

THE GOLDTHWAITE EAGLE

VOLUME FORTY-SIX

GOLDTHWAITE, MILLS COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY, APRIL 19, 1940.

NUMBER THIRTY-FIVE

BUDDING 'LITTLE FLOWER'?

WASHINGTON.—You don't hear much about him in the presidential sweepstakes, but one man worth keeping your eye on these days is Mayor Fiorello LaGuardia.

There have been two significant developments which may mean something to the future destiny of New York's "Little Flower."

First, it was no accident that he took himself out of the Illinois Republican primary. LaGuardia didn't want to be stamped definitely as a Republican. As a matter of fact, LaGuardia was first elected to congress as a Republican, and later was defeated by a Tammany Democrat. But in his mayoralty campaigns he has always received as much support from Progressive Democrats as from Republicans.

Actually LaGuardia is a Roosevelt New Dealer, and the President has talked to him about the possibility of getting on the New Deal 1940 ticket.

Second, LaGuardia has made peace with Tammany. Or perhaps it would be more correct to say that Tammany has made peace with LaGuardia.

Tammany Strategy.

This is extremely significant. For seven years Tammany bosses have been ready to give their eye-teeth to defeat the Little Flower. He is the last man they want running New York city. Therefore, they would be delighted to "promote" him—make him vice president of the United States or even President, provided only that he be promoted out of New York city.

So LaGuardia can count upon the full support of Tammany to get the

MAJOR LA GUARDIA AND Friend...? vice presidential nomination on the Democratic ticket at Chicago next (Continued on Page Eight)

Mrs. J. E. Goodbar New York Writer On Radio Survey

Mrs. Joseph E. Goodbar, New York City, president of the National Federation of Press Women and director of the radio survey committee was one of the principal speakers for a luncheon given at the Baker Hotel at noon Wednesday for those assisting with the radio survey in Texas and others interested in the work.

Goodbar spoke on Why a Radio Survey? James Lawrence Fly, Washington, D. C., chairman of the Federal Communications Commission, was another luncheon speaker, as was Dr. Ralph W. Sockman, pastor of Christ Church, New York City, and known on the radio as The Minister of the Air. His subject was Responsibilities and Opportunities of Radio.

Edward M. Kirby, director of public relations, National Association of Broadcasters, Washington, D. C., spoke about the work and the future of radio. He also presided over the discussion conducted by attending clubwomen on questions raised in the survey.

Another guest for the luncheon was Mrs. Clark Williams of New York City, Greenwich, Conn., and Camden, S. C., assistant director of the radio survey committee.—Dallas News.

Mrs. R. M. Thompson, Eagle Editor, was a guest at the luncheon.

LIONS ENDORSE PHONE OFFER

At the regular meeting of the Goldthwaite Lions Club Tuesday evening, a strong endorsement was given the proposal of officials of the Southwestern States Telephone Co. to install a modern, new common battery telephone system here with new cable and wire where needed.

The improvement, which will take Goldthwaite out of the hand-crank telephone class into the self-ringer class and give greatly improved service, is contingent upon the agreement of 60 per cent of the telephone patrons agreeing to a 25c monthly increase in telephone rates. A petition covering the matter is to be circulated soon.

The talented children of County Clerk L. B. Porter provided several musical numbers for the evening's program.

Miss Birge Speaks, Is Honored At Tea

Miss Willie I. Birge, Director of Biology, Texas State College for Women, Denton, was the guest speaker of the Goldthwaite Garden Club at the Melba Theatre, Wednesday afternoon. Miss Birge used slides of Texas Wild Flowers to illustrate her lecture.

Miss Birge spoke to all the clubs of Goldthwaite and guests from Hamilton, Comanche, San Saba, Lampasas, Brownwood, Priddy, Scallorn, Ebony, Democrat and Star.

The entrance to the theatre was artistically decorated with wild flowers. Mrs. J. M. Campbell and Mrs. W. K. Marshall presided at the register book. Members of the Goldthwaite Garden Club formed a receiving line and served as ushers in the theatre.

At the close of the lecture, Mrs. Jim Weatherby, president of the Goldthwaite Garden Club, invited the guests to inspect the landscaping and planting the Garden Club had done on the court house lawn. The Goldthwaite High School Band furnished music.

From the Court House the visitors went to the home of Mrs. O. H. Yarborough where Mrs. John G. Berry greeted the guests and presented them to the receiving line which included:

Mrs. O. H. Yarborough, hostess, Mrs. Jim Weatherby, President Goldthwaite Garden Club, Miss Birge, Mrs. L. D. Bratton, Hamilton, District President of Heart of Texas Garden Club, and the following club presidents: Mrs. W. T. Little, San Saba, Mrs. E. M. Boon, Brownwood, Mrs. Brents Witty, Hamilton, Mrs. Abney, Lampasas, and Mrs. Henry Martin.

Catherine and Mary Nell Epworth and Aubrey Harris Smith furnished music for the afternoon.

Iris for decoration was furnished by Mrs. Geo. Clements of Ballinger.

The lace covered tea table was centered with yellow roses and pansies and flanked with crystal candelabras holding yellow tapers. Mrs. R. E. Clements presided at the punch bowl. Miss Emma Scott, Mesdames J. J. Stephen, J. V. Cockrum, T. C. Graves and Earl Summy served tea dainties to about three hundred guests.

Mission Cleaners Opens This Week

Opened for the patronage of Goldthwaite people this week was the Mission Cleaners, under the proprietorship of R. Leslie Sparkman. The new firm is located on Third street next door to the Keese feed store.

Elsewhere in this issue of The Eagle will be found the new shop's announcement of prices and invitation to Mills county folks to make acquaintance. Sparkman announces the installation in the plant of steam-electric iron especially for finishing fine ladies-wear.

Woman's Press Group Meets at Denton

Special to The Eagle

DENTON, April 18—Convening on the campus of Texas State College for Women, the Texas Women's Press Association opened its 47th annual convention Sunday, April 14, at 4 p.m. with a devotional service in TSCW's Little Chapel in the Woods.

Mrs. Margaret Martin of Huntsville, president of the organization, opened the three-day meeting of Texas newspaperwomen and creative writers.

Following the devotional, a poet's hour, memorial services, board meeting, and tea completed the Sunday program. Hostesses for the tea were members of the TSCW chapter of Theta Sigma Phi, national honorary society for women in journalism.

The main address Monday morning was made by Mrs. Cam Kay of Houston, on "Texas Literary Project."

The Monday afternoon program included "Experiences Abroad" by Mrs. Nancy Richey Ransom of Dallas, "Poems," by Mrs. Ned Morris of Houston, music by the TSCW Modern Choir under the direction of Dr. William E. Jones; "Streamlining the Woman's Pages" by Margaret Milam, society editor of the Dallas News; a talk by Mabel Pearson, TSCW senior in business administration; "We Are Not Afraid" by Isabel Warren, senior majoring in journalism, and "Writers' Conference" by Dr. Aubrey Nell Wiley, instructor in the English department.

The president's evening, Monday night, featured the TSCW choir again, poems by Mrs. Albert Dines of Dallas, and two speeches, "The Challenge of Closed Doors" by Mrs. Martin, and "Now and Then," by Dr. L. H. Hubbard, president of the college.

Mrs. R. M. Thompson, editor and publisher of the Goldthwaite Eagle and an officer of the T.W.P.A., attended the convention.

Mrs. Thompson was elected treasurer of the association at the annual election Tuesday.

CENSUS WORK NEARS FINISH

Excellent progress has been made by the census enumerators in Mills county, and next week is expected to see the finish of most of the work.

Anyone who has not yet been counted or who knows of anyone not yet counted should take steps at once to call the attention of the enumerator to that fact.

The Goldthwaite Eagle will be glad to inform the enumerators of anyone believed to have been overlooked.

Boy Scout News

Camp Billy Gibbons.

At this time preparation are being made for the largest summer camp in the history of the council. Supplies have been ordered and some of them have arrived. New Camp Billy Gibbons emblems, much prettier than the ones used previously, are in the office. Members of the camp staff are being engaged. True to tradition there will be an advance crew, the Bull Gang, at camp again. The dates are: July 9-16—July 16-23.

Big Circus.

Tickets for the First Annual Boy Scout Circus are being sent out to all Troops in the Council. Big circulars to be posted by the Scoutmasters were sent out recently. All work and plans for this big event are going forward at a rapid rate in order for every phase to be perfected by the night of May 14th. ON WITH THE BOY SCOUT CIRCUS.

Charm Wins Crown for Redbud Queen

"Queen of the Redbuds" was the title won by Miss Catherine Pool of San Antonio, senior at Texas State College for Women, when her classmates chose her to reign over them at the coronation climaxing the college's annual Self-Development Week. Selected for her good taste, intelligence, beauty, grooming, personality, and other qualities which make her the "Most Charming Girl" on a campus of 2850 young ladies, the tall brunette was chosen by a faculty-student committee from 60 candidates.

Free Puppet Show For School Children

The Morrey-Towse Dental Health Puppet Show will be given in the schools of Mills county by the State Department of Health, with the cooperation of the State Department of Education and the Good Teeth Council for Children, of Chicago. This piece of visual health education has been arranged under the approval of nationally known leaders in the fields of dentistry, medicine, and elementary education. It is dramatized with music, voice, and humor, bringing out four fundamental points in dental health in such a way that it is not only entertaining, but makes lasting impressions on the minds of the school children. It is presented by two operators, a man and a woman, both of whom are trained in dramatics and puppetry.

The plot of the story concerns the trials and tribulations of Little Jack who could not go to the circus with his sister, Joan, because he had a toothache.

The supporting cast in addition to the dentist, Jack's mother, and sister, Joan, are Toni, the fruit peddler; the milkman, Toni's son; and Jocko the monkey.

The show has been given in over a hundred counties of Texas to more than a half million children and teachers the past three years and is scheduled to cover sixty odd counties this year.

Parents are invited to see it with the children and teachers. The following is the schedule for Mills county schools: Priddy, 8:40, April 22nd. Mullin, 11:00, April 22nd. Star, 1:30, April 22nd. Goldthwaite, 8:40, April 23rd.

Drug Firm Conducts 2-for-1 Sale

Hudson Bros. Drug Company this week and next will offer their patrons special values in the annual Nyal Service 2-for-1 sale, according to announcement by the management today. The sale will begin this morning and continue through next week end. A list of items included in the sale is presented in this issue of The Eagle.

JTAC Parents Invited to Program

Dean J. Thomas Davis, head of John Tarleton College, sent invitations last week to a number of Mills county people, inviting them to attend the Parents' Day Program to be held at that institution on May 5. Among those receiving invitations were:

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Berry, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Womack, Mrs. M. E. Casbeer, Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Cooksey, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Ellis, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Duren, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Gerald, Mrs. W. E. Garner, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hale, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Gromatzky, W. A. Knight, Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Porter, Mrs. W. K. Marshall, Mrs. Bruno Schrank, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Petty, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Tleman, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Saylor, Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Karnes, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Summy, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Rickel, Mr. and Mrs. W. Y. Scott, and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Soules. All of these are parents of Tarleton students.

Included in the day's activities will be a pageant, "Tarleton on Parade," band concerts by both the boys' and girls' bands, military drills, a review, and a talk by the Rev. W. H. Andrews of Bryan.

Juniors Banquet Star Seniors

Last Saturday evening the Junior class of the Star High School entertained the Seniors with a delightful banquet. Talks were short and to the point, and upon the conclusion of the program the group attended a midnight movie. Prof. Hollis Blackwell was toastmaster.

The banquet was served by candle light in the spacious new gymnasium which had been tastefully decorated. The meal and all the arrangements reflected credit upon the students and their sponsors.

Judge Beauchamp Visits Goldthwaite

Judge Tom L. Beauchamp who was appointed to the Court of Criminal Appeals last October was a visitor to The Eagle office yesterday. Judge Beauchamp is a candidate for his first full term on the high court bench.

Local School Board Met Monday Night

The Goldthwaite School Board met in regular session last Monday night.

In addition to regular routine business a report was heard from the Commissioners Court showing that E. A. Obenhaus, W. D. Clements, and Joe F. Long had been elected trustees in the recent election. Each of these were already members of the Board.

The Board re-organized for the following year with the election of E. A. Obenhaus president, R. H. Chandler vice-president and W. D. Clements secretary-treasurer.

The matter of electing teachers was discussed but was postponed till a later date in order that more definite information can be secured from the adjoining school districts as to their plans for next year.

Zephyr Family Goes To Washington

College Station, April 18.—The "how" of mattress making will be demonstrated to Extension Service workers from every state in the nation late this month in Washington, D. C., by a Texas farm family.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jones and two of their nine children, Dorothy, 14, and Melton, 11, of Zephyr, Texas, have been designated to conduct a mattress making demonstration in the patio of the huge Department of Agriculture building during the week of April 29 through May 6, according to an announcement of Mildred Horton, vice director and state home demonstration agent of the Texas Extension Service. They will be accompanied by Mayesie Malone, who for nearly 20 years has been Brown County home demonstration agent.

Mrs. Jones has been a member of the Zephyr Home Demonstration Club since 1922, and the Jones children have been identified with 4-H Club work in Brown county for a number of years. Melton and Dorothy, the only ones now of club age, are following the Jones tradition in 4-H participation.

MILLS COUNTY PICNIC IS SET

Mills county citizens are invited to join former Mills county citizens in their annual basket picnic at Arlington Park in Arlington, Texas, Sunday, May 5.

The committee in charge hopes this will be the largest assembly of old time friends they have ever had.

With good roads and good cars it will be easy for many Mills county people to spend the day with friends they have not seen for some time.

School Executives Discuss League Rules

Superintendent A. H. Smith and a number of other school men from Central Texas met in Austin last Wednesday for the purpose of discussing the recent action of the State Executive Committee of the Interscholastic League. May it be said here that the State Committee has recently called for a referendum ballot on the rule as it affects the age of participants in Interscholastic League activities. It was the opinion of the group that met that the committee should have let the rule stand as it had been announced, the effect of which is to lower the age limit of those participants from 19 years to 18 years, but at the same time remove the semester restriction. A ruling from the state committee is expected shortly.

New Preacher For Star Circuit

Bunny Cooke, who received his license to preach at the District Conference of the Methodist Church at Kerrville this week, has been assigned by Bishop Frank Smith to fill out the year on Star Circuit.

The young man is a student in Southwestern University at Georgetown and will continue his school work until the end of the term when he will move here. He is the son of District Superintendent Harold G. Cooke and was the singer at the revival held here by his father last summer.

Churches in the circuit include Star, Center City, Pleasant Grove and Bethel. His first service will be at Pleasant Grove next Sunday morning and at Star that night.

Landmark Razed For New Structure

L. J. Gartman has torn down the iron building adjoining the Weatherby garage which for many years housed the W. C. Urbach hardware store.

On the site he will erect a modern, attractive store building. Until its sale last fall, the Urbach business was the oldest in Goldthwaite and the only one that had continued under the same ownership since the founding of Goldthwaite.

Late Freeze Injures Fruit

The sudden freeze last Friday when the mercury dropped to 28 is reported to have done considerable damage to fruit trees and pecans that had escaped the severe cold in January. In many sheltered places, however, the damage this time was slight and there are still hopes for a fair crop.

Corn was killed in many fields, but some is coming back up.

Local H. D. Club

Tuesday, April 10, members of the Goldthwaite Home Demonstration Club met in the office of Miss Scott, with 11 members present.

The roll call was answered with "My Greatest Figure Fault." Miss Scott then gave a demonstration by lecture and posters of different designs of clothes on different types of figures showing the results.

Our club was invited to hear the lecture at the Melba Theatre, April 17, by the Garden Club.

The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. John Edlin, April 24.—Reporter.

Lampasas

Miss Jessie Lucile Standard of this city and W. C. O'Neal, assistant Texas Bee Inspector, working out of Texas A&M college, were married Tuesday, April 9, at 8 p. m., in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Clements. Rev. R. H. Mathison performed the nuptial rites, the single ring ceremony being used.

The body of Mrs. R. L. Haynie, 58, was found partially under a culvert only a few feet from the front door of her home Sunday, April 7, about 12:30 p. m. She had been dead more than 24 hours at that time. Saturday about 11:30 Mrs. Haynie had gone out to the branch near the home with a hoe, presumably to rake some trash into the water and suffered a heart attack, according to verdict of the physician holding the inquest.

The Second Annual Stampede Rodeo will be held on Friday and Saturday, April 19th and 20th in Lampasas. There will be performances at 2:00 o'clock and 8:00 o'clock each day.

Mrs. Lena Garcia of Lampasas was arrested Friday, April 5, and has been charged with arson in connection with the attempted burning of the residence of Mrs. Ellis Rendon, April 2, in the justice court.—Record.

Well, as the old saying goes, "just a line to let you know" we had a ridiculously cold spell. Peaches, berries and some other fruits are not hurt. But the grapes will have to start from scratch, and the figs, too. Seems as though the figs might as well be jerked up and dumped on the trash heap. Garden stuff all killed except such as can take it. The old lady who said that she was through planting gardens until a long in May is about right after all. Too much lost work, and I'm not in for wasting any surplus energy.

District Supt. Cook's son is being sent here as supply for the Methodist people after the resignation of Rev. Jack Hester.

Prof. and Mrs. Robert Hill, of Crosscut, spent the week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Webb Hill.

Mrs. Fred Langford, after a 21-day period of staying abed from a very serious appendicitis operation, is able to walk about a bit now.

Raymond Lee, son of Mrs. Mayme Price, is able to be out on crutches now. He is in school again. Raymond suffered a bang on his right leg last year with a baseball bat, which is resulting in the present bone infection in the leg which is in a cast. We hope he will soon be okay again.

Tom Carl Sawyer, of Evant, was a very pleasant caller with Christian Goode and his mother Sunday afternoon. The Sawyer boys and the Goode boys were once youngsters growing up together when the Goodes lived in Evant. The Goode boys are all still living, Mason and Reggie live in New York, Fred in San Diego, and Bascom and Christian still in Star.

It's mail time, so so-long until the time when I round up more.

Live Oak

By Mrs. J. H. Brown

The freeze of last week almost put the farmers out of business, as it killed most everything they had except the grain crop.

R. A. Parker left Wednesday for Kansas where he has employment.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Randles and Travis visited his father at Center Point Sunday.

Grandpa Featherston spent last week with Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Featherston.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Harkey of Lampasas, spent Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Brown.

The Jolly Chatter Club met with Mrs. Homer Denman last Thursday afternoon. There were ten present despite the cold weather. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Roy Simpson Thursday, April 25.

Miss Mae Featherston spent the latter part of last week in Austin.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Simpson and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Brown attended the play at Big Valley last Wednesday night.

Mrs. C. G. Featherston and Mae visited Mrs. I. Z. Woodard Tuesday.

NEWS NOTES

Supt. A. H. Smith has been recently advised that Goldthwaite High has been granted an affiliation in Vocational Agriculture 3, a subject started at the beginning of this year. Mr. Coffee teaches the class.

Goldthwaite tied with Santa Anna for second place in the athletic events of the district meet Friday and Saturday, but didn't do so well in the literary events. Individual results appear elsewhere in this column.

The One-act play "Blue Teapot" will represent the district in Abilene regional meet Friday (tonight). They have the best wishes and hopes of the entire student body of the school and we hope, the entire town for their success.

SENIOR CLASS REPORT

If wishes come true, the Seniors will be planning a trip to San Antonio as you read this. The members must decide this week upon the destination of the trippers, and if the required 30 can not go, San Antonio is off.

Report cards were issued Monday of this week.

JUNIOR CLASS REPORT

The entire personnel of the Junior and Senior classes is on its toes this week, looking with anticipation toward Tuesday, April 23, when the annual Junior Senior banquet will be held. Predictions, official and unofficial, absolutely will not be believed in when they say rain. The banquet seems to be bringing out all personal traits, since it has revealed Lollie as a poet.

The class is sorry to report that Maudine Burks is absent with the measles.

DISTRICT MEET RESULTS

For several consecutive years the winners in literary events of Mills County Meets have made good showings at the District Meet, but this year, for unexplained reasons, they were unable to do so much as place.

Entering in the District Meet were declaimers Aubrey Smith, Syble Miller and Barbara Carter; auditory speaking, Dorothy Marie Wolff, and Joe Boland; debaters Harriet Allen, Mary Louise McGirk and Sam Graves and Floyd Sansom. Harriet Allen and Mary Louise McGirk made a good showing against the Brownwood girls, and the boys Goldthwaite debate team managed to defeat Melvin, but were also stopped by the Brownwood team.

In the tennis matches Pat Chandler and Buren Crawford were defeated by Coleman. Sammie Smith did extra good in the boys' tennis singles, beating Coleman and Comanche, but dropping to second place after a defeat by Mason, who, incidentally has won the meet the last two years. Sammie should be praised for his good work in the meet and we believe he will take the first place medal before he graduates from GHS.

Goldthwaite was better represented in the track meet, taking a tie with Santa Anna for second place. Brady won the meet with plenty of points to coast on but this was expected because Brady has the best track team in Texas.

Boys from Goldthwaite and their agents are as follows: Cornelius, 1st place, Pole Vault—11 ft., 3 in.; Karcher O'Bannon, 3rd place, 100-yard dash—10.3; Joe Bob Moody, 2nd place, 440-yard dash—52.3; Mile Relay—3.39, consisted of Jerome Kirby, Darwin Denson, Joe Bob Moody and Karcher O'Bannon. Let's hope these boys repeat their performance at the Regional Meet at Abilene and we'll bet our eye-tooth they will.

GLEE CLUB

The club will be very busy this week because we are preparing to go to Waco April 19, to a contest. We only have eight members in our club, but we are expecting results.

The sponsor, Miss Kingsbury, is to go with the club.

FRESHMAN REPORT

The spring football training started last Monday and I am glad to report that a good many Freshmen have started in.

Last Tuesday night, a week ago was "Fathers Night" at the P-T-A meeting. A good bit of work was done by members of our class to get votes for the Freshmen.

Some Freshmen fathers who had promised to be at the meeting were unfortunately delayed thus causing the Freshmen to lose the prize of $2.00. The Freshmen fathers were sorry to lose the prize and so they made up $2.00 and sent to us. We wish to express our sincere appreciation for this excellent bit of good sportsmanship by these Freshmen fathers.

DEBATE CLUB

Harriet Allen and Mary Louise McGirk, the girls' team, and Sam Graves and Floyd Sansom, the boys' team, went to Brownwood last Friday to represent Mills county in the debate contest of the District Meet. The girls, on the negative side debated the Brownwood girls and lost the debate. The boys on the affirmative side debated Melvin and won the decision. They went to semifinals, and with the affirmative side, debated Brownwood. The boys lost to Brownwood.

Our debate work is ended for this year. Those in the debate club before County Meet were: Harriet Allen, Mary McGirk, Sam Graves, Floyd Sansom, Cartwright Oglesby, Hope Tullos, Imarhea Henry, and Earl Poer. We believe that all who entered gained benefits from the debates and research. We wish that we could have gone farther in the district, but only one of the debaters had had any experience before this year. We hope that next year we will have more debaters to enter. We hope to begin work soon on next year's debate.

HOMEMAKING REPORT

The club girls of Goldthwaite attended the Mills and Brown county Future Homemakers Rally, April 12 and 13.

Friday afternoon Miss Hoting, Barbara Walden, Janet Jernigan and Ovela Wesson left Goldthwaite about 5:00 o'clock. They reached Bangs sometime later and were cheerfully greeted by a number of club girls.

After spending some time getting acquainted, they marched out to the park where a very appetizing picnic awaited them. They built a large camp fire and after everyone had finished eating they gathered around the fire and sang songs.

They then returned to the attractive homemaking building, where they played games and listened to the radio until the skating rink opened. Skating was the chief entertainment of the evening. Four sessions were held, one being reserved for the homemaking club girls only.

The girls returned to the H. E. Dept. about 1:30 (A.M.) where games were played until a late hour. About 50 girls then made down their beds, but the girls were by no means ready to let each other sleep, so they had a slumber party.

Breakfast was served about 7:30 in the dining room of the homemaking building.

One of our school buses with twenty club girls arrived about 9:00 o'clock Saturday morning.

The time from 9:00 to 10:00 was spent registering and preparing for the morning program. The Goldthwaite Club presented an interesting program, which included special musical numbers and tap dancing.

The girls lunched at various places. Some at the school, and some at different cafes.

In the afternoon an amateur hour was held, which was very entertaining. Those who represented Goldthwaite were Barbara Walden, tap dancing; Syble Miller, musical selection; Janet Jernigan, tap dancing.

The following clubs were represented at this rally: Bangs, Brownwood, Brookesmith, Blanket, Priddy, Mullin, and Goldthwaite.

A brief summary of their accomplishments and social events during the year was "given by each club.

Officers for Area 5 were then elected for the coming year. We felt honored to have two of our girls elected, namely, Janet Jernigan as vice-president, and Syble Miller as pianist. The next rally will be in Brownwood, and Blanket will have charge of the program.

A farewell song was sung and everyone turned homeward about 4:00 o'clock.

All were very tired and sleepy though they had a most wonderful time and made many new friends.

FFA CHAPTER REPORT

The teams entered contests judged at Tarleton last week; and though it was pouring down rain and the boys had to judge inside of a barn, our teams came out very well.

From last year's 18th place we pulled up to 6th place in livestock judging; and from last year's 17th place we pulled up to 5th place this year in our soils team. There were 77 teams in the livestock judging.

The state contest will be held at A&M College next Monday. We have two teams eligible. They are the Livestock Team and the Soils Team. Our Dairy Team didn't quite get eligible, but we expect to do better next year.

THREE ARTS CLUB

The Three Arts Club planned to have a hayride down in Big Valley Saturday night, but it was called off because of lack of wagons, teams, and hay.

Everyone met at Roberta Robertson's home and all went down on the river for a picnic. The refreshments were soda water, cookies, sandwiches, potato chips and fruit.

Many of the members were unable to attend the picnic, but all 20 who attended reported a good time. It is hoped that the next one will be more successful in the way of attendance.

SOPHOMORE REPORT

We were glad to have William Gleen Rose back with us Monday.

Our report cards were issued Monday.

GRAMMAR SCHOOL NEWS

Pupils in the Intermediate grades of Grammar School are now working on the coming operetta entitled, "Grand Old Switzerland." There are nine main characters and two choruses, one a boys' chorus and the other a girls'. The nine main characters are:

Herr Bollinger, Wayne Thompson; Trudi Bollinger, Hallie Early; Herr Naps, Billie Botts; Juli Naps, Gerald Davis; Mrs. Miller, Mary Ann Miller; Donna Miller, Orpha Faulkner; John Miller, James Ralph McKee; Hedwig, Vernell Chaney; and Fritz, Ray Tyson.

This play will be presented Friday, April 19, in the Grammar School Auditorium. The admission will be 10c and 25c. All are invited.

The Seventh Grade has organized a club in civics. It is called "The Junior American Citizenship Club."

The object of this club is to improve its members by the study of American history, national and state and the underlying principals of national, state and municipal government; the discussion and practice of patriotism and whatever tends to promote good citizenship and sincere preparation for intelligent and unselfish participation in the duties of citizenship.

Our officers are: President, Ouida Gray; vice-president, Pansy Chaney; assistant secretary, Ward Bays.

LIGHT THRU A KEYHOLE

Floyd and J. B. were out hunting Sunday. Evidently it wasn't for girls, because instead of having their personalities, they had guns.

Sunday before last Christine was parked under the eclipse with a person unknown to us, but last Sunday she was with Karl's kin. It's too bad she was not dressed well enough to attend church.

At last Blondell Berry has been "got." Mr. Peterson did the getting.

We hear Aubrey payed some visits while in Brownwood. For details you can consult with Aubrey or Allene Ross.

Rex's car holds almost as many as a bus—eight is its capacity. From all accounts Opal was not alone with Rex on Sunday night last.

Maybe Stoddard's love of picnics was just a ruse to get Aggie away. At any rate neither of them were present.

Speaking of picnics, they don't mix with bulls—or anything that sounds like a bull. Lacy Thompson discovered that.

They say that all's fair in love and war. Wilda still carries the scar of her war (or is it love)—on her nose.

Wanda just kept watching the road and feeling her heart thump thump whenever a car was seen—but her one-and-only never did show up.

Christine has become too wrought up by her Sunday excursions that she can't even remember her bookkeeping in commercial law.

Floyd can no longer have any fun with more than one girl. They say that something begun on Friday will last forever—and his night with her is Friday.

Due to circumstances beyond our control we are unable to have longer snoop. We request cupid begin work again.

If "Dear darling" wants the note which was started to her by Floyd, she'll have to look in the waste basket as a result of romance-breaker Mrs. Barnett.

Attendance has been falling off considerably on account of the measles.
Those who visited school this week were Huck Etheridge, Oleta Utzman and Eammon Perry.
Tommie Cunningham went to the district meet at Brownwood Saturday, in Rural Penthon.

We are proud to put in our school room two 1940 pennants for Junior Boys playground ball and Girls Volleyball.

Teachers were elected for the following term: Principal, Mrs. A. L. Shelton, which position was formerly held by Mr. E. F. Cunningham, resigned. Intermediate room, Mrs. A. L. Shelton. Primary room, Miss Elvie Vines.

We are planning to have a big time at the Lake Merritt 4-H and FFA picnic.

New Life

Change now to OIL-PLATING... and "the old gray engine seems more like she used to be"

At birth her cylinder walls were almost like mirrors. The more of that polish you want to keep, the more you want your engine OIL-PLATED by changing now to patented Conoco Germ Processed oil.

OIL-PLATING in your engine, like chrome-plating on bumpers, stays constantly PLATED UP. For an apparently magnet-like attraction comes to Germ Processed oil from its man-made extra ingredient, so that engine parts are surfaced with their close-held shield of OIL-PLATING... drain-proof.

Remaining fully PLATED UP in the highest-speed engines, OIL-PLATING plainly keeps Wear from doing Summer "business as usual." Wear once thrived during starting periods, but now before the starter ever starts, your OIL-PLATED engine is ready-lubricated—a positive step toward preserving the old gray engine... or a new one. OIL-PLATED cylinders long keep the roundness of youth, and that makes your Germ Processed oil keep. Change today—to Your Mileage Merchant's Conoco station. Continental Oil Co.

Scallorn H. D. Club

Mrs. Lila Crawford was hostess to the Scallorn Home Demonstration Club on April 11, with 12 members and one guest present.

The program originally scheduled for the day was postponed until April 25th, at which time Miss Emma Scott, Home Demonstration Agent, will be with us.

Mrs. Tom Hale was unanimously elected to serve as assistant reporter.

A lengthy discussion then followed on obtaining a club community chest which would contain items essential in cases of illness such as sheets, pillow cases, towels, fever thermometers, and many other things that community members might use in the vent of prolonged sickness. Mrs. Frank Hines donated a trunk to this cause.

The entertainment committee announced an "Amateur Hour" followed by a covered dish supper, would be held at the Ohlenbusch Ranch on Friday, April 18.

The hostess was honored with a miscellaneous shower of tea towels, aprons, glassware and other nice gifts.

Following a delicious refreshment plate, we adjourned to meet with Mrs. Cooner on April 25. Mrs. Ernest Ohlenbusch, reporter.

Play At Midway

Perhaps you have heard or even seen the play called "Valley Farm."

It was one of the best stage plays, 20 years ago, but, contrary of what may be said of most plays, its popularity has not died with increasing age.

It is with pride that Midway school presents this four-act play at 8:00 p. m., Friday night, April 17. No admission charge.

First Baptist Church
 E. E. DAWSON, Pastor

"Study to show thyself approved of God," admonishes the Apostle Paul. The implication is that failure to study is to be not approved of God. Sunday school is provided that men, women, young people and children may study to advantage. Our Sunday school has a place for everybody from the cradle upward. It meets every Sunday morning at 10:00, under the leadership of S. E. Cloninger and an interested force of departmental officers and teachers. In the evening at 6:45 the Training Union under the direction of Lorraine Bledsoe carries on with four departments. Here are two organizations committed to studying for better service as Christians.

The worship hours are 11:00 a. m. and 7:45 in the evening. Special music of inspirational character is always featured in the worship service.

There is always a soulful welcome for all comers.

Nazarene Church

About the greatest thing that we have to announce is the coming of the greatest Sunday school speaker of this age. He has rightly been called the Marion Lawrence of this generation.

It is Dr. A. S. London, and I am sure that you will not want to miss this lifetime opportunity of hearing this wonderful man preach and besides Mrs. London will be with him and that means good singing as well, for those who have heard them sing, know that they can really do the job.

We would not forget that Rev. W. L. French, our District Superintendent of the San Antonio District will be along and that means to get the news of the District and progress that is being made. Pastor recall at the close of the service.

Now all of these will be here (at Goldthwaite) at the Church of the Nazarene, April 23, which is next Tuesday night. They will be here for just one service, so if you miss it you will miss it all.

I think that I know what the very first question that Dr. London will ask will be, "How is your Sunday school? How many did you have last Sunday?" and as next Sunday is the last Sunday before they come let us see how many can be present so that we will have a good answer in case he asks the question.

Sunday school begins at 9:45. Solo, "I'll Be A Friend to Jesus" by Pastor.

Message at 11:15. And if you stay for church we will promise to let you go at 12. N. Y. P. S. at 7:00—Miss Mary Horton, president. Special song. Message at 8:15 p. m. You are always welcome. MRS. PEARL KEETON, Pastor

CARD OF THANKS

In this sad hour we wish to thank our many friends of Big Valley, Goldthwaite and Pleasant Grove, for their loving sympathy expressed to us in the trying time of our dear husband, father and grandfather's sickness and death. We especially thank Bro. Burton, pastor of the Methodist Church for the many kind things he spoke in memory of him. Also to Roy Wilkins and Earl Fairman for their help and our many friends for the lovely lunch that was sent to the Featherston home, and also for the beautiful floral offering. These things made our grief lighter. May God bless you all is our prayer. MRS. J. T. ROSS and children, Grandchildren and brothers and Sisters.

WORKERS CONFERENCE IS A SUCCESS

The Mills County Baptist Association Workers Conference last Sunday was a notable occasion, meeting here at the First Baptist Church. Dean Huff of Howard Payne College spoke at the morning hour, and Mrs. B. L. Lockett of Abilene, Pastor C. K. Roberts of Big Valley, Mrs. Julius P. King in the afternoon, and Mrs. Lockett showed pictures of Nigeria at the evening hour. All of the services were unusually interesting. The visitors from all over the county filled the house to overflowing in the afternoon and evening.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD
 CHOOSING THE BEST VIEW

Here, the back view is most effective. Study your subject, and select the best view for each shot.

MOST pictures—especially those of people—show a straight front view. But this is not always best. Often a diagonal or "quartering" view, a side view, or even in some cases a back view, will yield a more effective picture.

In a picture of a building, for example, a front view is rarely best. Stand to one side—shoot "on the diagonal"—and you will generally obtain a more satisfactory picture.

Many landscape pictures include a road or path, to lead the eye into the picture. Some photographers stand right in the middle of the road to take such a picture—and this is the worst possible spot. Move to one side and shoot. Then the road will lead in from the corner of the scene—and the picture will be improved.

Take a picture of a person facing toward the camera, and he is likely to appear somewhat self-conscious or "camera conscious." Pose him in profile, or at a 45-degree angle to the camera, and the effect of self-consciousness is reduced.

The picture of the small boy with his golf bag is a fine example of a wisely-chosen back view. The story is perfectly told—but if he had been walking toward the camera, it might not have been. Chances are he would have grinned at the photographer; and certainly that air of determination would have been lost.

Keep this in mind. Study your subject—and choose the best view for each shot. When in doubt, take more than one shot. That's safe practice, and it insures more good pictures.

Noble Citizen Gone

The passing of an outstanding citizen is always something to take note of in community life. Such a citizen was the late Clarence Lewis Stephens, whose death occurred on April 3. For almost a half century he had to do with Goldthwaite and Mills county, and his familiar figure will be missed on the streets and in other circles of community affairs.

At the time of his death he was 69 years, six months and 27 days old, having been born in the Springfield community in Limestone county, on September 7, 1870. He grew to manhood in that area, and on September 9, 1891, married Eula Lee Dickson, the wedding occurring in the First Baptist Church, Mart. Early in this century he came to this county and here his children were reared, here he carried on for several years a livery business, and then when rural routes were established he became a rural carrier, holding that position until he was forced to retire on account of physical condition. His condition for months past had been an anxiety to his family and fellowworkers. Early in this year he had to take his bed and was up but little until the end came.

The funeral, held from the First Baptist Church, revealed how numerous were his friends. The flower offerings were among the largest ever seen here, and the attendants more than filled the house; a great number of his former patrons on the rural route all the way from here to Evans were present to honor the public servant whom they so deeply appreciated.

When a boy, Bro. Stephens became a Baptist and all his mature life served in noble capacity wherever asked. Fifteen years ago, or so, he was made a deacon in his church and served as treasurer of the church for many years, there always being a balance in the treasury while he served. The day before his death he did a special service for the church.

Mrs. Stephens and six children survive, the children being: Mrs. Ethel Meador, Mexia; M. L. Wichita Falls; Mrs. Elizabeth Martin, Norman, Oklahoma; M. D. Wichita Falls; Mrs. Mildred Caldwell, Corpus Christi; C. L., Jr. (Billy), Goldthwaite. He also leaves three brothers and a sister: N. W. and L. W. of Waco, and O. G. Wichita Falls; and Mrs. W. G. Allen of Lometa. All of these were present for the funeral.

The active pall-bearers were: R. V. Littlepage, S. E. Cloninger, Carl Bledsoe, F. P. Bowman, F. R. Hines, A. H. Smith, W. D. Clements, and J. D. Priddy.

Truly, the preacher was right when he quoted a passage of Scripture that said, "A prince and a great man is fallen."

Leonard Doughty Dies in San Antonio

Leonard Doughty, former leading citizen and attorney of Goldthwaite, died in San Antonio last Saturday and was buried there Tuesday afternoon. He is survived by his widow and two sons, Lieut. Commander Leonard Doughty, Jr. of the Pacific fleet, U. S. Navy, and John Doughty of New York City, and a daughter, Miss Edith May Doughty.

Mr. Doughty possessed a brilliant mind and was undoubtedly the best read man who ever lived here. He achieved considerable prominence as a poet and essayist and was a frequent contributor to several magazines.

Ill health forced his retirement from his law practice some years ago and failing eyesight made reading more difficult, but his mind remained keen, and his interests were as varied, and his conversation as stimulating as ever.

Mr. Doughty was a link with the heroic past of Texas. As a student at the University of Texas he came under the influence of the immortal Governor Roberts, and, where principle was concerned, he was as loyal and uncompromising as any of the stalwarts of Texas history. His character, his scholarship and

Erosion Warning

Denton.—Although efforts to control erosion have reached their highest development in the United States at the present time, there is danger that without public support of the government's national conservation program, the nation will be waging "a losing fight" to save its natural resources, Dr. W. C. Lowdermilk, assistant chief of the U. S. Soil Conservation Service, Washington, D. C. declared in a lecture recently at the North Texas State Teachers college.

"Upon the success or failure of present efforts of the government to control erosion depends the salvation of the American way of life," Lowdermilk declared.

Lowdermilk, who has toured North Africa, Europe, and the Near East, studying the effects of erosion on ancient civilizations for the U. S. Department of Agriculture, that on his trip he found considerable evidence to indicate that soil erosion and deposition had been factors in the decadence of ancient civilizations in those areas.

Man's first efforts to control erosion, which began in ancient Phoenicia more than 40 centuries ago, rank with the discovery of fire, the speaker stated, adding that he found the Promised Land which 3,000 years ago was flowing with "milk and honey," a sad commentary on man's stewardship of the earth.

Celebrate Golden Wedding Anniversary

W. F. Daugherty and Miss I. E. Guynes were married April 13, 1890, in Goldthwaite. They went to Fort Worth on their honeymoon.

April 13, 1940, they went to Fort Worth to celebrate their Golden wedding at the home of their daughter, Mrs. W. E. Hill-bun. Forty guests called during the day. Mr. and Mrs. Daugherty were remembered with many beautiful gifts.

April 14, they returned to Goldthwaite. They will be at the home of their son on the Curtis Ranch for the next ten days.

Self Culture Club

Mrs. W. C. Dew and Miss Dera Humphries were hostesses on Thursday, to the Self Culture Club at the home of Mrs. Dew.

Mrs. McDuffy Kessler was leader. Mrs. W. M. Johnson sang the very beautiful number, "The Stranger of Gallilee" by Sturgis, accompanied by Mrs. Sam Sullivan.

Mrs. Kessler, in her pleasing manner, introduced Miss Gatlin who reviewed the book, "The Nazarene" by Sholem Asch. This has been called "A Book for the Ages." Asch tells the old, old story as seen through the eyes of a contemporary Roman, the black disciple Judas, and a young Jew student under the Pharisee, Nicodemus. Needless to say Miss Gatlin did full justice to her subject.

Dainty refreshments were served to the club members and the following guests: Mmes. Monroe Fletcher, A. L. Whittaker, Ed B. Gilliam, Lois Marshall, Walter Fairman, Marvin Hodges and Annie Little.

Big Valley H. D. Club

Mullin Seniors Attend Banquet

The annual Junior-Senior Banquet is always the leading social event of the school year.

This year it was even more so as by the grapevine route, news came that the program would be magically changed from former procedure.

Keen interest was felt by all when invitations came as tickets to a "Little Theatre" at the gym at 8:15 p. m., April 13.

Art, time and work was combined with the effective decorations of the tables for six with lovely forest backgrounds.

Each table seemed to be a contestant for the loveliest and most attractive arrangement.

A ship o' war with the tiny sailor men adorned one, dolls on others that were made beautiful with fingers of art. The place cards were drawn by one of our lovely girls, representing a "Little Theatre" with open window.

The lighting was lovely under the management of one of the senior boys. Various colored lights, first in a soft blue then magically a swift transformation in multi-colors, created a wonderful lighting that was beautiful.

It would be a task for Hercules to give a complete description of the lovely evening dresses, creation from Paris, they seemed to be.

The happy and beautiful young girls caused one to dream of this golden age and the promising future for these fortunate 1940 graduates.

The young men were all dressed up and came in for due consideration and approval, for their new and attractive suits and handsome appearances.

The program was a play enacting the future profession of the interesting characters of the senior class.

The Little Theatre represented surgeon, dentist, lawyers, salesmen, Nurses, broadcasting and other lines in radio profession. Fascinating, indeed, was the play and we wondered how many of the students would continue in their chosen profession for future life. Decided talent was portrayed by many of them.

The Little Theatre introduced our Band, a group of enthusiastic music students and their Bandmaster, swayed the audience with lovely music that was a demonstration on how essential music is to a school and town.

The toastmaster of this enchanting program was the Supt. L. R. Tesson, known as a genius with the 4-H and Boy Scout Clubs, and a long time citizen of our fair city.

The out-of-town guests were a former superintendent, Tolbert

Lake Merritt H. D. C.

The ladies of the Lake Merritt H. D. Club met April 10, with Mrs. Joe Ritchie and Inez.

"The Way to a Man's Heart is Through His Stomach," said the club as Mrs. Ira Hutchings served some of her own cooked cheese with crackers.

Mrs. Hutchings demonstrated the making of cooked and cottage cheese.

Our program on "Insect Control" was very educational.

We discussed our coming social affair which will be held in about three weeks.

The members present were: Mmes. Jim Dellis, Ira Hutchings, J. W. Dellis, Jess Massey, Jake Brown, Earl Ehrhidge and the hostesses, Mrs. Joe Ritchie and Inez.

Mrs. John Dellis and two little daughters were visitors of the club.

Our next meeting will be with Mrs. Stuck, April 24, with Miss Scott to demonstrate, "Our Great est figure fault."

Regency H. D. Club

The club members met April 12, in the home of Mrs. L. D. Egger. The program was on, "Insect Control." In answer to roll call, each member named a garden or orchard insect that has proven difficult to control.

Presiding over the business meeting, was the president. She discussed both old and new business. Mrs. Charles Roberts was elected assistant reporter. The program was then given over to the hostess. Interesting talks on various insects were given by Mmes. Brown, Moore, Roberts, Egger, Jones, and Rowlett.

The hostess was presented with the usual cup towel shower, and collection of flower seeds from each member.

Refreshments were served to ten members and two visitors.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. Loyt Roberts, April 26, at 2:00 p. m.—Reporter.

It Pays to Advertise

Austin, Tex.—Bascom Giles, Commissioner of the General Land Office, announced at the conclusion of the first advertised sale of timber in four East Texas counties that he was highly pleased with the unusually high bids received, and he attributed a large part of the success to advertisements in weekly newspapers located in the counties where the timber was for sale.

Commissioner Giles stated that he had been offered $1,500 in private sales for the same amount of timber which brought five times that amount of money to the State as a result of newspaper advertising and competitive bidding.

This policy of advertising the sale of State lands has been actively pushed by Commissioner Giles as a part of his plan to place the management of the State's land on a business-like basis.

"I hope that the United States will keep out of this war. I believe that it will. And I give you assurances that every effort of your Government will be directed toward that end. As long as it remains within my power to prevent, there will be no blackout of peace in the United States."

(Address to the Nation, Sept. 3, 1939)

THE WAR IS ON

Those malcontents who have been complaining about the inactivity in the current European War should be satisfied by now. Germany's lightning stroke into Denmark and Norway and the prompt acceptance of the challenge by England and France have resulted in action by sea and land fully as desperate as any in the first World War.

Brave men on both sides are sleeping their last sleep in the cold, blue depths of the Baltic, and many a gallant fighting ship has joined the ghostly caravels in the locker of Davy Jones. Whether or not the naval battle will rank as the greatest, or even as one of the greatest, in history is still uncertain, but this much is sure: The belligerents are now locked in savage combat that will not cease until one of them receives the death blow.

While diplomacy will continue to exert pressure, particularly on the neutral nations, armed might is once more, as in the past, the primary weapon on both sides.

Apparently the advantage now lies with the Allies, but Germany is still too strong and far too resourceful to be considered on the way out. That other surprises are in store for an anxious world is obvious.

Whatever they are, may they contribute to a just and lasting peace.

CONGRATULATIONS, JERRY MANN!

The courteous refusal of Attorney General Gerald C. Mann of Governor W. Lee O'Daniel's appointment to the high office of Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Texas adds to the brilliant young attorney's stature in the eyes of the people. It is typical of General Mann that his first reaction was to examine the constitutionality of the appointment. Since he lacks several months of having practiced law the necessary seven years required by the constitution, he could not accept now, and he is unwilling to accept with the understanding that it will become effective later.

There's no beating around the bush for Jerry Mann. He comes straight to the point, and stays put. He is needed in his present office and can serve the state there fully as well as he could on the high bench of the Supreme Court.

We do not presume to say whether or not General Mann has allowed political considerations to enter into his decision. Certainly that is not a prime consideration with him, but it is common knowledge that his political future has just begun. Texas can use him in other high offices where his counsel and example will be more effective than on the bench.

Nevertheless it requires courage to refuse an appointment such as he has been offered and one that in all probability would be good, as it was in Justice Cureton's case, for life.

Two years from now Gerald C. Mann is due to take another step forward, probably into the Governor's chair. Texas can use him there.

TEST FOR AN AUTO DRIVER

(New York plans to require applicants for auto drivers' licenses to pass a written test.)

1. In the following sentences check the clause which properly completes each sentence:
When the car ahead hesitates a second after the red light has turned to green, the proper thing to do is: (a) Turn purple; (b) Turn purple; (c) Give a terrific blast on the horn; (d) yell bloody murder; (e) show a little patience.

The white line painted in the middle of the highway is put there to: (a) decorate the highway; (b) give painters employment; (c) divide lines of traffic; (d) denote longitude.

A sign "School Crossing" is placed in a road to indicate to drivers that: (a) the community has a school; (b) that saloons are not allowed in the neighborhood; (c) some degree of caution is expected.

2. What's wrong with these sentences:
The automobilist came to a full stop to let a pedestrian cross safely and smilingly called out: "That's all right; fair is fair."
What America needs most is not more parking spaces, but smaller cars.
The lady driver, before stepping on the gas and turning abruptly from the curb into traffic, looked carefully around to see if it was a safe thing to do.

3. Define these types of drivers and state to what class you belong: The mutterer type. The glarer type. The starrer-downer type. The epithet tosser type.

4. State whether or not you ever heard of the law which requires that a driver hold out his hand before making a sudden turn.

5. Upon running into three red lights at successive crossings, state whether you bark, growl, bite, snap or howl.

6. If you were driving down the street and heard fire sirens behind, which of the following things would you do?
Telephone to mother.
Ask for another bingo card.
Pull over to the curb.
Ask where the fire was?

7. When a motorcycle policeman asks, "Do you know how fast you are going?" which is the proper answer:
"No, but I think I can find out for you."
"Who wants to know?"
"Your guess is as good as mine, officer."

8. Complete this sentence: A mirror is put above the windshield to . . . give the driver a chance to shave without cutting himself . . . To help the driver get his hat on straight . . . To show whether any car is behind . . . To show how many people are in the rear seat.

9. What is considered a reasonable speed limit in China?
10. Don't you know what it is in this country, either?

AN IDEA!
Bill Hillman, European manager for Collier's, says that the removal of 12 statesmen and leaders would bring peace to Europe. In other words he sees the wrong people in the wrong spots. And this column is with him. Assuming it to be impossible to give the hook to Hitler, Stalin and Chamberlain just now, this department nominates for the other nine places of power the following men: George S. Kaufman, Al Smith, Mahatma Gandhi, Olsen and Johnson, Anthony Eden, Bugs Baer, and Walt Disney. Imagine such a group in complete charge of Europe for a week . . . everything would be settled peacefully, and with even Adolf, Joe and Neville joining in the laughter.

ALL DONE BY MIRRORS
"What? Fewer people out of jobs? Absurd," New Dealers jeer; "We never could confess to that in an election year!"

"Huh? Idle rolls have been cut down?"
The G. O. P. says: "Phew! We wouldn't want that spread about; 'Twould hurt our chances, too."

Men's hats this summer will reflect Rhett Butler influence, showing broad brims. But if you insist on making that battered and faded 1937 model do another summer you can just explain that it is a "Grapes of Wrath" model.

Neville Chamberlain says Hitler "missed the bus." It wasn't so much a miss. What he did was to take the Chinatown bus instead of the one that would carry him straight to work.

JIM HOGG'S WORDS STILL RING WITH TRUTH

This is the golden anniversary of the rise of Jim Hogg to the governorship of Texas.

First native son of this state to become its chief executive, he won his way to the hearts of the people and earned for himself immortal fame.

What Jim Hogg said fifty years ago is today holy writ in Texas politics. Politicians of all kinds pay him lip service still, but no one has risen to take his place.

The story of Jim Hogg is the story of one of Democracy's dramatic triumphs in Texas. The great statesman was an orphan at 11. His inheritance swept away by the Civil War, he was forced to carry a man-sized load while yet a boy. Cheerfully he went to work. From printers' devil he worked his way up to a newspaper owner, from road overseer, he rose to justice of the peace.

People's Champion
A self-made lawyer at 24, he assumed the role of people's champion for the impartial enforcement of the laws. Throughout his career as county attorney, as district attorney, as attorney general, and finally as governor he never swerved from his purpose.

He fought the trusts, forced many an illegal combination to dissolve, made the railroads abide by their duty to the public, drove out fraudulent insurance companies, prosecuted defaulting sheriffs and tax collectors, and compelled delinquent land lessees and delinquent tax payers to settle with the state. As governor, his crowning achievement was establishment of the Texas railroad commission.

It is a tribute to Jim Hogg that the railroad commission has become one of the most important agencies of the government. Large of frame and broad of face, Jim Hogg's personal appearance was a self-made introduction to every audience, so he is described by an oldtimer. Even his very name—Jim Hogg—was a reminder to the man who stood on the ground that he, too, stood on the ground.

Many a politician has tried to imitate Jim Hogg, but one has yet to come up to his standard of achievement. During the current political season, the golden anniversary of his election as governor, you no doubt will hear him paraphrased and quoted more than ever before. That in itself is evidence of his undying fame. For even after death, there is no padlock on the words of the immortal Hogg.

Fifty years ago he said:
"There should be no padlock on the mouth of any public man in Texas. His voice for the people should flow on and on, as the pellucid San Marcos (river) until the swell-tide of public opinion shall rise and remain high up to the level of immortal justice, that the state's partiality to corporations and inhumanity to men shall never cast their opprobrium on her fair name."

Jim Hogg said many things as politics. From his speeches which are still applicable in Texas were garnered many classical opinions:
"Next to the assassin's gun, the abuse of the taxing power breeds more distress among the people than any other cause, with which they must contend."

And on Education: "No more dependable principle was ever uttered than when our fathers said that 'unless the people are educated and enlightened it is idle to expect the continuance of civil liberties or the capacity for self-government.' Herein is the best reason for informing the people by undisguised methods that after all they must pay the expense of maintaining the public schools and of everything else connected with the city, county, state and federal governments. When they are taught to understand this fully, then indeed they may claim the capacity for self-government."
—The State Observer.

Families in the United States whose income increase from $500 a year to $1000 a year spend 62 per cent more for fruits, 57 per cent more for dairy products, 44 per cent more for meat, 43 per cent more for eggs, and 42 per cent more for vegetables.

Mental Drawbridges

THE FEUDAL LORD in the middle ages was a wise man. He built a huge wall around everything he owned, his home, his barns, his mills. And then he built a deep ditch around the wall and filled it full of water. Now and then he would sally forth and wage battle, but he could always retreat to his home, pull up the drawbridge and stick out his tongue at the whole world.

We should take a tip from the feudal lords. When we enter our homes in the evening after the business fight of the day is over, we should pull up our mental drawbridges. We should separate ourselves from the problems, perplexities and difficulties of our tasks.

Too many of us leave the mental drawbridge down and our fear and worry enemies pursue us into our homes. We are fighting them all the time, often far into the night. They give us no rest. They capture our home and we surrender to discontent and unhappiness.

Pull up the mental drawbridge! Let pipe, peace, music, books, laughter and gay conversation rejuvenate, relax and inspire you for tomorrow's battle.

MICAH'S VISION OF PEACE

LESSON TEXT—Micah 4:1-5; 5:2-5a. GOLDEN TEXT—And they shall beat their swords into plowshares; and nation shall not lift up a sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more.—Micah 4:3.

Peace on earth! Why, that is hardly more than a phrase which we recall at Christmas time as we think of the song of the angels. Yet now is the time to assure people that there will be peace on earth. Peacemakers who are now silent were striving to bring in a man-made peace, following a will-o'-the-wisp. Let us tell men about the real peace which will come when the Prince of Peace sets up His kingdom. Let us urge upon them the glad acceptance of His personal kingship in their hearts that they may even now know peace within.

Micah warned Judah that their rejection of God and His love would bring them sorrow and judgment. In the midst of his message, however, he breaks forth into a glowing prophecy of the glory that is to come during the reign of the Messiah, the Prince of Peace.

I. The Foundation of Peace—God's Word (4: 1, 2).

Vainly do men labor to bring about a lasting peace built upon the words of men, for the moment there seems to be gain in repudiating promises given in the greatest of solemnity, they become mere scraps of paper. There is no security in such words, nor in the guns and battleships used to support or to break them.

God's Word, the teaching of His law, walking in His paths—here is the foundation for real peace. Micah speaks of the time "in the last days" when the people of the earth shall go up to God's house to hear His Word and to learn to walk in His ways. To that blessed and holy day we look forward with anticipation and joy even as we now bring men the message of Christ's redemption and His peace.

II. The Prince of Peace—Jesus Christ (4:3-5).

This beautiful portion of God's Word (and such parallel passages as Isa. 2:1-5; 11:1-12) gathers together the longing and hopes of peace-loving men of every age. Perfect justice, the end of all wars, prosperity for peaceful pursuits, boys no longer learning warfare, complete social security, universal worship of God—what a thrilling promise!

Will it ever come true? Yes. When? In the "latter days" (v. 1, R. V.). Who has made such a promise? God Himself. Who will bring it about? God's Son, the Prince of Peace, who will come to "judge between many people."

Why will men be so blind to the "sure word of prophecy; whereunto ye do well that ye take heed, as unto a light that shineth in a dark place" (II Pet. 1:19)? Why will we reject Him who is "the day star" (II Pet. 1:19; Rev. 22:16) and who is even now ready to "arise in your hearts"?

III. His Coming—As Saviour (5: 2, 3).

This remarkable Messianic prophecy gave more than 700 years before the birth of Christ the exact place of His birth, so closely identified as to make both the prophecy and its fulfillment a testimony to the inspiration of the Bible. Note that this was the passage with which the priests and scribes answered the question of Herod (Matt. 2:1, 4-6) regarding the place where the Messiah was to be born.

Thus the coming ruler of Israel, the Judge of all peoples, the Prince of Peace, is none other than the Lord Jesus who was born into this world as the Babe of Bethlehem, "a Saviour . . . Christ the Lord" (Luke 2:11). Israel rejected Him and He had to "give them up" (v. 3), but the time will come when they shall see Him as their King.

IV. His Reign—As King (5: 4, 5a).

"This man shall be our peace" (v. 5, R. V.). He it is who "shall be great unto the ends of the earth" (v. 4); and that can be said of no man in all history except of Him of whom we sing,
Jesus shall reign where'er the sun
Does his successive journeys run;
His kingdom stretch from shore to shore
Till moons shall wax and wane no more.
—Isaac Watts.

His shall not be the reign of a despot, for we read that "He shall feed his flock in the strength of Jehovah" (v. 4, R. V.). His enemies and the enemies of God the Father must be put down, but His people will find Him to be the tender "good shepherd" who "giveth his life for the sheep" (John 10: 11). He is that now to every believer. Sinner, why not take Him now as your Saviour, your Good Shepherd, and join with His people in looking for His coming as King?

Opposition Helps

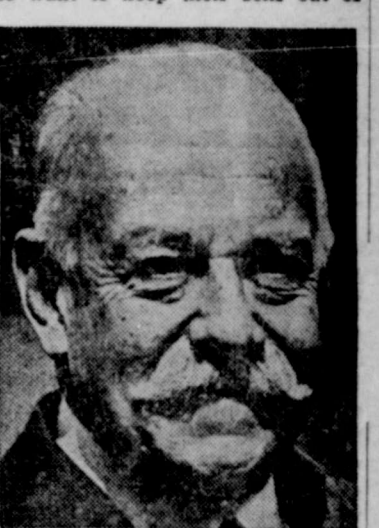

Efforts against the truth sometimes help its progress; the seal and the guard only make it more clear that the Savior rose from the dead.
—Broadus.

GENERAL HUGH S. JOHNSON Says!

AMERICAN JEWS

Under the headline "Bache Scoffs at Isolationists," the United Press reports that Mr. Jules Bache, who is almost our only out-spoken Jewish international banker and interventionist, made a speech in Toronto in which he said that he had not a "neutral hair on his head" and that the United States should be behind the allies against Germany "if for no other reason than that of good business." He added that the "professional isolationists were simply after the votes of parents who do not want their sons to go to war."

Well, if I must be called some kind of an "ist," because I want to put American interests first, I suppose I am an isolationist. But nobody can say that I am after any votes. I never asked for one in my life. I "ain't rummin' for nothin'" now. But as between Mr. Bache's argument as a banker that we ought to get into this war "for good business" and mine that parents ought to want to keep their sons out of war, I like mine best. His is playing into the hands of Hitler who accuses us of being guided by just such men for just such reasons. Thank God it is not true.

The worst current libel on patriotic Americans of Jewish faith is to say that they are "internationalists who seek to involve us in this war." If they have money they are called "Jewish international bankers who got us into the last war and want to get us into this one." That's what Hitler says too. Some of those of whom I have heard this scandal, I happen to know. Invariably, among my acquaintances at least, they are not and never have been international bankers. Not one is an interventionist. Some have rendered patriotic and unselfish service far beyond anything ever contributed by their detractors.

I can see why any Jew would hate Hitler above every monster that ever came in the shape of man. There never was a deadlier or more cruel, cowardly and unfair enemy of their race. But I can't see why any American Jew would want to mix any part of our destiny in any way with the affairs of European nations. This country offered them and many other races and creeds the most effective haven of refuge and toleration that has existed on this earth. Such anti-semitism as there is here today is, I think, negligible and prevails only among the least informed people in more remote places, who see so little of Jews in general that they have been unable fairly to examine the substance of their prejudice.

In these circumstances, it seems to me that intelligent Jewish people should be the very last, in their hearts or in their minds, to seek any European tie-ups with America, either as to military alliances or ideas of government. In my observation, few of the best informed do.

ROOSEVELT NOMINATION?

Whether he likes it or not, the Democrats are almost certain to nominate Mr. Roosevelt. To me, this seems so plain as scarcely to need argument. But since other observers have advanced reasons to the contrary, perhaps I had better state mine.
The party has no other candidate who could pull so many votes, perhaps none who has a Chinaman's chance. Mr. Roosevelt has something considerably more than that—especially if the Republicans, as now seems probable, repeat all the blunders of 1936. In that event, Mr. Roosevelt is a sure shot, but no other Democrat is. Thus in party strategy, as distinguished from the fourth New Deal strategy, there is just about the only reason possible understand—he is, by all odds, the best bet.

When we come to the fourth New Deal reasons, apart from party reasons, the case is many times stronger. With that influential crew, it is Roosevelt or nothing—more than nothing—utter and complete oblivion. If Mr. Roosevelt should not be nominated, it is pretty generally conceded that he cannot name a successor from that group, but only from the Democrats. In either that case or the case that Mr. Roosevelt is the nominee and is defeated, that crew is so far out that the art of language hasn't invented a word adequate to describe their condition.

Every Woman Should Make Some Plan to Avoid Dullness

(Bell Syndicate—WNU Service.)

Sometimes a dreadful dullness comes into married life, for the woman. She remembers other days, eager joyous days of girlhood. Now comes a pause.

By KATHLEEN NORRIS

SOMETIMES a dreadful dullness comes into married life, for the woman. Not illness, not trouble, not money worry, but just insufferable dullness.

Life for Betty goes on without excitement, without thrill. The kitchen routine proceeds placidly; the children go to school; Ed comes home and has his dinner and goes out to his lodge meeting. Betty helps the boy and girl with homework, turns on the radio, yawns, mends a sweater and then decides to go to bed.

Sometimes this even flow of uneventful days frightens an intelligent woman. Earthquake, flood or fire might horrify her, but at least they would find her active, adequate, swept off her feet in the sudden new demand. But monotony scares her. She remembers other days, eager joyous days of girlhood, dance, laughter, the glory of her engagement and marriage, the fun of showing off the new house, of telling her friends that she and Ed were expecting a baby. The baby's coming, too, was an occasion never to be forgotten; the flurry of getting him started; the happy, wearying absorption in his needs, and the needs of the second baby. All this might have been tiring, anxious, responsible, but it was satisfying and triumphant, too.

Ten Years Later.

But now, 10 years married, with the thirties beginning to slide by, with Ed taking everything quietly for granted, and only articulate when dinner isn't satisfactory or little Ned sleeps too late in the mornings—now comes a pause. And somehow the wife and mother knows that it is a dangerous pause, and that something must be done about it or it may have lasting and serious results.

"Floyd leaves the house at eight-thirty," writes a Kansas wife. "I go to the door with him and kiss him good-by. Then I get the two boys off for school, and turn back into my quiet house for morning dust, planning of meals. At noon I have a cup of soup or malted milk and a sandwich, and afterward lie down and rest for awhile. Then perhaps shopping, a movie, a club meeting, a hospital call.

"At five, I am occupied in the kitchen, with the table to set. Floyd is home, and there is quiet talk of what he did all day and what I did, not either interesting or important to either here, and then we settle down to evening paper and radio, or, on rare occasions, have guests for dinner and bridge—very poor bridge all 'round, with nobody sure of the scoring—or Floyd goes out and I am alone.

Goes On—No Change.

"Everything pleasant, friendly, just as it was last year and will be next year. Our income is small, but enough, we all have good health, questions of budget and allowance were long ago adjusted. My husband is a trusted employee in a bank firm; his salary is $38.50 a week. Recently he asked for a weekly raise of $7.50 and was refused. It would have made some difference to us, but not an important one.

"What can I do to make our lives more exciting and glamorous? I am a home woman; I know I should be more than satisfied with what I have. But I'm not. I'm restless and bored. Floyd's people are straight American. My grandfather was a general in the Spanish army 30 years ago; my mother Swedish. Is it the mixed blood that makes me at once shy and eager? I did not speak English until I was eight years old."

The obvious answer to Lola is that she has more now than nine-tenths of the women of the world have, and that ninety-nine hundredths of them would feel themselves rich with a steady husband, a steady income, two small sons, home, garden, car, perfect health, and that security from aerial bombardment that is becoming a luxury in the world.

Suggestion for Lola.

But that isn't fair. For she admits herself that she OUGHT to be content, and really wants to cure herself if it is her fault that she is not. So instead of reproaching her, I am going to make to her several suggestions that may help her extricate herself from the rut into which she has fallen.

To begin with, there is an inner spirit or subliminal consciousness or soul or entity in every woman. It is a correspondence with elements that are supernatural. Call this thing whatever you like—Karma, Yogi, mental healing, the infinite, Oneness—it means that you recognize some influence higher than a merely earthly influence, and your values in life are formed on something higher than a purely earthly scale.

Most of us call this imponderable, infinite, intangible but very real presence, God. We don't attempt to analyze Him, work Him out on charts and graphs; we merely go into that stillness called prayer now and then, and await with perfect confidence a renewal of life within us; a new sense of potentiality, trust, and above all delight and eagerness in the outwardly dull routine of every day.

The Happiest People.

The happiest persons in this bewildered world, in fact the only happy ones, are those who have found this secret for themselves, and revel in that unbounded glory of living which the orientals call "bliss." You can live in three rooms in a crowded tenement, and possess it. You can be the wealthiest woman in the world and miss it completely. Yet it's open enough to find, and it costs nothing. Ask, and you shall receive it, and to repeat, it costs you nothing. It can be yours.

Once this is achieved, a thousand interests and indeed fevers possess you. You want to live forever, so that you may have time to read a thousand books; accomplish a thousand prison reforms and live to see them work; establish a Spanish class at 25 cents a lesson and watch it grow until you are besieged with class and radio engagements; plan a garden, and glory in its beauty; build a backyard grill and entertain the boys and their friends there; find an old country place and move into it, and have chickens and a cow; raise fine-bred Persian kittens; gather a circle of their friends about your boys, and be sure that the group in which they grow to young manhood is a safe group; study beekeeping, astronomy, book-binding; put up fancy preserves and sell them. Or, under state supervision, take three or four small children to board. The state pays much more than they cost and the work of building little citizens is a valuable one. Or go into politics, by the simple process of attending a meeting or two, accepting a position on some committee, and contributing your mite toward a better and wiser administration of your local affairs. The country would be better off if more women did this.

A Plan Is Necessary.

Some months ago I was walking through a dark Boston slum with a young professional man. It was broiling summer, and the high tenement rooms were like so many little hot boxes glaring into the crowded night. To my exclamation of pity and concern, the young doctor said, "It all depends upon whether you have a PLAN or not. People without plans are to be pitied, no matter they are."
