HIGH SCHOOL SENIORS RECEIVE DIPLOMAS

School Closes May 23 As Achievement-Filled Year Ends

(From The Priddy Prattler)
With Tuesday, May 23, the last day of school, seniors and other students are busy with the preparations for the closing of school. As we have exercises and programs to present, we have a very full week for May 21 through 24.

On the evening of May 21 at 8 o'clock the seniors will have their baccalaureate sermon in the high school auditorium. No speaker has been secured for this occasion as yet.

On the evening of May 22, the grammar school will present a program. The main feature of this entertainment is to be an operetta, "Over the Garden Wall," which features pupils from the first through the sixth grades. This operetta includes many pretty songs, and Frances White and Martin Kluge take the leading roles as Mistress Mary and Little Boy Blue. In addition to the operetta the program will consist of a "Handkerchief Drill" and a "Topsy-Turvy Drill" presented by pupils from Miss Howard's and Mrs. Roberts' rooms respectively.

School will close on Tuesday, May 23, with the seniors and seventh graders receiving their diplomas that evening. The Honorable E. M. Davis, formerly senator from this district, will be the main speaker at the graduation exercises.

The school term will end with an all-day picnic, May 24, in Mr. F. W. Hein's pasture.

Methodist Church

We congratulate the Seniors of 1939 on the completion of their High School work. May the years ahead be richer for each of you because you have received that preparation for life.

Next Sunday morning the regular services will be held, the pastor preaching at the morning hour. For the night service we will have our Presiding Elder, Dr. H. G. Cooke from Llano, to preach for us.

We appreciate the visitors who honor us with their presence from time to time. You are always welcome. Let us make next Sunday a day of spiritual worship.

AN UNUSUAL FIND

Just 45 years ago Lacy Thompson's father, Col. W. H. Thompson, gave his nephew, W. H. Thompson, who now lives in Brownwood, a favorite dog of his named Luke. The dog and incident had been forgotten many years until last week Sam Rahl found a dog collar in his pasture, or the remains of it, with a silver name plate intact, bearing the inscription, "Luke, Belongs to W. H. Thompson."

HONORED AT TEA

Complimenting Mrs. Doris Patterson, a recent bride, Mrs. Melvin Horton entertained forty guests with a tea in her home in Star Thursday afternoon from 2 until 5 o'clock.

The centerpiece for the table was a vase of lovely roses and bridal wreath with candles on each side. A beautiful lace cloth covered the table. A refreshment plate consisting of sandwiches, olives, potato chips and cookies were served with tea.

Different games furnished entertainment, after which the honoree opened her gifts which were many and beautiful.

Mrs. Patterson, before her marriage a few weeks ago, was Miss Nina D. Gent, one of Star's most popular girls.

Mr. and Mrs. Patterson are at home to their friends at Molline.

BIG VALLEY H. D. CLUB

Cleanliness is one mark of a well-groomed woman as stated by Mrs. E. D. Roberson in the Big Valley Home Demonstration Club, meeting with Mrs. Landy Ellis at 2 p. m. Thursday, May 11.

Report was made on the last council meeting by Mrs. Floyd Sykes. Miss Scott gave us a report of the luncheon in Brownwood Tues. May 9, honoring Mr. W. P. Weaver.

Miss Scott gave us a discussion of the things that go to make up a well-groomed woman. Our clothes may be the best and selected with the best taste, but if we neglect our hair, our teeth, our eyes and our body we have failed in being well-groomed. Foundation patterns were also checked.

Our meeting adjourned and the hostess called us out under some cool shade trees where delicious ice cream was served to thirteen members, two visitors and Miss Scott. Our next meeting will be with Mrs. J. J. Cockrell, Thurs. May 25 at 2 p. m.

VACATION CHURCH SCHOOL AT METHODIST CHURCH

On next Monday, May 22, at 8:30, the vacation church school at the Methodist Church will begin. There is a class for every age group in the church and all children and young people from 4 to 14 or 15 are urged to attend. A fine staff of teachers will have charge.

Special interest groups will study such interests as basketry, art and handwork. All children and young people are invited. Remember, Monday, May 22, at 8:30.

Home Coming Picnic Set For June 11

All former Mills county residents now living elsewhere are invited to a big homecoming celebration and basket picnic here on Sunday, June 11. Home-folks will be on hand to welcome the visitors and join the celebration which will begin immediately after church services.

The homecoming was planned at the Mills County picnic held in Arlington recently and was tentatively set then for June 4. It has now been advanced to June 11 and will be held then without fail, rain or shine.

The place and program will be announced next week. Meanwhile every resident of Goldthwaite and Mills County is urged to write friends and relatives who formerly lived here and urge them to come on June 11.

Each family will bring its own basket of lunch. A short program is being arranged but the main idea for the homecoming is to make it possible for friends and acquaintances to see each other again and talk over old times.

Nazarene Church

Most of us have been very busy this week, but let us find time Sunday to attend a church and find rest for our souls.

The Nazarene church has Sunday School at 9:45 a. m., preaching at 11 a. m. and 7:45 p. m.

In addition to this there is to be a special address to the High School graduates, beginning at 7 p. m. We will appreciate your presence.

Mrs. (Rev.) Pearl Keeton, Pastor.

Legislative Activities

The Senate last week finally passed my bill to eliminate possibilities of evading the gasoline tax law. It is estimated that the bill will bring in an additional $500,000 a year. The tax on gasoline was in no way changed, but provisions were made to tighten regulations on refunding the tax on gasoline used for non-highway purposes.

When the sales and natural resource tax constitutional amendment came up for final passage in the House, it received only 84 votes, lacking 16 for the necessary 100 votes, and therefore the prospect of submitting the issue to the people becomes slim. On the other hand, sentiment for financing the social security program by passage of a bill levying the necessary taxes was strengthened and it is probable that some sort of tax measure will be passed before the legislature adjourns.

The House passed my bill to remit one-half of the state property taxes collected in Coleman County to the Central Colorado River Authority for a period of ten years for use in water and soil conservation. This measure was handled in the House by Representative W. R. Chambers.

An important development in the land vacancy bill high-lighted activities in the House when the members of that body voted to concur in Senate amendments. The bill gives the landowner the preferential right to purchase vacancies, and at the same time protects the school fund by making adequate provisions for uncovering of vacancies by good faith applicants.

The Senate passed the House bill by Chambers, Burkett and Howington, authorizing commissioners' courts to revise property tax assessments where property is valued at an excessive figure in comparison with similar or nearby property.

In the Senate debate was started on the rural aid school bill. Several members in the Senate, determined to prevent the Fair Trade Practice Act from coming up for consideration, promoted lengthy debate on every measure brought to the Senate's attention.

PENROSE B. METCALFE, Senator, 25th-District.

My Hobby

My hobby, model aviation, is the designing, building, and flying of miniature airplanes constructed of balsa wood and covered with silk or Japanese tissue.

There are two types of power used in models; rubber bands and gasoline motors. Rubber powered models are smaller, lighter, and more easily built and are powered with a special rubber, which is extremely elastic and strong.

Gas models are more difficult to build, usually requiring two years of experience with rubber powered models. They are built of hard balsa covered with silk or bamboo paper and powered with a tiny 1-5 h. p. gasoline engine no larger than an automobile spark plug and weighing only about six ounces. With a wing span of six feet and weighing two pounds, they can travel at a speed of thirty miles an hour and reach the altitude of several thousand feet.

The knowledge gained from designing and building these gas models is said to equal that gained in the first year of an aeronautical course. This is the reason I am so interested in my hobby, for I intend to study Aeronautical Engineering in college and believe the experience gained from this hobby will be an aid to me.—Max Cooksey.

Due to the recent rains, work on the paving of Highway 7 was suspended for several days this week.

Work was started again Thursday morning, and according to highway engineers, it will only be a matter of a few days until the project is completed.

Satisfying Meals That "Stick to Your Ribs"
By RUTH J. COOPER, Consulting Home Economist
Breeder-Feeder Association

In planning family menus one of the important considerations is the satiety value. Will this meal "stick to the ribs" or will the family feel hungry again immediately after eating?

Meat is one food that does satisfy longer than many foods.

While it is completely and easily digested, the fat in the meat retards the digestive process and in this way, stays with us longer.

The following menus are built around meat and are nourishing, appetizing and will "stick to your ribs."

Menus.
Beef chuck roast, buttered new potatoes, string beans, creamed cauliflower, grated carrot salad, berry cobbler, and beverage.

Jellied veal loaf, potato chips, pickles, creamed asparagus stuffed tomato salad, ice cream, cake and beverage.

Beef pie, New potatoes and peas, combination vegetable salad, butterscotch pudding and beverage.

Country fried steak, mashed potatoes, creamed corn, lettuce and beet salad, chilled custard with fruit and beverage.

Broiled liver and bacon, French fried potatoes, glazed onions, tomato and watercress salad, fresh fruit, cookies, and beverage.

Pot roast with vegetables, cabbage and pepper salad, lemon cream pie and beverage.

Irish stew, turnips and greens, corn on cob fresh onions, peach cobbler and beverage.

Broiled sirloin steak, browned rice, okra and tomatoes, fresh fruit salad, chocolate layer cake, and beverage.

Recipe.
Beef pot roast with vegetables:
3 pounds beef chuck, 6 small carrots, 6 small onions, 6 potatoes, 3 tablespoons fat, 2 tablespoons flour, 1½ teaspoons salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper.

Any of the less tender cuts of beef may be used. Wipe the meat with a damp cloth. Dredge with flour and season with salt and pepper. Brown the meat on all sides in the hot fat. Add one cup of hot water and more as needed. Cover the pan and allow meat to simmer slowly about three and one-half hours. During the last hour of cooking, add the prepared vegetable and cook only until they are done. If meat is not done by that time, remove the vegetables so they will not overcook. Thicken the liquid in the kettle for the gravy. Arrange the meat in the center of a large platter and tastily arrange the vegetables around the meat. Serve hot. Pass the gravy separately. A variety of vegetables—string beans, peas, lima beans, turnips, parsnips, cabbage, etc.—may be used.

County Road Maps

A survey of all public roads in the State has recently been completed by the State Highway Department. The survey included county roads as well as State highways, and maps are being prepared showing all public roads in the State.

It may be surprising to learn that prior to this survey there were in existence reliable road maps of only 27 counties. There were fairly reliable road maps of 75 counties, unreliable road maps of 101 counties, while the remaining 51 counties had no road maps.

The Highway Department is now engaged in preparing accurate road maps of all counties, showing both State highways and county roads. These maps also show all dwellings, schools, churches, and other structures visible from public roads.

On Mt. Locke—
Texas Eye Sees
More and Farther

Why did astronomers choose 6,791-foot Mount Locke for the site of the University of Texas's McDonald Observatory, 400 miles west of its parent institution at Austin?

For near-perfect starlight reception the requirements were: no vibration, no glare, no dust and no clouds.

So in his search for an observatory location, Astronomer-in-Charge Dr. C. T. Elvey found the Davis Mountains, with peaks of around 7,000 feet, to be most ideal.

Although the 75-ton telescope itself is firmly mounted on gigantic concrete piers, Dr. Elvey had to take into account proximity of railroads and other sources of vibration. The Texas and New Orleans is the nearest railroad—40 miles away.

Unshielded street lights, which would make a disturbing glare are no closer than Fort Davis, 16 miles from the Observatory. Extra precaution was being made in 1938 that no filling stations would ever be erected anywhere within five or six miles of the plant.

Dr. Elvey preferred Mt. Locke to a neighboring peak because Mount Locke was covered with more foliage, which helps keep down the dust on the windswept mountain. Too much dust in the air is a serious obstacle to good vision, he pointed out.

With a rainfall of only 15 inches per year, the area is unclouded approximately 300 days of the year.

Then too, more than 50 percent of the stars and nebulae which will be objects of scrutiny are seen better from positions nearer the equator. Thus the southernmost vantage point in the United States was selected.

The 200-acre site, with an adjoining 200-acre tract, was given to the University in 1933 by Mrs. Violet Locke McIvor of Concord, N. H., whose grandfather, G. S. Locke founded the U-UP and Down Ranch there. The land is now valued at $4,000.

Indian Mound Is Explored

AUSTIN.—Exploration of one of the largest Indian mounds in Texas is going forward through collaboration of The University of Texas and the Works Progress Administration.

A domiciliary mound, 190 feet long, 145 feet wide, and 30 feet high, located on Red River, near Texarkana, is now approximately one-fourth explored, A. T. Jackson, University field archaeologist, said today.

Excavations reveal that the Indians piled up dirt and clay to facilitate drainage of the home site. As one house, built of oak or juniper or cedar posts, and thatched with reeds, grass or willows, would burn to the ground, they would pile up another level of dirt about a foot high before constructing a new home.

In digging down 8 or 9 feet, the field crew has uncovered seven floor levels, each with its own pattern of post holes—about one foot deep and each hole six inches in diameter—outlining the shape of the houses built on that level.

FRIDDY SCHOOL PICNIC,
WEDNESDAY, MAY 24

The school term will close with a picnic Wednesday, May 24. All of the children and patrons are invited to a barbecue dinner followed by an afternoon of real fun.

The finance committee is raising enough money to have a barbecue, and the patrons are asked to bring the trimmings.

Some softball games have been planned; we hope to have one between the school board and the junior high girls. There will probably be a band on the grounds to play during the day. We are going to have plenty of music, food, and fun, and we want everyone to come.
