GOLDTHWAITE, MILLS COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY, JULY 23, 1937

NUMBER FORTY-EIGHT

BIDS ARE ASKED FOR HIGHWAY WORK TO START

J. K. Beery To Leave Monday

Five CCC Boys In July Quota

The following young men reported to CCC Co. No. 3818 at Brownwood last week for service with the CCC: Vernon H. Casels, Lester Davee, Earl Jackson, Clarence Glenn Miller and James A. Pratt, all of Goldthwaite.

The boys were all accepted and were sent to the CCC camp at Carlsbad, N. M., on Tuesday, July 20.

Traxler Shot, Captured And Trindol Killed

Roy "Pete" Traxler, southwestern desperado, lay wounded in a Hugo hospital Wednesday night, shot down with his own gun by two cool hostages who killed Fred Trindol, Traxler's companion in a mad flight from a Texas prison farm.

The hostages, Frank Trimmer, 50, and J. E. Denton, 44, an oil field worker from Asher, Okla., on vacation at Kingston, seized the outlaw's guns and shot them as nearly 1,000 possemen searched for the fugitives in the southern Oklahoma hills in one of the southwest's greatest man-hunts.

County Agent's Notes

The following named farmers have built and are filling trench silos: E. Godwin, Willis Horton, Jim Soules, Robert Kerby, Willis Hill, T. F. Sansom, and Marlon Robertson. Several others plan to put in silos this summer.

Mr. Godwin is filling a large trench with corn, hegaria and sudan, to feed sheep and cattle. Mr. Horton is filling a large trench with corn to feed his fine registered Herefords. Jim Soules will fill with hegaria to feed sheep and cattle. Robert Kerby is filling with corn and grain sorghums to feed cattle and sheep.

Willis Hill is filling a big trench with corn and feterita to feed cattle. Mr. Sansom filled with Johnson grass and grain sorghum to feed sheep. Others are filling with various crops for their livestock.

Some of these trenches are being filled with huniles and others cutting the feed.

These progressive farmers are to be commended for their good judgment in storing this excellent feed crop. No one questions the silo method of storing feed. The difference is 100 per cent feed value when stocked.

W. D. Pedigo of the Salvation Army, headquarters in Dallas, was in Goldthwaite on Tuesday making the annual campaign for funds for the Salvation Army. He stressed the fact this is the only appeal which will be made here by authority of the organization for the year.

GARTMAN RECEIVES CARLOAD OF MAYTAGS

L. J. Gartman's Music Store received another carload of Maytag washing machines this week. This machine and the Electrolux refrigerator have proved to be very popular with the citizens of Mills and the surrounding counties.

Pipe Line Co. Adds More Men

Sunday nine more pipe line workers from East Texas and Louisiana joined the West Texas crew on the job at the Lampasas river bridge near Evant. The crews are working in two six-hour shifts each day but have approximately another week's work left on the job as they are having to sink the pipe line through solid rock without the use of explosives.

Boost Leo Ehlinger For Gilchrist Place

Started by Jim White in the Brownwood Bulletin, the move to promote Leo Ehlinger, present division highway engineer at Brownwood, to Gibb Gilchrist's place as chief engineer of the state highway department, is making rapid headway.

Cisco, which is also in this highway division, has seconded the nomination. Mr. Ehlinger, in point of service, is one of the oldest employees in the state highway department. His previous trading and wide experience fit him admirably for the post.

The Eagle believes that no better selection could be made, and that the state at large, as well as this immediate section, would profit from his elevation to this important place.

The Church of Christ

Let us remind you again of our summer meeting which is to begin, Wednesday night, July 28th, at 8:15, and will continue over the first two Sundays in August.

Brother O. C. Lambert of Port Arthur, is to do the preaching, assisted by Bro. Damon Smith of San Saba, as director of the song service.

Bro. Lambert is considered one of the most forceful gospel preachers, and those who hear him will be profited by the messages he has to bring from time to time.

We will have with us, for Sunday August 1st services, 22 young people and children from Boles Orphan Home. These young folks are wonderful singers and we feel sure that all will enjoy hearing them, who are privileged to be present.

Each member of the church is expected to assist in helping to make this one of the best meetings we have ever had in Goldthwaite, and our desire is that we all be "builed up in that most holy faith" and that we thereby "grow in grace and a knowledge of the truth as it is in Christ Jesus."

All are invited to come and be with us in this series of meetings. —Elders.

Survey of Colorado Tributaries Assured

WASHINGTON, July 21—Senator Tom Connally of Texas said today he had received assurance a survey on the tributaries of the upper Colorado River will be made out of funds appropriated in the War Department Non-Military Affairs bill.

The bill, signed by the president yesterday, carries a $1,000,000 item for preliminary surveys and examinations, $500,000 of which is to be used by the Department of Agriculture

City Council Buys Carload of Pipe

A carload of 6 and 8-inch water pipe is being purchased by the City of Goldthwaite in order to replace smaller water mains and thus reduce insurance premiums in addition to giving greater protection.

As soon as a roller can be secured from Llano where it is now in use, asphalt paving in Goldthwaite will be started. Third street between Fisher street and the railroad is first in line, and the block on Fourth street adjoining the post office will be next. Parker street between Third and Fourth streets has been olled.

Good Rain Falls All Over County

Ending the hottest spell of the year during which the mercury had registered 100 degrees Wednesday afternoon, a windstorm and rain brought welcome relief Wednesday night. Until noon yesterday the total rainfall was 1.3 inches, and approximately the same amount was reported from the various sections of Mills county.

Governor Allred Lowers State Tax

AUSTIN, Texas.—Despite the urgent pleas of the Texas State Teachers' Association, Governor Allred and Comptroller Shepard refused to be stampeded Wednesday and carried out their announced intention of reducing the state tax rate to 4 per cent. This is the lowest that many Texans can remember. The school tax rate was lowered from 20 to 13c, which will still be sufficient to increase the present per capita apportionment from $19 this year to $20 next year, but will not permit it to be set at $22 as the teachers demanded.

While the school funds are showing a surplus, being boosted by marble machine, cigarette, liquor and various other special taxes, the general fund and the Confederate pension fund are in the red.

BRIDE-ELECT HONORED WITH BRIDAL SHOWER

Mrs. J. H. Brown and daughter, Mordine, honored Miss Izetta Featherston with a bridal shower at their home in the Live Oak community Thursday afternoon, July 15, 1937.

After a period of informal conversation among the guests, the honoree was seated in a rocking chair in the center of the living room. Then to the strains of Lohengrin's "Bridal Chorus" played by Mrs. Joe Anderson, Leota Joyce Denman pulled a red wagon loaded with gifts into the room. On top of the assortment of gifts rode a small bride dressed in satin and a wedding veil.

The honoree was very gracious in her acceptance of the many things she received.

Grape punch and cake was served to the following guests: Mesdames Henry Featherston, E. M. Page, W. E. Rose, Ed Randles, Homer Denman, Tom House, A. Solomon, Roy Simpson, George Denman, W. A. Knight, Elmer Horton, Frank Denman, Clyde Faulkner, C. G. Featherston, Coley Sevier, Allen Taylor, Earl Denman, Joe Anderson, Lee Kendall, Nora C. Wilson, Jess Geeslin, Lola Woodward, Virginia McKirk, W. T. Kirby, Obie Tumlin, M. ### Speed Boat Races at Brownwood Sunday

BROWNWOOD, Texas.—The largest field of entries ever assembled for speed boat races in Texas is expected for the third annual regatta at Lake Brownwood, Sunday afternoon, July 25. Regatta officials point out that 47 entries already have been received, far in advance of the event, and additional entries are being received daily.

NEWS IN BRIEF

MEMPHIS, Tenn., July 19.—Armed with spears, a river bottom walker of 14 years' experience is going after the "white river monster" that has excited Newport, Ark., residents for more than a week.

Charles B. Brown of the United States engineer's office here said he plans to don diving togs and "get to the bottom" of the "monster" reports Thursday.

"I don't figure I'll need any extraordinary protection," he said, "but I'll carry some spears and be ready to get out of the way of anything if possible."

"I'm convinced there's something in the river, all right I visited Newport the other day and talked with Bramlett Bateman, the farmer, and Dee Wyatt, the negro farmhand, who have seen the thing several times."

"In my opinion, it's nothing more than a large fish—maybe a catfish—but I'll find out."

The wife of Dee Wyatt was the first to sight the "monster." Her husband saw it next and Farmer Bateman finally saw "a gray hulk" rise to the surface of the stream. —Star-Telegram.

HEALTH NOTES

Texas loses more than three hundred of its children each year from one preventable cause, according to State Health Officer Geo. W. Cox. Diphtheria that ever present menace to children, was responsible in 1936 for 351 deaths.

No parent would allow his child to run in front of trains or automobiles but many allow them to run the danger of contracting diphtheria. Prevention of diphtheria in children is a simple matter of inoculation with toxoid.

If you have a child six months old or more, take him to your family physician and ask to have a Schick test made to determine whether the child is susceptible or immune to diphtheria—for 75 to 90 per cent of children under twelve years of age are susceptible.

Information that as high as ninety per cent of all children under twelve are susceptible was gained from Schick tests carried out on thousands of children during the past decade, and indicates that young children should receive immunizing treatment against diphtheria without a preliminary Schick test. Such a test should, however, be carried out after six months after preventive treatment, to make certain that immunity has been established. In older children and adults, a preliminary Schick test is advisable, since immunity may already be present.

Diphtheria immunization is accomplished by the injection of toxoid. Your doctor can tell if the immunization was successful by giving you the Schick test four to six months after the last treatment of toxoid. It takes that long for protection to develop.

There is no guess work about toxoid, it is a safe and proven preventive. The wise and cautious parent will take his child to the family doctor now, before school opens, and have him protected against the danger of contracting diphtheria, by immunization with toxoid.

BEHIND THE SCENES WITH EDWIN C. HILL

EDWIN C. HILL, who broadcasts "Your News Parade" five mornings every week, Mondays through Fridays, gained a reputation years ago as one of the nattiest dressers among New York's newspapermen. He deserved that reputation, and still does, as the smaller picture at the bottom indicates.

But he also likes to get into the oldest clothes he can find and "knock about," as the other two pictures show. He loves to fish and the picture at the left proves that he knows how to catch them, too. He is holding up a string of "square-tails" direct from the cold waters of King and Bartlett Lake in northwest Maine. In the other picture he is shown on a tramp through the woods with his pet bull terrier. Both pictures reveal the human side of the man who has become famous through portraying the human side of the news.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD WATER POEMS

An episode in an amateur photographer's picture Odyssey of the travels of water. Exposure f.22 at 1/25 second.

THE moods of water, tumbling, bubbling, gushing, spouting, dashing, splashing, trickling, rolling, rippling, dripping, glad, angry, smooth, rough, serene, peaceful, make adjectives for poets. For the amateur photographer with any place for photographs of one of water's most inspiring moods, and then, from the hilltops "there is not in the wide world a valley so sweet, as that vale in whose bosom the bright waters meet."

Endless are your opportunities for making delightful photographs of water scenes. But there's a trick to successful water photography. It's largely a matter of shooting so that the pictured water has the right "feel" or texture.

For example, it's possible to shoot spray too fast, so that it has a hard brittle look, thereby losing its essential sense of movement. On the other hand, rippling water should be shot fast enough so that the ripples are distinct, each with its own highlights.

Another point is lighting. Choose the angle that gives you the maximum "texture," the characteristic interplay of light and shade. No one can tell you exactly how to go about this; a little experimenting will tell you better than volumes of words. But keep this in mind. Any fair-sized body of water reflects a lot of light. Your exposures, therefore, can be faster or, preferably, your "stop" smaller than for a comparable summer landscape.

KELSO FAMILY REUNION

The Kelso family spent a very enjoyable day on the Bayou Sunday, July 18. Although some were unable to attend, those present were very happy to be together again.

The crowd gathered at ten o'clock, Sunday morning and spent the morning swimming, wading, and talking of day's gone by. The musicians furnished some very good music and singing.

At twelve o'clock lunch was called by an old bell grandfather Kelso sold on a yoke of oxen to Mr. Severe fifty-six years ago. The bell had been lost but Ellis Severe found it recently and knew by the L.K.K. brand on it that it was the one belonging to A. J. Kelso. He gave it to Will Kelso who will hand it on down to his son, as there are only these two living by the Kelso name that is of any relation to these.

There was a very delicious lunch spread under a group of trees. Every one ate all they wanted and more too.

After lunch every one was too uncomfortable to go swimming so sat around and talked, sang and played the violin and guitar.

MOTORING TIPS

By J. M. Crawford
Chief Engineer Chevrolet
Division General Motors

Not long ago a party of tourists narrowly escaped mishap when a battered old car coming toward them on the highway suddenly cut across their path into a farm drive. Good brakes on their car and a wide apron on the road enabled them to miss it by a hair, and as they backed onto the road again, they remonstrated with its driver, who was just beginning to realize how close to trouble he had been.

Why in the world didn't you signal that you were going to turn?" one of the party demanded.

"Why, Mister," the other driver answered, "I thought everybody knew I live here."

Whoever remarked that the average car was better than the average driver probably meant that operating technique, as observable on our streets and highways, has not kept pace with the evolution of the motor car itself. Certainly a little heavier stress on the niceties of driving would enable the motoring public to secure a greater measure of the comfort, safety and general satisfaction that are built into every car today.

In my opinion, the motorist is the most competent who keeps in mind at all times the fact that there are others besides himself on the road and drives

CHIGGERS FEAST ON GRASSHOPPERS

Kansas City, Mo.—During the lean years chiggers have a tough time and have to live on human beings. But during the fat years, when there are plenty of grasshoppers, they really have a feast.

And that is what the chiggers are doing this year, according to John Matthews, chigger expert for the Jackson county farm bureau.

Furthermore—and what is of more importance to the farmer—chigger bites make grasshoppers so miserable that they just curl up and die.

The tiny red insects Matthews said, congregate under the wings of the hoppers and cause sores which kill them. And this year, which is a particularly good chigger year, the grasshoppers are having a tough time, Matthews said.

Ice Cooled Candies at Clements' Drug and Jewelry Store

in a manner consistent with that realization. The good driver never assumes that others know what he intends to do. He signals every move—not only his stops and turns but also his intention to pull away from a curb. He is equally careful to give notice with his horn when about to pass. Observance of proper signal procedure will automatically do away with one of the most dangerous driving hazards—the sudden unexpected move.

And if he hopes to qualify among the really topnotch drivers, he will go one step further and keep his eyes open for the other fellow's signals, so that his own starts, stops and turns may be based on information more reliable than a guess or a hunch of what the others are about to do.

PROFANE LANGUAGE

In Justice Court in Mills county recently a man was convicted of using abusive and profane language and worked his fine out on the streets. Profanity unfortunately is so common that probably a great many people are unaware that it is a violation of the law to curse in public or to use profanity towards anyone. The officers are to be congratulated on meting out punishment in the case cited.

But the use of profanity is so reprehensible there should be no need for prohibiting it by law. Common decency is offended by it. Religion necessarily bans it. Common sense opposes it.

For when you face the question fairly, resort to profanity is an indication either of a decided inferiority complex which the user is attempting to conceal by talking big, or it is a result of his paucity of ideas and words with which to express them.

No man ever really impressed another by swearing. No man ever added anything favorable to his reputation by profane or vulgar conversation. Except in the most decadent society, it is still considered improper to use such language in the presence of a lady. It is equally bad taste to use it before gentlemen.

COST OF LIVING HIGHER

According to the Alexander Hamilton Institute, the cost of living in May extended its upward trend to a new high level for the current inflationary movement which began exactly four years ago. The cost of living in May was 6.9 per cent higher than a year ago, 23.8 per cent higher than at the low for the depression in April 1933 and only 13.2 per cent lower than at the pre-depression peak in October 1929.

Of the various items entering into the cost of living, food prices have shown the greatest increase since the total cost of living reached its low four years ago. From April 1933 to May 1937, the cost of food rose 44.0 per cent, rents 34.5 per cent, the price of clothes 26.4 per cent and the cost of miscellaneous items 7.2 per cent. The cost of fuel and light combined did not contribute to the rise in the cost of living. The cost of these items showed a decrease of 1.1 per cent.

Undoubtedly one reason for this increase is the increase in employment which has stimulated the demands for all classes of goods including foodstuffs. Compared to May 1929, the pre-depression peak, factory payrolls in May of this year were only 6.9 per cent lower. Thus, factory payrolls in May showed a recovery of 39.6 per cent. Thus, factory payrolls in May showed a recovery of 89.6 per cent of the decline which occurred between May 1929 and March 1933.

OUR BIRTH RATE DROPS

Is America about to follow the road that led Rome to destruction? Some scientists see this fate in store for our nation if the steadily declining birth rate does not change.

Although Texas alone could support a population greater than that of the entire United States at present, census experts predict that this nation will stop growing within the next 15 years after reaching a peak population of only 140 to 145 million people. Last year, they state, births declined 2 per cent and deaths increased 6 per cent, making the nation's increase only 800,000 instead of the predicted 900,000.

The trend is already apparent in the nation's public schools. According to the United States News, for several years past there has been a decrease of about 100,000 annually in the number of children entering the first grade.

On the basis of present trends it is estimated there will be 20 per cent fewer children under 10 in 1940 than there were in that age group in 1930. This means that one-fifth fewer teachers will be needed in proportion to 1930 and that in many communities classes will have to be consolidated instead of expanded, as has been the case in late years in many places.

Another result which will be somewhat slower in developing is a drop in the supply of labor. By 1940 it is estimated the number of youths applying for first jobs will have declined by 200,000.

Another result of the slowing of population growth, points out Dr. Mordecai Ezekiel of the Department of Agriculture, is that improvements in machinery and other technological advances of the future will mean "not merely new vocations for young folks but actual displacement of those already at work."

Laughing Around the World With IRVIN S. COBB

The Old-Timer's Prophecy

By IRVIN S. COBB

UPON the death of his father a young man succeeded to the presidency of a certain struggling railroad in the Northwest. The son, on his first official trip of inspection, was distressed to find that the equipment was not in good shape. As a matter of fact the father had milked the line for dividends, working the rolling stock and the employees without mercy. He had not been popular with the hands in his lifetime and his memory still abided with them as a sort of bad smell.

The special bearing the heir stopped at a junction point and the young man left his private car to look about him. Along came a grizzled person in overalls examining the greaseweeps and tapping at the wheels with his little hammer.

"What do you think of this outfit here?" the new chief asked.

"Plenty good enough for the rails it rides on," was the ambiguous reply.

"Well, what about the rails?"

"Rotten."

"Listen here," said the young executive, do you know how I am?"

"Nope."

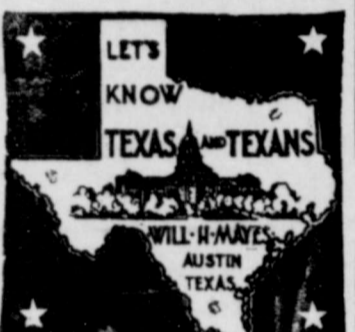

"I'm the president of this road now."

"So that's who you are, eh? Well, I was here when your old man was president and I guess maybe I'll still be here when he gets to be president again."

"Again? Say, where do you get that stuff? Don't you know my father's dead?"

"Sure he's dead. And the road's goin' to hell too!"

In this column answers will be given to inquiries as to Texas history and other matters pertaining to the state and its people. Address inquiries to Will H. Mayes, Austin, Texas

Q. When did John Wesley Hardin serve a term in the Texas penitentiary and for what offense?

A. He was sentenced to the penitentiary from Comanche county in 1878 for the killing of Charles Webb, a Brown county deputy sheriff, at Comanche, on May 26, 1874, and was discharged Feb. 17, 1894.

Q. How many producing oil wells are there in the Lower Rio Grande valley?

A. The last report was 304 wells in the four lower Rio Grande valley counties, 189 of which are in Hidalgo county, practically all of the oil development having been within the past three years.

Q. What relatives and friends of John Wesley Hardin were killed at Comanche as a result of the killing of Deputy Sheriff Webb of Brown county?

A. On June 5, 1874, a "vigilantes" hung Joe G. Hardin, a Comanche lawyer and brother of John Wesley Hardin, Tom Dixon, and Bud Dixon, his cousins, to nearby trees and shot to death Ham Anderson and Alex Barrickman, members of the Hardin "gang," as they slept.

Q. How long after his release from the penitentiary was it before John Wesley Hardin was killed at El Paso, and by whom?

A. He was shot to death in a saloon at El Paso, Aug. 19, 1895, by John Selman, an El Paso constable, because of threats against Selman and his son, a deputy sheriff. Selman, who had been victor in some 20 shootings, was killed April 5, 1896, by George Scarborough, a deputy U. S.

marshal, and ex-sheriff of Jones county, Texas.

Q. What school for negroes is located at Crockett?

A. Mary Allen College, a private co-educational junior college for negroes, is supported by the Presbyterian church, USA. It has an enrollment of about 150 students, during the regular term, and a summer session with smaller attendance.

Q. What is the cost of shipping Rio Grande valley canned goods to New York and other Atlantic seaboard?

A. Because of deep water seaports recently developed at Brownsville and Port Isabel, the present rate on canned goods to eastern seaports is 28 cents a case whereas three years ago it cost that to send Rio Grande valley canned goods to Corpus Christi.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

VIEWES OF THE NATION'S PRESS ON TOPICS OF INTEREST AND IMPORTANCE

VALUE OF A LOCAL PAPER

Does every community need a newspaper? Can it be true that the paper is more than a private business out of which the editor makes a living? Just what contribution does the local paper make to the community which the community cannot well afford to do without? Then what is the relationship that exists between the paper and the community? These questions have been raised to bring your attention to the fact that the paper is really a greater asset to the community than most of us really believe. Some of the values will be reviewed briefly.

The first thought of the local paper is that it is a medium of news. This is a very important factor in community life. Progress depends to a large extent on the means of communication. Men and women living in the same community ought to be interested in the events which are common to the life of all. It is very important that one know his community and that one know what is happening every day. Then the paper informs you about your community.

The paper is a means of reaching the community with appeals and emergency drives which affect the entire population. It is a means of publicity for the various institutions of the community. What would Lum and Abner do without the "party line"? Every church, civic organization, school and club needs the local paper as a means of reaching the community in an efficient and uniform manner. Then the paper is the servant of the organization of the community.

This paper is a means of building the business of the community. The advertising gives the business man an opportunity to talk through the columns to each of his customers. He can make a sales talk and present his bargains.

But perhaps above all of these fine contributions is the fact that the paper is the chief agency in building a community spirit. Community consciousness is a great need in Jellico. The paper is the "show window" of the community. Through the various ways mentioned above, the paper creates an interest in every phase of community activity. It helps them to grow and at the same time it helps the citizenship to feel that it is a part of them.

Just as the local paper is such a public servant, so must the community serve the paper if it is to be a success. The paper cannot grow unless the community wants it and sees its value to community life. How can you help, you say? Don't throw bricks at the editor when the paper is no good. Get out and give him some interesting phase of community life. Persuade some more people to subscribe for the paper. Boost your community paper and have a part in making it better and you will help the paper and in turn it will serve your community in a way you never dreamed.—W. F. Kendall in the Jellico (Tenn.) Advance-Sentinel.

The way to get out of your head is to keep another on your mind.

LABORATORY OF WAR

A year ago this month there started in Spain a war that has cost uncounted lives and untold treasure, and that has been a continuous menace to the peace of the world. That it has not resulted in a world conflagration apparently is because no one, outside of Spain, has cared very much who won. To Europe its principal value has been as a laboratory of war. Italy and Germany have come to the aid of their Fascist comrade Franco, largely, it would seem in order to try out the new weapons that were to make for speedy decisions in war, preventing long drawn out trench fighting. But the airplanes that were going to destroy London or Paris overnight have been bombing Madrid for a year, while it is said, even motion pictures are still in operation. The tanks that were to restore mobility to warfare were stuck in the mud at Guadalajara, resulting in the "second Caporetto." When Russia bombers proved too fast for Italian anti-aircraft defense, Franco had to get along without the guns while the range finders were returned to Italy for re-adjustment, an article in Fortune points out. When German bombs failed to explode according to expectations, raids were discontinued until the German general staff could make a study. Perhaps Franco has been wondering just whose war this is, after all. In diplomacy, too, Spain has been the test tub, although perhaps retort would be the more adequate metaphor. Triumphs are recorded in the setting up of a nonintervention committee and in the establishment of an international patrol of Spanish waters. While neither has succeeded in stopping the military laboratory work—perhaps the various societies of revisionists are cooperating in the interest of scientific experimentation—it must be admitted that the war, so far, has been localized. A good title for a history of the Spanish civil war would be: "Twenty-nine Million Guinea Pigs."—Chicago Daily News.

THE NEW 'OLD WEST'

"Times have changed." The remark of a veteran range rider inspired by the fact that among the many who attended the annual convention of Montana cattlemen, held at Bozeman county recently, only one person, a salesman from Chicago, appeared in full cowboy regalia, will find an avalanche of assenting echoes on the part of many motorists who, invading the cattle country in the course of a transcontinental tour, and expecting to encounter the colorful characters of Frederic Remington or the picturesque people of Bret Harte, have been made aware that the once alliteratively alluded to "wild and woolly West" has been pacing the rest of the country in progress. The deeply rutted Old Chisholm and Santa Fe trails over which creaking caravans lumbered toward the west in covered wagon days have given place to hard highways with refreshment kiosks and service stations at convenient intervals; an oil-consuming iron horse has replaced

EVERY THING

Every three years since 1936 an average of 111,000 lives and permanent disabilities were victims. Last record was made in 1935, when a new high for fatality was set at a 10 per cent increase in accident rate per million. The cost of the medical and hospital care of the 700,000,000. The Bureau of Accidents is announcing a National Safety Council record of accidents compiled for this other highlights report on 1936. A 20 per cent increase of "home accidents" caused 38,500 deaths. Education is being proved over the year accidents number and in so much worth while effort to safety accomplish awaits satisfactory. Recklessness sectional trait—or national habit—will long time for despite the dissections to the campaigns probably effective by the run results than to appear by the statistics. Meanwhile accident figured constitute of most impressive.—New Orleans Times-Picayune

Hamilton

W. O. Jones received deep head lacerations and a broken nose late Monday when the car of O. R. Williams in which he was riding was in collision with the one driven by Mrs. David Hedgpeth on the Hamilton-Aleman road only a short distance from Aleman. Other occupants of the car driven by Williams, their son, Reed, and Mrs. W. O. Jones, were bruised and badly shaken up but Jones, a nephew of Mrs. Williams, received the most serious injuries. Mrs. Hedgpeth and her two small children and sister, Mrs. Parrish, were unhurt but suffered from nervous shock.

Joe Drew, nightwatchman for the Hamilton Oil Mill, was hit on the head Monday night about 11 o'clock by an unknown assailant. Drew was making his rounds and as he stepped into the press room someone threw a flashlight bean in his face and struck him on the head with a heavy oak stick, knocking him unconscious for a few minutes. The barking of dogs frightened the man away. The intruder was not recognized.

Rev. A. B. English and Mrs. Guy Dunn, representing the Lions club and the Garden club, respectively, report that they have approximately $150 promised for marking the streets of Hamilton. It will require $300 to purchase the material and they expect to have this amount subscribed within the next few days.

The fire fighting equipment of the city of Hamilton has this week been brought up to a standard whereby Dow Henderson, fire chief, believes the city's insurance rates will be lowered, possibly as much as 3 per cent. The newest purchase by the City Council a $4,000 hose and ladder truck equipped with a Seagraves pumper, capable of pumping 500 gallons per minute, was displayed for the first time the latter part of last week. The truck also has a 100 gallon booster tank attached and a "foam extinguisher," which spreads a line of foam, much like soap suds, and is used principally for oil and gas fires. —News.

Lometa

Monday afternoon Mrs. Delma Ford went to gather the eggs from a nest in the back of a goat shed and as she stooped over to reach in the nest, something landed on her neck and shoulder and slid down the front of her dress to her feet, and when it hit the ground proclaimed its identity by rattling.

Mrs. Ford was almost prostrate with fear and started screaming, and Mr. Ford and the men working on their new house ran out there to her assistance. They began to search for the rattlesnake, and finally located and killed him. It was an unusually large snake, and had it succeeded in biting her when it first struck, it might have proven fatal.
