REA Two-Day Farm Equipment Show December 7th-8th

Applications of electric power to lighten farm labor and relieve household drudgery will be featured demonstrations of the big REA two-day farm equipment show on the T. J. Williams farm, two miles north of Comanche, beginning Thursday and Friday, Dec. 7-8.

Even small irrigation systems help make the farmer independent of the weather. A vegetable garden, truck crops, canny crops, and with larger irrigation systems, good size pastures, may be carried through a dry period unharmed by use of portable sprinkling systems. A portable irrigation system, will be set up and put into actual operation in the field close to the big tent if water is available.

While major irrigation systems require larger motors and a large supply of water, no special equipment in addition to the domestic water system is necessary for the farm vegetable garden. An ordinary lawn sprinkler and garden hose attached to the regular lawn sprinkler will do wonders for the small garden in the driest season. Mr. Curt of REA will set up and demonstrate the four's irrigation system. The sprinklers used are of a special type designed for farm irrigation particularly.

Neighbors of Mr. Williams, whose fields the demonstration will be set up, will bring in the grain to be ground, the corn to be shelled, and the cornstalks, grasses, and sorghums for hay chopping and ensilage cutting.

Truck loads of equipment, feed grinders, shellers, elevators, will be set up in a demonstration line near the tent. A double-line midway of electric-powered farm equipment, set up in the open, in individual tents, and in house trailers, will lead from the demonstration line to the lunch tent and the big tent itself. Local farm women, members of the 4-H Club, will serve hot lunches from morning till late in the evening, so that everyone who attends may be certain of getting somewhere to eat and can plan on staying for the whole show.

The first meeting, Thursday night at 7:30 p. m. will be in the big tent and of equal interest to men and women. The demonstrations will start up again next morning at 10:30 and run thru the evening, with intermissions for supper and lunch. Miss Katherine Harris of the Extension Service with Miss Oneta Lister, REA home economist, share a program that includes kitchen and bathroom planning, electric cookery, laundry, clinic, lighting demonstrations, refri-

Beginning last Friday and falling slowly but steadily until Sunday, a much-needed rain broke the serious drought and made a winter grain crop possible. At Harry Allen's government gauge in Goldthwaite 1.94 inches was recorded, but over two inches was reported from several points in Mills county.

The rain was general over the county and over Texas except for a part of the Panhandle. Grass was greatly benefited by the moisture.

All of the rain went into the ground so there is still need in some sections for stock water, especially in new tanks. Total rainfall for the season is still considerably below normal, but the acute need has passed for the present.

P.-T. A. Notes

More businessmen are joining the P.-T. A. this year than in many years. The dues are 50c a year per person or one dollar for man and wife. The organization greatly appreciates our men making this interest in our school. The P.-T. A. extends another invitation to the rural fathers and mothers to join the association. The money received for paid dues is used for the interest of the school.

Each year the P.-T. A. allows a large sum of money to go for seating the auditorium. Won't you join and attend the meetings as often as possible?

The P.-T. A. sends heartfelt sympathy to a fellow-member and teacher, Miss Lily May Ely in the loss of her father.

peration studies, a cooking and an ironing contest.

With the coming of electricity, the day of the sad iron is done. Light, fast, electric irons put new zip into ironing. New-type ironers, too, that enable the farm wife to iron the whole wash seated comfortably beside it, will be available to the farm women who would like to try their own hands at streamlined ironing. The electric iron, or the ironers, does not get too cold if it is used right nor does it get too hot. Thermostats keep the temperature at a fairly even level.

This big REA demonstration is following the season from north to south through eight states to help the farm people to whom it brought electricity get greater convenience and lower cost production through its use. The exhibits include such homely items as a pig brooder, a "motor teter" with which one man can readily move a ten-horsepower motor, a stock tank heater, and plumbing, lighting, and a variety of farm equipment.

Garden Club Flower Show Attracts Many

The annual fall flower show of the Goldthwaite Garden Club was held Wednesday in the salesroom of the Community Public Service Co. here. The beautiful displays of cut flowers and of flower designs and fruit and vegetable arrangements revealed much artistic talent. Many favorable comments were passed on the individual entries and the show as a whole.

Judges found it difficult to select the best entries in many cases because of the all-around high standard of the exhibits. They awarded ribbons as follows:

Top of 14½ Cents Paid for Turkeys In Goldthwaite

Goldthwaite proved to be a profitable market for turkey sellers this week when a top price of 14½¢ was paid for choice birds. Bulk of the sale was around 12¢. The price at Brownwood for No. 1 turkey was also 12¢ and Brownwood, with 35 carloads shipped claimed to be the largest market in the state this year.

Quality was only fair as the drought had prevented the turkeys from finishing in as good condition as usual.

Buying will be virtually at a standstill now until the Christmas market opens.

Achievement Events Of County H. D. Clubs During This Month

Mills County Home Demonstration Clubs are having their Achievement Events during this month. The purpose of the achievement event is to show or display home demonstration work accomplished during the 1933 club year.

The Mt. Olive Club held its achievement program in the home of Mrs. Melrose Hodges, garden demonstrator, November 1st. Mrs. Hodges invited the club members to view her home grown supply which consists of 39 varieties of home grown and conserved foods. Mrs. Hodges has stored in a brand new cellar between 550 and 600 containers of fruits, vegetables, and meats, 1200 pounds of dried fruit, peas, beans, and potatoes. "The help of the entire family was solicited in producing and caring for this food.

The South Bennett club members participated in an achievement tour Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 7. The members and guests met at the home of Mrs. Willis Hill to inspect her frame garden constructed of native stone and full of growing vegetables. Mrs. Hill has added new clothing and pantry storage space. The club women inspected this, too. The entire membership then went in a body to the home of Mrs. Leatha Featherston. Here they were invited to view the well planned and constructed concrete cellar in which Mrs. Featherston stores home conserved foods. The group then journeyed to the home of Mrs. Walter Simpson, where they enjoyed an instructive demonstration on "Family Meal Service," given by Miss Novaleen Berry, of Pleasant Grove.

The Big Valley E. D. Club's achievement program took the form of a "Mattress Making Training School," in the home of Mrs. Homer Weaver, November 9. Twenty-one women came and participated in the mattress making demonstration. The group enjoyed a covered dish luncheon at noon. A mattress was made at a minimum cost of which any home maker would be proud to possess. Mrs. Weaver, too, displayed a well filled 4-H pantry.

Similar programs have been planned for the other clubs in the county during the month of November.

County Council Of H. D. Clubs Met With Miss Scott

The Mills County Council of Home Demonstration Clubs met with Miss Emma Scott in her office Saturday, Nov. 4, at 2:00 p. m. The meeting was well attended and much interest shown.

Chairman, Mrs. Oran Carothers; vice-chairman, Mrs. Harvey Hale; secretary, Mrs. Fred Reynolds; treasurer, Mrs. Vernon Perkins; parliamentary, Mrs. Lee R. Tesson, and reporter, Mrs. Jon Schooler.

At this point Mr. Rosenberg, our county agent was presented to the council by Miss Scott. All E. D. Clubs wish a successful and happy stay among us for Mr. Rosenberg and his family and bid them welcome.

Miss Scott reported the winning canned fruits and many charts and reports from this county were being shown at the fair in Llano county, where they have no E. D. Agent.

For entertainment Miss Orpha Ruth Faulkner and Master Donald Bachus gave a black-face reading, song and dance which were clever as could be and well received.

Present were Misses Jno. Eolin and Jno. Roberts of Center Point, Vernon Perkins of Star, Oran Carothers and A. D. Painting Town Red May Bring Youths Trouble

Using bright red wagon paint, some out of town youths painted walls of the Goldthwaite high school with challenges to a football game. Where the painting was on wood, repainting is necessary, but so far no way of removing the disfiguring signs from the brick walls has proved successful. While school authorities were inclined to treat the escapade as a schoolboy prank, serious results may await the pranksters. Not content with defacing the school walls, the boys proceeded to the underpass on State Highway 81 and daubed the walls there. It is a serious offense to deface such property along a state highway, and as the culprits were recognized, it is likely that an explanation to the judge is in store for them.

Radio Men Wanted For U. S. Army

Fort Sam Houston. — Today Army recruiting officers started combing the southwestern states for young men desiring to learn radio, telegraph, and telephone trades.

The headquarters of the Signal Corps offices here are a bee-hive of activity in preparation for the influx of new men. Plans are being made for training 400 men in the maintenance and repair shops here.

Upon arrival at the post, new signal men will be quarantined together so that they can live and talk their chosen trades. They will be given six weeks of general physical and military training and then sent to the shops where they will work as apprentices under experienced technicians. The radio men will construct, install, and repair all kinds of radio telegraph and telephone transmitters and receivers, including short-wave sets, fixed automatic transmitters, and secret portable sets. The telephone men will install switchboards, do line work, splice cables, and install and repair dial and portable telephones.

After one or two years of shop training, men who have shown exceptional interest and ability will be sent to the Fort Monmouth school for advanced courses in theory, laboratory, and field work. The school term is nine months. The plan of study is similar to that of the average small college. The students are furnished board and room, clothing, books and supplies, and entertainment in addition to their army pay.

Highway Deaths On Decrease

"Two Hundred Forty Seven of these fatalities occurred in cities of over 2,500 population; sixty-six in cities of less than 2,500; 136 on county roads not a part of the Highway System, and six hundred forty nine on highways."

What The War Will Do To Prices

Cattle Should Go Higher

College Station—The war will tend to maintain or even raise cattle prices in spite of the increased production in prospect.

This situation will come about partly from increased consumer demand and partly because of anticipated demand for hides, but mostly because hog prices are expected to go higher and this will cause some improvement in demand as people turn from pork to beef.

No large foreign outlet for the United States is likely to develop as a result of the war. Such a development would occur only if shipping from Argentina and Australia became very hazardous.

It does not appear probable that either domestic or foreign demand, and price, will improve in the present situation as much as during the World War. At any rate, prices for beef should not rise markedly in 1940.

This outlook for the cattle business comes from the United States Department of Agriculture's Bureau of Agricultural Economics.

In commenting on the report, Geo. W. Barnes, animal husbandman of the Texas A. and M. Extension Service, pointed out that there are several marked differences between the present situation and that of 1914.

In the first place, beef production in 1914 was at the lowest level since 1902. In 1940 supplies of meat are expected to be the largest since 1924. Small decreases in beef slaughter will be more than offset by a considerable increase in the production of pork.

Prior to 1914, England imported around 600 million pounds of beef from Argentina; but shipping difficulties caused these imports to drop to 221 million pounds in 1918 while United States exports went up. Little, if any, increase in beef exports is expected during the present war.

For some reason, many cattlemen believe that war will bring a strong and rapid upswing in price. "That's what happened in the World War," they say. Actually, prices showed only a moderate increase during the early days of the World War.

Here are the figures on the average price per 100 pounds of beef at Chicago: 1913 - $8.25; 1914 - $8.65; 1915 - $8.40, and 1916 - $9.50. Rises in livestock prices growing out of war-time conditions did not get underway until about the middle of 1916, and that was largely due to industrial activity and consumer demand in the United States.

Prices jumped to $11.60 in 1917, $14.65 in 1918, and $15.50 in 1919. By 1921, prices were back down to $8.20.

Nail Picker Saves Punctures

Austin, Texas, November 9.—For the past ten years the highway department has operated two magnetic nail picking machines. A magnetized bar charged by an auxiliary motor is suspended from the rear of a truck a few inches above the ground, and the bar is approximately the same width as the truck. As the truck moves slowly over unpaved surface or shoulders, nails, pieces of steel and other metal are pulled from the dirt or gravel by the magnetized bar. When the bar is covered, the truck operator drives to one side, spreads a canvas under the bar, and by cutting off the current, drops the accumulation of metal on the canvas. The metal is then placed in the truck, to be weighed later and finally disposed of where it can do no damage.

The first work with a machine of this type was conducted in 1929, and so positively proved its value that the operation of magnetic nail pickers has since been considered a regular function of the highway department.

During the twelve months ending August 31, 1939, the magnetic nail pickers worked 6,891 miles of state highways, and picked up a total of 82,355 pounds of metal, making an average of about 12 pounds of metal per mile. The cost of operating the machines was about $1.25 per mile of highway worked, and an average of 30 miles of highway was worked each day, and approximately 349 pounds of metal picked up daily.

Not Much Hope For Cotton Increase

College Station—"Can we expect a rise in cotton prices because of the war? I don't believe we can."

That's what P. K. Norris, marketing specialist of the Foreign Agricultural Service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, and an outstanding authority on cotton, is telling Texas A. and M. Extension Service county agricultural and home demonstration agents in a series of 12 AAA educational meetings over the state.

Here is the background on which Norris bases his prediction: There is a world supply of 50 million bales of cotton. Of this amount 24 million are in other countries; 26 million are the United States supply.

Of the 26 million American bales, 14 million are the carry-over, 12 million bales are the current production.

The consumption of United States cotton last year totaled about 10 million bales; top estimate for 1939 consumption is 12 million. And that, Norris says, is the most that can be expected at any time in the future under present conditions.

So the United States has on hand more than twice as much cotton as will be consumed this year. Norris thinks no increase in consumption will come because of the war, because the nations at war are short of foreign exchange in America and what they have will probably be spent on war materials.

Some cotton is used in war, but this is more than offset by a decline in normal uses. The blockade of Germany will probably prevent her from importing any cotton at all. England will turn first of all to her dominions for cotton, wheat and livestock. From the United States she will get guns and airplanes and munitions—materials she cannot get from her dominions.

"But," the farmer asks, "cotton prices soared during the last war. Can't I expect the same thing this time?"

Norris thinks not. In the first place, the American supply of cotton is more than 8 million bales larger than at the beginning of the World War—and consumption is not likely to be as large as in 1914-15. About that time the United States supplied 65 per cent of all cotton consumed in the world—today the figure is about 42 per cent.

One reason for this is the production of rayon. Before the last war rayon production was equal to 49,000 bales of cotton a year; today the figure is 4 and 1-2 million bales.

That came because trade barriers were thrown up. The U. S. would not take foreign products in exchange for cotton, and foreign nations had little cash. So they turned to rayon.

England used to take between 3 and 4 million bales of American cotton a year. Last year our exports to the United Kingdom were only 400 thousand bales. Meanwhile Japan developed her cotton industry, undersold England, and mixed inferior Indian cotton with good American cotton. India started cotton manufacturing too, and today Britain's exports of cotton materials to India are only 14 per cent of what they used to be.

Meanwhile Brazil turned from unprofitable coffee to cotton. She used American machinery and Texas seed. She set up one-variety cotton areas and a one-variety cotton state. She delivered quality cotton in much better condition than that of America. Most of all, she traded cotton for foreign manufactured goods—something the United States is unwilling to do.

Whatever increase comes in price of cotton will come because of inflation, a general upswing of prices for everything, Norris thinks. And that means the things the cotton farmer buys will be higher, too.

Approximately ninety-five per cent of the cropland in Texas was covered by the 1938 AAA program.

If cotton marketing quotas are adopted for 1940, producers who plant within their cotton acreage allotments can market without penalty all cotton produced in 1940.

Be courteous. You may want to hunt on the farmer's land again.

Eighty percent of the forest fires in the United States are started by man.

Railway Expenditures In Texas Exceed $10,000,000 A Month

Taken collectively, the railroads of Texas constitute a gigantic industry, surpassing in investment, employment and payrolls every other industrial group in the Lone Star State. Railroad expenditures in the state for fuel, materials and supplies, labor and taxes are estimated at $121,000,000, not including large railway purchases outside the state of petroleum products, lumber products and food products originating in Texas.

Making up this huge industry are some seventy distinct railway properties embracing approximately 40,000 miles of railway lines, of which 16,500 are within the state of Texas. In railway mileage, Texas stands head and shoulders above every other state in the Union.

Over this network of railroads and connecting lines hundreds of freight trains operate daily—carrying the products of Texas farms, mines, forests and factories to all parts of the continent and to the seaports for export to all parts of the world. Returning trains bring an unending stream of manufactured products to supply the wants of the six million and more people of Texas. Numerous other trains provide Texas with essential passenger, express and mail transportation.

Large Buyers of Texas Products
Railroads are among the country's largest consumers of fuel oil, lubricating oils and greases, and Texas produces approximately 40 per cent of the nation's petroleum. The Class One railroads of the United States (railroads each having gross revenues of more than $1,000,000) spent $67,790,000 for these items in 1938. It is reasonable to assume that around 40 per cent of this sum, or $27,116,000, was for fuel oil and other petroleum products from Texas wells.

Railroads normally take around one-fifth of the domestic consumption of forest products in this country. They are among the largest buyers of Texas lumber, cross-ties, piling, poles and other forest products. The importance of this market is indicated by the fact that in 1937, a year of sub-normal railway buying, four of the many railroads which draw on Texas mills spent more than $3,500,000 in the state for cross-ties, sawed lumber and other products derived from forests.

In addition, the railroads spend millions of dollars in Texas each year for tie treating and wood preservatives, ballast materials, cement, asphalt, paint, iron and brass castings, car wheels, brake shoes, reinforcing rods, pipe and pipe fittings, hand and machine tools, hardware, roofing materials, cotton duck, cotton and wool waste, ice stationery and printing and other items. Texas is also an important source of supply for fresh fruits, vegetables, dairy and packing house products and sea foods for railway dining cars and restaurants. — Manufacturers Record

JTAC CADETS WIN COMMENDATION

O. H. Soules, son of Henry Soules, Star, Texas, as a member of the Honorary Cadet Corps of John Tarleton College, Stephenville, recently received commendations for efficiency from Major James D. Bender, Professor of Military Science and Tactics at that institution.

Pleased with the performance of Tarleton's Honorary Company at the impressive military ceremony for the late Lieutenant Ceaborn H. Goodwin, Jr., resident of Stephenville, former JTAC student, and a student flier at Love Field, Dallas, Major Bender issued the following statement:

"The generous attitude, dignified demeanor, excellent appearance, and efficient manner of performance demonstrated in paying the last respects to the memory of the late Lt. Ceaborn H. Goodwin was such as to reflect great credit upon you individually, the Honorary Corps, and this institution."

Cotton Still Counts

Austin, Texas, November 16th—King Cotton is still a potent force in Texas' swing to industrialization, despite its drop from 1927 pre-eminence, a University of Texas expert predicted last week.

Dr. A. B. Cox, director of the University's Bureau of Business Research, pointed out that, although income from cotton and cotton seed now accounts for only 38 cents of each dollar of the Texas cotton farmer's income, compared with a 67 cent slice in 1927, the staple is still not only the state's best money crop but its surest cultivated feed crop.

AUSTIN—A Texas Game Department warden recently arrived upon the scene of one of those terrific battles nature's children sometimes engage in just in time to rescue one deer, but the other had not survived a struggle to death which, persons who have witnessed such battles declare are as thrilling as any plot ever conceived by an author.

The warden arrived on a flat on the Herbert Ranch in the Hill country to find a pair of seven and eight point bucks with their horns locked together and signs of a terrific struggle having taken place. One buck was dead, but the warden worked with the other, the eight-pointer, got him loose and watched the deer literally stagger off into thick cover. Bucks fight frequently, but it is not so often that their horns become locked. However, if that occurs and no outside help is available, both deer are generally victims of the battle.

White-wing doves, considered much better sport than mourning doves, generally remain in Texas' Rio Grande Valley. Large numbers are found in several counties there, but this year, and the reason is not known by Game Department biologists, the birds have come much farther north than usual. Flights of several hundred each have been seen in Medina county and a good many sportmen of that section have gotten their limits of white-wings without having to make the usual trek to the Valley. Infrequent reports of white-wings nesting as far north as Medina county have also been received by the Game Department.

An Abilene fisherman recently lost $30 in prizes because he had not spent $1.10 for a fishing license. Abilene merchants marked a dozen fish and released them in Lake Abilene. The largest one carried notification of a prize of $50 for the person catching it PROVIDING HE HAD A FISHING LICENSE. Smaller fish were marked for prizes of less amount. Only one sportsman has caught any of the marked fish according to latest reports. However, he did hook the $50 fish, but was unable to collect because he did not have a fishing license. He remedied that situation with a $1.10 purchase, and believe it or not, returned to the lake to catch another fish which had been marked. However, the second catch was worth only $20 in prizes and the fisherman was "out" $30. Other sportsmen of that section are still trying to catch the remainder of the marked members of the finny tribe in Lake Abilene.

Motor cars take a terrific toll of deer, as is attested by a report to the Game Department's executive secretary by the Warden at Fredericksburg, who stated that a personal check disclosed 76 deer found dead on the highways of one county, Gillespie, during a period from October 1, 1938, to October 1, 1939.

It is unlawful in Texas to kill or take turkey hens, the State Game Department points out.

Frazier—Dickerson

Miss Floyce Allene Dickerson and Harmon Frazier were united in the holy bonds of wedlock on last Friday evening at 6:00 o'clock in Trinity Methodist church, San Angelo, by Rev. F. J. Brucks, former pastor of Goldthwaite Methodist Church. They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Wilba Kemp of Arlington and Mr. and Mrs. Gordon McCann of Lometa.

Mrs. Frazier is the attractive daughter of Mrs. Al Dickerson and Mr. Frazier is the very highly esteemed son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Frazier.

Ford—Stephens

The simple, but beautiful ceremony of Lillian Elaine Stephens and Mr. Charles Milton Ford was solemnized Wednesday evening at 6:00 p. m. at the home of the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Potter, with Rev. M. P. Burton officiating.

The couple, who were unattended, stood before an improvised altar banked high with autumn leaves, palms and ferns. White tapers in tall candelabra at each side of the altar, and baskets of cream chrysanthemums completed the decorations at the altar. In the dining room a bouquet of pink rosebuds centered the lace-covered table.

Preceding the ceremony, Miss Lillian Summy played, "The Rosary" and the wedding march from Lohengrin. During the ceremony "I Love You Truly" was played softly.

The bride wore a lagume blue chiffon velvet dress with a gathered bodice, at the neck of which she wore a gold brooch belonging to her great-grandmother. Her gloves were rose pink and she wore a corsage of pink carnations.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Stephens, of this city, and is a graduate of Goldthwaite High School and is an accomplished musician.

The groom is the son of Mr. Vincent Ford, of Beeville, and will receive his degree in engineering from Hemphill Diesel School, of Memphis, Tenn., in January.

After a brief trip to Corpus Christi and other points in south Texas, the couple will return here where Mr. Ford is employed by the Community Public Service Co.

The bride's going away costume was of black sheer wool with matching accessories.

Out-of-town guests attending were: Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Stephens, Charles Stephens, Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Millsap, Kempner; Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Potter, Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Lofton, Mrs. J. C. Martin, Mrs. W. E. Thompson, Brownwood; and Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Reece, of Lampasas.

Ebony

By Clementine Wilmet Briley

Gratitude beams on our countenances since the good rain which fell here Friday and Saturday. It is estimated by some that about two inches fell, putting a good season in the ground.

Not many were out at church Sunday, probably on account of the rain and mud, but Bro. Green came. Empty seats did not seem to faze him, for he delivered an excellent sermon, and we felt that it was good to be there.

We wish to apologize to Baby Iris Joy Crowder and to Baby Donnie Kay Boulware and to the parents of each of them for getting their names mixed up. Iris Jo is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Truman Crowder and Donnie Kay is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Boulware.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Estes and daughters of Missouri were here last week visiting his nephew, Edward Egger, and his sister, Mrs. Janie Hanna.

Dewey Smith left Monday morning to drill on a well at Bend. Inez and Estelle Russell will keep Mrs. Smith company while he is away.

Mr. and Mrs. Wood Roberts and Mrs. E. O. Dwyer made a trip to Goldthwaite Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Ketchum and Alva June spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Gene Egger.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl McCaleb and Mr. McCaleb's parents, all of Anson, and Miss Earlene Day of Abilene Christian College arrived at the Day home Friday night where they were guests for Armistice Day. They left Saturday evening, returning by Brownwood to attend the A. C. C. - D. B. C. game.

Mr. and Mrs. Orville Egger and baby spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Wilmet had dinner with Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Briley Sunday after church.

Miss Dolly Reynolds spent the week end with Mrs. Effie Egger and her mother.

Mr. and Mrs. Billie McNurien and children spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Wood Roberts. In the afternoon Mr. McNurien and Mr. Roberts also visited at the Charles Roberts home.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Reeves and baby spent the week end at Mullin visiting Mrs. Reeves parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Guthrie.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Allen and baby of Indian Creek spent Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Haynes.

Mr. and Mrs. P. R. Reid had all their children with them Sunday. They are Mr. and Mrs. Dale Reid and Mr. and Mrs. Charm Whittenburg and baby Clint.

John Briley killed a big chicken snake stretched out in the Hosea field last week. He noticed a knot on it and cut into it to see what it was. He found a china nest egg.

Mrs. Nellie Malone spent from Thursday to Tuesday visiting relatives and friends in Brownwood.

Oil Dwyer seemed pretty well most of last week, but was not so well the first of this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Egger of Regency called on Mr. and Mrs. P. R. Reid Sunday night.

Homer Egger and family moved from the Jim Wilmet place last week to Dulin where he will help Ralph Wilmet on the Dr. Locker Ranch. Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Egger are moving on the Wilmet place.

Merry Wives Club

Mrs. Walter Fairman entertained the Merry Wives Club with a luncheon, Tuesday, Nov. 14. Chrysanthemums and fall leaves were used in decorating, and each guest received a place card with beautifully colored birds.

Members and guests attending were Meses. Marvin Hodges, Kelley Saylor, Claude Burch, E. B. Gilliam, Jr., T. F. Toland, Raymond Little, W. C. Dew, Paul McCullough, Maston Pribble, O. H. Yarborough and Mrs. Alderman.—Reporter.

Band Mothers Club

The Band Mother's Club met in regular session Nov. 8, at the auditorium. It was decided that we have a band concert and negro minstrel in December.

Mr. Smith was authorized to buy four more band suits which will suit our entire high school band.

The children all ordered the trousers to match the coats.

ORCHIDS TO THE GARDEN CLUB

Before Jack Frost's icy fingers sear the loveliness of blossom and of leaf, the EAGLE desires to pay deserved tribute to the ladies of the Goldthwaite Garden Club for their improvement of the court house grounds.

In a few short months their persistence, perseverance and artistic ability have converted a bleak and desolate expanse of vacant ground into a most attractive garden plot. Just now a riot of golden chrysanthemums along the south walk are the particular attraction.

Although much of this loveliness is destined to fall victim to Nature's inexorable law upon the approach of winter, the foundation has been laid for an even more beautiful display of flowers and shrubbery next year.

To those Garden Club members who have bestowed so much time and talent in bringing about this successful result, the EAGLE offers its unreserved congratulations and a verbal orchid.

THE WAR THAT WOULDN'T START

While this old world shivers in terror, anticipating the worst, Germany and England and France keep the soft pedal on pleas for action, and the war doesn't start.

It will be recalled that in the World War of 1914-1918 comparatively little progress was made by either side during the winter months. American soldiers with their characteristic disregard for precedent started a tremendous drive in September that was just swinging into its stride when the Armistice called a halt.

So Old General Weather is still in supreme command on the Western Front, and as the generalissimos plan and counterplan behind their massive fortifications, the soldiers enjoy a few more days of life.

It is a hopeful sign because the delay presents more and more opportunities for a peaceful settlement.

Who knows but that the hope of Peace may eventually be realized without the sacrifice of millions of men?

PLAYING POLITICS WITH POVERTY

Months ago this editor urged Governor O'Daniel to call a special session of the legislature devoted to the sole purpose of finding revenue for Old Age Assistance grants. We believed then and believe now that such a session could have equitably distributed the necessary tax load upon shoulders broad enough to bear it, and would have done just that.

But days dragged into weeks and weeks into months and nothing was done. Recently the governor made two extraordinary proposals. First he attempted to secure from the legislators a solemn promise that they would enact a sales tax to provide the needed revenue. When this audacious plan failed for lack of response, the governor countered with the still more ridiculous plan that the legislators should, while not in session, and hence without official standing, perform those deliberative functions of the legislative body and pre-

Such proposals smack of totalitarian procedure and are entirely foreign and repugnant to the Texas way of thinking. But their worst feature has been their creation of false hopes in the breasts of the aged pensioners of Texas in whose ears still ring the dulcet promises of a modern Pied Piper of $30 a month for EVERYBODY.

All the recriminations and alibis in the world can't wipe out the ugly smear of broken promises and exploded prophecies. Why doesn't Leon sing some more?

How to Recognize Pneumonia

Austin.—Potential victims of pneumonia, and families concerned, hold one of the keys to reduction of the death rate from this disease, according to Dr. G. W. Cox, State Health Officer. It is estimated that each year 25,000 Texans suffer an attack of pneumonia.

As a means of prevention, people should guard against the common cold, neglect of which often leads to pneumonia as a complication.

Persons who develop pneumonia will have the best chance for recovery by knowing the symptoms of the disease and placing themselves under treatment promptly after onset of illness. Typical beginning symptoms include a severe chill and fever, stabbing pain in the chest, cough with rust-colored or blood tinged sputum, nausea and vomiting, loss of appetite.

Sudden onset of symptoms as described should cause the patient and members of the family to suspect the possibility of pneumonia. Rusty sputum, usually a sign of inflammation in the lungs, naturally gives rise to the question as to the cause of sickness. Examination of the sputum in a hospital or public health laboratory which serves as a pneumonia typing center, frequently shows the presence and type of the pneumonia germ, and makes clear the exact nature of illness.

Science has found effective means of combating pneumonia, through the use of proper serum and medicine. To be most effective, these treatments must be given early and after the exact cause of the inflammation has been determined.

During 1938, pneumonia deaths numbering 4,129 were recorded in Texas and it is necessary for all people to arm themselves with knowledge and to cooperate in measures to decrease the pneumonia death toll.

Most Snakes Useful States Herpetologist

Denton, Texas, November 16th.—Climaxing his lecture by the capture and handling of a big Texas rattler, Jack Raymon, herpetologist and authority on outdoor life, presented a talk on North American snakes at a recent assembly program at the North Texas State Teachers College.

Of the 143 snakes in the United States, only four are poisonous, Raymon said, the rattler, the cottonmouth, the copperhead, and the tiny coral snake. Other than those four, he continued, the snake is a friend to farmers and should be protected for their aid to crops in destroying harmful insects.

During the lecture, Raymon handled other live snakes including a ribbon snake, yellow coach whip, several king and water snakes, a chicken snake, and a yellow Texas bull snake. He pointed out that of the 2,300 snakes in the world only 250 are poisonous and only 150 to 175 dangerously poisonous.

If a person is bitten by a poisonous snake, he should be kept quiet and a tourniquet should be placed between the bite and the heart, the wound cut open with a knife and the poison sucked out with a suction cup or the mouth, the speaker explained. He added that the wound should never be cauterized.

WARNINGS AND PROMISES

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 7:1-14.
GOLDEN TEXT—And as ye would that men should do to you, do ye also to them likewise.—Luke 6:31.

"How to Win Friends and Influence People" may be worthwhile to study, unless it is done from a purely selfish desire to be popular so that one may make more money and get on in the world. Everyone should desire to make more friends and better friends, and the Christian in making friends should make them for his Lord as well as for himself. Actually the best of the rules and suggestions offered on this subject are already an integral part of Christian conduct as revealed in the Word of God.

I. Avoid Judgment (vv. 1-5).

By not judging others censoriously we escape such judgment of ourselves both by God and by our fellow man. The admonition, "Judge not," obviously does not mean that we are not to exercise our God-given ability to discern between good and evil, nor does it mean that we are to stand silent in the presence of wrongdoing. Verse 6 in this very chapter calls for the use of judgment (see also I Thess. 5:21).

In all such judgment we are to avoid an unkind spirit and the hypocrisy described in verses 3 to 5. We are to be certain that our own lives are above reproach regarding that which we condemn (v. 5). The none too common exercise of correcting our own faults will serve a salutary twofold purpose of improving ourselves and of making us too busy to find fault with others.

II. Be Reverent (v. 6).

While we are not to judge others, we are not to go to the opposite extreme of being so lenient in our attitude that we permit ungodly men to profane and trample down sacred things. This does not mean, as some would have us believe, that we are not to present the gospel to the lowest of sinners; for example, to a drunkard. Only thus can such an individual be saved. But it does mean that in dealing with holy things we are not only to be reverent ourselves, but we are to be careful that we do not permit wicked men to misuse and to profane the holy things of God.

III. Pray in Faith (vv. 7-11).

Here is a straightforward promise from the lips of our Lord Himself, assuring us that prayer will be answered. It seems that He must have foreknown that some would feel that the promise was too good to be true, so He stated it in three-fold form and repeated it twice. Why not believe it, act on it, and receive the answer?

Observe that there is to be importunity in prayer, we are to seek if we would find. "Our Lord does not guarantee to us anything at first asking. God does not open His treasury to a passing bugle-call or the tap of a careless hand which just touches the door and then passes on. Prayer is not a momentary wish or a transitory whim. It is the utterance of a confirmed and persistent and unwearying longing. If you want a prayer answered, you must go on praying" (J. G. Greenough).

We have included the so-called Golden Rule under this section because the word "therefore" links it with that which goes before. Dr. G. Campbell Morgan aptly says, "If we omit the 'therefore,' we cannot obey the verse. If we retain the 'therefore,' and are driven to ask, to seek, to knock, and to know that the Listener to the asking, to the seeking, to the knocking, is our Father, then the rule is golden with heaven's own light, but in no other way."

The Golden Rule is really the fulfillment of the law and the prophets, but in the light of Christ's glory it is also a great principle of Christian love and consideration.

IV. Walk in the Narrow Way (vv. 13, 14).

The road to heaven is a narrow way because it is built to carry us through the quicksands of this world to a glorious consummation. It is not a dismal road, for it is lighted by God's glory; and it is not a lonesome road (even though few go that way), because Jesus walks with us. The road to destruction is broad. The entrance is easy; there is much company, but one soon finds that the company is distasteful—just fellow sinners. Jesus is not going that way. The best people, God's people, are going the other way. The road leads into all kinds of by-ways where pitfalls abound. The earthly pleasures one thought to enjoy have, as Maclaren puts it, "a strange knack of losing their charm and at the same time increasing their hold."

Fall of Grace
I will neither be content with what measure of grace I have, nor impatient of God's delay; but every day I will endeavor to have one drop added to the rest; so my last day shall fill up my vessel to the brim.—Joseph Hall.

For fear everybody won't see my new car shed and wash shed, I'll just tell you about it. Phillip and James finished it Monday. You need not be afraid to drive up close to it for it won't fall on you. As you know we just have two boys and they are brothers in our school. Well the teacher was having the youngest one make his letters so he didn't think he could and his brother said, "make it to lean like Mrs. Nickols' car shed does." Now do you blame me for not building a new one. I am very proud of it. All I hate, I couldn't make it large enough for my hack.

Big Valley

H. D. Club Meets

The Big Valley H. D. Club met with Mrs. Homer Weaver Thursday, Nov. 9, for an all-day meeting. The ladies began to arrive early bringing covered dishes. Around 9:00 o'clock Miss Scott started work on the mattress. Quite a busy morning was spent laying cotton and then beating it. By noon all the cotton had been placed in the mattress ready to be beaten.

At noon everyone enjoyed eating chicken, meats, soup, coffee, chocolate, pies and cakes and many other good things. The noise and chatter had been going strong before noon but during the meal everything quieted down and looking about everyone was too busy eating to say very much.

After dinner some of the ladies washed and dried dishes and put the food away while others went back to work on the mattress. It was given another beating and Miss Scott showed us how to sew the cover together. Several sewed at one time and it was soon completed. "Many hands make light work," and the roll was soon put on. At four o'clock it was completed and we know Mrs. Floyd Weaver is proud of it. Club members present were as follows:

Mmes. Bob Robertson, George Robertson, Marion Robertson, E. D. Robertson, Hugh Dennard, Landy Ellis, Hugh Smith, L. E. Pass, Charles Miller, Bill Daniels, Claud Colvin, J. J. Cockrell, Harvey Hale, Liva Weaver, and Miss Scott. Visitors were Mesdames Ashford Padgett, Connie Knowles, F. L. Hartman and Miss Laverne Hodges. We were glad so many could be present and were glad to have our visitors.

Our next club meeting is to be with Mrs. Bob Robertson Thursday, Nov. 23. New officers are to be elected at this meeting and every club member is urged to be present.—Reporter.

Sudden Death

(Tenth in a series of articles on Safety by Captain J. C. Tappe, Traffic Department of the Texas Safety Council) Twelve pedestrians caused fatal collisions on Texas highways during September in which the pedestrian himself was killed, analysis of fatal accidents for that month reveal.

"While the law perhaps gives the pedestrian the right-of-way at all times," Pierce Brooks, President of the Texas Safety Council, said, "it does not excuse him for negligence. Legal rights mean nothing when the use of ordinary precaution will save your life and other lives."

Strolling down heavily traveled highways, day or night, and particularly at night, is highly hazardous. If you must do it, travel on the left instead of the right side of the road, so that you will see oncoming cars and be out of the way of cars going your same direction.

This elemental rule of safety has been stressed for years. Our organization has implored the people to observe it, yet proof that it is constantly being violated is ample. Just a drive along a highway will convince you. Also remember that accidents begin to mount after 5 p. m., decreasing slightly between 6 and 7, and rises abruptly from 7 to 8. The latter period in the last analysis made, proved the most dangerous of the 24-hour cycle.

Surely your business is not so important and your call so urgent that you can't remember the great danger in this twilight zone of driving or walking and take extra precautions.

Driving under the influence of liquor rises at the most fatal period of the cycle, thus, furnishing convincing proof again that the driver who takes even a drink of intoxicating liquor is not fitted to drive a lethal means of destruction such as the modern automobile.
