VOLUME FORTY-ONE

GOLDTHWAITE, MILLS COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY, DECEMBER 14, 1934.

NUMBER SIXTEEN

Road Bonds Given Approval

The election held in precinct in this precinct to buy and the issuance of $20,000 in bonds in Precinct No. 1 to buy and fence the right of way on highway 74a from Goldthwaite to Lampasas county line and on highway No. 7 from the top of the mountain to the line of precinct No. 2, resulted in a majority of almost 7 to 1 favorable to the bonds. The vote by boxes in the precinct was:

Goldthwaite No. 1, for bonds, 220; against 35.

Goldthwaite No. 19, for bonds, 280; against 33.

Nabors Creek, for bonds, 12; against, 3.

Antelope Gap, for bonds, 21; against, 2.

Rye Valley, for bonds, 0; against, 12.

Total votes cast for bonds 533. Total votes against bonds 85.

DINGUS CAUGHT

Sheriff Bledsoe and deputies arrested John Dingus and Ernest Malone in the Ebony community Wednesday morning at an early hour and took possession of a still and several gallons of whisky and about 150 gallons of mash. The men were brought to jail and the liquor, mash and still were brought to the sheriff's office.

Dingus, together with Oran Conway and Gordon Langford escaped from jail here last July 4, by overpowering Mrs. Lee, the jailer's wife, who carried medicine to them, in response to their request. They took a large revolver from the jailer's residence as they passed through and the officers recovered the revolver at the time of the arrest of Dingus Wednesday.

Oran Conway was captured some time ago and is now in the penitentiary, but Langford is still at large.

Dingus is charged with burglarizing the J. H. Randolph store in Mullin last year, but has never been tried on the charge.

A SOCIAL GATHERING

The O. H. Yarborough home was open to the members of the Methodist choir the Wesley Workers Class and the board of Stewards Tuesday night, Dec. 4, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Marsh Johnson with Miss Besse Crews and Mrs. Yarborough hostesses.

The color scheme was pink and green and was very skillfully carried out in decorations and refreshments.

During the evening more than sixty guests registered and an interesting program of music and readings was rendered.

The most exciting part of the evening's program was the opening of the many beautiful and useful gifts that the bride found on the dining table under a huge pink and green umbrella. Delicious refreshments were served buffet style. GUEST

MISSIONARY SOCIETY

The Woman's Missionary Society was entertained at the Methodist parsonage Monday afternoon, when Meses. R. E. Duke and R. M. Thompson were hostesses for the afternoon.

A splendid playlet was given by Meses. Kate Marshall, Harry Allen, Tom Collier, Eva Ligon, Jim Helm, Walter Bayley, B. H. Johnson and John Keese.

"Gather Us In" was the title of the play and Mrs. C. E. Bayley was leader for the program. A refreshment plate of sandwiches, potato chips, olives and pickles, cheese tidbits, pineapple cake and coffee was passed to the members and guests.

Mrs. William Duke of Houston was among the guests. The society will not meet again until the new year. REPORTER

Cattle Buying With Schedule

The farm agent and force in charge of the government cattle buying program have made a schedule for cattle delivery in the various communities, as outlined by Mr. Weaver, who says:

Dates and Places

You are hereby notified that you will be allowed to deliver for inspection, 80 per cent of the cattle you listed for sale to the government on any of the following dates, and at any of the following places. We have been granted a quota of 3000 cattle, and to date have listed approximately 3500. If producers have listed a number for sale in excess of what they actually sell, it is possible you will be allowed to sell the additional number you have listed at a later date. Deliver your cattle at the place most convenient to you.

BANQUET FOR FOOTBALL BOYS

The Goldthwaite P. T. A. will sponsor a banquet in honor of the football boys tonight (Friday), at 7 p. m. at the Royal Cafe.

It is the desire of those in charge that the men of the community, who are interested in the development of the youth of our city and surrounding sections, join these boys in this banquet.

A limited number of tickets will be on sale at both drug stores until 1 o'clock this afternoon. Those desiring to attend call at either store and get your tickets. REPORTER

APPROACHING MARRIAGE

Friends here of the E. J. Weatherby family of Brownwood have received announcements of the approaching marriage of Miss Velma Ann Weatherby to Matt L. Scovell, which is to be solemnized in the Central Methodist church in Brownwood on Thursday, Dec. 20. The young lady spent a part of her childhood in Goldthwaite, where she has a number of relatives and many friends, all of whom are pleased to extend good wishes to the young couple.

Commissioners Hold Session

Commissioners court was in regular monthly session Monday and transacted considerable routine business, such as auditing official reports and approving accounts against the county, where they were found to be correct and just.

The highway license money was divided to the different precincts from which it was collected. Precinct No. 1 received $145.94; No. 2, $27.13; No. 3, $86.53; No. 4, $65.27.

The returns from the bond election not all having been received, the court recessed until today, when a meeting will be held to declare the result of the election. The tax assessor was instructed to prepare a report of the property valuations in the road district to guide the court in making a levy for interest and sinking funds for the bonds authorized by the vote Saturday.

FIRE IN GRAIN STORE

Fire in the Keese Grain store last Sunday morning about 1 o'clock caused a considerable damage to the stock and motors. Indications are that the fire started about the motors and it extended to the gasoline tank, which exploded, adding to the flame. The rafters and other wood work in the building burned considerably, but the walls and roof being of corrugated iron had very little damage done. The heaviest loss was in the grain and other feed stuffs, which were damaged by water as well as fire.

A suggestion as to how the fire originated would be only a guess, but the general opinion is that there was a short in the electric wiring, either in the lighting system or on the motors. There was some insurance and it is hoped the loss will be covered.

NAZARENE REMARKS

The lectures given at the Nazarene church by Dr. W. D. McGraw of San Angelo, were well attended. On Saturday night Dr. McGraw gave a telescopic view of the seven dispensations of time. Sunday morning at 11 o'clock he spoke on "The Rapture of the Church," and Sunday night Dr. McGraw spoke to a large audience on the subject "The Judgment Dispensation."

These lectures have been an inspiration to the church and were enjoyed by all who heard them.

Regular services for next week are as follows:
Sunday school 9:45 a. m.
Prayer service 11 a. m., followed by the communion service.

Evanglistic services, 7 p. m.
Prayer services Wednesday, 7 p. m.

Woman's Missionary Society, Friday, 3 p. m.

The pastor will preach Sunday evening on the following subject: "Holiness vs. Formality and Fanaticism."

We welcome you to attend these services.

CHARLIE HARRISON, Pastor

FIRM DISSOLVED

The law firm of McGaugh & Darroch has been dissolved. Hon. R. L. McGaugh will continue his practice of law in the offices recently occupied by the firm of McGaugh & Darroch and Hon. J. C. Darroch will be associated with E. M. Davis in the practice of law, effective January 1, 1935, and will have charge of the office in the First National Bank building in Brownwood, now occupied by Senator Davis, during the latter's absence while serving in the State Senate.

The new firm will also maintain the office in Goldthwaite which has heretofore been maintained by Mr. Darroch.

Methodist Notes

The sentiment of the entire congregation who worshiped at the Methodist church Sunday, last, might well be expressed by saying that all the services were helpful. Bro. Nixon preached at the morning hour. I feel that all were pleased with his message. The quarterly conference was held in the afternoon and the business of the church looked after. The year is starting well, if we are to judge by conditions as manifested in this business meeting. At the evening hour the pastor preached a most excellent sermon. I confess myself agreeably surprised at the service. When he announced that he would use the 23rd Psalm as the basis of his discourse I feared, that like so many preachers that I have heard discuss this Psalm, he might, like them, make a mere little talk upon it and let it pass for the sermon that he was expected to preach. Many are the times that I have been a disappointed hearer at such a performance. But, frankly, only once before in rather a long time have I heard so clear and correct interpretation of this great Psalm. The interpretation given by Bro. Duke was along the same lines of the other preacher to whom I refer above. I feel sure that the audience will agree with me, that it was a helpful sermon in every respect. We are all learning, however, to expect just this from Bro. Duke.

Sunday evening the old reliables of the choir took front seats, while the youngsters were in the limelight in charge of the singing for the service. If there is any one who is not glad that this is so, he deserves the sympathy of all. They did well. Besides, there is a value to be attached to their work that cannot be measured by their accomplishments in the songs. The fact that they are becoming prepared to take over this work when those who are older are retired is really the big thing. All honor, to our boys and girls who know what they ought to do, and then try to do it. All honor, also, to those who can see the possibilities locked up in these youngsters, and then are able to help them in cultivating such talent.

After saying this much I am saddened by another thought that comes to me. Only a few days since a gentleman spoke to another man about coming to church and Sunday school. The man replied that he would not attend, and did not desire his children to do so. This man, in effect, said that there is no place in our social life for religion, or religious people. He fails to grasp the fact that imperfect though professed Christians may be, that still, with all their imperfections, they are the mudsills of all that is worthwhile in human society. If one doubts this he need only go to lands where there are no Christian influences to aid mankind in fact he needs only inform himself to know that the crime that is blighting human society, is not the product of Christ and His Gospel among us, but rather the result of a lack of these influences. Of all the criminals that have given us trouble the past three or four years, and have given themselves trouble as they have gone to the electric chair or to incarceration, only one, so far as I can find out, was in his youth a member of any Sunday school. There may be others of whom I do not know, but it is a pretty safe proposition that the church does not grow criminals.

Let the sensorious, those who speak ill of all who would lead them to a better life, show a better civilization than is shown by Christianity and that for which it stands, and I shall gladly join them in their relentless war upon the church and its works. In failure to accomplish this, however, if the hypocrite is entirely honest in his opinions, he should join us.

Decorations For Christmas

There are pretty decorations about the town, in the business places and in the homes, all displaying the Christmas spirit. Colored lights have been strung across some of the streets and on the fronts of buildings, while Christmas trees ornament private homes and yards, as well as the business part of town.

There is every indication that the Christmas spirit is extant and the glad Christmas time will be celebrated with enthusiasm throughout the town and county.

FARMERS' MEETINGS

Meetings are still being held with farmers by the county agent and adjustment assistant, for the purpose of informing producers of the Bankhead referendum and of forming community organizations to work with the county agent on programs of the AAA. All communities visited have now organized and elected their officers.

Since the last report farmers clubs have been organized at Lake Merritt, Center City, Mount Olive, Rock Springs, Pleasant Grove and Ebony, with the following officers elected:

Rock Springs: J. F. Davis, president; J. W. Traylor, secretary; W. A. Cooke, vice president; J. P. Davis, county committeeman.

Center City: G. L. Walton, president; Willis Hill, secretary; J. M. Geslin, vice president; Roy Simpson, county committeeman.

Ebony: F. L. Crowder, president; W. M. Clements, secretary; B. D. Tippen, vice president; J. R. Briley, county committeeman. Mount Olive: D. W. Green, president; Tom McArthur, vice president; O. L. Harris, secretary; Tom McArthur, county committeeman.

Pleasant Grove: B. P. Hurdle, president; Charlie Berry, vice president; Edith Covington, secretary; B. P. Hurdle, county committeeman.

The officers of other communities will be announced next.

AGENT'S ASSISTANT

BUSINESS MEETING

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Helm were at home Friday evening to members of the Board of Christian Education and Workers Council of the M. E. church, when business and pleasure were combined, everyone present radiating good cheer.

Mr. Helm has recently been elected general superintendent of the Sunday school and is doing splendid work. His untiring efforts and zeal should be an inspiration to every member of the Sunday school to put forth their best efforts, and aid him in carrying out the plans of the church for the coming year's work.

After a lengthy business session, when many and various plans were discussed for carrying on the work, the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Neal Dickerson, served refreshments to the following members: Rev. and Mrs. Duke, Mr. and Mrs. Charley Bayley, Walter Bayley, Mr. and Mrs. Neal Dickerson, Mr. and Mrs. Marsh Johnson, Meses. Harry Allen, J. S. Bowles, Sparks Bigham, Tom Collier, J.N. Keese, C. C. Saylor, S. P. Sullivan, R.M. Thompson, J. C. Evans and Mr. Ben Patterson. REPORTER

Cotton Report Shows Decrease

The report of cotton ginned in Mills county for the present season, prior to Dec. 1, shows that 4292 bales had been ginned from the present year's crop up to that date, as compared to 6236 reported for last year by the ginner of the county to the department of commerce.

This is not as much of a shortage as was expected, when the reduced acreage in the county was understood and the dry season's effect on the crop was realized.

DISTRICT MEETING

The Lions Club International held their district meeting in Goldthwaite Tuesday night. There were some 95 present, including the members of Lions clubs and their guests from San Saba, Coleman, Richland Springs and Goldthwaite.

The principal speaker was Dr. Taylor, president of Howard Payne college. One of the main thoughts in his address was that the aims of all service clubs should be the friendly co-operation with our neighbors, more especially the Latin American countries.

The business meeting was presided over by Judge Pearce of Coleman, president of the Lions clubs of this district.

MONDAY BIBLE STUDY

Last Monday afternoon Circle No. 1, met in the home of Mrs. J. D. Priddy for our bible lesson. Opening prayer was led by Mrs. Lewis Hudson. Minutes were read and approved. Plans were discussed to remember the shut-ins during the holidays, afterwards, the lesson was in charge of Mrs. Ed Gilliam, Jr. Mrs. Hall brought us a very inspiring devotional, which was enjoyed by everyone.

As we were studying the book of Ephesians, Mrs. Gilliam gave us a very vivid picture of Paul—just how he was being treated in one of the prisons there in Rome—the trials and tribulations that he had to undergo, yet he wrote four books of the Bible while there and the book of Ephesians, one of the deepest books of the Bible, was written during this time. Paul showed to the world that if we have Christ with us, we can teach it anywhere.

Each one joined in the discussion and some very beautiful thoughts were expressed.

Fourteen were present. We were glad to have Mrs. Ros Wheeler and baby, also Mrs. Forest Forehand.

Mrs. Priddy served delicious fruit. The meeting was closed by singing Onward Christian Soldiers and closing prayer by Mrs. Priddy.

The circle will meet next with Mrs. Flora Jackson.

On the previous Monday Circle No. 1 met in the home of Mrs. Lewis Hudson.

Our chairman, Mrs. Ross had charge of the lesson.

We studied the book of Galatians. Mrs. Ross had each one to study one certain chapter and bring to the circle meeting the most important points in it, and in this way, it made our lesson very interesting.

We enjoyed every minute we were there and the time came all too soon to adjourn.

Mrs. Hudson, assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Schooler, served lovely fudge cake and hot punch. REPORTER

PREACHING AT SCALORN

Bro. Travis Sparkman will preach for us Saturday night, Dec. 15, and Sunday, Dec. 16, as usual. We will have lunch at the church Sunday. You are invited to come and enjoy the preaching and fellowship with us.

Trades Day Next Monday

Many people are looking forward to Trades Day next Monday as a great time for the people throughout the town and county. Not alone are the business advantages appreciated, but the fact that the people are to be brought together at this time to mingle in a friendly and neighborly way adds interest.

The business houses have made special preparations for the occasion and it will be seen by reference to the advertisement in this paper that unusual preparations have been made for this Trades Day event.

GARDEN CLUB TEA

An outstanding social event of the winter season was the Christmas tea, honoring the Goldthwaite Garden Club and guests from the Brownwood and Hamilton Garden clubs, also several guests from San Saba last Friday afternoon.

The tea was given by Meses. John G. Berry, W. E. Fairman, E. T. Fairman, D. A. Trent, Joe A. Palmer and Frank Taylor, in the Berry home.

A festive air was given the reception suite by the Yuletide decorations, tall baskets of holly pots of poinsettia and vases of beautiful roses. The mantle was decorated with East Texas pine and holly.

The guests were met at the door by Mrs. Berry and conducted to the receiving line, which extended from the sun parlor, through the living room to the dining room. The line was composed of all the visitors and a few of the ladies of the Goldthwaite Garden club. From the receiving line they were ushered into the dining room, where from a beautiful lace covered table, centered by a Christmas star, lighted with Christmas candles, tea dainties were served with Miss Adeline Little pouring tea. An interesting Christmas program was led by Mrs. Ed B. Gilliam, interspersed by Christmas music and tap dancing.

This hospitality was enjoyed by the Goldthwaite Garden club, Meses. W. R. Roberts, Negus Calloway, Ehlinger and Darroch of Brownwood; Meses. C. D. McKinley, D. Bratton, L. Brown, Dr. Livingston, Fred Uetty, C. E. Horton, Prince Whitty, C. C. Baker, Jr., of Hamilton; Mrs. Duff of New York City; Meses. Will Little and Marvin Weatherby of San Saba. REPORTER

COURTESY EXTENDED

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Fairman extended a most delightful courtesy to a number of their friends on Wednesday night in the form of a 42 party.

The reception rooms were beautifully and artistically decorated as only Mrs. Fairman can do with Christmas symbols, added to her already artistic touch of statuary, pictures, ships, pot plants and so many things that cigar barrel and ash tray come. There were seven tables of players and the games were thoroughly enjoyed by all.

When the last game was called and scores counted it was found that Mr. Claud Dickerson was the lucky man and he was presented with a handsome bring out the artist's ideas.

Mrs. Jim Cockrum won high for the ladies and received a lovely little potted plant of Sansevieria, while R. M. Thompson received a neat little whisk-broom for not bidding during the games.

Mrs. Fairman, assisted by her daughter, Miss Mary Louise, and Mrs. Walter Fairman, passed a most delectable salad plate, placing first a very novel centerpiece on each table, made of grapefruit, pierced with toothpicks and tiny rounds of best pickles, sour pickles, green and ripe olives, placed on the end of each toothpick ready to be plucked and eaten. THE GOLDTHWAITE EAGLE

SOUTH BENNETT

Mrs. J. H. Roberts was a visitor from Caradan Tuesday.

L. J. Gartman had business in Waco the early part of the week.

You can have your sausage ground and seasoned at Bill's Cafe.

S. M. McCasland of McGirk was a business visitor to the big town last week end.

Mrs. Cora Ford of Scallorn was an appreciated caller at the Eagle office Saturday.

Miss Loraine Calaway of Bozaz was an appreciated caller at the Eagle office Tuesday.

The preparation for Trades Day indicates a most unusual and interesting event.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Thompson of Brownwood spent Sunday with relatives in this city.

O. M. Carothers was one of the appreciated callers at the Eagle office last Saturday.

The Eagle can save you money on your daily paper. Ask about the combination rates.

T. R. Priddy of Priddy looked after business in the big town the early part of the week.

Edward Geeslin and his wife and three sons of Brady spent Sunday with relatives in this city.

When you have visitors or know any other local item the Eagle appreciates your reporting it.

Mrs. M. L. Casbeer of South Bennett was in the city shopping Saturday and called at the Eagle office.

H. B. Dennard, one of the industrious young farmers of Big Valley, looked after business in this city Saturday.

Ask you grocer about Bill's Famous Chili Mixture. One tablespoonful to a pound of meat. That's all.

Wm. Duke and wife of Houston came in last week end and spent several days with his parents, Rev. and Mrs. R. E. Duke.

Walter Johnston, manager of the Mutual Insurance association, looked after business in this city the early part of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Weaver spent the first of the week in San Antonio, where he attended a state convention of county agents.

Oh, yes, for making real Chili use Bill's Famous Chili Mixture. It makes real chili. At Bill's cafe or your grocer.

Presiding Elder Chas. Nixon was here from Llano last Sunday and filled the pulpit in the big service, holding conference in the afternoon.

Mrs. Viola Chappel and children, formerly of Center City and later of Stephenville, have moved to Goldthwaite for the benefit of the school advantages.

Church is prepared to clean and press garments for any member of the family and takes orders for made to measure garments. See Mrs. samples for Fall and Winter Clothing.

The Eagle can offer some low rates on daily papers for long or short time.

The Eagle is glad to give space to the various schools for their reports, but must request that they limit their requirements. Consider the interest of the entire county as well as the individual school and only use such space as we can afford to donate. Several columns for each school would consume all of the space in the paper.

Reporters and writers are urged to send in their reports in time for the current issue of the Eagle or not send them at all. Please don't embarrass us by forcing us to turn down belated reports.

A community Christmas tree was decided on Sunday for Friday night, Dec. 21, at the school house. Old Santa is to be there with bells on and program will be rendered.

There were 38 present at Sunday school Sunday morning and a good crowd present at church. Rev. Benningfield left an appointment for the second Sunday in January.

Mrs. Bernard Perry spent last week visiting with her sister Mrs. Townsend Perry, and was joined by Mr. Perry Thursday night. Then they both returned home Friday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Claud Smith sat until bed time with Dan Covington and wife Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Casbeer and children dined with B. R. Casbeer and wife Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Insall and children visited Mr. and Mrs. Casbeer in the afternoon.

Miss Evelyn Covington spent several nights last week with Miss Charline Warren, who, has been visiting her parents, who live near Live Oak. Mrs. Warren and Charline visited in the J. M. Stacy and Clyde Featherston homes Monday night and, they with Evelyn Covington, visited Mrs. M. L. Casbeer and family Wednesday afternoon.

Elza Utzman and family of Mullin and Will Horton of Goldthwaite visited in the Huffman home on Sunday.

Claud Smith and wife visited with the Clyde Featherston family Sunday.

Ruby D. and Minnie Kuykendall and Evelyn Covington have worked in town lately.

Mr. and Mrs. Hammond Bodkin visited in the Willie Smith home awhile Sunday afternoon.

Rev. Joe Benningfield dined with Mr. and Mrs. Willis Hill and boys Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Cleve Perry visited Townsend Perry and family Thursday afternoon. James Harold Perry returned home with them and spent Thursday night in the Cleve Perry home.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Covington took Aaron Stacy back to Center City Sunday afternoon, Aaron having spent the week end at home.

Will Horton spent Saturday night with J. M. Casbeer and family and Sunday night with Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Casbeer and family.

Clyde Featherston and family visited with the J. M. Stacy family awhile Saturday and from there went to town.

G. W. Simpson visited Henry Simpson over the week end.

Frank Byrd and family of Goldthwaite visited her parents Mr. and Mrs. I. N. Hawkins, on Sunday.

J. M. Stacy spent Saturday night with Charlie Casbeer.

Doward Simpson spent Saturday and Sunday night visiting relatives at Goldthwaite.

Nolan Jones and wife of Center City, Townsend Perry and family, Bernard Perry and wife and Jack Montgomery and family visited Mrs. Montgomery and boys Saturday night and Sunday.

Henry Simpson made a trip to Brownwood Saturday.

Next Sunday is our singing day. We would sure like to have some singers from other communities help us. Let's be there and try to have a good singing.

S. D. Club Entertains

On the night of Dec. 5, 1934, at 7:30, the members of the S. D. club met at the home of Gertrude Johnson to initiate four new members.

When the guests arrived games were played until all was in readiness for the initiation.

After the initiation the club, as a whole, was discussed. Many plans were made and the new members seemed very enthused over the ideas.

Refreshments of hot chocolate, potato chips, sandwiches and olives were served.

Mary Louise Fairman invited the club to meet at her home next Tuesday night for further initiations.

The guests initiated were Lotte Heister, Alleene Martin, Juanita Rudd and Ruth Florence Mullan.

Chapel Program

During assembly period last Friday morning Miss Gatlin's ninth grade history class presented a play entitled "The Greatest Show on Earth." Each one that took part gave a current event of importance. Those that took part were Vivian Cortis, Juanita Sanderson, Agnes Johnson, Dorothy Fry, Jack Hall, Leon Gray, Mary Horton, J. M. Wrinkle, Jimmie Frizzell, Kenneth Shaw, Voyd Lee Doggett and Loraine Bledsoe. Connie Trent gave a piano solo, "The Rustle of Spring."

Did You Know

That the Goldthwaite public schools will dedicate the new basket ball court to the Eagles in their opening game here Saturday?

That no senior will be able to get his class ring until all of them have been paid for?

That fifteen per cent of the senior class failed on as many as two subjects this term?

That the public schools of this city will be out ten days for Christmas.

Senior Class Rings

The officers of the senior class wish to remind the members of the senior class that the rings have arrived at L. E. Miller's jewelry store. No one can get their ring until each is paid for. The members of the senior class wish to urge everyone to see Mr. Miller at once.

Character

The great crime wave in the United States today is a knock against the public school system. What good is the knowledge learned in school, if the boys and girls have not learned how to conduct themselves, so that they will always be able to look the world in the face and not be ashamed.

Character is the greatest asset a man can have. If a man has a good character, no matter how poor he may be financially, he has something that riches can never buy. A good character is worth more than all the money of the richest man in the world.

The problem confronting the public school system today is the building up of the moral of the students. The teachers must teach character education in the schools as well as mere book knowledge.

The United States government has started an "experiment in character education" in the District of Columbia. To carry out this program of character education, congress appropriated $70,000 additional to the $10,000,000 to be used this year in the Columbia school system.

Like any other experiment it is impossible as yet to determine the outcome. To make it a success, the school system must have the support and co-operation of every student and parent.

In a few years character education will become a part of every school system in the United States, and it is essential that the government has your utmost support in the plan.

Following is the aim of the character education:

1. The personal aim of this education is to develop in each child the desire and power to make the right choice in any conduct situation.

2. The job of the teacher is to teach children, not subjects.

3. Individualized education emphasizes the facts that the whole personality of the child, intellectually, esthetic, social and moral qualities is of equal or greater importance.

4. The behavior of an individual is determined by his personal scale of values. Those things which a person feels to be most important will dominate his actions and decisions.

The following is a list of principles set forth in character education:

1. Attitudes, desires and urges are controllable factors in behavior and to help the child learn to want to do right is one of the major factors in schooling.

2. Growth and personality are best promoted when children think and act in situations which are real to them.

In learning situations there are three vital factors which control effective growth of the grain and character and deserves special attention. The first is the integral relations of actions to desires; to achieve the outcomes of education, it is imperative that the desires of the student be directed to a worthy outcome. The second is the law of effect, which means that growth tends to feed upon success. The third is the central position of thinking in all new situations. —Editor.

S. D. Club

Thursday, November 29, 1934, a number of girls met at the home of Louise Gartman to organize a club.

Mary Louise Fairman was elected president; Gertie Johnson, vice president; Louise Gartman, secretary; Ima Lois Bayley, treasurer; Daphane Evans, reporter.

After the election a name was selected for the club, but it was sworn to remain untold. However the initials, S. D., will suffice to identify the club.

The bronze chrysanthemums was voted to be the flower, crimson and gold the color and the aim "To live to the fullest extent."

Bids were sent to four other girls to be initiated at the next meeting.

Recent Addition

Another improvement has been made in the economics room. A new lavatory has been installed and, also, a new paper towel holder.

This is not the only recent improvement made to this room—but one of many—all of them being duly appreciated by the student body.

The Observer

We observe a Chevrolet coach stop before the school house. From it alights a girl about five feet and five inches tall; about 118 pounds. She has a pale complexion and is red-headed (but not high tempered). She is an ex-member of the Goldthwaite pep squad, and as president is a member of the glee club. She was a loyal supporter of the Eagles in their last football season. She is a member of the senior class and also happens to be the treasurer. As she turns around and looks this way, I see that she has blue eyes.

Now, that she has been completely described, who is she?

Basket Ball Tournament

The Eagle basketball team has been working hard the past few weeks and will soon be in shape for a game. They will go to Prairie Saturday, Dec. 15, to join in the tournament there. The games at Prairie will be only practice games and will not count for the championship. The Eagles have hopes that some of the student body will be there to boost for them.

Coach Plays Football

Saturday night a few citizens of Goldthwaite and also some students from high school went to Brownwood to see the "EX-Stars" of Howard Payne College play the sophomores of that school football.

Coach Cloninger started the game at his old end position, where he rated "All Conference" two years and captain one year.

Those that saw the game discovered he was not only a good coach, but was also a superb player.

The sophomores won with a score of 13 to 6, although it was a hard-earned victory.

Free Lessons In Leisure His Goal

A CHICAGO manufacturer to whom the depression has been no kinder than to most has found his compensation for hard times in a vision of a safer and saner future. "In my picture of the years ahead," says Robert F. Bensinger, "I see an era of industrial and political peace, with emphasis placed wisely on the employment of time rather than, as now, on the employment of manpower.

"In recent years we have been discovering that without the pattern of leisure which decorates our life, our work loses much of its meaning."

Much of our leisure now, even much of the new leisure created by political edict, he asserts, is employed futilely at the movies, at such "mob" games as football and baseball, where the many watch while the few play.

"Yet there are games in which the player really plays, and one of them is billiards. Another is bowling. Persons and organizations interested in these two games appear to have discovered much the same thing that has dawned upon me, for both have organized efforts to increase their playing population by providing free instruction throughout the country."

Mr. Bensinger proposes that for every college requirement of a course in making money, teachers be created to teach the art of how to spend.

He praises the wise planning of playgrounds and sports fields in Europe, and the increasing tendency there to bring people to the sports rather than, as in America, carrying the sports to the people as spectacles. He deprecates the passing of the "sand lot" in this country, and the failure to provide an adequate substitute for that incubator of sport.

His own plan of free instruction in billiards he regards as a step in the right direction.

STYLES IN NEW YORK

Among the Styles in New York this week was a stunning evening gown of jet black velvet, highlighted among the chic costumes of a smart fashion parade staged as an intermission feature of a benefit performance of the current Broadway musical comedy hit, "Anything Goes."

There is a new rayon pile lined velvet with lots of body featured in evening coats, capes and jackets. One notes them in black, white and vivid shades of red—a splendid Christmas gift for the girl home from school.

Buttons continue to invade the smart mode but one doesn't tire of them because they are always taking on new shapes and faces. Some of the loveliest new aacel frocks, designed for cruise and sport wear, feature the large plain buttons entirely down the front of the frock. A stunning evening frock of black transparent velvet has a front bodice closing of buttons that look like pearls set close together, the effect being that of a string of pearls down the front.

Hats for Palm Beach are being shown now in New York and are in a variety of new straws braids and fabrics, including both braids and fabrics, many have a very rough texture and feature the shiny and dull contrast. Color along with white plays an important part. The white hat with vivid color accents introduced through the braid of embroidered effect is new and chic. Brims are featured both wide and narrow crowns are most intricately manipulated often giving the effect of being higher than they are. Linsens and linen effects achieved through straws and braids are very important in the millinery mode.

Eleventh Grade Class Report
As this is examination week the biology class is working very hard trying to have their note books up by Friday, as that is the date when they are due. The English class is reviewing their six weeks work.

Imagine

Stewart being fat and serious.
Velma not laughing.
Pete studying.
Mutt not wearing a bow tie.
R. C. not singing.
Ethyl being tall.
Walter not talking.
Those absent from school last Friday were Ethyl Hill and R. C. Petty.

Tenth Grade

The tenth graders have found that it requires a bit of effort to pass geometry and keep a notebook, too.

The Spanish class has been reviewing for the benefit of those who were absent some of the time during the six weeks.

Ninth Grade News

We are taking examinations this week. We hope that we will have many high grades this month.

Ira Townsend was absent from school Monday. Helga Tischler was also absent Thursday. We hope that our attendance will be better next week, as we have the smallest class in high school this year and if anyone is absent our class certainly is small.

You would be a pretty girl—if you had Viola's figure, Nelda's eyes, Helga's eyebrows, Wilma's cheeks, Dora Mae's feet, and Hazel's hair.

This is examination week therefore, we are leaving out extra amusements so as to make better grades.

We are sorry to lose one of our students, Dorothy Henkes, until Christmas. We hope she will have the privilege of returning after Christmas.

Our Christmas holidays are drawing near and we are working hard, so that we can spend a happy Christmas without worries.

Eat lots, so you will not get thin and frail like Mary June Perryman.

If Paul Tischler doesn't quit growing we will have to stretch our necks to see over him.

Mr. Grimland has arranged a library system and we are coming along nicely.

Seventh Grade

The seventh grade elected its officers for the Seventh Grade Reading Club as follows: President, Elvera Schrank; first vice president, Billy Mason; second vice president, Florence Barteles; treasurer, Raymond Tiemann; counselor, Miss Watson.

A program committee was also picked with Leona Slegmund, Willis Aubrey Cook, Kathleen Walker as members, and Miss Watson the sponsor. Flora Ledbetter is song leader.

Miss Watson, the teacher, read the book, "Helen's Babies," to her pupils and is now going to read them another.

The students learned the song "Texas, Our Texas" as a civic problem this week.

They are going to give a program in chapel Monday morning and hope to give the student body a great surprise. They are learning some Christmas songs, too. We are reading books which we will report on for the reading club.

Sixth Grade

Editorial Troubles

The editors sat in a sad, sad row They had no news; 'Twas a dreadful blow,

They felt like weeping, but instead they sat and made this jingle—
Now what of that?

Fifth Grade News

The fifth grade is certainly glad to have Noel Ledbetter, who was absent a week from school, to return.

The fifth and sixth grades are having exams this week and all hope to make good grades.

They drew names Monday for Christmas.

Mr. Kuklies visited Mr. Hein's room last Thursday.

Third and Fourth Grades

Vernon Schlee, a third grade pupil, went on a visit to the Rio Grande valley.

Bobbie Jo Long, Frances Kunkel and Clarence Tiemann were absent Monday.

Those who made the honor roll in arithmetic are: Fourth grade, Charlie Schwartz, Lorena Cunningham, Clarence Schumann, Dorothy Nell Fickel, Ruth Hein.

Those who made the honor roll in spelling were: Fourth grade, Dorothy Nell Fickel, Tommie B. Cunningham, Ruth Hein, Edward Rost, Herbert Mansur, Walter Rost.

Third grade, Reginald Wiedebush, Wayne Dunlap, Anton Hertz, Emilee Harris, Paul Kunkel, Bobbie Jo Long, Franklin Schumann, Viola Jeske, Norman Henkes, Willie Mae Steinmann, Max Lonley.

A LIBERAL POLICY

The Eagle has been more liberal than judicious in the matter of subscriptions for the past three years, owing to the depression, but the time has come when all newspapers are being required to cull their lists to those who really want and pay for the paper. One requirement recently brought to the attention of the Eagle management is that the paper can only be sent through the postoffice at the second class rate to bona fide subscribers and business men who carry advertisements and are entitled to a copy of the paper to check such advertisements, but the old "free and easy" policy must be abandoned.

"Moon Metal" Poisons Wheat

Dr. H. C. Knight, Chief of Bureau Chemistry & Soils

Scientist Traces Deadly Effects on Man and Livestock to Rare Element, Selenium—Urges Abandoning 50,000 Poisoned Acres

How selenium, one of the rare elements, is poisoning thousands of acres was recently described in vivid terms at the meeting of the Association of Official Agricultural Chemists, held in Washington, D. C.

Working quietly, the Bureau of Chemistry and Soils has found that plants grown on these poison areas are dangerous to men and animals. According to Dr. Henry C. Knight who made the report, some 50,000 acres will have to be taken out of production. He added that the problem is world wide, since some foreign wheat has been shown to contain selenium in poisonous amounts.

In recent years there has been widespread investigation of the effect of rare elements on plant life. Proof has been established that all of them can be fatal if applied in too large amounts and agricultural officials are unanimous in warning farmers to apply rare elements only when they have an exact knowledge of the chemical factors involved.

Fortunately, most soils do not contain selenium, sometimes called the "moon metal," in poisonous amounts. Nature was wise in providing most soils with just the right amounts of other rare elements. The safest thing for farmers to do is to use modern pure fertilizers rather than to gamble on the benefit of using fertilizers containing several powerful impurities. This applies especially to farmers who have reason to think that their soil has already been weakened and poisoned by the continual use of impure fertilizers year after year.

THE GOLDTHWAITE EAGLE

CARADAN

Sunday was our regular meeting day. Bro. Hays preached Saturday night, Sunday morning and Sunday night. We also had Sunday school and B. T. S. Sunday.

We enjoyed the delicious dinner which was pread on the grounds and Bro. Lee Stewart and Jess Petsick were ordained.

We were very glad to have Bro. Swanner and Mrs. Swanner Bro. Jackson, Bro. Littlepage, Bro. Bowman and Bro. Stephens and wife to be with us Sunday afternoon.

Bro. Jackson was the questioner in the ordination service, and Bro. Bowman delivered the charges. Bro. Swanner delivered the ordination sermon.

Everybody remember and come to Sunday school and B. T. S. Sunday.

Professor Cooke and Professor Smith joined our church Sunday night by letter. We sincerely hope that we can be of great help to them in their Christian life, while they are in our church.

Bro. Dyches will fill his appointment Saturday night, Sunday morning. Everybody be sure and come.

Everybody is looking forward to Christmas. Everyone is hoping to have a nice time, altho Old Man Depression hovers around us.

The pupils and school teachers are exceedingly glad of the Christmas holidays, because they can spend a few days at their homes.

Henry Simpson visited in the Reynolds home Sunday afternoon.

The Denman girls were appreciated visitors at church Sunday afternoon.

Herman Reynolds is still reported to be on the sick list.

Bunkey Reed has been reported ill this week.

Everyone should do everything in their power to raise their merits the next two weeks, so that Old Santa will bring them lots of toys and good things to eat.

EBONY

Bro. Jodie Caldwell of Howard Payne College, Brownwood, filled his appointment here, preaching Saturday night, Sunday morning and night. He left an appointment for the second Sunday in January.

Roscoe Jones stole a march on his many friends of this community and brought home a bride Wednesday night. He was married to Miss Myrtle McNurley of Bethel in San Saba county. Mr. and Mrs. Jones will make their home at the White place, which he has been cultivating for the past year. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. George Jones, pioneers of this part of the country, and is one of our most industrious and accommodating young men. Mrs. Jones is a sister to another of our good citizens, Billie McNurley, and we are glad to welcome her to our community. We have nothing but good wishes for the happy pair.

Bro. Caldwell spent Saturday night with Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Philen and took dinner Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Wood Roberts.

Ruby Ketchum and Ruth Mashburn visited with Avis McDearmon Sunday afternoon.

The Ebony basket ball boys played Indian Creek Friday afternoon. Indian Creek won with a score of 14 to 12.

J. R. Briley, Jim Wilmeth and Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Dwyer visited Mr. Ivy Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Egger of Regency attended church here Sunday night.

D. E. McKinney and son, Lillard, of Roswell, N.M., and Ralph Wilmeth of Milburn visited at the Wilmeth home Wednesday night. D. E. McKinney is a nephew of Grandmother Wilmeth.

Mrs. George Jones, Hard Jones, Estelle and Alton Russell attended Sunday school at Indian Creek Sunday.

Miss Pauline Haynes spent Sunday with Miss Odene Russell.

Mr. Weaver, our county agent, and Mr. Goosby, his co-worker, spoke to the people of this community on the Bankhead bill Friday night.

MOUNT OLIVE HIGH SCHOOL

Basket Ball and Pep Squad Party

Wednesday night the basket ball boys and pep squad girls were invited to Mr. Cooke's and Miss Blackwell's house. We arrived at an early hour, so we would not miss any of the fun. The boys built a large fire on the outside and several interesting games were played. Then Miss Blackwell announced for everyone to get their partner. She then passed the marshmallows and every one enjoyed the toasting of them and went home wishing for many more enjoyable events like this one.

Speaking

Mr. Weaver and Mr. Goosby made interesting talks on the Bankhead bill Tuesday afternoon.

Sickness

Annie Marie Kiser has been absent from school on account of illness. We hope for her a speedy recovery.

Wonder Why

Bert was not at the basket ball and pep squad party.

Elmer wants a wheelbarrow. Boozey goes to Mr. Jimmy Roberts at night after a holiday.

Melvin and Arvin were late at school Monday morning. Cecil visits with the ninth grade in the afternoon.

Mr. Smith was sick Thursday. Elmer came to school with a hurt foot a few days after the party.

The juniors say they are going to kick the seniors out if they come to their party.

Alvin wants to be in the play or wants to come to play practice.

Mr. Smith likes for the tenth grade students to have part of the classes.

The Difference in Success and Failure

One time there was a boy who did not realize the importance of being on time. He was late to school every morning in spite of the protests of his teachers. Because of his fondness for association with other boys he continued school, but he was too years later than his classmates getting his diploma.

It was extremely difficult for him to get a job and harder than ever to keep one because of his extreme slowness. Finally he was promised a trial for a position in a large firm in a distant town, but the morning he was to go to work he slept late, missed the train and lost all the chances of a job. When the "man who was always late" met the girl of his dreams he experienced the greatest disappointment of his life: The girl was married to one of his old classmates—the one who had made a reputation for himself as "the boy who was always on time."

Moral: The difference in success and failure is often measured in seconds.

Primary News

We have a new pupil, T. J. Burks, from Indian Gap. Welcome, T. J.

Several pupils have been absent from school due to illness. We surely hope they will soon be able to return.

Ruby Lee Guess, Almata and Vergie Lee Koen made the honor roll in reading last week. They didn't miss a word all week.

Not long ago Jimmie Lee Wilcox went into Miss Blackwell's room. Curtis, Jimmie Lee's little brother, went up to her and told her that he made 100 in spelling and his name was posted on the pulley bone.

Charles Wilcox actually made 100 in reading and spelling on Thursday.

Soon Christmas will be here. Already the little pupils are being good, 'cause they think old Santa will come. We've been making Santa Claus' and our room is very prettily decorated with Christmas decorations, also a Christmas tree is standing in the sand table.

SPECIAL RATES

The Eagle is prepared to offer special combinations with the Houston Chronicle, Fort Worth Star-Telegram and Dallas News. Those who subscribe for those papers can save money by combining with their subscription to the Eagle. In some cases almost if not indeed the entire amount of a subscription to the Eagle can be saved. Most of these papers have already announced their Christmas rates.

PRIDDY SCHOOL NEWS

Primary News

Mrs. Henry Drucekhammer paid our room a short visit a few days ago.

We are decorating our windows with Christmas trees and holly limbs.

We are proud of our pretty pot flowers.

We are working on our Christmas numbers for our program.

Girls' Sports

The Priddy girls were defeated by the Big Valley girls by a score of 13-8.

The coach, Miss Watson, has picked two teams of girls to play against each other this week. She is going to set it up to the group with the highest score.

We are all working hard. Some of the basket ball girls accompanied the basket ball boys to the tournament at Early High Saturday.

Boys Sports

The Priddy boys basketball team attended and took part in the tournament held at Early High. Their first game was played with Winchell, in which they defeated the latter by a score of 52-20. Townsend was high point man, having 20 points to his credit. Their next and last game was played with Cottonwood, in which they were defeated by a score of 27-17. Mason was high point man with 7 points to his credit.

Throughout the games the boys showed good team work. They especially fought hard in the last game.

After seeing a football game at Brownwood, in which Mr. Grimland played, all went home having enjoyed the day and evening to a great extent.

The Girls Glee Club

The Girls Glee Club sang "On Account I Love You" and "My Hat's On the Side of My Head" in chapel last Monday. They will start practicing Christmas carols for the program Friday night, December 28.

They are working to get their dresses made for Christmas. Some having theirs already. So we hope that everyone will have her dress made for the Christmas program.

Home Economics

The girls in home economics worked hard on their exam. They are very proud of their new machines.

Civics

The civics students worked on their examination very hard and some are nearing completion of their chart of the constitution.

RATLER

There was preaching Saturday night and Sunday, also Sunday night. Bro. Nicholson doing the preaching. There were good crowds at all services and Bro. Nicholson preached some very good sermons.

The young folks enjoyed a party at Earl Hale's Friday night.

Bro. Renfro and wife had all their children with them Sunday, except Odorine, who is in the army and is at Fort Bliss. Bro. Nicolson also was in the Renfro home Sunday.

Stop! Look! Listen!

Tonight the Priddy high school will present a play entitled "Beads on a String," at the Big Valley school house. Everyone come and enjoy this play with us. The admission is five and ten cents. All of it goes to the Big Valley school.

Ball Game

Friday afternoon the Big Valley Owls were defeated by the Priddy Pups on their home court. The score was 18-5. The Priddy boys proved themselves to be good sports. They have a strong team and Big Valley is going to turn the trick when they return the game.

Priddy Defeated

The Priddy school girls came over to Big Valley Friday evening, Dec. 7, full of pep and vigor, but not strong enough to defeat their opponent, the Big Valley Owls. The score was 13-8 in favor of the Big Valley girls.

Wedding Bells

Wedding bells rang in this community Monday night, when Miss Noma Lee Webb became the bride of Ashford Padgett, at a quiet ceremony at the home of Bro. Swanner in Goldthwaite.

The bride is the granddaughter of Mrs. F. L. Hartman and has lived here since childhood. She attended Big Valley school, is a graduate of Goldthwaite high school and has attended Baylor College, Belton. She was the first editor-in-chief of the Owls.

The groom is a young man of sterling quality and is loved by all who know him. He lived in Dallas prior to his coming here several years ago to make this his home.

These young people will make their home with Mrs. F. L. Hartman, at bride's grandmother.

All of Big Valley joins as one in wishing for them God's speed and that they will be blessed with all things that will make them happy and contented.

The Coming of Santa

The pupils are all looking forward to the coming of old Saint Nicholas. We have drawn names and will have a Christmas tree Friday afternoon, December 21. The primary room has already begun decorating their room for Christmas.

Favorite Sayings

Of Basket Ball Girls
Miss Piper, referee: By her whistle ye shall know her.
Adell Bynum: That's not the way we did at North Bennett.
June Knowles: Everything looks fine to me.
Dona Robertds: A little bit, but that little bit counts.

Virginia Dennard: In her we find our names personified.
Reba Patterson: Miss Piper, I didn't "aim" to make that foul.
Melba Lois Hicks: Behold! She maketh a face.

Katheryn Moss: Now say, you want to defend that girl better.
Estelle Miller: Here ye be!
Alene McConal: Gee, I can't run.

Lore Renfro: Keep my name out of love affairs.
Vada Leigh McCarty: I think it isn't so nice to be so "ruff."

Merle McCarty: What makes her stick out her tongue when she throws the ball.
Ona Robertds: I'll climb the fence to get the ball.

Mogene Moss: Ouch! You hurt my arm.
Lou Delle Sullivan: I'll take instructions from no one.

Ruth Hale: Silence is golden.

Humor

The third grade geography class was studying about cotton seed oil and Miss Piper asked: "What is the white stuff on cotton seeds, when your father brings them back from the gin?"
Hugh Forrest (after a pause): "Down."

Chapel Program

The chapel program was rendered by the primary room last Friday morning. There were a few who recited readings and several songs were sung. The next program will be rendered by the intermediate room.

Every one is working hard on the Christmas program.

Absent

Garland Spinks has been absent from school several days this week, but we don't know the reason.

Gus Henry Myer, Elmo and Deward Fallon were absent from school Monday. They had to work at home.

Visitors

Mrs. Horton and son, Ray Donald, visited school Thursday. Barbara June Wesson visited with Evelyn Hill Sunday.

James Harlan Collier spent the week end with Oran Perry Stark.

Mae Ellen Williams visited Zeta Lawson Sunday.

Howard Spinks was a Sunday visitor at the home of Elbert and Barney Horton.

J. C. Wesson visited Norma Lee Mosier Sunday.

Miss Ducey spent Sunday evening with Mrs. Hill.

Charles Edward Davis visited Joe Taylor Sunday evening.

If I Had

Eammon Perry's sense of humor.
Elmo Fallon's ability to answer "yes or no."

Arlie Taylor's pretty hair.
Doris Davis' long eye lashes.

Garland Spinks' ability to study.

Fay Ruth Robbins' cute smile.
Merlene Stark's blue eyes.

Doris Newman's ability to sing.
Clairene Dennis' red lips.

Lucille Harmon's timidity.
Gus Henry Myer's pretty teeth.

L. D. Spinks' wise cracking.
I'd be okay.

High School and Its Battles

When we start into school the first thing that we need to do is to get our minds on our studies. Concentration, is the next most important thing, for without it we cannot accomplish anything.

Attending school regular and being on time is half of the battle. We also need to accomplish our work by days and not by letting work stack up on us. Then when examination time comes we know the questions and can easily make good grades.

Another thing that is important is to listen carefully to the assignments. We should also pay close attention to the teachers and those reciting during class time. Observation is a great teacher.

If we keep all of the high school rules we are sure to make good grades and leave the school with happy hearts ready for a joyous vacation.

PLEASANT GROVE

Ernest Benningfield of Mount Olive was in this community buying turkeys this week.

Miss Myrtle Harbour of Kelly spent Tuesday night with Miss Gladys Casbeer.

I. T. Howell has been on the sick list this week, but was able to be out at the school ground working Tuesday afternoon.

J. D. Benningfield visited with his father, Rev. Joe Benningfield, Monday.

Misses Gladys Casbeer and Myrtle Harbour were shopping in Goldthwaite Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. B. P. Hurdle and Mrs. Marvin Nesbit were riding around Tuesday afternoon, making arrangements for a curtain, for our stage. Pleasant Grove is coming to the front.

Don't forget about the cemetery working today, Friday, Dec. 14.

We know Christmas is getting near for Mr. Berry run into a ditch and wrecked his car.

The outsiders are putting on a play entitled "Mary's Castle in the Air" tonight, Friday, Dec. 14. Next Sunday is church day.

Everyone remember and be there.

HEAVEN EYES

CENTER CITY

We are enjoying real winter weather. It is clear and fine for killing hogs. Most every one who have hogs killed the first of the week so everyone has fresh meat. Those who are so unfortunate as to not have them to kill, appreciate good neighbors. They certainly are the best to be found anywhere.

Mrs. Ellis Reid spent several days at the bedside of her little granddaughter, Wanda Fay McBeth of Pidcote. The little one was carried to Dallas for an operation, where she died last Saturday at 3 p. m.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Reid, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Atchison and children, Mr. and Mrs. Stacy McCasland and boys, Delmer Don Geslin and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Reid and little son attended the funeral of the McBeth child at Pidcote Sunday. We regretted very much to learn of her death, and sincerely sympathize with her relatives.

Chas. Welch, Harry Welch and family and Miss Aidele Welch visited in the Bud Welch home in Sterling City last week end. Mr. Bud Welch has been ill for some time and expects to undergo a major operation soon. His many friends here are hoping he will be restored to health.

Bro. Sparkman filled his appointment Sunday. Mrs. Iva Aldredge had charge of the night program. Plans are being made whereby the two churches will co-operate and have a Christmas tree this year. It has been a long time since we have had a tree of this kind and we are looking forward to a good time.

The "Penny Pirates" have the real "Our Gang" spirit. They are looking forward to performing at Goldthwaite next Saturday night.

Henry Venable and family visited in the Elms Head home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawton McBeth and two children spent the first of the week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Reid.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Covington of South Bennett brought turkeys to market here the first of the week.

John Carter, Jr., turkey buyer for Jeske & Dutton, has been quite busy. The market is good and the birds are better than some had expected.

Mrs. Allan Carter is visiting her new grandson in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Price in Tyler. The ladies met with Mrs. Joe Langford Wednesday for the quilting.

PECAN WELLS

Well, Christmas will soon be here and Santa will come to gladden the hearts of the little ones and cheer the old, but I am afraid he will get lost when he tries to find us folks up here in the brush.

Mrs. John Harris, who has been sick for quite awhile, is not doing very well. She had a spell of bleeding at the nose, which left her very weak.

Mrs. Lon Harris visited Mrs. John Harris one day last week.

Those who visited school Friday were Velma Leach, Janie Epler and her two brothers, Mrs. Harris and Lell Harris.

Miss Mae Harris of Hamilton visited home folks Monday and Tuesday. Mae also visited her sister, Mrs. Norman Crawford, while here. She returned to Hamilton Thursday.

John Murrell was in our community last week buying cows. He bought two head from J. J. Roberts.

Mr. Epler helped Elmer Hurley kill hogs Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Sparkman helped Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Webb kill a hog Monday.

Uncle Jerry Roberts happened to a painful accident Saturday morning. His young pony kicked

BIG VALLEY

We have been having quite a bit of winter lately. Some have killed hogs. This kind of weather makes us want to sit before the fire place and watch the fire as it crackles, letting out the stored up sunshine, or if we don't have a fireplace to sit by the warm stove and enjoy a book or a paper.

Wedding bells have been ringing in our community again. Monday night Miss Noma Lee Webb and Ashford Padgett were united in marriage at the home of Rev. Swanner at Goldthwaite. Noma Lee and Ashford are both well liked in our community. We wish for them all the joy and happiness that life has in store for them.

Mrs. Walter Nelson has been real sick. We are glad to report her feeling better at this writing.

Mrs. T. B. Oglesby of Breckenridge is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stevens, and also visiting in the Harry Oglesby home.

Griff McConal and brother, Charlie, and two daughters and Mrs. McCarlie, all of Odonnell, were called here last week to attend the funeral of their nephew, Clint Parker. While here Mr. McConal made a visit in the Cockrell home.

Roberta Robertson and Mary Beth Miller visited Ina Bee Hale Sunday.

Mr. Calvin, our new neighbor, moved in Sunday night. We hope he will like his new home here in the valley.

Mrs. Lina Weaver and Miss Flora Weaver visited Mrs. Hale awhile Thursday evening.

The Cockrell and Doak boys have a new V8 car. Don't know whether the boys can speak to us folks now, who just have ordinary cars to ride in.

Hugh Nelson and wife and baby were visitors in the valley Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Hale took their daughter, Dora Dean, back to town Sunday evening. Dora is attending school in Goldthwaite.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Weaver and son visited in the Marvin Spinks home at Rabbit Ridge awhile on Sunday evening.

Tuesday evening a large number met at Mrs. Hartman's to give a bridal shower to Mrs. Ashford Padgett. She received many useful and pretty gifts. These were all appreciated, I am sure. The guests were served hot chocolate and cake. Everyone left wishing Noma Lee and her husband all the best in the years to come.

Mrs. Dan Long and Mrs. Dee Hartman of Goldthwaite attended the shower Tuesday evening and also visited in Mrs. Hartman's home.

Floyd Sykes' family is the proud owner of a new car.

Rev. and Mrs. Jim Hays visited in the Harry Oglesby home on Tuesday night.

Everyone remember there will be preaching Saturday night and Sunday. Bro. Scott will do the preaching.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Weaver and Juanita Myrl, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Weaver and Walter Martin went to San Saba shopping, Wednesday.

Those who visited in the Harvey Hale home Saturday night were Mr. and Mrs. Connie Knowles, Mrs. Weaver and Howard, Robert and Flora. The men enjoyed playing 42.

BLUE JAY

him. No bones were broken, but he suffered some with his ankle. We hope he soon gets all right.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Crawford gave a party Saturday night.

D. W. Webb and J. J. Roberts visited Floyd Green's store Saturday.

Mr. Sours and son, Fred, called in the D. W. Webb home and bought some pigs Friday.

There were several attended church Sunday, but we did not call a pastor, but appointed three committeemen to invite someone over to preach in order to find one to call.

Mr. and Mrs. Weathers and children and two of the Kiser children visited in the Lewis Sparkman home and rendered music and sung Sunday night.

William Sparkman visited Lols Webb Sunday night.

Jim Green made a trip to Dublin Saturday with a load of turkeys.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Roberts visited in the Lon Harris home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Arvel Oneal visited relatives at Moline Sunday.

LAKE MERRITT

The Happy Hour Club met with Mrs. C. J. Brown on Tuesday of this week. The afternoon was spent quilting a quilt for the orphan's home for Christmas. Every one enjoyed the refreshments that Mrs. Brown served.

The Happy Hour Christmas tree for the members and their families will be on Saturday night, Dec. 22, at 7 o'clock at the home of Mrs. C. O. Norton.

The next club meeting will be Jan. 8, 1935, at the home of Mrs. J. M. Baker.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Stuck spent Sunday evening in the N. T. Waddell home.

Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Leverett and Bobby have moved to Lometa. We surely will miss them in our community and we all wish them lots of luck in their new home.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bennett and baby of San Antonio spent part of last week in the W. L. Stuck home.

Besse and Otis Hutchings spent part of Sunday afternoon in the Ira Hutchings home.

Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Norton and family, Mr. and Mrs. Connelley spent Sunday in the R. D. Norton home.

Mr. and Mrs. Travis Long spent Thursday evening in the N. T. Waddell home.

Mrs. Harve Kemp spent last week in the Grover Price home.

Miss Inez Ritchie spent the first part of the week in the John Dellis home in Trigger Mountain.

We are all glad to hear that Mrs. Ryan is able to be up.

Mrs. J. M. Baker spent Sunday afternoon with Mrs. C. J. Brown.

Miss Marie Stuck, Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Norton and Mrs. Burns spent last Thursday in Brownwood shopping.

Mr. and Mrs. John Edlin sat until bedtime Sunday in the Ira Hutchings home.

DEATH VISIT

Death entered the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lawton McBeth of Pidcote and claimed for its own, little Wanda Fay, Saturday afternoon. She had been ill for some time. They took her to Waco for treatment. The physicians gave them no hope, only advising them to take her to head specialists at Dallas.

They pronounced it an unusual case. It seemed a tumor had formed in the head, causing the skull bones to separate. It was too much for her frail little body and she passed away in the Dallas hospital soon after a 4-hour operation.

Mrs. McBeth's two brothers, Willie and Raymond Reid, of Center City, were with them at the time of the child's death. The body was carried to Pidcote for burial. The funeral service was held Sunday afternoon and was attended by a very large crowd of sorrowing friends and relatives. Among these were her four grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Reid of Center City, Mr. and Mrs. McBeth of Pidcote.

Our sympathy is extended to all her loved ones and especially to her parents and the Ellis Reid family of Center City.

A FRIEND

Charles Murray Davis, James Newton and Hershel Hutchings, all spent Sunday with Mrs. A. J. Ritchie and children.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Sanderson spent Sunday afternoon in the Ira Hutchings home.

Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Norton and daughter are planning on spending the holidays in Amarillo.

Mrs. A. J. Ritchie and children are leaving the middle of next week for Globe, Ariz., where they will join Mr. Ritchie, who has a permanent position in that city.

CARD OF THANKS

To the Voters of Comanche and Mills Counties:—

As the most of you know on Monday following the August primary we were called to Austin in an extra session, and as time has not permitted me to write, I only wish I could express my gratitude to one and all in person, but as I can not see every one, I wish to take this method of expressing my deepest appreciation to all those who supported me in the July and August primaries, and for those who did not vote for me I hold no ill will, but I do feel like quoting one of the familiar passages of scripture and that is to say: "Father, forgive them for they know not what they do." Not that I am trying to inject politics into religion, but I do believe if we could have just a little more religion in politics we would all be just so much the better. Very truly yours,

OPPORTUNITIES THAT PASS

It is an oft repeated axiom that the present is the young man's day, meaning that the opportunities and provisions for success are primarily for the young people, in contradistinction to that afforded the older people, but the serious question to be considered is whether or not the young people realize, not only their opportunities, but their responsibilities. They are but trustees, or guardians, if they prefer the term, in whose keeping is the future weal of the human family. If they realize the value of youth and the youthful advantages, well and good, but if these opportunities are taken as a matter of course, then an awakening awaits them that may not be so pleasant as is possibly anticipated. It is the young man's responsibility to live economically, tempered with reason, and make wise and safe investments and provisions, as far as it is humanly possible, for the proverbial rainy day—a time when he will be deprived of the mature judgment and counsel of his elders, who have gained their knowledge by hard knocks and in some cases by sad experiences. It is said that fortune knocks at every man's door at least once in a life time, while some believe and teach that opportunity knocks at every man's door each day. Be that as it may, all people at one time or another must face problems and in many cases the determining of these problems means success or failure. It is said that a great per cent of those who have reached the evening of life are dependent on relatives or upon some organization or on the government. The per cent may have been placed too high, but the truth still remains that success is more easily obtained by those in early life and had the older people realized their opportunities earlier in life the results at or near the close would have been different. Youth is a capital that is supplied only one time in life and can not be renewed, hence its possessors should appreciate it and use it to the best advantage.

The preacher, teacher or statesman who can indelibly impress this thought on the minds of the rising generation assuredly will have accomplished great and lasting good.

SEEKING WAR PREVENTION

The reports from Geneva for the past week or more have been somewhat alarming because of the danger of a war in the offing and, maybe, not so far away. The charge of Yugoslavia against Hungary sheltered those who murdered King Alexander may seem seriously, while Japanese representatives steadfastly refuse to abide by the naval compact on a 5-5-2 basis. There appears to be trouble brewing in several countries of Europe and the Balkan States have not been quiet for a good many months. One would of necessity be governed more by optimism than judgment to believe that the danger of war has disappeared. There has, indeed, been a war cloud steadily rising in the east for a good many months and the outstanding statesmen and diplomats of our day are deeply concerned over the situation. The world's commerce and diplomatic relations are so interwoven that it would be almost impossible for a war between any of the countries of consequence without many of the others becoming more or less involved. Our own country is as deeply concerned as any of the others and could be easily involved, because of the far-reaching interests of the government and its citizens. While the Geneva convention and other assemblies of representatives of the powers have been and still are hopeful of averting a conflict, at times the danger appears imminent. Our government has so far avoided participation in any of the disagreements and is keeping hands-off, but watching every movement carefully wherever there appears to be danger of a conflict and is endeavoring, in a diplomatic way, to silence the talk of possible war.

OLD AGE PENSION

Mighty few policies have ever been proposed or theories advanced in this country that have taken such firm hold and excited as much enthusiasm as the proposal for the old age pension. While it is entirely possible that the suggestion was first made in jest, its advocates have enlarged in number to such an extent as to make it quite a serious problem for the country to face. Whatever we may think of it, the next session of congress is going to have to deal with it and the result is mighty likely to be a pension plan, reduced no doubt to a much more meagre scale than the first plan promulgated. Not all old people are advocates of the system, but many of them are hopeful of the success of the proposal and the unemployment situation also gives an impetus to it. The adoption of any system whereby all persons over sixty years of age, now engaged in gainful occupations, are to be retired would certainly cure the unemployment situation as soon as put in operation. Yet the plan savors considerably of an effort of one to lift himself by his own boot straps. The idea of spending great sums by the government in the face of the fact that the money must be returned to the treasury by some method to meet future payments, may not seem logical, but there will be sound thinking statesmen in the next congress who will evolve some system to meet the apparent demand for such a pension plan or will refute it altogether.

SUPPORTING THE BANKHEAD LAW

It seems to be certain that the people of the cotton growing states will, by their votes today, support the Bankhead cotton control law and advocate its continuance. Texas is one of the states most interested in the provisions of the law, while Texas farmers have realized as much benefit from its operation as have the farmers of any other section of the south. There is no doubt about the sections where little cotton is grown realizing more benefit than the sections devoted entirely to cotton. The pro rata reduction is not so great in our part of the country, yet the price increase is on the same basis with the sections devoted wholly to cotton. We all know that there are needed changes in the law and certainly its provisions should be more promptly carried out, but this will doubtless be far more satisfactory now that those charged with administering the act are better informed on its provisions and understand better its workings. The election today should show universal approval of the efforts by the administration to limit cotton production to the world's needs, which insures a reasonable price for the staple, thereby guaranteeing to the growers a profit for their investment and labor.

AUTOMOBILES AND WAR

The number of deaths in Texas due to automobile accidents during the past five years more than equals the number of Texans killed during the world war, according to a statement issued by the state department of health. Last year over 1200 persons met death in this manner and from the figures compiled so far for 1934 the number of deaths will be even higher.

Most of the automobile accidents occur on week ends or holidays. This is a surprising fact since fewer pedestrians are abroad and traffic congestion in towns and cities is less on Sunday than on other days of the week. This paradox may be explained in part from having more inexperienced drivers on the road, together with their failure to observe traffic rules.

Some of the most frequent violations of traffic rules are: exceeding the speed limit, driving on the wrong side of the road, failure to give right of way and running without lights. The observance of rules and regulations is not enough to prevent all accidents. The car itself must be in good shape, especially the brakes and steering connections. Then common sense must be used in all situations.

The consequences of an automobile accident are so disastrous that no one can afford to stand on their legal rights in a situation of impending danger. Only if you have conceded such rights and have made every possible effort to avoid an accident, can you consider yourself blameless in case of accident.

DENATURED ALCOHOL

Four drug store owners were charged with manslaughter in Portland, Oregon, Monday, after 19 men had died from drinking poisonous denatured alcohol purchased in Portland's North End, a district with a large floating population.

Police and the district attorney's office continued their investigation of the death toll from the poisoned drink.

Six other victims of the poisoned alcohol were in a serious condition Tuesday in hospitals. Two were expected to die. One was made blind.

HOUSING PROJECT

The biggest house-building project in the nation's history, calling for 50,000 modern, wood and steel homes for "company towns" of the coal and steel industry, is being envisioned as a new major program for the federal housing administration.

Approximately $150,000,000 in construction would be involved, exclusive of the value of the home sites and thousands of steel workers, carpenters and other craftsmen would be put to work in execution of the project.

BUSINESS IMPROVING

The swiftest blow of Christmas spending in years is swirling in on the nation's merchants.

A survey showed that Christmas trade in many cities was at the highest pitch since 1929 or 1930, and ranged as high as 33 1-3 per cent above last year.

Department stores and mail order houses bristled with bullish enthusiasm, and predicted even sharper gains as the holiday approaches.

ODD ACCIDENTS

William Currie, a diver standing on the bottom of St. Mary's river (Canadian-Michigan border) thought he was safe from a thunder storm raging above the surface, but a bolt of lightning ran down the wire leading to six pounds of dynamite held in his arms. It set off the charge and killed him.

Hard luck for Gene Hennan had only begun when his car broke down on a Nebraska street and he had to crawl under it. An alley cat chased a sewer rat right into his shirt. A couple of bites sent him to a hospital.

We may as well tell about E. L. Banner, who was preparing to cast for bass from a boat in Ontario lake. A big one leaped from the water, but missed the dangling bait and fell into the boat. That beats Milt Fall's fishing with red innertube bait.

Curtis Sloper was horrified while driving in Maryland to see a tiny tot toddle in front of his car and get struck. He jumped out to pick her up, fell and broke his own leg.

KNOW ANY BIGGER?

While walking to work one day, Gerald R. Kelly was giving a graphic description of the dream he had the night before to his chum, who was beside him. All during the night, he related, I was fighting with water moccasins in the reservoir at Mystic, Ia., which happens to be my old home town. I would swim along the edge of the reservoir among the cat tails to scare up the snakes, then just to aggravate them I would thump their ears and pinch their hips. I went on to tell him how plainly I could see their orange heads and large hips.

This may sound like a silly dream and all of you may laugh as did my chum, but imagine my embarrassment when we arrived in the town to find a crowd of people in front of a photographer's window, all of them looking at a picture of my snake fight. I guess the caretaker of the reservoir, awakened by my splashes, and seeing what was going on, had thought it too good to keep from the public.—Pathfinder.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

VIEW OF THE NATION'S PRESS ON TOPICS OF INTEREST AND IMPORTANCE

INHERITANCE

The three generations that tradition maintains constitute the time passage from shirtsleeves to shirtsleeves in this country may not be able nowadays to run their full course. It is no strange sight to see the poor scion of a once rich father, especially since the stock market took to cutting up dices a few years ago. A statistician announced a while back that 97 per cent of all business went out of business eventually and a pessimistic office colleague of this column countered with the irrefutable assertion that 100 per cent of life went out of business.

There is a distinct connection between the two facts. Fortunes are built up by canny forethought, wise management, a little luck and a lot of skill, none of which can be passed along to a generation in sore need of all by testament. Experience has shown that it is only a question of time before the callous world will succeed in separating the heirs-at-law from the accumulation of their forebears. Even when the meek inherit the earth it is a reasonable assumption that they will not hold onto it very long. In this country we are largely unfamiliar with the entailed estate and can do little toward providing the business acumen which responsibility entails. Of course, we divide wealth on methods far surer and saner than any socialistic scheme or Townsend plan. To him that hath is certainly not given to hold onto it very long. Our politicians and demagogues inveigle against the rich. But every wealthy man of today is a fellow who is doing his unwilling, but level best to pass his patrimony on to somebody more thrifty, smarter and acquisitive than himself. It is so.—State Press in Dallas News.

LOWER THE RECORD

All indications point to the realization that this Christmas will be one of renewed hope and good cheer and we, as a people, have much for which we should give thanks.

Let us, among other things, give thanks to all of those who have worked so diligently this year in the prevention of fires and give to them encouragement by a willing spirit of co-operation in a continuation of this splendid public service, but lest we forget, the observance of Christmas is fraught with danger to life and property because of many special fire hazards that come into use at that time. A careless act, or the use of an unsafe article, may blight the day, replacing joy with grief.

Some of the facts pertaining to special fire hazards that everyone should acquaint himself with during the holiday season are as follows:

That evergreen trees decorated with highly inflammable materials often ignite.

That cotton or lighted candles should never be placed on the Christmas tree.

That the cotton beard of a Santa Claus frequently catches fire with serious results.

That the old Yuletide custom of placing a lighted candle in the window near curtains has cast many a cloud of gloom.

That small children should never be permitted to handle fireworks.

That wrappings from packages should not be allowed to accumulate.

That toy electric trains, motors and other appliances should not be attached to light sockets until all fuses and connections are in perfect order.

That pennies or wire should never be used in replacing blown out fuses. The fuse is the safety valve on your wiring system to protect you against fire.

Barring any catastrophe losses between now and the close of the year, the fire loss will be lower for 1934 than it has been in any year since 1919.—Raymond S. Mauk, Fire Insurance Commissioner.

FIRST STEPS ON COTTON PROGRAM

The president's indication that he will favor exemption of the growers of small quantities of cotton from regulation under the Bankhead bill, regardless of what else may be done about continuing the measure in effect during the coming year, should meet with the approval of all parties. It does not, of course, reach the approval of all parties. It does not, of course, reach the approval of all parties. It does not, of course, reach the approval of all parties. It does not, of course, reach the approval of all parties. It does not, of course, reach the approval of all parties.

Many a small farmer of Texas and the South was harmed most severely this fall by the enforcement of the Bankhead act provisions, requiring him to hold much of his small production off the market, although he had been given no opportunity to participate in the government's rental contracts offered earlier in the year. The harm done in Harris county, for instance, was very marked, as the Chronicle gave evidence.

That there should be no repetition of it goes without saying. Seemingly the president has committed himself further to a continuation of the Bankhead measure, in some modified form. However, the opportunity to influence him is still open, and appeal to congress for a change in the law can be made next month. Thus there is plenty of time and opportunity for the presentation of a counter program.

Persons interested in elaborating such a program attended the open session of the Gulf Coast Agricultural Association in the assembly room of the Chamber of Commerce last week. It was not a partisan gathering, but a gathering of men known to hold divergent views, and all vitally interested in the economic welfare of Texas and the south.

Its deliberations will be embodied in resolutions to be drawn up by a committee, and presented for approval to another meeting of interested persons.—Houston Chronicle.

SPENDING MORE MONEY

Average annual expenditure of $32.01 per person this year as compared to $25.36 last year, was revealed by figures compiled from the records of 700 farm women who served as wardrobe demonstrators working under the supervision of home demonstration agents in 91 Texas counties, according to a statement issued by Mrs. Dora B. Barnes, extension clothing specialist. These 700 women kept complete and accurate accounts of their individual clothing expenditures for one year.

Figures of 1555 farm women from 61 counties, who kept accounts for their entire families, show an average annual expenditure per family of $88.33 as compared to an average of $76.17 spent the year before. These families contained 557 persons, making the average expenditure per person $24.95. The figure for last year was $21.73.

These figures probably reflect the added buying power of the farm family.—The Earth.

LAW-ABIDING

Laredo, with 30,000 population, about 90 per cent Mexican, is probably the most law-abiding town of its size in Texas. No whisky is sold openly and slot machines are not in operation. Few major crimes are committed. Those that are get speedy trial and penalty to suit. Hijacking, racketeering and murders are uncommon.—Uvalde Leader.

GUN COURAGE

So long as a desperado has the public at his mercy, when he can pounce upon unsuspecting and helpless motorists and kidnap and kill them, he is quite brave. All the alleged courage of the bandit fades when he stands face to face with the law.—Denison Herald.

OUR LOST EDIBLE MARKETS

The application of economic planning in agriculture is causing several noteworthy shifts in our foreign trade. Export markets for such products as cotton and naval stores have been curtailed by the stimulation of increased production elsewhere. The edible fat and oil export business is one that has been affected even more completely.

For many years this country enjoyed a profitable export trade in edible fats and oils. Prior to 1931, about 30 per cent of our total production of lard was marketed abroad and substantial amounts of cottonseed oil likewise were exported. Such exports left the country with a deficit of fats and oils, which entailed importation of foreign oils for non-edible uses. Since edible oils were exported at considerably higher prices than were paid for those imported for industrial use, such interchange was highly lucrative. This trade is now contracting to very small proportions.

Hog numbers have been reduced drastically by the corn-hog program, and cotton production has been sharply curtailed. As a result, lard and cottonseed oil prices have more than doubled. Our lard exports have declined to approximately one-fifth of the 1929 level, and cottonseed oil actually has been imported to some extent for domestic use. Furthermore, shipments of other edible oils have entered the country from time to time during the last few months, despite duties of approximately 100 per cent on the foreign cost shipments in some instances.

Although individual imports of foreign edible oils have become increasingly frequent, the total volume of such imports is not likely to be large as compared with domestic production, and does not constitute a severe threat to the present domestic prices for edible fats and oils. Reduced supplies tend to support and even advance further prices for lard and cottonseed oil. However, any expansion of cotton production or hog numbers will weigh all the more heavily on prices because export outlets have been largely lost.—New York Journal of Commerce.

WHAT ABOUT THE BANKHEAD LAW

Soon all cotton growers will be given a chance to express their wishes concerning the Bankhead law; do they want the law in force next year or not is the question they are to answer on the fourteenth of this month. Before we cast our votes it is necessary that we think seriously, endeavoring to determine what is our best interest and then vote.

In our county, Bell, there are nearly 4,000 contract signers, against less than 1000 non-signers, if the Herald is correctly informed. These four thousand cotton farmers who voluntarily contracted to co-operate in reducing cotton production are under contract to reduce their cotton acreage next year not less than 25 per cent, and the president has indicated that he will ask that we make the full 25 per cent reduction. These contracts are, or will be, in full force during the coming cotton year regardless of the result of the coming poll. Remember the fourteenth and vote your wishes.—Killeen Herald.

QUICKSILVER IN TEXAS

The production of quicksilver began as an industry in Texas in 1899. The industry was and is now located entirely in Brewster county. Practically all of the mining activities are confined to an area lying immediately west of the Chisos mountains near Terlingua. From the time the white liquid metal was first produced in the state to the outbreak of the world war, quicksilver accounted for about 1 per cent of the total of all minerals produced in Texas.—Texas Outlook.

Hamilton

Through the efforts of the Hamilton county chapter, American Red Cross, there will be a Red Cross nurse in the county for a three months period.

The first meeting of the Hamilton Rifle Club was held in the court house Friday night, Nov. 30. Plans were formulated for permanent organization of the local club.

Cleo Brown, manager of the Brown Grocery company in this city, who was so critically injured in an automobile accident some two weeks ago staged a rapid come-back and though still crippled in his arm, is back on the scene of activity.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Little and son, Garth, were here Thursday from their home in San Saba for the day. Mr. Little came on a business mission and Mrs. Little and Garth accompanied him for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. John R. Eldson and family.

On Monday morning, Dec. 3, at 3:05 o'clock, an unexplained explosion demolished the Mann two-story duplex apartment house and shook the buildings in our little city like an earthquake shock. The mass of torn timbers and household furnishings burst into flames on the heels of the fire that within itself was said by a few onlookers to have leaped fifty feet into the air. The occupants of the house who were at home at the time of the explosion, and in their beds, were Mrs. Frank M. Healey, who died from burns a few hours later, and Mrs. Ed Wollard and little daughter, Peggy Louise; Mrs. Gus Mason and little children, Mary and Gus, Jr. Mr. and Mrs. Wollard and daughter occupied the upstairs north apartment, and escaped from the blazing caldron through a window onto a west porch. Mr. Wollard jumped to the ground, his little girl flung herself off the porch into his arms and Mrs. Wollard followed the child and landed safely. Mrs. Mason and her little children were at home in the downstairs north apartment and easily made their escape. — Record-Herald.

Brownwood

J. C. Darroch, who for several years has been practicing law in Brownwood with the firm of McLaugh & Darroch, has dissolved partnership with R. L. McLaugh and will be associated with E. M. Davis in the practice of law, effective January 1.

Brownwood and Brown county have received thru the various federal government recovery agencies funds amounting to almost $2,000,000, a survey of receipts discloses. The recovery program was set in motion immediately after the inauguration of President Roosevelt and continues to be materially felt by needy citizens of this county.

W. R. Chambers of May, whose appointment as supervisor of the Brownwood district for the federal farm census, was announced from Washington Saturday, December 1, has established headquarters in this district at the Soldiers and Sailors Memorial hall in offices formerly occupied by the Brownwood chamber of commerce. Fred Y. Bell of Brownwood has been appointed assistant to Mr. Chambers.

Betty Ruth Greer, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Greer of Zephyr, who would have celebrated her fourth birthday Sunday, died Wednesday afternoon at a Brownwood hospital from burns sustained the day before. The girl watched her father light a wood fire with the use of kerosene. When he left, she threw some of the kerosene on the fire. The flames which shot from the fire burned her severely about the head and body.

The CC camp at Lake Brownwood state park, will be enlarged to 250 men on January 1. Orders increasing the number of enrollees at the camp were received this week. The orders place the number of enrollees to be stationed at the camp after Jan. 1, at 235, and with the officers and personnel the number will be brought up to 250 or more, the number originally designated for the Brownwood camp.—Banner.

George Sullivan, for many years a resident of Comanche and former postmaster and school trustee spent the first of the week here visiting his brothers.

Fifteen members of the Comanche Indian football squad lettered this season, according to Pat Cagle, coach. The sweaters to be awarded for service on the team have not yet arrived.

The 1934 county and state taxes are being paid at a more rapid rate than last year, according to Deputy Tax Collector Homer Palmer, who said that exact figures were not available.

Thirty or forty men have been engaged the past few days widening the highway, setting back the fences and straightening the road from DeLeon to Sipe Springs. A similar crew has been employed on the Sipe Springs end of the road.

Mr. and Mrs. K. L. Mewborn whose birthdays are only a day apart, Nov. 28 and 29, were honored on the latter date by a number of friends and relatives with a birthday dinner and celebration at their home.—Chief.

Lometa

Jack Kirby, who is teaching school at Shive, spent Sunday evening at his grandmother's, Mrs. Sallie McCann.

Mrs. E. C. Greathouse had as her guests over the week end, Misses Mae Dell and Vertie Crawford from Goldthwaite.

Owing to the busy season and the fact that livestock is not in the best of show shape, it has been decided to postpone the livestock and poultry show until after the first of the year.

Dr. E. H. Hereford, who has been critically ill for several weeks in a sanitarium in San Antonio, is now able to sit up, and if no complications arise, will soon be able to be out again.

While it is still a babe in swaddling clothes, the work on 74A from Lometa to the Mills county line is taking on more grown-up appearances with each day. Concrete work was started yesterday on the bridges and soon the real dirt work will begin.

A number of friends and relatives gathered at the home of Mrs. Bruce Perkins, Wednesday afternoon, Nov. 28, to help Little Gene Stockton enjoy her 34th birthday. There was something unusual about this gathering, five generations were present, Little Gene Harrell representing the fifth. Norma Perkins and Janie Hightower sang "Happy Birthday."—Reporter.

Lambasas

An attempt is being made by school authorities to secure affiliation for band music.

During the month of November the local relief office fed, clothed and otherwise supported some 1850 persons in Lambasas county.

Judge Few Brewster and District Attorney Henry Taylor were here Monday morning for the opening of the December term of district court.

All-American Material Trains Hard

ABOVE: Going thru some strenuous training preparatory to the first game and (at right) member of football squad using one of science's newest contributions, waterproof adhesive tape, perfected by the Red Cross Products Division of Johnson & Johnson, to scientifically prevent strains and sprains.

WFO will be on the "All American" football team this year? From what college gridirons will come such great offensive and defensive players as the 1933 season brought out—backfield men such as Warburton of Southern California, Purvis of Purdue, Feathers of Tennessee, Sauer of Nebraska and line men such as Crobus of Stanford, Crawford of Duke, Larson of Minnesota and Skladany of Pittsburgh?

Doc Barrett, veteran trainer, utilized a new type of drybacked waterproof adhesive tape developed by the Red Cross Products Division of the Johnson and Johnson Company not only for the purpose of speeding up the healing of strains and sprains, but also to prevent them. Since that memorable occasion last year, trainers of college and prep school teams throughout the country have made extensive use of this extra strong, tight sticking adhesive tape, as well as thoroughly scientific headgear and protective pads, figuring that their charges, so carefully coached during their training period, should be just as carefully protected on the gridiron itself, so that they might play in the maximum number of games and—if possible—win a position on the world famous "All American" for 1934.

FATAL AUTO WRECK

Albert Long of Dallas was killed in an automobile wreck near Fort Worth last Saturday afternoon. He was en route to his home in Dallas, after a visit in the home of his brother, County Surveyor J. C. Long in this city, at which time he met with many of his friends at this place. He was a son of the late F. M. Long and was reared in this county and taught school in the county prior to engaging in the practice of law in Dallas.

The Dallas News of Sunday gives an account of the wreck, which says:

"Albert A. Long, 40, of 411 South Windomere, former acting city attorney of Dallas, was killed at 3:30 p. m. Saturday in an automobile collision on the Benbrook road, twenty miles west of Fort Worth. He was injured internally and one leg was badly lacerated. He died before aid could reach him.

W. C. Graves, former police commissioner and law partner of Long, went to Fort Worth to accompany the body to Dallas. Long served in the city attorney's office from 1928 to 1932 and was acting head of the department for a time during the illness of the late J. J. Collins. He was reared near Goldthwaite, and was a graduate of the University of Texas. He was returning from a business trip to the East Texas oil fields and Austin when the accident occurred. His machine was badly wrecked. Two occupants of the other machine

S. E. Q. CLUB

The S. E. Q. Club met Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. Glenn Nickols in the home of Mrs. Joe Roberts. The fan quilt was placed on at this meeting. We had two new members, Mrs. W. D. Leverett and Mrs. Otis Allen, who were proud to put their names on our roll.

The meeting was called to order by our president. Each member answered roll call with an old quotation, which is used at every meeting, so have your's ready. Dig out Poor Richard's almanac and get brushed up on these old sayings.

We had an applicant to become a member. She was accepted unanimously, so see it is not so difficult to become a member of the S. E. Q. Club.

A little correction or apology is due one of our members. In last week's report on the quilting at Mrs. Homer Doggett's I failed to mention that Mrs. Joe Roberts was served a cookie, but she got hers; she looks out for herself, whether the reporter makes mention of it or not.

The club will meet next Tuesday, Dec. 18, with Mrs. Eula Nickols in the home of Mrs. H. Doggett. Bring your work and be with us. A party is not far off.

REPORTER

are said to have been slightly injured.

Surviving Long are his wife, the former Miss Mattie Lee Hudson; three daughters, Mattie Lee Long, Anna Mae Long and Margaret Long, and two sons, Albert A. Long, Jr., and Hudson Long, all of Dallas."

ART AND CIVIC CLUB

Mrs. Haynes Harrison, an associate member of the Art and Civic club, was hostess to the club at its last meeting.

The club was called to order on time by the president. After reports on the Thanksgiving basket to a crippled child, the sale of food and drinks and plans for Christmas baskets, and glasses for a school child were disposed of, officers for the following year were duly elected, viz.: Mrs. W. P. McCullough president; Mrs. M. Y. Stokes, Jr., vice president; Mrs. Louis J. Gartman, recording secretary; Mrs. J. D. Brim, treasurer; Mrs. Claude Eacott, reporter; Mrs. Chas. K. Mills, assistant reporter. The retiring president, Mrs. Marvin Hodges, automatically becomes parliamentarian.

The program for the day was on "Priestess of Woman's Cause" Sketches of the lives of Elizabeth Stanton, Julia Ward Howe, Lucy Stone and Florence Nightingale, were given. The club joined in singing "The Battle Hymn of the Republic." Roll call was answered by reminiscences of the civil war.

Guests who came for the program were Mrs. W. E. Miller, Mrs. Walter Fairman, Mrs. Mark Fairman and Mrs. Lester Berry. The club was happy to have Mrs. Conro, a charter member, meet with us, after a long absence.

The Harrison home is the kind we all dream about. Mrs. Harrison's charming hospitality and delicious refreshments were appreciated by all present.

A NOTICE TO SCHOOLS

The question for debate among Texas high schools this year is stated as follows: Resolved, that the government should own and operate all electric light and power utilities.

"This question," according to Raymond H. Williams, who has been elected director of debate in this county, "has the great advantage of being a very timely one. Under the New Deal one of the great problems concerns generation and distribution of electric power. The TVA is undertaking to furnish a measuring stick by which the justice of rates may be judged over the entire country. The federal power commission is now engaged in a most exhaustive inquiry into this great industry which affects the daily life of millions of our people.

"The question to be debated is, of course, one of public policy. There is much argument on either side. A great many authorities believe that an industry of this nature cannot be conducted efficiently by any government agency. Other authorities just as competent and just as sincere believe there should be a shift from private to public ownership in order best to conserve the interests of the people as a whole. Thus the question as stated, makes an almost ideal one for high school debate. It touches very intimately almost every community in Texas.

"Great power projects are now under way in Texas, and the problem of their administration is a very pressing one. The study of this question by high school students under competent direction and with the stimulus of the debate contest to induce hard work on it should be productive of fine results.

"Schools intending to enter should file entries with me before February 1."

RAYMOND WILLIAMS, Mullin, Texas.

ATTENTION METHODISTS

A cash collection will be taken for the Waco Methodist orphanage Sunday, December 16, and our church has been allotted a quota of $200. We have been able to give this amount in much "leaner" years and there is no need to fall down on the collection this year.

The collection will be taken in each class before the lesson and another appeal made to the congregation at church hour.

The offering taken Sunday will be presented at the White Christmas program, which is to be held Sunday night, Dec. 23, and it is urged that all friends and members of the Goldthwaite Methodist church and orphanage bring gifts at this occasion.

These offerings will be appreciated more than the giver will ever know and will help to uphold the reputation of the church has made in the past.

TOM EPLEY PASSED AWAY

The death of Mr. Thos. F. Epley occurred at his family home in Brownwood Wednesday morning, after a long illness. Mr. Epley was reared in Mullin and is kindly remembered by many friends throughout the county.

He was married there to Miss Helen Kerfoot and they have made their home in Brownwood a good many years, where he has been engaged in the drug business. He is survived by his wife, one son and one daughter. Funeral services were held in Brownwood yesterday afternoon.

CEMETERY GATE LOCKED

Owing to the fact that loose stock have been found in the cemetery and have walked over graves and done other damage, it has been thought necessary to close the gate and lock it to prevent further marauding. Those desiring to drive through the gate can find the key at Fairman Co.'s store or at Dr. Judd's office. There are two sets of steps, however, so that pedestrians can enter and leave the grounds at will.

SPECIAL PRICES

The Eagle is prepared to make close prices on sales books and other stationery used by the business men. Place your orders with the Eagle and keep at least a part of the money in the county.
