

THE GOLDTHWAITE EAGLE

GOLDTHWAITE, MILLS COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY, MARCH 8, 1935

NUMBER TWENTY-EIGHT

Convention Well Attended

Our county singing convention in the Grammar school in this city Sunday night and Sunday morning was well attended, although the weather was unfavorable. Interfered with some persons reaching the conference. The Stamps quartet was rendered some delectable and special. There were a number of classes in attendance and taken altogether a very pleasant and profitable convention.

New Mexico

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Saylor and Miss Emily received the pleasing information that they were married in Alamogordo, N. M., Tuesday at 7 o'clock. The bride was reared in this city and is a daughter of Mr. W. W. Saylor. She attended Goldthwaite high school and took a degree in San Antonio and later her profession there. She later moved to Richings, where she continued her practice and maintained it.

Cliff was reared in the Texas-Louisiana and was with that there for some time, and many friends among the people. The friends of the happy couple extend congratulations and wish for them all the happiness of this life can give.

Wed in Lometa

Friday evening at 7:30 Mrs. Ina Faye O'Neal became the bride of Ellis Stuck at the Rev. L. C. Mathis in that gentleman officiated. The bride was accompanied by her bridesmaids, Miss O'Neal and Leonard Robbings. The bride was in a modish navy dress with accessories. The groom is the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. D. T. Moline, where she grew up. After graduating high school, she attended at the time of her marriage was employed at teaching in the Ogle school in Lamont.

Tax Rejected

Special from Austin says: House adopted, 90 to 39, a prohibition against a sales tax as an amendment to a proposal to exempt from the assessed valuation of the assessed valuation some homesteads from taxation. Approval was given the bill, 109 to 22, and to the senate, it would amend all taxes, school levies, and would be the legislature to classify property for tax.

Methodist Notes

Our services were well attended Sunday, and interest was manifest in all the services. There are still a few seats that might be profitably filled Sunday evenings. Come early so as to get the choice back seats. We were glad to note some new faces in the audience. Remember that visitors are always welcome among us.

Sickness has militated against Sunday school attendance. It is always so when there is an epidemic of measles and other diseases among the children. But these difficulties are passing now and the bright spring days may make us all feel that attendance at church may be of special interest.

We are glad to note that Dan Westerman, who has been confined to his home for some time, is better and may soon be about again. He has been greatly missed at church and Sunday school.

In these days of discouragement, it is a real pleasure to catch a glimpse of anything that would hearten a disquieted public. Especially is this true if it should come from a source altogether unsuspected. But recently I read an item in one of our daily papers which belongs to the class of encouraging things of which I have spoken. It was said that a blind negro in one of our southern states, was found pulling a plow through the field, while his wife guided his movements with plowlines. In answer to the question of another as to why he was being used as a mule to plow, he answered that he was tired of being a subject of charity and purposed to raise a crop. I want to think of that negro, blind and penniless, as he doubtless was, as having in mind the thousands of starving children who could not help themselves in any way, and for this reason were compelled to remain subjects of charity, and as taking this method to aid his suffering fellows. I want to think of him as being desirous to help the helpless, even though it necessitated the toll of a mule. I want to think of him as possessed of that spirit of self-respect that would drive him to do his best, and endure any kind of slavery rather than rob a fellow-being of a crust of bread. In all this, he is an example for thousands who could get by some rather difficult places in life and maintain their self-respect, and at the same time, feed the thousands who must be helped or starve.

All honor to this humble negro who has set us such a fine example of self-helpfulness. I wonder how many there are in these degenerate times who actually consider the state of mind into which many who ought to know better have fallen. Has it ever occurred to the average mind that any business, no matter what its character, when it becomes pervasive of crime, can not be made respectable by throwing around it, the protection of law, even though that law proposes to justify its existence by crossing the itching palm with a liberal or unilateral tax. Any state can afford to be poor. No state can afford to be rich at the expense of the character of its people. Men may never be able to pay their debts, but no man may receive gain at the expense of his character, in order to even pay his just debts. The same is true of the state at large. J. S. BOWLES

Highway Convention Held Yesterday

A district highway convention was held in the district court room in this city yesterday afternoon from 2 to 4 o'clock, for the purpose of formulating plans for highway building in the district, composed of fifteen counties in this immediate section most of them having a community of interests. L. E. Miller of this city is a member of the executive committee and it was largely through his efforts and influence the convention was brought to Goldthwaite.

The district president and other officers of the association were present and the purpose of the meeting, as expressed by the officials and delegates, was to look after the interests of this section in highway building and assist the highway commission in ascertaining the needs in highway improvement in this part of Texas.

Judge Holmes Dead

The Associated Press gave an account of the passing of Judge Oliver Wendell Holmes in Washington Wednesday morning, when it says: "The career that inscribed the name of Oliver Wendell Holmes in world annals as 'America's great liberal,' ended at 2:15 a. m. today in a death which his physician described as 'the most peaceful I ever saw.'"

Undaunted to the end, the former justice of the United States supreme court succumbed to bronchial pneumonia. Had he lived until Friday he would have been 94 years old. "Instead, on that day, high dignitaries of nation, state and church will attend his body to All Souls Church and thence it will be taken to private military burial at Arlington National cemetery."

Please allow me to call an executive board meeting of our associational W. M. U. for Tuesday, March 12, at 2 p. m. at the Baptist church, Goldthwaite. There are several matters that need our attention, especially should we decide the place, date and nature of our next quarterly meeting.

Our executive board is composed of all the standing chairmen of our association, with all local presidents and secretary-treasurers. Please give this meeting your co-operation and attendance. MRS. IRA C. BYLER, Association President

Hale In San Antonio

Damage in hundreds of thousands of dollars was estimated Wednesday as San Antonio surveyed devastation left by Tuesday night's wind and hailstorm in that city. One man connected with an insurance adjustment bureau, estimated the storm damage at $1,000,000. Battered roofs, shattered windows, riddled automobiles and other property damage was left in the wake of the 15-minute hail and 56 miles an hour gale. Hail drifts remained nearly 20 hours after the stones, some bigger than a hen egg, whitened the ground.

Prison Cost

Operation of the Texas prison system, with its 5000 or more inmates, cost each Texan slightly less than seven cents during 1934. W. A. Paddock, chairman of the prison board, announced Tuesday. He said the cost for each prisoner for the year was approximately $76 or about $410-798.38.

Merry Wives Club

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Dew and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Toland entertained the Merry Wives and their husbands last Thursday night at the attractive W.C. Dew home. The beauty of the living rooms was enhanced by spring flowers and colorful pot plants. After a series of enjoyable bridge games high score favors fell to Mrs. Walter Fairman and Mr. Fairman for the club, and Raymond Little for guest. A delicious salad course, cake and coffee made a delightful climax to a pleasant evening. Those enjoying the hospitality were Messrs. and Mrs. Marvin Hodges, Charles Frizzell, Walter Fairman, C. M. Burch, Kelly Saylor, D. A. Trent, Ed Gilliam, Jr., club members; Misses Adeline Little, Greta Little and Vivian Campbell and Raymond Little were guests.

Gigantic Centennial

Rapidly definite plans as to the necessary physical construction of the Texas centennial central exposition are emerging from the more or less chaotic status existing during the past few months due to uncertainty and delays occasioned by circumstance. Actual building on the mammoth plant for the exposition is expected to be well under way by June, according to announcement by the managing director, following conferences with his staff and the consulting architect. He estimates that the Texas centennial central exposition will have at least $3,000,000 to expend for buildings on the exposition site, exclusive of $3,500,000 scheduled for expenditure for improvements by Dallas in its nucleus. This sum, available without restrictions, was given as the absolute minimum that may be expected. This amount will include anticipated state aid, which together with the proceeds of the sale of the $2,000,000 of the corporation's bonds and anticipated returns from advance sale of concessions, exhibit space, tickets and other income, amounting to $1,000,000, will give an aggregate of $4,000,000 cash.

Nazarene Remarks

Today (Friday, March 8) is designated by all Christian bodies of the world as the "World day of prayer." "Ere you left your room this morning, Did you think to pray? Did you sue for loving favor, As your shield today?" Our church will be open today between the hours of ten and three, and we invite anyone that will, to stop in and spend some time in prayer. Tonight, there will be a concluding prayer service, at which time the entire congregation will assemble and listen to objects of need of prayer, as will be pointed out by different speakers.

Regular services for Sunday are as follows: Sunday school, 9:45 a. m.; preaching, 11 a. m.; and 7:15 p. m. Visitors are always welcome. CHARLIE HARRISON, Pastor

Tuesday Study Club

The Tuesday Study club met with Miss Adeline Little, March 5, 1934, with every member present and Miss Lucile Conro as a guest. After a short business session Mrs. Gilliam turned the meeting over to Mrs. Delton Barnett, the leader for the day. "The Provincial Lady in America" by E. M. Delaford, was the study. Mrs. Roy Wilkins, Misses Ruby Lee Dickerson and Greta Little reviewed the book by sections. This proved one of the most interesting books of the year.

Miss Adeline Little, assisted by Miss Greta Little, served a delicious salad plate. The next meeting will be with Mrs. M. Y. Stokes, Jr., March 19. REPORTER

Supplies Received

The local relief office received more than 8000 pounds of Irish potatoes for distribution this week. The potatoes were shipped here from Waco, but the original place of shipment is thought to have been Maine. This is the second shipment of potatoes in the last few months and they were stored in the relief store room to be apportioned to those on the rolls or to be enlisted as in need of direct relief. Work relief has taken the place of direct relief to a considerable extent, but there are some cases where the work program will not apply and these must receive the direct relief.

Commissioners Court Holds Special Term

Commissioners court held a special session Monday for the purpose of discussing road matters with land owners along the highways under construction or improvement. No business was transacted other than that concerning the highways.

Well Abandoned

A report is in circulation to the effect that the Rock Springs oil well has been abandoned and the rig is to be moved. This information does not come from the drillers or those responsible for the sinking of the well, but those well informed on the situation make the report. It is understood the drill reached the depth anticipated when the well was first spudded in and that there was no intention of going beyond the depth advised by the geologists.

There has been much hope of this well becoming a producer and many hope the drilling firm will yet return to the location and sink a deep test. At any rate, drilling has ceased for the present and there is no definite information at the present time.

Dropping the Codes

A report from Washington says: "A move to replace NRA and its complicated code structure with a largely voluntary system of self-government in industry gained headway in congress Wednesday with evidence of administration support. "Senator George, Democrat, of Georgia, indicated after a conference with President Roosevelt, that he feels the executive favors a much more complete revision of NRA than outlined in his message to congress a fortnight ago."

"Without attempting to give the administration views in detail, George outlined the kind of legislation he believed should be enacted, and which he said is favored generally in congress. "It would provide for full reorganization of the anti-trust laws except for the gas, oil and coal industries; elimination of price fixing and possibly elimination of Section 7-A, the labor clause of the recovery act. These might be handled in separate legislation. Most of the existing codes would be dropped and in their place voluntary codes for all businesses primarily of a local or intrastate nature would be provided for, to govern hours of labor, wages and child labor. The only compulsory codes would be for the big basic industries of a definite interstate character.

"In view of the trend toward an altered NRA, or transfer of its power elsewhere, it appeared likely President Roosevelt will postpone naming a successor to S. Clay Williams, chairman of the recovery board, who is planning to retire in two weeks."

Methodist Church

Young people's anniversary day service will be observed at the church at 7:15 p. m., under the direction of the young people's division. The program will be led by the young people and there will be special music by the choir and glee club. There will be a special offering taken for the support of the young people's assembly at Kerrville. Be sure to come. PASTOR

Names to be put on the ballots for trustee should be sent in to my office before March 25, so that ballots can be prepared. R. J. GERALD

Baptist Reminder

Our educational building is practically completed. We will have services in it Sunday for the first time. We will have our dedication Sunday week, or the seventeenth. I have invited our state Sunday school secretary, G. S. Hopkins of Dallas, to be our principal speaker on that day. I will make definite announcement concerning the program Sunday morning. I might say without boasting, that we are going to have the most modern and best arranged educational building in this end of the state. Someone has well remarked that there are no poor rooms. Every room is well lighted.

Just a word with reference to Sunday morning. Every teacher will sit with their own class when we come into the auditorium. The choir will be made up of Mrs. Harrison's and Mrs. Littlepage's classes. Jim Rudd, our new associate superintendent, will show everybody where to go Sunday morning. We want at least 200 present. The young people's classes plan to have at least 75 of this number. The adults should have easily 75. The Athens class plan to have 50 of this number. We will have the cradle roll in the pastorium until the measles are gone. If a mother wants to bring her baby and go to Sunday school Sunday morning, it will be well cared for without exposure.

When the building is several years old you will appreciate it if you can say that you were present the first Sunday it was open. The building will be well lighted for the B. T. U. Sunday night. We should have 100 in B. T. U. Miss Scott is leading the senior union and we are expecting great things from this union. The adult union is studying the book of Revelation. We believe this will prove a profitable study. I am trying to interpret it in the light of the best authorities we have on the subject. We invite you to be present with us at 8:15 each Sunday evening.

I would like to remind the Baptists of Mills county that we are to have an all day county-wide rally in the interest of our denomination at our church on Thursday, March 21. There are to be similar meetings held thru out our district composed of nine associations. All departments of our church life will be emphasized. Mrs. Charles Sivells of Brownwood will represent the ladies work. Dr. Thos. H. Taylor, president of Howard Payne college, will speak in behalf of the laymen's movement. Bro. R. G. Alexander of DeLeon will represent the B. T. U. and I will speak in behalf of the Sunday school. I trust you will keep these announcements in mind. FRANKLIN E. SWANNER

Associational B. T. U. Program

Program for County Sunday School and B. T. U. meeting for March 24. This program is to be with the Big Valley Baptist church on Sunday March 24, at 2:30 p. m. The day has been set aside as "Junior Day" and we urge every Baptist church in the county to give junior girls and boys the opportunity of meeting other juniors there. The program committee asks that you have your juniors there with a five, ten or fifteen minute drill, playlet or pantomime or anything you care to use that would be appropriate. The last meeting was well attended at Mullin Baptist church and a very interesting program was given by the intermediates of the county. Goldthwaite won the attendance banner. FRANKLIN E. SWANNER

A Good Show

Barnes & McCullough and the American Steel and Wire Co., gave a free entertainment at the Melba Theatre last Friday afternoon to a large audience. The title of the show was Our Debt to Mother Earth and illustrated many important facts and conditions, showing the mining of ore and its conversion into wire and illustrating the entire process of wire making and handling. Many other interesting facts were shown that were not connected with the wire business, but all giving important information, while the entertainment feature was not neglected. Several premiums were given, including a pool of barbed wire. The entire program was filled with interest for the large audience.

Abandoned Car Found Near Ridge

The discovery of an abandoned automobile in the Young pasture, in Ridge community Tuesday led to the circulation of a report that Ray Hamilton's car had been found in that section, which was quite a sensation for a time. However, Sheriff Harris and his force knew all about the car. It belongs to Dr. Victor Schultze of San Angelo and was stolen in that city Monday night and driven to the Ridge section, where it was stripped of battery, tires and other parts that were detachable. It is a Ford V8 two-door sedan deluxe. Sheriff Harris has some pretty good clues as to the thieves who drove the car to the pasture and stripped it, but no arrests had been made up to the time the Eagle was put to press.

Missionary Society

A very interesting meeting was held with Mrs. H. B. Johnson on Monday afternoon, that being the day for the regular business meeting and a chapter of our missionary book was also given by Mrs. Kate Marshall on the Hawaiian people, which was most interesting. Our World Outlook lesson was had in the home of Mrs. L. R. Conro at a former meeting, with nine ladies taking part in the playlet, "The Wells Our Fathers Digged," which was one of the most unusual and interesting programs we have had, giving or connecting our pioneer preachers' lives with characters in the Bible, and teaching lessons of sacrifice and righteous living.

The Washington Silver Tea the ladies had planned on, was called off on account of so much sickness in homes of the members, and at some early date a sewing bee with exchange of fancy work, quilt and other patterns will be held, the date to be announced. At both meetings the hostesses served delicious refreshment plates and a social time was enjoyed. REPORTER

B. T. S. Party

Those present were: John Bowman, Aubrey Smith, Eugene Dyas, Fred Marshal, Eugene Snow, Joe Greathouse, Walter Carroll, Katherine Hodges, Dorothy Eunice Morris, Katherine Bledsoe, Laura Helen Saylor, Gloria Armstrong, Nina Summy, Clara Bowman, Alene Ross. Delicious refreshments of stew, buns, ginger bread and punch were served by Mrs. Bowman and Mrs. Littlepage. Several games were played, then all said goodbyes. ONE PRESENT

THE GOLDTHWAITE EAGLE

Pearl Petty of the Trigger Mountain section looked after business in the city Tuesday.

Mrs. Joe Anderson of Bethel was an appreciated caller at the Eagle office Tuesday afternoon.

Will Yarborough, who is a student in Texas university at Austin, spent Sunday here with homefolk.

E. G. Hawkins, one of the good men living on route 3, was a pleasant caller at the Eagle office Monday.

It pays to patronize your home dealers and home enterprise of every kind.

Drs. Colvin & Colvin have a professional card in the proper column of this issue and it will appear there from week to week.

The improvements about town indicate, if they do not prove, that prosperity has come back or is on the way back.

J. W. Flatt of Live Oak community and his son-in-law, Paul Kinchloe of Moline, made the Eagle an appreciated call Monday.

Mrs. B. Burrows, a trained nurse of Houston, has been here for some days, assisting in caring for her brother, Dan Westerman.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Bennett of Weatherford, were visitors in the J. T. Helm home over the week end. Mrs. Bennett is Mrs. Helm's sister.

Mr. and Mrs. W.P. McCullough and son, Paul, of Goldthwaite, spent the week end here visiting Mr. and Mrs. H. E. McCullough and daughters.—Hico News-Review.

Mr. and Mrs. George Clements and children visited Mr. Clements' parents at Goldthwaite during the early part of this week. They returned home Wednesday. — Coleman Democrat-Voice.

Supr. A. H. Smith returned Sunday from attending the national convention of school superintendents in New Jersey. He reports an interesting and beneficial convention and a pleasant trip.

There is to be a play presented at Moline school house tonight (Friday) and a large attendance is expected. The title of the play is, "The Cousin from Coon Ridge." Those who attend are assured a good entertainment, right every time. Why not place your order at home, instead of sending it away?

Three of the daughters of our friend C. M. Bramblett were appreciated callers at the Eagle office Saturday. The ladies reported that their brother had been quite sick in the family home, but was much improved at that time.

The readers can help the Eagle by reading the advertisements and patronizing the advertisers. Those who advertise not only invite patronage to their places of business, but they help to make it possible to publish a county paper.

An added service has been provided for the Retail Merchants association by Secretary Johnston, who now has a chart in his office showing what days fish will bite and what days it is useless to fish. A phone call gets the service, according to Mr. Johnston, and it is free.

Readers will be disappointed when they find that the Rock Springs letter does not appear in this issue and we all hope the omission will not be repeated, but the good correspondent has had sickness in her family this week and it has been impossible to write for this issue.

March is prepared to clean and press garments for any member of the family and takes orders for made to measure garments. See his samples for Fall and winter clothing.

TO THE INDOOR BASEBALL COACHES OF MILLS COUNTY

In order to avoid misunderstanding in the county contests, I am, herewith, giving some of the major rules to be observed in the playground ball contests of the county.

The batter should be out when

(1) He attempts to bunt.
 (2) Three strikes have been called on him by the umpire. (Note: This does not permit the batter to run to first base on his third strike, provided he missed the ball and it is caught by the catcher.)

(3) A fly ball he has knocked is caught by a fielder, in foul or fair territory, before it touches the ground.

(4) The catcher catches a foul ball, higher than the batter's head, before it touches the ground.

(5) A fielder succeeds in getting a fairly batted ball to first base before the batter reaches such a base.

(6) The catcher catches a foul ball before it hits the ground on the batter's last strike.

Running Bases and Scoring

(1) A runner may advance one base when a fielder overthrows any base except second base, in which case the runner can take "all he can get."

(2) A runner may score from third base on: A fair batted ball; a caught fly knocked by the batter, providing such a runner is on the base at the time the fly ball is caught; when the bases are loaded and the pitcher walks the batter; if the catcher tries to "put out" a runner attempting to "steal" second base or if the catcher attempts to put out the runner from third base himself. No runner shall leave his base before the pitched ball crosses the home plate on the penalty of being called out.

Foul Balls

A ball which does not enter fair territory before it reaches first or third base or if it enters fair territory, but does not stay within such territory before it reaches first or third base shall be a foul ball. (Note: Thus a ball which is "hit a fair" but "rolls a foul" before it reaches first or third base, except it be touched by a fielder, shall be a foul ball. But any ball which is "hit a fair" but "rolls a foul," after it reaches first or third base shall be a fair ball.)

A ball which is fairly batted and rolls out into fair territory any distance is a fair ball.

Each team is requested to furnish a new 14 outseam ball and a bat.

All other rules will be "ironed out" by the executive council prior to the county meet.

JOEL I. GRIMLAND,
 Ath. Dir. of Mills Co.

"I have used Theodor's Black-Draught several years and find it splendid," writes Mr. G. W. Holley, of St. Paul, Va. "I take it for dizziness or headache (due to constipation). I have never found anything better. A short while ago, we began giving our children Syrup of Black-Draught as a laxative for colds and little stomach ailments, and have found it very satisfactory."...  Do Not Fly Near Electric Wires

Kite-flying is a thrilling sport but dangerous when the kites are flown near electric wires. To avoid possibility of trouble, boys and girls are urged and obey the following safety suggestions:

1. Do not use wire for kite strings. If it comes in contact with a power line, a shock will result.
2. Do not fly kites with wet string or in rainy weather. Wet string will also transmit shocks.
3. Do not climb poles to get tangled kites. You may come in contact with the power lines.
4. Do not poke sticks at kites or attempt to mend them down by their tails. You may receive a deadly shock or cause a short-circuit.
5. Best of all, fly your kites in playgrounds or pastures, clear away from power lines.

When kites become entangled in power lines should be reported to employees of this company. They will know how to remove them without anyone or causing a service interruption.

A LIBERAL POLICY
 The Eagle has been more liberal than judicious in the matter of subscriptions for the past three years, owing to the depression, but the time has come when all newspapers are being required to cull their lists to those who really want and pay for the paper. One requirement recently brought to the attention of the Eagle management is that the paper can only be sent through the postoffice at the second class rate to bona fide subscribers and business men who carry advertisements and are entitled to a copy of the paper to check such advertisements, but the old "free and easy" policy must be abandoned.

ETIQUETTE OF THE FLAG

There are many citizens who are not familiar with rules governing the use of the Stars and Stripes. Flag etiquette should be taught in schools that pupils may not grow up ignorant of these facts. There are certain fundamental rules of heraldry which, if understood generally, would indicate the proper method of displaying the flag. The matter becomes a very simple one if it is kept in mind that the national flag represents the living country and is itself considered as a living thing. The right arm is the sword arm, and therefore, the point of danger and hence the place of honor. The flag should be displayed only from sunrise to sunset, or between such hours as may be designated by proper authority. It should be displayed on national and state holidays and on historic and special occasions. The flag should always be hoisted briskly and lowered slowly and ceremoniously.

When carried in a procession with another flag or flags the flag of the United States should be either on the marching right, that is, the flag's own right, or when there is a line of flags the flag of the United States may be in front of the center of the line.

Toilettware Makes Lovely Gift

A LOVELY gift which any girl welcomes is a toilettware set for her bedroom or dressing room. It is especially nice as a wedding gift, if you want something rather personal, but at the same time in good taste for the occasion. For graduation, too, it is most acceptable. The above illustration shows a set in Pyralin, a pyroxilin plastic material, in a new design. It has a astin pearl finish on an amber-like base, and comes in the pastel shades of maize, rose and jade which harmonize with the feminine boudoir. The decoration is of inlaid gold and black. For more sophisticated taste and ultra modern rooms, there are sets, strictly modern in design, in striking colors such as ivory and black, or a trim of chromium.

public response to the bond issue offered by the treasury will not be known for some time. Here is an offering goes straight to the individual investor. Unlike the huge issues of bonds and certificates of the treasury, it can not go to the top by the simple process of creating deposits for the sale of federal and member bonds.

current offering, whatever public response to it may be, is a desire on the part of the treasury to improve its fiscal position. It is significant furthermore that the treasury talks now about the ability of being able to go through until near the end of the fiscal year without treasury offerings except a squaring through effort sharp contrast with the policy treasury has long been following. It suggests strongly the administration is losing faith in spending its way to the end, as it lost its zeal for treasury manipulation, and the beginning of treasury offerings by going straight to the investor may presently be spanned by sound fiscal policy in other directions, no increase in taxes and reduced expenditures.

one realizes that the expenditures of the last five years and recovery are equal to total expenditures of the period for military purposes in 1918 and that the public has been doubled in that period and is continuing to rise, there is no occasion for us to see that a government should protect the public by seriously contemplating an increase in fiscal practice. Heavy financing through the bank credit is one of the most approaches to inflation and to impairment of the credit.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

SCHOOL ACTIVITIES

Centennial day at the school brought together an unprecedented crowd of patrons and friends from far and near.

The exhibit department was a revelation to the crowd, who were delighted with the wonderful display of fine art. Splendid work was accomplished by the pupils of the school.

The superintendent and his faculty need words of praise for their teaching and splendid results achieved.

The antique department was very magnetizing, judging from the crowd there all day. Guns for the men to marvel over, also trousers 150 years old of jeans, hand woven and made by the fingers. Quilts that were a dream of loveliness and dozens of other antiques.

We extend congratulations to the cast of the one-act play "The Highness." They won second place in the county and we are proud of them and their sponsor.

John Hart, a prominent citizen of Comanche, and holding a responsible position with the highway department, was accidentally killed Saturday, a few blocks from his home in Comanche, when his car went into a telephone post, as he was driving back to his work, from his home, after lunch. Mr. Hart was well known here and was a fine, outstanding man.

March brought us a fine rain Sunday night. Over a half inch fell, spiced with a little hail, but not enough to injure vegetation. People are jubilant over the recent good rains and crop prospects are improving. Young grain is looking fine and weeds and grass are growing fast for pasturage. Corn planting time is just around the corner, so A. L. Carroll says, and he knows by experience how to grow the first bale of cotton to be ginned, the past year here.

A GOOD MARKET

Few towns the size of Goldthwaite can offer a market for everything the people have to sell as well as supply them with everything they have to buy. Those who bring their produce of any kind to Goldthwaite find a market and get a good price. There are a number of dealers here in almost every line, which insures a ready market. It is a good plan to make a rule to bring anything that is for sale to Goldthwaite and also to come to Goldthwaite to buy anything needed. The business men here are desirous of enlarging the trade territory and those from a distance can be sure of the best treatment and satisfactory prices, no matter whether they want to buy or sell.

A NATIONAL INTEREST

All citizens are concerned over the national affairs and the developments in Washington. It is likely there has not been so great an interest in the doings in Washington since the world war as there is at present.

First comes the supreme court's decision on the gold clause cases—held by some to be the most important decision in a great many years, inasmuch as the administration's whole recovery and reform program hinged upon it.

The majority decision, read by Chief Justice Hughes, held that the case against the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, which was sued by a "gold" bondholder who wanted his interest paid on the old gold dollar basis, must be dismissed.

After the supreme court, the Washington gaze focuses on congress, which is exhibiting an unlooked-for independence. Before the session started, most observers forecast that the president would have a harder time getting what he wants than he did last session.

MUST HAVE FINANCES

The legislators are struggling with the question of raising money to meet the state's ever increasing expense account, as well as provide a sinking fund for the twenty million dollars so-called "relief" bonds, that were voted by the people two years ago and also make provision to care for the immense deficit by which the treasury is confronted.

SIGNS OF IMPROVEMENT

One would have to be a pessimist indeed to deny that there has been a marked improvement in business and industrial affairs in the past several months. While there is a temporary let-down from time to time, this is but natural and is certainly seasonal at this time.

PUBLIC WORKS PROGRAM

In his address to congress on proposed public works for the current year, the president laid down certain broad principles on which he wished the program to be based. Among them were: That projects be determined on the basis of the amount of direct labor they would provide.

Health Hint

TUMORS AND CANCER

The definite increase in the number of persons dying from cancer makes the subject of tumors a timely one. A tumor is a mass of new tissue which is of no use whatever to the body.

The malignant tumor known as cancer may consist, as in the case of benign tumors, of any bodily structures such as fat, bone, connective tissue, superficial layer of the skin, mucous membrane and bodily organs.

Where benign tumors are concerned surgical removal usually results in permanent cure. However, in cancerous tumors surgery or irradiation (X-ray and radium) or a combination of the two, to be effective depends upon early diagnosis and prompt professional action.

While a number of cancerous growths unfortunately do not present early symptoms, many of the more common ones do. It is the deliberate or ignorant disregard of such early symptoms that has so decidedly occasioned the increase in cancer deaths.

The outstanding signals which justify a suspicion that cancer may be present, though not necessarily so, are: Any lump; any unusual bleeding from any bodily opening; a persistent sore, and chronic indigestion.

CONDITIONS IN TEXAS

The Santa Fe railroad bulletin, issued March 1, says of conditions in Texas:

General weather conditions over the greater part of Texas in the last month have not been conducive to normal field activities. Continued rains delayed work in sections where planting already has been accomplished.

Cotton planting already has started in the southern section of the state, but because of cool weather, and excessive rains some replanting has been necessary. Widespread planting will be accomplished during the month of March, as work spreads northward.

Potato planting in the Eagle Lake-Glen Flora territory has been seriously delayed by wet fields. Much planting remains to be done, and growers are somewhat apprehensive of the seedling already made, as ground is too cold for germination.

Progress of onion planting in North Texas sections is good, and the acreage is expected to show a slight increase over that of last year. There will be a heavy increase in acreage of watermelons and cantaloupes on Bolivar Peninsula and in the territory adjacent to Milano.

HERE AND THERE

A counterfeit ring which government agents said had flooded five states in the last eighteen months with $250,000 in fake nickels, was smashed Sunday, with the arrest of three men in a farm house near Goshen, New York.

Mutual hostility to the regime of President Carlos Mencheta of Cuba, has brought about consolidation of three oppositionist parties pledged to a program for supplanting his administration with a "semi-parliamentary government."

The hat of Representative Hamilton Fish, Jr., of New York, rested Sunday night in the 1936 presidential ring, after being tossed into the circle by Representative Harold Knutson, fellow Republican and new deal critic from Minnesota.

Agricultural prosperity apparently on the wane, Texas is now on the threshold of a new and magnificent era of industry, E. H. Johnson, economic geographer of the bureau of business research, University of Texas, told the Texas Geographic Society Friday night.

A man and a woman jumped from an airplane in a double suicide at the village of Lausanne, Switzerland, Friday. They hired the airplane to take them aloft and to fly over the village. As it passed over the town the two jumped together before the pilot could interfere.

Texas relief officials, who had called a halt on approval of all new work relief projects, due to an acute shortage of funds, breathed a sigh of relief Friday afternoon, when a telegram was received at state headquarters in Austin from federal authorities announcing a grant of $3,415,000 for relief purposes in this state during March.

Members of the First Lutheran church of Waco have adopted an unique plan to help the needy. It has been designated the penny-a-meal plan. Serving simpler and a smaller amount of food, a penny will be placed in a container at each meal by all of the members of the church.

Tornadoes ripped a trail of property damage across two Southern Kansas communities Sunday. Slight injuries were caused to twelve persons by a storm, which roared through Wichita Heights, a suburb of Wichita. A woman was hurt, not seriously, by a tornado which struck later at Independence in Southeastern Kansas.

Frank A. Wyce, board chairman of the Temple Baptist church of Detroit, Mich., announced Friday that Rev. J. Frank Norris had accepted the pastorate of that church, but that he was not now giving up the pastorate of the First Baptist church in Fort Worth, Texas. Mr. Norris will spend some time in each city under the arrangement, details of which were left open.

Preparation of land for rice planting along coastal areas is going ahead rapidly under very favorable conditions. Plantings will begin in the immediate future on an acreage approximately the same as that obtained last season.

Ranges and pastures show some improvement and generally are rated fair to good with ample supply of moisture and stock water. Improvement is not so rapid in the northwest. There has been a large decrease in the number of head of livestock on Texas ranges and those remaining are holding their own.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

VIEW OF THE NATION'S PRESS ON TOPICS OF INTEREST AND IMPORTANCE

THE INEVITABLE HAPPENS

From the moment that the vague "collective bargaining" provision was optimistically written into the national industrial recovery act—the act that was to unite capital, labor and government in partnership assault on the depression—it became inevitable that sooner or later an open break would be precipitated between the administration and the American Federation of Labor.

Obviously, professional labor leaders can justify themselves and expand the influence of their unions only by obtaining ever greater concessions from industry or government or both. They can not make concession, for this would be to lose influence and prestige.

If the showdown had not come on extension of the automobile code on terms bitterly opposed by the federation—but eminently fair to actual motor workers—it would have come on some other issue. From the start the federation had, quite naturally, fought for its own interpretation of "collective bargaining."

Leaders of the federation have not dared openly to attack the president. Instead, they have insisted he was badly advised by "enemies and traitors to labor." They have centered their denunciation on Mr. Riechberg, the administration's No. 2 man. The president is to be congratulated for assuming full responsibility and for the irrefutable logic with which he has explained his position.—The Magazine of Wall Street.

JAPAN WINS

If the copyrighted cable of the United Press from Shanghai is correct, Japan has won a decided victory in the verbal agreement reached between General Chiang Kai-shek of Nanking and the military authorities of Japan. Apparently a loan, possibly a "squeeze" to Chinese officials, presumably some military pressure, have done the business. China is to turn itself over to Japan to be reorganized. The agreement reached must, of course, be ratified by the two governments concerned within a period of several months. Japan will gladly do so and Nanking may have to acquiesce so as to save itself from a worse fate. But there will be a "hot time" in China in the doing of it.

If this agreement is ratified, Japan becomes the unquestioned master of the Far East. Chinese trade will be mostly monopolized by Japan. The "open door" will close, as in Korea and Manchukuo. The agreement scraps the nine-power treaty, the great achievement of the Washington conference of 1922. China will be gradually withdrawn from Western influence and made over into a Japanese pattern. It is a great victory and Japan's military leaders have the laugh on the United States and Great Britain, who will now be slowly pushed out of the Orient.

These two powers, if they could agree on a common line of action and unitedly insist on the sanctity of the nine-power treaty, could persuade China to resist the agreement and use pressure on Japan to cancel it. They presumably will act separately, making paper protests and Japan will, as usual, explain that the open door is to remain wide open.

Russia for the time being will feel easier. If Japan takes China it will not trouble Russia's east Siberia. In the long run, however, Russia will get its turn from the master of the Far East, backed as he would be by the resources of China.

Incidentally our Pacific seaports may assume that Far Eastern trade will take a decided drop within the next few years.—Dallas News.

IMPORTING WHEAT

In view of the herculean efforts being made by AAA to curtail farm production in this country, it is interesting to read of larger imports of certain farm commodities from Argentina. Wheat and oats show striking gains, our purchases having increased in January by 330,000 bushels and by 2,664,000 bushels respectively. No doubt this is highly satisfactory to South American producers, and apparently they believe that the end is not in sight.

All this is an incidental consequence of an experiment in national planning which did not quite conform to the original specifications. One of the goals set by the AAA was a wheat crop nicely calculated to bring our surplus back to more manageable proportions. Unfortunately, this plan was made without fore knowledge of last summer's weather. Drouth laid waste large sections of the west, creating a shortage of feed for livestock. The situation became so acute in August of last year that the government took advantage of emergency powers granted by the tariff act of 1930 to encourage the importation of certain foodstuffs.

It is presumably this need of wheat for feed that explains our present purchases from Argentina. During recent months our imports have been running far ahead of those during the corresponding months of the preceding year. In fact, for the period from September to December, the department of commerce figures show imports exceeding exports by approximately 3,000,000 bushels. This is a strange reversal of the role formerly played by the United States in the world's wheat markets.—New York Times.

SOWING AND REAPING

There is nothing new about observing and reading of the terrible harvest in death, punishment and despair coming to older men and women as a logical result of sin, crime and carelessness, but it is a bit unusual to have the swift picture of retribution of the sins of the younger set brought powerfully home to those of refined and respected homes, such as is the case in the Kennamer trial at Tulsa.

Many older people and most young people are winking at the fast and dissolute life as practiced in a greater or less degree in our larger cities, even down to our smaller towns, and yet here is an irrefutable and inescapable proof of what it leads to. In its train follows fast the reappings of illness, despair, suicide, loss of honor and virtue, murder.

If the young people indulge in entertainment and so-called pleasures which lead certainly to social sins and crime, how can they expect to escape the logical rewards and punishments which come daily to their elders who travel similar paths?

Indulgence and lack of discipline is becoming so prevalent among young people today, that reappings appear to be coming twice as rapidly as a few years back. How terrible when the reappings come to men and women of any age—especially the young!—Kerrville Mountain Sun.

ARE WE DOING OUR BEST?

Wisconsin is a greater dairying state than Texas. They ship out more butter and cheese from the Wisconsin farms than from the Texas farms, and it means more money for those people.

In Wisconsin a cow has to be sheltered and fed from early fall until late spring, whether she is giving milk or not. In Texas they can be pastured almost the year round. It takes a much more expensive plant to produce butter fats in Wisconsin than in Texas. We have the advantage on those people in every way, but we don't make use of it. That is our trouble.

More butter or butter substitutes are shipped into Texas than are shipped out, when we

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

Loneliness is one form of torture from which none escapes.

Responsibility is put on the shoulders of those who can bear it.

Work is a tonic, whereas, inactivity and worry sign many death warrants.

Nobody's pleasanter to do business with than the man who doesn't intend to pay.

One is amazed at the readiness with which most of us accept false information which violates common sense.

The tire-makers are discovering that there are more miles in their tires than they ever claimed for them.

Successful men do the best they can with conditions as they find them and seldom wait for a better turn.—Imperial Magazine.

A GOOD MARKET

Few towns the size of Goldthwaite can offer a market for everything the people have to sell as well as supply them with everything they have to buy. Those who bring their produce of any kind to Goldthwaite find a market and get a good price. There are a number of dealers here in almost every line, which insures a ready market. It is a good plan to make a rule to bring anything that is for sale to Goldthwaite and also to come to Goldthwaite to buy anything needed. The business men here are desirous of enlarging the trade territory and those from a distance can be sure of the best treatment and satisfactory prices, no matter whether they want to buy or sell.

SPLIT PAYMENT

According to the provisions of a law enacted by the present session of the legislature, school taxes may be paid in split payments, i. e. one-half now and the remainder at some future time. This is a new plan and it is thought it will be helpful, both to the schools and the taxpayers.

STUDENTS APPRECIATED

The friends of the young ladies mentioned in the letters here-with are pleased to know of their success in their studies in John Tarleton college and are glad they are appreciated by their teachers. The dean of women of the college has written to the parents of the young ladies and her letters are shown herewith:

The Letters.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Flatt, Goldthwaite, Texas.

When I first met Veona when she entered school here last year, I was impressed that she would make us a conscientious student. It has been my pleasure to change my impression to include not only her conscientious attitude, but her unusual scholastic ability. Veona is among the small group of students who have made the honor roll for all three preliminaries and the whole semester this year.

We consider this record outstanding and congratulate you and her on her accomplishments, not only scholastically, but in all relations with the institution.

Mr. and Mrs. Irk Black, Goldthwaite, Texas:

I want to take this opportunity to express to you my appreciation of Cleo's record with us for the past year and a half. It is one in which you can well take great pride. Cleo has continued this year the enviable record that she made last year, having this year been on the three preliminary and the semester honor rolls. Her co-operation with the school has at all times been admirable.

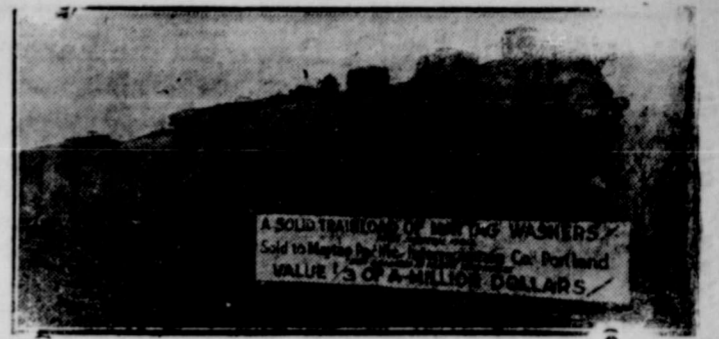

I appreciate her as an outstanding student scholastically, and I want to congratulate you and her on her record with us.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Brown, Goldthwaite, Texas.

I have spoken to you before about my pleasure in Morine and Mordine's scholastic record with us. I am glad that I can tell you that it has continued to be good this year. Morine has made the three preliminary and the semester honor rolls this year, and Mordine has made two preliminary and the semester honor rolls. These records are unusually good, and it gives me great pleasure to give this recognition to them.

I have sometimes thought that the girls' studies too hard, but when I see the results of their studying, I feel that it is worthwhile.

In all other relations with the school both girls have shown a splendid attitude. I wish to congratulate you and them on the excellent record that they have made with us.

Down On the Farm
By O. G. H.

The county agent's office reports that all benefit checks due for 1934 reduction control have been paid except a few corn-hog and cotton checks and approximately 150 cotton tag checks.

The 1935 corn-hog sign-up will close Saturday, March 9, with the election of community committeemen at 2 p. m. in the district court room. All signers should attend this meeting and vote. Immediately after this election the newly elected committeemen will elect officers. This election of officers will determine the allotment committee.

The retiring committees and officers are commended for their efficient management of the association and for having done the work at a minimum cost to the producers.

The county agent's office has completed preliminaries for the cotton reduction sign-up. When a sufficient number of blanks are received the committees will begin the work.

All 1935 cotton signers who have changed farms should sign a transfer to be attached to their contracts. These forms will be made up in the county agent's office. Do this at once.

TAX PENALTIES

To all who owe taxes for 1933 and prior years, if they wish to avoid paying a penalty, it will be necessary for them to pay before March 16, 1935, as on that date a 2 per cent penalty is added. If paid in March, 3 per cent, if paid in April 4 per cent, if paid in May, 5 per cent if paid in June and 8 per cent in July, together with 6 per cent interest.

Also March 31, 1935, is the deadline for registration of motor vehicles. There will be no extension of time and owners are requested to attend to this at once as we can only do so much and if all wait until the last day somebody is going to be left out. A penalty will be added April 1, of 20 per cent. It will be necessary to bring receipt for 1934 when you register, but if not registered in Mills county for 1934, bring the motor number, license plate number, make and model of car. We do not have time to hunt them among 1500 others.

UPTURN CONTINUING

A steady upturn in business, with industrial production during January and the first half of February the highest for the period since 1930, was reported by the federal reserve board in its monthly analysis. All reports on retail trade for the last few months have shown the same upward trend, with indications that if the boat is not rocked the nation will soon approach normalcy.

The board's seasonally adjusted index showed industrial production for January at 90 per cent of the 1923-25 average, and incomplete reports indicated the level was maintained by most lines in February.

While pointing with optimism to the general industrial level the reserve board laid a finger on the black spot of recovery—the construction industry, the industry which is mired deepest in trade union strife and bickering.

In terms of recovery, the high level of industrial activity means that more jobs have been provided, and that mid-winter failed to retard the steady strides being made toward prosperity.

The reserve board reported marked improvement in most lines of industrial production, but construction was reported "considerably smaller than a year ago." Combined efforts of the housing administration and other emergency bureaus appear to have been insufficient to bolster building out of its lethargy.

Hoover, pastor of the Church of Christ at Goldthwaite, spoke the last kind words of respect for this true Christian mother and member of his faith.

Born near McDade, Bastrop county, Texas, November 9, 1855, she was married to M. A. Hunt January 19, 1872. Of nine children born of this marriage, all were present at the time of her death except the oldest, who died at an early age, and one other. Two of her sisters were present. Aunt Lizzie, as she was lovingly called by her many friends, was noted for her loving kindness toward the sick and afflicted during time of suffering which will be cherished in the memory of all who knew her.

May her children who survive her be guided by the example she has set in life by her devout Christian faith, that they may join hands with her again in that Kingdom of Heaven when time shall be no more.
