

THE GOLDTHWAITE EAGLE

VOLUME FORTY-ONE

GOLDTHWAITE, MILLS COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 9, 1934.

NUMBER ELEVEN

Democrats Win Victory Over The Nation

Election was held at every voting box in Mills county Tuesday and there was a total of 745 ballots cast, which is less than one-third of the voting strength of the county. The voting was a mere matter of form, as far as selecting the officers, as they were all nominated in the July primary and there was no contest from United States senator to the bottom of the ticket.

A report of the vote by boxes would not be interesting, as few if any of the boxes voted their strength, and the only result that was not known ahead of time was the fate of the eight amendments on the ticket, all of which were overwhelmingly defeated and this goes for the entire state as well as Mills county.

In some states the result was not so well known in advance as they were in Texas and throughout the nation the "New Deal" was up for approval or rejection. The result was highly pleasing to Mr. Roosevelt and other Democratic leaders, while it was decidedly discomfiting to the Republicans and other critics of the administration.

As a result of this election the Democrats will increase their majority in both national houses and the country as a whole has put its stamp of approval on the Roosevelt administration.

With 68 members of the senate and 309 members of the lower house elected as tabulations in various states were completed late Wednesday, attention was centered on New Mexico and North Dakota, where there were chances of still further gains in the senate and on the outcome of 18 races for the house that still were undecided.

The present top-heavy majority in the national house, where the Democrats now have 309 members, was equaled late in the day and was almost sure to be increased as the undecided races were completed. At the same time, 25 Democratic senators had been elected. The Republicans had elected only five senators, to go with their 18 hold overs and 98 representatives. There are 114 Republican members of the present house. They must win in 16 of the undecided races to hold the present membership.

California Results
Far behind the ballot count of acting Governor Frank F. Merriam, Republican, in the race for the governorship, Upton Sinclair, Socialist-turned-Democrat, threatens to launch a campaign to "end poverty in California."

Merriam's lead passed the 200,000 mark on returns from 8679 precincts out of 10,721, and the majority is due for an increase.

In Other States
Joseph F. Guffey, Pittsburgh oil man and defender of the New Deal, has been elected United States senator from Pennsylvania over David A. Reed, critic of President Roosevelt.

Henry P. Fletcher, Republican national chairman, said that his party was "licked in Tuesday's election, but didn't have to 'stay licked.'"

"When you are licked, you are licked, but you don't have to stay licked," Fletcher said in a tone-sentence statement on the returns.

Senator Hastings, Republican, Delaware, chairman of the Republican congressional senatorial committee, likewise confined his statement to one sentence.

ROAD CONTRACT AWARDED
The contract for highway 74a from Lometa to the Mills county line was to have been awarded yesterday and while no report has been received as to who secured the contract, the important matter is it having been awarded. Bonds were voted in Lampasas county some time ago to have this road built.

ART AND CIVIC CLUB

The Art and Civic club met last Thursday at 3 o'clock in the Claud Eacott home. Papers were read by Mmes. Gartman, Hodges, Keese, Martin, Saylor and McCullough. After these interesting papers, Mrs. McCullough, chairman of the club's legislative committee, gave some highlights on the amendments to the constitution of Texas, which the voters of the state passed on in the general election, Tuesday, November 6.

After the program those present enjoyed a social hour. Mrs. Eacott, assisted by Mrs. Leverett, served a lovely refreshment plate. Guests were Mmes. Campbell, Anderson, Dickerson, W. W. Stephens, Joe Palmer, R.E. Clements, W. E. Miller, S. E. Cloninger, D. D. Tate, R. J. Gerald, J. R. Burtner, Sauters and Mrs. Charlie Evans, who was an out-of-town guest. REPORTER

HALLOWEEN PARTY

Last Wednesday night a large crowd enjoyed a very "spooky" party in the home of John W. Roberts, in the Rock Springs community.

The first hour or two was given to guessing as to who each of the "ghosts" were. Then we were taken to the "haunted house." Raymond Williams was at the door of the haunted house and shook hands with each of us. But oh what a horrid feeling, as we clasped his hand, for it was a rubber glove, filled with ice water. He motioned us in. The lights had been dipped in bluing water, which shed an eerie glow over everything. Mr. Williams then told us a story, which he said the spirits had just told him. It was the story of a very beautiful young girl who went into a dark forest to meet her lover and found him—dead! Then, she, having no desire to live without him, killed herself.

Mr. Williams then took us upstairs to view the body of the young girl who had met such a tragic end, and much to our surprise, we found the young lady to be Miss Waldine Traylor! After the horror of seeing the murdered girl, we were then taken to the haunted room, where we found many skeletons and witches. Our hostess, Mrs. Roberts, then took us back to her home, where we all enjoyed the string music furnished by several of the young people.

We are very sorry that Louie Ponder and Mrs. Nickols missed the haunted house and refreshments, but we are sure they enjoyed the stew at Center Point very much. A GUEST

MRS. EDGAR McNUTT ENTERTAINS

Mrs. Edgar McNutt entertained the W. M. S. and Y. M. A. and also gave a kitchen shower for Mrs. Weldon Hill in her home on Tuesday, November 6. As she had a quilt ready to quilt, we met in the morning to be ready to do our part, each taking one or more dishes for lunch at 12. At the noon hour there was a call to the dining room, where we found a table bountifully loaded with good eats of which we enjoyed most too much to feel so well afterwards.

At 2 o'clock we assembled in the living room to have our program, which was very interesting and instructive. Then at 4 there was another call to the dining room, where we found the table loaded, but how strange—it was bundles instead of dishes. Mrs. J. M. Hays was master of ceremonies. There was much merriment as the honored unwrapped the packages to find many nice, useful presents, which she appreciated very much. A GUEST

Methodist Notes

We had a good day at the Methodist church Sunday. The fact that we were to have with us the newly appointed pastor brought out a fine audience. At the evening hour the Baptist pastor dismissed his services and most of his congregation worshipped with us. This act of brotherliness is appreciated by the Methodist congregation. It gave the new preacher a fine audience and the people enjoyed the service and the fellowship.

Bro. Duke and his wife have met with a fine reception by the people. They have been shown many courtesies, found the parsonage in first class shape, with a fine supply of groceries and other things so needful to a preacher and his family. All this betokens a good year's work together.

For the first time in many years there are no children in the parsonage. Several children have been reared to manhood and womanhood by this pastor and his wife, but they are all gone from home and have families of their own. We shall miss the laughter of the children of the manse.

I should like to take this opportunity to remind those who read these notes that the Red Cross drive for membership will be on next week. The Self Culture club, as in former years, will have active charge of the canvas. Let all our people do their duty in this perilous hour, when there is suffering and sorrow everywhere, and so many demands being made upon the Red Cross and every other organization purposed to aid the needy and suffering. Last year the Red Cross distributed more to the needy of Mills county than the county contributed to the organization. This ought, within itself, be a mighty incentive to the people throughout the county to do their best for the Red Cross. Don't forget that every cent subscribed to this organization is spent by our local chapter here at home, except fifty cents taken from each subscription, which is sent to national headquarters. If you subscribe five dollars, four dollars and fifty cents of this is spent here for the benefit of our poor and suffering. Help the Red Cross.

Let everybody who can possibly do so be at church next Sunday. Every member of the Methodist church owes this to their church and its pastor. Those who are not members ought to find themselves a church home some place. You will always find a welcome in the Methodist church, or in any other, for that matter. You need the church, the church needs you. Only a few weeks ago the president of the United States made a public appeal to the churches to aid him in his attempt to bring about a better condition in the nation. Yet there are those among us who are disposed to think themselves under no obligation to the church, and even treat lightly all attempts to enlist them with the things for which the church stands. Why not have the same conception of duty, and act with the common sense of our great political leaders? Come along, those of you who have been neglecting your duty toward your community. Come to the Methodist church if you like; if you prefer some place else, go to the place of your choice. You will be welcomed any place and may be useful any place. J. S. BOWLES

BIRTHDAY CELEBRATED

Miss Celia Ann Simpson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Simpson, celebrated the second anniversary of her birth Wednesday afternoon. She was hostess to the following young friends: Billie Ross Wheeler, Alvin Ray, Marjorie Nelle and Anita Dennis, Janie Ruth, Jimmie Reta and Monette Simpson, Harry Allen, Mary Katherine and Joe Bob Palmer, Mary Lou Galloway, Tommie Ray and Mary Jane Grozier, George Wesley Jackson, Norma Sue Ross, Lorain Bledsoe, Cathleen Clements, Celia Ann Simpson.

After a very enjoyable afternoon the guests were served with cream cones and birthday cake. A GUEST

CAMPAIGN OF SANITATION

The state health department has inaugurated a campaign of sanitation in the state and in this project relief labor is being used. The local relief office is co-operating with the movement and is supplying free labor where application is made for such labor. Householders who desire to co-operate in this campaign will have the benefit of engineering and plans, as well as the free labor.

OIL WELL PROGRESS

Good progress is reported from the Rock Springs oil well. The drill has reached a depth of 1500 feet, which is 200 feet short of the final depth expected to be reached to strike oil. Prospects are said to be very encouraging and the drill is going day and night.

New County Quota For Cattle

Mills is one of 74 counties from which the government will purchase another quota of cattle. Information has been received that a quota of 1000 will be taken from Mills county at an early date. Buying will start in Comanche county next Monday under the supervision of Dr. D. D. Rhodes, who has been assigned a district of five counties, in which buying will be carried on for 30 days. It is not known when purchasing will start in Mills county.

Definite plans for taking this quota will be announced next week.

County Agent W. P. Weaver, has kept the matter of Mills county's needs before the departments from the start and this additional quota of 1000 cattle is one of the results of his splendid and untiring work.

Many stock raisers have not been able to put in all of the cattle they needed to put in, especially as the dry weather has prevented small grain making pasture and it is now too late to get the grain up to where grazing would be helpful, even tho the rain comes right away.

ROAD BOND ELECTION

The order for the road bond election to be held in this precinct December 8, appears in this paper and every property owner should know the details and intentions of the election.

While this notice nor the order of the court specifically states which roads are to be improved, it was the intention of the petitioners for the election and the commissioners court in ordering the election to use the funds provided by the sale of the bonds to buy right of way and fence highway 74a from Goldthwaite to the Lampasas county line; also, to buy and fence a portion of highway No. 7 from the top of the mountain east of Goldthwaite to the precinct line on the Waco road, a distance of possibly four miles in that direction. This right of way will connect with that already purchased by the county from the top of the mountain to the Brown county line through Mullin and Zephyr.

Baptist Reminder

Rev. and Mrs. G. C. Ivins will visit in our city over the week end, on their way back from the Texas Baptist convention, which was held in San Antonio. They will be guests of our church Sunday. Bro. Ivins will bring the message Sunday evening. We certainly welcome them into our midst. Not only our people, but all the people of the town will be happy that they are going to stop with us.

Sunday will be the eleventh. Let us honor all of our Ex-Service men and pay respect to those who gave their lives in defence of our country, by having a large crowd present in Sunday school. I suggest that all classes work on their attendance. It will be especially advisable for the T. E. L. and Athens classes to have a large number present, since they will probably have visiting speakers. I will speak Sunday morning on the subject: "Shall Civilization End War or Shall War End Civilization?" If you are an ex-service man or a relative of one, we especially invite you to be present.

MONDAY BIBLE STUDY

Circle No. 1 gathered in the home of Mrs. E. B. Anderson for our weekly Bible lesson.

We were met at the door by our hostess, who made us feel that it was good to meet with one another.

The opening prayer was led by Mrs. Hudson, after which the minutes of last meeting were read and approved.

Mrs. E. Gilliam, Jr., brought us a beautiful devotional on the 51st Psalm. She said in part: This is where David prayed that great prayer, not for the faults of others, but for his own sins, first. Where he asked God to create in him a clean heart and to renew a right spirit within him. To blot out his transgressions and to forgive him of all his sins. Then will I teach transgressors thy ways and sinners be converted unto thee.

Let this be our prayer today. Let us pray as David of old prayed, to keep ourselves pure and clean, then we won't be ready to tell the faults of others, but to tell only the story of Jesus.

Prayers were led by Mmes. Bradley and Allen.

Our lesson was very interesting as we studied Paul's second letters to the Corinthians.

Mrs. Anderson, assisted by Mrs. Gilliam, served delicious punch and nut fudge cake.

We will meet next Monday with Mrs. Lewis Hudson, Mrs. Allen Ross will be the teacher for the afternoon. REPORTER

B. T. S.

The committee is very anxious that all county B. T. S. U's be planning on the monthly B. T. S. meeting to be held at Caradan, November 25.

If your entire union can't be there send representatives.

Last meeting held at Scallorn, there were representatives from six churches.

An interesting program is in store for all who come. You missed a good program before. Our district president, Rev. Alexander, gave a very inspirational talk and the Goldthwaite B. T. S. gave a short, but interesting mock wedding.

Don't forget the time, Nov. 25, and the place, Caradan Baptist church, 2:30 p. m. REPORTER

A LIGHT RAIN

A light rain fell over most of Mills county last Friday and was very acceptable, while there was little benefit in most places, other than laying the dust. The heaviest rain fell from Mullin to Priddy and in those sections streams were flushed and some stock water was put out. There was not enough of the rain anywhere, however, to provide a bottom season and more is needed in every section.

WALL—LUCAS

Last Wednesday evening Carl W. Wall and Miss Carmen Lucas were married by Rev. Jo H. Frizzell, a long-time friend of both families, at his residence on North Fisher street. Mr. Wall is a son of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Wall of Star and is an honorable and industrious young stock farmer of that community. The bride is the lovely daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Lucas, also of Star.

These young people are of two of Mills county's most highly respected families, and both are universally liked by everyone. Their host of friends are universal in wishing for them much happiness and a prosperous life. They will make their home at Star in the midst of their friends where each has been reared.

They were accompanied by E. B. Hamilton and the bride's sister, Miss Cuba Lucas. A FRIEND

MARRIED AT POST

Munger Kemp and Miss Bernice Hedrick, both of Post, were married in Lovington, N. M., November 3.

Munger was reared in Mills county. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Z. D. Kemp, and has many friends and relatives living in this county.

The happy couple will reside near Post.

The bride was reared near Post and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Hedrick of Post. All of the groom's friends here extend congratulations and good wishes. A FRIEND

LIBERAL LEGISLATURE

A report from the legislature in Austin says:

A bill releasing penalties and interest on delinquent taxes was finally adopted Wednesday night and headed toward the governor's desk for signature.

Final legislative action on the controversial subject was taken when the senate adopted a conference report on the bill by a vote of 16 to 11, with one pair and then tabled a motion to reconsider.

Swept by an urge for further action, the senate immediately afterward finally passed a bill appropriating approximately $5,000,000 for financial assistance to the Texas centennial celebration in 1936.

As finally adopted the tax bill would be mandatory on all taxing subdivisions in releasing penalties and interest on ad valorem taxes due last August 1, until March 15, 1935. Payments after March 15 would be permitted under a graduated scale of penalties, which would be optional with municipalities and school districts.

Penalties would be two per cent from March 15 to April 1; three per cent during April; four per cent during May and five per cent during June. On July 1, the penalty would increase to a maximum of eight per cent and interest of 6 per cent would accrue.

All over the nation the anniversary of the signing of the armistice in the world war is celebrated.

In conformity with this custom, which is right and proper, Goldthwaite Retail Merchants have declared for a holiday on Monday, November 12, as the anniversary this year falls on Sunday.

Most of the business houses and offices will be closed on Monday, and it will be well for those from a distance who have business with these places to phone or in some other way ascertain what hours officers or business men will be available for business. Most of them will be about the town or at home and can be seen on any matter of importance.

The rural mail carriers will make their regular routes Monday, as Armistice day is not a legal holiday, neither is the day following.

Those who expect to come to town or to go to any other town for business Monday had best investigate before leaving home, as most towns are to celebrate Monday as Armistice Day.

NAZARENE MISSION

Junior cruise to Nazarene missions in the east on steamship, "Good Tidings."

Our splendid ship Good Tidings sailed out of New York harbor November 5, at 4:15 p. m., with the following on board: Janet Jernigan, Velma Fox, Alma Ray, Nova Mae Pearce, Lorene Bird, Betty Fay Ray, Adella Ruth Gray, Louie Ruth Calhoun, Hazel Bird, Tiny Calhoun, Mary Ruth Pearce, Mary Ruth Calhoun and Jackie Dalton.

The whistle blew, the great throbbing engines were moving under our feet, the band began playing, and we waved farewell to our friends and loved ones on shore. Our promise for this voyage is found in Psalms 107:30, "So He bringeth them unto their desired haven." Down the harbor we glide, out into the great ocean. The sea is calm, the weather delightful, not one on board has been troubled with sea sickness.

We soon reached London, England, where we stop a short time waiting for chart and maps, which we were unable to procure before sailing. Being detained here but a short time, we decided to visit only one place, West Minister Abbey. It is only natural that we would want to view the tomb of David Livingstone, that mighty hero of the cross and missionary to Africa. And having started late on our voyage, we hope to be able to catch the airplane "Wings of the Morning," (Psalms 139:9), and overtake the other juniors at Portuguese, East Africa, where we will visit the boys' and girls' building, paid for by our juniors.

Any juniors desiring to take the trip with us can secure tickets at the Nazarene parsonage. REPORTER

METHODIST CHURCH CHOIR REORGANIZED

Wednesday night those interested in singing, met at the Methodist church and reorganized the choir.

The following officers were elected: Director, Mrs. S. P. Sullivan; pianist, Mrs. John Berry; assistant pianist, Miss Ruby Lee Dickerson; president, Miss Myrna Miller; vice president, Buel Condon; secretary, R. H. Chandler; treasurer, Charley Bayley; librarian, Miss Ruby Lee Dickerson; reporter, Mrs. J. T. Helm.

There was a large crowd present and we wish to extend to others who are interested and who will meet with us every Wednesday night immediately after prayer meeting, a cordial invitation. REPORTER

THE GOLDTHWAITE EAGLE

District Clerk John S. Chesser visited Brownwood one day this week.

Mrs. Marion Cox and grandson, Junior B., were visitors in Goldthwaite Saturday night.

Mrs. Kate Carlton of Oklahoma City visited friends in this city the early part of the week.

The Eagle can offer some low rates on daily papers for long or short time.

Supt. Tolbert Patterson of the Mullin school looked after business matters in this city Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Miller are attending the Baptist general convention in San Antonio this week.

Otto Lorenz of Priddy, one of the Eagle's good friends, transacted business in the big town Saturday.

Mayor W. H. Thompson of Brownwood, accompanied by his son, W. T. Thompson, visited relatives in this city Sunday.

Mrs. Lawrence Kelly and children of Pleasant Grove community were visitors to the city and callers at the Eagle office Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Weaver of Waco spent last Saturday and Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Johnston and other Mills county relatives.

Ask your grocer about Bill's Famous Chili Mixture. One tablespoonful to a pound of meat. That's all.

Mrs. C. V. Stephens of Chico, and daughter, Mrs. J. A. Walker, and baby of Ryan, Okla., spent last week end visiting in the C.L. Stephens home.

He was among the friends who called at the Eagle office that day.

The Eagle can save you money on your daily paper. Ask about the combination rates.

Capt. M. Y. Stokes, Jr., and Lieut. Carl B. McDaniel came over from San Antonio last Saturday in a government plane.

Lieut. McDaniel had business in Dallas and drove over there, returning later in the afternoon, at which time he thrilled the populace with his stunts in the air. He is flying instructor at Randolph Field and only one other aviator in the government service has more hours in the air to his credit than has he. The two officers left in the plane at 7 o'clock and, after a short visit to the fields in Waco and Austin, arrived at Fort Sam Houston at 9:30 that night.

Texas Lady Tells How Black-Draught Laxative Helps All Her Family

Here's how Black-Draught fills the needs of a family laxative in the home of Mrs. J. S. Stokes, Fort Worth, Texas. "The grown-ups in my family," she writes, "have always taken powdered Tiedford's Black-Draught for biliousness, headaches and other ailments (due to constipation) and found it a reliable remedy. I was very pleased when I saw Syrup of Black-Draught advertised. I bought it and gave it to my little daughters, ages 6 and 4. They needed something to cleanse their systems and Syrup of Black-Draught acted well. . . . Your druggist sells this reliable laxative in both forms. "Children like the Syrup."

A Half Century of Progress In A School Boy

A half century ago this country was made up of stockmen, farmers and traders, who should be given a large part of the credit for the advance in civilization.

The creed of these pioneers was, "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you," but in the progress of a half century that creed has changed and today the creed of men is "Do it to others before they get a chance to do it to you."

In the day of the pioneer there was very little thought given to education, but there were a few schools for those who really wanted an education. Some of the men who hold the most important positions of today, were the school boys of that decade. It was a severe struggle to secure even a limited education, but the students were willing to put up that struggle to gain a crumb of knowledge.

By contrasting the school boy of that day, with the school boy of today, we find that the school boy in that decade had to rise at an early hour in the morning, do the chores around the place, and then get ready for school. He often had to walk five or six miles to the little log school, where he labored over his reading and spelling until late in the evening, then he walked those long, weary miles home. When he reached home, he had to begin doing the chores around the place, which often kept him busy until after dark. He did his studying by candle light and was glad of the opportunity to get to study at all. Today, the school boy rises with many grunts and groans at the early hour of 7:30, swallows a few bites of breakfast and off he goes to school. Instead of walking those eight blocks to school, he must have a car to ride to school in. He plays most of the hours away at school and at 4 o'clock in the evening he leaves the dreaded old school house, and goes to town, where he "hangs out" until supper time. After supper he "dolls up" in his best clothes and off he goes to his "honey." There's no studying at night for him, the electric lights, undoubtedly hurt his eyes.

Eagles vs. Bulldogs

Last Friday, November 2, the Eagles played a game of football against the Brady Bulldogs. The Eagles played good football and were beaten only because they were so greatly outweighed by the Brady team.

Brady made gains, both thru the air and thru the line, but the Eagles held them to very few good gains through the line. The first two touchdowns were made in the first quarter and the last touchdown in the second quarter. The score, though 20-0, was a hard earned victory.

The Eagles also made a few threats at the Brady goal. Once, if the halt hadn't been called, they would have made a touchdown. At the last of the game they made some very nice gains through the line and in the air with passes. Rudd on the Eagles played with a crippled shoulder. Some of the players were ineligible, leaving only a squad of fifteen players. Eleven on the field and four subs. Todd and Yarborough played good offensive football, both making considerable yardage. Clark Davis also made some good runs and passes. Davis throws left handed.

On the defense Todd, McDermott, Huddleston and Graves played good football and did their best to win the game.

This week we hope to have those ineligible players back into the line up for the Eagles. Maybe they can help us get the score to be the largest on our side next week.

Friday, Nov. 23, the Eagles play the Armadillos. They have never beaten the Armadillos in the past six years. San Saba needs to lose a game to us and this year is the time we want them to lose. Everybody come and help win the San Saba Goldthwaite game at the fair park November 23.

Revelers

The boys' glee club sang last Sunday night to the combined congregations of the Methodist and Baptist churches. The glee club now has a total of fifteen members and seems to be "getting places." We also sang to the high school October 30, and to the grammar school the following day.

The club is already looking forward to going to Fort Worth to enter a state-wide contest for male choruses. Get behind these boys and help them.

The following is a summary of the absences for the month of October:

- In the primary grades forty-two pupils were absent one-half day or more with the following assigned as causes: Sickness of pupil, 29; accident, 1; out of town for various reasons, 8; helping with home work, 4.
- In the elementary grades sixty-seven pupils were reported as being absent one-half day or more with the reasons assigned as follows: Sickness of pupil, 45; accidents, 2; sickness in family, 4; work at home, 8; out of town for various reasons, 6; car trouble, 1; miscellaneous, 1.
- In the high school thirty-one absences of one-half day or more were reported with the following reasons assigned: Sickness of pupil, 13; accident, 1; working at home, 10; out of town, 7.

A Sure Way To Prevent Winter Trouble for Motorists of GOLDTHWAITE

Special Winter Grades of Germ Processed Oil Give Positive Starting, Improved Gasoline Mileage and Utmost Motor Protection!

Change now to the proper grade of New and Improved Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil. You'll get:

- Positive Starting. These new lighter grades permit your motor to reach higher "cranking speed." You save your battery. You choke less—waste no gasoline.
- Definitely more miles per gallon of gasoline. These lighter grade oils flow freely and minimize friction.
- Utmost Motor Protection. Other oils drain away, leaving parts unprotected when you start. Only Conoco Germ Processed Oil penetrates and combines with metal surfaces, forming the "Hidden Coat that Never Drains Away." Every part is fully oiled from the first turn of the motor. It cuts down starting wear—saves repair bills!

Conoco dealers and stations have the new Winter Grades, namely, 10W and 20W—heavier grades, too—in refinery-sealed cans and in bulk. Consult the Conoco chart, fill with the proper grade—and stop worrying!

A LIBERAL POLICY

The Eagle has been more liberal than judicious in the matter of subscriptions for the past three years, owing to the depression, but the time has come when all newspapers are being required to cull their lists to those who really want and pay for the paper. One requirement recently brought to the attention of the Eagle management is that the paper can only be sent through the postoffice at the second class rate to bona fide subscribers and business men who carry advertisements and are entitled to a copy of the paper to check such advertisements, but the old "free and easy" policy must be abandoned.

The biology class wrote up the names of those who attended chapel exercises Monday morning. These were special exercises, for the mothers, because plans wanted to be made for the banquet Thursday evening and consisted of a program. The program was as follows:

- Music and singing — Grafton Townsend and Johnnie Mason.
- Music—By Mr. Ivy and his son, David.
- Tapping and a verse—By Bobbie Jo Long, with music by Cecil Sparkman and Johnnie Mason.

This visitors who were present were: Mrs. Otto Lippe, Mrs. H. Henkes, Mrs. C. Schumann, Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Nauert, Mrs. Reinert Wagner, Mrs. Paul Wiedebusch, Mrs. Johnnie Schlee, Mr. and Mrs. Will Lubke, Mrs. Henry Drucekhammer, Mrs. E. P. Cunningham, Mrs. Ed Schrank, Mrs. Albert Tischler, Mrs. Lieb Tischler, Mr. and Mrs. August Drucekhammer, Mr. and Mrs. Will Koch, Mrs. George Niemann, Mrs. Jim Hopper, Mrs. Walter Kunkel, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Kunkel, Mrs. George Tiemann, Mrs. Ed Dearson, Wilma Limmer, Dolores Wiedebusch, Eleanor Tiemann, Mr. and Mrs. Woody Carlisle, Mrs. Winnie Mae Stanley, Mrs. G. L. Mason, Mrs. W. W. Limmer, Mrs. Joel I. Grimland, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Rost and Mrs. Bill Shipp.

We hope more can be present the next time something like this occurs, but some of the mothers who could not be present promised to contribute their share.

The Girls Glee Club

The Girls Glee Club gave a backward party Monday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Jeske.

Everybody entered through a window in the living room. If they were dressed backward they could partake in things and were given a favorite. If they were not dressed backward they could not partake until they dressed backward. Some boys managed to slip in without having their clothes on backward, but they were taken out by the other boys and forced to dress backward.

Refreshments were served in a backward way. Everybody stood and ate with their backs to the table. When they were asked if they wanted lemonade, and they said, "yes, please," they got water or none at all. Almost everyone got water instead of lemonade the first time. If they said that they didn't want any lemonade or anything to drink, they got lemonade.

A prize was given to J.W. Stewart, because he was the most appropriately dressed boy at the party. Miss Watson was given a prize for being the most appropriately dressed girl at the party. Her prize was a box of snuff. Then a game called "Permsimon Pucker" was played. The winners, Johnnie Mason and Ella Reinke, received rattles as prizes. A few games were played on the outside, then everybody went into the house again and listened to the music, which was made by Ed Jeske and Lonnie Dearson, after which everyone went home.

Home Economics

The home economics club met October 29 for a session. The first secretary changed her course and, therefore, a new one was elected, which is Lillie Henkes.

The club also chose its colors and flower. The colors are rose and cream and the flower is the rose. The motto which was adopted is "To make the world a lovelier place to live in."

The club discussed an outing or hike to be in the near future. The home economic girls received their books last week.

The civic club nominated a committee to send out invitations to the community, inviting them to an old-fashioned banquet, Thursday evening. The ones who were elected were Hilma Hein, Edna Lubke, Albert Schwartz, Johnnie Mason and Velma Bufe.

Announcements

The Comanche Lions club is coming to Priddy Thursday night, to give a free program.

The ladies of the Priddy community are going to give them a big supper at 6 o'clock. All of the business men of Priddy and Comanche will be the honor guests, and all people of the community are invited to be present. After the banquet the Lions club of Comanche will entertain us with a real program.

Friday night, November 9, the Mullin P. T. A. is bringing a play to Priddy entitled "The Street Called Sham." A small admission will be charged.

Sports

On the Mullin court, last Wednesday night, the Priddy Pups defeated the Prairie boys 12-11, and were defeated by Mullin of the tune of 15-12.

The Pups, not being accustomed to playing at night by electric light, found it difficult to distinguish their own men from their opponents.

The Pups tied Mullin in the game, but were defeated in the extra five minutes of play, to determine the winner.

KINGFISH OVERRULED

The fact that Huey Long is a senator does not exempt him from standing trial in a $500,000 libel suit brought because he called a man a "scoundrel, and thief of the lowest level of crookedness." Unanimously, the supreme court ruled that Long must stand trial on charges of libeling Samuel T. Ansell, former counsel for the senate committee which investigated the 1932 Louisiana election.

Long applied the "scoundrel and thief" appellation to Ansell after the senate committee inquired into a campaign which resulted in the election of Long's candidate, John H. Overton, as the junior senator from Louisiana.

The "Kingfish," displeased at the way Ansell conducted the inquiry, made a speech and announced he would not claim the customary immunity. He then had pamphlets circulated containing some of his denunciations of Ansell, who sued in the District of Columbia courts for $500,000.

The fifth and sixth grades have made them a weekly honor roll. Those listed below made a hundred all last week: Fifth grade, Myrtle Schrank, Oleta Walters, Beatrice Clark, Morene Schumann, Dorothy Langley, Arnold Koch, Leroy Mason, G. H. Wiedebusch, Alfred Pax. Sixth grade, Bertie Mae Stanley, Mamie Simms, Eugene Grelle, Alvin Harris, Melvin Schwartz, M. C. Walker, Clarence Rost, Herbert Lubke and Marvin Koch.

Mr. Hein is very forgetful. He put the school news, which we wrote up, in his pocket and asked us to write it over.

And he can't tell time—When we ask, "What time is it?" our answer is, "It's time for you to get to studying."

The third and fourth grades are indeed glad that the first six weeks test is over. We now begin on the next six weeks with a determination to do better.

Those making the honor roll for the first six weeks are: Fourth graders, Ruth Hein and Dorothy Nell Fickel. Third graders, Emilee Harris, Willie Mae Steinmann and Bobbie Jo Long.

Eternal Vigilance Required in Fight Against All of Childhood's Epidemics

Mother brings baby to the clinic where he is weighed and inspected for hidden defects by Red Cross nurse; the nurse on her daily rounds inspects a little boy who is "feeling badly."

DIPHTHERIA—that dread epidemic of childhood two decades ago—has almost been conquered, medical authorities inform us. Eternal vigilance still is practised against the disease, through immunization campaigns, and the world of medicine hopes that ultimately the dread plague will be as extinct as the yellow fever epidemics of the nineteenth century.

The American Red Cross played a major part in the eradication of both. As long ago as the 1880s a young Red Cross nurse—Jane Deiano—led a corps of women nurses in the battle against yellow fever in the South. Today she is revered as America's Florence Nightingale, both because of her early exploits and because of her outstanding leadership in which she sacrificed her life.

Red Cross nurses by the thousands have worked in the diphtheria eradication campaigns through assisting doctors in giving immunizations to school children. They first entered this work twenty years ago and still are carrying on in many hundreds of communities.

Epidemics of measles, whooping cough, scarlet fever and other ill-considered minor evils by many still sweep our schools. Public health authorities and the nurse know that these should not be permitted, because any or all may leave weaknesses. The nurse is alert against infantile paralysis, which annually presents a problem in some section of the country. Against all of these the healthy, well-nourished child stands the best chance.

Child health preservation is a major program of the American Red Cross. How important the work of the nurse is in this respect may be judged from the fact that during the last twelve months period Red Cross nurses inspected 629,000 school children and of this number found 261,000 with physical defects of varying degrees which had to be corrected if normal health were to be maintained.

Following the World War the Red Cross undertook the task of showing rural communities and smaller cities the value of the visiting nurse—a lesson already appreciated by many larger cities. Hundreds of nursing services were established and proved their value to the taxpayers, thus becoming publicly supported institutions. Many services continued under the auspices of the Red Cross, and today there are more than 750 Red Cross nurses still making their daily rounds carrying their vital knowledge of good health habits to mothers and children.

During the past year these nurses made more than a million visits to or in behalf of the sick. There is still a broad field where the public health nurse is unknown. That there is no more appealing service to which funds may be devoted was illustrated a few months ago when Will Rogers, the noted comedian, desiring to do some public service—but not for public acclaim—gave the Red Cross $25,000 with which to send public health nurses into communities without funds for this purpose.

One of the most effective weapons against the inevitable toll of childhood's ill and epidemics which the depression-years are visiting upon the country, is wielded by the Red Cross nurse in her constant visits in the communities where she is employed. The work of these Red Cross nurses is supported through the annual roll call for members Armistice Day to Thanksgiving. Every man and woman who joins is aiding in the campaign to keep children healthy.

CENTER CITY

Sunday was a good day for Sunday school and a number attended. We are hoping more will come and help in the work. Both churches need help. The program at night, led by Miss Leone Wright, was interesting. Those who missed the talk by Prof. Horace Cooke missed a treat. He is enthusiastic in his Sunday lectures to the young people and let's encourage him in this good work. I believe Mr. Womack will have part on the program for next Sunday night. Let's be there.

Robert Lee and family and Medford Langford visited Avery Lee in Stephenville Sunday. They also visited Mrs. Chappell and children and report them doing well.

Grandad Carter and his son, Johnnie, joined the funeral procession from Santa Anna Sunday afternoon, bearing the body of Mr. Joe Hicks to Evant for burial. Mr. Hicks was a brother-in-law of Mr. Carter and was well known to the older residents of this community. His wife preceded him in death some ten years ago. Our sympathy is extended to all the bereaved.

Mrs. Chas. Evans has been visiting relatives here and in Goldthwaite. Her son, John Vernon, came Tuesday and they returned to their home in Mexia Wednesday.

J. M. Oglesby and family and Nella Beth McCasland visited in Big Valley Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Venable is visiting her son, Ewell, near Evant.

Mrs. Doggett and little daughter, Billie Maxine, of Post, are visiting her mother, Mrs. Nickols, and other relatives.

A card from Bro. and Mrs. Brown state they arrived at Poles and are well pleased. We have not learned who our next pastor will be.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Welch and daughter, Aidele, visited Miss Lucile Welch at Evant Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Tubbs are at home in Clifton instead of Moline, as our last news read. Sorry we made this mistake. However, we are glad to know they are well pleased and happy. Mrs. Tubbs was Miss Yvonne Welch and here is hoping they will make frequent visits to our community.

Miss Luckie accompanied her parents to Eola last week end for a visit with her brother and three sisters, who are in business there.

Walters Hester attended B. Y. P. U. Sunday night.

It has been customary in the school to have the school news read in chapel at the close of the month's work. The paper read this week by Miss Maxine Geeslin, covers the work of the school so far and seemed so interesting, we are sending it in for the Eagle readers.

Center City School News

By Maxine Geeslin

The first day of school proved a success. We heard some speeches. The children received their books and were ready to begin school in the right way. Several children had to miss a few days to pick cotton, but we gave them an advantage the first week by beginning school at 8 o'clock and dismissing at 3 o'clock.

Everyone is working and trying to make a good student. We proved this in our examinations last week.

Miss Keese is directing a play, which we hope to stage in three weeks. Let's work, students, and put on the best play Center City has ever had.

The junior glee club seems very interested in their work again this year, hoping to win the cup again, which we are sure they will.

The seniors regret that there is not a sufficient number to have a glee club.

We have also been watching the basket ball boys and the work they are doing.

The boys played Star, Oct. 12, at Star, winning the game by one point. Star returned their visit October 26, playing the second game. This time Center City won by two points. Come on, boys, we are expecting you to win the championship.

P. T. A. News

The P. T. A. met October 5, to elect new officers. Mrs. Hubert Geeslin was elected president,

CHAPPEL HILL

Well, we had half an inch rain, but the wind has dried it all away.

Jim Evans, who has been in the sanitarium at Temple for some time, was doing very well at last report.

Those visiting Mr. and Mrs. Will Fickel Saturday night were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Griffin, Arnold, Kathleen and M. C. Walker and J. D. Nix.

Miss Erma Wiedebusch is staying with Mrs. Ed Willis.

R. Buife has resigned as school trustee and George Crawford was appointed.

Mrs. Liss Walker spent Monday afternoon with Mrs. Will Fickel.

Charley Ivy had the misfortune of the accidental discharge of his gun Sunday evening, the shot entered the side of his ankle, just above the heel, ranging downward on the other side, making a very bad wound. It being Sunday the other boys were gone with their cars, (to see their girls, of course), causing Charley to suffer from the loss of blood before they could find someone to take him to the doctor. R. Buife took him in and at last report he was doing very well.

Arnold and M. C. Walker and Cecil Fickel with Misses Bernice Fickel and Kathleen Walker, attended church at Trigger Mountain Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Eakin visited Mrs. Will Fickel Tuesday.

Miss Bernice Fickel spent Sunday afternoon with Miss Kathleen Walker.

Orville Evans is staying with his father, while he is in Temple.

Liss Walker helped to hold the election at Priddy Tuesday, which was, he thinks, the lightest vote ever polled at that place.

Will Fickel went to Comanche Monday. He says he can sleep better now, as he has got him a place for another year.

Arnold Walker is very busy cutting and hauling up his winter wood, but says he is not too busy to quit to work for someone else, but if the editor catches this he will know its meant for one of those free advertisement schemes and he won't print it.

Mrs. J.M. Oglesby, vice president, and Johnnie Carter, secretary-treasurer.

The school presented a short program. A committee was appointed to arrange the next program, which will be Friday, Nov. 9, presented by the outsiders.

General News.

Mr. Richardson has started the music class again with a large number. He wants to organize the orchestra as soon as all are ready with their instruments.

The inspector visited our school October 15, and complimented our school highly and recommended $1025 state aid.

Cracks From a Dumb Bell

"Alta," says Julius, as he comes down the school steps, "who owns those ferry boats I tripped over coming down the steps just now?"

Alta shot him a fierce look, "Ferry boats, indeed!" she cried, "I'll have you understand they are my shoes!"

Julius gulped uneasily. "I did not say ferry boats," he hastily replied, "I said fairy boots."

Doctor: "How often does the pain come on?"

Leon: "Every five minutes."

Doctor: "And lasts?"

Leon: "Well, a quarter of an hour, at least."

Oleta returned from the world's fair and in spite of the enjoyment derived from the great exposition, had a disappointment out of it all. She did not get to see the skyscrapers work.

Miss Keese (who had brought her small nephew to the doctor for treatment): "It's his head, doctor. He has had it off and on ever since he was born."

Mr. Cooke: "You are late today, Mamie Lou."

Mamie Lou: "Yes, sir, I fell down stairs."

Mr. Cooke: "Well, that didn't take you long, did it?"

Miss Keese: Larry, please use Austria-Hungary, Turkey and Greece in a sentence."

Larry: "Austria got Hungary and ate Turkey fried in Greece."

Miss Luckie: "What is an iceberg?"

Tom: "I know, Miss Luckie! It is a permanent wave!"

Ball Games Postponed

On account of the badly needed rain, which fell here last Friday evening, we had to postpone our basketball and volley ball games with Center City and Mount Olive. The games will be played at a later date.

New Teacher

We are very proud of our new teacher, Sherrill Roberson, who has begun teaching in our school. We hope he will enjoy teaching in our school as much as we shall enjoy having him as a faculty member.

"The Ginger Girl"

They are working successfully on the play, "The Ginger Girl," which is to be presented at this school at a later date. Please do not confuse this play with "Wild Ginger," which was presented at this school several years ago by the Rock Springs community.

Oh, These Boys!

Cute and nochalant, Campbell Thompson.

Sweet and blond, Carlyle Stark.

Loud and funny, Floyd Morgan.

A baby and lazy, Wayne Miller.

Studious and quiet, Tarzan Johnson.

Impossible, but funny, Vernon Bynum.

Nice and a good sport, Dorman Dupuy.

Humor

Little Raymond Earl Mitchell visited school one day last week and when he started to leave, Miss Frye said, "You'd better stay all day with us."

Raymond Earl replied, "I'm afraid the old teachers will get me."

Miss Piper: How long did you study your lesson?"

Floyd: "About an hour and a half by railroad time."

Miss Piper: What do you mean by railroad time?"

Floyd: "Counting the stops and all."

Mr. Hale: Now all you have to do to answer this little easy question is to write one word."

Alberta: "How do you spell the word?"

Cartwright visited the zoo at the state fair in Dallas and asked the zoo keeper why the giraffe had such a long neck. The zoo keeper gravely replied that it was so far from the head to the body that a long neck was necessary.

CENTER POINT

There was Sunday school Sunday morning and B. Y. P. U. and singing Sunday night, with the usual crowd attending.

Our community was blessed last Friday afternoon with a good rain, the first since last April. Stock water was very scarce, but the rain replenished the creeks. Everyone is very thankful for the good rain.

Mrs. W. A. Allen and children, Idella and Riley, left Friday for Houston, where she will be at the bedside of her small grandson, who has been quite ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Fallon and Eva visited Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Mark Fallon of Kempner.

Mrs. Florence Conner and Mrs. Johnnie Taylor spent Monday in the Marion Williams home at Mullin.

Miss Inez Spinks left the early part of last week for Fort Worth where she will be employed for several months.

Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Shelton are happy over the arrival of a baby girl on Hallow'e'en.

Miss Mary Fallon spent Sunday afternoon with Miss Gertrude Frye.

Miss Ruth Covey of Wichita Falls spent the early part of the week with her sister, Mrs. B. I. Lawson.

Mrs. Johnnie Taylor and baby, Patsy Nelle, and Mrs. Florence Conner were Sunday guests of Mrs. C. A. Williams.

Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Leverett of Lake Merritt attended B. Y. P. U. here Sunday night.

Mrs. Oelia McGown dined with Mrs. Gari Perry Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Harmon and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Anderson spent Friday in the Spinks home and, because of high water, had to spend the night also.

Quite a few young folks attended a party at Big Valley Saturday night.

Loy Allen attended a business meeting of Maytag agents in Dallas the early part of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. B. I. Lawson and Miss Ruth Covey visited in the Kyle Lawson home Monday.

Grover and Darrel Davis of Ridge spent Saturday night with L. D. and Howard Spinks.

Lloyd Allen had the misfortune of wrecking his car last week. Quite a bit of damage was done to the car, but no one was injured.

Miss Evie Spinks called on Alva and Adeline Spinks Sunday afternoon.

Misses Mae Ellen Williams and Zeta Lawson spent Hallow'e'en night with Ovella Wesson.

The "stew" at the school house was enjoyed by a large crowd Hallow'e'en night.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Spinks and baby, Gloria Gay, of Leuders, visited his parents the latter part of last week. Miss Alva returned home, after a month's visit there.

Mrs. L. W. French returned home Wednesday, after several days visit in the Braswell home in Brownwood.

Miss Alva Spinks called a few minutes Friday on Mrs. Ollie Shelton and baby.

There will be regular weekly services Sunday and singing in the afternoon. Everyone come and help revive our Sunday afternoon singings. BO-PEEP

Witch Stew

There was a large crowd that gathered at the school house on Hallowe'en night. The young people played games of different kinds, while the older folk fixed the stew. It seems as if everyone enjoyed themselves very much.

The seventh grade is very sorry to have lost one of their class mates, Idella Allen, who has moved to Houston.

Volley Ball

The girls are still practicing volley ball. We have never played a match game, but we are preparing for it when the time arrives.

Intermediate Room Report

At last we have our reading table. But Miss Frye doesn't have it painted yet.

Miss Frye took us traveling again Friday. We stopped to be for awhile in Central America.

Everyone reported a nice time at the stew Wednesday night. There were several from our room dressed as spooks.

Primary Room Report

The first grade pupils are enjoying coloring the pictures in their little booklets—"The Skookum Injuns."

A new teacher's chair has been added to the primary room.

Absent

Gus Henry Myers has been absent for several days on account of sickness.

Oran Perry Stark was absent Tuesday on account of sickness. Anna Beth Davis was absent Friday evening.

Visitors

Barney Horton visited Shirley Newman Monday night.

Anna Beth Davis visited in the Sparkman home Friday night.

Johnnie Fallon was a visitor at school Monday evening.

Arle Taylor visited with Doris Davis Sunday.

Grover T. Davis spent the week end with L. D. Splinks.

Eammon and Sherman Perry visited the Carroll boys Sunday. Gladys Perry spent Sunday with Merlene Stark.

Doris Newman spent Monday night with Clairene Dennis. Lucille Taylor visited Thelma Horton Sunday.

A Plea for News

If anyone has—
 Killed a pig,
 Shot his wife,
 Got married,
 Borrowed a stamp,
 Made a speech,
 Overworked,
 Sold a dog or bought a cat,
 Lost some money,
 Committed suicide,
 Drowned a chicken,
 Made a bet and lost it,
 Taken a day off,
 Received a thrashing,
 Flunked in English,
 Whipped a freshman,
 It's news!

Humor

In the history class the teacher asked what a testament was. Eammon's reply was: "A testament was what preachers were sometimes called."

Teacher: "Who were the Quakers?"

J. C.: "They were people who made oatmeal."

Woodrow: "I've added these figures up ten times."

Teacher: "Good."

Woodrow: "And here's the ten different answers."

SOUTH BENNETT

There was a good sized crowd at Sunday school Sunday. New officers were elected as follows: Secretary, Rose Miller; assistant secretary, Evelyn Covington; teachers, Mmes. Claud Smith, Dan Covington, M. L. Casbeer and Clyde Featherston. We are hoping to have larger crowds at Sunday school next Sunday.

On Hallowe'en night, a party was given in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Simpson. The house was decorated with cats, witches and other Hallowe'en decorations. Various games were played and a large crowd was there to enjoy the evening. Hot chocolate and pie was served to all. At a late hour we bade the teachers and Mr. and Mrs. Simpson good night, expressing our thanks for the good time, which we had in this home. We are hoping to be entertained in this home again soon, as we always enjoy parties given in the Simpson home.

Friday night, November 16, there will be a pie supper at the South Bennett school house. A short program will be rendered and we are hoping to have a large crowd. Money will be used for tuning the piano. Everyone come and be sure to bring pies and plenty of money.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill York, Mrs. Bernard York and Cecil Bronson, all of Spur, Texas, have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Stacy and family, in this community. Bernard York and Morgan Stacy visited in the B. R. and M. L. Casbeer homes Sunday morning.

Aaron Stacy spent the week end with home folk. He also visited in the J. M. Stacy home the first of the week.

Henry Simpson, Houston Kuykendall, Minnie and Ruby Kuykendall, Ruth Griffin and Evelyn Covington enjoyed the Hallowe'en party at Mr. Irwin's at Pleasant Grove Friday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Clint Head and Miss Mattie Welch of Center City spent a short while with B. R. Casbeer and wife, Sunday. M. L. Casbeer and family visited Mr. and Mrs. Casbeer awhile Sunday evening.

Mrs. J. M. Stacy spent a few days at Pleasant Grove last week with Mrs. Lewis Covington and baby. She also visited with Mrs. L. Covington and Miss Edy.

Walter Simpson and family and Rose Miller spent Sunday with the Roy Simpson family at Live Oak, and were there for the singing in that home Sunday afternoon.

J. M. Casbeer and family have moved from Anson and are going to live on Mr. Wayne Featherston's place.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Covington, M. L. Casbeer and family, Mrs. Clyde Featherston and George Wayne, Odell Casbeer and Edgar Simpson, enjoyed a good dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Claud Smith Sunday. In the afternoon this same crowd attended the singing at Roy Simpson's at Live Oak.

Mrs. J. M. Stacy went with Mr. and Mrs. York Saturday for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hall at Pleasant Grove.

Will Horton visited in the Huffman home Sunday. He also visited Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Casbeer awhile and made a short visit with M. L. Casbeer and wife.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Perry spent Saturday night and Sunday with Townsend Perry and family. Mrs. Montgomery and Hulon spent Sunday visiting in the Perry home.

We were certainly thankful to get the good rain Friday afternoon, as we were certainly needing it.

Ira Hutchings of Lake Merritt made a short call in the John Whitt home Monday morning.

Mullin News

From the Enterprise

C. A. Smith, a good citizen of the Center Point community, was a Tuesday visitor in town.

W. J. Conner from out on route one was in town Tuesday meeting friends and looking after business.

W. W. Perkins and wife, D. A. Hamilton and S. S. Farmer looked after business in Brownwood Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Hamilton and Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Young visited Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Willis in Comanche Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Murray of Brownwood spent Wednesday with her father, Boland Tyson, and sister, Mrs. W. C. Preston.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Davis of Best, spent the week end here with S. H. Davis and Mrs. F. A. Cobb and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. I. McCurry attended services at the first Methodist church Sunday in Brownwood.

W. A. Gardner, a good citizen of Duren, was in town Friday and renewed his subscription to the Enterprise for another year.

Miss Lillian Doris Fletcher, a student at Stephenville, spent the week end here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Fletcher.

Charles Hays of Brenham, spent Sunday with homefolks. He is with the Santa Fe now and away from home most of the time.

Claibourne Walton of Moline spent the week end here with Mrs. Claibourne Walton and attended the P. T. A. play Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Burkett, Wanda Zell and Jim Burkett and Mrs. J. L. Burkett visited relatives at Lubbock the past week end.

Mrs. J. A. Cox of Monahans has recuperated from her recent illness and returned to her home. Mr. and Mrs. Cox formerly lived here and have a host of relatives and friends here.

Bro. Dyches will preach Sunday at the Church of Christ. There will be dinner on the grounds. We are expecting some visitors. Everybody invited.

News comes from Brownwood that the sanity trial of Mrs. J. M. Farmer has been continued at the request of the doctors, who are studying the case. They are making more investigation, before making a definite report.

Rev. Cooper and family of Childress were guests of Mrs. J. L. Chancellor Sunday. Reverend Cooper preached at the Baptist church Sunday morning and night to an interesting audience. He and his family made many friends while in our city.

The general election was quiet here Tuesday, 141 votes being cast. Those holding the election were Mmes. J. N. Crockett, S. M. Casey, C. L. Summy, V. Eaton, W. C. Preston, Arnold Reynolds and D. A. Hamilton, chairman.

Mrs. August Wasserman was at home to a group of friends on Thursday afternoon with a miscellaneous shower for a recent bride, Mrs. Delbert Hicks. The social was a delight to all who attended and anticipate meeting again at an early date with Mrs. Wasserman.

W. T. McLarty received a message Monday, stating his brother-in-law, J. H. Hodges, of Fort Worth, was dead. Mr. McLarty and D. J. Price left at once to attend the funeral. Mr. McLarty will return to his home at Hico, Mr. Price will look after business at Thurber before returning home.

Mrs. J. L. Herrington is in Temple this week for surgical treatment.

J. H. Brown of Prairie section was looking after business in the city recently.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Young were guests of Jim Hoffman and his family Tuesday.

Mrs. Frank Smith of Goldthwaite visited her old friend, Mrs. W. H. McFarland, Tuesday.

Arnold Reynold, a genial citizen out on route one, was among the crowd in town Saturday.

Tom Singleton was looking after business in town Monday and rejoicing over the recent downpour of rain.

Donald Clendennen has received an official call from the navy department to report in Dallas on November 16, and he will probably leave for San Diego immediately. Donald has been looking forward to this call for months and we wish for him success and happiness in his chosen work.

D. J. Price accompanied Mr. and Mrs. McLarty on a recent visit to J. W. Bailey at Prairie. Back in 1884-85 Mr. and Mrs. McLarty and Mr. and Mrs. Bailey were close friends and neighbors in the Hico section. They talked over old times and the many changes and enjoyed the visit very much.

Mrs. G. W. Templin of Austin visited her old friend, Mrs. J. H. Wilson, and other friends and relatives here the first of the week. She resided here a long time ago and has land interests in the Blanket Springs community and always has a warm welcome here among old friends and neighbors of yesteryears.

W. R. Elliott and family of Zephyr moved into the residence of the late Mrs. E. V. Bolton, on Sherman street Monday. Mr. Elliott and family have resided in our midst before and they have extended them a warm welcome. They are always willing to help in the worthwhile promotions of the best for the churches, school and town.

An inch or more of rain fell here Thursday evening, breaking the long drouth. October was a golden October, but no rain at all. About an inch of rain fell the first of September and now the recent rain has been a wonderful help. The moisture was badly needed to help the grain and grass and to relieve the dust, that had accumulated until it became so dense on the highways that it was dangerous for motorists and pedestrians alike.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Patterson accompanied Supt. Tolbert, Patterson and his mother, Mrs. W. A. Patterson, to Moline Sunday for a visit in the home of old friends, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Patterson. Then a delightful drive of three miles to the ranch of Tolbert Patterson, where fine Hereford cattle were peacefully grazing on the fine grass and a flock of 100 turkeys and a herd of sheep were agreeably dividing feed out on the range. Mrs. W. A. Patterson remained at her home in Moline and the rest of the party returned home late in the afternoon. They had the pleasure of meeting W. T. Moore, a peccan specialist of Bend. He lived in Mullin back in the 90s and founded the Mullin Record. Mr. and Mrs. Moore lived in Mrs. Sockwell's residence and remembered Dr. Jim Kirkpatrick, as the physician and Mr. Mullins as the hotel man here.

SCHOOL ACTIVITIES

The spooks and Hallowe'en program at the school building with the ball games, magnetized an unusually large crowd the night of Oct. 31. People came from far and near and enjoyed the games, ghosts and entertainment.

The proceeds from the delightful program and different booths netted the P. T. A. more than $70. All went home tire and happy over the successful school affair.

Saturday Night

The P. T. A. presented "The Street Called Sham" and another large crowd was present to enjoy the home-talent play and the receipts were quite satisfactory to the P. T. A.

W. R. Elliott and the orchestra gave appreciative music and a reading by Miss Adeline Pyburn was enjoyed.

Amos Herrington hauled wood to town Saturday and Monday.

Organizing Centennial Clubs

The advisory board of the Texas Centennial commission has asked that organizations be formed in each county to be included in the Texas Million Centennial club. Lists have been sent to each county with a request that signatures be secured for membership in this club, in which there are no financial obligations involved, but the members are pledged to think, talk and write Centennial. There is no good reason why any Texas citizen should fail or refuse to take membership in this club, as its only object is to boost the Centennial and certainly there can be no objection to this plan, for all loyal Texans are desirous of making the Centennial a success.

Some have advanced the idea that an effort in behalf of the centennial would be in the interest of the larger towns where the centennial centers are to be formed, but there is no reason for such an idea. Every community and every highway, park and historic spot forms a part of the centennial observance and every citizen should desire the entire state to make a creditable showing for the visitors and even those of other parts of our state to see the wonderful advancement and development that has been made in the past century. Every county should form one of the units and the Eagle hopes to have a part in placing Mills county in the column of progress. Membership lists for the club have been placed in this office and at other convenient places for Mills county people. Let every Mills county citizen unite in this most laudable undertaking. While Dallas has contributed three million dollars toward the expense of the celebration, this county is not asked to contribute anything except good will and a united effort to have the state present an attractive appearance and prove its progressive spirit and citizenship.

Getting Together

When President Roosevelt first took the oath of office and outlined his policies there was much distrust, especially in high financial circles and there were critics from every angle and every section. Not only did the opposing major political party leaders criticize the president and condemn his policies, but many of his own party did the same thing. While the criticism was leveled more at some of his appointees of intemperate speech and superficial thought, but the administration was the target for all of this criticism, just the same. As developments have come the country appears to be more in accord with the president's views and in sympathy with his policies of government. The president's recent much-anticipated speech before the American Bankers' association shows the way the wind blows. While he committed himself to little, Mr. Roosevelt said one thing of great importance—that he did not contemplate the issuance of new currency against the treasury's vast holdings of silver. Bankers and other industrialists cheered—Mr. Roosevelt's statement was the first assurance from a high source that there would be no major inflation in the near future.

The United States Chamber of Commerce reported that it saw indications of a "convergence of the general aims of business and the administration" in the speech. As for business conditions, they seem to be on the up-grade. For the past month the volume of bank loans outstanding has been increasing and there is a growing demand for bank credit. Late statistics show a substantial rise in general business activity and unemployment has been considerably decreased.

Growing Relief Rolls

Have we already become a paternalistic nation—a people depending upon the government for sustenance? Is the relief system so generously provided by the government to be allowed to undermine the independence and self-dependence of the American people? These are not only pertinent questions of the hour, they are most serious and deserving of the careful consideration of the nation's leaders. The posterity of people who lived and wrought a generation ago now accept as a matter of course the government dole and the danger is that this dependence will become so formed that we will in fact have a fixed purpose of looking to the government to supply our needs. Certainly the help supplied by the government during the long continued drought and its attendant depression was absolutely necessary in most cases and the country would have been in a most pitiable condition without the government aid, but the system of providing for the people out of the public treasury must be understood and accepted as a temporary provision that is to be abandoned as soon as possible, else the spirit of self-dependence will be broken down.

The Election Is Over

Doubtless everybody is glad the election is over, for now the tension will be loosened and everybody can get down to business without being disturbed by politics. While in this state there is little interest in the campaign after the nominations are made in the July primary, that is not the case in many states where there are contests and the result can not be known with certainty until the votes are counted in the general election. Certainly, there are political questions constantly arising and political differences constantly being argued, but there is a vast difference in the status of the states and the candidates after the contests are ended at the polls. The uncertainty of the outcome of these elections has a depressing effect where the policies of administration are in the balance. Now that the election is over there will be no more political issues to settle at the polls for two more years.

Employment Is Increasing

It is unwise and depressing on business and the public morale to continue to bemoan unemployment throughout the country, especially when the condition is not nearly so bad as some would have the country believe and certainly has improved in recent months. It is a fact that there is more unemployment than is best for the healthy growth of the industries and business of the country, but so long as there is an improvement the country has a right to look with optimism on the situation. The business research of the Texas bureau of the state university finds that reports from 1691 establishments covering the week ended Oct. 13, showed practically no change in employment and payrolls from that of September. In comparison with the corresponding week in October, 1933, however, the number of employees increased 2 per cent and the total payrolls increased 6 per cent. Not a great increase, to be sure, but it is much better than a decline.

Health Hint

COMMUNICABLE DISEASES

Speaking of the precautions that should be taken in households, during and at the close of an illness from any of the "catching" diseases, which are prevalent at all seasons, Dr. John W. Brown, state health officer, said recently: "Any plan for the prevention or control of this sort depends upon the intelligent co-operation of individuals and communities with the medical profession and the health authorities for its success."

"Those who are in charge of persons suffering from influenza, pneumonia, tuberculosis, scarlet fever, measles, infantile paralysis or any other of the diseases spread by discharges from the nose or throat are warned that these discharges are sources of great danger, and are urged to have the patient use paper handkerchiefs or soft cheese-cloth, that can be disinfected or burned or otherwise safely disposed of.

"The sterilization of dishes and utensils, used in the sick room, by boiling after each use of them, and of the patient's clothing, sheets, towels and pillow cases, are equally necessary. Then, at the close of the illness, a thorough cleaning of the room and bedding and personal belongings of the patient, scrubbing the floors and woodwork, and opening the place to the fresh air and sunlight, are urged as a final precautionary measure.

"Fortunately, the best disinfectants yet discovered are within reach of everybody. They are plenty of hot water and soap, fresh air and sunshine."

IMITATION COTTON

A sample of a new substitute for cotton, which is being manufactured in Germany, has been received by Texas cotton brokers. The "cotton" is made from wood pulp and closely resembles the raw cotton fibre. The material will be used to some extent in Germany, but will not altogether take the place of cotton, as it isn't expected to wear or turn heat as well as cotton fibre.

THEN AND NOW

The average home today possesses more conveniences and comforts than were available to the kings and queens of as late as 200 years ago. Many things we have and enjoy could not be enjoyed by Solomon with all his wealth for the reason that they were not in existence and could not be bought. — Lewisville Enterprise.

CONDITIONS IN TEXAS

The Santa Fe railroad bulletin says of conditions in Texas: Favorable weather conditions over most of Texas during the last month were beneficial to all growing crops.

Cotton picking and ginning are making rapid progress and nearing completion, except in the northwest sections where harvesting is well under way. Leaf worms and weevils are numerous and active, and are stripping plants, hence there is little prospect of a top crop. Total production is expected to fall below 2,500,000 bales. Ginning is well advanced.

Rice harvesting rapidly is drawing to a close with quality high and production considerably above normal.

Sweet potato harvesting continues with quality generally poor. Production will be about sixty per cent of that obtained last season.

The northwestern counties have been visited by light to heavy rains. Wheat planting still is in progress. There will be a large acreage. Some of the wheat is far enough along for pasture, but much of it has not yet sprouted.

Turkey movement will begin early in November. Indication is for a crop of about three-fourths of normal.

Cattle will enter winter in the poorest condition on record. Ranges and pastures have shown some improvement, but still are far below requirements for winter grazing. Despite reduction due to government buying there yet remain more cattle than prospective feed supply will carry over.

MODERN LIVING

The average cottage home today is a more comfortable place of residence than the White House was in 1834. Andrew Jackson was president in 1834 and Andrew knew nothing of what are called "modern improvements" today.

There was no bathtub in the White House, and the Gin'ral, as he was commonly called, took his baths al fresco, or skipped them entirely. One president of that general era used to bathe in the Potomac river, with soap and towel accompaniments. He was believed to be somewhat aristocratic, on account of the towel and soap. There were no electric light, no gas, no piped water in the White House in Jackson's day, and when the great man built his home at Nashville, the Hermitage, he didn't include wiring for fans, carpet sweepers or illumination. He sat in winter by a wood fire, shivering at the back and toasting at the front. When he wanted a cool drink of water he drew it out of a well in the yard. He had no refrigerator. We of the present ought to be happier than General Jackson was in the past, but it is possible that we are not. — State Press in Dallas News.

JAPAN ARROGANT

The entire question of Japan's right to hold islands under mandate in the Pacific ocean, now that she has resigned from the League of Nations, was thrown into discussion as the league mandate commission heard a report that United States warships had been refused the right to visit former German islands now under Japanese mandate.

According to league officials, reports exist that Japan, in violation of mandate regulations, is secretly constructing naval bases on these islands. This concrete question, however, did not arise at the meeting.

SPEEDY TRIAL

State's attorneys have started laying plans for speedy prosecution of Virgil Stalcup, plains desperado, and Clarence Brown, his companion, for the slaying of Sheriff W. B. Arthur, in the Dickens county jail ten days ago.

From Houston, where they were captured after a wild flight from West Texas, Stalcup and Brown were rushed to Lubbock in irons. They will be held there until trial.

—EDITORIAL COMMENT—

VIEWES OF THE NATION'S PRESS ON TOPICS OF INTEREST AND IMPORTANCE

THE JAPANESE CUNNING

Now that the anti-Japanese propaganda in this country has somewhat subsided—coincidentally it will be noted with the settlement by Japan of her outstanding differences with Soviet Russia—perhaps the world difficulties created by her recent international policies can be discussed without contributing to a war fever.

Her recent reply to the protest of the various powers against a government oil monopoly in Manchuria is more clever than adequate. She says that such protests should be addressed to Manchuria; or, since the various powers do not recognize the legal existence of the Manchurian government, and still contend that Manchuria is a part of China, they should address their remarks to Nanking. Furthermore, the Japanese spokesman opines, that since Manchuria is not a party to the nine-power treaty she is not bound by its terms.

All of which is a pretty demonstration of what comes when camouflage takes the place of reality.

This sort of reply, however, gets Japan nowhere. It simply puts her on record as being determined to conduct Asian affairs to suit herself. The question then arises as to what the rest of the world will do about it.

What indeed? A ready reply on the part of the United States is that we signed the naval limitation treaty and the nine-power pact on the basis of a pledge made in them by Japan that she would strictly observe Chinese territorial integrity; and that since she has broken this pledge we will no longer be parties to these treaties, and we will build a navy of any size which suits our purpose.

And yet, to what purpose? We really don't need a navy strong enough to threaten Japan's security in Eastern Asia unless we expect to go there for some cause. And what cause could take us there? Chinese sovereignty? Russian safety? It hardly seems likely. As interested as we may be in these things no sane man probably will suggest that we send armies and navies half way round the world to fight for them. Yet without such a purpose there will be little occasion for us to build a navy much greater than that of Japan. — Houston Chronicle.

USING LESS COTTON

During September the decline in consumption of American cotton continued, according to the report of the New York Cotton Exchange Service. Usually there is a seasonal increase in world consumption of American cotton in September, about 5 per cent more cotton going through the mills than in August. This year, however, instead of an increase of 5 per cent during September over the August consumption, there was a decline of 13.5 per cent. And it was 29 per cent less than in September, 1933. World mills used 848,000 bales of American cotton during September as compared with 998,000 bales in August, and 1,195,000 bales in September, 1933.

The textile strike was responsible for the sharpness of the decline in the United States, but there was a decline abroad also. There probably was some recovery of consumption by American mills in October, but the truth is that the strike only served to accentuate a situation which is general pretty much throughout the world. Consumption of American cotton is falling off everywhere—in the United States because of reduced demand in the face of higher prices made necessary by the processing tax and increased costs under the NRA, and in foreign countries because of the substitution of foreign growths for American.

Sooner or later it is going to be necessary to face this situation. Present policies of the American government make it to the interest of every country to buy as little from the United States as possible, cotton or anything else. And between the AAA and the NRA, mill costs have been increased to the point where prices are checking consumption. It looks like a critical situation is ahead. — Texas Weekly.

A COURAGEOUS POLITICIAN

Whatever one may think of the political opinions or economic philosophy of H. H. Stevens, who has been forced to resign his position as the Canadian Minister of Trade and Commerce, one must concede that he is a man who has the courage to stand by his principles. He chose to surrender his standing in the Conservative party and the income from his cabinet post rather than yield on what he considered a matter of principle.

As the head of a royal commission of inquiry, which had been appointed to look into the industrial and financial conditions in Canada, he exposed a number of abuses, including ruthless exploitation of workers in some industries, illegal combines and monopolies, stock watering and the like. Last summer there was published over his signature a pamphlet setting forth many of the facts turned up by his commission. The pamphlet did not hesitate to mention by name the industrialists and bankers involved, even those some of these persons were friends of Premier Bennett, Mr. Stevens' superior in the cabinet and also contributors to the conservative party's war chest.

Premier Bennett appears to have thought it the better part of wisdom to avoid raising a political storm over the case, for such a storm might prove injurious to the party. But the interests mentioned in the pamphlet would not let the matter rest. They seem to have brought pressure to bear on the remaining members of the cabinet, who joined in insisting that Mr. Stevens repudiate the published expose. And Mr. Stevens might have done so without too much loss of prestige, at least in the eyes of his fellow-politicians in Canada or elsewhere, for he had already asserted that the pamphlet had been published through a subordinate's error.

But unlike some of the Democratic leaders in Washington, who crawled out from under by attributing Jim Farley's reputed endorsement of Upton Sinclair's candidacy to a clerical error, Mr. Stevens refused to hide behind such a subterfuge. He not only did not repudiate the pamphlet, but he frankly endorsed its contents and denied that he had in any way prejudiced the business or financial interests involved or had done them an injustice.

Such courage is rare among public men and especially among those who depend upon political jobs for their livelihood. — Baltimore Sun.

EXPORTING COTTON

It is conceded by Secretary Wallace that the chief problem faced today by those who are attempting to improve the status of agriculture in this country is to find some way to save the south from being forced to reduce its export cotton.

Producers of other export crops have gradually lost ground until they have little left of their foreign market. But it is still normal for about half of our cotton to be exported. Fortunately, the growing of cotton abroad has increased slowly.

No other economic group is more seriously handicapped than the cotton growers by the fact that the United States has little need of foreign goods. The other group, with the possible exception of the oil industry, finds it as difficult to adjust itself to a domestic market only.

A low tariff on manufacturers might help the cotton farmers to some extent, but wholesale importation of products that we do not really need would be injurious to other sections of the population, and the prosperity of the cotton farmers alone would not be sufficient to keep the whole country in a prosperous condition.

Cotton production abroad is being increased and is being stimulated by curtailment in the United States, but the foreign crop is not yet a serious menace. There are many important users of cotton that have no suitable cotton land, and few who have cotton land will be

A MONUMENT OF TREES

Washington State's Federation of Women's Clubs is building for itself a monument that will charm generations to come through its active and successful campaign that was started six years ago to preserve stretches of majestic stands of Douglas fir along the Sunset highway on Snoqualmie Pass. More than 62 acres of this beautiful virgin timber land has been purchased at a cost of $25,000 by the federation, and has been presented to the state; and as a result of this thoughtful gesture, the state park board now is negotiating for the similar preservation of still more of the stately forests bounding public highways in the Cascade Mountains.

It is a notable piece of work that has been thus accomplished. Thousands will continue to be thrilled and awed by the silent grandeur of these beautiful forest lanes that attract tourist traffic to Washington — lanes otherwise destined to become cold ribbons of highway bounded by ugly areas of stumps and brush that remain in the wake of the commercial woodman's ax, crosscut saw and groaning donkey engine.

This forest preservation program is an entirely unselfish one; is not like a shining monument in a public square, flaunting an inscription eulogizing the meritorious services of man of institution; it is a quiet parcel of grandeur preserved for posterity, and possibly not one in a thousand persons who will enjoy it as magnificence of nature will know that it was preserved for his enjoyment by the benevolent motive of a human agency. — Christian Science Monitor.

THE NEXT WAR

Having flown over Mount Everest at a height of 33,000 feet in a temperature of 50 degrees below zero British Air Commodore P. F. M. Fellowes is entitled to make predictions concerning the future of aviation.

He may be right when saying that within three years airplanes will be flying over Everest regularly.

And he may be right in saying that the next great war will not be long in coming.

But it is something else again when he says: "As for the United States, it seems inevitable that it will be drawn into the war."

Not if we can help it. Not if we keep out of the League of Nations, the League court and all other foreign alliances.

Not on specious pleas to make the world safe for democracy and not for the purpose of taking part in a war to end war.

And not if we are so well prepared that no participant would care to attack us. — San Antonio Light.

BLONDS GOING

A national complexion census completed by a scalp specialist results in the conclusion that within the next few generations, America will be a nation almost entirely of brunets.

A total of 300,000 men and women in 34 cities were checked in the census.

Blonds and red-heads of both sexes are getting scarcer, it was discovered. Light-haired people were found to have more scalp ailments than brunets.

The survey found, also, that 75 per cent of the women who were listed as blond were of the synthetic type.

And the percentage of light-haired people is considerably smaller in this country than in others of the same latitude or climate.

It looks like a bad situation for the gentleman of the future if he still prefers blonds. — Temple Telegram.

Lampasas

The fire department was called at midnight Wednesday to the confectionery of Chester Alexander, just west of the Le Roy theatre. The fire was caused by the Frigidaire motor and the damage was confined to smoke and a ruined motor. It is assumed that the automatic switch failed to work and a short resulted. Entrance by the firemen was effected to the building by breaking the glass of the front door.

Thursday night fire was discovered in the building of the Holley-Langford Motor Co., but work of the fire department soon got it under control and only a small amount of damage was done. The manager said some $300 of damage was done to the accessory stock and the polish of one new car was ruined. The fire was supposed to have been caused by a blaze from the flue of the adjoining building on the west. It caught trash on top. The fire was over the center of the building where the show room and mechanical department are separated by a wall.—Record.

The government report shows that there were 2193 bales of cotton ginned in Lampasas county from the 1934 crop, prior to October 18. There were 4299 bales ginned from the 1933 crop up to the same date.

The Woman's Missionary Society of the Methodist church held a zone meeting Tuesday in Goldthwaite. The ladies attending from this place were: Mmes. J. R. Key, M. Y. Stokes, Oscar Bolding, L. R. Sparks, C. C. Abney, W. A. Berry, Ben Peak and H. J. Abney. They had a very interesting program and were royally entertained by the Goldthwaite ladies.

At least it is thought that some of the Hallow'en spooks were responsible for a very dirty deal which was given the Matthews service station some time Wednesday night. One of the gas tanks at the station had water poured into it. The tank had about 350 gallons of gas in it and something like 18 or 20 gallons of water was put in the tank. This was not only an expensive loss to the station, but caused them considerable trouble in changing the pumps around and changing the gasoline in order to take care of their customers Thursday.—Leader.

Hamilton

The Sunbeam band of First Baptist church was cordially entertained on Tuesday night in the basement hall of the building by their leader, Miss Lillian Grimm.

The cotton census report shows that there were 7663 bales of cotton ginned in Hamilton county from the crop of 1934 prior to October 18, as compared with 12,695 bales ginned to October 18, 1933.

On account of failing health, Robert H. McKinley, a widely known Hamilton merchant, has sold out his stock of goods on the south side of the square in this city to his cousin, Harvey McKinley.

On Sunday evening, October 21, Miss Ara Howington, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Howington, became the bride of John R. Schuster, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Schuster, both of Indian Gap.

Robert H. McKinley left Wednesday for Marlin, where he is under treatment in a hospital for an indefinite length of time. Mrs. McKinley and children, Winifred and Hunt, will go to Marlin to reside as soon as arrangements can be completed.

Mr. and Mrs. Osteen Patterson were week end visitors in Mullin, with Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Hancock, parents of Mrs. Patterson. On Monday morning Osteen told the Herald-Record reporter an interesting and happy story about Mrs. Patterson's home-folks. Mr. and Mrs. Hancock are the parents of five daughters and six sons, seven of whom are married, and there are eleven grandchildren. The entire family gathered in the parental home on last Saturday night and Sunday, except one of the children. Mrs. Hancock "put the little pot into the big one," and they feasted and had a joyous time together. It was not an ap-

W. H. Carpenter and H. L. Cravens left with a party of hunters from Lubbock for Mexico, where they will hunt bear and deer for the next ten days. They plan to go into Mexico at Del Rio, and will hunt from a camp site about 150 miles into the interior of Mexico.

The city has resumed work on the laying of new and larger water mains in the business district, made possible by the arrival of an additional 3000 feet of the new six-inch mains. This is a continuation of a water mains improvement program begun several weeks ago, which when completed, will result in a considerable reduction in fire insurance rates.

The district highway office has been instructed to begin drafting plans for road work in this section for 1935 to be completed with the 1935 allotment of federal funds, Leo Ehlinger, district engineer, says there are no approved projects in Brown county for next year. However, two projects have been recommended.

Dr. R. W. Merriman of Illinois, who has been in charge of the government's cattle purchasing program in Brown county, has completed his work here and has returned to his home. Under Dr. Merriman's supervision, the government purchased over $150,000 worth of Brown county cattle, this amount being distributed to more than 1000 cattle growers.—Banner.

Comanche

Local bank deposits are up approximately $32,000 over those of July, according to the official statements.

Rev. A. L. Haley of Santa Anna has been called as pastor of the local Central Christian church and has accepted the work.

After a conference with Mayor M. Coleman at Comanche, Mr. Ehlinger stated definitely that the contract for hot-topping highway No. 81 from Comanche to DeLeon would be let Monday, November 12.

Two men knocked Harry Brin, Terrell merchant, unconscious Monday and escaped with $10 from his cash drawer, according to an Associated Press dispatch. Mr. Brin is a former Comanche merchant and is owner of the Majestic theatre building here.

Since the beginning of the government reduction and relief programs, back in June of 1933, there has been or will be received by the end of 1934, the sum of $438,141.00 by farmers of Comanche county, who have cooperated with the programs.

The Comanche county grand jury, which had been in session two weeks, turned in its report Friday afternoon, after examining over 250 witnesses. Forty-six indictments were returned, practically all of which were for burglary or theft. Six of the bills were misdemeanors. Of the forty-six bills returned, sixteen were against two men.—Chief.

San Saba

Stores in San Saba will be closed Monday, Nov. 12, in celebration of Armistice.

Census reports show that 4163 bales of cotton have been ginned in San Saba county prior to Oct. 18, 1934, as compared to 5815 bales during the corresponding period in 1933.

Abundance of green flies in the county, caused by the killing of so much livestock through the government programs, is causing many of the turkeys to die as a result of eating them.

I continued taking Cardui until I had taken nine bottles. I do not have the severe pains."... Thousands of women testify Cardui benefited them. If it does not benefit YOU, consult a physician.

STYLES IN NEW YORK

It's really in the evening that everything glamorous, chic, exquisite and alluring in gowns in the parade of styles in New York. Shiny and glittering accents have been ace high in the mode for some time and now there comes to reinforce them, patent leather trims on shoes and matching handbags in lacquered fabrics. Even the patent scuffless heel has joined the style parade and now shines resplendent on the swankiest footwear Park Avenue can boast.

The fringed evening gown is a new and flattering variation in the evening mode—deep rayon fringe being featured on some of the smartest models. A distinctive gown of this type is of brown corded crepe with matching fringe hanging from the shoulders to the hem of the gown in long cape-like effect.

Paris comes through with Princess Marina's white and silver brocade wedding gown in English rose pattern, which is being fashioned by Captain Molyneux along Princess lines in Moyneage influence and promises to set the style for wedding gowns of the season.

The dressmaker frock in rich new fabrics—silks and rayons in satins, crepes and velvets with threads of gold and silver, are smashing hits in the evening mode. Just now there's nothing smarter than the black velvet skirt with the tailored blouse in gold or silver lame.

There's a new boucle crepe of Acele, dull and soft, that lends itself well to the season's slim straight silhouette. It is being featured in black with white touches for dressy afternoon.

If you are going to a southern resort, here is something that will make them gather around you—a stunning bathing suit—in the favored backless, one-piece style, it is being featured in jet black, blue, red and green. For daytime knitted fashions have taken on a more youthful quality in neckline treatment. They are noted in a variety of new yarns—wool, silk and rayon mixtures and in new colors—particularly rich browns and rust tones.

Pearls are decidedly important in the costume jewelry mode, and are gold and silver metals and these often combined with composition. Bracelets are two or three inches in width and worn over the cuff of glove or frock in the daytime mode as well as for evening.

HALLOWEEN PARTY

Quite a number of ghosts and spooks remained over from Halloween to assist with the frolic and weenie roast given on Saturday night by Lawrence Morrison and Melmoth Young Stokes at their new home on College Hill.

As the Stokes family have not yet moved into their recently acquired home, it was an ideal place for "ghosts to walk." A huge bonfire was built, in the pasture back of the house and grinning jack-o-lanterns were swinging from the trees. In the barn three ghosts told fortunes. One in the lower floor of the barn, which was gaily decorated with varicolored streamers and black cats, devils, owls and jack-o-lanterns, all with gleaming eyes and grinning mouths. The upper floor of the barn was in total darkness, but the groans and shrieks told the type of inhabitants it contained and it took a brave heart to venture in to have fortunes told. The youngest members of the party were entertained with stories by one of the ghosts near the bonfire. Everyone present was permitted to roast weenies and toast buns, after which "ducking for apples" was the order of the evening.

A really hilarious evening was spent by all present and pleasant memories of the party will linger for years to come. GHOST

KINGFISH WANTS OUT

In New Orleans Tuesday Huey Long, pushing aside the fact that a federal grand jury is investigating his income taxes and another matter of a pressing $500,000 libel suit against him in Washington, unburdened himself of a series of messages to the nation.

Chief of these was the declaration that Louisiana ought to secede from the union and set up an independent government or team up with Mexico or some thing.

"The only way for us to get out of this here depression," said the Kingfish in his best Kingfish fashion, "is to secede from the United States and make a clean start."

"We ought to reach some friendly agreement with the government to let us go. Or some other kind of agreement, if necessary."

"We ain't a-goin' to get anywhere until we get rid of these bureaucrats, hoboerats, autoerats and all those other 'erats up there."

A LIBERAL POLICY

The Eagle has been more liberal than judicious in the matter of subscriptions for the past three years, owing to the depression, but the time has come when all newspapers are being required to cull their lists to those who really want and pay for the paper. One requirement recently brought to the attention of the Eagle management is that the paper can only be sent through the postoffice at the second class rate to bona fide subscribers and business men who carry advertisements and are entitled to a copy of the paper to check such advertisements, but the old "free and easy" policy must be abandoned.

BIG VALLEY

A light rain fell here Friday evening. We need many showers like that one if we are going to have any winter pasture.

Mrs. Alvin Dewbre and little daughter, Peggy Dale, of Maytown are visiting her father, Mr. G. A. Knowles.

We regret very much at losing our good neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Stewart, who moved to Ratler last Friday.

Miss Laura Nelson, who is teaching at Melvin, came in to spend the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Nelson.

We are glad to have Harvey Hale and family back in our community. They moved to Mrs. T. P. Reed's place Friday. Oran Hale and Harry Oglesby helped them move.

Mrs. Connie Knowles visited in G. A. Knowles' home last Friday.

Mrs. Henry Ezzell visited her daughter, Mrs. Hugh Dennard, awhile Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Sansom called on Claud Lawson and family Sunday afternoon.

We have quite a few new neighbors in our community. Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Matheny of San Saba county have moved into the Harbin Gillettine house.

Miss Aileen Stark spent Sunday with Miss Virginia Dennard. Robert Weaver of Waco spent Saturday on his farm.

Hollis Bledsoe of Westbrook is visiting his grandmother, Mrs. B. F. Bledsoe, and other relatives.

Mrs. Hugh Nelson of Goldthwaite visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Knowles, this last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Johnson and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Weaver had lunch on the river. In the afternoon they came back by the farm and gathered persimmons.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Weaver visited awhile Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Sloan.

Lee Robertson and family of New Mexico have been visiting his mother, Mrs. Zona Robertson, and brothers, Bob and Geo. Robertson.

Joe Parker and family of San Saba county were visiting her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. McConal, Sunday.

Herbert Cooke was in the valley Sunday.

We had preaching Saturday night and Sunday morning and night. Rev. Scott of Brownwood did the preaching. Those of you who didn't go to hear him missed some good sermons. He will be with us again the third Sunday in this month, so let's all make an effort to be there.

The Weaver boys have been baling hay this past week and the little shower we had Friday, made them mow hay pretty fast to keep it from getting wet.

Miss Vera Sloan of Rogers, who has been visiting her uncle, Arnold Sloan, went to San Saba to visit her brother Sunday.

Those on the sick list this week are Mrs. F. L. Hartman, Mrs. I. M. Weaver, Juanita Myrl Weaver, Walter Martin Weaver, Robert Doak. We hope they will be feeling better soon.

Mrs. Jack Dennard and baby spent the day with Mrs. Arnold Sloan Tuesday.

Miss Flora Weaver took dinner in the Orville Hale home Sunday.

A. L. Burns and family went to Coleman Tuesday to visit relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sloan spent the day in Arnold Sloan's home Sunday. BLUEJAY

SPECIAL RATES

The Eagle is prepared to offer special combinations with the Houston Chronicle, Fort Worth Star-Telegram and Dallas News. Those who subscribe for those papers can save money by combining with their subscription to the Eagle. In some cases almost if not indeed the entire amount of a subscription to the Eagle can be saved. Most of these papers have already announced their Christmas rates.

Bill's Cafe

Starting Saturday noon we will serve dinner Family Style, drinks and desserts included.
