

THE GOLDTHWAITE EAGLE

GOLDTHWAITE, MILLS COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY, APRIL 19, 1935.

NUMBER TWENTY-FOUR

Square Being Paved

Work commenced on paving the sidewalks of the public square in Goldthwaite with asphalt, a sample of which was recently spread on Reynolds and Fifth streets. The sample seems to be very satisfactory, and county engineers are confident that the program of paving the sidewalks on both sides of the highway department route 74A. It is not until the state work will be completed that the county and city will have the three sides paved. The work can be completed by the end of the month.

Orders have been placed for the paving of the sidewalks on several streets after the highway department has agreed to pave Fisher street, which is understood, will be paved by the city.

Wedding Bride-Elect

The affairs of the bride-elect, Charlotte Mingus, were arranged by her mother, Mrs. W. E. Miller, and her marriage to Mr. Frank, assisted by Rev. R. E. Duke, took place at her home here. An abundance of flowers and a lovely reception were given. The bride wore a lovely gown and carried a beautiful bouquet. The ceremony was held at the Methodist church, and the reception was held at the home of the bride-elect.

The bride-elect, Charlotte Mingus, was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Miller. She is a native of Goldthwaite and has been a member of the Methodist church since childhood. Her fiancé, Mr. Frank, is a native of Goldthwaite and has been a member of the Methodist church since childhood. The wedding was held on April 11, and the reception was held at the home of the bride-elect.

Culture Club

The Culture Club met in the afternoon, April 11. The weather was so dusty, everything was cheerful inside this time. The club members were very busy with their projects and enjoyed the meeting. The next meeting will be held on April 18.

Methodist Notes

The writer of these notes was absent from church last Sunday. He went with some friends to Brady where he spent the day. The trip to Brady was not very assuring as to the possibilities of a crop in this section of the state. As a matter of fact, the prospect is not so good as one goes farther west. Much of the land is broken and prepared for planting, but has not been planted, the people waiting and hoping for a better season in the ground. The grain crop appears to be entirely ruined. The people at places along the road have already turned their stock into the grain fields.

Commissioners Court In Special Session

Commissioners court is to hold a special session today to complete the business of the April term and look after some highway business. The April term was a very busy time and required several days in checking over the 1934 tax rolls and collections, as well as other important business and it is thought the entire business can be finished in the extra session today.

A Good Report

The auditors from the comptroller's office, who check over the tax collector's books of the various counties, completed their work in Mills county the first of the week and highly complimented Sheriff and Tax Collector Harris and his office force for the excellent condition of their records and the intelligent way in which reports were compiled. They stated that the system used here was a great help to them in expediting their work.

Election at Star

There is to be an election in Star school district Saturday to determine whether or not the Hurst Ranch, Hamilton county, school shall be consolidated with the Star school. Star has one of the outstanding schools of the county and the addition of the Hurst Ranch district will help considerably in its financial strength and its scholastic enrollment.

Mullin Election

A petition containing the required number of signatures was presented to Judge Gerald last week, asking for an election in Mullin to determine whether the incorporation of the town should be retained or abolished. The election has been ordered held Saturday, April 20. There has been very little campaigning on the issue, but a full vote of the citizenship is expected.

District Court

District court will convene in this city the first Monday in May, which date will be May 6, for a two weeks term, but it is not likely the full time will be required, as the docket is light. A list of the jurors summoned for the term appeared in the last week's issue of the Eagle.

Outlaw Caught

Ralph Fults, a companion of Ray Hamilton for a short while, was arrested near Denton Wednesday. He is denominated by the Dallas News as public chump No. 1, in contradistinction to the appellation of public enemy No. 1, as referred to Hamilton. Fults is a pretty weak outlaw and begged for mercy when captured by the officers.

Teachers Meeting

The meeting of the Mills County Teachers association is scheduled to be held in Mullin Saturday, the program for the meeting having been published several weeks ago. Regulations for federal aid for schools have been received by Judge R. J. Gerald. Applications require much red tape work as usual. The applications are now being worked out for the schools in the relief office and when completed, the trustees and teachers may call there and sign them.

A Flock of Pelicans Appear at Lake

A flock of possibly fifty pelicans settled at Lake Merritt Tuesday and would have consumed many of the fish in the lake, but for the prompt action of Dow Hudson, Neal Dickerson, R. L. Steen, Jr., Eugene Dickerson and possibly other club members, who hurried to the lake to disperse the flock and save the fish. They killed three of the big birds and wounded a fourth, which was captured and given to Willard the wizard for use in his show. These birds are usually found along the coast and on waterfronts, but are not native to this section. Just how they happened to migrate to Lake Merritt can only be conjectured.

Birthday Party

A surprise birthday party was given by Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Horton on Friday night of last week honoring Bro. Hoover, pastor of the Church of Christ, 49th birthday, and Grandmother Faulkner's 79th birthday. Each was led to believe he was going to the others' party, so it was surprise, indeed.

Chairman Appointed

Mrs. Walter Kemp of Mullin has been selected as co-chairman for the Texas Society for Crippled Children. Mrs. Kemp has devoted a great deal of her time to Red Cross, orphan home work, P. T. A., and is admirably fitted to carry on this great work. About 650 little crippled ones have already been treated thru the efforts of the Texas society and its co-operating agencies in the first sixteen months of the society's existence, but there are hundreds, yes thousands, who look with hope to the same transformation in their lives.

Nazarene Remarks

The revival, which is in progress at the Nazarene church will close Sunday night and the evangelist will go from here to Lake Charles, La., to begin another meeting on Tuesday night. The meeting has been quite well attended and there has been a good number of professions thus far. Bro. Theus is evangelistic in spirit and the messages are uplifting and inspiring. If you have not heard him, avail yourself of this opportunity before the meeting closes.

Relatives Called

A number of the relatives of the Adams family were called to Star last Friday to attend the funeral of Mr. J. M. Adams, whose death occurred Thursday of last week and funeral services were held the following day in Hurst ranch cemetery Friday. Among those called from a distance were: Mrs. H. H. Close and Mrs. R. A. Gummelt of Taft, Cal.; Mrs. W. H. Allen and V. D. Adams of Yuma, Ariz.; Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Franks of Houston; Mrs. G. M. Mason of Littlefield; Mr. and Mrs. Austin Wright of Dallas; Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Slaughter and son, Bobbie, Dallas; Mr. and Mrs. V. D. Slaughter, Killeen; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stubbs, Magic City; A. A. Adams, Thrifty; Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Waldrip and son and Mr. and Mrs. Shepard and son, of Gatesville; Mrs. J. M. Adams, who had been in Yuma, for some time for the benefit of her health, was also called home for the funeral.

Conservation Corps Increased

Authority to enroll 4986 Texas boys in citizens conservation camps in the eighth corps area was received last week by the enrollment supervisor for Texas. County administrators were notified immediately to instruct boys selected to report to recruiting stations between April 17 and 23. Enrollment will be for a six months period as usual with an opportunity to re-enroll for an additional six months. Effect of this new rollment of boys will be to take approximately 5000 Texas families off the relief rolls by June 1, at which time first checks will be received by beneficiaries of enrollees.

Married In Dallas

Herman Rudd and Miss Thelma Richards notified their relatives here that they were married in Dallas Monday. The announcement was quite a surprise to most of their friends and only a few of their relatives had suspected the happy event had already occurred, although they expected it in the near future. Herman was reared here and made his home with his mother, Mrs. Sallie Rudd, until a few months ago, when he went to Dallas to take a position with the Dallas-Logan Co. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Richards and like her husband, was reared here and left a few months ago for Dallas, to enter a business college. After her graduation from the college she accepted a position as cashier in a business house in Dallas. Both of the young people have a host of well wishers in Goldthwaite and thru out the country who were delighted to hear of their marriage and are glad to extend congratulations. They will continue to live in Dallas.

Head-Spencer

Sam Head and Miss Ethel Spencer were united in the holy bonds of matrimony Saturday night, April 13, at the home of Mr. Head's parents, in the Center City community, Rev. W. T. Sparkman officiating. The groom is an accomplished young man of Center City community, where he has resided with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Head, all his life. Mrs. Sam Head is the beautiful daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Spencer of Florence, Texas. These young people have a very bright future and their friends hope for them a happy and prosperous journey together. They will live with Mr. Head's parents for the present.

Big Oil Money And Widow's Mite

Well, all I know is what I get from the Eagle's community correspondents and what we absorbed at church Sunday night. President of a denominational college told us what a great school he had and about the recent windfalls in the form of student loan funds, endowments and money to pay debts. He emphasized the gift of a rich oil man and the addition of his name to the school. Heretofore, while the college was struggling for existence, it was carried along by small gifts and "widows' mites." And who ever thought of saying "I'll give 50c or a dollar if you will add my name to your college." But glory be, the college will not need to solicit any more from "us widows." We are at last free to support local work or might even consider giving alms to the poor. But he sure did score a hit when he told the girls that more boys came to see his girls than at any other school in the land. The very place for the girls to have dates and maybe get to marry a preacher. Watch his enrollment next year. Yours, I.C.

J. S. BOWLES

THE GOLDTHWAITE EAGLE

Rev. and Mrs. J. S. Bowles visited in Brady last Sunday.

L. W. Hill, one of the Eagle's good friends of the Long Cove section, looked after business in this city last week end.

Supt. A. H. Smith and family were among those who attended the musical contest and demonstration in Belton last Saturday.

Rev. W. T. Sparkman of Lock-er was meeting with his friends in this city the early part of the week. He is well pleased with his new location.

Mrs. Horace Caldwell and baby of Corpus Christi came in last week end for a visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Stephens, and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Adams of Star and his sister, Mrs. H. H. Close of Taft, Cal., were visitors to the city and callers in the Eagle office Monday.

Ernest Cox and his sister, Miss Hattie, were visitors from Moline Monday. They reported a killing frost, together with some ice, in their community last Friday night.

Miss Opal Gilstrap, representing the state department of education, was here this week on a visit of inspection of schools and made the Eagle office a much appreciated call.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Burnett drove over to Abilene Sunday, to visit their daughter, Miss Geraldine, who is in college at that place. Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Burnett accompanied them.

Mighty few towns can show as much improvement as is indicated around Goldthwaite. New brick and frame residences, new garages, lots of new cars, street

Mr. and Mrs. Joe B. Cox and little son, Joe, Jr., of Moline were callers in the Eagle office Monday. The young man is certainly a fine looking boy and his picture was published in last week's Farm and Ranch.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Geeslin were visitors from Brady last week end, having accompanied his father, B. F. Geeslin, this far on his way to his hog-tee at the Rio Grande valley, after leaving visited there for a few days.

W. W. Berry and his daughter-in-law, Mrs. O. K. Berry, were appreciated callers at the Eagle office Monday. Mrs. Berry added her name to the Eagle's list of readers, which complets the roll of the Berry family, the Eagle believes. There are more of this family's names on the subscription list than any other family name.

John B. Sampley, manager of the W. F. & J. P. Barnes lumber company at Lometa, was here last Sunday, guest of Miss Mable Anderson and other friends. John B. was formerly bookkeeper at the Barnes & McCullough Lumber Co. here. * * * Miss Charlotte Mings and her sister, Mrs. Jas. Bauknight of Ganado, spent the latter part of last week in Dallas, guests of their aunt, Miss Grace Simpson.—Hico News Review.

B. F. Geeslin of Edinburg is here for a few day's visit with his son, Edward Geeslin, and family. The elder Mr. Geeslin reported his section of the Rio Grande valley as being in need of moisture, despite that crop prospects are rather favorable. The heavy freeze in February, however, caused thousands of dollars of damage to fruit and vegetables, especially cabbage-growers. Mr. Geeslin spent the fore part of the week in Arlington visiting with relatives.—Brady Standard.

ROCK SPRINGS

There were thirteen present at Sunday school Sunday morning.

I've been wondering why some smart person don't compose a song by the name of "Sand." It would be very appropriate, and from the way it is blowing we will have more different kinds of soil in Mills county. I heard a good, honest man say, the first of the week, we would get a rain this week. I hope when you read this week's news we will be sweeping out mud instead of sand. There wasn't any frost to amount to anything right in here. Now it is cloudy and no sand blowing. Maybe it will rain.

Some of the neighbors were invited to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Souders Saturday night to eat ice cream. I didn't learn just who all went. I am sure they also had some good music and singing.

There was a real party in the Nickols home Saturday night. Seems like all the young folks, as well as the younger ones found a more desirable place to go, so they went.

Rudolph Cooke took his father and Mrs. Nickols to Center City Friday to the pecan show.

W. A. Cooke and Rudolph, Mrs. Eula Nickols and Phillip sat until bed time in the J. C. Stark home Thursday night.

Mrs. Joe Roberts visited Mrs. Vernon Tyson in town Monday.

Mrs. Eula Nickols dined with her son, Glenn, and wife Monday in the afternoon. Mmes. Ford and Hardendorf and Doggett visited Mrs. Jesse Davee and daughter and Aunt Rachel Clements.

This place was well represented in town Monday at the Trades day gathering. I feel sorry for those poor horses some drag in every third Monday.

Marvin Powledge from Lampasas spent Saturday night and Sunday in the Webb home.

Loy Long and family from town spent Saturday night and Sunday in the Ellis home.

E. L. Pass went to the city Saturday afternoon.

Richard Souders and wife spent the day Sunday in the Ellis home.

Mrs. Gordon Salters and daughter from Fort Worth are visiting in the McClary home.

Fred McClary took Mmes. McClary and Salters to Comanche Monday morning.

Greta Traylor and Beryl Lee Robertson spent several days in J. T. Robertson's home this week.

Edward Hagan from Center Point visited Friday afternoon with James Nickols.

Joe Roberts and wife and John Earl went to Big Valley Sunday morning after a cow.

I am glad to know C. J. Crawford and wife are home once again, after being away since the first of February. They have both been in sanitariums. They live across the bayou, but we count them as our friends.

Shirley Nickols spent last Thursday at home with his mother and brothers.

Mrs. Maggie Traylor and children, Sherrill Roberson, Fred McClary and Mrs. Nickols and Phillip went to Algerita, in San Saba county, Friday night to the play.

Ben Davis and family spent Sunday in A. F. McGowan's home at Rabbit Ridge.

Phillip Nickols spent the day Sunday in the Ellis home.

Glenn Nickols and wife wish to thank those who gave them gifts at their bridal shower last Wednesday night in Homer Doggett's home in town.

Douglas Robertson and family from Lake Merritt, spent the day Sunday with his parents.

Mrs. Eula Nickols visited her aunt, Mrs. Jen Hardendorf, from Colorado in the C. H. Ford home in town Saturday.

Haskell Gatlin from Rabbit Ridge, Clark and Howard T. Davis, Beryl and James Roberts played ball with James Nickols Sunday afternoon.

Joe Davis and family spent two nights last week with J. C. Stark and wife. Mr. Stark was sick, but he is up and about his work.

J. F. Davis has been very busy the last ten days in town seeing about the corn business.

WORK RELIEF ALLOCATION

The president lost no time in signing the work relief bill and putting its available funds into use. The initial allocations announced are not of great importance since both are emergency acts. Some of the appropriation had to be devoted to direct relief in view of the depleted treasury; civilian conservation corps work has not been halted, although enlistments have been temporarily suspended. It was a foregone conclusion that funds would be immediately directed toward continuing this activity on the useful scale it has already attained.

Three fourths of the president's contemplated expenditure program can be largely carried out by the CCC. The resource conservation plan on which he intends to operate to save the nation's land, water and minerals offers an enlarged opportunity to utilize CCC labor.

How far the president intends to adhere to rote and rule in the fourth classification of "public works conforming to these principles and pointed toward long range benefits" is a subject for speculation. Pressure to open the public works division to projects that do not conform will be heavy. The administration, however, is certain to be partly guided in this type of construction by the limitations of the wage clause.—Dallas News.

NO MORE DROUTHS

"There will be no drouth in the next seven years," This statement was made in San Francisco by a noted astronomer, following an exhaustive study in climatic cycles and dust storms.

"Drouths come when the sun spots are at a minimum and rain comes when the sun spots increase to maximum.

"With the increase of spots on the sun now, the rain cycle has returned. There will be no drouth until 1942.

"While the dust storms of eastern Colorado and Kansas are distressing for that dry belt, they do not occasion any serious alarm. It is certain they are not a sign of coming drouth, but of the return of high winds bringing rains to most of the globe, and eventually insuring relief, even to the dry belt east of the Rockies," said the astronomer.

CARD OF THANKS

Mrs. J.M. Adams, together with her sons and daughters and other members of the Adams family desire to express their heartfelt thanks to all of their friends for the kindness and sympathy extended to them at the time of Mr. Adams' death, as well as for the attention and care given him during his illness. Friends could not have been more kind and true and every member of the family is thankful beyond expression. The deeds and words, as well as the beautiful flowers provided for the funeral will be held in grateful remembrance by them all.

Spring, where she has been visiting her son.

Duey Bohannon and wife and Miss Johnnie Belle Circle spent Sunday with Arnold Sloan and family in the valley.

Mrs. Eula Nickols was disappointed Sunday afternoon. She rushed over to Jesse Lowe's at Rabbit Ridge to see J. D. and wife, and to her sorrow, they had left for their home in Jacksonville.

Mmes. Roberts, McClary and Salters and daughter, went to Comanche Tuesday for treatment.

Glenn and Dwight Nickols and their wives visited late Sunday afternoon in the Nickols home.

Mrs. Joe Roberts and John Earl and Mrs. Eula Nickols made a pop call in the McClary home Monday afternoon.

Rudolph Cooke, Mrs. Eula Nickols and boys sat until bed time with Marvin Spinks and family Monday night at Rabbit Ridge.

August Kauhs and wife spent Sunday with Drew Wheeler and wife, Carl Kauhs and wife accompanied them.

Phillip Nickols is farming for Oscar Gatlin this week. BUSY BEE

Easy Pleasant Way To Lose Fat

FIGHTING CRIME

The Record does not do any sobbing over the conviction and punishment of the nation's criminals. Maudlin sentiment doesn't bring back the victims of foul murder nor do anything for the children of those shot down in cold blood by robbers.

But we want to do more than punish the wicked. We want to fall upon some plan of decreasing the criminal crop. It ought to be cut deeper than the cotton production, and it can be cut by the application of sane methods.

These boys who are running about the country stealing, holding men up and murdering those who try to protect their property were not raised in the right atmosphere. The fight is to create a better environment, a sweeter atmosphere wherever boys are raised, whether it be on the farm or in the crowded districts of the city.

A stitch in time saves nine. That is as true in stopping crime as in saving a pair of trousers. Keep the weeds out of the garden where lives are being shaped and destinies are being grown.

Poverty has a lot to do with crime, because where there is great poverty there is little chance to develop that strong character which is so much needed in this country at the present time. We need to feed the down and out class; we need above everything else to teach them that the sun is shining and the flowers are blooming;

Texas Interscholastic Music Meet

By Naomi Langford
Contestants in the thirteenth annual Texas Interscholastic Music Meet laid down their competitive spirits Saturday, when the massed choruses sang under the direction of E. Clyde Whitlock and winners in all other events were presented in the evening. The concert began at 8 o'clock. It was followed by presentation of awards, which closed the meet.

Preliminaries in piano solo division Friday afternoon reduced the entries in that contest to a small group. These went into the finals Saturday, along with competition in the other solo divisions, voice and violin, and the ensembles contests, trios for girls' voices and chorus for girls' voices.

Friday night's program was devoted to a recital given by Mary Hardin-Baylor students, who were former winners in the music meet. Willa Mae Kelly, Margaret Merrifield, Kathleen Faubion and Ada Reed Alderdice, composed the group.

Approximately 200 contestants took part in the meet, coming from places as far south as San Juan, Kingsville and Uvalde, and as far west as Cisco and Winters. They were entertained in the dormitories and in the dining hall.

Judges for the meet were E. Clyde Whitlock, vice president of the Fort Worth conservatory; Dot Echols Orum, teacher of piano in Fort Worth, and Grady Harlan, teacher of voice at the Southwest Texas Teachers' college, San Marcos.

Goldthwaite was well represented at the music meet. Aileen Martin won second and Clara Bowman third places in piano. The Girls' Glee Club won second place in chorus.

The music meet was a grand success.

To Be A Perfect Girl

By Vergil Howard

In our school, as in most other schools, there has been a question raised as to what a 'perfect' senior girl should be like. Several of the students have appealed to the Herald staff to set them straight as to what a 'perfect' senior girl should look like. We have racked our brain for the answer and have finally reached a conclusion. A perfect senior girl should have:

- Clara Blackwell's figure.
- Ruth Obenhaus' brown eyes.
- Gertrude Johnson's smile.
- Mary Louise Fairman's hair.
- Daphane Evans' sportsmanship.
- Doris Robbins' literary ability.
- Grace Saylor's attitude.
- Ima Lois Bayley's lips.
- Naomi Langford's personality.

To Be A Perfect Boy

By Naomi Langford

Since Mut Howard has described a perfect girl, I think I am justified in describing a perfect boy. It is necessary for a perfect boy to have the following qualifications:

- Wayne Hamilton's wit.
- Woody Saylor's ability to croon.
- John D. Ford's winning smile.
- Bill Todd's sportsmanship.
- Mutt Howard's literary talent.
- Robert Burner's hair.
- Billie Johnson's eyes.
- Wallace Johnson's personality.
- Ted Kirby's stature.
- Red Yarborough's athletic ability.

Bentley Clements attitude.

From the Classroom

By Vergil Howard

The English IV class has been having heated debates during studying parliamentary law and the past week. It seems that there are some good debaters in the class and some good subjects are being debated upon.

The public speaking class has been studying "After Dinner Speeches" this past week. Several of the students had excellent speeches.

The civics class has been studying the Texas constitution, and from all accounts, it is pretty difficult. Why were the students so excited and nervous last Monday?

Guess it must have been caused by the state inspector being here.

Faculty Observer

By Vergil Howard

(Editor's Note: This is the first of a series of write-ups on the history, characteristics and habits of the high school faculty).

In the year of 19— there was graduated from the Goldthwaite high school the teacher I'm going to describe for you. She has black hair, and brown eyes. She is about five feet, five inches tall and weighs about 125 pounds. She is one of the best-liked teachers in the high school. She attended Texas Presbyterian College one year, North Texas State Teachers' college one year, University of Texas two years and received her B.A. degree from Daniel Baker college. She has the distinction of keeping an orderly room and study hall. Have you guessed who it is? It's Miss Love Gatlin.

Junior Class Favorites

By Edward Soules

The Herald staff met with the junior class April 10 and conducted a class favorites contest, similar to the one conducted in the senior class. The outcome of the contest was as follows:

- Literary student—Aileen Martin.
- Athlete—Francis McDermott.
- Football player—Francis McDermott.
- Dancers—Joe Davis and Florence Woody.
- Public speaker—Connie Saylor.
- Best looking—Earl Harvey and Virginia Womack.
- Most popular—Earl Harvey and Juanita Rudd.
- All-round—Earl Harvey and Irene Ray.

Bulb Busters

By Vergil Howard

Salesman: I sell bath tubs to millionaires.

Friend: Well, that's one way to soak the rich.

Daffy: Their's was a garage romance.

Bill: It was?

Daffy: Yeh, she was built like a town car and he was a wreck.

Sarah Fairman Elected Editor for '35-'36

By Vergil Howard

At a junior class meeting April 10, Sarah Myrtle Fairman was elected as the high school Herald editor for the school year of 1935-36. Miss Fairman has a good record in school, and the junior class feels sure that she will make them a good editor next year.

Cardui Helped Lady For Nervousness and Run-Down Condition

"I have taken Cardui several times for weak, run-down condition and it has helped me," writes Mrs. Walter M. Coulon, of Forsyth, Ga. "I was nervous and suffering from a weak condition. There were days when I had to lie down during the day. I sent for six bottles of Cardui, as it had helped me before. Cardui gave me strength, stopped the nervousness and helped me in every way." . . . Cardui may be just what you need. It can't do you any harm, so why not try it? Thousands of women testify Cardui benefited them. If it does not benefit YOU, consult a physician. It's both, at drug stores.

PARENTS BY PROXY

Parents are great ones for kidding themselves. Our chief delusion nowadays lies in the comfortable theory that we can bring up good children by proxy.

Since the development of the public school system, we have delegated a large part of parental authority to the teachers, while in many affluent homes nurses, housekeepers and maids are asked to assume it.

We are rigid in our determination for all those whom we refer to furnish character references. But could you or I show first-class references for parenthood?

Those who teach our cherubs, especially if they are women, are asked to conduct themselves in the manner of philosophers and saints. We expect them to have excellent morals, good manners, intelligence and amiability. Yet could we qualify for motherhood if these were required of us. You know the answer.

For the gay, emancipated, cock tail drinking ladies of the moment, many of whom show no self restraint whatever, who possess no social conscience and display very little consideration for husband, neighbor, community or child, are nearly always the women who demand all the virtues from those who work for them. They will have nothing less than perfection—self control, dignity, patience and resourcefulness. In return for these qualities, they often permit their children to browbeat and bully the servants, who are in no position to retaliate.

It is lamentable but true that while the upper classes divorce and remarry with immoderate zest, destroying the very foundations of homes, which could stand for permanence, they believe they can produce children who will turn out models of stability. Fathers will break all business ethics to get rich quick, but are tragically disappointed when their sons display the same traits to criminal proportions. Mothers will spend a lifetime spreading gossip, cheating small tradespeople and licking the boots of those who have more money, and then cry aloud to Heaven because their children are no good. In short, our theory seems to be: Everybody except the parents must set the child a good example.—Mrs. Walter Ferguson in Houston Press.

NEWS IN BRIEF

The Missouri Pacific railroad announced Saturday the purchase of approximately $1,000,000 worth of steel products for track improvements.

An aged Houston lawyer, Chas. Heidensfelder, was placed in Huntsville penitentiary Sunday to begin his ten-year sentence for embezzling $34,500 from a woman client for whom he had effected a settlement with her husband in a divorce proceeding.

The appointment of Harry Hines, an outstanding citizen of Wichita Falls, to be chairman of the highway commission, succeeding W. R. Ely of Abilene, was made a few days ago. Mr. Ely was appointed to the commission by Governor Dan Moody several years ago.

Three prisoners sawed the bars to Dallas county jail Saturday night and escaped. One of them was said to have been a former companion of Ray Hamilton, who is now awaiting electrocution in the Huntsville penitentiary. It is supposed that a friend of the prisoners carried the saw into the jail in his shoe.

In a letter to congress, Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau, Jr., warned that body Thursday that repeal of broad executive powers over dealings in gold and silver would make the nation's monetary system helpless in unstable financial markets of the world.

Approximately $32,000,000 was made available to wheat farmers when Secretary of Agriculture Wallace approved making of 1935 adjustment payments to wheat producers for whom this year's minimum planting requirements have been waived because of extreme drought conditions.

The Texas senate voted 21 to 5 to submit a constitutional amendment to take the exclusive pardoning power away from the governor. The proposed amendment would create a pardon board of three, which would inaugurate all pardon proceedings. The written recommendation of at least two members would be necessary, before the governor could grant clemency.

Losing a tooth and cutting his lip was good luck for an employe of the Texas & Pacific railway, for his life was saved thereby. He was working on a coach in Marshall, when he grasped an electrically charged piece of equipment and could not let go. Two hundred and twenty volts of electricity passed through his body. He yelled and an electrician, released him by kicking his feet out from under him. It was in the fall that his tooth was knocked out and he suffered a few bruises. He was taken to the company hospital, where he recovered.

Grain imports through the port of Houston have been further augmented with the arrival of a Greek steamer with a cargo of approximately 400,000 bushels of oats from Argentina. The consignment brings the total amount of oats imported through Houston this year to 1,680,554 bushels. In addition to the oats, 413,063 bushels of corn have been discharged in last two months. Importation of grain through the Houston port this year marks a new era of activity for grain elevators along the Houston ship channel, which have heretofore been used only for export purposes.

A chain of Eastern pacts which would bring the Little Entente, Turkey and Greece into automatic co-operation in case of aggression may be modeled on the Franco-Russian accord. Official quarters said those powers' ministers to France, whom Foreign Minister Pierre Laval entertained at luncheon before his departure for Stresa, approved the principle of the Franco-Russian agreement. They were said to agree with the view often expressed here that any collective security system such as the Stresa conference is expected to consider would be too vague for effectiveness and to regard regional pacts as the best hope for buttressing European security.

THE GOLDTHWAITE EAGLE

LONG COVE

We are sure no one enjoyed the sand storm of last week, for we know that we were not glad to see it. We would have enjoyed a good rain though.

Farris Garbury and Elvin Madison visited school Thursday.

L. W. Hill was a business visitor in Goldthwaite Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bud Conradt spent Thursday with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Conradt.

Mrs. Ely Roberts and Mr. and Mrs. Enoch Godwin visited Grandmother Godwin in the L. W. Hill home Monday night.

Nadine Delano and Irene Quey visited Mrs. W. F. Sanders on Tuesday afternoon.

Lillian Godwin visited Mrs. David Neal after school one afternoon this week.

Mrs. Della Alexander of Santa Anna is visiting her mother, Grandmother Godwin, this week. May Dell Godwin visited Estelle Hill Saturday morning.

Vernie Harris spent Saturday afternoon with Lillian Godwin. Mr. and Mrs. Pony Nichols and family of Killeen spent the week end here with Mr. and Mrs. Milford Parker.

Bro. Cochran preached here last week end and announced he could not be here on the third Sunday, which is his regular appointment.

Tiana Godwin of Mullin spent the week end here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Enoch Godwin.

Erma Lois Roberts spent Saturday night with Mayme O'Neal. Leonard and Lionel Duncan spent Sunday with D. W. Neal.

Mr. and Mrs. Willie Bain visited Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Hill Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Bud Stone and son, Raymond, spent Friday with Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Burnes.

Erma Lois Roberts spent Sunday afternoon with Lillian Godwin.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Harris and son, Darrel, visited Grandpa and Grandma McKinzie Sunday.

Wilson Burnes is on the sick list this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Orville Hale and Mildred Joyce of Big Valley spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Conradt.

Beulah Godwin visited Myrl Sluder Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Conradt visited relatives in San Saba Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Carroll and Jack Weaver of Killeen and Mr. and Mrs. Millard Richmond visited Mr. and Mrs. Tom Conradt Sunday.

RABBIT RIDGE

The sand storms the past week have been disheartening. It does not look like anything can live much longer, but we still have hopes of rain. It looks like rain at this time (Wednesday).

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Lowe were overjoyed to have their son, J.D. and wife with them last week end.

Hugh Nelson and family from town spent Tuesday night with Marvin Spinks and family.

Clark Davis from Rock Springs spent Saturday night with Hazel Gatlin.

Mrs. Eula Nickols called in the Jesse Lowe home Sunday afternoon.

Those who enjoyed Sunday in the Will Stark home were Chas. Simpson and family from Center City, Earl Hale and family from Rattler, Austin Whitt and family, Ernest Hagan and family from Center Point, Charley Stark and family from Big Valley.

We are sorry to here Will Stark has sold his place. Mr. and Mrs. Will have lived on the same place for 50 years. They will move to the Adrian Long place for the present.

Mrs. Eula Nickols and boys, also Rudolph Cooke sat until bed time in the Spinks and Westerman home Monday night.

Some from here enjoyed a birthday shower given in the Earl Davis home at town, in honor of Mrs. McWhorter's birthday. She received a host of nice presents. The ladies left at a late hour, wishing her many more birthdays.

Herbert Simpson called on Marvin Spinks and Albert Hill Friday night.

Some from here enjoyed the party in the Nickols home Saturday.

Senior News

The seniors held a meeting on Monday afternoon and decided on the date for the senior play to be presented, which will be May 10.

We also selected the following motto: "Forward ever, backward never." The class colors are blue and white, designating purity and life.

Graduating exercises will be held on the evening of May 24. The senior play will be presented at Priddy May 10.

The play entitled "Fresh Eggs" was presented at Prairie Thursday night.

The seniors and juniors had a party Thursday. The girls furnished the food and the boys furnished the rides.

Interesting People

She told me the other day that she is going to graduate. Of course, we never doubted that, for she is one of our most popular seniors of 1935. She has blond wavy hair, brown eyes, is about five feet, eight inches tall and weighs about 130 pounds. She played basket ball and also volleyball this year and was a star player. She has a smile for every one she meets and always a lively hello. You have missed a lot if you never met Paula Wiedebusch.

J. W. drinking and dancing.
Ethel dark and handsome.
R. C. hot and bothered.

J. T. loud and lonely.
Edna fair and square.
Walter humpy and dumpy.

Johnnie proud and popular.
Henry seeing and saying.

Ninth Grade

We are all looking toward the last day of school and are dreading those final examinations. Here's hoping everyone comes out on top.

Interesting People

She is just another one of the sophomores of 1935. She is one who is always willing to do her part in any kind of work. She has long hair, grey eyes and she wears a never-ending smile. This smile usually bursts and she gets a good laugh out of every little thing that happens. Wilma Nauert is one person that all her friends and class mates look upon as a good sport and we really appreciate her.

He is a good sport and is one person that the sophs appreciate. He is a very funny and likable person. Everyone enjoys his company and we hope that he will be in our class again next year. He has brown hair and eyes and usually wears a suede jacket. Ira Townsend is one whom we appreciate.

Jokes

Miss Swindle: Wilma, can you tell me the difference between foot and feet?

Wilma: One feet is a foot and a whole lot of foots is a feet.

Viola: Grafton was the goal of my ambition, but alas!

Nelda: What happened, dear?

Viola: Father kicked the goal.

Seventh Grade

The seventh grade pupils are thinking about having an Easter egg hunt, but have not yet decided where they would go.

The seventh grade pupils are now having periods, in which they are working on their history notebook.

The honor roll for the seventh grade consists of Elvera Schrank, Willis Aubrey Crook and Wilbert Koch.

Primary News

Thomas William Partin, a first grade pupil, returned to school Monday. He was ill several days with measles.

We have added several pictures to our room.

If Clyde Deckard and Herold Limmer continue practicing tennis, they will soon be champion players.

Mrs. Betty Lubke and Vernon Walther visited our room one day last week.

Elsie Lou Norton, a former first grade pupil of our room, visited us last Thursday.

We are planning an Easter egg hunt and a party for next Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Johnny Schlee and little daughter, Charline, and Mrs. Walter Kunkel and little daughter, Bernice, visited our room last Wednesday.

Aureliano Aguilar spent the week end with relatives at Eden.

Edward Jaske, Jr. is very proud of a new baby brother.

Home Economics

The home economics girls, accompanied by Miss Watson, are going to Goldthwaite Saturday morning, so that they will have a number of pattern books to look at. Miss Watson is going to help each girl select a pattern and material that will be suited to each individual girl. This dress is to be made of cotton material and is to be the final project for the girls. Some good work is expected.

SCALLORN

As the twilight was gathering Monday evening sixty-eight of Mrs. Cora Ford's friends and relatives came in a group to give her another surprise birthday party. They played several games of 42. The ladies brought cakes. There were twelve large cakes, besides smaller ones. As refreshments they served cake and iced lemonade. Mrs. Ford received several nice presents. The guests, leaving at a late hour, wished Mrs. Ford many more happy birthdays. Those present were J. D. Ford and family of Lampasas, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Kirby and son, Lewis Edward, Mrs. Whittenburg, Miss Cecil Kuykendall, Delma Ford and wife of Lometta, Webb Laughlin and family, Mrs. Ruby Cunningham and children from Lometta, Homer Eckert and family, Mrs. Fate Eckert and Mrs. Lula Morrissey, W. E. Stevenson and wife, Jim Hunt, Norman Russelee and wife, Barney Laughlin, wife and son, Elza Laughlin and wife, Mr. and Mrs. John Kuykendall, Velma Gage, wife and son, Billie, Ed Evans and wife, Mrs. Lora Maund, Mr. Miller, wife and son, Ed, and daughters, Misses Myrtle and Beatrice, Frank Hines and two daughters, Misses Freda and Greda, Mrs. Troy Fleming, Hugh Nowell and wife and son, Mrs. Tom Hale and three daughters, Misses Edith, Deola and Williedene, Sherwood Ford and wife of Goldthwaite, Mrs. W. J. Ford of Goldthwaite, Alva and Fleming Ford.

Ran Gunn and wife visited Mrs. Morgan in Temple Monday. They say she is doing as well as could be expected. She is able to be up in a wheel chair some.

Miss Freda Hines went with her brother, Fields, and wife to Fort Worth and visited relatives and took in the sights Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. T. J. Laughlin is spending this week with her daughter, Mrs. Jane Johnson.

SOUTH BENNETT

There was a good sized crowd at Sunday school Sunday, with the same crowd attending the church services. We enjoyed having Rev. Benningfield with us again. Rev. Liles is to preach for us next Sunday afternoon. There will also be an Easter egg hunt Sunday afternoon.

The play, "Little Miss Jack" was presented to a large crowd Friday night. Everyone seemed to enjoy it very much.

We extend our sympathy to Mr. and Mrs. Claud Smith, as well as the entire Sullivan family in the loss of their sister, Mrs. Edgar Martin, who lived in Arizona. The funeral was held at Goldthwaite Tuesday. May God's blessings be upon each of you in this dark hour.

Miss Evelyn Covington is staying with Mr. and Mrs. Joe Fletcher since arrival of little Nancy Dee. Other visitors in this home the past week have been: Mmes. M. C. Morris, Clyde Featherston and J. M. Casbeer and some of Mr. Fletcher's relatives from Austin. There have probably been other visitors who I failed to learn about.

Rev. Joe Benningfield, Gordon Jones and Frank Byrd and family from town dined with Mr. and Mrs. Hawkins and Amos Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Walker and children of San Angelo spent the week end visiting with relatives in this community and at town.

Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Casbeer and Mrs. M. L. Casbeer and children visited with Mrs. J. T. Morris at Goldthwaite Saturday.

Henry Simpson made several trips to Brownwood last week for treatment. We are hoping Henry will be entirely well soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Horton and the little girl of Mr. and Mrs. Utzman, spent Friday night with Mr. and Mrs. Huffman. They visited Mr. and Mrs. Walker and family in the B. R. Casbeer home Saturday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Covington, Mrs. J. M. Stacy, Mrs. M. L. Casbeer, Mrs. J. T. Hart and little daughter, Nell, Mrs. Ed Dennis and daughter, Clarine, visited Mr. and Mrs. Claud Smith, Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Joe A. Palmer taught in Mrs. Smith's place during her absence the first of the week.

D. O. Simpson and family, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Morris and daughter, Dorothy Eunice, Katherine Bledsoe, A. D. Walker and family of San Angelo and Gordon Casbeer dined with Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Casbeer Sunday. M. L. Casbeer and two children and Willis Hill and wife visited in this home in the afternoon.

Elton Horton and family of Caradan spent Friday night with her mother, Mrs. J. M. Stacy, and family.

Walter Simpson and family visited awhile with Dan Covington and wife one night last week.

Henry Simpson visited a short while in the J. M. Stacy home Saturday morning.

J. M. Casbeer, Jr., ate dinner with Aaron Stacy Sunday.

Houston Kuykendall spent Saturday night in the J. M. Stacy home.

Mrs. Ed. Dennis visited awhile with Mrs. Willie Smith and family Sunday.

Evelyn Covington, Aaron Stacy and Ben Casbeer made a short visit in the M. L. Casbeer home Friday afternoon.

Miss Rose Miller made a trip to San Saba county one evening last week.

Mrs. B. R. Casbeer visited relatives in Goldthwaite the first of the week.

Our school will close Friday, after a successful term. Miss Rose Miller and Mrs. Claud Smith have worked hard to make this a good school. A program and ball game have been arranged with dinner on the grounds.

Just Between Us

"Peaches"

Happiness—a wonderful thing isn't it? And it is ours for the taking. But alas. We often pass it by, throwing it aside. We do not have to have a certain thing to be happy. We don't need money or even talent.

After all, happiness is only the ability to enjoy what we have. To be content. If we make a practice of thinking happy thoughts, saying nice things that may cheer the other fellow a little, even though we do not feel so cheerful ourselves, we will soon find that our own troubles and worries will become insignificant and almost entirely vanish, and we, ourselves, are happy.

Doesn't it make you feel better when you are blue and down hearted to meet someone who is cheerful and smiling, or someone who offers a word of encouragement? So why not offer a smile or a word of encouragement to those whom you meet along life's highway. You can't keep smiling and speaking words of cheer and still be unhappy yourself.

The Man in the Green Shirt
Everyone see "The Man in the Green Shirt," which is to be presented at Big Valley school Friday night, April 19, by the pupils of the Big Valley high school. This is a comedy drama in three acts. Love, laughter, romance and sad predicaments, all on account of an old green shirt.

MOUNT OLIVE HIGH SCHOOL

Senior Report
 Only four more weeks of school and then we will say farewell to M. O. H. S. How sad is the word farewell! Goodbye is said when one is departing, yet, but it does not have such an air of finality about it. The French say "Au revoir," which means "Till we meet again," but we seniors can not say that, because we shall probably never all meet again. Of course, we are happy over graduation exercises! Who would not be, when they have strived toward a goal for ten years, but it also makes our hearts sad, because we part, some never to meet again. We dread to leave behind us the friends, acquaintances and teachers, which we have cherished and enjoyed for so long. Most of us will go ahead and finish school. Some of us won't. Who knows—perhaps we go out into the world to accomplish greater and better things, but always we will remember the gay and happy hours spent in Mount Olive high school. Adventures of Bill Don't forget to come to the play tonight (Friday) at the school house. You are sure to enjoy it. No admission. Easter Egg Hunt The pupils are planning for an Easter egg hunt Friday evening. All outsiders are invited to come. The school rooms are very beautifully decorated for Easter. Social Events Mr. Smith entertained the junior boys and girls at his home last Thursday night. Games were played and refreshments were served. Everyone reported a good time. Clara Belle Burks entertained Friday night with a bridge party. The girls stayed for a slumber party. They sleepily reported that they had plenty of fun! Mrs. Norman Crawford entertained the club at her house Wednesday evening. Several ladies from Pecan Wells came. A lot of work was done and a lot of pleasure was had. Flowers to the Living Mildred Wilcox is one of the best sports, the most intelligent and the best natured girls in the school. She has a personality that will "get her over," and win many friends for her in the future. She is very independent, but is always willing to forgive and forget. She is a senior, probably will be a valetictorian. She is quiet and reserved, but her presence is always felt and we'll miss her a lot when she leaves M. O. H. S. Cracks at the Crowd It seems that Vera, Vivian and Mary B. went to the slumber party after all. Somehow Mr. Cooke wanted to sleep all Saturday morning. Wonder if Clinton and Alvin know how to fix flats? Ruby complained about being sore Saturday. Wonder which Miss Blackwell likes best, the Hudson or the Pontiac? Billy, Melvin, Ovid and Arvin were very popular Thursday night. Cecil Huckabee is making a collection of safety pins. Wonder why Norma Lee won't come to the banquet. Wonder why Mary Lou stays at home so much. Some of the boys are asking Wyona for a curl. Raymond Lawson doesn't like Texas as well as he once did. Visitors shouldn't expect primary pupils to be quiet when they visit school, because they don't come to be entertained. Booby makes more noise than any other four people put together. Calvin will some time make a great singer. Sammy and Hersh missed their calling. They should have been negroes.

The Pointer
 Published by the teachers and pupils of Center Point school. Editor—Merlene Stark. Assistant editor—Clairene Dennis. Girls' sport reporter—Doris Newman. Boys' sport reporter—Eammon Perry. Somethin' 'Bout Nothin' Doris Newman won first place in essay writing in the district meet at Brownwood. The girls have the volley ball fixed and are playing again. The days were sure dull before it was repaired, as we had nothing to do. School will soon be out and I guess everyone will be glad. We have not started working on any plays yet, but we will have too soon. Our school ground is being cleared off and it sure helps the looks of things. The bushes are being cut off and grubbed up and some of the rocks piled. This is examination week and I imagine most of us are dreading it, as we did not take examinations last month. We feel as if we should get off this month. Intermediate Room Report The fifth grade is making a book called "The Ways of Travel." Florence Davis was absent on Monday and Tuesday, on account of illness. Billie Malk Stark visited the school Monday. (Note:—Literary portion of the Pointer will appear in next issue.)

BIG VALLEY
 We had only a shower of rain last week, after which followed a severe sand storm. These sand storms are getting to be an almost every-day occurrence. The frost and freeze we had last Friday night seemed to do a great deal of damage. It seemed to be in spots, as there were places that it hurt very little and others that it hurt considerably. The corn was bitten and some places it is doubtful whether it comes out. Irish potatoes, pinto beans and other garden truck were hurt. This writer had to break ice Saturday morning, believe it or not. Miss Orville Hale and little daughter visited Mrs. Harry Oglesby last Wednesday. Miss Loraine and Clarence Ducey spent the week end with home folks. Quite a number enjoyed a fish dinner in the Marvin Cooke home Sunday. Alvin Oglesby and son furnished the fish. Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Cockrell and boys went to Center City to the pecan school Friday. They reported a good time and an interesting day. Mr. and Mrs. Ducey Bohannon visited in the Arnold Sloan home Sunday. Mrs. Wm. NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC

Any erroneous reflection upon the character, standing or reputation of any person, firm or corporation which may appear in the columns of this paper, will be gladly corrected upon due notice of same being given to the editor personally at this office.

CONSERVATIVES SEE DANGER

The renewed announcement that Huey Long purposes to be a candidate for president in next year's election is really taken quite seriously by the more conservative element of the people of the nation, who really see trouble in the spectacular senator from Louisiana and expect him to head a third party movement that will be fraught with danger. While many people do not anticipate serious interference with economic conditions by the senator's announcement, or even by such campaign as he may wage, it is confessed that his share-the-wealth slogan is quite attractive to a large element of the country at this time.

WAR CLOUDS GATHER

One does not have to be an alarmist or even a pessimist to see the danger of war in Europe. It may not occur for some time, yet a declaration of hostilities need not cause surprise at any time. The cloud appears to lower at times, then it lifts and a ray of sunshine can be seen; nevertheless, all of the important nations are keeping a careful watch and several of them appear to be suspicious of each other. There is no cause for a belief that our country will become involved, at the outset, to say the least, yet when the information is given out at Washington that the war plan board is making a survey of the world's source of basic war supplies there seems to be cause for apprehension.

Eighteen years ago the United States went to war with Germany and her allies. The people of this country were encouraged by the hope that it would be a "war to end wars." There is no use to discuss the surge of nationalism that has engulfed the world since that struggle ended, or to speculate upon what might have been. Suffice it to say that the year 1935 finds the world bristling with armaments, the nations suspicious and the reign of peace apparently threatened on many fronts.

A PRACTICAL PROJECT

One of the announced projects for placing many workers on payrolls, by the use of the immense appropriation made by congress for relief and unemployment, is the elimination of grade crossings on railroads throughout the country. The fact that the appropriation was for the purpose of securing the greatest amount of employment makes this project an outstanding one, as it can be extended to all parts of the nation. Not only would employment be afforded by this project, but the public safety would be greatly advanced. Only a relatively small percentage of grade crossings are now protected, even by warning signals, hence the elimination of these crossings would be one of far-reaching benefit in the prevention of accidents and in the preservation of life and property.

A TRIUMPH OF LAW

All of the notorious and outstanding bad men of the nation have now been brought to account and the result of their careers have furnished absolute and unrefutable proof that a career of crime does not pay. These latter-day outlaws have not demonstrated the courage nor the hardihood of those of an earlier day; yet they appeared to defy the law and society for a time with an abandon that was somewhat spectacular and attractive to those of a criminal tendency. The final outcome of their careers, however, has in every case been on a level rather than to attract would-be imitators. A few of these outstanding public enemies are still alive, but none of them are free and in time all will be extinct, with nothing but an unsavory record to show that they ever lived and degraded on law-abiding and defenseless people. It is not likely the country will have another crop of these outlaws in this generation.

JAPAN DISTURBED

A report from Tokio says the Japanese government blames the United States with the loss of Latin-American markets to that nation and threatens reciprocity by taking Japan's cotton trade from this country and placing it with Brazil. The export of cotton to Japan is the largest single item in the trade with that country, reaching as high as one hundred million dollars annually. Nippon is one of this country's best customers and the loss of the trade would be serious, but this will not likely result, as diplomatic agencies have gone into action to refute the charge that United States commerce is interfering with Japan's dealings in Central and South America. The little brown men are likely to reconsider their announcement anyway, as they fully realize that this country is one of their best customers and they are not likely to make a breach that can not be healed.

PROOF OF IMPROVEMENT

In a nation wide radio address Sunday Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau gave out statements that certainly indicate a vast improvement in economic conditions throughout the nation and give cause for hope that further improvements are in the immediate future. Among the proofs of improvement offered was the fact that his address was coincident with a call for redemption of a billion and a quarter of the fourth and last issue of liberty bonds, which will retire the last of the bonds issued for the world war. The call is for next October and the fact that the treasury plans to redeem the bonds this year is mighty good proof that the financial condition of the nation has been greatly improved and the administration sees further improvement.

Health Hint

NEURALGIA

Neuralgia is one of the commonest of medical terms. And naturally so, because neuralgia is an exceedingly common complaint. Few people, however, could accurately define it. They will know when they have it, though. As a matter of fact, the term neuralgia is rather an inclusive affair. It applies to any pain that follows a nerve's course, though it is usually applied to the nerve which lies close to the surface of the cheeks. This nerve sends branches and sinuses behind the eyebrows, nose, below the cheek bone and to the teeth.

It is frequently very difficult to locate the real cause of this type of pain. There are many conditions that arise in the areas of influence of this nerve. And when one of them develops the result is suffering and usually there is plenty of it. In this respect, as one authority aptly puts it, "The tiny part which is inflamed is like a radio station, which sends waves of sound into the carrying ether to be picked up by any one who tunes in. The nerve is like a many-wired antenna which catches the message and takes it to the tuned-in brain."

While, as indicated, neuralgia can have a large number of causes, one of the more general of them is a decayed tooth. As a matter of fact, it is not at all uncommon to find a decayed lower tooth reflecting pain into the upper jaw and even the temple.

It follows that much of the neuralgia could be prevented by the simple practice of proper daily dental hygiene. That this fact is becoming more and more appreciated is obvious in the greatly increasing numbers of persons who are making a daily rite of oral hygiene. This practice is earnestly endorsed by the state department of health.

SUNSET MUSINGS

By Hugo

Every public man ought to be bigger than the office.

Don't be kidnaped—that is to say, don't let somebody lug you off without a protest.

Do you really know what it means to be a friend? Just be real once and you'll have friends.

The friend who forsakes you is an unmeasured disappointment. Could there be a more overshadowing eclipse?

Do you know the art of giving the rosy sunset? We know aged pilgrims who long for visions just like that.

If everybody entitled to do so were suddenly to appear in stripes, "society" would cease to yawn with ennui for the sheer want of a new sensation.

We have noticed that an object looks so much larger when seen through a fog. So it always is. Brooding over anything raises that very thing to hideous and unnatural proportions. The best preventive is something that will occupy the mind. Live above the fog belt—that's it.

In this great land of ours the home is the granite rock of our civilization. The happy fireside is the bulwark of all our freedom. He who would wreck it must be put out of commission. Treat him in just the same way you would a dog with rabies.

SCHOOL LUNCHES

The school lunch program being carried on in 640 Texas schools by the Texas relief commission for children of relief roll families, has done so much to correct dietary deficiency of some 42,000 boys and girls, that plans already are under way to continue the program next fall.

During April, $119,333 of general relief funds will be expended over the state at school lunch rooms to provide these children with adequate food. Results of the program are indicated by the benefits enumerated in a report from one school official saying: On health charts—the average increase in weight of students

REPORTS INDICATE SMALL WOOL CLIP

The 1935 domestic clip will be the smallest since 1929, according to reports published in the New York Daily News and this year's is in line with the smaller number of sheep and lambs on farms, as of Jan. 1. According to the department of agriculture, there were 49,766,000 sheep and lambs on farms on Jan. 1, 1935, compared with 52,212,000 a year ago, or a decrease of 4.7 per cent. This year's total is the smallest since 1929, when it aggregated 47,509,000 head. The decrease in wool shorn is slightly greater than the decline in the number of sheep on farms. Among the factors making for a somewhat greater decrease in the amount of wool to be shorn, are a possible slight decline in the average weight per fleece, as well as the drought which tended to cut down the growth of the fiber in many states. There is also the factor of a higher percentage of ewe lambs in the flocks than there has been for the last few years. The first fleeces of these sheep that are just a year old at shearing.

The trend from 1910 to 1923 and a steadily higher movement to a peak in January, 1932. There are a number of factors suggesting that some further downward adjustments are likely, though no protracted decline is probable, especially in view of the favorable lamb prices as well as the comparatively high value of livestock, due to recent appreciation. The value per head of sheep and lambs at the beginning of 1935 was $4.31, compared with $3.79 during the corresponding period a year ago, and $2.90 for the corresponding period two years ago.

HOME TOWN FOLK

By J. E. P.

Though a person boast of the beauties of his home town when he is away from home and argue for patriotism until he is black in the face, yet does nothing to make his home town better, then his words are worse than sounding brass and clanging cymbals.

On the other hand you may not be rich, or clever or good-looking, yet if you give loyalty to whom loyalty is due your neighbors will overlook a lot and love you just the same.

Folks who are busy planning ways of being loyal to their home town haven't time to spread smut, knock the churches, lodges, clubs or schools, or speak ill of their neighbors.

Of course there are a lot of folks who are loyal, but not in our particular way. They had a different home training, are different by nature and their experiences incline their interests differently.

Strong loyalty may be expressed in doing all possible business in one's home town so that business and professional people may have a chance to earn more with which to do more for their towns.

Some folks hesitate to work for the home town for fear their efforts won't be appreciated. It is better to be active in good works though not appreciated than to miss the joy which comes in the consciousness that you have done what you could to make the world a bit better for having lived in it awhile.

Christ was practically alone when His crisis came because His hey-day followers hadn't absorbed the truth that when put to the test "an ounce of loyalty is worth a pound of cleverness."

Home town folks, you can depend on some to have as their life theme song: "Take my life and let it be lived in loyalty to thee."

who have been given this service is three pounds or more above the average increase of the school.

The percentage of attendance in this group is far above the average and above that of these same students before the lunches were provided.

From all indications, the average grade for these children has improved four or five per cent since the service was instituted.

In the problem of discipline, at least three-fourths of our problem cases have been eliminated since this service started. Well fed children are easily pleased.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

VIEWES OF THE NATION'S PRESS ON TOPICS OF INTEREST AND IMPORTANCE

EMPLOYMENT INSURANCE

We hear so much about foolish extravagance even at this time. And when we realize that the labor of every individual receiving the dole is now being thrown away—lost—we will have to admit that this is one of the worst forms of waste.

To be sure, it is the easiest procedure to relieve hungry people, and it is doubtless capable of the "rake-off;" and that may be producing more of what we call exceedingly difficult to change the system. But every recipient of the dole is paying a terrible price for the relief he secures in this emergency.

And when the dole continues for any length of time its recipient naturally acquires the idea that it is justly due him—that the nation or the public owes him a living, and if a job can not be found he should be paid as an idler.

Many people acquire the idea that unemployment insurance will relieve the millions who are out of work; but unless it assumes a form entirely different from what has been adopted in England and other foreign countries, it will simply help those who are now working and who later might lose their jobs. This will represent but a small percentage of our population, for those who have jobs at the present time are holding on to them with grim tenacity. They have learned from the experiences of others what it means to be jobless.

Unemployment insurance may eliminate the inclination to worry on the part of those who consider the possibility of losing their jobs, and such a measure would be far better than nothing. But if any one who finds himself out of work could be guaranteed employment, even if it were nothing more than a dole for wages, the same security would be attained and he would not be paid for idling.

Such a form of insurance would put every one of our victims of the dole system on the payroll. We have to feed the hungry, and nine out of ten would prefer some form of labor for what they receive than to be victims of charity.

And here again we would call attention to the millions of acres of idle fertile land on which these victims of unemployment could easily earn their own food—dig it out of the ground. Idleness is a demoralizing influence. It destroys ambition, enthusiasm and self respect. And the proposed unemployment insurance would only to a slight degree remedy the appalling situation that we are facing at this time.

Work of some kind must be found for the unemployed who are now receiving a dole; and the influence that will probably defeat this tragical need is the dishonest profit that is now being pocketed, directly or indirectly, from the relief funds.—Texas Tax Journal.

SPEED MANIACS AND MURDERERS

Saturday when the dust was so thick between Donly and Amarrillo that lights were necessary during the middle part of the day, speed demons shot by in fast cars with a reckless abandon that would justify only those in quest of "whiskey or a doctor."

If all the idiots who drive automobiles could and would wreck their own cars on some sharp curve, or some convenient telegraph pole so that there would be no danger of injuring others, one might say, "Go ahead! Bust out your brains and be done with it."

But the speed demons and reckless slow drivers and road hogs will not so accommodate the sane element. They prefer to take a long chance on a road where a number of lives are instantly placed in jeopardy.

A rigid driver's license law, backed by honest officials doing their full duty, and a conscientious court with juries able to distinguish between right and wrong, might help some.—Donly County Leader.

EFFECT OF INFLATION

Inflation by reducing the value of the dollar in which all debts are payable reduces the burden of all debts and thereby tends to help the debtor at the expense of the creditor. Most people are both debtor and creditor. Inflation reduces the burden of all mortgages, including those of the farmer and those of the home buyer; it likewise reduces the burden of the bonded indebtedness of all corporations, thereby taking from the bondholders and giving to the stockholders. In proportion as it reduces the value of the dollar, it reduces the value of all bank deposits, of all insurance policies and pensions, and of the billions of dollars invested in bonds and mortgages that constitute the bulk of the endowments of our colleges, hospitals, public libraries and other educational and public welfare institutions. It helps some classes of people, but it harms others. When it once gets out of control it is a gigantic engine of wealth redistribution—an engine that works night and day and works blindly, taking wealth here and giving it out there, robbing one economic group or social class for the benefit of another, and doing it all without rhyme or reason and with no regard whatever to the merit or demerit of those benefited and those despoiled. While it may give a temporary stimulus to employment and a feverish prosperity for a brief period, experience has repeatedly shown that it is usually harmful to the laboring classes, and particularly to skilled and semi-skilled labor, to the so-called "white collar" classes, and to teachers, ministers and other salaried professional classes. For most of these working classes, wages and salaries lag far behind the cost of living as inflation pushes up prices. The backbone of America is its great middle class, and experience has repeatedly shown that this is the class that suffers most from inflation.

If we are to avoid the evils of serious inflation, America must wake up. We are drifting in an inflation current. There are rapids below us. Every day we drift the current becomes stronger. Nothing but a right-about face and a powerful pulling on the oars of rigid economy and increasing taxes can take us out of the current and save us from the inflation rapids.—Industrial Review.

GREECE'S PREDICAMENT

General Kondylis, war minister of Greece, says that now the rebellion has been crushed, the people will be given an opportunity, as soon as conditions become normal, of deciding whether they want a republic or a monarchy.

The question is not so simple as that. The people of Greece, who voted 2 to 1 for a republic in 1924, may want a monarchy in 1935; but do they want George II on the throne? They were so sick of George's father, Constantine, that they forced his abdication in 1922, and in December 1923, they told George to go away lest there be civil war. He departed for Rumania. He was asked by the cabinet to abdicate; he refused. In March, 1924, the republic was proclaimed, and in April the people ratified the decision overwhelmingly.

If, since then, Greece has been in turmoil, it does not follow that it would not have been equally disturbed under a monarchy, and particularly under King George. The basic question in Greece is not the form of government, but poverty. In an area about the size of New York state live 6,500,000 people. Their chief industry is agriculture. But only one-fifth of the country is fit for cultivation. For several years imports have been double the value of exports. The public debt amounting to about 100,000,000 gold, can not be served because taxes are uncollectable. And they fight over whether they want a monarchy or a republic, and may fight again over whether they want George or some other person for king!—Detroit News.

The fire department answered one outside the city limits. A loss of $2000, $500 of which was insured, was suffered in this fire.

More than 200 students of the Brownwood schools will take part in commencement exercises which will be held next month. Between 130 and 135 students of Brownwood high school will receive diplomas. Fifty-eight students will receive degrees from Howard Payne college. The candidates for A. B. degrees at Daniel Baker number between 20 and 25.—Banner.

COTTON LOANS

A report from Washington says that the administration will be in no hurry about announcing its policy with reference to the reputed loans of 12c on 1935 cotton. This is the clean indication gained by those attending the conference with the president late Wednesday, although in some quarters it was believed the announcement would be forthcoming this week.

Mr. Roosevelt is said to have revealed an intimate knowledge of the cotton situation from the standpoint of production and domestic marketing. After pointing out that the commodity credit corporation did not intend to call its 12c loans on 1934 cotton when due July 31, but would extend them, the president's view was that it is somewhat early to begin talking about making new loans.

In other words the administration wants to wait at least until the cotton planting season has been completed in all parts of the belt and whatever is done will be only for those producers who make voluntary agreements to reduce their acreage. As now understood, loans, if authorized, will not be extended to producers that do not co-operate.

As pointed out by Secretary of Agriculture Wallace the cotton program contemplates reduction of about 8,500,000 bales and the administration is said to be concerned over the prospect of extra planting induced by the government going in for a high loan program. It is contended that the non-co-operating farmers probably would produce heavily, pay the excess tax under the Bankhead law and then borrow from the government at a rate of 12c a pound.

Another phase of the situation is that the administration wants to facilitate revival of the export market as far as possible and convince the foreign buyers that America is not trying to valorize its cotton crop. At the same time, however, assurances have been given producers that the 1935 crop will be adequately financed.

The market sustained a slightly unfavorable reaction following information from the white house that the works relief funds would not be used to lift the cotton processing tax. At the same time the textile industry, with an estimated unemployment between 50,000 and 60,000, due to the closing of mills, is organizing a new drive through state legislators, governors and members of congress to induce the president to employ the George amendment to the works acts to absorb the processing tax.

The industry is confronted by the sharpest competition in years here and throughout the world, notably from Japan, which incidentally is the heaviest buyer of American raw cotton. Some of the textile sections are arguing for an embargo against imports of Japan. Added to this is the refusal of American consumers to buy domestic cotton goods because of high prices, due to the industry's double burden the processing tax and operations of the NRA.

There is no prospect of the processing tax being shifted to the relief fund or to the federal treasury. Cotton producers are registering themselves against any change. Senators Sheppard and Connally received thirty or forty telegrams from Texas producers and others strongly protesting abandonment of the processing tax, some of the wires explaining that the cotton farmer does not want to be placed on the relief rolls. Other members from Texas and delegations from other cotton states are getting similar telegrams.

MRS. BAYLEY PASSED AWAY

Mrs. J. C. Bayley died at the home of her son, C. E. Bayley, in the northern suburbs of this city Wednesday morning at an early hour, after several weeks of serious sickness, although she had not been in good health for several years. She and her husband were pioneers of this section, having been residents of the Pleasant Grove community for a number of years and until his death occurred several years ago, after which time she came to live with her son in Goldthwaite. She is survived by two sons, W. A. and C. E. Bayley, and their families here and other relatives, among whom are two nieces of Fort Worth, who came to attend the funeral and be with the family in this time of bereavement.

Funeral services were held in the Methodist church at 10 o'clock yesterday morning, conducted by her pastor, Rev. R. M. Duke.

Mrs. Bayley had been a member of the Methodist church for many years and was a consecrated Christian whose influence was always for good and whose life was an example and inspiration to those who knew her or were associated with her.

Burial was made in the Pleasant Grove cemetery after funeral services in the church here and a large congregation of friends attended both of the sad services.

Orby Woody and wife and Miss Love Gatlin visited in Brady Sunday.

2 for 1 sale—Hudson Brothers

Miss Mary Anderson of Brady came over the early part of the week for a visit in the home of her brother, Judge E. B. Anderson.

Mrs. Monte Kirkland and Mrs. Hardin Tobin of Rock Springs, Texas, spent last week end in the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Bayley. They also visited their grandmother, Mrs. J. C. Bayley, who was dangerously ill.

Sale—Hudson Brothers.

The Eagle was misinformed last week as to Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Morris having a baby girl in their home and the error is sincerely regretted. The information was given the Eagle in all candor by a thoroughly responsible citizen who took the trouble to come to the office and report the event. The only explanation the Eagle can imagine is that the gentleman was misled by a joke, although he is not a jokesmith himself. Mr. and Mrs. Morris are the owners of a fine race colt, however, and are mighty proud of the animal.

Sale all next week — Hudson Brothers.

RATLER

At this writing it looks as tho it might rain. We certainly do need rain, on the crops and the gardens are sure looking sick.

Bro. Joe Collier preached at the Evans school house Sunday. George Brooks' father and one of his brothers have been visiting him from Scurry county.

Bro. Renfro filled his regular appointment at Center Point Saturday night and Sunday.

William Wilcox has had relatives visiting him from Scurry county.

Mrs. Earl Hale is at her mother's, Mrs. Will Stark, to be close to the doctor, who is treating her for appendicitis. We hope her a speedy recovery and hope she will be able to return home soon.

Mrs. Ellis Wallace and Mrs. T. B. Renfro spent the day Tuesday with Mrs. S. R. Stewart.

O. B. Bell and family visited relatives in DeLeon Sunday.

S. R. Stewart and wife had dinner with Tas Renfro and wife Sunday.

Joe Casbeer, who got knocked down by a car in town a week or so ago, is improving and is able to be up and about.

Otis Allen and wife, Mrs. Dollie Langford visited Tas Renfro and wife and Mr. Casbeer Sunday evening.

Bro. Renfro has the new water wheel fixed and has been irrigating his gardens.

RATLER TATTLER

CENTER CITY

We are still hoping for rain and indications look very encouraging. Many are feeling discouraged and gloomy. However, when we read reports and talk with those who have passed thru the northern states or even just west of us, we should feel very glad that our county is not covered with sand dunes. Only a few days ago a drummer from Amarillo gave reports from the country about there, which made us feel that our county is a real paradise.

The pecan meeting was a decided success, regardless of the sand storm. The hills and trees served as protection. Many visitors were present.

Avery Lee of John Tarleton visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Lee, last week end.

Wedding bells rang again for us. Last Friday Sam Head quietly left for Briggs. Late Saturday he returned with Miss Ethel Spencer of that place. They went to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Head. Immediately after church services they were united in marriage by his brother-in-law, Rev. Sparkman, in the presence of homefolks and a few others, who had gathered there for the occasion. Rev. D. K. Smith and family and Misses Georgia and Geneva Sparkman of Brownwood were present, also Mr. and Mrs. Tom Head and family and Mr. and Mrs. Willie Sparkman and little daughter. Mrs. Head is a stranger to us. Sam grew to manhood here and has many friends who wish for them both a long and happy life.

Bro. Sparkman and wife dined in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Lee here Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Lucas entertained Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Head, Mrs. Chester Head and little son, Garth Carter, Mr. and Mrs. Wall of Star, Barbara Carter and Glenda Oglesby Sunday with a good dinner.

A number from here attended the funeral of Mr. Jim Adams at Hurst Ranch cemetery Saturday afternoon. He was an only brother of Mrs. Tom Williams. His aged wife was in California at the time of his death, for her health and made the trip, arriving in time for the funeral. This was much sadder than had she been at his bedside the few days of his illness with pneumonia. Sincere sympathy is extended to all those in sorrow.

Aubra Hudson, a car dealer from Gatesville, was a business visitor the first of the week.

Hollis Blackwell and Miss Gladys Casbeer closed their school Friday to attend the pecan meeting. Thus many visitors from Pleasant Grove were present.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Taylor, Reta May and Martha Eunice Sparkman, Gilma and Oran Wright and LaVerne Atchison visited in the Oglesby home on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Geeslin visited in Bangs last Saturday. Bertram Geeslin of Brownwood visited home folks last week end.

Marion Karnes of San Antonio is here at the bedside of her father, Mr. Frank Karnes. Louie Karnes and family of Star have made several trips to that home lately. Glad to report Mr. Karnes resting and improving. Hope his progress will be more rapid and health will be restored soon.

Mrs. E. M. Geeslin is still quite ill at her home in North Bennett. Her brothers, C. A. and C. M. Head, also her sons of this community, have been at her bedside quite often. Her many friends here anxiously hope to hear encouraging news of her health.

The "Penny Pirates," directed by Miss Keese, went to Mullin Saturday night and staged their play. All report a fine time and are well pleased the way Mullin co-operated with them. About $12.00 was received.

Miss Fannie Luckie visited her home folks at Indian Gap last week end.

Mrs. Womack received word on Tuesday announcing the death of her uncle at Gatesville. They left immediately to attend the funeral at that place. We extend sympathy to her and her family.

Mrs. Ellis Reed is on the sick list this week.

Bro. and Sister Duke of Goldthwaite visited Bro. Liles and family Tuesday.

Mrs. Charlie Knight of Canadian is expected to arrive this week to be with her mother, Mrs. E. M. Geeslin.

FORMER CITIZEN PASSED AWAY IN ARIZONA

Mrs. E. L. Martin, nee Miss Desda Sullivan, died at her family home in Douglas, Arizona, last Saturday night and her remains were brought here for burial, by the side of the graves of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Sullivan, and other loved ones.

Mrs. Martin was reared in this city and had many friends among the citizenship of the city and county. She was married here April 16, 1899, to Edgar L. Martin. The day of her funeral was their thirty-sixth wedding anniversary.

Mrs. Martin is survived by five sons, four sisters and two brothers. Her sisters are Mrs. T. B. Graves, Mrs. Sparks Bigham, Mrs. Claud Smith, all of this place, and Mrs. E. W. Pile of McAllen. Her brothers, S. P. Sullivan and Howard Sullivan, also live here.

Funeral services were held in the Baptist church Tuesday afternoon, conducted by Rev. F. E. Swanner, assisted by Rev. R. E. Duke, pastor of the Methodist church. After the services in the church the remains were conveyed to the cemetery for interment.

Mrs. Martin had been a leading member of the Baptist church and the Rebekah lodge, which fraternity had charge of the burial services. Large congregations attended the services in the church and at the cemetery, attesting the high regard in which the deceased lady was held in this community and the great sympathy felt for the bereaved family.

CARADAN

I don't suppose anyone has to be informed of the sand storm we had last week.

The measles are still visiting the homes of this community.

Mrs. A. C. Jackson is reported to be much better this week. She has been very ill.

Lloyd Reynolds, Stame Harwell and wife visited in the W.W. Reynolds home Sunday.

Lee Stewart visited in the Vestus Horton home Sunday.

Rev. Jim Hays filled his regular appointment last Sunday. Everyone is invited to attend Sunday school and B. T. S. next Sunday.

Everyone should be reminded that the Caradan cemetery will be worked the last Saturday in April.
