

THE GOLDTHWAITE EAGLE

GOLDTHWAITE, MILLS COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY, JUNE 4, 1937

NUMBER FORTY-ONE

Social Security Representative Here

Social Security was the subject of discussion in numerous interviews in Goldthwaite Wednesday, June 2, by Charles W. von Rosenberg, field officer of the Social Security Board at Austin. Mr. von Rosenberg spent Wednesday in Goldthwaite helping people who were in any way confused over the program. He particularly discussed the Old-Age Benefits program.

The Old Age benefits program applies to establishments with only one employe the same as to large firms, von Rosenberg said.

Benefits are based on wages received, and beginning next July each employer will be required to make a simple report to the Bureau of Internal Revenue on every person who has worked regularly, part time, or temporarily, since Jan. 1. The report will show name, address, account number, wages paid, date of payment and period of service covered. From the employers' reports on wages paid, the employes' wages will be posted to their Social Security accounts, and their monthly benefits when they reach age of 65 and retire will be paid on the basis of the wages credited.

In view of these informational returns, the first of which will be made in July (and quarterly thereafter) it will be seen that employers should now be keeping records, von Rosenberg said, showing for each person who has worked since the beginning of 1937 the name, address, account number, wages paid, date of payment, and period of service covered. Employers who have kept such records will find it easy to make up the simple information return, but the employe who is not keeping records may find it difficult in making up his report.

Marine Corps to Enlist New Men

U. S. Marine Corps will enlist an unlimited number of men during the month of June 1937, according to Peter Conachy, recruiting officer.

Applicants must be white, 18 to 30 years of age, in good physical condition, of good moral character, not less than 64 inches and not over 74 inches in height. Those under 21 years of age must have consent of parents or guardian.

Young men who desire to study aviation radio mechanics or the commercial field are extended an excellent opportunity to do so through duty with trade organizations; by enrollment in the trade subject correspondence course in the Marine Corps Institute; or in the schools maintained by the Marine Corps. Those seeking travel and adventure may request duty aboard ship or in one of the several foreign countries where marines are stationed.

Apply either by letter or in person to Marine Corps Recruiting Office, 822 Allen Building, Dallas Texas.

GOLD DREDGING SOON TO BEGIN IN LLANO

Llano.—Rogers and Black of Llano, who have land along the Sandy Creek in Llano county leased for the purpose of dredging for gold, began this week the installation of dredging equipment and expect to begin operation within 60 or 90 days.

The men, who started testing for gold in Llano county several years ago, recently renewed their leases on the Franklin, Hardin, Allred, Kothmann and Moss ranches in the southern part of Llano county in so far as they cover the bed of Big Sandy and one-half mile on each side, or an area one mile wide and 30 miles long.—Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

Murder-Suicide May Cost Two Lives

Mrs. Mattie England, about 38, was dead Wednesday afternoon, a bullet wound in her forehead, and her husband, J. DeWitt England, about 42, Brownwood, a farmer, was in a critical condition in Medical Arts hospital, also with a bullet wound in his head.

Officers said it was a case of murder and attempted suicide. The shooting occurred about noon in the garden of the farm which the couple rented from Clive Pierce in the Salt Branch community, about ten miles northeast of Brownwood.

C. F. England, Brownwood, brother of DeWitt England, ascribed the shooting to domestic trouble. He said DeWitt England and his wife recently separated.—Brownwood Bulletin.

New Drivers' Law is Passed

Austin.—A remodeled drivers' license law, put in the hands of the public safety department a new weapon for its war against street and highway traffic accidents.

The bill, authorizing suspension or revocation of licenses after a hearing before a court of competent jurisdiction and requiring examination after a 90-day period of all new applicants for licenses, became effective when the governor affixed his signature.

Persons applying for the first time for licenses within the 90-day period can qualify by giving evidence of satisfactory operation of an automobile for at least a year. It was said unofficially that an affidavit to this effect would be sufficient but final determination of policy remained with the Public Safety Commission.

The department must institute revocation proceedings within 20 days after an offense.

Offenses subject to such action were convictions of negligent homicide, driving while intoxicated, failure to render aid and offenses, previously excluded, as follows: responsibility for any accident resulting in death, personal injury to another or ser-

Rev. and Mrs. Beery Have Anniversary

Friends of Rev. and Mrs. J. K. Beery gathered at the Methodist parsonage Wednesday evening after prayer meeting to congratulate this popular couple on attaining their tenth wedding anniversary. A shower of tinware emphasized the fact that it was their tin wedding.

Mrs. R. M. Thompson read an eloquent toast to "Mary (Mrs. Beery)", composed by Mr. Beery, and informal felicitations were extended by everyone.

Delicious punch, served in tin cups with a tin dipper from a tin bucket, and dainty cookies in tin plates were served. The affair was a complete surprise to Mrs. Beery.

Dainty bride and groom stood on a tin altar under a wedding bell in the center of the table while flowers were held in tin receptacles on the four corners of the table.

2 Prisoners Killed In Escape Attempt

Huntsville.—Only one prisoner out of six who shot their way out of the Darrington farm Wednesday night with their guards pistols made good his escape.

Two were shot to death in the gun battle with pickets. Three were immediately recaptured.

Sol Van Dem, up from Harris county on a robbery conviction, and Nathaniel Slaton, Dallas burglar, were slain as they vainly tried to start a truck in which to flee. James Alfred Martin, Harris and Bexar county burglar, was still at large.

Alen Sanford, up for 35 years from Ector county for attempt to attack; Carter Rollins, Tarrant county lifer for murder and Al Showers, Houston, were recaptured. All the convicts were negroes.

Ask Flower Seed For Highways

All who have wildflower seed to spare are asked to give them to the highway department for planting along the state highways in Mills county. John G. Berry, highway superintendent in this county, will appreciate this cooperation and will see that the seed are carefully planted.

Mr. Berry also asks that the people cooperate with the authorities in discouraging the pulling and cutting of flowers and plants along the highways. If the wildflowers that have been planted are allowed to go to seed, there will be many more next year so that in time our highways, instead of bleak, ugly scars across the countryside, will be lanes of loveliness.

Baptist Reminder

We had a good service Sunday morning in spite of the rainy weather. There were two additions to our church. This is the third consecutive Sunday we have had additions.

Sunday morning I will speak on "God's promise of a revival meeting." Sunday evening my subject will be "Watching the Eyes of Jesus."

As I write these words I am attending the evangelistic conference in Fort Worth. There are over a thousand preachers present. This is the greatest meeting I have ever attended anywhere. I have never heard Dr. Truett preach better. He speaks twice each day. I believe this meeting will be the beginning of a new day for Baptists around the world. The purpose of the meeting is to make plans for winning 100,000 souls to Christ this year. I believe an emphasis on evangelism should be sounded everywhere today.

Come and be with us at all our services Sunday. Open air services in the evening at 8:00.—Franklin E. Swanner.

Splendid Rains Drench Mills County

Another heavy downpour of rain accompanied by wind and lightning added 1.45-100 inches to the week's rainfall.

Nearly two inches of rain since Sunday have ended the drouth that was beginning to cause considerable worry. The rain Sunday night as measured by the government gauge at Harry Allen's was 1.43 inches. Wednesday night .34 more fell to complete the soaking of the ground. While the rain will interfere with grain harvesting for a time, it will be of help in every other way.

Swollen by heavy rains around San Angelo, the Colorado river began to rise Tuesday. Unless heavier rains fall this week end, it is not expected to rise enough to cause any damage in this section.

Trainload Flood Victims Rescued

Dalhart, June 2.—Thirty-six passengers on a Fort Worth and Denver train marooned for nearly 24 hours between two flooded streams near Perico, 22 miles northwest of Dalhart, were rescued late Wednesday.

The passengers, who had picnicked on supplies made available by farmers in the vicinity, were placed in wagons and hauled to safety by tractors.

M. C. Collier Home Burns Saturday Night

Fire of unknown origin destroyed the house occupied by M. C. Collier Saturday night. The home was located in the north section of Goldthwaite out of reach of hose lines from the nearest fire hydrant.

The Methodist Church

"Lest we forget, lest we forget." I wonder if we are as thankful as we should be for the blessings that are constantly coming into our lives. "Every good gift, and every perfect gift cometh down from the Father." Have we been as thankful as we should have been for the recent rain? Standing on the top of the Cheviot Hill, his little son's hands closed in his, a father taught the truth of God's boundless love. Pointing northward over Scotland, and southward over England, and eastward over the German Ocean, and westward over the hill and dale, and then, sweeping his hand around the whole circling horizon, he said, "Johnny, my boy, God's love is as big as all that." "Why, father," the boy replied with sparkling eyes, "then we must be in the middle of it." Sometimes people complain even when in the middle of God's richest blessings. Why not stop occasionally and "count your blessings."

Remember the revival meeting to begin Sunday, June 13. Dr. Virgil Fisher of First Church of Austin will be with us through two weeks. We trust the meeting shall be a blessing to the whole community.

Sunday school 9:45 a.m. Look at the attendance card as you come in.

Lightning Stroke Shorts Light Wires

During the electrical storm preceding the rain Sunday night, light wires at the Goldthwaite grammar school building were struck by lightning. No damage was done, but the current was grounded and traveled through the earth to the home of M. Y. Stokes, Jr., several hundred yards away. A brilliant electrical display from the water pipes there made it necessary to shut off the lights in this section of town for an hour. No one was injured and no damage of consequence resulted.

Buchanan Dam Nears Completion

Austin.—A baby that will be a giant some day was bubbling and stretching in the joy of new life.

It was Lake Buchanan, now about 20 feet deep, three or four miles long and perhaps half a mile wide. In the future, it will be 23 miles long, 8 miles wide and 142 feet deep.

It came into being when flood waters from the hills, rushing to the Colorado river after heaving rains, reached Buchanan Dam, which had been closed except for valves to permit normal flow. The newly formed lake was rising at the rate of a foot an hour.

Final touches were being put on the top of the dam, one of the longest of its type in the world, slightly more than two miles.

Engineers said the big pond would save property and lives on the Colorado from the dam to the Gulf of Mexico. The river, frequently whipped into fury from huge overloads of water, has taken a property toll of about $4,000,000 annually and four to five lives.

The lake is but one of several links in the Colorado river authority's $20,000,000 flood control program. Three miles below it lies the Roy Inks Dam, 65 feet high and nearly completed.

Another check on the river's wanton forces is the Marshall Ford dam, a $10,000,000 structure 190 feet high and 4,000 feet long. It will form another placid lake with an irregular shoreline equal in length to that of Texas Gulf coast. Workmen are speeding construction on the span located 18 miles above Austin.

The authority and the city of Austin have begun negotiations for rehabilitation of the Austin city dam, fourth bulwark flood waters would have to meet on their Gulfward way.—Star-Telegram.

NEAR SERIOUS AUTO WRECK

Hon. Tolbert Patterson enroute to Star Friday from Austin where he is attending the called session of the legislature, was in an auto wreck near Lampasas.

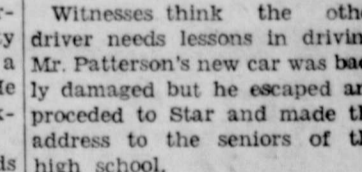

He saw another car approaching at a dangerous rate and he went into the ditch, probably saving his life, but it was impossible to avoid the inevitable collision.

Witnesses think the other driver needs lessons in driving. Mr. Patterson's new car was badly damaged but he escaped and proceeded to Star and made the address to the seniors of the high school.

T. P. A. to Meet in Brownwood in June

Brownwood, June 3.—Plans for entertainment and business programs of the 58th annual convention of the Texas Press Association to be held here June 10-12 are being completed by Brownwood Chamber of Commerce officials, local newspapermen and officials of the association. More than 650 persons, including members of the association, honorary members, guests and others from the allied printing trades and industries are expected to attend.

Entertainment features will include golf tournaments Thursday and Friday afternoons, side trips to nearby towns Thursday afternoon, floor show and dance Thursday night, trip to Lake Brownwood and dinner in Lake Brownwood State Park Friday afternoon and night.

Business sessions will be held Thursday, Friday and Saturday mornings. Outstanding speakers will appear on these programs.

Will H. Mayes, Austin, former Lieutenant governor and former president of the State Press organization, will make the welcoming address Thursday morning. Mr. Mayes was in the newspaper business here when this town last entered the State Press group 32 years ago, and was the program, reception and entertainment committee for that meeting.

More than 25 newspapers in this section are cooperating with Brownwood Chamber of Commerce officials in plans for the convention and a representative from each will be on the reception committee for the meeting. H. H. Jackson, publisher of the Coleman Democratic-Voice, is president of the association.

Frank Cates, Bartlett newspaperman, who attended his first press association meeting in Brownwood 32 years ago, has notified officials of the association that he will attend this year's meeting in "the City of Standpipes." Several other old timers who attended that first Brownwood meeting will be here June 10-12.

Brownwood has changed much in the 32 years since the Texas Press Association met here. The ramshackle Crown Hotel was the convention headquarters. Convention sessions were held in the K. of P. hall, which was the largest building in town. This year the convention will be taken care of in modern hotels and hold their meetings in large auditoriums.

INTERESTING RELICS

Roscoe.—A brass hackle more than 310 years old is in the possession of Mrs. J. P. Jobb, a resident here. The earliest date that can be found concerning the instrument is 1627 when a Mrs. Mary Scott used it to handle flax in Ireland. The hackle is used to comb out flax as cotton cards comb out cotton.

The heirloom was brought to America in 1646 and is believed to be the only one in the United States.

Mrs. Scott, finding that flax was unknown in America, decided upon a unique way to hand it down from generation to generation. She decreed that it should follow the name "Mary." At present there is one other Mary in the family, Miss Mary Emma Lou Burrus, who lives in Littlefield. She is to have the hackle next.

Another interesting heirloom in the Jobb family is a 150-year old razor in the possession of James Jobb. It was made in Sheffield, England.

Health-Wrecking Functional PAINS

Severe functional pains of menstruation, cramping spells and jangled nerves soon rob a woman of her natural, youthful freshness. PAIN lines in a woman's face too often grow into AGE lines!

Thousands of women have found it helpful to take Cardul. They say it seemed to ease their pains and they noticed an increase in their appetites and finally a strengthened resistance to the discomfort of monthly periods.

Try Cardul. Of course if it doesn't help you, see your doctor.

Now that the coronation of the new King of England is over and the formal announcement of the date for the Duke of Windsor's marriage to Mrs. Wallis Warfield has been set for June 3, it would seem about time for the "dear public" to withdraw its continued attempts to manage their business for them. Latest reports say that on account of the continued opposition to the marriage plans the Duke has

Read Amendments Carried in Eagle

The Eagle is carrying three of the proposed amendments to the constitution to be voted on by the people of Texas at an election to be held Monday, Aug. 23.

Every person should read them carefully so as to know whether he favors all or any of them. Too many voters just take a stand against amendments without studying their virtues, but the past few years time has been given to their study and the majority have been made a part of the constitution.

The proposed amendments carried in The Eagle are:

S. J. R. No. 9, providing that the legislature shall authorize the incorporation of banking signed a document making his fiancée his sole heir to his entire fortune, which is estimated at about $2,500,000 in addition to estates, jewels and other assets whose value cannot be guessed.

bodies and provide for the supervision and regulation of the same, providing for all the capital stock to be subscribed and paid for before the charter is issued; restricting foreign corporations from doing banking business, restricting corporate business to one place.

H. J. R. No. 6, which would provide assistance to the needy blind over 21 years of age and for the payment of same not to exceed $15 per month, and providing for the acceptance from the United States financial aid to such blind.

S. J. R. No. 16, which would permit Harris county and road districts therein to adopt a plan for construction of paved roads and bridges, or both, providing for the levy of a tax to pay for such construction, etc.

There are three other amendments carried in the Mullin Enterprise. A careful study of these will prepare one for voting intelligently.

activities of the state's oil industry is shown herewith.

Mr. Royall stated that the income of the Texas oil industry is not taken outside of the state as many people believe, but is actually spent within the state. "Some idea of the huge expenditures made by the oil industry in Texas," said Mr. Royall, "may be gained from the industry's official figures for last year. Among the principal expenditures were: Payrolls $160,000,000; lease rentals and lease bonuses paid to Texas landowners $50,000,000; royalty payments $35,000,000; freight charges paid to Texas railroads $20,000,000; purchases of equipment and supplies $130,000,000; expenditures for contract drilling and teaming $51,000,000; taxes paid to the state and counties $85,000,000." He cited the fact that more money has been put into the development of Texas oil than has actually been taken out of it, stating that for every dollar received from the sale of crude oil $1.12 has been put back into new developments.

ROCK SPRINGS

We extend our sympathy to Milton Collier and family in the loss of their household goods, which burned Sunday morning, also to those who have lost their loved ones in death.

The new writer from Rabbit Ridge had lots of news from there. Keep us posted about everybody.

Our light shower and the northern Saturday afternoon made people crawl in their coats and then some shivered.

Wasn't it nice to see such a large number graduate this year? We are very proud of our boys and girls, especially our boys.

Those youngsters at Center Point certainly did put on their play fine Thursday night.

I was asked in town Saturday how I liked the recital at the school house Friday night. Well, I really enjoyed it, but after eating such a fine supper I really didn't have energy enough to clap my hands.

Friday morning Mrs. Tom Collier called me to come to our annual picnic at Judge Gerald's home. It was so rainy looking, so we just served our supper under the oak tree west of Mr. Gerald's house. There was quite a crowd to enjoy the feast such as potato chips, pickles, weenies, bread, onions, cakes, ice cream and a fine drink. We had a new member, Mrs. Henry. We welcome her. After supper croquet was played in the yard. We all left early as some wanted to go to the show and others to the school house.

SCREW WORM CONTROL WORK TO BE REDUCED

During the past year men were employed locally by the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine in cooperation with county agricultural agents to assist farmers and stockmen in adopting good methods of preventing screw worms and in reducing screw worm cases in livestock. As a result of this work, screw worm were not permitted to build up a big population and losses among livestock were materially reduced.

Since the screw worm control work is now being curtailed, L. L. Brock, who has been serving in Mills and Hamilton counties, will continue his work until June 24. After that time, no requests should be made for his services in connection with demonstrations and meetings.

Dealers are now purchasing benzol and pine tar oil to be sold to stockmen and all stock owners are urged to buy and keep on hand sufficient quantities of the materials to heal cases and prevent screw worms. If unusual numbers of screw worm cases occur in any locality and there is urgent need for additional information on control of the pest, stock owners should report these facts through the county agent to the Division of Screw Worm Control, 1010 Travis Building, San Antonio, Texas.

Mr. Brock wishes to take this opportunity to thank the people of Mills and Hamilton counties for their splendid cooperation in the work.

KEESLER-McARTHUR

A wedding of interest to some of Mills county's people was that of Miss Alma McArthur to Harry Keesler; which took place at Zephyr Sunday, May 23, in the presence of a few friends.

Miss McArthur is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom McArthur of the Caradan community and an accomplished young lady. She is a graduate of Daniel Baker College, Brownwood, and has taught school for several years. She taught at Mt. Olive in this county before going to Zephyr, where she has been teaching the past four years.

The bride wore a blue satin frock with white accessories. Mr. Keesler is the oldest son of Mrs. Keesler of Zephyr. He graduated from the Zephyr high school and attended one of the local colleges in Brownwood. He is a very industrious young man. He has been connected with an oil company for several years.

WEANING IS A HARD JOB

The Roosevelt administration right now is facing its hardest task. When the president took office and found all banks closed, millions of people jobless and destitute, he rightly and courageously opened the treasury of the United States to aid the destitute.

For five years now, the spigot has been opened wide. All the money that has been received in taxes has been spent and billions of borrowed dollars besides.

Now that conditions are improving, now that more people have jobs, the administration is trying to turn the faucet off. But even though the shutting-off is to be gradual, a determined howl of opposition has come from congress.

Every congressman is perfectly willing for the president to economize, in fact thinks that it is the only sane thing to do, until some of the measures affect his own congressional district. Then he begins to howl.

In many sections of the country there are actually more people on relief now than there were in the depths of depression. And every effort to remove them is stoutly opposed.

Even here in Mills county there are instances of people getting relief who could get along without it, and Mills county has had the smallest percentage of its citizens on relief of any county in this section of Texas.

The older a calf gets, the harder it is to wean. Some of these five-year-olds already feel that the cow belongs to them.

HAVE A HEART

Suppose you had taken a lot of trouble to plant flower seed, had watched the plants grow, had cared for them through the drouth, and then, just as they started to bloom, someone came along and pulled them.

That would be pretty discouraging for you, wouldn't it? And it is pretty discouraging for the men in the State Highway Department who plant flowers and shrubs along the highways and find them cut or pulled by people who do not respect the rights of others.

You people who are reading this editorial are not the ones at fault. Intelligent, educated people are not usually selfish or lawbreakers. You are probably just as indignant about this trespassing on our highways as the men who have seen their hard work go for naught. But you can help. When you see anyone pulling flowers on the highways, you can stop them. You can call their attention to the fact that they are not only breaking a state law, but that they are depriving other travelers of enjoying the natural beauty of native flowers along the roads. When you see someone with a big bunch of wildflowers, find out if they were plucked from the roadside.

There are only a few people, comparatively, who are so callous and selfish as to break this sensible law. They can be stopped if the rest of us, the honest, law-abiding, nature-loving majority, will let them know that we disapprove of their actions.

And if that doesn't work, report them to the highway authorities.

The highways and the flowers on them belong to all of the people. Let us protect our rights.

FARM INCOME RISING

In addition to larger receipts from marketings this year, the farmers have received a substantial increase in benefit payments from the Government, according to the Alexander Hamilton Institute. Benefit payments in March amounted to $111,000,000 this year as against $15,000,000 last year. For the first quarter, these payments totalled $206,000,000 as compared with only $16,000,000 a year ago.

Benefit payments raised the farmers' total income in March to $707,000,000. This represented an increase of 36 per cent over the $520,000,000 received in the same month last year. Total farm cash income, including benefit payments, in the first quarter amounted to $1,945,000,000 as against $1,520,000,000 a year ago, an increase of 28 per cent.

If the increase in total farm income over a year ago which occurred in March should be maintained during the remainder of 1937, the annual farm income this year would amount to $10,574,000,000 as compared with $7,865,000,000 last year and with $4,328,000,000 at the low for the depression in 1932. It would exceed the income of $10,479,000,000 in the pre-depression year of 1929.

Manufacturing activity rose in March to a new peak for the recovery movement. The index of factory output was 122 in March as compared with 118 in February and with 97 in March last year. The production of manufactured goods in March was 25.8 per cent larger than a year ago. As compared with the low for the depression in July 1932 when the index was 55, the increase in March amounted to 121.8 per cent.

Manufacturing recovery is already here.

Why Wilkins Bought a Safety Razor

By IRVIN S. COBB

FROM the lowlands a special judge was sent up to the Arkansas mountains to try a lot of murder cases growing out of a desperate and bloody feud. He took with him as his official stenographer a young man from Little Rock, who dressed smartly and, in strong contrast to the silent mountaineers, did quite a good deal of talking. For convenience let us call him Wilkins.

On his first Sunday morning in the mountain hamlet Wilkins felt the need of a shave. He had no razor and there was no regular barber in the town; but he learned from the hotelkeeper that there was an old cobbler living a few doors away who sometimes shaved transients.

Wilkins went to look for the cobbler. In a tiny shop he found an elderly native with straggly chin whiskers and a mild blue eye. The old chap got out an ancient razor from somewhere, stropped it deliberately and was soon scrapping away on the patron's jaws. Wilkins felt the desire for a little conversation stealing over him.

"This is a mighty lawless country up here, ain't it?" he began in the way of opening up some conversation.

"I don't know," said the old chap mildly. "Things is purty quiet jist at present."

He paused to put a keener edge on his blade, then went on.

"Well," said Wilkins, "you won't deny, I suppose, that you have a lot of murders in this town?"

"We don't gin'rally speak of 'em as murders," said the old man in a tone of gentle reproof. "Up here we just calls 'em killin's."

"I'd call 'em murders, all right," said Wilkins briskly. "If shooting a man down in cold blood from ambush isn't murder, than I don't know a murder when I see one, that's all. When was the last man killed, as you call it, here in this town?"

"Why, last week," said the patriarch.

"Whereabouts was he killed?" continued Wilkins.

"Right out yonder in the street in front of this here shop," stated the old man, with the air of one desiring to turn the conversation.

"Razor hurt you much?"

"The razor's all right," said Wilkins snappily. "What I want to know are the facts about the killing of this last man. Who killed him?"

The cobbler let the edge of the razor linger right over the Adam's apple of the inquiring stranger for a fleeting moment.

"I done so," he said gently.

There was where the conversation seemed to begin to languish.

In this column answers will be given to inquiries as to Texas history and other matters pertaining to the state and its people. Address inquiries to Will H. Mayes, Austin, Texas

Q. What is the area of the Angelina County National Forest and what reforestation work is being done there?

A. The National forest in Angelina county contains 8,000 acres and CCC employes have planted 6,500,000 seedling pines within that area during the last season under the direction of the national forestry organization.

Q. Who was Capt. James Gillespie, in whose memory a monument has been erected recently at Huntsville?

A. Capt. James Gillespie (also spelled Gillaspie) was born in Virginia, Jan. 5, 1905, and came to Texas in 1835. Enlisting as a Texas volunteer at Nacogdoches Jan. 14, 1836, he was elected first lieutenant on Capt. Joseph L. Bennett's company, Feb. 1. He was promoted April 8, to the captaincy and commanded a company at San Jacinto. He was a lieutenant-colonel in the United States-Mexican war, and raised a company for the Confederacy, being stationed on Galveston island. Was superintendent of the penitentiary at Huntsville from 1850 to 1858 and again from May 1867 until his death Oct. 3, 1867.

Q. How many pounds of wild flower seed have been sown on the highways of Texas in the past three years?

A. It has been estimated that since the highway improvement movement began in 1933 under direction of Jac. L. Gubbels, about 20 tons of seeds have been sown along Texas highways by the state highway department, the garden clubs and various other organizations interested in highway beautification.

Q. Was the Republic of Texas the first county to use the Lone Star as its emblem?

A. Texas cannot claim originality in the use of the Lone Star, as it was the ancient symbol of India, Persia, and Egypt, indicative of the sole dominion and sovereignty of those countries. In the United States flag each star stands for a separate state, signifying complete union with the other states.

HOW FAST IS SPEEDING?

"Speeding" is a much used word, which may be interpreted in many ways in the traffic of the country. The regulations fix speed limits for travel in incorporated towns and on highways, but it is coming to be generally recognized that "speeding" is not merely a violation of these limitations. Speeding means, essentially, driving that is too fast; and a speed which is reasonable in some circumstances is excessive in others. It is up to the patrolmen and the courts, apparently, to determine the issue in each individual case.

On well constructed highways that are reasonably clear of traffic, a car in good mechanical condition may be safely driven at greater than the 45 mile speed limit by a competent driver. On the same highways, when traffic is heavy or either the car or the driver defective, 30 miles per hour may be excessive speed. In city streets, where the legal limit is 20 miles per hour, that limit may not be safely reached if the street is narrow, with many intersections or heavy traffic or if there are other conditions creating hazards. In other streets that are wide, with few intersections and with lighter traffic, a speed of 30 miles per hour is usually safe.

The point of the whole matter seems to be that the automobile driver must think more of traffic conditions in which he finds himself than of the speedometer in front of him. There is no arbitrary rule as to speed. Sometimes it is actually dangerous to drive too slowly in the midst of rapidly moving traffic. The objective of traffic safety can be achieved only by the exercise of common sense in any and all conditions that may arise. — Brownwood Bulletin.

ON DISCOVERING THE WORLD

Denver Arbogast, 14, has just discovered the world which most of us know, and so he may fairly be classified with the other great discoverers of history, Columbus, Magellan, Cabot, Vesputi, Captain Cook.

Denver lives in the West Virginia mountains some 20 miles from the small town of Durbin. On Feb. 26, there was a blizzard in that part of the country. Denver's father and seven brothers and sisters were ill with influenza. His mother had just given birth to another child. Food and help were needed and Denver went six miles to the nearest telephone. So he was brought to New York to participate in a radio dramatization of his exploit.

Imagine the sensations of a boy who had never seen a city in his life, who had never ridden in a railroad train, who had never seen the great waters, to whom the word skyscraper was merely a word. He is cramming into his hours the experience of a lifetime; more than that even, the progression of the centuries. He is learning at one blink what it has taken the rest of us many years to know. Let's hope he will be happier for it. But he had the makings of a hero before he discovered the outside world.—Brooklyn Eagle.

COSTLY BUCK-PASSING

Now it is Congress which is trying to pass the buck of economy back to the President. For, while Congress collectively wants less spending and is opposed to the President's budget, because it does not cut appropriations enough, each congressman separately wants all the spending possible done in his district. He knows his constituents will reward him, in exact measure of what he "gets for" them, and that they do not care what is spent or not spent in any other district. He also knows that the only voters who can send him back are those of his own district, and that no national reputation for economy could gain him one vote at home, while "bringing home the bacon" locally, is a sure thing for reelection. Therefore if he wants his $10,000 a year the surest way to get it is to vote away $10,000,000,000 of the people's money in order to get $100,000 for a new postoffice in Bingville.

So long as the chief move in the game of government is passing the buck this is the sort of government we will have.—San Francisco Chronicle.

INCOME TAX RECORD

While Texas' rank in income tax returns does not quite equal its rank among the states in population, returns made in this state last year set a ten-year high. This record speaks both for the returning prosperity of the Southwest and for the effectiveness of the income tax drag-net. If England's experience is any guide, we are likely to have higher income tax rates and lower exemption levels within another decade. Of the whole population of Texas, only 135,739 returned income tax reports last year; and many of these paid no tax.

Even if the federal budget be balanced promptly by the present economy drive, which is extremely doubtful, the enormous public debt that has been piled up must be paid off by taxation. The income tax which now provides the bulk of federal revenue is the source most likely to be tapped for debt retirement. In the lower brackets, our income tax is only about one-fifth as high as England's.

Although any kind of tax is unpleasant to the man who pays it, the income tax evokes fewer wails than the property tax. It represents a fairer assessment and it offers fewer means of evasion. There is no controversial problem of valuation and no payment on frozen assets. If they could be sure that a state income tax would replace the present property tax, instead of adding to it, most Texas taxpayers probably would welcome such a levy, despite the fact that it would duplicate the federal tax already collected.

The only effective way to keep taxes from mounting to more burdensome levels is for every citizen to think of taxes whenever he is tempted to ask Uncle Sam for a place at the gray bowl. It is replenishing this gray bowl that costs the taxpayers a large part of their levy.—Dallas News.

Extensive use is being made of the new cut-off road which connects Fisk street and highways north and west at the "Y." Building of the dump was completed recently, and during the week Mayor W. H. Thompson, who has taken active charge of the work, had the new highway dragged and smoothed. Mayor Thompson plans to surface the new highway as early as possible which will give Brownwood another paved outlet. The road promises to become one of the most used of the highway entrances to the city, affording a second and shorter route to the business district from many of the existing paved highways.

Captain C. M. O'Brian, district adjutant, and Captain Shipley, district veterinarian, of the district CCC offices of Fort Worth were only slightly injured when their car was side-swiped by another on the Blanket-Comanche detour Wednesday afternoon. The two officers were returning to Fort Worth after spending the day inspecting the Brownwood and Lake Brownwood CCC camps.

Fred Parker said that his wife was killed by a kick on the head by a horse, then admitted that he struck her "in a fit of rage." "I have taken a life that I can't give back, and I am willing to take the punishment that the jury says I deserve. I am sorry, I don't want to go through the terrible ordeal of another trial," Parker stated at his trial in Brady.

Brownwood, after taking a brief breathing period after the season reported here is that of R. Thornton. Mr. Thornton had 75 acres in oats and averaged 45 bushels to the acre yield. Leaders Urge More Horses and Mules

Stockmen and farmers of Texas, after careful study, have learned that Texas will have to breed and produce the horses and mules needed on Texas farms. So the leaders in this important industry have organized the Texas Horse, Jack and Mule Breeders' Association and are determined to restore the horse and mule industry from its present alarming condition. Three principal speakers at a big meeting in Fort Worth are, left to right, John W. Carpenter, Dallas; C. W. Green, Sedalia, Mo., and B. A. Skipper, Jr., of Encino. Skipper is president and Carpenter vice president of the association. Carpenter said: "I have imported 200 jacks into Texas during the past four years and the demand continues. But there are no more where these came from. If we are to supply the demand, we must breed them here in Texas. As I see things now, there will continue to be a shortage of mules for at least 10 years." Carpenter, who was born and raised on a Navarro county farm, operates a big stock ranch in Dallas county as well as farms in other parts of the state.

Dowling Monument Is Dedicated

Seventy-four years ago, Sept. 8, 1863, Lieut. Dick Dowling, a young officer of the Confederacy, and his company of 47 "fighting Irishmen" with two small cannons in a mud fort hidden in the reeds along the water's edge of the Sabine river at Sabine Pass sank two warships of the American Union, took 350 prisoners and prevented the capture of Southeastern Texas by the Union flotilla, which was blockading the Texas coast.

Today on the site of the old fort a beautiful 7-foot bronze statue resting on a broad base of Texas granite stands guard over the ship channel to the sea where vessels from almost every port in the world pass daily. This piece of art was sculptured by Herring Coe of Beaumont and is pronounced one of the finest examples of the art done in Texas in recent years.

This monument and a park were dedicated under auspices of the United Daughters of the Confederacy Saturday, May 22, 1937, and culminated a long dream by the women's organization. It is the first of the larger centennial memorials to be completed. The state appropriated $7500 to defray costs and H. M. Richter of Houston donated the land.

This ceremony was watched by several hundred people. The statue was unveiled by Judge W. F. Robertson of Dallas, husband of Dowling's last surviving child. Mrs. Robertson was unable to attend on account of illness.

The only living eyewitness, Mrs. B. B. Pace of Sabine Pass, told of the battle as she saw and heard it. She, a little girl of seven years, and her small brother climbed to the top of the house when word came that the "Yankee ships are coming up the river," and watched the battle.

The following words of Jefferson Davis, president of the Confederacy, concerning the victory are inscribed on the monument: "There is no parallel in ancient or modern warfare to the victory of Dowling and his men at Sabine Pass concerning the great odds against which they had to contend."—Mrs. A. D. Smith, Sabine Pass.

THE MIRAGE

It came, it went,
But ne'er returned.
'Twould fall, 'twould rise,
'Twould touch the skies.
And then its lakes were burn'd.
It came, it went,
It charmed my soul,
It broke my chain
Of thought in twain,
And mocked me, and my goal.
It came, it went,
I know not where,
It passed from sight
Like day and night,
there. —ROG.

TERRIBLE TRAGEDY

It was with sad hearts that many friends in Goldthwaite read of the accident that befell the S. D. Lambert family last Sunday. Very meagre information has been received here, but it seems that Rev. S. D. Lambert and wife of Marathon and a young lady of the same place who had been attending Baylor-Belton were either going to or returning from Temple, where Miss Virginia Lambert is a patient in a hospital there, and just two miles out of Austin on the Georgetown highway their car collided with a truck during a heavy downpour of rain, killing Mrs. Lambert outright. The young lady died after she was carried to Seton Infirmary and Bro. Lambert was thought to be critically injured, but last report he was slightly better and hopes for his recovery were held out.

Mrs. Lambert's body was carried to Flatonia for burial on Tuesday, as they own a home there and have an infant daughter buried there.

Their second daughter, Elizabeth, is married and lives in Phoenix, Ariz., as does their son, Sam, who is employed in a store there. Bro. Lambert was pastor of the Methodist church here some years ago, and he and his family were loved by the entire community and the children and husband have the deep sympathy of all their friends here. Telegrams of condolence and flowers for the funeral were sent from here by many friends.

ious property damage; habitual recklessness or negligence; habitual violation of traffic laws; incompetency in driving; unlawful or fraudulent use of licenses, and commission of offenses in another state which if committed in Texas would be the grounds for suspension or revocation.

License may not be suspended for more than a year and drivers have the right of appeal within 30 days except where suspension is mandatory.

The law provides that tax assessors and collectors issue renewal licenses under supervision of the department.

New applicants must submit without cost to an examination including test of eyesight and knowledge of traffic rules and show reasonable ability to operate a car.

Renewals may be had without examination and additional cost.

The law more clearly defines a chauffeur and requires such operators must display a badge plainly upon cap or lapel.
