Highway Dept. Asks More Land To Build Bridge

A third call for land on which to erect a new bridge over the Colorado river on Highway 81 between Goldthwaite and San Saba has been made by the state highway department. County Judge R. J. Gerald has received a request that the county secure a tract through the property of J. J. Cockrell and C. W. Lawson.

Change in plans for the bridge is responsible for the requirement of additional land. On two previous occasions the county has purchased land and deeded it to the state, with the understanding that the bridge would then be constructed, but a change in engineers each time resulted in previous plans being modified or abandoned. The cost of the bridge is variously estimated from $150,000 to $200,-

The commissioners court has taken no action on the request for additional land.

COLEMAN TELLS METHOD OF KILLING MESQUITES

Thousands of dollars will be made by Coleman county ranch men who will, sooner or later, follow the pioneering of T. J Allen, local insurance agent anchman and farmer.

Ranchmen have long known hat mesquite trees have been sapping the ground, that the grass around such trees was not good for sheep and cattle, Time nas passed on with ranchmen doing little to remedy the situation. But Mr. Allen, progressive citizen he is, decided to do something and found that F. W. Alexander of Albany, prominent ranchman, had met some success in killing mesquite trees by spraying kerosene on them at a certain time of the year.

Howard Kingsbery, Santa Anna, member of the State Sol Consevation committee, was impressed with the work Mr. Allen has done and it is his belief that every rancher in West Texas will have to follow it in the future just as farmers are now terracg their farms to protect them.

SANTA FE HOSTESSES

These attractive young women inaugurated, on June 14th, Courier-Nurse service on the Santa Fe's Scout, solid tourist Pullman and coach economy train between Chicago and California. Each a registered, graduate nurse, they will take care of children traveling alone, help mothers with infants, give special attention to elderly people and invalids, and be available for any emergency. In addition, the girls have taken a special training course to enable them to furnish interesting and authentic information as to history and scenic attractions along the Santa Fe route.

FORT WORTH DOES IT AGAIN

Last year the Casa Manana revue at the Fort Worth Centennial celebration proved such a tremendous hit, no one thought its success could be repeated. But this year at the Frontier Fiesta the unexpected has happened and another smash hit is on its way to glory.

Texans have one more achievement to be proud of. In the four-part extravaganza that opened last week, there is beauty, there is rhythm, there is color and there is glamor. And the show zips along without a stutter.

Last year's success might have been an accident. Its repitition this year is proof a plenty that Texas can lead in the amusement world as well as in cattle and cotton and oil

Hats off to Fort Worth. She has done it again.

A TEXAN BUTTS IN

One would imagine that Texas congressmen would have sufficient business to attend to in Washington without having to travel half-way across the continent to mix in the labor troubles that are harassing so much of this nation.

San Antonio's impetuous congressman, Maury Maverick, appears to think otherwise. In Detroit recently he spoke at a C.I.O. mass meeting and told Henry Ford where to get ouf. This speech is being mailed out in postage free envelopes under Congressman

If a Michigan representative should come to Texas and talk to a Texas audience like Maverick talked about Ford, it would not set well with the people here, and we doubt if the interference of San Antonio's representative is appreciated in Michigan.

Incidentally there may be some conditions in and around San Antonio which might be investigated and improved when Maverick finds the time.

Well this one is about little Jakie Cohen who always came to school with filthy clothing and dirty hands. This teacher sent Jakie home with a note which read like this: "Dear Mrs. Cohen, I am sending your boy home to be bathed. I think you should realize how he smells."

Next day Jakie came to school same as ever with the following note: "Dear Teacher, My boy is a pupil, and not a rose. I sent him to school to be learned and not to be smelled."
