rate in the United States declined from 21.3 per 100,000 population in 1932 to 19.1 in 1933.—Pathfinder.

POLITICAL DATES

The primary elections did not end all of the political party business. There are a number of actions and dates yet to be observed.

Sept. 24—Final date for independent and non-partisan candidates to file for general election ballot.

Oct. 7—Secretary of State prepares official ballot.

Oct. 17—Absentee voting begins.

Nov. 3—Absentee voting in person ends.

Nov. 4—Absentee voting by mail ends.

Kitchen In Black and White

Modern Home Decoration Service

KITCHENS, as much as any room in the house, are subject to style trends and especially to color trends. After a wave of color, the present vogue is distinctly for white. Contrast of black trim is very smart, often with brilliant colors or accents of red or green in curtains and other accessories. The above setting shows a kitchen which has been effectively brought to the present day style requirements by means of the paint brush. Walls, cabinet and kitchen furniture are of whitest white with black trim of black and white color contrast in the linoleum. It presents an immaculately fresh and spotlessly clean effect. To keep the kitchen in this perfect condition is no longer a problem as there are now available new household finishes in whitest white, made on a synthetic base, which withstand hard washing and are highly resistant to stains and knocks. Also they do not turn yellow or grey with age but maintain the original freshness of pure white. The new household finishes, which are extremely easy to apply, are especially practical for kitchens where hard usage occurs.
