Control at Brady

A hearing was held at Brady, Texas, on January 27, by Louis P. National Conservator, State Service of the Department of Agriculture. This afforded all interested parties an opportunity to express their views concerning flood control and the standpoint of runoff water retardation and erosion prevention on the central portion of the Colorado River watershed.

Representatives of ranchmen, business and county officials, agents represented by Brown, Callahan, Gomanche, Eastland, Kimble, Kerr, Lamson, McColloch, Menard, San Saba.

County was represented by Gerald W. P. Weaver, agent, and A. D. Kirk, chairman and president of the Colorado River Flood Control Association. The hearing was held in the east-central portion of the Colorado River watershed, near Merrill will be presented to the Secretary of the Colorado River Flood Control Association.

It was concluded that within a reasonable length of time, definite steps should be taken by the Federal Government toward the retardation of runoff. We can look forward to better grazing and a complete absence of destructive floods caused by runoff on the Colorado River watershed.

Army engineers, under the supervision of Colonel Frank T. Besson of Galveston, are now making an extensive survey of the upper-central portion of the Colorado River watershed, relative to the construction of flood control projects.

At present, a staff of about 20 engineers are working out of San Angelo. It is expected that early in the fall of this year, the engineers will have completed surveying all territory above and including Mills County. The people of Mills County will benefit greatly from the construction of flood control projects above Mills County. There are no indications that its residents will ever be called upon to aid in the construction of a large dam on the Colorado River in Mills County, and there are no indications that such a structure will ever be needed in Mills County, however, the people are being called upon now to lend their moral support to a program which will eventually control the destructive flood waters of the Colorado River.

LETTER FROM DR. BROOKING
Just thought I would drop you a line to let you know that, when we were in San Antonio, last week, we called on Rev. Beery and wife, at their home in the Mission Training School, an institution under Methodist control for the care of unfortunate girls. Mr. and Mrs. Beery have an apartment of 3 or 4 rooms in the building, all very nicely furnished and comfortable. There is accommodations for some sixty patients. Their rooms are prettily and comfortably furnished. An atmosphere of cheerfulness and hope pervades the institution. It is a haven of rest to many an unfortunate, young woman.

I went to San Antonio to attend the Southern District Medical meeting and Mrs. Brookings went along, largely as my caretaker.

There were some 16 doctors as speakers from most all points of the United States, Canada and Mexico. The speeches were particularly interesting and instructive. The understanding and practice of medicine improves from year to year and even from month to month.

The ladies Auxilliary had gatherings and entertainments for the ladies, so that we had a most enjoyable and helpful three days.

County Basketball Tournament Dates Set for Feb. 11-12

The County Basketball Tournament is to be held at the Star School gym next Friday and Saturday, February 11 and 12. The four teams entering in the tournament are Star, Mullin, Priddy and Goldthwaite. Everyone is invited to come.

License Plates are At Court House

A supply of new 1938 license plates has been received at the court house and will be ready to issue beginning about March 1. Evidently there are more automobiles in the state this year, than there were last year as the new plates for 1938 begin with the number 867,901, about 60,000 higher than last year.

No license plates can be put into use before March 1. All plates must be purchased by midnight, April 1. Only motor vehicles which already been registered for 1937 may be registered at this time. New or unregistered motor vehicles put into service during January, February and March should be registered for 1937 license for three, two or one month accordingly.

Street Paving Starts Again

More street paving is in prospect for Goldthwaite when the warm weather arrives. In preparation for paving, the block Earl Fairman's residence is located is being graded now. The property owners will pay for the paving.

Nine Sheriffs Still Living

Mills county has only had 11 sheriffs since the county was organized and of these eight are still living and six are living in Mills county. The list, as compiled for the Eagle by R. E. Clements, is as follows:
G. W. Cunningham, deceased.
B. F. Geeslin, Edenburg.
W. G. Welch, Sterling City.
R. J. Atkinson, Mertzon.
E. O. Priddy, Mills Co.
H. C. Ezzell, Mills Co.
J. H. Burnett, Mills Co.
J. C. Evans, Mills Co.
A. D. Karnes, deceased.
Carl Bledsoe, Mills Co.
Hern Harris, Mills Co.

Highway Crew Surveys Cut-off

This week a surveying crew from the State Highway office has been surveying the route for a cut-off from the center of the business section of Goldthwaite to the new Waco highway on the mountain east of town.

Recent good weather has speeded up construction work on the highway and the pouring of concrete on the numerous structures is nearly completed.

Goldthwaite Students Win Honors

Annual Heart O' Texas Speech Tournament, sponsored by Central Texas School of Oratory was held in senior and junior high school buildings in Brownwood Saturday. Speech students from surrounding towns competed in debates, extemporaneous speaking and declamation.

Goldthwaite high school entered three debating teams and two senior girls in the extemporaneous speech division. Gloria Armstrong and Thelma Henry won a debate with a team from Cross Plains.

Lawrence Stokes and Joe Bailey Kerby won in a debate with a team from Eastland. Jean Goosby won third place in extemporaneous speech.

At the opening of the days activities the Heart of Texas Speech Arts Association was organized with Albert McChristy, of Indian Creek as president, Mrs. M. Y. Stokes, Jr. of Goldthwaite, as vice president and Mrs. Isaacs of Lohn as secretary treasurer.

Mr. and Mrs. McGaughy, of Brownwood School of Speech were in charge of the activities of the day.

S. E. Q. Club

On January 18, our club met with Mrs. W. D. Leverett. We quilted on a friendship quilt. She served cake and chocolate.

Last Tuesday we met in Mrs. Glenn Nickols home with Mrs. Eula Nickols. We set a quilt together. She served cake and chocolate.

This Tuesday our president took us to the free picture show which we all enjoyed. We meet next time with Mrs. Glenn Nickols.—Reporter.

A Correction

There are two corrections to be made in the Star letter, according to Mrs. Goode. As the letter had already been printed when she called, we call attention to the errors, Miss Florence Soules has not taken over the Beauty Parlor and the County meet has been postponed.

THANKS

The Eagle sincerely appreciates the loyalty of its subscribers and the promptness with which they renew their subscriptions. No pressure has been brought to bear, no extraordinary means have been used, but they have renewed by the hundreds the past several weeks, and every day finds large numbers of them coming or sending in renewals.

Readers of The Eagle are so appreciative it is a pleasure to publish it. Not a week goes by but several have kind words to say about The Eagle. So many have told us the week is not complete unless they receive their copy.

And this year The Eagle is starting with more paid in advance subscribers than it has had since the boom days before the depression. After all it is the dollars that make it possible to meet our payroll every week and pay the other expenses of a newspaper. So for the kind words and the cold cash with which you have backed them up, we sincerely thank you.

Local Boy on Australia Cruise

When the United States cruiser Trenton steamed into the harbor of Sydney, Australia last week, Goldthwaite was represented by James O. Burns, a member of the cruiser's band. Burns is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Burns.

The cruise of the Trenton was made to Australia with the U. S. Cruisers Memphis and Louisville, as a good will cruise to celebrate the 150th anniversary of the settling of Australia.

From Australia the cruisers will steam to Singapore, England's great Pacific fleet is conducting maneuvers.

Methodist Church

We try to make our services as helpful as possible from every standpoint. Your attendance and interest will help a great deal to make our services even more helpful. There is need for every particular service that you may be able to render. There is a class for every group. Come to Sunday School and Church and make it a habit of your life. All regular services every Sunday.

FRED J. BRUCKS

Nazarene Church

In spite of the cold weather, we have been holding our own the past few weeks. The pastor Rev. Joe M. Tyson, has been bringing some very interesting messages which have been appreciated and enjoyed by the local congregation.

The pastor will fill his pulpit at both services Sunday. At the morning hour he will use his subject "Praying Through" and at the evening hour, "The value of a Soul."

The pastor is making some much needed improvements in the landscaping, which adds to the appearance of our Church property. You will find a warm welcome at church each Sunday. Bring a friend and worship with us.

MT. OLIVE P.T.A. NOTES

Friday night January 28th was the regular time for the P. T. A. meeting at Mt. Olive.

Our president, Mrs. T. J. Burks turned the meeting over to the 4-H club members, Clyde Smith the 4-H Club president and Secretary, Miss Jimmy Lee Wilcox was in charge of the meeting.

The 4-H club members rendered a nice program of one four act play, two dialogues and several readings. We were very sorry that Mr. Weaver was not present.—Reporter.

Oil Test Nears Oil-bearing Lime

Steady progress is being made in drilling the oil test well on Pecan Bayou west of Goldthwaite, and another week is expected to see it in the oil bearing lime where the acid treatment will be used.

Backers of the well were greatly encouraged when a well near Comanche with only a slight showing of oil was turned into a 600-barrel producer by the acid treatment.

Trades Day a Big Success

The Melba Free Matinee and Merchants Bargain Day went over in a big way on last Tuesday and every one was well pleased.

Poll Taxes Paid This Year

After counting the poll taxes issued in the last minute rush Saturday and Monday, Sheriff and Tax Collector, Hern Harris reports that a total of 1,950 poll taxes have been issued this year.

This compares with 1895 issued in the last election year, 1935, and 1905 in 1934.

F. F. A. Livestock Judging

Livestock judging teams from San Saba, Richland Springs, Brady, Cherokee, Lometa, Goldthwaite and possibly others will meet tomorrow to judge beef cattle on the farm of Willis Horton near Center City.

Mr. Horton is a breeder of registered Hereford cattle and has a herd of breeding cattle that are far above any herd in this section of the state.

The same group of teams practiced last Saturday on a group of 18 fat, baby beef calves that are owned by a rancher near Mason.

The boys who will represent Goldthwaite as a team, have not been selected, but will be after Saturday. Duron Kerby leads with an average of 92. Others that have good averages are Woody Harper and Ellis Mahan.

Y. W. A. MET IN SUMMY HOME TUESDAY NIGHT

The Y. W. A. met in the home of W. B. Summy Tuesday night with a record attendance of seventeen. Seven of these were obtained as the result of the plan adopted two weeks ago for enrolling new members. At each meeting each girl selects a prospective member to take to the following meeting. A different girl is selected each week for "little sister" as the prospective member is called.

During the business session, plans were begun for a yearbook. Elizabeth Dalton sent in her resignation as treasurer and Allene Ross was elected to fill her place.

A missionary program was rendered after the business session.—Reporter.

Eagles Win Tournament

One of the best basketball tournaments ever held in this section of Texas was held at Star on January 28 and 29. A number of strong teams representing the best that this section has to offer in basketball was present.

The Buffalo girls received a trophy for being the best girls team present. Their offense consisted of a number of blocking plays, against which there was no defense. The Star girls are a hustling bunch, but they were no match for the husky Buffalo squad, who won over Star 49-3.

Evant, Star, Priddy, Mullin and Moline were all strong contenders for the boys trophy. Evant and Star being the favorite contenders.

Change Ordered In Rural Mail Route No. 1

A slight change will be made in rural route No. 1, effective Wednesday, February 16, according to instructions received by Postmaster M. Y. Stokes, Jr. Where the route leaves the Lake Merritt grounds it will turn to the left and rejoin the present route after passing the home of E. L. Eubanks. The present route turns to the right on leaving Lake Merritt and passes Lake Merritt school house and Brown's Creek Cemetery. The new route will eliminate three fords across Brown's Creek.

Lions Club Enjoys Session

At the regular meeting of the Lions Club Tuesday evening in the recreation room of the Methodist Church, A. D. Kirk, president of the Mills County Flood Control Association gave an interesting and encouraging report on the prospects for flood control work affecting the Mills County section of the Colorado River.

With Judge R. J. Gerald and Neal Dickerson as captains, the club members were divided into two groups for a question and answer contest similar to those heard over the radio. There was a lively scramble to see which side could amass the larger number of goose eggs.

New Mail Box At R. R. Station

A new and larger mail box has been erected at the Santa Fe passenger Station for the convenience of patrons who have letters to mail after the post office closing time of 6:30 p. m.

As letters mailed at the post office are sorted by town before being taken to the train, they are worked first by the railway mail clerks, and if the mail is heavy, the letters mailed at the station may be delayed. For this reason it is better to mail everything at the post office that is ready by 6:30 p. m.

Only letters and post cards should be mailed at the station, as the regulations restrict the box to first class mail.

Congressman Gains Recognition

Judge Charles L. South, who represents this district in "the Congress," as it is correctly spoken of here, is becoming recognized as a steady, safe and sane member of the Lower house whose judgement is sought on many problems affecting rural section, writes Houston Harte in his paper, the San Angelo Times.

Lyndon Johnson, Austin congressman who went to office on a platform which among other things provided for his vote to enlarge the Supreme Court, tells a story about how let-down he felt after having addressed a country gathering during the Christmas holidays. He says he was speaking in his most extravagant style and had advocated almost everything except thrift and economy. At the close of the speech a farmer approached him and asked if he knew "Charley South." Johnson, like all those in that "great brotherhood" of Congress membership, assured his constituent that he knew Mr. South very well. "All you have to do, young man, is vote like 'Charley' and you'll get along all right," the farmer said. It is doubtful if Lyndon has voted with South on any major question up before Congress since he has been there.

BUYS PROPERTY

Luther Booker this week purchased the Taylor house just south of Earl Fairman's home and has begun remodeling it. He will rent the house for the present.

Another Free Show at Melba Theatre Feb. 7

A free show consisting of six educational films will be offered to farmers and their families Monday, February 7, at 2 p. m. These films will be entertaining and instructive. Farmers, their wives and children should respond to this generous invitation. Vocational, and general agriculture students and 4-H Club members should attend.

It is estimated that some three hundred disease organisms are commonly carried on farm and truck crop seeds. In the film "Feeding the Multitude" you will see how growers combat these diseases.

"The Grain Seed film" shows how smuts develop and destroy two hundred million bushels of grain annually. The picture portrays methods of control. This film holds interest to every grain grower in Mills County.

"Tall Corn" film contrasts the actual growing of treated corn with that of untreated seed by illustrating scenes of actual field results. Corn growers, come see this show.

Poor stands is recognized as one of the major handicaps to growing cotton. The answer as to how to secure a good stand especially planting early to avoid the boll weevil, how to prevent or reduce plant diseases are given in the spectacular film, "King Cotton." Don't miss it.

Statistics show that every year over $18,500,000 are wasted in potato growing because many growers are not following the latest methods for better potato production. The secret of better potato crops can be seen in the all talking, interesting, educational film, "Peruvian Gold." See this picture and make your crop more profitable.

The 14th National Corn Husking Contest drew a crowd estimated at from 100,000 to 120,000 visitors. Enjoy the thrill of this exciting contest which is brought to you in the film, "1937 Corn Husking Contest" together with five other educational films of compelling interest at the Melba Theatre, Monday, February 7, at 2:00 p. m.

BROWNWOOD CITIZEN, 101 LOOKS FORWARD TO 290

F. M. Sawyer of Brownwood, 101 years of age, is Brown County's oldest citizen. One of the few Confederate veterans still living in this section, he has made his home in Brownwood with a son, Elmar Sawyer, for the last eight years. He moved here from Mills County.

Born in Eastern Louisiana January 3, 1837, Mr. Sawyer came with his parents to Texas at an early age. Of the four boys and four girls in the family he is the only survivor. His parents settled in Fayette County, where his father farmed. Mr. Sawyer moved to Mills County and engaged in farming. He retired eight years ago.

PHOTOGRAPHIC silhouettes are a source of decorative pictures—and camera fun—which every snapshotter should try. The arrangements are simple—a white sheet stretched over a doorway, or division between two rooms, with a strong light behind it and the camera set up in front.

By arranging his subjects in front of this brightly illuminated sheet, the clever photographer can construct any number of imaginative or story-telling pictures. Costume snaps are particularly interesting in silhouette, and there are possibilities for many humorous pictures of the "it-can't-be" variety.

For instance, a juggler can be pictured keeping a dozen or two balls or bottles in the air at one time, or a camper can be pictured with two skillets, flipping a dozen flapjacks at one shot. In both these pictures, the objects to appear in the air would be cut from black paper or cardboard and pinned to the sheet at proper points.

The sheet must be stretched evenly, as wrinkles will show in the pictures. Lighting behind the sheet should also be as even as possible. Five feet is a suitable distance from lamps to sheet.

Three sixty-watt inside-frosted electric bulbs will provide enough light to give good results with five-second time exposures, using a box camera with its lens at widest opening, or other cameras at lens stop f.11. To stop movement when pets or small children are appearing in silhouette, use a flash bulb behind the sheet. Or, with two or three large size flood bulbs snapshots can be taken.

When using the flash bulb, someone can flash it at the correct moment at an "okay" signal from the person operating the camera. There should be sufficient light, from unshaded regular household bulbs, behind the sheet for the "cameraman" to see the silhouetted images and to know when to give his "okay" signal.

When the silhouette is snapped, of course, all lights must be turned off in the room which contains the camera and subject. Unless this is done, detail in the subject will show, spoiling the silhouette effect. The photographer should also be watchful of stray light from windows, and mirrors which might catch light from the illuminated sheet and throw it toward the shadow side of the subject.

Colorado Floods Cited at Brady

Flood losses within recent years along the Colorado River water shed, and assurances that citizens in this area of West Texas stood ready to co-operate in every way possible with a universal soil and water conservation program, were cited here Thursday in a five-hour meeting before Louis P. Merrill, regional conservator of the Soil Conservation Service for the Department of Agriculture. The exact figures of the losses from floods in this fourteen-county area were not determined immediately, but testimony from the representatives showed that much of the damage can hereafter be averted by various means of retarding the waterflow of the Colorado River and other streams in this area, particularly the San Saba River and Brady Creek in McCulloch County.

Approximately a hundred delegates from the counties of Brown, Coleman, Comanche, Eastland, Edwards, Kimble, Kerr, Mason, McCulloch, Menard, Mills and San Saba were present for the third of a series of four meetings along the Colorado River water shed being held for the Agricultural Department to get additional information for use and preparation of a preliminary examination now being prepared with regard to water-flow retardation and prevention of soil erosion. The first meeting was held Tuesday at Big Spring, and the second at San Angelo Wednesday. The fourth and final session was held in Austin.

Only two counties of this area were not represented at the session here, Callahan and Lampasas. Although not in this district Erath County had a delegation present for the conference.

Assisting Mr. Merrill with the meeting were E. B. Deeter, head of the watershed survey of the Soil Conservation Service of Ft. Worth; Dr. L. T. Turner, U. S. Forest Survey of New Orleans, La., and J. W. Browning of the Bureau of Agriculture Economics Dallas. "The Brady meeting was one of the best we have held," declared Mr. Deeter.

Testimony was not limited to county agents and county officials, but farmers and ranchmen in several instances told of their personal problems with reference to soil erosion and flood waters.—Brady Standard.

Star
By Mrs. Dora Goode

Now if those folks down in Southwest Texas want to withdraw and form a four or five county state, let 'em. But don't for goodness sake, let them call it "South Texas." If they want things so free and "opea wide" let them call it "Grande" or any thing else, but tack no Texas to it.

The Invitation Basket Ball tournament held at the Star gym Friday and Saturday was well attended and the weather was fair enough. We witnessed a swell game between Evant and Star Saturday afternoon. It was full of good team-work, swift playing and quiet without all the huzzawing which so often goes on among players. It was a beautiful game. The Moline team won over all.

Today and tomorrow the County Meet games will be played here, so if you're not tired of the game, come again.

Dwyane, Tommy and Sammy Harper who are attending school at Brownwood are visiting home-folks during the mid-term vacation.

Miss Lee McGilvray, who is teaching at Buffalo, is home for a visit. She brought her team of basket ball girls to the tournament.

Self Culture Club

The regular meeting of the Self Culture Club was held at the home of Mrs. J. A. Hester, Saturday, January 29, with Mrs. Walters Hester, as hostess.

The topic for the program was Science and Health with Mrs. R. M. Thompson as leader.

Mrs. J. J. Stephen reviewed on "Air, Water and Milk," by Dr. Victor Helsen, who is lecturing in Texas at the present time. Her review was illustrated by posters. The fight against cancer and tuberculosis was ably discussed by Mrs. J. M. Campbell. Mrs. J. C. Marked Lumber...

What does the manufacturer's name on the end of a board mean to the man who buys the board? It means just this much—IF IT'S A GOOD BOARD THE NAME IS A GUIDE TO GOOD BOARDS; otherwise it's a WARNING.

Branded hats, shoes, canned goods, farm implements and so forth are labeled as a protection to the man or woman who buys them.

The Randolph Lumber Company believes the buyer is entitled to the same protection on boards that he has on other goods. That's the main reason why our marked lumber is branded on the end.

We have marked lumber in stock, and will be glad to show you its uniform high quality if you will step into our yard.

Heavy rains first of last week did considerable damage by washing away loose gravel for construction work at the bridge on the new highway. The work is now progressing rapidly as they have had a week of good weather. The humming of the motors on the highway machinery begins early each morning and continues until midnight. About six miles of the new road is traveled from Goldthwaite now and from reports it will soon be ready for travel to the north Bennett Creek.

Rev. Geo. Smith and wife of Gustine were visitors in the Chas. Welch home and they with Mr. and Mrs. Welch made visits in the community. Bro. Smith was pastor of the Methodist Church here some 23 years ago, and they are kindly remembered by those who knew them then.

Congratulations to Bro. J. C. Wade and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Newton and Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Heda. A new boy arrived in each of these homes last week.

Joe Langford was taken seriously ill last Thursday and Dr. Campbell rushed him to Temple hospital, where he is still in a serious condition. Members of his family visited him Saturday and Sunday. Mrs. Langford is with him. His many friends hope for him a recovery.

Willene, the 18-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Sparkman died last Friday and the remains were interred in the cemetery here Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Sparkman is remembered as Miss Ozelle Head, young est daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Head. Mr. and Mrs. Sparkman now live in Minden and had come here for a few days visit when the little one contracted pneumonia and lived only a few hours. Our deepest sympathy is extended to these young parents and to the little sister who will miss her most. May the Heavenly Father comfort all her loved ones.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Alldredge visited in the Luther Arnold home Sunday.

Bro. Ryan preached at the morning hour Sunday, having missed the Sunday before on account of heavy rains. They dined in the Oglesby home and visited Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Head in the afternoon.

Florence Simpson of South Bennett spent the week end with Virginia Oglesby and Glenda visited in the Simpson home.

J. P. Booker and son, Tom, Riley Lee and Mohler Oglesby, attended the funeral of Mr. Sam Trowbridge in Lower Big Valley Monday afternoon.

Wilson Head, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Head, and a teacher in the Star school was seriously injured in a car wreck early Tuesday morning on his way to Star. Moisture had frozen on the windshield dimming his vision, so that he ran into a machine used on the highway. The car was badly wrecked. Wilson was cut about the face and rendered unconscious, making it necessary to carry him to a hospital. He was accompanied by his brother, Linden, and Lloyd Fox, who were also injured but not seriously.

STUDENTS BID UNIFORMS FAREWELL

"Goodbye Uniforms!" is the glad cry of students at Texas State College for women, where the uniform clothes that have been a regulation of the school since its founding in 1903 have just been discarded by a student government and faculty vote.

Attempts to keep the uniform in style through the years resulted in such a variety of changes and regulations that enforcement of them with 2500 girls proved confusing and impracticable. Now students may wear any clothes they like, and the

GOOD SEED CORN HARD TO FIND

SEMESAN JR. TREATMENT URGED FOR BETTER STAND AND YIELD

NOW COSTS ONLY 1 1/2¢ AN ACRE AT NEW REDUCED PRICE

New Improved SEMESAN JR. seed corn treatment has never been so expensive. But now it is cheaper than ever! At its new reduced price you can treat corn this year for 1 1/2¢ an acre!

With most seed low in vitality and good seed scarce, you can't pass up the benefits of this widely-used and recommended dust. It usually controls seed rotting and gives better stands. Reduces seedling blight, root and stalk rots. And generally improves crop quality and increases yields. Illinois Experiment Station Circular 444, reporting 3 bushels average yield increase in tests, says: "One of the best disinfectants for seed corn now on the market is New Improved Semesan Jr."

Smother; will not clog planter. Four-oz., 35¢; 1-lb., $1.00; 5-lbs., $4.75. Ask us for the new Corn Pamphlet. It's free.

Letters of Interest From Mills County Communities

Big Valley By Flora Weaver

The community was made sad Sunday morning by the death of Mr. Sam Trowbridge. He had lived here for a greater part of his life. He was a good brother, friend and neighbor who will be greatly missed. We deeply sympathize with his sister and brother, with whom he lived and other grieved relatives. May our Heavenly Father comfort and Bless each of you.

The Mills County Baptist Workers Conference was held with this church Friday. A fairly good sized crowd attended. Several churches were represented. All of the sermons were very interesting and full of truths.

Bro. Cundieff remained over Sunday and preached at the morning and evening hour. Since the regular services were rained out the fourth Sunday. The Sunday School attendance was about fifty. The BTU attendance about thirty-five. We are very proud of these numbers in such cold weather.

Bro. Furr, Church of Christ Minister, from Goldthwaite preached in the Lower Valley Sunday morning.

Mrs. Homer Weaver and children and Flora Weaver, visited Mrs. J. J. and Mrs. Vance Cockrell Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Sykes made a trip to Brownwood Friday.

Granddad Hale is visiting his son, Tom and family at Scallorn this week.

There were several visitors at church Sunday, among them was Bro. Hunt a former pastor, and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Long and two children of Goldthwaite.

A large number of relatives from different parts of the state attended Mr. Trowbridge's funeral Monday but I couldn't get all of their names.

Mr. and Mrs. Oran Hale and son from Goldthwaite and Mr. and Mrs. Connie Knowles from Bulls Creek spent Sunday in the Hale home. Miss Lorean Shotwell went home with Mr. and Mrs. Knowles and stayed until Monday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Dennard and boys visited in the Lige Miller home in San Saba Sunday.

Highway signs are installed at a big expense to the tax payer—we should use them.

Lake Merritt By Mrs. Douglas Robertson

News is scarce this week as Sunday was such a cold day most everyone stayed home by the fire.

We extend our sympathy to the Fairman families in the loss of their loved one.

Bro. McCullough will fill his regular appointments here Saturday night and Sunday. Everyone is invited to come.

J. N. Smith and family spent Sunday in the Calvert Halford home.

Mrs. J. P. Goodwin and Norma Lee Mosier from Mullin spent Wednesday with Rev. J. D. Long. Mrs. Gene Shelton called on Mrs. Julia Taylor and girls Saturday.

WITH HAM OR BACON

Imagine scrambling more than one billion, two hundred million eggs! Approximately that many were laid by Texas hens in 1934. Although mathematics might enjoy figuring out the volume of sound produced at about two cackles per egg, Texas business men are more interested to note that this number of eggs is equal to over twenty million dollars in cold cash.

Dim lights when parked on road shoulders for the benefit of approaching traffic. Road hogs do not live to get to the packing house.

Rock Springs By Mrs. Eula Nickols

This was Sunday School morning.

We extend our deepest sympathy to Bill Trowbridge and Miss Sena in the loss of their brother. Also Mr. Eli Fairman and children in the loss of his companion and their mother.

Did all of you scribes notice we have a gentleman who has joined our ranks in sending in news. So be very careful and don't say anything to hurt his feelings. We welcome you Raymond in our circle. All of the news was fine last week.

Thursday Phillip, James and Shirley Nickols decided a way to cover the west side of their mother's house, so they got busy and got to work that afternoon.

Friday Rudolph Cooke helped and Saturday Leonard Chambers from town and W. A. Cooke helped to finish the job.

Has anyone teased you scribes about your names being in such a public place in our paper. I think it is alright, don't you?

I had the pleasure of helping care for little George Austin Cooke last week, while he wasn't feeling well. I think he might be like his uncle Horace, but he isn't and I'll tell you why, he does not seem to sleep like his uncle can sleep.

Several from here attended Trowbridge and Mrs. Eli Fairman's funeral Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Rudolph Cooke and son spent Friday in the Nickols home while her husband helped the boys on the house.

Loy Long and family from town visited Sunday in the Ellis home.

E. D. Robertson and family and Mmes. Pass, Ellis, Daniel, Dewbre and Nickols and Rev. B. T. Renfro attended the workers meeting at Big Valley Friday.

It was a great meeting if the wind did blow so hard. After the meeting Mmes. Daniel, Dewbre and Nickols called in Robert Robertson and Walton Daniel's homes.

Otis Hutchings from Center Point came with his sister to the Nickols home Friday night but he didn't help to quilt.

Herbert Cooke and wife and father and mother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Koen from Caradan visited in the Cooke and Nickols homes Friday afternoon.

There was a birthday the 23rd of this month, Mrs. Richard Sowders fixed a nice dinner for her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Landy Ellis and Philip Nickols. They all enjoyed the nice dinner.

I had all of my children at home Sunday, except two daughters and one son. Mrs. Joe Duggett and daughter and son from Coleman visited in the home.

Mrs. John Roberts spent Sunday afternoon with Mrs. J. T. Robertson while their husband went to see Bill Trowbridge in Big Valley.

Adrian Long and R. E. Collier had business in Brownwood Saturday morning.

Joe Davis and family spent Sunday afternoon in the Stark home.

B. F. Renfro and family visited Woody Traylor and family Saturday night.

W. A. Daniel and wife visited in the Robertson and Trowbridge homes Sunday afternoon.

Miss Lorene Denman suffered a severe attack of appendicitis last Wednesday, but is able to be up again.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Moreland were Sunday guests in the C. G. Featherston home.

The Jolly Chatter Club met in the home of Mrs. Willie Knight last Thursday. There were only nine present. The afternoon was spent quilting. The next meeting will be with Mrs. E. M. Page.

Mrs. J. H. Brown visited Mrs. W. E. Rose Wednesday afternoon.

Little Genetha Ann Homer Denman January 13. She is a very welcome little visitor.

Mrs. C. G. Featherston and Mrs. Roy Simpson visited Mrs. Ida Duncan in the Ratler community last Wednesday.

Mrs. Oble Tumlinson and children spent Saturday night with Mrs. Roy Simpson, while Mr. Tumlinson took his sister, Mrs. Ida Duncan, to the sanitarium at Carlsbad, for treatment.

Earl Denman left Saturday to get work. His wife and baby are staying with Mr. and Mrs. Roy Simpson.

We were sorry to hear that Miss Fatima Faulkner had to undergo an appendectomy operation Saturday, at a hospital in Pearsall.

Mrs. I. Z. Woodard, Mrs. C. G.

Featherston and Mrs. Woodard attended the funeral of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Sparkman's small daughter, at Pecan Wells Saturday afternoon.

Our sincere sympathy is extended.

Mrs. Roy Simpson visited in the Ed Dennis home Sunday and Monday and helped care for the small son of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Simpson.

Mmes. Velma and Irene Parker visited Mrs. Maude Parker in Chapel Hill community last Wednesday.

Master Travis Randles had an attack of croup Sunday night.

Pleasant Grove By Raymond Williams

Even though the weather was rather frigid there was a nice crowd out to hear Bro. Joe preach Sunday. However, the weather kept getting colder, so there were no services Sunday night.

Mary Beth Palmore spent the week end at Star. She visited the Armstrongs there. She also attended the ball games.

Melvin Crawford and family visited Ray Berry Sunday.

Mrs. Joe Bunningfield had a very pleasant surprise Saturday when her brother, Mr. T. P. Mitchell and wife of Amory, Miss. paid her an unexpected visit.

Pearl and Lamar McMinn, daughter and son of Mrs. Beningfield came with them. Pearl is a beauty operator in Waco, and Lamar is attending school there. They spent the week end and the Benningfield's report that they enjoyed having them very much.

Prof. Williams went to Brownwood Friday night and came back Saturday and attended the ball games at Star Saturday night. He spent the night with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hunter of Star.

If the weather permits we will present our play Friday night. It is "The Gay Pretenders" and is sponsored by the P.-T. A.

Several people here were pleased with the cold spell. They had hogs to kill and had begun to think hog-killing weather was Dealua Virden visited the Wilky girls Sunday.

Mid-terms are over. There are several who failed. We are sorry for this.

Walter Willens Sparkman

Walter Willens daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sparkman of Marshall, born July 26, 1934. She was Center City Cemetery Swanner, pastor of Baptist Church, Goldthwaite. Besides her father she is survived by a sister, Waitzell, age five, her parents, and many other relatives.

It seems at times the loveliest of our home to go at the committal services. Yet they are heavy, we cry through our tears, Master that He took our children in His arms them while He was here. He is still calling the self. In God's good hand, "My Beloved" comes down to His garden lilies." Shall we not that children are committed to our Christ is the Head of that He gathers them when He will. They gathered by Him and then are we not to permit Him to do what He will and love seems best. Ere sin could blot fade Death came with care.

J. H. Priddy
For Commissioner

This week's Eagle carries the announcement of J. H. Priddy, of Mullin, route one for Commissioner of Precinct No. 3.

Hobart Priddy is well known throughout this entire county. He was born and reared here. He is a grandson of the Rev. Priddy, a pioneer Baptist minister in this section.

This is the first time he has ever offered his services to the public. He is anxious to continue a good roads program, and will endeavor to give everyone in his territory a square deal. He believes that when you handle public money you should be far more careful with it than with your own, therefore, he will endeavor to do his work in a manner that will please.

He will appreciate your consideration and influence in the coming Democratic primary in July.

George D. Brooks
For Commissioner

George D. Brooks of Jones Valley announces for Commissioner of Precinct No. 4.

Mr. Brooks has lived in this county since 1925 and is an experienced man in road construction and feels that he is capable of representing the people in the Commissioners' Court and in the road work. He believes in good roads and keeping all the roads in good condition.

He has never sought a public office before and has had many solicitations to make the race from his friends. Mr. Brooks assures you he will discharge his official duties to his precinct and himself if elected.

He urgently requests the vote and influence of the people at the July Primary.

EAGLES WIN

In the semi-finals Star won over Priddy by a score of 20 to 18. The game was fast and furious; unguarded shots were a thing of the past. Priddy's offense was formidable, but it was badly timed and a little wild.

In the finals Moline won over Star by a score of 23 to 16. Most of the fans thought Star would win, but every player on Moline's team outplayed his opponent. The Moline quintet consists of three veterans and two kids. The team is built around Aaron Murphy, a left handed forward. Ralph McMurray and Sandy Hairston are the other two veterans. The kids, Howard Moore and Raymond Murphy, are rapidly developing their abilities. Moore was high point man, making 10 points. Every Moline player was a star, McMurray doing splendid work under the opponents basket. There was nothing spectacular about Moline's playing, just basketball.

Star has a splendid aggregation. The team is built around Oscar Karnes, a forward, and "Big" Atchison, center. They have a fast offense and a splendid defense, but their morale was broken when they began to lose.

Five judges picked an All-tournament team. Aaron Murphy of Moline was voted the best player at the tournament, receiving the votes of all five judges. Oscar Karnes of Star was voted second best player, receiving four votes. "Big" Atchison of Star, No. 18 from Evans and No. 3 from Priddy also made the all-tournament team. Moline should have had at least one more man on the all-star team, but who should have been chosen, for every player was a star.

The Moline team is coached by J. W. "Worthless" Maxcey, who is a mere boy. His splendid work in developing such a wonderful team is to be commended.

Randolph (Ronnie) Garret of Star officiated and did a good job.

Moline has played Star twice this season, winning both games on Star's court. There will be a real contest next Saturday, when Moline and Star meet in a tournament at Moline.

Moline has played seventeen games winning fifteen.

TRUE STORIES
PROGRESS THROUGH CHEMISTRY
By Dr. Jas. K. Hunt. E. I. DuPont de Nemours & Co., Inc.

Transparent Films From Forest and Field

OF the many products made by the chemist using cellulose as a raw material, none has had a more rapid or sensational rise than transparent cellulose film, best known by the trade-name "Cellophane." Invented around 1908 by Brandenberger, a Swiss chemist working in France, and first used chiefly in making women's hats, this material is now used for literally hundreds of different purposes. Although first made in this country in 1924, the growth of transparent cellulose film has increased so rapidly that during the past five years a sufficient amount of this material has been made to encircle the earth around the equator with a band over two hundred feet wide.

Transparent cellulose film and rayon are true sisters, both being the children of cellulose from the spruce tree and cotton linters. In the case of rayon, a cellulose solution made by treating purified wood pulp or cotton linters with caustic soda and carbon bisulfide is forced through the microscopic holes of a "spinneret" into a chemical bath which changes the tiny streams of "liquid cellulose" back into filaments of solid cellulose. In the manufacture of transparent cellulose film, the viscous solution is forced out into the chemical bath through a long narrow slit instead of a spinneret, and the result is a thin film of cellulose. Further chemical and physical operations—bleaching, washing, etc., leave the completed film transparent, sparkling, strong, flexible, odorless, oil-proof, air-proof, gas-proof and germ-proof.

While transparent cellulose film made in this way, and colored with dyes, is used for many other purposes, in the form of narrow ribbons it is woven into attractive fabric for curtains. Fifty thousand yards of sparkling cellulose film were used to make the moonbeams in the motion picture presentation of "A Mid-Summer Night's Dream." In the theater it has been used for costumes, in the radio world for making sound effects, by surgeons as an outside dressing so that the progress of wounds might be observed, and on the farm as a cover for early plants to protect them from sudden changes in the weather. It would seem, in fact, that the usefulness of this sparkling transparent film as a decorative and protective material is limited only by the imagination of the user.

After several years of experimental work in the laboratory, a moisture-proof film was perfected which led to a revolution in packaging. When wrapped in this moisture-proof film, cigars and cigarettes retained their desirable characteristics for a much longer period. The wastage in cakes and other bakery products was greatly reduced because this moisture-proof film preserved them. Meats appeared in this new wrapper, thus insuring freshness and cleanliness. The use of moisture-proof cellulose film spread to fruits and other perishable foods, until today the average grocery store contains dozens of products kept fresh by it. It is generally conceded today that this transparent film is an aid to public health since foodstuffs, textiles, and other items wrapped in it are not readily contaminated with disease germs.

Will Rogers' Humorous Story
By WILL ROGERS

THE gals in the florist stores have got to be mighty careful. It's so easy to guess wrong or hurt somebody's feelings. Now, for instance, I heard about a fellow who came into a florist shop, looking kinda sad, and he says, "I want a few flowers."

"For a lady?" says the florist.

"Yeah."

"Well, now here is a nice selection of orchids at twenty dollar apiece," says the florist.

"Say, she's a lady, and she ain't dead. And besides, I'm married to her and this is for our tenth anniversary. Show me a dollar's worth of daisies."

WHY NOT CHANGE IT?

Through the medium of interscholastic debates considerable attention is being directed this year to certain legislative abuses. One of the most glaring abuses, however, is being overlooked since it bears no direct relation to the one-house or two-house legislature. This abuse is that which permits the legislature—and Congress—to tuck on to any bill a rider dealing with an entirely different subject. The Governor or President must then accept the bill in toto or veto it in toto. Thus many objectionable pieces of legislation slip into enactment by riding on the back of a necessary law. It was in this manner that the iniquitous race track law was enacted in Texas.

There is now a bill in Congress which would permit the President to veto any part of a bill which did not meet his approval without having to veto the entire bill. This would have the advantage of permitting a necessary appropriation bill to go into effect while holding up any riders on extraneous subjects which might have been attached to it. Or it would allow the President to eliminate those expensive jokers with which so many bills are packed.

This is a most desirable reform, and it is to be hoped that it will receive an early passage. It does not prevent Congress from re-considering the vetoed sections and passing them over the veto. And it unquestionably frees the executive's hands in approving or vetoing a bill. There can be no question but that it would make for economy in government.

Congress needs this law and so does the Texas Legislature—and the sooner the better.

A DEADLY REMEDY

From sources that should be better informed there is a persistent demand for this country to establish a boycott against Japan. Many individual firms have already announced that they are no longer purchasing Japanese goods, and many prominent men such as Albert Einstein have urged this course, particularly since the showing of the pictures of the Japanese bombing of the American Panay.

Before endorsing such a step, let us first ask what good would it do?

Would an embargo stop the Japanese from attacking American ships and molesting American citizens in China? Certainly not. If anything, such a move would intensify Japanese activities against us. One of the chief complaints Japan has made against China is that the Chinese have permitted an unofficial boycott against Japanese merchandise. Should we make this an official boycott, Japan would certainly interpret it as an unfriendly act and would undoubtedly also interpret it as an indication that America, by resorting to this form of economic reprisal, is afraid to fight. Thus a boycott would not improve the relations between the two countries.

But, say some, the pressure thus brought to bear upon Japanese manufacturers and bankers would be transmitted by them to the military. In the light of present history, this is unreasonable. Japan is dominated completely by the hot-headed militarists who believe that Japan is destined to rule the world. Within the past few years six distinguished Japanese officials have been brutally assassinated by Japanese soldiers. The only offense of these officials, some of whom held the high post of premier, was in mildly seeking to curb the military extremists.

With such men in power an economic boycott would only infuriate Japan and spur her on to greater aggressiveness.

But what would be the effect of a boycott on non-combatants? One of the reasons a boycott is being urged is because of the horror that has been aroused by the suffering Japanese troops have inflicted on Chinese men, women and children outside the Chinese armed forces. It is from precisely these same classes that an economic boycott on Japan by America would exact its first and heaviest toll. Peasants in their huts and poorly paid factory workers would be slowly starved to death, while the diminishing food supplies would be hoarded for the Japanese soldiers and sailors at the front. Innocent children would be deprived of health and happiness, in many instances, of life itself, by an effective boycott. And the poor Chinese would suffer even greater atrocities from the infuriated Japanese.

Finally a boycott would create suffering and distress in our own State by eliminating Texas' greatest cotton consumer, Japan. No! A boycott is not the answer to our troubles with Japan.

The WEEKLY CONSTITUTIONAL by MAX BERNS

Acts Held Unconstitutional

How many acts has the Congress passed and how many of these has the Supreme Court held unconstitutional?

Since its inception nearly 150 years ago, the Congress has passed over 24,000 acts. Of these the Supreme Court has found 76 unconstitutional, according to the Legislative Reference Bureau of the Library of Congress. In only eight cases were entire acts invalidated. In the 68 others only parts of acts were invalidated such as "riders" having little or nothing to do with the main bill, amendments to previous bills, or merely a phrase, clause or section of an entire bill. In these cases the remainder of such acts was not affected.

The acts of Congress invalidated by the Supreme Court were voided because the court held them repugnant to constitutional guarantees of personal liberty, such as trial by jury, unreasonable searches and seizures, self-incrimination, right to confront witnesses, right of contract, designation of offenses, and right of proper hearing for enforcement of penalty.

THE NEW HIRED HAND

Health Notes

Influenza, while not of such prevalence as last year, is still occurring frequently enough to cause alarm, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

In its present form, its symptoms may range from a common cold to high fever, backache and prostration. However, pneumonia as a complication represents the real hazard. And, as is well-known, pneumonia is an exceedingly dangerous foe. The remedy is bed on first appearance of a cold, and remaining there until advised by the physician that one can safely get out of it.

Everyone should realize that in its mildest form, influenza can easily become a very serious matter. Of course, prevention is careful observance of a few common sense rules will materially strengthen one's resistance to an attack. Some of these rules: Insofar as possible, avoid intimate contact with members of the family who have colds or influenza.

Keep the feet dry. Wash the hands thoroughly before meals. And if you do develop influenza, see your doctor.

OPERATING INCOME

Santa Fe's net railway operating income for December was $118,363, according to a statement released today by President S. T. Bledsoe. This is a decrease of $2,335,637 compared with December of last year.

Gross income for the system was $12,919,582, a decrease under December 1936 of $2,266, 223 or 14.92 per cent. Operating expenses were $11,596,195, an increase of $300,091 or 2.66 per cent over the same month of 1936. The increase in operating expenses was mainly due to increased wages, it was stated.

Railway tax accruals were $1,186,943, a decrease for the month of $180,181 or 13.18 per cent. Accruals under the Carriers' Taxing Social Security Acts for the month were $333,506.

A LONG FIGHT

Gamblers have evidently had a hard time ever since the beginnings of government in this state. An early law states that anyone connected with or employed by a gambling house shall be fined between $100 and $2,000. If the culprit should be permitted gambling in his or her house, the fine was from $500 to $1,000.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

VIEWS OF THE NATION'S PRESS ON TOPICS OF INTEREST

Delinquent Parents

The fruits of parental delinquency of a decade ago are shown in the report of the Texas Public Safety Department, which shows that during the last three months 3,000 persons under the age of 25 years were responsible for 52 per cent of the murders, criminal attacks, robberies, burglaries and felony thefts. The charge against parents is more specific in the figures that 27 per cent of the crime was charged to youths under 20.

The nature of crimes laid to young persons evidences the lack of control upon them in the home and the failure to instill in the children the cardinal principles of honorable and decent living. The offenses of murder and assault are founded upon the ascendancy of the passions over the intellect and reason, and the idea underlying offenses of property is that a person may steal what might presently be more difficult for him to obtain honestly.

The inescapable parental obligation must be viewed from the position that the child is not here on his own choice and that the burden falls entirely upon the parents until he reached the point of maturity where he can be held responsible for his own acts. The 3,000 offenders under the age of 25 means there are 6,000 parents who actually were delinquent before the children who were caught by the law. The cure of crime by the young lies in eradicating the source in the home.—Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

A Human Life—$13

A letter from Dr. Theodore Minges to City Manager Sherrill and Mr. Sherrill's reply, call attention dramatically to a situation which threatens everyone of us. The fourteen-year-old son of Dr. Minges was killed by a hit-skip driver. The offending motorist, a youth of 19, not only left the scene of the accident, leaving the youngster dead on the street, but is known to be a chronic violator of the speed laws. What was his punishment for carelessness which resulted in the loss of human life? A fine of just $13—and denial of the right to drive a motorcar, in theory at any rate, for two months. As the father said in his letter, this meager punishment is a mockery upon the value of a human life. It exemplifies the callous attitude of courts and the general public alike toward highway hazards which are resulting in tragedy nearly every day in our city. Besides condemning the courts for their failure to exact genuine punishment for such offenses, the City Manager emphasized that public support is lacking for a vigorous application of the law. Police find it uphill work to enforce the traffic ordinances. Popular sympathy is with the offender, not with the enforcing officer. Inevitably the courts reflect something of this unfortunate attitude. Most of us share the blame for a state of affairs in which the value of the human life has been set formally in a court of law at $13.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Don't pass cars on hill, what's your hurry?

Odds of 20,000 to 1

How safe is it to fly? The air lines can produce pages on pages of statistics to show that travel on scheduled plane routes is now on a comparative basis of safety with older forms of transportation. But the dubious landlubber, swayed by centuries of tribal affection for terra firma and the shocking tragedy of the occasional air liner crash, is likely to remain unconvinced. Money, however, talks and the willingness of four large insurance companies to bet 20,000 to 1 that you will not meet with death or serious injury while on a trip by plane speaks louder than a volume of statistics and a month's sales talks. This rate for accident insurance, 25 cents for $5,000 protection, is virtually the same as has been sold to travelers on American railroads for years. Although the rate is based on a four-hour trip by air, the $5,000 policy is being sold for 25 cents on the New York-Chicago flight and for $1 on the trans-continental trip. As the insurance companies are in business to make money, their readiness to risk large sums at heavy odds that the vast majority of passengers will reach their destination safely is solid testimony to their confidence in the air lines' dependability.—Boston Herald.

Without Them—What?

Great armaments are not security against war, Professor David M. Amacker of Southwestern University told the Memphis Peace Action Council, of which he is president. But lack of armaments is certainly a danger to security and may even cost a nation its security. If China had possessed a navy adequate to defend its coasts, instead of being helpless on the sea, could Japan have landed invading armies in that country? A fire department is no security against fire. But a fire department is essential to give a city the most practical protection against the ravages of fire.—Arkansas Gazette (Little Rock).

Hamilton

So God created man in his own image. In physical, mental and spiritual embodiment of His work, God's creation was altogether good in placing Dr. John B. Winn in the earth to serve Him. The sacrificial life of his profession in the early days as a true type of the skilled surgeon, physician and friend, the "Country Doctor," and the toll of the years brought this honored man to the end of the way, and Dr. Winn died at his home in this city on Saturday morning, January 22, at about 4:00 o'clock.

A committee of five local men who know the game and who saw all the football games played by the Hamilton High School Bulldogs, voted Odus Blansit, senior letterman, "The most valuable football player on the 1937 team." He was presented the coveted McGarvey Gift Shop trophy by Coach Roach at the annual football banquet last Friday evening. Honors piled up for Blansit. Coach Lloyd Russell, of the Baylor Bears, Waco, verbally tossed a Baylor University scholarship on the table beside the figure of the winged victory emblem.

The turkey dinner given last Friday evening in the basement of First Methodist Church in honor of the 1937 Bulldogs, and the Pupils for 1938, turned out to be a regular 1938 Football Rally.

Ladies from all of the churches in the city joined in preparing and serving the feast, which had a two-fold purpose, that of showing appreciation for the fine work of the boys and their coach Pete Roach, in winning District Conference Championship for the first time for Hamilton High School squad; and to supplement funds on hand for settling off all debts incurred by the athletic Association in equipping the team and the improvement of the field and installation of floodlights. The Hamilton "Dust Bowl" is to be sodded when, or if the rain stops long enough for the work to be done.

Elder E. W. Stovall, Minister of the Reagan Avenue Church of Christ, and Elder Steve Melton, Minister of the Dublin Church of Christ attended the program of the Church of Christ Lecture Week in Temple, from Sunday to Thursday.—Herald-Record.

Lampasas

Division Superintendent, Southern Pacific Lines, Ennis, Texas, advises that, effective with the arrival of Train No. 253 at Llano and No. 254 at Austin, January 31, 1938, the Southern Pacific Lines will discontinue the handling of passengers to, or from, and between all points west of Austin and Llano, Burnet and Lampasas, and Fairland and Marble Falls.

The operation of coaches on these trains for the handling of passenger traffic will be discontinued commencing February 1, 1938.

The Fire Department was called Monday afternoon at 6 p. m. to the home of Morris Goodman. The fire had caught in the flu but it was put out before any damage was done to the building.

The building of the new Baptist Church on the corner of Key Avenue and Third Street is near completion and will be ready for use within the next three weeks. Present plans for the opening service to be held in the new building on the first Sunday in February. Upholstered opera chairs have been ordered for the auditorium but they have not arrived yet, and the old benches may be used for the first services.

The new church has been built with the thought of conserving all the space possible. The building contains a large auditorium, balcony, Sunday school rooms, kitchen and the pastor's study. The new building is made of stone and brick and when completed will be one of the most beautiful buildings in Lampasas.

San Saba

Methodists from neighboring cities are to meet with adult leaders of the local Methodist church on Friday evening, Jan. 28, when Miss Charlotte Stokley, representative from the General Board of Christian Education of the M. E. South of Nashville, Tennessee, will address the group.

Miss Stokley's visit is a part of the Methodist Church's celebration this year of the two-hundredth anniversary of the John Wesley work in the church. Supt. Robt. Mayfield, of Hutto, will be the principal speaker at the County Teachers Association meeting here at the school gymnasium Thursday evening, Feb. 3, at 8 o'clock.

Mr. Mayfield was a former principal of the San Saba Grammar school several years ago.

The Rev. Sam D. Taylor, Baptist minister here, received a message from his brother, the Rev. Walter Taylor of Phoenix, Arizona, Wednesday morning, announcing the death of his wife at that place Tuesday evening, from an attack of pneumonia.

Comanche

The W. J. Dobbs' Hodge No. 1 oil test, located in the Duster community, 16 miles northwest of Comanche, came in Thursday morning at 6:30, with a production showing an average of 25 barrels per hour on a 4 1-2 hour test. Oil men say that when the well settles down, a producer of 500 to 600 barrels daily can be expected.

The well is located on what is commonly known as the old Hodge estate, just west of Duster and 11 miles west of De Leon C. B. Williams, Mount Pleasant farmer, lost his barn, a year's supply of feed, two cows, his harness, and some tools, in a fire of undetermined origin Thursday night of last week about 11 p. m.

The 27th Anniversary of the Boy Scouts of America will be celebrated February 7, 7:45 to 8:00 p. m., over combined facilities of the National, Columbia and Mutual Radio networks, there will be a program which will be an outstanding feature of Boy Scout Week.

As you all know, 74-A from Lometa to the Mills County line is slated for paving early this year. Possibly it will start within the next thirty days.

The matter of getting the entire stretch paved from Lometa to Goldthwaite was taken up with District Engineer, Leo Ehlinger, and here is his statement: "In reply to your letter of Jan. 22, wish to advise that we are contemplating putting a light asphaltic base preservative on Highway 74-A from Goldthwaite south to the Mills Lampasas line and which will connect with the paving project from Lometa to the Mills Line."

On Friday, January 21, a social gather was given to Mrs. M. J. McLean by Meses J. H. Lockhart Mrs. R. I. Hines, and Mrs. W. A. Davidson of Temple, honoring her 80th birthday anniversary.

Mrs. Jewel Page and children Dorothy Nell and Pagie, came in last Thursday from Houston. The children have already entered school here and Mrs. Page will help Grandad in the store. Otis Allen is in school at Galveston.

Little Miss Imogene Hodges has been spending a few days with her grandmother, Mrs. L. W. Hill who carried her home and took dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Hodges. Others visiting Mr. and Mrs. Hodges were: Mr. and Mrs. Bill Dooley of Naruna, and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Manning and son.—Reporter.

Brownwood

With deadline date for beginning construction of Brown County Water Improvement District's million dollar irrigation project little more than a month away, prospects for government aid in financing the district's share of the project faded this week.

A telegram from H. G. Lucas, secretary of the board of directors, who has been in Washington several days working on the matter, brought the news that government agencies will not take the district's bonds as security for a $550,000 loan. Until this week, directors thought prospects of the loan were encouraging.

ARE YOU ONLY A 3/4 WIFE?

MEN because they are men can never understand a three-quarter wife—a wife who is all love and kindness for three weeks of the month—but a hell-out the fourth.

And make up your mind men never will understand. There are certain things a woman has to put up with and be a good sport.

No matter how your back aches—no matter how loudly your nerves scream—don't take it out on your husband.

For three generations one woman has told another how to go "smiling through" with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helps Nature tone up the system, thus lessening the discomforts from the functional disorders which women must endure in the three ordeals of life: 1. Turning from girlhood into womanhood. 2. Preparing for motherhood. 3. Approaching "middle age."

Don't be a three-quarter wife. Take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and go "smiling through." Over a million women have written in reporting benefit. Why not give this world-famous medicine a chance to help YOU?

pects of the loan were encouraging.

Although the Public Works Administration has approved a grant of $450,000 to the district toward construction of the project, the district must raise $550,000—its share of the cost.

Officials are redoubling efforts to place bonds, as apparently the only way left open for financing the district's share of the cost is by sale of bonds through private channels.

City Council members at a meeting Monday night discussed plans for construction of a hangar and other improvements at Brownwood municipal airport. The body voted to submit application for a WPA project for construction of the improvements.

Interviewing old timers of this section last week was William McLeod Raine, Denver, widely known author of Western fiction.

The author, visiting in Brownwood at the invitation of R. Niles Graham of Austin, who has ranching interests here.

Mrs. Eli Fairman.

One of Mills County's true pioneers passed away Sunday afternoon at 2:15 o'clock after many months of suffering. She was laid to rest in the L.O.O.F. Cemetery by the side of her son Fred, who passed away in 1919.

Mrs. Fairman was an unusual woman, in that her strong will power and good judgement carried her over many rough places and out of valleys of despair without daunting her courage and optimism and at the age of 85 while on her sick bed she was still intensely interested in her church and club and outside affairs.

Many were the friends as well as her children who sought her wise counsel and advice in matters pertaining to business affairs.

Mr. and Mrs. Fairman moved from Palestine to this section of the State before Mills County was organized, settling near Williams Ranch on a sheep ranch, which later they sold and bought a flour mill at Williams Ranch, there they lived a long time.

Mrs. Fairman in her religious zeal organized a Sunday school there and carried on the Lord's work.

Later they moved to Mullin where they lived several years before moving to Goldthwaite. After moving here Mrs. Fairman altho formerly a Presbyterian, united with the Methodist church and has been a staunch faithful member and worker in the church. She was always so liberal with her means and devoted to her family and the work of the Lord.

Mrs. Fairman leaves to mourn her passing, her husband and five children, a daughter, Mrs. Kate Marshall and 3 sons, Wilbur, Earl and Mark Fairman, one stepson, Walter Fairman, ten grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

The funeral was held at the home and was conducted by her pastor, Rev. Fred J. Brucks, assisted at the grave by Rev. J. W. Kelly.

A wonderfully beautiful blanket of flowers entirely covering the handsome casket was the loving gift of the family, who requested "no flowers" from others.

The pall bearers were: Grover Dalton, Dumble Hamilton, Hulon Fletcher, Eugene Dickerson, I. Z. Woodard and Joe Palmer.

Get Real Feed Efficiency

The number of salable chicks that can be gotten out of 100 eggs is a matter of hatchability and fertility. Feeding is one of the most important factors in hatchability. You can't even make a good guess at counting your chicks before they are hatched, if you don't feed right.

MID-TEX EGG MASH has what it takes to get hatching results—more chicks per 100 eggs.

Bring us your POULTRY, EGGS, and CREAM. We appreciate your patronage.
