

THE GOLDTHWAITE EAGLE

40

GOLDTHWAITE, MILLS COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY, AUGUST 30, 1935

NUMBER ONE

Con Returns How Heavy Vote

There was a better turnout for the constitutional amendments than Saturday than had been forecast by many who believed that the amendments could forecast the results. There was a total of 1250 votes cast in the election and the largest majority of the proposed amendments was that providing for the repeal of the prohibition laws, which received 683 favorable votes and 214 opposed. The Mills county voters voted on the amendment by 195 to 488 favoring repeal and 683 against repeal. The vote by boxes is as follows: 195 in favor and 488 against repeal.

Results in the State

The vote went in accordance with the vote in Mills county, with the exception that Mills county voted for a majority favorable to the state at the next year and the business of the past year carefully looked into. There will be an adjourned session held, however, October 19, at which the final work for the year will be closed.

No one is very much surprised that the wets won in the election last Saturday. There were many things entering into the situation that made it appear that they would win from the very beginning of the campaign. They had the best of the situation in the very nature of things. In the first place the prohibition laws had never been enforced as they should have been. In many places the people were not in sympathy with their enforcement. This has made it difficult to obtain juries that would execute the law. In fact, the strongest argument of the wets was that they would not obey the law and that, therefore, it should be repealed. Strange to say that many people fell for just such argument. In the second place, the dregs were greatly handicapped in their campaign by the fact that they did not have the indisputable fact of the open saloon to aid them.

Ant Grove ing Convention

The county singing convention will be held at Pleasant Grove Sunday night and Sunday morning, Sept. 1 and 2. The county and visitors will be welcome in attendance, while all who like singing are invited to be present. Those who attend are requested to carry sufficient provisions for themselves and possible visitors who do not wish to be provided with meals.

Prof. and Mrs. A. H. Smith entertained with five tables of bridge on Friday evening at their home on South Parker street.

Young Couple Married

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Smith were united in marriage Saturday evening in the presence of the bride's parents in a portion of the city. The bride is a daughter of Dr. A. Swanger and was married in this city, where she has many admiring friends. She is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Simpson and was reared in the city where she holds a high esteem and confidence of all who know him.

Agent Notes

The AAA announced Tuesday that the regular 1935 national pool for the sale of surplus cotton tax exemption certificates would begin receiving certificates from growers September 4. The special pool, now in operation to handle certificates which were not sold last year, will stop receiving certificates September 3. The regular pool will sell certificates for a price representing 5 cent per pound of cotton. Tax exemption certificates are issued to growers under the Bankhead compulsory cotton loan. Cotton sold in excess of an individual producer's allotment under that law must have a gin tag signifying that a tax of 6 cents a pound has been paid.

Methodist Notes

After a vacation of two weeks the Methodist folks were glad to get back on the job Sunday, Bro. Duke was greeted by a good audience and the usual splendid choir. All this added greatly to the worth of the service. Nothing so inspires a preacher as the knowledge of the fact that he is appreciated by his people. Many a preacher has all the spirit taken out of him by a failure on the part of his people to show their appreciation.

Bro. Nixon, the presiding elder, preached at the evening hour. It is the consensus of opinion that Bro. Nixon preached by far the best sermon that he has preached since coming to the district. It was unusually good. In saying this is not to speak lightly of his former efforts. He has always preached well, and is much appreciated by the people.

At the close of the preaching service Sunday evening the fourth quarterly conference was held. At this time the officers of the church were elected for the next year and the business of the past year carefully looked into. There will be an adjourned session held, however, October 19, at which the final work for the year will be closed.

Annual Meeting At Mount Olive

The Mount Olive ex-teachers and ex-students held their annual meeting at Mount Olive Sunday, August 25. However, there was not as many ex-teachers present this year as there was last year, but a large number of ex-students were there. It is hoped we have many more present next year.

After a song and a few brief remarks from Lewis Porter, Tolbert Patterson gave us a short, but interesting talk about some of the things a teacher would like to find in his or her community. Some of the things he mentioned were: Expressed appreciation and sympathetic understanding. These he said he found in the Mount Olive community while he was teaching here. As usual, Mr. Patterson's talks are worth while and our meetings would not be a success without him.

He was followed by a few remarks from J. Oscar Swindle and Gus Brannon.

After noon a general program was rendered. Ex-Representative J. R. Rollins spoke for a few minutes. The main speaker for the afternoon was Senator E. M. Davis. He spoke on "The Forgotten Commandment and the Forgotten Man." He spoke of the forgotten commandment as the commandment that says, "Remember the Sabbath day and keep it holy," and the forgotten man as the people who are gainfully employed. We hope to have Mr. Davis with us again next year.

A short business meeting followed. Officers elected were: W. M. Roberts, president; L. B. Porter, vice president; Minnie Cody, secretary.

The ex-teachers present were Mrs. Ada Williams, Gus Brannon, L. B. Porter, W. M. Roberts, Tolbert Patterson, Frazier Henry, Mrs. Tom McAuthor, Frank Poer, Miss Alma McAuthor, Miss Lois Blackwell, J. J. Smith, Herbert Cooke. ONE PRESENT

Next Sunday morning at the 11 o'clock hour, a portion of the constitution of the Church of the Nazarene will be read. The public is invited. We especially urge all of our Nazarenes to be present.

A GUEST

Frank Stubbs Burned

T. L. Adams of Star received a message yesterday morning telling of the burning of his son-in-law, Frank Stubbs, in an oil field at Magic City, Wheeler county, Wednesday night. Mr. Stubbs' wife is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adams and the report of the accident was received with regret.

A few years ago Mr. Stubbs' sister was burned to death in a fire that destroyed the family home in Brownwood. His father travels in this territory for Higginbotham Co. He and Mrs. Stubbs started for Magic City yesterday and it is hoped they will find the injured man improved.

Improvements At Priddy School

Supt. Oscar Swindle was in from Priddy Monday and told of improvements being made by the school at that place. An instructor in agriculture has been added to the faculty and the Washboard school building has been torn down and rebuilt on the campus near the Priddy school building. This new addition will have a classroom, a work room and a room for storage.

Change In Mail Schedule

Orders have been received from the post office department at Washington for the carrier on the Goldthwaite-Caradan-Priddy star route to leave Goldthwaite each morning at 8:30 instead of 9:30. The change, which went into effect Wednesday, gives patrons of the star route and of the offices at Caradan and Priddy their mail an hour earlier, yet ample time is allowed for the mailing of parcels and letters at Goldthwaite before the mail leaves.

Baptist Reminder

I enjoyed the trip to the valley very much. I found a very fine spirited group of people and a beautiful city. I met several people who know Bro. Bowles, who was pastor in that city from 1913 to 1917. A very close friend of his was Dr. Hallom, who was pastor of the First Christian church there. I had the pleasure of meeting Dr. Hallom. He is 95 years of age and is still very active. He told me that when Bro. Bowles bought his first car that he wrote him about his experiences with the car. He said that Bro. Bowles said, when he was cranking the car it made him want to sing, "Work for the Night Is Coming." He said when the car reached about fifteen miles per hour, it made him want to sing, "How Tedious and Tasteless the Hour," and when it reached a speed of thirty or thirty-five, he always started out on "Nearer My God To Thee." It was a long trip down there and seemed to be much longer coming back.

I was glad that we came near reaching our 200 mark in Sunday school Sunday. If we will do our best we can reach it this Sunday.

I want to speak Sunday on a new subject: There are many kinds of Baptists that we read about. I discovered a new kind a few days ago: "Bantam Baptist." Be there Sunday morning and we will see what they are like. Sunday night following B. T. U., my theme will be "A Sky Full of Eyes."

I am closing the meeting at Trigger Mountain tonight. We have had a very good meeting. I feel that some of the finest people in the county live at Trigger Mountain. I think we have had around six additions thus far. This will close my summer evangelistic work.

Officials Visit Waco

Judge R. J. Gerald and Commissioner J. A. Hamilton went to Waco Monday to confer with WPA officials relative to making out projects to furnish relief clients labor during the coming winter. Results of the conference were very enlightening and satisfactory.

Progressive Farmers

A report from A. & M. college extension service tells of two progressive Mills county farmers. It says:

"G. A. Knowles, Goldthwaite, Mills county, plants each year eight acres of golden rod and seeded ribbon cane, which this year is turning out 200 gallons of syrup per acre. This syrup is readily marketed at 75c per gallon. Mr. Knowles always turns under the fodder and other vegetation as soon as the cane is harvested and last year gathered eight bushels more of corn from the cane land than from other adjoining land."

"The best paying patch of ground on my place," said C. C. Wesson of Mills county, "is a three-quarter acre plot I planted to tomatoes, blackeyed peas and cantaloupes, from which I have already sold $37 worth of products, and if it rains I soon will market several dollars' worth more."

First Bale Ginned Yesterday

The first bale of 1935 cotton to be brought to Goldthwaite market was grown by Joe Corona in the Rock Springs community. It was brought to the J. E. Great-house gin at this place Wednesday afternoon and was ginned yesterday.

Other Places

Priddy received the first bale for the county, a bale having been ginned there Tuesday. It was ginned and marketed at that place.

Last Year

The first bale last year was brought to the Goldthwaite market on August 7, by Carl Kaubs of Bull's Springs community. The bale was not sold at once, owing to the fact that the government tags had not been received. It was ginned by Mr. Gretahouse and a premium of $22.65 was made up in town for Mr. Kaubs Long & Berry bought it.

Fiftieth Birthday Next Monday

Next Monday, Sept. 2, is the fiftieth anniversary of the sale of town lots in Goldthwaite. Some of the old settlers proposed some weeks ago that a celebration be arranged for the time, but others thought the weather conditions and the fact that cotton was just beginning to open would interfere with such celebration. In any event, there has been nothing done about observing the date.

Many changes have taken place since the memorable day when the lots were sold and a large number of residences and business houses were planned or started. Many tents were in evidence on that day, in various parts of town, according to the memory of those who were here on that date and there were many indications at that time that Goldthwaite would develop into a good and substantial town and in this there has been no disappointment.

Congress Adjourned

The end of the United States congress Tuesday was reported by the Associated Press, when it said:

"Congress disbanded for a long delayed vacation Tuesday, but with hope for a short and easy session next year smothered by a mass of unsettled problems. "A tough and prolonged election years assembly was projected by such leftover issues as NRA legislation, neutrality, cash bonus, inflation, social security and farm relief.

"One of the primary purposes in holding congress through the summer was the desire of new deal chieftains to wipe from the election year legislative slate virtually every controversy. But some of the most perplexing issues merely were brushed aside until next session and others only temporarily settled.

"Conflicting claims came from the departing leaders as they reviewed the accomplishments of the session which died ingloriously at midnight with Senator Huey Long's filibuster blocking action on the $102,000,000 third deficiency bill.

"Senator Joseph Robinson, Democratic leader, contended practically every problem that touches human interest has been made easier of solution by the legislation enacted.

"On the other side Senator L. J. Dickinson, Republican, of Iowa, forecast the session would be remembered for ill-advised legislation, extravagant appropriations and $4,000,000,000 for work relief waste."

Interesting Items Reported Over the World

Mr. Alfred is said to be called a special session of the legislature to consider the Texas Gas Corporation to the Panhandle line from the Panhandle to Detroit "until he has funds allocated to the basis of this application."

A highway commission has that bids will be received September on approximately $5,000,000 worth of construction to be paid for from the federal aid, matched by state funds. A similarly heavy under the federal state in October is expected followed by contract under the emergency construction grant.

A system adopted by Mr. Alfred in clemencies was stressed in a made by the governor visit to three state told the convicts their for clemency must be by the board of pardons and that he his findings. At the farm, the governor told that the largest percent of forgotten men granted pardons and who were negroes.

Mrs. Tom Connally, wife of the junior senator from Texas, died suddenly late Saturday in the senate office building. Mrs. Connally suffered a heart attack in an elevator in the senate office building. Elevator attendants took her to Senator Connally's office and he and Dr. George W. Calver, capitol physician, arrived within a few moments. Mrs. Connally died 10 minutes later. She was 50 years of age.

The national administration won an important court victory when the federal circuit court of appeals in Dallas upheld the constitutionality of the PWA in making loans and grants to municipalities and states. The opinion is regarded as of the highest national importance, inasmuch as it affects billions of dollars worth of projects now under construction. It was the first time any high federal court had ruled on the constitutionality of the PWA.

A series of dead lines, the first scarcely more than two weeks away, was fixed by President Roosevelt Monday in a move to complete the allotment of the entire $4,000,000,000 work relief fund by September 24. This latest attempt to speed up the lagging program was interpreted as eliminating almost all heavy construction projects on which applications have not been submitted and barring numerous PWA and housing projects earlier slated for approval.

At Coracana an old man was the victim of a freak accident that might easily have been a tragedy. The one-armed man was walking along the tracks in the Southern Pacific yards and stepped in front of a box car pushed by a switch engine, apparently not hearing the blasts of the whistle. The car passed over him, but as the train was halted over him his foot became entangled with the brake beam and several minutes were needed to extricate him. At a hospital physicians said his injuries were confined to bruises and abrasions.

TEXAS MUST TAKE WARNING

"Japan in the first five months of this year purchased more American raw cotton than Great Britain, France and Germany, combined." So says a special from Shanghai to the New York Herald Tribune. These purchases were quite largely from Texas.

Japan is now in economic and military control of North China and is moving to organize corporations to exploit its natural wealth. "It proposes to develop coal mines in Shansi, iron ore in Chahar, oil in Shensi and cotton in Hopei, Shantung, Honan and Shansi." This cotton is to be American long staple cotton for the consumption of Japanese cotton mills, thus eliminating the United States' most important raw cotton market. The Japanese are furnishing to North China's farmers American cotton seed, technical assistance, and financing in the expectation that Japan will be independent of American raw cotton within 5 years.

Texas, which, of course, is the largest exporter of American raw cotton to Japan, naturally has no kick coming. If Japan can get from India and North China the cotton it needs at lower prices, that is its prerogative. Yet one may easily see that the matter of Japanese supremacy in North China is an affair of profound interest to far-away Texas.

Texas might better assume that the day of King Cotton is rapidly passing in this state. We raise cotton chiefly for export, but export demands are steadily decreasing and will continue to do so. Texas must look farther afield and begin to develop substitute crops, those frequently emphasized in these columns, and turn capital into local industries, like the wood pulp industry for east Texas.

A new situation confronts Texas. The state needs farseeing leaders who will stress coming, not going sources of income. A new century of history faces Texas—a century of industries derived from the states natural resources.—Dallas News.

THEY DISLIKE ALCATRAZ

Released the other day from Alcatraz prison for deportation was a man who referred to the discipline there as the strictest on earth. Alcatraz, he said, is a "madhouse." The prisoners are allowed to talk only once a week, from 1 to 3:30 every Saturday afternoon, and this is one of the hardest rules of all. Even the once mighty Al Capone finds it irksome, and he has been "thrown in the hole" three or four times for talking, this deportee said.

The picture of this federal prison as painted by the former inmate will bring a great deal of satisfaction to those who believe prisoners have been coddled too much, and a degree of fear to those who would violate the law and run the risk of being imprisoned there.

It is no garden of roses and is not intended to be. It is the place where Uncle Sam puts his worst criminals. Escape is to all intents and purposes impossible. The discipline is hard and the isolation almost complete. In a word, Alcatraz is all that it should be as a place to confine dangerous criminals with a penchant for escaping.

Capone and all the other prisoners are said to be bitterly resentful of the treatment accorded them, but there is nothing they can do about it but bear up under the strain. They laughed at the law for years; now it is the law's time to laugh.—Abilene News.

For Bad Feeling Due to Constipation

Get rid of constipation by taking Black-Draught as soon as you notice that bowel activity has slowed up or you begin to feel sluggish. Thousands prefer Black-Draught for the refreshing relief it has brought them. Mrs. Ray Mullins, of Lafa, Ark., writes: "My husband and I both take Theodor's Black-Draught and find it splendid for constipation, biliousness, and the disagreeable, aching, tired feeling that comes from this condition." With reference to Syrup of Black-Draught, which this mother gives her children, she says: "They like the taste and it gave such good results."

ODD ACCIDENTS

A new gingham dress of old-time proportions saved the life of little Concepcion Bejarano, who fell off a bridge into the Des Moines river. Her dress billowed like a parachute and when she struck the water the air remaining beneath her dress kept her afloat until rescued by a nearby laborer.

An 85-year-old Bay State man, Roy W. Pike, is dead because of his habit of sleeping with a tooth pick in his mouth. Peritonitis set in after he had swallowed one.

Nathan Brown, Georgia farmer, is firmly convinced all accidents occur in cycles of three. He was severely stung by a bee while working in a field and on his way to the house for first aid he stepped on a snake which bit him. He then decided to continue on to the nearby village for medical treatment and on the way was attacked and bitten by a bull dog.

Because he was too tender-hearted to knowingly kill an animal, a New Jersey truckman, Aloysius Ritchie, lost his own life. When a little puppy darted in front of his truck Ritchie jammed on his brakes and his load of lumber shifted forward, crushing the cab and severely injuring him.

Immediately after a loud peal of thunder a Nebraska woman heard thumping sounds in the basement. Upon investigation she found the thunder vibrations had evidently jarred the power on, for her washing machine was in operation.

Grady Hulsey, a Georgia resident, emulated the good Samaritan by taking an injured fireman to the hospital after a locomotive boiler had exploded. On his way home his car was struck by a train and he received injuries from which he died.—Pathfinder.

LOANS TO FARMERS

President Roosevelt has issued an executive order setting up machinery for Undersecretary Tugwell's resettlement administration to make loans to farmers. Advances would be permitted to finance "the purchase of farm lands and necessary equipment by farmers, farm tenants, croppers or farm laborers" and for any other purposes necessary in the administration of approved projects involving rural rehabilitation and relief in stricken areas.

Early this month Tugwell issued an order broadening the eligibility of farmers to receive loans. Under this ruling farmers who had applied unsuccessfully for loans from the farm credit administration and farmers who had been delinquent in payments to the federal land banks and were in danger of foreclosure proceedings, were allowed to apply to the resettlement administration. Prior to the ruling only farmers on relief were eligible.

DAHLIA SUGAR

Fields aflame with brilliant dahlias may be the source of a sizeable portion of America's future commercial sugar supply, the American chemical society in convention in San Francisco, was informed.

A method of producing for market sugar twice as sweet as that now commonly used has been developed by scientists at the University of Southern California.

Commercial production already has become a practical possibility, the scientists say, as the result of the working out of a means of manufacturing on a basis comparable with that of beet sugar.

It was pointed out that due to the difference in growing seasons, dahlia sugar could be manufactured in cane or beet sugar plants during ordinarily idle seasons.

Economic possibilities of dahlia sugar are enhanced by its dietary properties. Those on reducing diets, the university experimenters declared, would find in it sweetness with less calories. There is the further favorable factor in the relief of most diabetic patients who can not utilize common sugar that they can retain sugar or fruits such as dahlia sugar.

UTILITY BILL SIGNED

President Roosevelt Monday signed the bill regulating utility holding companies in the presence of congressional leaders who sponsored it and administration legal aids. Photographers recorded the ceremony. The law does not carry its original provision regarding abolition of holding companies considered unnecessary by 1942. A substitute section was put forward with White House approval after the house had balked at the original language. Although the president asserted the compromise represented a generous concession, some holding company spokesmen branded it another death sentence.

TUNA TAKES A BOW

Give the Big Fish a Big Hand—You'll Like Its New Roles

Entertaining means keeping pace with what's new in well as fun. Summer party must be breezy as a zephyr, and also very delicious to come out in new costumes.

Open a can of tuna fish and you do not feel that it is special occasion. That is because we have become accustomed to the ease of having these fish. The ancient Romans, on the other hand, went to great lengths to serve fish at their banquets. Food from the sea is easy to obtain, and convenient to the host.

Add to Your Summer List
Creamy Sauce: Make a foundation White Sauce by heating two tablespoons butter in a saucepan, stirring until it bubbles a little, and then adding slowly two tablespoons of flour which has been mixed with one-fourth teaspoon salt, one-eighth teaspoon pepper and one-fourth teaspoon paprika. Stir until well blended and then add one cup milk which has been heated, gradually over the butter and flour mixture. Stir constantly and let it simmer about two minutes until smooth and creamy. To this cream sauce can be added hard-boiled eggs cut in eighths to make an egg sauce, if preferred.

Masked Tuna Loaf: Soften one teaspoon gelatin in two tablespoons cold water and dissolve in four tablespoons hot vinegar. Mix with the contents of a one-pound flat can of tuna fish which has been mashed, and add one-half teaspoon salt and a few grains of paprika. Pack into a loaf mold and chill. Meanwhile soften one-half teaspoon more of gelatin in two tablespoons cold water and melt over hot water. Then pour slowly into one-half cup of mayonnaise, heating all the time. Chill. Turn out the tuna loaf and spread the sides and top with the mayonnaise. Decorate the top and sides with sliced stuffed olives and strips of pimiento. Let chill and stiffen. Serve sliced. This serves six persons.

Tuna Fish Souffle: Add two cups of tuna fish to two cups of thick white sauce. Then add one tablespoon lemon juice and the beaten yolks of six eggs. Fold in the stiffly-beaten whites of the six eggs, and pour into a buttered baking dish. Set in a pan of hot water and bake in a forty-five to thirty degrees—for forty to forty-five minutes or until set. Serve at once. This serves eight persons.

Epicures Approve
 These of those days, and of approved the taste of fish, the correct preparing and of fish still confers prestige. Many people do not know how to prepare fish correctly. For canned fish is particularly. It comes to us prepared, and ready to be served, or merely with the sauce.

Wonders used to be known in the middle ages of and they were licensed by municipalities to sell sauces to and townsmen. Their trays may still be traced in some best fish sauces served to fish is one of the least expensive of the canned varieties, looks very much "in the manner" when it is cast in the soufles or soufles. Following are suggestions for each of dishes and also a delicious sauce recommended by the Sea Food Institute of the States.

Modernizing Changes Old House Into New Spanish Bungalow

Homes throughout the country are being modernized as a result of the liberal financing plan made available by the National Housing Act. Local banks and other financial institutions approved by the Federal Housing Administration are making loans to do this work.

Remember, no down payment is necessary, provided the cost does not exceed $2000 and you can meet other simple requirements. You pay the money back monthly, according to your income.

Many homes that have been modernized you would not recognize now as the same places.

Of course, the structure of the house must be sound and it must be well located before it is wise to spend much money on improvements. But if you are satisfied as to these essentials, there is no limit to the many things you can do to bring the house up to date.

A new coating of stucco is one good way to make an old house young again. Or you may use lumber or brick or some of the other surfacing materials.

The architectural style of the house frequently can be completely altered with but slight changes to the underlying framework.

Spanish designs are popular in many sections of the country.

You would not know it, but the modern Spanish bungalow above not so long ago was the shabby looking little house shown at the right. The transformation required only a few structural changes and the application of cement stucco.

Barnes & McCullough

Everything to Build Anything

Because of the regular horizontal lines, characteristic of this type of architecture, many old houses can be converted to the Spanish type at comparatively small cost.

Since last writing we have had a few showers, which were very much appreciated.

Every one is very busy in their crops and are trying to get ready for picking season.

The school children are all preparing for their schools and others going off to school. We are going to miss some of them, as when picking and school will meet at the same time.

Few in our community have had the thrasher thrashing their make and other feed.

Mr. and Mrs. John Aubrey Reynolds and little daughter, Suzanne, came in Saturday night to spend their vacation with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Reynolds, and also to attend the Reynolds reunion. Those present were as follows: Mr. and Mrs. Walter Reynolds, Lloyd Reynolds and family, John A. Reynolds

MOUNT OLIVE

There were twenty-four voted in the election here Saturday. It was held by T. E. Coyle, A. S. Neal, Sam Kren and Frank Poon. Most of us voted right, as we voted against the administration.

Sunday was a big day at Mount Olive church house. It was the day of the ex-members and ex-graduates association meeting. The chief speakers of the day were Senator Davis, Tribert Patterson, Gus Freeman, Judge Rollins, Oscar Swindle, Will Roberts and Louis Porter.

Mr. and Mrs. Dr. Quale and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Roberts went to Dedham to see Mr. and Mrs. Roberts' new granddaughter, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Roberts.

Also a new arrival came to the home of Tom Lawson last week in the form of a new baby daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Lennie Holt came into our community last week. They are from one of the old states and plan to make their home in this community. Cowey Lawson came in with them, as he had been on a visit to their country.

The Caradan writer takes issue with this article over a statement made in last week's writing. This writer had no intention of saying the Caradan people ignored their revival and attended the picnic. That was the wrong interpretation to get. I merely expressed an opinion that the church attendance increased at the close of the picnic. Those who attended will know whether that was correct. As for the Caradan writer not knowing about the picnic, I beg to submit that an announcement of the picnic was in the Eagle's columns two weeks prior to my item about it last week. But as the public isn't interested, let's have some news.

Mr. Clarence McCarty is visiting her folks in east Texas. The woman who lived in a shoe would tell you that the "terrible triangle" is that well known square of baby cloth folded diagonally.

Harry Coyle and wife and Fannie Elzer attended the last game of Friday football evening. Mrs. Hester's car was so severely dented last week, it should be over Mrs. Elzer's. Also, it was an error about the house at the Goldthwaite. There wasn't any there. A reporter must get his news largely by rumor and off-hand these reports are incorrect. I deal in no way my reports as accurate as possible.

Mr. Sam West and daughter, Edna, visited Mr. Elzer's daughter, Mrs. Elzer, who lives near Bar Sals, Saturday evening.

T. E. Coyle returned the election boxes to town Monday morning. The girls here have rather objected to my reference to them being nothing but reading "The Constitution," etc. But I can't help it because they do. But they are not reading them any more. They have passed to a better type of literature now. They are reading the Mount Olive news.

Winnie Coyle, John William Coyle and his Sheila from Elm, were here at our association Sunday.

Also a number of visitors from Caradan, Indian Gap and surrounding communities were here. You are all welcome.

Hester Ballentine and family went to Indian Gap Saturday evening.

NEIGHBORING NEWS

FROM LOCAL PAPERS OF TOWNS MENTIONED

Brownwood

Men were taken to the county jail last week.

The finder returns fifty tickets for athletic contests the 1935-36 Daniel Baker school year, which recently, new tickets made and no tickets like will be honored.

For a third six period for occupation of camp at Lake Brownwood was recovered later in the day, abandoned on highway 10 near Stephenville.

According to records on file, Tom J. Wortham, assistant cotton adjustment agent, says there is a total of 2878 farms in Comanche county and 2250 of these are growing cotton.

Approximately 200 members of the Cunningham family attended the 36th annual reunion of the descendants of the late Captain James and Aunt Susan Cunningham at their camp grounds, eight miles south of Comanche, on the Pecan Belt highway, last Thursday and Friday.

The picturesque Cunningham reunion grounds, eight miles south of Comanche on Mercer Creek, adjacent to the Pecan Belt highway, may become a state park, according to members of the family, who at their reunion last week passed a resolution offering the grounds for that purpose.

Tom F. Reese of Comanche, who resigned his office of district attorney of the 52nd judicial district, composed of Comanche, Hamilton and Coryell counties, effective Wednesday, assumed his new duties as United States attorney for the treasury department Thursday morning. Mr. Reese is stationed at Dallas. Mrs. Reese and children will probably remain in Comanche until after the first of the year, she stated.—Chief.

Comanche

William Morgan, former Comanche high school football star, came in last week from New York to visit relatives.

The Comanche county Baptist association is to meet in annual meeting on August 28 and 29, at Sidney.

An automobile stolen from E.L. Dillingham of Comanche Saturday afternoon was recovered later in the day, abandoned on highway 10 near Stephenville.

Mrs. R. T. Crain of Eldorado has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Crain in San Saba and Mr. and Mrs. H.C. Holcomb at Bethel.

George Maudin, who operates an export gas station in Good Hope, La., has been visiting relatives here and in Mills county. He is on a trip to the Rio Grande Valley now.

J. H. Roberts of Algerita has bought the Henry building in Richland Springs and will build a residence and other improvements out of the material that he has had dismantled at Algerita by his store.

R.C. Sloan was painfully bruised last Wednesday when a cow attacked him at his ranch, nine miles west of San Saba. After crawling prostrate to his truck several yards away, he attracted the attention of some passing fishermen who brought him to the doctor.

Roy Grumbles brought in the first bale of cotton Monday, which was ginned by the Ponton & Vogel gin and weighed 475 pounds. The cotton was grown on the W. E. Barrow farm north of town. Mr. Grumbles estimated that he will make three-fourths of a bale to the acre.—Star.

The school this week received a check for $2310 federal aid.

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Owens spent Sunday with Mr. Owens' sister, Mrs. J. W. Head, and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hines and daughter, Greta, of Scallorn visited Mrs. J. H. Lockhart Sunday.

Commissioners Reynolds and Kirby this week completed getting the right-of-way for a new road connecting Lometa and highway 66, along through the Center community. The road will branch off from 74 about five miles southeast of Lometa, at the Delma Ford place.

The 1935-36 term of the Lometa public school will open on Monday morning, September 9. The board met Monday night and completed the selection of teachers. Eleven were elected, the enrollment lacking only a few students to entitle them to 12 teachers.—Reporter.

Hamilton

Miss Dora Kingsbury returned to her home in Fort Worth, after several days visit with her mother, Mrs. Eva Kingsbury.

H. W. Allen, county attorney of Hamilton county, was named by Governor Alred Wednesday to fill the unexpired term of Tom Reese as district attorney of the 52nd judicial district, composed of Hamilton, Comanche and Coryell counties.

A pall of gloom was cast over Hamilton and the entire county Wednesday morning, when the news spread that H. E. Chesley had passed away shortly after midnight. He was stricken with an acute attack of appendicitis in the early morning hours of Wednesday, August 14. Examining physicians held no hope for him without an operation and only a slim hope with an operation. After being appraised of this fact, Judge Chesley made his own decision and was taken to the Hamilton sanitarium and operated on early Thursday morning of last week. For several days it seemed that he would recover, but his condition grew extremely grave late Monday and the end came at 12:20 Wednesday morning.—News.

ESCAPES ELECTROCUTION BY NARROW SQUEAK

Will Kennerly, city electrician, was resting nicely at the local hospital at noon today, following a narrow escape from electrocution at about 9:30 o'clock this morning. Kennerly suffered deep burns in the palm of his right hand and a nervous shock, when a 220-volt wire with which he was making a connection at the Trigg drug company store, was shorted as he came in contact with a water pipe adjoining the building.

Kennerly was on top the store awning at the time, and his calls for help attracted the attention of Fats Crowe, who chanced to be in the rear of the Trigg store. Crowe climbed the ladder to the awning and pulled Kennerly loose. Had Crowe been but a minute later, the shock would undoubtedly have proven fatal to Kennerly, who was, nevertheless, able to crawl down the ladder and walk about. He was rushed to the hospital, where it was thought he would be able to be released within a day or so.

Kennerly is an experienced electrician, having served the city as head of the electrical department since 1932, and having engaged in the electrical business for the past 30 years. He was for number of years in the employ of the Houston Electric Railway.

BIG BEARS IN ALASKA

Bears fourteen feet from nose to tail tip roam the southeast edge of Matanuskan valley. Some Matanuskan colonists are talking about going after them. The colonists better watch out, old-timers warn. Brown bears fear no man.

"There's plenty of those big fellows over in the Chugach Mountains," said an old timer. "There's fellows there can stand on their back legs and lick the top of a railroad crossing danger sign." They won't give the trail to anything. When you get a brownie mad, it's you or the brownie—and you better kill him quick or it's you.

According to Alaska game laws colonists are not allowed to shoot any game during their first year there without a non-resident license costing $50. However, the game officials quietly pass the word around that no one in Alaska ever got fined for shooting a bear in self-defense, and it's pretty hard for the bear to deny any allegations made against him.

REDUCING ROLLS

Advice from Austin says: As the cotton picking season gradually spreads over Texas, relief commission officials are re-emphasizing their demands that every available cotton picker be taken off the relief rolls and told to get a cotton sack.

District administrators have been told to see that no able-bodied relief client be allowed to stay on the relief rolls so long as there is a job for him in the cotton fields.

Despite pest infestation, the cotton crop in Texas apparently will be appreciably large, it is indicated, and relief officials insist that there be a commensurate drop in the relief load in cotton picking areas.

What effect getting off federal emergency relief administration rolls now to pick cotton will have on a client's chances of being certified to the WPA rolls late in the fall when the cotton picking season is over, has been explained thus:

It will not jeopardize his chances at all. An unemployed able-bodied person who was on the FERA rolls in May this year and is registered with the National Re-employment Service is automatically eligible for a job with the WPA. The minute a cotton picker or anyone else who was a relief client in May has worked himself out of a job in private employment, he becomes eligible to work on WPA projects.

In view of this and the sharp reduction in relief funds, relief commission officials are insisting that relief rolls in heavy cotton producing areas should be reduced by as much as 50 per cent if not more during the cotton picking season.

COTTON LOANS

The AAA administrator has announced that the commodity credit corporation will lend 9c per pound on the 1935 cotton crop.

He said the corporation will guarantee contract signers a return of 12c a pound on seven-eighths inch middling cotton produced under Bankhead allotments.

The plan, announced with the approval of President Roosevelt, provides that the AAA will make payments to cotton farmers equal to such difference, if any, as may exist between 12c and the average price of seven-eighths inch middling cotton in the 10 spot markets during the period from September 1 to January 1.

Such payments, the AAA administrator said, will be limited to the individual producer's actual production up to the amount of his Bankhead allotment.

Feast the Family on Hot Breads

SUNDAY morning breakfast is the one leisurely breakfast of the week. This meal—usually a substantial one—affords a housewife an opportunity to prove that her hand has not lost its cunning in the making of hot breads. These Cheese Roulettes were just made to go with scrambled eggs and bacon. As for the waffles—did you ever know waffles to go begging?

Cheese Roulettes
2 cups sifted cake flour
2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder
1/4 teaspoon salt
4 tablespoons butter or other shortening
2/3 cup milk
Melted butter
1 cup grated American cheese
Salt
Peppercorn

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift again. Cut in shortening; add milk all at once and stir carefully until all flour is dampened. Stir vigorously until mixture forms soft dough and follows spoon around bowl. Turn out immediately on slightly floured board and knead 30 seconds. Roll into oblong sheet, 1/4 inch thick. Brush with melted butter. Spread

Waffles
2 cups sifted flour
2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 egg yolks, well beaten
1 1/2 cups milk
8 tablespoons melted butter or other shortening
2 egg whites, stiffly beaten

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift again. Combine egg yolks and milk; add gradually to flour, beating only until smooth. Add shortening. Fold in egg whites. Bake in hot waffle iron. Serve with butter and maple-flavored syrup. Makes four or five 4-section waffles.

Ham Waffles
Use recipe for Waffles, sprinkling 1/4 cup finely cut boiled ham over batter just before closing waffle iron.

should feel proud: Our immediate section did not go with the corrupt cities. That there are good people in all our great cities who are opposed to the vice that exists in them, none can doubt. But the vast majority for the saloons came from these places. It is gratifying that our own county and those adjoining us are to be free from legalized liquor. Only one county in all this section, so far as I now know, voted for the return of the saloons. This is a matter for thankfulness and yet it places upon us a great responsibility. With the tide of liquor that will flow from the cities it is going to entail upon us a strong fight to keep the sales from encroaching upon our dry territory. So everyone should be upon his guard to see to it that the right kind of officers are elected, and that the home fires be kept constantly burning. "Lord God of hosts be with us yet, lest we forget, lest we forget."

DISTRIBUTING HONEY

Albert M. Hunt is preparing to leave next week for a trip thru the western part of the state, where he has a large sale for Mills county honey and those who have sampled the product of Hunt & Sons' apiaries can testify that there is none better. The Eagle editor was favored with a jar of this excellent honey a few days ago and his testimonial is gladly added to those of Mr. Hunt's customers in all parts of the country. Those who know Mr. Hunt believe he knows more about bees than anybody and certainly his bees know their business when it comes to making honey.
