1,504 POLL TAXES PAID THIS YEAR

Hern Harris, sheriff and tax collector, says that the total number of poll taxes paid this year is 1,504. This compares with 1,995 last year and 1,490 in 1935.

Meanwhile at Austin Wednesday Senator Claud C. Westerfield of Dallas offered a constitutional amendment abolishing the poll tax and substituting a registration system.

"The poll tax has disfranchised about 65 per cent of the people in the state," Westerfield said. "Many cannot afford to pay the tax for their right to vote."

At the same time Orville S. Carpenter, Texas old age assistance director, told the house state affairs committee persons who accept assistance should not be allowed to vote.

"My opinion," he said "is that persons on the pension rolls should lose their voting rights. There are 300,000 persons in the state over 65 years old and they don't have to pay poll taxes. That is a powerful bloc and can easily influence pension legislation."

"Why should a person who is receiving aid from the state have so much say in determining how much he receives?"

Nazarene Remarks

Brother French, the pastor-Evangelist who is with us for the meeting is doing some good preaching. It seems that the bad weather has affected the attendance, some, however interest has been very good, and the people have come through the mud, rain and ice to attend the meeting. The meeting will close Sunday night. Brother French will be with us through that time.

Next Friday, February 12, the next zone rally will be held at Brooksmith. Keep boosting the young people and help them bring the banner back again, while the winning of the banner is only a means to an end, it creates a spirit of enthusiasm and interest among our people and causes a larger attendance at the rallies than otherwise would be had; and by attending, it is a great boon to the rally and a help to the individual.

You are always welcome to worship with us.

FLOOD DONATIONS NEAR DOUBLE QUOTA

With $474 already turned in on Mills county's quota of $250.00 for flood sufferers along the Ohio and Mississippi rivers, it appeared yesterday that Mills county would more than double its last quota of $250.00.

Contributions are still coming in to the treasurer, Miss Claudia Carroll, and anyone who has not contributed is asked to bring or send his donation to her at Fairman Co. The names of all donors will be published next week.

With the greatest number of Americans homeless at one time in the history of the nation, appeals are still being made for funds to provide shelter, food and medicine for the unfortunate who have been driven from their homes by the angry waters of the two great rivers.

WORST OF FLOOD IS ABOUT OVER

The nation's flood menace appeared lessening everywhere last night, inspiring hopes that the job ahead was mainly one of consolidating positions against the waters.

The Ohio, reaching its biggest crest of all time at Cairo, Ill., still was held back by the city's lofty levees.

The Mississippi was above flood stage as far down as Vicksburg, Miss., but General Malin Craig, army chief of staff, reassured the people:

"Everything is holding all right in the lower river." There was a forecast of rain in parts of the Mississippi and Ohio basins—and engineers had said too much there might be disastrous—but the weather bureau said the fall would not be heavy enough to work substantial harm.

S. E. Q. CLUB

The club met with Mrs. Booster Berry. We pined on a quilt. Our visitors were Mrs. Bill Fox and Mrs. A. W. Fesmire and son. We meet next time with Mrs. A. L. Cole.

Mrs. Berry served cake and hot chocolate. We all enjoyed the drink as the weather was cold.

County Agent W. P. Weaver was host Saturday at a dinner in the Saylor Hotel for the Mills county community and county allotment committee and a number of guests from every section of Mills county. As a means of financing the meet each participating school will be assessed an amount equal to one dollar per head for its teaching force. The program exactly as carried out last year was readopted for this year. Judges for the entire meet will be selected.

FAVOR LIBERAL AGE PENSIONS

Old age pension inflationists scored a smashing victory in the Texas house Wednesday, controlling by a decisive majority four successive votes which placed the lawmakers on record as favoring more liberal payments to old people.

The house resolved, in the first three votes, as follows:

1. That the most important subject before the legislature is providing pensions on the liberal scale promised in last summer's campaigns.

2. That the house will give "early" consideration to tax measures for this purpose.

3. That the first $12,000,000 raised by new taxes "ought to" go to augment the currently allocated $8,000,000 for old age pensions.

The fourth vote was on adopting the resolutions embodying these three subjects. Inflationists mustered 77 votes with many lawmakers absent.

This first clear-cut vote of the session was on a resolution introduced yesterday by Jesse James of Thorndale and others. The resolution went to state affairs, was promptly voted out, called up this morning, and voted with only a few voices raised in ineffective protest.

The only concession made by the inflationists was to get around amending the rules of the house—which they set out to do. The resolution originally made it mandatory that the house consider the next tax bills before any others, which was tantamount to changing the rules, requiring a four-fifths vote. Hence they changed the phrase "first consideration" to "early consideration."

DOWN ON THE FARM By O. G. H.

Farmers of Mills county greatly appreciated the picture, "Science Marches On," featured at the Melba week before last. Thanks to the management of the theatre.

No direct means of destroying heel flies or the eggs has been developed. If complete eradication of the grubs over an area of 15 or 20 sections, as has been found possible, heel flies do not appear over this area the following season and reappear in subsequent years only as they invade from contiguous, untreated areas.

An ointment, consisting of powdered derris root, 1 part and petrolatum 10 parts, is practically 100 per cent effective. After removing the scab found over the grub on the back, a small amount of the ointment is rubbed over this and repeated until all the bumps have been treated. This kills the grub within which either extended from the hide or absorbed. Since other grubs migrate to back from deeper tissues throughout the winter, treatment will have to be applied for these as they appear.

Contractor Ernest Loyd of Fort Worth started work this week on his job of grading and paving highway 7 from Goldthwaite to the present paving at the Brown county line.

Social Security application blanks were at a premium when it was learned that no hands would be hired unless they had received their S.S. numbers. All forms on hand in the post offices at Goldthwaite, Mullin and Brownwood were exhausted Saturday, and 200 additional forms received at the Goldthwaite post office Wednesday were rapidly being filled out and being sent in by applicants for work on the project.

The first work is cutting down the crests of several hills between Mullin and Zephyr in order to meet the new federal road standards of clear vision on hills and around curves. As soon as this has been completed, a 9-inch layer of caliche will be placed on the road bed and when this has settled the asphalt paving and old for the shoulders will be applied.

The Methodist Church

Bishop Paul B. Kern said recently that many church members all over the country have joined the "sitdown strike groups." So since so many of our church members have taken membership in this select group, a very large number of men in our big industries are falling in line. Not a very commendable pace for the church to set. Some people say they do not believe in Missions. Such statements are made out of spiritual bankruptcy and total blindness to the purposes of God. If the people in America would be as faithful as those in foreign countries where our missionaries have gone, we would have to enlarge all our churches to accommodate the great throngs, or preach to full houses in relays. It is a reflection on any one's religion when it becomes necessary to urge that one be loyal and faithful to his church, and do his full duty. A man would have a difficult time making the community believe he truly loved his family if he had to be urged to do his duty by it.

The following lines should inspire us to finer thinking and more consecrated living: "You don't have to tell you how to live each day, You don't have to say if you work or play, For a tried, true, barometer serves in the place, However you live, it shows on your face."

"The false, the deceit that you bear in your heart, Does not stay inside where it first got its start, For sinew and blood are a thin veil of lace, What you bear in your heart, you show on your face."

We had a good day last Sunday, and why not make next Sunday a better day. If each one will do his or her part we will have, but if there should be some who fail it might mean a life failure, and that work which they should have done will be left undone forever.

Sunday school 9:45 a. m. Your class will be looking for you. Worship service 10:50 a. m. This will be the Holy Communion Service. Young people's service 8:15 p. m. Preaching 7:00 p. m. Subject:

AVIATORS WANTED BY ARMY SCHOOLS

Fort Sam Houston, Tex. Feb 4.—The army's "West Point of the Air," the army air corps training center at Randolph and Kelly Fields near San Antonio, Texas, has a number of openings for qualified young men seeking to become flying cadets. It was announced at Eighth Corps Area Headquarters by this week.

Although it has been swamped by applications from college and university students during the last five years, improvement in business conditions generally throughout the nation this year, has sent an increasing number of college men into the civilian professions, thereby opening a way for men interested primarily in aviation to obtain training at the army's flying schools. During the depression years the air corps training center had, on numerous occasions, as many as 3,000 young men on the waiting list for admission to the army's flying schools.

Candidates for appointment as flying cadets must be unmarried male citizens who have reached their 20th birthday but who have not passed their 27th birthday. Those who have not satisfactorily completed at least two years of standard college work must pass a written educational examination equivalent to a two year college course.

Thousands of men now engaged in the commercial aviation fields either as pilots, mechanics, aeronautical engineers, or in the aviation manufacturing fields have received their training at the army's air corps training center. It was pointed out today that some large aircraft transportation firms will engage only men who have received army training.

The course of instruction requires a year to complete. In addition to more than 325 hours in the air during the year, cadets are given practical instruction in airplane engines, machine guns navigation and other academic subjects necessary to the well trained pilot.

Cadets in addition to receiving valuable training in aviation, receive pay while they are in training at the rate of $75 per month, a ration allowance of $1.00 per day; are furnished free, attractive living apartments at one of the most beautiful flying fields in the world, Randolph Field, and are furnished, free of charge, all flying equipment and distinctive cadet uniforms.

The quota for the next class, which begins March 1, 1937, is practically filled, but it was announced today that a few qualified candidates will be accepted during the next two weeks as late enlistments. Young men who wish to enroll in the second course for 1937 which opens July 1, to accommodate college men completing their college work in June, should communicate with the commanding general of the air corps training center at Randolph Field for the necessary information as to the procedure to be followed.

The physical qualifications for flying cadets naturally are more rigid than those standards required for enlistment in the army's line branches, hence it is advisable for men considering applying for admission as cadets to consult their own physicians before appearing before a cadet examining and admission board.

Vision must be normal, that is 20-20 for each eye without glasses. Candidates must have unimpaired ocular muscle balance, good hearing and a stable and balanced equilibrium, normal color vision and a stable nervous system.

At the conclusion of the cadet's year's training course at the air corps training center he is given a reserve commission as a second lieutenant in the officers reserve corps and is immediately placed on active duty as an officer with the same pay and allowances as an officer in the regular service plus an additional 50 per cent of his base pay for flying. At the end of the three year's active duty service and the termination of active duty status, each officer is paid a lump sum of $500 in addition to all pay and allowances.

Those qualified officers who are continued on active duty for additional periods of two years automatically are promoted to the grade of 1st lieutenant, air corps reserve, and as such receive pay and allowances in the same amount paid 1st lieutenants of the regular army.

During the three years active duty period, the officer gains valuable practical training and experience in air navigation, engineering, radio and armament, and is offered the opportunity of specializing in any one of the varied allied aviation subjects presented.

Opportunity also is offered for the officer to serve at least a part of his active duty service in Hawaii or Panama.

During this time, also, the reserve officer is working toward the attainment of 1200 hours of flying time as an airplane pilot, working toward appointment as a transport pilot. The United States department of commerce

PRIDDY P.-T. A. HAPPENINGS

If we are not careful, the winter season is likely to pass and find very little work done on our school grounds. The superintendent has promised us a day in this month to maintain and increase the beauty of our school campus. We are all justly happy over Priddy high school having been awarded the highest certificate in Mills county for having the most attractive school building and campus.

Last year a few pecan trees were set out on the campus and failed to live; this year, twice that number of pecan trees will be set out, and practically all will live. Some shrubs have already been set out for the coming year. This month, on whatever day we have allotted to us, we want to have plenty of tools on hand for grubbing, plowing, or doing masonry. Next week we will know which day of this month will be ours for school-ground work.

goes. Otto Tischler, Priddy poultryman, is Mills county's No. 1 demonstrator. This letter needs no comment:

Comanche, Texas, route 4, January 4, 1937.

W. P. Weaver, County Agent, Mills County. Dear Sir:

I am sending you the November and December reports of my flock of White Leghorn hens.

I bought 1,200 chicks on the 27th day of March 1935. On these I kept a record from that time to January 1, 1937. This flock netted me a profit of $630.00 and I still have 420 hens left. These I will sell about March or April 1937. Please send me a record book for 1937.

Truly yours, OTTO TISCHLER.

Monthly reports show Mr. Tischler's average number of hens for the year was 462.

4-H clubs for 1937 are organized at Big Valley, Center Point and Prairie. We expect to report other organizations soon.

Wanted: Twenty or more boys not in school and under 21 years of age for special 4-H club work. Report to the nearest organized club or call at the county agent's for information. Boys you need us—we need you.

All applications for benefit payments except late signers were completed and sent to College Station January 27 and 28. These producers may expect notice to call for checks within the next few days.

A new device to dispose of waste from the kitchen recently perfected, the electrical kitchen waste unit, is being shown in Fort Worth. The new device is to be used under kitchen sinks, where it pulverizes anything from bread crumbs to meat bones. This refuse will then easily wash down the drain into the sewer and is carried away like fish water. This appliance is said to use only about half the energy of an electric clock.

Did you know that eggs separate much more easily immediately after removing them from refrigerator? When cold, the egg yolk fat is congealed, making the yolk much stronger and less inclined to break.

GINNINGS IN TEXAS DOUBLE THOSE IN ANY OTHER STATE

With a total of 2,308,644 ginned bales for the period ending January 16, 1937, Texas showed an increase of approximately 100,000 bales over the same period last year, when the total ginned bales amounted to 2,790,569. There were 2,292,074 bales ginned in the same period during 1934. Those states which ranked next to Texas in production were: Mississippi, 1,854,972 bales; Arkansas 1,260,837 bales; Alabama 1,133,229; Georgia, 1,073,719 bales.

HOPE FOR FARM TENANTS

There have been so many well-meaning but visionary plans for providing farm tenants with homes of their own that when D. P. Trent, the regional director of the resettlement administration, spoke at Dallas recently his remarks failed to receive the attention they deserved.

For Mr. Trent spoke not as a visionary government-employed spendthrift, but as a hard-headed, far-sighted business man with plenty of common sense.

In spite of all programs to promote farm ownership, there will always be a reasonable percentage of tenancy, due to the fact that many young men must necessarily start farming as tenants and gradually work toward ownership, the Resettlement Administration administrator stated, and suggested certain changes which he believes will improve the present system of tenancy. These improvements included a lease contract which would provide reasonable security for a tenant, satisfactory improvements on the farm, and compensating the tenant for improvements made at his own expense. "This lease contract should be based upon a balanced system of farming, with opportunity for the tenant and his family to produce a living and meet their own needs on the farm," Trent said. "The old single cash-crop, without cows, chickens, hogs, garden, or pastures, has no place in a satisfactory and sound tenancy program."

Trent also suggested that the leasing and operation of the farm by a tenant must be divorced from the system of credit and "furnishing" through which tenants in the past have been charged "impossible interest rates and unreasonable prices for clothing and equipment."

Trent said that the two chief obstacles which stand in the way of a successful program to develop farm ownership are: First, "the weakening influence of patronage and political favoritism;" and second, "Undue stimulation of land values." He said that mistakes in the home-ownership program at this time could "dissipate and waste the first real chance millions of destitute, helpless and hopeless farm people have ever had for a better opportunity and a better sort of life on the farm."

Such a program makes sense. It does not propose to institute the millennium by Washington decree. It takes into consideration that there are all kinds of people and all kinds of tenants, and it does propose to give the ambitious, honest, hardworking tenant farmer a better chance to get ahead than he now enjoys.

Such a program will make better farmers and better citizens.

AN EDUCATION WORTH HAVING

The recent visit to Goldthwaite of President W. W. Jackson of the University of San Antonio has brought attention to the unique plan of education which he has instituted in the undergraduate section of that school, "The Westmoorland Plan," as it is called because Westmoorland College, the predecessor of the University of San Antonio, is where it originated, has already attracted much favorable comment from progressive educators, and it is destined to have many followers.

In the first place this plan recognizes frankly that a college education can be of no benefit to certain individuals, and the college takes pains to prevent the matriculation of those it considers unlikely to profit from their work. Additional tests and requirements are imposed upon the students who complete two years study, and unless they give indisputable evidence of being able to complete satisfactorily the more highly specialized courses of the last two years, they will not be allowed to continue. Such a process of elimination is in decided contrast to that of the usual state school where the democratization of opportunity too often results in debased standards of scholarship and likewise to that of the private school where the student's ability to pay his tuition bill is usually sufficient to insure him, in due course, his diploma.

The primary objective of the Westmoorland plan is to develop men and women who know both what they want to do and how to do it and in addition have learned to keep abreast of the cultural and scientific trends of our modern high-speed civilization. In short, this admirable system aims to educate the whole personality of the student and to adjust it to reality. This will include:

1. The integration of the personal life of the student with his college training "under the direction of trained leaders whose purpose is to cultivate habits and instill ideas in which the sense of personal welfare and rights should combine naturally with courtesy and social understanding."
2. Intellectual attainments centered in the traditions of civilization with an appreciation of the significance of science and the natural world.
3. Encouragement to discover a specialized field of interest to be cultivated intensively.
4. Adequate provision for vocational guidance.
5. Finally the consolidation of each of these elements on the highest possible level that of a sound Christian character.

To accomplish these ends mental and physical health are essential, so the Westmoorland plan provides, when necessary, remedial measures prescribed by competent physicians or psychiatrists. The ability to think logically and to express himself clearly and effectively is next developed. An acquaintance with the cultural inheritance of the past, familiarity with scientific method and sufficient knowledge of the content of science to enable him to read and talk intelligently, and an appreciation of the aesthetic values in art, music and the drama are next inculcated. Finally direct preparation is given for a rich civic, professional and family life motivated by a desire for continued advancement.

Such is a brief outline of the Westmoorland program of all-around education. The highly personal quality of instruction required makes the selection of properly qualified instructors of prime importance. This requirement Dr. Jackson has been able to meet with distinction. His faculty appears qualified to educate in the basic meaning of the word—to lead each student onward and upward and enable and encourage him to achieve his best.

To those who have been impatient with the futilities and false emphasis of most of our present-day educational methods, we commend most heartily W. W. Jackson and his Westmoorland plan.

WHO PAYS FOR STRIKES?

The great majority of American workers attend to their own affairs, strive for the fullest possible pay envelope and are happy to live in a country in which they have helped to develop the highest living standard in the world. But occasionally groups of American workmen are persuaded to go on strike.

What happens then? Who pays for strikes?

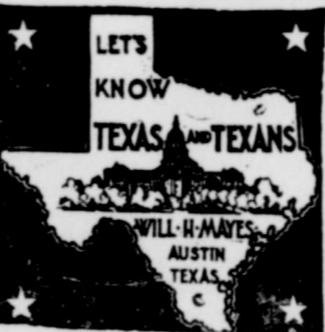

First of all, the investors pay. They may lose dividends; their plant may lose contracts to a competitor; their investment is jeopardized. But usually, the investor has other sources of income and manages to get along reasonably well.

Secondly, the community where a strike occurs pays. The earning power of those who make up the community is reduced and therefore consuming power is cut down. The grocer, the butcher, the baker, the doctor, the motion picture manager, gas stations and every other form of local business suffers in a strike.

Thirdly, relatives of the strikers pay. Often they have to pull in their belts another notch to help the fellows who are running short. And then the wives and children of the strikers pay—not only in reduced food and clothing and opportunity but they pay the heavy mental costs of worry and fear. They fear prolonged poverty. They worry over debts. They fear the physical consequences of violence so often resorted to by strikers.

And finally, the strikers themselves pay the heaviest bill of all. They lose time. Pay envelopes vanish. Hatreds are engendered and often the job itself is lost. Time lost in a strike may be made up in a year's work.

It is a fair question to ask: "Is a strike worth the price?" Or isn't peaceful discussion of employees and employer the better way?

In this column answers will be given to inquiries as to Texas history and other matters pertaining to the state and its people. Address inquiries to Will H. Mayes, Austin, Texas

Q. What was the date of the most disastrous Galveston storm?
G. B.
A. September 8, 1900.

Q. When was the election held to locate the University of Texas?
E. P.

A. On September 6, 1881, the Main University was located at Austin and the Medical Department at Galveston by popular vote. For the Main University, Austin received 30,913 votes; Tyler, 18,794; Waco, 9,799; Thorp Springs, 3,217; Lampasas, 2,829; scattering, 920. For the Medical Department Galveston received 29,741; Houston, 2,586; scattering, 1,344.

Q. What is the size of the two large murals in the Texas State building at the centennial?
B. G.

A. About 28 by 80 feet each. They are said to be the largest mural paintings in the world.

Q. Upon what facts is the statement based that Mrs. George W. Walling, who died recently at Austin, was the oldest living Methodist?

A. She was born near Lebanon, Tenn., in 1838, joined the Union Circuit Methodist Church there in 1845, and was a continuous member of the church for 91 years.

Q. Who was in command of the troop that opened the battle at San Jacinto?
H. H. K.

A. Colonel (afterward general)

Widney Sherman, a native of Massachusetts and descendant of Roger Sherman of revolutionary fame. He was in business at Newport, Ky., and when the call for volunteers was made, left his business, raised and equipped a company of 50 men and hurried to Texas. He reached the Brazos in February, 1836, and reported at Gonzales, but too late to raise a sufficient force to go to the relief of Travis, then besieged in the Alamo. It was he who first sounded the war-cry, "Remember the Alamo; Remember Goliad!"

Q. How did Bandera county and county seat get their names?
P. I. F.

A. They were named for "Bandera Pass," a pass through the nearby Guadalupe mountains. "Bandera" is a Spanish word meaning "flag" or "signal." The accepted version is that following a victorious fight with Apache Indians, about 1752, in which the Indians were driven from the pass, the Spaniards left their flag on the mountain top as a threat to the Indians against returning to that section.

VIEWS OF THE NATION'S PRESS ON TOPICS OF INTEREST AND IMPORTANCE

TEXAS PARENTS WILL REAR THEIR CHILDREN

Every salaried man in Texas has a number and is registered at Washington. This is all right for it is a new Roosevelt regulation aimed for the best.

But do Texas fathers and mothers want their boys and girls "badged" and their home work regulated by inspectors from Washington?

We believe that if the provisions of the so-called "Child Labor" Amendment, soon up for ratification or rejection by the Texas Legislature, are understood by Texas parents they would not be willing to turn over to government agencies the control of their children.

Texas has four times before said "No" to this measure. Our best farmers and business men today are those who earned money during spare-time hours and help on the farm while they were in their teens.

Write or wire your senator at Austin to vote "No" on this measure. Do it today. Texas has a good Child Labor Law. Let's enforce the law of our own state and if any of our boys and girls are unreasonably employed, let us correct it and penalize unfair employers.

Let us tell our Texas senators we don't want to trade our boys and girls for federal badges. To be raised by outsiders.—Texas State Press Association.

DRIVING YOU CRAZY

Some Portlanders, including some police heads, seem little interested in the destructive effects of noise. By actual test, the capacity of mental workers is lowered 25 to 40 per cent by excessive noise, says James W. Barton, M. D., in a medical magazine. An individual whose sleep is disturbed by noise may have his working capacity lowered 85 per cent. He adds: "Nature has arranged to protect us against many incidents of life. If a light is too sudden or glaring, the rapid eyelid saves the delicate curtain of the retina and so prevents harm to the brain. However, a crash in our vicinity causes us to shrink, and, unfortunately, nature has not provided protection for the ear drum, which is likewise connected with the brain." Dr. Barton goes on to say that noise "strikes the brain as a sort of shock. The brain, in an effort to protect the body, tenses all the muscles, thus preparing for any emergency. This preparation for noise means tenseness, that is entirely unnecessary, and is harmful to nerves and mind. Dr. Charles Mayo of the Mayo clinic at Rochester, Minnesota, referring to noise, says: "Noise is driving the American people insane. The speed of American life is exhausting the people. The noise and irritations, the worries of life, are leaving men with little time to rest. Man's heart is being made to beat faster, and more people are dropping dead than ever."—Oregon Journal, Portland.

DEBUNKING THE "TEN BEST"

The decision of Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt that no longer will she make an annual public selection of the Nation's ten outstanding women for the year might well be followed by the numerous other individuals and organizations which choose the ten best books, finest speeches, most gorgeously dressed film stars, notable achievements and even the most valuable athletes.

Somehow, these selections remain merely opinions and arbitrary, a bit self-exalting and obvious as a rule, and usually conducive to fruitless and pointless controversy.

Mrs. Catt deplores that her annual listing has ceased to be a personal thing; that she is beset from all sides to nominate this or that woman to her individual hall of fame. To have a lasting value, selections of leading persons or achievements should be more authoritative than they generally are. The practice has been run into the ground, and it is time debunking was started.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

ADVERTISING SELLS GROCERIES

The grocery merchant of today, who hopes to maintain a fair volume of business, knows that he must spend a reasonable sum each month for newspaper advertising. Housewives have been educated to watch the papers for exceptional values, and take quick advantage of them.

An instance of what a well-planned advertising program can do is the success of the campaign instituted last fall whereby the grocery industry urged the giving of groceries for Christmas gifts. The baskets were sold literally by the thousands, and as a consequence many concerns were able to build up a greater volume of sales during the holidays.

The small town merchant who continues to complain about the loss of business to the larger trading centers can well afford to take a lesson from this city competitor by using consistent advertising and in every other way adopting modern methods. The day has long passed when any merchant fools the women—and who is there to deny that the women are not making the greater part of the purchases for the family.—Stephenville Empire-Tribune.

LANGUAGES ON TAP

President Roosevelt's speech at Buenos Aires to representatives of twenty-one nations who attended the Inter-American Conference for the Maintenance of Peace was made in English. This, it might be supposed, would prevent many of the delegates from understanding what was said. While the capital of Argentina is the world's largest Spanish-speaking city, it is highly cosmopolitan and many languages are spoken in its handsome streets and palaces of public resort. For this special occasion in the Chamber of Deputies it was necessary to provide a translation medium for those who spoke no English. Accordingly, at each seat and desk was a device which had proved its efficacy at the recent World Power Conference in Washington, where representatives of many nations likewise were gathered. By its agency the listener was able to hear Mr. Roosevelt's remarks in Spanish, Portuguese, French or Italian, as he preferred. All that was necessary was for the delegate to turn a knob on a dial divided into lingual compartments. This seemingly miraculous result of rendering a speech delivered in one language into any one of several others was the latest of those marvels of sound transmission which we are accustomed to take rather as a matter of course. It was achieved by matter-of-fact means, but, naturally, was a result of considerable skillful arrangement. The president's remarks to the delegates were rapidly translated by experts who were in separate broadcasting inclosures and were transmitted by microphones to all instruments on the floor. By turning the knob and adjusting headphones, so as not to disturb his neighbors, each representative could listen to the speech rendered in his native tongue. Would it be possible, one wonders, to apply this selective process in some degree to our own congress? In that case, only those of the orator's party need listen to him; the rest could concentrate on trying to find more money to appropriate without unduly exasperating the taxpayers.—New York Herald-Tribune.

It seems to us that it is about time for those "knockers" against the Supreme Court, who either do not understand our American system, or who hate it and want it destroyed, to take a back seat.—The Progressive Miner.

The oil industry in Texas, in 1935, spent an average of $1,034,000 per day on drilling of new wells alone. The production yield was approximately the same figure, in value.

 Robert Lawrence Greenhaw, infant son of Rev. and Mrs. L. M. Greenhaw of Evant, died Sunday after a brief illness. The attending physician attributed the death to diphtheria. A younger child in the family was given the anti-toxin to prevent a possible like result.
 Information was received by Athletic Director Jno. Rowntree of the local school from Inter-scholastic League headquarters that the Class B football districts have been changed quite a bit and that Lampasas would play in District 42-B the coming year instead of 22-B. The only changes which have been made, however, are the removal of Brady to the district west and Fredericksburg to the San Antonio district. Each of these towns will be nearer their new districts than they were the old.

Raid conducted in Brownwood last Saturday about noon by ten officers of the State Liquor Control Board and local officers resulted in the confiscation of a truck-load of illegal liquor and the arrest of five men. All the men are free on bond, awaiting trial.
 Salary raises for 18 city employees, totaling $203 per month, were approved by the city council in regular session Monday night.
 Jury lists for the February term of 35th district court, which will convene in Brownwood at 9 a. m., Monday, February 1, were announced this week. Only four criminal cases were carried over from the October term. Twenty-six civil cases have been filed since the last term of court.

PNEUMONIA OFTEN FOLLOWS A COLD

Pneumonia is always a serious disease, and early treatment is of paramount importance to lessen the severity of the disease and prevent death, is the warning issue by the state health officer.
 A person previously well may develop pneumonia suddenly, but most often it occurs in persons who have, or who recently have had cold. Yet many people do not take the cold seriously enough. Suspect every cold. Go to bed immediately if you have fever with a cold, call your physician, and do exactly what he says. By intelligently following your physician's advice at the beginning of an attack, you may ward the after effects which so often follow neglected colds—pneumonia among them.
 Almost any part of the air passage may sometimes be attacked by bacteria. When the nose is affected we call the condition a cold. The tissues of the nose react to such infection by profuse mucous discharge or mucous liquid. This discharge is really an attempt on the part of the body to get rid of the germs and their poisons. In the infection is lower down, it causes a sore throat. If the voice box is affected, the condition is called laryngitis. If the germs reach the bronchi, the disease is known as bronchitis. Thus it may be seen that the common cold may be the beginning of one of the most serious complications of the respiratory tract.
 These respiratory diseases may be avoided many times by establishing individual health measures. Help prevent colds and pneumonia by proper personal hygiene. Eat moderately, drink plenty of pure water, and sleep 8 to 10 hours every night with windows open. Do not allow the temperature of your home or working place to exceed 70 degrees Fahrenheit. Wash your hands frequently, especially before eating. Take some exercise out of doors every day, but avoid fatigue and unnecessary exposure to cold weather and rain.
 Watch your health habits and avoid a cold if possible—but if colds develop, take care of them and avoid complications of pneumonia.

ANNUAL MUSIC FESTIVALS FOR HIGH SCHOOLS

President Wm. F. Kraushaar of Texas Lutheran college announces that the Fourth Annual Music Festival for South Texas high schools will be held at Seguin April 29 and 30 and May 1. This Music Festival will include thirty different contests—in voice, piano, string, wind, and percussion instruments for bands, orchestras, glee clubs, pep squads and drum and bugle corps.
 The contest is limited to high schools having an enrollment not exceeding 500 and the Inter-scholastic rules will determine eligibility.
 The Seguin chamber of commerce will provide all cups and medals as well as free lodging and breakfast for contestants who travel more than 50 miles. The contest will be held in four auditoriums of Seguin. Special features of the Festival are the two concerts by the winners assisted by a band and acapella choir of Texas Lutheran college. Last year thirty-five high schools were represented, sending 2,500 entries. This has become one of the largest musical festivals within the state.

COOKING HINTS

Vegetables play an important part in the diet of young and old. They are rich in vitamins, and should be cooked in such a way that none of the rich minerals are lost.
 Put vegetables on to cook in boiling water. Be sure they boil constantly, but not too vigorously. Use a teaspoon of salt to each quart of water, but do not add salt until the vegetables are almost done as salt is believed to harden tissue.
 Mild juice vegetables should be cooked tender in a small amount of water with the cover ajar. There should be very little water left when cooking is finished, and as often as possible this should be evaporated so that its food content will be taken up by the vegetable. Tomatoes will cook in their own juice without the addition of water. Spinach will cook in water that is left on the leaves after it is washed.
 Strong juiced vegetables such as cabbage, onions, cauliflower, turnips and Brussels sprouts, should be cooked in larger amounts of water without a cover, to allow the volatile oils to escape in order to reduce the flavor and to retain the color.
 Escalloped cabbage: 4c cabbage, 1c buttered crumbs, 2T butter, 2T flour, 1t salt, 1-8t pepper, 1c milk, 1-2c liquid from cabbage. Cut cabbage into quarters. Cook in an uncovered kettle in a large amount of boiling salted water for eight to ten minutes or until nearly tender, and then drain. Spread 1-4c buttered crumbs in the bottom of the baking dish, cut cabbage into small pieces and put one half of it into the baking dish, then add another c crumbs and the remaining cabbage. Over this pour a white sauce made from butter, flour, salt, pepper, milk and liquid from the cabbage. Sprinkle the rest of the crumbs over the top. Bake in a slow oven until the crumbs are browned on top. serve hot.
 Brussels sprouts: Remove wilted leaves and soak the sprouts in cold salted water (1T salt to a quart of water). Cook until tender and dress with melted butter, white sauce or Hollandaise sauce. A quart serves six.
 Hollandaise sauce: 1-2c butter, 2 egg yolks, 1T lemon juice, 1-2c boiling water, 1-4t salt, 1t sugar. Wash butter. To one-third add egg yolk and lemon juice. Cook

TALK ABOUT CLOTHES

Now is the time to buy unusual prints, for the first showings are undeniably the best finds. The procrastinating shopper always looks in vain three months hence for the dazzling new things that are so plentiful now. Whether silk, cotton, or linen, girls at Texas College for Women believe these current attractions are well worth buying.
 Clever fingers are sewing more this year than ever before. Printed silk dresses are simple of silhouette, need no trimming and fulfill the desire for something bright and colorful to revive a jaded winter wardrobe.
 Two prints have made headlines, one the old-fashioned nosegay print, complete to the paper frill and narrow bow giving the bouquet; the other, the tulip frock splashed with long stemmed garden-sized flowers. Nothing demure or contained about either of these outstanding favorites.
 Simple daytime dresses found in one shop feature glowing realistic colors that add mightily to anyone's yen to get away from light, snow and winter. With light-colored prints to satisfy the gadabouts, stay-at-homes can feel almost as giddy and just as colorful in their darker prints.

Don't Scratch—Paracide Ointment is guaranteed to relieve any form of Itch or Eczema, ringworm or other itching skin irritation or your money will be promptly refunded. Large jar 50c at Clements Drug Store.

ANOTHER PUSH

However busy our people are, the wind reverts again and again to the devastation and suffering caused by raging flood waters which at this time is the prime concern of the whole nation. I am sure that we haven't heard of such pitiable conditions caused by water since Noah's flood. Really it's blessed for others of us to have our abode on higher ground with home comforts where raging torrents do not molest. The more than a million people left homeless, foodless and penniless, is a test of our care and feelings toward the needy and helpless. But thanks to the good Lord the people from one edge of the nation to the other edge are acting the part of a brother. Our own Mills county should not cease its efforts under a thousand dollars donation. Let's not grow tired and careless under the enormity of the challenge.

I am glad that our good friend Rev. J. K. Beery said just what he did in last week's article in connection with his reference to the destructive flood. What he said was altogether Biblical and Christian-like. Our Heavenly Father with holds many explanations from us in order that we may walk by faith. "And think ye that those upon whom the tower of Salome fell and slew were sinners above all theirs. I tell you no. But except we repent ye shall all likewise perish." SAM SAY.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Dew spent Wednesday in Temple visiting friends.

Doris Childress was the victim of a very painful accident this week which caused her to miss school for several days.

Mrs. H. B. Johnson returned Wednesday from a visit with her daughter in Big Spring. They have moved Mrs. Evans to San Angelo and she is getting along nicely.

Elliott Roosevelt of Fort Worth, son of President Franklin D. Roosevelt, is a full-fledged citizen of Texas, for Wednesday Governor James D. Allred sent his name to the senate for confirmation as a director of the A. & M. college. — Semi-Weekly Farm News.

UNIVERSITY STUDENTS EARN THEIR EXPENSES

Exactly 55 per cent of the entire student body at the University of Texas, or four thousand, six hundred and four students, earned all or part of their expenses for the 1935-36 session, according to the registrar's report for last year. These young men and young women either worked while going to school or earned before entering the University at least a portion of the funds necessary for their year's schooling.

The largest percentage of working students were men, 69.1 per cent of them, or 3,913, earning all or part of their expenses. A total of 691 women, or 25.6 per cent, likewise worked their way through school. Of both men and women students, nearly half of the working group supported themselves entirely. A total of 1,926 men and 312 women earned all of their 1935-36 expenses.

FOUR-H CLUB MEETING

The Big Valley 4-H club met January 19 in the high school room and in a very enthusiastic meeting organized for the year 1937. Plans were made to make our work more effective and worth something to our community as well as ourselves. We hereby serve notice to the other clubs of the county that we are offering competition for the trophy presented in the county for this work.

A public meeting for the installation of our new officers is planned for the near future. We also have some new members to initiate. We have scheduled a meeting with Mr. Weaver, county agent, to study dairy cattle judging. This meeting will be at the farm of our sponsor, Eric D. Roberson.

We also hope to influence and help in the organization of a community club which will include every farmer in our community. If we know anything that will raise the standard of living in our community why not give it to the community; if we do not know anything, why not get together and try to learn, and have some wholesome recreation in the process of learning.

Our officers and members are as follows: President, Hubert Stark; vice-president, Mary Hapgood; secretary, Estelle Miller; reporter, Lucy Thompson; sponsor, Mr. Roberson. Members: Cartwright Oglesby, Veseva Sellers, L. E. Dupuy, Jr., Shirley Mullins, Jessie Mae Sheppard, Mary Beth Miller, Johnny M. Woods, Deward Woods, Donald Oglesby and Billye Daniel. REPORTER.

ON PAROLE

It is small wonder that George Daffron, Indiana robber, kidnaper, gunman and burglar, was pictured as showing "little concern" when Indiana State Police interrupted his career of crime. His record explains his nonchalance. In December, 1929, Daffron was sentenced to 2 to 14 years for conspiring to commit a felony in Indiana. In February 1932, he was released on parole. In October 1932, he was convicted at Madisonville, Ky., on a charge of automobile theft and highway robbery and sentenced to two years in the State Penitentiary. In October 1933, he was released on parole. At the start of 1934, back in Indiana, he was convicted on a charge of burglary and sentenced to a year in the Indiana Reformatory. He was sentenced also to complete the 2 to 14 year term under which he obtained his first parole. But in March 1934, he was released on parole. Getting caught again naturally would seem amusing, under the circumstances.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

WELCOME EXPANSION

The $70,000,000 improvement program of the Nation's railroads for 1937 not only reflects the general pick-up of all industry, but presages a spread of this increased business far beyond the steel mills, machine shops and allied heavy manufacturing which actually produce it. How much the rail rehabilitation project is attributable to greater use already resulting from lowered rates and trucking experiments, and how much to prospects or hopes of gains yet to come, is not made known. Yet whatever the cause, and despite the encroachment of motor vehicles, the railroads remain a yardstick of our national enterprise and it is therefore reassuring that they see fit at this time to announce further tremendous investments which can so tangibly stimulate other fields.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Most people would succeed in small things if they were not troubled with great ambitions.—Longfellow.

COOK PORK WELL IN ORDER TO SAVE YOUR HEALTH

Trichinosis, a disease caused by eating pork which has not been thoroughly cooked, is far from an uncommon infection in man, is a warning issued by Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer.

During the winter season pork and pork products are more freely used, and a warning against insufficient cooking of them is in order, as the danger of eating pork that is not thoroughly cooked is indicated by the increasing number of cases of this disease being reported.

If pork is cooked thoroughly, there is no danger from its use save the danger of eating too much of a meat which is more or less difficult of digestion due to its high fat content. Pork, showing a slight red or pink, is a warning signal that this is dangerous to eat for it may contain trichinae which have escaped destruction by insufficient cooking of the meat and thus give the careless consumer the disease trichinosis.

No method of meat inspection will invariably discover the presence of these parasites. It is next to impossible to detect infested hog flesh by inspection for two reasons: (1) the cysts are extremely small, (2) they are of the same color as muscle tissue in which they are imbedded. These larvae are encysted in the lean portion of the pork ready to develop in the stomach of the person who eats the meat. Heating the meat to 145 degrees Fahrenheit, the temperature used in the pasteurization of milk, will destroy the parasites. But there is often the danger of not maintaining this temperature inside of the meat. Outer portions of the meat may appear well cooked while the inner part is quite raw and will retain the living parasites. Especially is this true
